

INNOVATION INSIGHTS

The march of invention has clothed mankind with powers of which a century ago the boldest imagination could not have dreamt. –Henry George

Human subtlety will never devise an invention more beautiful, more simple or more direct than does nature because in her inventions nothing is lacking, and nothing is superfluous. –Leonardo da Vince

INTRODUCTION

If America is to continue to be the world's leader, her politics must change, the moral conscience of her people must change, and her product offerings must change. It has been said,

Innovation distinguishes between a leader and a follower. –Steve Jobs

Our leaders must have innovative, and, more importantly, effective solutions to our problems. As we face increasing loss of parity with China (a country some believe will dominate the next century the way we have the past two), all our citizens will have to be more educated, more productive and motivated, and more innovative, and our leaders will need to provide us with a realistic, optimistic vision for our future. With these needs in mind, this website, AmericanAnswers.org, hopefully provides many of such solutions, both in the areas of innovation, politics and religion. Please peruse the following quotations (and see our book, Design Your Future: Innovation Strategies for the 21st Century, along with our books on politics, prophecy and 'religion'), where you will find over 2,500 FREE new product ideas for our country's (and world's) successful future. I hope these sources (and myself, as an available resource), will help you, your business and our country as a whole to compete—and WIN—in the coming years! –James Meroney

1. DEFINITIONS

Innovation is creativity with a job to do. –John Emmerling

Invention, strictly speaking, is little more than a new combination of those images which have been previously gathered and deposited in the memory; nothing can come of nothing. –Joshua Reynolds

All perceiving is also thinking, all reasoning is also intuition, all observation is also invention. –Rudolf Arnheim

Invention consists in avoiding the constructing of useless contraptions and in constructing the useful combinations which are in infinite minority. –Henri Poincare

Art is an invention of aesthetics, which in turn is an invention of philosophers... What we call art is a game. –Octavio Paz

2. AMERICA

America demands invention and innovation to succeed. -Kit Bond

Innovation has been essential to our prosperity in the past, and it will be essential to our prosperity in the future. -Barak Obama (8/1/09)

As the world's sole remaining super power and economic powerhouses, our nation's ability to be at the forefront of innovation and production has enabled unparalleled economic success of our nation's workforce. -Leonard Boswell

We are not concerned about innovation shifting from the U.S.
I still believe that the U.S. still has capabilities for innovation. -Craig Mundie

Capitalism historically has been a very dynamic force, and behind that force is technical progress, innovation, new ideas, new products, new technologies, and new methods of managing teams. -Manmohan Singh

America, the temple of invention and industry, doesn't make things anymore.
-Nick Clooney

3. ARCHITECTURE

I see architecture not as Gropius did, as a moral venture, as truth, but as invention, in the same way that poetry or music or painting is invention. -Michael Graves

Comments: If any great Architectural firm would like to collaborate, I have boxes of new song architectural design ideas which need developing (from my graduate architectural studies at University of Houston, Texas A & M and the University of Illinois).

4. BARRIERS TO INNOVATION

Mindless habitual behavior is the enemy of innovation. -Rosabeth Moss Kanter

Comments: As we learned as Ernst & Young Management Consultants, often better processes stem simply from analyzing the habits you mindlessly perform every day. If any Management Consulting firm aware of my writings would see value in my business, legal and innovation knowledge and skills, and be willing to overlook the years of unpaid writing (i.e., so-called 'unemployed') which helped me accumulate those skills, please contact myself at your earliest convenience (through our Blog Comments section). If you are not as open minded to talent which does not fit the mold you are used to seeing on a relevant resume, keep reading this Innovation section to see how successful business persons viewed these skills, and feel free to forward my name elsewhere, as we would likely not be a 'good fit.'

5. BUSINESS & INNOVATION

Business has only two functions—marketing and innovation. -Milan Kundera

The heart and soul of the company is creativity and innovation. -Robert Iger

The five essential entrepreneurial skills for success are concentration, discrimination, organization, innovation and communication. -Michael Faraday

We can believe that we know where the world should go.

But unless we're in touch with our customers,
our model of the world can diverge from reality.

There's no substitute for innovation, of course, but innovation is no substitute for being in touch, either. -Steve Ballmer
Small businesses are vital contributors to our economy.

They are the economic engine that is creating jobs, exploring innovation, and expanding opportunities for Americans in every community across the Nation.

