The portion covering Christians for Trump is large, as that book got too large for my laptop to handle.

‘Date-2’ means @JamesMeroney posting.

THE HOPE OF THE WORLD

If everyone old enough to know right from wrong goes to Hell without Jesus, and,

The Gospel message is the only way to Heaven, and Christians (the Church) are the only people commanded to give that message to everyone not going to Heaven,

Then there is a lot of work to do!

God says the workers are few, so pray that He will raise up more. But until those prayers are answered, it will be the remnant minority of evangelistic Christians who will need to do the job.

That job is completing the Great Commission, and it is to a person—no exceptions. How could that 'impossible' task get done? By trusting the God of the impossible!

Specifically, that minority would need to:

1. Identify who needs to be reached. That involves:
 - a) Those who have never heard (priority one), and
 - b) Those who have heard, but need to re-hear, possibly one last time.
2. Identify who doesn't need reaching, as that would be wasted effort. Pastors who challenge the church members to identify as certain of salvation would be a good start.
3. Organize/strategize/plan, use effective and accurate materials and methods (including technology), and assign territory. It makes no logical sense to overlap, with so many to reach and so few doing the reaching/working!
4. Prayer-back all efforts, and,
5. Use all evangelistic Christians—professional and amateur. All others could and should fund this great effort!

The reasons for this plan are obvious to even the casual Bible observer.

The attitude of Paul is needed to take a holistic approach to the enormity of the need (Ac. 20:26; I Cor. 9:22; II Cor. 11:28).

And going well beyond one's 'fair share,' as individuals, churches, and even denominations, will be needed (I Cor. 15:10; I Th. 3:10).

As D. L. Moody is alleged to have said, "it can be done, it must be done, it will be done!"
God help us if we don't!

ADDITIONAL IMPACT EVIDENCE FOR CHRISTIANS FOR TRUMP
(FREE BOOK)–ALPHABETIZED

Introduction

At age 50, I promised myself I would not allow the five percent who ever win one soul to Christ in a lifetime to continue. Now that my books are done [NOT!], it's time to make waves! (10/5/14)

By the way, I don't impose Bible belief on anyone, but taking it as TRUTH, I apply it consistently and it usually comports with common sense (for non-Christians)! (1/27/15)

What HE's [God] done here for 14 months is nothing short of miraculous. VERY famous folk in religion and global politics have read our ideas—some acted upon. (2/18/15)

African-Americans

FIX our education system NOW. Fire failed educators and administrators. Identify struggling kids, and ensure their challenges are overcome. USA #1! (2/9/15)

Border Crisis (6/25/19)

[Private account #1:] There is a group of pastors going in August to look at the situation and see how they can help! Instead of others just quoting talking points - Let's get our denominational leaders to the border and help instead of throwing darts for political gain. @jackngraham

[Private account #2:] Your first-hand knowledge of the border crisis is certainly not exhaustive. To reject credible news stories because of the politics involved is partisan blindness and to lament inhumane conditions in one place is not to indict good work in other places. @jackngraham

[Private account #3:] Why do you, as a pastor, feel such an impulse to defend the US against supposedly false accusations? Is that something that falls under the purview of your responsibility as a pastor?

[Private account #4:] Falwell, you're without a doubt, the most vile purveyor of hate and anti-Christian values in the Evangelical community. Get back into your multimillion dollar house & plane that your family blood-sucked from elderly, sickly pensioners and try not to poison anymore young minds.

[Private account #5:] The attacks on Moore by @jerryfalwelljr and @jackngraham over this post are unconscionable. They both deserve rebuke for it. And I don't say that lightly. (link: <https://twitter.com/drmoore/status/1143418475723055106>) twitter.com/drmoore/status...

PLEASE phone @JackNGraham @ 972.820.5_0_, @AOC, and BOTH of you tour facilities with cameras, to prove to the general public who is LYING. I'm TIRED of sinful liars! (link: <https://www.cbsnews.com/news/alexandria-ocasio-cortez-details-grim-condition-at-migrant-detention-centers/>) cbsnews.com/news/alexandri... Go together, and force the other to face facts, good or bad! Lying is a sin 45 engages regularly. (7/2/19)

Campaign

Now God wants to use me in a greater way, and I'm clueless about marketing, but He'll lead me to experts. The hard part is thinking up right solutions. (2/18/15)

Changed Parties

I've never been a Democrat, but just like "Branjolina," if made it #BILLary," I might reconsider it in 201 I love Bill; Hillary can't really ever consider. (9/23/14)

I wouldn't consider Hillary UNLESS Ted Cruz types won, in which case I might just not vote; common sense principles are NEEDED to curb BOTH extremes! (11/5/14)

Changed To Politics

I haven't addressed the Church, directly in detail, since November 2014, as we have moved on to politics, etc., but 100 percent evangelism is ALWAYS the message MOST won't do! (2/24/15)

China

China is kicking America's tail in business. That OUGHT not be the case. TRUE Americans WON'T let it continue forever. We KNOW U.S. tradition and history! (2/9/15)

Christian Cabal (Cf.: Sin-to-win)

YOU HAVE TO WIN TO LEAD. The back seat is not what drives the car (or back of the bus, either). #Selma (great upcoming movie). #WakeUP, @GOP! (1/9/15)

Critics

You're rude, judgmental and arrogant. Really? That's ONLY how you'd feel if you were called to this ministry; but don't worry, it sounds like God never will. (10/17/14)

One minister said 'live by sword, die by sword,' as if my tweets are an attack, and many reject them. our ONLY attack is on church-as-a-business, vs. the TRUE church! (11/13/14)

You're SO harsh; Jesus NEVER spoke like that, say the ignorant and uninformed critics who LOVE their pastors who expect SO little of them, but money. (11/13/14)

Even a mega church critic's wife addressed "Open Letter" "rants and raves," in her blog, as with two others. My critics know of this [Twitter] site, as convicts them. (11/14/14)

To the fellow who says I talk too much—LEAVE! Go read about celebrity sex scandals, or money idolatry. We speak of HIGH-value issues here; ~NOT entertainment. (12/25/14)

Update: One pastor said such concern for evangelism could be an "emotional problem;" Others say you can hide your problems in religious work masks. (1/12/15)

Early Mornings (3am)

Those who watch here know when I tweet in the wee hours of the morning, I attribute that wake-up call to God, as having a message to give. Zzz. (12/9/14)

Franklin Graham

[To Billy:] #Franklin and #William could rise to FIT in your shoes IF they took up this call on your behalf, and with your blessings! @Franklin_Graham @TellaGraham (10/17/14)

THIS is NOT "nonpartisan," @JackNGraham: "If [Trump] succeeds, we all benefit," Graham proclaimed in a video posted to social media. "But if his enemies are allowed to destroy him, and pull down the presidency, it will hurt our entire nation." —Franklin Graham EXPLAIN yourself!

Our family's church was LITERALLY told Franklin Graham's Day of Prayer was "nonpartisan." Looks like we were lied to! I will NEVER trust ANYONE in the Christian Cabal, as they do NOT practice Christian values! Lip service for political power idolatry! (6/2/19)

Impact

Everyone involved knows what happened, but a lie detector may be needed, or subpoena'd depositions. The latter is NOT the Christian way! Read the website! (11/11/14)

And referencing influential U.S. ministers ONLY. Linked-In said a STADIUM-full made inquiries, and I NEVER use it—I ONLY have a profile on record! (1/12/15)

RT @BobbyJindal: I believe that America desperately needs a spiritual revival.
<https://t.co/Ept93vNME> (1/12/15)

PROUD of @BishopJakes, @DrTonyEvans and @RevJamesRobison bridging racial divides, and discussing economic expansion at the #PottersHouse, tonight! (1/15/15)

NO account viewing here shocks me anymore. I PURPOSELY follow NO ONE here, so I get a better idea who drops by. For other accounts, follow others. (2/13/15)

Innovation

I'd be open to a TV show where three products are offered, and I have one hour to choose how to re-vamp one of the three. I trust God this skill could be sustained! (1/23/15)

ISIS

Kill EVERY terrorist, and do it dramatically (i.e., overkill), to deter future ones, and NEVER re-name terrorists anything else. STOP recruits and indoctrination. (1/30/15)

We have nukes; don't we have mini nukes we could drop on terrorist areas? A mini Hiroshima. Drone-dropped even keeps our military safer. GO USA#1 (2/5/15)

I've said MANY times, KILL ALL TERRORISTS who are trying to kill you. Once complete, you can address how NOT to let that cancer rise again. Duh 101! (2/19/15)

Joel Rosenberg

We need a President who 'gets it,' not a pastor-in-chief, but who knows and is not ashamed, and makes reforms based on it. #JoelRosenberg (paraphrased) (Ps. 119:99) (1/17/15)

Johnson Amendment

Politicians are smart, and want to secure money and votes en masse vs. individually, so they speak to the NRA, NAACP, AARP, churches+. Pastors can't BIASEDLY push! And handing out voter guides at church, subtly if not clearly showing how a politician voted on abortion and gay marriage. Legal! Fair? And having Presidential and Congressional candidates speak or attend (like Huckabee at SBC Houston or a Texas candidate at a DFW black church). (12/22/14)

Pence visited First Baptist Dallas three hours ago. There is no end to how far the Christian Cabal will go to Christianize politics to their evil and unjust, un-voted for ends! I'm SO glad I have zero association with any members of that group, anymore. Heretic power idolaters. #Apostates (4/17/19)

Mark Cuban

Live-streaming webinars could showcase Shark Tank products and a one-time U.S.-based world's fair. Interested in investing in my 4,500+ products? @mcuban (1/23/15)

Middle Class

The middle class likely rarely-to-never need government hand-outs, and WANT to be rich, which favors the #GOP. Yet some have mercy on the poor, favoring #Dems. (12/9/14)

The middle class is where future political campaigns will be won. You don't have to want taxes to help the poor, but QUIT supporting GREED too, swing voters. (12/25/14)

People live in REALITY—NOT theory. Limbaugh said the sky's the limit, and it is FOR HIM. Opportunity pays NO BILLS, and bills are REAL, @RNC @DNC Middle class. (1/20/15)

Middle class tax cuts are deserved, needed (average wage DECREASED $3,000 under Obama), and politicians MUST start LOWERING their spending our money, NOW! (1/26/15)

Moral Majority

#JerryFalwell and mi amigo, Paul Pressler, helped the religious right unite on abortion and gay marriage, via Reagan; ADD helping the poor and decrying greed! (12/22/14)

Where's #JerryFalwell's son in keeping the "Moral Majority" cause alive, IF it was a permanent need in society? Mono-focused vs. FULL counsel of God. (1/5/15)

My Evangelism

I HAD evangelized my part—probably even if I were a professional minister, but the LACK of evangelism being done has compelled my not staying "retired." (10/7/14)

My Evangelism Exhortations

I also called out EVERY denomination that had ignored that same [full evangelism] call months back. It is TIME to call a spade a spade, in the Church, on evangelism! (9/28/14)

All it takes is a nod a wink/blink, a signature from Billy! Someone else can read a statement he would approve. Franklin or William? C'mon, LEAD! (10/17/14)

Objectivity

IF any 2016 D.C. politician lies, flip flops, demonizes, hides the truth, misleads, tap dances or side-steps, we'll be sure to tell you about it here. #Accountability. (12/22/14)

Outsourcing

Letting business get away with murder, to hire foreigners, and leaving the Rust Belt in shambles may be good for business, but NOT for U.S.A.! @DemConvention #GOP (9/23/14)

Big business supported OVER-outsourcing to hurt Dems (i.e., unions), but Dems got more voters from those workers, which hurt the Rust Belt, too. Now wants illegals. (12/15/14)

Politics

One not as well-known as [me], who has not yet taken their message across the country, one who is just getting started could well end up defeating the Democrat nominee. #MittRomney (paraphrased) (1/30/15)

The Church got her instructions in 2013; the politicians got theirs in 2014. I've done my part, and must care for the family, and my own ambitions—not freebies here. (2/9/15)

2014

Linked-In said, LAST YEAR, you could fill a stadium with the number who went there, and I never use it, so God was using Twitter for that; the zenith was day it [Twitter] went public. (2/14/15)

I NEVER use Linked-In, but they said I had a stadium-full contact our profile, approaching near "legend" status, even though NO religious book agent wants my books. Do-do's! (12/25/14)

Prestonwood

I've been BANNED from ALL Sunday School classes, and signed a contract to NEVER mention a given church on social media; See our website for many such events. (12/25/14)

Greatest church in America NOW that it was pressured behind the scenes to change, and 100 percent willfully DID, but I'm still legally an OUTCAST. Shocking! (2/21/15)

At least three years ago, I was banned from any Sunday School, and if I ever mention the church online I am unwelcome there. See our website. AMAZING! (2/21/15)

RE: Reconciliation] You CAN'T preach on forgiving your bro (three+ years ago), and live the OPPOSITE, and still expect God's POWER! Love the sermon website [Will You Live Forever? button, at this website] usage, but RECONCILE brothers. (2/21/15)

Revival

RESPECTED @RonnieFloyd, PLEASE pass resolution that Southern Baptist Convention pastors are committed to evangelize ALL nearby lost people, ASAP (and seek petition signatures). God bless. (9/7/14)

Twitter Glitch

When you don't follow anyone, you have the BEST chance to figure out who's there when. When you follow people, that identification is more difficult. I follow none! (11/14/14)

TweetFest

Your LACK of knowledge of the three week TwitterFest here, one year ago doesn't make you an expert on platforms! I have the names and LinkedIn statistics. (11/14/14)

USA #1 (ala, MAGA)

Put #AmericaFirst, and the world a close SECOND. Quit DEMONIZING your opponents, and #TalkRadio MUST STOP its 100 percent brain-dead BIASES (for money)! (12/4/14)

SHAMEFUL! We must STOP living off our past laurels, and compete to win, America! The U.S. MUST be number one, again. <http://t.co/Kv3o5yK7TK> #Economy #Business #China (12/5/14)

FIX our education system NOW. Fire failed educators and administrators. Identify struggling kids, and ensure their challenges are overcome. USA #1! (2/9/15)

We have nukes; don't we have mini nukes we could drop on terrorist areas? A mini Hiroshima. Drone-dropped even keeps our military safer. GO USA#1 (2/5/15)

CHURCH GROWTH, & OTHER ISSUES

(Last week of June & first week of July, 2019)

NBC reports church attendance is at a record low. (4/19/19)

[Background: Our church's worship time was made to move to the High School student's auditorium, sold as promoting more intimacy, and committing to do "whatever it takes" "to reach lost people," especially Millennials]

God NOWHERE says church is to attract lost people to hear the Gospel, or conduct research studies on how to get more youth into church! He said leaders lead laymen to go and tell, who then gather once they're saved. Has ANY U.S. church EVER done that? Numbers follow obedience—they are NOT the goal!

[After thoroughly ranting about tithing being unbiblical, in that same sermon...] Other than that, Mrs. Lincoln, how did you enjoy the play?

When church crowds are smaller, to promote a more intimate environment, some churches (knowing members will walk over roped-off areas), have black curtains block closed-off sections' view of the stage (Elevate Life, Frisco). (6/9/19)

Here's the EXACT method for laymen having ZERO say in a decision they didn't want, spun just like Trump: It'll be great, we prayed for God's will, "we listened to you," and if you oppose, you're like Pharisee religious critical people. AKA forced top down dictatorship "for Jesus." #PrestonwoodBaptist

The preacher tired of seeing a half-filled sanctuary Saturday evenings. He said the choir did, too. So because the Hispanic congregation grew, but our odd worship time crowd didn't, they get the teenagers' venue, until they grow enough to return to the worship center. Immature "leading" claimed as for "growth."

45,000 who haven't even evangelized their own nearest neighborhood, fully (350 total?), want bigger numbers, for bigger salaries (and WON'T cap them or fully reveal them), because it's a competition to be the biggest in Texas or America—not just the top 10! 45K could reach 450K in one month or year, if they had biblical leadership!

45k church members reaching 10 people in one year. 'Who's your 1,' 2 or 3? NOWHERE does the Bible show any evangelizers aspiring so low! You're coddling carnality with such horrible expectations and demands! Ten in 1 year—all north Dallas by next summer. You're trusting God for the impossible?

I may switch my 2020 commitment in one small way—IF I continue to see abuses of God's causes, via politics, I WILL vote all GOP, to thwart Socialism, but may start actively helping Trump be defeated by whoever wins the Dem nomination. It depends on pastor holiness, or continued sin-to-win strategy.

I OPPOSE judicial activism, court stacking SCOTUS conservative, if Ginsburg retires, and I oppose Socialism, and am #NeverTrump. I do NOT have to choose between the two parties! I'll vote all GOP's, NOT tRump, unless he changes a lot, and only the Dem nominee if they're centrist, for 2020.

Objectivity is not schizophrenia, wishy-washy flip-flopping, or playing both sides of fence (getting butt splinters for risk aversion). Objectivity reacts according to people's good or bad deeds, as with political parties' good or bad! Not opportunist or disloyal—loyal to principles

Update #1: Millennials & Church-Going

Millennials: Have I got a message for you! Churches CRAVE you coming, because you're their future revenue and membership/lifeblood. Old people are closer to death, though their "tithes" are more secure, from cultural tradition. At the same time, they'll slander you as entitled, lazy and evil political liberals.

So they think low of you, but high on you for your income potential, and how you can help their businesses grow in retirement years, JUST AS they rely on you for their Social Security being funded, when you are the lowest on the economic totem pole, presently. You are labeled 'liberal,' until you earn money and pay taxes, then you are to change!

It's ALL about money, for this ilk of human, and that ilk always wants cheap labor they can profit off. Trust me, they'll cater church practice to get you to come! Whatever you like, they research and adapt how God says church is to behave, accordingly. They're retiring or dying off, so their businesses NEED you!

Dems want you for votes for politicians' cushy jobs! They love your idealism, as it allows them to rob the rich, and buy your vote by freebies... student loan forgiveness, free college, the works. PLEASE understand one thing... the male brain doesn't fully mature until about age 24-28, and adults take advantage of that fact.

I want you to flourish in life, and be successful, enjoy life, and have a great afterlife! I don't want your money! Has anyone seen me speak of my 13 books in the past three months? That's NOT my concern.

You young folk are being played and manipulated by both Dems and religious cons, for what you can do for older folks, even as you're just starting out in life, with not a lot. That's QUITE evil! It's like milking the poor, as you're starting your first jobs, own little, and probably haven't even bought your first home.

THINK for yourself! What's best for you? You owe NO ONE anything, but God and yourself! You shouldn't be a pawn to anyone! They've had 50 years to get theirs—they mustn't get it from you!

You have a family you'll eventually have... you need to care about your future, and I guarantee you the world the older generation is leaving you is quite problem-filled and debt-ridden, and they intend to straddle you with those BAD choices of THEIRS! That's unjust!

You do not need health insurance much, in your youth! Rare exceptions do exist, but crowd funding or catastrophic insurance can aid that. You do NOT need to pay into Social Security, as it won't be there for you! You need to invest wisely, save and spend smart, and earn as much as humanly possible, until you want to retire. Let NO ONE tell you otherwise!

And as to church-going, I could care less what you do, if you aren't going to Heaven! Churches are SUPPOSED to be telling you how to go there. If you won't respond to their attractions and advertisements, they won't, generally speaking. This is EVIL, and a business strategy; NOT a God-obeying decision!

You are the customer who can be residual income the next 30 years. You are not income for anyone but whoever you choose to spend your money on! I suggest you get to know God very intimately/well, by reading His Bible, then doing what He says on every decision, but you MUST know that, without Christ in your heart, a literal fiery Hell is your eternity!

I don't want that for you, or anyone, so I tell you that for FREE! I'm not asking for one dime from you, or to have you come to some business of mine, or follow me. I'm warning you so you can have a great future after you one day die. PLEASE know you are a target/mark for Dem votes and church paying membership!

God does NOT see you that way! He made you in His image, loves you, wants only the best for you, and seeks nothing from you but to know Him well. Beware of Dems and the Church, and even GOP's whose policies ever favor the old and wealthy! They're ALL suspect, and after your money, for self-gain! Even college is often a rip off, financially!

I told a new friend the other day that even my Christian alma mater is only in it for high tuition rates, and he said that before I could get it out of my mouth! That's NOT 'Christian' at all, but it's the system many who benefit from the system want to enshrine. Profiteer, and care NOTHING about if it's good for others or society—just you (i.e., greed and selfishness).

Your generation can change all these evils! You may lose your idealism by age 40, but I beg you not to! You've seen how screwed up the older generation has made our world. Vow to do a better job! It's hard to do a worse job!

And PLEASE learn one thing, tonight... any politician with policies that only benefit the rich or business, and cares little about any others, is NEVER 'gonna benefit you, even as their rhetoric promises to. Outsourced jobs and imported talent is an attack on your future in the U.S.A., as is crippling U.S. debt. Fix America, please. Thank you.

P.S.: What's a young person want and need? Good-paying, stable jobs that don't die out, get shipped away, have advancement potential, and not having to change careers many times... and a safe nation from war or invasion. That's about it! Go ensure it happens!

[Private account:] You are #NeverTrump, but if the nominee is too far left, you'll be fine with Trump? Because not voting, or voting for a non-factor third party is essentially what the GOP wants as many people as possible to do. You know that, right? I agree with the choice literally any other election.

YES, if the Democrat nom is too left radical, at least tRump has a good economy, and has pushed abortion's evils in the public's eye, and I can support those two achievements, despite his many evils and idiocies.

Update #2: Church-As-A-Business' #1 Crime

Let me tell you, people who are NOT Christians, a GRAVE wickedness in the American church, that is the WORST evil known to man, has continued for DECADES, and likely will NEVER change: PASTORS consider YOU a potential paying customer MORE THAN a person facing Hell!

They NEVER state that like that! They do it like this: They ONLY tell people how to go to Heaven IF they come to their uncommanded church building (because they can't control/steer or be sure a customer is won, otherwise). They INVENT a term, "unchurched," AS IF not going to church leads to Hell, vs. the biblical concept of people being "unsaved."

They slander people who ACTUALLY evangelize (i.e., tell non-Christians how to miss Hell/go to Heaven) as hit-and-run Rambo evangelists who don't disciple (because discipleship is what follows a successful talk with someone heading to Hell), which they interpret as preaching sermons to (NOT Jesus' way).

They have FULLY adopted 'attraction' and 'friendship' evangelism methods invented by satan in 1980s, in a book by a man called Aldrich (Lifestyle Evangelism), because attracting potential customers to your business is how you get control of their "tithe," IF they get saved; same with church members befriending them, so they get in a habit of associating with church goers—for that tithe.

They even quote research that 90+ percent of people will go to church if asked. GOD NOWHERE COMMANDS CHRISTIANS TO INVITE ANYONE TO CHURCH, or befriend anyone, before "earning a right" to be heard, as heralds of Gods gospel—PERIOD!

Even last year, my very own Southern Baptists adopted a campaign, "Who's your one?" ONE PERSON you choose to share the Gospel with! ONE PERSON! Why one, when the Bible NEVER teaches such a LOW expectation? Because you target them for much more than just telling them the Gospel!

READ the book of Acts. By their norm, that's TOTAL failure! My family's church handed laymen church marketing materials in 'gift bags.' NOWHER is that found in Scripture! Very likely, not one church in America has YET evangelized (i.e., told the good news of Jesus to) ALL non-Christians within walking distance of their building! They even fear such a direct approach might turn you off! Turn you off from what? Church membership—NOT Heaven vs. Hell!

Bottom line, we don't care if you go to Hell if you don't care to give pastors 10 percent of your pay check! I say "we," and I do NOT include myself, as my past 40 years have fully proved! Editorial 'we' means many if not most churches and pastors. REPENT, sinners! That's a horrible sin!

A church with 30,000 members could potentially get 300,000 people heading to Heaven in one month to one year, if they QUIT concerning themselves with money, and fame with crowds, but actually cared that they're risking Hell every day we don't tell them the Gospel, even if they NEVER step foot in our buildings! God judge us!

Update #3: Are You a Church Customer?

Let me tell you, people who are NOT Christians, a GRAVE wickedness in the American church, that is PASTORS consider YOU a potential paying customer MORE THAN a person facing Hell! They NEVER state it like that!

They do it like this: They ONLY tell people how to go to Heaven IF they come to their uncommanded church building (because they can't control, or be sure a customer is won, otherwise). They INVENT a term, "unchurched," AS IF not going to church leads to Hell, as opposed to the biblical concept entitled "unsaved."

They slander people who ACTUALLY evangelize (i.e., tell non-Christians how to miss Hell/go to Heaven) as hit-and-run/Rambo evangelists, who don't disciple (because discipleship is what follows a successful talk with someone heading to Hell), which they interpret as preaching sermons to (NOT Jesus' way).

They even fear such a direct approach might turn you off! Turn you off from what? Church membership—NOT Heaven vs. Hell!

Bottom line, we don't care if you go to Hell if you don't care to give pastors 10 percent of your pay check! I say "we," and I do NOT include myself, as my past 40 years have fully proved! Editorial 'we' means many, if not most churches and pastors. REPENT, sinners! It's a horrible sin!

A church with 45K members could potentially get 450K people heading to Heaven in one month to one year, if they QUIT concerning themselves with money, and fame with crowds, but actually cared they're risking Hell every day we don't tell them the Gospel, even if they NEVER step foot in our buildings! God judge us!

Body Life is NOT created by tighter quarters or smaller venues! It's done by teaching and using spiritual gifts in worship services, and engaging all activities that involve laymen in the service, and encouraging relationship building—NOT handshakes with new strangers every week! PERIOD. (6/22/19)

If ANY American church wants to reach the most amount of people with the Gospel, NOTHING is stopping them, currently! It doesn't cost one dime when you use God's Eph. 4 model, and leaders inspire evangelistic laymen! (6/22/19)

The Church Growth Movement began when I was in seminary (from Cali?). Pastors TIRED of being poor. INSTEAD of full evangelism, they promoted things churches could do to market themselves, and be more well-received by neighbors (Ex.: architecture, music, modernity, amenities, etc.). That's NOT God's way! (6/22/19)

Special Meeting: A Biblical Response to the Church-Growth Movement by Pastor John MacArthur

Update #4: Biblical Church

There are always new viewers, so here goes reciting the back of my hand for the umpteenth time. BIBLICAL church is four main elements: Thorough evangelism, relational discipling, Body Life and social ministry. Sermons are to be preaching and teaching, and salaries AREN'T guaranteed, nor buildings commanded.

A tithing is NOT God-required, Lordship Salvation is a well-meaning heresy, denominations are evidence of demon-in-nation division, God is neither a Dem nor GOP, and there were no millionaire ministers in the New Testament, from pastoring.

Church growth, in numbers, was the result/effect of evangelism, NOT the goal, ministers were willing to be bi-vocational, there WERE mega churches, but they weren't run like many are today, and there were NO multi-site churches, and churches CARED about other churches, and helped their finances! (II Cor. 8:2, 14, 11:28) That's NOT the sin-FULL U.S. "business model!"

The Rev. 3 ending era of church history WILL be depicted by financial success, and spiritual failure. That's EXACTLY what you see in so many U.S. churches today! Numbers (i.e., bodies, bucks and buildings), but a mile wide and inch deep! Worldliness reins, and church attendance covers all sins, in Churchianity vs. Christianity.

(Mt. 6:33) When a pastor seeks God's priorities, actions and values first, the rest (in context, their FINANCES and assets) follow after. This is NOT the model of the church growth movement crowd! There is NO friendship or attraction evangelism in the Bible, as defined by their evil advocates today...

I.e., in order to tell a human the Gospel, you must earn a right to be heard, by listening, showing acts of love and service, and by getting to know them as a friend. Then you pray for a door of opportunity to open. There's NO WAY the book of Acts could have happened by such B.S. reasoning! That's heretical for ambassador heralds.

Or advertise, have secular activities that interest lost people, and by all means, 'get people to your campus' (the exact job description I was given, interviewing for an Evangelism Minister position at Second Baptist, Houston) so they can be evangelized within the church building.

This is a HERESY business plan, of people who study management books more than the Bible! Rock concerts, gyms/sports, marriage counseling, recovery seminars, famous speakers, entertainment/comedians, ventriloquists—anything but go and tell evangelism (the biblical model). To Hell with people going to Hell if they're not attracted to our secular events!

Jump houses, traveling petting zoos, face painting, musicals, drama plays, food trucks, Christmas parades. One church's second in command LITERALLY said to my face, 'you know, that's not a bad idea,' when I asked if they'd consider a Six Flags over Second Baptist, when Astroworld closed. ANATHEMA.

IF a church is committed to doing "whatever it takes" to reach people for Jesus, they need to leave their gathering and just go do it! It's no more complex than that! It's NOT about music styles, or numbers, or buildings, or sermons adapted to Gen X, or laymen changing worship venues!

I heard the EXACT SAME sales pitch for the FAILED Dallas campus, that we were spending ~$25M "for evangelism," to buy a multi-site venue. I also heard that with Mr. Fiegelson's $4M donation to First Baptist, Katy, when I challenged that (details at this website's Will You Live Forever's button, "Church Conflicts" section.

BEWARE when pastors say an expenditure is "for evangelism," or politicians say an expenditure is "for the children!" Biblical evangelism is FREE—it takes LEADERSHIP to inspire the laymen to do their Eph. 4 job! It costs no one anything, but time and effort—PERIOD!

America hasn't been thoroughly threshed since 1980, and relational discipling fell out of favor, as with direct evangelism, with the church growth movement and lifestyle evangelism. NOW pastors wonder why society and Millennials reject a church-going tradition? You didn't do your job! An entire generation missed.

Children and grandchildren of churchgoers get in childhood habits of attending. NOT any others! And college is where many slip away (my son, partly, vs. me, for example). Campus Crusade and The Navigators on campuses have WANED, from what I've experienced, since my college years. Then life gets busy, with job and family!

Why would anyone go to church if they didn't feel they had to? ASK YOURSELF THAT, pastors. WHAT are you offering them? Morality lessons and 10 percent of their paycheck is demanded. No thanks! Jesus had ZERO problem getting crowds, and He didn't seek them like you do! He ran from them, often. There's why you're failing—wrong priorities.

READ Matthew through Acts. Biblical Christianity never had any problem with crowds! It IS attractive. People FLOCKED to Jesus! Masses responded to the Gospel the apostles preached. Lordship Salvationists have ZERO good news to offer lost people—just morals bashing works! That's NOT "attractive," because it's NOT biblical.

You want numbers? Obey God! Evangelize everyone; disciple the responders, have Body Life worship, and SERVE your community! WHO would turn off to that? And reject your Devilish calls for a 10 percent "tithe." Ask attenders to give as God leads them to, as He has blessed them; that's BIBLICAL! (II Cor. 8-9) DON'T teach law!

I don't give one iota darn what Millennials, old fogies, middle aged f_rts, or young marrieds WANT out of a church! You do—that's why you're failing! You ask GOD what He wants of ALL age groups. Just like politics, ask not what your church can do for you, but ask what you can do for your church! Disciples DENY themselves.

When evangelism is mainly done in the church, NOTHING happens! You disappoint the Christians, AS IF God isn't moving, and even the staff, as if all our works are in vain. Church goes don't need to hear the Gospel! Most could recite it to you from memory! #Embarrassing DISCIPLE vs. sermonize church members.

Jesus was a fraud, a hypocrite, a liar. THIS is the message people RIGHTLY derive from watching churchianity, because HE preached to crowds, but disciplined the 12. Pastors preach to crowds and claim they're discipling. EITHER Jesus was wrong, or you are, pastors! I KNOW who—your deeds say you don't.

Rev. 3's Laodicea PROVES churches can be successful, as MEN define it, following satan. Any church NOT committed to EDBS priorities is a failure. When you grow a business, not a church, you have continual pressure for funds. When you obey God, He supplies your needs as you do His deeds!

The other day a deacon friend had an empty collection plate, and he literally shook it in front of me (meaning, pay up). He knows NOTHING about my finances, income lost serving God as well more than a lifetime of tithing, or if we gave online! That's LAW/guilt. He doesn't understand grace; not taught it well in sermons?

Freddy Haynes' church uses guilt and pressure, as well. The crowd parades to the front, to drop their envelopes into a bucket in front of everyone seated. THIS IS LAW, FOLKS. This is NOT grace, and you wonder why God says Ichabod, even as the Laodicean finances may do well using these Devil's tricks?

Interviewing as an Evangelism Minister at Second Baptist Houston, THIS guy literally defended using the 'Joash Box' public parading of 'tithes' into a box down front method, saying blacks do it, and it works! ASK HIM ON A LIE DETECTOR if I'm lying or inaccurate!: @doug_page Money is the priority at church-as-a-business!

Church-as-a-business is ANATHEMA to Christ! Not only are churches tax free charity status 501C3's, God says they are to be run free from the love of money, and Jesus TWICE turned the tables on His place being used to conduct business! False prophets are in ministry for profits—PERIOD.

(Mt. 6:33) When a pastor seeks God's priorities, actions and values first, the rest (in context, their FINANCES) follow after. This is NOT the model of the church growth movement crowd! There is NO friendship or attraction evangelism in the Bible, as defined by their evil advocates today.

I've told about being kicked out of Sunday School/Bible fellowship classes for knowing the Bible better than staffers! (i.e., for obeying II Tim. 2:15) THIS PASSES AS CHRISTIANITY and BIBLICAL CHURCH? NO layman hears about it (it's hush-hush), or would understand the problem, because they DON'T know their Bibles, though they attend church every week! But the money's good, so I'm labeled a 'critic;' Devil's churchianity!

ASK any claiming U.S. Christian to recite 10 Bible verses, give testimony to three times they evangelized someone, and what their quiet time Bible study taught them the last three times of last month. Three questions, and you find the ROOT of Christians' political and moral heresies! Most will be deer in headlights dumbfounded by those questions!

Want to grow a church NOT by doing God's commands? Erect a fancy architected mega church building in a growing new area of town, buy a nice building in a rich area, and have some members pledge to go there, to LOOK like it's viable, or invite people NOT used to nice things to rent your facilities.

Or you start Bible studies in North Ft. Worth, then let it die, as with a Dallas building, or make your Saturday evening crowd go to the kid's room, so it LOOKS overflowing/successful to newcomers. At least you don't pay A/C and maid crew to clean an underutilized sanctuary for those 10-years faithful ones! 'Image is everything.'

Why not just pay a retiring pastor to have his members come to your church, or buy out a financially failing church, and sell their building, and bring them to your church? Why evangelize? You can advertise, and have secular activities to interest lost people, or find Christians not attending church. Why evangelize?

Why not use streaming video to house churches of members in various areas of town, then rent school facilities for Sunday, so you can have multi-site church? Better yet, get on national TV and radio, and open church sites in different cities. Why not franchise your church (some literally do!)?

Of course, have online church, so you get even more potentially paying members. NEVER reveal your full compensation, and NEVER cap it. You pay NO taxes, and this "business model" (the exact term I've been told) "works" to make you rich, as you sheep steal, and care nothing of smaller pastors. Greed for God.

THIS IS Church growth! THIS IS nowhere found in Scripture. Use your members as FREE labor (church salespersons), to invite a friend to church. Pro bono church marketing professionals! They DONT have to evangelize—just bring people to let you do their Eph. 4 job! ANATHEMA, Laodicean church-as-a-business. True testimony!

Make T-shirts and bumper stickers promoting your church. Billboards, TV ads. DON'T evangelize people, using laymen outside the church building, because the pastor can't control if they join and pay 10 percent if the 'transaction' occurs off the church campus! ANATHEMA and ICHABOD! May God judge us SOON! False profits.

Use "seeker sensitive" tricks to make non-Christians feel at home when they visit, even though God said they'd be convicted if church was done right (I Cor. 14), and that no one seeks God (Rom. 3:11). Water down what church is supposed to be, so you can gain paying customers, and NEVER work bivocationally, as you're greater than Jesus or Paul!

And finally, make Sunday School less deep, and shut down teachers who aren't shallow. That literally happened to Dave Strawn, at Metropolitan Baptist, Cypress, TX, as with my being banned from all Sunday School classes for knowing too much, and vocalizing! FALSE church practice! ICHABOD.

But, as Rev. 3 says, the Laodicean church does quite well, financially, even though it has kicked Christ to the curb, Who knocks on the door from the outside. Even II Pet., Jude and I Tim. WARN of men in ministry for the money! And laymen sheeple say, what's the problem? You're just critical and divisive. FOOLS!

Update #5: Church-As-A-Business

You want numbers, pastors? Obey God! Evangelize everyone; disciple the responders, have Body Life worship, and SERVE your community! WHO would turn off to that? And reject your Devilish calls for a 10 percent "tithe." Ask attenders to give as God leads them to, as He has blessed them—it's BIBLICAL! (II Cor. 8-9) DON'T teach law!

Church-as-a-business trick: Locate in rich neighborhoods, and lure rich, powerful and/or famous people, then demand their "tithe!" Jesus said to target the rich, as they are most likely candidates for the kingdom, right? #EyeOfANeedle odds (vs. Jas. 2:5).

Church as a business trick: The church puts pastor's parsonage in a trust, so no one can research its worth; buy strip centers, retirement homes and Christian schools you profit off of, retaining that tax free charity status all along!

Church as a business trick: Curry favor with/solicit rich people to put their name on exciting buildings at the church. I once knew an evangelist who hired a fund raiser for $500K. I wouldn't donate a DIME to such an irresponsible entity. It went bankrupt anyway. Wonder why? (ha)

Church as a business is ANATHEMA to Christ! Not only are churches tax free charity status 501C3's, God says they are to be run free from the love of money, and Jesus TWICE turned the tables on His place being used to conduct business! False prophets are in ministry for profits—

If it acts like a duck, looks like a duck, walks and talks like a duck, it's a duck. Churches run like a business OUGHT to be taxed like a business! Duh 101.

There are pastors who have POLLED church members to see their desires and preferences for church! Is GOD the One in charge, or is it a business catering to customers? God leads REAL leaders to give Christians what they NEED—not necessarily what they want (Ex.: traditional vs. modern music service; Cf.: Eph. 5:19).

Image is everything? Image is the belief you want people to have of you, and may market to project; reputation is others' conclusions of what they think of you, based on observation and experience. Image is everything only to those who have little-to-nothing to observe or experience as reputation bases.

Character is what I am describing as lacking! It is NOT every mega pastor or church! Like every profession, there's good and bad, and even these examples have very good things they also do.

I'm GLAD this reminiscence started with three of my four pastor role models, all now deceased. I may be unchurched, and pastorless, but their role models will always be in my memory! RIP heroes! John Bisagno, Don Anderson, Billy Graham and Charles Ryrie (Heb. 12:1).

Update #6: Biblical Church Growth

I HAVE to address this more in-depth, because I don't think in these terms, because I know God's word well, and was only a professional minister for 9 months, so I haven't been sucked into the keep up with the Jones mentality of the PREVALENT church growth movement: If a pastor knows ZERO about the Bible, he views church as his business, and sermons as his job.

Salaries are demanded, because other industries have them, and budgets being met is the main concern, by attracting more customers you can serve, any way you can get them to come to your business. The more the merrier, so you get richer. THIS IS NOT CHRISTIANITY.

Your goal is to have MANY retail outlets, a mega superstore, operations in other states and countries, and you are the CEO. American Capitalism is the blueprint—NOT God's word. Let me say that another way—you are NOT serving Christ, but self and the world/society's norms! Repent of church-as-a-business!

GOD makes it VERY clear that four things are essential in HIS vs. man's church: Every lost person hears the Gospel, by go and tell, Christians get disciplined into maturity, spiritual gifts get used to edify a gathered church, and Christians impact society for goodness. THAT IS CHURCH and Christianity, as with biblical sermons (preach and teach), daily quiet times, Scripture memory and prayer.

GOD's church is known by outsiders for its prayer RESULTS, and Christians' love for one another—NOT their political rants about only two of hundreds of sins—abortion and gays! THIS IS Christianity vs. churchianity! Many pastors don't see any difference between these two.

And a 10 percent required tithe is churchianity, and theocratic Judaism, vs. Spirit-led giving. I don't know how to make the distinction more stark, than to say going to church for a sermon and 10 percent entrance fee is NOT biblical Christianity—just a mere semblance! READ God's word!

HERE's why churchianity and church-as-a-business continues... Everyone copies the other, and laymen don't know their Bibles, so they rely on pastors to say what's in it, who are motivated to pose as how they practice church comports with what you'd find IF you actually DID read it, which most won't, because their pastor is their guru, who went to seminary, where EDBS is NOT taught—mainly sermonize, and learn the Bible all your career, as you preach.

This is the Devil's way to maintain status quo, as with demonizing people calling for biblical church as divisive critics and bibliolaters. Keep the money system going at all costs. Buildings, salaries and tithes are NOT commanded, so you've got to ask what is?

EDBS! Full Evangelism, Discipling, Body life and Social ministry. That IS what church IS! NOT in America. We dabble at some of those activities, but our business is sermons and tithes and buildings. Churchianity! Attend and give.

The Bible DOESN'T teach come-and-hear evangelism. The ONLY three times anyone appeared to use it was when one guy had Jesus Himself to bring his brother to, a man didn't know the Gospel, and Paul was too old to keep going out (and was famous enough not to have to). Those are NOT our circumstances! Go and tell the Gospel, pastors!

We even have pastor desk, cubicles or offices, and 9 to 5 hours, from CULTURE—NOT Bible instruction! Pastors drive to work, passing up hundreds of lost souls, NOT evangelizing them as leaders of the sheep to do the sheep's job of evangelizing! (Eph. 4) Jesus turned the tables on church as a business.

Sermons have replaced EDBS—I evangelize primarily CHRISTIANS (an irrational act!), never relationally disciple people personally, maybe use spiritual gifts in Sun School, and every act of service is done in the church's name—NOT by members engaging evangelism and discipling as their callings!

I'm talking to dead air. People don't care about these differences, because church is BIG business, people like amenities, pastors like the money, laymen like the no involvement or accountability, and we love our buildings, and political obsession with gays and abortion! Let status quo continue, as the Lord weeps.

BECAUSE pastors WON'T tell laymen, I will: Every non-Christian is to hear the Gospel from Christians, ASAP. They go to Hell, forever, if they don't hear and respond! Every Christian is to grow up in Christ, which takes a daily quiet time, and a maturer believer doing what Jesus did with the 11—NOT just crowd sermons you forget by 72 hours.

You have one or more unique giftings you are to use to serve fellow believers, as gathered Christians love one another and relate, during the church service. And Christians are to be salt and light, doing to society what Jesus and the people in Acts did... impacting it for the better. That's church! Is it yours? Or is yours biblical?

Rev 3 says churches can be "successful," to men (Lk. 16:15), but spiritually bankrupt. A biblical church has mature Christians who are evangelistic! Evangelism and discipleship, NOT of the church entity, but its individual members.

For the past 40 years, until this past decade, when I ceased tracking stats, 5 percent of U.S. Christians EVER won one soul to Jesus, in their lifetime! 10 percent were fully committed to Christ (a requirement to be a disciple, vs. mere Christian), and 13 percent regularly read their Bibles (the source for spiritual growth; Ps. 119:9-11; Josh 1:8). WE'RE SUCCESSFUL? Failures, by these statistics! Fix it, pastors!

It's EASIER to preach one sermon a week, and to listen to it one hour a week! Check box religion. Salve the guilty conscience, and look socially acceptable, dressing up for Sunday with smiles, suits and dresses. THIS IS Churchianity, and it's anathema to Christ; a false substitute! (II Tim. 3:5; I Tim. 4:1)

WHAT's the downside of churchianity? You are POOR in eternity, Christian, masses go to a burning, fiery forever, and society continues to go to Hell in a hand basket (or hand bag of worldliness). You don't influence culture for the good by stacking SCOTUS, immorally, but by evangelism, then discipleship, and lots of prayer! #Revival

ALL these things you would know, Christian layman, IF you read your Bible, NOT waiting on your guru to brainwash you to only what he's read, so far! (I Jn. 2:27; Ac. 17:11; II Tim. 2:15) READ the book of Acts, where society and the world was turned upside down by Christian deeds! QUIT accepting the churchianity sinful substitute! Seek revival.

And if you CLAIM you care about morals in politics, HOW did you support THIS?: (link: http://facebook.com/jim.meroney.3/) facebook.com/jim.meroney.3/ God hates ALL sins, not just sodomy and abortions. Greed, lust, idolatry, churchianity, party worship, slandering Dems, selfishness, worldliness, and many more we see in U.S. politics. REPENT (Mt. 7:3).

[Unrelated private account:] What do you think about para-church organizations (Campus Crusade, CBMC, Navigators, etc.) and where they fit in with the local church?

They do SUPERIOR evangelism and discipling, and since churches do so little actual evangelism and biblical discipling, para-church organizations aren't the church, but are in the church, and do its job far better than it does, SADLY. Repent! #Revival

I Tim. 2:4 TELLS God's will for His church! Or as The Navigators said, to know Him and make him known. Para (i.e., alongside) church organizations understand God's will for Christians, like many churches and pastors in America hardly do! Sermons AREN'T discipling's substitute!

Col. 1:28 TELLS God's will for His church! You've got to get 'em saved/born again, first, before you can grow them up!

Eph. 4:13 TELLS God's will for His church! You've got to get 'em saved, before you can disciple 'em! GO and TELL!

II Pet. 3:9 and Eph. 4:15 TELL God's will for His church, as does II Cor. 5:15, and as do II Tim. 1:12 and Phil 3:10. I Jn. 3:23, Jn. 12:50 and Jn. 17:3 also TELL Gods will for His church!

The book of Acts TELLS God's will for His church! Evangelism and discipleship are the TOP TWO ministries all Christians and churches are to be engaged in. You CAN'T say we take that mandate very seriously! Jesus didn't invite anyone to hear the Gospel in a building He hung out in, or rely on preaching to crowds to disciple people!

Having established that evangelism and discipleship are the top two ministries of the Church, how thorough are we to be? Mk. 16:15; Col. 1:28; Eph. 4:15... all humans, to a person, literally! Paul knew not all pastors would do their part, but it's a sin not to! (I Cor. 15:10; Phil. 2:30) #DoYourPartPastors (7/7/19)

If 95 percent of people in church have heard the Gospel, or are saved, doesn't it make sense you follow the biblical model, and leave the company of the beloved/brethren/saints, to do most of your evangelism? Come and hear ISN'T a biblically commanded evangelism means!

If Jesus preached to crowds, but discipled the 12, in private, their results PROVE sermons can't keep up with relational discipling! (Ac. 17:6) WHO CARES? We like churchianity! –The Laodicean apostate church (majority?)

(II Cor. 5:16) Paul only identified humans as Hell-bound or Heaven-bound. II Cor. 5:9-11 SHOWS God's will for His church—evangelism and discipleship! Eph. 4:15 is God's will for Christians; Lk. 19:10 is His will for all others (John 3:16)! Church: Evangelize and disciple—That's your JOB! All else is secondary!

Let's address the problem with come and hear evangelism: Lost people are lost. A lost sheep doesn't seek out a guiding shepherd, but it's the other way around! (Lk. 15:1-7; Rom. 3:11) Lost people have the image of God, but a DEAD spirit. WHY would they want to go to a claiming spiritual event? It's against their nature!

Jas. 2 and I Cor. 14 say IF a lost person comes in your church—NOT when—or when you advertise or solicit their coming! ALL the New Testament SHOWS go and tell! The world wasn't turned upside down by a small group of Christians using come and see evangelism! God says GO (Mt. 28:18-20). Come and hear can NEVER reach everyone near any church!

Not all will be "attracted," no matter how many secular events you put on! But ALL are to be reached, and no one is MORE responsible for reaching them than the pastor working closest to their home or domicile/apartment/condo, etc. QUIT SINNING NOT doing it! (I Cor. 15:34)

LAZINESS and lack of caring are why pastors INSIST on preach-and-be-paid (and the power of man's uninformed tradition), and want lost people to come hear their sermons, with a little Gospel in them. They AREN'T evangelistic, even though a PASTORAL epistle commands THIS of THEM (II Tim. 4:5). Christians are heralds and ambassadors! (II Cor. 5:20)

In the days before the media, a town crier went to the public, and publicly broadcast the news, especially the king's edicts! Ambassadors SPEAK to foreigners and their nation. Our citizenship is in Heaven—lost peoples' is NOT, yet, until we SPEAK! (Phil. 3:20; Col. 4:4) Christians are authorized and commissioned. You don't need to earn any right to be heard! Christ earned that! You've been conscripted... you're a commissioned officer, and warrior.

The Bible's symbol for evangelism is not a mouth, but FEET, because we are to GO take the GO-spel! Lost people act natural... they just live their lives (Ex.: eat, work, sleep). Going to church ISN'T normal to their lifestyles! Why would it be, except in the Bible belt, from cultural tradition?

They're NOT "religious," they're lost/natural. America culture, since the Pilgrim days, may have been Sunday is for church, but that's cultural tradition, and those change, especially since full evangelism hasn't occurred since the late 1970's, and little discipling of converts. You don't attract lost people to saved gatherings, any more than a committed Christian should be attracted to sinful events. They're opposite to one's nature.

Go and tell didn't go away since the first century passed! Every generation needs reaching. You'll NEVER reach all lost people by your church, remaining cloistered/battened down inside! This is common sense, pastors... change!

Churches want Millennials, because Boomers are dying off. NO problem. How do you get them? IF their parents don't take them to church, you've got to impact them in public schools, or door-to-door! Effective Bible studies like the Navigators and Campus Crusade do at college used in K-12, legally! After school, if required.

HOW else do you interact with them? Millennials love rock concerts, raves, social media, video games, shopping. HOW's the church interact with them in those places? They're SUPPOSED to be evangelizing and discipling, and doing social ministry that Millennials LOVE! They care about giving back, and making a difference! Meet them there! Go and tell.

And so long as you insist on an unbiblical 10 percent of people's income, NO HUMAN seeks out an opportunity to go part with 10 percent of their income! MOST live pay check to pay check! You're killing your own growth using unbiblical requirements! Teach Christians to give as led of God, and to use all their money for His glory and priorities! And HOW is church youth-related?

Hymns, robes, sermons, NO interaction by the audience, NO relationship buildings—unless they also attend Bible fellowship (i.e., no Body Life), sermons unrelated to their life/experience (if they are lost, which is education, job, family, fun, exercise and social media). Why would a lost Millennial visit? What's in it for them?

Are you tutoring students? Are you a gym they join? Are you a dating app? You aren't You Tube! You aren't Justin Bieber or T.S., for a concert. You aren't a vacation. You aren't school, or school sports. THAT'S WHERE MILLENNIALS CAN BE FOUND! I know, because I was a youth minister, and have Millennials! Go where they are! Go and tell!

WHO can turn off to a person selflessly serving lost Millennials to have a better life? They'll listen to your Gospel if you showed them love, as a ministry of the church. You DON'T have to, in order to evangelize them, but to get them interested in attending your church, you probably do, if their parents aren't church-goers.

And EVERY church member should be tracked, to ensure they're bringing their kids to church! Every kid who visits needs their parents contacted, to evangelize them, then invite them to events that make their lives better. STOP SCARING PEOPLE OFF DEMANDING TEN PERCENT OF THEIR INCOME!

Greed turns people OFF! Self-interest! Care about THEIR needs and interests! (Phil. 2) They're bullied, pressured for grades, wondering what career to choose, have divorced parents and family problems; sibling rivalry, insecurity, depression, sexual curiosity, peer pressure and cliques. CARE! Help them through those challenges!

Inviting a lost Millennial to your building ISN'T how you're 'gonna get many takers, unless you water down what church is, to make it an entertainment center! Free food, etc. It's a spiritual place. They're spiritually dead. Get them saved. Serve and love them where you find them... in the world, church and pastors!

And QUIT internally craving their parents' tithes! Seek THEM, as humans! Their best/betterment. God will take care of your needs IF you take care of His! (Mt. 6:33) A 10 percent tithe guarantees lost people they must join the club, and pay the dues if they visit too long. THAT'S NOT GOD'S CHURCH'S BIBLICAL CONCERN for them! Repent!

Young, hip, trendy churches appeal to Millennials, like Ed Young Junior, and maybe Osteen. NOT a bunch of grey hairs everywhere! That's a generation gap! I don't want to go to any raves (though my eldest says I must when I'm 61). I don't want to play video games. Millennials go to church events where Millennials exist!

That doesn't mean they don't go to worship, but just as pastors UNbiblically have traditional vs. modern services (music-dictated), Millennial church services would be DIFFERENT from BIG church, by dress, age of preacher, music style (rap?), topics, etc. That's for those who attend.

To get them to attend, DO AS I SAID, and drop the tithe calls! Go and tell. BILLIONS of Millennials exist! Most never frequent a church's doors. It's normal, natural, and to be expected! QUIT bemoaning that fact, and change that fact by doing as I just detailed! Go and tell, where they are! Leave the church buildings!

Six Flags over Second Baptist, Houston is NOT the answer for Millennials, as that's NOT church! Be the church God describes His body is to be! THAT is attractive, when you've evangelized people, and the converted (and maybe others) attend! Do EDBS! Be God's church! Go and tell the Gospel, ASAP, to all lost people!

Treating church as a business is NOT faith! (Mt. 6:33) DO EDBS, and trust God with the results. You may not grow a Laodicean "success" story mega church, but being successful before God is what matters, and is attractive to a lost world, just as Jesus didn't have to work to draw crowds! Imitate Him!

And studies show Christian young people are LESS interested in politics opposing abortion and homosexuality, as MY generation, so adopt the FULL counsel of God (as you always should have), and stop obsessing on ONLY two sins, when you engage religion in politics, if you're wanting Millennial church members, and to be more biblical! Duh 101. In sum, be more biblical!

IF a church is committed to doing "whatever it takes" to reach lost people, they'll go and tell/evangelize! #JustDoIt IF you want to minister to Millennials, help them get jobs, pick college majors, know how to buy and budget and invest smart! Help them meet their spouse, church, as a GIFT! #CommonSense

You can't manufacture Body Life by smaller venues or tighter quarters. Sardines in tin cans have physical intimacy, but not deep fellowship! It's a corporate attitude of maturer believers taught biblical church, spiritual gifts, and given acts to do to force interaction beyond mere kind greetings and handshakes! (Jas. 2:16)

The first two churches were mega churches, and they had Body Life. It's NOT about how many people, or how big their gathering venue is, but maturity and authenticity of their conversion and conversations, and the quality of teaching they receive (Ac. 2, 4 (there, done RIGHT upon salvation!)).

Even offering meals at church won't breed Body Life/koinonia if all people do is sit with whom they came with! Pot luck suppers are good, because everyone participates in the food making. When you buy the pre-cooked food, you transact with the cooking staff, then sit with your family. There's little interaction with others in the body, most of those minutes ('holy huddles').

Body life generating acts are reverse plate offering, open microphone testimonies, praying with people sharing the same trial, confessing your sins/reconciliation time, altar calls, asking for prayer requests, and other needs the body helps to meet, laymen-created songs (or dances), matching the unemployed with employers, etc.

(Rom. 12:15) Let laymen tell of victories and sufferings, and the sick get prayed for (Jas. 5); LIST the one another's, and creatively think of ways to do them in the worship service! Sitting, singing and shaking hands IS NOT THAT! (link: https://overviewbible.com/one-another-infographic/) RELATIONSHIPS are required, to do so—NOT strangers in close proximity

Greet one another, verbally; serve needs (you've got to identify them, first); to be devoted, tell of people doing acts for Christ, needing support. Reading the one another's, you see they KNEW each other, corporately, though NOT always small churches; interaction, relationship! You can't apply those commands, much, with strangers.

Any church wanting Millennials and Body Life OUGHT to be camped out at local colleges, to give people a home away from home environment! That's what Highland Baptist was at Baylor! In Dallas, UNT, UTD, TWU, TSU, SMU, TCU—the numbers are ENDLESS, if you have a family for people NOT from DFW! Coordinate with The Navigators and Campus Crusade!

Singles mingles events (i.e., dating opportunities) would bring Millennials to church events. I'm NOT contradicting Body Life of all age groups! Things geared for certain generations refers to events NOT being the corporate worship, as Body Life involves ALL ages, analogous to family reunions.

At Highland, Gary Smalley (RIP) formulated his marriage seminar materials to us in his Sunday School class. College Millennials CARE about dating and marriage, and we ate it up—then went to mature teaching in the worship service, which included Body Life. It was the BEST church practice for that, ever, based on Read Stedman's book, Body Life!

Highland Baptist had GREAT praise music for Millennials (i.e., college student aged). Psalms, especially pre-Wow Worship and Maranatha Music! Vertical songs; acoustic guitars. The red head on staff remembers how it was (Gary?). He's a B.U. grad, my age, and may be pastoring elsewhere, now. I saw him two years ago. #Memories

The octagonal-shaped seating helped Body Life better than grids of rows! Even balcony dwellers felt right in there with Don Crossland's teaching. He prayed for a word from the Lord on what to teach, each week, and it showed, as it was like he knew what we were going through that week—a VERY gifted man! #HERO of the faith, and a mentor of mine, before seminary. Lives in Nashville now.

My BFF's wife was a praise singer—tambourines, some "Baptist" dancing. I remember open mic. People would say the Lord impressed them with some mini message directed at someone, or the whole church, and it was often quite miraculously spot on. Revival was in that church, then (1977-1981). It was NOT church as usual.

It was probably one of the furthest churches from Baylor, but we attended every week, because it was worth it. Your mega church may be miles from colleges, but make the trip worth it! They didn't entertain or advertise. They had Body Life and discipleship, and they evangelized thoroughly, via Evangelism Explosion. 41 years ago, and I still remember it like it was yesterday, because that church made an IMPACT!

People don't leave churches like that, if they live in the city, vs. graduate and move away! John Bisagno said something like preach like you're burning down the place, and people will flock to see the fire (paraphrased).

PRAYER, NOT POLITICKING (in Reagan's day): (link: http://media.sbhla.org.s3.amazonaws.com/5073,09-Jun-1980.PDF) #JohnBisagno I was there, via Paul Pressler. I drove to St. Louis with my BFF at the time. READ their priorities–NOT politics in church! LEARN Adrian Rodgers-like lessons from that era!

'Pastors who measure their success by the world's standards are out of business. Preachers are going to have to lay down their egos, and get over talkin' about each other, and doing more than comforting the troubled—you ought to be troubling the comfortable.' –Jack Taylor (1980)

As John Bisagno preached, remember, repent and return! (Rev. 2:5) Remember your first works and love; repent, and return to the deeds of your spiritual childhood faith. #Sticktoitvity There is nothing new under the sun! Do church GOD's way! (Ecc. 1:9) Basic fundamentals, like Vince Lombardi might say!

[Private account:] The only way to generate a Jesus Movement will be to call a generation back to the gospel of the Kingdom, convince them to surrender to the King, and then get them on the long, hard, wonderful road of discipleship in the context of spiritual family. #timetobuild

[Second private account:] We have way overestimated the power of a well-preached sermon and way underestimate the power of up-close discipleship. [Third private account:] Amen and amen! That was the heart of the Jesus Movement c. 60's-70's, but changed in 80's on sway from personal, intentional D [discipleship]

'No prayer means no power. Little prayer means little power. Much prayer means much power.' –John Bisagno (my ministry-licensing and late college and seminary+ pastor, whose church I STILL belong to/am a member of, to this day, solely because of and in remembrance of him).

Character is what I am describing as lacking! It is NOT every mega pastor or church! Like every profession, there's good and bad, and even these examples have very good things they also do. If it acts like a duck, looks like a duck, walks and talks like a duck, it's a duck. Churches run like a business OUGHT to be taxed like a business! Duh 101.

Servant-, attraction- and friendship evangelism were invented because Christians didn't have power. I'm beginning to think Lordship Salvation was also invented to ensure converts came to church, vs. got saved, and didn't necessarily attend any church! Evangelism ISN'T to grow your church, but to get people to Heaven!

If lovingly speaking the Gospel to your church's neighbors could turn them off from joining your church, SO BE IT, pastors! Do you value their eternity more than your pay check? Businesses can wait for customers to be attracted; Christians know the lost face Hell, even today! Church IS NOT a business, but it is to Balaam types!

Update #7: Conservatism & Christianity

I spoke with a pure conservative, last evening, for whom economics without ethics was his number one value (as a Christian), UNTIL I brought up ethics and balance, with which he agreed. They're programmed to have confidence without thinking through all the mantras! He poo poo'd education, and justified greed as good for the economy, then balked that I was confusing religion with politics when I brought up ethics.

AMAZINGLY, he said the number one problem in American politics was no talk of sin in society, and said the church is the compass of society (AS IF the WASP church supported righteousness and acted morally being for all 45 did and said). That's scary delusion, hypocrisy and moral blindness concerning politics.

He got defensive when I blamed culture's rot on pastors NOT evangelizing and discipling. Church is NOT society's moral compass! It SHOULD be, but we agreed it has been asleep. Lost people can be society's moral compass, too, if they learn morals. We BOTH agreed Dems' AOC giveaways we all must oppose.

Continuing

It may be 2am, but it's time for a SCATHING rebuke of political conservatism among Christians! First, since they're NOT flexible, and attack ALL defectors, I am NOT for liberalism or moderation! Liberals want to do good things, but spend taxpayer money to do so. I OPPOSE that!

If a taxpayer wants their money spent to fix a problem, they can donate. The waste, abuse and fraud in government programs can never be supported by any Christian! Second, I'm NOT a moderate! Moderates have ZERO vision for America—just avoid extremes and cooperate to get laws passed, usually by compromise, including of core principles.

Third, I'm conservative on any and all issues EXCEPT what I'm about to detail (as all positions must match our faith), and if you aren't, also, DON'T call yourself a Christian! This message is in response to a talk show host who worships conservatism AS IF it is Jesus' own design—it is NOT, Mark Davis, and here's the explanation:

First, economic conservatism: Thomas Sowell (Basic Economics) CAN'T be debated as correct, economically... supply and demand, prices determine allocation of scarce resources, etc. The question is, IS LIFE IN ANY NATION ONLY ABOUT ECONOMICS? Are ethics also a consideration? I spoke with a pure conservative who worshipped its economics, yet when I said what about ethics, and truth is usually found between extremes, he actually quoted that adage better than me—YET, he couldn't bring himself to see the inconsistent hypocrisy that his RIGHT beliefs must also apply to economics.

ETHICS affects everything in life, including economics, politics and religion. In other words, if political conservatism supports any sinful values, Christians, religious- and moral people can't 100 percent accept it, economically or politically!

Let's give some examples. If money alone allocates limited resources, those already richest could HOARD all the world's goods and resources! That's conservative economics! And IF price is how you allocate limited resources, IT IS RIGHT/correct that ONLY rich elites get a college education and healthcare, because there aren't enough for everyone to get those things!

Conservatives would AGREE that because those two industries can charge an arm and a leg, because they're virtual monopolies, they should, and government shouldn't interfere, because government is BAD, as it makes asset distribution less efficient than the private sector (i.e., central control vs. market demands, determined by profit or loss affecting economic decisions).

Let's be VERY specific... that means anyone who is not already rich (or don't become so) should never be able to have healthcare or college, and that statement is economically sound, because it allocates limited resources most efficiently, as the assumption is that efficient allocation of limited resources is the ONLY value a society is to have!

And any concern for the poor, by government, is WRONG, because the market alone is to allocate resources, through price, meaning poverty is good. Also, greed is never a sin, because greed makes business people offer goods and services for the highest price others will pay, and cost them the least they have to pay. That means any who can't afford market rate never get those things!

It also pertains to wages. Employers SHOULD pay the least, and profit the most, as that's the best way to efficiently allocate limited resources, and wealth incentivizes the hardest work/most productivity. If EVERY U.S. business outsourced every job, or found better skills they could import here, that is GOOD, because it's the goal to maximize profit, and minimize expenses! To Hell with all other Americans who can't keep up—Darwinism dog-eat-dog, supported by Creationists, because ethics are NOT a consideration!

Let's address race, and the good 'ol boy system/white privilege. Historically, America was founded by whites! Later on, blacks came here against their wills, as slaves (generally speaking). That head start advantage is justified as being maintained because government is never to interfere with the market. That means, every government policy SHOULD favor the citizens already rich, because an economy does that, under conservatism (i.e., supply and demand, where the rich control prices of products and wages).

It DOESN'T MATTER that Levit. 19:15 exists, for a claiming Christian, because ethics are NOT a consideration! How about whites preferring to work with family members (nepotism), or friends—birds of a feather, all else being equal? That's RIGHT and OK, though it discriminates against other races, because free markets allow freedom by business owners and the rich to spend their money economically, with finite resources, and all else being equal, it's not a bad economic decision to do so!

How about MBA schools teaching that economics is amoral—NOT immoral? Again, the brain-washing is favoring ethics being taken out of the equation. Sowell himself prefaces his book by polarizing radicals vs. conservatives, saints vs. heathens, in a bias to the right he himself can't even notice!

It is an implicit bias against anything but conservatism! So IS economics amoral? IS government regulating profit-makers NOT allowed to feed consumers unsafe food BAD, because it restricts freedom to profit, which is conservatives' basic economic tenet?

Are government policies restricting business' ability to cause cancer, through pollution, BAD, because it restricts business' ability to profit, assuming as they do that businesses will always decide to be most efficient in resource allocation, so government ALWAYS screws that up?

Is government BAD because it insists on truth in advertising vs. fraud, and bait and switch, which could earn efficient businesses more profit than with that government interference? With Sowell's illustration of Communist nations being inefficient, as bureaucrats vs. prices determine how much of what resources their nation produces, is ALL government interference in a free market economy BAD, like overtime laws, minimum wage, required worker breaks and safe work places, and our safety net, including unemployment insurance, and forced Social Security?

From a purely economic point of view, conservatives would say 'YES,' because individuals can more efficiently allocate capital to their needs, and all regulations restrict business' ability to profit, and profit is the only value a society is to support!

What about the estate tax? ‘Double taxation,’ say conservatives. Taxed when you earn it, then re-taxed on that same money when you die—a restriction on elites profiting more so, economically, so it’s bad. It doesn’t matter that it helps support society, and society’s bills! That’s an ethics consideration, and economics are amoral!

You start to see that people who support conservative economics have both intellectual reasons for doing so (Ex.: efficient allocation of limited resources), but also personal reasons to support it, if they’re white in American, rich, or both.

Executives can never be overpaid, said Limbaugh, because someone paid them. It DOESN’T MATTER that emotional relationship ties by Boards of Directors who also benefit by high salaries can determine market rate, because that’s an ethics vs. economics consideration calling that bad!

Can business ever screw the little guy, by outsourcing away his future, or automating his future into poverty? That is NOT A CONSIDERATION under conservative economics, because business can do no wrong, because profit is everything, as an indicator of good economic decisions of maximum profit and minimum expenses, as most efficient use of resources with several potential uses!

What about personal greed? Can an individual be sinning against God, to prioritize money too highly? Conservatives would have to say ‘NO,’ because maximizing profit is how economics allocates scarcity! Greed IS good, as Sowell himself essentially claims, moralizing greed as incentivizing the best economic decisions—least cost, max profit.

So when God says it’s a sin, any moral or religious conservative must choose to deny God, as they’ve bought into conservative economics!

As I asked my conservative neighbor, what about ethics? A deer in the headlights look followed! When asked about ‘greed is good,’ Sowell’s redefinition was cited. When I brought up Bible verses, he literally asked, why are you “confusing” religion with economics? That’s another way of saying keep ethics out of economics, politics and life! Ethics are the root/core of all religion, and absent them, life is lawless (crime, injustice, etc.).

But that’s the logical outcome of any political philosophy that adopts pure conservative economics, as I just detailed! Minimum wage is government interfering with market forces. We ALL know it’s forcing most employers to pay MORE than they’d want, if they could get away with it otherwise, legally!

And conservatism wraps itself in the U.S. flag and Constitution! ‘We the people,’ ‘general welfare,’ ‘more perfect union,’ and ‘justice for all’ should NOT be words found in that document, according to conservative interpretations of it!

And please don’t involve religion in any area of life, but church going and personal ethical decisions—like Mic. 6:8 detailing God is concerned with justice for all people (with liberty and justice for all, endowed by their Creator—more words to rip out of a conservative’s Constitution)!

Even on abortion, since that word (as with smart phone, reverse discrimination, sub-prime bailouts, segregation, gay marriage, women’s equality, etc.) is NOT explicitly found in that document, SCOTUS, they say, has no right or business making any decisions on the matter!

That’s left only up to the states (‘and the people’—a phrase they often conveniently ignore). If the people want the feds to address an issue, and variant state laws cause untenable problems for our nation, SCOTUS-supported case law precedent allows them to address it, but ONLY in compliance with Constitutional provisions and principles!

I'm NOT 'gonna rehash my three main objections to political conservatism (for which you get treated as the enemy, even if it's only those three—the same intolerance they mock liberals as supporting if there is any doctrinal disagreement), those being you CAN immorally idolize money (which God opposes), problems and injustices need to be fixed (sometimes charity alone can't do the trick), and Welfare must be reinvented to be a program that makes all citizens stand on their own two economic/financial feet, ASAP.

These three issues are likely the ONLY place I don't bow down at the feet of the golden calf of pure political conservatism, but given the sinful and selfish nature of carnal Christians and lost humanity, conservatives will opt for politicians catering to their own lusts, just as they do in religion! (II Tim. 4:3)

Go to churches where getting rich is praised, because the pastor does so himself! It DOESN'T MATTER that God says those who want to be rich PIERCE THEMSELVES with many pangs, or that the rich are the LEAST likely to enter Heaven! It DOESN'T MATTER that God says even when you're wealthy, LIFE DOES NOT CONSIST OF YOUR RICHES.

Thomas Sowell said the U.S. poor are rich by the world's standards. Attitude doesn't pay bills, and by cost standards of America, they don't face bottom feeder costs! He also said economics is the efficient allocation of limited resources. That means the rich get most of the goods, efficiently; that's ethical? (7/3/19)

VP Pence said the GOP wants poor people richer, not rich people poorer. What he DIDN'T tell you is they want it if the rich get richer in the process, profiting off their work; RARELY touting give back, I Tim. 6:15-17, and NOT by paying people more. That GOP desire for the poor pays NONE of their bills! (7/3/19)

Update #8: The Religion of Conservatism

For some people, political conservatism is a religion, as with liberalism and moderatism! A religion is a firm/consistent/unified set of beliefs placed ABOVE serving God! There are fake religions, like a cannabis cult I saw on TV, but NO true religious person can put anything ABOVE God, especially Christ-claimers!

SCOTUS court stacking to the right—that's supporting injustice, vs. balance and objectivity, and politicizing the judiciary, whose JOB is to be objective decide based on our laws. And that same "Christian" whose views I am criticizing said he's for overturning Roe. I have NO problem with his desire, but total bans are unreasonable, even if they might protect one unborn whose mom can't afford to get the procedure elsewhere.

This "Christian" SUPPORTS a church, like so many that get BIG, that does NOT do EDBS priorities, in any significant or biblically accurate way. THAT's why I say his politics IS his religion! There is MUCH sin in the WASP church! But if their politicians can robotically rail against gays and abortions, they get their vote.

GOD REQUIRES EVERY CLAIMING CHRISTIAN TO PUT YOUR RELIGION IN PRACTICE IN YOUR POLITICS! And GOD teaches the FULL counsel—NOT cherry picking, and God is for JUSTICE (Mic. 6:8)

Conservatives who claim Jesus do NOT care to do that, except on those two policies, and ending Welfare! They don't care that God is opposed to ALL sins, including greed, selfishness, hoarding, idolatry, adultery, divorce (two exceptions), worldliness, NOT doing EDBS, etc. You are sinning to 100 percent identify with political conservatism or liberalism or moderatism!

You can ONLY obey God on a case-by-case basis regarding specific policies! I might be 80-85 percent conservative, but I do NOT agree with them on three matters—unbridled Capitalism (worldliness love of money, celebrating greed as good, when God calls it a SIN), ending, vs. re-envisioning Welfare, and a basic disdain for government solving any problems, if they cost money, especially any societal push for the rich to give back generously! THIS IS BIBLICAL POLITICS (I Tim. 6:17-19).

That same claiming Christian said he knows there are many scum bag conservatives, concerning money, but 'what are you 'gonna do about it?' (i.e., hand wringing) NOT do nothing! Like Richard Nixon, I'm 'gonna make this PERFECTLY CLEAR: Any church with ZERO plans to evangelize ALL their neighbors, ASAP, is apostate.

Any church that has NO plan to relationally disciple ALL church members is CARNAL. Any church that NEVER uses the spiritual gifts of laymen in their worship is backslidden. And any church that does little social ministry is not acting like Jesus.

I will call these people out, BY NAME, when I run for office. It is high time God's name CEASES to be associated with political conservatism, or any other unified belief system in politics. God is ONLY for moral policies, and He opposes all bad and sinful ones. NO party has a monopoly on Him. Repent, Christians!

I'm 'gonna RISK sounding legalistic, or judgmental, because I KNOW I'm NOT and I know my desired intentions: EVERY Christian is called to be a disciple of Jesus! If one is NOT living as a disciple, they are sinning! MOST in America are NOT living full-out for God. THIS is why their politics are often so morally screwed up!

CARNALITY lives for Self as God. It is idolatry. Life is a matter of what's in it for me, down here? Live it up, for tomorrow we die—OPPOSITE of Col. 3:1-4, as you might expect!

The American Dream is to be as rich as humanly possible, and live it up. GOD DOES NOT TEACH THAT! He teaches service, sacrifice for fellow man, DOING evangelism and discipling, walking with Him, 24/7, vs. one hour a week. Churchianity is in bed with conservatism, and it is a SIN.

No one wants church changed, because it works for both pastor and parishioner! He gets 10 percent; they give up one hour (a week). God wants to spit that out of His mouth (Rev. 3). It's ALL accomplished by touting ONLY two sins, politically!

THROW OUT your rarely read Bible, conservatives! GOD DOESN'T CARE about any sins but abortion and homosexuality! This is the Devil's word claiming Christians believe, in politics! THE number one reason WASPs are mainly conservative, politically, is because they WRONGLY believe it represents God, due to abortion and sodomy.

They RARELY know the Bible; their pastors rarely know the Bible, until WAY after seminary! Seminaries even teach pastors-in-training that they're giving them tools, and they can learn God's word over a lifetime's career. DOES GOD SAY SUCH THINGS? No! (II Tim. 2:15, 4:2; Ac. 17:11, 20:27; I Jn. 2:27).

I'm just 'gonna lay this out for you, and RISK you thinking me arrogant (because I know I'm NOT). I spent 10 years, full-time, studying the New Testament, and have read it probably 163 times. Pastors do NOT know its FULL teachings or contents often, or very well, with FEW exceptions (like Chuck Swindoll).

With that premise set, IS IT ANY WONDER the sheep are so stupid as to its contents, as they have sinfully and lazily farmed out their own studying to listening to sermons that became more entertaining and LESS exegetical (since 1985, with the church growth movement)?

Pastors TIRED of being broke! When I was one, that was the norm and expectation! My parents were sad I chose a poor career. NOT ANYMORE! Ever since mega pastors have abandoned EDBS priorities, and watered down and changed what church IS, the money has FLOWED in!

Please learn one thing, today: LAODICEA is a church and church age, where churches are RICH, but spiritually BROKE! That's the WASP church U.S.A.! EDBS is hardly done, and the 5/10/13 problem continues, with occasional spikes in those percents.

Five percent of U.S. Christians have EVER won one soul to Jesus in their ENTIRE lifetime! Ten percent are fully committed (AKA, disciples); that means that 90 percent have compromised, are carnal, and have one foot in the world (to cover their risk), and 13 percent regularly read their Bibles.

Now to my legalism risk: I don't care two hoots if any Christian ever reads one page of their Bibles... God does. I want you to, but this isn't about me! The Bible is God's number one means to spiritual maturity. GOD said follow Him DAILY. If the Bible is the bread of life, and you aren't eating daily, you are spiritually starved, or CARNAL.

That doesn't mean you can't miss a day/meal or two, or take vacations from the habit, but you need to feed to succeed! That verse I quoted from I Jn. says U DO NOT NEED A GURU, chaperone or intermediary! (I Tim. 2:5)

Pastors are NOT substitutes for EVERY Christian to be Berean, or to obey II Tim. 2:15! You THINK/assume/presume they know more than you. Sometimes it's just a week ahead, through sermon prep! And they can be wrong.

For example, any who teach Lordship Salvation, or required 10 percent tithing. You believe them, because you respect them, because men of the cloth used to be heroes who sacrificed for God. Now we have millionaire ministers, yet you still feel they're suffering for Jesus by being in the ministry! Adjust your thinking to reality!

On Judgment day, God is NOT 'gonna excuse the sins of any Christian who claims, 'my pastor said that was right!' Each human is individually responsible to God for every choice they make! And if you choose to blindly follow any man, you are sinning! (I Cor. 7:23) DON'T take MY word for it—READ!

[P.S.: That same conservative said abortion is NOT in the Constitution. SCOTUS is allowed to interpret laws it is called to rule on, in light of principles and values in the Constitution! The Founders did NOT spell out every issue America would face. It's NOT illegal every time they do, though overturning Roe is also fine, for OTHER reasons, and NOT by politicizing SCOTUS by court stacking.

The guy hasn't taken one law course, especially Constitutional law, yet he pontificates on SCOTUS's rights! Congress can always codify things SCOTUS ever gets wrong! All this in Jesus name? ANATHEMA! Carnality, posing as holiness!]

IF any claiming Christian doesn't have a quiet time habit, can't recite 10 Bible verses from memory, acts like the Devil when out of church, does NO discipling of others, rarely evangelizes, doesn't know or use their spiritual gift, DON'T LISTEN TO one WORD THEY SAY about morals or politics!

And if any U.S. Christian supports his/her church NOT being committed to doing thorough evangelism of their neighbors, and thorough discipling of all church members, they are biblical heretics. There, I said it. There goes votes from many carnal Christians! So be it. Care to debate me on it? Crickets.

Unfortunately, I feel this topic HAS to be pounded into the ground, to break through hardened hearts and blinded minds of U.S. pastors and laymen. MANY pastors consider the people living nearest their building the most likely potential new members. Therefore, they freely CHOOSE NOT to go evangelize them with their members, and here's why:

That's too abrupt; it could turn them off, as too pushy or religious; they might get a bad vibe about my church. 1. No one said you ever have to mention your church, but since PAYING customers is MORE their desire, than people going to Heaven, they suffer these phobias!

There's a BIBLICAL URGENCY to everyone hearing the Gospel! No business has that type urgency to get more customers, unless they're facing bankruptcy! CHURCH IS NOT A BUSINESS. The ONLY excuse any pastor has for NOT publicly committing to LEAD his members to evangelize ALL nearby neighbors is SIN.

Pastors have substituted sermons for relational discipling, and Jesus' life proves the results are NOT the same, as to spiritual quality and commitment! Pastors have substituted go and tell for tacking on evangelistic invitations to sermons heard mainly by already saved people! Apostate church!

The Navigators and Campus Crusade DESERVE your giving to God, more than MOST churches, because they focus on evangelism and discipleship. You can argue they're not a church, because there's no building or sermon, but they're members of the church doing God's work better than most churches and pastors! #TRUTH

Let's POUND this topic even further, because tradition and competition keep status quo churchianity. Evangelism means Christians telling non-Christians how to go to Heaven, and avoid Hell. Discipleship is maturing Christians up into Christ-like behavior. Those are the church's top two priorities, biblically.

I MUST drive this home, because the DEVIL has so many Christians in his grip: Lost people are going to burn in a fire, every day with no end, and that process can start for them today! Why don't you care? Because you are sinful! Re-read this post until you repent. Judgment is facing even you, for that decision of callousness.

Keith Green, To Obey Is Better Than Sacrifice: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=TzWyZxlwGKI>

I can't shirk/shrug off this compulsion to keep driving home what U.S. Christians must learn... Sermon, song and silver is NOT biblical Christianity! A 24/7 walk with Christ, daily quiet time, and doing evangelism and discipling IS, with Body Life, the normal church gathering as the cherry on top, and collectively doing social ministry!

Myself from age 8 to 18. A decade lost to the Devil. I was saved at Southview Baptist, Lincoln, NE. I never grew one inch, spiritually, until college. We went to church FAITHFULLY three times a week during that decade. Church isn't discipleship! You have to eat/ingest God's word for yourself! Feed, read!

My dad and I read through the entire Bible, as an informational/more academic exercise. It was virtually futile for knowing God! You have to consciously pray to meet with Him 10 to 15 minutes a day, by prayer and Bible meditation. NOTHING is as important!

Once you have some decent grasp of the Book, relational discipling is essential. If no human has ever poured their life experience of Jesus into you, as a mentor figure, you will NOT grow nearly as much as had they done so—PERIOD!

You do NOT hear these concepts in church or at seminary; hence, it's a foreign language to laymen! EVERY U.S. BELIEVER, phone The Navigators today to find how you can sit through their program! I have their materials stacked away in dusty boxes, somewhere, but "in my day" it was called The 2:7 Series, from Timothy.

SPEND SIX MONTHS going through that program. It will change your life! Secondly, phone Campus Crusade, to sit through their discipling program! However long these two programs take, IT'S WORTH IT!

You will live forever in Heaven! Why are you NOT living accordingly? You think God doesn't see your carnality? You think He doesn't punish His people in this life? You will receive golden OUTHOUSES as a reward for what LITTLE you do for Him in this life! Repent!

He gave you eternity! He suffered and died a painful, agonizing death as an INNOCENT, so you wouldn't go to Hell, forever. Why is this so lightly esteemed by you? Why is money/filthy lucre so valued by you? Because you are carnal! You aren't spiritual. You aren't a disciple. You're saved and sinful.

I'm NOT judging you as worse than me; I'm telling you facts your flesh/sin nature doesn't want to hear, because it's the TRUTH, and for you, the truth doesn't set you free because you're a slave of sin, even as a Christian who regularly attends church!

I did the exact same thing in Baptist churches from age 8 to 18. I don't speak as one who can't relate! I remember those days! I was a 'good' teenager, compared to average. I was in church choir, attended most times the church doors were open. I went to Sunday School with Cal Thomas as my high school teacher. I was a good churchianity adherent! I was NOT a disciple, though saved!

It took a gal I gave a promise ring to marry later cheating on/double timing me (caught them on a date) to wake me up! #Tears Amy M. of Ft. Worth (loved her parents, RIP). That broke me. I RAN to the nearest Baylor building stairwell, crying, and prayed, 'Lord, I'll do anything you want, anytime, anywhere.'

I got Spirit-filled that night! I can honestly say I've NEVER been the same since that day (~Nov. 13, 1978). No one can truthfully testify that I've been the same since that event! Imperfect, but changed. My college fraternity saw the difference! I became its chaplain. I evangelized them, publicly.

God called me into the ministry two weeks later, and I was licensed by John Bisagno, and attended seminary, where I rarely dated. One day I secured a date with a high school beauty I should have been elated to go out with, but God was burdening my heart for missions, and she noticed, and asked if I preferred to end it! I probably did(?).

Gretchen (from church), or Betty (from seminary). I can't recall which. My concern was for how can one human help all Christians evangelize all non-Christians? My major was missions-evangelism. My only point is you can be saved and NOT surrendered to Christ! You're missing out! You're failing God! You're a sinful disappointment who will be ashamed and sad/sorrowful for awhile in Heaven! (I Jn. 2:28)

You are normal, in America, but you are biblically SICK. PASTORS allow your condition to continue, if the bills get paid! That's SO mean to say, but I tell the truth, whether anyone likes to hear it or not! Churchianity is a sin!

You need an initiating mentor to move you off the starting block! When I was a frosh, at B.U., I had one. I don't even remember his name! He showed me love, cared about my life, grades, dates, career aspirations, and showed that concern by coming by and chatting. He did not push religion on me, or judge my Playboy centerfolds on the walls. He just persistently asked if I'd study the Bible w/him.

If I was retired, the only three things I'd ever want to do is edit my 5,000-paged New Testament commentary, nag pastors until they evangelized all nearby neighbors, and nag every Christian I met to have a quiet time with me. THIS is then great need of our age! May warriors rise to fulfill those duties!

Must I pound the gavel one more time? Christianity, as it's practiced in the United States, is a FAR CRY from biblical Christianity, in many if not most cases. There, I said it. Let the chips fall where they will, and let God's judgment fall where it is needed! #Revival for #Laodicea.

Returning to that claiming Christian radio host, he said he wished Ginsburg and Brennan were gone. His politics doesn't match God's values, because the church he goes to doesn't match God's values—the son of the dude I spoke so much about the other day! It's ALL about the money—not justice or morals. #Laodicea Fellowship!

Until I worked on this last chapter, I'd never realized how many ministers are in ministry for the money! They'll NEVER admit it, but most of the fights I've had with pastors, over 30 years, have been over them protecting their cash cows! #Apostasy

So a person who demands/insists church actually do thorough evangelism, biblically, is a religious Pharisee critic for not agreeing with that church doing evangelism NOT God's way, because pastors want the income more than the lost all reached? TRICK of church-as-a-business!

We've WARRED FOR YEARS, and there's a good reason for that. I want church to be run biblically, and others wouldn't mind dabbling at that, so long as fame and fortune aren't at all sacrificed, doing church God's way. This is WELL over a decades-long battle, I now it is over, as I have moved on to greener pastures/pastors.

Update #9: Un-Bible-Informed Church Growth (Part I)

I can't help but think this church's building expansion for young couples/Millennials is why my family's church has a hankering for Millennial growth, by moving our worship service to the high school area! dallasnews.com/news/traffic/2 and here's exactly why...

The two know each other VERY well, having backed the most immoral and ignorant president in 30+ years! And mega pastors are competitive (especially if sports-minded, or backgrounded), EVEN THOUGH God says we are co-laborers, and NOT competitors! It hasn't hurt Jeffress to kiss up for power idolatry and evil, as satan can make people rich.

Our church transferring the off hours church crowd to a smaller space may appear to outsiders like things are growing and happening! WE WERE TOLD it was for intimacy and evangelism, but they're also 'gonna boost cafeteria sales (i.e., profits), which has ZERO to do with Body Life! And LATER, one said IF we max out two services, "maybe we can return to the worship sanctuary." He DID NOT SAY if we get more intimacy or evangelistic! Hence, TRUE MOTIVES got revealed, for any smart enough to discern!

Church growth in numbers was the aim, and you carrot and stick people into achieving your ends, by punishing decade⁺-long faithful worshippers, and reward GROWTH in numbers—NOT even Millennials required—and you can get pews that have cushions and a setting for adults!

THIS IS CHURCH-AS-A-BUSINESS! NO relational discipling, NO increased evangelistic members, NO body life. A parent with 30 kids is IRRESPONSIBLE if they can't care for them all. WHO CARES? WE WANT numbers, because Jeffress is growing, and my BFF used to head that church!

HERE's the justification used to make it SEEM holy... The more we bring in, the more we "minister" (AKA preach) to, which is TRUE. So why criticize? Two reasons... True motives sold by lies, and NOT doing EDBS with the 45K already existing, or any newbies. Telling us Millennials were the aim, when any overflow to two services gets us our regular place of worship, which is treating adults like children, because YOU can't inspire/motivate them to grow numbers, or evangelize much, or disciple, because that's REALLY not the objective, anyway!

Sermons do everything, because that's an EASY fix, and I'm experienced at them, so they're quick to do. Discipling and evangelizing take effort I'm NOT as good at, and time, and the goal is growth in numbers, not maturity or evangelism, unless my sermons instill that (which statistics can show they DON'T, for most pastors).

Church is BIG business, NOT always God's business!

cnn.com/2010/WORLD/ame...

And if I NEVER reveal my total compensation, just keep doing TV ministry for free, NO ONE will EVER question my number one motive, as I'll NEVER cap my salary, and I can keep watching Osteen and Gateway church (who bought my Dallas venture building for $25M), to see how they have multi-site!

Plus, I hire Second Baptist Houston staffers to get insight into how they envisioned 10 campuses in 1998, by 3-D holograph licensing rights in California, and buddy up with First Baptist, Houston, because they also have many satellite churches, probably using streaming live video.

All this is conjecture, of course, but I'd bet it's mainly accurate, because I know mega pastor thought patterns like you know how to wipe your hind end, and about as pretty a picture! So we can "minister" to more people, 'for the Lord,' if we bring in a herd! We REDEFINE what church is, where the sermon is the product, and success is bodies and bucks. No one questions this!

Throw a bone or two to the naive sheeple, like a gym, and they're happy with growth, too. No one cares if a handful percent ever evangelize much, or that the church reaches so few people for Christ, per capita, as that's ONLY a pastor's job, through TV and radio! (OPPOSITE Eph. 4) And relational discipling can be done by para-church organizations, who do NOT rely on the people they "minister" to to pay their wages (just supporters).

Our sermons and Sunday School is our discipling, EVEN THOUGH if a pastor were WILLING to know the TRUTH, a heads bowed, eyes closed show of hands would SHOCK them, as it already has, by asking three questions... Do you consider yourself to be FULLY committed to Jesus, as a Christian? Do you regularly meet with God, daily, in Bible study and prayer? And do you regularly tell others the Gospel, at least five times a year?

And we REDEFINE Body Life, and all social ministry is done by church program, which costs money! It's TRUE a church can do much more with more money, but the top two ministries Christ commissioned for HIS church are evangelism and discipleship, and those cost ZERO, if laymen are matured up to do their jobs! They are NOT!

They're sold a bill of goods called churchianity, and told church-as-a-business is PROOF God is at work, so you question that and you're a religious Pharisee critic and divider, likely of satan! THIS IS CHURCH GROWTH, folks! Be it a Dallas campus, a North Fort Worth Bible study to grow into a campus, or inviting Latinos via Telemundo TV ads to enjoy ambiance/architecture WELL more than most of them would be used to, to create a church, THIS IS CHURCH GROWTH, folks. If we don't do it, they go unchurched, is the rationale, proved by our antics paying off in increased church attendance figures.

JUST LIKE Paul, in II Cor. 10-13, I'm 'gonna indulge some crazy, near sinful ideas (like his boasting), to MOCK this man-made system, even though I'm certain my joking ideas will be taken LITERALLY by Balaam false profits/prophets in ministry for money (disqualifying, I Tim. 3:3, but we have to keep up with THESE Jones': <https://www.beliefnet.com/faiths/christianity/8-richest-pastors-in-america.aspx> beliefnet.com/faiths/christi...

Many mega pastors keeping up with that list are at a DISadvantage, because they're HONORable, and do NOT stoop to teaching the false doctrine of health and wealth, and don't get ultra-rich, like fraud Osteen, by watering down God's word with PMA and motivational pop psychology, spun as exegetical teaching!

Here are some ways mega churches have indulged to expand... You map out your mega city, for the rich areas. NO reason you don't do so in every big U.S. city, or world-wide (but the management and business books you read tell you don't grow too fast, or you can fail!).

Find underserved rich areas. Get on TV and radio, so you get known in more cities. Like Ed Young JUNIOR, open campuses in multiple states. Osteen has events to meet and greet, so cities warm up to his ministry, but you can do that to start a satellite/franchised church out of state.

We have live stream, now, and Second Baptist will get 3-D holograph first! There are NO LIMITS to world-wide growth potential! GOOD man Pastor Cho had 300K, in South Korea. His son went off the rails, I'm told, but the whole family's RICH!

Study his church, NOT the Bible! Study all mega churches—NOT the blue print/Bible, and how they're doing it! Architecture is one element! First Baptist Dallas' new artistic sanctuary, better on the outside than the WEIRD stage lowering with a DOOR smack dab in its middle, that rises and lowers to allow exiting stage left for the orchestra.

You put on performances! Fourth of July Freedom Sunday next week (FBC Dallas). Christmas light parades (Second Baptist, Houston). Christmas pageants and live human Christmas trees (same venue). Performances, pageants, Broadway and Hollywood, for Jesus!

You get your church in the news. Have a media expert or team... get people talking about you. Involve yourself in politics, so DUPES think you're a "leader," even though you had to YUGELY compromise your Christian morals to back tRump.