-Allyson Schwartz

Pretty much, Apple and Dell are the only ones in this industry making money.

They make it by being Wal-Mart. We make it by innovation. -Steve Jobs

You only get that kind of performance on the innovation side, on the financial side, if you're really listening and reacting to the best ideas of the people we have. -Steve Ballmer

Look at the product pipeline, look at the fantastic financial results we've had for the last five years.

Productivity and the growth of productivity must be the first economic consideration at all times, not the last.

That is the source of technological innovation, jobs, and wealth.

-William E. Simon

Comments: Perhaps the greatest skill the unemployed, under-employed and Welfare recipients could use is that of entrepreneurial innovation.

6. EDUCATION

Our future growth relies on competitiveness and innovation, skills and productivity... and these in turn rely on the education of our people. -Julia Gillard

7. EXECUTION

There is no less invention in aptly applying a thought found in a book, than in being the first author of the thought. -Pierre Bayle

8. HUMOR

Invention is the mother of necessity. -Thorstein Veblen

Comments: A great invention makes consumers feel the necessity to own it.

9. INNOVATION & POLITICS

Innovation distinguishes between a leader and a follower. -Steve Jobs

Imagination is not only the uniquely human capacity to envision that which is not, and therefore the fount of all invention and innovation.

In its arguably most transformative and revelatory capacity, it is the power to that enables us to empathize with humans whose experiences we have never shared. -J. K. Rowling

If you open up the mind, the opportunity to address both profits and social conditions are limitless. It's a process of innovation. -Jerry Greenfield

The way we're really going to grow the economy is to invest in people, to invest in innovation, to have the federal government put money in the kind of research that will create the new high-technology, biotechnology industries that will create the millions of new jobs. -Joe Lieberman

10. METHODS FOR INNOVATION

Necessity... the mother of invention. -Plato

Necessity may be the mother of invention, but play is certainly the father.
–Robert von Oech

I don't think necessity is the mother of invention.
Invention, in my opinion, arises directly from idleness, possibly also from laziness—to save oneself trouble. –Agatha Christi

Doubt is the father of invention. –Ambrose Bierce

Getting caught is the mother of invention. –Robert Byrne

But innovation comes from people meeting up in the hallways or calling each other at 10:30 at night with a new idea, or because they realized something that shoots holes in how we've been thinking about a problem. –Steve Jobs

The half hour between waking and rising has all my life proved propitious to any task which was exercising my invention...
It was always when I first opened my eyes that the desired ideas thronged upon me.
–Walter Scott

There are no rules. That is how art is born, how breakthroughs happen.
Go against the rules or ignore the rules. That is what invention is about.
–Helen Frankenthaler

The rate of human invention is faster, and the rate of cultural loss is slower, in areas occupied by many competing societies with many individuals and in contact with societies elsewhere. –Jared Diamond

Without change there is no innovation, creativity, or incentive for improvement. Those who initiate change will have a better opportunity to manage the change that is inevitable. –William Pollard

11. MUSIC & INNOVATION

Melodic invention is one of the surest signs of a divine gift. –Gustav Mahler

Comments: If any great musical artist would like to collaborate, I have over 7 90-minute cassettes of new song snippets which need developing.

12. PERSPECTIVES ON INNOVATION

Without tradition, art is a flock of sheep without a shepherd.
Without innovation, it is a corpse. –Winston Churchill

Interest is the spur of the people, but glory that of great souls.
Invention is the talent of youth, and judgment of age. –Jonathan Swift

I'm an inventor. I became interested in long-term trends because an invention has to make sense in the world in which it is finished, not the world in which it is started. –Ray Kurzweil

One might think that the money value of an invention constitutes its reward to the man who loves his work. But... I continue to find my greatest pleasure, and so my reward, in the work that precedes what the world calls success.
–Thomas A. Edison

In other words, what is supposedly found is an invention whose inventor is unaware of his act of invention, who considers it as something that exists independently of him;

the invention then becomes the basis of his world view and actions.

-Paul Watzlawick

13. SOCIALLY-'FORCED' PURCHASES

Fashion is something barbarous, for it produces innovation without reason and imitation without benefit.

-George Santayana

Comments: Of course, a joke, but the element of truth is, as we say in our politics book, 'fashion' is someone in NYC telling you what to buy to be "in."

O! for a muse of fire, that would ascend the brightest heaven of invention.

-William Shakespeare