MOST of his council are mega pastors, because they can affect/influence more WASP voters than having a room full of small- or medium-sized pastors, who aren't caught by the mega mania bug, and actually would act like John the Baptist, to an ungodly fake Christ claimer, and would give wise and godly counsel—NOT favoring Israel, to the detriment of justice or Middle East peace possibilities, with America as a neutral arbiter.

They [small- and medium-sized church pastors] would ACTUALLY disciple him, if he were really a 'baby Christian,' or threatened no support if he didn't change his childish and sin-full ways, because most of them aren't in ministry for fame and fortune!

You also make sure you get famous people to come speak at church, because they draw crowds, and that's the aim! The BIGgest Bible church in Racine, WI, wouldn't hire me as Evangelism Pastor because I didn't have ties/connections to get @tonydungy to speak there! THAT'S THEIR UNBIBLICAL WAY OF DOING EVANGELISM! Why didn't God think of that?

Is it only because Christianity was new, so no famous people were saved? The world has changed, so why not rip Eph. 4 out of our Bibles!

Why not use the 'if you build it they will come' man's philosophy, and commission Frank Gehry to build a mega church (like the Crystal Cathedral did) to attract crowds? WHY NOT a Six Flags over Second Baptist, Houston, as I JOKINGLY suggested in 1998, on an Evangelism Minister job interview?

We've had Jim Bakker and Paul Crouch, with Christian theme parks and TV networks, one of whom had "many mansions," but NOT in Heaven (Jn. 14:2). SINCE we're acting like Christ will NEVER return, why NOT eat, drink and be merry down here, for tomorrow we die; all for Jesus/in Jesus' name? (I Cor. 15:32)

The Lifestyle Evangelism book allowed us to advertise church, and do anything but open a whore house or bar, for Jesus! We even have cafes and coffee bars in church buildings, bowling alleys, probably a McDonalds or Starbucks. My dad's church owns a strip center and restaurant; my family's church has a YUGE cafeteria the Saturday evening crowd can now buy from more easily, proximity-wise.

First Baptist Houston owns a senior center. ALL of them, it seems, have private K-12 schools that are always expensive; they support "Christian" universities charging an arm-and-a-leg, all in Jesus' name! Falwell, Baylor, et al.

I told a regent friend that B.U. has drifted from its Christian values ('greed and gold'), and he literally said to me, "it says 'Christian' on the website!" #WOW It's ALL about the money, and the here and now.

I had to force that church to do serious evangelism (which they did three or four times), but now that politics have taken over, you don't hear about Harvest America crusades anymore, or revival calls! It was used as a means to elevate one's status in the ignorant Christian community, to be seen as a 'leader,' because image is everything, as Chris Kouba said in my presence, who was later identified as the pastor's right hand intern, who banned me from all Sunday School classes.

My BFF, Dave Strawn, was a Sunday School teacher to older folk. One day, a rotund staffer at The Met (Metropolitan Baptist, Cypress, TX) entered our class, and announced that a new teacher was taking over (never discussed with David).

MOST of the people got upset, and he knew I was a minister, so he had a one-to-one statement to me, to try to keep me from rebuking him, publicly, as I had at First Baptist, Deer Park, when pastor Ernest Weedon changed the sermon topic from what was published in the bulletin, because deacon Bob Sebesta had met with me, and they disagreed with my Saviorhood Salvation/biblical Gospel, in favor of John MacArthur's only false doctrine of Lordship Salvation. But I digress.

Watered-down is what sells to visitors, in a seeker sensitive REDEFINITION of what church IS.

I was probably banned from all Sunday School classed well over a decade ago (and haven't attended one time with my wife, who goes regularly), in all that time, and I never will! Dividing families who stand for the truth, because church growth is the goal, even though God says the church is for believers, and evangelism outside your uncommanded buildings is how lost people meet Him. That's "not our business model" are the exact words I have heard.

Why not copy the world's business mergers and acquisitions trend, and buy a sky scraper or office building, for Jesus, by combining all failing churches in DFW, or all who have dilapidating buildings? Watermark bought and remodeled an office building, and themed it with wood and rock.

A church I passed by recently had a water fountain in front, as you have to do that, to keep up with the Jones,' and attract customers! Why not hire the Bellagio fountain designer, as a "competitor" to First Baptist, Dallas? Why not buy a mall, and "Christianize" it? Tallowood Baptist already owns a strip center!

Why not buy property on the Vegas strip, and open a Christian hotel? Jim Bakker over-sold his "Christian" facilities, and rightly went to jail! NOTHING spared, sky's the limit, and huddle around a president whose conservative philosophy encourages making as much money as humanly possible, and NEVER addresses I Tim. 6:17-19, or Jesus favoring the poor in His teachings and ministry?

Osteen, to his dad's credit, DID serve in the poor area of town, when I took my Go Evangelize! sign to that church, way back when. Now he buys an NBA stadium, the Summit, where Ed Young senior allowed rich people to publicly announce their pledges of $50K (and challenged others to match it, or where he had a signal in a business meeting, that if anyone—namely Cisco Foods founder John Baugh—balked at spending Baugh's $20M gift to open the Katy campus, when he wanted it used for the only campus at the time, the microphone got shut off), and there are many other unseemly things I detail at our website, including many stories from deacon insiders and ex-staffers.

As they told me, Evangelism Pastor's job is get people to the campus (come and hear; not go and Tell). GOOD man Bisagno said preach like the church is burning down, and people will come to see the flames. But church growth has methods.

WHY NOT find every Christian in an area, and make the most architecturally unique mega structure, and advertise to get them to come, vs. be "unchurched?" You may never have to evangelize again, because George Barna says only ~15 percent of pastors feel adequate doing evangelism anyway, even though God says all are to do it, including pastors, and it's job one for people, and the number one reason Jesus came.

You have to have an online church, live streaming your sermons. Get on TV and radio! Hang with Trump, to get media exposure (AKA free advertising). Have an open air mega concert of the 10 top Christian artists, where YUGE crowds can come—free, or $10 entry fee, in a massive public place.

My former BFF wanted to have a Christian parade in downtown Dallas. Churches sponsor golf tournaments, and my family's church set up shop at the Cowboy's headquarters, and had Tony Romo briefly speak. Why not have church in Texas stadium or the Rangers' field, when they're NOT playing, advertising on three Christian radio stations to start a church that meets there? Why not advertise your church on national TV, or local, as First Baptist Dallas does?

Why didn't these things happen before 1985? The church growth movement. Lawyers used to not advertise, or only schumcks did. That's still often true. Churches NEVER did. Businesses came up with mission statements and advertising slogans, so Osteen has the Oasis of Love. Put on events! Advertised events draw crowds, and UNlike Jesus, you seek crowds, number one! (Lk. 5:12-13)

WHY NOT a secular rock concert, rave and mosh pit, where private parts are off limits, as with cigarettes, alcohol or drugs? You want Millennials, right? Why not open a home school college? Get it accredited, and offer the cheapest college degree known to man, in cost vs. quality. Use YouTube experts to teach classes. Your goal is numbers, so why not Christianize a water park, like buying out Hawaiian falls Wednesday evenings, NOT for the church, but to have lost people use it, and get an evangelistic 10-minute sermon, before they leave?

We have Christian camps, tours of Israel, cruise ships to Alaska, with famous Christian singers afloat. Anything 'for Jesus.' Why not a Christian grocery store in South Dallas, where there aren't enough food suppliers? (because it won't pay off is why).

Why not a Christian movie theater, with all Christian movies, as so many are now getting involved in? Allow dogs, to keep up with the Jones' on Plano, Texas' theater, and allow lounge/lay back seating, and a full course meal, to compete with the Movie House and Eatery, or Studio Movie Grill?

Why not a retractable roofed sanctuary? Why not a floating church, or under water one, or a lake boat cruise church? We have church under the bridge, in Waco, Texas (no building), but it's to the poor, and they have no tangible assets, so I withdraw that suggestion, as building your own little earthly kingdom is the goal,

Just like Jeffress' predecessor told him, 'one day all this will be yours.' (Mt. 4:9) Why NOT hire Nik Wallenda to skywalk downtown Dallas, over First Baptist Dallas, sponsored by Jeffress, and do the same with his Nik's buddy, Osteen?

Why not have Steph Curry speak at churches, for a fee, to draw a crowd? (probably because he seems to be the type who'd discern what's happening). Why not a Christian Evel Knievel jump on TV, and call himself holy moley vs. evel? <https://www.facebook.com/HISTORY/videos/evel-live-2-on-july-7-on-history/686201795135222/>

You already have food trucks, face painting, petting zoos, bounce houses, Christianized Halloween, and Super Bowl events... why not live streamed NBA finals at church, where FoxNews is already broadcast, to keep BIASED politics ever before their eyes? Dave Ramsey seminars, investment gurus and retirement planners?

Why NOT Disneyland and a Paris tour, NOT for missions, but for Christians to be together, for a cheap rate, with famous Christian speakers and musicians? My very own Southern Baptists, TRYING to do nationwide evangelism (as I nagged them to), had a plan for ventriloquists, magicians, jugglers, clowns, etc. Anything goes! Jesus gave NO details on how church is to be (says the Devil).

National day of prayer, politicized, March for life, to counter the women's march. Christianize everything! Bathrooms, cross-shaped homes (not debates on Christian evidences, like the Scopes monkey trial—too intellectual—we're into entertaining; II Tim. 4:3); NOT a reconciliation event between Freddy Haynes and Robert Jeffress, as that's too heavy for our dumbed-down sheeple! NOT much of Creation science seminars Gateway church did, ~6 years ago. NOT serious Bible study, as that attracts less people!

You've got to "imitate success"—watch the world and do what works. Kiosks at Second Baptist, Houston, in the late 1990's, because business does that. Why not cartoon character labels for big church parking lots, like Six Flags (to find your car easier), but with Bible heroes? Use shuttle buses and fun train trams to get people from the parking area to church.

Sponsor a world's fair, for Jesus, or old or expensive car show at your church parking lot. , Gather all futuristic products, and host a house of the future event there. As Ed Young taught, JUST get people to the campus, and 'his charisma will take over from there,' said his duped staff member said to me in ~1998.

Get politicians and business executives to let your church be the first place flying Uber vehicles take off from! The media coverage would be YUGE! You already had a helicopter Easter egg drop; have people parachute on to your church campus this fourth of July! Anything for media attention! A Navy flyover for First Baptist Dallas' Freedom Sunday!

Why not have 45/tRump fly in on the Air Force One helicopter, as he did with his chopper when he first ran, at a state fair? Drama, excitement, publicity. THIS is what Jesus taught! This is what church is! If your motive is at least claimed to be for Him, anything goes! EDBS be damned!

Why not a chalk artist in the parking lot? https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=IY_GXJv8eQE youtube.com/watch?v=IY_GXJv8eQE Set world records, and the media tells others about your church. Be hip! Why not hire the YouTube girl with 1M views of her domino art? <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=EdUUEUh-hes> youtube.com/watch?v=EdUUEU...

"Whatever it takes" for Jesus, right? Not for money, but to reach lost people, right? Yeah right. WHY DIDN'T GOD THINK OF THESE THINGS, IF HE'S ALL KNOWING? But I digress. Why not America's Got Talent performers invited to do their act on church stages, or the Voice? Hire a skyscraper climber with your church's name all over his clothes!

Wrap vehicles with church advertising. Buy junk cars for advertising, parked wherever church members own businesses! Some movie by Dinesh Dsouza—and many politicians—wrapped RV's to drive around.

Why not hire those Vegas trucks with tele-screens behind the cab, advertising your church, to drive all over DFW? Make church T-shirts. I see them in the mall! Why not hire the Goodyear blimp, or one of Plano, Texas' hot air balloon fest balloons, with a church ad wrapping the bubble?

Why not church ads all over 18-wheelers that remain only for local distribution in DFW? Box trucks, like Nebraska Furniture Mart, with wrapped ads for your churches? "Why not" is the mantra, VS. WWJD (if we read His word).

Give away T-shirts, like Mavs do by gun chutes, to recipients who advertise your church, for free, just as volunteers are free labor. Why not crop circles advertising your church? A cornfield maze, on church campus. You have room!

A waterpark on campus! New York New York rollercoaster over your sanctuary, with a national restaurant chain on campus. Why not? Money's the ONLY object! Why not buy a jet from Tyler Perry? (link: <https://www.kansascity.com/news/nation-world/article195841759.html>) kansascity.com/news/nation-wo... Think BIG in Texas—NOT BIG as in reaching all lost people with the Gospel, then discipling them. Big entertainment and numbers, for big money and a bigger salary!

Franchise your church. Find 100 struggling churches with potential, U.S.-wide, and put your church's name on them, in exchange for support. Harvest America live streamed into thousands of homes. Do that, U.S.-wide, for a mega church, and start churches in homes, under your banner. Make a kingdom for thyself, world-wide!

But ALWAYS mouth the words, 'for Jesus,' or 'for evangelism.' DON'T forget that, or prophet types might criticize you, for which you mouth, 'religious Pharisees.' It works every time, when you keep laymen dumbed-down!

ONLY the one percent of churches can 'entertain' any of these ideas! The rest have to struggle, NOT engaging these antics and tricks, hopefully serving God by someday trying to take EDBS seriously!

Why not a flame walker from Hollywood? Walk on hot coals—I think a local church did that, way back when. Hire motivational speakers! Zig Ziglar conferences in the AA center, with all Christian speakers!

Go visit the Crystal Cathedral, and see what they're up to, now. A dude on my ski trip said they started all this crap, sending FREE PMA (i.e., positive mental attitude) books to pastors, U.S.-wide. He said that pre-dated the church growth movement. Pastors saw his numbers, and building, and the flesh erupts!

History, not fantasy: nytimes.com/2015/04/03/us/ Host a pre-season NBA game in your gym! Pack the sanctuary with live stream feed, with a meet-and-greet, afterwards, for all who couldn't be in the gym! "Why not?" Think BIG. Dallas Cowboy's scrimmage, or Rangers at your baseball field! All 'for Jesus,' or evangelism.

Why not hold HUGE signs telling the Gospel atop a major artery when traffic is crowded and moving slowly? (AS I DID with smaller signs). Answer: Because it doesn't advertise a church. Why not take them to Cowboy's tailgates and the Dallas Super Bowl (as I did). Same reason NOT to! No church promotion!

Why not take Go Evangelize! signs to about 30 mega churches, and Promise Keepers, and Christian music concerts, as I have? Again, because NO CHURCH IS PROMOTED! Why not take Gospel signs to about 40 major public events, like are listed at our website? NO CHURCH PROMOTED! That's why they never will!

#ChurchNotChrist Christ can come later, once we "hook" them into coming! Isn't that what Jesus meant when He said, be fishers of men? You've 'gotta have a hook—NOT a Gospel. World's biggest men's bar-B-que cook-off, grilling contest, on church premises! The media will cover these things! "Why not?"

DART train advertising could promote First Baptist Dallas all over DFW, because you know there are so many people who believe he represented Jesus' values, licking Trumps boots! (I hope people recognize sarcasm when it is spit in their face; maybe not?). Use drones to promote your church! Drape a banner!

Dancers, singers, sculptors, artists for church promotion. Entertain people into the kingdom! Light up a Dallas skyscraper spelling out your church logo or name! Reunion Tower, or the Omni Hotel! "Why not?" Church held atop a skyscraper, on a balcony, live streamed. Be cool! Get those Millennials.

Rent out the Hyatt Regency, Houston, spinning restaurant I proposed to my wife in, for all Christian 'celebrities' to eat free. Christians will FLOCK to get signatures or handshakes in their larger lobby! Live stream it on Facebook. "Sponsored by X church" banners and media ads! Be there as the host/M.C., Mr. CEO! Why not?

Get an astronaut at the space station to mention your church in a live broadcast. Give them a logo'd shirt to wear! Get Domino's Pizza to offer free pizza for that dominoes demonstration, to tie in and attract crowds, by "free food" advertising. The NBA now has business names and logos on uniforms and sidelines banners.

Why not a mega church's name? A John 3:16 banner used to be at sports events. Now we're promoting ourselves (I Cor. 2:2, 4:5), but always 'for Christ/evangelism,' of course. Jean Michael Jarre encouraged Houston when the oil slump hit: youtube.com/watch?v=1ACcBS Why not Christian churches for Christ do so, vs. church promotion?

Franchise a church. Rename mega churches in other states to be a mini denomination, like a Waco church sort of does (Antioch), and like Vineyard church did. Pay for naming rights, if their theology is congruent. Benefit those churches and pastors to unite to the franchise.

Gateway Church has MANY pastors, I believe one per unit, as with First Baptist, Houston. But the name gets spread abroad to every satellite. Isn't that the goal, anyway? Name recognition, vs. evangelism?

You bought Dallas church, 'for evangelism.' A gym was to be added to First Baptist, Katy, 'for evangelism.' Do Dallas citizens now NOT need evangelizing? And if your move to the high school auditorium is for intimacy and/or evangelism, WHY did you say if we packed two services, we might be able to return to the sanctuary?

Packing out space is NO proof intimacy increased, or any evangelism ever occurred, or Millennials came! It's GROWTH you want, SOLD as something else! God would call that LYING. But I digress.

Why not get into the Christian film business? It's profitable. Don't just host preview films at church. Why not a documentary film on the great Robert Jeffress' "godly" moves to meet 45, and promote him? Dupes will buy tickets!

Why not have a film at church, with video of all these statements or deeds—a montage—then say, to overturn Roe, anything is moral? facebook.com/jim.meroney.3/ I'm out of steam, which is the ONLY reason I'll spare less godly mega pastors any more shame. All praise to the godly remnant! God bless them!

'Gotta keep up with the Jerry Jones.' Bible 101? Why not rent the sanctuary out for business conferences, like a conference center, during the week? Sunk costs of mortgage and electricity! You already have maid staff and cleanup crew. Have school graduations, colleges, host the NFL draft! Utilize existing space.

Why not Branson at church? Why not have a Christian neighborhood, the church develops, and only Christians can buy in? My sister was interested in that idea tested somewhere way back in the 1980's. Holy Huddle town. Only Christian politicians manage it. Incorporate! Why NOT? Christian Cliqueville. Isolationists and abolitionists.

I recently heard a radio ad, 'we're starting a new church' that meets in the _ (public facility). Do that for ATT Stadium, off hours, on weekends! AA Center. They get rent, you get growth in mega church. Why not 500,000 members, not 45,000? Sermons are all you have to do, and streaming technology exists! NO EDBS needed (says the Devil).

Have watch parties, worldwide, and do tours, like Osteen does. Gather all TV viewers to meet and greet. You're a 'famous celebrity.' You're the star. You're the man—II Sam. 12:7 It's all for Jesus, so why not? Anything's possible! DON'T do things His way, but have right words for your motives! #JustDoIt ANATHEMA.

Have ghost writers write your books, so you can make more money. Moody will publish them. Just have 'em use old sermons. Oh wait, that's already the M.O. Laymen think you wrote them, and buy them because you're a "brand." It's all about selling you! Didn't Jesus say that? I know He did! (sarcasm). Ego is a sin.

Why not market church memorabilia? Pens, caps, coozies, lapel pins, T-shirts, car mirror danglers, bumper stickers, window decals, magnetic rubber car door signs, wrapped cars for a tax write off, magnets for refrigerators. Promote mega churches! God said to, right? Poor other pastors!

Buy a McMansion on Lake Grapevine, and put it in a trust, or deacon/board members' name, so parishioners don't know. Own two very expensive cars you hide on the other side of Houston, before you were the Lakewood preacher. Own a $4M French Lear jet, or Creflo Dollar G-6, "for Jesus." Suffering rich! [Referencing this earlier post:]

Get a load of this, and it's a load of you know what: TrumPastor says the rich can have more difficulties than the poor! ALWAYS defending that constituency, UN-like Jesus. EVERY U.S. poor person would beg to differ, and happily engage trading places so you EXPERIENCE their lives, vs. pontificate!

Own six mansions, like the DEAD false prophet of old, who has NO mansion in Heaven Crouch)! USE those tax laws in your favor, and live and party it up here and now, "for Jesus." Own a home in Highland Park, Dallas, when you're busted about the Lake Grapevine ranch mansion! SAY you want to downsize (a lie/sin).

Own THIS house, for Jesus, because you're doing church biblically, and Jesus can't help Himself from blessing you with wealth, for so doing! EDBS is done SO well by these scoundrels! (sarcasm) DON'T tell me false prophets for profits don't exist! They were prophesied to arise! (Jude; II Pet.; Rev. 3, etc.), and they advise Trump on 'morals.'

The devil can make people rich (Mt. 4:9), any money gained NOT by Mt. 6:33 is filthy lucre, love of money is a sin, and failing to do EDBS proves other priorities are higher, like church growth! NEVER capping or revealing salaries shows what their motives are, and they are NOT EDBS, but B.S.!

Hillsong church has done great with songs on the radio, so imitate that, too! Form your own church band. Imitate success... a business adage NOT found or commanded in God's word.

Let's continue... For church growth, you hook parents when you hook kids. Free food (candy, ice cream, pizza, rock music at game nights and sporting events). Why not a pastoral staff dunking booth, bobbing for apples for younger kids, costume day at church? Quality trips and musicals really do the trick!

Paint gun battles, or Sumo blow up suits, or Zorb rolling games, or dodge ball. FUN and food are the key for youth, who grow up to be married Millennials. First Baptist Dallas is 'blowing out the facilities' with young couples (heard on the radio driving to Freddy Haynes' church, last year), so church longevity is secure.

One church we visited when first moving here had a built-in twisty slide from the third floor, in one of its atriums/entrances. People didn't go to Notre Dame because of its excellent teaching, I'd guess! History and architecture—whatever gets them coming and coming back! People 'wanna be proud of the building they call their church home.

The music needs to be great, and hip. Old hymned choirs will NOT yield Millennials, like HERO Swindoll's church! You can serve the disabled, and immigrants—whatever gets people to come to your building. I'm GUESSING there are church buildings on the market, or pastors seeking retirement, or congregations that can't afford to upkeep their building. They can be contacted to unite to a mega church. Big Box eats ma and pa, if small church can't keep pace!

Let's explore other church growth methods that have worked, or might: Why not a lazy river surrounding a worship service? Lazy Boy seating recliners with massage features? Food served, like Studio Movie Grill? I went to one church that allowed that! The Astrodome would be a GREAT upgrade for Osteen, if it got remodeled. Houston keeps wasting taxes doing nothing with it!

There's a church in Ft. Worth, on a hill, with a stained glass wall facing west. Why not a mega church overlooking a mountain, or ocean? The church in Colorado Springs Air Force Academy has architecture that attracts, as with this one in Arkansas. Make people want to visit, then 'hook' them (NOT hook 'em horns).

An underground church, built below, or a tree house church. Allow the audience to be in hammocks during the service. Why not a church service on the Grand Canyon glass walkway, if you're trying to be unique, to attract people? Baylor's Foster business school's main building is AMAZING, and could attract if it were a church!

An all-glass walled church would draw attention/crowds. A raised catwalk for a pastor to speak as he walked over a crowd on level two, or between balcony seating? Berachah church, Houston used to have their (odd) pastor repel down the wall out of their baptismal! It repelled me my only visit! (play on words).

Study the GREAT architecture at AmericanAnswers.org We have pictures. Imitate them, or use elements. I'm NOT opposed to architecture attracting visitors... it's what happens in church practice I so oppose—namely so little EDBS—just focus on growth in numbers (vs. maturity and evangelisticness, etc.).

Why not a church service on the grounds, in the right weather, with a megaphoned pastor atop a church? I'm LITERALLY not mocking church growth tactics anymore—just exercising my creativity to see where those pastors may take this movement, and that's fun for me, and I need a work break. Selfish motive!

The Olympics draws crowds. Why not a mini one by a church? Everyone visits the Eiffel Tower if they step foot in Paris. Architecture can draw crowds. IF you had EDBS, I wouldn't care if you did many of these things I jokingly throw out, but we DON'T. First things first! Bring your dog to church day?

Why not a military air craft carrier brought into a city, dry docked, as a church building mega church? Or a cruise ship, train (cars as Sunday School rooms, and a train station for the auditorium), Rain Forest Cafe themed forest-like church, 747 airplane, or recycled storage bins/containers from ship docks?

A McMansion as a small church in a gated community, if legal (walk-ins only, or streets get congested with cars). I saw a church at a park's gazebo and pick nick area! Anywhere an audience can be gathered.

Churches took over strip centers, as the first move away from tradition, mid-1980's. Ed Young junior's church was a movie theater! Why not ushers on roller skates? My son may have been the first to ride a hover board in a church; a Catholic priest did it later. I love automatic unicycles I saw, two weeks ago. Use that to gather the gifts (not 'tithes')! It's different—it may draw some curious people. I MAY be joking.

Swipe a smart phone with Apple pay, for your church gift. Why not a pool where scuba divers can watch church underwater, and listen through ear pieces, with a window into the auditorium? I REALLY may be joking, here. It's the attitude of the people that matters. I practiced law in my underwear, in Houston!

The great Rick Warren wears Hawaii shirts, if memory serves me well; I'm near 60; it doesn't, always. Freddy Haynes wears T-shirts with slogans on them! Ed Young Junior has been famous for use of props, and a variety of unique things, to lure in younger folk, the past two+ decades. I've been there once.

If you're seeking one-time visitors you hope to change/convert into long-termers, you've 'gotta be different or better than where they could go. A multi-cultural church could offer headphones so sermons translated for various rooms of members, like at the U.N. Deaf sign language is already standard fare mega church.

Why not seating from the ceiling? (Mk. 2:4) A glass ceiling people lay on and look through. Get a sun tan as you "worship." IF churches DID EDBS hugely, you could argue this wouldn't be evil.

Why not a rising 6' diameter stage for a preacher with surround sound seating, like Lady Gaga would have? Elevate to be seen and heard? Why not pastors walking around the audience as they preach? Why must you stay on stage? American idol contestants often do that—it gets you more personal.

Why not a huge tele-screen, like at Texas Stadium, for satellite churches, as sermons are live streamed? I-Max-like, as in the Ft. Worth science museum! There's a slanted bike track on Collin College campus, rarely used. Why not preach inside it, and let church members sit on the track, and inside area, outdoors? Bike church.

There are cowboy churches, probably motorcycle rider churches! It's not beyond the imagination of some pastors. Gyms with stationary bikes and treadmills, as members listen on headphones? Drive-in theater night church? Church at an airport, where members can hear and watch airplanes as they worship?

Church on a bus, or a double decker bus, driving around as the service occurs? What makes these right or wrong? I'd probably visit all of these (except for the underwater scuba). Church in an airplane? Apartment church around the pool, at night, when others aren't using it, and it's cooler.

A church auditorium full of staircases people sit on the steps of, climbing to your seat? A sphere, with seats engulfing the stage in all directions (like a pastor in a Zorb room). Why not church at Carnegie Hall, when it's not used? Church in a mall? IF you're doing EDBS, I myself could care less what else you did with all these whacky ideas! Church in Grand Central Station or Times Square? My creativity is about spent!

A church sermon broadcast from a hot air balloon, or the pastor parachutes in? Church in a commercial freezer, for people who love the cold? Church at a ski resort? A monorail that brings parishioners from the parking garage, above or below ground? I can be creative; can you be UN-creative and do EDBS?

Virtual reality church, on a circular, elevated platform walkway where everyone watches the sermon, standing on that walking track, or walking as they watch the preacher below? Exercise your body as you exercise your faith? Obesity church. We have LGBTQ churches. Cater to a niche audience type.

Singles church? That I DON'T agree with, as church is family... all ages. People have business men's luncheons, in Houston (First Baptist, via Bisagno). Why not a virtual church teleconference, where you stay at home, but feel at church, by virtual reality glasses? Lazy me would try that; it saves the drive!

Subway church. Tree climber's church? RV church? Campground church? Church in a circus tent? College campus church. Mid-week church on a business's campus? Costume church? Work uniform church? The preacher preaches on an assembly line, passing by parishioners, like at the Fedex warehouses? A hoverboard was used by priest!

Church gathering is and was for edification of the saints. IF a lost soul enters or IF a poor man comes in (I Cor. 14; Jas. 2). That's NOT the normal expectation for a spiritually dead soul to go to a church. GO and TELL! Saying that most people will come if invited is letting PASTOR-PROFESSIONALS evangelize–NOT laymen! (6/22/19)

EDBS ONLY requires a gathered body for the 'B' element! Sermons can be done in any venues just described! Rodeo church? Six Flags church? Church on a roller coaster, via technology (i.e., virtual glasses)? They have sermons by podcast and in one's headphones, already, if sermons are church–or you can add music. (6/30/19)

Update #10: Poor-Thinking Christians

[Private account, taking offense at a tweet, above, about First Baptist, Dallas:] Feel sorry for you.

No need. You must never have seen that door on the stage. Everything else is top notch! I suppose you have bought into his mixing religion and politics, 100 percent, and supporting ALL Trump's sins, hurting our Christian cause. I'm sure you and I agree on 90+ percent of things; you don't see the door in this picture!

That dude probably will never know, the things he loves about 45 originated here. No reason to try to explain that history, as it's hard to deprogram a Trump cultist! Probably a decent guy otherwise. Because God kept me in obscurity, many think I'm making it up. God knows, as do others.

It's AMAZING from his video [of First Baptist], that no one in that crowd can see the subliminal/intended by design but never publicly stated message that if you hold a flag, and join in with us, you're 100 percent supporting Jeffress' acts as being God's will, supporting the biggest sinner president in 30 years. Ignorant for Jesus?!

And to waste time arguing with him would be futile. Their outdoor facade IS even better than that three-part tele-screen, even though HE only sees then holiday additions, not there regularly, and ALL I said was that the stage door is WRONG, architecturally—nothing else criticized.

Trumpsters can't analyze, MEANING everything Obama did was to ruin and lose America, and 45 is a Savior, even though the most evil and dumb president in 30 years. Christians are for sin? Power idolatry! GOP good, Dem bad brainwash in church! Johnson Amendment.

And the 'Freedom Sunday' event was signaling that Trump has saved, and brought back America. You'll never see it, either, but they have a back wall to the stage, that's white, and for some ODD reason the architect put a DOOR in the middle. When the orchestra is NOT covering it, as stage lowers or rises, a wall is the background with a door—like a bloody nose on a beautiful woman. POOR design!

That doofus 'felt for me,' when he champions a man who forsook ALL Christian morals, to suck up/kiss up to power, for ego and ratings (which grew his church), in the name of Jesus, KILLING his reputation among lost people he refuses to evangelize. Feel NO sorrow for ME, ignorant one.

Let's PROVE my case that avid Trump devotees are usually NOT smart. DID I EVER WRITE First Baptist's sanctuary is ugly? I compared the new outside, and found it BETTER. When you can't analyze, it's NO WONDER you support full-time sinning, in Jesus' name, and never detect a problem! Case CLOSED! Lay down hand!

SAME spiritual blindness as a Trumpastor claiming there are zero problems at border detention centers, because he will NEVER rebuke Trump's sins, like John the Baptist would, because of limelight and power idolatry, even when one I 100 percent respect told him it's NOT blaming Chump.

Another pastor rightly reamed him on his lack of analysis skills, pointing out that you can have good and bad, and pointing out that the bad doesn't negate the good! It's called objectivity, even if the bad is a needle in a haystack. That's called perspective and TRUTH, biasedly blinded one!

LOOK at these two pictures of First Baptist, Dallas. The exterior is better! The interior is like MANY mega churches, except the three-sided tele-screen! Rectangular/square choir loft and stage stairs, white walls; even old-fashioned wooden brown pew benches. The exterior even has a fancy fountain sculpture. Why argue with fools? As with pigs, you just get dirty.

And that respondent will defend Geoffrey the Giraffe Jeffress, EVEN THOUGH the past seven years he has consistently, willfully REFUSED to fully evangelize all lost people near his church, and LEAD his members to do that work. THIS is Christian carnality, DEFENDED by deceived dupes 'for Jesus!'

[Critic responds to my challenge that I'd agree with him on 9 of 10 political positions:] Not 90 percent. Not even close. Yes, I do feel very sad for you. You are a lonely person inside.

You're a psychologist, now? Sincerely... PLEASE read EVERY tweet I've posted this morning. Twitter is a poor platform for debate, but you might learn something helpful to your Christian life. God bless, and good bye.

Actually, I'll take you up on your 90 percent doubted challenge. List 5 to 10 things you believe, politically, and I'll give my honest beliefs. Then, as a Christian, give me your rebuttal to this, using God's word: I'll await the reply with anticipation! (link: <http://facebook.com/jim.meroney.3/>) facebook.com/jim.meroney.3/

One more challenge. Take as long as needed—up to a week. Refute this, as well:

Trump's Presidential Pitfalls

It is still early (AKA, there's time to right the ship), but the Trump campaign MUST overcome all of the following, which naturally engendered hatred, and an 'anyone but Trump' mentality!... The campaign was ALL hate-engendering, lest we forget: facebook.com/jim.meroney.3/... then you have allegations of Russian meddling, and full-time investigations since then.

Add to that all his unpresidential behaviors and tweets, and arrogant failure to ever repent or apologize, and act like a grown-up/adult. It DOESN'T matter much to the majority that the economy's well, when it came by favoring the rich, or that abortion is being discussed (as many people want that right).

Then, if you simply remember, rocket man talks have done little, shi*hole nations slur on Africa, Mexico didn't pay for any (primarily unbuilt) wall, tariffs are a tax on Americans, arrogantly pushing Montenegro prime minister out of the way, to be front and center at a G-20 event, dictatorially pushing out all GOP opposition (many good people), caging and separating children at the border, befriending and/or believing Kim Jong Un and Putin, over U.S. intelligence, arbitrarily and unilaterally favoring Israel (to cater to his WASP base), unfairly stacking SCOTUS right, ticking off our E.U. allies, many associates fired or in legal trouble, manufacturing jobs not returning (because we can't compete with China's near slave labor wages), SNL's (and late night comics) repeated character assassination skits, early on blame of Obama for everything bad, name-calling opponents, Stormy Daniels allegations, 'lock her up' chants at his rallies, earlier tiffs with Great Britain (somewhat cured last week), 'rogue killers' ruse, to protect Clown Prince of Saudi Arabia regarding Khashoggi's murder, thousands of lies his press secretary reinforces and spins... NEED I NAME MORE?

[Critic's last "Book Argument:"] You are a pathetic human being. And quite obsessive. It's very sad. Your narcissism will destroy your soul.

So you can't analyze, debate, and you're a Christian who publicly curses [omitted graphic/meme], knowingly. YOU FIT IN THERE PERFECTLY! ENJOY your carnality and stupidity "for Jesus," Who never said love Him with all your heart and mind, I guess?

So one is a narcissist if they debate fools who voted for the world's number one narcissist. THIS IS TRUMP CULT, folks, all "for Jesus." ANATHEMA!

This is the "tolerance" of the far right they REGULARLY on talk radio slam liberals for not showing, and they lump anyone as not in their clan if you differ on anything—even 10 percent max. ALL IN THE NAME OF JESUS is the most atrocious aspect! ANATHEMA! UN-able to argue! #WEAKNESS!

I respect your right to an opinion, but you have no right to your own facts." –Author unknown

"Opinions are like butt holes—everyone has one, but most of them stink." –Different unknown author

PROOF of what I have consistently alleged: Extremes on the right and left cannot think logically, or morally, very well, because emotion or lack of education clouds such abilities. Sad, for which you must actually feel sorry for a person!

Hit-and-run grenade throws is NOT strength, in argumentation, where you knee jerk SPEW and RANT, then refuse to learn or listen! Our public education system MUST be seriously failing to teach logic, debate and analysis. This is America "winning?" Losing! –The lonely narcissist

As you would expect, as I went to block him, he had already done me the favor! WUSSY WIMPY WEAKNESS! #WOW Amazingly, he didn't follow normal loser protocol in deleting his posts—yet!

I'm through, with this: It's SAD that guy wouldn't rebut or refute my arguments about Chump's campaign or presidency. They're 100 percent full of facts! There's the rub! Fake facts feel better! Emotionalism.

Here's another political trick by STUPID people: IF you can't debate or argue, and have no evidence, and someone disagrees with you, LABEL THEM NEGATIVE! You "FEEL" that wins, but it only keeps you blindly deluded. Self-fulfilling dumbing-down!

Please permit me to verbally explain what a graph could do better: There's far left and right, and more moderate left and right. Sometimes, the two middle groups have more in common than those in the same political party, extreme vs. moderate versions! A third party middle majority is NEEDED!

Update #11: Un-Bible-Informed Church Growth (Part II)

It would be in a church-as-a-business pastors' interests to keep laymen dumbed-down, and politically brainwashed. It happens inadvertently (or intentionally) by teaching little, only topical vs. exegetical preaching, and RARELY advocating for quiet time self-study! How convenient!

Let's address the "no one is perfect" EXCUSE for justifying sin! When people raise that mantra, just say, "TRUE [because it is], so Billy Graham, Mother Teresa, Hitler and Stalin were all equally imperfect." HOPEFULLY dumber folk will see the sarcasm, and implications of their rhetoric.

NO one is perfect, but Jesus. Everyone does bad things, but NOT to the same degree or quantity. If you can wrap your head around this fact, objectivity can happen, if you choose to not believe saying anything negative is a sin, unless it's untrue. #Objectivity

On ANY issue, there are statistical facts we rarely know, so we go off opinions. If you can't even distinguish majority vs. minority percents on an issue's truthfulness, you will never be objective! Perspective sees a needle as smaller than a haystack, and a molehill as smaller than a mountain, and distinguishes between short-, medium-, and long-term! #Objectivity

There is NO person or party worth idolizing over God, so anyone—especially claiming Christians—who thinks to support moral causes they need to be Ostriches about their faults, is NOT serving Christ, IF John 8:32 is true! There are MANY Bible deficient Christ-claimers in America!

This is one reason I wrote a book on Idioms. Idioms are popular, but not always true, and sometimes only half true. 'Never speak evil of the dead' would mean that no one can criticize Hitler, today! Public schools do NOT teach analysis skills, it seems. #FAILure

Lack of objectivity is DAILY seen on the left's media, when all they see in tRump is negative, as if he can never do anything right. Unless our nation re-commits itself to truth, facts and objectivity, no matter whose ox it gores, we are doomed, as a dumbed-down society.

My wife is near perfect, but I could still name a gnat-load of faults through my own log, because I believe in objectivity. When you are EMOTIONALLY tied to a cause or personality, it can blind you from their faults! No one is perfect, but Jesus. That DOESN'T mean all sins are equal, either!

Murder, rape and armed robbery are heinous evils. Rolling through a stop sign is far less evil. God distinguishes sins. A one-time cuss word is far worse than a serially profane sailor! Today, you have to TEACH moral principles, as people aren't raised in church, as much! #MoralsMatter

Facts matter. That is a moral statement. If you are immoral, you will disagree with it, or claim facts vary (which are, in fact, actually called opinions—something such claimers fail to distinguish). Our school system needs to teach logic, morals, analysis and debate!

Distinctions are taught in law school, early on. Go to the Home Depot paint department. A shade different blue has a completely different name and chemical makeup. U.S. high school graduates NEED to be taught how to make distinctions, by observing details!

Judge Judy had a book, Don't Pee On My Leg And Tell Me It's Raining. Far right and far left extremists need to meditate on that title, to learn what distinctions are! THINK!

The LSAT preparation books SHOULD be standard curricula in high school, as you learn to break down fact scenarios into elements, for comparison, and determining where the untruths lie. This is analysis. Asking questions, and not making unproven assumptions ("assuming makes an &*$ out of you and me").

IF you believe lies, your quality of life will falter! It can even get you involved in the father of lies, the Devil, who uses delusion, deception, ignorance and gullibility. God said believers are to love Him with all their minds—not just their emotions. Learn to think, claiming Christians. Law school helps/teaches people how.

I watch First Forty-Eight "religiously," because it teaches you how to think/analyze better! They're given a corpse, and have to find a killer. It is through analysis that they usually do. Many people find it dry and boring—the same people who can't think well, often! Analyze, evaluate and weigh/compare evidence. Get smarter!

America would NEVER have landed on the moon with any dumb engineers at NASA! That's also why they were paid the big bucks! No one likes a nerd who can't relate to people, but everyone in America must learn how to think! Some also need to learn people skills: Listen, eye contact, care what's said and hear the intended meaning, use their first name, speak of their interests, etc.!

Students who graduate with the highest grades usually get the best pay, unless they have connections, or engage nepotism. Our information age society requires workers to be smarter than a fifth grader, and every generation has higher standards! My college courses are now taught in high school! You've got to compete!

If you lag behind, EXPECT lower pay, and DON'T come crying to Uncle Sam to save you! Government MUST end all barriers and distractions from the poorest students being able to do their best, academically, but effort is required. Motivation should be a required high school course! It's NOT! #FAILure!

Common sense/street smart or book knowledge? Both and, vs. either or! Employers can't prove you have the former unless you prove the latter, with a diploma, GPA, or GED. You may not like it, but if you aren't smart in America, you will usually be poor in America! No one can change that, even a bleeding heart politician you may like!

Anyone can get smarter! READ more! Ask these questions: Is this true? How do I know/can I prove it? Is it true by percent, or fully? These initial analysis questions will help U.S. laborers compete, globally! Hang around smarter people, and play, video and social media less. It will improve your IQ, over time!

'Thinking is the hardest work there is, which is the probable reason why so few engage in it.' –Henry Ford Your ONLY other option is felt opinions! Hard work never killed anyone, but ignorance kills your chance at a great future, especially in our globalized information age. Thought trumps feelings, values-wise.

JESUS (through Paul) knew people can have emotion, but lack knowledge, and He reproved that disparity! It is a wonderful thing to be empathetic, excited/enthusiastic and compassionate, but knowing correctly is more important/valuable than being zealous for error! (Rom. 10:2)

There are good people who are dumb, and there are evil people who are smart. It is always best to be good and smart, and never to use your smarts for evil, or use your goodness as an excuse to not educate yourself. You need to be good and smart! Both and, vs. either/or. #Balance

Street smarts are probably more valuable than book smarts, unless you're entering an academic profession, but common sense can't be proven in one job interview, so the college graduate will usually get the job over the others, unless you have a great personality, or gift of gab!

And for our so-called "Christian" critic from this morning—I write books, here. I tweet a lot, because 13 books take a lot of thought. It's not narcissism to share those ideas with the world, before those books get published! YET ANOTHER logical fallacy of an avid Trumpster! Too often par for the course, sadly... DUMB "for Jesus."

Bias and partiality are other terms for non-objective people. God hates partiality and injustice. I've said a proverbial million times, the mainstream media is Dem biased, and FoxNews and talk radio is GOP biased. If you don't balance your watching/listening, by seeing/hearing BOTH, you choose to be a duped fool! #Balance

"In ancient Greek philosophy, especially that of Aristotle, the golden mean or golden middle way is the desirable middle between two extremes." –Wikipedia Truth is usually found between the two extremes! Even my conservative neighbor quoted and agreed with that, then concluded biasedly!

"Truth lies between two extremes, and man, like a pendulum, swings either too much this way or that." – Charles Haddon Spurgeon

Rom. 1:25 shows sinful people who despise truth, and it is a trait showing prophecy is imminent, when truth is demeaned! (II Th. 2:11) God says claiming a lie to be truth is sin! (Isa. 5:20) If you are not committed to truth, you are committed to serving satan, by default, even as a Christian! (Jn. 8:44)

THIS is political extremism, in America, today, even as it was in the mouth of this politician, 2,000 years ago: "What is truth?" (Ac. 17:11) CHRISTIANS not knowing their Bibles are the greatest affront to the reputation of Christ, in my opinion (Jn. 17:17). That's the majority in America, sadly, statistics show!

Update #12: Biblical Church Growth (Part II)

Let's discuss doing church God's way, and numerical growth. IF a pastor believes Mt. 6:33, they'll do church God's way, and TRUST His results. If a pastor views church as a business, the goal is numbers, any way they can be gained! Two DIFFERENT paths! It's a matter of faith vs. sin, how you grow a church!

If a pastor thinks a sermon is his main job, and what draws the crowds, that will be his main focus, and the goal is to get as many humans to hear it as humanly possible, any way possible, as long as it's not a sinful way! If, on the other hand, God has taught and shown us how to do church, and that He blesses pastors who do it that way, including with numeric growth, they'll follow His ways.

If their number one goal is numbers, they'll do "whatever works"—God's ways or man's schemes! And if numeric growth is their main goal, you've got to ask why! It's either for fame, fortune, or both! Many people hear me preach, so ego gets gratified, or the more people who come, the more the odds are more people will give a tithe, if one (falsely) teaches God requires it of them.

Let me detail, in the weeds, more of the DIFFERENCE in God's vs. man's ways of doing church! Man's way is preach-and-be-paid. What pays the bills is I do my job of sermonizing, and laymen do their job of paying up 10 percent. Any activities that aren't sinful that get people to church, and keep them interested in being loyal is undertaken, even studied. Numbers increase the odds of more numbers paying for our budget. That is the church-as-a-business mentality!

If, instead, a pastor LOOKS at what God said church IS, they can also see in Acts that numbers were repeatedly added, BY GOD! God supplies our needs—NOT necessarily our desires—and the closer we get to Him and His will, the more our desires get pure.

The desire to be rich off ministry is in the warning of I Tim. 6:10. Yet, many pastors still do whatever they can to increase numbers! They scheme, strategize, analyze, study, imitate others, and that is their focus! They probably even wonder in their head how doing church God's way pays off! After all, how's evangelism 'gonna increase membership if my laymen do the work (Eph. 4), and preach Christ, and Him only? (I Cor. 2:2) That isn't mentioning my church!

And how does ensuring church members are having a daily quiet time, at home, increasing my church's numbers? How does relational discipling increase numbers, when maturer believers pour their lives into others? How does having Body Life, and doing social ministry increase numbers? DO YOU NOTICE A PATTERN HERE?

Me, me, me, and money! That's OPPOSITE a disciple, and Mt. 6:33! Instead, this ilk redefines church to be a sermon, AS IF a message forgotten 72 hours is the same as Ps. 119:9-11 and Josh. 1:8. NO pastor can know anyone well, in the audience, by mere sermonizing!

The people can't ask questions, the pastor never knows them on a personal basis, to have their zeal (if they have any) gets caught more than taught; the pastor can't know their problems, pray with them, help them study and learn, if they are, or see if they're evangelizing!

It's just assembly line data dissemination! That doesn't mean God's word returns void, or they aren't to preach the word, but the results of Jesus' 11, vs. the crowd He preached to, show there's a major difference between preaching and discipling!

But modern man thinks he's smarter than God! Church growth methodology is trusted, as opposed to God and His blueprint! IF any pastor ever read the book of Acts in one week, or one long sitting, the pattern is consistent... God continually grew His church, as it did what He said it was to do, as the church!

Qualitative and quantitative growth! They NEVER used any schemes to lure lost people to wherever they gathered, especially Jewish synagogues and homes—NO church buildings! NO advertising, church growth schemes, and they didn't just preach and expect payment! It HAS to be pastors simply NOT reading God's word, and instead, accepting traditions of men, that keep them chasing church growth, NOT God's but man's ways! There can be no other explanation!

In Rom. 10, Paul goes out of his way to give hardened Jews the benefit of the doubt as to why they are rejecting the Gospel! But, in all honesty, he concludes they simply chose not to do right. I feel the same way!

SURELY Pastors see EDBS priorities in God's word! It's all throughout it! SURELY they have read or experienced the difference between being disciplined vs. just hearing sermons! SURELY they know a lost person's eternity is more important than having more church members! Right? Wrong (in many cases)!

SURELY they've read laymen have spiritual gifts, and seen the one another's in Scripture, and SURELY they can see that sitting next to strangers you shake hands with is NOT relationship building! SURELY they see all the good Jesus did for people, and know that's their church's calling, right? Wrong!

They can't make the connection between EDBS and church growth, because all those acts are selfless! You witness to lost people NOT for your gain, but theirs. You disciple Christians NOT for your financial gain, but because God says believers are to be morally mature. You don't have Body Life because it attracts lost people; I Cor. 14 says it might even make them think you're all crazy, IF they come!

And surely serving society, to make people's lives better costs time, effort, and maybe money. HOW DOES THAT INCREASE MY BOTTOM LINE, as a pastor? That's giving vs. receiving/taking! And isn't that the MAIN lesson Jesus taught, for Christians? (Phil. 2)

Put others above yourself, and a disciple denies himself. That's what is missing in the church growth craze! Self-interests are elevated against God's way of doing church, and idolatry, and NOT being a disciple will never be blessed the way God blesses, even if it makes a rich Laodicean church (Rev. 3).

The Bible gives clear warning about pastors in the ministry for the money. ONLY good-paying pastorates suffer that temptation, though others can have the desire. It ALL boils down to does your pastor trust God, or lean on his own understanding of man's schemes? (Pv. 3:5-7)

Update #13: Church 'Law Of Attraction?'

Church growth aficionados do activities to "attract" crowds to church. WHAT's not "attractive" about a sincere, loving, unpushy person with God's power, who cares enough about them to tell them the Gospel? WHAT's not attractive about a godly saint, like the disciple, Billy Graham?

WHAT's not attractive about gathered Christians ministering to one another and known for their love and prayer results, and WHAT's not attractive about Christians sincerely and selflessly serving community needs? ETHICS attract, in ways church growth schemes never can! Touche!

God's way of doing church has pastors LEADING laymen to do ministry (Eph. 4). MAN's way of doing church is clergy does the ministry, and laymen are free labor to bring in customers for the professionals to minister to, at the building! God's way is go-and-tell vs. come-and-hear evangelism. Can you see the difference?

The first two churches were mega churches (Ac. 2:41, 4:4). God is NOT opposed to mega churches! Christianity was new and exciting, they were a minority in a hostile culture that often martyred and persecuted them, and miracles happened quite often. Some people who actually dealt with Jesus were still alive.

And church was done biblically, with ZERO church growth methods employed! (Ac. 2:41-47, 4:23-37) And GUESS what happened as a result? Church numerical growth... imagine that! (Ac. 2:47, 6:7, 12:24, 16:5, 17:12) EVANGELISM caused that, humanly-speaking, and it was DAILY, including open air to gathered crowds. See also: <http://preachingsource.com/journal/evangelistic-methods-in-acts/>

Again, there was NO advertising, no secular events to lure lost people to any church building, and IF YOU EVER READ God's word, there is NO evidence those Christians were focused on numerical growth, but doing God's will. There's the problem, IF YOU EVER READ GOD'S WORD! Repent, money idolaters

Update #14:

Excerpts from Quitting Church: Why the Faithful are Fleeing and What to Do About It

...Clint Rainey recounted his thoughts of belonging to one of the area's megachurches that boasts a skate park, sports league, café, game group, and jumbotrons. He writes that, amid all of the bells and whistles, 'we've been reminded intermittently, [it] is to 'attract seekers. I've grown very disenchanted with this concept. Attract seekers to what? A sanctuary worthy of a Broadway production? An auditorium mimicking a convention center? A complex of expensive buildings?' (p. 51)

Church is too patterned after corporate America. Church is a business and the congregation its customers. –David Frederickson (p. 113)

The average evangelical pastor is not a man of the Scriptures. ...They are more into marketing modes for growth, but growth for growth's sake is the philosophy of the cancer cell. –Patrick Reardon (p. 104)

John Fountain... blames money-hungry pastors for his disenchantment with church and subsequent refusal to go. Mercedes-buying preachers and husband-and-wife pastoral couples who live off the offerings of poor families, including many single mothers, especially earned his wrath. (pp. 121-122)

One facet of control is secrecy. I've learned from years of religion reporting that many churches are very reluctant to give out their annual budget figures. Even worse, pastors do not want to divulge their salaries, even to the congregants who are paying the bills. Pastors are traditionally as poor as church mice, but usually for those who oversee a large church, salaries are generous. (p. 130)

...we remembered all too well how much livelier American religion was in the seventies. (p. 18)

There they had experienced fabulous worship, great preaching, spiritual gifts, and sacrificial giving so that newcomers were converted almost as soon as they walked into the place. (p. 16)

...the spiritual power so evident in churches in the 1970's had evaporated. Church growth techniques were substituted. (p. 15)

There is a way in which evangelicalism as a broad movement is being too worldly in trying to reach this culture. In the process, they have become it. ...I and another evangelical pastor sat down and listed eighteen different fads that swept through American churches in the past few decades. Every time something comes up, people jump on the bandwagon like lemmings. It's trying to find the quick fix that will add to your members. –Wilbur Ellsworth (pp. 79, 81; Ex.: Spiritual gift inventories, inner healing, Weigh Down Workshop, Left Behind series, Becoming a Contagious Christian, church growth movement, prayer walks, Home Bible studies/small groups, purpose-driven life, Toronto blessing, Prayer of Jabez; Experiencing God, spiritual mapping; Generational sins, Christian male bonding, Promise Keepers, What Would Jesus Do?, megachurch, seeker-sensitive, etc.).

Pastors guessed that 70 percent of their members placed their faith in God as their top priority. Their members' survey showed it was like 23 percent. ...Pastors evaluate spiritual health from an institutional perspective—that is, are people involved in keeping the system going—while people are aware of their unmet need to have a deeper and more meaningful relationship with God. (p. 128)

The people opting out of church had been leaders, the most committed, but as the years wore on, they simply could not stand to sit and 'watch the same old game being played anymore.' (p. 19)

Update #15: Extreme Extremism

Let's address two phenomena that have arisen in the tRump era: My-way-or-the-highway purist extremists on the right and left! Moderates are enemies to our cause, and deemed secret spies for the other side. This means, every 2 or 4 years, you win or lose, and if you win, you shove your extremes down everyone's throats!

It DOESN'T matter that your policies later get undone when you lose! Domination is the name of the game, for as long as you can win-at-all-costs! The other team is the evil Devil! You are a saint, and perfect! God is on your side, in a holy cause, and it's life or death. At worst, gridlock occurs, but you NEVER agree with the enemy on anything! That's a cardinal sin!

United we stand, divided we fall. Anyone not an extremist should join the other party! BOTH sides' extreme wings believes like this! The VAST U.S. majority does NOT think like this, and will win the middle in 2028, if not sooner! Here are the two 'bold colors,' contrasted:

Liberal: FREE college, healthcare, daycare, reparations, family leave, green energy, and end oil's use, ASAP, blacks and browns need to ruin whites' dominance, at all costs, in the name of equality, including Antifa violence; cops are racist tools of the whites; taxes are never too high, debt is good, like conservatives' opposite—greed is good; abort at will, even if you don't want the baby when it's born, and homosexuality is something society MUST celebrate.

Let any- and everyone into America, especially if they're poor (so we get more voters for our handouts), the rich cheated, or are evil, business is all evil, guns kill innocents without human involvement, our military are rapists and pillagers of foreign people, America must not be the sole superpower, Communism wasn't so bad, Socialism is the best system known to man, and if you disagree with any of these tenets, we'll fight you and want you out of our AOC-led party!

Now the other extreme: ALL sex MUST lead to a baby, even rape, incest and a mom's life! You can't take contraception, or use Plan B, even before the sp_rm penetrates the egg, because women will be moms, under criminal threat! And any state that disagrees, let the rusty coat hangers come out to bleed out—WE DON'T CARE!

Gays engage the one and only, or the worst sin known to man, and are to be hated, especially by Jesus' folks! The U.S. military can do no wrong, nor business, nor the rich. America was founded by whites, and we're 'gonna keep it that way! MAGA! Zero more immigrants allowed, as they're ruining America.

Guns are great, and no one need ever register them, be forced to take a usage and storage class, and background checks are an evil inconvenience! Religion is always perfect, and any idea or act we deem to be part of our religion MUST take precedence over anyone else's desired rights.

Government should NEVER help anyone, and if I get rich, and don't 'wanna help anyone, that's a great system! Greed is good, even for Christians. Money is the ultimate value. Taxes should be opposed until they're down to zero! All regulations are bad. Let workers move elsewhere if they can't keep up with the things business does to put them out of a job!

This is the other extreme, fought for, tooth and nail! They're not only polar opposites, they're extremes! How do you break through the conscience and brain freeze of those who hold these views? Religion hasn't helped make claiming Christians vote any more morally than a lost sinner! Logic doesn't work, when you are in a cult! Emotion is always a WEAK and fickle friend, subject to whims and interpretation!

Conservatives claim the Constitution is on their side, even if the Bible isn't always. These dead-set positions are ONLY 'gonna lead to gridlock, undoing opponent victories, secession, or war! I wouldn't fight for either extreme, but would lead a charge against both of them!

Literally, we are talking a serious possibility of a second un-civil war, because of these two extremes, egged on by EVIL pastors, and liberal activists and politicians! Set a time and a place, announce them in both extremes' media outlets, and let's meet on the battlefield?

THAT is the mindset, and logical conclusion, by extrapolation, taking both views to their logical conclusions! We do NOT want to live together! We do NOT want to share the same land! We see zero good in our opponents. They must be crushed, even literally. THIS is a growing sentiment in America, today!

I can't reason with you two extreme groups; I can't guilt you into repenting, or changing; I can't argue logic with you, or get you to budge one inch on any policy! YOU are the problem that plagues America, and you must be defeated, and rendered a minority whose implemented policies must be quieted in the public square!

WE, the reasonable, peaceful, NON-extremists must take all you offer that is morally good, and kick to the curb your extremes! YOU are the ones who are tearing our nation apart, and causing the division and problems, because it's win-lose, do-or-die, for you, and you are cultists! Own it! God opposes you; who cares?

The ONLY hope for my nation is prayed- and worked for spiritual revival! I pray just as equally that God would soon bring forth the Great Tribulation, because if THIS is how every nation wants to see their future (i.e., polarized), sin has taken over everyone's minds, and judgment is the only act left to the Lord! (Judg. 21:25)

Beware what you ask for! You are begging God to intervene, by your extremism, and if He does, it will NOT go well for you. As I pray for revival, I also realize many pastors don't want it for their church, so why would God bring it to the world, if His own people don't want it?

Let prophecy commence, to a people who are so stubbornly selfish and sinful, that all they can see is their own, narrow view of how life should be, who reject Gods ways and morals, even in His name, and flaunt this as good, and everyone else evil. LET the book of Revelation begin (chapters four, onward)! Good luck.

Update #16: Christian Credibility Supporting Trump

HERE's why the white Christian/WASP/evangelical church has lost so much credibility in the tRump era, and why it matters: God says His people are to be holy (I Pet. 1:16). If there's any institution on earth that should 'champion' the cause of ethics, it is to be them! But LOOK at all the sins they voted for, to support/empower/encourage: link: http://facebook.com/jim.meroney.3/

Of ALL professions, some PASTORS stooped/caved/compromised to saying it's all RE policy, NOT character, for the figure head/role model/face of America to the world! They deludedly think if a moral issue like abortion gets policy consideration, they've done morally right!

Their sycophant allies in talk radio allege it's a personality or emotion issue about tweets and immature name-calling. IT'S ABOUT HOLINESS! I myself coined the term, 'we're not voting for a pastor-in-chief,' but there are standards Christians are now abandoning for political bias and power idolatry, and their hypocrisy sin is obvious to all!

When Bill Clinton was caught lying about Monica Lewinski, James Dobson had a MUCH different tune about morality than he does today, because the church is in bed with evil, for 'transactional politics' over Roe!

"As it turns out, character DOES matter. You can't run a family, let alone a country, without it. How foolish to believe that a person who lacks honesty and moral integrity is qualified to lead a nation and the world!" –@DrJamesCDobson (1988)

These "pastors" (really, political activists for the GOP) did NOT emulate John the Baptist, in rebuking major and continual sin (or discipling, with any noticeable effects) in a politician who did more of them in his campaign than maybe the past five presidents, combined, because he demands loyalty, like Hitler and other dictators!

He will turn on your cause if you say anything negative, and these supposed men of the cloth have sold their soul to satan, spiritually, for a crumb, and the cost is too high to let Jesus' reputation go down the toilet! They're yes men, just asking how high to jump! Jeffress and Falwell are the public face, but there are others!

The GOP canNOT be seen as the party of religion, when religion encompasses ALL religions, and even the only one they lobby for teaches the FULL counsel of God–NOT cherry picking–and morality above almost everything else.

Let me ask you for an honest answer... WOULD YOU LISTEN TO A SERMON BY Trumpastors with the same credibility of integrity and reputation as before he ran for president? If so, you are a dupeable fool.

The cause of Christ (and evangelism) has been HARMed by these men–and one lady! Hitler HID his sins, or people wouldn't have gone along with him, early on! Chump openly displayed them, and the standard bearers of morality went along, anyway, because they saw in him a weak and flawed soul needing WASP votes in exchange for two SCOTUS picks that possibly could overturn Roe.

QUITE A PRICE TO PAY, instead of trusting God that He can truly work through anything, to achieve His ends, but He never leads His people to support sin, to gain His ends! It was not faith in God or convictions that lead to their support, but leaning on their own scheming/strategizing understanding (Pv. 3:5-7), because anytime a claiming Christian abandons morals, for any reason, you know the Devil has won a victory!

Now, with purely the passing of time—NO REPENTANCE and no rebukes by them (Mk. 6:18)—they want to ACT like they're Christian "leaders." Leaders lead, in integrity, number one, and DON'T cave or flip-flop, or sink to the bottom of the barrel as followers (vs. influencers) of constituents' whims, as Dobson went from Jeb, to Cruz, to 45.

He was the dumbest and least moral of all 17, and is only NOW deciding to put on an act as being Presidential, even as he told people his stiche wasn't an act, he wouldn't change it, and he rebuked an aide for alleging it was his "image" to the public. The sin hypocrisy comes to mind, but NOT to his pastor surrogates! Jeffress is the worst culprit of them all! Amazing delusion.

NOW, just as they denounced Bill Clinton's crowd of merely "moving on" (Ex.: MoveOn.org), brushing it all under the rug, as 'time heals all,' they're going to slander Dems as evil, to their churchgoing voter base? And worse than all these sins, that base is going to faithfully go along with that ruse, as dumbed-down SHEEP! All because policy alone matters: Abortion.

You can be the Devil, so long as you vote to ban/end it! THIS IS CHRISTIANITY? NOT if you know the Bible, which is the exact problem! On behalf of God, please let me put this out there: You're being sold a bill of goods about what He's like!

One more thing: 45 said he was a Christian; then his words and deeds were so atrocious, his pastor handlers had to make up the 'baby Christian' label! Then they moved to Cyrus—an unsaved ruler who did good. So there's spiritual regression back to a child, and on back to not even being spiritually born yet! #WOW!

And if people are 'gonna allege God "appointed" or "anointed" tRump, proven by his victory, Stalin and Mussolini and Hitler, Saddam Hussein, Kim Jong Un and Putin are also in power. God ordained/allowed ALL politicians to reign; that is NO proof He wanted them there, ideally! (Rom. 13:1+) That's an ignorant opinion!

Update #17: Church 'Law Of Attraction?' (Part II)

I'm finalizing my chapter on church growth, but my creativity is itching to get out... If the only standard is NOT what God said, but do anything for a crowd, except outright sin, WHAT WOULD BE THE PROBLEM with a church having a city-wide dance contest, or bingo party, or building a bowling alley, or opening a niche restaurant, or inviting Tony Robbins-like motivational speakers to worship services, or having Hollywood celebrities do dramatic presentations on stage—even if they're not saved—to illustrate a sermon point? That would draw crowds!

Why not have famous sports heroes who are not saved, if they represented a moral point? Why not have Gordon Ramsay host a candy-making extravaganza on campus, especially near Halloween? What draws crowds is what you're after, so why not? Why not host a job fair at a mega church? That would actually help the community!

ALL these events are intended to get lost people to a church campus, so maybe they'll hear the Gospel. They all take time, effort and money! GOD NEVER COMMANDED any precious and finite time, effort or money to be expended before Christians are qualified and commanded to take the Gospel to a lost world! READ Matthew to Revelation. You won't be able to defend your "attraction" methodology.

Jesus had power, which led to miracles, and what some call 'charisma.' Charis is from karis (in the Greek), and dynamism of personality is from dunamos (power, in the Greek), like enthusiasm is from en Theos (in God). What attracts is God's power evident—not secular schemes of men to grow church.

(I Cor. 4:19) LACK OF POWER is what's trying to be substituted by relational-, attraction- and servant evangelism! You're relying on an emotional bond and loyalty, entertainment, and a sense of indebted obligation when you serve for free, because you lack POWER! Revival is needed (II Chron. 7:14). God's church lacks power!

I am NOT of a Christian charismatic denomination, but at least they hope to see real miracles. We conservative Christians do NOT! We pray in hope, never expecting, and we relegate such aspirations to the first century, because we have little faith, and no power.

Miracles were probably the number one thing that attracted people to the church in the book of Acts, as with a reputation for commitment to God/integrity, even risking death! For Jesus, His miracles and ethics/love and unassailable and unique teaching brought the crowds, especially the sick. (Mk. 1:22, 2:12)

Jesus taught with authority! Even as a boy, He gained favor with man (Lk. 2:52). Only religious hypocrites and corrupt politicians who saw Him as a threat to their power hated him! Most everyone else loved Him. CAN THAT BE SAID OF THE WASP CHURCH, today?

We are to emulate Christ, and do the works He did. (Eph. 5:1-2; Jn. 14:12) We have compromised! The Philadelphia church had little power, but they were faithful to God (Rev. 3:8). U.S. mega churches seek out political power, but are often Laodicean.

The goal is not growth in numbers, but faithfulness to God! But NOT if one's heart is Balaam. Leave the numbers to God. Be faithful unto death, as the first century Christians were! (Rev. 2:10)

Update #18: Small, Struggling Pastors

It doesn't take one two minutes of reading the Gospels to see Jesus' concern is for the down and out, much more than those who have it made! This affects politics and religion. I once interviewed a college buddy, who was now a pastor of a large, old building, presumably of aging people in a running down area, who said, 'you don't know what it's like,' with a brand new mega church just having opened up nearby.

I had dropped in to exhort any pastor I could to do EDBS priorities. Legal sheep-stealing is a REAL problem, one God cares about, wrote about, and one I don't think many mega pastors consider.

WHAT are his options? He could abandon the sheep, for self-preservation, and seek out a better job. He could nag the remaining remnant for more money to spruce up the building. He could use laymen to invite people to come. The body of believers could default on their mortgage, and start house church branches linked by technology, or meeting in a public park once a month, or they could disband as a fellowship.

The immediate neighborhood was NOT 'gonna be bought out and turned into nice McMansions, as the scenery and location were not good, for miles. They also could unite with another fellowship, and one campus forfeit the lease or mortgage, and share the cost/hit, but then you'd have two pastors and two salaries.

Part-time, bivocational work is always a biblical option, but the bills still have to be paid by that membership, with the shepherd around even less time to help lead and facilitate that situation. Prayer is always in order, but what should he do? Is it being a hireling to consider your family's needs, and send resumes? Certainly a meeting of the elders would be in order.

I hesitate to recommend (as I did) starting EDBS ministries, as that's always in order, but he had immediate needs. He also could renegotiate the lease, or refinance better loan terms. The challenge is getting more people to help pay the expenses.

If they lived around there (which is usually the case, for many churches), they're used to the physical conditions, so the dilapidating building shouldn't be an innate turn-off! Why would a neighbor want to go, and spend money, when many near there looked obviously financially strained?

May I suggest that people, no matter their finances, crave things that improve their lives, give them a sense of optimism and hope, and a chance to sincerely bond with people who are nice, loving, caring, helpful, and who don't have to be family, or have a hand out?

Yes, at your least capable times of giving, giving without cost to the budget IS in order! Ask not what your community can do for your ailing church—ask what your non-ailing church members can do to bless your community!

What are its needs? Meet them. It sounds harsh, even by my standards, but it's what I believe the Bible would advise in these circumstances. It really takes faith, that if you'll bless others, even in your suffering, God will somehow raise up people to bless you, in return. Easy for me to say... I'm NOT sure I wouldn't just get that resume refreshed!

But these are the challenges of the churches God has the MOST mercy on, who have bought into the system of preach-and-be-paid, in uncommanded buildings, fetching uncommanded salaries! SORRY to have to say it so bluntly... I'm just trying to analyze the problem for a solution!

What if a pastor surveyed the community? I'd GUESS most of them need better skills and jobs and education/training. I'd GUESS they all could use some help repairing broken things, and having a better sense of pride in their homes and yards. I'd guess they all want a sense that the area isn't 'gonna go down even further, that their schools will have quality education, and that crime and violence won't increase, as people get more financially desperate.

I'd guess their kids need a purpose for life, outside of school, and things to safely do, besides only homework, and a mentor, if no father is in the picture.

My guesses may not hold up, but if a struggling pastor prayerfully engaged his membership in doing those things, my guess, as well, is that God would use that sacrificial love to inspire people around there to give that old gray mare of a building one more visit, and maybe if the membership were godly (disciplined), evangelistic (i.e., cared about their eternity—the ultimate show of love), had body life, and did these other things, slowly but surely the building could receive repairs, minor upgrades, or at least its budget met, by increased membership.

I KNOW when "times is tough" is NOT the time to think of working harder, but just perhaps if the sermons were inspiring, and the congregation were inspired/led to do their Eph. 4 jobs, God could bring life to dry bones, once again.

Of course, it's not unheard of that some churches actually die and disband, and need to. Hope this helps!

Update #19: Christianity's Harm

Apostasy and backsliding, for the sin of power idolatry! They NEVER admit it, or repent! They just bow their heads, get silent, and change subjects to his positives! I know from experience! How evangelical views have bent with Trump (link: https://www.msnbc.com/morning-joe/watch/how-evangelical-views-have-bent-with-trump-63581253745) msnbc.com/morning-joe/wa... via @msnbc (7/11/19)

Let's address the HARM done to Christianity by claiming Christians supporting Chump. When terrorists bomb in the name of Allah, Islamists suffer a reputation hit, by association! When priests are pedophiles, Catholics take it on the chin, being associated with such criminals! When Christians vote for tRump, they hurt lost people's chances of avoiding Hell forever! Let me explain why.

The Devil gives lost people any excuse to not receive Jesus. They have VALID reasons to consider our offer less when WE support sin! IF anything, life as a Christian is a call to holiness. You who voted for 45 have HARMED Jesus! You didn't nail Him on a cross, but you inflicted blows!

I've met you, several times. You hang your head, get quiet, and change subjects. You carnally can't face reality! You can't repent. You can't admit sin. You ONLY bring up his FEW achievements!

You can't address the argument that it was all worth it because women NEED to bleed out by coat hanger, suffer gut punches, or risk dangers from black market doctors, because all abortions must be banned at all costs. You can't defend win-at-all-costs, and the ends justify the means, so you go sin-fully silent! You are weak human beings, and even worse Christians!

Let's scheme a scenario where God REALLY mattered to you, and you REALLY trusted Him! IF you had ever once threatened to withhold your vote if Chump didn't find dignity at a dollar store, or if you TRULY believed God can do all things, even working with a majority GOP Congress to block any radical Hillary policies, you'd still have credibility, and an ounce of dignity among lost people you RARELY evangelize!

And that's probably why this matters so little to you... You see lost people as anti-God Dems, vs. satan's victims God commanded YOU to love and tell the Gospel to. Your hardness of heart and sinful power idolatry (from some UNbiblical concern that Christians were treated as second-class citizens in America, under Obama, AS IF persecution by the state or citizenry happened, or would be beneath your pride sin) must be looked at by the man in the mirror, but, instead, you hang your head, and distract to finding good in a bowl full of cereal that is crap-laced (i.e., the needle in the haystack of 45's achievements). WHO eats cereal that has milk mixed with poo? That taints the entire meal! But not for power idolaters who don't trust God!

Finally, when YOUR actions—NOT mine (I didn't vote for 45)—HARM Jesus' number one cause, you better re-read Mt. 18:8, and get out the meat cleaver! Any conscious/willful act you engage, like supporting all of Chump's many sins (more than past five other presidents, combined) is rightly 'gonna cause some people to reject the Gospel you claim, if never communicate to them! And on Judgment Day, their blood will be firmly on YOUR hands!

You LOVE to say we didn't support 45's sins—only his 'Christian positions,' but there has been NO public rebukes by pastors, or collective layman uprising to threaten NOT voting for 45 if he doesn't act better!

You–NOT me–have caused lost people to think that Christianity has no problem with sin, even as most of you are Lordship Salvationists, who doubt people’s salvation if there’s much sin (Trump as your unjustified exception). You made that, you own that, and you will continue the cult brainwashed loyalty, because you are unrepentant sinners! #TRUTH

P.S.: When moral sell-out, so-called "pastors" INVENT terms like “baby Christian,” after 45 said he was a Christian–not a baby one–then call him unsaved Cyrus, then liken him to Nehemiah and David, ALL credibility is out the window among thinking lost people, and rightly so! You made that! Repent, brethren!

I know professional Christians very well, and some will call today’s message ‘self-righteous, holier-than-thou, or judgmental,’ because under NO circumstances will they admit their sins in supporting Trumps’ many sins, because when you’ve sold your soul to satan, for Roe’s overturn, there’s no way out!

Update #20: Morals & Sin

Right and wrong are constantly addressed in media news stories, and debated in our public square and on social media. Unless one has a firm basis for their position, they are mere emotions-based opinions. And as people in America abandon cultural tradition of going to church on Sundays, and even as claiming Christians rarely read God’s word, it’s important to remind people what good vs. evil looks like.

Christianity is not a rule book religion, but a direct relationship with God, having had all your sins forgiven–past, present and future. However, as you learn to walk with/be led by God, your behavior is to be continually improving, by such exposure. As such, you iteratively and progressively learn things in your life God wants you to change. And for people not rightly related to God, through Jesus, though zero good deeds ever get anyone to Heaven, God also wants us all to live right, and not do wrong. Though there are few actual lists in the Bible (like the 10 commandments), the following are just a representative sample of ethics/morals and sins/transgressions, as even a common civics course in school could and should be able to tell/educate the general public on (Note: This doesn’t even include all that’s found in the Old Testament, nor identifying which of those carry forward into our era).

For the believer, there are objective commands for which they become obligatory when the Spirit makes them subjective, by faith/conviction, though we are always, generally, to do right and glorify God, and not violate our consciences by doing anything we know is wrong. And for the nonbeliever, there are many commands associated with spiritual actions, not morality per se, for the Christian, which will not be addressed here (like prayer), and there are implied morals we can read into the Bible stories and historical accounts (like Jesus not wasting the fish and loaves after His miraculous feeding of the 5,000), which we will also not cover. And finally, since the Bible rarely makes lists of virtues and vices, we are reticent to even make this listing, as context is essential, and we would never attempt to add to or subtract from the inerrant way God has addressed educating on sins and righteousness, which is how one finds them by reading the Word itself, as it presents these concepts. In short, if you wouldn’t want someone to do an act toward you that you are contemplating doing, it’s probably not an act you should be doing (Mt. 7:12).

Update #21: Ethics Complexities

Alcohol

Should one drink or abstain? Can we say it's better to abstain than to ever imbibe (i.e., was John the Baptist greater than Jesus)? (Lk. 7:33) Jesus' wine was fermented (or the injunction not to get drunk with it would make no sense), but you are not to get tipsy. (Eph. 5:18) Drunkenness is a no-no.

Anger

Is it wrong to get angry? There are two types of anger—the sinful type and what some call 'righteous indignation.' (Eph. 4:26; Lk. 11:37-54 vs. Jas. 2:19-20)

Anxiety

Is anxiety a sin? (Phil. 4:6-7) Impatience is. (Gal. 5:22) In distinguishing between the two, you must know that paces of life differ per person and personality, and circumstances can call for haste (Mt. 28:1), as well as times for peaceful self-reflection.

Attraction

Modern authors and pastors speak of 'attraction evangelism,' refusing to go and tell. However, the only three instances of anything like it were in circumstances few to none of us qualify for: a man who didn't know the Gospel (Ac. 10), a guy able to take his relative directly to Jesus (Jn. 1:42-44), and a preacher so old/frail and famous, his evangelistic reputation could still 'draw the crowds' when he was no longer physically able to go to them (Ac. 28:30-31). This verse is not a command to attract people to evangelize at your church, but stating as we follow Christ, our lifestyles can convict and convince. (II Cor. 2:14-17).

Bible

Christians are to know God, so Christians are to know God's word, because it (and prayer) is the instrument for that achievement. (II Tim. 2:15; Josh. 1:8; Jn. 17:17; Ps. 119:9-11). God even distinguishes lost people noble enough to corroborate Bible interpretation claims. (Ac. 17:11) Yet, there are believers (and some insecure pastors) who use these tradition of men terms (Mk. 7:8)

To slander people who know it better than they, especially if they are led to (vs. legalistically) quote chapter and verse: ‘Bibliolatry’ (I Cor. 10:7), and self-righteous (Lk. 18:9-14) to quote chapter and verse? My brethren, these things ought not be this way. (Jas. 3:10)

Boasting

If we are not to boast, are there any exceptions? (Jer. 9:23; Jas. 4:16-17 vs. II Cor. 10-13) None that you are ever likely to experience.

Calvinism

Is salvation up to God’s sovereignty or man’s will? (See: Calvinism vs. Arminianism, in the Appendix of The Will You Live Forever? button, at this website)

Carnality

Is there such thing as a ‘carnal Christian?’ Though we see evidence of it all the time, Lordship Salvationist theory requires us to categorize such claimers (professors vs. possessors) as tares (Mt. 13:25) and so-called brethren (I Cor. 5:10), because they believe all believers will bear much good fruit. However, the biblical evidence against such claim is almost as prevalent as the evidence that some Christians do do spiritually well. (See: ‘New Testament examples of Christians sinning very badly,’ in the Lordship Salvation Errors section of the Appendix of The Will You Live Forever? button, at this website)

Church Finances

In the Bible, churches sometimes cared for each others’ finances (Ac. 20:1-5; I Cor. 16:1; II Cor. 8:14, 9:12), and pastors were NOT competitors. (I Cor. 3:9) The obvious moral differences in modern church practice should be evident to all.

Confidence

Does the Bible teach you to believe in yourself? (II Cor. 1:9; Pv. 3:5-7) It is not wrong to be confident, and lack self-doubt, but your confidence is to come from the Lord—not you independent of Him.

Criticism

Are we never to criticize pastors, especially those in public political debates? (I Tim. 5:19) When anyone puts themselves in the court of public opinion, they have ceased doing their spiritual pastoral duties, and rightly subject themselves to constructive (and even destructive, in modern, evil politics) criticism. (II Cor. 10:8)

Dancing

Are Christians not to dance? (II Sam. 6:14; Ps. 149:3) Seductive, sexually suggestive styles are obvious no no’s, but not all dancing meets that criteria, especially in a pure mind. (Tit. 1:15)

Deity Of Christ

Was Christ a human or God? Both/and. (Lk. 2:52; Heb. 4:15 vs. Jn. 1:1, 8:58, 10:30; Phil. 2:8; Col. 2:9)

Dirty Movies

Should believers go to R rated movies? Certainly not X, but Christians differ on the answer, and it could depend on the particular movie, and what made it receive such a rating. (Phil. 4:6-8)

Discipline

Is there any role for willpower in the Christian life, or is it all feeling 'led?' (I Tim. 4:7-8 vs. Zech. 4:6) It is all by God, but often through man's Bible incentivized decisions. (Jn. 3:20-21)

Division

Are Christians to all think alike, and are all differences of opinion divergences from sound doctrine? (Mt. 10:34 vs. Jn. 17:23; Eph. 4:3) As Charles Swindoll said, 'unity is not uniformity,' though foundational/basic/major beliefs biblically based have a common understanding that disallows much creativity.

Evangelism

Does the Bible teach relational evangelism? Certainly, believers are to share the Gospel with those they already know, but there is no evidence they are to intentionally get to know people well, as friends, before they earn some claimed 'right' to tell the message. (Mt. 10:14)

Faith

Is there a difference between sincere heart faith and intellectual assent? Yes. (Jn. 6:47 vs. Jas. 2:19)

False Prophets

False prophets are (among other things) in ministry for money (vs. free from love of it). How can you know the difference, when it's a motive matter? (I Tim. 3:3; II Peter; Jude) Ask them to do God's priorities, or to cap their salaries as they expand their mega businesses, and you will quickly see the number one priority.

Flexibility

Is adjusting to circumstances always a lack of commitment? No, we have to be firm on important matters, yet sensitive and flexible to the Spirit's leading on exact/specific applications. (II Cor. 1:17)

Follow-up

Is it wrong to ever not follow-up in evangelism? (Ac. 4:40) The evangelist need not always be the one to do so, but it's best if someone does.

Forgiveness

When should Christians shun, instead of forgive? (I Cor. 5:9-13; Mt. 18:15-17 vs. Mt. 18:21-22) In America, we over-emphasize the forgiveness, at the expense of also ever shunning, as culture has taught us that is labeled judging.

Gambling

Is gambling always wrong? Some Christians teach that it is always wrong, but for occasional, non-addictive entertainment, though it isn't the wisest way to be a steward of God's resources, we waste our wealth on many foolish things. It is never a good means of financial planning (though, presumably, someone could get good enough at it to profit as a professional). The risk is an undue one, somewhat greater than that of the stock market.

Giving

Does the right hand not knowing what left is doing mean church accountants (as wise stewards) can't file reports for the IRS? (Mt. 6:3) No. Should pastors know who the tithers are? No. What's the difference between giving to God vs. giving to a pastor? (Mt. 22:21) IF the pastor is doing God's priorities, there is little difference, as well as if he's living humbly vs. lavishly. Otherwise, the two can be being confused.

Hatred

Does the Bible teach us to love the sinner, and hate the sin? (Levit. 19:18; Rom. 12:9) Yes, but it doesn't teach that adage only applies to abortion and homosexuality!

Healing

Does God always heal all? (Mt. 4:24) No. Sometimes He heals none, from evil unbelief (Mt. 13:58), or doesn't heal, not from any evil on our part (Jn. 11:4; I Tim. 5:23), and sometimes He only heals some. (Mk. 1:34, 3:10)

Humility

Does being humble mean lack of confidence, or never any humiliation? No. (Jas. 4:10 vs. II Cor. 12:21)

Judging

Are Christians to judge or not judge? It depends on definitions and intentions/motives. We are commanded to do both, rightly understood, and always rightly done. (Mt. 7:1-5 vs. Jn. 7:24)

Judgment

Do you hear believers bragging they'll never be judged? That's true regarding Hell, but not regarding their choices in this life. (II Cor. 5:10)

Law

What's the difference between obeying the Bible and being under the Law? Are there no rules in the Christian life? The difference, and which rules is left up to the Spirit Who leads us, as we depend on that guidance, from a position of relational fellowship. (I Cor. 7:19 vs. Gal. 5:18)

License

Is Saviorhood Salvation/Free Grace contrary to 'go and sin no more?' No. A person must be saved, before they have the power to apply that injunction, and no one can apply it perfectly. In fact, it was used regarding the woman's sin of serial adultery, in context. (Jn. 8:11) Grace can be sinfully abused (i.e., license). (Jude 1:4)

Money

Morally, can you make too much money, or be overpaid? You can have too much if you keep or hoard too much, and people can be over-paid, even if a fool is willing to do so, or Boards of Directors and competition free executives up to over-compensate, and scratch another's back. Any good thing can be overdone.

Offending

Political liberals speak a lot about being offended, but there's a difference between an emotional vs. a moral offense. (II Cor. 6:3 vs. Mt. 15:12) What you don't like isn't necessarily something that is bad, or shouldn't be done, morally-speaking.

Pastors

Are pastors to be bivocational or full-time? They can be both, but any too prideful to consider the former, or who demand the latter, make themselves out to be better than even Paul and Jesus, who both out-performed us all, and were bivocational. (Mk. 6:3; Ac. 18:3, 20:34; vs. I Cor. 9:14)

Perseverance

Will all believers persevere to the end? (Mt. 24:13) All saved people will go to Heaven, but their continuing in the faith, in this life, is not guaranteed. The parable of the soils shows three types of believers, and the context of this verse is during prophecy's 7-year Tribulation.

Positivity

Is Joel Osteen (and his son) only positive, emotions analyzing motivational encouragement all God demands of preachers? No. Is God never angry at man's sins, including believers. Yes He can be. (Heb. 12:29)

Poverty

Is it right, in politics, for people to lump all poor people as one type, namely lazy, over-spenders or poor budgeters? No. There are productive and lazy poor (and rich, like spoiled heirs) people. (Pv. 10:4 vs. Lk. 6:20)

Is it wrong to be rich? No, but it can be not God's will for you, and therefore be wrong. Christ and Peter were poor (from excessive ministry), while Abraham and Solomon were rich. (Lk. 9:58 vs. Gen. 13:2; II Chron. 9:13-29) It depends on God's individual will or you, which many Americans are afraid to find out, lest it not be riches, but moderation, or even poverty

Prayer

Is all prayer to be done in a private place, and are public prayers evil? (Mt. 6:6 vs. I Tim. 2:8; Jas. 5:16) Individually, you pray not for the purpose of being seen praying by others, which occurs best in private. If public prayers were evil, God wouldn't have told us to do them, as a gathered body/church.

Do you only pray once, in faith, or engage persistent praying? It depends on the faith God's given you for a given prayer. Praying twice can be an indication you failed to believe God for the answer the first time. The habit of praying is to be continual, through life. (Mk. 11:22-24 vs. I Th. 5:17; Lk. 18:1-6)

Protests

Are protests evil? Not if they are nonviolent, and for moral causes. (Eph. 5:11; Ps. 94:16) Even Christian Protestantism began by refusing to go along with church business as usual, only following this verse. (Heb. 10:25)

Repentance

Are there various definitions of repenting? No—it means to change one's mind, and what they change their mind about can vary. It can lead to a change of behavior, but it also may not. (Mt. 18:21-22) See also: Lordship Salvation Errors, in the Appendix of The Will You Live Forever? button, at this website

Reproof

Is reproof contradictory to turning the other cheek? No. God can lead one to either of these possible moral choices, as the need dictates. (Pv. 25:12 vs. Mt. 5:38-40)

Riches

Is wanting to be rich a sin? Yes, if the desire supersedes the desire to obey God. (I Tim. 6:10) Are all rich Christians sinning? No, if that's God's will for them, and they achieve and use that wealth in godly ways, not just selfishly. (I Tim. 6:17-19; Rev. 3:14-22)

Security

How is a Christian assured they're going to Heaven? (Rom. 8:16; I Cor. 3:16; Jas. 4:5) Their deeds may convince others, one way or the other, and God's discipline may convince them, but it is ultimately deeper than circumstantial confirmations—it is from the Spirit resident within. On seeming lose salvation verses, See: Calvinism vs. Arminianism, in the Appendix of The Will You Live Forever? button, at this website

Selfishness

Is there a difference between being selfless and having self-interest? Yes. Credible needs are not selfish. Only caring for your own needs is selfishness—a sin. (Phil. 2:3-4)

Sinning

Are Christians guilty for being imperfect? No, they are held responsible when they do something they have faith they aren't do, or don't do something they have faith they are to do. We live by faith, in relationship, iteratively and imperfectly improving as ever follow Christ. (Ps. 19:12; Rom. 14:23; I Cor. 4:4; II Cor. 10:18)

Slavery

If slavery is addressed in the Bible, isn't it condoned? No. In that culture, it was more prevalent, and instructions were made to that situation, but God is morally opposed to any human enslaving any human, as we are all equally made in his image, with dignity. (Eph. 6:5)

Smoking

Is it wrong for a Christian to smoke cigarettes? See the rationale listed under tattoos. (I Tim. 6:19-20)

Solitude

Have you ever heard any pastor say 'There are no lone ranger Christians?' What about these verses? (Jn. 7:13; Rev. 1:9-11)

Submission

Do wives submitting to their husbands mean doormat? No, but it also does not mean authority-usurping arrogance. Married decisions are participatory, and mutual, but the husband is ultimately responsible before God for what the couple chooses. It is more a responsibility than a privilege—a stewardship. (Eph. 5:22)

Tattoos

Are tattoos sin? Society will disagree, but if we take our bodies to be temples of the Holy Spirit, and read this verse, we may be unpleasantly surprised. (Levit. 19:28)

Teaching

Do believers have no need for anyone to teach them spiritual truths, or are Bible teachers biblical? (I Jn. 2:27 vs. Eph. 4:11-13) The operative word is 'need.' Since we have the Spirit's anointing, and our Bibles, that is sufficient, but God has also ordained the few to be teachers, who must be excellent at their craft, or one can learn about as much by the former, direct method.

Tithing

To tithe or not to tithe? Ten percent tithing is not mandated or commanded for Christians. It was a theocratic tax for the Jewish nation under the old covenant. Search the term in the New Testament, and you will never find it referencing Christians.

Truth-Telling

We are to speak truth in love, vs. hate, but god-led reproof isn't innately hatred. (Eph. 4:15 vs. Ac. 16:17; See Also: Reproof verses)

Wastefulness

Is it a sin to waste things, or aren't assets given for our enjoyment? (Jn. 6:12; I Tim. 6:17) It is being a wise steward of God's resources not to be wasteful, but to enjoy and be content with the things you have. (Phil. 4:11-13; I Tim. 6:6-8)

Works

What's the relation between faith and works? (Jas. 2:14-26) Works have nothing to do with salvation, only sanctification, and when one is saved, and God gives them faith to do a certain act, for them to not do it is sin, grieves or quenches the Spirit (depending on its severity), and their soul is not perfected when they fail that test by inaction.

Worldliness

Christians are in the world, but not of the world. Sadly, some are both, experientially. (Jn. 17:15, 15:19; Jas. 4)

Update #22: Christians & Conservative Politics

Let's get down to brass tacks: the current two-party system SUCKS and is BROKEN! NO MATTER WHAT, GOP politicians will support anything 45 does or says, to NOT let Dems seize power, rightly defending against Dem evils! Dems would do the exact same thing. No one just cares about morals! Fix the system! It's topsy-turvy!

MSNBC is a full-time machine of attacking Chump, and bewilderment that GOP's don't turn on or call out tRump. WHY WOULD THEY? That's career suicide, and guarantees Socialism wins. The bewilderment of NBC is aimed to have DUMB people think GOP's are evil for so doing. They're defending against Socialism!

Dems will do anything to seize power, as will GOP's. The answer is NOT one or the other! The answer is common ground based on common sense solutions. These will be offered in 2024 and 2028, because both extremes HURT America, with my-way-or-the-highway selfish arrogance sins! Repent, America!

I LITERALLY hear people PAID to spin everything Dems do and say as satanic, and every word and deed of 45 spun angelic. It's called talk radio, and much of FoxNews. The EXACT OPPOSITE is most of MSNBC, and probably CBS and ABC. Propagandists against objective reporters—on BOTH sides! Repent, media and D.C.!

You will NEVER agree with any other human on every political issue. You will never agree with everyone in your political party, 100 percent. Get over yourself! You are not God, and you don't have perfect positions! Quit threatening politicians with 'vote my way or be voted out!' No one will run with that insecure employment, fools!

Update #23: The Church & Trumpian Conservatism

CHUMP's insult of @MittRomney has all but secured my NOT voting for 45, ONLY all other GOP's and maybe Biden! As a life-long GOP (excepting 2.5 years of protesting him), let me tell you the TRUTH about 45, and the Christians who support him: He is the most arrogant, stupid and sinful presidential office holder in 30+ years, and those who like him ENDORSE sin.

GOP's go along with Chump's worst presidency in ages, because they care about their party—NOT because they like him, or are proud of him! He says Mitt couldn't win. 45 won stealing MY ideas. He is NOT original! He had NO ideas before mine, but ban all Muslims and build a wall Mexico would pay for.

Christians voted for him due to hating abortion. They would have voted for Hitler if he said he'd overturn Roe, because he HID his sins—Chump put them on open display. GOP's don't speak out against CHUMP for fear of the retaliation of a mad man, and they value public service, after he's long GONE! He is an evil man and dictator.

Conservatives love 45 because he had adopted their beliefs to win their support. He's NOT one. He's one, temporarily, from convenience, and self-idolatry. He is NOT a Christian, IMO. IDIOT Christians believed that LIE, and handlers invented that image so we'd vote for the devil! I did not fall for the lie!

Trump won an election, but he is a LOSER at life and on Judgment Day! It's more important to be a winner at life than at voting booths. Win-at-all costs is a SIN many WASPs embraced, from power idolatry SIN. Christians sin just as much as non-Christians, often, despite our claimed piety! 45 is a tare/fake Christian, IMO! 45 is a WEAK little BOY, who can't handle criticism! He demands loyalty like an actual dictator. GOP's comply, as the party will outlive that MORON.

Any "Christian" who loves Trump is an apostate! They may like some of his views, but rest assured they'd care LESS about abortion if their taxes had to be raised to get less of them! It's a Trojan horse mantra to gen up support of dumbed-down people.

45's tenure in the White House had been a DYSMAL failure, and embarrassment to the U.S.A.! Everyone with a lick of sense knows that! GOP's won't admit it, lest their political careers be damaged, like Jeff Flake. They're waiting him out, and can't wait until their party isn't remembered for him!

They'll never admit it, because conservatives will label them. Conservatives believe they're perfect, and God's representatives. That is 'the delusion!' (II Th. 2:11) Anyone else is the enemy, even if in their party.

They don't give a damn about poor people, or God! Just money. I am no more moderate than they are moral, yet that's their label to attack anyone who hasn't drunk their Kool-Aid!

You can't reason with them. It's a cult. Reason knows the far right wins, then it loses, and opposite extremes' policies un-do their achievements, or you get gridlock of left vs. right, and nothing gets done. They're for that, as they only want my-way-or-the-highway.

That doesn't work in America, but they threaten any politician who won't lead that way. That's why moderate, ex-Dem Trump caters to and coddles them! Zero laws for gun safety, curbing pollution; ban every abortion, lowest taxes, no taxes used to help anyone, screw workers if businesses can profit. This is from 'Jesus?'

This ilk of human ONLY sees us vs. them; no common ground. Everything's a war and ore value, as any win for anyone else is a loss. Old school win-lose mentality; stupidity with brashness. NOT Christian!

If Donald Trump is a role model for your kids, you're a child abuser! Re-read that, any who are slow of thought.

Claiming Christians are FOR women cramming a coat hanger where tRump said celebrities can grab, even if they bleed out, or having black market quack doctors do so, or boyfriends punching them in the stomach! Ignoring ALL 45's sins, Jesus claimers are for that, and NOT against all his sins!

YOUR HANDS ARE DIRTY every pastor who supported tRUMP! You held your nose, and thought you could be "transactional." For Roe's overturn, you forsook ALL credibility and morality. What non-Christian would ever listen to Fall-not-so-well or Bob Jeffress speak about God? Hypocrisy ruins biblical messages!

The media and Dems have been all over Trumps "a_s" (CHUMP's word for Romney) since his election, but WHO STARTED ALL THE ILL-WILL? tRUMP did! It's a natural reaction to a big FAT bully. READ my argument below, unless you're in the cult, and learning is anathema to you.

WHY I WAS #NEVERTRUMP

1. Win at all costs is a lesson NO good parent teaches their kids.
2. Neither is being a bad sport (which summarizes ALL of Trump's whiney campaign).
3. The end justifies the means is not a lesson any moral person adheres to.
4. You NEVER reward bad behavior is a lesson even Kindergartners know.
5. You have what you tolerate, and you must be willing to tolerate Chump antics in future politicians.
6. The GOP is NO LONGER the party of thinking more than feelings, with UN-thinking Trump!
7. The GOP is NO LONGER the party of values voters! Hillary Clinton ran a MUCH more moral campaign, despite her several faults.
8. The GOP is no longer the religious right party, as even non-religious voters see the hypocrisy and power idolatry of Christians voting for Trump! It also gives Jesus a bad name.
9. If you put all the sins and gaffes of the past five GOP nominees together (including their time in office), it DOESN'T compare to Trumps campaign—much less four years in office!
10. Trump ONLY divided the GOP and the nation further. He is NO uniter, at all!
11. The GOP's chances at expanding their tent to minorities is harmed for a LONG time with Trump!
12. What Trump did and said for 7/8ths of his campaign was the real deal! Faking presidential and knowledgeable is OTHER people controlling him, to be acceptable.
13. Trump's behavior in the primary IS his credentials for why he became the GOP nominee against sixteen BETTER-qualified people. He CAN'T live down all he FREELY chose to do and say. No one put a gun to his head and said act like a fool and a buffoon. HE ALONE caused his OWN presidential backlash!
14. If policy alone matters (i.e., not personal temperament), Kasich, Cruz, Rubio and Bush had policy down pat when Trump had FEW ideas (i.e., up until his last three months of the campaign)!
15. If policy is all that matters, you could have voted for a trained chimp, robot or even Hitler, because he was wise enough to HIDE his evils until he got in power.
16. Voting for ALL down-ballot Republicans was the ONLY wise Republican choice, as Donald's campaign HURTS the GOP's reputation with minorities (and others) for quite a while.
17. I expect president Trump to change into what more people always wanted, but if you believe a political charlatan and chameleon with the core he's demonstrated, you will believe anything, and you did drink the Kool-Aid!

LET ME REMIND YOU, China has NOT given in to CHUMP's demands. Kim Jong Un has not abandoned anything serious, due to Chump. Middle East peace is no closer due to CHUMP favoring the Jews with a U.S. embassy move and Jerusalem capital announcement. MEXICO had paid NOT one dime for any wall!

Iran is MORE agitated. tRump sides with a Saudi murderer (in the Khashoggi case). His tax cuts favored the rich, OPPOSITE the God he claims to know, barely. Stacking SCOTUS right is partiality—a sin—says the God Chump claims to know, barely. READ the case above, if you LOVE Chump, and (contradictorily) also claim Christ.

IF Dems take the White House, policies will shift toward Socialism. HERE's why we need a centrist third party: Gridlock or undoing opponent achievements and cramming your views down others' throats are the ONLY alternatives! You CAN'T reconcile extremes!

You can't be for business and against business, for workers and against workers, for ecology and for destroying it, for freebies and against them.

You can't be for big and small government, high and low taxes, no gun laws and many gun laws, no abortions and any and all abortions, loving homosexuality and hating it; free college, or parents and/or students paying for it—NOT tax payers!

You can't reconcile reparations or no reparations! You can't find common ground between free daycare and parents paying for their own daycare. You can't bridge the gap between extremes of free healthcare, and everyone pay for your own, or paid family leave, vs. pay for your own time off to care for your own family.

Extremes ONLY cancel each other out, over time! You set your agenda in reversing prior administrations! Tax payers pay D.C. politicians handsomely to do nothing, or to do nothing over time, undoing opponent victories to return to status quo doing nothing, just drama, over time!

BOTH political parties are imperfect. Extremists don't believe that, from stupidity! Conservatives believe God Himself and the Constitution are on their side. WRONG, and to the extent that document is for them, God is more important.

There are God-haters among Republicans and Democrats, though conservatives say God-haters are only among the far left. Many Trump lovers are God-haters, who reject His morals! #TRUTH

JUST because God may be for conservatives on their abortion position, He is against their only hoping people charitably help the poor enough not to severely suffer! God's people, the Jews, had a public safety net. Conservatives HATE all wealth redistribution, NOT because they want to do so/donate freely!

A nation is heading for demise when extremists are in charge! If the squeaky wheel gets the grease, ONLY loud mouths' extremes will influence public policy. People are busy working, but activists and extremists sometimes are PAID 2 agitate public sentiment.

Centrist common sense isn't sexy! In a reality TV culture, we want drama. We like MMA fights, and like seeing train wrecks of political candidates getting verbally destroyed, as it's Christians in the Roman lion's den sport to us.

If America doesn't repent, America will be destroyed, and I will celebrate her demise, for clinging to sin over honoring God's morals!

Update #24: What Is Conservatism & Liberalism?

WHAT does conservatism mean? Conserving my money from public use, and maintaining things the way they were back when—little change to status quo. What's liberalism mean? Generous/liberal in using tax payer/other people's money! BOTH are extremes and errors, and IMperfect! Yet cultists worship them!

What's a moderate? A person with NO core values—just willing to compromise to get something done; not necessarily something good—just something. Go with the flow, go along to get along spineless linguini. ALL these positions are WRONG! RIGHT solutions are the ONLY right answer for America!

Trump doesn't do anything for America, and isn't the president of all of America, unless the policy promotes and advances his re-election. I can't wait to see him face God on Judgment Day. His pastor advisors are NOT changing his arrogance, intelligence or morality (Gods interest)! They just want Roe overturned.

LOOK at the tRump Titanic panic S.O.S. signals: Rudy says nothing happened, then says they did something they're proud of (flip-flop). Chump denies quid pro quo, then blames Rick Perry with the devil made me do it excuse. He tries to bring Pence down with him, for advising non-full disclosure (i.e., devising a cover-up). #Desperation

One-way loyalty of a damnable dictator. Hell bound loser!: [Private account:] Trump, who exacts loyalty, offers none in return. It's surprising that those around him don't seem to understand he will throw them all under the bus to save himself.

ONLY cares about himself! Everyone else be damned. Just like the Jesus he claims to know, right? WRONG-O!: [Private account:] Surprising nobody, trump is now blaming Rick Perry for #UkraineGate. I would strongly urge Rick Perry, and every remaining person in Trump's wobbly, unstable orbit to SPILL ALL OF THE NASTY BEANS. He'll roll EVERYONE under the bus.

I bow to no one, especially NOT the a-hole in the White House! I will never cease criticizing his bad deeds, and praising him if he does good! GOP's need to learn to buck the bully. He's RUINING the GOP's reputation; has for 3 years. As HE said, "Bad for R's."

Devil liar! True Christians know Trump and yourself are fake Christian frauds! I'll publicly debate your stupid "a_s" (Trump's term) any day! You're too yellow to email AAorg2020@gmail.com Cowardice sin, @RobertJeffress Any time, any day. Bring the Bible you know so little!: "Evangelicals love God, Lou Dobbs and President Trump." @robertjeffress on @realDonaldTrump's overwhelming support from Evangelicals from across the country. #MAGA #AmericaFirst #Dobbs

I'm TIRED of Robert Jeffress trying to pose as a Christian "leader," backing the sin-full Trump. I will spill all the beans on his ilk of fake spiritual advisers, if you email me at AAorg2020@gmail! @ABC @CBS @NBC @CNN @FoxNews I have most all the insider scoop! Anytime, anywhere.

YOU can garner media attention. Fake Christian "leader" @RobertJeffress says evangelicals love tRUMP. Challenge him to a Bible-based debate. You know he can't handle heat!, @FHunscripted TRUE believers know 46 minus 1 is the dumbest, least moral president in 30+ years! Speak out, sir!

Update #25: Conservative Worldview

Let's consider political conservatives' view on life, for a 'second:' I work hard, obey the law, go to church, bread win for my family, and am a generally good guy. I own a gun, don't use it for crime, but to hunt, have a big house, golf, am a college grad, and am moving up, 2.5 kids, white picket fence, vote GOP, am generally white, middle-aged, have a wife, nice cars, may exercise, have no problem with the oil industry, may own a truck (or two), maybe a pet, live in the burbs, wear a suit and tie, perhaps greying or balding, in decent (or tolerable) health, likely a Christian... pretty good life! American ideal.

Why am I NOT O.K. with God? My pursuit of happiness is His will—so says His word—the U.S. Constitution, right? Private property, free speech, life, liberty and the second Amendment. I'm an all-around all-American male. So why would anyone tarnish or slander my lifestyle as evil, as most Democrats do?

They're just jealous! They don't work as hard, didn't study as hard, or get in as good of colleges, if any. That is the ONLY reason my positions get attacked, right? Sinful jealousy! God is on my side, because I oppose abortion. I'm carrying His banner, and doing His good work, wanting Roe ended.

All these things make me a 'good person,' and since all my peers, associates, and people I see and interact with live the same way, I know I'm in God's will, doing right. Anyone who doesn't agree with me, politically, HAS to be from Satan, as I'm about the Lord's business! Even moderate GOP's! They're just Democrats in disguise; Dem lite—RINOs. They are subversive spies of evil Nanny Pelosi, wishing they could be Dems, but not wanting their taxes higher. They are, as Donny CHUMP said, BAD for4 the Republican party (BTW, if he's GOOD for the party, the party's literally going to Hell in a hand basket!)

This IS the never stated, probably never even thought about, unconscious belief system of the average WASP male conservative! I know, as I live among them, and was one for a great portion of my 60 years! Trust me, there is NO detail left out, or that's inaccurate.

So let's assess their worldview in light of God's perspective, based on His real book—NOT the U.S. Constitution, but the Bible—and a little logical common sense thrown in, to boot—cowboy boot, at that.

Where do I begin? Let's start with the second greatest Christian of all time, IMO, Keith Green: Going to church doesn't make you a Christian any more than going to a fast food joint makes you a hamburger!

Churchianity (NOT Christianity) teaches by example—RARELY by word—that if you attend Sundays for an ~hour, and give 10 percent, you're a "good Christian." Dressing up is essential, but we'll say it isn't, then talk about you behind your back, or give you snarky looks if you dress as God allows, who cares about the heart more than outward appearance (I Sam. 16:7; Jas. 2:2)

Again, THIS IS NOT CHRISTIANITY! It is a mere, small but important aspect of it! True 'religion' of the God of the Bible is 'EDBS'—full evangelism, relational discipleship, body life layman interaction using spiritual gifts in the main gathering, and social ministry, as Jas. 1:27 (and elsewhere) indicates.

The ten percent required tithe isn't even in the Bible as mandated for Christians, but was the Jews' theocratic tax, which included a safety net for the poor and destitute, but I digress.

MOST U.S. WASPs have NEVER won one person to Jesus—in their entire lifetime! That was priority one—telling non-Christians the good news of how to go to Heaven! They MAY invite them to church, but that only means they’re sinfully cowardly, contrary to II Tim. 1:7 and Rom. 1:16!

They will LET the VAST MAJORITY of human souls burn forever in a fiery Hell judgment, rather than speak to YOU about Christ! Complete spiritual apostasy/falling away from the faith number one.

Secondly, relational discipline: Statistics show the vast majority of U.S. WASPs are carnal Christians, meaning they are casual, nominal, half-hearted in their commitment to Jesus. Jesus said you’re either for Me or against Me, so they’re really against Him, in practice/experience (Cf.: Jas. 4:4).

Their deeds fit in with the world, or the norm of a decent society, like U.S.A., but you could never accuse them of sticking out for morality, exhibit A being 81 percent of them voted for the things listed in attachment below.

APOSTASY FOR POWER IDOLATRY

Christians are supposed to oppose sin & ignorance, & stand for integrity & intelligence; NEVER perfectly, but we SHOULD HAVE put our voting feet down to NOT embrace & empower ALL of the following, for ANY reason! We failed, & I apologize for 81% WASPs:

Sue-happy (NBC, Ms. America, Telemundo, and threatens to against sex abuse accusers); MOST Hispanic illegals are rapists and criminals; A Mexican judge can’t be fair to me; Lies that Mexico’s President never discussed the wall payment on his photo op trip to Mexico; We will have a deportation force; Mexico will pay for a 50 foot wall; I am calling for a complete Muslim ban; Mr. Khan has not sacrificed; I saw Muslims cheering after 9-11; I can’t say I respect women; Women are pigs and dogs; You can grab women’s ___ if you’re a celebrity; I’d liked to nail Princess Di; Ms. Piggy; Miss housekeeper; Has been a Democrat (and contributed to them) all his adult life; George Bush didn’t keep us safe; Jeb is as dumb as a box of rocks; Look at Fiorina’s face; There’s a lot of material to work with with Rand Paul; Little Marco; I’m going to spill the beans on Cruz’s wife; He couldn’t be elected dog catcher; Serial adulterer; Serial divorcee; “Two” Corinthians; Favorite Bible verse is an eye for an eye; Never asked God’s forgiveness for ANYTHING, but he’s a “Christian;” Now, one year later, he’s a “baby Christian;” His own pastor hardly knows him; I know more than the generals about ISIS; Pro-choice all his life; Punish the aborting woman; Bomb the sh_ out of them; Tell them to go f_ themselves; Used the ‘P’ word in public (at his rally); NEVER apologizes; The cast of Hamilton should apologize to Pence (something Trump’s incapable of doing himself); I assure you my hands are not small, nor other parts of my anatomy; Blood was coming from Megyn Kelly’s wherever; I’d date my daughter if it was legal; Of course women flirted with me—it’s to be expected; The great thing about me is I’m SO rich; I’m so handsome; Six foot portrait of himself paid for with charity donations; Had NO detailed plans until the last three months of his campaign; only it will be great, yuge, we’ll look into that, believe me!; Levy 45 percent tariffs on China; Sell federal lands to foreigners to pay off our debt; Default on loans from China to pay down our debt; There may be riots in Cleveland; I want to punch that guy in the face; I could shoot someone on a New York City street and lose no support; I’ll pay your legal bills if you beat/punch that protester; POW’s are losers; John McCain and Mitt Romney are losers; I was for the Iraq War before I was against it; Skipped a GOP debate for a vet fund raiser (to make up for his gaffe), and the media pressured him to pay up; I couldn’t serve in the military from an ankle pain/spur that I can’t recall which foot it was on; Ted Cruz’s dad killed JFK; Birther on Obama, Cruz and Rubio; Everything is rigged (elections, the media, GOP primaries) or unfair; If the GOP is not “fair” to me I may go third party (the man who started all the unfairness, and was ONLY unfair to every rival); Would never release his tax returns; Eighteen years of paying NO taxes; Would never prove his Wharton class rank; I’m my only adviser; I alone can fix it; I have the best words; I have a great brain; Daddy’s little $1 million loan to Donnie (and he’s the champion of the little guy?); Four (or more) bankruptcies; Unpaid illegal alien laborers; Outsourced many of his products; Paid off a golf shot winner debt from charity funds; Settled Trump University lawsuit; Putin is my green room buddy/pal; Russia didn’t invade Ukraine.

Some would say many of them don’t even know Jesus—the same ones whose good news/Gospel is in dispute over its accuracy, known as Lordship Salvationists (meaning God requires several heavy things, to qualify for a ‘free gift’), but I digress, again.

God’s solution is to emulate Jesus and Paul in how you get a claiming Christian to be living like Jesus, but they have chosen the easier road of just preaching sermons—NOT unbiblical to do, but incomplete (II Tim. 4:2).

It takes too much time and effort to actually interact with churchgoers to ensure they grow as Christians! That’s for Sunday School, which is a mere mini worship service, with announcements, maybe a song, then yet another sermon addressed to crowds—NOT customized or individualized to a person, in godly relationship.

Our excuse is we’re too big. If you’re too big to do what God called you to do, you’re morally too big! A church of 30,000 size can disciple ALL its members in three years or less, using multiplication (i.e., one teaches 12, so they 12 can do the same, and so forth), but again, the easy street is the wide road we choose (Mt. 7:13).

So MOST U.S. WASPS are lukewarm in their faith—one foot in the world, as a Plan B backup safety net, just in case all this faith talk isn't real, and to fit in with one's peers. That being the case, it is NO WONDER, if you poll average Joe Christian, they haven't ever evangelized even 10 people, and can't recite 10 Bible verses from memory!

You recall, we've been brainwashed that Sunday attendance makes us good. We RARELY read God's word! Stats say 13 percent of us regularly do. That is saying that Mt. 4:4 is a lie! I don't need God's word for my very survival/existence, as I have a brain, which my deeds show tells me to be like all the other sheeple.

Third, I don't know my spiritual gift, or use it in a ministry, because, as before, going to church is my God-given duty! Dutifully sit on a cushioned pew, and be sanctimonious. Churchianity teaches me this ethic!

Fourthly and finally, social ministry. The very term evokes black activists and flaming liberals shouting for equality and social justice! I don't want to be a radical. I pay my taxes! Uncle Sam cares for all that stuff, and I give at church. Charities can handle that (AS IF church donations don't mainly go for buildings and salaries).

THIS IS U.S. Churchianity, and Christian political conservatism! Vote GOP, because it's the party of thinking over feeling, and of religion and family values, right? NOT 100 percent right! Having voted for tRump, 81 percent of them OPPOSED God's Bible (II Tim. 2:19). They not only didn't abstain from evil, they elected it to lead our nation!

I am NOT saying any of them should have voted for Hillary, or voted for no one on top, but WASP voices, especially through the Christian Cabal, did NOT stand for morality when 16 better-qualified and more moral GOP options were available!

Those mostly 'pastors' FOLLOWED vs. led, as sheep to mob rule shepherds, and UN-like John the Baptist, NEVER publicly rebuked the mad man (as even an ass would, II Pet. 2:16), but went along to get along with their negotiated/brokered and biased court stacking conservative!

Strangely, I don't feel like finishing this message, as it's time for prayer for revival among this crowd, and repentance for the evils they foisted upon the U.S.A.! [PAUSE]

As the author of Hebrews said, time eludes me (Heb. 11:32) telling how their extremism hurts America, through greed, selfishness, hoarding, love of money, unbiblical family values, workaholism, NOT obeying I Tim. 6:17-19 or Levit. 19:15, and a host of other matters I've previously discussed, as what I HAVE discussed (See: The Church & Trumpian Conservatism, above, and In Gold We Trust) this Sunday morning IS the spiritual origins for most all the problems the U.S. currently faces, believe it or not!

When God's people refuse to do God's will, the world goes to Hell in a hand basket. That's exactly what we're witnessing today. Pray for revival (John 3:16).

CHURCHIANITY VS. CHRISTIANITY...

The goal of life is to make as much money as possible, as fast as possible, so you can retire as young as possible, so you can have as much fun as possible before you die. Such is the unstated belief of many Americans, including some Christians, even though it runs counter to what God CLEARLY teaches.

The ONLY thing different between some Christians and all others is they attend church. Let that sink in for a minute. If your Christianity centers on that one hour, it's NOT Christianity at all! That one hour is but one of 168 per week! Jesus is supposedly inside you, and if so, He is to lead and guide you every day, 24/7!

And since MOST Christians have NO daily Bible meeting directly with God, they HAVE to treat ministers as gurus and chaperones, and HAVE to have culture/peer pressure/social norms determine their priorities and decisions, as salvation imbues no one with Bible knowledge by spiritual osmosis! This is a sad state of affairs!

If you're a claiming Christian, and any of the following are missing in your life, you have a TERRIBLE pastor and church, and you have NO IDEA what being/living as a Christian means: Daily quiet time, identified spiritual gift used in a ministry, regular evangelizing, disciplined and able to and discipling others, fully committed to God and to doing His will (i.e., learning what it is), regular praying, expecting Body Life at your church, having a purpose in life, and a cause for which God has caused you to help fix, and having true joy in the experience of all these things/facets. Churchianity is NO substitute for that!

Here's EXACTLY how many Christians will receive this message: You're preaching legalism, or check box Christianity. My retort?: I am defining the acts of biblical Christianity! Do you see the Devil's TRICK in those replies? DON'T CHANGE, or acknowledge any wrongdoing! Just keep the churchianity system!

Update #1: Church Commitment

(1/27-29/19)

I am NOT advising, but if I were a pastor, I'd give an entire sermon on positive promises made to Christians who fully commit to live for God. Envision for them a better, abundant life, and balance it with I Cor. 10-11 possible punishments for living in sin/carnality. I'd LOVE to preach that one, but that's a PAST career!

I'll take a stab at its contents: Eternity vs. 80 years, eternal rewards, not ashamed on Judgment day, no sorrow in Heaven over people you didn't evangelize, KNOWING the God of the universe, being specifically led by Him Who knows all and knows best, blessings, power and inner joy. That's a start!

I'd give testimony of the ONLY reason God got me committed... heartbreak over a gal I was 'gonna marry. I'd wish that type calamity on everyone, if it led to those results! LIST the experienced achievements of great missionaries since the first century, and say they were one single human individual, and so are you. What does God have for you to do?

Brainerd, Calvin, Luther, Elliott, Zwingli, Moody, Spurgeon. Let the crowd LEARN that Christians haven't always been mere pew-sitters! SHOW them a world map, then pictures of faces of various races and nations, and give a report on the state of lost in our world.

I'd use Keith Green's quote: 'If God hasn't specifically called you to stay, He's called you to go.' That's an AMAZING quote. Tell them that 96 percent of North American seminary grads stay HERE, when 96 percent of the need is ELSEWHERE! I'd preach it at Southwestern Seminary, or any other seminary, if I could!

SHOW Christians THIS film in Sunday School!: <https://bit.ly/2DOWWC0>, or Arthur Blessitt's movie of a few years back.

Make Billy Graham seem human, by having Franklin recount his years before the fame, and how his heart got so great! Forget the accolades and stats. Everyone knows he was The Champion. Teach them how he got that way! Same with Campus Crusade's and Evangelism Explosion's founders... how they got there!

If your church is near a cemetery, and smaller, take a field trip there, to make death FEEL real when they consider life from the endpoint backwards. As my former BFF said, we spend more time on investments that rot than eternal ones that don't. We even plan for our funerals more than for our eternity!

#DaveStrawn

Ask the crowd, are you different from societal norms, or just fitting in? Jesus NEVER called us to conform to the world! Are you living for the life above, or below? I'm ready to preach now, but not my calling.

Update #2: Committed Church

(1/29/19)

How you get an entire church committed to God: Relational discipleship through multiplication. We try special event weekends, special speakers, 'revival' weeks, but God told us how to. The 11 as examples, Jesus individually selected people to follow Him, then spent time with them, and later taught Timothy via Paul to use life duplication (II Tim. 2:2).

It spreads from one faithful person to others. You can't preach your way to it; you pour your life into some, who, as laymen, do the discipleship work (Eph. 4). I was raised in church—went two to four times a week; I NEVER knew you were to grow, or be committed until age 18.

I'm certain some pastor along the way covered it, but my eyes and ears weren't open to know life is daily meeting with God, until a college Baptist Student Union (BSU) and dorm pastor type made me get into the word. EVERY sermon from ages 0-18 had Bible in it (all Southern Baptist). I know sermons were on point, at some point.

It's the individual touch, and personal exposure to the word—NOT corporate! The Navigators, Exchange Life, Alpha and Omega in Austin, and Kenneth Hagin lessons.

It was three to five individual people I still recall who changed life for me, one-on-one, or in small groups ONLY organized for that purpose! Sermons RARELY did much, except at Highland Baptist, Waco, TX. That pastor had a way of getting you to see he was speaking to you, individually. He always taught on what the Spirit was telling you, via his sermons—NOT the sermon information itself. Rhema... the logos specifically applied to you. Don Crossland was his name.

I had NO quiet time until age 18! That's the difference! Like pastor John Bisagno was willing to do at First Baptist, Katy, TX, I would ask (heads bowed, eyes closed, no one peeking)... lift your hand if you have a regular meeting time with the Lord. Pastors will be SHOCKED by the low turnout! People forget what you say behind the pulpit before 72 hours elapse!

When I was a youth pastor, I had my group of 8-14 maximum. We met weekly to do discipleship, and were just beginning to plan personal evangelism of the immediately surrounding area when a deacon shut me down over teaching Saviorhood Salvation.

ASK Red Boswell about those meetings! He once told me in my family's Plano, TX church that those months 'changed his life.' I taught the high schoolers, but that band of committed ones were impacted, for only nine months.

When I went on a mission trip to Cambodia in November, 1996, ~15 pastors got all I had for ~5 hours straight. They were already pastors, so I taught the 18 topics on our website. My BFF disciplined me in two days, being quite sick, but I still made him tell me all he knew, because he had been through Alpha and Omega at a Baptist church in Austin, and was a preaching star at Criswell College, so he got better stuff than we did at SWBTS; plus, he regularly sat in on Dallas Seminary classes, which I drove from Ft. Worth to do, at times.

When I once heard Dr. Charles Ryrie give four interpretations of I Tim. 2:15, then analyze their merits, in context, I KNEW better information existed! The Navigators' materials were the basis of the month-long quiet time I had with the Penland R.A. (Resident Assistant), at Baylor. He lovingly insisted until I consented.

I had a journal to take notes on seven questions per verses selected, daily. I only recall First John. After a month, I was hooked, and spend between 3-5 hours a day on my own, reading the New Testament, and a little of the Old. Seven hours was my maximum, in a day.

Later, God called me to the ministry, and I got licensed by Bisagno. His sermons, as well, were deep, so I left the family church the day I started B.U. He wasn't constrained by three points and a poem! He often had 6-7 points, that didn't always rhyme or alliterate, as the natural content was what mattered, EXEGETICALLY covering the text through TEACHING, though also preaching (i.e., encouraging and inspiring application).

It is not enough to refer to, or even read passages! As you explain them, verse-by-verse, precept-by-precept, you explain terms, and how each verse builds an argument for that section/clump of verses.

You're painting a picture of that section of Scripture. You're NOT topical, but passage-centric! You can label the sermon, but it's that one passage that matters—not a theme of disparate texts, though you do cross-check/-reference. The crowd recalls what's in that third of a chapter!

So to get a church revived, beside also prayer, relational discipleship of small groups, solely begun for that short-term end, who then spread that to others, and over three year's time, even with many drop-outs, a 30,000 member church can be reached.

All along, you're taking those folk out evangelizing with you. I started to at First Baptist, Deer Park, but the one time a Sunday School teacher (FBC, Katy) had me sub-in/substitute teach, I taught our 'On Hell' lesson (at our website), and EVERYONE there complied, got into 4-5 cars, and evangelized in the nearby Wal-Mart parking lot! The staff gave us some dumb class-of-the-week award, for that was novel to them, though it only made sense to me!

I had one shot, people weren't evangelizing much (they NEVER are), so I saw nothing else I could do with that one hour! Bisagno interim'd there (where we were members), and I sent him a letter asking him to follow-up in the sermon after he asked people to evangelize, with public testimonies (like at Highland). He did, and two people told of their evangelizing the week inbetween.

THAT inspires or convicts laymen that their peers are applying sermons! If you EVER ask the crowd for a show of hands on who evangelizes regularly, you'll understand the problem, as Jack G. (Headmaster) did. Ask how many sincerely in their heart (no condemnation, just honesty) believe they're fully committed to Christ (ALWAYS eyes closed, heads down, no peeking).

HOW would anyone on a stage know the specifics of anyone's life? You have to know your people, and your laymen need to be doing the work of ministry! No one learns anything about people without speaking one-on-one with them! Discipleship does what sermons never can, "Timothy."

As I ALWAYS say, Jesus preached to the crowds, but He disciplined the 11. He knew those men, and they knew Him. They turned the world upside down! He didn't just preach sermons they also heard... it was His time with them after the public sermons! Don Crossland would meet with we preacher boys.

Bisagno mailed me an entire catalog of his sermons on cassette, in seminary. That is NOT sermonizing! It's the individual touch... relationship; knowing the person more than as just a face in a crowd hearing sermons. Accountability, specific to their need/customized. It's different and greater than sermons!

Why do you think Navigators attendees are so committed? I think Campus Crusade also disciplined at Baylor. We had a spiritual gifts identification weekend at Highland, where traits per gift were identified. I knew I was a teacher, and my BFF who disciplined me knew that also of me. Age 19 or 20.

I taught Bible studies in apartments my last two years there. That means 1-2 years of growth, MAXimum, before I was teaching truth (II Tim. 2:2). This parable indicates Jesus gives, perhaps three years for Christians to grow, then discipline comes down (Lk. 13:80).

READ the New Testament epistles! They do NOT start or spend the first half listing sins and virtues to avoid and apply, respectively! They praise, pray, thank, KNOW the recipients, encourage, give theology on identity, inheritance, explain salvation and sanctification, give promises, send people to check on Christians' growth; THEN it switches. The last half to third are the ethical parts (i.e., application).

And application is by faith—NOT legalism, so U teach on how to be led (rhema). Body life comes from these mature methods, as it did at Highland! Individuals gave testimonies to an open microphone; reverse passing of the plate gave one gal an older man's rarely used car! People give insights about their quiet time (i.e., accountability!; you can't do that if you're not having one).

People in the crowd prayed with those around them, after learning needs for prayer. STRANGERS! That's how you build family—NOT shaking hands! Force people to relate together as a body, when the family is together—NOT when the hands and feet are in separate Sunday School class rooms!

It was exhilarating and awesome! Ask anyone who attended Highland from 1978-1981! I only went there because someone asked me to go, and girls were a part of the invite. Motive is irrelevant! I only agreed to a daily quiet time with the BSU guy (later a Golden Gate seminary graduate) because he nagged me for two months prior! Motive is irrelevant!

I had a lust wall of Playboy centerfolds on my dorm room, living with a pre-preacher! He never condemned me, but he never disciplined me, either! It's the initiative of the faithful ones who get others disciplined! 'F.A.T.'—faithful, available, teachable (Navs acronym).

I'm sure something good can come of special events, like camps, but it's the ensuring of the daily practice that only comes from relationships, and grace-based accountability.

I've poured out all I know! For any pastor to disregard it, and go back to status quo preach-and-be-paid, I either didn't communicate clearly, or they have a hard heart! Maybe you just have to meet Christians who are different? When you meet them, they inspire you to do church biblically.

Deeper life churches can do the same! I attended a few Charismatic churches who took their walk with Jesus seriously. They weren't just playing church! The gal who broke my heart (i.e., I gave her a promise ring at B.U.) attended that type church! Had she not double-timed me, which I witnessed,

I'd never be fully committed, to this day! That night, in tears, in the stairwell of the science building at B.U., I was spent! Crying, I prayed 'whatever, wherever, lord, I'll do it!' One week later He called me into ministry.

I so committed, her mom scolded me two years later for not knowing she had had a near death-like illness. But we were broken up for 1.5+ years! And I told her, when someone cheats on me, it's over, and she never saw or heard myself from that day until I saw her mom near my graduation.

I was in so good with her parents, I slept on their couch years later, when God called me to write, and go to Colorado to leave the family pressures NOT to do so. A mom of a three-year dead relationship, loving and trusting me enough to accept a knock on the door, at night, asking for a couch for the evening. Relationship!

My BFF disciplined me due to relationship! Bisagno and Crossland got many pre-pastoral students disciplined from relationship and small group–NOT sermons.

I HOPE a few consistent themes are sticking out! Intimacy, relationship, individual attention/love, commitment caught more than taught, accountability, role modeling, multiplication. That's biblical church!

P.S.: And every event I mentioned was short-term! Sermons are for the long haul! Loving boot camps are finite. They are to whip you into shape, then they disband as an official meeting, though the relationships can continue. They're missions (Ac. 12:25). Body life can't be the professional body parts doing all the work, the crowd as non-interactive strangers, and pew-sitting bench warmers.

The one another's of Scripture are to be done in the worship service! WHERE ELSE is the corporate body gathered as one? I Cor. 14 also shows that as THE time to use remaining spiritual gifts to edify the one body!

Sing, silver and sermon is NOT that! 10 minutes per week, devoted to lay involvement in the service, with control/boundaries. Quiet time insights, evangelism results testimonies, prayer requests taken from the membership, publicly. That's how you get transparency, and the intimacy of relationship!

The Church is to be known by OUTSIDERS for the EFFECTS of our prayers—not mere 30 second ones, or mere ones by the professionals, and Christians are to be known by their love for one another. Where best to showcase that love, than when we're all together! James 2 also shows that IF a lost person drops by, the body is gathered as one.

Update #3: Individual Instruction

(Deleted tweets, 2/1-2/19)

I pass on good information; call me a teacher: Here's a conversation I have had, before (and you should too). A person admitted they've been a prodigal all their life, though a Christian. They considered church boring and dumb... the same old same old every week. Friends got them staying out late, so church got dropped as a practice. They even said they don't practice Christianity.

After I say, 'don't you care or think about Judgment Day, even though it's NOT for Hell?,' I'm asked, 'if I live right the rest of my life, how's accountability deal with my past?' I said, 'if you sincerely apologize, and pray to ask God to forgive you, and empower you to NOT live like that, you won't deal with that on Judgment Day, as to any scolding, but you've already lost rewards all those years. You may see a video of all your life, but if it's forgiven, you aren't withheld rewards, since you made things right!

You've got to hang with better people, and contacted The Navigators and/or Campus Crusade for Christ. Do you read the Bible daily? Special weekend events may "inspire," but God called you to a daily walk! Events are like three days of hamburgers, pizza and dessert, at Christmas, when God says to feed on nourishing food every day! You starve living off a high from any special event!

We all respect Warren Buffett, because he's an expert in what businesses to put money in to make money! How are you 'gonna be rewarded in the afterlife? Fruits differ! Paul wrote I Cor. 15:10 and Phil. 2:30. Those two out-did others! They'll be rich in Heaven!

It's NOT selfishness but self-interest, to NOT live in a golden outhouse, or barely enter the kingdom! I Cor. 3:15; Jude 1:23 Some people will live on the outer fringes of Heaven, some inbetween, and some right near Jesus, with mansions, crowns and authority. Are you a good investor?

You can live carnal, but you'll get less blessings in this life, troubles will come that didn't have to, and you open yourself up to demonic oppression. Read I Pet. 4:1-5 You have lived all the world's pleasures, like King Solomon (Ecc. 1-3), and he found they are empty-vanity!

Heb. 11 calls them 'passing,' like a wind storm that passes through. They aren't lastingly fulfilling, and the time you lived like that is enough! You've tasted and seen, and had your fill, and it's time to come home to the Father, Who awaits with open arms (Lk. 15).

You need the people like those who adopted this stray shelter dog, at Baylor, who poured into me! The Navigators, Campus Crusade, Jamie Lash, my BFF for two decades, two pastors (Bisagno and Crossland), and listen to Christian music.

God has a great plan for your life... DON'T miss it! (Jn. 10:10; I Chr. 4:9-10) You can't undo the past, but you can make up for it, like Paul saying he out-worked them all, but rather, God's grace was working on him! What's God want you to do? 'Spread the word and live like Him' was the correct answer. He has a plan for your career, wife, and life. But if you're not close to Him, you're 'gonna miss it!

Many Christians will hang their head and put their tails between their legs at the Rapture or Second Coming! I Jn. 2:28 God sees all. Live with no regrets by doing nothing you'll later be ashamed of. Be among the Christians to whom God will say, 'well done My good and faithful servant!' (Mt. 25:21)

THIS is one-on-one discipleship, and how you seek to get Christians serious, and here are the specifics which occur when a Christian pursues Bible meditation; You are seeking God-NOT knowledge itself. In His sovereign timing, if He chooses, He reveals Himself to you through that process. He has promised to reward those who diligently seek Him! (Jer. 29:13) It is NOT an information/data search!

Let's go through the scenarios that pastors REJECT EDBS: The culture slips in further decline, as prophecy predicts. NO revival occurs. Business-as-usual keeps church budgets paid for, as the machine grinds on. Christ's reputation remains at a low ebb, from Christian Cabals antics. Evangelism remains dribs and drabs.

Para-church organizations remain the main discipleship sources. Body life never breaks out. Social ministry becomes backing more stupid Christian Cabal antics. Politically, extremes take over both parties, so gridlock and fighting and getting nothing done becomes concretized/set in stone.

The Middle East eventually gets more militaristic and radicalized, to the point the Beast must take charge for its settling. It ALL boils down to the holiness standards of 'My people!' Influence for good, or influence for status quo, and empowering evil? THAT is the choice pastors have to make: Money or 'Me?' WHICH is their number one?

Update #4: False (Fake) Church

I challenge you to a public debate on Christian theology or politics, anytime, anywhere! @RobertJeffress #ChristianCabal

THIS is a message people who do NOT consider themselves to be "Christians" NEED to hear: There are churches seeing a church as a business. YOU are a potential customer, and they want 10 percent of your income, and for you to continually return, to be residual income! That's NOT Jesus' church!

They teach that for you to go to Heaven, you must decide to live holy for the rest of your life, or you will go to Hell. Their product is the moralistic speech they deliver, and they use various means to get you to drop by—NEVER come to you to tell you the REAL way to go to Heaven.

Their 'CEO's' will NEVER work a secular job, part-time (i.e., bivocational), and they're ALWAYS looking for more money, and bigger and better buildings! They're better at construction management than doing biblical ministry. They are disqualified to be pastors, biblically, but get away with it by keeping crowds dumbed-down. The New Testament books of Second Peter and Jude predict these men will arise, as the end of the world approaches.

Then there are biblical churches and pastors. I've written about the former. These verses describe the latter: I Pet. 5:1-5; Eph. 4:11-16; Tit. 1:5-9; I Tim. 3:1-7 Beware of wolves!

The Bible calls them Balaam false prophets in ministry for money (as number one). They do NOT do EDBS priorities, much, but preach-and-be-paid sermonizing. Church is a business to them, though Jesus TWICE turned the tables on people with those priorities, OPPOSITE of Mt. 6:33. They NEVER concern selves with the health of other churches, as they're in competition for YOU—the public, as customers, vs. people they are to serve!

They do NOT act like the first mega churches (Ac. 2, 4). Jesus said you would know them by their fruits, and for us to NOT separate them from real Christians, as God will do that in judgment (Mt. 7:16, 13;24-30). God also says in the end times, churches will be rich, but spiritually BROKE (Rev. 3:14-22). He also says they will resist Bible teaching (II Tim. 4:1-4).

Finally, God says a falling away from His truth WILL occur in the end times (II Th. 2:3). Please let me explain EXACTLY when and how this trend started: In 1985, a 'Church Growth Movement' started, to get pastors 'mo money. WE (I am a licensed minister, and seminary grad, with additional grad school hours, having been called to that career, before a divorce I didn't initiate ended it all) used to EXPECT to be poor. Now that's just for small- and medium-sized churches.

In seminary, students cherish the preaching class, and earn watered-down Ph.D.'s so they can be called 'doctor!' They're told they can learn the Bible the rest of their life, and are just given tools to help them do that—NOT taught the Bible much! They want that D.Min. degree so they can preach at BIG churches, because the money is better, and more stable, and there are more cushy perks.

They do NOT address EDBS priorities seriously, and anyone NOT striving to if false in their practice! They started using secular methods to lure customers, and chased fads that profited their founders, like seeker-sensitive, male bonding, generational sins and mapping, health and wealth gospel, prayer walks, and many other FADS. Churches merged and grew because businesses did so in the 1980's, with globalization.

Advertising began, for about the first time ever, for churches. ALL these details constitute the falling away and apostasy, and Laodicea became common place church practice. In the process, laymen learned by observation that they are to go to church two hours a week, then live like everyone else—just try to be good.

They even believed the LIE that they owe church 10 percent of whatever they make, so, like Catholic indulgences of old, elders can claim it by guiltting people that they're disobedient to God if they don't. That means any pastor only needs 10 church members to earn what those members earn, on average. Amenities and uncommanded structures ensued, and now, as some pray for revival, you see why America has so quickly been trending morally downward, as II Chr. 7:14 TELLS you the un-obeyed solution.

So when you are asked to come to church, KNOW what they're looking for from you, if they're biblical or false churches. TRUE ones care about you; false ones care about your pocketbook! AVOID those types! Beware of the tare! A news article in this book even shows an author questioning Dr. Jeffress' salvation.

A few other aspects to the false church: NINETY-SIX PERCENT of people trained for ministry in North America STAY in North America, because of the MONEY! The need is ELSEWHERE, and if money is your top priority, you are serving SATAN, in the name of Christ's ministry! You CAN'T serve both, equally!

These types often stay one sermon ahead of the crowd, in their Bible understanding, don't encourage quiet times (so they control what Christian laymen know, and become dependent them as gurus), they NEVER exercise church discipline, they remain above any criticism, knowing no one knows much, so 2 or 3 witnesses would be almost impossible (I Tim. 5:19), they INSIST on political conservatism, with all its sinful aspects, OPPOSITE of Jesus, for abortion, they are NOT known by YOU non-Christians for their love, prayer or power, and any Christian who calls out these false practices and doctrines is evilly "divisive" of unity to a false system!

John the Baptist and Paul would NOT relent in calling out those many listed sins (Gal. 2:11), and I will never end this exhortation, until things get cleaned up! Remember, any pastor keeping status quo preach-and-be-paid, REJECTS God's EDBS priorities, though every church has some growth to undergo, so just because you find any of these evils in a church, doesn't make them false—ONLY to the extent they have them, and willingly keep them!

I believe this false church WILL become the one-world religion of Bible prophecy, when REAL Christians are taken away (rapture), and tares remain running their retail religious business. These distinctions/differences are not always easy to notice, and if all you ever know of the Bible is what gets preached, you'll probably NEVER see the log in your church's eye. But I'm addressing non-Christians. RUN FAST from churches NOT run as the Bible describes!

Here's why I challenged this chump to a debate: He lumps ALL Democrats as "godless," and pretends all Trumpsters who supported the BIGgest sinner president in history are godly! #AnytimeAnywhere, Bobby! Brain-washing the stupid sheeple! #Sin!!!

[Robert Jeffress:] Democrat bills in Virginia and NY allow abortions up to moment of birth. That's not only wrong, it's barbaric! Dems have become a "godless" party. Thank God for President @realdonaldtrump—the most pro-life president in history!

.@FHunscripted You are GODLESS because you are a Democrat, even though you aren't one of the people this moron references, even though abortion is NOT the only sin that affects politics, and even though Trumpsters supported all these sins! <https://bit.ly/2jLYEOf> Demonizing like Jesus?

Update #5: Cabal Careers Credibility

The Christian Cabal does NOT believe this verse: Pv. 22:1 They SO sold their soul to satan, they can't admit it, and have to defend their choice, glorifying needles of good things Chump does, in a haystack of bad! I can't imagine how hard it is to maintain appearances through self-delusion.

Chump will do against-Christian edicts (Ex.: enforce the Johnson amendment, threaten tax exempt status) if the Cabal tells him the truth, or abandons him, so they suck up and appease, and coddle his ego. HOW does conscience'd conviction from God not tear them up inside? SEARED conscience and delusionally hard hearts!

They made a deal with the Devil they can't get out of! EVERYONE in America (excepting their sheeple fans) knows they harmed the Christian faith's reputation in America! FoxNews and talk radio keeps them propped up. Even Chris Kroc (local talk radio boy) attends FBC Dallas, and Mark Davis, Fellowship Grapevine! #Delusion Mutual scratch my back that not all is as bad as it is, for them! Let's see how GOD addresses lies and delusion, vs. truth: Jas. 1:22; Jn. 17:17, 8:32; Rev. 21:8. "But the babies!" HAS to be their private mantra in any times of doubt. ANYthing for Roe's overturn. ANYthing! "Whatever it takes" as a slogan.

I've said this before, and it's ABSOLUTELY TRUE: They ARENT taking every thought captive to the obedience of Christ, but cult-like selective attention to any news positive to their side, while denying, ignoring, deflecting and blocking out all bad news, because it's bad, and therefore couldn't be of God, in their warped worldview. Worship of positivity; self-delusion!

I've also said the spirit of delusion the world will be deceived by, as prophecy comes, is PMA and positivity. The church first falls away, by sin and false doctrine. These self-appointed "leaders" are starting that trend. Let me explain EXACTLY how they were self-appointed:

The Lord laid on my heart (Nov. 2014) political ideas that group learned of, then He had me group tweet ALL famous pastors I knew of, to voice opposition to gay marriage going national (Feb. 2015). I mocked them as having thrown in towel, or Abraham never retired, had they lost their clout in older age?, and they were of age when Roe was passed, and I would have done something to voice opposition to aborting for contraception!, and where's the Moral Majority, if it had a valid purpose for its existence?

Then, a 50-53 member conference call of many of them happened (unbeknownst to me, until later), and apparently they agreed they would back any GOP, for Roe's overturn, as they urgently sought someone to nominate far right SCOTUS Justices to that end!

A pact was apparently made, though the honorable pastor James MacDonald dropped out. A few of them apparently made a deal with Chump to deliver WASP votes if he would stack SCOTUS! Then in July 2016, they meet with ABC News, and announce they'll "champion" the "baby Christian." So a deal was made between Mar. 23, 2015 and July 13, 2016. This book links to a blog article of that original conference call, citing Adrian Rodgers as precedent. Now they reap what they sowed, and lie in the bed they made!

NOW, their credibility RIGHTLY gets called into question when they speak on moral matters! I listened to Bob Geoffrey the Giraffe preach, recently. He can sermonize biblically! It's just sad he can't see the log in his eye that what he speaks of applies to our politics, as well! #HYPOCRISY and sin, Bob!

It ALL goes to prioritizing reputation over money (and fame)! FBC Dallas is capitalizing over its headmaster's conservative media love affair! They advertise on NBC (wasting money given for God's work), got on U.S. military radio, are on Fox News, a lot, and that limelight blinds your conscience from working! SAD apostasy precursors.

Jeffress-Falwell's push is SHORT-sighted, and short-lived! Once Chump is gone, so is their credibility, maybe even to a few in their flock, for quite awhile. I can't imagine the brainwashing techniques that keep their followers hanging on, but these men separate ministry from political action, letting church members glory that their pastor is on national TV!

When you have WORLDLY values, that impresses WORLDLY Christians! They self-appointed, as a means to get power, from idolatry, flip-flopping from Jeb to Cruz to Chump! NOTHING was too low a bar for achieving their ends. They are NOT respectable in these antics!

PRIOR to July 2016, I had decently admired Dobson and Franklin Graham! James had done a TON of good work, since the Reagan days, and Frank had done so much good with Samaritan's Purse! But this event has for a long time harmed their ministries, except to sycophant 'yes men' who praise them!

I believe those two men still have goodness in them, and in their future. Jeffress and Falwell (who NO ONE to speak of knew of, until he was tapped by the Cabal for name recognition of his deceased dad) are still the leaders to the media, and probably will never dig out of the hole they alone dug! Decisions have consequences!

It ALL goes back to that one simple Bible verse in Proverbs! REP/reputation is more important than wealth. Christian practicing atheists DIS-believe that. It's all from a mono-focus on Roe's overturn, and ANYthing goes, win-at-all-costs, sin-to-win, winning is everything attitude developed between Mar. 2015 and July 2016!

Relatedly, regarding moral credibility: Chump calling for unity is like the school bully calling for victims to forgive! The rapist can't be the sex ed teacher, and the wife beater can't be the marriage counselor! #SOTU #StateOfTheUnion

Update #6: Churchianity Disclaimer(s)

When I slam churchianity for song, silver and sermon, ONLY an idiot would say I oppose singing, giving and preaching! I'm saying that's NOT all there is to Christianity, even church practice! Our songs are usually not Eph. 5:19/Col. 3:16 balanced!

Our giving is NOT usually as the Spirit leads (II Cor. 8-9), but UN-biblical (meaning not that it's not in the Bible, but 10 percent tithes don't apply to Christians), and our preaching can never replace relational discipling, and is usually only preaching or teaching, vs. both (I Tim. 5:17), and is RARELY exegetical, where laymen learn how God wrote His book.

And when I slam churchianity for bodies, bucks and buildings, I'm NOT opposed to churches growing (it did in the book of Acts!), and churches need money to run (but they are 501(C-3) entities—NOT to be in business for profit, or taxes are owed), and pastor salaries are NOT guaranteed, though most everyone demands that, today (Ac. 18:13).

Preachers are to make a living by the Gospel, but not a killing (I Tim. 3:3), as it's DONATIONS-BASED! And if they're NOT very evangelistic outside their UN-commanded buildings, they're NOT making their living off the Gospel—just off preaching the word to mainly Christians.

And when I say church buildings are NOT commanded, that does NOT mean house churches must be used, or Jewish temples must be rented out! My point is people in America idolize their amenities and church edifices, compared to BEING the church, doing EDBS priorities! This is common sense to any who read what I write!

Update #7: Money Over Ministry?

Let me explain the WASP condition in America: For abortion opposition, anything politically "conservative" IS their religion! That word is code for right, holy, just, probably perfect (with carryover from conservative Bible interpretation, which IS good). They get religious cover for all sins, to be against Roe, and there are many sins!

They're self-righteous in their rightness not only religiously, but in how they interpret the U.S. Constitution! Essentially, GOVERNMENT CAN NEVER HELP ANYONE, because that's theft of the tax payer (states' rights, with limited federal functions). Their belief system IDOLIZES money, but that sin isn't ever addressed, as greed is good.

Because David, Abraham and Solomon were rich, it's morally O.K. for me to be, as well, even if my spirituality is nowhere near like those three heroes! PASTORS give their seal of approval to this scheme by ONLY demanding to things that profit them—hear me preach, regularly, and give me ten percent of what you make.

You're good with God if you obey two commands (one of which isn't even for the Christian—Mal. 3:10 and Heb. 10:25). Churchianity! How does that money benefit society? It doesn't, really, except in a vague way trying to make parishioners better citizens, when we all know most of us behave about the same as everyone else!

It mainly makes the pastor richer and the buildings better! So since there is no command that says being rich is a sin, why are you harping on this issue? BECAUSE BEING RICH CAN BE A SIN! How do you know if it is for you? How you acquire, prioritize and use it! Anyone who gets wealth without Jesus first in their life got wealth from satan!

Anyone who uses wealth only to bless their own friends and family is using it for satan, and anyone who values it above doing God's will sinfully idolizes it! Christians are to be Heavenly-minded, and the book of Acts shows Christians are to be about doing God's business on earth!

Any rich Christian who isn't as involved in evangelism and discipleship as the laymen were in the first century probably isn't getting their wealth from Jesus, but Satan, and that single statement just roasted the majority of U.S. Christians, but it's true, so I have to say it, nonetheless, whether anyone likes or agrees with it.

God Himself said the rich have hardly a chance at Heaven (camel in the eye of a needle), yet U.S. Christians ASPIRE to be like those far off odds owners! God Himself said those who want to be rich pierce themselves, and fall into temptation, yet U.S. Christians ASPIRE to those ends!

God Himself said life doesn't consist of what you have, but U.S. Christians live as if God was lying! God Himself said loving money is the root of all types of evils, yet U.S. Christians say 'bring 'em on!' THIS is the problem with the U.S. church, and why I'd still consider taking my political ideas to either party—not just one, in the future!

God Himself says hoarding is a sin, yet hoarding is EXACTLY what political conservatism exalts as holy! U.S. Christians OFTEN live it up like there's no tomorrow, when God Himself showed that attitude He condemns as belonging to people who do NOT believe in His returning to earth!

LAODICEA. You NEED to memorize that term: Lay-oh-dicey-uh. That is the era in church history we are living through, where Christians are rich, but spiritually bankrupt, and as we buy more and more luxuries, we have no concept how that excess hurts the lowly Jesus advocated for, because we have ZERO intent to help them, because we have bought into the Constitution's 'life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness' adage and the American Dream more than we've bought into God's plans for our lives!

God Himself wrote, of ALL Christians, I Tim. 6:17-19 teaches the rich are commanded to generously give back. Political conservatism encourages hoarding as proof you love yourself, and are having a good life, and are being your best.

Be it our charitable giving (and I'm NOT talking of making pastors and church buildings richer), or fighting taxes tooth-and-nail, many U.S. Christians do NOT give the world any reason to believe our God doesn't teach greed is good!

So next time you hear ANY U.S. Christian proud that they're 'conservative,' pity them, because for abortion opposition, they have bought into many other sins God does NOT overlook! NO CHRISTIAN CAN BE A 100 PERCENT CONSERVATIVE AND BE SERVING GOD FAITHFULLY—period. Think about that!

American Christians OFTEN fear if they totally commit to live for Jesus, He may send them to be a missionary in Timbuktu, so they stay here to be rich. If you know anything about the 10/40 window, that's VERY needed. Keith Green said if you're not called to stay you're called to go. Hence, so many non-disciples.

Relatedly, there are political party dupes who believe you are to be loyal to their party and party head. As a Christian, I 100 percent DISagree with such nonsense! CHRISTIANS CAN ONLY BE LOYAL TO JESUS AND MORAL PRINCIPLES, wherever they can be found! Dems are not all evil, as many Christian pundits want GOP's to think, and vice versa!

I'm alleging political conservatism (favoring business, at the expense of workers) is the reason political liberalism rises, petitioning government for relief/fairness, as anything that helps poorer people costs businesses money, so they'll oppose it. Extremes incentivize backlash!

Update #8: Secularization From Separatism & Under-Evangelism

“‘Secularizing’ of America will lead to heartache and chaos...”

(link: <https://www.foxnews.com/politics/pastor-john-hagee-secular-america-chaos-ego-progressives#>)
foxnews.com/politics/pasto...

Said by a man whose church hasn't yet even fully evangelized all nearby lost people, and who caused Trump to favor Israel over Arabs and Muslims, causing NO chance for U.S. to serve as a neutral broker for peace, and caused increased Middle East animosity. PLEASE let me refute them! @ABC @CNN @CBS @NBC

Interviewed by Mark Levin—the man who called Warren Buffett "self-loathing" for giving away much of his money to society; and Hagee says America is abandoning God's morals, when HE PUSHED THIS onto America!: facebook.com/jim.meroney.3 HYPOCRISY! PLEASE let me refute them publicly! @CNN @NBC @ABC @CBS

So America was founded on Judeo-Christian values, 224 years ago, by mainly religious people, but even though the Bible says sin will INCREASE as prophecy arrives (II Tim. 3:1), and even though many pastors abandoned full evangelism in the 1980's, for fame and fortune, SOCIETY is to blame for increased sinfulness, @pastorjohnhagee?

HAVE YOU LED your church to evangelize simply the people who live within walking distance of your building that I've visited several times? Have you set up a discipling program for all your members, so they lead society to morality? @pastorjohnhagee You have NO room to condemn society.

YOU ARE THE MAN who caused more Middle East animosity, where America can't be a neutral arbiter, and you supported all these sins: facebook.com/jim.meroney.3/) Refute that argument, biblically, and DON'T EVER tell lost people they are judged for being sinful, with that track record. (Mt. 7:5) @pastorjohnhagee

Let me explain this as plainly as vanilla ice cream: John Hagee's "logic" is two-fold fallacious... 1. If America isn't like things were in 1776, morally-speaking, everything that has changed is bad (so we are to live by Puritan social standards), and people are blamed for behaving as people behave, absent salvation that his ilk won't tell them, or live out, to a person.

Posted Feb_23, 2015: RAISE UR VOICE so USSC doesn't think national gay marriage is a slam dunk N May+ @700club @TBN @pastorjohnhagee @FocusFamily @ChuckSwindoll

Let me break that down a little more... Hagee sees no moral improvement in America since 1776 (like women able to vote, and slaves freed, and pollution standards, and other victories), but he does see gay marriage he was LATE TO THE PARTY in opposing, and more abortions?

And he blames dogs for barking, and cats for meowing, when he blames human society for secularizing, when that's man's nature, apart from the Jesus he has NEVER led his members to tell to all lost people near his uncommanded building! It's like Planes, Trains and Automobiles... Do you chew out your kid when he spills his milk?

Secularization of culture happens when morals and religion wane, which is EXACTLY what happened when CHRISTIAN PASTORS abandoned full evangelism (mainly through Evangelism Explosion and Continuous Witness Training) and discipleship, for the Church Growth Movement (~1985). WHO ELSE is 'gonna win the lost to Jesus, and grow up Christians to holiness, but the MEN (VERY few women lead mega churches) who sought fame and fortune, at the expense of EDBS priorities, one of whom is wringing his hands that bad things came from HIS sinful decision!

WE DON'T NEED the ten commandments in an Alabama courthouse; we need lost people saved, and saved people having God's word in their hearts! America is NOT a theocracy, as @robertjeffress alleges, but has a Judeo-Christian foundation our house has fallen nearly off of, which is NATURAL when PASTORS won't lead Christians to evangelize and disciple, favoring money and media limelight for power idolatry in 2016.

Christians are to fight for what's right, and pray for revival, but we should never be surprised that sin will be increased as we get closer to the 'four blood moons' heresy Hagee tried to equate with true biblical prophecy, even as he teaches a heretical Gospel of health and wealth, and probably Lordship Salvation and tithing.

In a word, just shut up on educating the public (really, Christian dupes who read FoxNews) on morality, with that atrocious history. Get the log out of your own eye on politics and Bible priorities you've abandoned more than 30 years ago, and MAYBE society would listen to you, @pastorjohnhagee Love in Christ (rebukes aren't contradictory).

Posted July 12, 2019: ...power idolatry (from some UNbiblical concern that Christians were treated as second-class citizens in America, under Obama, AS IF persecution by the state or citizenry happened, or would be beneath your pride sin) must be looked at by the man in the mirror, but, instead, you hang your head and distract [when confronted with our Facebook argument details against tRump].

Mark Levin also addresses U.S. WASP's inferiority complex of wanting and not getting society's approval or praise, when Jesus said EXPECT persecution (which FEW of us experience, in America), and rejoice in it, vs. gripe! (Jn. 15:18; I Pet. 4:13) @pastorjohnhagee Your lies are being exposed! (Eph. 5:11)

Continuing

Let me tell you EXACTLY what's going on with the dumb a-s, Mark Levin interviewing Hagee—and YES, I implied a 3-letter cuss word, but even Mark Davis (a claiming Christian talk radio host) uses the actual word, so go chew out him, before you come my way!

Markie—a JEW—teaches if you love yourself, you will be worldly, materialistic, greedy, a lover of money and selfish! So our SAME God upon which America was founded teaches people to sin, in order to have self-esteem?

THIS IS CONSERVATISM! Idolize money, or you hate yourself. THAT's how a schmuck of his ilk could criticize a man who FAR beats him in money-making and integrity God ACTUALLY requires—Warren Buffett, who understands society can use his excess, and selflessly donates up to 99 percent of it.

Mark Levon likes his money teaches that that's self-hatred... to help others with your excess, vs. spoil heirs in the future, ad infinitum.

THIS is the WASP church in bed with sin, for power! A PASTOR, no less, but NOT so surprisingly, when you see their common tie—the love of money—so they vote for anyone who will support conservatism, under the moral white-washing of Roe's overturn! You do NOT see many small- or medium-sized church pastors out there touting Chump, for GOOD reason! #Think!

And it's a COZY incestuality! Mega congregations via mega Balaam pastors allow Chump to reach TV and radio audiences of WASP's, more than any other pastors, then you pull in talk radio audiences, merge them together in a sickly sinfulness, and Chump retains his sin-full base! #Brilliant, but NOT to God!

Then @JackNGraham has My Pillow founder, Tim Tebow, and Dude Perfect come to my family's church. It's ALL about what person has a following, to get Christians to learn that the Christian Cabal wants them to vote for 45 again! Church has been corrupted into politics advocacy, and a business! They're too COWARDly (a sin) just to say so!

HEY AMERICAN WHITE CLAIMING CHRISTIAN—all Chump's evangelical council want you to vote for him, again, in the hopes of overturning Roe! They haven't the manliness/b-lls to say it that clearly, so I just did, because I'm NOT under his thumb for power and money idolatry, via sinful political conservatism!

The Hispanics and blacks are coming, the sky is falling! The ONLY reason Chump doesn't directly appeal to the KKK is because of the flack he'd receive in the mainstream media, but he CRAVES their votes! HEY KKK MEMBERS—Trump wants your vote, because minorities are taking over America! Say it, 45!

CHRISTIANS & THE LGBTQ COMMUNITY...

The Unpardonable Sin?

It's interesting to read my website's sections, written years ago. Some lines will be deleted, due to law changes, but in particular, on bullying responses, I deleted two responses, due to maturing in considering all parties involved when a teen bullies others by saying, "you're gay."

I had listed 'it takes one to know one,' but that implies you're trying to insult the bully as being gay, when being such should NOT be used as a derogatory slur, even as you're trying to slam the bully. I almost changed it to, 'no I'm not,' but that's a weak retort to a bully. It's far time we quit using the term in ways to insult anyone!

Since gay marriage is precedent (as I argued in this book), discussing sodomy, in public discourse, is IRRELEVANT—NO laws are affected by it, and it's usually being used to stir up religious votes from hatred. NO other deed gets singled out by the right, AS IF it's equal to murder. That's voter manipulation!

It AMAZES me, as I address elsewhere in this book, how, of all the deeds the Bible lists as less than glorifying God, homosexuality and abortion are the ONLY two the far right know. If they adulter or divorce, NO PROBLEM, because that doesn't garner votes! That's cherry picking our public morality!

A Christian CAN'T say sodomy is O.K., or they defy God's revelation, but the far right glories in calling it an abomination, when Levit. 18 lists ~20, and you never hear of the other 18—EVER! If all men are to be treated as equals, and with respect, we all have to start changing internal biases we sometimes hold against people, vs. people's deeds!

Christians CAN'T expect non-Christians to always agree with what the Bible says! Some people argue you're born with a sexual bent. They'd say it's natural, so it can't ever be wrong. But nature itself teaches us that if all people were inclined to their own kind, mankind would die, so it can't be right for all, if they reject God's view.

And Christians reject God's view, in practice, often, too. Take evangelism. Lip service approval of it isn't practicing it. The Bible teaches you to get the log out of your eye before you pluck the splinter in another's eye, and he who is without sin cast the first stone. Humility is always in order; and respect for all people.

I guess, if my webmaster teaches me how to update its files, I can add in chapter add-ons, like this, but I've said all these things elsewhere. I'm just addressing it today, as I had old posts, pre-Obergefell, that made it look like I didn't know that law had been passed. I've also said conversion therapy is a FARSE, and NOT a biblical practice, and I asked what gay people are to do about natural urges we all have for camaraderie... be celibate for life?

I'll be the first to admit I fought vehemently against nationalizing a state's right, because civil unions were preferred in red states. Like George W. Bush, I saw ZERO difference between civil unions and gay marriage, under the law. SCOTUS saw otherwise, which I accept and even predicted, as public sentiment changed, in part from P.R. efforts, and people realizing that we're all humans... no one is inferior, which I agreed with.

If I had stayed a GOP, I'd say the EXACT same things I say today. I've never abandoned the biblical view on the topic, just broadened the verses Christians consider when they inject it in public discourse, where it really has no place, now that Obergefell is the law of the land!

NO laws I can think of need to or could be passed related to the lives of gay couples, excepting ensuring they experience no forms of discrimination. I even argued that religious business owners shouldn't have to cater gay weddings if and only if another similar business existed within 10 miles, if they had sincere scruples doing the catering.

I also argued that if a business had physically tight working quarters, and any person felt flirted with, with evidence of such, employers should be able to enforce banning such unwanted advances. I also argued that no pervert old men dressed up as women should be allowed in female public restrooms.

We balance BOTH sides' legitimate needs on every issue! We never take only one side, unless the other side has NO legitimate claims, like if someone argues that murder should be legalized. It's hypocritical political activists who want to slander gays as evil, but NEVER say so to their face! If you believe something, stand behind it!

Adultery and serial divorce, and arrogance, and love of money, and power idolatry are all sins, but "Christians" readily accepted them with arms wide open in 2016! Cherry picking morals you care about in the public arena is ALWAYS sinful bias, and you lose moral authority/credibility when you show favoritism!

Lying is O.K., flip-flopping, making foolish decisions... all those sins are O.K. if Chump is my guy, but sodomy is the one deed we can't tolerate, because it stirs up far right votes! If you truly loved gays, you wouldn't treat them as red-headed stepchildren, or avoid them like the plague!

I've said before, gays in Lot's day were aggressively lustful in public, toward straights! I know NONE like that today. Lot even sinned, from expediency (necessity?) offering his own daughters to gays of his day. They were at his doorstep, seeking to be pleased. It's NOT like that today!; apples to oranges.

There are gay Christians! I knew one—a close friend of my wife's BFF when we were early married. He was a stellar guy. Sadly, he did die of AIDS! Christians cannot act like they're immune from any and every temptation known to man, as if others struggling are inferior to them, morally. We are all imperfect.

I even worked with a guy at 3 am, when I attending graduate architecture courses at U of H and Texas A & M, who I never knew for sure was gay, but he died of AIDS, too. He and I had MANY great conversations, especially about George W. Bush's need for an Iraq surge, which he later did. It's SAD to know people who die so young!

And the Moral Majority of old once said that AIDS was God's judgment on gay people. I NEVER agreed with that Falwell assessment of Rom. 1. You're NOT 'gonna get many gay people to want to turn straight! They don't try to turn you gay. Live and let live, but if asked, never deny what God teaches on any subject!

I would NEVER ask anyone if they adulter, or try to pass laws to punish them for that wrong deed. Why does the far right do that against gays? Hatred, and political vote stirring! They'll say it's to uphold righteousness in America, but if they voted for Trump, they lose their own argument! I did NOT vote for him!

Really feeling sadness, today, remembering my two friends who died of AIDS. Both were in their 40's, at the time. It's terrible that science took so long to develop drugs to lengthen their lives, like Magic Johnson has with HIV. Sad, as well, that it costs so much, that some people die, because they can't afford needed drugs!

When bullies accuse victims of being gay, they should deny it, if its untrue, but also not buy into the stereotype implicit in the accusation, that gay people are bad people! Because I couldn't think of a quick retort to bullies, I deleted that on our website. Even if you said, 'you're gay,' you're using gays as targets of hatred you use to insult someone.

I'm pretty creative, but I couldn't think of a good retort to that accusation. If I do, I'll add it, because that's one thing bully victims do hear in high school. Even worse is bullies attacking actual gays—not just hassling straights they consider weaker!

I LOVE a trend I observed in the early 1990's, of gays bulking up (i.e., muscles). They're NOT 'gonna take it anymore. Plus they experience life like we all do, and many people lift weights. I couldn't believe the day I arrived at work at 3 am, and my buddy was gone! I worked right next to him. It was sobering and surreal.

I eventually quit the pursuit of an architecture degree and career, when a hurricane flooded all gas stations' availability in Houston, when I had to drive to Texas A & M every week day (three hours/day, plus 8 hours study, and a night job). It was too great a sacrifice, after three months!

So we moved to Illinois, for said degree, but my wife—the greatest nurse (say ALL her bosses)—couldn't get a decent job. We even solicited a CEO with a U.T. flag at his home, to see what was up. He said there was much bias against the south. We left there for Dallas, late 2006, before the first ice storm. So, I am NOT an architect!

Update #1: Obergefell Brought Us Trump?

We live in a photo op, sound bite culture, where exact explanations are shunned. That is EXACTly why I write my books. Reviewing my website materials I wrote as far as 10.75 years back, I stumbled onto a phrase, 'Marriage is between a man and a woman.' It was penned pre-Obergefell.

I can envision politicians being asked if they believe gay marriages (hereafter GM) are marriages. The correct answer is not a simpler one-word answer which the media loves! There are three arenas in which "marriage" occurs: ceremonial, civil/legal, and religions/before God. SCOTUS had deemed GM legal, so ONLY a FOOL would say they aren't marriages, legally.

Ceremonially, it depends on what services were performed at the wedding. Religiously is where the catch lies. One can get married in a church, synagogue or mosque, and some would say that's a religious marriage. But if God says it isn't, those who follow Him can't say it is, for we must obey God more than man! (Ac. 5:29)

So one can label it a 'marriage,' but mean three different things, mainly two... legal vs. religious. To answer the question, you have to figure out who decides. The originator defines terms, and if you believe in God, Mt. 19:5 rules. If you believe we evolved from apes, or soup or a big bang, primordial Neanderthal cave men themselves have few-to-no examples of any culture adopting marriage between same sexes!

Yes, there have been gay folk throughout history, in committed, long-term, loving relationships/unions, but even today nations differ on whether GM is legal, and only in our century has the definition of marriage been questioned or redefined!

Same sex persons have historically been discriminated against, hated, shunned, mistreated and even killed. It's reasonable for them, en masse, to want revenge on any culture or groups who engaged such evil practices! But the LGBTQ community has made great strides in America, in the past 30 years, and I doubt they'd want a retraction of said gains by over-playing their hand!

For example, we have tRump mainly due to Obergefell and a desire to overturn Roe! MANY Christians and pastors got politically energized when GM went national, and they organized, and gave Chump 81 percent of the WASP vote.

May I suggest, you always need to calculate backlash, and quit while you're ahead/before you go too far, meaning accept the fact that MILLIONS of Americans will never, in their hearts, consider GM equal before God with straight marriages! Equal as humans, equal under the law, never inferior as citizens, but force, threats or even laws will not change people's beliefs that their religious tenets don't accept marriage as between two of the same kind.

LOOK at what gay folks are really wanting, and it's NOT for every American to accept GM as right, before God! It's acceptance as equals. It's not being treated differently, or negatively. Don't over-stoke the sleeping giant of a bear, and ask for what you don't need and deserve!

People of sincere faith don't change beliefs they find clearly in their holy books for any reason. But on treating people ethically, they are required by those same holy books to do that, so demand that! There TRULY is no issue, at present, but if activists on either side push back one way or the other, you're NOT 'gonna change the other side. Learn to live in peaceful coexistence, and treat everyone the way you'd want them to treat you!

LGBTQ people have made great strides for their causes! Don't let enthusiasm and momentum take you too far. People of religious faith are likely never 'gonna celebrate any "pride" at parades, based on things they don't agree with, just as pro-Roe types won't likely attend Marches for Life. Never expect or demand anyone to change their values by force!

And politicians would be WISE to either avoid BOTH types of parades, or attend BOTH (in which case you're forced to explain your views, in more than a mere sound bite). Argue your case, and disagree agreeably! #Peace

If a person doesn't agree with your choice, or tendencies, what does it matter if their disagreeing never affects you? People 100 percent disagree with me cutting my own hair, owning no cell phone, never having texted, driving older cars, renting my casa, writing so much. Why should I care, if they leave me alone, and never say a word about such things?

That's success, for legally married gay folk!... religious people NOT chasing them down to criticize their decision(s)! And any such persons who would do that are NOT acting in the spirit of Christ, anyway, to single out one behavior as their one concern to judge.

This is a GOOD time to differentiate moral vs. emotional offense. I take moral offense at male bosses sexually abusing women employees, in any form or fashion, but I take emotional offense when people rightly point out that I'm overweight. You have to distinguish the emotional from the moral! They are NOT the same.

Update #2: Toward Peaceful Co-Existence (#Ellen)

What anyone thinks about your own consensual sexual behaviors behind closed doors really is of NO consequence, unless they seek to pass laws that affect your choices! Mike Pence opposing homosexuality and bisexuality negatively affects NO LGBTQ people, unless action gets taken!

The far right is NEVER going to stop gays from having sex. They are never 'gonna make all gays straight. What matters is that they don't legally allow anyone to discriminate against them. Gays' long-term relationships won't be stopped, either. SCOTUS isn't 'gonna undo Obergefell—they would lose all credibility!

An aside: Why do people use the term 'homophobic?' Just call them gay haters! I don't hate any gays, I'm not scared of gays, but I agree with God that the act of homosexuality is a sin, and in a list of ~19 other abominations. I'm NOT for Obergefell's overturn, or any discrimination against any gay person. You are to oppose all sins (theoretically, at least).

EXCELLENT decision, Ellen [wanting Kevin Hart reinstated to host the Oscars]! You will SURELY be called a betrayer of the LGBTQ cause, but forgiveness and second chances are American values. I'm very proud of this hatchet-burying move of peace and goodwill. If your show didn't air when I'm working, I'd probably know a lot more about it. GREAT move!

People do not often wake up one day and decide to be gay! I believe most of them have felt different from their plumbing for quite awhile, before they come out of their closets, publicly, or at least to their friends and family. I do not believe those feelings are often chosen out of the blue by willpower.

There are things people say and think, in private, that the public may never know. You can ban gay slander as hate speech, but you have to change hearts, before you can stop bad behaviors. In the South, in the right settings, there are still people who hate gays. I happen to be able to hear such comments, being white and straight!

In the South, many people feel as if gays are dirty, second-class, weird, perverse people, or evil humans. They do NOT simply consider them challenged in regard to their sexual identity, and they certainly don't consider such struggles difficult, because they don't have/experience them.

I fully understand that perspective, because I live here. It's the same subjectivism that can't understand why anyone could ever be poor, when one has never been! My experience is world-wide, is the ignorant feeling. I become the measure of all of life. Egocentrism. Somehow, it becomes touted as holy to have NO empathy for others!

CODDLER-IN-CHIEF

(1/29/19)

ALWAYS coddling the Christian Cabal, for self and votes; NOT from sincere convictions! EVERY religion would have to be studied, for government to not favor any, idiot! Trump backs push for Bible classes in schools <https://cbsn.ws/2G7AO8p>

Freedom of religion is not freedom from it in the public square, nor is separation of church and state completely separate. But the NO ESTABLISHMENT clause, or prohibition thereof, does NOT allow the feds to promote or favor any religion. CHUMP needs a law course! Do-do in chief!

If the Bible were taught in public schools, the Koran would have to be, also, as with any other religions existing in America. I'd let my kids attend the former, but would sign an opt-out waiver for the latter. A world religions class would solve that problem. Uncle Sam is NOT a pastor!

CHUMP is ALL about symbolic gestures to rile up STUPID vs. God-obeying intelligent Christians who love God with their minds and hearts (Ex.: the Jerusalem capital and embassy move ONLY ruined U.S.'s ability to LEAD in peace negotiations, and biasedly favored one group—which is UN-biblical, as they're NOT terrorists, who would NOT deserve equal footing).

When is Chump going to erect a YUGE cross on the White House lawn, and pass an edict that everyone has to worship in church on Sunday? He will do anything for the WASP vote, so DON'T think these joking propositions to be beyond what he'd consider! SUCH a suck-up, and they SO OFTEN fall for it!

In an attempt to win over any intellectually-challenged WASP evangelicals, CHUMP is re-naming the White House the white chapel, the Oval Office the halo office, the West Wing the right wing, and the Pentagon the star of David-agon.

In an effort of symbolism over substance, and to attract any Christ-disobeying NON-thinking evangelicals, Chump has declared 2019 the year of the Bible, and has commissioned a statue of Jesus on the southern Texas border, to rival that of the Christ the Redeemer statue in Brazil.

In an effort to secure his dwindling, cracked foundation base, Trump has declared English the official language of America, and Christianity its official religion (sarcasm, of course, as obvious to all but come Trumpsters). The BEST you could hope for, that would be legal, is a civics or ethics course, based on values most religions agree on.

COMMON SENSE MORALS...

(12/25/18)

Let's talk about ducks; NO, really, regarding rules. Unspoken and unwritten rules EXIST, and if you break them, you're in trouble! Corporate gift exchanges are exchanges—NOT one person gives and the recipient gives nothing! Family's siblings sometimes have Christmas rules that we don't give gifts, as adults. If one breaks the rule, others feel bad. Rules MATTER!

The Malta government has an attitude that you're naive to believe in moral rules, because money rules, and nothing else (I saw a TV show about it). CORRUPT and evil people believe moral rules are for the immature, or simple minded, and justify their sin with phrases like 'everyone's doing it,' or 'if we don't, our rivals will.' That's NOT leadership!

Here are some rules some people in America never learned: WEAR DEODORANT—period! Take a bath or shower every day! Don't wear the same clothes every other day! Smile, occasionally. Be friendly. The left lane is for speeders. You only get one lane to turn right into—NOT the middle or left lane! That's the law!

People exiting parking spaces do NOT have the right of way! I've had three people not know that, recently. That's what car horns are for—educating dummies! You are NOT to pull out in front of others, or cut them off. I had two people do that, two nights ago. If you can't follow the rules in America, please leave America! Just sayin'.

No real Texan goes the exact same speed as on the speed limit sign. Even cops will give you three over—maybe five. LEARN THE RULES the way life is lived—not always stated, written, and certainly NOT taught in driving classes! Stop signs don't read 'PARK.' Are you scared to get into the flow of traffic? Then DON'T drive.

We DON'T drive like you may have elsewhere. It works quite well for us. You might notice, America is the number one desired destination for people to immigrate to. There's a REASON. Don't ruin it. Learn our ways. You have no right to try to change what's good, and been established here for centuries!

Anyone who mouths, 'rules were made to be broken' is a willful sinner, in most cases! Bending the rules only occurs if rules are flexible. Some are, some aren't. China hacking U.S. businesses for trade secrets is evil (I saw a show on that, too). Evil will be judged. People don't fear God, much, anymore, but He will destroy the wicked!

Money is the only rule to some people, and morals don't exist—only laws you try to break if no one's looking. Entire nations have died and been destroyed, in history, when they adopted lawlessness! Laws need to be good ones, but when they are, enforcement is important; and not the police state type.

It's unspoken, but at weddings and funerals you MUST wear dresses and suits! Business casual "rules" changed in the late 1990's, so rules can change, but know the rules! Judges have thrown litigants out of court rooms for wearing 'disrespectful' attire. Rules aren't god, but are VERY important!

Calling anyone you don't know the life habits of after 8 pm or before 7 am is rude. You will NOT read this "rule" anywhere, but it exists! First come, first served is a U.S. rule. DON'T cut in line! We Americans don't have to see any sign to know these rules! No shirt, no shoes, no service. That sign USED to be on business doors. We KNOW it now!

Bosses have ZERO right to touch any subordinate females anywhere but MAYBE their back and a tap on the shoulder. These are the rules, folks. They DON'T have to be stated or written—they're common sense. If a woman doesn't clearly indicate consent, you have NO right to sex with her. Rules matter!

Leash laws and pick up the poop USED to not be as common as today. Rules should improve society, as those two do, now as ordinary city ordinances. We USED to throw out trash from car windows, when I was a teen. It was normal and acceptable; NOT anymore. Better rules prevailed in society!

No stealing. That's a law and a rule. Yet people try it in retail, all the time. Wal-Mart checked my receipt, yesterday, because during the holidays, crooks try to steal more. They never check my bags, all year round, until now. Do not steal. God said it, U.S. laws say it; quit trying to skirt good rules.

WOULD YOU WANT TO YOU? God also wrote the you would want them to do— TV ad just said donate to Those laws exist to protect Obey the rules, folks!

The TV shows Lone Star Law off our taxpayer dollars, to stop money given to government if not!

When passing another oncoming car, in a neighborhood, you can pull over and wait, but if there's room, there's NO reason you have to! Same with entering building doors. It's KIND to hold the door for women, but two men can use separate doors, if there are two.

America is all about productivity. NY is NOT TX! TX is friendly, but slower. NY can be ruder, but more productive and efficient. Be kind and fast! I ALWAYS let people in line, in traffic, but I give them only split seconds, or I reclaim my right of way!

DON'T look at your dumb phone while you're driving! Some MORON was driving UNDER the speed limit, two nights ago, in the MIDDLE lane, and when I passed him on the right, he was engrossed in his stupid phone. That's illegal and rude! Obey rules!

Businesses abuse rules, to profit. Businesses want to establish peer pressure that no one listens to CD's anymore, but download I-tunes. I'm NOT 'gonna give business my hard-earned money to buy tunes I already own! 'It's paid for' is why I drive two older cars; I'm not 'gonna make someone else rich obeying rules that my cars are too old!

Women fall for unstated rules about "fashion" and makeup. You have to be dressed up and dolled up/made up all the time, with always a new look, or you're uncool. B.S.! God made you in His image. Update: Conservatives & Currency

My eldest son alerted me to this ridiculous meme. Let's analyze it: So poor people don't value success (NOT defined as God does), don't solve problems, are not responsible, don't study in school, think small, and waste time, while the rich don't spend money and can never idolize money, and have no obligation to give back. These conclusions are absolutely stereotypes and asinine! But, as I told him, some FOOLS believe them.

CRITIQUE OF THE CHRISTIAN CABAL...

If anyone ever questions my 'religious' giving, my 18 years (as of Mar. 8, 2019) has been full-time unpaid ministry of writing, and if or when I'm ever led to give more, as I make more, probably all of it will be to fund global evangelism, with the most bang for the buck--NOT subsidizing individuals' salaries.

The BEST ways to get the Gospel to all people, especially in the 10/40 window, would be my priorities. If I ever had enough to sign the Giving Pledge, it would go to the greatest needs, efficiently met and problems solved, like unnecessary premature death, anywhere it's found. Bill Gates is the role model for this.

HOW could the 1040 window be Gospelized? An airplane tract drops in their language, if they're not shot down. Air waves and internet entrées to the citizens with access. Skywriting John 3:16 just outside their lands? THESE initiatives are worth funding. Arthur Blessitt types that are not offensive, but loving, entering there!

Could lasers skywrite John 3:16, or planes be used with specialized technology to accurately write the Gospel in the air, with specificity/controlled smoke? THESE are worthy ministry funding opportunities. Tithes to local churches are FAR inferior to getting the Great Commission DONE, one-time through, worldwide!

~Every nation has people with internet and radio and TV's (FEW exceptions). It's those who DON'T have such that we the Church must find ways to reach, QUICKLY! SLOW, measured initiatives are NOT biblical, nor aspiring for U.S. Christians to only reach ONE person, as if that's faithing God, or boldly doing their job! That's embarrassing!

"In Acts, one man preached and 5,000 were saved. Today, 5,000 preach and one gets saved." --W. A. Criswell <https://bit.ly/2sFcX75> SWISS CHEESE commitment to the Great Commission, expecting so little! Sorry 'boys'; we tell it like it is, @NAMB Ac. 3:12, 4:4 READ more Bible vs. eat more (Chic-Fil-A) chicken.

The goal/objective is NOT to get lost friends and family to church, but to get the Gospel to all people, leaving our church comfort zones, @NAMB. READ the Word; these conclusions are NOT rocket science, dear brethren!

U.S. pastors: IF you would prioritize evangelizing all nearby lost people, ASAP (God's interest), your churches would grow, according to Mt. 6:33 (your interest). Bi-vocational was how the apostles turned the world upside-down... NOT treating GOD's (NOT your) church as a business!

The Southern Baptist (AKA, SBC) 'Who is Your One?' program is EXACTLY the hilarious "reasoning" of the starfish!... We saved one, and that matters to him, when God said reach (vs. win) all! 99.9% of New Testament evangelism was to strangers--NOT friends and family! WHO CARES about your church roll numbers! HELL awaits the lost!

In the spirit of I Cor. 7:28; II Cor. 13:2, and I Cor. 11:2 and 22 (sparing and praising). It is not only possible, it WILL happen that some Christians shrink in shame at Jesus' appearing, due to bad decisions they made! (I Jn. 2:28) And evangelizing only one person in one year is an atrociously sinful EFFORT!

For the EXPECTED SBC critics, I am GLAD we're doing something for evangelism (#WhosYourOne), nearly ten years after a @NAMB executive responded to my email inquiring about why we had NO national attack strategy for evangelism (the letter is at our 'religious' websites). Little is better than less-to-none! (Mt. 28:18-20)

No one in the Bible invited a lost person to church, for evangelism—period. Pastors have an American Capitalized concept, foreign to God, that ALL ministry occurs in the building, and most of it behind a pulpit! Of all the evangelism I've done since 1978, NEVER have I done it in a church—EVER!

Pastors: Look at I Cor. 14 and Jas. 2. The CLEAR picture is that lost people attending a religious or spiritual meeting place is CONTRARY to their only one spiritual nature. Go-and-tell is the biblical model! Come-and-hear ONLY happened when Jesus was here on earth (Peter), a man didn't know the Gospel (Ac. 10), or a minister was so old (and famous) that he couldn't go and tell anymore, after almost single-handedly reaching the entire world, with the help of a small number of others Ac 17:6, 28:30-31 (i.e., Paul). Those are NOT our excuses! Who's Your (number) One?: God or Money?

#SouthernBaptistConvention

One other thing about 'Who's Your One?' Research says the vast majority of members will NOT participate. It's wiser to focus on the small remnant who will, even as you prayerfully try to get the others to be involved. MOTIVATION is key, but if discipleship isn't occurring, 'good luck' with that! #SBC

.@jdgear EXCELLENT first step, making you heads and shoulders above past peers, by such commitment(s)!

IF church was practiced BIBLICALLY, lost people wouldn't see them as places for legalism or morality guilt lessons, judging them, wanting 10 percent of their income, and pastors wanting to get richer off them being considered customers. Put on THEIR moccasins! SHOW them your love, before to ask for an unbiblical tithes!

When I was in Dallas Seminary, a WISE student and pastor told me he thought matured-up believers would give more than carnal ones. U.S. pastors engage so many antics, because they refuse to tent-make! Financial security/stability is too high a concern, from DISbelief in Mt. 6:33! Just sayin'; Gal. 4:16.

One pastor (a Baylor grad) told me (in his office), that EDBS priorities are great, theoretically, but 'we have bills to pay,' and a mega church just opened up down the street. DO mega pastors EVER care or consider free-willed Capitalism's sheep stealing's impact on the MAJORITY of pastors (i.e., smaller churches)?

Tent make. Be a virtual carpenter, or 'work with your hands.' NO pastor, famous or not, is greater than Jesus, Peter and Paul, and they ALL did bivocational ministry! QUIT obsessing over budgets, and DO EDBS priorities, and the food, clothing and shelter birds of the air rely on God for will come to you, who are more valuable to God than them (Mt. 6).

Radio free Europe-style ham radio jammed Gospel messages would be better in the 1040 window than nothing. There may be better and less in-your-face methods, but in closed countries, where evangelism is illegal, getting the Gospel to the masses facing Hell is more important than worrying about methods quality comparisons!

My son, yesterday, asked me why so many old white people are Christians. I told him it's because the church USED to do evangelism, and we/America has let in MANY immigrants the past 20-30 years. Conclusion: America was mainly white, and the many Christians (or at least churches) did evangelism, before the mid-1980's, when money took over, and white population percentages dropped!

IF right/correct, ROTW.com says that 45 percent of people who attend church regularly are NOT saved, and only 37 percent of Americans say they've had a 'born again' experience. 62 percent of college-age

Millennials (ages 18-24) say the church is too hypocritical and judgmental (they're quite bright/astute about life!)

46 percent of Americans don't believe Hell exists, and 69 percent of churchgoers believe that everyone will go to Heaven; FIFTY-SIX PERCENT of churchgoers don't believe that sharing their faith (i.e., evangelism) is an essential obligation of their Christian life. -ROTW.com #Pastor FAILure! #Revival

62 percent of all Millennials seldom or never attend church; At least 2.3 million people leave the church every year; Over half of all Americans NEVER attend church! ROTW.com (stands for rotting world?) #Revival That is pastor FAILure to LEAD laymen to change the world through Christ. (Eph. 4)

50 percent of churchgoers are unsure if people who know them are aware that they are Christians. 32 percent of young Millennials (ages 18-24) have no religion, up from 20 percent in 2000, and 10 percent in 1990! -ROTW.com

The world's future is the younger generation, pastors!... LEAD! God is greater than money! Mt. 28:18-20 is TOTAL/thorough! You pastors are in for a blow, with today's coming message, after a few more stats... Literal TEARS as I read this stat: 80 percent of unchurched people are open to the Gospel.

From experience I know that PASTORS will criticize this updated message, because their paradigm of church is WRONG, and they NEVER compare status quo with the Bible! Specifically, LOOK at the REAL pastors and REAL church's commitment to full, thorough, 100 percent evangelism of everyone—not pockets:

Ac. 3:36, 40-41, 4:1, 4, 17, 31 (all Christians!), 5:1, 14, 20 (evangelizing the people; not a few people), 42 (regularly), 6:8-10 (a LAYMAN!), 8:4 (laymen among them!), 25, 40 (THOROUGH, by ONE man/person), 9:20, 22 (just after salvation, Paul was evangelistic; we aren't, years after), 9:28, churches were discipled (NOT none, and not just one per pastor, 9:31), 35 (city-wide awareness, as with v. 42), 44 (all saved in one gathering), 11:1 (corporate concern for all churches; Cf.: II Cor. 11:28), 18 (salvation open to ALL), 19-21 (We AREN'T persecuted for our little evangelizing!), 11:21 and 26 (immediate follow-up), 24, 25 (some evangelism is short-term), 13:5, 12, 16, 44 (the whole city), 49, 14:1-4 (entire city impacted, with positive and negative reactions), 21 (a CITY evangelized; we won't even reach one neighborhood of one town!), 27-28 (discipleship of churches—NOT just one pastor per church!), 15:35-36 and 40-41 (discipleship follow-up of converts), 16:5 (churches disciple; NOT just by their pastor), 10 (an entire city targeted!), 13 (evangelizing where people were—NOT in church buildings; Cf.: at synagogues was Paul's regular practice, 17:1-2), 6 (THE WHOLE WORLD impacted, 17:17 (evangelizing where crowds gathered), 18:5, 8-11, 23 and 27 (discipleship), 28, 19:8, 10 (ALL OF ASIA, at that time, evangelized), 17-20, 26 (considerable numbers saved), 29 (an entire city impacted), 20:2-3 (discipleship), 20-21, 34-35 (bivocational ministry), 34 (crowds of lost people), 22:1, 23:1, 23:11 (two huge cities), 26:4 (ALL Jews knew of Paul's conversion and evangelism), 26 (non timid, but bold evangelism), 27:35 (Paul "wore his religion on his sleeve," and didn't hide his light under a bushel—NO!), 28:23-24 (considerable numbers), 30-31. Summary: NOT like U.S. church ministry!

And money was for the good of ALL churches, as they were NOT individual "businesses!" (Ac. 2, 4; II Cor. 8-9); Rom. 16:3-4, 6-15 (LAYMEN doing ministry); 16:16 and 23 (universal church mindset, vs. a church as a pastor's business); I Cor. 16:1 (money was for ALL churches to be doing well); 16:5 (laymen in ministry; and vv. 3, 9, 12); Rom. 16:5 and I Cor. 16:15 (Paul KNEW who he won to Christ first, in a city; 16:15 and 19 (universal church mindset, including with money). I could go on throughout the entire New Testament! You need to READ it... NOT just do sermon prep with it.

Evangelism was thorough, because Christ died for all; concern for all churches was the godly attitude... NOT competition, or church-as-a-business or 'my business'-minded pastors, I Cor. 3:9.

The universal church had a universal evangelism strategy, through leading men of the Church, the entire world was turned upside down; bivocational ministry WASN'T anathema to pastors; pastors DID evangelism (II Tim. 4:5—a PASTORal epistle), laymen did ministry work, and the money raised helped the universal church do its EDBS calling.

In so many ways, we are NOTHING like these less affluent, less educated, less technology-enabled simple people of the first century, and Christians matured up/got disciplined, as a church whole (not just elites).

When you read that 40 percent of all Millennials believe the Bible is simply a book composed of fables, legends, and moral precepts (ROTRW.com), we act just like them in considering these findings FICTIONally irrelevant to our preach-and-be-paid, church-as-a-business churchianity practice.

Now, prepare the attacks on this message and messenger, from carnal anger; Or, repent, and perhaps revival might come!?! Who's your one, #SBC? Paul knew and remembered his FIRST one... of millions! (Rom. 16:5 and I Cor. 16:15), @NAMB

P.S.: My own denomination heads assured me ~5 years ago, in a letter, that they were having a nation-wide evangelism push. BLOOD ON YOUR HANDS for all who died! (9/12/14)

@NAMB_SBC WHY has it been more than 3 years since you promised a nation-wide evangelism thrust? You DON'T need slogans and materials—just warm, informed people! (9/22/14)

SIX+ years ago I wrote an email to ~4 top executives of the @NAMB_SBC (of the Southern Baptist Convention) asking them to implement a plan to evangelize ALL Americans (it's on our website). I got a reply that they would. IT HAS NOT HAPPENED. Thousands went to Hell, as they foot-dragged! (11/28/17)

.@NAMB_SBC NINE YEARS! (Eze. 3:18) (7/7/18): Southern Baptists: I'm SPARING you guilt at the Bema seat/on Judgment day, telling you 'Who's Your One' is insufficient! You laymen are 'gonna tell God, 'I reached my friend or family member that year,' and He's 'gonna say 'that's all you did in 365 days, given most around you are now going to Hell?' Am I to praise you? (1/23/19)

DIRT OF THE CHRISTIAN CABAL

(4/7-13/19)

"I saw him move the heart of the President, and galvanize leaders." —Jonathan Cain (of Journey).

Further proof the man the Lord made me change caused Trump's victory—my family's home pastor, who CHUMP learned of because of what God had done through myself toward him, from 2008-2013.

Trial 30-second media commercial script: God made me nag a major pastor to change four top priorities, over 5 to 6 years. He finally did, likely finally reading my website (when he got cancer), because sermons stemmed from it the next 2 to 3 years. In the process, I was kicked out of every Sunday School class, and made to sign a contract never to mention that church online, again (as I had told this story, here!), or I could never return to that church again.

Someone on staff watched like a hawk, to see if I would violate that contract, and after a year of spreading that same nagging toward biblical priorities message to MANY national pastors (LinkedIn said a stadium full dropped by), the subject matter turned political, in late 2014, when God showed me that gay marriage was going national, and older ministers were being SILENT if they wanted it state's rights/contract-based, instead.

For two weeks I fasted, and the Lord LITERALLY called me to be President, the EXACT words I wrote on Twitter, as I heard them, saved them, and later deleted them, as being too personal, but they're in our book, Christians for Trump.

Update #1: Cabal History

That weekend, at church, that pastor mentioned what an awesome power/presence was in the room of the building of 30,000 members. Soon, James Dobson spoke there, saying Texas was leading the charge for standing for God's values, and a HOST of other famous pastors.

SIX times the men who CHUMP eventually used as his evangelical council sought ME to run for President, twice when I was a Democrat, which I became the day CHUMP won! Chump actually tried to get only two initial members—my past two pastors, Edwin Young of Houston's Second Baptist Church, and the man who first spoke for that group to ABC News, 1.5 weeks after calling Chump's clown act "nonsense" (a term I had used in a Facebook rebuke of Chump 1.5 weeks earlier), only to say he could 'champion' him—the 'baby Christian,' 1.5 weeks later, after negotiating Roe's overturn justices in exchange for what became an 81 percent WASP vote, through his massive connections.

Jack Graham is his name, and if saying so gets me kicked out of church tonight, I'm ready for that to happen for good! I JUST BROKE THE CONTRACT. @Prestonwood, so sue me!

Anyway, they even has a sermon invitation if anyone felt the Lord lead them into politics. The Lord told me NOT to go forward. The staff's eyes looked shocked. It's because behind the scenes, from March 23, 2015 to July 2018, this 'Christian Cabal' (AKA, Evangelical Council) had been formed, who burned through Jeb Bush (a GOOD man), to Ted Cruz (an O.K. man), to CHUMP (a bad/terrible man)!

NO backbone, NO leadership—just going along with (vs. leading or influencing—not even trying to!) the crowd, to get along, for power idolatry, all to HYPOCRITICALLY stack the Supreme Court ("judicial activism, which conservatives rail on 'liberals' for doing)!

Every other detail, date and documented event is in that FREE book, Christians for tRump, and you can see EXACTLY how the DUMBEST and least intelligent President in our generation got his winning ideas, when his campaign only had 'build a wall, ban all Muslims' and it'll be great—believe me,' for nearly a year!

MY ideas, tweeted here, are the main reason he won. God wanted him to defeat Hillary so I could slay that Goliath!

Mitt Romney even thought I could beat Hillary (I have his quote), and Mark Cuban twice said 'I could beat tRump,' because I had written that 6 times prior, but I have no platform. Well now I'm going to have one, and I'm not holding back anything, as even so-called 'Christians' will USE people, SIN-fully (as Graham has, continuously)!

Update #2: Cabal Origins & Character

Do you think banning a man from all Sunday School classes, for knowing more than the teacher, and making the lessons more biblical is HOLY? Do you think making them write a contract to never mention @Prestonwood online again, or they can never return is HOLY? You don't even have to know the Bible to answer accurately. It's power idolatry and being a control freak, all in (claimed) Jesus' name.

I even inspired that group, and the Southern Baptist revival prayer meetings @RonnieFloyd got credit for, and said let; have no one take credit. I CAUSED ALL OF THESE THINGS, through Christ inside me! Nagging for 6 years, even @RobertJeffress, among the recipients.

Want proof? I have pictures in that book! There's not one lie in it, and I'm asking you, readers and future American voters, to publicly DEMAND lie detectors, as these people use the concept of 'plausible deniability,' through lawyers they consult, to say I'm lying (or maybe allege that he's crazy), because they DON'T fear God when they do such things!

I JUST broke the contract I wrote and signed in 2013. Let's see if I get kicked out tonight, and I'll immediately call ABC, NBC and CBS Dallas, next week. PLEASE, Jack, DON'T refuse to kick me out, because I said that. No matter what you do, I'm going to the media someday soon, so kick me out if I lied!

You NEVER apologized to America, for hoisting that FOOL onto us. You made that! Repent, sir! You have the 'My Pillow' man, last evening, HAPPY and excited he sat next to Chump, as if that's a life highlight. That's a DISGRACE to Jesus! YOU and your crew DUPED dumbed-down so-called Christians to vote for evil and idolatry sins! Now you're going to take victory laps? Glorifying in your shame!

You have a choice to make, be it Chump or myself, in 2020, and I'm BEGGING you to make your decision known TONIGHT, via your staff, or cops. Kick me out, because I'm breaking our contract. Media contacts are coming anyway! Make a choice, today; do you serve God or satan, based on the man you've watched live for Christ since you first and only shook hands with him in 2005 or 2006 (where he said you reminded him of John Bisagno), or the devil's man you propped up for Roe's overturn?

I'm likely leaving your church, forever, no matter what you decide, and you watch here every day anyway, so make your decision @JackNGraham.

By the way, it's 3am. That has to mean something to you, as that's when God awakens me to write, so I can't take credit for pre-planning what I say! I don't trust you past where I can throw you, and even if you refuse to obey the contract by kicking me out, tonight, this story, with named names, is going public in the next 30 days.

"Naming names" is EXACTLY how I labeled it in "church conflicts," at this website's Will You Live Forever? button, so there's NO reason to think I'm bluffing. Have you EVER seen me lie, or not eventually do what I say, in God's vs. my timing? Prepare for your dirty deeds to be exposed, @JackNGraham.

The Journey (rock group) gentleman confirmed what I had always alleged. Jack Graham "galvanized" Christian "leaders" behind Trump. WHO GOT HIM INSPIRED? ASK HIM, on a lie detector! He has a LOT to lose telling the TRUTH, so demand lie detectors; My Christians for Trump book has a chapter on their need.

Just so we're "PERFECTLY clear," I am purposefully using the words 'Jack Graham' and 'Prestonwood,' online. @Prestonwood @JackNGraham Your sins are being exposed to the media, to back the dumbest and most sinful President in your many years!—NOTHING held back. It's going NATIONAL, this week!

I left your men's conference after that Journey singer sang. I had to watch the Coogs lose. When I saw My Pillow's founder gushing that he sat next to tRump, and @TheJonathanCain say Jack Graham galvanized pastors for Trump, he knows NOTHING about who got Graham alivened! It was NOT Jack himself!

Jack Graham FOUGHT me for SIX YEARS! God told me to get that church changed for top priorities. I used eight different methods. LOOK at the dates and details in "church conflicts" at the Will You Live Forever? button, at this website. Now he thinks he'll take credit? He had to be prodded, kicking and screaming, by me!

Eight different staff member RESISTED my meetings with them, calling for them to evangelize, and teach evangelism and discipleship. Emails were rebuffed and ignored, as with notes in collection plates, and his own personal mail slot; a public protest sign held outside the church on a Sunday morning; notes left by voicemail with his secretary; notes left in a Sunday School inbox of membership rolls; conversations with three deacons, and an Indian minister the church subsidized, who has worked half a mile from my home (if he hasn't moved on).

A YOUTH MINISTER ate at my home, and asked, 'so what's your beef with Jack Graham?' These experiences will NOT be kept to myself! (Ac. 26:26)

Six YEARS of consistent prodding, refusing to be ignored, not taking 'NO' for an answer! @OSHawkins even came to preach 'You have what you tolerate.' HE KNOWS the facts! Get HIM on a lie detector, @ABC @CBS @NBC @FoxNews @CNN Ask @dshiv_7 or @jarrettstephens of @Prestonwood Use polygraphs!

ASK @mikebusterxp, @JeffYoung7, Baylor's quarter back, Neal Jeffrey, Matt Mullins, @chriskouba ASK them if God didn't exclusively use me to change @prestonwood, @ABC @CNN @NBC @CBS @FoxNews, and inspire Jack Graham to get political, via gay marriage, who then touted tRump! I'll submit to a LIE DETECTOR.

TWICE I was called on the carpet by liars. Once, @PhilThames called me from Arizona Ranger's training camp, and said he wanted to speak with me. I asked if it was about using my website materials, and he lied with a 'YES.' When I arrived at church, two staffers came, hidden behind a wall to say, 'you can no longer attend any more Sunday School classes.

Sadly, the Lord exacted judgment on him, with a disease God foreknew would be needed when it took his first wife! Jack Graham probably read my materials when God let him have cancer <https://bit.ly/2K3lwUX>, two years after resisting!

When I wrote of this experience, here, I got a phone call from @prestonwood to come in. That's when two staffers made me sign a contract never to mention that church online, as I had told the TRUTH, about these sinful deeds, especially on TripAdvisor. The EXACT tweet before I went there (next):

HERE IT IS! The tweet that dates my first Cabal meeting where I was banished from church if I ever mention it here by name! See any fear in me?: I'm NOT preparing for the noon meeting on the Great Commission's COMPLETION, as I believe in Lk. 12:12. These tweets (and climb) prove this claim! (6/17/18)

I had requested a meeting about strategizing for completing the Great Commission. They wanted NO online negative press. You're getting it this week out the wazoo, @prestonwood @JackNGraham #NoHolesBarred NEVER will I lie. ANY media source! Lie detector me until I'm blue in the face. I WELCOME it!

Jack Graham tried to get me to run for President six times, minimum, four WELL before Trump, or even after he was gaining steam! I had to turn his Cabal down, as God said 2020. READ!

Jack, or his staffer(s), SAW me write that here, at 3am, early in March, 2015! Here's when @DrJamesCDobson came down from Colorado, and bragged that Texas was leading the fight on public morals—that referenced MYSELF! <https://bit.ly/2uLZfSc> LISTEN to him innuendo me, from posts here Graham read, regarding basketball, the Beatles, 6'5" Secret Service men, Texas leading the national fight, and his predictions about a coin flip with his wife, knowing how many times I made accurate predictions.

ASK James Dobson or Franklin Graham if they know of me! Lie detectors REQUIRED! @CNN @ABC @NBC @CBS @FoxNews They DO!

I DON'T toot my horn, but after nearly 15 years, I'm 'gonna let the world know what happened! Jack Graham informed Chump of this Twitter account, where he stole seven of my good ideas, and won based 'muchly' on them!

Melania's "book writers" complain is from MY Twitter disclaimer, here! Trump wants to lessen the standard for public figures suing for libel, because of ME, because he's too STUPID to know "truth is always a defense to libel." Law school 101, dumb A!

Chump's own campaign manager was here a week ago. I referred to him ambiguously. NO MORE not naming names. Here's the post: [Referencing @bradjparscale]: You viewers NEVER see which accounts drop by at what time, but one of the most momentous account was just here. Tell your boss I'll work with him, but ONLY if he changes his ways and submits to Jesus in his behavior and policies! (3/22/19)

ASK HIM if I'm lying, @CNN @ABC @CBS @NBC @FoxNews But REQUIRE lie detectors. This ilk of people, and their associates, LIE all the time. Huckabee's daughter lies to keep her job. Love of money more than love of morality and God! I'd quit her job on day one! I tell #TRUTH

LOVED your piano, last evening! DO YOU KNOW ANYTHING about what led @JackNGraham to "galvanize" leaders and 'move the president's heart?' He had to be PRODDED into that position, by God through me, sir! READ my tweets today, and be informed! @TheJonathanCain Lie detectors ANY TIME! ASK Jack, directly!

The media WILL hear this story. It's my mission to get it on television. Chump and his corrupt cronies will never stifle or silence this message, or get the media to ban my story! I'll sue them, if it ever happens on a systemic basis! The truth will get out. I just gave it to you. Facebook is next.

Be prepared for a hit to your carefully crafted image, @JackNGraham! No threat—100 percent promise. I do what I say, and I never lie. You know that. You brought this on yourself! I EXPECT all your staff to act like you never saw these posts, tonight. Business as usual, until the media hears about it.

ASK @PhilThames if ANYTHING I said this morning is untrue, using a lie detector, @ABC @CNN @CBS @NBC @FoxNews ASK! Be curious. Corroborate. Investigate. That's your JOB! Phil: Remember when you ran away from me, in shame for your actions, HYPOCRITICALLY carrying a Bible, ex-amigo?

ASK deacon @RedBoswell if he might know any of this, @ABC @CBS @NBC @CNN @FoxNews I spoke with him last evening. He may not know anything. Same with this guy I spoke to last evening... he may not know a thing, either. @canaanc I don't know how widely the upper staff tells of these truths! I have no idea.

ASK Charles Hebert of @prestonwood He may know of these things. He had a weird response to me, one day, when I joked with him in the decision counseling room. He wears paisley a lot, and skis at Taos. ASK. Test my claims. Vet my claims, @CNN @NBC @CBS @abc @FoxNews Is this not a news story?

Today I'm strategizing how to get past Twitter. It's a LIMITED audience! IF all media favor Chump or another Democrat, I'm contacting @HowardSchultz @MCuban @MittRomney and @MikeBloomberg, immediately! This morning's message WILL get out to the voting public! @SpeakerPelosi @chuckschumer @POTUS

WATCH this <https://bit.ly/2U0x6jg> His words on NOT liking beer, 50 percent Christian divorce rate, keep trying—you didn't learn to ride a bike the first time, Campus Crusade are ALL signals in sermons to myself! They get these innuendos from what I tweet! He kissed up to 45 for his daughter's job!

You MAY have noticed, I NEVER cow tow to anyone, never suck up for anyone's favor, never pledge loyalty to any human, and I never care if I get kicked out of that church! It's the MOST biblical one in America, but you can thank God through me for that achievement. They'll NEVER tell you! The ego's too big!

Watch Joel Rosenberg, there: In one of his two sermons, before I wouldn't run for President, he says God is raising a prophet. It may be the year before—I haven't the time to listen to it all: <https://bit.ly/2U0DOpA> This is how they use 'plausible deniability.' Just allege I'm making it up, if it ever causes trouble!

Quote of Joel Rosenberg at my family's church, when I didn't heed the Christian Cabal's call to run in 2016!: "Maybe God won't raise up a Josiah. Judgment is coming." I don't blame the speaker, but one feeding him the lines. You got run date wrong, not I! 20/20 (1/24/16)

LIE DETECTORS can PROVE every claim I make, both parties (me and them) involved. LOOK at how many times I've said they will be needed, because I KNOW the lying "character" of this ilk of "Christian." I've dealt with and fought them since 2007!... [fuller list in 'CFT' website free book]

There's not one tweet I haven't saved (on this issue), as I have NEVER tweeted one item that was NOT my truest experience, vs. parading any so-called righteousness. Will our critics submit to a lie detector, as I ALWAYS will? Will they phone, email or meet in person? No. I ALWAYS will, and make it EASY to do so.

.@BruceFrank1: If Ms. Frank doubts my sincerity vs. "pseudo angst," meet me at a lie detector expert you and I trust. I'll be there. YOU pay, because YOU doubt! Email me. (8/22/14)

"Ounce" is code for @jackngraham Gram, ounce, pound... it's EASY to get my nick names!: ...relational discipling or Body life. Not their 'business plan', said one of them. Then your business is corrupt, as you're not following God's plan! 'Self-appointed' is another term they throw out like free water. Ounce KNOWS God called me to do these things. Interview him with camera and a lie detector! Reference Mar. 23, 2015. (6/27/18)

Twitter search 'Church of North Dallas,' when I cared about obeying their phony contract! I predicted this account would turn political, and MAN did it, as Church of North Dallas' pastor and staff watched for any contract violation. (5/22/17)

Congrats to the angel of the church of north Dallas!: In an 87-12 vote, the Senate passed the bipartisan #FirstStepAct, which changes sentencing guidelines and expands early-release programs. <https://twitter.com/i/events/1075189213539102720...> (12/18/18)

Because I'm legally unable to discuss anything about an unnamed church, I can't PRAISE any great sermons I may have recently heard, but would like to! [Posted: 8/10/14] MEDIA: Ask Jack Graham on a lie detector if there's such a contract...

EVERYthing that POSER did was under the lawyers trick of "plausible deniability." Use innuendo in sermons, and have staffers do your dirty work. I will settle for NOTHING less than lie detectors, when I go public, @JackNGraham. I'm USED to dealing with liars; I'm a lawyer. @ABC @CBS @NBC @CNN et al

And just to ensure I've clearly broken your IMMORAL contract... Jack Graham, Prestonwood Baptist Church, Plano Texas. ALL overview details have been available to anyone since 2012! I'm NOT a good marketer (See: Will You Live Forever? button, at AmericanAnswers.org. LIE DETECTOR! Anytime, anywhere, for me!!!

...pastors to think HE devised all these priority changes. He ONLY did so because God had me NAG the heck out of him (literally, the flesh) for FIVE entire years (~2008-2012). I challenge him to a public lie detector to say I'm lying in any detail!!! I'll take one anytime, anywhere. (6/15/18)

Beatles, 6'5" Secret Service men, Texas leading the national fight, and his predictions about a coin flip with his wife, knowing how many times I made accurate predictions. ASK James Dobson or Franklin Graham if they know of me! Lie detectors REQUIRED! @CNN @ABC @NBC @CBS @FoxNews...

.@Franklin_Graham: Frank's been here MANY times! I'm calling for LIE DETECTORS when I say things like that, as ministers lie when... (7/15/17)

IF God leads me to run for anything, I WELCOME a camera and lie detector to SHOW you an "honest politician" in ACTION. Lincoln and Washington WERE! (2/16/15)

By the way, @chriskouba is "stumpy" in "church conflicts" at our Will You Live Forever? button, at this website). I make learning the truth easy for you.

I'll speak to any media outlet with any lie detector available concerning every detail behind our latest book, and how God used it to change politics. It's coming. (5/9/17)

As lawyers, we know the top three tricks of liars are to deny, demand proof, and hide evidence. I'm 100 percent for any lie detector for ALL parties involved; DO it. (5/15/17)

I've known lie detectors would be needed for a long time, because even pastors LIE if it will prevent the public knowing their dirty deeds behind the scenes. (5/23/17): Will our critics submit to a lie detector, as I ALWAYS will? Will they phone, email or meet in person? No. I ALWAYS will, and make it easy to do so. (8/9/14)

Lie detectors are often needed to prove critics were or weren't referencing your comments. I'll submit to any detector on any subject—will they? (no). (6/17/18)

I'll always submit to a public lie detector on the truthfulness of anything I say on Twitter, in the right timing. Will my critics and accusers do the same? I'm ALWAYS open to in-person communication, reconciliation or public debate of these EDDBS issues with anyone. Are my opponents just as willing? Hope so! (6/17/18)

#WorstThingstoAwakenTo The national media being informed how @JackNGraham warped God's work through me to rally 81 percent of the WASP vote, for tRump, all fully detailed in our tweets this morning. I'll take ANY lie detector, but require him to do the same!!!

Have I broken the contract yet? Maybe I better try harder? I can't wait for church tonight, @prestonwood Gentleman's bet, NOTHING happens. Their reputation would go down the crapper if I filmed them kicking me out! @ABC @CNN @CBS @NBC @FoxNews 5pm 6801, W. Park Blvd, Plano, TX 75093

#InsomniaMakesMe Tell the TRUTH behind WASP Christians' 81 percent support of Chump, began by me to elect intelligent GOP's with integrity, but used by the Devil to elect the likely Antichrist. This is all detailed in a free book on AmericanAnswers.org, entitled "Christians for Trump" Please read it!

Eph. 5:11; Mt. 10:27 Expose their many sins. Keep NOTHING secret or quiet anymore! You've "humbly" been used by these chumps for far too long! Tell the whole world... I would if You'd show me how—I'm ignorant on media and marketing; tell me what to do! You know I will, but don't know how.

My FREE book details how @jackngraham advised CHUMP and got politically motivated. I am the human instrument God used to start that entire process, including calls for revival and evangelism. You would NEVER know this if I don't tell you; Jack Graham never will! @ABC @CBS @CNN @NBC @FoxNews Pride sin!

Have I broken the contract yet? Must I try harder? I can't wait for church tonight, @prestonwood. Gentleman's bet, NOTHING happens. Their reputation would go down the crapper if I filmed them kicking me out! @ABC @CNN @CBS @NBC @FoxNews 5pm, 6801 W. Park Blvd, Plano, TX @JackNGraham

Joshua 24:14, @jackngraham @prestonwood Today is the day! Are you backing CHUMP or myself, whose character you've watched for 1.5 decades? I do NOT ask for your support. I watch to see if you'll again follow satan, or if you know what repentance is, in real life! @prestonwood

Chump said he was a Christian. Then @jackngraham and his ilk/group taught the bumbling fool, and marketed the term 'baby Christian,' to sell the Devil to STUPID, so-called Christians! Then they moved to 'Cyrus,' now to Falwell's 'Caesar.' Whatever sticks, when your conscience is abandoned for SIN!

.@jackngraham banned me from all Sunday School classes, because I knew too much for a laymen's class (or an insecure teacher?). Then he made me sign a contract to never mention his church online, or I could never return. IS THAT CHRISTIAN BEHAVIOR? Any moron knows the right answer!

ASK @jackngraham if he called Trump's campaign "nonsense," in a church sermon, early July, 2016, and 1.5 weeks later said he'd 'champion Trump.' <https://bit.ly/2UiDyHB> LIE DETECTORS. PLEASE! @NBC @CBS @CNN @ABC @FoxNews Hypocrisy SIN. ASK HIM! I'd expect a tap dance answer or explanation.

For Roe's overturn, @jackngraham would violate political conservatism's judicial activism complaint against liberals! For Roe's overturn, @jackngraham would support the stupidest and least moral president of our generation! The end justifies the means, says the Bible? Ha ha. Read it closer!

For Roe's overturn, @jackngraham supported ALL this <https://bit.ly/2jlYEOF> He'll say he didn't. The right decision was vote all GOP's but Chump, to keep Hillary's extremes in check. That's how I voted, as you have what you tolerate. Jack tolerated all those sins, blasphemously in "Jesus" name! Heresy. Apostasy. Anathema.

If ANYONE doesn't yet know, America has Trump mainly because of @jackngraham (inspired by myself, then warped for evil). Journey's keyboardist confirmed it last night! A congratulations is NOT in order, but a stern rebuke, which is EXACTLY what I've tweeted since 3am, and it's now 7:15. Please READ THE TEXT!!! Good day. Isa. 53:7 #ChurchTonight?

[Same determination and reliance as with the first church banishment threat] NOT preparing for noon meeting on the Great Commission's COMPLETION, as I believe in Lk. 12:12. These tweets (and climb) prove this claim! (11/5/13)

.@DrJamesCDobson stooped from @JebBush to @TedCruz to Chump! That speech @prestonwood says he's been friends with the Bushes, so he'll side with Jeb. Even Cruz thought I was running, too, so he forewent an exploratory committee. My relative @PMaffitt asked me if I was running! ASK THEM—media!

I've asked my son to borrow his smart phone that has a camera, and teach me how to use it before this evening, in case it's needed. I'm sure audience members would film it anyway. NO WAY would they try it, but they may try to stop me before I enter the church. Guess how that changes plans.

Literally it changes NOTHING! I never fear any man, and I'll be entering the north circular drive entrance, dressed as usual, nearly late, as usual, sitting in the same pew, as usual. I NEVER back down to any dangers or threats. I'm there to sing and hear a good sermon. Do what you want!

Power idolatry sin. Imply Jesus is a political conservative, despite all their sins in policy, all to overturn Roe. THIS is the Christian Cabal "thinking." HITLER would get their vote if he'd stack SCOTUS to overturn Roe! Even the Antichrist! I'm NOT speaking tongue in cheek, but literal!

WHY would ANY NON-Christians believe @jackngraham on anything, when he called Trump's campaign 'nonsense,' and 1.5 weeks later says he'll be his 'champion? WHY believe @drjamescdobson, who DIDN'T lead, but followed the crowd from Jeb to Cruz to Chump? NOT credible character, I'm sorry to say!

#TodayIsTheDayIWill Tell you the whole story behind Trump's 81 percent evangelical support, by the Devil's doings. Just read all my posts, today, since 3am. NOT ONE LIE! (Rev. 14:5)

The TRUE story of how Trump won 81 percent of the WASP vote #WasStuckInMy undiscovered website's free book, Christians For Trump, at AmericanAnswers.org until now. NOT ONE LIE! #NotOneLie Record number of viewers, today, since I quit writing books. PLEASE get the word out, and tell the media you want this story exposed, or the Christian Cabal will do the exact same sinful antics as last go round. Repenting is just a word they use in sermons, sometimes, sadly and sinfully.

When I go to church tonight (at 5pm), NOT ONE THING will change from my routine! I invite any media to film if I get kicked out, for violating a contract the dictator pastor @jackngraham forced onto me in 2014, never to mention @prestonwood online, again @nbcdfw @wfaa @FOX4 @CNN @CBS11

Last night, @TheJonathanCain said he witnessed @jackngraham "move" Trump's heart. HAS ANY HONEST AMERICAN SEEN ANY SCINTILLA OF EVIDENCE that Trump is behaving more like Jesus, in two whole years, as a fake "baby Christian?" He'll do whatever for votes, insincerely! NO power, Jackson!

CAN YOU IMAGINE being the person a famous rock star had to brag a pastor moved your heart, because you needed so much moral work? CAN YOU IMAGINE a bunch of suck-up pastors had to invent the phrase, "baby Christian" to cover for your claim you already were a (NON-baby) Christian?

Unfortunately, I can block all those clowns, but people can still monitor my posts like a hawk, using Trojan horse accounts. Twitter doesn't allow you to stop that, "JACK."

CLARIFICATION/DISCLAIMER: I will very likely NOT be at church, tonight, as the Texas Tech basketball games is at 5:08, and I'd rather watch my alma mater, and I can listen online, if the game gets boring. They RARELY play NCAA elite eight, but church is every week and even online, for tonight.

After a nap, awake at 3am, I've decided in my heart I'm writing off that church forever. I'll attend, to support my wife, but I will NEVER support their head pastor. I am OPPOSED to the egoist, and he is my target for public exposing, from here on out! SAME demonic spirit as another person near his age [Difficult words to write, but honest, nonetheless:] I don't give one da_n if I ever get kicked out! He WARPED all my work for his own credit, increased status and membership numbers. I'm literally praying God strikes him in judgment with some trial, as He has before.

I've fought with him over tithing and Lordship Salvation for decades. He's SO theologically stupid. Almost all he knows came from my website, though he brags he ranked high in seminary! He fancies himself a great negotiator, because he got a LOSING candidate to agree to stack SCOTUS for votes.

You told a room full of SBC pastors you were known as a "celebrity" pastor, but that it's not as great as they may think. You LOVE that coiffed white hair, because once it falls out, you lose the image! You served the OPPOSITE role as you should have, with Chump. John the REAL Baptist lost his life for RIGHTLY rebuking an evil politician. You lick his rear! A brown-nosing suck-up/kiss-up, all in the supposed "Jesus" name. The real Jesus hardly knows you, even as you now brag your church is full of Him. Full of it, more accurately.

You led the group I inspired to support EVIL and sin. Christianity was HARMED by you! READ the news articles in the Christians for Trump book. Christian pastors OUTSIDE America told you 'fools' you were harming our religion! You're ALL for favoring Israel. You're for judicial activism and bias sin. You are a FRAUDULENT 'leader.' When I go MORE public, you will be exposed.

One of Ounce's BFF's said no one should take credit for SBC revival meetings, then hosts praised him as the first SBC president to do so. I MADE THAT, @RonnieFloyd. Get on a lie detector, copycat NON-leader LOSER! DENY I even gave you a excerpt from my book, at your church. You're all such liars, lie detectors will be mandatory.

NO WONDER you morons supported Chump! Money-luster idolater, fame-seeking, limelight-loving egoists who use bully tactics against opponents, and crave power, and lie a lot. He's your PERFECT candidate. Meet you all and your ilk on the political battlefield. I DON'T flip flop like you!

NO core. Change with the wind. EXACTLY as John the REAL Baptist was accused of, wrongly. Rightly said of your ilk of so-called "pastor." (Mt. 11:7) Flip floppers are HYPOCRITES, and hypocrisy is a SIN. I probably have to teach you that, too! Dobson and Ounce are flip floppers. Whatever's expedient; NO core/'anchor'!

FAKE pastors. I would NEVER listen to either of them, even as one of them has nearly perfect theological sermons, thanks to me—God through me, to be more accurate. I, OBVIOUSLY, don't accept your support, don't want it, have no use for it, and I will defeat your cause by God's power, and expose your hearts!

Ed Young, who I opposed vehemently as a money-idolater, was WISE to reject Chump's entres. I found out early this morning the FoxNews link that proves that claim is too old, or was removed, unless I didn't search hard enough. These things happen a lot, when reputations are at stake. Hide the evidence.

Same three sins I said lawyers know: Deny, hide evidence, and say 'prove it.' Y'all's M.O. has always been I can't prove you were at my Twitter site, so you THINK it's my word vs. yours. LIE DETECTORS will expose you.

Remember, Jack, when God shut down your $25M Dallas campus, unless it was yet another business deal to profit off @PsRobertMorris? Heart motive—God only knows. I WARNED you it wasn't God's will. It failed. I'm not wasting another tweet on your sorry butt! @CBS @ABC @NBC @CNN @FoxNews

Go HUG your DUMB, high-pitched voiced buddy who has REALLY harmed Christianity: @RobertJeffress, and the idiot I never knew even existed (whose brother is a saint), Liberty University's Jerry Falwell. Franklin Graham is NOT on my list. He's redeemable! Maybe Dobson. Who knows on that one? #Corruption

I misspoke on no more... You fancy yourself an influencer of Christians. LEADERSHIP influences people to morality. YOU influenced people to sin and corruption! You didn't even influence anyone. You waited to read the tea leaves, then went along with Chump! You took NO stand against him. I did—I changed parties. Fools!

Here's EXACTLY what @jackngraham had intended... he'd make up for his failure with Chump, by getting on my good side, by so many sermon innuendos I write down in a journal, and often date them. It BACKFIRED! Aren't you sad Dave Shivers offered me a free ticket to last night's event? BACKFIRED! Thanks for the invite, Dave!

You TRY to debate what 'repent' means, but your deeds show you have no idea. You are committed to things, but those things are NOT Jesus or morality! Money, fame, power, ego, church membership, getting unbiblical tithes. YES you're a committed Christian—committed to evil aims. REPENT, Jack Ounce Gram!

Dumb, sinful and biased pastors will STILL follow his electronic Rolodex contacts, to back the Antichrist, a second time. I can only hope and pray many pastors are really saved, and care about God. The SBC in 2018 already showed Ounce many opposed him inviting Pence to politicize religion! Heroes!

You got rebuffed by the very pastors you once warned about some lawyer who wears shorts to church, in the Houston pastor's conference, and a paragraph in your book (ghost writers write, if I'm correct, off your sermons), probably about angels, or spiritual warfare; I can't remember, but it's in that book.

You and my home church's pastor hosted the event, as 'celebrity pastors.' "Be a Bisagno." You never understood that phrase! WHY is my membership at FBC Houston? I withdrew my membership from @prestonwood years ago, in protest of the sinful bully moves Trump would admire! Two peas in a pod sinners!

When I was ambushed by two staffers who weren't to be part of the meeting, to kick me out of church, they were the ones who informed me some old gal in the records department never unmembered my name from the church rolls. I told them, 'you guys have no authority over me, as I'm not a member here.'

They promised to change that status, and Bisagno himself let me join FBC Houston, 1.5 years before he died, even though the young man who interviewed me said he doubted it would be approved, as I needed to reconcile with you. I tried 10 times; you do not do as you preach, heretic hypocrite evil liar sinner!

READ the chapter in Christians For Trump book (FREE) at AmericanAnswers.org, entitled "reconciliation. You will see all 10 attempts, recorded here after I engaged them.

Even the second in command, who speaks Saturday evenings, is under your dictatorial thumb! Good man in a bad situation, who won't give it up because the pay increase will be too good when you retire. He promised me three times to meet, on a cell call when my family drove to Kerrville. I even had the email, if I didn't delete it. He wanted three dates for us to meet. NOTHING!

TYPICAL lies he learns from YOU! The father of lies through you, better stated. The same spirit that leads men of your ilk to back sin in Chump, favor Israel, stack SCOTUS, as you listen to Fox and talk radio slam "liberals" for doing (like Obama stacking judicial appointments). HYPOCRITES. Two-faced LIARS! I tell the TRUTH!

I read an article where many pastors have decided to back off as much political involvement in the future. WISE CHOICE! You see where @jackngraham led your reputations! It was OBVIOUS to everyone but the Christian Cabal, and any stupid pastors who trusted Ounce, all to overturn Roe.

I told paisley boy in the decision room, bathroom access would be the next issue. I'm positive Ounce called his buddies in Austin, as it became just that, but SMART GOP politicians shot y'all down, and wouldn't even bring that up this session—even mocked it ever being their priority.

Now you're seeking defunding Planned Butcherhood in Texas. I gave you your impetus! You had roots well before me, but my tweets emboldened you. I'm ashamed of the monster I inadvertently created, as you have to have moral character to be a leader, which is why Chump can never be a leader. You didn't know that. How DUMB of you, at 68 years of age!

I GUARANTEE you I will NOT get a phone call to come to the principal's office, this time! I'm NOT obeying our contract, ever again! I'm NOT even a member of your church. LOOK at how many times I've called it my "family's church"—Twitter search it. I have better things to do.

'Image is everything' is a phrase the third in command at my family's church mouthed, publicly, and seriously believes! HE LEARNED IT SOMEWHERE! P.R. stunts to make self-appointed WASP church spokespersons be seen in the media make the APPEARANCE of such! READ Heb. 10:1; Col. 2:17; I Tim. 4:7 Believing MYTHS! (9/21/18)

And I've [evangelizing] gone with a mega church pastor, seminary students and laymen. ONE exception, I was repeatedly rejected at my family's church, 7-8 times, but we got even greater results than those lazy staffers could do using other methods, over time. They might get mad, or slam the door. ONLY happened... (12/13/18)

[God's call to me into politics] ...in M.S. Word, as they were sacred to me, and they're now in the Christians For Trump book. I'm pretty sure the pastor or staff who monitored our tweets saw it. We have a contract I can't mention the church here, or I can never return to my family's church. They watched to see if I'd break the contract. For one year, God led me... (3/20/19)

I'll do ANYTHING that's moral to see Chump defeated. ANYTHING! @DNC @TheDemocrats Call me. I'm 'gonna continue to ACT like the media will never interview me, and do as much FREE publicity as humanly possible. If I never get one dime donated, I won't stop until that Chump is OUSTED! Fool-in-chief.

.@jackngraham has sold his soul to satan, for power idolatry, as did Huckabee, to get his full-time liar daughter a decent job, lying full-time. My highest viewed tweet-ever-said just that. I think it was 23,000 people, if memory serves me correctly. It doesn't, always, with boring numbers!

I'll announce, here, the next time I attend church with my wife, and pray they kick me out. Announcing will not be that often, and they deserve a head's up, so the staff cop can do his job. If not kicked out, I'll be there often, as UNLIKE @jackngraham, I support married couples NOT being split by the Devil's antics.

#TheWarIsOn!

Background Christian TV song, from the group at my family's church, before Trump put Jackie under his Devilish thumb, for the umpteenth time! God's sovereignty sees your actions! #Timing!
<https://bit.ly/2DbdwLR> #WUSSES

HOW DOES IT FEEL to be the slave of a mere man, @jackngraham? "You made that!" (I Cor. 7:23) TELL your bosom buddy in sin, that's "First" not "One" Corinthians, in his dusty bedside Bible. You're TERRIBLE at saving or discipling him--NOT your agenda! WRONG Priorities--A CHOICE.

I don't think I've rubbed it in enough, to expose @jackngraham's evils! If any other stories come to memory (NOT imagination), I'll post them this afternoon, as I work. No one knows you like insiders. And friends and family often cover for people; it's in their self-interest! That's UN-objective.

These chumps LOVE media exposure, to enhance the brand--say money! They tried to lure me to a speaking circuit, two years ago. The FLESH loves that limelight!

Pastor: I was in a time of great pain and weakness. Here's what shocked me most <https://fxn.ws/2ue8HMx> #FoxNews

OF COURSE! God was just joking about standing for truth and morality! @jackngraham Sinful #HYPOCRITE: Of course, Evangelicals can vote for Trump <http://fxn.ws/28QpbD6> #FoxNews Promise--NOT threat; the difference is it will happen; threats are words said trying to elicit change. I want NO change; I'm just warning if that man's in the pulpit when I'm there, I will walk out, peacefully and humbly, but also certainly! I won't share the room with his ilk! Jarrett's O.K.!

'Untrustworthy' is the word that repeats in my mind, concerning that culprit! When you deceive (a sin) and flip flop, faith is the last thing any reasonable person would exercise toward you! NO future sermon innuendos will ever change a thing. Reconciliation is impossible; you went too far. 'Balaam pastor' keeps rummaging through my mind! SO true, lord!

I'm disappointed in myself that I know this from experience--not a Bible verse--but I've seen the Lord destroy my enemies so many times, I'm VERY joyous today! It is not a let-down or bummer, at all. I'm excited to see how He moves. I'm sure He will. It will be interesting to see what He does. That was almost a positive experience!

Has anyone ever seen me commit to that man, in any way? EXACTLY the same hesitancy of people you can't trust, described here. (John 2:24) #Untrustworthy! NO WONDER the Lord said wait until June 19th, and all will be revealed, and laid out before you at that time! #WaitThemOut

The Christian Cabal TRIED to emulate the Moral Majority of Reagan's day, but that was led by godly men—NOT schemers using publicity stunts! 'Nuff said. I've always said, "Be a Bisagno, not a Young." You may notice I NEVER change my messages! If you have the truth, why would you? Fire my family—PLEASE!

Some people CAN'T understand that phrase: See how MANY times he's been told it, nonetheless... God will provide for Himself a lamb/ram (Gen. 22:8) Bisagno and Don Anderson may be in Heaven, now, but God can raise up substitute mentors! God bless those REAL men, who lifted me since 1980-2017, spiritually, by their examples and spiritual ministry achievements. Wish they were here still. (11/7/18)

You and my home church's pastor hosted the event, as 'celebrity pastors." Be a Bisagno." You never understood that term! WHY is my membership at FBC Houston? I withdrew membership from @prestonwood years ago, in protest of the sinful bully moves Trump would admire! Two peas in a pod. sinners!

God's sovereignty was NOT on your side, today, given tonight's sermon topic! God DOES judge/discipline His children. IF you are one, you need to start fearing Him more than evil Chump. You WON'T, hypocrite! The wizard of Oz is SUCH an apt analogy, behind the curtain! Napoleon syndrome.

Relatedly, last evening, the police department that protects our church dropped by. Some doofus, apparently saw our day-long direct messages, and took wishes for God's disciplining threateningly, so I blocked that department, for wasting tax payer dollars on such a FOOLish concern I easily refuted! EGO the size of Texas, he TRIES to cover/keep from the crowd; it's 'appropriate' he moved from Arkansas to here!

God will never judge his children? Not eternally (II Th. 1:5-10), but temporally, even life-takingly: I Cor. 5:3, 11:31-32 Angel of the Church of North Texas #FULLcounselOfGod (Ac. 20:27)

I am SO ready to be Jonah, today! It's been attack after attack since my nap ended. I'd hitch a ride on a ship, if I didn't know about the whale of an end that leads to!

If it's spiritual warfare, and not emotional failures of the heart, you need to pray, just keep believing, and wait on the Lord. Ultimately, even if you pull a Jonah, if God called you to something, it coming to pass is all up to Him, and He will ensure you get rejuvenated, and complete the task—even if you sometimes may never want to obey.

He has a plan, it's His initiation and His obligation to see it through, and He is faithful, even when we are not. That's both comforting, and not much so, when the trials continue, but somewhere in the back of your mind, you know He'll see you through the hard times of pruning...

So weird! As soon as I awoke from a nap, after a creative morning, complete doubt and despair that all my work is in vain. The Lord can allow the Devil to attack, to achieve His ends. They are NOT on the same team (opposites), but God's sovereignty uses all things for our good! (Rom. 8:28)

I wouldn't wish this on my worst enemy, and it's NOT depression! I know depression. It is oppression, and it has been decades since I've experienced anything like it—such a shock. The Devil doesn't want God's work through me!

Update #3: My Candidacy

Who are you, what is your concept, and why do you think you can win—all in 5 minutes, and one introductory remark. Impossible!

More than any other source, my tweets have controlled the events of America's political life, the past four years, because my God controls the events of all of life, and I only wrote what He said, and many VIP's watched, as they discovered me through the man who sought me to run for president six times, now one of 45's spiritual advisers.

WHO was Mitt Romney speaking of? Why is Howard Schultz threatening a run? Why has Mark Cuban threatened it twice? Why didn't Oprah run? How could I receive this email from Obama's office? Why did Melania speak of book writers? Why is Chump wanting NYT vs. Sullivan overturned? Why did Liz Warren (not Borden) go grab a beer?

I HATE name-droppers, but it's time we answered these questions! If you're not curious enough to ask them, I will—and answer them! Why did Mark Cuban say he could beat Trump, and if he could find common sense solutions, he'd consider running, and mock Schultz having only general ideas? Why did he mention silos and tribalism?

Why did Mr. Bloomberg drop out? Why is Biden biding his time for so long? Why does James Comey twice post pictures about running? Why did Kanye say he'd run for president, two weeks after we posted that the Kardashians should run if popularity is the only credential you need?

Why did Trump's first spiritual council spokesman call his campaign 'nonsense,' and a week+ later say he could champion him? Why did he also seek my running, many times, and well before he stooped to Chump? Why? Why? Why? People KNOW what God has been doing through me on Twitter—many people!

But mainly important ones, as it is illegal to out (i.e., publicly identify) me as a private citizen! That's why! You don't know me from Adam, and I have LOVED it that way, but now it's time you do, because I'm running for president, in obedience to my Lord, and I have zero intent on losing! That's why!

He called me to do so in March, 2015, prepared me all my life before that calling, and has miraculously confirmed it ever since (and the past 11 years, full-time, writing 11 books+), and VIP's out the wazoo heard of me through that mega pastor, because he watched these miracles and my Twitter site like a hawk, because we have a contract where I'm never to mention his church online, or I can't return.

You know ZILCH about all these things. WHO's 'gonna tell you, but ME? Now there's a little thing we lawyers call 'plausible deniability,' or as teenagers call it, 'prove it.' That adage is what some (less moral) people HIDE behind to sin by denying they know one thing about which I'm speaking, either to make me look dumb or crazy, because they hate my political party, or it would risk their reputations, in places/venues where being dumbed-down is seen by some as a mark of freedom and independence from the evil left-wing media! I have not said one single lie in all I said, or can keep saying. I never do, on Twitter. But proof is elusive in this vacuous medium, and they know it, because they consult we lawyers.

That very same man said I led America the past four years, and his bunch didn't have a better option until my ideas would be offered. He personally witnessed God's miraculous power in the sanctuary of a 30K-member church of his, as did hundreds of others, Mar ~23, 2015, Saturday evening.

He gathered so many pastor VIP's to drop by for 1.5+ years, to confirm I'm not Bosley of Charlie's Angels, but a real person! He even had a public invitation for any who felt called into politics. I did NOT go forward, because God knew he was up to no good, behind the scenes, leading and "galvanizing" his peers to NOT lead, but follow the crowd in STOOPING from 16 BETTER GOP candidates, to specifically Jeb, then Cruz, then lastly Chump, in that chronological order! Dobson, Falwell, Billy Graham's son and Jeffress—even James Robison, for a time. The Christian Cabal, as I refer to them; Ronnie Floyd and the SBC executives, even forcing Russell Moore to backtrack on HONEST and factual things he said when he questioned Chump's salvation!

It is ALL my family's pastor the past 15+ years—the EXACT same man God made me shape up or ship out concerning God's priorities in his own church, from 2006-2012! Pastor Jack Graham.

The SAME guy who kicked me out of ALL Sunday School classes for speaking the TRUTH too often, showing up the teacher, I guess, and made me write a contract, after a Trip Adviser post threatened to reveal the TRUTH of the person behind the persona!

The same group that came up with the 'baby Christian' narrative, to sell STUPID, undiscerning Christians on supporting SIN, to overturn Roe, through judicial activism conservatives rail on liberals over, which is called the SIN of hypocrisy!

They LOVE to say, Hillary would have been worse, but she was wiser, more moral in demeanor, and I've NEVER said any Christian should have voted for her—that's their CHOICE—but that a vote for ALL GOP's but the moron we now have in the White House would have kept any radical choices of hers in check!

But Jack Graham, prompted by my tweet taunt that his generation let Roe pass on their watch, as pastors, was determined to overturn it, any way he could! He has connections out the wazoo. Did I ever know that? I never cared! I found out later!

He organized the Christian Cabal. I has tweet mocked the Moral Majority being dead, and how could that be if it had served a noble purpose? If a purpose is valid, how can it die with Jerry Falwell's death? You do NOT know these things, do you? WHO would ever tell you, if not me?

The Southern Baptist revival prayer meetings Dr. Sanchez thought @RonnieFloyd invented. WRONG-O! I called for it here, well before, and Ronnie's a BFF of Jack. The Harvest America AA Center and ATT Stadium DFW—SAME THING!

This ILK of "Christian" will NEVER tell you, and may even deny the claims, as it makes them lose luster, not taking credit for MY doings, via my God! <https://bit.ly/2HZF36R> pastor of a large Ft. Worth church, who spoke there, KNOWS I started these "leaders" to do that! We spoke that night.

A hefty staffer who has two disabled daughters does, too. He has moved on, now, but at the anniversary of @jarrettstevens pastorate, @prestonwood, he saw me (I call him "lumpy" in my 'church conflicts' section of The Will You Live Forever? button, at this website, and said, 'well I guess you finally got through, and you can change a BIG church (same statement that Ft. Worth pastors said, by innuendo, when he confirmed I was the Twitter guy, by asking what church I was member of)—then the larger staffer quickly ran away, as I had reproved his doctrine, way back, and he was STILL angry about it.

People KNOW of my efforts the past 30 years! Second Baptist Houston does, for sure. READ that website section. I DON'T lie! I've been telling my testimony here since 2014.

For example, concerning a professor I studied missions under, in the early 80's, LOOK how I try to tell the world these things, but have zero skills at broadening my audience. It's NOT a skill God has gifted me with—yet! LOOK. Learn. Listen...

The Southern Baptist Convention president, three years ago, hosted revival prayer meetings from MY initiating! Dr. Sanchez of @SWBTS commended Dr. Floyd to me, probably never knowing who started that. I wanted no credit, but I won't let others use me! Now, ZERO such calls because DT was elected? (10/16/17)

I don't know, because I've NEVER sought credit, but I WON'T let people like my respected @SWBTS missions professor brag how great it is that @RonnieFloyd did that, when I started the idea, Dr. Daniel Sanchez!

Dr. Sanchez, of SWBTS, told me he was so gratified that Ronnie Floyd was first SBC president to conduct revival prayer meetings. You're WELCOME!; it was NOT his origins, Dr. Sanchez! I WON'T let these glory seekers steal MY ideas from God! They'd LOVE me to keep quiet. I'm NEVER 'gonna! (6/15/18)

[Great guy! <https://bit.ly/2YSze0k>]

I tell you these things, because when I'm invariably asked who are you, and why are you running, and how do you think you could win, you don't know stuff! I've been incapable of letting you in on these secrets, as I've been busy writing what God told me to write! 'Til now. And somehow I'm to put all this junk into a sound bite 30 second "commercial?" IMPOSSIBLE! I'm not even sure it's even worth the try!

I started the Christian Cabal, by starting Jack Graham on a better path, after SIX YEARS of nagging, behind the scenes. It's the Christian humility of doing things behind the scenes they seek to take advantage of, for personal gain!

I got that man angered enough over guilt from Roe to organize his bunch, a songwriter from journey confirmed he was the leader of! He is often credited for having a great leading church. You're welcome, because God made me make him get his priorities in order! You'll NEVER know this.

CHUMP himself learned of it, and a FoxNews article said his first two pastors he tapped for that bogus Cabal/council was Jack and Ed Young—my family's pastor from 1993-2002, and 1989, where I met my wife. How would a greedy SOB in NYC "Christian," now reverse growth'd "baby Christian" know of two Texas pastors, who happen to be mentioned on my website as the only two pastors my family has sat under since 1993?

Word of mouth advertising! I can give you two quotes from Romney and Obama! HOW do THEY know of me, and you do NOT? I NEVER sought publicity—that's why! But now I have to, because God told me to run for President. You have a RIGHT to know the claimed character of Chump's evangelical advisers, and all these things. No one will tell you if I don't. I just did.

How in the world can that be put in five minutes, or a 1-liner slogan? IMPOSSIBLE. Yet, to get on TV, you have to say something dazzling, and news worth. The man behind most religious and political changes in America the past four years. 100 percent true. Sounds braggadocios, but 1-liners are required! It's HARD!!!

Meet the man who secretly caused Chump's victory, and changed U.S. Christianity and politics the past four years. Chump stole seven of my ideas, and they were winners! ALL he had for 1.5 years was build the wall, Muslim ban and it will be great—believe me!

I document that claim in my free book! He will deny it 'til the cows come home, because he's a liar. Like his spiritual father was from the beginning, and we ALL now know it—all but those who don't care, or have no morals, as they've drunk the Kool-Aid. Or a handful of pastors whose SINful egos won't let them abandon him, as that's 'disloyal.'

These are the SAME claimers of Christ who employed a sin-to-win strategy to elect CHUMP—the least intelligent and least moral of all 17 GOP candidates, stooping to the bottom of the barrel "for Jesus," because He wants women harmed or dead in back alley abortions? Got it. False doctrine!

Sin to win! Hypocrisy; abandoning the faith, double standard, heresy, fools, etc. Whatever name you want to call it, WASPs denied their God in 2016—PERIOD! By the way, now Twitter is allowing me to dig up old posts. I'll never understand fickle technology. Let me retweet as promised...

And now Chump is JEREMIAH, of all people, because he wants to build a wall, said Jeffress this week. JEREMIAH! We are QUICKLY approaching the blasphemy sin! THAT IS the Christian Cabal, folks. Sin-to-win! They NEED deprogramming from their Devil-deluded cult. I predict it will NOT happen! #Sin! (2/8/19)

Writing websites, tweets and books is NOT enough for me, now! I'm 'gonna expose ALL these little antics that caused 81 percent of predominantly white evangelicals to support Chump. I don't know how or when, but I won't quit until the whole world knows!

In 2014, MOST famous U.S. pastors WATCHED my tweets here! I have their names! Twitter had a glitch, where, if you followed no one, you could usually see who dropped by, as algorithms had nothing but your tweets as information to use for people to suggest! They fixed it well after I noted it here! These so-called 'leaders' will LIE, in many cases, as what do they have to gain from confirming?

They want plausible deniability and reputation protection. ASK these 3 men: @OSHawkins @macbrunson @BruceFrank1 ALL "FOJ"—friends of Jack. LOOK how long I've been yelling these facts to any who would listen, weakly private and ineffectively:

Frank Bruce? Seem 2 recall Biltmore Baptist church, as my family visited the real Biltmore in North Carolina around that time—many pastors offended by TRUTH. (6/26/16)

Frank Bruce of Asheville, North Carolina's Biltmore Baptist Church: Even mega church critics wife addressed "open letter" "rants and raves" in her blog, as with two others [one a Criswell student]. My critics know of this site, as it convicts them. (11/14/14)

And God knows the person or persons behind Terry Vargas Twitter account, AKA Elizabeth Malkam, Roger Podactor and Delilah (3 of 4 are closed down now). LIARS! (3/13/16)

Same M.O. as Podactor and D.C. big wig FRAUD accts whose ID's I think I know well. I WON'T reveal stuff to imposters or strangers—only friends and family! I'm NOT dumb. (6/6/16)

To write national pastors about EDBS priorities they were essentially failing at. A mega pastor in North Carolina argued with me, here, and it's in that free book. Someone else hassled me as Podactor, which conversation is at that same venue. LinkedIn said a "stadium full" of people checked out my profile, which was nearing ["legend status"]... (3/20/19)

For our nagging critics who think I tweet to myself @StanNathan3 @MiamiSnowflake @TVleftside, more than 10K views in one day—you're WRONG! <https://bit.ly/2YSze0k> (6/9/16)

READ the conversation at @TVleftside! That account used to be Terry Vargas, and associated with the past @miamisnowflake. POSERS trying to hassle us here! They GOT shot DOWN! (6/9/16)

MiamiSnowflake TerryVargas and one other. They may all be closed down now, from cowardice. Ours still remain, if I look them up; too much trouble for the value!

I went to my sister's house, a few years ago, and his dad was sweaty, and said he just got in from an hour-long walk. That was his way of innuendo that he watched our tweets, as I walked an hour each day, in the mall. These folks ALWAYS keep it in code, so plausible deniability can continue! SINful.

ASK those three mega pastors I just listed. Ask @RonnieFloyd. ASK @drmoore. ASK @drJamesCDobson and @Franklin_Graham.

ASK the pastor of @TravisAvenueBC who co-hosted the revival prayer meeting, and spoke from Revelation, who I met in 2014 @swbts. ASK, media; are you not curious? Not investigative anymore?

ASK @jdgrear! ASK who got @VP to speak at #SBC2018. It was the SAME man I've said is 100 percent to blame for America having @POTUS... @jackngraham. WHO would know this? MANY pastors! Media: Interview @TheJonathanCain and his wife. ASK. Be curious. Don't take my word on it—corroborate claims with lie detectors!

ASK @jamesmacdonald. ASK @Greglaurie. ASK @GreggMatte (he SHOULD know, but I can't confirm that 100 percent). ASK @MaxLucado (he probably knows). ASK @joelcrosenberg. He knows for certain! ASK @ericmetexas. These people being famous means NOTHING to me, and I'm NOT name-dropping to enhance myself! (Gal. 2:6)

ASK @skipheitzig. LOOK at my 'CFT' book's VIPs list, and ask all those pastors! Lie detectors will be required, as reputation protection is the game, lest profits fall off when prophets fall off their carefully crafted "images!" This man LITERALLY stated 'image is everything:' @chriskouba ASK him!

ASK this man, who was a duped tool to have @chriskouba kick me out of all Sunday School classes, including this man's ex-class my wife has been in since 2006, and I was, until I was kicked out: @PhilThames.

Ask the State Farm insurance executive who kept the rolls (he and I waved at each other at the Phillips, Craig and Dean concert at church, last month)! Or the GREAT red head current teacher—he MAY know. ASK Matt Mullins of @prestonwood. ASK @JeffYoung7. Who else can confirm my TRUTH-full story? MAYBE @RobertJeffress and Pastor Robert Morris. ASK the Evangelical Council members (IF Jack told them—it wouldn't enhance his status to do so!).

SMART man. Pastor James MacDonald did, but I haven't the time to see who it references: Megachurch pastor resigns from Trump's evangelical council <http://wapo.st/2wYNI61>

[Private account:] Tony Perkins, head of the Family Research Council, confirms what we already knew- Trump's Evangelical base does not really care about family values at all. <http://politi.co/2n2m8eC> via

#Heretic!: [Private account:] Tony Perkins, president of the conservative Family Research Council, says the evangelical community has given President Trump a "mulligan" when it comes to his personal behavior – "grace for the mistakes that he's...

[Private account:] Finally. Mainline churches get serious about exposing the frauds who use religion to spread hate and rake in the cash. Speaking of which, how is Trump's evangelical advisory council "advising" him on Russia? <https://lat.ms/2CXV49i>

ASK @JohnnieM who spoke at our church, and is that group's media go-to guy! Media: You have not because you ask not! ASK! Investigate. Do your job! @ABC @CNN @NBC @CBS @FoxNews These men ALL know very well what I'm saying is 100 percent TRUE! They WILL lie, though, in many cases. NO character under pressure!

...to plan all the events which followed. This is a lobbying group, but much more than that, with a weak-minded man in the oval office, for they send Johnny Moore (who wrote about ISIS, and spoke at my family's church) to be their SBC spokesman to the media. This group even gives radio or TV jobs to (12/11/18)

LOOK at this event's hosts! <https://bit.ly/2OSQTA4> ... <https://bit.ly/2uNWm1U> Do you EVER wonder why the Johnson Amendment's enforcement got curbed by Chump? You're not curious?

ASK @levilusko [especially concerning radio briefs with some political innuendos, like David and Moses, if I recall correctly], @revjamesrobison I'll try to give you even more names to confirm/corroborate... @ABC @CBS @CNN @NBC @FoxNews ASK @replouiegohmert

ASK @ralphreed, @tperkins, @ABC @NBC @CBS @FoxNews @CNN Demand you be told the truth! These men ALL know what I've written of tonight! ASK the GOOD man, @edstetzer, whose updated statistic I CAN'T change on my website, because my webmaster no longer programs websites-SORRY! ASK @ThomRainer We Emailed!

ASK several ex-Southern Baptist Convention presidents, who are Jack's buddies. Probably Johnny Hunt, among them. ASK! Those people's fame doesn't impress me. They just happen to have been part of this story, and the media needs sources to investigate. I just gave you LEADS.

MOST of the antics of the Christian Cabal are in that free book of ours. They organized, and rallied behind the stupidest and least moral of ALL GOP contenders in 2016. SOMEONE must hold them accountable, before God, as they'll do it again, VERY soon! @ABC @CNN @CBS @NBC FoxNews is in cahoots.

So is Christian talk radio, like @markdavis. ASK if he knows of my existence. He'll probably LIE like the rest of that ILK. ASK Chris Kroc (DFW talk radio host) and ~Chris Salcedo. Jon David Wells knows of me! He was so angry about my convicting posts, he wouldn't return three voicemails volunteering for his military unit, after speaking with me at a movie theater presidential debate event by his radio station.

ASK @EdYoung and Chuck Swindoll why the day I was really stung by people's betrayals, BOTH their accounts sent DM's with the exact same message: 'You are blessed.' ASK them; all via Jack N. Graham (perhaps the one who sometimes fakes accounts in pastor's names—Twitter would know)!

.@DrTonyEvans MAY know a little (FOJ—Friend of Jack). He certainly can testify to my 2014 year of pastor posts exhorting U.S. pastors to EDBS priorities! He used some of our material! LinkedIn said a 'stadium full' visited my bio, there, and it was approaching 'legend status.' ALL viewers know—mainly pastors. that year!

ASK @BishopJakes He was INCENSED at something I wrote, and when I visited his church, he was SO heated when he saw me in the visitor's area, he started dancing with anger about his critics! Let's see if I posted about that, as I ALWAYS do...

That is the spiritual origins of the Christian Cabal! I warned many national pastors to speak UP that not all states wanted gay marriage, but all states should allow equal rights, by private contract/state's rights. That got James Dobson to our church: <https://bit.ly/2Vp4sK9>

.@JackNGraham TEN year notice, and some: (7/5/18)

.@BishopJakes FOUR YEARS OF DYING NEIGHBORS, many now in Hell! (7/5/18)

As I'm editing that chapter, T.D. Jakes was defending his wealth, bragging how hard it was in the early days, NEVER addressing my issue that God requires the wealthy to be the most generous back to society. He exchanged a smart phone for cash, as an illustration that owners set value, which is partially untrue!

.@BishopJakes FOUR YEARS OF DYING NEIGHBORS, many now in Hell!

PROBABLY because I said he's NOT the next Billy Graham. It's IMPOSSIBLE for a mere pastor who does no more evangelism that all pastors do—which is LITTE—excepting @reglaurie, to be likened to @BillyGraham

When I was in Taos, a guy thought it was the recent C-3 convention, where many pastors walked out, because some foolish speaker accused the crowd of mainly pastors of being motivational speakers who needed to repent. Accusations are always only if the shoe fits, vs. accusatory judgment. DUH.

Twitter search "fire Ur pastor" "church evangelize ASAP." This is OLD HAT. I've done it since age 19. God has led me a different way, now that, as a layman, I've done well more than my share of evangelism. I hope to do more after that gig ends. Lazy pastors send lost people to Hell! #Judgment (6/11/18)

Don't you know you can catch more flies with honey than with vinegar? YOU go catch flies. We're talking about biblical reproof of inept evangelism efforts in the USA! Twitter search these four words: "fire your pastor evangelize" and "fire Ur pastor."

Update #4: Machismo, Manliness & Gays

[Private account:] Tucker [Carlson] wishes he had even a speck of decency and integrity that Chris Hayes has.

Do you want to know the latest FoxNews/Christian Cabal hot button topic? Liberals are making men less macho than God intended them to be. Gruntal, guttural yells were recently elicited in a meeting I observed, AS IF what makes you a male is you're a troll, have no emotions and can act like a bear!

Being a "real man" is telling your inferior wife to get you a beer, as you watch sports, and dominating, like that meeting joked a male conference allowed ALL church rest rooms to be used only by men that evening, and we were asked to cheer about that fact. Some achievement... dominate! Fairness be damned.

And success stories are always the rich white male, even though Jesus, Peter and often Paul were dead broke. It's the My Pillow guy who's been on TV millions of times that impressed @jackngraham He even said so to the crowd, and thought 100M sounded better. UNtruth/fake numbers/image is everything (By the way, anyone can be on TV when you pay for the infomercials yourself, if you can pay for them)! Little-to-no vetting is required.

Just last Sunday he admitted @chriskouba was his right hand man as an intern; the same DUPE who banned me from every Sunday School class @prestonwood, and who said in our Sunday School class, 'image is everything,' and MOCKED my prophecy chart, saying 'I only know Jesus will return.' Brilliant!/?

I left that men's meeting, half way through, as the presence of women makes life so much more enjoyable! The limited handful of males singing were mainly the stage singers! Most everyone I observed were standing there, stiff as a board, doing no singing—as that's NOT macho—I left to watch basketball.

My Pillow man was so happy he got to sit next to Chump. Imagine that... a claiming Christian proud in what he should be ashamed of! Delusion collusion, JUST LIKE Phil. 3:19. @realjontahancaïn bragged @jackngraham had "moved" Trump's heart, and "galvanized" leaders—ALL FOR EVIL, ignorant one!

They're STILL proud, that as SUPPOSED "Christians," they approved of and rewarded ALL of this: <https://bit.ly/2i6fnFa> They outright deny they support that, but their deeds defy their words! LOOK at what Dobson USED to believe, when a Democrat was the president: <https://bit.ly/2YT2Mut>

[His] "primary prayer for Donald Trump is that he would 1st of all repent of sin and come to faith in Jesus Christ." ...an embrace of the very kind of moral and cultural decadence that conservatives have been saying for a long time is the problem" character matters. @DrMoore (Russell)

After publicly saying that TRUTH, as an @erlc leader of Southern Baptists, LOOK what @jackngraham did to try to bully yet another person into submission, just like machismo males do when they act like Jesus, I suppose? (NOT!): <https://bit.ly/2UIR6SR> That's MY family's donations. SUCH character—NOT (only A character!).

AM I MAKING THESE STORIES UP, or were you not following events very closely? I give documented articles! You can ASK any person NOT a sheep, who listens to what's said, if

@jackngraham called CHUMPs campaign "nonsense," 1.5 weeks before this: <https://bit.ly/2UiDyHB>

Because I go to that church, you don't know these things, because he used all his ministry buds (buddies), so I wouldn't despise him, and the media wouldn't figure out that he's the one controlling the puppet strings. HOW STUPID IS anyone NOT to KNOW?

When he hosted this, he said 'we have all the candidates we really wanted.' Hillary AND tRump were NOT present, nor any Dems!: <https://cbsloc.al/2G6BXMI>

One of @jackngraham's good political buddies: <https://bit.ly/2UnwyZN> He is a GOP operative, lusting for power, and always looking for ways to get his business more notoriety. I made him get a holier church, but his heart still has its aspirations! <https://bit.ly/2YT2Mut>

Being a FoxNews contributor is some feather in their cap, about as resume-enhancing as writing for the National Inquirer. They don't care it spins and spews—they just want access to WASP voters, to make them look like Christian 'leaders!' @robertjefress got his church on Armed Services radio, kissing up to the Antichrist!

Just two weeks ago, @GovMikeHuckabee came to our church to speak, who also kisses up for power idolatry, to get his caustic, lying daughter a job! The Christian Cabal is NOT dead, but very much alive for 2020, folks. WHY do you not know the things I'm revealing here? Pay closer attention!

If you want to know exactly what this ILK is up to, to reelect CHUMP, watch @jackngraham's Twitter and Instagram account. He's always out of town, though I never monitor those sites. I learn of his antics months later, because I don't care what the Devil is up to through any human; not God's will to do so!

Dobson tapped Graham for the National Day of Prayer host, as a reward for their chummy interactions in politics, back in 2017. <https://bit.ly/2KqoLWP> The national prayer breakfast is also a bastardizing of religion for politics. YES, I used a word from Heb. 12:8 #MinistryCorruption!

DO you have any IQ? LOOK what MORE objective Christians wrote about the NEGATIVE impact of that group: <http://bit.ly/2wPSSeX> Trump is LOST, said @drmoore, before $1M and his own job were threatened by the threatener-in-chief's papal bull-y! Read MANY more here: <https://bit.ly/2OZF2Rb> (page 450 on)!

Shall I say more? (Heb. 11:32) The stories I could tell, as an insider to their evil antics. READ my speech on Facebook (Jim Meroney) on "Yes, but Trump for SCOTUS picks." That's their rationale! Sin to win, as judicial activism is NOT evil if conservatives do it. That makes sense to you? Not if you have an IQ!

Franklin Graham's own relative, and the GREAT Billy Graham's granddaughter reproved her uncle for his apostasy of supporting Chump. I gave her many cudos for doing so! <https://bit.ly/2WYx2O> Jerushah Armfield #Hero, like her grandfather! Billy Graham's granddaughter smacks down modern evangelicals for 'hypocritical' Trump support <https://bit.ly/2uNniyPer>

Billy Graham's granddaughter, Jerushah Armfield: "War on Christmas" that Trump has "won," is a non-issue. "I haven't seen 'Merry Christmas' really be attacked. I've been told 'Merry Christmas' by all sorts of walks of lives and all sorts of cultures just this year."

And don't let me lay into Geoffrey the giraffe Jeffress! I roasted his nonsense so many times, I'm unwilling to retweet all the posts; you'll have to do your own reading, at Christians For Trump, at AmericanAnswers.org. I have an entire section on him, and Fall-not-so-well! <https://bit.ly/2OZF2Rb> (p. 307)

.@jackngraham even convinced Calvary Chapel evangelist @reglaurie to also become a Southern Baptist. I'm SURE there were political motivations behind that, likely so SBC could take credit for the DFW crusades. I pushed Ounce to evangelize much more, and that's how he envisioned it. .

[Private account:] Wonderful blessing to have @Prestonwood Pastor David Shivers pray over the Texas House of Representatives this morning. #txlege

[Private account:] @Prestonwood David Shivers leading Texas Congress in prayer this am with House/Reps

I even told @daveshivers7 (son in law of @OSHawkins, an ex-pastor of Jeffress' church) that evangelism was NOT done enough, and he told me crusades don't pay for themselves. I NEVER envisioned crusades, as evangelism is the laymen's job (Eph. 4). Read more at The Will You Live Forever? button, at this website, "church conflicts."

DO YOU START TO SEE ALL THE CONNECTIONS LEAD BACK TO @jackngraham, when even Journey's songwriter said as much last Friday evening? @thejonathancairn YOU will NEVER know these details unless I tell them to you, for you aren't inside the belly of the beast, 'til I get kicked out for good [for telling the TRUTH], one day!

LOOK at the NOT so subtle blending of patriotism and Christ and Trump, in this sickening "Christian" event: <https://bit.ly/2Vq4q4H> Wrap white (vs. Jewish) Jesus in an American flag, wear MAGA hats, as the apostasy is 100 percent unnoticed by dumbed-down claimers of Christ! ANATHEMA and ICHABOD!

It's an UN-holy merger of politics and religion, all in the name of political conservatism, warped into Trumpianism worship by cult members. RE-READ THAT–It's a lot to take in! @robertjeffress even said America is a "Christian nation," and mayor @Mike_Rawlings made him tear down a billboard saying so.

I could go on about @iamsecond, and media connections and @TimTebow coming to @prestonwood, recently. It's all a united front to make DUMB people believe real Christians back tRump. That, logically, means every black Christian not in a WASP church is sinning! @FHunscripted They're disobeying God to oppose the Cabal.

How about @jackngraham inviting @VP to the Southern Baptist Convention last year? MANY people were opposed, and several resolutions were raised to never have such things happen again. GREAT JOB, Jack. Pat your sinful self on the back for a Devilish achievement–like unjust favoritism of Jews.

The referee of an NBA game meets with the Lakers in their locker room, then dons a Lakers jersey and says he's 'gonna officiate the Lakers vs. Spurs game. That's what "success" looks like to the Christian Cabal with CHUMP at the helm in Jewish-Islam/Arab relations, and peace negotiating! CONGRATS Jack?

LOOK how ARROGANT, helium-voiced @robertjeffress responded to @FHunscripted's [Freddy Haynes] inquiry of a racial incident @firstdallas: <https://bit.ly/2BaMn7M> CRICKETS! The man is RIPE for God's judgment! A Kool-Aid drinker cult member for CHUMP! An idiot, vs. a fool for Christ. (I Cor. 4:10)

In case some Christian reads today's message, and is one of the RARE ones who ever read God's word, the Bible says not to say to a person's face, "You fool," raca, or its equivalent—"moron." To call someone acting like a fool a fool is EXACTLY what Proverbs does. I'm saying alt-right economic advocates are fools! (11/18/17)

Last Friday, when I left their men's event, a radio pastor documented Imams saying ISIS in charge of America was their avowed goal, and a White House with an ISIS flag. I'm sure his references are valid, but it's fear mongering Christians to hate Muslims, in Jesus' name, for political gain. The Muslims are coming, chicken little!

I've said enough, though there are plenty of other stories I could tell. The BIG question is, why you don't know these matters, and the media seems to know little-to-nothing about them! They're all 100 percent TRUE, because TRUTH is what I do, and I don't lie, so Chump suing for slander/libel would FAIL, as I tell the truth, DUMMY!

[Private account:] Here is why many Southern Baptists were upset Mike Pence was given a platform to speak, and why we should work to never see it happen again: His speech had 76 references to the president (16 by name) 65 references to America or the United States 1 mention of Jesus. #SBC18

[Private account:] Instead of politicians addressing denominations and the church, we should have preachers taking the floor at Congress and instructing them in God's Word compelling them to rule by God's Law so that we may be a nation with justice. #SBC18 #SBCAM18

[Private account:] The greatest problem facing #SBC18 #SBCAM18 and beyond is not theological position, political opinion, nor methodological practices. The greatest problem we face is personal pride and tribal arrogance. May God continue to humble us for His glory.

[Private account:] Today IMB President David Platt talks about radical Muslims coming to faith in Christ. VP Mike Pence talks about radical Muslims "on the run." Which is it? "Come to Christ" or "Run from us." Two different messages. SBC must determine which one takes priority. #SBCAM18 #SBC18

[Private account:] Pence, in conclusion: "I know with your strong support in prayers...with Donald Trump in the White House and God's help, we will make America safe again, we will make America prosperous again, and to borrow a phrase, we will make America great again." #SBC18

Kissing up for votes! NO rebuke of any many evils! #Weakness of a coward in sheep's clothes fake meekness: [Private account:] No podium that @POTUS or I stand behind will be of greater consequence than the pulpits you stand behind every Sunday. No policy will ever be more meaningful than the ministries you lead. Your faith has moved mountains...

[Private account:] “Politicians like Vice President Pence should be in the pew, not the pulpit.” Here’s an important—and sadly necessary—reflection from @JonathanDLeeman. #SBC18 #SBCAM18

#IndictmentIndeed: [Private account:] .@POTUS Trump is the most pro-life President in American history! And it was my honor as Vice President to cast the tie-breaking vote to allow states across America to defund Planned Parenthood. #SBC18

.@jackngraham’s good buddy he used in a meeting two weeks or so ago, as with at our church, years ago. Political merging of politics and sin, in Jesus' name, Timmy! Tim Lee: Hollywood hates VP Pence, the abortionists hate him, the pornographers hate him, liberals hate him, the anti-gun people hate him and now some of the #SBC18 crowd shows their disdain for him. Shameful.

[Private account:] SBC brothers and sisters, you’ve been played by the White House and the committee on the order of business, who yesterday stated that Pence was coming to bring greetings and thanks. This is nothing more than a free campaign rally with a large hijacked audience. #SBC18AM #sbc18

[Private account:] I am saddened Pence would be so triumphalistic, so unabashed, so jingoistic. I’m more saddened that there would be people in the audience, messengers of the gospel (unless they’re outside guests), who would so revel in rubbing their politics in the faces of their brothers and sisters.

[Private account:] This is one of the most troubling things about the Pence speech. Everyone who clapped and shouted for Pence this afternoon was doing so as an act of defiance. There was an air of hostility to their claps. Division was sowed in their shout of "four more years". #SBC18

Praising favoritism sin toward Jews, as if they never sin, and Muslims and Arabs always do the sinning! Biblical justice? Read your Good Book again, sir!: [Private account:] Standing ovation given to @VP Mike Pence at #SBC18 as he speaks about accomplishments of @realDonaldTrump including recognition of Jerusalem as Israel’s capital.

#StumpSpeech CONGRATS to @jackngraham? JUST the OPPOSITE!!!: [Private account:] STORY: Mike Pence’s speech got mixed reactions from the Southern Baptist Convention. It felt like a stump speech #sbc18 #sbcam18 <http://www.star-telegram.com/living/religion/article213101549.html> ...

Deception and delusions sins. #Trickery. It's the Christian Cabal's way (non-character)!: [Private account:] #SBC18 I love Jesus and America, and voted for Trump/Pence, but I want an answer from the committee on order of business if Pence did not give the speech he indicated he would, or if the committee was not truthful in telling convention what speech was to be about. One of those things happened.

[Private account:] The opposite of wanting VP Pence to speak at #SBCAM18 is not liberalism. It's being a consistent Baptist. #SBC18 #SBC2018

#AiderAndAbettor: [Private account:] What's controversial about Pence's #SBC18 appearance is the implicit blessing it gives to Trump. Pence does convey a wholesome image (no doubt sincere in person), but politically he's the chief abettor of Trump (as seen in his speech today).

[Private account:] .@POTUS kept his word to the American people and to our most cherished ally when we opened the United States Embassy in Jerusalem – the capital of the State of Israel! #SBC18

[Private account:] They can tell you people stood for Mike Pence at the #SBC18 but here’s a picture of the live stream. People were sitting in protest [The pictures don’t lie!]

YOU GO, @jdgrear (even though @jackngraham had his finger even on him, having him speak to @prestonwood the day before his nomination, if my chronology is right). Always a control freak for the far right! ANATHEMA!: [Private account:] This is extraordinary. The new president of the Southern Baptist Convention rebukes @VP Pence for using the #SBC18 meeting to give a political speech.

Lies made, lies justified—a better slogan!: [Private account:] Pence at #SBC18: “It's been 500 days of action. 500 days of accomplishments. It's been 500 days of promises made, and promises kept.” Translation: separating Immigrant mothers and children is an accomplishment...

AKA Geoffrey the Giraffe @robertjeffress and hypocrite @RonnieFloyd, who knows myself quite well, but will deny it, to cover his shame of his own deeds I expose!: [Private account:] Well we are since we have Mike Pence the chief apologist for the President's sexual assaults speaking at #SBC18 not to mention the excuses provided by Jeffress and [Ronnie] Floyd.

Yet another of @jackngraham's bosom buddies: [Private account:] Hey @bellevuepastor having Mike Pence speak at #SBC18 is going to continue to cause confusion and negative connections that already exist in our country between political conservatism and the gospel of Jesus Christ. Not a good look.

For the GOOD @jackngraham's done, I praise him (1 Cor. 11:2); for the BAD, I do NOT! (1 Cor. 11:17) #Objectivity

And speaking of machismo if not womanizing bravado taught in conservative circles, do these ministry passages indicate apostle Paul was effeminate, or influenced by evil political liberalism, @jackngraham? I Th. 1-2 ‘Like a father and nursing mother.’ Maybe he was secretly gay, by your beliefs?

That SAME political conservatism touts independent self-reliance, when their CLAIMED Bible teaches a balance of concern for others and yourself! (Gal. 6:1-2, 5) #WholeCounselOfGod, Jackie. (Ac 20:27)

I had NO IDEA God wanted that story out there, so profoundly, and that's possibly why the Devil attacked so profusely, yesterday, as he LOVES Pharaoh Trump, and this message destroys his little prophet!

You have to follow the dots! The opposite of gays, male-wise, is machismo-ism. That's the new angle of attack on gays, by conservatives, and some of them even are explicit about it, then lose their job, as here: Get me a beer—the game's on. Hilarious old-school white trash "romance!" RE: Denise McAllister and The Federalist (3/31/19)

SAME with Tucker Carlson vs. Chris Hayes! Discern #PATTERNS, or stay a fool—deceived and deluded! Back to the 28-paged chapter exposing the name and 'character' of the one person who, more than anyone else, orchestrated Trump's win.

Related thereto, you had to keep telling yourself, "we're saving the babies," to have remained supportive of Chump thru all of this: <https://bit.ly/2tBHWBZ>, as well as his hundreds of miscues [and thousands of lies] and dumb decisions since taking office!

James Dobson won a court battle, recently, which I support, but which disallows his employees insurance paying for Plan B. The Cabal is also seeking to defund Planned Parenthood, in Texas, and allow businesses to discriminate on religious grounds, in Texas. Here's where they ERR:

We should encourage Plan B used in the first 2 to 3 days of unwanted pregnancies, but you can't enforce that. Saying its use in the first 3 days is murder is scientifically bull honkey, and FOOLish phobia! Planned Parenthood defunding eliminates other valid services it renders, but the Cabal literally wants EVERY unwanted pregnancy to be forced to term, even before the egg gets fertilized. THEY WANT BACK ALLEY COAT HANGER ABORTIONS, baby or mom's life and health risks be damned!

Finally, any business that hates gays could refuse them service, which is NOT American OR Christian! I already SHOWED you, yesterday, the ties @prestonwood has with Austin! The guy who told me 'evangelistic crusades don't pay for themselves' prayed before that chamber, and the politician who I would NEVER vote, because I asked him for tips on how to run, and he tried to sucker free labor out of me to learn the ropes [BTW Angela Paxton did not play that game, was honest, gave me some advice, and I'd vote for her!] was pictured with that same guy who joked males dominate all bathrooms tonight at our church (i.e., men's conference), and gave me a free ticket to that event.

I SHOWED you the video link to the Texas governor speaking @prestonwood. I told you of paisley staffer man, whose son skis at Taos, who I told the next issue would be bathroom laws. It was! Because they (as usual) handled my ideas wrongly, the Texas Congress laughed them out of court.

HOW does Austin cow tow in fear to a man with 30K members? It's an amazing thing to observe, but MORALITY is dwarfed by relationships, and he schmoozed many famous people to sin for Jesus, and go along with him. That's an EVIL use of power!

ALL because he doesn't know correct political solutions well—or in detail, or as a lawyer! What he does know mainly comes from monitoring us like a hawk, then warping it to his old-fashioned 1950's view of the world, a view a majority in the U.S., and even Christians reject! But he has influential peers.

I'm POSITIVE he now tells Austin he's got the ear of the CHUMP, and since the GOP is prevalent there, they somehow respect his antics and foolish positions! It's a SICKLY mixing of politics and religion, with NO separation of the two, all by an unelected and unintelligent in policy loser I ~educated!

WHERE does @jackngraham get off (ego is the answer) thinking HE represents all of Texas, in wanting all abortions banned for Texas women? PUT IT UP FOR A VOTE/REFERENDUM! Even then women are 'gonna have one, and they must not be forced to risk life or limb getting one. He loves those Texas women? I do!

He doesn't care about doctor visits, morning sickness, medical or travel costs, out of state, if he gets his way. I've told him a proverbial million times the answer is prevention, education and motivation/incentives—NOT banning all abortions—and he knows I've mocked his inability to convince women out of aborting.

So he wants to force them to not be able to, under threat of the law. That's prima facie evidence he knows his ilk can't convince even Christian women to always take to full term, so he lobbies Austin to thwart Roe, even LYING they cared that abortion doctors have required hospital privileges. #Sin2Win. —satan

You have sex, unprotected, the condom breaks, or contraception isn't perfect, or your tied tubes leak—you will have a baby! This is the "loving" "Christian" Christian Cabal! No contradiction there, to the blind! This is old-fashioned, 10 commandments in the court house Roy Moore-like Jack Graham!

This is the macho man drinks a beer his wife fetched for him, barefoot and pregnant, everyone forced to say 'Merry Christmas,' forced Bible in classrooms-seeking, Muslim-fearing, unbiblical tithe requiring, false Gospel (Lordship Salvation) preaching minister who WON'T fully reveal his total salary, or ever cap it!

THIS is the pied piper many SBC executives follow, because they're friends—NOT because they give a hoot what the Bible teaches! THIS is the man taking credit for things I forced him to do, which were very good, biblical things, and he doesn't want them knowing of my 100 percent initiating or inspiring (forcing) role, where he fought me for SIX YEARS!

He wants to be seen as a 'leader.' Everything he did was to be seen as such. I pushed for them, because they're BIBLICAL. He even mentioned $150M is what a President can earn, through perks, to try to incentivize me to run too early! He's ALL about the money, but you will NEVER see that side of him... carefully crafted public image!

I TRULY believe he's very sincere in many of these things, but his political conservatism has evils he will NOT acknowledge, even though he said his bunch didn't have better options in 2016, before my ideas were available. He's two-faced! He speaks with a forked tongue, in private.

You'll NEVER know what he does outside the TV pulpit! You just sit there, and believe what he sells. 'Image is everything' is what his closest right-hand intern @chriskouba said, because they believe you to be dupe-ably stupid! NOT sincerity from the heart, but what can we get people to believe, as Fox's Roger Ailes allegedly taught: 'The Truth Is Whatever People Will Believe.'

His sermons are 99+ percent truthful (they SHOULD be...5 years ago to 10 years back 1/3rd of them came from my website!), but his political shenanigans are FAR from Christ-like! No one elected him, and he's self-appointed... NOT by God.

God does hate baby killing! It's an atrocious sin. But there are two people in the decision. Women should ALWAYS use contraception—Catholics included—to prevent the risk of considering killing a child! They should ALWAYS insist that the man use a condom! They should ALWAYS use Plan B within three days, if accidents occur, or emotions take over in romantic (say sexual) passions!

This applies to Christians, and everyone else. You literally are taking/ending a life once a life gets started, when sperm penetrates/fertilizes an egg! Life doesn't magically enter a growing fetus body... the body is alivened, or it wouldn't grow/mature to fruition!

You have ZERO moral or even legal right to be a sinfully irresponsible poor planner! You KNOW what sex can cause. No one is saying don't have sex. You can't just have it, and care ZERO about the human—YOU MADE THAT! Your free will—unless you were raped! Do the right thing!

You are an evil person to celebrate legal rights in New York to KILL birthed human beings! You should join the Nazis! Move to Auschwitz! LOOK at the procedure! FACE your decision! Don't just get knocked up then knocked out with anesthesia, pay your bill, and smile your way home! You KILLED a child! You, sinner!

And you KNOW before you have sex if you're too broke to afford a baby! You don't know if you'll lose your job, or your boyfriend will break up with you, so if there's a possibility of either, HAVE SAFE SEX!

YOU are causing these Christian 'leaders' to go bonkers with government interference, because you are making bad and dumb decisions!

You have all the freedom you'll ever need to control your body! Now use it rightly! YOU ALONE choose to kill children, by getting drunk, and hanging with males who are sexually untrustworthy to use a condom, if you were sexually too stupid to use contraception! No one forces you to get pregnant—excepting rape or incest!

The mother's life is YOUR decision! I can see a mom sacrificing her life for her child—that's sacrificial love! I can also see a wife who loves her family, and knows they can get pregnant again, not choosing to die over a botched pregnancy. WHY should preachers or Uncle Sam decide for HER?

NONE of their business, in that case! It's her decision, even above her family, but always before God. And hating homosexuals is a sin! Any Christian business that's not being forced to participate in celebrating a gay wedding has ZERO religious out for not serving them their business' products or services!

Even if their business caters weddings, if there's NO other business within 10 miles, with the same services, they shouldn't be legally able to withhold serving them! IF a competitor exists, they should be able to use a religious exemption, as religious people shouldn't be forced by law to break VALID (vs. invalid) religious precepts!

Invalid would be like FOOLish willingness to die, because a blood transfusions required, or claiming God wants you to have multiple wives. MANY idiocies are brandished in the name of religion! Government DOESN'T have to go along with anything labeled 'religious!'

Jim Jones' crap would fall into that category, as with David Koresh, or ISIS suicide bombers! There are limits to religious freedom!

Finally, the Christian Cabal WANTS to violate federal Constitutional law, by ignoring Roe through various mechanisms, like hospital doctor privileges (they were shut down on), and defunding all of Planned Parenthood. They'll call this legal, or holy civil disobedience, but laws are on the books, and Christians are to obey government, unless government has them do things contrary to Christ, like kill children (AKA Dobson's win).

America is NOT a theocracy, and government isn't the tool of Christians! Politicians pass laws, and voters vote! Deal with it, Christian Cabal!

And DON'T KILL BABIES! No matter how young they are, they're still babies! They're NOT inanimate body tissues that mysteriously start growing in a mom's womb/'tummy' by some birds and bees! YOU MADE THAT! Freedom is NOT the right to do whatever you want, but the power to do the right thing; DO it!

Update #5: Unplanned—The Movie

DID YOU KNOW there are Christian pastors who don't have the courage to speak to you and say you can't abort your child (timidity SIN), but they'll coddle GOP politicians to let the force of law to tell you that message of theirs? BLEED OUT if you don't like it, is what their DEEDS say to you!

Now they have a movie they hope you'll pay to see to learn how evil aborting truly is! It's called 'Unplanned.' The producers make moolah, Christians get reinforced that abortion is evil, so vote GOP, and maybe a handful of non-Christians stumble into the theater? It's for POLITICS/GOP votes, folks!

By the way, Christian women abort about the same percent as everyone else! FAILURE TO CONVINCED, pastors! What's next? A movie called UnNatural, to show the evils of penetrating the wrong orifice, with the wrong gender? Sorry, my sarcastic humor went well beyond propriety, but it's NOT 'outa the question, for them! HERE's how important ONLY two sins are to white male Christians over age 60: abortion and homosexuality.

Jay Strack @Jstrack007: So proud of the unequal support of @VP Mike Pence and @POTUS for The sanctity of Life. They deserve our gratitude and our prayers. @UnplannedMovie deserves our support. Great reviews and strong opening weekend. https://twitter.com/vp/status/1112740629174542337 ...

Is anyone concerned about government endorsing one particular religion, favoring them, despite the Establishment clause? If this statement is over your head, you will be POOR in America!

And God doesn't care about the struggles of poor people, or people getting diseases and sick from pollution, or rich people not obeying I Tim. 6:17-19. He ONLY cares that all gays turn straight and all sex—even rape—ends with a baby. THIS IS THE "THINKING" OF THE CHRISTIAN CABAL. Heresy!

SHUT THE FRICK UP! That is my message to BOTH parties! ALL they ever do is fight. IGNORANT stupidity thinks my way or the highway can rule the day forever. Dumb as donkeys and wastefully fat as elephants! This is D.C., and fools love the drama, because you have loser lives of no consequence!

On the GOOD side of Christian movie making, PLEASE WATCH Palau—the Movie! He's a junior Billy Graham in more Southerly regions, now more retired from crusading. See how many times I've praised the great man, here, with the following retweets... [Condenses list]

Bonnke NEVER contacted me. I offered to work for him, full-time, in a Billy Graham-like role. Rude, and wish him all failure, except at evangelism. #EGO! Too often typical!: Billy Graham number one, then Greg Laurie, Luis Palau and Arthur Blessitt as evangelist HEROES. #ReinhardBonnke hasn't contacted me yet. Ignoring me!?! (8/24/14)

Do you hear Palau and Rick Warren and Albert Mohler on the radio, as with Louie Gohmert and Roger Williams? ALL the work of one pastor, via being pushed behind the scenes for five+ years by this author. He'll NEVER tell you about it, or his changes coming from us. SUE ME if I'm lying! It's 100 percent true. Great changes, sir! (2/1/18)

WILL the Christian Cabal produce a movie entitled Unpoor or Unpolluted? You KNOW they won't, because that's NOT their political agenda! How about Unabused, or Unequal, to address female equality of the #MeToo movement? I'll GUARANTEE you that won't be a movie they make or fund! Bet me!

How about Unselfish or Ungreedy? NEVER 'gonna happen. UnOverpaid executives? NEVER! Ungenerous rich people? Not 'gonna make that film, either. Unfunded government budget? NO! Under-taxed? NO! Unevangelistic pastors? NO. Under-discipling pastors? Uncommanded tithe, church buildings and pastor salaries?

Under appreciated workers? NO. Unjust salary leverage? Undone unions, from big business and GOP collusion? You're not 'gonna see that in the movie theaters! UnChristLike behavior to elect Chump and supported by votes? That's not 'gonna hit the big screen, as THIS should: <https://bit.ly/2jlYEOf>

How about Underwear under where?, to show how we husbands rarely do our fair share, but that's O.K., because the Christian Cabal wants to resort to the 1950's? That's NOT 'gonna be a movie trailer! "A husband is someone who, after taking the trash out, gives the impression he just cleaned the whole house."

UnHypocritical and UnSinful would be GREAT new Christian Cabal movies, to depict D.C. the way things ought to be (a name of one of my 11 books). It will NEVER happen, as that's NOT their political agenda!

You see from my writings, this lawyer knows how to make distinctions! Many Christians do not. I'm separating the wheat from the chaff, morally-speaking. If one's a pastor, laymen assume goodness in every political thing they do! That decision/choice is DUMB! You need to read our website teaching on making distinctions. LOOK:

Judge Judy has a book, Don't pee on my leg and tell me it's raining. That's analysis! Rain isn't pee. It's similar, but there are differences!... yellow, hot, etc. Liars use similarities to pull off their evil craft! Lawyers dwell on small details. <https://bit.ly/2IAe82h> #ToCatchALiar (5/20/18)

Maybe THIS ticked off Teddy Bear touchdown Jakes? Time magazine touted him, when he has done NO evangelistic crusades! I opposed that fake news, tooth and nail! FALSE advertising to increase status to increase bank account. Typical of Balaam pastors! Sorry if it offends your flesh! Repent!

#TDJakes is NOT the next Billy Graham! PMA #Osteen as key "fun" MegaFest speaker? EVANGELIZE! It was a CROSS we are to carry—not a clown suit! (8/3/13)

Update #6: Abortion

NEVER have sex unless you're married and want children. That MAY be what the Christian Cabal is trying, weakly, to say(?). I will say fornication (i.e., premarital sex, like egging on the Bachelor) is a sin. And if you're married, and have fun sex, and a kid erupts, don't kill it before it's born (excepting possibly the mother's life). Is that the Cabal's message?

IF you adore abortions, you should be required to watch this primitive video!: <https://bit.ly/2FSJeOd>
Anyone who makes any decision uninformed is a FOOL! You bury your heads in the sand, and praise politicians who don't make you be informed! That's #WEAKNESS!!!

Planned Parenthood should offer these videos to their "patients!" #FullKnowledge #FullConsent
<https://bit.ly/2IghwAC> <https://bit.ly/2KqppqL> <https://bit.ly/2NaETvz> JUST like Christian Cabal movies
I said WON'T be made, this WON'T be done, either! People are SCARED of morality and education!
That's #WEAKNESS

I DARE an abortion-loving woman to use a pistol to shoot her baby, to save the abortion cost! You WON'T, because you are SELFISH! You don't mind letting a doctor do that, so long as YOU don't receive the end of your own free-willed decision! Ostriches keep their heads in the sand! Sin.

#misheardlyricsandquotes Ask not what you can do for your country; ask presidential candidates what they can do for you.

God's words to me, verbatim, to run for a specific office, in our Christians for Trump free book, <https://bit.ly/2OZF2Rb>, page 499 to the chapter's end.

Samantha Bee showed a video where political strategists devised issues to bring out the conservative base, in the late 70's. It was not from reading their entire Bible that they concluded on identifying gays and abortion as their go-to issues! (2/26/17)

Samantha Bee has an EXCELLENT video of James Robison basically demonizing Democrats as all perverts and sleaze balls. I wish I could find it on YouTube. (5/18/17)

It ALL goes back to Samantha Bee's piece! OLDER white pastors' political agenda led to Chump. Jesus was NOT for Trump or Hillary, in my opinion. (5/18/17)

From Reagan's day, Samantha Bee documented it was political STRATEGY to find issues that would HOOK Christians to the GOP, and life became issue number one. (7/15/17)

II Samuel 12:1-7 YOU are the man, @jackngraham, and I DON'T mean it in the sense of "you the man," but in this biblical context meaning! (Num. 32:23)

HERE's the paraphrased quote from Sam B's video on her often vulgar but usually funny show... I'm sick and tired of hearing about the radicals, perverts, liberals, leftists and Communists; it's time for the church to come out of the closet. –James Robison

I LOVE the headline of this Christians article! #SilentSheep POSING as shepherd-leaders! #Crickets How the Christian Right Became a Political Force (“Too Few Pastors Spoke Up. It's the Real Reason We're in This Mess Today”) <https://bit.ly/2y4JEhl>

Sounds JUST LIKE @revjamesrobison demonizing Democrats for GOP votes, decades ago, as Samantha Bee documented, and we reposted (all in Jesus' holy name?). Slandering and riling up idiots through fear and hatred is WWJD, in modern GOP politics? Not before God, who they've abandoned in the process!

VERY odd! A tweet about Mr. Graham's veteran friend, and even my comment on the same is now unfindable; probably just my lack of Twitter research skills, but I'll find out for sure, by further investigation. I'll retweet what was said, by Mr. Lee, in the next post:

Hollywood hates VP Pence, the abortionists hate him, the pornographers hate him, liberals hate him, the anti-gun people hate him and now some of the #SBC18 crowd shows their disdain for him. Shameful. – Tim Lee (you ought to compare statistics on whether Christians engage these actions less!)

The LGBTQ community should use this exact tweet and Bible verse against gay-hating Christian activists who only think homosexuality is an abomination to God, when they meet the criteria of this Proverbs verse!...

[Private account:] Dear #sbc18, Trump has bragged about sexual assault and the VP dismissed it as “locker room talk”. Trump has defended white supremacy and said racist things and Pence has justified it all. Giving Pence platform to affirm your morality should be received as an indictment not a gift. ‘He who justifies the wicked and he who condemns the righteous are both alike an abomination to the Lord.’ (Proverbs 17)

I was living life, yesterday, when a Christian cruise ship ad appeared on the radio, and I realized because NO ONE, to speak of, does evangelism or discipling, we've made our homes in this world. Live it up like there's no tomorrow. READ the book of Acts. Christians were OPPOSITE, in SO many ways. Smarter people!

They don't care! Can he preach and bring in the paying crowds is ALL they care about, as with the guy raking in the cash. NOT all mega pastors are evil/this way. Rick Warren is a stellar rich minister. Osteen is a heretic, as far as I'm concerned, as he waters down and cherry picks his PMA sermons! I took a reproving sign to his church, years ago.

I took protest signs to his dad's church in the late 80's or early 90's. Who cares about all this stuff? Business as usual pays the bills, and laymen want a check box that they attended, and pastors want a check box that they gave. A mutually UN-prioritized churchianity, as our website button, Will You Live Forever? details. My deacon buddy at SBC Houston showed me how high on the hog he was living, as a staffer, three doors down on Doliver Drive.

THIS mega pastor's WIFE had to do the tough task of TRYING to put me in my wrongly supposed biblical place, as I had argued with him online about top priorities, and he acted like the '5/10/13' problem didn't exist, and 'EDBS' priorities were done well in America. Our entire chat is in our 'CFT' free book! Bruce Frank; Biltmore Baptist's WIFE.

How To Spot A Heresy Hunter <https://bit.ly/2v9comw> Excellent post by my very wise wife! (6//15)

Bruce Frank @BruceFrank1; Replying to @lorifrank1: "@lorifrank1: How To Spot A Heresy Hunter: New blog about mercenary bloggers. <http://lifenotes.lifelettercafe.com/?p=14037> ""// #bam good word (6/15/15)

About two years later, when I retweeted that conversation, here, he DM'd me and said "that was years ago!," as his excuse why I shouldn't still be revealing these matters. NO 'I was wrong,' apology, or repentance. You do NOT know the egos of many mega pastors. It's biblically DIS-qualifying, but laymen don't care.

#BamBam! WHO was that, two years later, that never apologized, but said it's old history, and water under the bridge, by Twitter DM? @BruceFrank1 You're now FULLY exposed in our FREE website book. (Eph. 5:11) EVERY word of our online conversation is there, if you forgot any details, "sir!"

His wife mocked my website's 'Open Letter,' called it 'pseudo angst,' and said I was a 'heresy hunter,' because mega pastors too often are too rich and prideful to ensure every lost soul within walking distance of their uncommanded building programs hear the Gospel, by go and tell, vs. come and hear!

Come and pay up!: Am I the ONLY person in America who notices MANY pastors MAINLY care that and obey two Bible verses?... Mal. 3:10 and Heb. 10:25. ALL else is secondary to them! (5/1/16)

EVEN Criswell College (legally related, in history, to First Baptist Dallas, where @robertjeffress was promised it all by his predecessor, on local ABC interview) blocked me, even to this day, because I posted this needed message: Christians are NOT all prioritized truth seekers!

If you EVER say things about mega church pastor salaries, or unbiblical tithes, uncommanded buildings, lack of full nearby evangelism, substituting sermons for discipling, or needing to be taxed, in some cases, for operating a religious business, you engender enemies. We had our share of those in 2014, too.

ASK several ex-Southern Baptist Convention presidents, who are Jack's buddies, probably Johnny Hunt and Steve Gaines, among them. ASK! Those people's fame doesn't impress me. They just happen to have been part of this story, and the media needs sources to investigate. I just gave you LEADS. I don't care about such nonsense, as the SBC is congregational—NOT corporate (i.e., local church autonomy).

RWW News: MyPillow's Mike Lindell: Says Trump 'Was Chosen by God'
<https://youtu.be/cmqXLOe92rs> via @YouTube

Here's the fool @prestonwood touted at their men's conference, saying God anointed Chump, just as Chump has said. "great pillows; I actually use them, believe it or not." <https://bit.ly/2Uualso> The MAIN Cabal female is married to the second speaker, @theJonathanCain More subtle politics.

Then they had this old "player," who praised Chump. <https://nyp.st/2UBoRP8> The Cabal's trying to be more subtle, but OLD dogs aren't doing many new tricks! <https://bit.ly/2KqJGH> All in Jesus's "church?" ANATHEMA.

P.S.: Sorry, Jack, that the truth had to be told, but it's the truth, and I say as I'm led. I'm sure you well know by now, when He speaks, I write, and whoever gets in the way is not my primary concern, but doing as I'm told. I did warn you many times not to go down that path! Back to bed! Zzz.

Update #7: Badness of Bans

As is typical, when I think the Lord's through speaking, I shut down my laptop and head up the stairs, another stream of thoughts arrive. Let's address abortion—again: This is NOT 1950! People who were of age way back then may still recall when abortions were illegal, and much less in numbers.

That was eons ago, to MOST of us (which, by definition, is a MAJORITY). Women have become accustomed to a legal right to terminate pregnancies, at will, for these last 43 years or so. That momentum is NOT 'gonna be turned back by mere immoral court stacking antics! People—men included—will rise up to demand that "freedom" not be taken away. It's a cultural habit, well established, now. I have never said it's a good or moral one.

Even if Texas were to decide to ban abortions, were Roe overturned, many women in Texas would still seek one. Plus, there's a legitimate equal protection under the law cause of action to be had to allow blue states a right red states are denied, which could be deemed fundamental.

You non-lawyers may find this legalese, but it's a quite profound hurdle to overcome! It's SO easy for the conservative to say travel elsewhere to do the dirty deed! Before one did, there are doctor visits, and other expenses, and physical traumas often needing treating, and those will be treated in state. It's only when the decision to kill has been made, that travel burdens would ensue. That would NOT be an equal burden, depending on how far the nearest kill at will state was from the pregnant woman.

And many unwantedly pregnant women are YOUNG, meaning they are usually not that well-endowed with cash. They could easily have a court claim that a state neighboring a kill at will state has a much easier time accessing the procedure.

And what about red, ban the plan states, concerning rape and incest? HOW does a doctor decide what caused the problem, if those states' legislatures pen in exceptions to a ban to the plan? Mother's life?

Will State Sam (Uncle Sam's little brother) tell a family she must die? THESE are the questions MEN who love to rile up GOP votes through fear and hatred and division and holier than thou hypocrisy (since Christians abort about as much as others) FAIL to address, because their plans are half-baked, and NOT fully thought out.

THEY DON'T CARE! It's easy, low-hanging fruit to rile up religious people to clamor against the evils of killing a baby in the womb! Like baseball and apple pie, WHO with any conscience thinks that's a great idea?

And what of the back alley coat hanger abortions that would surely be a temptation, with the time away and costs of traveling to a kill at will state? SURELY this band of merry WASP rilers (not Rott-weilers) has thought of that, as they're usually degreed ministers, right? 100 percent WRONG!

The chances of a sterile coat hanger, and especially aiming precisely, where tissue of the woman is not torn are negligibly minute, if you simply consider the area in which they are to work, and their angle of sight. THEY DON'T CARE! Those considerations do NOT rile up DUMB (meaning people who choose NOT to consider these consequences and questions) voters, by verbal images of the atrocity of abortion, and the horrors of the ~60K total number.

Easy pickings, when you face a dunce of a man YOU elected getting reelected! You know the sheep won't care or think of these matters, because YOU keep them dumbed-down, through rhetoric, so you can muck it up with GOP muckity mucks, as so-called saviors of the party.

I speak quite harsh assessments, today, which you're NOT used to, but you better deal with it, because these are the harsh realities of the clamorings you so loudly make!

To reduce abortions, let's address another cause... belief that contraception is evil, or against God! NOTHING is more obvious to any Bible reader that God is for responsible behavior! Just because contraception didn't exist when it was written NEVER negates that fact! And the fact that it's not natural means nothing! There are moral and immoral things that are natural.

Finally, to say sex is only for family building is to say God wanted Christians to have hundreds if not thousands of kids, given this verse in that same Bible: I Cor. 7:5 (which is, again, promoting IRRESPONSIBLE beliefs and actions)!

IF I feel led to go to church this weekend, to avoid any crowd-disrupting event in the worship sanctuary, if they want to kick me out, I will come early enough to walk past the information booth, so the resident security personnel can do so without incident! (Isa. 53:7)

More stories—I tell them because you'll never know them otherwise.... I shopped churches a few years back, and one down the street knew I was coming, and opened with a monastery 3-point illustration the gist of which was we don't want anyone trying to change the good thing we have going here!

Last evening, I posted about evangelism is for EVERY Christian, because the church I'm considering retweeted someone saying if you FEEL like you're an evangelist they have training classes (an offer GUARANTEED to produce smaller attendees than is needed or could be had otherwise). That's catering to the sin nature! Evangelism is NOT if you FEEL like doing it. They'll get SO few takers; it's a disgrace to lost people's eternity!

If you read "church conflicts" at The Will You Live Forever? button, at this website, to a man I've never had anything but opposition to calls for full evangelism near one's uncommanded church! When church is a business, you don't want people poking the golden calf, by trying to get pastors to make it into God's vs. man's image!

I'm just recounting for people who WON'T read that site: Four Corners Church (now One Community), under old management, said your evangelistic zeal may indicate an emotional problem, to which I say if it's a sickness, I surely don't want what you have! He recommend me go to Pantego Bible. Heretic staff member, who should be fired.

I went to Water's Edge church, and an elder, in his office, said we share the same goal, when I pointed to a nearby house, and said 'let's go there now and see if the residents are saved.' He said, 'in the sovereignty of God our paths will cross.' No, in the freedom of your will you choose to be sinfully unevangelistic!

We took Go Evangelize signs (my sons and I) to Cottonwood Creek Baptist, and after a cop questioned us (lawyers know our rights and responsibilities), he blessed our efforts, and his lights, and blocking the left-most lane got even more attention to the signs, by passers-by!

When Venga and I went to Toyota Stadium with signs, a street control cop gave us a thumb's up. When I protested Ed Young Jr's French Lear jet, and took a Go Evangelize sign, two security guards came out and phoned the cop who said you need a permit. I walked SO SLOW back to my car, all his crowd saw the exhortation. BMW boy didn't like me there. Tough turds!

I went to one mega church pastor's office, and he hemmed and hawed, but on Easter, said we live in the richest county in Texas—we have to appeal to people wanting a better life, when life's already good. HOW ABOUT THEY COULD BE IN HELL TONIGHT, do-do? Idiots regarding evangelism.

I went to a college friend's mega church, and he said, 'Jim, you don't know what it's like being a pastor.' 1. I've been one. 2. If you did it God's way, you would be joyously at peace! He was worried a new mega church was taking his members. #SheepStealing Happens all the time, and mega's don't care, often—that's Capitalism!

I went to a church in Prosper, TX (FBC), and the guy thought I was down-mouthing my own church by simply stating facts about what had happened there (ban and contract). There is a collegial collusion to oppose anyone with a message to get your church prioritized, because we're not here just for fun and money-making, fame and easier work!

I went person-to-person evangelizing with pastor Joe Wall (then of Cypress Bible, Houston), and after perfect results, he said you have a gift, God has obviously blessed and called you, but "I don't want that taught here." I said, "well I don't want to continue to go here." Now he does EXACTLY that @ewmi He wouldn't go right next door!

Eight staffers in a row, at my family's church, REFUSED to go evangelize outside their building. Three of them said they couldn't, and when I saw them 30 minutes later, they were STANDING AROUND waiting for the church service to start.

I once evangelized with my son, and when a gal was saved, I handed her name to "Lumpy." Many years ago, I took Go Evangelize sign to the Dallas meeting of the National Day of Prayer, and Dave Shivers asked me, "Jim, what are you doing?" The obvious answer I had to make obvious to him was exhorting Christians going to that meeting to evangelize. May have been 2006 or 7. @dshiv_7 Remember?

SAME guy I said church's aren't evangelizing much, to which he said "crusades don't pay for themselves." They later had crusades at American Airlines Center and ATT Stadium. Their idea of evangelism is professionals reach masses, vs. Eph. 4—laymen do their jobs. Now they exhort reach ONE person! #WhosYourOne

A youth pastor from that church had dinner at our house, and after playing basketball asked, 'what's your beef with our church and pastor?' The headmaster knows all about these matters, but uses underlings to do his dirty work, so he can claim (plausible deniability) he knows nothing, or I'm making it up or cra-cra [negative labeling with no evidence method].

Last Sunday, he said @chriskouba was his personal right-hand man as an intern. HEAR the sermon from I I am! That "stumpy" (on our website) banned me from all Sunday School classes, and mocked my prophecy chart saying, 'I only know Jesus will return,' and said "image is everything."

Lumpy, at that same website, was quite offended when he preached to us we needed a new root. I said Jesus is a Christians' root, and Christians need pruning, vs. to get saved, or re-saved. Two week later, I was phoned at home to come in and get banned from all classes. That church KNOWS my phone number.

My ex-good friend used to be the Sunday School teacher of our class, and we got along great, until Jack and his henchmen schmoozed him on a trip to Arizona to watch the Rangers practice, and he phoned me (they KNOW my phone number I invited them to use, to reconcile, this morning), and said, 'I want to meet with you.' I said is it about using my website materials in Sunday School, and he LIED and said 'YES.'

When I arrived, two staffers appeared from behind nearby walls, to supposedly hear me out, but with one agenda—kick me out of all Sunday School classes. One of the two guys who made me sign a contract to never mention the church online, three months ago, prayed with me in the church's altar area, and said 'you've been faithfully attending a long time.' I said, 'you have great observation skills, to notice individuals' attendance,' to which he said, 'you don't remember meeting me before?' I didn't. He was the silent witness at the contract signing event.

Church in America is OFTEN a business, and if you tell them they aren't evangelizing much, or discipling, or having body life, or doing much to improve society, they don't like it! Jesus would turn the tables—as He did, twice, at the beginning and end of His three-year ministry! It says something that that's how it started and ended!

One mega pastor was away, but I ventured to his offices, and a gal gave me a book of his (I have ZERO interest in lesser things, like whatever it was on!), and said he'd get in touch. Does anyone think he ever did? Let me look up those two church names: LifePoint and The Village Church. TRUE stories.

"Bitterness" is what the Devil calls these recounted stories. Not righteous indignation and truth-telling! I should be angry with the sinful reactions from every big wig arrogant hot shot who tried to stop this push in 2014, that I detail in my 'Books Update,' Dirt of the Christian Cabal chapter!

NOT one single one repented, acknowledged any wrong-doing, apologized. They simply treat you like @FHunscripted gets treated by @robertjeffress... Pretend they don't exist; don't want to acknowledge them, lest our deeds get exposed.

Ministry collusion makes ALL those I mention stay silent about it! They even make people sign contracts to never mention these things. Dictatorial control freaks! They have a public persona to protect, reality be danged. Image protection. Got to appear as something; don't you dare ever say anything truthful that contradicts the reputation I've crafted... it would hurt business.

Twitter search "fire Ur pastor," and "church evangelize ASAP." This is OLD HAT. I've done it since age 19. God has led me a different way, now that, as a layman, I've done well more than my share of evangelism. (6/11/18)

I say give not one dime to any church whose pastor chooses NOT to commit to evangelize all nearby lost people, ASAP. Do not even attend such a place! (8/27/17)

Do not give one dime to any church whose pastor is not PUBLICLY vowed to lead all members to evangelize all nearby lost people, ASAP! Give elsewhere! (1/7/15)

FIRE YOUR PASTOR IF HE WON'T LEAD YOUR CHURCH TO EVANGELIZE EVERY LOST PERSON WITHIN THREE MILES OF YOUR CHURCH BUILDING ASAP! I know you WON'T. (3/17/15)

Any church run like a business ought to be taxed as a business! FIRE any pastor who WON'T publicly commit to lead members to evangelize ALL nearby lost people, ASAP! (2/19/17)

I BEG someone to put a billboard in every major city, which says: May God judge every pastor who won't commit to evangelize all nearby lost people, ASAP! (9/8/16)

Churchianity shames and guilts Christians over an IN-applicable Jewish theocratic tax (the 10 percent 'tithes'), and you've got to ask yourself, WHY? Fund the uncommanded full-time salaries and uncommanded buildings with the uncommanded tithe, for unprioritized church one hour/week, vs. an empowered 24/7 walk with Jesus. (7/4/18)

And pastors would DIE before they'd stretch paying members to obey God and reach more than one person in a year, lest they leave the church (i.e., uncommanded tithe lost). NO urgency at all, though their Bible teaches urgency! The Great Commission is a JOKE to them, NOT to be taken literally; Hell's no big deal. TRUTH. (1/23/19)

And with their churches demanding an UNcommanded 10 percent "tithe" of their gross income, NO WONDER they want no more taken out of their paycheck, by government! Non-church-goers do NOT have this demand. And the MOST amazing thing is political conservatives ALL aspire to be rich, even though God NEVER promised that for Christians.

...Sermons aren't the product, uncommanded church buildings aren't brick and mortar religious retail shops, church-goers aren't customers, and the 10 percent tithe is not God's cost for services rendered, adherents to churchianity and church as a business! There are people needing Jesus...

SBC Houston rich lawyer recruiting for church membership (TITHE), via Hawaii condo, a deacon told me of: Why would any pastor favor a rich person? Bigger quantity uncommanded "tithe." Less work for the same amount of budget being covered; Church as a business! (7/14/17)

I was once interviewed for a top 10 USA church evangelism minister job, and I jokingly asked if they wanted to build a 6 Flags on their campus? The second in command said that's not a bad idea. (2/7/19)

As a JOKE I told their second in command they ought to consider a 6 Flags over Second Baptist, Houston, and he said, 'you know, that's not a bad idea!' ~1998 (6/25/17)

Did the second in command there tell ME 6 Flags over SBC "isn't a bad idea?" YES, in a job interview where a feigned "hiring freeze" was used to move me on. (11/11/14)

Asked why I left SBC, pastor Doug Page was told unbiblical methods, and emphasis on money. His reply: It works, and black churches do it (i.e., the Joash Box). (5/18/13)

I heard "it works" excuse for using the Joash box: Publicly parading in front of the crowd in churches, before, used by a white church mimicking a black church. It works for getting money, by pressure, contrary to in private, so the left hand doesn't know what the right hand is doing (Mt. 7); It works for what end? (12/6/18)

The RESPECTED John Bisagno DID heed our letter request to have laymen give testimony of their evangelism, to prove they did it, at FBC, Katy, TX, as their interim! (6/25/17)

How about the Indian pastor just across McDermott from my neighborhood? He warned me NOT to "name names" on my spiritual website. I did. How about the deacon's email that praises my commitment to evangelism, in 2010, and another who says you better move on—they'll never change? They changed! (12/8/17)

What about "Lumpy," on our website (probably deleted now, but when I renew it)? When the GOOD second in command celebrated 15th church anniversary, after warring against me for awhile after he left, he said 'maybe they did listen to you,' then walked off, still angry I called his hand on theology. (12/8/17)

@JoelOsteen CANT make up for DECADES of watered-down sermons, but IF with @NikWallenda in the windy city, on TV, tell viewers CLEARLY how to be saved! (10/24/14)

No one who is in the act of DOING evangelism will EVER see any of our signs, like Evangelism Explosion, and @SWBTS's Second Mile; ONLY encouragement. I Am Second was for Norm, primarily...

Interstate Battery's head who rejected a call to fund a John 3:16 billboard. (11/1/14)

READ what the number one rated Christian radio station executive said to me when I asked him to promote evangelism on the air, at our 'church conflicts' section at The Will You Live Forever? button, at this website. This fight is DECADES old, as is their sinful pastoral resistance to full evangelism. I HOPE YOU don't go to Hell! (6/11/18)

This is SUCH a weird day, but these things happen when you walk with Jesus... I get my car aligned, and the manager's car is the model I experienced a science-defying miracle in. I turn on the radio, and @4kingandcountry lead singer is speaking. ASK HIM if he didn't slap my son's hand at the AA Center's @HarvestAmerica, after @jackngraham stuck his head out from behind the stage, likely showing him where I was seated (who inspired it, by God's grace alone).

Now they're saying 'you think everything is about you—it's about others, too (when I go public, after 15+ years of obscurity; hear last evening's sermon. (Mt. 11:17)! Those "others" are the Christian Cabal members my chapter names!

They've brought us Chump, the war on Christmas, favoring Israel, hating gays, and the Johnson Amendment unenforced, so now I can say anything I want, to expose them, in church, if need be! BACKFIRED! They had to gather a meeting to decide what Christian issues were!

At a repair shop, @JaySekulow of @aclj is on @GStephanopoulos, legally defending CHUMP not fulfilling his promise to release his taxes! And before that, I watch a Texas politics show, where this ilk wants a legal right for licensed professionals to serve or not serve gays, as "religious liberty."

Jesus dined with unsaved people, and not all gays are unsaved! (Lk. 5:27-32) The FOOL GOP politician said it's a Constitutional right for a business to discriminate, and praised serious/intense Christian commitment as doing so, regarding gays. ONLY concerning celebrating weddings, damn fool! Doctors, lawyers, plumbers, electricians, cosmetologists are addressed by that bogus bill!

And how are you 'gonna prove one's gay, so you don't give them a haircut? Jesus LOVED lost people, and loves saved pastors who sin by hating gays! Gender reassignment surgery I understand a Christian doctor would NOT perform, nor representing gays' legal claims regarding marriage.

It's NOT religious liberty to deny gays access to businesses, but UN-religious sinful hatred, fools I'm supposed to stay quiet about, to be a supposedly 'good Christian.' NEVER! I'll even expose MORE!

Will a Christian-owned business deny service to a divorced person, not meeting the Bible's two exceptions; a drunk, a prostitute you can't tell by her clothes? How about greed CEO's? Selfish rich GOP's? Those are all sins, you could (if you were a FOOL) deny business services to, because you oppose their sins. Will Chic-Fil-A start asking customers if they've ever had an abortion?

These pastors' businesses and reputations are at stake with what I reveal, is why they whine I'm being selfish to obey God, and do what I do and am led to! It has NOTHING to do with Him, or morality! Just as I tend to think God has made Chump have intellectual stupor, same with the Christian Cabal!

EVERY dumb matter they've coddled Chump to address has flaws they NEVER thought of, EXCEPT freeing a pastor from Turkey! They're an EMBARRASSING, unregulated and unregistered lobbying group, and if they want me to be silent, I'll be even more ferociously LOUD! Promise! I have a track record to show I do what I say, just often later than I thought, as God's timing isn't my logical timing! I can say more!

If Jesus shared weddings and wine with lost people some in culture thought were blatant sinners, if He had a carpentry business, the Cabal thinks He'd reject selling His services to them, but he'd share a coffee at Starbucks? Their stupidity stupor is fantastically obvious for all to see! Just WATCH the news!

I can't fix your plumbing, in Texas, if you fixed your plumbing to change sexes! THAT's the Christian Cabal. STICK TO WHAT YOU'RE BAD AT—doing God's EDBS priorities, pastors! I can't cut your hair, because I might get AIDS, from God's judgment, says Fall-Not-So-Wells goofy son? (NOT the good red-headed one).

TWO sins are ALL these morally dirty old (white) men care about—abortion (defund Planned Parenthood, doctor hospital access, heartbeat bill), and homosexuality (Texas "religious" liberty bill). They WORSHIP the GOP, and idolize their status of accessing fake/man's power, now, via our Sinner-In Chief! FOOLS!

The sins of hypocrisy and pride, from holier-than-thou attitudes NEVER bother Balaam false prophets for profits! The ONLY abomination in Levit. 18 they cherry pick is gays' sex—not ~17 others, among which is their violation of Pv. 17:15's abomination. EXPOSE THEM, and you're evil, to WARPED people (Eph. 5:11).

The Islamists are coming, to take over our nation, and U.S. Christians are persecuted by society. NO, you COULDN'T be persecuted, because you don't evangelize enough or cause enough societal change to even be recognized by society, "Christian" Cabal! Your political strategists are HORRIBLE at their jobs! Merry X-mas!

It's EVIL we can't force public school students to only read of our religion/Bible taught in classrooms, or force our religion to be favored in court houses, like horse-rider Roy Moore wanted! Evil, I tell you. The world's going to Hell, because it's not still 1950! Christian Cabal U.S.-centric "worldview!"

Judicial activism is EVIL by evil liberals, but it's holy when WE do it to SCOTUS, via Kavanaugh, because our intentions are pure—to end all abortions. The ends justify the means, if you're a political conservative! Mock liberals as having bleeding-heart good intentions, but never acknowledge your own sins.

Does anyone wonder why they want my ideas shut down? Wonder no more! They'll say my website and books are like the ramblings of the unibomber! Claim I'm crazy, as David Koresh or Jim Jones or Charles Manson. If you know nothing of my writings, they think they can say such things to keep you ignorant of those writings.

Say he's making all this up—he's delusional. I gave them all my skeletons in my book. Be certain they'll use them, but they'll have NO effect as I explained them first! Their goal is no one ever reads my FREE website! Slander it as conspiracy theory, rants and railings. The DEVIL'S lies in Jesus' name! SIN!

Say I'm pro-abortion; say I don't speak out on sins. They'll lie their tushes off, as that's ALL I've seen them and their poster boy in the White House do for four years! The fact that they host large churches and our on TV is supposed to prove too DUMB Christians they're leaders. Leaders do God's priorities, and don't elect 45!

SHALL I CONTINUE? I could write 20 more tweets about their evil deeds. I'll wait 'til a more opportune time, if it's ever needed! Oh, and they also get credit for pushing for lesser sentencing for drug and/or more minor offenses. We are objective, even as they think we're evil. Evil is NOT in the eye of the beholder, but the Bible.

Quote of Joel Rosenberg at my family's church, when I didn't heed the Christian Cabal's call to run in 2016!: "Maybe God won't raise up a Josiah. Judgment is coming." I don't blame speaker, but the one feeding him the lines. You got the run date wrong, not I! 20/20. (1/24/16)

Update #8: Cabal Origins & Character (Part II)

I'm awakened to recall all the evil I have seen behind the scenes, dealing with politically-active pastors. Before I return to bed, let me enumerate them: Seeking secular power ISN'T what Christians are called to (Jn. 18:36), though God can use Christians in politics.

Power idolatry is a sin, even though I've also said without power in politics, you sit on the sidelines. You also serve a valid checks-and-balances function! That statement was under the current system of no shared power, and NOT under the Pledgers concept!

There are pastors who LOVE fame, fortune, power and the media limelight. They even fancy themselves 'celebrities,' because they have large congregations. You only see them for two hours a week; anyone can have stage presence that long, but it's their life off stage that shows whether they have character or mere image!

People are expendable to this ilk of claiming Christian! You're a pawn. Same thing I saw Paul Pressler do with people for a SBC control power grab in the 1980's! They get very rich in the process, but their smiles and charm are only to use you for power-seeking ends! I would NEVER trust this type of claimer, and it's the EXACT demonic spirit that locked Russell Dilday out of his @SWBTS mansion, and bullied its way into forcing out all divergent voices (though the SBC needed an inerrancy cleansing)! They also did similar things, politically, in Reagan's days, with the Moral Majority! Fleshly egos and power idolatry, in the name of Jesus' cause.

I have been 100 percent ASTONISHED how laymen WASP's accepted Trump, with all his sins NO OTHER POLITICIAN will EVER get away with, and it only PROVES what I've alleged for two decades: Carnality/sin reigns in the white church, where churchianity reigns over Christianity!

CHARACTER/integrity/morals/ethics are ALL WE HAVE, as believers, that is to set us apart from the world. YOU ALL EMBRACED THE WORLD for worldly power, and abandoned God in the process. I believe YOU GUYS literally fulfilled prophecy's 'The Apostasy!' Am I to congratulate you on a White House win? No way, Jose. I DO find GREAT joy that your free-willed SIN hastened prophecy! There WILL be an accounting, and I would happily meet in public with the ring leader of your bunch, before cameras, and ask him to pray along with me that God would strike whichever of us lies about what happened behind the scenes to start the Christian Cabal. Consider that an open invitation, @jackngraham. We can have a second miracles contest on TV, as I will meet to pray that for myself, as you do yourself, any time!

These people LOVE accessing power symbols, and entering the Big House, and offering plumb speaking and White House assignments to people in their good graces. Their old age forces them to mouth support of better ways of doing politics, but they are NOT leaders, because until someone else leads that, they're content with the us vs. them full-time foolishness!

Political party, as my life has proven for five years, is a FOOLish man's construct! These old white men worship it; they derive their identity from being a Republican! It's VERY embarrassing and childish! We have to be the laughing stock of the world, clinging to a label, while CLAIMING Jesus in the effort at NO justice—just winning, and wanting the opponents defeat! NO MORALS! And this from men of the cloth!

I apologize to the world for this ILK of claiming Christian pastor! Their lifelong relationships with heads of big churches and organizations trumps morality, for all involved! The power of male bonding is a higher priority than either the fear of God, or the power of God!

IDIOT friends go along to get along, as they don't want to upset the apple cart, and do the right thing—or tell egoists NO! I've OFTEN said they'd vote for Hitler, or Charles Manson, if he pledged to overturn Roe (and was a republican)! They will deny it to their death bed, but supporting THIS proves my claim: <https://www.facebook.com/jim.meroney.3> A "Christian" (I use the word LIGHTLY) rewards with a vote, a man who will insult POW's, even though his little ankle pain prevented spoiled rich brat from serving?

A "Christian" will let our kids see the "leader" of our nation say famous men can grab women's crotches? A "Christian" coddles up to a man who has NEVER asked God's forgiveness for anything, and THEY give him the words "baby Christian?"

DO YOU BELIEVE OR RESPECT YOUR OWN CLAIMED RELIGION? Hardly! A "Christian" elects a serial divorcer and adulterer, as the WASP's poster boy—an arrogant, greedy, self-centered, uninformed egoist!

It can ONLY be explained prophetically! 'The Apostasy' has begun, and the Evangelical Council started it! You want to hear a congratulations from me for winning the White House off ideas you stole from me? You will NEVER hear it, because I envisioned morality and intelligence returning to our politics.

You got WORLDLY stars in your eyes, as you flutter off to your next Fox "News" gig, NEVER realizing they aren't always news, now, but propaganda! You are SO morally inconsistent, you warmly embraced my ideas of JUSTICE in politics, until your sinful impatience constantly worried I was dragging my feet to obey God's timing, because you know SO LITTLE about walking with Him! I had to teach you the past 10 years all the things most people think you came up with on your own.

YES, Jack Graham's actions and sermons, the past decade, MAINLY were influenced by The Will You Live Forever? button, at this website He is too prideful to ever credit the source, because he fears I'll get as big a head as his, or use it as empowerment, now that I'm on the other political team. Embarrassing, as I've shown that party means NOTHING to me! I'm ONLY for good policies and good politicians! I don't care if D.C. is filled with all from one party, whichever party, if they're committed to goodness.

God is NOT a Republican or a Democrat, stupid fools! He is a-political. He only says do right! If you'd quit only knowing enough of His word to preach (vs. teach) a sermon, you'd know these things! Seminary doesn't prepare you to know the word well; they give you lifelong tools. Most pastors wait all their lives to get a grasp of its full message. That's ministerial incompetence.

I have personally witnessed the most sinful of behavior from mega church pastors you know the names of, who fought me tooth-and-nail, because I insisted they prioritize God's values in ministry! The books of Jude and II Peter describe sex perverts in ministry for the money! Until 1985, that was virtually impossible, just as the Tribulation, predicated on an Israel peace deal, was humanly impossible before 1948!

No one could ever interpret those two books, correctly, as to application, as pastors were usually poor. NOT with the mega church trend! Now you have the Osteen ilk! Praised by the secular world for their "success"—a success NOT as God defines it! WHO CARES? This is America, where money talks. I could go on for days on this subject, but I'm tired, and going back to sleep. Perhaps more when I awake. YUGE problems in the American church! Sin is problem number one!

Update #9: Cabal Achievements

GLAD to learn an ex-Texas politician from my family's church has been tapped to head up empowerment zones for poorer Americans, due to Ounce's connections to Chump. They'll NEVER tell you my tweets inspired such emphasis to help the poor, or that it's to lure black votes for 2020. Christian Cabal payoffs. [White House twitter account:] At today's meeting, President Trump introduced Scott Turner as the Executive Director of the new White House Opportunity and Revitalization Council. (4/4/19)

IF the Christian Cabal does GOOD, I will be happy. Their huge motivation and motive problem is they're in reputation damage control mode! That's NOT moral sincerity! Had they NOT supported evil, their reputations, and MUCH more importantly, that of Christianity, wouldn't have been harmed!

They literally use the one-trick pony strategy of 'save the babies,' to support Chump! Hitler WOULD have been supported by them, as he HID his evils—Trump openly displayed them, as his campaign M.O.!

They LOVE to argue Hillary would have been worse. She was MORE intelligent and moral, in her campaign, and any and ALL bad policies she would have supported could have been stopped if WASPs voted all GOP's but CHUMP. I did, for that reason!

They argue getting two conservatives on SCOTUS is a gain for Christians. That's a LIE! God is for impartiality and justice, and ALL conservatism's SINS come along with that judicial activism!

They'd argue Hillary would have nominated liberals for SCOTUS. This is NOT trusting God, that if you do th e right thing, He can do all things! Instead, they supporting evil, that good may come! (Rom. 3:8) If you REALLY believe in God, you make moral decisions, even if your FLESH can rationalize NOT doing so!

The GOP majority could have blocked extreme left SCOTUS picks, and in any case, God NEVER leads Christians to support all this, to get two conservative SCOTUS picks! You NEED to READ its evidence, and I'll NEVER let Chump off the hook for all these DIS-qualifying offers concerning his qualifications!: <https://www.facebook.com/jim.meroney.3> Never!

He has NEVER repented, even though his Christian Cabal has FULL access to him. They are INCOMPETENT at spiritual counsel, as that's NOT their agenda, as MINISTERS! He has NEVER apologized to America for his campaign, just as their organizer, @jackngraham NEVER apologizes for anything I've detailed concerning myself.

He DOESN'T reconcile, uses people for personal gain, takes credit for other's work. This is NOT Christian behavior, but that's NOT their agenda! Even their number one goal of Roe's overturn wasn't thought through! I could accept state's rights on the matter, but this ilk would ban all abortions in Texas, or if they wouldn't, HOW CAN A DOCTOR PROVE rape or incest occurred? Doctors aren't prosecutors or investigators—they're surgeons!

EVERY Texas pregnant gal who wanted to abort would claim rape. Government authorities would NOT DNA test to see if their boyfriend or a stranger impregnated them, before or after the abortion! And it could become his word vs. hers, if it were the boyfriend. The mother's life would also likely be banned in Texas! Force a woman to die, to save the baby.

On at-will abortions, they'd want Texas women to travel to Colorado or New Mexico for an abortion, but Equal Protection clause causes of actions could arise, for equally-situated CO or NM women NOT having to incur those costs for that same procedure.

These "holy" men do NOT think through these things! They just want votes for the GOP, because they'd NEVER consider any Democrat worthy of WASP votes, even if they're MORE ethical than Chump, or have better ideas; all from the TRADITIONS of men, being white male WASP having to do the GOP's bidding!

These old men are in a rut of thinking from the 1950's, that all Democrats are evil, and the GOP is the party of God. EVEN as its head is SO FAR from any moral or intellectual achievement levels of any living President!

TELL ME, Christian Cabal, if any politician running for President will ever be allowed to do and say all these things in the future: <https://www.facebook.com/jim.meroney.3> It WON'T happen, because YOU lost your minds and morals over 2 or 3 SCOTUS picks, because YOU didn't LEAD, and teach God's value of JUSTICE in our politics! #Followers

You could have used your access to power to encourage morality! That's what John the REAL Baptist did! You did the opposite! Sucked up like yes men brown nosers for some chance for Christians not to be disrespected as second-hand step children in a society that has accepted that gay people usually won't go straight; a public opinion change you let happen on YOUR watch, preaching to the choir, and influencing society NONE!

Just get rich and famous, applying church growth movement tactics! And when God raised a man to teach you the EDBS priorities that have been in His Bible all these millennia, you fought and attacked him tooth-and-nail, because he RIGHTLY pointed out that NONE OF YOU have evangelized ALL lost people within walking distance of your uncommanded building, you RARELY relationally disciple many of your members, you don't even know what Body Life is (even though all Christians have gifts, and the one another's have been in Bible for two millennia), and your social ministry to bless society has been little-to-none, the past 20-30 years, ON YOUR WATCH!

That, plus required 10 percent tithe, and the false doctrine of Lordship Salvation, and now I have a VERY good idea who is going to fill the role of the Balaam false prophets in ministry for profits (of Jude and II Peter)!

No one used to understand how that ilk of fake minister would be rich and sexually immoral! Did anyone notice it's the 'celebrity' pastors who are rich and famous, that made headlines over sexual deviancy? Jim Bakker, Jimmy Swaggart, and all these chumps: <https://bit.ly/2INlyRU> There are medium- and small church pastors (especially Catholic), who do child molestation, but it seems to be more prevalent with the celebrity ministers. Adultery/affairs, maybe even porn and homosexuality. These temptations don't seem to happen as much with financially struggling ministers, as they must trust God to lead them—not rely on their bank accounts! (Pv. 11:28; Jas. 2:5)

These men NEVER reveal their total compensation, even though the laymen pay them! They often run church as a business, and admit to it (engrossed in secular management and 'leadership' books). Taxes are due for such legal entities! You can't use God as an excuse to not obey God, who said pay government its due!

And finally, preach-and-be-paid is a business plan NONE of them will abandon, even though it's NOT in Bible, as their only job description, but it brings in the crowds (money), and is easy (vs. enduring hardship), when you have the skills down pat, and EDBS takes much more effort! "The Apostasy" is here!

And finally, my interest and concern is, number one, for struggling pastors who suffer from legal sheep stealing, and the small and medium-sized churches, who can't compete with the amenities of the megas. And NOT all mega church pastors suffer all these evil intentions and deeds! If the shoe fits—it fits!

Update #10: The Christian Cabal

(Please forgive the lengthy links, as I'm NOT going to now register to use Bitly—a new requirement)

LOOK at how the #CopyCat is STILL using my middle ground ideas, and how his evil Boss is seeking him out, because they BOTH know how God worked through me. They ONLY rode my coat tails. Their arrogance won't admit it. #Sinners http://www1.cbn.com/cbnnews/politics/2019/april/israel-has-a-right-to-exist-evangelicals-help-president-trump-craft-middle-east-peace-plan ... 'wanna be's! Never 'gonna catch up!

IMPOSSIBLE for those MORONS (NOT Billy Graham's relative in the piece) to broker peace in Israel, because THEY ALONE made America biased, and Arabs have ZERO rational reason to trust or cooperate with biased "peace makers." You'll NEVER get them to the table—you caused that, @jackngraham

One exception to my statement... If CHUMP is the real Antichrist, his fake Christian adviser becomes the little prophet of Daniel, then Middle East peace COULD be brokered for 7-years. I believe CHUMP is the greatest candidate for that, and his anger in one+ year, over losing, could trigger that!

Russia and China should advise the Arab nations, then get the U.N. involved, to negotiate peace between Israel (with Chump's biased advisers) and her enemies, backed by said parties, with U.N. representatives as the neutral brokers, perhaps from historically neutral Switzerland. America can't lead, under 45!

Update #11: Churchianity vs. Christianity (Part II)

HERE's sinful church: Preach a 45 minute sermon, and you've done your main job for the week. Throw your evangelizing, discipling, counseling and social action instructing all into it, so all you do is mainly prepare for it all week, and with experience, prep times takes little time. Seminary said 40 hours to prepare.

It is indisputable that these four actions are supposed to be happening in EVERY church in the world, but RARELY do any of them happen in America! If a pastor won't even consider changing church practice to doing them, I will NOT attend, long-term:

1. LAYMEN evangelizing all nearby lost people; I do NOT mean a handful of elite warriors, who make up less than five percent of the membership, all pastor inspired and led.
2. Multiplication relational discipling, where pastor and staff lead lay leaders to know materials, then all of them choose a small group to disciple, ONLY temporarily; then those do the same to 12 or less they choose, until all the membership gets disciple, and into a daily quiet time habit, full commitment decision, using their gift(s) in ministry, and regularly evangelistic.
3. Every church member identifies their spiritual gift(s), and uses them in the worship service to DO the one another's of Scripture, edifying the body by doing their part in it, for 10 to 15 minutes of the service.
4. The church body becomes known in the community for their prayer results, and love for one another, as they serve the community solving problems and helping people.

Absent that, I have ZERO interest in ever regularly attending any church again! You can catch criticism for protesting status quo, but since 1985 (and even in seminary, earlier), I've been battling to fix these things in church, and revival isn't happening, because U.S. pastors have a preach-and-be-paid mentality/business plan. Add in if a pastor teaches Lordship Salvation or required tithing, I will NOT stay there long.

Let's address the SIN of U.S. pastors:

'I evangelize by my sermon.'

1. FEW lost people come to church, and church is to go to lost people, and all of them—not just reach a few.
2. Pastors are to be doing the work of an evangelist, and leading laymen to do the work! You doing evangelism from the pulpit is NOT laymen doing the work of ministry service!
3. Your evangelism is mainly an invitation after a non-evangelistic sermon, and if it's an evangelistic sermon, you are 95+ percent preaching to the converted, which is futile and a waste of resources, when most people outside the building need salvation! That's DUMB!

'I disciple by my sermon.'

1. Did Jesus do that? He taught crowds, but discipled 12 men.
2. Sermons are forgotten before 72 hours expire.
3. Your words are not the same as God's words direct in one-to-one relating, daily, between God and laymen.
4. Laymen don't need you to teach them, so gurus serving as chaperones, rather than ensuring all laymen walk close with Jesus and meet daily, are teaching/educating—maybe even sometimes inspiring—but NOT mentoring/discipling.

'Spiritual gifts are for Sunday School.'

1. It's age segregated, which is NOT what family is!

2. Once again, mainly the speaker uses his spiritual gift... the audience remains seat vs. pew sitters!
3. The one another's are NEVER intentionally applied.
4. To repeat, it's a room full of arms, and a dissected body, because all members aren't there, so it's NOT the body of Christ functioning as the whole local body; that's a PROBLEM!

'We do social ministry by sending money to the Cooperative Program.'

1. Money is NOT service. It funds OTHERS to do service, but it is NOT involvement of yourself in ministry.
2. NO church but Rick Warren's is known by outsiders for their significant social ministry contribution (plots of land to farm in poor nations).
3. One (of a few) exception is @FHunscripted, who gives back to his community with job fairs, free legal counsel, and trying to empower black entrepreneurs. He is an exception, just as Rick Warren is. MOST churches DABBLE just enough to be able to claim they serve society... maybe a Thanksgiving meal, or a mission trip to clean up three homes in a weekend.

This is drips and drops of water where floods are needed! It's ALWAYS 35 or less people, out of thousands of members. No one can accuse that type church of actually engaging social ministry—just a few elites, or teens on mission trips!

Here's EXACTLY what the CARNAL pastors say of me among themselves: He's SO critical and negative... that HAS to be of the Devil.

He's a hypocrite, as he's never been a pastor who did these things. He can be ignored, because NONE of my ministry peers do those four things as he describes. And apostasy continues! You now know why!

You NEVER ask the root cause. It's because preaching for 45-90 minutes a week is EASY, compared to what I laid out! And really older pastors in the career can spit out a sermon almost in their sleep, so even easier, all for BIG bucks the paying crowds NEVER learn the full details of! Nice gig! Un-nice disobedience to God.

But you're attacking "men of God." We're supposed to be untouchable (I Tim. 5:19). DO I ACCURATELY DESCRIBE YOUR CHURCH? Then shut the heck up with your theological rationalizing of SIN! You will NEVER change, but don't try to justify your practice, just keep serving satan, and pretend I never told you God's way of doing your business!

You keep laymen dumbed-down sheep to never call your hand on this corrupt business practice, as they're excused if they come and give, and do nothing else. Mutual back scratching corruption! Apostasy in America.

Finally, para-church organizations FAR surpass any evangelism or discipling you'll ever do. They're not even churches. That SHOULD shame and embarrass you, but it DOESN'T, because the money's too good and easy to collect!

Now he's just too critical, so we can dismiss his BIBLICAL statements, because we weren't 'gonna do them anyway!

Update #12: Churchianity's Effects

Let's discuss the EFFECTS of churchianity's preach-and-be-paid and church as a business philosophies. Laodicea! Materially rich, spiritually bankrupt. Estimates vary, but Christian carnality is a very high percent of church goers. You cannot see it, and suits and smiles and dresses cover its appearance, as with nice drivers in the parking lots. MAN LOOKS ON THE OUTSIDE BUT GOD SEES THE HEART!

If any Christian isn't daily meeting with God, he's NOT getting his daily spiritual bread, and his sanctification is STARVING and famished. He's also NOT a disciple, as following requires daily cross carrying.

So 81 percent of WASPs can vote for the most sinful political campaign in modern history, and BRAG that they're "Christians" who love CHUMP. Am I the ONLY person in America who sees the brash hypocrisy of that deception? I'm starting to think pastors and laymen are so apostate, no one else sees any problem there!

NON-CHRISTIANS have ZERO rational reason to listen to U.S. Christians who voted for Trump! ZERO! You could NOT have chosen worse, out of 16 others with more integrity! I KNOW your satan-led "Christian" hearts WANT to forget the details, and blame my type as unforgiving or holding grudges, but YOU-YOU-YOU chose to support sin!

Blatant sin, all blasphemously in Jesus' name! You are guilty before God, and you don't even know it. You strain at a gnat to find positive things to exclusively fixate on, because the elephant in the room is so largely staring you down, ready to crush you with the weight of all his sins YOU voted to cheer and celebrate.

Don't EVER use the word 'repentance' to any U.S. non-Christian, because you OBVIOUSLY don't think it's important for CHUMP to do, or even to ask God's forgiveness for any of his multitude of sins, for you to brandish him a 'baby Christian,' to get GOP votes.

NON-CHRISTIANS are NOT as stupid as you think, and Christians are OFTEN dumb for Jesus, which is an absolutely disgraceful way to live! Christians are to be fools for Christ, which means they're so committed that others consider their sacrifices foolish—they are NOT to be foolish in their thinking! (I Cor. 4:10, 14:20).

WILL YOU EVER HEAR A SERMON LIKE THIS EVENING'S? Never. Needed, but NO. Yet some pious, sanctimonious, holier-than-thou types DARE to publicly pray for revival, when God's people have ZERO intention of EVER having biblical church, because their pastors have ZERO such intention. Status quo pays the bills in Laodicea. I have NO hope for you missing judgment, U.S. Christians!

DRY BONES! That is the only phrase resounding in my head. II Chron. 7:14 does NOT say just pray, just a few of you, and just a few times, then give up! PREACH THAT, PREACHERS!

Uncommanded buildings, uncommanded tithe, uncommanded pastor salary, and uncommanded Lordship/full life's surrender commitment, in order to receive a free, awesome gift of eternity. And some wonder why the church in America is so dead. Wonder no more! #Laodicea. U.S.A.! (written at 1am), and it's NOT insomnia!

If you are NOT a Christian, let me PLEASE describe for you EXACTLY how the church in America NOT behaving as the church of the Bible directly impacts your life in negative ways: IF Christians do NOT do full evangelism, you may never hear how to go to Heaven, in which case you'll go to Hell! That means when your body dies, and gets buried six feet under, after a funeral, all along you were INSTANTLY in flames, when your last breath was expelled.

You will be there for forever—for eternity—for days without end. It's a dark, lonely place, even though most people are there, and the fire flames never melt your new body's skin/covering, as it is made to feel it fully, yet never end or desensitize or melt.

There's no water there. No fan or air conditioner. No partying going on (vs. lyrics I'd rather die with the sinners than live with the saints, the sinners are much more fun; Billy Joel). That's your first reason for being HARMED by Christians NOT obeying God in how church is to be done.

When they don't act like Jesus, you easily think you're not missing out on anything good, remaining NOT a Christian. You miss eternal rewards, blessings in this life, and Heaven, all because you rightly looked around and observed people naming Christ's name, not behaving much different from you! ACCURATE observation, and a large problem!

You figure what they believe in must not mean much to them, as they act like you do, and you don't read their holy book, or attend their churches, and the results are about the same! That's a LOGICAL conclusion!

And when they don't have Body Life, if you ever got lured by advertising or a tug from a friend to attend, you'd RIGHTLY think the only spiritual gifts that exist were sitting, shaking hands, flashing a smile or singing off key! That's a CORRECT observation that that's about the only things you see laymen do in church—though NONE of those are biblical spiritual gifts.

And when Christians aren't leaders in social change and societal improvement, NO WONDER Don Henley penned words about people singing about the hereafter, yet living like there's no tomorrow, <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=8bOJiTskr6w> ...

Christians in America have a reputation for their faith making them stupid, and science haters. That is WELL-deserved criticism. Jesus taught them to love God with all their minds. They disobey that injunction! I have nothing more. Soak that into your skulls, and you can see why people saying GOP values are NOT 100 percent God's values are ACCURATE, yet the con job continues!

Update #13: Churchianity vs. Christianity (Part III)

Money idolatry, in the name of Jesus! LOOK at the comparatively ignorant and simple people in the book of Acts! (Ac. 2, 4) Their church was exciting, attractive, awesome, miraculous and something nothing like today's church! Those people experienced miracles! They had laymen committed to evangelism, and give up their lives for a cause, when it was required.

Our only sacrifice is an hour out of our self-filled lives on Sundays! Homework: READ the entire book of Acts. List their traits. You will see VERY few corollaries in modern church! LOOK how THEY dealt with politicians. NOT like WASPs did in 2016! John the Baptist, in the Gospels, is what they SHOULD have behaved like, but in prophecy, we are in the Laodicean period, so Christians are mainly lukewarm, with God puking at their lifestyles! (Rev. 3).

Those people in Acts had lives you and I would want to emulate. Today, not so much! Chase money, and say Praise the Lord. EVEN "secular" songs understand things Christians don't, like: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ZW8TrYhBxk> ...

WASP Christians are known by minority raced believers for their wealth, mainly, and hatred of abortion and homosexuality. That's NOT emphases you see much of IF you ever read the New Testament. It's a grand illusion, Christians in America race after, being practicing atheists living like spiritual realities are lies!

Money is God! You can't serve Him and money, so they choose it and mouth God! LOOK how much time Christians in Acts spent doing evangelism and discipling, compared to today. It's near polar opposites! U.S. Christendom is NOT biblical Christianity, but Capitalizing on Christ, commercialization and churchianity!

The difference is that EDBS priorities are NOT taken seriously! I've said these old hat things since 2006, at The Will You Live Forever? button, at this website. READ it! My messages NEVER change, they just get rehashed wording ever so often.

But CHUMP flatters and kisses up to egoistic pastors, enamored by his charm and money (as they cherish it, too), who praises them as so very important in our society. He knows NOTHING of the Christian faith! He worships Self, and uses these FOOLS for votes, blowing smoke where the sun don't shine, and they eat it up!

They'll follow that pied piper all the way to Hell, for power idolatry, as they IGNORE and slander the one who's REALLY vs. fakely of their membership, who tells them what they NEED to hear—the truth, rather than lies that they're doing a great job for God, disobeying His church description.

Truthfully, I don't care/it doesn't bother me, because I've read the last chapter. They, apparently haven't, as it doesn't look good for them! NO FEAR OF GOD BEFORE THEIR EYES! (Judg. 21:25) NO standards, just do church the way you see other pastors do it, like dogs smelling butts, to see what to do!

Why evil enemies win sometimes: 1. It's temporary; 2. It allows them to get big heads, so they fall; 3. It makes you stronger; 4. The devil wins some battles, but never any wars (as the god vs. God of this world); 5. To make their sure judgment more justified before men.

Forty years, men! In 1979 I know how U.S. Christianity was. I LIVED full evangelism—to a home, in Waco! I saw and experienced discipling (Campus Crusade and The Navigators). I engaged in Body Life (Highland Baptist), and many ministries did UN-profitable service to their communities. It's NOT the same, today.

BACKWARDS. Regression. Backsliding. Apostasy. Falling away. Ichabod/Holy Spirit left. Carnality, worldliness, Luke warmness, Laodicea, all for fame, fortune and fun! Song, silver and sermon for bodies, buildings and bucks. Churchianity and church as a business Jesus would turn the tables on! I pray He does—SOON.

Have a nightmare of a sleep, tonight, until you come to your senses, and accept what biblical church IS! It's NOT up to your opinion, or peer review, or seminary ministry models. It's all spelled out in that book you know so poorly. You worship money, which is why you practice church like mammon is your god. Come and hear/attraction, seeker sensitive, poll your parishioners, felt need ministry, fads and flavors of the month; entertainment (draw that crowd), all as God weeps. Good night—but not very good, if you fill that role of the Balaam preacher in America!

Update #14: Abortion (Part II)

AMAZING interview!: A must watch interview with former Planned Parenthood, our nation's largest abortion provider, facility director, @AbbyJohnson and @glennbeck <https://bit.ly/2VcEeKH>

Sixty percent of women who have abortions identify themselves as Christians. —Abby Johnson; Physician, heal thyself, Christian Cabal! Planned Parenthood trains its staff to sell abortions, as there's no money for them in keeping the pregnancy or adoptions!

Planned Parenthood enters the public education system so girls they get on contraception sure to fail won't go to their parents, but to rubber stamp judges who will approve the abortion. —Abby Johnson (paraphrased) Abortion is big business.

Seeing Abortion | Word on Fire <https://shar.es/am9wK4> via @BishopBarron

[Private account:] Abortion is painful, gory, ugly, indecent, and immoral. It makes women the guarantors of men's sexual liberation, by turning women into the murderers of their own children. @PPFA profits hugely by calling it a liberation and "healthcare." Bring a friend to see @UnplannedMovie

[Private account:] "I had just buried my daughter... and here someone came to me and offered me money to kill their son or daughter and I said, 'yes'." Watch how former abortionist, Dr. Levatino and his wife explain their story of becoming pro-life. @UnplannedMovie

For abortion and gay marriage the religious right will IGNORE GOP's errors of idolizing riches and letting the poor suffer, IF charity can't help enough. (10/16/14)

#UnplannedTheMovie I also said IF the public saw video of abortions, gay sex and the death penalty, they'd be fully informed before they make their position decisions! TRUTH. (2/23/15)

#UnplannedTheMovie Anti-abortionists NEED to converse with pregnant women considering it, and pro-abortionists NEED to see a video of what that procedure is and does! DO it! (1/27/15)

By CHERRY PICKING the morals of abortion and gay marriage, the WASP church has become ~irrelevant. IF she were fully biblical, she would be fully relevant. (1/6/15)

Conservatism brings in religion on abortion and homosexuality, but not greed or poverty. Cherry picking morals to cater to the religious right. (11/29/14)

#UnplannedTheMovie: Embryo heart beat in 1.5 months, feels pain in 2 months; IF you're personally pro-abortion, watch three videos called "Silent Scream," on YouTube! (1/18/15)

Government has a legitimate safety interest in protecting against back alley abortions, but policy should ALSO discourage abortions' numbers! Cf.: John Kerry's quote. (12/16/14)

If mainstream @DNC accepted personal positions against most abortions, and gay marriage as a state's rights issue, I could consider many of their beliefs. (12/11/14)

Any Christian who clamors against abortion, but does not more so evangelize, is a HYPOCRITE, as at least poor embryos go to Heaven! #Republicans (6/17/18)

I personally understand why a woman might abort, though a BIG sin, especially for contraception. You CAN'T have back alley unsafe abortions by a national ban! (10/16/14)

I've said before, the WASP church is in bed with the world on tax rebates for the rich, and downing Welfare, using abortion and gay marriage as their tie to God. There are NO holy parties. (11/13/14)

Statistics show Christian Millennials are less interested in abortion and gay marriage, as political issues for helping the poor, and solving problems, etc., @GOP. (11/22/14)

There goes that consistent religious righter going conservatism's ox, again. They're supposed to tow party line for abortion and gay marriage. MOST do! (1/15/15)

There IS no party of God in America. Dems are for the poor and against greed, and the GOP is anti-homosexuality and abortions. There is NO moral monopoly for either! (11/11/14)

We're ONLY talking about abortion (in Texas) and gay marriage, NOW, due to politics! WHERE were these conversations before 2016 came into focus? HYPOCRISY sin! (1/27/15)

IF you've seen the movie, 'Unplanned,' a suction/vacuum pulls an arm off a baby, who was sleeping peacefully, then he starts fighting for his life, in the womb, until all parts fall into a metal container—all viewed by a worker via ultrasound, as her boss does the procedure.

I know the Christian Cabal WELL! They justify ALL this to stop that:

<https://www.facebook.com/jim.meroney.3/posts/1683401871972299> ... Like the Pharisees of old, they LOVE the praiseful greetings in the public places of "leader," but they FOLLOWED, and NEVER positively influenced the will of the GOP people! Never! There were 16 others; granted, more boring, but if the Christian Cabal wanted to engage judicial activism to overturn Roe, there were SEVERAL more intelligent and integrous people running, IF that group had ANY power to sway 81 percent of WASPS.

Instead, he hopped like a frog from Jeb to Cruz to CHUMP! If anyone calls them 'leaders,' you are wrong, even as they'll NEVER correct you for violating this verse: Mt. 23:10. In fact, they engage the sin of stealing ideas from others you now know well!

And we live in a democracy. They may dream of Roe's overturn, for red states, but I've already detailed all the problems with a ban on the horrific, gruesome deed!

'Anything for the babies' is their mantra. Like forsaking morals, core GOP beliefs, reputation, and leadership claims, as followers of group think sheep mentality of the herd! You wouldn't believe their LACK of private integrity I have witnessed multiple times! It matters! Public shows are shows.

My mom, before she committed legal suicide, used to be able to fake happy for the two hours we'd visit her. I'd venture anyone can fake morality for a time, if a camera's in their face. I am NOT saying all Cabal members lack integrity, but READ 'Dirt on the Christian Cabal' chapter at this website's "Books Update" button, and you will LEARN facts unbecoming of a minister of God.

Hypocrisy is a SIN. Do I have to PROVE that to you from Scripture? LOOK at what James Dobson said in 1998: <https://thewayofimprovement.com/2016/06/25/james-dobson-on-the-character-of-the-president-of-the-united-states/> ... The PUBLIC needs to be asking him, what changed? The Cabal's getting off scot free.

'Re-written rules by society because the economy's good; it's just sex-cheating on your wife is no great significance; rationalizing; it's his personal life; he was lying.' MORALITY principles NEVER change, but Mr. @DrJamesCDobson changed on what morals mean to him, in politicians! WHY? Because HIS party's man, and HIS one-trick pony issue was front and center with SCOTUS picks at stake (i.e., abortion).

YET, the sheep thinking laymen go along with this flip flop, morally, and candidate wise. That's NOT leading, or being Christ-obeying laymen, because God's standard for politicians DOESN'T change! Ex. 18:21.

NO Cabal member exhorted Christian laymen they better not go along to get along with sinful far right conservatives who supported his antics! NOW they ACT like they hold the cards with the power to steer the WASP vote. WHY DID YOU TOLERATE TRUMP, if @OSHawkins preached 'you have what you tolerate?'

Were NONE of the other 16 GOP's unwilling to agree to stack SCOTUS conservative? You NEED to know, @revjamesrobison @jackngraham @drjamescdobson @robertjeffress @askLUChancellor and @Franklin_Graham colluded in private to bring you The Chump! That's NOT leadership!

It's EASY to say, viewing an abortion, 'that's WRONG!' It's MUCH harder to deal with the law, when SCOTUS stated viability is the Constitutional test, and third trimester is the cutoff point! It's also LAWYERS who know the Equal Protection clause of the same document comes into play when U.S. women get different rights and privileges deemed important.

And even if Roe ever changed to a state's rights matter, rape, incest and the mother's life, babies are still sucked out limb by limb, so this bunch would, to be consistent, say those victims must give birth, as the fetus is innocent! That means they'd force red state women to use coat hangers, or pay travel expenses that VARY (unequal treatment), where some blue states are further away from a red state woman than other red state women closer proximated to red states.

These REAL issues mean NOTHING to political activists! Just stop pulling babies apart in the womb! I 100 percent agree we MUST get less babies dismembered, and the ideal is zero. That does NOT mean the three exceptions get banned! It also does not mean viability means nothing (smart lawyers know well more than untrained pastors) or third trimester barriers.

And since a woman CAN'T KNOW if they're pregnant for one month after sex, these Christian Taliban members (as a Twitter friend called them) would say they CAN'T end that baby's growth, unless they take Plan B before the sp_rm enters the egg (and some of them even see that as evil).

The desire to stop dismembering babies that feel the sucking power is GOOD. The Cabal's legal thinking, politicizing, and LACK of leadership in having any smarter and more moral GOP be President is BAD! But SHEEP will say they are faith heroes, for getting Christian values influencing politicians. That's a STUPID claim, reinforcing the stereotype that Christians don't think, just feel, based on irrational beliefs. That's success?

I know these men like the back of my hand; even better—I never look at the back of my hand. They will say you're unforgiving, you don't let things go; move on (as in the Clinton days). Here's my response before they FOOLishly say that:

Trump NEVER repented, which these Cabal people say is required to be saved. They'll even then tell him to apologize for all those sins I listed, in a cursory public statement of Clintonian-like 'things were done that could have been done better,' or the like.

And this Cabal will tell laymen sheep to accept that. Those behaviors were DIS-qualifying! His presidency is morally tainted and invalidated by sins the Cabal SUPPORTED! You can't become qualified later. He was not qualified to earn the job. He has proven his incompetence for two+ years!

The lack of intelligence and integrity caused that—NOT angry Democrats! YOU caused that, Christian Cabal, because you are hypocrites, whose BFF said 'you have what you tolerate.' You will NEVER tolerate all his behaviors in any other politician, and will quickly criticize it in Democrats, if they ever act like that.

YOU MEN NEVER OWN ANY OF YOUR SINS! You insulate yourself from criticism by rallying the troops and circling the wagons over Roe. ADDRESS ALL MY LEGAL CONCERNS, without hiring a lawyer to help you respond. You can't! You won't try! You want GOP votes, and you want baby dismemberment ended, no matter how.

Why don't you go shoot abortion doctors? Pregnant women at Planned Parenthood, avoiding her stomach area? Because somewhere in your puny minds you DO have boundaries for how far you'll go to end dismemberment!

Go tackle a doctor or pregnant woman! You WON'T! Your sheeple yell at attendees, 'baby killers,' thinking GUILT is how God convicts, vs. love and power. It's because you have ZERO relationships with people who get pregnant, or skills at convincing them to have safe sex! Just preach and be paid! NO relationship building, via laymen (Eph. 4), and no convincing on abortion preventing!

Once a woman is pregnant, it's REAL hard to convince her what to do! Too late, in many cases. So you want to force her options down to one: deliver the child. Your self-initiated "leader" role should be out there before FoxNews TV cameras saying have safe sex, use contraception, use Plan B within three days, if you could get pregnant, and not want that! I hear CRICKETS! That's what leadership would do!

You should be lobbying CHUMP for perfect contraception; manufacturers funded, in part, by government. That's leadership! Some of you do offer free sonograms, which do dissuade some (a minority), which is good, and success, but you are NOT pushing your poster boy CHUMP to provide that to all women across America, because you want abortion bans!

You're NOT dealing with how to prevent the crisis pregnancy, or how to avoid abortions by Plan B within three days of sex. You're NOT incentivizing women to pay for her costs to make it to child birth. You just want a Draconian club to beat women over the head with, of guilt, fear, shame, and offering no out but adoption! You are not leaders, because of these WEAK political choices.

Sex education, motivation/convincing, maybe incentivizing/money, perfect contraception, and Plan B before day three ends, and teaching women to decide if they want to be moms well before they have sex. THIS is leadership!

Require women to take contraception if they may consider sex, or be raped? This is NOT a thought you even think of, because it's not your political agenda! You wait until it's too late, and women enter Planned Parenthood (PP) clinics. IF my ideas are better than yours, you are NOT leading, or if you steal them, you are copycat FOLLOWERS. This is PURE logical deduction—not bragging. LEAD, or get 'outa the way, and let moral men like Chuck Swindoll and Rick Warren do the job!

Is forcing pregnant women to watch sonograms the answer? No, because they can still choose death to the baby, and who pays for it? They already pay ~$800 for an abortion, so poorer women would be unfairly discriminated against.

Here are other antics this ilk tried: Defunding PP, requiring doctor hospital access, heartbeat laws and luring PP workers out of the industry. These people WANT less abortions! We get it. Do it the right and legal ways! Those are deceptive (a SIN) ruses to get around current precedent law of the land!

Activist pastors... GO TO PLANNED PARENTHOOD TODAY; get out of your cloistered office, and DO something to show you really want to stop abortions. Quit engaging an illegal lobby function, by registering your political entity, serving as the Moral majority! No one elected you! EARN a law degree, if you want to abandon God's call, and change professions. You've been EXPOSED, as with your evil antics!

Would a we'll pay you not to abort program work? I'm SURE the Christian Cabal millionaires don't want to volunteer their own cherished cash to fund it; instead they threaten @drmoore's job and withholding their MEMBERS' $1 million donations if he ever questions Chump's salvation and "Christian" character! Hypocrite sinners!

Update #15: Pro-Life vs. Pro-Death; Pro-Choice or Pro-Government Controlling People's Lives?

Here's the pro-life "thinking:" Pulling a growing human being's limbs off, when he/she is alive is cruel and unusual punishment, for doing nothing wrong, and evil sin that ought to be more than a crime of murder—we must never allow it to occur. WHO can argue with that, morally? Even in the case of rape, incest or the mom's life, the kid is innocent, and has no one defending his/her rights to live vs. be cruelly dismembered.

That is 100 percent correct! So why is there any dilemma? Why can't the law simply disallow any abortion doctors to practice, forcing women to use coat hangers? Because a civil society with a Constitution that mentions health and general welfare values safety and health of the mother, also, and has to.

Is it better that we allow women to risk injury or death? Some would say yes! The baby does NOT get equal consideration, when moms can choose to legally kill them! They can't speak! They lose out every time, unless someone stands up for them. But SCOTUS has NEVER said fetuses have legal standing, or are citizens who can have causes of action in courts! They're not born, yet, and may never be.

They would always choose to live—its natural! Everyone has some fear of dying, and even suicidal people probably don't want to die, they just want out of their pain, and feel it's their only or best choice, under clouded thinking.

So a mom has to die—leave her family, hubby, kids—because the pregnancy caused life-or-death complications? Is THAT what laws should dictate? The baby would say yes! By the way, don't they anesthetize the baby before killing it? Apparently not, if that movie showed the baby fighting to exist, and resist the suctioning. It would ONLY be humane to do so!

And a rape victim MUST remain traumatized for nine months, with flashbacks, and a graphic reminder when it's born? Same with incest victims?

I LOVE the heartbeat laws, personally! What valid reason does any woman have for waiting until your baby can feel the arms ripped off? It's not moral to try to trap a guy for gold digging, or to keep him, or get child support! How bad would a law be to say you must decide if you're 'gonna be a mom before your choice not too hugely negatively impacts your kid, in ways he/she 9there are no other genders in the womb) can sense/feel?

Somehow, they'd still need a legal out if the mom's life is in danger, or if it's proven to be born a 'vegetable,' and the parents decide that's not what they're up for, perhaps?

IF you let states individually decide what their restrictions will be, some will ban them all, some have 2 to three exceptions, and blue states will allow them all, even after birth, in New York. That's inconsistent, but we have handled inconsistencies in jurisdictions many times before; it's called conflicts of law.

THE one and only good answer is for all U.S. women NEVER to get pregnant if they aren't intending to be a mom of a newborn baby as a result! Could you have a law forcing/requiring women to take birth control, and how could you enforce it? WHY would any woman NOT take The Pill, even to prevent rapes turning into children?

People who say abortions are neutral, or O.K., haven't ever witnessed one from inside the womb, with a camera! NO human can say that's morally O.K.! Only animals. But if we put all abortion doctors out of business, then a mom's life is at stake, if amateurs would do the procedure, if she were allowed a choice. Why shouldn't she have a say? The child, as well. You can't save them both, sometimes, or could technology improve where you could?

Modern chastity belts are an archaic solution to prevent rapes and incest. Why not require contraception, and allow them to forego it if they're choosing to have a kid? Is it long-term harmful? FIX the problems/harms, if so!

Cutting edge potency reduction of entering sp_rm device? Unbreakable thin/elastic condoms? New materials for such? Tubes tied that can't leak; The Pill as fail proof. If extremists take charge of U.S. laws, YouTube videos of how to safely self-abort will become rampant! It's NOT the correct answer!

I can't imagine every state doesn't require abortion butchers to sedate the baby before snuffing its life out violently and painfully/cruelly. We treat death row inmates more humanely than that!

Is SCOTUS a mere political arm of the government, where they say no abortions, all abortions, some abortions, and back and forth, every few Presidential cycles? Is nothing concrete, or set in stone, or sacred, that we don't change on a whim? Overturn Roe, and every patchwork hodge-podge of local consensus will be that state's laws on the subject.

That's fine (state's rights), unless the three exceptions aren't allowed, or poor women are forced into back alleys, because travel costs are too exorbitant. WHAT IF a woman plans on having a baby, and it literally is going to be brain dead when it exits the womb? Must she agree to care for it, and those costs and sacrifices, by force of law? It's not really agreeing, but force.

MUST rape and incest victims carry to term, when they could end the gestation early enough that the baby doesn't feel it? The extremes on BOTH side are appalling! Kill a birthed human or make every sex act lead to a baby. These are archaic and un-thought out positions of emotionalism! Inconvenience is a weak moral excuse, if you chose to spread your legs! It wasn't inconvenient for you to get knocked up! Deal with the natural consequences!

P.S.: Feel free to have a kidney removed. But when you abort, put that discarded kidney next to your discarded child, and TELL anyone they're both just body tissue that was inside you! Kidneys don't have arms, legs or a head. You lie to yourself to justify your sins!

Update #16: Badness of Bans (Part II)

A ban on ALL abortions in any given state means their females must travel elsewhere, or grab a coat hanger, because NOT all of them are just going to take that law lying down, and accept a 9 month pregnancy! Even women NOT in the three exceptions are used to Roe, and many will want to abort.

Such bans only force them out of state. You haven't lessened the number of abortions, for those women! Poor women will use self-help. The law may cause some women to be more prepared with sex, or go through with the birth. That's AWESOME! But the negatives have to be addressed, too, like poor women and out of state travel.

Extremists often have GOOD intentions, and conservatives always mock liberals as only having such (the road to Hell is paved thereby idiom). If you want absolutely NO abortions, invent fail-proof, controllable contraception, and completely safe plan B to be used every time one has sex that might lead to a pregnancy!

Enforcement of such technology being used invades privacy! Cops aren't 'gonna ensure women take law-required contraception, or ask women if they had sex, then shove a Plan B pill down their throats. Black market doctors will also arise, with abortion bans! Women with coat hangers will band together to bring some ex-aborter to do their procedure in less-sterile basements.

It REALLY doesn't matter if any group or person finds it sickening to have to learn what an abortion entails; eyes wide open with the decision you're freely making! Word's (like pro-choice) don't abort babies—medical tools do!

We can say murder is evil, and government can ban it, legally, because there's only one good human involved. Moms who consider aborting aren't moral equals to innocents, as they consider killing, and babies have done nothing wrong. The mom made the choice, unless she was assaulted! It's a complex issue!

Update #17: EDDBS Priorities (Part II)

Will ANY U.S. pastor EVER publicly commit to evangelize all nearby neighbors, disciple all church members through multiplication, have regular Body Life, and do significant social ministry? I believe the answer is 100 percent NO. I'm 'gonna quit thinking any ever might! They're too backslidden to repent!

So with the U.S. church primarily carnal, many of them will still back the Antichrist (figurative or literal is yet to be determined). Start publicly confronting revival seekers who won't commit to those four things? Take protest signs? I prefer ending the fight. Sin wins in the U.S. church! #Fact

The ONLY hope you have is exposing these evils in the media, through a public campaign! You think I only wanted you to change America for the better? My people are stubborn, rebellious, disobedient brats who have learned how to cover their sins, well. They know all the right lines. EXPOSE THEM thoroughly (Eph. 5:11)

5/10/13. DO YOU REMEMBER those 30-year straight statistics, from a decade ago? Five percent of U.S. Christians ever win one soul to Jesus—in their lifetime; Ten percent are fully committed, and thirteen percent read their Bible regularly? Truthfully, I can't even remember the 10 vs. 13 percent's content. But You teach 100 percent, anyway, so what does it matter?

Revival will NEVER come to America if pastors don't repent. They know sophisticated antics to make people FEEL like revival has come. Songs about revival, etc.; even movies, now. It has not and it will not when My ministers continue to rebuff EDDBS priorities, and just dabble in them, at best! Protest their rebellion!

It's beating your head against a brick wall, Sir! It just wastes time and energy! NONE of them will EVER do it! They've colluded to have one-liner insults and labels to try to discredit Your message and messenger! Just claim my writings are whack jobs, cra cra. FOOLS will believe them; MANY exist in Your supposed church!

They're dumbed-down by shepherds who steer their knowledge base of Your word in cherry picked ways that are easy, politically expedient, and comfortable to make easy sermon prep! It's WORSE than Laodicea, here, Sir! Laodicea on steroids. Osteen is their role model, in their hearts—money worship, Balaam false prophets in ministry for profits!

I don't want to even know about their sex lives, but apart from that trait, they FULLY fulfill II Pet. and Jude! They'll NEVER fully reveal the salary, which dumb sheep pay for, lest those usually poorer people RIGHTLY get up in arms, or leave! Rich off poorer's backs.

IDIOTS. Low IQ. Near brain dead laymen know nothing of Your Word, Sir, and NEVER will! They view pastors as their only access to You, and what You've said! GURUS, opposite of First John! No one cares! Bills get paid, buildings get pretty, as You weep. You NEED to judge them soon, as it's way 'outa control, Sir! Just LOOK/observe!

They DON'T fear You, or consider judgment day. They'll happily let people slip into Hell, if they can own a BMW and a mini mansion! And medium- and small church pastors DARE not criticize this evil, lest these Balaam types accuse them of jealousy, vs. holy rebuking that is needed! Laodicea on steroids!

Let Your Holy Spirit "Passover" America! She deserves it, because of the condition of pastors. Ichabod, would be my suggestion; You're free to do with as You would, anyway. They mouth lips service devotion, but EDBS is never their intent—ever! Screw lost people! Let them burn in Hell, forever, for all they care!

If they weren't interested in our seminars on money stewardship, marriage improvement, daycare in the summers, or Christian rock concerts, petting zoos or food trucks, LET THEM GO TO HELL! Their disinterest in responding to our uncommanded advertising deserves Hell forever, right? WRONG, pastors!

I've LITERALLY heard these Balaam false prophets SAY go and tell is from the "Fuller Brush salesman era!" Lord, You screwed up—they know better than You! You're old fashioned. You require too much. So they throw You off, and invent schemes they are comfortable with, as it's easier, and pays better. This is U.S. pastors, far too often.

We might turn them off if we go evangelize them! Turn them off from attending, then giving! You can't turn a lost person off to anywhere worse than Hell, as the angel of the church of North Dallas said! It's not my gift. It's your calling! (II Tim. 4:5) Get trained in evangelism, if you feel like it's your gift. FEW if any ever FEEL evangelism is anything they ever care to do!

I'm a sender, not a goer. I've heard ALL these Devilish excuses, and pastors NEVER reprove them, lest their tithe be cut off, and they move to the next church hop home! THIS is Laodicea on steroids American Christendom, folks!

Easter is a marketing tool! Increase your membership, AS IF lost people haven't been surrounding your building all year long! Easter egg hunts on church property. Anything to attract people we care nothing about if we have to actually go find and speak to them, lest Hell be their future! That's status quo!

They saw my steeple, say Balaam pastors on judgment day. There was a church on every street corner in the Bible Belt! NOWHERE does God command lost people to seek out Christians to learn the Gospel! You wouldn't know that, as you're quite biblically ignorant, many U.S. Balaam pastors!

You read books of MEN, who tell you how to do church, ignoring the blueprint. I'm done here; wasting my time! So, with that in mind, let me teach NON-Christians what's NOT happening in U.S. churches, that if it did, would change America for the better!

Pastors ask people in their church to go with them, 2 by 2, to speak to you about how to miss Hell and make Heaven. Lovingly, empowered, with grace and accuracy. Pastors teach and motivate their members to know how to do that on their own, and have ways to check if people actually do, by having area maps people adopt (i.e., the Adopt a highway model).

Prayer covers the entire process, before, during and after. Church-wide; NOT elites on Wednesday evenings, numbering 25 or less, even in 30K member mega churches! Unless and until that happens, based on Eph. 4, you can ONLY expect conditions in America to get worse!

We're quickly spiraling to Bible prophecy! THEY are a MAJOR cause, humanly speaking, by which I mean it will happen anyway, but they're hastening its arrival. When Peter wrote II Pet. 3:12, he meant full evangelism causes Christ's return to not need further delaying. The EXACT OPPOSITE is their LACK of full evangelism is ensuring judgment of the church first (I Pet. 4:17; Heb. 10:30).

It STARTS with Christians (II Chron. 7:14), and Christians get started by leaders, not losers! (Eph. 4.) Judgment was warned of for the Laodicean church, whose era in history we are living (Rev. 3). EDBS is THE obstacle! Pastors will claim they don't know about it, but it is in your face obvious if you ever read God's word! That's called an excuse!

They don't want to do EDBS! They want entertaining, watered-down sermons, and Sunday School to teach elites (and often cliques) who go beyond worship services, but not too in-depth, lest we scare off visitors! That's EXACTLY what happened to Dave Strawn at The Met, Cypress, TX!

Literally, a staff executive came into our classroom and announced a new guy was taking over Dave's more than decades long tenure teaching grey-headed people I loved being with, 20 years ago. Many of them left the church. It's a METHOD to make the church NOT the church, but to increase membership!

This ALL started with the church growth movement. READ the book of Acts. Do you read anything about methods for church growth? It was dynamic, natural, spontaneous and organic–NOT man contrived. We have church as a business–BIG business.

I wouldn't attend seminary, today, knowing what I know (except Dallas Seminary). You take the preaching class, learn oratory skills, get a FAKE doctorate (D.Min.), and BIG churches will hire you with bigger salaries than elsewhere. It's an unholy racket and gambit God DIS-approves of, but who cares what He thinks? FEW do!

When I was @dallaseminary, Dr. Lightner told us we were in the top three percent of any Christians or pastors, who actually cared what God's word meant in its entirety, and accurately! I'm sure Dr. Ryrie would concur! I was invited to his funeral by his daughter, and am sorry I missed Roberts', last summer! GONE heroes!

Swindoll, MacArthur and Rick Warren are STILL of that caliber of preacher, but Chuck's 84! Is it a generational thing, that the younger men are in ministry, the more corrupt for money they are? The quality of the pastor's character is determinative of everything else in God's church–NOT the music or preaching style!

Update #18: Abortion (Part III)

Political conservatives LOVE to say abortion are homosexuality are WRONG! Conveniently, they don't say that about greed, hoarding, selfishness, or not caring for the poor, or nepotism or favoring friends and family in hiring (networking, vs. NOT hiring the most qualified). It's political "morality!"

How hard is it to hold it in and adopt it out? Morning sickness, a few doctor visits, cramps, less sex, "inconvenience," social embarrassment, and labor and delivery costs ($10K, minimum). QUITE a hefty price, for a moment's lapse in judgment. It's the right thing to do, but many won't choose that harder road.

My WHOLE point in suggesting, four years ago, Christians show abortions inside the womb on public tele-screen was to influence people on the fence to think it's evil. But if that's all a person thinks, they aren't smartly addressing two people are involved, or showing any grasp of the complex legal issues. Every other action that's patently/prima facie evil on its face people instinctively say, 'that's evil/wrong—we should disallow it.' But abortion is uniquely two people involved.

SCOTUS was not way out of bounds, legally, to decide Roe! In fact, they balanced both sides' extremes, and sought to find middle ground with some basis... viability. They didn't want to encourage self-help, or allow near literal murder, when a third trimester baby was almost birthed! They surely show understanding of all issues I've raised in the past week, and had the legal right to decide as their vote turned out.

The "insane" (i.e., ridiculous) idea that you can't even know if you're pregnant before you are disallowed to stop it, was declined, as was the woman delaying a decision so long in the process that the baby could have survived without dependence on that procrastinating mom!

And life and motherhood are such important matters, SCOTUS has standards for when state laws need uniformity, and rights in one state can't be opposite those in other states! 'Fundamental' is a term I recall from law school. It was a 7-2 vote (not even close), and they still retained concern for states' interests in regulating abortions! WISE analysis!

So when RELIGIOUS people try to play lawyers in real life (literally, to do so is a law violation: the unlawful practice of law), their OPINIONS are just that, and everyone has one. NO humane human can watch later term abortions, and think they're holy. MOST aren't done when the baby looks like a full-grown baby, or has full functionality. That doesn't change that it's a human, but it's a misconstruing misrepresentation to illustrate the procedure beyond the second trimester.

The Court considered all these intricacies, and NO pastor could ever be put on that Court—for GOOD reasons! Forcing women to decide early on (first trimester, at the latest) WASN'T their decision, and it's precedent, and the law of the land.

If significantly changed circumstances have arisen, they could overturn it, but never do so again, thereafter. I'm not sure they'll see such changed circumstances, beyond louder clamorers. Science findings could do so!

Just because many of us are appalled by the procedure doesn't make the Court outlaw it 100 percent, mainly because two people are involved. It's easy to argue that the baby didn't decide to be started, and is innocent, but concluding from that any abortion (Ex.: including the three exceptions) can't occur brought up women's freedoms and self-help considerations (i.e., sovereignty over one's privacy and person, without government eminent domain—like private property taking).

PLEASE call this academic legalese, but REAL lawyers know that's just accusations from ignorance of people who haven't studied the law, and just have opinions—NOT causes of action, or ANY standing, and aren't even friends of the Court!

Update #19: Churchianity vs. Christianity (Part IV)

When you adopt a keep up with the Jones' competitiveness in ministry, where you don't want to miss out on the latest fad, you MISS God trying to out-think Him, like traditional vs. modern music in church services! That's a MAN construct. God was wise enough to see, millennia ago, churches that ONLY play hymns get mainly older people, and ones that do psalms and spiritual songs attract youth.

God's family is all ages, and when a pastor ALLOWS the members to get all that they want, instead of what they need, you get spoiled children who will leave church if the carpet is the wrong color, or the music is too loud.

God taught BALANCE (Col. 3:16). My old church at least modernized hymn music, vs. lyrics. And another FOOLISH man construct was comparing membership numbers to salaries of executives with employee numbers! 20K employees is NOT the same work as preaching to 20K, in any form or fashion.

I was told by a deacon (UN-confirmed), years ago, that Osteen once required tithing to be a member. UNbiblical, and seeking what Joel wanted—money—vs. obeying God. It has been changed, a female member told me later.

You get the largest pay, BIBLICALLY, working hard at preaching and teaching—NOT using secular methods to grow membership, or saying tithe or else you can't be a member here. These are evil ways of doing church.

The MORE a pastor does church God's way, the more their church will be blessed, but American pastors always define that by money. John MacArthur understands blessings are not always monetary. He has an entire cassette series on biblical giving, which is excellent; I own it. Be biblical, pastors!

We USED to have expository teaching sermons. NOT ANY MORE. DID GOD CHANGE, or did they become ineffective for discipling? NO. They became considered less effective at drawing a paying crowd that's less interested in serious spirituality. 'You have what you tolerate,' pastors. Conforming to sinful downward trends is sinful! Duh 101.

Now we have to have celebrities drop by (as a church in WI rejected my Minister of Evangelism interview for not being able to achieve), rock concerts, previewed movies, amenities. America does NOT assume everyone goes to church on Sunday, culturally, anymore. Culture has shifted/changed, as pastors stopped evangelizing as much, or discipling, focused on increasing salaries by church growth methods!

The stained-glass windowed white steepled box or rectangle building model was NEVER commanded, so I'm glad it got thrown out/tossed to the side, but the key is evangelism and discipleship—NOT how much a pastor can earn, or how stable his paycheck can be, when one is trusting God, vs. his bank account! (Pv. 11:28)

Update #20: The Christian Cabal

Let's review what the unregistered lobbyist group, the Christian Cabal, used their unelected access to CHUMP to clamor for: Happy holidays (i.e., considering all religions and views) was NEVER legally required to say, yet they felt evil liberals were shunning people from saying Merry Christmas; same with the ten commands monument in courthouses (i.e., Roy Moore), again imposing favoritism of 1 to 2 religions in public symbols.

Then there was Bob Jeffress saying America is a "Christian" nation, when the Constitution does not say that anywhere, and even prohibits government establishing religion, or any favoring of any religion over another (America is not a theocracy).

There was a meeting of 3 to 5 organizing Cabal members, where they discussed what are Christian policies? So since REAGAN, they had NO IDEA... asleep at the wheel, ineffective and dormant, if not retired or dead in the public square.

Biasedly favoring Israel, instead of obediently honoring and maintaining our historic good relations with that ally (Tel Aviv embassy move to an announced Jerusalem capital) DESTROYED U.S. leadership in the Middle East, or any chances we could broker peace, all done unfairly/unjustly, with no negotiating with Arabs—just unilateral bullying dictates!

Biasedly, unjustly favoring political conservatism tilting SCOTUS right (i.e., judicial activism) is yet another "achievement," and Chump's tax lowering favored the rich, CONTRARY to Levit. 19:15, who are MOST to give back to society, as they're most benefitted by our system (I Tim. 6:17-19), all as our debt is $22T, so government needs MORE money, not less (and don't believe the lie that lower taxes increases revenues equal to making up for the temporary revenue loss, and increased QE3 and borrowed money at interest). Fiscal responsibility is in the Bible, as a Christian value!

Finally, 2.3 years into the administration, mainly to try again to lure the black vote (when jobs were promised to return, and the 'what do you have to lose voting GOP' mantra was tried), they appoint Scott Turner to study how government can help poorer areas develop (LESS THAN a week ago—election time, don't you know?).

Oh, and lest I forget, the overkill Muslim ban, and inhumane separating of kids from their parents at the border. And finally, AS IF debt doesn't exist, and no one is suffering serious poverty, Pence proposes a moon landing. Rich people live lives where they dream up new things to do and spend money on, apparently from boredom at not helping others?

When they had such close pull on The Morons ear, UNLIKE Mt. 23:23, these were the Cabal's "priorities," with Social Security running out of money, $22T debt, overpaid executives, rich people often not paying their fair share ('justice' being God's key concern in all policies), BIG business outsourcing and immigrating so many that average Joe's wages and job opportunities have dwindled, pollution being ignored, spousal abuse, crime, equal rights for women (i.e., justice), and a host of MUCH more important "Christian" issues weren't clamored for, because they wanted to shore up the WASP vote, and try to lure the black vote—NOT implement moral, just policies, as would be God's concern.

Jeffress even wanted the Bible taught in public schools, favoring Judaism and Christianity, at the expense of any other religions, or the nonreligious. Overall, it's VERY hard to respect or admire what these men (and one woman) have achieved for America, much less Christendom, as its reputation was severely harmed supporting THIS: <https://www.facebook.com/jim.meroney.3/posts/1683401871972299> ...

It was NOT what does God want, or what's good for or needed by America, but how can CHUMP coddle white evangelicals, who also bemoaned being 'persecuted,' when not even one of them has ever been slapped on the cheek for their faith being lived out in America! The silence at this unjust favoritism by others is astonishing! The Cabal has failed!

P.S.: If publicly teaching biblical submission of wives to husbands was intended, by emphasizing machismo, or even womanizing (both of which are not biblical manhood), in recent events, D.C. McAllister's 'get me a beer—the games on' white trash woman as servant/slave act did NOT teach it correctly, and BACKFIRED, as with the bathroom bill in Texas.

Giving the Devil his due, minor offense sentencing guidelines, ONE pastor freed from Turkey, and seeking to protect Christian business owners from punishment for actions requiring them to participate in lifestyles their religion disapproves of ARE things they have accomplished. Small potatoes. (Mic. 6:8)

Update #21: Christians' Civic Duty

I've already stated the majority of U.S. Christians are NOT disciples of Jesus, as Jesus defined it, meaning they are nominal in their commitment, so it's really jumping the gun and hypocritical to even address how Christians should vote, and bring their religion into the public square, when higher priorities are being omitted/ignored, like EDBS at church, and personal holiness starting at home, one-on-one with God, but if we are to teach what Christians SHOULD be doing in the voting booth, we must, again, note that they OFTEN use pastors as gurus for what the Bible says, and what they should do with politics, which is a sinful idolatry sin, counter to I Jn. 2:27, but we ALL know they'll do it anyway, and lazily NOT think for themselves (yet another sin).

This update is intended to educate them in ways politicized pastors never will (as I also said Samantha Bee documented that political operatives consulted religious "leaders," in Reagan's day, to see how to secure WASP loyalty to the GOP; they concluded abortion/life and homosexuality hatred would do the trick!).

IF you name the Name of Jesus, EVERY moral issue in politics should be your concern. Cherry picking is selectivism/partiality sin, as much as is in your power! The criteria for candidates hasn't changed (Ex. 18:21), and God's overarching concern is justice (Mic. 6:8). Government was established to curb evil and praise good (Rom. 13).

THAT insight should guide every political move every Christian makes, and since neither party is morally perfect, you MUST choose the best that's offered on the personal character and moral positions criteria! That means blind obedience for WASP's to vote only GOP candidates, or black Christians doing so for Dems is NOT obeying God!

Life is a BIG value, but it's more complicated than that, as I described, all last week. In Rom. 1 and in Lot's days, gays were so flaming, he offered his daughters to get them from hitting up on him, and to try to turn them straight (an immoral, but desperate decision of offering fornication and abusing your daughters).

Sodom and Gomorrah's judgment came significantly from unrepentance over homosexuality. So the Christian far right is NOT wrong to emphasize the ONLY two moral issues they use to rouse less informed sheep to support ONLY the GOP. But cherry picking values is a SIN! You don't add to or subtract from the whole counsel of God, unless you're a carnal/sinful Christian! (Rev. 22:18; Ac. 20:27)

Christians should be at the forefront of all change that is moral! Dems have issues that morals require Americans to deal with, just as GOP's do, and both sides have sinful values they support! Any Christian in America who blindly votes for either party is often sinning, as you're lazily (a sin) NOT parsing your support and votes for which politicians and positions Christ would support, compared to the other alternatives available to you!

But with carnality reigning in the U.S. church, and pastors treated as gurus, where God gets left out, because laymen are often lazy (a sin) to see what God wrote, or what politicians believe, or what the Bible says on given positions, DON'T expect anything to change in 2020.

Whites will follow evil, self-appointed so-called "leaders," whose sins I have fully exposed, and black Christians (for the most part in both cases; exceptions exist) will vote Dem. It's really over abortion and money/taxes, and a little anti-gay sentiment.

Many (in number, not percent, meaning not as many as touted) white Christians have been deluded by Bob Jeffress that he represents Jesus' values. Cherry-picked, from 1980's political strategists polling of two issues that would get dependent, less-thinking Christians to follow like sheep to go GOP–NOT from a Berean study of our blueprint Bible (Ac. 17:11). That takes work and energy/effort, and NOT letting biased, self-interested activist pastors telling you how to think, but loving God with all your mind! (Lk. 10:27)

It's easier to remain sinfully carnal, and rely on self-appointed "experts," I proved this morning not to be such, and make life easy, so I can return to my money-chasing (Pv. 23:5; I Tim. 6:10; happily pierce away!), worldly carnal life, reinforced by churchianity, where I attend and tithe, and pastors get rich NOT doing EDBS priorities. This IS the apostate Laodicean church in action, in politics and religion, which God will judge! Enjoy it-temporarily!

List every policy a politician could vote on. Decide if their position supports your party, or justice (not always the same, often not), and LEARN what God thinks about abusing women, the ecology, greed, abortion, gay sex, poverty, financial responsibility, justice, self-reliance and helping others, and IF you want to save time, God said Christians are to know His Bible, so refusing to read is a laziness sin!

If you also need to save time, I have four political books applying the Bible as accurately as possible in a democracy, to all major issues America faces!

Start with READING! Learn what core values of BOTH parties God is for and against! You CAN'T obey Him and be a party loyalist, even if you sinfully put cherry picking blinders on for abortion! You can prioritize values, but rejecting moral positions, because you're a one-trick pony, is NOT the full counsel of God, but bias sin.

And I'm NOT telling you which party to support, or which politicians! I'm telling you you have a civic duty to fulfill, especially as a Christian. Most of us are too lazy (a sin) to fulfill it, and knee jerk do what our skin color (or bank account) usually votes for, reinforced by pastors who NEVER address the FULL counsel of God, sinfully so.

Update #22: The Christian Cabal (Part III)

IS THIS MAN HOLY, Christians, or is this the revenge sin? Read more Bible, for yourself!
Report: White House wanted to release immigrants into sanctuary cities to punish Democrats
<https://www.usatoday.com/story/news/politics/2019/04/11/white-house-release-immigrants-sanctuary-cities-report/3442543002/> ... via @usatoday

CHUMP likely asked the Christian Cabal, what is of concern to your people/constituency? IF those men had been leaders, they would have said everything moral and just, not favoring any one religion, or disfavoring the non-religious, but what's in the best interest of our great nation! Obviously, they did NOT!

They likely idealized prayer in public school, evolution taken out of the science curricula (not just adding intelligent design as an alternative theory), manger scenes and Christmas trees on courthouse lawns, 'in Jesus we trust' on dollar bills, saying happy holidays being criminalized, oath swearing only being on New Testaments, prayers in Congress having to end "in Jesus' name, amen," laws having to have a Bible verse basis, litmus testing politicians for being evangelical; WHY NOT reinstating at-fault divorce, Sunday blue laws and dry counties, anti-gambling legislation, criminalizing sodomy, undoing national gay marriage, penalizing adultery, 45 designating Sundays as church attendance day, and declaring America a Christian nation/theocracy, promoting barefoot and pregnant housewives as their modern ERA equivalent, reinstating slavery (if we're returning to the past), and other 1950's and before standards America has accepted before she modernized/progressed (including women unable to vote).

They reduced the Johnson amendment; why not tax their churches that are run as a business, to avoid taxes God orders people to pay? These are mockingly consistent suggestions, for comedy, but never put it past them!

I believe New York's law allowing killing birthed babies was an over-reaction extreme to the Christian Cabal trying to get Roe overturned, so some states could ban all abortions. All-or nothing-ism extremes SCOUTUS imperfectly but adequately balanced the interests of when Roe was decided, 7 to 2.

ECONOMIC ISSUES

(Conservative Economic Theory Is the Answer?)

I've been monitoring talk radio, and to a D.J. they praise Chump for lower taxes and regulations. Regulation cut backs are ONLY good if they don't harm consumers and workers, and with $22 trillion in debt, it's irresponsible to cheer funding government LESS! Conservatives SAY lower taxes increase government revenues, due to increased sales growth.

Let's "unpack" that. Businesses make more profit when their tax expense is less. That profit bump they can invest, which, in theory, helps them grow, and that growth is taxed, so more profits for tax, and more sales taxes.

NO proof says every business investment succeeds, or tax savings are put into growth activities. Also, the tax money returned to them has to be recouped by the feds, which means borrowed (at interest) or printed funds (devaluing the dollar), until that returned money gets recouped. And NONE of these transactions pay down our enormous debt!

Political conservatism wants the lowest taxes, the lowest wages for employees, the greatest executive pay, and tax loopholes for their and business' taxes. By its own aspirations, it's good for business owners, the rich and upper management.

They LOVE to bemoan taxes used to help people and the poor, as voluntary is morally better. THAT'S AN EXCUSE and a LIE, in many cases, to keep money in the hands of the rich and conservatives! When they bring in religion, they show their truly sinful selves, as God does NOT teach hoarding, greed, or not helping the poor, or caring about society as a whole, but only yourself, chasing worldliness (i.e., the American Dream is simply carnality, celebrated, in many cases)!

Liberals, on the other hand, want to do great things, like end pollution, animal and spousal abuse, sex trafficking, disease, slavery, discrimination against gays and females, worldwide, be for workers justly being paid, and executives and the rich not being overpaid (i.e., unjustly enriched), taxes being fair, mass shootings ended, immigrants allowed in (which is O.K. only if they pull their own weight), and many other great aspirations, few-to-none of which relate to businesses profiting more!

Their problem comes in not seeing that without businesses succeeding, no one has a job, and how they pay for their grand schemes. They ALWAYS target the rich, and taxpayers! They NEVER ask the ~50 percent who don't pay taxes to take more responsibility, and they always offer freebies, paid for by the other ~50 percent. NEITHER extreme is the answer for America

Update #1: The Pursuit of Happiness

I once heard a preacher say that joy meant happiness. He advocated for Christian happiness, yet never balanced that advocacy with Ecc. 1-4, or Bible injunctions on suffering. Happiness is a feeling. Joy is a deep conviction from God, and a choice.

Even Christian Kathie Lee Gifford understood, apart from any pastor's preaching, that joy is not the same as happiness. A subtle way political conservatism is brought into the Church is merging the Constitution's 'pursuit of happiness' with confusing what life's purposes are, as well as what joy is.

God is not in the business of making people miserable or happy. He is in the business of making us better people, and in that process, we can always have joy, but it's not natural to feel happy when He prunes us, or brings us trials, which make us better people.

And many Americans consider happiness to be things God has forbidden! Did that preacher define what parameters there are to pursuing happiness? No. He left it to the crowd's imagination, which will inevitably lead to their doing anything that makes them feel good, when he had CHUMP tell Average Joe the economy is great in unionized states.

When you define 'great' as the rich are getting richer, that definition holds. When you govern ALL Americans, you care also for the ones Jesus ministered to the most! It's ALL in how you define a good economy! #PoliticalTrick

Any time executives and stockholders only benefit from (hoard) cost savings or skyrocketing profits, business has become the enemy of the common man! Laborers are the ones who did the grunt work that caused those increases! Reward them accordingly! #ProfitSharing is NOT a handout!

Fairness is the pivotal issue in all political discussions. People who are objective can find it; skewed/biased people can never define it, for they never desire to discover it. #Justice is ALWAYS God's concern!

Update #2: Squeeze the Middle Class

Everyone wants government to do things, but no one wants to pay for them, because we all have things in our own lives we'd rather spend that money on! It's EVIL to threaten politicians' careers if they don't do what you want them to. There are MANY evil voters in America—selfish, demanding, arrogant! #TRUTH You wouldn't work like that!

There OUGHT to be a law that NO government can offer tax incentives to businesses who move there—state and local! It's justified by the personal taxes of employees, but businesses get the BEST of life, already! GE pays ZERO taxes—this is a SIN! DO your civic duty—it's your responsibility!

VERY few people do things unless they're paid, or by force by law, and many even break the laws if they don't like them. EITHER government is INEPT, and just lets people do as they please, and selectively enforces laws, or the laws are good, and mean something, and they get enforced!

No one likes BIG brother Marshall law, and everyone likes not seeing cops everywhere, but TECHNOLOGY that alerts the public to its use and presence is the way to balance these interests! Cameras, drones, etc. You don't deter bad behavior, but even empower and encourage it, with zero enforcement! There are actions that are intolerable! If a law is written—well, enforce it!

I DESPISE how the people MOST benefitted by life in America demand the best perks from government, as well. This is EVIL! There are responsibilities for your elite lifestyle—you should have zero access or benefits from schmucking it up with politicians via lobbyists. The people MOST in need are the poor, then Middle CLASS! The latter get squeezed, as the poor and rich get the favors or handouts!

The rich OFTEN avoid taxes better than most, because they can afford to hire the fancy accountants/CPA's and attorneys. This is sin, AKA, evil/wrong/bad, a problem! You are the MOST able to part with money, and feel little-to-NO effects! That means something, because government costs money to run! Do your fair share!

I was a member of the Students In Free Enterprise (SIFE) club at Baylor. I'm a Capitalist! I despise Socialism in America, where anyone gets anything for free, with zero obligations to qualify, or tokenly repay! But Capitalism in America, since 1985, has run amok! I watched it happen as a F500 Management Consultant!

The race was on with globalism. BIG business gave unions one last chance to lower wage demands (called make concessions), or jobs would be sent elsewhere. Most of them didn't balk/budge, and soon Indians and Chinese white collars began arriving, and tech support and manufacturing jobs made a YUGE sucking noise to India and especially China, as did some via NAFTA, to Mexico, as Ross Perot noted that sucking noise.

Consultants and business executives got rewarded for creative ideas on making businesses leaner and meaner! That ALWAYS means hurt employees! Cost-cutting! Employees got labeled "FTE's" (full-time equivalents), processes got streamlined, then automated; people got shoved into part-time "contract" gigs, so business could offer NO benefits, insurance premiums got more and more paid for by employees, pensions went out the window, years earlier, as with single-income families! ALL to benefit business and the rich!

Trickle down (i.e., pee on the little guy) theory was used by politicians to further favor the rich. Tax breaks, shelters and loopholes, mergers and acquisitions (which ONLY means two businesses unite to do the same functions with less buildings and people)!

The rationale was that U.S. businesses have to compete globally, against Chinese sweat shops, and nations that dump (i.e., government-subsidized products, for lowering costs, to drive business to that nation, often under market rate), and had no regulations for workplace or consumer safety! But executives and CEO's got exorbitant salaries and bonuses for harming the American worker!

Business was even for illegal immigration, as they can pay less for labor! Dems were, too, hoping for more votes from poor people.

CEO-to-worker ratios went from I'd guess 14:1 to 350:1, because the market allowed it (which means because we can, as executives, if but one company will start the trend). This is ALL evil, and an abuse of Capitalism!

We went from smart business practices to greedy ones! Pigs get fat, but hogs get slaughtered. We turned into a nation of executive hogs! 'Greed is good' was once a JOKE in a movie. Now it's enshrined as a value proposition/motto in people's hearts! Sin!

There are NO limits to what people and businesses (which are simply decisions made by people) will do if there are no government restraints, and even if there are, if they don't get caught! WHO gives one damn about the poor and working class?

If slavery wasn't deemed illegal, businesses would want it, because labor costs would lower! They'll SAY they wouldn't, but they argue against the minimum wage (which means let us pay people LESS), and for ending the estate tax (which means let us keep more money, and help society LESS), and pushed CHUMP for lower taxes.

And rich peoples' charity giving averages one percent of their annual income, compared to three percent for all others! There's NO evidence rich people in America get more generous as they get richer, EXCEPT Giving Pledge signers, and Dem and moderate rich folk, who at least don't believe government ever redistributing some wealth to help some people is evil, as cons think almost all taxes are.

And for Christians to embrace conservatism, we are partly spiritual apostates, supporting the OPPOSITE values of God! They parrot "family values." How about "God's values?" That will NEVER happen! The WASP church is in bed with worldliness and materialism, in this Laodicean era of history (Rev. 3).

God has "blessed" me means I'm rich with money, even though the Devil can make people rich, and any Christian NOT doing God's will IS rich via satan-period. That's the vast majority who go to church, sadly.

The majority are NOT fully committed to God, so they aren't obeying God's will, so as they chase money (OPPOSITE of Pv. 23:4); they CLAIM Jesus is great because He makes my life great, but it's actually the Devil, because God says to be eternally-minded, and not set your mind on this passing world!

Like putting a flower atop a manure pile, a thoroughbred horse blinders focus mainly on abortion is how WASPs get away with DUPING stupid sheeple that conservatism is God's position in politics!

Update #3: Centrist Economic Theory

(4/30/19)

I'm sure to bore all viewers with this topic, but I haven't explored centrist economic theory well enough! Even with a BBA and MBA, I've NEVER read of such a thing, so here are the details, which will be new to me, as well. First, the extremes:

Conservatives want little government involvement in the economy. Liberals want much involvement by Uncle Sam. Centrists want some—the least needed, but we do not say anything government does is bad for the economy, especially in a depression!

Conservative theory would let business do anything that profits them! Liberal theory would make businesses act like choir boys, restraining their ability to profit. Centrists want businesses to profit, even greatly, but be run ethically, which includes paying a fair wage and having humane working conditions; ideally, treating workers as family!

Conservative economic theory wants the lowest taxes possible; liberals want them high. Centrists ask how much must government require, to pay its bills? Of course centrists want the least taxes possible, as that money could have been used to fund growing businesses, and we want businesses to grow! The real question is how big should government be?

Conservatives want cops and the military—not even teachers, if their kids are in private schools (always clamoring for vouchers). Liberals want almost every societal problem fixed, and paid for by tax dollars. Centrists want between these two extremes! We believe government can do good, if run efficiently and effectively, and keeping such good deeds to a minimum, as state's rights are in the Constitution, meaning keep it local, wherever possible.

We also oppose hand-outs vs. hand-ups, in the medium-term. Individuals are free to give the latter (and charities, churches). Government should ONLY give freebies with sweat equity token repayment required through compulsory civic service matching the degree of help received (10-30 hours a year, or so). Even on taxes, those who pay none must have skin in the game, by that civic service!

At the same time, centrists oppose the rich scheming legal ways to not pay the tax bracket they fall into! Taxes are to be fair, and 10 percent of nothing is a greater sacrifice than 10 percent of more than you'll ever need. Hence, our progressive tax system is O.K. by centrists, but never to punish success.

However, the people also have a say, when they vote! Poorer people would always vote to spend OPM (other people's money), and richer people would always preach self-sufficiency. Centrists are for disallowing any severe poverty, through efficient, temporary Welfare, and empowering the poor to become self-sufficient, ASAP, even with government help, education and motivation!

We are for fair wages, and opposed to business decisions which hurt Americans in favor of foreigners first! Over-outsourcing and over-immigration are bad for America. However, businesses are not citizens, and we support them profiting. We do not support the idea that business' are only in business to profit, but recognize their additional social responsibility, not to any large harm to profits, but in reasonable ways! Rationality is our claim to fame.

Centrists believe that in bad times, government can temporarily provide jobs, like infrastructure, until the economy recovers. We do not believe in make-work projects, paying people just to stay busy/employed, with America not needing their labor.

Quantitative easing and China borrowing at interest, and a $22 trillion debt are all nondesirable to centrists, though sometimes necessary evils, due to unnecessarily evil politicians, spending our money like water/there's no tomorrow, then kicking the effects, like a can, down the road.

Printing funny money DEVALUES the dollar, and can cause inflation! Borrowing makes us slaves of an enemy state we have tolerable economic relations with (Pv. 22:7), and risks war, if we default, or if the Saudi's ever refuse oil paid for in our international reserve currency (for the Yuan or Euro), which would tank the U.S. economy.

Centrists are for fair trade deals, good for America, or NOT entered into, and the more the merrier! Economic alliances bond nations, and with enemies uniting (Russia, North Korea, China, Iran, et al), we NEED even more NATO and G-20 members–NOT less!

NO nation is stupid enough to enter a BAD trade deal, so why offer one? With politicians leading their people, a fool born every moment shouldn't apply in such transactions. Plus, if America screws over other nations, wielding our leverage, unjustly, we only engender ill-will, that can breed terrorism, and other U.S.-opposing attitudes, as we sometimes see at the U.N.

You have heard terms like trickle down and trickle up, right? Centrists believe in trickle horizontally! It's government not favoring the poor or the rich, and it's BIBLICAL (Levit. 19:15). Trickle sideways may be a better term from trickle horizontally. The rich need the LEAST assistance from government, and the poor need the MOST! This is #CommonSense, which is the basis for all of centrism's positions on all issues! Rationality. Intelligence and integrity, vs. ignorance and immorality.

We believe executives can be overpaid, despite Rush Limbaugh saying since someone paid them, it can't be too much, because someone was willing to fork out that amount. There can be sweetheart deals, artificially ginned up CEO compensation packages (so everyone else can use it as precedent), and I scratch your back, you scratch mine offers from Boards of Directors! That is not the market determining executive wages, and makes less money available to workers and shareholders!

Centrists also believe business should never overpay a person, unless their work effort earns it, or the executive chooses to be generous. We also oppose tricks that harm what the market will bear in labor pay, when such tricks aren't able to be reciprocated/counter-balanced by labor! In short, we are for a level playing field.

We do NOT oppose outsourcing, immigration, automation, streamlining, mergers and acquisitions, contract labor, ending pensions, two-earner families, and any needed layoffs, but we do oppose executives benefitting off such, or only shareholders, and such ilk voting conservative, so even government is disallowed from helping those crushed by such tactics!

Since government can't control who the rich vote for, they must address the fairness of such actions, wherever laws allow! Centrists also oppose government over-helping anyone! Hand-ups are always to be temporary, and are always better than hand-outs, as there are no free lunches in this life.

In short, centrists advocate for ethics in business decisions—not just fiscal considerations! An economy is NOT great just by GDP numbers, but also unemployment percents, evaluating what jobs and wages employed people are taking, and not having an economy that favors the rich (i.e., imbalance, or inequality of opportunity).

Just as with individuals, there are strugglers, sustainers and thrivers/succeeders. Thriver businesses should give back! Sustainers pay their fair taxes, and strugglers may even receive government expertise in how to stay afloat and thrive, as hurt businesses hurt America! This is centrist economic theory! Have you ever seen it before?

A great slogan for centrist economics is pigs get fat, but hogs get slaughtered. When America pursues greed and hoarding, other nations resent it (i.e., ugly Americanism), which eventually could lead to them refusing to do business with us, or worse... war! Money idolaters NEVER think through consequences!

Self-restraint is a biblical virtue, whereas greed is a sin. If the U.S. economy was supported more by biblical Christians pushing for God's values, our economy would be better for all, including our enemies, and other nations—not just us, temporarily! Will the Church vote for godlier economics?

Update #4: A Good Economy

Let's describe a good economy. It's the opposite of a recession or a depression! Businesses are growing and expanding, shareholders' investments are paying off, workers are employed, and seeing rising wages, and few businesses are going failing. In short, life is good.

HOW do you achieve that? That's the key to the golden goose. There are many factors... Unburdensome taxes and restrictive regulations on business; enough qualified workers to fill open jobs (not too many or too few), sales are up, globally (Ex.: U.S. products and services are bought, everywhere), innovation, no war disruptions, hard-working/productive and efficient vs. lazy employees (rewarded vs. over-worked), an education system graduating best-in-class global workers, few lawsuits or quality control issues with product, general optimism, causing consumers to consume (vs. withhold money), social advancement opportunities (upward mobility), advertising, money fairly freely accessible (i.e., low loan rates), trade deals, limited entitlements, costing government money that is better spent making the economy tick, happy vs. disgruntled workers, families able to pay their bills off what their bread-winners make, no one bankrupted by uncontrollable medical calamities, trade secrets protected from foreign power hacking, crime at a minimum (i.e., violence and robberies HARM a good economic environment, stiflingly instilling fear and distrust), global investors investing in America (due to good profit opportunities), laws conducive to a strong business environment, businesses treating their employees and communities right, charities, churches and families doing their part for the poor, everyone paying their fair share in needed (vs. desired taxes), streamlined government, motivated workers (not ripping off their bosses with online distractions), no price collusion or monopolies, having the best minds reside in America, politicians understanding economics, greed tempered by self-restraint, families saving, students taught investing best-practices, no waste in government, no tax cheats (which cheats us all), good laws passed (vs. skewed to biasedly benefit lobbyists more than or instead of the American people), maximizing our limited natural resources, and finding new sources, ending diseases caused by chemicals and pollution, or from lack of proper diet and exercise, affordable healthcare (so every American can stay well vs. get costly sick), efficient roadways (vs. congestion), government revenues increased from real GDP growth, from successful businesses (including private and public entities helping struggling businesses be successful, students taught entrepreneurship skills, colleges preparing graduates for actual, needed job skills, national defense (so no enemy nations or terrorists disrupt this economic ideal), and people generally behaving morally, so everyone is taken care of, vs. mainly elites.

THIS is common sense economics. Anything less is stupider (if that's a word). Even the Bible teaches that government isn't to favor either the poor or the rich, so Christians themselves should support this economic vision. Sadly, many will not, from sin they need to repent of; worldly, political bias (Rom. 2:11)

Update #5: A Good Economy How To's

Everyone wants a good economy, but political parties define it differently. Generally, Dems say things are good when things are good for the mid-middle class and below; GOP's say the economy's good when things are good for the mid-middle class and above.

Presidents take credit or blame for economies on their watch, but in truth, they have little to do with it. Obamacare was a drain on business, as is our $22T debt, and tRump's over-return of taxes, especially to the rich, FURTHER increases our China debt and QE3 printing of cash, devaluing your dollar.

Here's the MYTH of that scheme: Uncle Sam returns X amount of taxes to taxpayers in a money bag. That X amount we didn't have in excess, with $22T debt, so until it's recouped, that's X more money to borrow at interest, or print. And it can take years to recoup, as X amount put toward "stimulating" the economy isn't guaranteed to do so!

Business people make bad decisions and lose money, sometimes. That X amount isn't always funneled directly into activities sure to grow sales, and therefore, profits, that are then taxed, to recoup the X amount by our Treasury. All the while, interest accrues.

Shareholders FEEL better/more positive, paying less taxes, so that's supposed to warm them up to spend more, so investments grow, with infusions of cash. They can also pour the X amount into bonuses, or automating, thus reducing the number of jobs for humans, in our economy. In short, if the THEORY of less taxes always improving our economy were true, it would go gangbusters if they were zero.

But when government performs functions conducive vs. detrimental to economic growth, that costs money—tax money! And when local governments give businesses tax incentives to move to their state, that LESSENS what government gets to pay its bills.

A better economy is mainly businesses doing well—sales or cost savings, or both! Consumers buying. Products changing hands. THAT is the focus and heart of economic growth! Businesses taking risks, to innovate new products people want to buy, which causes job creation (to facilitate those sales), and manufacturer expansion, which increases consumers with disposable income with which to purchase such goods.

Apart from existing products that are selling well, the entirety of our economy depends on people planning new products for the coming future, which people will want, and being first to market, before other nations' businesses steal, copy or adapt. In short, innovation is our future! It is needed skill number one!

Update #6: The Morality of Our Safety Net

No one knows how long it will take to land a job, once unemployed, and most Americans have little excess to live off during that time. Hence, unemployment insurance is an excellent idea! Those rich enough to not care wouldn't want to opt in, but since the money comes from your own earnings, that's O.K. if they never need it; if they do, they paid in nothing, so they couldn't opt back in.

My point is that our social safety net is MORAL. It's also smart to ensure people have money when they retire, in case they can't or don't save up, so they're NOT burdens to family or charities. Those rich enough to not need Social Security will argue they could've invested that money and made more, but if their fortunes reversed, they'd want to opt in, having never paid in.

My point, again, is R social safety net is MORAL. Rich folk begrudge government making them participate, but you never know for 100 percent certain that you'll never need it! And when it comes to Welfare, again, the rich (and many middle class) believe they'll never need it, but it gets despised because recipients DIDN'T pay in!

In short, political conservatives ONLY want everyone to pay their own way through life, 100 percent (excepting cops and the military, paid for by taxes—maybe public teachers and a few politicians), because they don't feel they'll ever need any government help (which one can never know for certain), and that premise proves they have little concern for others, selfishly assured they'll be fine.

They argue that free-willed help is morally better, then most of them immorally don't give much, because it's a ruse to make helping others little-to-none (hoarding, greed and selfishness) LOOK/sound/appear moral!

Not everyone is 'gonna be as well off as cons believe everyone should or can be, because they are. Not everyone has a family to rely on between jobs, or a nest egg. Cons wrap themselves in the Constitution to say any taxes used to help fellow citizens is EVIL and illegal ("wealth redistribution").

It's ALL about money, and often in the name of Jesus. We want to be good Christians, but don't let our government help the less fortunate, the way the Jews' tax system did. Why? Because we love money, and are selfish, OPPOSITE of being a disciple of Jesus! Call America a 'Christian nation,' as if Capitalism is God, because we suffer the love of money sin! But accuse us of such, and one is advocating a poverty complex, or Socialism!

I'm advocating for a society where no one severely suffers poverty! Jesus said poverty will always be around (Mt. 26:11), but it's NOT evil to help the poor, and even the tithe and jubilee years and laws on farmers' excess aided the poor, with God's Old Testament people, so why do God's New Testament people have an opposite view? Because they value their interpretation of the Constitution over their uninformed interpretation of their little-known Bibles!

READ Ac. 2, 4, and II Cor. 8. Voluntarily—not by force—Christians cared for others. It's NOT evil to do so. They also engaged ministry much more than we do (read the FULL book of Acts)! There's the difference! You can't serve God and money, so we've opted for money, with church attendance as our check box religious duty.

DO YOU SEE THAT PRACTICE in the book of Acts? No! In short, no Christian can be following Christ, and be an avid 100 percent political conservative, unless sin is an active problem for them, in their lack of thinking biblically about their politics!

You can be anti-abortion and NOT a conservative! Your party and position is PER ISSUE, or you're lazy (a sin) or ignorant (a sin). You try to apply the Bible as much as possible to your views, as we don't leave Jesus in the church house.

The FULL counsel of God is God's standard (Ac. 20:27), as opposed to cherry-picking a few moral injunctions or prohibitions, as much as is possible under the government system you're in submission to. Communist Christians have much less chance to express Christian values in their public squares!

And related to our safety net and laws protecting consumers and workers, such things as paid overtime, 40 hour work weeks, safe working conditions and job benefits infringe on how business could maximize profits, yet they are MORAL, and Christians SHOULD support morals over money! (Mt. 6:24) OFTEN we don't, as PROVED by 81 percent of WASPs rewarding THIS behavior: (link: http://facebook.com/jim.meroney.3/) facebook.com/jim.meroney.3/, because we cherry-pick, and accept the whole kitchen sink of sins by identifying with all that comes from NOT thinking, but choosing a party and theory, hook, line and sinker, called 'conservatism,' OFTEN because being a spiritual 'conservative' IS being holy!

We confuse the political with the spiritual, due to that term, from IGNORANCE sin! You can hold any position on any issue in any party or political theory, and Christians CAN'T choose to support sins in the party or theory they identify with.

YET WE DO, because greed isn't a sin to many American Christians, because they don't know their Bibles, or care, because they love money (a sin), but attend church, which supposedly covers all sins, or at least cleanses the conscience, though NOT before God.

Many morally good things in our society have come from the political party many Christians paint/spin as immoral (because of abortion and homosexuality), when WASPs themselves support many other sins. As Buttigeig said, God has no political party. He only has positions on issues. You decide which party and politician MOST represents Christian values, and vote for them, even as you fight their immoral deeds, words and positions!

You never wash your hands, after you vote, and simply accept their sins! The O.S. Hawkins sermon, 'You have what you tolerate,' ought to be required listening for EVERY U.S. Christian! All that's required for evil to prevail is good people doing (or saying) nothing.

Christians are supposed to change our culture to the more moral, increasingly and incrementally, over time. MOST of us just say abortion is evil, vote accordingly, then return to the rat race money chase, contrary to Pv. 23:4-5, hypocritically and sinfully, because it's convenient, tradition (Mk. 7:8; Col. 2:8), we love our money (I Tim. 6:10), and we know God's word so little (OPPOSITE of II Tim. 2:15).

The problem in white Christianity is NOT so much our politics, but our spiritual walks with Christ (or lack thereof), as I've said for DECADES! One is foundational to the other! In Laodicea, disciples are RARE.

P.S.: It would be ideal for all poverty suffering to be remedied privately. However, we are not as generous as to consistently be able to rely on that! Sporadic and chinchy, often, so Welfare steps in to provide what's needed, stably.

It HAS to be temporary, self-sufficiency empowering, and tokenly repaid by compulsory civic service; NO abuse, fraud, waste or Welfare queens, or encouraging birthing babies to get more money! But its existence is NOT evil! Its abuses are! Our safety net is MORAL, despite any immoral abuses we need to fully weed out! Christians should always support moral policies.

Let's review the CREDIBLE allegation that liberals raise that conservatives are greedy and selfish. Here are ALL the things cons are for, all which benefit their personal pocket books: End five federal agencies, NO wealth redistribution (i.e., Welfare), end minimum wage and the end estate tax, lower taxes, lower wages from illegals and legal immigrants (i.e., flood the labor market, to drive wages down), outsource (for cheaper wages), automate (to replace workers), always want less regulations (so consumers and workers get squeezed), tax loopholes, etc.

Conservatism is about conserving the rich's money! Any moderate or liberal rich person KNOWS this, and actively disagrees with that attitude/personal value, as should every Christian, as selfishness, hoarding and greed/love of money are all listed as sins (Phil. 2; Ecc. 5:13; Lk. 12:15). THESE sins aren't reproached by conservative–ONLY abortion and homosexuality! That's NOT the FULL counsel of God! (Rev. 22:19)

Update #7: Healthcare & College

I'm peeved, so you're 'gonna hear about it! I've spent three phone calls to one doctor's office and three to my health insurer, and we STILL don't know if a Meningitis vaccine out of pocket costs me anything for my son, having insurance. THAT'S what's wrong with U.S. healthcare! B.S., complex pricing tricks, to rip you off, well after you get served! Make that illegal!

Every human needs college and insurance, if they have the brains to attend higher education, so government should fix prices for BOTH, as they're monopolies! I'm a free enterprise guy, but NOT for monopolies or industries people MUST have!

Self-taught accredited college should be legal! Free, and online, or a minimal cost to access. You can pay big bucks if you want hoity toity schools, but the information is basically the same. Record experts, per subject, for YouTube classes, and pay them to grade exams, and the cost will be LOW!

The medical industry MUST have caps, at least for the poor! The "nice" folks are highway robbers with smiles, OFTEN! It's a rich man's game, but the poor didn't choose to have bodies that break down! And catastrophic insurance MUST be legally required of everyone, as YUGE medical bills can bankrupt a family, and society (i.e., other people) don't have any incentive to want to help you pay for it, absent crowd funding, which is an irrational way to pay for healthcare costs.

Competition would be great, but insurance repayment of doctors and hospital rates don't vary (much), so that nullifies any claimed competition! Only good-hearted medical folk who lose money by reducing costs compete for the poor's care! The system is BROKEN for about everyone but the rich!

Even for lawyers, a poor person can usually find a low-cost or free legal advisor, for most needs; even with crimes, government gives them supposedly free attorneys. But healthcare, which they have ZERO choice in (i.e., you choose crimes or misdemeanors!) you get NOTHING, if you're too rich for Medicaid, and those who qualify for it should NOT be getting it free, with no token repayment obligations.

The middle class is HOSED, in using healthcare! I literally avoid doctors at all costs, even if it may kill me someday. This is NOT a moral system, humane, or intelligent, but a greedy monopoly of good-hearted folk who demand to get rich off ailments no one chooses.

NO other industry can do that! Cadillac dealers can service the rich, but no one has to own one. You have to deal with diseases! We accept this over-charging industry due to it and the rich's influence on D.C.! That's a sin that has to be fixed!

If conservatives want to fight for the right of healthcare and colleges to charge an arm and a leg, to be consistent, they also ought to fight for a law that no poor people are allowed to have any kids, because they can't afford them, if they get expensive diseases, or are smart enough to qualify for college! That's NOT 'gonna happen!

That's why I've said a three-tiered healthcare system is needed—one for the poor, middle class, and rich. Mandate every medical person allocate some percent of their work for the poor, and reduced costs for the middle class, with commensurate lesser quality treatment levels.

I'm NOT for one-size-fits-all, nor do I oppose the rich getting whatever they want to pay for. I am opposed to the middle class priced out of what they need (cap costs!), and the poor need minimum care, paid tokenly back by required civic service repayment, and forced catastrophic insurance for all but perhaps the rich.

Easy fixes! The problem is, most every American healthcare worker would cater to the rich, because most Americans want to be rich. Laws would be needed to force them to care for all. That's heavy-handed government control, but necessary, in a monopoly situation; same with college-cap tuition, and allowing self-taught accreditation!

Let's dispel a MYTH about Wealthcare—everyone works a job to be paid money! You can say you want to help people, but you want to AT A PRICE! LOWER the wages any over-paid healthcare workers get paid, and college biology major numbers will REDUCE! Let's be honest... U.S. parents tell their kids to be business executives, doctors, lawyers or engineers for ONE reason, and it's NOT because they're cut out for it, or would like it... it's because Americans usually crave/idolize money!

Even hoodsters don't aspire to rap or play sports just because it's fun or enjoyable... they see rich people doing those things, who look like them! Everyone wants to be paid more. You've got to DESERVE and earn it! There are no free lunches in life. That's not mean or unjust!

And if people wanted free healthcare, the system would be over-loaded, which means rationing and long lines, because even I would take any and every test and procedure to keep me healthy, and alive as long as technologically possible, because that's human nature—to be self-interested to the point you don't consider others or costs.

It's the Lennonism—NOT Marxism, but JOHN, the Beatle... Imagine there no health costs, it's easy if you try, no limit to healthcare, above us only skies! Pipe dream foolish!

When I was in law school, a proposal arose that we donate a certain number of our "billable hours" to the indigent. I opposed it, and still would, because no one works for free! And free is what so many Dem presidential candidates are pushing, so they get expensive-paying cushy jobs that will NEVER implement those lies, called campaign promises.

The other side will oppose it, the rich will leave America, in extreme circumstances, and doctors will change professions. It's all a bunch of hooey that riles up FOOLS who ever believe one word of it. It's called politics, and every lie or un-doable proposal should be illegal!

Let's also be honest... the rich want to keep the best jobs for their friends and family! That's what Ivy league schools are for, and now any elite school that charges out the wazoo-greed, and discrimination against NE non-rich! Sinful people who benefit from injustice support continued unfairness. Sin-full human nature!

Update #8: Future Economics & Employment

China studied America, to get where they are. We need to study how they got where they are. They used the business model of supply chain. They assessed what assets they have (i.e., billions of people, as labor). They serviced America's consumerist economy, and got a near number one economy as a result. America must make that same national evaluation, and international comparison.

America's assets are our SMART people, innovation, hard work, oil and natural resources, our dollar as reserve currency, our military and allies, including their economic ties. You have to have a competitive advantage as a nation. Our NOT-so-smart citizens pull us DOWN! Schools MUST make ALL students smart, even against their will.

America needs to diversify cheap labor from nations other than India and China, as they have us over a barrel if they go on strike, or seek higher wages, or China dumps (i.e., under market value, by government subsidy) product, or engages other immoral economic activities. Help second and third world citizens become manufacturing workers! Investment, with required payoff.

U.S. citizens MUST learn Economics 101: YOU are in direct competition with robots, and Chinese labor, at $2 a day! If your skills can't do what bots can't, or you can't live off $2 a day, your job skills must justify a higher wage, unless your job must stay in America. NO business pays you higher, just because you're a fellow American! We need to regulate outsourcing.

Dem voters OFTEN send politicians to D.C. to get freebies (college, daycare, healthcare), which means they believe they are incompetent to earn a living that pays their bills, on their own. They used to join unions, for same purpose. YOU have to be the master of your own fate, and "Be [the] Best" employee possible.

I oppose business having an upper hand with labor. There ought to be equity/a level playing field. Since globalization, business holds most ALL of the cards! 1985 is when this injustice began, and unions got busted, and business started all its tricks to HURT laborers. That's contrary to Levit. 19:15, and is economic sin.

What you DON'T know is mainly why you are poor, or have problems! If you READ, or watch educational videos and TV, and hear smart radio shows, or hang around smarter people (if they'll endure you), you can get smarter, unless you have a mental deficiency.

Let's address Americans who graduated college, and got higher educated. Knowledge is power, but education is NOT all you need, in a global world. You need skills that are in demand by business! You need to see where business trends are heading, and have skills for the future!

STEM courses have to be made more fun! Successful entrepreneurship skills must be mastered by students. Our economy NEEDS minimum wage workers (especially retail), permanently, unless robots steal those jobs. People clamor for a living wage, but living standards have to adjust to market force wages! Youth and immigrants often fill these spots. Over time, all Americans need better skills, as robots will occupy MOST entry level positions (Ex.: cashier/check out, 18-wheeler driver, Uber, retail sales).

Up to 75 percent of today's jobs are expected to be robotized. WHERE WILL YOU WORK to make money? You won't own a robot! The rich will. Zuckerberg proposes ~$30K given to all Americans, to do nothing, so the rich can keep their wealth, and pursue AI/robotics.

Some Dem candidate offered $1K a month free money. Dems are moving toward a workless society run by robots, yet realize everyone needs money to live, and you need a job, or business, to get money, and businesses need customers with money, to make profit!

If we had all robotized jobs, government would be required to give people money, or Mark Zuckerberg types, and you'd be maxed out at $30K a year. Our average income is ~$57K, so voters would REDUCE their standard of living for the chance to do no work?

If you had no job, and a guaranteed minimum income, what would you do, and how would you pay for it, 8-5, M-F? NOT by full-time vacations!

My hometown Houston has the greatest number of Millennials living at home, and one out of four of them are care givers, often to elderly family members. Alaskan Bush People were trend-setters? ALL these trends are because costs are high, and wages trended downward, via globalization.

The rich got richer, but there are stagnant wages for many others. Lower taxes boosted our economy and jobs, but prices still escalated/inflated, as with college and healthcare. IF the rich are smart, Capitalism will turn to Socialism, if they let elitists have all the fun! Votes out-number your money numbers!

Schools MUST teach students how to have more than one career, transition and adapt, and have transferable skills, as hot industry vectors change! Every U.S. student needs to know how to make a business plan, find funding, do market research, rent space, hire employees, advertise and manage a business!

The fastest KEY to financial freedom is not just learning to invest well, but also how to live cheaply! We consumers, employees and voters have the greatest leverage if we unify our collective buying power! When you don't know fellow employees' salaries, you don't know the market rate, and businesses take advantage—especially for females!

When we buy as individuals, we have zero leverage on prices! If software allowed all Americans who want a given product to buy as a single transaction, they'd all get a better price! If all workers/laborers united their services, they would have leverage on businesses offering wages.

Update #9: Fair or Living Wage?

People RIGHTLY get mad when injustice occurs, and they especially get angry when it happens against them, personally. God says government ISN'T to favor business or workers (Levit. 19:15). Trump's tax return to business was retaliation for Obama's tax punishment of business, via Obamacare! Now we're about even.

It's ONLY RIGHT for government to allow NO favoritism between the two, but a fair fight, level the playing field! The GOP favors the rich and business; Dems favor workers and the poor. God wants zero favoritism, so BOTH parties SIN by so doing!

What's fair in taxes and in laws concerning business? Let's start with what's UN-fair, and work our way backwards. IF our tax brackets start by being fair, it's UN-fair for anyone to escape them, by ever paying less (via loopholes, tax schemes, off shore bank accounts, opening a business to fail, in order to offset a successful one, lobbying, etc.).

This SPECIFICALLY means that Warren Buffett is ABSOLUTELY right that NO secretary should EVER pay the same percent as her/his boss! It also means that GE paying zero taxes is a SIN, and they're stealing from the public.

It also means that tax incentives to lure businesses to your state MUST more than make up for that lost revenue in taxes its employees pay! It's also UN-fair for U.S. tax money to be stuck overseas, because we have DUMB laws allowing billions to NOT be repatriated, as businesses use our laws to avoid our taxes!

EVERYONE HAS TO PAY THEIR FAIR SHARE IN TAXES, and there can be NO exceptions or tax cheats—PERIOD. U.S. businesses compete globally, with businesses in nations that have NO required overtime, minimum wage, work safety regulations, etc. (sweatshops, and maybe even slave labor). IS IT FAIR to make our businesses have a DIS-advantage in global competition? No, but U.S. has ethical standards, and we do NOT stoop to the bottom of the barrel, except sometimes for president.

HOW do we make up that unfairness to U.S. business? We allow them to outsource jobs, and import labor, and give them the benefit of the doubt in labor relations, knowing if America has less-successful businesses located here, America and U.S. workers lose! Money and business goes to other nations, as with their jobs.

But such tactics as contract labor, increased employee co-pays, part-time no benefits, layoffs, streamlining, mergers and acquisitions, automation, robotized jobs, and more HURT U.S. workers, as in the "rust belt, and other blue collar and manufacturing jobs. SOON, 18-wheeler and Uber drivers will lose their jobs to self-driving vehicles.

Business wins, labor loses (as it did, BIGly, when unions were busted by globalization, in the mid-1980's, when BIG business said take it or leave it—we're no longer paying $70,000 for assembly line workers we can hire in China, so accept less than half your pay or we ship your jobs elsewhere—which is exactly what they did).

IS IT FAIR for executives and CEO's to get bonuses for increasing stock prices by firing a bunch of humans on payroll? NO! IS IT FAIR that CEO wages escalated from ~5:1 to 320:1 of worker wages in the past 30 years (approximate figures only)? Absolutely NOT, and it was achieved by BUDDY'S sympathetic to CEO's lining Boards of Directors, who are, often, overpaid back scratchers not looking out for the shareholder's best/fiduciary interests in what the top dogs get paid. IS IT FAIR that business folk can hire only who they want, then vote for government not to help the people NO business wanted? My rabbit can answer that question.

Now, on the flip side, IS IT FAIR that anyone gets paid minimum wage if they're loafers? My guinea pig will answer that one for me. IS IT FAIR to work workers hard, if they're getting minimum wage, or is 'minimum wage minimum work' a mere just statement (though the Bible disagrees with that effort attitude, for Christians, Col. 3:23-24)?

Fair is determined by comparison! If business can buy labor to do a job for $2/a day, vs. $36K/year, for the same quality and effort, they'll buy cheaper, as business is in business to profit. That's NOT unfair. So in a global economy, fair is a global comparison!

Is it fair for U.S. workers NOT to all earn a living wage? YES. Not all earn/deserve one! And living standards VARY, as they do in various U.S. regions! Business doesn't owe every worker enough money live at the standard they're accustomed to, but what the market rate is, and the worker's skills have to propel her to a higher market wage, in a global marketplace!

Business owners AREN'T your parents! They're giving you a job—a way to financially survive, and they pay what they have to, so you'll agree, or not go to another business, or so the position can be filled at the quality level they demand. IS IT FAIR to workers to have illegal and over legal immigration? NO, because that ONLY benefits business! More people to fill a position, when EVERY American needs a job, and U.S. businesses should put Americans first, or they're UN-patriotic.

Another question is it right? IS IT RIGHT to pollute our skies with cancer-causing chemicals, because you can profit? NO. IS IT RIGHT that a business could sell a dangerous product, and profit from it? NO! What's fair and what's right are always considerations, as with is it profitable. That's why government passes laws and regulations, and why we have overtime and worker safety rules, as with truth in advertising and bait-and-switch laws, etc. Again, government is NOT to favor worker or business management, even if lobbyists pay politicians greatly to do so!

Let's briefly define fair taxes, NOT in specific numbers. Our $22 trillion debt has to be paid by someone, some day. ONLY tax payers pay America's bills! IS IT FAIR that ~45 percent of Americans pay little-to-NO taxes? Absolutely... NOT! They can't afford another bill, but they CAN afford hours spent helping America with free labor, as a sweat equity equivalent to taxes.

IS IT FAIR that any American cannot work, and get paid enough to survive? ONLY for people 100 percent unable to work—NO OTHERS! IS IT FAIR for the rich to pay a higher tax percent? On the surface, fairness seems to require the exact same percent, but if you THINK about it, 10 percent of nothing is NOT the same sacrifice as 10 percent of all you'd ever want!

A progressive tax system is NOT unfair, but we MUST keep all taxes to the minimum required, because businesses need money to grow, and families need money to survive and retire, so any money that the government takes lessens that potentiality!

Government should ONLY do functions that are needed. Churches, charities, businesses and individuals can pick up any slack! That's the way America was designed, and it's logical and fair if we adhere to our model! Life will never be perfect, and as Mahatma Gandhi said, "There's enough on this planet for everyone's needs, but not everyone's greed."

Every problem the U.S. faces costs money to fix. Unless and until Welfare is fixed, where EVERY American pays in something to our system, any extra thing government or voters clamor government to do ONLY costs tax payers—NOT all Americans—and that is NOT FAIR, so tax payers will ALWAYS vote for government doing NOTHING that costs money!

You might call that a conservative viewpoint... conserving money, and maintaining status quo—no major change. It's rational! WHY should or would any tax payer AGREE to lose more money, when almost half the country doesn't share that sacrifice? Until every American gets equally PAINED by every dollar Congress spends, our system is UN-fair!

Voting to spend other people's money is a sin, when you have zero skin in the game! And forcing working people to pay all Uncle Sam's bills is sin, as well. That is NOT a righteous nation, and God won't honor sinful systems.

IS IT JUST OR RIGHT that D.C. politicians are bribable, and get cushy jobs and perks for doing LITTLE-to-nothing? The ants in my yard can answer that one! IS it right, rational or beneficial that BOTH parties ONLY fight full-time, never find common ground, and want to destroy the other? The fleas in my yard know the answer.

The system is broken, and the fix is EASY, but if extremists say my-way-or-the-highway, a literal Civil War WILL happen. It can be no other way, save for secession into two nations. You can't have up vs. down, black vs. white, tall vs. short, fat vs. skinny, in public policy! You can only have NOTHING done, or something done, then undone later!

Liberals want LOTS of change that tax payers alone pay for (Ex.: free college, daycare, healthcare, environmental cleanup, reparations, etc.). Conservatives want NOTHING done that costs money, and even want tax rebates, so our debt skyrockets, and the can gets further kicked down the road! NEITHER extreme is rational, or right!

The two extremes either need to separate into two separate countries, or fight it out on the battlefield, like we did pre-Lincoln! There's NO way to harmonize two polar opposite extremes, and make them both equally happy! So STFU, both extremes!

America is NOT my-way-or-the-highway, demonizing and domination of opponents, wanting them destroyed! We have a two-party system... we need a three+ party one, and we will NEVER have a one party system, no matter how hard BOTH extremes try to put the other out of business. The BEST any extremist can do is get policies passed that get revoked later, like Obamacare, then business taxes get reduced, in retaliation.

Are extremists THAT STUPID to think this is good or rational? I've dealt with far left and far right extremists, and my experience tells me YES—their IQ's are often that LOW. They're emotion driven! They just want what they want, and they don't care and can't think through consequences, or democratic processes! Shove my ideas down others' throats, if I can round up enough votes. It DOESN'T matter to them if backlash comes later!

Threaten politicians' jobs if my pet peeve isn't addressed. With that voter attitude, no one would EVER leave a salaried job or business to run even for dog catcher! Our people NEED educating, and any politician who riles up stupid sheeple is SINNING, and should be fired, or better, never hired.

THIS message will be attacked as over people's heads! GET YOUR HEAD OUT OF YOUR ___, and maybe less things will fly by which are merely common sense!

P.S.: WHO wants to pay anyone else's bills? People get on TV for paying forward a $25 meal at fast food restaurant drive-throughs, AS IF they're heroes! NO American parts with money easily, which is why taxes, (unbiblical) tithes and charity donations are so hard to get out of people. WE ALL HAVE LIVES TO PAY FOR!

You do yours, I'll do mine, and let's do as little together (communally, through government) as humanly possible, and let people who CARE to part with their funds fund problems they want fixed, especially if tax payers didn't cause and/or don't have such problems. This is rational. The problem is, no one has the funds (but the rich), or wants them given away—they just gripe.

“Yes the truth is that men's ambition and their desire to make money are among the most frequent causes of deliberate acts of injustice.” –Aristotle #UnbridledCapitalism

GLOBAL VISION...

(Added into Christians For Trump's earlier Updates)

Concerning Michael Bloomberg [calling for climate change to be a major election year issue], the only reasonable solution, in the short term, is to tackle the most polluting violators, fund green energy research for cheaper vehicle powering (equal in quality and price to gasoline), while meeting oil company's need for more places to drill, if and only if they ensure no leaks can occur. Balance BOTH energy types, vs. one side!

Let's address Bloomberg's climate change challenge more in depth. The EPA must identify any and every SEVERE case of pollution in America, like willful violators, especially businesses. Fines won't stop them if it's cheaper to pay up than fix up their smoke stacks! Government must make it easier for them to acquire the technology to fix up such messes.

Any inefficiencies in private businesses pursuing green energy technology must be eased/resolved, including encouraging cooperation, if and only if that achieves the purpose faster, that end goal being vehicles running on green energy at the same functionality as gasoline for ~the same price.

Finally, states should be encouraged (by legal and financial/tax means) to implement regulations to reduce pollution per their states desires. CA will always be on one end of the scope, with TX lagging last, and you don't punish oil producers for supplying U.S.'s energy needs, but let blue states get as strict as their people want.

Long term, the goal is all states polluting less, including individuals. That requires technological advances, mainly! No one wants to bike to work, by law, in Texas summers, for example. Make our cars and homes less polluting... we can't! I can't even change my car's oil, much less make my catalytic converter work better!

Medium-term goals (i.e., 5-12 years) take the end goal and bridge the short-term goal achievements, and makes reasonable goals per year chosen, based on what science allows/permits. Any more radical aspirations, in the short-term, punishes Americans for enjoying our responsible lifestyles! No one I know takes joy rides, just for the fun of it, except Lamebaugh, who flew a plane for no reason, to make a sinful point, years ago.

We the people are NOT the problem! We only use products others make. NONE of us own homemade cars, or home HVAC systems, so don't try to punish us for using what others sell us! Slow and steady wins the race, but isn't a great campaign slogan.

Businesses are the main polluters, though individuals are large because of our large numbers. Businesses fixed our black smoke-emitting vehicles in the 1970's... do it again! We can do little to help, especially if less-polluting/green cars cost more than polluters. Government ought not force us to buy more expensive less-polluting cars!

Any laws, like car sharing, turning off heat two hours a night in the Winter, requiring use of public transportation, etc., are extreme/overkill. Enforce existing regulations and laws, like fining cars that don't pass emissions standards. If government can hasten less-polluting technological development, they MUST do so!

Finally, BIG oil needs to be encouraged to pursue green energy even more (Exxon Mobil already does). I'd love to see cars and homes running off geothermal, solar, wind, wave power, maybe even tied into safe nuclear (already existing, vs. new) and 'clean' coal (if that technology develops). That's only ONE issue to fix.

One more thing... can science study how the ozone hole might be patched? It sounds impossible, and possibly is. NASA knowing exact details of what's missing, and what surrounds the gap may help. This is more a long-term aspiration that's probably not even reasonable! I'm no scientist... just throwing out ideas.

Oil will NOT last forever. Every year ocean platforms (which I've worked on) have to go out further and dig deeper, which costs more money, so gasoline prices increase. Wind, sun rays, ocean waves, and lava under the earth are essentially free and abundant. Tap into them with technology! Lessen our dependence on oil.

Texas will ALWAYS be the last state to adopt green energy, just as any state majoring in any industry will be the most resistant to change in those industries! We always need oil derivatives. Technology needs developing that NO oil drilling ever causes blowouts or pipeline leaks! People wouldn't hate oil if that was achieved!

And it's unfair to address U.S. pollution when China belts it out, but also unfair to China that the U.S. is in its post-belching era, while they are more infantile in economic development! They're going through where we've been, but they also have to follow our lead to start cleaning up their act regarding climate change!

Update #1: Law & Order, & Orderly Taxes

For any medical care providers, consumers are OWED the right to price compare, but with hidden prices, that's impossible. The Today Show says hospitals are required to post prices next year, though insurance coverages will vary. They're a monopoly, and patients can't shop around much today! That's WRONG! Carly Fiorina's idea (pricing menu)! The 2020 agenda must be to make everything better, prioritized, and as good a value as humanly possible.

We just detailed energy policy. Law and order ought to set goals and means for reducing crimes, and cops killed. Cop think tanks can research ways to lessen crime, like identifying suspects likely to commit crime, study what deters who, what incentivizes who to break the law, what technology and actions deter crime at homes and businesses, how jails can be used to rehabilitate criminals, vs. just punish, how laws can deter repeat offenders (punishments are too light?), safe cop suits (protect heads and hearts), X-ray or sonar technology to identify nearby guns (so cops aren't ambushed unaware), engine shut-off technology by remote control (to reduce car chases), gang interventions (to reduce murders over drugs and egos), helping rap sheet people be gainfully employed, cops walking the beat to know citizens, etc.

EVERY challenge/issue U.S. faces can be broken down into problems and solutions, then prioritized and budgeted, with private-public cooperation and input. We just PROVED that claim on two issues. Our three political books list 115+ issues. Answers exist for every one of them. Don't lack the will to do so; #JustDoIt!

I want the thinnest, lightest weight chest protection vests from all incoming bullets for cops, that don't make them sweat, or work harder to walk. Same with baseball caps or helmets with a bullet-proof shield tech they can see through. You needn't look like Robocop to be unable to be killed by crooks! Do it.

In case people may ask where I get some concerns, yesterday, the First 48 TV show showed a cop killed in New Orleans where they NEVER got the cop killer. He was ambushed in his car, and shot through the window. This should NEVER be able to occur. Bullet-proof windows in cop cars? Whatever it takes!

Even our military under fire NEEDS uniforms that protect heads and hearts/lungs. CAN YOU IMAGINE if our fighting men and women could take on the enemy and not risk injury, and not just use robots and drones to have such safety under fire? I can! Just invent it, with current materials, like Kevlar!

Tax Loopholes need to be ended, so rates that are FAIR get fully enforced. We'll NEVER collect enough to pay off our debt, but over MANY years, we could. The rich should NEVER be allowed to pay secretary tax rates (Buffett rule)! Make taxes simple, to lower the costs of paying them! There are easy solutions everywhere.

Update #2: Global Governments

IMAGINE THIS!: I have an opinion on the queen's gold-plated piano... NO human "DESERVES" to live in luxury off the taxes of the people, no matter who they are. There are no laws of life that say certain people should be billionaires because they lead any nation. Was I clear enough?

I read posts that said, "but she's the queen." WHO GIVES A DA-N! She's NOT god! She's a great lady, but laws that say certain families have inherent DNA genes for ruling with skill, or rights to do so from history and heritage are STUPID, to me. You're FREE to debate me, but give good REASONS for opposing.

The ONLY time the people should NOT control their government is when the people want evil implemented! PERIOD. I wish EVERY country had democracy, but the people CERTAINLY need to DEMAND benevolent dictators—NOT crooks who siphon off nation's wealth, like Putin and rocket man, et al! Insist on it.

I pray EVERY citizen in oppressive lands unite in 2019 to plan ways to overthrow evil dictators, as peacefully as humanly possible! BEST is for crooked "leaders" to change, and care for their people more than themselves. I call on every such thug to repent of your greedy, selfish ways, today and in 2019.

NO HUMAN has a God-given RIGHT to lead a nation! It's a PRIVILEGE! May God judge you severely and directly if you disagree, or abuse the privilege, in ways everyone will know God alone had to have done it! Fear God and do right, Putin, Kim Jong Un, Iran, Saudi prince, China and other oppressors!

THE PEOPLE are king, like the customer is king! Human beings. They may NOT be the smartest, the richest, the best-connected. They may be mere blue collar laborers, but they are made in God's image, and if Jesus DIED for them to avoid Hell forever, so He values them, so their leaders must, too! Duh 101.

EVERY human being NEEDs to sustain through life; NOT die of preventable disease, have enough food to not starve to death, and not die from exposure to the elements. If this isn't a MINIMUM we ALL can agree on, as world citizens, we are NOT humane humans. We are all related through Adam... live like it.

EVERY human has a RIGHT to education, toilets (or their equivalent), safe drinking water. They MUST deserve it, too; NO lazy moochers off society! ONLY people unable to work shouldn't, like the severely mentally or physically challenged. Even paraplegics use technology to work, via computers! There are FEW valid excuses!

And poor nations need such jobs. Their politicians MUST fix their economies. Survivalist skills are needed until the third world upgrades. Smarter farming methods, etc. There are global solutions to most, if not all problems. See our book, The Way Things Ought to Be. The answers exist. JUST implement them! DUH.

I mean this as literally as a human can speak: DON'T have any kids if you can't afford them! Population explosion comes from SELFISHNESS! If you're too poor for kids, do something GREAT that you will be remembered by, instead of relying on any progeny to carry on your name. That's ego, and hurts the world!

There is more and more pressure on limited resources. Can science discover ways for trees to grow at twice the speed? Can we have breeding pens in poor nations to "grow" food/meat, or especially plant-based foods, so people don't starve, and less animals get sacrificed in the process of human survival?

People in poor nations are more survival of the fittest desperate for resources, so Black Friday mass rushes for the food would occur, if government didn't control access, but gardens galore could handle starvation problems in third world countries. There's NO excuse for anyone dying of starvation! Inhumane governments!

If you EVER consider letting people die, so there's less strain on resources, you are evil. Prevent unneeded births, and preventable premature deaths. TEACH poor people how to survive, and make their nations better for all—not just feed themselves and poo and pee as their contribution to life!
#CommonSense

Update #3: Innovation Mini Marathon

Wars seem absolutely ridiculous, to me. They're often over competition for disputed and limited resources. Science needs to discover ways to increase resources! We've stretched how far cars can travel on a gallon of gas. Do the same for our food sources! We have entire swatches of land in Western U.S.A. that could become food fields and gardens! USELESS cactus lands in New Mexico, ad infinitum. USE them smarter!

We've built up Galveston by 12 feet, and dammed off Hoover, and landed man on the moon and a rover on Mars. We can make these unused arid lands fertile! It's NOT impossible, but doable.

Are there wood substitutes, to reduce strain on trees? We've found ways to curb Gigantism in humans. Reverse that process in trees! We need wood farms, as MOST structures are built thereby, excepting metal studs. When you mine for metals, you ruin the looks, temporarily. Can't we fix that?

We now have robotic surgeries that leave half inch scars at insertion incisions. Can't technology do the same for mountains to be mined of all their assets, but NOT destroyed in the process? We even know most likely places of oil pockets underground. Dry hole drilling OUGHT never occur, now days!

We ought to have technology that identifies where the ore, diamonds, gas, oil, metal, etc., are, underground, with precision robotic drilling, to minimize the impact to nature in the extraction process! Money/cost is the objection by business. It's cheaper to destroy the earth, for profits. FIX that! Make it competitively-priced, over time. Get the public to demand this, politically, and in their purchasing decisions!

What resources exist at the bottom of the ocean? What new drugs? How can we use the lava under crust layers of earth for free energy? There's heat and activity constantly occurring down there! Every wind gust needs to be captured and made into storable energy for future use.

The sun will ALWAYS rise. Every day we AREN'T capturing its energy, we are forever WASTING resources. You can't recover yesterday's sunshine! The ocean breaks waves every ~five seconds. USE that power to fuel cars! There are ways.

Natural disasters are INEVITABLE! They WILL occur. You KNOW wildfires WILL occur in California in 2019! Guaranteed. WHAT are you doing to prevent or lessen their damage, government and business? Hurricanes, tornados, drought, tsunamis, hail-ALL are coming in 2019. This ISN'T prophecy, but common sense! How can we lessen them? Feel free to say we can't, and we'll ignore you.

Think small and ramp up! A blow dryer can knock off Q-tips on a bathroom counter. How could you lessen its air flow, or adjust its aim, or tighten down the ear cleaners? Now apply those answers to natural disasters.

Floods will occur! DIVERT their flow! Capture their mass underground. Require their runoff to flow to oceans in pathways that avoid people and structures. They WILL happen! What are WE doing, knowing that FACT?

Asbestos is dangerous. Can we make fire retardant materials for Cali casas/homes? I'm no scientist! When my twins were ~one year olds, my next door neighbor's home caught fire. A GREAT neighbor I hadn't met volunteered to take them off my hands, so I could hose down that side of my house, and set off the sprinkler system. It WORKED, to keep the fire off my casa. There are solutions, folks!

Firemen (and women) should NEVER die or be burned doing their jobs. That's the goal. Work backwards to figure out how that goal can be achieved. Maybe it's a portable metal frame that nothing can crush them under, or better fire suits, or technology that detects fire sources, or easiest areas to attack first (X-ray, radar, sonar, etc.).

Drones with infra-red, overhead, to tell fire fighters what they're getting into, 3-D holographic, and seeing through walls and floors. If this all sounds too fantastical to you, you have been identified as someone WORTHY of being ignored!

Oceans flood homes on sea coasts! Is it IMPOSSIBLE that stilted homes could rise up several feet during hurricanes? We have low-rider cars that adjust up and down. Hydraulic technology exists. Homes would cost more, but isn't rebuilding and insurance payouts MORE costly than that solution?

You could even have an underground concrete wall that rises when storms ensue. It would force water to your neighbor, but if everyone had one, it could serve like Galveston's sea wall! Again, if this is too over your head, go back to your mundane thinking and boring job! You are the problem vs. the solution!

Avalanches? Preventable! Earthquakes should be better predictable, but even NOT knowing when, design and build against them! You know they could occur. Cali mudslides? INEVITABLE! Strengthen hills with structure! Mud plus hay makes stronger mass than mud and water! Imbed the hills with stronger materials than mere dirt! Inject beams subsurface.

Even new construction has a plastic green grid on the edges of grass growth! They always have plastic barriers to prevent ground runoff. Dirt and grass breaks into landslides if that's all that's under your home! Concrete and metal do NOT run away in huge rainfalls! APPLY that knowledge!

Hail WILL happen. Have an Israeli Iron Dome technology to shoot it down, per home, into smaller pieces! Even car dealers now add roofs above their inventory, but it DOESN'T move or adjust to the direction hail is flying in from. WHY? That's STUPID; fix it!

Are there car covers that prevent hail damage? Why not? Roofing companies make a KILLING replacing entire roofs for minor hail damage; that's WASTEFUL! Make tiles stronger, or patches easier to make. You can't heat hail balls fast enough to use heat, but strong lasers could crush the big hail balls mid-air, using GPS to identify the most damaging ones! Invent!

Snow slows down U.S. productivity. That SHOULDN'T happen! ALL roadways need technology to eliminate large snowfalls immediately. I don't know how. Study the options! Heat, robot shovels, materials that melts snow, snowplows by drone? Ridged highways like the rear windows of cars? There are answers!

Ice is dangerous on roads. DON'T tolerate its existence endangering citizens! Invent ice detectors, and flame throwing drones to melt them, or remote control robots to do the same! There is NO excuse why most anyone dies from a wreck, sliding on black ice! It may take 20 years, but DO these things, folks/voters!

Bridges dilapidating, pot holes, washed out bridges, eroding gas lines, aging water sewer systems/pipes... CHEAP but strong infrastructure fixes and repairs are NEEDED. DON'T think in traditional ways. Invent ways that achieve the right goals!

Healthcare is too expensive! How is any product made cheaper? Over time, more people buy them, by economies of scale and cheaper suppliers! APPLY what we know in one discipline to another, by analogies! Remember the blow dryer illustration? We have books to help you with all these fixes. Answers exist!

There is NO excuse for obesity! Businesses NEED to make cheap, healthy, tasty foods with less calories (safely genetically altered). Easy to fix, like veggies and new fruit products. Oprah recommends blending celery. That's innovation! I HATE celery and broccoli, AKA George Bush. Make it tastier and less yucky!

I want water filler that tastes like Coke and Dr. Pepper! I do NOT crave calories, I love TASTE! I could drink my right amount of daily water if you businesses would make a water product I like, that's cheap, and low in calories. A HUGE market is in your future if you'd think outside the BIG box mentality!

There OUGHT to be technology that tells me what diseases my body is facing in the next 10 years, by scanning the current state of my organs, and by blood tests! I want to know if heart disease or cancer awaits me, so I'll take corrective action NOW! NOT knowing makes one less incentivized, as no danger is identified.

There are some students who just aren't good with grades! Identify them, and find ways to make them smart! DON'T leave it only to them and their parent or parents/guardians! WE AREN'T EDUCATORS! Make physics fun and interesting. If you can't, you deserve to lose your job!

A professor at Baylor did that in 1978! It's NOT impossible!... Bob Packard. I don't remember one thing I learned, but his experiments and physical props and classroom interactions stick with me to this day! Your kid is NOT good at math (like me, because it bores me to sleep)? Make it fun and interesting, teachers, or have someone who can teach them, by the internet!

Your kid can't remember well? Make the information an alliteration, a rhyme, a song, a story. This is NOT parent's job! It's TEACHERS! And school administrators ought to be fired if this doesn't happen!

Learning languages is hard for many. Make it easier! My son learned little living in another culture! Immersion doesn't always solve that challenge. Teach kids what's INTERESTING, and USEFUL, first! They need the basics, first, like how you could survive in a foreign country for one month. More than that is mere academic and less useful. THAT would be the hook to get them into deeper study of the language!

Let them interact live with kids from other nations, so they see the value of learning the basics. Nature just called, as did the wife. If a liberal doesn't like me wadding T.P., or flushing for number one, FIX IT with better tech/toilets! I didn't shop for the one on my home! I'm NOT 'gonna use four T.P. squares!

We DO lack clean water, and OUGHT to limit its waste. TECHNOLOGY is the answer! That same neighbor whose home burned had a lawn sensor so his sprinkler system DIDN'T go off when scheduled, if it didn't need it (i.e., much rain). Technology and innovation and common sense are ALWAYS the answers!

And no matter how well we create a better future, NOTHING we invent will save us from impending doom of Bible prophecy, which we have two books you can learn from. For whatever ails you, we have a book for that!

One day, all electronic business transactions WON'T be possible. We will need redundant systems in the Tribulation period. Even China and Russia can shut down our electric grid, or internet (or independent hackers). Are we prepared? There's so much work to do... start warming up to better change, please.

Why must car flats occur? We have self-healing bike tires (green ooze). Why do I have to look at my car tires to see that one is going bald, or to learn when the metal starts protruding? Why can't my car tell me that? I don't regularly observe the rubber wheels, but get in and go. We live in a fast-paced society, so FIX it.

Why can't roads have better texture so they're safer in rainstorms? I witnessed a likely fatality, two days ago, from a crushed car in the rain. That SHOULDN'T happen! Where people sit should be an impenetrable cage... the rest can crumble into bits. Race cars have that. APPLY it to regular cars!

Cross-train to be innovative! Cross-discipline applications and analogies! Air bags were a GREAT improvement! They took innovation! We have an entire book on how to make almost anyone more innovative, and we offer 4,700+ new product ideas strewn throughout four books, for FREE!

Time and effort-saving are the future for business! I don't want to clean my rabbit's cage. I HATE getting up to let out the dog (so SAFE doggie doors that detect burglars crawling through them are needed).

Women spend so much time doing their hair and faces. Make technology to use robots to do so FASTER! My TV control NEEDS to be able to be found, and come to me, since my dog can't be trained to fetch it. If you imagine a 100 percent lazy person, you can invent new products!

My land line phone needs to BEEP when I clap my hands, and it's in the couch cushions, using the Clapper technology, etc... Clap off, clap on.

Chia pet for baldness? (joking) Literally, you can spend $15,000 for hair replacement, or $1,500 at a dermatology doctor I know, probably less, if products work. You have to KNOW how to buy smart! Dumb as a Donkey (book) has an entire chapter on that, because POOR people need this information the most-taught in public school! #JustDoIt #Nike Snow skiing can be dangerous. Cher's ex-hubby and a Kennedy died running into a tree. Can't emergency technology be added to skis, using sensors that detect impending crashes, like high-end cars have? Direction diverting rudders?

I promise you, when I get in these "moods," I can design any answer to any challenge. I'm proving that claim as we speak. If you want to see a demonstration for your business, it will be part of a national political campaign, starting in June, 2019, for FREE! You submit your challenges at AmericanAnswers.org (a website almost final form). I'll take a stab at fixing your business problems!

I want delicious squash, okra, sweet potato, green beans, peas and corn, instantly prepared in a microwave, at a cheap price, with no dangerous chemicals. I could lose weight so much faster. Is this asking too much? NO! UN-innovative businesses are the only ones who would answer 'YES!'

Give me a Big Mac water filler! Pizza and pecan pie! Learn how to extract calories without deleting flavor, scientists! You have to set goals, before you know where to act! Aim at nothing, you're sure to hit it! These are the goals. Go discover how to make them reality in the next 10 years, folks.

The NBC hoy/today show JUST addressed another innovation method... STEAL ideas from foreign countries! Some hottie TV competition show got my interest, just by the scantily-clad gals. The public votes which couple is most popular. We LOVE watching eye candy. Imitate success for innovation!

A Salvation Army ad just aired. We invented a product for them maybe nine years ago, among our 4,700+ new product ideas. Everywhere you look, life can be a Shark Tank experience for you if you view it like the Spanx's CEO... rose colored glasses of what could be. Learn to innovate, or accept status quo!

I literally want a home I.V. for water intake! If I could be ingesting gallons, throughout the day, I'd use it (I HATE the taste, and can't stand not using my teeth to consumer meat, or something with substance)! MAKE THIS, manufacturers! We accept such a LOW quality of life! Make all products have cheap alternatives, so the poor aren't left out!

Why can't I, right now, observe daily life in Russia, live, via satellites? I want to know how their people live, as with those in North Korea! From space, dictators can't stop our snooping eyes. I want the public to see North Koreans' struggles on their computers.

I get rubber-like phlegm when I'm sick, and often nearly choke to death, unaware I'm sick. Why can't I put a flexible straw down my throat to suck it out, with a hand-held compressor, at such times? I've had son do the Heimlich, drank water, or coughed fiercely, but I want better technology in life!

WHY do I have to scrub dishes before my dishwasher does its job? That's RIDICULOUS! A pre-soaking spritz could be made, so I don't have to soak them in a sink all day (i.e., too lazy, or busy, to wipe them down before inserting them in the machine). DESIGN a better world, and get our book, Design Your Future! Innovate!

People say A.I. (artificial intelligence) and robotics are the future, as with STEM. I say innovation is, as well! I can never compete in those arenas, but the "world's most innovative man" CAN compete on innovation! I'll do so for FREE for any decent-sized business, in our political campaign. New R & D products needed? I can help!

If you're poor, I can teach you how to live better for less. I plan to do so as part of a national political campaign, in June. I will NOT spend time on custom requests, but group needs. I've got to do campaigning! I care about your individual needs, but you're NOT the only one with that same need. Educate all!

I HOPE Dumb as a Donkey (book) will be in libraries, so the poor can learn for free, but if not, it will be cheap on Amazon Kindle. We've lived in the richest county in Texas for 10 years on one salary. I know how to do it. The poor NEED to know the tricks better than anyone else. Ignorance kills and costs money!

And for everyone who's NOT poor, or a business owner, our books will turn into campaign speeches, as our three political books have the BEST ideas! If I had to, I could read them, live. That's NOT preferred, but possible. I just need funders. I'll be funding my own family until the campaign starts. Our website's donate button doesn't work, yet.

One example: IF one lives in a rundown part of town, paint and landscaping can go a LONG way to lift spirits from the depressive nature of being in dangerous environs! That's JUST a start, but when all you see is depressing, hope can fade. I HOPE I have time to do that on my campaign; likely NOT.

#HabitatForHumanity

Give me a flavored nose spray, so I FEEL and think as if I ate a delicious pizza, when all I did was inhale the smell and taste! What do dogs need? Dogs? YES, because they have owners with money! Air conditioned and heated outdoor clothes, for the ones who like staying outside a lot, in the elements.

Update #4: On Immigration

Let's get specific on borders. If I were President, NO illegal would enter America—period. However, legitimately needed ones would have a quick, cheap and fair hearing process to gain entrance. Refugees would get only temporary asylum, in numbers we can handle, and a means to track them, so they can't blend in and stay permanently. ONLY people whose skills we need could gain citizenship, meaning they would never take any American's job away, or undercut American wages.

How would I stop their entering? Personnel and technology, at the force of Tasers if they resisted being turned around. Using the military, as needed.

Dreamers would become citizens, as they were innocent children tied to parent's choices! Any illegals here more than maybe seven years could apply for citizenship, but pay back taxes and get to the end of line of processing.

The border would be 100 percent secured, by technology and personnel. NO trespassers—period! You come in caravans, we bulk up our border personnel! We educate you well in advance that they are futile and dangerous.

NO child would ever be split from its parents, and no processing immigrant would be treated like a criminal. But they would be deported if our economy doesn't need them! Refugees would be tracked. Too many immigrants make U.S. wages and jobs decrease. Not enough makes jobs go unfilled. BOTH extremes harm America, as extremes usually do.

CAN THE AVERAGE AMERICAN VOTER GRASP THESE SIMPLE TRUTHS? Time will tell. It doesn't help when EVIL activists lie, and warp these truths!

IF you live in a sucky country—FIX IT! Demand better. Run for office. Organize a resistance or uprising. Force politicians to get your dang economy into the 21st century! It's EMBARRASSING that America has been able to in less than 300 years, and yours has been around much longer, in many cases. Grow up; be an adult.

Fix your education system, to globally compete! Make something others want to buy. DO something with your life, on behalf of your nation. You are not put on this earth like a cow, just eating, pooping, drinking water, then dying! That futile a life needs a purpose. Find one, and just do it!

Quit breaking into America! LEARN from America! Study what we did. Innovation, hard work, competitiveness, marketing and advertising, dreaming, creativity, faith, not accepting things as they are.

Develop these skills in your own, poorer country. It all starts with you. Act like Eeyore, that all is bad, and you will FAIL! Have an attitude of gratitude, and if you believe you can't, you're right! That's a self-fulfilling prophecy. Your attitude determines your altitude. See beyond your circumstances, to what could be, if you tried—and thought differently.

Make your DUMB, selfish politicians understand these principles which Zig Ziglar often taught, because they're TRUE, and don't take any crap off any politician, even if he has the army behind him.

You will die. You don't know when. You may not believe in a God, but if there is one, you will face Him. If there's not one, you could be O.K. The problem is, you are not O.K., because He does exist, and He sent His Son to pay for your sins, by dying on the cross. You DON'T have to go to Hell, forever! Pray John 3:16 today! THINK!

One more thing... America does MANY things wrong. DON'T imitate our failures, or sins! Many of us are quite selfish and greedy. PLEASE forgive us all for allowing that type in our midst! America seriously needs revival, and I apologize on behalf of her for any wrongs we've done to other nations! We are imperfect!

If I moved to France, I'd be careful NOT to be the 'ugly American,' but know I'd need to fit in! If I became a citizen, I'd expect to learn, then speak much French, learn their history and culture, and NOT try to change kids drinking wine, or hour long dinners, but try to sway some away from mistresses—NOT make France America. Update #5: Christian Foreign Aid Policy

In a world where some barely eke by, Americans chasing and racing after money and things doesn't strike us as selfish, because all our peers are doing so. Money is the thing we least like to give up, and we consider global poverty other nation's problem—not ours (which is true)—and, contemporaneously, we sometimes consider it good that our taxes aid other nations, even as we bemoan being taxed.

There's NO thought of people outside America, for the most part, on any regular basis, unless it's peer nations (i.e., The West) or something tragic or violent occurs which hits the news. The BBC and NPR are for academics—we want to watch reality TV, and insulate our minds from the serious stuff; it's too depressing, or heavy.

People get praised, here, for paying forward a fast food tab! THAT shows you how uncharitable our nation has become, where $5 is considered generous. Ours is the most generous nation, but individually we can be some of the most self-absorbed people in the world. The disconnect between ourselves and our government's aid is NOT good for our nation!

Politicians decide to spend money to assist others in need, but WE, individuals, have no buy-in. Unless you take a trip to a third world nation, you'll probably never know what I'm talking about concerning how insulated and isolated we are. It's the old joke of a map of America, with Texas blown way out of proportion.

It's only by TV, especially PBS and documentaries, that we even know, experientially, other nations exist, and what they're up to. Again, this is allegedly for intellectuals. Normal people are expected to not care one iota about other nations! That's acceptable... we're busy chasing lifestyles for our enjoyment.

But DON'T accuse us of being selfish, because our government does kind things, even if we personally vote against them, and hate any taxes being raised, or especially spent on anything other than cops and the military. We still want credit for politicians' concern for other people! How convenient, sinfully so.

We are so easily fooled when rich people give sums we could never give, even if it's a drop in the bucket, to them! We call that generous, because by our bank accounts, that's amazing. It's like you getting credit for giving a homeless person a $5 bill on the street corner. And yes, people will praise you for even that, as America is built on money used selfishly!

I'm steering my youngest to be as wealthy as he can be, doing what he loves, but you don't also teach them to be generous with riches until they achieve it (if ever, if you're a conservative). It's NOT in our cultural DNA to teach that!

I saw a bumper sticker, yesterday... "Not a liberal," on a Texas truck (I was shocked no shotgun was in the rack!)... PROUD of his stinginess to others! He even had another which read, 'Don't speak English, leave our country.' I 100 percent agree that people need to learn English, if they're coming here, but leave until you do?

THIS IS conservatism; hating non-whites, or at least considering them imposers on our land, or second-class citizens. I also agree with him that too many people have been let in who don't assimilate, and the culture we had here 40 years ago has been disrupted by foreigners, in some bad (and good) ways, but go back to where you came from? That's literally saying America is a white nation!

It actually used to be a majority white nation, and many Southern whites begrudge that we're losing our majority from over-immigration policies. I DO begrudge culture changing in any negative ways (like more Socialism), but it's not innately race that made America great!

It's assimilation to our culture that's NOT taught or enforced, and letting people in who are here for economic opportunity, with little commitment to America to be their home—only long enough to go back home with a stash of cash. That gripe he was right on!

I'm not a liberal means I oppose minorities becoming the majority, any taxes helping anyone, and any causes being fixed by taxes, when business deserves all the perks and benefits of the doubt, in all public policy. Business can do no wrong, and all of life should cater to its whims, especially regarding laws. This is conservatism.

NON-executives are pawns and things/objects for profiting from, or saving money off of. They're NOT our concern, as that's human/emotional think. We only consider dollars and cents! And we are holy for so thinking, because money is the ultimate ethic! THIS is conservatism, and any who oppose any of its negatives are unpatriotic enemies, in the modern culture wars! Anathema.

Here's the problem with wealthy nations and people: They can only buy so many things, before they need or want no more major purchases. Their excess can only benefit others if they don't hoard. That means they risk investing, or give to charity, or are taxed.

Cons can say anyone can be anything they want, but the rich are who hire, if you don't 'wanna start your own business! And they hire to profit off employees! The only workers they don't profit from are business-required functions, like lawyers, accountants, software engineers.

EVERYthing is to make executives, shareholders and CEO's richer, at everyone else's expense, except entrepreneurs, who are also impacted by competing with BIG box, as ma and pa shop owners, like farmers or retailers competing with Amazon.

America favors the rich, CONTRARY to Levit. 19:15, so God will NOT bless that injustice! They get the lobbyists, and laws often in their favor, the tax rebates, the security-gated communities, limos, best restaurant tables, golf games, country clubs, best gadgets, servants and butlers, mansions, yachts, BMW's, tax loopholes, pot holes fixed first.

They'll say this is rant is envy, or class warfare. NO, it's seeking justice—something they don't care about, unless they're generous philanthropists.

The evil rich ilk say 'life's not fair,' and 'we earned it,' and 'if you want to live like this, work harder.' They never acknowledge that some people can't achieve that, or that they had privileges, or even if they didn't, that God says they owe society generous give back (I Tim. 6:17-19).

That injunction is NOT fully compatible with the American Dream, private property, freedom, or the pursuit of happiness. Morals aren't their concern, but holding only to those parts of the U.S. Constitution, and the second amendment. It's the worldliness, greed, and love of money sins, exalted by political conservatism—blasphemously in Jesus' name!

Despite claims to the contrary, and boasts that we love our Bibles, Christians OFTEN want and advocate for things God does NOT want us to. One specific example... money and caring for our fellow brother non-Americans. Let me explain, in tedious detail.

In Gen. 4:1-9, Cain asks if he's his brother's keeper, sarcastically. We in America do not, generally, consider other nations our duty to care for, as they rightly should handle their own business! But when a nation is poor, HOW do they ever compete, economically, in a global economy?

The West and G-20 and first-rate nations ALWAYS have an advantage, and work to keep that benefit! It's the chase for money, and the race to have rich people be where we are. Tell me how a tin pot dictator can get some poor African or South American nation thriving? How? It's no wonder so many nations turn to Socialism or Communism, when property rights allow the rich to hoard, legally!

HOW are the others to get their hands on money, except to sell their souls to slaver master-like bosses who pay peanuts, and get wealthier off their backs? It's ONLY through government or survivalist skills that the masses can survive, as businesses only need so many employees!

At a minimum, every government must ensure every citizen has clothes, food and water; preferably a place to lay their head (i.e., shelter), though even Jesus didn't own/have that. Government lands MUST be made to farm the most efficiently and effectively, to have enough crops for their citizenry! Train them all in survivalist skills, to endure and survive.

If a nation hasn't many natural resources, their land or clout as a U.N. vote, or as a people, once educated as workers for others, are their ONLY assets for world economics. And if families can't afford kids to get educated, as they need them working in the fields, they'll never be employable elsewhere, for better wages (or ever get the education required in a modern world, where every nation is competing), which means third world nations are in competition with the first world, though they aren't competing well. This is where aid, charity and the U.N. comes in.

Remember I started by accusing Christians of NOT believing their own claimed favorite book? The Good Samaritan parable was spoken in response to the question, who is my neighbor? (Lk. 10:25-37) If Christians READ the story, the foreigner cared for a man NOT from his country of origin, while the man's own countrymen left him to rot. The lesson in both these BIBLE passages is that humanity is in charge of humanity!

I was just on the road with a kid primping his hair, as his dad's topless Corvette let the wind blow it. The arrogance of the kid was evident on his face, that 'we're rich.' America idolizes the rich! There was a TV show on recently about how to retire early, and a Christian radio program spoke of 20 hours of DVR'd Kardashians show.

Americans consider the rich successful and heroes and the thing to aspire to. GOD DOES NOT TEACH THIS, Christians! WASPs have devised sin-justifying one-liners, like 'money is neutral.' Money is neutral, but quantity is NOT! God says the rich are to be generous, and to whom much is given, much is required. These are NOT verses you'll often hear preached in WASP churches, and WASPs are generally GOP, which presently is conservative, which generally idolizes money, and sin-justifies our selfishness by stereotyping all poor people as lazy.

We hide our 1040's by privacy laws, so no one can distinguish the good from the bad rich person! Your BMW may be because you're selfish, or as a perk for a generous person—no one knows! Same with poor people... there are good and bad ones; lazy vs. hard-working. Who can know? Government ought never help a lazy person, but we all are to have mercy on the hard working ones.

News flash: NOT everyone can be anything they want! Conservatives say equal opportunity, but fight equal results, meaning they benefit from others being paid less than they should, and having less opportunities, by shipping out jobs and importing in labor.

They fight minimum wage, and want to end the estate tax. It's ALL about selfishness, greed and hoarding—all sins which God condemns. But if we can shame the aborter, and embarrass the gays, we can get sheeple Christians to vote to sustain these wicked priorities!

So how do third world nations become second world? Politicians who ensure every citizen gets the basics I described. Rich people are taxed to pay for such, and everyone has to have a job, or do civic service to their nation, for that guaranteed minimum.

Investment is not prudent if payoff is not likely, so how they'll ever get electricity or clean water is up to charities and churches and the U.N. and foreign aid. What some call 'banana republics' (a deserved term, only if they're lazy) have land to let other nations use strategically, for military or economic purposes. Even terrorists take advantage of it, sometimes.

They can also band together with other weaker nations, to have more clout at the U.N., and they could be allies of either the U.S.-E.U., or Russia-China-Iran (BRIC). It's in the West's interests to make as many of these nations be on our side, not our opponents', via aid, and using their land strategically, at a monetary cost!

If most of Africa, or nations south of the Texas border united, and sided with BRIC and Communism, the U.S. and E.U. would have a BIG problem on our hands! We need MORE unity and expansion of NATO nations, and the G-20 needs to use more of its money strategically, to get more benefit from our foreign aid. In short, poor nations have little chance to modernize soon!

It's time for Americans to see our luxuries as a direct and deliberate choice to let others suffer! You don't think like this, because you don't know the Bible! Your Corvette could have been a Toyota, and the difference donated to help people stay alive. But U.S. culture does NOT teach his—only extreme liberals!

We Americans view the goal of life as being as rich as humanly possible, and retiring as soon as humanly possible. We are, in a word, selfish. You'll hate me for saying so, or call me anti-American, but your ire is rightly against the God of the universe Who I've just shown supports these ideas you oppose.

It's NOT the middle class, or poor, who spend on many luxuries! It's the rich, and I'm NOT against people getting rich! I'm opposed to selfish rich, which you can only decipher by looking at their taxes' charitable amounts, compared to net worth! But keep that secret, so the guilty go un-shamed!

America should NEVER elevate rich people just because they have money! It's how they got and use it, just like we should never consider every poor person lazy, or deserving mercy. It ALL depends on how hard-working they are, and smart they are with how they spend what little they have!

There are distinctions we must make between good and bad poor and rich. READ the book of Proverbs. God has clear categories for the poor and rich as good or evil. We in America do NOT make godly distinctions, as God does, but lump all people into a group. Start demanding more accuracy, and do your part/fair share!

P.S.: God already wrote about the sin of pride being tightly linked with wealth and the sexual prowess of man whores! (I Jn. 2:15-17) And if Christians want to know where God said that the rich are to be generous, and that more is required of them, sermons won't likely tell you, but it's I Tim. 6:17-19 and Lk. 12:48.

Every American is trying to get a nest egg big enough to retire. Taxes slow down that achievement, so we want them as low as possible. Church tithes do too, as with charitable gifts. The entire U.S. system is geared toward every man for himself survivalism, with little to no concern for others' pursuit of the same... hyper individualism. That's NOT what God teaches!

So PLEASE never bring your religion into politics if you're 'gonna cherry-pick or warp it to support unbiblical values! God does not approve, nor do any Americans who see through the selective passage picking by many believers in America! READ MORE BIBLE; engage less sin and hypocrisy, brethren! And I know this political bunch SO well, today's message will label me a 'liberal!' I am NOT! I'm generally a centrist, with many conservative values. I simply know the Bible much better than that bunch, and know that even many pastors have never sat down and tried to see what God's word really teaches, in its entirety.

God's word does NOT list only two sins—abortion and homosexuality (Jer. 1:5; Ex. 20:13; Levit. 18:22)! It also does NOT teach go to church and tithe, and you're a 'good Christian' (Heb. 10:25; Mal. 3:10 as the only other two verses). That's a VERY small Bible we consult! (Rev. 22:18-19; Deut. 4:2, 12:32; Ac. 20:27)

LOOK at Christ's concern (Mt. 25). It was NOT the people who have it all! It was the strugglers (so long as they weren't lazy—II Th. 3:10). LOOK at the Jews' concern for the same, in the Old Testament... God's chosen nation, and role models. LOOK at Gal. 6:2, 5, or Jas. 1:27, or Ac. 2, 4, and II Cor. 8, though voluntary.

Care for others is obeying Phil. 2! Political conservatism shares NONE of these concerns, though it tacks on Jesus' name, to moralize a corrupt aspect of their philosophy! LOOK what God says about even such an attempt (Isa. 5:20). Christians need to know their Bible more than their political theories! They often DON'T!

And many WASP's claim Dems rely on government more than (or vs.?) God! I just proved that political conservatives rely on money more than God (Pv. 11:28), and use politics to enforce un-God-like values, claiming they're trusting God, unlike the evil liberals, who trust government as their "god." Our hypocrisy sin is exposed (Eph. 5:11) Read more Bible!

Update #6: Third World Solutions

GLOBAL VISION specifics: Imaginary primitive or poor nations (which exist in reality) NEED food, water and clothes. Next, shelter and vaccines/medicines to prevent preventable fatal diseases. Next, clean water and sanitation; education, jobs, electricity and roads, thereafter. HOW do they get these IF they want them? (some tribes may want nothing but leaf clothes and 'leaf' us alone!).

It ALL takes money. IF and only IF the goal is self-sustaining, their government and rich people (via taxes) are initial places, and money from renting land, or citizens used as labor to foreign states, or sell natural resources. The U.N., G-20 foreign aid, major charities, churches and Giving Pledge donors like Bill Gates' Foundation. Businesses have excess, as with rich folk, and some governments could give more, but for many of these, there has to be a payoff. Maybe not quid pro quo, but not just forking out cash!

Literally, the clothes NYC and America throw out every day would clothe entire nations! A recent report said landfills are filling from the instant fashion trend (temporary fads quickly replaced by spending FOOLS, in my opinion). Send it to third worlders! If America has enough, spread the blessings! CARE about others!

The amount of food America wastes, at home and in restaurants could feed entire nations, until they can self-sustainingly farm! NOT food people have touched, but limiting portions, like endless chips you don't finish, at Tex-Mex.

Immediately, education on farming best practices and efficiency technology is needed. Money, once again! Water wells dug, and water cleaning technology for diseased or polluted oceans and waterways. Holes dug outside towns for underground outhouse depositories. Shelters made of the cheapest materials, like leaves and tree wood, or even abandoned cargo containers. What America throws out!

Adopt-a-nation! Start small, and make a role model state to teach other G-20 nations. Lead! Battery- or generator-powered internet (or old books Americans throw out) could educate kids, for free, at night, as they learn more efficient farming, to make their day jobs take less time and energy. Rick Warren can teach you on tracts of farm land! Solutions exist—WILL WE act?

The Jesus video was taken to almost all venues, by film projectors with no electricity! The same could occur to teach kids basic education and job skills, so they can hire on with third world nations. The products America puts in landfills could be recycled for them, as with our thrown out vehicles and bikes!

DFW threw out many scooters that didn't comply with local laws! Bikes are basic transport that would transform a nation. Plastic and cardboard in U.S. landfills could make huts, with duct tape! Strengthen that with mud or tree branches, etc.

RATHER than call these countries "shish-hole nations," HELP! We're the richest, most advanced nation on the earth! If WE can't, no one can! No one else is as blessed as us/U.S.! Update #7: Where Have All the Money Trees Gone?

Let's get REAL... Most Americans don't enjoy giving money to anything but their families. We work hard for it, and it pains us to pay taxes or give at church or to charity! Our nation and world have problems needing fixing, that cost money. Where would that money come from, and why would people give?

AKA, does it take a village OR is it every man for himself? The Bible answers this! It's both/and; personal responsibility and helping others! (Gal. 5:2, 5) Phil. 2 says Christians are to put others above themselves; JOY (Jesus first, then others, and yourself last). How's that relate to money?

You have a duty to care for your own, first! Those who don't are worse than unbelievers! (I Tim. 5:8) We're also to help others (church as role model—Ac. 2, 4; II Cor. 8), as the Jews did as Old Testament role models.

So aren't taxes enough? First, they must be fair to all—period. Second, taxes help NO hard-working (vs. lazy) poor, if conservatism reigns. Liberals over-help, which is also a sin! Balance and justice are always the right way!

So where the money to come from? Taxes ONLY for minimal help to make poor independent! Churches, charities, individuals, businesses, and the rich are other sources, voluntarily (Ex.: The Giving Pledge).

I also add streamlining government for the best bang for the buck, and compulsory civic service for all who aren't public servants (i.e., they're already giving to society). The rich can give back more, with their excess, and God says they are to do so (I Tim. 6:17-19). Ultimately, it's NOT government's job, but private entities' to convince people to give of their disposable income.

Why would one give money to others, when even investors like the Giving Pledges hero, Warren Buffett, says rule one is 'lose no money,' and all our pursuits are to GAIN money?

1. God rewards it. 2. You may feel good about yourself doing so. 3. Sometimes tax offsets exist. 4. Sometimes you get your name publicized for so doing (Ex.: Undercover Boss CEO's are NOT charitable on that show, per se—they select a limited few representative employees to 'bless,' as the cost for advertising being on the show to get publicity for their business! That's NOT evil, but smart! But it's NOT charity! And charities NEED executives NOT overpaid, where its opened as a tax free income cash cow, and the needy get the leftover crumbs.

In answer to why people would give money to others, there aren't many great answers, which is why God commanded government-compelled, compulsory taxes. We DON'T want to give money, because it takes lots of money to make it to the grave, and leave a godly inheritance! (Pv. 13:22) Taxes infringe on your pursuit of retirement; that's why people seek ways to avoid them, legal and criminal. EVERY tax cheat is robbing from taxpayers, which is why I turn them in anytime I learn of such! Taxes are our duty to country; they are NOT enjoyable, but we do enjoy services government provides.

Mark Levin said Mr. Buffett is self-loathing because he implements the Giving Pledge. That sinful attitude means to love yourself, never help anyone, and hoard and be greedy (both sins). My point is we ALL play a part in making our world and nation better, and I am for compulsory civic service!

I don't want to spend 10 hours a year or more doing volunteer work, but I see the value, and I don't have (or 'wanna give up when I do) excess to pay more taxes. Rich people do have excess, but they didn't work to get rich to give it away! That's disincentivizing!

ALL problems need to be fixed, within what budgets they get, with the best bang for the buck—NO waste or inefficiency, fraud or abuse! Government, charities and church social ministries OUGHT to be run like a well-oiled machine, or a tight run ship, or like a business!

America's debt is embarrassing, as we are an undisciplined people, societally, who can do MUCH better! Please do so!

And IF taxes were fair, people wouldn't gripe and fight as much, or try to avoid them, especially illegally, but accept them as their duty. Conservatives sometimes say government overspends, so I'm justified hiding my taxable assets, because I oppose its waste! God agrees with their hatred of waste, but disagrees with their crime.

Taxes NEED to have ZERO loopholes, complexity, outs, exceptions, etc., and needed to be fair to all, and everyone must have a fair contribution, meaning sweat equity for poor people who pay in nothing. And government must be the smallest possible/needed, or it is wasteful! If you want government to be bigger, support efficient charities!

It takes a village, to some extent, and no man is an island—even when he can afford to live as one on one, but God says we must care for our family and our society. Finding that balance is the difference between liberals and conservatives! NEITHER extreme finds it well!

Minimal government but not too small is the answer, with blue states free to spend more, so long as red states never have to bail them out, along with charity from people, businesses, churches and charities. To fix all problems, we'd need NO rich people! That's NOT what God commands, and that is NOT 'gonna happen. You have to deal with the real, which is what I just described!

Finally, it's NOT innately greed to want to be or even to be rich, nor is it hoarding! God allowed some of His people to be rich, some poor, and some inbetween. It's how generous the rich are that He concerns Himself with (I Tim. 6:17-19). That verse addresses ALL rich people, and only rich people! READ it, please!

Update #8: Conquering Communism
(6/20-22/19)

It's time for a LIMITED strike on Iran's intelligence or command facilities!
@POTUS @realdonaldtrump

There are iterations on the way to war! Surgical strikes are not war. Even small skirmishes. Battles can sometimes be less than war. War is all-out, and sustained commitment to win, decisively. A spank or a slap is not a beat-down. Iran needs a spanking, and more, as needed by THEIR actions.

My 17 year old son asked me how a military strike wouldn't be war. You wait for any response; maybe even ignore any minor ones, then attack BIG if they respond big, or continually. YOU are always in control on whether you choose to go to war! It's NOT inevitable. Hit and wait. Vigilance. Self-control.

It's EMBARRASSING some think you can rationally negotiate with rogue regimes. THEY WANT OUR DEMISE! They are ENEMIES! They'll lie and deceive to get only THEIR ends, and try to appease us not to destroy them in the process! They hack our technology, steal our ideas, and NEVER declare war, just wage it!

They understand force. That's the ONLY way they learn! As a kid, dictators probably burnt their fingers on the stove several times, as they ONLY learn from the school of hard knocks. So hard knocks is what they need, to educate them you don't %$&#@ (mess) with the U.S. of A! #Iran Bomb them!

Let's work through the "logic" of war. U.S. vs. Putin could turn to total nuclear annihilation. That's irrational. War itself leads to casualties—death on both sides. That can end, with a victory, but the conflict still remains in the hearts of the losing team! Only the violence gets stopped.

Iran, Russia, North Korea, and, in the wrong hands, Cuba, Venezuela and China (absent our ball and chain economic tie) are enemies. They do NOT want us to have a great day, or peacefully coexist!

Their people are another matter, but they aren't in charge. Axis of evil. Been so a LONG time, absent Gorby and Yeltsin. They are allied. Their commitment to Communism unites them, and there's strength in numbers, as well as supplies when sanctions deplete their own economies.

They feel they keep U.S.'s evils in check, which would be a good service to humanity, but we disagree on what good and bad is! U.S. only doing good would help, but there are struggles for limited resources, leadership in the Middle East, oil interests, national pride, and tyrants fearing loss of power if their people dethroned them (which America would relish, on moral grounds).

We've partnered with China, but the fundamental disagreements remain! Their politicians want control/power, and don't 'wanna relinquish it! In many cases they're HORRIBLE to their people, but that moral issue isn't a moral issue to them, as we disagree on what's good vs. evil!

HOW could you teach a dictator to care about his citizens, especially if there's NO accountability to a Supreme Being? Benevolent dictator is a pipe dream. They DO need to give their people a minimum of survival necessities, or they should fear a revolt, with America and the West's help!

This ilk of human craves and loves power—it's not even just the money! Absolute power corrupts absolutely. In their godless system, they're literally demon influenced to thrive on controlling others as sub-human! It's spiritual warfare.

Sovereignty is taken to mean they can do anything they damn well please, and no one can tell them otherwise. The ends to Muammar Gaddafi and Saddam Hussein are their ONLY concern! Stay alive and in power, then pass the business on to close cohorts or family.

They view democracy as a personal threat to them. The people are pawns. How they treat them means nothing. Power is god, and they are the power. It requires OTHER nations to educate them about morals.

ALL they know is Communism! Anything else means physical death to their friends and family, so they lavish things on elitists and their military, to protect them from coups. Add in nukes, and they have deterrence from deposing!

As in Iran, the people MUST be armed, and rise up, physically, first with voices, but second with violence, if that's the only way!

That means organizing, risking life and limb, and being armed and strategized, often from the outside. The benefit to the masses is always a superior value to the gain of the few around the dictator!

I'm calling on every oppressed civilian to do your part to unite and strategize to take out all dictators, ASAP, as peacefully as can succeed. You only get this life to enjoy this life. It's 100 percent irrational that a handful of people acting as god, who are far from godly—even demonic—control your lives, and cause you such misery and suffering!

God Himself is NOT likely 'gonna come in Person to change our situation, at least until Jesus returns. He educates His creatures to use the brains He gave you to do the right thing, and that is to not live under tyranny any longer. Some will be martyred. You're already suffering until you die... why not die for a cause better than mere existence? Overthrow dictators!

China, Russia, Iran, Venezuela, North Korea, Cuba, and any Arabs who hate their form of government, and wanted the Arab Spring, RISE UP! You have the numbers! D-Day proved sheer force of will, with lesser firepower but greater determination wins. Many casualties, but one great victory for mankind!

LOOK at Europe, today. Nazis DON'T rule the E.U. That took sacrifice, guts, effort, martyrdom! You have some in some Arab regions who are suicide bombers... martyrs for no cause, with no virgins awaiting them in Hell. Why not risk dying for a noble cause, like freeing your people from dictators, to live a better life, where none die from preventable disease or starvation, and all get fed, kept from the elements, are not enslaved in REAL concentration camps, aren't brainwashed or scared of secret police, but can live lives FREE to pursue them how THEY choose?

Isn't that better? Isn't that worth risking injury or death for, for people beyond just yourself? You're 'gonna die anyway, one day. Why allow yourself to live in squalor, and under UN-just situations, if some of you man up and risk life and limb for the greater good of the greater number of people?

Your name will be remembered in good ways—NOT as suicide bombers. You'll be heroes to thousands. God will smile at your bravery and courage. DON'T do it dumbly. Minimize casualties! Organize, secretly. Enlist the West's help. Use money to bribe the military to come to our side, promising them continued jobs in a democratic regime. Appeal to their humanity.

They see the suffering their bosses' policies inflict. Military discipline does not always breed out all sense of emotion or humanity in paid killers. They have wives, children, parents and grandparents. Get them on your side, to see the injustice they're defending! And secretly bring in stashes of weaponry!

America can't directly send them, but our CIA does many black ops. There are even channels to serve as front groups. You need the military on your side, one at a time, and weapons for the stalwarts and politicians. Number one is you need to organize and be vocal, risking jail and political asylum. Get outside media to cover you!

Status quo remains status quo if no one bucks the system. Lone Ranger solo artists are rarely successful (Ex.: Nelson Mandela). You know who you can trust and who you can't. Start with friends and family. Follow relationships of trustworthy good people. Overtake your governments, ASAP! America and others will help, covertly or otherwise.

You cannot be rational with rogue regimes. You cannot engage tit-for-tat win-win methodologies for all to gain from negotiations! THEY WANT YOU DESTROYED! Be it Iraq, Syria, Israel, or where have you, they consider themselves the counterbalance to American aggression and sole superpower status, through their alliance.

Interjection

I don't believe for one second that 45 was informed that 150 casualties could occur if he launched a strike, 10 minutes before it was to take place! If experts (NOT him) knew those specificities of targets, they knew the personnel numbers well in advance. 150 folk didn't suddenly arrive on scene.

If Chump cares about proportionality, WHERE'S THE STRIKE on an equivalent-valued number of Iranian asserts? Huh? @FoxNews @NBC @ABC @CBS @CNN WHY do people believe the lies that drip from his lips?

Update #9: Reining In Rogue Nations

Let's face it—some nations will never get along with America, if their politicians retain status quo attitudes. It may be from past/historical skirmishes, jealousy/envy, ideological hatred of democracy or Capitalism, but nations like Iran, North Korea, Venezuela (when in the wrong hands), Cuba, Russia (with Putin vs. Gorbachev/Yeltsin) and, to some extent, China (absent our ball and chain ties to them, economically). That enmity/hatred will not be solved, no matter what negotiating skills anyone has. It's deep rooted.

It's NOT shared by many of the citizens, but they are not the ones with the power, or in control. Even diplomacy is fraught with enemies lying ('trust, but verify'), always seeking only what's best for them, as their interest is America's demise, ideally! They STEAL trade secrets and patented technology, breach our networks through hacking, taunt us with military fly-bys, and two ships passing in the night, nearly colliding, and now drone shoot downs. They are the enemy, folks!

They do not desire us to have a great day, or peaceful coexistence! It is ONLY due to our superior economic and military prowess that they make indirect attacks, because head-on collisions would hurt them more. So they engage more subtle warfare. This does NOT mean we aren't at war with them! A public declaration of war would be the stupidest thing they could do, so they won't. They simply engage it without announcing their intentions. But you always follow the money trail, and always observe DEEDS!

You cannot be rational with rogue regimes. You cannot engage tit-for-tat win-win methodologies for all to gain from negotiations! THEY WANT YOU DESTROYED! Be it Iraq, Syria, Israel, or where have you, they consider themselves the counterbalance to American aggression and sole superpower status, through their alliance.

Update #10: Iran Irrationality

Let's address Iran more specifically... Obama's deal wasn't perfect, but may have been the best that could be negotiated, at the time. A nation honors its commitments, perfect or not! NOT doing so is why nations don't like dealing with us, changing heads of state every 4 to 8 years, risking deal breaks! That's WRONG to do.

At the same time, if they were breaching the deal, America had every right to punish them, any way we saw fit, to keep the world safe, which probably wasn't by exiting the deal (unless that was a contract clause), but ending their nuclear pursuit by force.

I did NOT like Israel having only a 10-year lease on a safe life, but you renegotiate when the deal ends, IF it's not breached. Iran wants nukes. The world can't let her have them, from prior-stated intentions toward Israel. At the same time, tRump FAVORED Israel, randomly and arbitrarily and UN-fairly, with the embassy move and capital announcement, so does anyone wonder why more and more nations believe America needs a counter-balance, because we do NOT always behave morally? Deal or no deal, Iran can't have nukes. Offering them their money we had seized, to prevent that, ONLY paid for nuke pursuits! BAD idea.

Update #11: Drone Shootdown

Time for a LIMITED strike on Iran's intelligence or command facilities! @POTUS @realdonaldtrump

America doesn't need or want war with Iran, but you DO send messages by limited, strategic military strikes, that if they escalate, so will our retaliations! Bill Clinton learned when you ignore assaults (USS Kohl), you can empower evildoers (like 911). Push the U.S. too far, you get destroyed (Hiroshima)!

There are iterations on the way to war! Surgical strikes are not war. Even small skirmishes. Battles can sometimes be less than war. War is all-out, and sustained commitment to win, decisively. A spank or slap is not a beat-down. Iran needs a spanking, and more, as needed by THEIR actions.

My 17 year old son asked me how a military strike wouldn't be war. You wait for any response; maybe even ignore any minor ones, then attack BIG if they respond big or continually. YOU are always in control on whether you choose to go to war! It's NOT inevitable. Hit and wait. Vigilance. Self-control. Diplomacy can happen as a military action is underway, and especially needs to be done then. Some regimes LIE, don't play by the rules, and provoke—that's why they're called 'rogue.' They're not just waiting to reasonably settle things! #Iran #Russia. You're negotiating with avowed enemies!

Interjection

You emboldened them by your delay and weakness! @POTUS @realdonaldtrump
Congratulations? Iran sends new warning to the U.S. (link: <https://www.cbsnews.com/video/iran-warns-it-will-firmly-confront-aggression-by-the-u-s/>) cbsnews.com/video/iran-war... via @CBSNLive

UN-original copycat: "Everybody was saying I'm a warmonger, and now they say I'm a dove. And I think I'm neither, if you want to know the truth. I'm a man with common sense, and that's what we need in this country is common sense." —Chump (copying our ideas here, OFTEN and provably)! Follower!

Chump can use our number one term, "common sense," but he doesn't know how it's applied! Dictatorial regimes only understand force. He didn't have to be a hawk or dove, but do the right thing in punishing our drone shoot-down. He DIDNT do that, as he hasn't common sense. Now they're more emboldened!

IT'S NOT PERSONAL, IT'S BUSINESS—BUSINESS BEFORE PLEASURE

Customer service is a near dead art, in many places today. Big business decided, in the late 1980's, do away with every action that doesn't directly profit the bottom line! Make clients DIY, and have them consider it a privilege to get our products, with zero support. That's an arrogant, greedy unhelpful profiteering strategy!

Phone trees, tech support from chat windows, no live phone customer service, put it all on the website, cut in-store staff and don't replace them with a tool clients can speak to to get answers (or product finding technology), online sales (so you hire fewer workers), automate self-checkout. Human factor DOWN!

It's sometimes a BOTHER to workers at big box stores to ask them where something can be found, or about product details. Read the instruction manual, or call support, or see the website... I'm stocking inventory (or just standing around looking at my smart DUMB phone). THIS is modern business customer relations!

I have greying hair, and don't look 45 anymore. I use that to my advantage, and play dumb, like I'm really old, and insist on customer service! The business environment may have changed, but I don't accept the negatives! The consumer is still king, and I won't let workers ignore our needs! We pay their bills.

One doofus office supply manager didn't know squat about his services. His underling wasted $200 of the company's money printing one client's glossy architecture images on the WRONG SIDE. YES I turned him in to his boss. I'm ALWAYS for business, and for employees doing their jobs right! Deal with it.

If you owned a business, you'd want something for you paid wages! I hired a webmaster, and got great service! When a business pays you, you owe them an honest day's work, before God! When they abuse it, and work to death/to the bone, protest, and demand justice, but slackers do NOT earn their pay checks, and should often be fired.

It's human nature, and NOT evil for business to want to spend the least for the best quality! Consumers do the exact same thing! I could have hired one webmaster for a little cheaper, but he didn't seem confident in his experience/skills. Everything is negotiated.

What's evil is big business strategizing to screw the little guy, by over-outsourcing and over-immigration, then voting for government to do NOTHING to help anyone, when their policies cause high unemployment (Ex.: automation, etc!).

There are morals involved in business decisions—it's NOT just a bottom line analysis. Employers and workers need to do right and be just!

Is it evil to take advantage of the not-so-smart? Yes. But it's legal—NOT moral. I see businesses do it all the time! It's consumer's duty to themselves to be educated. No business owes you knowledge of where you can get the same product for cheaper. There needs to be an organization or app to educate all consumers!

Public schools NEED a required course to teach all kids how to buy smart! Teach them the tricks of business. Even teach them how culture and advertising make them think they have to own the latest and greatest, when that's a ploy to squeeze 'mo money from your nest egg! DON'T keep up with the Jones! It's often wasteful!

Americans USED to buy new cars every 3 to 4 years. That was a cultural moray/standard/unwritten rule. That changed in the earlier 2000's. That change was SMART for consumers. Car makers changed, to make cars fancier, and cost more to last long (and break more often, due to more gadgets). They weren't 'gonna lose money by our changed behaviors.

If you ONLY knew the margins on products, or had perfect knowledge of the pricing variation for the exact same product, you'd be SHOCKED! Because you don't, you waste money, and businesses make more than they need to. An app is needed for that price variant feature. You'll never learn mark-up percents! Businesses would LOSE money.

Many people are too young to know that lawyers and doctors changed business models, in the late 1990's, to be a cattle call, where they maximize the number of clients, by the one with the license mainly signing off on their staff's work, excepting specialty skills only they can perform. Maximizing profits, with customer service DOWN!

Unions, in the past, demanded too high wages, at times, but big business seriously won with globalization. Pensions died. Wages sunk, especially with over-immigration, legal or otherwise. Smart and skilled individuals can get best wages negotiating on their own, but NOT the masses. Unions HELPED them!

You can talk about equal pay for women (which I'm for), but businesses want to keep status quo, as equal pay means more costs to businesses! It's RIGHT, but costlier. Executives are often overpaid, but they like it, and have the power to keep it that way! Lamebaugh said no one is overpaid because someone paid them. That's one of the DUMBEST comments I've ever heard him say.

What the market will bear literally means screw workers if you can get away with it! What leverage do workers have against all the tactics I just listed, including layoffs, contract workers (i.e., NO benefits for business to pay for), and increasing insurance co-pays? NONE!

The Rust Belt suffered the MOST, by China taking our jobs, because business and government allowed it, with ZERO retraining for those workers they left behind in America! It's a very selfish and greedy system old white males LOVE! Their concern is NOT justice, but money! Voters can equalize injustices; they can't as workers.

So long as business can hire the best workers from anywhere, you stand NO chance competing against them! You will earn little. You will work three jobs, overtime, and struggle to pay bills! You 'gotta learn to shop smarter, leverage ALL consumer's buying power, and get better skills, or start your own biz! You have NO other choice.

I hope unions arise, with a new attitude! Fairness and reasonableness, but America first! Have opt out provisions for employees who think they can get better wages on their own! Business reinforces an image/stereotype that wages are determined by a "market," but you see all the time that employers can increase wages if they want to or are forced or embarrassed to!

Female athletes banded together, as did teachers! Professional basketball players AREN'T of the same skills as male counterparts, and don't garner the same attendance and TV audience, so equal pay would be a farce, but ALL workers need to reject the hyper individualism of America!

The more you buy into hyper individualism, the more you'll never tell anyone your wage, so you don't know others get paid more or less for the same job... NO market is forcing that disparity! The more individualistic society is, the more people don't know when they get ripped off with pricing, as consumers!

The more hyper individual we are, the more businesses will never pay women equally, or pay you what you're worth, because many employees have ZERO skills at asking for pay raises, or being tough in contract negotiations for their own wages their family depends on to survive! ONLY business profits in such a system.

And I'm all for business succeeding... only fairly. If a biz can be more profitable by doing the morally wrong thing, I'm for them making less! If something is morally wrong, which causes injustices, it OUGHT to be illegal, because many bosses ONLY change if forced to, and still try to skirt the laws if they don't like them!

Political conservatives ALWAYS think regulations and taxes are evil. They are wrong, as they are not evil in every case! When your ONLY motive is money, and morality/doing the right thing is NOT a priority to you, you'll choose to be one of them! You'll memorize "economics is amoral." You want it to be! It's NOT!

Justice is NOT over- or under-paying anyone, because you can! Justice is the standard before God and our Constitution ('and liberty and justice for all'—NOT injustice to all). Is it just to financially screw a worker, because you can? NO. Is it justice to rip off your boss, by working slower, or goofing off? NO. May justice prevail in America!

Update #1: Laws Were Made to be Broken?

Laws often determine behaviors! And enforced ones, at that! No one will often do something they don't have to, that costs businesses time, energy or money! Regulations restrict what they can legally do. Conservatives hate having any boundaries to how they can profit. That's the immoral aspect of their belief system! Sin to win.

It's HARD work to find new customers, open new markets, create new products or features. It's easier to lobby Congress for lower taxes, tax breaks and loopholes. Bribe corrupt politicians. And it is EVIL to say the U.S. economy is great when the stock markets are up! It's ONLY good for investors/the rich, who never struggle.

Recent market crashes are NOT good for America, and layoffs could ensue, if they continue, but an economic system is NOT just or moral if it only bases success on how well those well-to-do do well! That statement is mere common sense. There is MUCH greed and selfishness in America! Repent, or be judged by God!

No executive should EVER get a bonus for harming worker's lives. Make that a law! No executive should ever be able to lay off, if no executives ever get laid off! Make that a law! Outsource CEO's and executive's jobs! I'll do any of their jobs for half their pay, at least as well, in many cases.

I'm feeling a little too hard on business. They have challenges, too! They compete with nations where taxes/government subsidizes products, to make them cheaper ('dumping'), where there are few-to-no regulations, and child labor and sweat shops are not illegal. That's a competitive advantage to China, et al, which HURTS U.S. businesses.

It's NOT evil, but smart to hire the same skills for $2 a day, in China, vs. $50,000 a year in America! But when U.S. businesses did, they left U.S. workers out in the cold. THAT is evil! Businesses also face Millennials, used to a more sharing economy, and freebies, like apps for trading products, and Craig's list.

Add in Uber, Amazon, Air B and B and Ebay, and businesses with storefronts have YUGE challenges paying overhead. Every building costs money to build, maintain, and for energy and staff. Online sales cut out all middle men. Amazon is Wal-Mart on steroids, with ZERO brick and mortar storefronts... just warehouses even drones deliver from.

Cut out U.S. postal, UPS, FedEx, 18-wheelers, and expect traditional retailers can compete? How, longer term? McDonalds owns so many venues. I'd expect them to lessen in number. There used to be public mail boxes within two miles of your home. Now, maybe one in every 10 miles. Everyone's doing with less, to save costs!

I hope you get the point. I could go on about airlines, taxi challenges, cashiers replaced by kiosks, etc., but every human needs a job, and soon government will have to address these future trends, as the rich alone benefit, and laws will be needed to remedy only them profiting in life! Mark my words.

Update #2: Perspective for the Poor

It's time for some cold, hard truth... Ultimately, you're on your own in life, once you're age 18! Political conservatives WANT it to be that way! Ask your family for help, once you're an adult. People begrudge helping others with money! A lady begged for money in the Wal-Mart parking lot, yesterday. Red kettle ringers are at the door. Everyone wants money.

You've got to learn contentment with what you have! It's NOT contrary to having aspirations. It's being settled/satisfied and at peace with life as you find it. And selfishness is a sin no one wants to address in America. Business only argues that they struggle, though their owners had enough money OWN the business! Strugglers are ONLY the poor!

A STUPID university TV ad says talent is equally distributed. That's a LIE! Motivational speakers brag that we're all unique, and have God-given talents. MANY people mainly have whatever skills they learn! Their personal life is unique, but NOT their talents.

Opportunity is also NOT equal! People favor friends and family, when they have power or money. They memorize "life's not fair," as if life had unalterable rules. We the people set the rules, and they ought to be fair.

I believe in God at least as much as the next person, but He RARELY intervenes to fix huge problems, miraculously! He has before, but primarily relies on US to do so, most of the time—some would say all the time. He's NOT 'gonna drop manna from Heaven to feed the poor. He's NOT 'gonna part the Red Sea wall of haves and have not's. He's NOT 'gonna flood the earth of all its evil people! WE, following His vision for our world, make change!

And people who are enjoying life do NOT want change! A rich person can ALWAYS justify keeping all their money! 'I earned it, legally.' 'I have heirs.' 'I paid at the office.' 'I pay my taxes.' Then they push for lowest taxes possible (if they're conservatives), tax loopholes, lobby politicians and hire lawyers to pay LESS than they owe before God. That's Immoral, and must be illegal!

If your rate is 33 percent, pay up! You enjoy life's best... quit complaining that you pay a higher percent! You don't struggle. (Lk. 12:48) You get ALL the perks of life; shut the %$#@ up complaining taxes are too high. You are in the top 10 percent in the world. You are corrupt to be selfish and complain so!

You have the mansions, Mercedes, no potholed roads, police presence, alarm systems, gated communities, limos with chauffeurs, country clubs, private schools; you can make money not working—just buying or selling stock at the right time! You get the best interest rates, best restaurant tables.

You can afford to ignore poor people, because you can. There's only one main reason why Bill Gates and Warren Buffett signed the Giving Pledge, for which conservative Mark Levin calls them 'self-loathing': THEY CARE ABOUT OTHERS, and society! Levin teaches that sin is how you love yourself... love of money as a lover of self. His own religion DEFIES such stupidity from his stupid political view as conservative!

Conservatism is the MOST immoral of all three options, economically, but is GOOD in letting people earn as much as they're capable of, LEGALLY. The legal must be moral. It's IMMoral for the rich to pay secretary tax rates!

Literally, if you live in a slum, a true conservative is GLAD, because he/she doesn't want to pay one dime to help you get out of poverty! Everything is on you, in a Darwinian attitude held by many Creationists.

I'm through here, for Christmas. The Christ of Christmas DISagrees with that view on government and life!

MILLENNIAL MATHEMATICS

(1/11/19)

News report: Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez isn't the future of the Democratic Party: Joe Lieberman
<https://fxn.ws/2FjYTrY> #FoxBusiness

There will ALWAYS be elements of BOTH parties which believe taxpayers owe NOTHING more to society, financially, or owe MORE than they do to society. BOTH extremes should be allowed to speak, but NOT to rule our nation. Extremes only rile up backlash extremes! @JoeLieberman

ANY voter who votes for ANY politician based on unrealistic promises that will NOT occur is a FOOL. If you're looking to government to make your life great, you really have a problem greater than the thing you're looking to government to fix! They can help, but they canNOT fix you!

Free, free, free. Human life RARELY gives anyone anything FREE! People work hard and earn money, and you owe yourself to live on what you earn/make, UNLESS you're mentally or physically unable to do anything! College, healthcare and daycare NEED to have cheaper options, however! CommonSense

I'm throwing this out for any newbies, viewing: If you favor extremists, you stir up votes against your cause! If anyone wants very high taxes, I'll return to the GOP, for example. That type of idiocy reinforces Chump voters! Do you want four more years of this?: <https://bit.ly/2fIESxj>

There are a few sources for more funds for government: Innovation/economic expansion, streamline and prioritize government, compulsory civic service, tax the wealthy a bit more (or just disallow loopholes), and encourage Giving Pledge signers. Borrowing and printing money are the least valuable means!

IF government were running well, and efficiently, and doing priority problem-solving, and had no bureaucracy, people would be less reticent to more taxes! If the private sector (i.e., businesses or charities) can fix problems better, for cheaper, LET THEM! America needs the best bang for the buck problems solved. Government bloat is a sin.

Secession (i.e., two-state/nations) or war are the ONLY logical conclusion to political extremes, absent gridlock, or undoing opponent achievements. NONE of these are sane solutions! Liberals want the rich punished; conservatives want the rich deified. I want NEITHER of those STUPID positions!
#Rationality

Let's BRIEFLY address "Socialism:" Some citizens get things for free. Freedom isn't free! EVERYTHING but air costs someone something! People who DON'T pay taxes have NO right to demand any money from the rest; they may get a little from MERCY—NOT right/entitlement.

Government services FEEL free to you, but they are NOT free! Cops, libraries, public school... ALL those employees and buildings cost MONEY, and that money comes from taxpayers. Most people in the U.S.A. live paycheck to paycheck, like the federal workers who are WRONGLY being denied their paychecks due to Chumps idiocies.

But they earn that wage... it's NOT a gift anyone or society owes them. MANY taxpayers have no huge nest eggs stored up, and eke by with their OWN bills. Why would anyone NOT your immediate nuclear family member owe you any money? It's not only unfair, it should perhaps be illegal for a voter to vote to spend other people's money!

Taxes NEED to be fair, and many rich people can afford more taxes, especially with all their tricks to pay less than they're supposed to, but if you're poor, and want to vote for more money for you (even like Trumpsters did!), you are not, emotionally, a mature adult. You're still dependently living like a child in your parent's nest, Uncle Sam playing your daddy role.

Government SHOULD, temporarily, help the most severely impoverished people, just enough to not starve ($3,000/year maximum), and better, help them get the skills and jobs they need to be self-sustaining. But NO ONE—even the rich—owes you one dime, if you're NOT a relative, or their employee! CHARITIES handle gifts; everyone else handles earning a wage!

I've said I'm for accredited self-study college, online, where NO college earns one dime from you, and you graduate equally educated in higher learning. I'm also for minimal healthcare, repaid by required civic service repayment for any needed subsidizing, and daycare can be cheaper, if stay-at-home spouses organize within their neighborhood! Share the load, or pay the person(s). When businesses get involved, salaries, profits and overhead costs jack up the price beyond what's needed.

One size fits all healthcare is UNreasonable. The rich can have the latest and greatest, and the middle class get what they can afford, but the poor DO need some degree of care, even if they can't afford it, because the medical industry is a rich man's game, and no one chooses to be in a body that breaks down! Socialism is NOT the answer to these three challenges!

Socialism makes rich people invest elsewhere, or move away from the U.S.A., or hire less, to make up for lost money heisted from them, by government; it's unfair to them, as they did nothing evil, in most cases, to be rich.

We talk about society's obligation, and government's job, but those are amorphous terms for humans paying taxes! If you don't pay into the system, you can't be considered an equally to be consulted source as people with skin in the game!

At the same time, some rich people could care less if poor people die, so long as they keep as much wealth as possible. Those types can't be allowed to have their way, either! #CommonSense

If enough voters organized to vote in Socialism for America, all moderates and conservatives would rebel, likely by their states seceding (hopefully NO violence). Your vote is given to make America better—NOT to be used for selfishness, because you won't work hard enough to pay your own bills!

Millennials have it ROUGH, at the lowest rung on the economic ladder of society! But it has ALWAYS been that way! You have the least experience, and lesser skills, usually. My college son is starting to realize this. You have to offer employers something they need, and it costs them money to teach you the ropes/job functions.

I LOVE Generations XYZ using technology and innovation to deal in free services, and trading things! You have to be smart, to get out of that lowest position, and until you do, it's HARD! Families are supposed to help that, and you are to be your best, and show employers why they should hire you. You aren't owed a job just because you were born.

And when you watch media portrayals of 'the good life,' somehow less fully developed brains (i.e., pre age 21) believe they are owed that lifestyle because celebrities their age have them, or TV ads show many people having them. Life owes you NOTHING! ONLY air is free. Work hard, be smart, and learn to buy on the cheap! It will pass.

Let's be VERY specific: As my son graduates in mere months, here's the bills people living on their own will owe—Rent, car, gasoline, gas and electric, water, food, clothes, taxes, and any fun/entertainment (including TV and internet/smart phone). ADD THOSE UP! You must pull down a salary at least that large!

Roommates help cut rent costs. Public transportation can be cheaper. Other than that, most other expenses listed are pretty set in stone. You can try to open a business, invent something, or do whatever might earn you more than usual, but businesses pay you more when you bring more to their table! Be that to them.

There are paygo phone service (I use), and I'm told one tool allows free TV beyond the major outlets. Couponing helps defray food costs. Mopeds and ride sharing cut transportation costs. You can also add a part-time second job, but EXCEL at your job!

My 16 year old had a 45 year old dude tell me he ought to be manager when he turns 17! That's progress! That's hustle! That's responsibility! That's competence! Businesses know who the slackers and goof offs are. Be that, and minimum wage is your minimalist future. Get enough skills at your entry-level job to move up, there, or somewhere else, after a year or two or three!

Don't have a resume track-record of job hopping; show some stability, but always by looking for better opportunities. People exist who know where a business could use your skills and talents, which pay you better, or the most. These people are people who know the industry you're in. They'll be older than you.

Seek to get to know them, as mentors! Do them sincere favors that improve their life, in exchange for their helping you in your career! Make their time spent with you worthwhile to them!

"You can have everything in life you want, if you will just help other people get what they want." —Zig Ziglar Your boss wants a raise or promotion. Make him/her look good to his "superior!" Do you think he/she won't notice, and reward you accordingly? Stick out from the crowd!

FEW bosses have the time to be helicopter bosses, so learn how they evaluate results in job evaluations, and like 'teaching to the test,' work to the evaluation!

Discover what skills you lack, that are required for the position you desire. Look on Indeed.com, or industry websites, to see what key words recruiters seek for in job candidates, and go add those skills to your resume arsenal. And be nice to people. FEW people begrudge peers advancing when they're good people. Arrogant, selfish, bossy, self-promoting types ultimately shoot themselves in the foot, and pocket book.

Be willing to move! NO city is off limits if your perfect job exists there. Technology can bridge family and friendships. You have to be self-interested! No one is 'gonna groom you for success, unless your family engages nepotism.

My sincerest and high concern is for Millennials! You are better off than being high school dropouts, or unemployed, or homeless, but your struggle is real, and there are ways to get by until you make it better, but you are ultimately the answer to your own success!; NOT government/taxpayers.

Bags of money from bank robberies are "free." Stolen, black market goods are "free" to those possessing them. Other than those EVIL means, there are few-to-no free lunches. Never depend on anyone else to cover your bills! Learn to live on less, or buy better/smarter, and move up that ladder as fast as humanly possible! It's up to YOU!

One more thing... my position is NOT age-based! Every baby boomer had to face the world on their own, leaving their family's nest! You're NOT unique. And believing older people are richer than you, so you are owed some of that is a MYTH, excepting via a job! Even your own parents, and immediate family don't owe you a living, after age 18.

The older people who only vote to keep all their money (i.e., conservatives) I agree with you are a problem to society, but not all older people are conservatives, Millennials! Some older people actually care that our society becomes a more perfect union, which includes making your money struggles easier to endure.

MY SKELETONS & MUSCLES...

Job Experiences

(1/26/19)

When I worked at Ernst and Young, they nick-named me "pure" (previously undetected recruiting error), because I did nothing to speak of regarding a coding job in their systems department, as I was as bad at technology then as I am now. I wanted to be in the business improvement department, but one day they said 'you have to code for three years before you can do that,' so I started with a law firm the next Monday.

When I was at E & Y (a GREAT, moral company) I learned quality and speed are tradeoffs, and you have to watch BOTH, don't blame people, but processes, people are 'FTE' expense items, to executives, and that every executive wants to profit off every employee, unless their function is business-required.

That Houston office had their one innovation person, so I was never going to be able to get that job. I trained consultants, twice, did reports and researched industry analyses, and participated in an airline gig where we told employees we weren't there to fire them, when we were hired to cut a percent of staff/headcount (lies)! I didn't learn of that project objective until our close-out meeting, or I would have whispered to an employee, or possibly quit. I believed my analysis and creativity was actually going to make those poor layoff victims' work better, faster, and enjoy their jobs more. But it was to automate them out of existence!

I was the in-court lawyer at America's first from home teleconferenced lawsuit trial. That boss (now deceased) had NO chance... he wanted a case to argue before the Supreme Court, based on the ADA, to be able to practice law from home, as he had Polio. He was a good man (RIP). Later, he offered me to be one of three lawyers, instead of a lawyer who had been with him for years. I wasn't interested in the practice of law, so I told him to please let another (longer-tenured) person take my spot.

Update #1: Yanny Or Laurel?

My former rabbit sat for seven months in his cage (apart from running around our living room, often), rarely getting out more than once a day, wet pooing continually (likely having cancer, said the vet we saw three times)! I may have held him once, as my son was the only one able to handle him without him wiggling.

I cleaned his cage EVERY day those last six months, having done so once a week all seven or so of his years prior, as his wet poo was uncontrollable (we even used diapers). He got his nails clipped at Petland every month, and they will tell you we treated him like a KING!

NO one can say he was EVER mistreated!... our neighbors who babysat him on our vacations, family, friends, vet, place of purchase (Petland) ALL gave testimony that we were probably the best family to pets in the neighborhood.

However, some DOOFUS bureaucRAT charged me with animal abuse, as we had him put down when he would not eat for 24 hours, and we thought it MERCIFUL! I wasn't 'gonna let him suffer—he'd been going down for seven months, but we didn't want him to leave us.

I even saw some counselor, because I was so distraught after he died, and bought a replacement rabbit within a week, as I couldn't bear him being gone.

The prosecutor alleged misuse because he had matted hair UNDER HIS BODY, ONLY! Every fur strand was in perfect condition everywhere else, even after mites we had treated three times last November.

WHO WOULD KNOW about his under carriage, when I never took him out of the cage (my son did), or turned him over, as he WIGGLED profusely, just being held. We even BATHED him the Friday before putting him down.

He was NEVER abused, and I say &*$#@ you to that female prosecutor who listened to NONE of this proof—just showed a picture of his underside, and said go to court or plea no contend.

What would you do in such circumstances? I even asked her, and she said comb his hair underneath! AMAZING bull crap! NO ONE does that, and I even had my vet's affidavit saying he was well cared for, and that vet could have testified Slate was in NO pain, despite hair entwined in some places from sitting for seven months, in wet poop and diapers, even though bathed and exercised.

I stormed out of the SHAM of a bogus hearing, and even the great judge reduced my fine by about 2/3rds (including the prosecutor's own reduction of the first ~1/3rd). I have no idea if that legal event shows up anywhere, but I equate it to MLK being arrested, and Airplane Repo having arrests.

There was ZERO abuse, and not one thing I did would I not do again, except NEVER put any animal down in our city's shelter, and have him shaved underneath before doing so elsewhere (a ridiculous, and perhaps painful-to-bunny requirement)! Scr_w bureaucrats!

I wrote my own Motion to Dismiss, but the witch was not having it (though she was professional and nice—just unreasonable). Also, when anyone researches my law license, I am "non-practicing" status, by CHOICE, to avoid continuing ed courses and costs, when I DON'T practice—not ANY misbehavior.

By the way, even that counselor was willing to testify how distraught—even depressed—I was, from grieving (said she), but wanted $75 for the signature on a paragraph affidavit I wrote, and it wasn't worth it, nor would miss legalist bureaucrat have looked at it, as she ignored ALL my evidence!

The good news is, after one day of any probation that was lifted by the judge, it probably isn't on any court records (I don't know), and our new rabbit is a GREAT replacement.

I am CERTAIN my accuser(s) could NEVER get this type cooperation from pets know to be enemies, in the wild! It takes a master's/parental TALENT to teach all the animals to get along, as ALL of ours ALWAYS have, including guinea pigs with dogs!

That barrister saw ZERO of my evidence—a closed-minded fool I forgive anyway! 'Just doing my job,' said the S.S. officer?

Am I angry over her incompetence? No... righteously indignant, but I could care less about it, as it's water under the bridge. God will judge all wrongdoers! That's not my concern. Pray when you are wrongly treated!

I reveal all this because NO ONE is going to get any up on me for evil, selfish or political gain, as we are a truth-telling open book (i.e., transparent), warts and all, imperfect, but walking by faith, nevertheless.

Update #2: My 'Notoriety'

One of our next generation of Republican leaders, one who may not be as well-known as I am today, one who has not yet taken their message across the country, one who is just getting started, may well emerge as being better able to defeat the Democrat nominee. —Mitt Romney (January, 2015)

Your passion for effecting change is deeply inspiring, and as you continue looking for ways to spur progress across the country we both love, know MicHelle and I will be standing right alongside you every step of the way. —Barack Obama (May, 2018)

I told my sons, two days ago, while climbing, I don't plan to ever try to explain how most VIPs know me, but most average Joe's don't. I'll just run on better ideas. But here's EXACTLY how, detailed at Christians for Trump book at <http://AmericanAnswers.org>.

Over eight years, God made me make a top 10 (size-wise) church get their Bible 'EDBS' priorities right. After MUCH opposition, they did! Then that pastor sought me to run for president as a GOP, 6 times, even after Chump started his run. God told me 'NOT 2016.'

That man is connected! Most D.C. GOP's learned of my writings. Then, when Chump won, I took my ideas to the Democrats, for 2.5 years, until liberals caused AOC sentiment to ruin a winning chance with them. God told me a day to start running, and three weeks before it was evident why He chose that date—I needed to return to the GOP! I'll remain there unless a win is ever more likely as a Democrat or Independent.

God teaches Christians to be humble. I've never promoted myself or my ideas or books, publicly. You hardly even read they exist, on this Twitter site! That's why few laymen know of me. VIPs are very connected, and the most famous names you could recite have viewed our tweets on many occasions! You'd NEVER know that!

I'd go so far as to say God through myself has changed more things in politics and religion the past 5 years than anyone else! Even CHUMP stole 5 ideas that caused his win! That pastor is one of his closest advisers, because Chump learned of me, and targeted him. He didn't know him before! You're welcome, thieves.

HOW do you put all that in one tweet or sound bite? It was the miraculous work of God! Voters have no patience for explanations, just slogans. That's the main reason I'm not running in 2020. I don't appease ignorance with one-liner slogans. Our ideas are SUPERIOR, but many people don't want to read or think.

READ AmericanAnswers.org. You'll NEVER find as much wisdom anywhere but the Bible, on which it website's Will You Live Forever? button is founded. I made it look archaically simple, as I don't reward people attracted to bells and whistles, vs. CONTENT and substance. Click any button and be amazed, if you're NOT lazy.

I'm not 'gonna rack my brain in how to summarize that in one slogan or tweet! I'd rather sell energy, and get my ideas out there before 2028, starting in 2024. The problem with America and our politics is ignorant emotionalism. I will NOT add to the problem, running on slogans and dirt on opponents! I have better ideas!

Again, the ONLY salesy statement I'll ever say is you can't find better information than at our two websites, except in the Bible, which is behind both those websites. That challenge inspires NO ignorant people, as they're too lazy to prove me right. Intellectual laziness is why America risks a bad future!

Many people would rather watch YouTube cat videos, hear rock concerts, watch reality TV, vote for liars who promise them freebies. China WILL beat America when our people are dumbed-down. WATCH Asians and Indians in America. They are smart and hard working. America used to be known for that! We're now more fat and happy, resting on PAST laurels!

The only thing I worry about is that some total unknown that nobody ever heard of comes along. -Donald Trump (September 29th, 2018, in Wheeling, WV)
He said he fears a smarter, not divisive, rational POLITICAL OUTSIDER.

PRESS RELEASE

If I saw a total nobody on a national TV interview, I'd want to know who is he, why is he on there, and why do I benefit from his 4-5 minutes of limelight? THAT is my blueprint for what my press release and 30 second commercial must address. If he said he's running for president, I'd NEED reasons, or it seems crazy!

That means I must address the past four years, BRIEFLY, and refer details to my Christians For Trump (CFT) book. Asked to run for president four times as a GOP, by Chumps WASP group's heads (which they'd now deny, from fear of his wrath), and two times as a Democrat. You can't do lie detectors, live on camera, if they're not there with you. #Challenges

God gave me the most astounding ideas to fix our great nation, over a four year period of 11 full-time years writing 11 books. That's a bullet point. If you disbelieve it, MUCH evidence is FREE at our website, including every detail this lawyer could recall, documented in that free book there.

I could quote Mitt or Barack, but I'm not inclined. I could list my 16 top bullets of famous people affected by our tweets, or promised campaign, but that's too detailed. You have 30 seconds, then follow-up questions. The ideas trump all, then why you are a better option than everyone else. That's the crux of the matter. All else is secondary.

The 'Pledger' concept, and bad alternatives. Four years of writings that prove our knowledge and ideas are superior to all others running (and 11 books). JUST skim read the website, and if anyone has better ideas, we'll use great ideas from any source, but ours trump in quantity and quality—just read and prove it!

That's weak. You can't tell people to read it; you've got to explain it in 30 seconds. The BEST political ideas and solutions anywhere are at our FREE website (which has 6,700+ free new inventions), but a summary is... (Pledgers). VIPs on both sides of the aisle loved the ideas, and wanted me to be a presidential candidate since 2015.

Even Chump stole seven of our ideas, among his less than 10 total policy thoughts in his campaign, connected by my pastor(s); how would he know of a church in Texas, when he's a very irreligious character? Details and list of those seven policies are at that CFT book—FOR FREE. Quote the page number! Copycat loser!

How do you tell my church experience, and contract monitoring of Twitter, in 30 seconds? Trump's first media spokesman for the evangelical council was my family's pastor the past 16 years, who wanted me to run for president since March 2015, but I said God said 2020, so his group went with Jeb, Cruz, then DJT; Ben Carson, originally.

'Miracle' is a fast way to explain it, but insufficient for secularists! You've got to mention God, as there's no reasonable explanation without it, and I have ZERO intent to distance my campaign from my REAL Christian life since age eight—NOT a 'baby Christian,' a fake one, one who kisses up to Christians for votes, but even reproves pastors.

'God told me to be president and slay Goliath' is 100 percent true, but not marketable! I know it; many famous pastors know. The EXACT conversation between He and me is in our CFT book. I've predicted about 54 outcomes, accurately (~two wrong, one only by wrong timing); I'm NOT a prophet!

If anyone asks how can you prove God wants you to be President, tell on a lie detector about teleporting in 1981, and the claim I made you say, which is the closest thing in the Bible to what I called you to, though morally the opposite! (Rev. 13) The 'P' job is much more influence than David (Israel only). It's an analogy! Sorry.

I'm the one who's sorry! Four people heard me say what I was forced to say! It was against my will, but I knew it had to be said or I couldn't continue forward with the Lord. It quite honestly irritated me! I've been bitter for years that I had to say that, but you can't write 19 full-time years without distancing yourself [from family].

When you have family hassling you since 1981 to NOT drop out of seminary to write, and go meet with God in Colorado, where the EXACT apartment that overlooked a snowy mountain top in Boulder was available, exactly as the vision showed; when I slept at my ex-girlfriend's' parents' Ft. Worth casa on the way! Miracle!

God gave me AWESOME ideas (spoke to me in His still small voice) in 1981. When it stopped, I got so depressed I tried to swallow a handful of Aspirin, and tried to cut left wrist. If you've ever heard all I've written in 11 books, over 19 full-time years, when it stops, Heaven is better! #Tears You'll never know.

Documentation is in CFT of events influenced by our tweets, accurate predictions, awesome ideas, innovation marathon NO ONE can keep up with are some proof God led all this. Once, to test my obedience, on a plane from Colorado to Texas, He said "stare at an apple." My dad HATED that! God said him or Me!

Mk. 10:29 has been my life verse since 1978! I had to be hospitalized three times in my early 20's for suicidal/clinical depression. I hated every second of it; embarrassing! I had a wife who lied to get married to me. When I learned of the lie, the marriage was over, as it was a deal breaker I said it would be when we dated! Fraudulent inducement!

And, yes, one time I pushed her out of my personal space, when an angry confrontation of me occurred, wherein a wine glass was broken on my left foot, which scar I can still show you. She was so overweight, her closet clothes kept her balanced. She threw a glass at me, then that closet event, where anyone not so heavy would just have had their hands removed from my shoulders or chest (I can't recall which); I just wanted her out of my face! We slept in separate rooms the second half of the marriage, me with our dog. I wanted to be a preacher, and trained for such; with a divorce, you lose that, back then! I did.

Losing my ministry caused my second depression stint. It literally lifted the day I signed her initiated and printed divorce papers! The third time was residual, but likely from my ministry being gone, unemployed and facing a sales career (like my dad). The third time I admitted I needed it; it was more powerful than I could fight off.

I haven't had one pill for that since 1988, when we divorced! I haven't been depressed in any serious way until last weekend, for two days. It was very depressing to not hear God's voice, or see miracles, regularly, which caused the first event!

I was literally teleported; HOW do you prove it? Lie detectors! If a polygrapher is credentialed, and has a good reputation, I'll take as many as anyone wants to pay for; live on TV or in public. I'll NEVER fail one of them! It actually made me miss an NBA game in Houston my dad wasn't happy about, as he attended it with Eric Habernal without me (prepaid tickets).

Leaving Southwestern Seminary, Fall 1981, to go to a Rockets game, just outside Hillsboro, TX, I looked down at my pocket red covered New Testament to read 'baptized for the dead' in I Cor. 15, wanting to interpret it, and looked up, and U.T. stadium is out my right window! I was in my Baylor graduation gift 1981 Olds Cutlass Calais, tan and brown trim.

I knew Austin was WAY out of the way from a south/left turn onto Highway 6, near Waco, and the math to get home didn't work! I asked an owner of a gas station to fake a car repair receipt. The DUMB thing is I think he was near Austin, which wouldn't be explainable!

I did a U-turn near ~MLK exit of I-35, just before the lake/river that's near downtown Austin, and don't recall, but likely got in some trouble when at home. The fake receipt may have helped, if the city wasn't looked at. Maybe I was smart enough to do it in Waco, but I recall it on the left side of I-35, near Austin.

I said I'm a young grad student, and I made a big wrong turn, and I'm 'gonna be (proverbially) killed by my dad if I get home this late, because I'm supposed to be at a Rockets game. He was merciful, but mentioned the law forbids fraud. He did it anyway, with little detail on the print-out. HOW would you prove that?

Sunday, I saw the structure of the removed highway sign that told me Hillsboro was straight ahead, when I took my son to Baylor. The metal beams that are erect/straight to the sky, and are still there on the west side! I have no camera/smart phone, or I would have filmed it. I told my son I'd like to turn around, and he film it, but traffic was horrible, and it's not sacred to him like it is to me!

Here's the scientific math: 134 miles in one second. Miracle! Only two years ago did the Lord explain the significance... I was going for entertainment; He was taking me to the seat of Texas power!

When I appeared/landed/arrived in Austin, I rolled down the window, patted the car, and said aloud, 'are we still in 1981, Bessie?' (the car's spontaneous nick name). Immediately I knew I was in trouble making the NBA game!

Two days ago I Facebook connected with the guy who went to the game with my dad. I asked him what team we were playing, but people often skip over messages to just connect! I'll ask him later. This was before I dropped out of seminary to write. Southwestern Seminary could tell you the exact date I withdrew.

My parents were NOT happy, at some dinner meal out when I told them. How do you say God has led me to write? I've spent 10 years, full-time, writing a 5,000-paged New Testament Commentary and Topication (working part-time), and 11 years writing 11 other books. NO pay for all that work--yet! You read my 11 books and two websites, and that's my evidence that God leads me! I have no ability to walk on water! #Proof

I'll take any credible lie detector on every word I just said/wrote. But, when I was seriously depressed, I did make a false claim to be some evil character in Bible prophecy, because I knew he gets to die, at least for a time! I wanted to! It's real hard to succeed at it, if you have a conscience, and love life.

I told my BFF, older sister, wife, and sent an FBI packet with such claim. It was not true, but I felt for some strange reason I had to verbalize it, or my walk with Christ would have blockage. It kept people from hassling me writing! It can also garner me media attention, if I ever need it (though negative).

I knew LITTLE about prophecy, back then. Because that mistaken/errant/untrue statement was embarrassing, God led me to write two books on prophecy. I now know more than many on the subject. His job is very similar in power to the one God has called me to. Analogy. I never made the connection until two years ago.

I felt led to fast for two weeks, early March, 2015. My church felt the impact, as its head pastor said so! "Do any of you notice an unusually powerful presence in this room tonight?" 30,000-member church auditorium "room." I'll seek a lie detector, or you can get a CD of that Saturday evening service! #Proof

It was ~3am when God spoke to me to run for president. I heard the ('P') word, and asked, are you speaking the P word, because "partner" was a part of the call, and I said the only job I know that has a partner is President. Do you want to see the EXACT Twitter posts? I deleted them, as too personal, but saved them in M.S. Word, as they were sacred to me, and they're now in that CFT book.

I'm pretty sure the pastor or staff who monitored our tweets saw it. We have a contract that I can't mention the church here, or I can never return to my family's church. They watched to see if I'd break the contract. For 1 year, God led me to write national pastors about 'EDBS' priorities they were essentially failing at.

A mega pastor in North Carolina argued with me, here, and it's in that free book. Someone else hassled me as 'Podactor,' which conversations are at that same venue. Linked-In said a "stadium full" of people checked out my profile, which was nearing "legend status." I've never sent one message there!

Their email told me that, but I may have depleted it--I never keep old emails, as it's so hard to find relevant stuff with a lot of clutter. I asked them later to re-send the email, but it's automatically generated.

Then things turned political, and the rest is history. ALL this is in that free book. I even have the tweet that says when they met me to make me sign a contract. Nov. 11-13, 2014 seems about right. But I love proof, so here's the precise post:

NOT preparing 4 noon meeting on Great Commission COMPLETION
as believe N Lk. 12:12. These tweets (and climb) prove this claim!

The history of my being kicked out of Sunday School class(es) is in that book. I knew too much, and some now divorced from her buzz haired muscled gentle giant hubby woman complained. When I wrote of that experience here, I got a phone call to come meet on church campus. I wrote the contract.

It's somewhere in my paper and book-cluttered master closet, but I may never find it. I've tried, but too time-consuming. Lie detectors from involved staff members would also work, if they deny or lost their copy.

Two males, one of which may have prayed for me last Saturday evening; I don't recall the two who kicked me out of Sun School, vs. the two who made me sign the contract, about a year or so later. I'm sure they know, exactly! The young dude, last time I went forward for prayer concerning politics, said "don't you remember when I met you last?" He was one of the four, for sure, as with North campus pastor.

Who cares? Since that event, God had me write on politics, beginning late 2014. Ted Cruz even abandoned an exploratory committee when he heard of our ideas, and feared I'd run and get the WASP vote. You can Google his words. I've said enough. I've got to get on with the press release. 30 seconds to say all that!

Trump's first evangelical council media spokesman is one sound bite. I believe God called me to run for President is another (conversation is on our website). My writings show I follow Him. Test them, compared to His Bible is another sound bite. It's 'gonna be a tough day of sound biting! NOT my forte.

Update #1: Questions Of My Candidacy

Who are you? A four-degreed author-lawyer, who God has used to essentially control many political events (behind the scenes) the past four years, known and ideas widely accepted by many VIP's on both sides of the aisle (so much so that I've been sought to run for president six times, two of which as a Democrat, by the same people).

As a dude said last evening, lawyers say in 8 words what others say in one. I'm still trying to work on a "spiel" and presser script. Like the apostle Paul, I'm a nobody (II Cor. 12:11) that Somebody raised up to lead this nation the past four years, because that very same God knows we needed it.

What have you done? Changed American church life/Christianity and politics the past four years, God writing through me one book most VIP's watched me write, and now 11 total. Why should we vote for you, or believe God called you to this? Simply skim read my free website, and I'll win your vote! (this is crafting sound bite examples for media interviews)

If asked any question, answer with: Please let me make you a challenge... if you find any better ideas or solutions to America's problems, that are as doable and workable, and of any better quantity or quality than those which are found on our FREE website, DON'T vote for me; but if you don't, DO vote for me. (memorize that!)

Who are you, why are you here, what have you done, and why should we vote for you? Totally legitimate questions! I keep asking myself if an unknown, or even a Joe Blow ran for president, how and why would anyone not laugh that off as an arrogant or crazy stunt?

You've got to mention the past four years!: God called me to run, and confirmed it with MANY famous WASP pastors, who then spread the word to the D.C. GOP, who then spread it to the D.C. Dems, when I changed parties, when Trump won. You've got to memorize these, even if they're a bit wordy sound bites. Trump's evangelical council was essentially the offshoot of my work to change 1 of the top 10 mega churches.

You keep steering the audience to the website for documentation and details. 'I'm the David and Trump's the Goliath,' and my 11 books are my stones. Memorize these sound bites! Put them on cue/index cards, and practice saying them! I'm pretty sure my mom 'came by' to help me with this difficult writing task (3am).

You have so few followers. I have many viewers from the VIP ranks, but it's risky to follow me, and even riskier for this techno dinosaur to ever learn how to market well; I'm a writer, nothing more, nothing less. And I notice Bernie sees the wisdom of hiring a digital writer, as America should, too.

Wit and wisdom. That combination is unmatched. When you're writing, it flows naturally. When nerves of the speaking spotlight are upon you, you've got to have these down pat, in order not to stumble.

Why are you a 'no-name?' I know a lot, but don't know a lot about getting known! (II Cor. 11:6) What's your experience? READ it! Two websites; changed Christianity and politics. Not bad for a full-time writer, via Twitter! Are you a leader? Ask people who have followed me—my words, deeds/example and writings/ideas. Read about it free at AmericanAnswers.org.

What successes have you demonstrated? Certainly not in the work world, but I trust in serving God more than forty years, and doing His will, in priorities, then writing, you will see success as He defines it! (Josh. 1:8) You're all talk, and no action. Tell that to the people who have interacted with me, through which much change was wrought.

No one has even read your books, yet. Wit and Wisdom has been read by many VIP's, written live on Twitter the past four years. The materials of this website's Will You Live Forever? button have been online since ~2006, and a stadium full of mainly pastors were made aware of its contents and priorities back in 2014. NEXT? _____.

You don't give (many) speeches. I have and I will, but I'm not an Amway cheer leader. I'm a teacher, and if you took the time and effort to know what I know, you'd clamor less for rah rah champions, and more for people we can truly champion to get priority things done, and fix D.C., and solve problems with common sense! Will you?

And if the media starts with the negative, trying to blow me out of the water, stick to the script, and agree to answer any questions with a follow-up visit, or on another national network.

You only have four minutes to convey all this, so steer the audience to your latest book chapter, entitled "Press Release" (at AmericanAnswers.org, "Book Updates" button), tomorrow. Memorize the sound bites I gave you the past two days, and trust Me for answers to questions you don't anticipate. Do well.

Honestly, I don't know why my posts never garner much attention among laymen! Perhaps wisdom is out of fashion? My cryptic typos off-put people? No hashtag use? Boring content? Not about culture and celebrities, with videos and pics? I have NO idea, but it worked to create 11 books I can sell, as not all have seen all my tweets.

Slogans and sound bites. The dumbing-down of the great institution which is America. Make me feel something when you speak; don't educate or inspire me; I want to be entertained. That's both modern politics, and the death-knell of our great nation! I see it all the time! Knowledge is anathema to us.

Sing me a song, do me a dance. And your poverty will come upon you like a vagabond (Pv. 6:10-11; Mt. 11:17, 24:38) Wisdom is vindicated by its deeds (Lk. 7:35). We waste time avoiding wisdom and God's word, because reading and learning is over-stressed/taxed/over the 12 required years of our lives, in grades K-12!

Update #2: Tribute to My Mom (#2)

And just because I'm still mad my mom was killed, please read this true story, as my mom deserves all the praise and credit her sadly lived last years and sadly ending life eluded her: <https://bit.ly/2UO1JJQ> RIP, RIP-ped off amazing woman!

#UnwrittenRulesIn5Words Don't tell how you feel. When people say "tell us how you're really feeling," they're mocking the fact that you're telling the facts! People LOVE being lied to! How else could tRump be president? (John 8:32, 17:17)

I'm delaying press release editing, as I did that all yesterday. One day, on the longest driveway in our neighborhood, my mom said, 'No one can make you feel bad without your permission.' I ALWAYS confront lies, so I said, 'you hair looks so bad today!,' and her face told me she saw the error of her statement!

She once said (from a more liberal theological church background—NOT mine), even if all Christianity is untrue, it's still a great way to live, to which I cited her I Cor. 15. If my faith/religion is fake, I've lost 19 years of my most financially productive years, writing full-time! #Tears

On my 50th birthday, at a restaurant with ~20 friends and family, she said, 'Jim's not rich, but he's rich in love.' SO embarrassing! F U! I've spent my entire adult life serving Jesus, and preparing to lead this nation better than anyone else could, by His miraculous grace alone! Suffering is ~all I've known!

Money idolaters who do little for Jesus have it easy in this life, but forget a judgment is coming! Now, like Wendy Williams, I've said MY truth. It will probably end up as an addition to the websites 'books update' button, likely today.

Much sadness the past 1.5 days. Trudging through the press release, but the hassles I've received from writing as a ~"career," from FAMILY (not my wife or kids) has made it atrociously difficult! Inner tears are just continually dripping on the heart this week. It's why God has me in DFW, via mom's murder. #IFeelAliveWhen I write, or see mountains.

<https://bit.ly/2Foqsza> Abraham Lincoln fought clinical depression all his life, and if he were alive today, his condition would be treated as a "character issue"—that is, as a political liability. His condition was indeed a character issue—it gave him the tools to save the nation. #Tears

The great talk radio soundtrack of my 1990's, now the second most powerful Texas GOP politician suffered depression: <https://bit.ly/2Cu315C> I NEVER have, beyond one day or less, since 1988, excepting last weekend. NO pills since 1988; I don't need them. Endure suffering, like Job!

Celebrities who have been depressed: <https://bit.ly/2TP5lyY> <https://bit.ly/2w4JTly> I'd take their achievements over never going through the same! The writer of the song God saved me through (third verse/refrain, Southview Baptist, Lincoln, Nebraska) suffered depression, after his own mom's death: <https://bit.ly/2HxFGEO> There Is a Fountain. Having my mom legally murdered is saddening, even to my kids, years later! Traumatic evil.

And BOTH my sons being bullied, as was I. It's been a hard 10 years! Now that my books are all written, the emotions flood through, as the writing discipline is less needed. II Cor. 1 tells why God lets Christians go through suffering... so we can comfort others! Abe Lincoln was the greatest 'P,' as he had empathy!

I'm 110 percent grateful to have my 11 books, because if anyone ever wants to accuse me of having any 'emotional problems' with depression, 30+ years ago, I can wittily retort my 11 books trump anything you'll ever write, never going through as tough of circumstances. Mic drop!

To EVERY artist and author: NEVER give up! Critics are a dime a dozen, and worth as much! NEVER succumb to any temptations to follow this "book writer's" path, when he didn't receive acclimation soon enough, and got impatient! <https://bit.ly/2UOs9ev> #Persevere! You don't toil in vain!

That author's MOM inherited all the benefits, and fruits of his laborious labors! He was too impatient!; wanted instant gratification after years of blood, sweat and tears, writing an award-winning novel! YOU know the toils. The audience/readers don't know the quality until they read it. That takes TIME!

HOW can I work on a press release, after the past two day's events? Working through the difficulties of the past 11 years. I only sold three energy accounts. Not a dime more. The difficulties are overwhelming me, today! But, guess what? I ENDURED, and have 11 books to show for it! And they're my credentials.

Continuing

Unexpected low after the high of the mountains [of Taos], to be sure! I'm writing the following for me—No one forces anyone to read with me! I'm SO sorry, mom, that we couldn't stop you committing suicide, or talk you out of marrying a culprit! You were NOT thinking right when you left dad for him! You needed help!

You got it, once, but he couldn't afford it when you really needed it! I'm SO sorry you left my kids too soon! The twins were far too young to lose their grandmother! You used to let them play in your hot tub. Hunter knew you, and still recalls the baked cookies! He loves you SO much! Why'd you leave us? #Tears

You could have divorced! Your 3 kids would have helped you, financially! You could have lived with my family, as dad did, temporarily, to let you think clear, before you left us all for the creep! Why didn't you ever tell us you were in a horrible and abusive re-marriage? You got married with none of us present; you 'dun screwed up.

I told you, MANY times, you weren't to be with that sinner! Your pride wouldn't listen! You never told any of us any details, at least not your son! You praised that man, even as he burned your cash, and adulterated, serially! Why couldn't you just be honest? We're all Christians. No one's perfect! You left your childhood sweetheart after 50 years! Insane!

Your body now rots with worms on the far corner of some other family's cemetery plot! I'm SO sorry! He couldn't even afford to give you the dignity of your own final plot of land! I'm SO sorry I didn't save you off that couch for 21 days, trying twice to talk you out of starving to death!

I called 911 in Houston! You said that was murdering you! You were NOT thinking well! You had no place to turn, with the evil one as your hubby, watching over all you did and said. You deserved a much better ending, as your life was a much better testimony. I hope you're in Heaven! Sure do miss you.

Please come in a dream or vision to show me you see this message! You were my best friend. Imperfect, but the greatest person and mom I've ever known. The family's splintered without you. I feel so close to you today! You sang this song to me when I was depressed: <https://bit.ly/2WcU7AY> Somewhere out there.

I hope you're well, you see my tweets, and you know how much your family loved you! #Tears Your killer got his in November! I NEVER would move back to Houston because of what you two did to ruin my hometown for me and my family! I actually feared I might kill him if I ever saw him, by accident, so I rarely visited. I miss you! And I forgive you.

The ONLY time you weren't depressed the last five years of your life, in my experience, was when we all went to San Antonio Fiesta Texas with the kids in your Honda Odyssey. We recall your humor at the Mexican restaurant. You could always hold a crowd. You remember Mimi's paper towel curlers at Galveston?

It's HARD to even remember you in detail, now, seven years away from your funeral. ALL I feel is the goodness you left on earth! Popo was a hero. Please tell him 'hi.' if he's where I believe you to be! Jehovah's Witness, so could have problems with that request! Your mom wrote the Music Did It! musical via ASCAP.

You and I used to sit at the piano in the front room and sing as you played. Remember how we'd purposely sing off key, and ask dad if he noticed? You are missed! You won Ms. Texas Senior 2005, then had to relinquish the crown, due to depression. WHY DIDNT YOU TELL US YOUR HUBBY WAS A SCHMUCK? #Honesty!

In tribute to you, my BFF forever, I'm 'gonna post your favorite songs, off the CD your granddaughter made for your funeral, and listen to it today. Please make yourself known to your one and only son! Things haven't been so well in the family since your departure, from my vantage point. Please appear to me in some form in my sleep.

<https://bit.ly/2TkRAD5> Nat King Cole, Smile, when your heart is hurting. <https://bit.ly/2YeBC19> My Favorite Things, Julie Andrews. <https://bit.ly/2WfaAol> Why should I be discouraged, His eye is on the sparrow. <https://bit.ly/2ugyK65> I Love You, that's what Calvary said! (John 3:16)

I don't even have a picture of you in my house! I'll try to find one this weekend, somewhere.

<https://bit.ly/2UIw50A> God and God alone. <https://bit.ly/2FhmkzR> Climb every mountain.

<https://bit.ly/2Jtackv> Close to you—the song we would sing out of key, for dad, as a prank!

<https://bit.ly/2DeaX9r> Downtown—the song we'd sing on vacations, along with <https://bit.ly/2CwjKp1> Aquarius.

Remember the time you were showering in Hawaii, and you didn't know it was a two-way mirror, so I climbed up and pointed, as if I could see you? Gotcha! Only you could see out! Such a prankster!

<https://bit.ly/2OhGyxw> The Candy Man. Remember when I stepped on a sea urchin, and you had to pee in a cup to sooth the pain, in Hawaii? Thanks for you caring, mom! ONJ's I honestly love you: <https://bit.ly/2Y9dcG4>

Remember the time the neighbor behind us built a fence without consulting us, and had those ugly silver metal poles on our side, cemented in, and you asked me to and we both threw them over the fence, undigging them before the concrete set? SURE missing you today! #Tears <https://bit.ly/2CFALxl>

A, you're adorable. <https://bit.ly/2Ojhdn0> There is a Savior. Are you O.K.? Made it to Buena land? <https://bit.ly/2OkR1II> Majesty. <https://bit.ly/2TRD0be> Where is love. <https://bit.ly/2Tm4HnA> In my own little corner. <https://bit.ly/2OiRIHJ> I'm 'gonna wash that man right out of my hair. <https://bit.ly/2HKXdrT> Love and marriage. <https://bit.ly/2TYzVWg> Somewhere over the rainbow.

In tribute to my great mom: <https://bit.ly/2JuDuPK> Wish everyone could have met her! <https://bit.ly/2TPeTtH> Rise again <https://bit.ly/2TKRSd9> I can only imagine. Memories are all you have when one is deceased. Make some good ones with your family, today!...

I just read today's story to my twins. My daughter, in tears presently, said in third period, today, she was bored, and looked up my mom's obituary and picture, but got so sad she had to leave that website. AMAZING "coincidence." My mom visited my family, today, in some weird way!

Sad, and missing my closest friend in life. "Voluntary" death by dehydration #Suicide. BEST mom anyone could EVER have! RIP, and can't wait to see you in Heaven—but not anytime soon! Joanie Meroney #Hero (12/13/17)

Our society SO accentuates the positive, when my daughter was crying, I thought I may have made a mistake telling her my mom's story, but she said the tears showed I wrote a poignant message. She went on to tell of card games, dominoes, dictionary and Pictionary, and how my bedroom had been converted, and painted pink, and mom would play with the kids, there, and roaches were always sure to join them (Houston!), and how she'd stand behind mom's bar and pretend she was serving customers. She has a knack for writing, too, and that's how I started the reading, as her first two writings were astounding!

After church, Wednesday evening, my daughter further revealed that a girl at school said she favored my mom, watching her look at her obituary. #Tears She said she may have just been making her feel good, but it was appreciated. Then Conner started drumming in the car. I always wanted someone in the family to do so.

Update #3: Press Release (Continued)

That experience with my mom was one of the most momentous in my lifetime! I wrote of her as my daughter thought of her—seven years later, during the same hours! #WOW

Working on my actual press release (not just the same-named chapter title). I'm sure most people have zero idea why it's so hard to do. It's nearly impossible for me. My marketing skills stink. I'm fact-based, vs. glowingly positive superlatives in sound bites. I usually expose exaggerated claims and hype—now I'm forced to learn how to do it.

The man God used to change politics and religion in America vs. the man who significantly changed American politics and religion the past four years. See: When I try, it's over- or under. Too glowing or too boring. The man God has used to lead America the past four years, say some leaders(?).

Modern-day David is ready to slay his political Goliath. Eleven books that will slay the Trump Goliath. The most wisdom-filled website in the world. You wouldn't believe my past four years! The Dem presidential candidate who can pull the rug out from beneath Trumps 81 percent WASP support. Any good?

I'm NOT a headlines writer, vs. maker. The best political ideas and solutions known to man. The secret behind many of the changes in D.C. politics since 2015. The political Bosley of Charlie's Angels. America's Honest Politician. The World's Most Innovative Man. The fix for what ails D.C.

The man God wants to be president. These really sound braggadocios, presumptuous or so silly. We NEVER learned this skill in my Baylor marketing major, centuries ago! This is NOT adding chapters to my books. That's EASY! The most-educated presidential candidate ever (or running)?

The best wisdom in the world. The answer for America, and answers to her problems? Common sense solutions to all America's major problems. If you can find better solutions to America's problems—vote for them. This man has spent the past eleven years preparing to be President! (full-time).

You might think I have material to work with. I have zero idea if any of those are even in the ballpark! I'll probably take a breather and hit it when I'm more objective. I've always hated sales and bragging ads, and have never written one marketing copy. Facts aren't puffery! How do you do it? Imitate!?

This website should be President! The most important information of life (in our eleven books). Everything you ever needed to know about how to fix politics and politicians. The way forward. The next generation politician. Evolved politics. A new way to think about politics? Who knows?

Vote for this website for President—there's a way! Ideas that are best for America. The man who secretly orchestrated political change in America. This man has been asked to run for President more than six times. People have asked me to run for President for more than four years. See how bad I am at marketing?

Life-long Republican, now Democrat Presidential candidate, because of Trump. The first #NeverTrump. The Anti-Trump. Principles over party. What America needs. The best political ideas anywhere. How to heal a nation. I'm so bad at this, I'm out for awhile. [Press release] deadline delayed, from incompetence

~Two years ago, I had a marketing expert friend who said she'd help me. But like Paul (Ac. 9:26), post-conversion, she never came through, from fear I wasn't really a Democrat (and she is). Sure could have used the services of Penny Miller, of my Facebook account, but she broke her word, 'for Jesus?' WOW!

I need to Google search marketing for books and candidates. Is it slogans, headlines, sound bites? I'll search "winning political press releases." I'd almost rather change my car's oil, learn Kindle, fix my treadmill's fuse, or repair my back door's door knob. Who knows how long this will take?

Factually, we have the best ideas in the world for solving politics, and fixing the world's (and America's) problems! I can say that in a humble manner, but it's absolutely true, even though preposterous-sounding, or braggadocios. All glory to God. How do you make that a sound bite? Idiot I am! #Worm (Ps. 22:6)

It was even insinuated by a big wig that I've led the nation the past four years. Since many VIP's and D.C. politicians on both sides of the aisle view our posts, it's probably absolutely true, all glory to God, but how do you say or prove that, and make it a sound bite? I need to study famous sound bites!

Brief memorable quotes describing what you're selling. The next generation politician. The future of politics. I'm selling me, a website, and eleven books, all at the same time. It's SO hard and complex! I guess I'm selling me, number one. The writings are me, put on 'paper.' I'll fail at this until I succeed!
BREAK.

There's a phenomenon where you can't be fully aware that others don't know what you're adept at. It's a coined phrase by one of the top world thinkers. I'm incapable of looking at myself as people who aren't me would, especially people who know nothing of my past four years. A very hard task ahead.
#Frustration!

God's man for America is too out there. Everything I try is NOT good/final form. God called me to be President—if my writings confirm that to you, I ask for your vote? If God can use a poor shepherd boy to defeat Goliath, He can use this author's eleven stones/books to defeat today's political Goliath? This is #HARD!

This website is the answer to America's problems. These eleven books are America's answers to (~all) our problems. If God were to speak to America, it would be what He's already been saying to this man and America the past four years, now available as one website and eleven books. Nothing works, for me!

God gave me the answers to the world's problems! Don't believe it? You can read it!: AmericanAnswers.org Is that any good? God's message to the world (AmericanAnswers.org) and man for America, IF you believe he has the best solutions for us. I'm TERRIBLE at this. Left-brained.

Until it comes to me, the press release deadline will be delayed. That usually happens when I'm sleeping, so I can take no credit for it. I can't wait for 3am, someday soon! (my usual wake-up time). Until then, more website marketing to do! (research, first)

I can just see MANY Christians and pastors saying I'm arrogant, because I worked my brain as hard as humanly possible to come up with B.S. glowing sound bites, against my nature and will! (Mt. 11:17) Just because one is 100 percent green at marketing doesn't mean they actually believe hyped sound bites! Amateur! (I Cor. 9:15)

You can also see from my attempted sound bites, how confusing it was when I felt forced to make my one blatantly erroneous statement, near 1982, as that prophecy person makes huge claims, and appears to be quite knowledgeable, and the posts from earlier sound like something he'd claim in the mid-Tribulation!

And since I'm an intense person, if forced to promote myself, I'm always in a hurry, so I don't really care if the sound bites sounded braggadocios, because I just want to get through with marketing crap, ASAP! I have no choice, so it has got to be done, so 'get 'er dun and move on to what you really love!

Biden-Abrams, and I call Schultz IMMEDIATELY! Looking up his contact info from earlier, presently. Looks like FEC form 2 will be amended immediately! God always said by June 19th I'll know what to do. Looks like today is the turning point. Awesome! I love clarity. Abandon Dem ship, soon!?

Time to contact Mark, ASAP. Looking up that cell phone number in my room. Looks like my two-year tenure with the liberals is over(!?). I'm 'outa here, for my part! I'll wait to see if God changes that impulse, but I'm ready, and happy to do so. I'm ONLY loyal to principles, and winning. Changed my Twitter bio! Bye, Joe!

I've got to trust that the Lord knows what He's doing, though I'm protecting my interests, as well, in ways I won't disclose, here! It's NOT June 19th, yet, so too soon to change parties. Hasty decision, so I won't make it until then, if ever.

Our prior-promised press release is indefinitely suspended, until party to run for is determined (one of two options, as the GOP would lose). I may take up to June 19th to take the next step. Waiting on the Lord, and circumstances, wisely discerned. My loyalty is to principles, and ethical people!

Most likely, the press release will be done this weekend, then sent. I'm starting not to trust anyone in this wicked business. I'm tempted to just abandon ship, and let God judge them all! In fact, like Dr. Phil, I'm 'gonna 'wear' what it'd feel like to jettison everything, and assume I missed something somewhere.

That's NOT how God would lead, however. He doesn't lead you to dead-ends! 'Gotta wait on the Lord. Trust in man is futility! Would Mitt go independent, for a season? I may seek to find out. I may announce via Fox, Breitbart or Newsmax, if Dems continue their leftward trend! MUCH to pray about!

Trying time for my faith. The easy cop-out is to say I missed God, somewhere, and quit! If Joe abandoned what God's done here for two years, for the Dems, God said He'd use me to annihilate them. Making plans for how He'd lead that aim, if it came to such. He's in charge. I'm just frustrated!

Any chance I'd ever seek to help Chump, to exact justice if I've been used? Can't see that at this point, but he sure needs help I could provide! I do not get abused by anyone. Strategy weekend!

Heading to the post office, to further moves to clarify where this campaign is headed. If I need to change parties, I need to secure workable plans early enough to do so by June 19th. I know who's been supportive of our ideas from the beginning, and recently. Whichever wants to win!

Will contact Mitt, as well, so three options as potential. He's the least likely, but my favorite. He and I have too much in common to draw big numbers. If Dems decide they no longer need my services, I will NOT bow out, but aim to ruin their win chances! God told me to, if that occurred. I'll be obedient.

Did anyone notice the change to my Twitter bio, or list of pinned tweets? Party affiliation is dependent on the next three month's events. I am loyal to principles only! No change in status, but ready and willing, if need be, as God-led. No options off the table. Politics is an EVIL business; adjust accordingly.

I know how evil/sin-full politics is! It doesn't matter to me if Dems have zero to do with a media blackout. My two independent heroes get phoned immediately. You can call it a threat, but I fight fire with fire (Ex.: justice). I've given the media so many stories! You abandon me, God will destroy you, and any wins.

&NO, U cant just sell books. Never been an option 4 U, &U know it! Books change nothing w/out actions based thereon. NE pol whod try 2 steal Ur ideas cant even remember enough of em 2 look credible, as U have so much proof where they stole it from. Ill help U destroy em, thoroughly (12/22/18)

[Personally, OK w/just selling books]. Y do U think mudslides & the Cali fire 'U' were typing about AS IT STARTED hit where it did, 'young man?' Direct hit. U think that a mere coincidence? Think again! Probably global warming? HILARIOUS! Keep your options OPEN! (1/14/18)

As of now, STOP advising Dems. U cant trust NE1 N this biz! Cease Nething but posting good ideas, 4 their quantity cant B matched or competed w/. When U file, B ready 2 refile an amended form 2, depending on the circumstances-even considering a GOP run! All options OPEN, but run! (11/22/18)

That's NOT a threat, but a promise to change parties again, if I get screwed over in missing the June debates. Difference is I'm NOT trying to get you to do anything different! Dem leadership has been awesome and faithful. If people behind my back seek the media to shun me, or never cover me at all, I'm changing!

Oddly, those past three tweets can't be found on Twitter, though I never deleted them there! (so I re-posted them). I'm ready to see how God judges wickedness! I'm staying loyal by the skin of my teeth. Any move where I sense a betrayal, and all bets are off, forever! Promise, not threat. I do what I say.

My Taos contact said 'would you let DJT win, if you were screwed over, or would you work to defeat Dems?' I'll do whatever God leads me to, as He didn't call me to drop out or go nowhere, and anything that stands in His way, including me, I'm all for Him destroying.

Was my mom trying to comfort me just before a difficult time? I have zero evidence Dems are abandoning this cause, but their left shift has made other options very reasonable. To defeat Socialism, I'd even help Chump win—if something were in it for me, as well.

If Trump wanted a new VP, I'll use my ideas to make him win, and control his every move to make more reasonable and moral decisions. Offer! @POTUS Unblocking him now, so I can see any replies (though unexpected). NOTHING off the table! I trust NO ONE anymore! @RealDonaldTrump

I just unblocked both of his accounts. This is NOT being disloyal. I've got to know my party when I announce, so delay is in order, though I can change it later, either way. I'm not 'gonna be used for my ideas, and be left holding an empty bag. I'll get needed justice. Last weekend was my last abuse!

Now I've exhausted all my Plan-B's, as to establishing them as viable. I'm very good at immediate response to very slight shift indicators! Abrams was a game changer for me, as I want Joe, but if he wants a battle, a battle he will have on his hands. No proof he does, but time will tell.

Hey Jack (who watches often): Please tell your 'WH' buddy I'm dead serious that I would help him win again, using my many ideas, if a VP slot were made available. I can't stand the man, but he can be whipped into shape by our Lord, through myself. One hundred percent bona fide offer, and I return to the GOP!

You go there every three months, and he has you by the g_nads. You're a slave to a man (I Cor. 7:23). Don't you want out of that whipping-boy status? If your bunch won't get him straightened out, I, by our Lord, will, for the good of our nation. He's stubborn, and dumb as a mule, but 'we' can break through, I believe.

I'm positive in the sovereignty of God, God will relent of His stuporing that man, like the Pharaoh's of old—let My people go. If not, defrock him, and I'll show you how God wants this nation run. It's not me, but Gods ideas and power (Zech. 4:6). As his VP, he'll get his act in order! I'll accept no less.

I MUCH prefer a different outcome, and for now I'm sticking with my two+ year plans, but if the media refuses an announcement, or Dems try to stop my campaign, I'll work with The Chump to send them packing, and to the graveyard. I'm only loyal to principles I'll make Chump do. He's putty to God! (Isa. 45:9)

I prefer to destroy his re-election, but if I get used or screwed by Dem leadership or operatives, I'll happily help Chump/tRump to repay that injustice! It's not up to him or me, but them. Just tell him I'm 100 percent open and serious, as I won't be played before it's too late! Give him my phone number!

I just unblocked @JaredKushner: Your family's reign has been a miserable experience for us all, your nuclear family included. I LOVE your wife, and know I can get your pa-in-law re-elected, if he's open to my ideas as VP. If not, meet me on the battle field, to slay Goliath. My phone number is with 'Ounce.'

If God called me to be 'P' [President], WHO am I to not do everything in my power to fulfill His will/wishes? It's NOT arrogance, but obedience. By His power alone I'll crush anyone in His way, with His backing! I've watched Him destroy three people and two lives [i.e., quality of], and that's just people I literally knew. Fear Him—not me!

My website will remain Democrat, likely until June 19th, but if any of my four offers from today get snapped up, that could change immediately. Winning is the only option! I don't care who loses to God's will for my life! HE is my ambition, and He destroys enemies. Feel FREE to doubt that! You will see.

This is I Cor. 10-13 outrageous writing, today! But when challenged, God moves one into a different mindset, to defend His causes, as He did Paul. Just when I was finalizing a press release, the ___ hit the fan. No wonder I couldn't come up with the right words all day! #Sovereignty Grateful!

If CHUMP would be open to preserving his horrifically tarnished legacy, I'll consult him as VP. NOT under any other scenarios! His destruction is my aim, excepting that case, where he may be rehabilitatable enough to win, with MUCH help, as I've never hated my original party—just him!

I was SO wanting to defeat him as a Dem. But today's actions make that a 50/50 call. I never changed! I never do! But I do adjust to bad or harmful circumstances to myself. I'll just as quickly set my sites on defeating the Dems, as Chump, if I'm used or wronged. My backbone was strengthened this week!

I stated after last Saturday that that would be the very last abuse I accept lying down. I ALWAYS mean what I say, or I don't speak. If Joe wants to ignore this force, and go it alone, more power to him. I trust my Power more than him or his. I'll join with Chump, and send him packing, if need be! Promise.

Any viewers can only imagine I'm like Paul, caught up to the third Heaven, having my fingers type words I can analyze later, for they are far too high for my mere mortal mind! I just know God's p_ssed with today's changed circumstances, and if I drop out, I fear judgment would ensue! NOT to me, but others.

I personally don't care what happens! If the Rapture occurred, you'd be screwed, but Christians would be fine, just like my mom's presence reassured me she's fine; I can't wait to see her. Screw with God's (not my) plans, and see what happens! I know many of you doubt His existence. You'll doubt no more after that.

Please call it a threat. Just wait and watch and see! I personally HOPE you abandon me, as I'm ready for the Rapture! It's been suffering enough, down here. Push Beto or wacky Warren or Bernie the Bear, and see what God does with an Ocasio Socialism. I'll be raptured. One-world government would ensue. Go ahead!

But I warn you... READ what you're freely choosing! (Rev. 6-18) Seals, trumpets and bowls. These are NOT wet animals, musical instruments and eating utensils! They may sound innocent enough, but human life will be destroyed in the 7-year Tribulation. READ my two books on the subject! Maybe you want that.

I don't personally care! My conscience is clear I warned you, plenty of times, to be saved. I couldn't have done more to reach as many of you as humanly possible. I've said eternal flames were your destiny. You can doubt it all the way to experiencing it! Most of you will. STUPID decision! Read and do John 3:16.

And I see the Dumb One is trying to further favor Israel today. Arabs are 'gonna rightly destroy his policies, with violence, one day soon, necessitating the AntiChrist's rise to settle that battle. You're all quite stupid if you let these things happen within human vs. divine control! Better to obey God.

I 100 percent can't wait for all this to occur! So long as I'm on this earth, I'll watch to see how it plays out. Once we believers are gone, you'll still have access to books on prophecy, to understand what's happening, but we Christians won't be here to help or warn. New ones will rise (i.e., Tribulation saints).

You're safest with myself leading you into these troubling future waters, but if you reject God's David, expect the Lord to repay you. I have to do what He tells me to do. This isn't ego, or about me, but you and our world's future. You ignorantly have zero idea how close we are to prophecy starting! I and others do.

Let me please remind newbies here... a man will arise to settle the Israel conflict. That presumes it gets bad enough for an intervention to be necessary! It's not that horrible, today. Once he is revealed, Christians exit this earth (just before), and all Hell cuts loose on our earth. If you're here, 'good luck!' You have ONE option to avoid that fate, and Hell thereafter. You need to pray today to receive Jesus, for the forgiveness of all your sins. IF you don't, KNOW you are going to an eternal Hell, and it is as you imagine, from the rumors and reputation—flames, pain, darkness, separation, judgment, not let-up.

LET the Devil tell you these are scare tactics! Be his dupe! You'll regret that decision all eternity! I won't be able to help you, then, for you will be on the far side of a great gulf (Lk. 16:26). Now I'm NOT in that seeing ahead state, and I return to my decision what to do? Just wait on the Lord! Trust no one.

IF I went back to proverbial fishing, as Peter did, the world would be at stake, unaware (except for the few who watch here, compared to the world population). I couldn't live with that, and God won't let me. I'd LOVE to have a salaried job, and just chase money, as so many do! They have it easy!

I have zero leading on where God's taking my campaign, but I'll remain loyal to the Dems, because loyalty is what I do. But I'll be no one's doormat. The second I discern any shift to my demise with them, they'd become my political targets! I don't expect that, but people are evil, especially politicians! I'm done here.

That was the weirdest experience of writing things I'm not even 100 percent sure I yet understand. I always have a great grasp what the Lord's having me write, and what it means. This time, it's mainly the fingers doing the walking, and the brain on cruise control NOT grasping content well. #Odd

I'll be used any way the Lord wants! If He wanted me to just sell books, that would be fine—He never has! I won't sell energy forever. I'd just return to Consulting. My 11 years writing doesn't make me think that will happen. God has led this earth, more than any other single source, via what He had me write the past four years!

If you wanted to know what He was doing or up to, this would have been front row Heaven Grand Central Station! I'm even happy if that ceases! Much pressure with that, which status I never sought. Many VIP's could testify, though egos get in the way, when you're rich! I just tell the truth.

Nothing more to say, but I hate wasting 98 percent of a tweet box! Bye. Lord (personal preference), can't you PLEASE just start the Rapture soon, and end this charade of man ignoring You for so long? I know You'll do as you please, but I offer this mere prayer, hoping you'll answer it, soon! —JM

Bring on the Rapture, dumb old man! You have NO IDEA what I'm talking about. Maybe Jack will fill you in?: Report: After 52 years it is time for the United States to fully recognize Israel's Sovereignty over the Golan Heights, which is of critical strategic and security importance to the State of Israel and Regional Stability!

.@POTUS @realDonaldTrump PLEASE do everything you can to secure the WASP vote by ticking off the Arabs and favoring the Jews! You will be personally responsible for starting the Tribulation, humanly speaking, but you've never let anything get in your way. Why start now?

It's good to know CHUMP isn't Twitter-blocked anymore, so he doesn't have to have Melania watch this "book writer" through Trojan accounts anymore, or from conversation with Jack! CHUMP is desperate for the WASP vote, as they should vote for me, if they obey God. Many of them don't! Carnality reigns!

BTW, you want to know why CHUMP used the sh*thole reference concerning African nations? I inadvertently retweeted a guy who had a wise post, whose handle was sh*thole something. I've never heard that word before, and never saw it until afterwards! I'd take it as "th"ole, anyway—not in an evil way.

And do you want to know why CHUMP wants to overturn the HIGH national SCOTUS standard for public figures to sue for libel? He HATES all we write about him. His wife said three groups make her life as FLOTUS miserable. Our warning tweet has for YEARS said "book writer," NOT author! Be best with grammar!

Our family's pastor must be in the toughest of spots, as his sermons can be watched live by The Chump, so when he praises us, Chump gets jealous. He has insinuated a need for me to run [for President] six times since 2015! He'll HAVE to deny it, with Chump as dictator, but lie detectors don't lie, Jack!

I can't believe the stress one must be under to try to keep a conscience working, being the slave to Chump! I warned you never to go down that path, Jack! Your little 'baby Christian' mantra sure backfired. Wise people could have seen that miles away! No insult, but you and Jeffress were blinded by the power lure.

You want to know why Schultz is considering running? I mailed him a four-paged summary of my ideas and writings links in Nov (9th) of last year, seeking donations. If he runs, and steals my ideas, I'll sue him, and expose this to the media. Even Mark Cuban mocks his not having details. I do have them!

Want to know why Oprah bailed? God 'told' me He let a fire start which led to a mud slide that ended in her backyard. The fire started as I wrote here regarding solutions to Cali fires, around 2am that day. I use the experience as an evangelism illustration, as the next retweet shows God's love:

Man pulls over near La Conchita to save wild rabbit's life amid intense flames from the #ThomasFire <http://abc7.la/2B7K6hZ>

Want to know why Mark Cuban has twice threatened to run? He saw our tweets for over a year! They gave him confidence common sense solutions exist! He's even quoted saying it would "make sense" to run if he found them. My books are now findable! When I posted I'd run June 19th, he said July!

He's been VERY respectable and supportive. He delayed that consideration a year and a half, as we Texans have a code of honor! Want to also know why he once said "I could beat Trump?" I had posted that 5-6 times as my own testimony! He gave voice to my publicly unknown words! Thank, Mark!

You want to know why Kanye considered a run for President? Here, I had mockingly joked that if popularity is all one needs to win the White House, the Kardashians should be President! I keep all but 211 of my 122K tweets, and I can time-stamp the date when that was posted, if you want me to. I never lie.

You ‘wanna know why Ted Cruz jumped the gun and abandoned an exploratory committee for his failed 2016 run? He was scared to death I was running, and would soak up the WASP Christian vote! I had been posting sound political doctrine since 2014, and Chump’s first evangelical spokesman to the media watched this account like a hawk to ensure I wouldn’t break a contract to never again mention his church, as I had posted TRUTHFUL things here before, he didn’t like, because they were things that shouldn’t be being omitted in God’s church, whatever they were—I don’t recall such "nonsense" details.

Speaking of nonsense, he preached a sermon 1.5 weeks before saying he would "champion" Chump, where he called Chump’s campaign "nonsense," because I had just posted a speech on Facebook ~two weeks prior, using that word. He OFTEN uses my materials, and communicates by innuendo! Done it for four+ YEARS!

‘Wanna know who @MittRomney was referencing when he said the following? ME! I had my 23 year old picture on my Twitter bio until last month, as I’m uglier now, and hate looking in the mirror, by comparison. Here’s the GREAT one’s quote, as even he saw my tweets in 2014-2015! He should be President!: “One of our next generation of Republican leaders, one who may not be as well-known as I am today, one who has not yet taken their message across the country, one who is just getting started, may well emerge as being better able to defeat the Democrat nominee.” (Jan. 2015)

Here’s an EXACT email message the great Barack Obama’s office sent to me about 1.2 years ago, a copy I have framed by my bed: “Your passion for effecting change is deeply inspiring, and as you continue looking for ways to spur progress across the country we both love, know MicHelle and I will be standing alongside you every step of the way.” –President Barack Obama email (May, 2018)

You would NEVER know these things, because I’m a complete idiot in knowing how to get my messages seen by average Joes! That’s a thorn in my side! I’m a techo and marketing fool!

You ‘wanna know why Evan McMullan ran? Because I wouldn’t, and we’re GOP policy wonks (before I changed parties, the day CHUMP won). You ‘wanna know why David French was being considered? Because he’s a writer, like me. The GOP wanted me to run, even after Chump was gaining steam.

My own church had an invitation for any people who feel God is leading them into politics. God told me ‘NO,’ on going forward, and it shocked the staff, and probably me. Little did I know they had started the Christian Cabal I inspired for intelligence and morality, and ended up using it to elect CHUMP! Moral flip-flop of the ages!

There were 16 better candidates by those two standards! I’ve been a GOP since birth. I went to McKinney TX the day Hillary lost to make Dems my official party, I hated his candidacy so much! LOOK at the date of when I wrote this: <https://bit.ly/2fIESxj> EARLY #NeverTrump, and still am!

Let me see if there’s anything else you, the public, will NEVER know if I don’t tell you, because I can’t afford to advertise these things on TV–yet (i.e., until billionaire backers I’m hoping God raises up, and it seems three already have): The person whose only two pastors the past 30 years Trump first targeted for the same Cabal (mentioned at The Will You Live Forever? button, at this website).

The reason for Elizabeth Warren's dead air minute to go grab a beer, in her homespun video. The reason Elizabeth Warren called for all Democrat candidates to refuse billionaire money. The reason George Pataki started a 'We The People' PAC, from my regular use of such phrase in my tweets, after which he blocked me for not running (though I always said 2020 vs. 2016).

ASK Dem leadership if they know of me (Pelosi, Schumer), and some Dem candidates (including Kamala Harris, and Beto, who got his unity idea and other advice from my writings).

Trump labeled me a "house husband," and I've never spent one dime on advertising, because I've written from home eleven years. My stolen ideas are significantly the reason Trump won, documented in our book (close the border, defeat ISIS, some tax relief—not favoring the rich, though, speak to a third grade level (not like a third grader), entertain and give the media the ratings their business model relies on, outsourcing harmed U.S. workers, USA #1 (vs. MAGA), all via my home pastor, who watched our tweets like a hawk to see if I'd breach a contract never to mention it online again.

Ask the NBC Today Show executives if they know of my Twitter site, as it prompted multiple news articles, as with some in the NYT and CBS broadcasts, and possibly ABC. ASK Oprah, Rosie O'Donnell, Rob Reiner if they know of my posts here!

VIP accounts that dropped by (not solely via algorithms) is in our website's free book. I pre-wrote or influenced many of the major political events of the past four years (documented at our website). My own pastor said I led this country the past four years (but with threats from Trump, you'd have to pull out a lie detector for that to ever be publicly admitted to).

I successfully/effectively advised both political parties the past four years (documented in AmericanAnswers.org's free book). NOW I've told my truth; I couldn't fit into a one-paged press release. God knows, and lie detectors can show it.

People were starting to use me for my brain, for free. That will NOT happen. I now have my press release, and I'll get this message exposed to the world, with or without funders or the media, or any disloyal political party, if needed!

There's NOT one lie I've told. Put me on any credible lie detector! I'm coming for all my opponents and spiritual enemies in the spiritual realm. I'll let God destroy you, but He sometimes requires tools to be used. Fear Him, not me, but I'm angry and I'm not 'gonna take this obscurity anymore!

I'll repeat every one of these twelve factual assertions on any media outlet I can find! I will NOT be silenced by any complicit media or party who thinks they can use my materials and leave me out in the cold, going nearly broke to get this info to the world! God won't let that happen, either. May He judge you all if that was your intention! I have NO loyalty but to Him.

If you think you'll use me and I'm too stupid to notice, the Tribulation itself will destroy your soul! I'm saying this by the word of the Lord, and I have a pretty good track record of hearing what I'm to write! Typo master, though!

My campaign will NOT stop, though it may be forced to take different turns before June 19th. No one helps! I'll remember your timidity sin! God is with me, so I guess that's all you need. I'd love to quit, as it's stressful writing Gods mandates for world events! You'll never know the pressures! NOT fun! Bye. I wonder if my mom knew this tough day was coming, yesterday? Ironic timing, if not.

I have 2.3 college-lined papers, double-sided, of every sermon or news event stemming from what we type here, the past four years, usually with dates, and always with the TV station it aired on, usually nationally. I'm NOT a no-name running for President! God and VIP's know me WELL! You don't!

And since viewership is pretty low, this message will be on our website by Sunday, then that website will be promoted like sliced bread! I sure 'wanna quit, however. God probably won't let me, to show you how seriously God takes this calling, I can quit, in my heart, but you'll still see the campaign continue! He always restores my soul. I quit, Lord! (Yeah, right!). I'm actually thankful He never lets me go, even when I 'wanna be Jonah!

I plan to start selling Monday. I'm 'gonna put my foot down for my own family's needs! He can work around my work schedule, as I have debts and bills to pay. I'm tired of being a slave of my wonderful Master. We need money, Lord! Can't you see the bank account? Please have mercy! I 'wanna quit and work!!!

This is the tough life. I almost quit it on Tuesday. After today, I'm not sure there's any joy in it. I wouldn't have signed up for this torture had I known it would be so difficult. I beg You, find another servant, Lord! He/she can have my books to carry on Your mission. I want relief, soon. PLEASE, PLEASE, PLEASE!

I don't care what happens in politics or prophecy! I just want a decent life! Call that selfish—I'll agree. I don't care. Nineteen full-time writing years is enough. I quit on You, until You resurrect my joy! This has been a horrible week. What did I do wrong? This isn't what I agreed to do—torture!

Why can't You just reveal the AntiChrist so I can go home to see my momma again? Please, mom, intervene! It's so painful writing all this and making not one dime. Just start prophecy, or let someone else be Your spokesman! I resign!

And, YES, I fully expect a proverbial whale to swallow me, and NO, I'm not 'gonna exegete yet another Old Testament book summary, because I already know how it turns out... God always restores me when my heart fails me, and the work continues, just like Jonah.

And gentleman's bet, the STUPID Christian Cabal will find CHUMP's Golan Heights offer, catering and kissing up to them for 2020 votes, a good deal, never realizing they're complicit in setting up the AntiChrist's arrival, from stupid and immoral favoring of Israel, from idiocy and power idolatry sin.

I PRAY the Arabs launch a horrendous, all-out attack on their oppressors Trump is empowering, because it's unjust. I don't mean violence, but if that occurs, the AntiChrist will be revealed, wherever he lives. I'm just anxious for the Rapture to hit/come. I've warned all I plan to; hands are clean.

Russia, China and Iran should arm them to the teeth/hilt! Make it a fair fight. Chump, the Beast, is causing all these prophecy dominoes to be set in motion, and the evangelical council has millions of people's blood on their hands, when God slays people in 21 tribulation judgments! FOOLS!

Bring it on, Lord, against Your enemies! Maranatha. Even so, come Lord Jesus! The Arabs will be appeased, to settle a 7-year peace negotiation, secretly expected to be only half that time. I believe they'll know that plan, but the Jews will not. Then the Jews are the Beast's targets, the second half.

YES, I'll goad him. He's too stupid to have any idea what's going on in the spiritual world he pretends (to no one's belief) to be a baby party of! Do your damn job and get it over with, you snarly fool!

You're all bluster and hyped words concerning the Golan Heights, @POTUS @RealDonaldtRump

BTW, I type lying "reclined at table" (Mt 26:20), in a dark lit room with BIG hands and hunting and pecking at these keys. There's NO WAY my Twitter grammar will ever be better. I hear these words so fast I'm happy to be able to record them accurately! Have you ever had an experience like that? NO! (Rev. 1:10)

The Devil would call this "racing thoughts," and delusions of grandeur mental illness! I know his tricks! (II Cor. 2:11) Not this time, satan! Not 'gonna excuse away eleven books, or the tweets that have guided life events for four years. Go back to your abyss, you wretched Beast! Burn in Hell, forever! Amen!

And take your boy Chump with you! (Rev. 19:20) Bobby the Jeffress Giraffe said Obama was ushering in the AntiChrist. For once, he spoke the truth! DUMBEST FOOL to ever occupy the White House! It's embarrassing he's still in power, making America a laughing stock! WORST President-ever! BTW, you'll NOTICE I'm still faith-fully serving God, writing what He's saying! My failed heart gets rejuvenated, by God, every time; HE alone is faithful!

I'm too tired to look it up, but I taunted the AntiChrist to favor Israel even more, for 2020 votes, ~six months ago. The DUMMY took the bait. Air head who won't reveal his GPA!

I wonder why my mom was allowed to "visit" yesterday! I'm wasting my time, with such low viewership today. People have given up on this site, because they're impatient, and desperate for a change of leadership. You get what you deserve, sinning by impatience!

There's an amazing bias, technical or human, or because I have too many tweets, where I can no longer retweet my own tweets, as you can't find them. The following was posted earlier (though now I can't date when):

Ive said B4, I believe Antichrist secretly coordinates Israels Arab nation rivals 2 FEIGN unity 2 agreeing 2 a 7-year peace deal, knowing all along Hell break that 1/2 way thru. Maybe having them as allies is how he usurps
3 EU heads of state, stealthily-espec if they have nukes?

I'm literally through. I don't enjoy this anymore. I want to see things start happening in reality! That feature being removed to me will prevent me proving prior tweets and dates posted. I'm 'gonna test if it's an absolute ban, in the next few tries...

I'm 'gonna continue to egg on the idiot (Chump)! As long as he sees me soliciting Christian votes, he'll lose his mind, and his even more evil inner self will be exposed. I will start sales Monday, so this baiting will only last through the weekend, maximum. Press release is on hold, until whenever.

I've done my job. I exposed him for what he is. It's now time to get back to work, though my campaign also continues; just not certain which party it will be with, or independent, with a "partner."

Did anyone notice the day after I volunteered to speak on Glenn Beck's show, to debate any issue of substance, Chump got his boy toy Hannity to invite that old friend on the show to say the [American] world will end if Chump's not re-elected? I could use this power to force him to do good, but then he'd succeed.

If you only knew how news reports follow our tweets; I saw three examples the past two days, but I'm not 'gonna reveal them or the network, because I need to get on one, and if they're perceived as biased, it hurts their credibility, and Chump is on to this tie, as with my home church he can listen into, live.

The ONLY positive of this difficult experience is I just weighed myself, and I'm down ten pounds since last Saturday evening, when it started. The scale is so flaky, it ranged between 13 and 9 pounds down, depending on how I lean, forward or backwards. I just wish it was consistently accurate!

I forgot to explain some claims. Wicked Warren (policy-wise only) knows I have contacts with billionaires, as she saw me tweet about writing them, and some have showed positive interest. I also said I hate beer's taste, so she accentuates that she's one of the guys, grabbing a beer, in a hokey video!

News interjection: The rich getting richer, especially easier than anyone else, is a sin; why can't companies like Amazon be broken up as a monopoly? Either they sign and implement the Giving Pledge, like Gates and Buffett vs. Bezos, or they get taxed more!

Continuing

I see, meaning it's reasonable to me, China, Russia and maybe Iran (Arab rivalries there) funding Arabs, to bulk up against Israel. I'm tempted to stop tweeting, as the Christian Cabal uses me as leverage to get things/concessions from Chump. Their judgment is coming and certain, for so doing!

He's keeping Socialism at bay, which is a GOOD thing!: Howard Schultz is holding the Democratic Party hostage <https://bit.ly/2TsBiYK>

I can't wait for @HowardSchultz to get my letter, sent today (the third one, to-date)! Three others sent to others, today.

Update #4: Foreign Policy Faux Pas

This ISN'T hard to grasp: I believe in American exceptionalism, and God bless America, and America as the main world's policeman, but we are NOT perfect, and there NEEDS to be a counter-balancing force when we meddle evilly in other nations' business, or force our will on situations in evil ways, vs. for good! The U.N., or BRIC, or some other legal entity.

For example, CHUMP's Israel policy is 100 percent dictated NOT by U.S. national interest, but his re-election interests, and ego in wanting to stay in power, even though he's doing a TERRIBLE job! That must end! I HOPE China and Russia end it soon! The GOP certainly won't!

Chump has gutted all reasonable RINO's, that's why he's slandering McCain in the grave! He's signaling no rebellion or mutiny for reasonable Republicanism! He strikes fear in any who 'buck' him, and I say to him another word that rhymes with that action! The GOP has COWERED to him as cowards, for power idolatry!

Everyone has blind Kool-Aid drinkingly bought into we 'gotta save the party by saving the commander-in-cheat! My cushy, undeserved overpaid career depends on propping up worse than a puppet—a buffoon orange clown! America be damned; we have to hold onto power, because the crazy liberals will seize our country for Socialism if we don't bow to the man child emperor!

It IS true that every Democrat, Biden included, is coddling the far left, FOOLishly and UNwisely! I protest and oppose every such far left effort!

I posted an article last evening that said Schultz is protecting himself from serious sacrifice. WHY do the ultra-rich have to fund your ineptness at earning a living? It is 100 percent evil that mainly the rich get richer, and have to do little-to-nothing to earn millions an hour! Tax them much more! But don't offer freebies!

At this moment, I have ZERO interest in either political party, as they're BOTH fools, of the damn fool type. There OUGHT to be a cap on earnings of billionaires, and some millionaires, over which taxes skyrocket! Society NEEDS the money, and most billionaires remain selfish hoarders with their excess! Gates and Buffett are exceptions.

It's awesome someone can earn whatever they're capable of, but when it's hoarded, it's immoral, and should be illegal that someone gets all the advantages off the backs of the working poor, who are paid peanuts by outsourcing good jobs and importing good talent, and hanging AMERICANS out to dry, leaving them holding the bag!

I believe I was one of, if not the first to warn of over-immigration and over-outsourcing! Now that I have too many tweets, I can't date my old posts, but it was 2012-2014 when I observed and mentioned that problem Chump picked up on. And while I'm at it, people will ask for proof he stole my ideas. Here's the nasty, sinful trick they use:

"Plausible deniability." Everyone who has known of my tweets can say (LIE) they never saw them, because how can you prove a moron is at my site, the way Twitters set up? They say (LIES) I'm delusional, dreaming/making up these connections, and crow, 'prove it.'

Lying does NOT bother their conscience, because they are Hellbound sinners! A doctor, the other day, LIED he'd keep an eye out for a glasses piece he illegally omitted from attaching to my frames. I threatened lawsuit, so he promised to call me if he ever gets one in. I'm convinced he just wanted me gone, with no business interruption.

I will hassle his business until he gives me what I paid for, and the law requires, or sue him! He asked, 'will you sue over $35,' and I said 'of course--what you're doing is illegal.' He was not native born, in his ancestry, was likely immigrated here in the past 40 or less years, and didn't know U.S. law. He asked ME to tell him what his employee did wrong. I did.

EVERY time I'm in his area of town I'll be by to nag. SIN is the core/root problem of almost every problem our world faces! Lying is a sin. Hating is a sin. America wanting everything in the world made in our image is an ego sin we need to repent of!

There is NO counterbalance when U.S. interests sin, or become egotistically selfish, and if you're honest (many of you are NOT), we've stuck our nose in many a nation's business throughout history!

As an American, I LIKE most of what we've done, but fairness is rarely our concern, but it's always God's, and U.S. foreign policy has engendered MUCH ill-will the world over! You can't trust the 'ugly Americans,' as they'll do anything to keep politicians they don't like out of power, while touting 'democracy!'

They'll do anything they can to get monopoly (or preferential) access to oil, and other natural resources! They demand a MUCH greater percent of the world's goods, compared to their percent of the world's population. They care zero about the negative effects of pollution, as other nations sign the Paris Accords Chump backed out of. It's ALL greed and selfishness, and our culture embraces it full tilt, as a morally good thing. It is NOT!

I'm READY for God to judge America, swiftly and severely! Any billionaire who isn't implementing the Giving Pledge is nearly sinning. Let me tell you how I can say that, on two levels: 1. Morally, God says the rich (NOT just Christians) are to be generous (I Tim. 6:17-19). Token charity gifts of one percent of your assets, on average, is NOT generous.

The more you have, over what you need, your percent should escalate, by philanthropy or taxation! I don't want to punish your success, or tax you into the middle class, but society needs the funds you waste and hoard, and you don't need them, and we don't have an endless supply! The money supply is FINITE, except when we borrow or print unbacked paper currency (excepting real market-driven ups and downs of money supply expansion and contraction, or replacing old bills). You are the problem, when you're the only ones in society who can afford to help pay for LEGITIMATE government functions! But CHUMP over-blessed and favored you with a tax cut, to make up for Obama burdening you with healthcare subsidizing.

That article says Schultz wants to avoid losses, and protect his own assets. NO, DUH! Who in their right mind wouldn't? Democrat rich people are at least willing to be taxed more than GOP rich people! But DON'T abuse the privilege!

You are NOT owed any handout from billionaires! QUIT HAVING BABIES if you can't afford them, and your family DNA is such that you're incompetent at living off what your poor skills can muster! Government can and should increase the minimum wage, ensure fair trade dealings between unions and management, and tax the rich more, but voting for sinful politicians who promise other people's money for you to get freebies will END America as we know it, just as Glenn Beck warned!

IF the poor were guaranteed some minimum income, working or not, the rich would pay for most of it—certainly not the recipients of entitlements! And they, rightly, will NOT tolerate that! What are their options? Six-fold: Shut down U.S. operations, ship out more jobs, close down shop, automate every job (which screws you, and destroys the U.S. economy), or they can move away themselves, and take their tax dollars with them, in which case America becomes a banana Republic.

And, they can immigrate even more foreigners to make U.S. workers who stay here have NO work to perform. IDIOT economic policies touted by sinful politicians push for giveaways! EVERY Democrat I've heard any press on is touting just that. NO WONDER Chump stands such a great chance at re-election!

I've been a Democrat for 2.5 years of my life, recently, ONLY because you have to be in a party to win, and God told me to run for president, and I don't plan to lose, as He has told me hundreds of times since, when I ask, do you want me to be President? And the answer has been yes so many times.

I was the FIRST GOP to change parties, the moment I learned Chump won! I was likely the original #NeverTrump, the day he said POW's are losers, and most illegals are criminals and rapists. I used a different term, but adopted #NeverTrump when it caught on. I used #dumpthechump and #dumptrump.

I did NOT sign onto the Dem party for liberalism, but to implement the Pledger concept, Schultz lifted and labels 'centrism' (as have I, but more so 'Pledgers'). Many GOP and Dems are warm to the concept, as it works! Extremes ONLY cancel each other out, over time, or get nothing done, fighting all the time.

As the far left seems to be taking over the Democrat party, just as Chump's far right took over the GOP in 2016, I'm seriously considering changing my FEC form 2 to Independent. I'll even help Chump get re-elected, if I can be VP, as I can whip the moron into shape. God knows he needs it, desperately!

I only regret more people never read my posts! That's why this long rant will be in our free book by Sunday. I'm still running, but I have zero idea which party it will be for! It could be backing Schultz, if I get the VP position. I will be President, by God's grace, because that's His will for my life. It's not my ambition, or arrogance.

I so don't care about politics, I'm protesting God calling me into it, this weekend, by not completing my press release to announce my candidacy. It's an indefinite decision, as I start work Monday, and could care less if I ever announce! The two parties are whacked, to use the dummy's language.

I actually hope and pray God directly intervenes, and destroys the entire system by starting Bible prophecy, soon! CHUMP knocked over yet another domino in that process, yesterday, because he's the most unfit, sinful and stupid president America has ever had. I simply tell the TRUTH, and it angers people!

So since I could elucidate much more on foreign policy, prophecy, political dysfunction, I simply don't give a damn about those foolish endeavors anymore, and I'm 'gonna edit this message and be done with it for awhile! I don't care which party I run for anymore! I'm not even 'gonna focus on running.

I'm 'gonna earn for my family, and wait on the Lord. No one ever lifts one finger to help me in this cause, and many liars will say it's all delusional, anyway, so I'm 'gonna let you stew in your own dysfunctional juices, pray prophecy occurs, and NOT help you out of the jams your own selfishness and stupidity got you into!

America must repent. It's our only hope and choice. Let me define that, in context of my claiming it. If we as a people cease to see that our politics are broken, and we're warring tribes who are worshipping power, greed and selfishness, we are DOOMED as a nation! In one form or fashion, God will judge us, soon!

We deserve it, and I pray for it. I have the solution to the problem, I can get most all people agreeable to be peaceful together, as one nation under God, but I don't care about that at this moment, because I'm so ashamed of my fellow Americans who are so sinfully selfish, and have propped up such a foolish puppet!

May God judge us today. I'm 'outa here to go edit this final message, and all I can now do is wish you good 'luck,' because you're 'gonna need it! I'm working, and my campaign is on pause for an indeterminable period. God will have to resurrect it, as I'm too put out with both sides' extremists to care! Bye.

As VP, I'll help Mark Cuban, Howard Schultz, Mitt Romney or even The Donald to fix this divided nation, and implement my Pledger ideas and common sense solutions. My interest in the top job is on hold, as our country's attitude and politicians actions SUCK right now, and I want NO part of it.

Update #5: Political Policy

There are striations/variations, but generally, here are the three positions on every major policy (L, C and M as liberal, conservative and moderate): Taxes-L-HIGH, M-Medium, C-Low; Green energy-L-For, M-Some, C-Oil!; Freebies-L-Yes; M-Few, C-None; National defense-L-Dove, M-Strong, C-Hawk; Law and order-L-Criminal's rights, M-both/and, C-Only pro cop; Abortion-L-Pro, M-Legal but evil, C-Against; Debt-L-Increase it, M-No larger, C-Lessen it; Borders-L-OPEN, M-Only who economy needs, C-No more immigrants; Big money in politics-L-against; M-O.K. with some, C-For it; Profits-L-Evil if big, M-O.K., but too much is abuse, C-No limits.

For every policy matter there are three major positions. The BEST ones are usually in the middle, as our website demonstrates the polar extremes in the button, 'Political Positions' at AmericanAnswers.org. Overlook my being a Democrat candidate. That MAY change June 19th.

Do I still plan a Presidential run? YES. When will I announce? NO idea; waiting on the Lord's guidance and timing. Which party? NO idea; probably Dem, but I'm open to any offers to defeat Socialism and Trump, even as VP. Why did I change attitudes? Biden wanting Abrams! I wanted Joe as VP. I adjust.

How can you blame Joe trying to best position himself, as you haven't announced, have no money, and are a no-name? I don't blame him, but when he said he's the most liberal record of all who are running, he's proud of that; I do NOT share that pride. He needs the far left; I can get WASP's instead.

Aren't you harming your own cause by opening to three other options, or even helping the Beast/Chump? Maybe—I don't care! I'm disgusted with stupid Dem ideas, including Beto, Warren, Bernie and freebies, and I'll do anything to keep them from being President!

I'll never help Chump win, unless I can be his VP, to knock some sense into his empty head. I would never let him push me around, but he'd be pushed to decent behavior and policies, or I'd resign. The Christian Cabal has had ZERO influence on his morals, spirituality or thinking/intelligence, and mainly to stack SCOTUS, and favor Israel (which is their stupidest achievement)! Here's the analogy...

An NBA referee meets and shakes hands with the Laker players in their locker room, dons their Jersey, then tells the N.Y. Nets he's ready to officiate their match. No one would find him objective.

That's where the U.S. is in brokering peace in the Middle East, due to "the stupid one!" That RUINED U.S. leadership, to coddle white Christian votes for 2020! EVERY vibe from his PUNY brain is ego and selfishness—BOTH sins before God, though the Christian Cabal says he's a 'baby Christian,' who used to be a Christian (not a baby one, then a baby—reverse evolving), then Cyrus, now Caesar. They are as stupid, and looking as stupid as he, morally and intellectually.

God NOWHERE teaches favoritism or injustice! Nations who are good to Israel will be blessed, but ONLY when Israel obeys their Messiah's values! Israel does many sinful things. No Christian should reward that, but the so-called Christian voters rewarded all of this sin: <https://bit.ly/2jR6Nd8> Sin-to-win! Hypocrisy; abandoning the faith, double standard, heresy, fools, etc. Whatever name you 'wanna call it, WASP's denied their God in 2016—PERIOD! BTW, now Twitter is allowing me to dig up old posts. I'll never understand fickle technology. Let me retweet as promised...

Don't have time or patience to find exact tweet, but favoring Israel over non-terrorist Muslims and Arabs is a SIN, and Trump is literally bringing on Bible prophecy by many dumb things he does, because he's a proverbial idiot about the Bible dusty on his bedside table, especially regarding prophecy! I used to be, too.

Who cares if I'll still run as a Dem? I'm exploring other options. If I can't get funders to commit, because I won't announce, because they keep drifting left, I'll go elsewhere. I won't work for Trump, but I'd work ON Trump as VP! That will never happen, His 'Christian ego' won't let it—baby fake Christian!

I don't personally care if I do nothing in politics. I've already shaken it up more than most anyone else. If God cares that I do something, He'll change my attitude. I'm NOT doing it alone any longer, without some human help God would raise up! I've done all I'm talented to do. Without assistance, I'm dead.

So, like Peter, I'm back to fishing (Jn. 21:3, energy sales). For Bible illiterates, God's calls are irrevocable (Rom. 11:29), and Peter was re-visited by Christ to become the first and a great leader of the church, after giving up, once Jesus ascended. You've got to teach common sense to people who never read!

Interpreted, that means I have EVERY expectation I will still be a Democrat presidential candidate when God resurrects my heart from this frustration. I'm leaving that 100 percent up to Him, and after editing this chapter of Christians for Trump, I'm focusing on sales until June 19th, if nothing changes!

I've got to have a campaign manager with experience, funding for the least expensive campaign ever, and media access to announce my campaign. If God won't answer this prayer, I'm returning to consulting June 20th. I'll never be a lifelong salesman. Death would be superior! My prayer has been asked!

I'll even sign a legal contract with backers that I'll publicly announce a campaign if they'll back it with a manager and funds to implement my three-pronged ground game. I can eventually work the wording of a winning press release. I was already close. I'm NOT going out with no guidance or funds.

Literally, I was 'gonna announce, and trust God would bring donations via our website, book publicity and media exposure, as I was 'gonna be available to all media to discuss common sense solutions, but now I'm preparing for work on Monday, indefinitely. If God doesn't answer my prayer, work until 6/19, and if He abandons me entirely, as He promises never to do, I'm 'gonna promote my consulting and R and D skills, freelance, nationally, June 20 forward. I'm NOT mad at Him. I'm tired of people using my brain.

NO WONDER finalizing a press release was SO hard this week! God knew the timing was wrong. Let Joe announce, let radicals rise some; NONE of them can do what God can do through me! Let them flounder without a chance to defeat Chump, as their Socialism will energize people to re-elect him! And if they 'wanna actually win, their funders and leaders know my email. I'm gone fishing!

Update #6: Jonah & Peter

We ALWAYS have Bible deficient viewers, so let's analyze two relevant Bible stories—Jonah and Peter; Jon. 1:1-2 The word of God CAME TO him; he never sought it out. That word was go to a wicked city and call out their sins, as they had reached an intolerable level with God.

But Jonah disobeyed (1:3). So God caused calamity in his life, in the form of/by means of a great fish eating him up (and this isn't a big fish tale, 1:17), after his sin consequences started negatively affecting others around him.

In that calamity, he wised up and prayed, and God delivered him from it (2:1). God's message appears to him a second time—the exact same message; that city's sin was still a problem (3:1-2). This time the Jonas brother obeyed (3:3-4), telling/warning the citizens that judgment was coming. And what was the result/effect? The people repented in sorrow for their sin, because they believed he spake the TRUTH!

(3:5) Jonah PUBLICLY told them they needed to start living holy and not sinful (3:7-9), and just MAYBE God's judgment could be averted/delayed. I'm in tears, internally, because look at v. 10... the people obeyed Jonah's edict/proclamation, and what did God do? Seeing them change their evil deeds, He did not destroy their lands!

This is EXACTLY Americas current state, politically! You are BOTH wrong, you BOTH need to change your behavior and start getting along enough to get things done in D.C.! I've already warned you judgment is coming to America. Don't believe me? Read last night's message!

Unfortunately, Jonah had a sour heart, and got bitter that God answered that prayer, and got suicidal (4:1-3). Selfishness sin! Anger caused depression, and he moped away from the city, waiting to see if it would fall (4:4-5).

In inner tears again, I read God appoints a plant to protect the rebel from cancer-causing sun exposure; merciful, despite his rebellion! (4:6) But that blessing didn't last forever. The covering wilted by worm, and exposure to the elements left Jonah in a rough place of windy judgment (4:7-8).

Again he despairs of his life (i.e., suicidally depressed, 4:8). He even, STUPIDly, blames the plant for dying (4:9); believes he has good reason to do so (i.e., he isn't thinking clearly in his drunken stupor of depression).

God used the plant as an analogy. Jonah was very happy with the plant's protection, but very unhappy with God's protecting a repentant community (4:6, 10-11). The hypocritical double standard Jonah was imposing on the humans, vs. a plant, was an object lesson to him of his morally bad attitude, being upset God didn't judge the people He had told Jonah to warn of judgment!

You warn people because you want them to repent; not because you want them judged! Dumb prophet. Now let's review Peter... Jesus said he'd deny Him three times, when Peter's confidence in his commitment to Jesus was at its prime, and, of course, Christ was right (Mt. 24-26). After Pete's utter failure, and Jesus' death, burial and resurrection, Peter quits his job as disciple, and returns to his old profession.

But Jesus appears to him before ascending, to encourage him, and tells him and John to feed Christ's sheep (Jn. 20-21). He also says go and wait for the Holy Spirit to drop/fall (Ac. 1:1-11). They obeyed (unlike Jonah's first call), and waited in Jerusalem, living prayerful body life (Ac. 1:12-26).

In God's sovereign timing, the Spirit arrived, Peter is revived, and becomes the rock upon which Christ builds His church. All in God's timing and power—NOT man's. Now, go to work. You've had your Bible lesson for the day.

Strangely, the two likes of the day have BOTH mentioned love, or I love you, just like the song I posted concerning my mom's favorite songs: <https://bit.ly/2UP79V2> OMEN, or crazy Old MAN?

Update #7: What's Wrong with Socialism?

What's wrong with Socialism? It ensures everyone's taken care of by government decree. Isn't that a morally good thing? In fact, the first two churches were mega churches with body life, which cared for everyone's needs. WE HAVE WELFARE! It's enough, and in some cases, too much! You NEVER empower laziness—that's evil.

Section 8 housing subsidies, Medicaid, food stamps. WAY more than enough. Get off your duff and get a job and get some work skills, unless you're mentally or physically completely unable! The rich and other tax payers don't owe you more!

You do deserve a fair wage, however—not being paid peanuts! $22 trillion debt. Liberals want to increase it. That's why conservatives say liberals hate America, as they tend/trend toward bankrupting us, so we lose our international power and status, as we can't pay our bills.

Healthcare is WAY too expensive! I NEVER use it, and I now have insurance. It's highway robbery! Every one of the four players is greedy. Yes, I said it. Doctors do a GREAT, humane service, but they demand/require exorbitant pay for their seeming kind deeds. A local report said some of them WANT patients confused or uneducated if every service is in network, because if they screw up, doctors can profit more, by charging out of network prices.

We have corrupt insurance companies who are too stupid as to pay full price for procedures, empowering doctor greed, and patients who care less what things cost if insurance pays the majority of the bill. Businesses farm out more costs to employees, as premium and co-pay contribution percents.

Drug companies charge an arm-and-a-leg, and don't dare step foot in an Emergency Room. I'm pretty sure they have a policy that you get charged just for breathing there! And never take an ambulance, or God forbid, a helicopter to transport you to a hospital. GREED! All of them! How do you change that? Force!

Let's talk about free daycare, college, paid family leave and Green energy clean-up costs. They ALL cost MONEY! Taxpayer MONEY. Voters should be legally disallowed to vote for other people to pay for things! They need skin in the game! Earn enough to pay your bills, or move to a third world country! Laziness is a SIN!

Nothing in life is free! Free for you, but others pay, and they're NOT your family or employer! Be mature adults, and live within your means! Grow up! Quit sucking off Uncle Sam's teet, people over age 18! That's EMBARRASSING!

If you're unwilling to work, we're unwilling to feed you! That's BIBLICAL! (II Th. 3:10) No free lunches--PERIOD. Government helping you make it on what you make. I can teach you how to do that much better than you currently are. But if you're immoral and lazy, you'd rather vote for freebies, and evil politicians will use you to get their cushy jobs, by promising taxpayer money for freebies the GOP will gridlock over.

THEY DON'T CARE--they get their high-paying job off your foolishness to believe their lies, promising the moon, then mooning you, and blaming the evil Republicans for why their campaign promises can't be met. Are you that stupid to not be able to comprehend these matters, as I fully explain them?

DON'T have any kid you can't afford. They are NOT financial assets! Paid time off? Businesses could offer on-premise daycare, or I LOVE the GOP plan for you to borrow against future Social Security payments (which won't be there, anyway, as it's drying up; hence the idea is a SCAM) to pay for your time with a newborn.

PAY YOUR OWN DAMN BILLS! Government doesn't exist to help losers who can't do so, and physically and mentally unable to work people are NOT losers, but able-bodied people who can't budget properly are!

Just said it. Just lost half the Democrat vote. Don't care. We speak the TRUTH! You can be taught to live within your means! I guarantee you you over-spend, buy too much, have too fancy of crap in your delapidated shack, and don't invest, save, prioritize or buy smart, or budget well.

And your job skills are NOT mixed out! You can work a second job, work overtime, cut back expenses, buy smarter and in a co-op, and get better skills so you get a promotion. These are things YOU can do! QUIT looking to lying politicians as your caretaker, you weak ones!

Just said it again. Half the Democrat vote out the window. Don't care. Do the right thing! Work your tosh off, and better yourself.

Yes, executives are over-paid, and that must end. Yes, many rich don't pay their fair share, and that must end. Yes people with more than they'll ever need NEED to sign and implement the Giving Pledge, or be taxed more.

Yes, BIG business over-outsourced good jobs to crush U.S. workers, and yes D.C. allows in too many immigrants who lower your wage, as they're happy to be paid peanuts, because they only get crumbs in their third world country, entering here illegally.

Yes all these evils must end. But you can't wait for that to happen. You have to have seen enough TV to know D.C. does LITTLE! They're NOT 'gonna fix your life! Even lying Democrats are 'gonna be put to the test by people who oppose giving you freebies! Your life doesn't change in all that long time, waiting for adult figures to clean up your childish ways! Grow up, grow a pair, and get out there and be your best (proper English, vs. be best).

I can teach and show you how, but if you're sinfully lazy, you'd rather just vote for freebies. I don't want a vote from any such U.S. traitors! Taxpayers owe you NOTHING! We work for all we have. Work hard. The ones who break laws to get rich need to be in jail, but the rest of us struggle to make ends meet, and we're NOT 'gonna fund your laziness sin! Just lost half Dem votes, again. Oops, I did it again.

<https://bit.ly/2Whg0PJ>

UNIONIZE! You are 100 percent incapable of negotiating your wage, one-on-one, with sophisticated H.R. managers! They're better trained, and full-time experienced. You have few times you've ever done it. UNIONIZE!

I've already written on your solutions, so I'll wrap this up... You need self-esteem, confidence, motivation, hard work/hustle, skills, education, contacts/connections, goals, plans, budgeting skills, job search, interviewing and resume-writing skill, and to dress for success. These skills training exist in our world. You can access them. Just do it. #Nike Bye.

Please call me! I can't give out my personal phone number, but I'll give it to you if you email AAorg2020@gmail.com. I'm offering my services! @MCuban @HowardSchultz @MittRomney Job 1:21, 2:10.

And NO, you can't just sell books. Never been an option for you, and you know it! Books change nothing without actions based thereon. Any politician who'd try to steal your ideas can't even remember enough of them to look credible, as you have so much proof where they stole them from. I'll help you destroy them, thoroughly. (11/22/18)

P.S.: The healthcare industry is a MONOPOLY, so it's legal for government to break up its over-pricing! There's no serious competition, as insurance companies set rates, and doctors won't charge less. Amazon may need to be broken up as such, as well! No one man should own so much with so few taxes! That's unjust.

Update #8: Current State Politics

I'm 'gonna pretend I'm a politician: For Dems, you promise reparations, affirmative action freebies and handouts—anything others will pay for—not those whose votes you suck up for! FREE college, clean air and water, daycare, daycare, healthcare, family leave. Why not houses (like sub-prime), or car (like Oprah), bills paid? #EMBARRASSING sinful politicians!

For GOP's, promise lower taxes, less government, strong law and order and military (as they protect your stuff and life), and less regulations. Tout ending five federal agencies, the estate tax, minimum wage—everything that costs money, and EVERYTHING to bless business and the rich. Sick, sinful politicians! That's a corrupt system, and extremes! Judge us, Lord (i.e., the Tribulation).

These aspirations are polar opposites! They both hurt our debt, by giving back taxes with money we OWE, and handing out handouts with money we DON'T HAVE! Dems treat the rich like they need to be punished. GOP's treat them like heroes. Two extremes of FOOLS! Damn FOOLS. We are FOOLS!

The GOP doesn't give one damn about the poor, publicly. They just want charities to help them, privately. Dems don't care one damn about the fact that the rich earned their excess—they just want to punish them. The "thinking" in U.S. politics DOESN'T SEEM TO EXIST! Knee jerk emotionalism of jerks reigns!

Dems want the poor to be gifted into the middle class by GOP tax dollars. YES, I said GOP tax dollars. Many Dems pay taxes, if they're middle class or rich, but ~50 percent are pay nothing, and they're mainly Dems!

Generalizations aren't untrue just because they're generalizations! Minor exceptions exist. GOP's want the poor further punished! End the estate tax, so society has LESS money to help people with. End the minimum wage, so business can pay them less. NO tax money used for college subsidizing, so whites can buy college degrees and others can't afford the ever escalating costs! Import labor, to compete with the U.S. poor, and turn a blind eye to illegals for 30 years, for cheap labor, to further screw the U.S. poor.

Give tax rebates to the rich, so government has LESS money to use to help anyone. Dream up everyone on Welfare is a welfare queen. Call all poor people lazy. It sears your EVIL conscience! Stereotypes as fake facts! And automate all entry level jobs, so they have less jobs available. Never invest business in their area of town (like grocers), because you can't profit where you can't squeeze blood from a turnip.

Accept EVIL in people, like Mark Levin claiming Giving Pledgers are self-loathing, because the love of money sin is worshipped! Claim it's morally better to help poor via charity vs. force (i.e., taxes), then have one percent of your income giving go for that, when average Joe's average charity contribution is three percent.

Update #9: My Political Campaign

THESE MATTERS MUST REACH THE PUBLIC DIALOGUE. I don't give a damn if it's too academic! Idiots whose heads it goes over will always be poor, if they don't get smarter! I will READ my books aloud, on the campaign trail, if need be. You've 'GOTTA quit concerning yourself if a politician is famous, rich or handsome, but if they solve problems, and know what the heck they're talking about! I actually pray if the U.S. won't repent from this evil status quo system, God judges America! It's up to we the people.

Every lobbyists will be publicly outed. Back room deals will have a spot light brought into their room, and a recording device brought to their talks! Lazy bureaucrats will be fired. Public servants will be rewarded from that loss.

Good teachers will be separated from bad, and rewarded accordingly. Sheep vs. goats; wheat vs. chaff; tares vs. believers. It's NOT my job to separate those, but they will be exposed (fake Christians and Balaam pastors, in ministry for money more than morality). Is THIS what you want DONE in America? Then vote for me, no matter what party I'm with, and it will occur in 2020 [now adjusted to 2024 and 2028]! Time for the floor to be threshed!

Judgment is coming to America, NOT by me, but we must prepare the way of the Lord, and if a thorough house cleaning doesn't occur, YOU will NOT be able to withstand what follows it! The Great Tribulation. You better get ready to meet your Maker, folks!

I'll force white pastors to eat lunch with black ones! MAKE @robertjeffress speak to @FHunscripted! Make Muslims clerics meet with Christian pastors. Make the KKK talk to blacks; anti-semites meet with Jews. Criminals talk to victim families. Problems will be fixed! Force change, in Jesus' name, for JUSTICE!

Christian activists will be MADE to see trans military personnel in action! People who voted for CHUMP will have to meet families separated at the border. Disabled people will meet Chump, to receive a public apology for mocking a disabled reporter! I'll make this occur to the sinner-in-chief, if you elect me president!

Every lie of talk radio will be regularly exposed and refuted; every spin of TV pundits will be exposed and rebuked for what it is—party sales/marketing idolatry. Every trick any D.C. politician uses I'll expose, like blocking Merrick Garland, then shoving two conservatives onto America, Mitch McConnell—sinner!

EVERY bribe will be prosecuted. Every quid pro quo campaign contribution for favorable law treatment will be exposed! READ our political tricks button at AmericanAnswers.org I know all the evils of D.C., and swamp evils will be put on public display. Procedural tricks to favor party, etc.

Blasphemous pastors who biasedly abandon God's values will be publicly rebuked. DON'T believe I will? READ Christians for Trump (book), at AmericanAnswers.org My track record is I do what I say I'll do; sometimes delayed, but I tell the TRUTH! Can you handle it? It's coming to U.S. politics!

I will force conservatives to prove to me that poor people are lazy mooches. We'll walk hoods and barrios, door to door, and see if Welfare queens exist, eating bon bons on the couch, watching soap operas all day long! Limbaugh, Hannity, and their ilk—you will prove your lies false, in many cases! You'll be exposed!

Any male executive trying to use their authority or monetary threats for sex, I'll publicly reveal! I'll take any suggested names from ANY woman, if corroborated; I'll come to your business, and put them on camera to ask their side, put on lie detectors. Elect me, and you'll see this happen! Don't, and you won't! Try me/test my claims!

I'll MAKE Mark Levin call Warren Buffett and Bill Gates 'self-loathing,' to THEIR FACE, with a TV camera recording his needed apology! Any mosque inciting violence, or strategizing terror will be shut down, as with any temples or churches! Sleeper cells will be outed. Potential terrorists will be tracked.

People inciting blacks to violence, or to hating whites will be publicly exposed for their irresponsible rhetoric, as with white supremacists. I want their names—all of them! Put them on a terrorist watch list! Proactive policy, vs. stupidly reactive!

D.C. productivity will be that of a business we the people pay for! Equally qualified women WILL be paid equally. Executives and CEO's will NOT get bonuses for ruining underlings' lives! A DFW local government wants to lay off teachers due to others' "financial mismanagement." Screw that! That's punishing innocents—jail the guilty executives!

A local teacher is accused of the sexual touching of six students. Such people will be jailed! Hit-and-run criminals will be tracked down! Gang members will end their violence. I'll personally go and ensure that they do! SAFE drug transactions, only. No selling fake goods. No hating the cops, or despising "narks."

Any kid who's struggling in school I'll meet with, personally, to make sure their entire environment is set for success. This will be a hands-on presidency! No hiding in Mara Lago or the White House. Bullies in school will talk to me. I have zero tolerance for any of them! I've been their victim.

I'm told the THUG who broke a gay guys jaw is in high school suspension—he's a football star. That will NEVER happen. Jail time will ensue, if you elect me! Justice only—no favoring stars or celebrities! Criminals will return to society as productive, law-abiding citizens, who can then vote!

I've ministered to prisons. I'll speak with lifers. They'll hear the Gospel by believers! They can't get out, but their lives will have meaning when I'm through with them. I've played basketball with murderers, before! They may be meaner and more violent, but they will get changed by God's power through me and believers. I'm ready to serve! Elect myself in 2020 [now 2024 and 2028], and see change!

I call a spade a spade, and a heart a heart. I don't poll test answers or positions! I don't do focus groups. I don't bow to donors. I don't suck up for votes. I don't tow party line. I don't take any crap off anyone, and if you want this type of America, please vote for me. Party is NO OBJECT to me—EVER!

I simply do what the Lord leads me to do, and insist on people doing the right thing, and when you don't, you'll be called out, publicly. America needs an ethics revival! I'd be happy to show you what that looks like in D.C. Any who insist on sinful ways, I'll identify for you voters to boot out! BOTH parties—NO partiality!

Jocks want to cheat with steroids? NOT 'gonna happen. Technology, rules and laws will keep up with the new ways they get around those rules. The homeless get mugged as they sleep? That will NEVER happen. Safe sleeping areas will be made. We speak of crime statistics—they will DROP! Rapes, robberies, murders.

Wife beaters will be beaten by the full force of the law. Wives fear turning them in—they won't when I'm president! Their hubbies will be scared to lay a hand on them again! Gays get beaten? Their attackers will be caught and jailed. Pedophile priests? WON'T exist! I'll visit churches to ensure they know government is watching, even if bishops turn a blind eye.

Our military will be respected. Cops, as well. Bad apples will be identified, and fired. Our military will NEVER rape or pillage anyone, even in war! I'll go to the front lines, and personally kick them in the a_s if I hear of any such culprits!

Cheaters will NOT benefit with better grades, and social promotion won't happen. Sex perverts will be on watch lists, and everyone in their neighborhood will know where they live. Rapists will be publicly exposed in the media, like the FBI's Most Wanted criminals are. They'll NEVER live down that crime.

Tax evaders will pay up! Businesses that lie or cheat consumers will be heavily fined. NO regulations will be rolled back which protect voters, workers or consumers. No American laws will be used against America, as we are a sovereign country, and we make the rules, here! No one else.

People will NOT go bankrupt for getting sick. The healthcare industry will be forced to take on poor clients at much reduced rates!; not many, lest they be harmed, but you can't keep that a rich man's business, as it's a monopoly that everyone needs!

Jeff Bezos (along with other billionaires) will sign the Giving Pledge, for his selfish lack thereof! Rap and sports will NOT be young black boys' only way out! Ben Carson will NOT be touted as a role model black boys should emulate (i.e., as brain surgeons), but they will set realistic goals!

MYTHS and pipe dreams, like I want everyone to be rich (Mitt) will NOT be mouthed in American politics, as they give FALSE hope! NO America leading from behind, as that's being a FOLLOWER! Russia will NOT invade our public social media, or elections, nor will China.

Israel will NOT do evil to Arabs, or vice versa. Kim Jong Un will not continue to abuse his people, like a fat boy, as millions are emaciatedly skinny, because he's an evil sinner who needs to repent! I will demand it. NOT one word Putin utters will be fully trusted, but the Russian people will be respected, and learn that respect comes from doing right—not by electing or allowing bullies!

America won't be bullies, or stick our nose where it doesn't belong. Dictators will be told they are sinful and evil! John the Baptist will rebuke politicians, UN-like the Christian Cabal, with CHUMP. NO U.S. politician will EVER AGAIN behave as that bum, then be rewarded with election!

White collar criminals will see jail time, and quit being favored, because they have college degrees and connections! Child molesters will likely never leave prison. Justice will prevail.

I could list 100 more issues needing justice applied to them. I'd be too bored. Maybe later. You need to see what I'm offering!... NOT a 50' beautiful wall Mexico will pay for, or a complete Muslim ban. We think through our campaign and positions, unlike The Moron. Vote for me in [2024], and see this occur.

Name me an issue on TV—I'll tell you how I'll handle it. I have the means to do so, because unlike all other candidates, I have the way to get both sides enough of what they want to actually implement promises, not just cater to extremes, then face gridlock that gets you nowhere. @Pledgers2020

DUI's? You'll be too scared to drink too much before you get behind the wheel! Road rage? Bad drivers will be fined. I learned, today, Texas doesn't require people moving here to take a driver's test, if they have a valid out of state license. NO WONDER our traffic is so bad, the past four years! I'll personally fix this!

You obey our laws, or citizens with cameras will film you, and you will be warned, then fined! Right turns? You get only one lane, even if you want over three lanes. You're in the left lane, and cars are passing you on the right? You will be fined, if cameras show that occurring.

Dog fighting? You will be shut down. Human traffickers? Your business will END! The government no-call list will actually mean something. Robo callers will be put out of commission. Scammers and hackers? Put in jail!

Every evil the public endures will need to be endured NO MORE! These aren't promises, these are commitments. Elect me, and see that I do what I say, as a rare HONEST politician!

Congressional inquiries won't spend years, and millions of dollars! Congress will re-learn the value of a dollar! When ethics reign, costs of government go down! Less enforcement needed. You'll notice I NEVER mentioned any religion, though it's compatible with this vision, when it's real! Trump's version is skewed, so it is NOT fully!

And did you hear ONE WORD about abortion or homosexuality? NO! Everything I mentioned can be found in the principles of the Bible, as with those only two sins the far right uses for politics, because justice and ethics are NOT their priority, but selfish money and power idolatry! NOT like Jesus! What Would Jerry Fall-Not-So-Well (i.e., badly) Do?

Animal abuse—won't happen, because it won't be tolerated by society. Excess polluters? Consumer swill put them out of business. Shoplifters WILL be chased out of stores, vs. business policies that let them get away, to keep workers safe. Taser-armed drones will chase them down, until cops seize them! Coming in 20204/2028!

Obesity? Science will cure it. Diseases? U.S. businesses will find the cures, and not for highway robbery costs to patients! Good will prevail, because evil won't, by good people doing nothing! Lazy teachers will be fired, as with those who allow bullies slaps on the wrist if they're popular!

Jocks won't violate AAU and UIL rules, to transfer to better sports programs, illegally, or by abusing their rules' intentions. I know folk who have done this in Texas! If players aren't to be paid, slush funds won't sneak them perks under the table, in college ball. U.S.A. gymnastics will destroy any perverts in charge!

I LOVED seeing our old Second Baptist, Houston, Sunday School classmate on the Today Show, today—Mary Lou Retton.

Judges won't be activists, like the one the feds arrested for letting a twice-banned from returning illegal criminal out the back door, to escape ICE! NOT 'gonna happen in this U.S.A.! Sin will not win, and I will NOT imitate the Christian Cabal's sin-to-win strategy to win! Unelected pastors will NOT control public policy. NO religion will be favored.

Inexperienced family members won't get policy positions. Jared and wife, for example. Only qualified professionals from BOTH parties—period. I will NEVER golf, or take as many days off as the lazy one in the White House! I'll be by Congress, likely daily. This is a hands-on proposition. Serve as referee and vision caster to get things done.

Babies won't be abused in daycares, or elderly in retirement homes. SIN is our target to curb! Drive-bys, kickbacks, favoring developers—NO injustice. Taxes will be fair to all, and those who pay none will have some sacrifice for our nation, as everyone needs skin in the game—there are no free lunches. THIS is the common sense America I envision. It doesn't take decades! Elect me and see; don't, and wish you had!

Mass shooters will have no unsecured target venues. Mass murderers I'll personally pull the plug on their life, after all legal rights have been exhausted. I am NOT opposed to the death penalty, when deserved! NO terrorists will gain access through our borders or otherwise. We beat 'em!

Liars, hypocrites, self-serving and greed people—especially politicians and business executives—will be publicly shamed into repentance! Party worship will be ended. Yes men will learn how to 'just say no.' Drug lords and the Mafia/organized crime will be public enemy number one.

Women will be safe again from stronger males! Self-defense, even with guns, will NOT be looked down on. Purse snatchers will be chased down by drones or helicopters. Instant response technology. Cop response times will actually protect citizens. Cops will have lightweight face and torso protection, vs. be killable sitting ducks! Robocop under uniforms.

Lawyers won't use tricks to get the guilty off—ever. Justice will prevail. Juries won't be swayed by eloquent liar lawyers, and judges won't favor lawyer friends, or campaign contributors. Game wardens won't have to always be fining poachers and law-breakers taking too many birds or fish, as cameras and drones will be on watch.

Cop chases won't kill innocents—escapees' engines will be remote disabled! I can go on for days with this vision. Immigrants will learn to use deodorant (specific examples in mind)! You'll assimilate, and learn English, over time. Respect our history; don't betray this nation!

Reckless speeders will be super fined. Distracted drivers will be fined (text and checking social media, etc.). Influenza will NEVER be used in any court of law as a valid legal defense! People who push people off bridges will have jail time. Wrongs will be righted! Ex-cons will be rehabilitated, and given jobs, but if they screw up, their sentences will double, for our having trusted their changing.

I have no opposition to Clayton Williams' chain gangs busting rocks, or the E.U. model of dogs in prison, and freedoms allowed for good behavior—whatever works. No prison guards in danger!

Drug smugglers will not burrow tunnels under our border/land. Jail escapees will be captured. Mental health sufferers will NOT be stigmatized. If you impregnate a woman, you WILL pay child support. Society WON'T pick up your tab! People who can work on Social Security disability will work, and NOT abuse the system.

Churches won't be burned. Schools will be hardened. Mail won't be used to send deadly chemicals. Pot holes will be plugged immediately, as with sink holes! NO excuses! Dangerous bridges will be buttressed, post haste. Traffic jams will be fixed—I've suggested many ways to, before!

No one will ever shake down any U.S. business! Silver alerts won't be needed, as people at risk for that will wear GPS bar code jewelry or wrist bands. It's irresponsible not to! Teacher's pet favoritism in schools will be reported, and ended by principals. Medical costs will be published before undertaking procedures!

HOV violators will be fined (i.e., single drivers). People posing as others, as online catfish, for dating, will be fined for fraud! Identity thieves will be jailed, and pay all back (i.e., restitution). Arsonists will be caught by drone cameras "everywhere." Evil will not prevail!

Employers will NOT discriminate base on race or sex, and if a rejected candidate feels that may have happened, EEOC laws will use lie detectors to investigate H.R. departments, with fines, if there are violations! Child abductors will be jailed for life–no questions asked. Loose, rabid dogs' owners will be fined.

Teachers will end cliques in school. Frats and sororities will behave ethically, and be shut down if they're like Animal House, or are arrogantly cliquish to independents, like me. I'll personally nab suspects, to exact justice for the abuse I suffered. I'm not scared of anyone anymore, junior high bullies! I recall your names from Illinois.

Hazing won't occur, or death from binge drinking. Sex won't occur without consent, especially if they're drunk. Gang rapes villains will be gang tackled into jail! No exceptions. There will be no audition couches in Hollywood. Frivolous lawsuits won't be heard in courts, and litigants will repay opponent's costs if they get through.

Blackmail won't occur, or extortion. These solutions are what it looks like when people take ethics seriously–NOT electing 45, for Roe's overturn! I can find a Bible verse for every tweet I've posted this evening–NOT just one on abortion! FULL counsel of God (Ac. 20:27), vs. cherry-picking, contrary to Rev. 22:18.

Home break-ins will be curbed, by more police presence, using technology! Does anyone remember the bad rule that you couldn't overturn the bad referee call that prohibited the New Orleans Saints from the Super Bowl? People don't like injustices! Why do we tolerate them in society, as I've listed all night?

What about used car salesmen that lie, or sell lemons? We have lemon laws! What about roofers or construction workers who take money$ from often older ladies, then skip town. Bank robbers, as well. That's theft! NONE should escape justice. We have laws against bait-and-switch, false advertising, unsafe foods and dangerous products. We need more justice! People don't get angry when they're treated RIGHT!

There should be no falsely accused people in jail! Tasers should be used if there's time to not kill unarmed black suspects running from cops. Rogue ones should be fired. People who illegally park in handicapped spots should ALWAYS receive fines! Let citizens film the license plates if there are not enough cops.

People abusing 911, over age 18, should be fined. There are SO MANY things needing changing in America! We cheer Congress if they pass three laws in three years. What fools we can be! Productivity! You see something, say something.

I'm going to bed–you figure out what's wrong with the U.S.A.! I'm for fixing them all!

Update #10: Do Others Have This Type Presidential Vision?

Reviewing my YouTube speeches, my wife said "The World's Most Innovative Man" (slogan) was too braggadocios! God told me to use it, just as everyone else makes marketing slogans, and even though it's provable, she hated it. You can never please everyone! Just obey God! I HATE marketing!

THESE MATTERS MUST REACH THE PUBLIC DIALOGUE. I don't give a flip if it's too academic! Idiots whose heads it goes over will always be poor if they don't get smarter! I will READ my books aloud, on the campaign trail, if need be.

You've GOT TO quit concerning yourself if a politician is famous, rich or handsome, but if they solve problems, and know what the frick they're talking about! I actually pray if the U.S. won't repent from this evil status quo system, God judges America! It's up to 'We the people.'
Every lobbyist will be publicly outed. Back room deals will have a spotlight brought into their room, and a recording device brought to their talks! Lazy bureaucrats will be fired. Public servants will be rewarded.

Good teachers will be separated from bad, and rewarded accordingly. Sheep vs. goats; wheat vs. chaff; tares vs. believers. It's NOT my job to separate those, but they'll be exposed (fake Christians and Balaam pastors, in ministry for money). Is THIS what you want DONE in America? Then vote for me, no matter what party I'm with, and it will occur in 2020! Time for the floor to be threshed!

Judgment is coming to America, NOT by me, but we must prepare the way of the Lord, and if a thorough house cleaning doesn't occur, YOU will NOT be able to withstand what follows it-- the Tribulation. You better get ready to meet your Maker, folks!

I'll force white pastors to eat lunch with black ones! MAKE @robertjeffress speak to @FHUnscripted! Make Muslim clerics meet with Christian pastors. Make the KKK talk to blacks; anti-Semites meet with Jews. Criminals talk to victim families. Problems will be fixed! Force change, in Jesus' name for, JUSTICE!!!

Christian activists will be MADE to see trans military personnel in action! People who voted for CHUMP will have to meet families separated at the border. Disabled people will meet Chump, to receive a public apology for mocking a disabled reporter! I'll make this occur to the sinner-in-chief, if you elect me President!

Every lie of talk radio will be regularly exposed and refuted; every liberal spin of TV pundits will be exposed and rebuked for what it is--party sales/marketing idolatry. Every trick any D.C. politician uses I'll expose, like blocking Merrick Garland, then shoving two cons onto America, Mitch McConnell, sinner!

EVERY bribe will be prosecuted. Every quid pro quo campaign contribution for favorable law treatment will be exposed! READ 'Political Tricks' button at AmericanAnswers.org I know all the evils of D.C., and swamp evils will be put on public display. Procedural tricks to favor party, etc.

Blasphemous pastors who biasedly abandon God's values will be publicly rebuked. DON'T believe I will? READ Christians For Trump (book) at AmericanAnswers.org My track record is I do what I say I'll do; sometimes delayed... I tell the TRUTH! Can you handle it? It's coming to U.S. politics!

I will force conservatives to prove to me poor people are lazy mooches. We'll walk 'hoods and barrios door-to-door, and see if 'Welfare queens' exist, eating bon bons on the couch, watching soap operas all day! Limbaugh, Hannity, and their ilk--you will prove your lies false, in many cases! You'll be exposed!

Any male executive trying to use authority or money threats for sex I'll publicly reveal! I'll take any suggested names from any woman, if corroborated; come to your business and put them on camera to ask their side, put on lie detectors. Elect me and you'll see this happen! Don't, and you won't! Try me/test my claims!

I'll MAKE Mark Levin call Warren Buffett and Bill Gates 'self-loathing,' to THEIR FACE, with a TV camera recording his needed apology! Any mosque inciting violence or strategizing terror will be shut down, as with any temples or churches! Sleeper cells will be outed, before they can attack. Potential terrorists will be tracked.

People inciting blacks to violence, or hating whites will be publicly exposed for their rhetoric, as with white supremacists. I want their names—all of them! Put them on a terrorist watch list! Proactive policy, vs. stupid reactive! D.C. productivity will be that of a business 'We the people' pay for!

Equally-qualified women WILL be paid equally. Executives and CEO's will NOT get bonuses for ruining underlings' lives! A DFW local government wants to lay off teachers for the administrator's "financial mismanagement." Screw that! That's punishing innocents—jail the guilty executives!

A local teacher is accused of sexual touching of six students. Such people will be jailed! Hit-and-run criminals will be tracked down! Gang members will end violence. I'll personally go and ensure they do! SAFE drug transactions only. No selling of fake or tainted goods. No hating the cops, or despising "narks."

Any kid who's struggling in school I'll meet with, personally, to make sure their entire environment is set for success. This will be a hands-on Presidency! No hiding in Mara Lago or the White House. Bullies in school will talk to me. I have zero tolerance for them! I've been their victim. There will be NO favoring popular students or jocks, if they get caught doing wrong things in high school. Jail time for physical assaults will ensue, if you elect me! Justice only—no favoring stars!

Criminals will return to society as productive, law-abiding citizens who can then vote! I've ministered in prisons; I'll speak with lifers. They'll hear the Gospel! They can't get out, but their lives will have meaning when I'm through with them. I played basketball with murderers before!

They may be meaner, and more violent, but they are still humans, made in the image of God, and they will get changed by God's power through me. I'm ready to serve! Elect myself in 2020, and see change! Sea change change.

I call a spade a spade, and a heart a heart. I don't poll test answers or positions! I don't do focus groups. I don't bow to donors. I don't suck up for votes. I don't tow party line. I don't take any crap off anyone, and if you want this type of American leadership, please vote for me in 2020. Party is NO OBJECT to me—EVER!

I simply do what the Lord leads me to do, and insist on people doing the right thing, and when you don't, you'll be called out, publicly. America needs an ethics revival! I'd be happy to show you what that looks like in D.C. Any who insist on sinful ways I'll identify for you to boot out! BOTH parties—NO partiality!

Jocks want to cheat with steroids? NOT 'gonna happen. Technology, rules and laws will keep up with new ways they get around the rules. The homeless get mugged as they sleep? That will NEVER happen. Safe sleeping areas will be made. We speak of crime statistics—they will DROP! Rapes, robberies, murders.

Wife beaters will be beaten with the full force of the law. Wives fear turning them in? They won't when I'm President! Their hubbies will be scared to lay a hand on them again! Gays get beaten? Their attackers will be caught and jailed. Pedophile priests? WON'T exist! I'll visit churches to ensure they know government is watching, even if Bishops turn a blind eye.

The military will be respected; cops, also. Bad apples will be identified, and fired. Our military will NEVER rape or pillage anyone, even in war! I'll go to the front lines and personally kick them in the a_s if I hear of any such culprits!

Cheaters will NOT benefit with better grades, and social promotion won't happen. Sex perverts will be on watch lists, and everyone in their neighborhood will know where they live. Rapists will be publicly exposed in the media, like FBI Most Wanted criminals are. They'll NEVER live down that crime. #ScarletLetter stigma.

Tax evaders will pay up! Businesses that lie or cheat consumers will be heavily fined. NO regulations will be rolled back that protect voters, workers or consumers. No American laws will be used against America, as we're a sovereign country, and we make the rules, here! No one else.

People will NOT go bankrupt for getting sick. The healthcare industry will be forced to take on poor clients at much reduced rates! Not many, lest they be significantly financially harmed, but you can't keep that a rich man's business, as it's a monopoly everyone needs!

Jeff Bezos WILL sign the Giving Pledge, for his selfish lack thereof! Rap and sports will NOT be young black boys' only way out! Ben Carson will NOT be touted as a role model black boys should emulate (i.e., brain surgeons), but realistic goals! MYTHS like 'I want everyone to be rich' (Mitt) will NOT be mouthed in American politics, as they are FALSE hope! NO U.S.A. leading from behind, as that's being a FOLLOWER!

Russia will NOT invade our public social media, or elections, nor China. Israel will NOT do evil to Arabs, or vice versa. Kim Jong Un will not continue to abuse his people; little fat boy, as millions are emaciatedly skinny, because he's an evil sinner who WILL repent! I will demand it.

NOT one word Putin utters will be fully trusted, but the Russian people will be respected, and learn that respect comes from doing right—not electing bully thugs! America won't be bullies, or stick our nose where it doesn't belong.

Dictators will be told they are sinful, selfishly greedy, and evil! John the Baptist will rebuke politicians, UN-like the Christian Cabal with CHUMP. NO U.S. politician will EVER AGAIN behave as that bum, then be rewarded with election!

White collar criminals will see jail time, and quit being favored because they have money, college degrees and connections! Child molesters will likely never leave prison. Justice will prevail. I could list 100 more issues needing justice applied to them. I'd be too bored; maybe later. You need to see what I'm offering! NOT a 50' beautiful wall Mexico will pay for, or a complete Muslim ban. We think through our campaign and positions, unlike The Moron. Vote for me in 2020, and see this occur.

Name me an issue on TV—I'll tell you how I'll handle it. I have the means to do so, because unlike all other candidates, I have the way to get both sides enough of what they want to actually implement promises—not just cater to extremes, then face gridlock that gets you nowhere.
@Pledgers2020

DUI's? You'll be too scared to drink too much before you get behind the wheel! Road rage? Bad drivers will be fined. I learned, today, Texas doesn't require people moving here to take a driver's test, if they have a valid out of state license. NO WONDER our traffic is so bad the past four years! I'll personally fix this! You obey our laws, or citizens with cameras will film you, and you will be fined!

The government 'no call list' will actually mean something. Robo callers will be put out of commission. Scammers and hackers? Put them in jail! Every evil the public endures will endure NO MORE! These aren't promises, these are commitments. Elect me, and see—I do what I say... an HONEST politician!

When ethics reign, costs of government go down! Less enforcement needed. You'll notice I NEVER mentioned any religion, though it's compatible with this vision, when it's real! Trump's version is NOT!

I will NEVER golf, or take as many days off as the lazy one in the White House! I'll be by Congress, likely daily. This is a hands-on proposition; serve as referee, and vision caster to get things done.

Game wardens won't have to always be fining poachers and law-breakers taking too many birds or fish, as cameras and drones will be on watch.

Cop chases won't kill innocents... escapees' engines will be remote disabled! I can go on for days with this vision; I may later; 'gotta bathe. Immigrants will learn to use deodorant (specific examples in mind)! You'll assimilate, and learn English, over time. Respect our history; don't betray this nation!

Reckless speeders will be super fined. Distracted drivers will be fined (i.e., texting, and checking social media, etc.). 'Afluenta' will NEVER be used in any court of law as a valid legal defense!

People who push people off bridges will have jail time. Wrongs will be righted! You see something, say something. I'm going to bed... you figure out what's wrong with the U.S.A.! I'm for fixing all of them!

It's an amazing con artist job that con-servatism's pundits tout is as moral! Its version of the American Dream is simply worldliness, and greed is good—OPPOSITE of the God they invoke! Healthcare is a NEED for everyone! It's da_n expensive! I'm in the top ten percent, and I don't avail myself of it! Too costly!

My American brethren—these things ought not be this way (James 3:10). Conservatives act like the U.S. Constitution is the Bible! In fact, they worship Capitalism, NOT Christ, and the Bible they rarely know is far secondary to what they label 'freedom'—the right to live selfishly and hoard, OPPOSITE the the Christ they claim!

They appease any remaining conscience by attending church, but their system defies the God they hear of there. NO American should be denied healthcare they need just because they're poor—period. The problem is Dems want it for them for free. I want them to tokenly repay with civic service—mandatory, and only get the bare minimum needed, by clinics, a three-tier system they get the lowest level of, and required catastrophic insurance.

Conservatives GLORY in denying poor people medical treatment, and brag on our healthcare being the greatest. It is NOT, value-wise, for the money spent/wasted! Price-gougingly over-charging, because they can. When a conservative says 'get what the market bears,' that means what you can legally get away with!

College is yet another way they keep poor poor; can't afford the loans, so stuck in the low socio-eco caste we say we don't have. Upward mobility is a MYTH to some people in America! Every community- and junior college ought to offer 4-year degree programs—period! Colleges are a business racket! If I had it to do over, I might not have sent my kid where I did, but just get the info he needed, vs. the pride of name brand! It's highway robbery, folks.

I guarantee you the Christian nature of some claiming Christian schools is that Christians aren't immune from materialism and greed. The love of money sin has infiltrated the WASP church in America, politically, so no one sees what God wrote, anymore, here in Laodicea.

Even charities designed to help the poor bless the executives first! Skim off the top, then help the people you were incorporated to serve, to qualify for not paying taxes. Nice way for the guy on top to get rich, by avoiding taxes!

Politicians just want no riots, so they never discuss all the problems with America, lest they not be elected, from being too negative! Just promise the world, unrealistically, and be Willie Wonka, offering riches from the broke U.S. Treasury! It should be a crime to do so, and for any politician to lie! That would send many cockroaches back to jobs you really have to work at!

What's the likely scenario for the WASP church? Status quo churchianity continues until God won't tolerate it any longer, and she gets judged, either before the Tribulation, or as it starts to begin. EDBS never happens, and 5/10/13 is the enshrined practice! #Laodicea is never repented of!

If it costs any money, GOP's are opposed to it; if it helps business make profit, GOP's are for it. Green energy advocates always cite plastic pile-ups in our waterways. Find what causes that, and eliminate the causes. Have permanent plastic detectors near water arteries. Technology solves MANY of our problems, and I'm The World's Most Innovative Man (demonstrably).

Any problem can be fixed, with effort and commitment and experimentation! Ankle monitors can be cut off. Design them to set off alarms at authorities' venue, if that ever occurs. Jail breaks need perimeter laser sensors tied to alarms, and drones equipped with net shooting capabilities.

Criminals should NOT have to be raped or shanked! Just because they're being punished doesn't mean cruel and unusual is tolerable! Guards need more cameras, if not drones, and FULL monitoring—no place to hide. We Americans DON'T care about captured crooks like THIS: Mt. 25:36.

Priest abuse? That should NEVER happen. Churches should teach every student that NO staffer is ever allowed to touch you in your private parts, and if they ever even try, report them to 911 on your cell phone, then tell me, your head pastor. This should be standard fare at churches!

No child should ever drown in a pool. One of our 4,700 products in our four books solves this—you have to buy the book to find it! Gangs should never be allowed to recruit or force vulnerable teens into their group. Cops should teach all teens that if this ever starts, call 911 first, or tell ma or pa.

EVERY player/user/womanizer who gets any woman pregnant WILL pay child support. Maury 'you are the father' DNA tests may be needed, but we tax payers will send you the bills, and garner your wages, and if you choose not to work, to avoid that, you will be jailed, for a time!

Shoplifters will be prosecuted, every time! My daughter works at a business where every item has an alarm if it leaves the store unpaid for. ALL businesses need the technology to attack a mini bar code to set off alarms! Even cameras don't catch every incident, because humans aren't always watching 24/7. You have NO RIGHT to steal, and you won't be allowed to, by society and technology!

You have what you tolerate; 'We the people' are 'gonna put our feet down! If you are sick, and go to work or school, you will be kept out, and if you don't vaccinate, and get sick, same result. You have no right to infect others because you're stupidly selfish! Morals will rule when adults are in charge of government!

EVERY rule will be culled through with a fine tooth comb, to see if they're good laws; if they are, enforcement is NOT evil, and it WILL be done! This is NOT Big Brother Marshall law, but government fulfilling its role of preventing evil (Rom. 13:4). Pick pockets? Call 911 immediately.

Technology is needed so anytime a crime is reported, a nearby state drone is dispatched to track down the described culprit, with a camera which monitors movements until the cops arrive. One drone per neighborhood, on the ready, like we have weather warning speakers for every neighborhood. An owl on the prowl, ready to pounce!

Home break-ins? EVERY casa should have alarm systems; they don't—too costly. Technology should be designed for full-time perimeter monitoring, so owners' cell phones are alerted whenever anyone breaches three feet of their domicile! Illegal dumping? Government must identify all areas where this can occur, then laser owl drones scan areas for breaches.

I have a product for keeping sharks from biting ocean swimmers—one of 4,700+ free ones in our four books. Technology's needed for easier solutions to obesity! A pill, a tool warning when foods are bad for you, but don't appear to be, etc.

Grave robbers aren't a big problem, but there are technological solutions for this, too. ALL problems can be fixed, in my opinion. Dog leashes need to be available to use only as needed, technologically!

My dog is a pain; when I'm exercising, and if no one is around, she doesn't need to be leashed. Have a sensor which, if others approach, the leash alarm goes off for me, so I latch her up! You people accept such an INFERIOR society—just nose to the grindstone, and demand nothing improve. WHY?

Poachers... have technology to catch them, then fines! There's night vision technology you can attach to satellites, to find body heat in forests, and sensors to identify/hear gunshots! This ISN'T rocket science, or sci fi, folks! DEMAND IT—you have what you tolerate!

People fall on subway train tracks. Immediate drones drop a rope ladder for others to help them out, if they're groggy. Sensors or cameras can detect intrusions onto tracks! ALL this is possible. It also will probably never happen, because rich people are often self-idolaters with ALL their excess!

God tells them to be GENEROUS! One percent of income isn't that! Fifty percent is (i.e., Giving pledge). Thirty-five percent is. Twenty percent sort of is? Fifteen percent ISN'T! Have a government phone number (311?) for citizens to report pot holes. We already have that for phoning in polluting cars!

We have laws where bartenders can face fines if they allow drunks to drive. Have laws and technology for enforcement to curb all these evils I've described! The rich should NOT have all the fun in life! Just because they earned it (often; not always) doesn't mean they don't owe society much giveback! (I Tim. 6:17-19) If they don't do so voluntarily, tax them more!

Give them the choice, but don't let them hoard! (Ecc. 5:13) I ONLY mention Bible verses to show that NO religious person can complain about these ideas, unless they're hypocrites—a sin—(Mt. 23:27) ONLY seeing abortion as a sin government addresses is BLIND favoritism, and NOT the required FULL counsel of God (Ac. 20:27).

Conservatives claim they're for freedom, and law and order. Any evils I've named are infringements on others' freedoms, so curbing them is merely law and order. Conservatives can't complain against this vision being heavy-handed, unless they're hypocrites! They often are! Power idolatry tRumps ethics, for evil people!

Car wrecks? They ruin traffic flow! Make technology force them on the shoulder, IMMEDIATELY. Film the crash aftermath, then haul them to the right. How? Let engineers and designers answer that! Houston had an 18-wheeler stuck under a bridge, yesterday. Truck sensors should have prevented the dumb driver entering!

Deputized, trained citizens allowed to film law-breakers for specific infractions, like running red lights, or 'parking,' vs. stopping at stop signs, or demanding to get three lanes of open traffic when they only get one lane, legally (in Texas). Make train or rapid fire bullet shot horns legal for such idiots!

NAME ME any other problems. I can make a solution! My wife may call this bragging—I just proved it for hours on end. It ain't bragging if you can do it! 'The World's Most Innovative Man.' I'm NOT 'gonna alter that phrase, wife! God gave it to me, because He gave the skills to me! PTL.

What you don't know can KILL you! There are brain trauma victims who can improve brain function with neurological behavioral therapy, using videos that stop when brain waves aren't showing effort, or stem cell injections for macular degeneration victims, possibly (a doctor's suggestion, recently).

Every fraud exposed and ended, like liars who profit from the less-educated. My books have technology for catching fraudulent car repair persons; you know they are in abundance! TV shows (To catch a thief) have shown many blue collar service providers cheat/lie, like A/C repair persons! END IT NOW!

Have experts watch their work as they inspect, remotely! Government experts. Tolerate NONE of these sins, voting people! Cheating spouses? Technology should be made to catch them in the act!

Maybe tied to their cell phone, recording sounds, and tracking their location with GPS, remotely, or a camera you can activate remotely.

My creativity has a mental block on how I can get these ideas to the masses. I don't know why. I need help from capable people! I'm no social media expert! Advertising would be useful, if I had funds. Back to the subject at hand...

If we are, as a society, against dog poo NOT being picked up, deputize citizens to film violators, who then receive a warning, then a ticket, for a second infraction! Dog maulings? Dog bites? Collars that zap them, before they do so; smart collars! I can do this all day long! I just can't think of that many problems! Solutions—YES! Can you do this? Not many.

'The World's Most Innovative Man'—provably. Stolen cars? Remote control GPS that shuts down the engine. Put Johns' faces on a website, and they probably won't pay a hooker anymore, especially if their significant other sees their mug shot there! That's NOT my idea, but solutions exist! WHO originates them is irrelevant.

Every business should have online updates on the length of their lines, especially DPS licensing. Online appointment setting helps proactive people! People hate cheaters so much, that Six Flags posts a phone number if you see patrons line-cutting! DON'T call me extreme, for wanting justice, and evils ended! Not perfectly, but so much better than current state.

Khashoggi butchering should NEVER be allowed to occur again, by the corruptly EVIL CLOWN Prince of Saudi Arabia! WHERE THE FLIP are citizens there who will stand up to him? Are you dupes and slaves? Grow a pair! Fools tolerate such crap!

Bar Rescue and Garage Rehab skills need to be applied to ALL struggling U.S. businesses, private or government! The U.S. economy doesn't benefit from failures! Have a check list, per industry, created by experts, and make them available, online, via government portal! YouTube video, as well. These things are SO EASY to fix! Bank robbers? Easy to fix! I'm not 'gonna give you all the answers, for FREE!

I can spontaneously, instantaneously innovate like that for the private sector, as well, anytime the Lord puts me in that mindset, and I'll do so for U.S. businesses, for free, beginning June 19th! It's a provable skill if you read our books! Can you?

A gal shaped like my wife just printed our graduation invitations. LITERALLY, if scientists tested their DNA's, and found their common thin genome, a pill could be developed. I mean this literally. You can take it as a joke, or figurative, but people NEED that pill, like me! #JustDoIt

To repeat, all government grass should be low maintenance, Arizona (arid) landscape, to reduce costs; aesthetic, but cheap! Smart traffic lights, synchronized, lessens drive-time traffic, as with right turn lanes at every busy intersection, so no one waits to turn. #CommonSense for often idiotic government!

Isn't there a material we can invent, like safe asbestos, that retards fires, so places like Notre Dame can't be ruined so quickly? If not, fire sensors/detectors trigger sprinklers, retrofitted, or no wood structures?

Car jackers could be thwarted by keys with fingerprint or bar code access only (smarter keys), that also allowed owners to grant permission to other authorized users. But hot wiring is still available, so remote shutdown capability is needed by owners and cops. Technology to end crime is needed!

Car sensors needed that calibrate oncoming obstacles, to automatically engage brakes (or even steering wheel) if math calculations indicate a wreck is impending. We already have self-driving vehicle technology, so this can't be far off for human-driven cars' driver's assistance technology!

Non-aesthetic hidden grill bumpers could pop-up, as needed, just before wreck/impacts are detected, so sleek cars can still look fancy, yet escape serious harm in the case of an incident, by protecting the frame and body with a rino-strong deflecting metal, hidden grill, like trucks often have.

If cars were equipped with technology that wouldn't allow them closer than three feet of any vehicle, before or aft, intersection stops could peel out, and be more efficient, and drive time traffic could fly at 80 mph in the left-most lane, with no slow Joes allowed there! #JustDoIt! #Innovation Fix it NOW!

Sam's Club now has a final door check handheld device to scan your items, and receipt, to ensure a match. They better invent one for mass scans at one time, for stroller purchases, as it was annoying to use only for one item, yesterday. DON'T SLOW DOWN SHOPPERS, lest you chase them off!

McDonald's kiosk check-out does EXACTLY that—slows down customers. MAKE IT SPEAK-TO, exactly as real workers do! I'm never 'gonna 'wanna memorize your humungous menu, to find one item, when I can say 'breakfast burrito,' and pay, presently! DUMB non-advancement!

This needed technology CAN'T be that hard to invent! A radical/dangerous motorcyclist was doing wheelies with no lights on, at night, that I couldn't catch, but cops and deputized citizens should be able to zoom in on license numbers far away, to turn them in to be warned, and ticketed if it continues.

Update #11: Texas Traffic

State law SHOULD be anytime a wreck occurs, which blocks any lanes, concrete shoulders are automatically allowed for traffic to use to get by! HOV lanes can be good, until a car breaks down in them, so easy egress and ingress, vs. concrete walls are usually needed, lest a line piles up!

Cameras could catch occupancy violators, and film their licenses for a mailed ticket! Institute that, like red light cameras, and you will never have another cheater! Texas ought to make a one hour mini course on driver's laws mandatory for everyone who moved here in the past ten years! @GovAbbott

If Texas doesn't deputize trained laymen to film traffic violators, like people waiting until three lanes are open to turn right, cops will NEVER be there to warn or ticket, and slow productivity will continue! I've burnt through one car horn already! There are MANY such violators in North Dallas, sir! @GovAbbott

Distracted by texting and smart phone looking drivers should be allowed to be filmed by citizens, license number sent to Austin, and warning letter sent out, as cops are NEVER around in a majority of the many cases I witness daily, @GovAbbott. Two instances reported, and you get fined! It's your job to make Texas work well!

Texas NEEDS to re-institute highway signs which read, 'slower traffic keep right!' @GovAbbott In Hillsboro's beautiful hill country, I experienced a GREAT throw back to how Texas USED to be!: two cars pulled on the shoulder to let me pass on a two-laned highway. #CountryLiving HEROES!!!

A Welcome to Texas driver's mini course would teach: Slower drivers keep right, right on red is into only to the one right-most lane, stop signs mean stop—not park, and exiting neighborhoods, there are two lanes for left and right turns—don't hog/straddle them both! @GovAbbott And drive, vs. text or online surf!

Also, if someone is depending on what you're doing, to do what they're wanting to do, USE YOUR BLINKER! And when the light turns green, hit the gas—you're not the only one wanting through the intersection! @GovAbbott Texas natives KNOW these things; go back home if you can't adjust!

KEEP widening arteries, like Highway 121 and Spring Creek, in Plano, and you'll guarantee yourself "four more years!" @GovAbbott SINCE the past two governors have welcomed the world to our business climate, you OWE us traffic congestion fixes! #NativeTexan 6th or 7th generation!

Also, teach outsiders, when backing out of parking spaces, you don't have the right-of-way, unless the way is clear! ANY oncoming vehicles NOT in a parking space have that right-of-way. Apparently, other states or nations differ!?! #ODD! @GovAbbott

You are going to get more and more people cutting through business parking lots and neighborhoods, if streets don't get widened, lights synchronized, speed limits increased 5mph, and smart lights adjust to length of lines in any direction! @GovAbbott Houstonians do it lots—it's NEEDED! BIG place, many cars!

Houston knows why cars have horns; Dallas seems to think using them is "rude." Enjoy your less productivity! Cops aren't often 'gonna be around to educate fools and slow pokes. It's up to those who know the law to assist under-staffed cops, Texas! @GovAbbott Civic duty! (Rom. 13:3) #PublicService!

There are SO MANY WAYS my innovation skills can make America better! Hire me, and that's exactly what I'll do. @Pledgers2020 @ImMadTooEdwin @2020Victory @PledgersARCHIVE @JamesMeroney2 @BuildBetterBiz @ProphecyForYou #2020

Update #12: Reimagined Government Systems

(5/4/19)

There's enough for everyone's need, but not enough for everyone's greed. That statement is blaming rich people for poor people's poverty! The world has limited/finite resources. If they were unlimited, we wouldn't have to have money, or a means of determining ownership, or value for things and work efforts—you would just take what you need, like "imagine no possessions," said by a guy possessing MANY!

It's easy to dream of a better world, with no wars over oil, land, ideology ("and no religion, too"), where everyone is living in peace, but this great song will NEVER be reality, due to the nature of man (i.e., selfish and sinful), the fallenness of our world, limited resources, and established government systems.

Communism TRIES to create a fairer society, but fails due to power hungry dictators, and lack of work incentives; Socialism tries to do the same, without as much tyranny, but ends up hurting hard workers, unjustly; Capitalism either doesn't care about justice (popular phrase, "life's not fair"), or redefines fairness as whatever you can get away with, or the laws don't prohibit you doing, if you obey them.

All three systems of man governing himself FAIL to bring about what's needed: Enough for every citizen to survive, without severe suffering poverty! God said man is to work; those unable to society must care for. Those able to must do so, and any empowering of them not to is evil. Welfare can never be allowed to do that harm.

There are politicians, today, advocating for a basic minimum income guaranteed to all, even if you don't work. That is evil, and stupid. It may sound humane, ensuring that people never go without, but it can be abused to people never working, and that's evil, if they're physically or mentally capable!

It would be O.K. if that stipulation were in place, and they had to work for it, through civic service! A Guaranteed job with basic minimum money, helping society with needed tasks.

Then there are politicians promising freebies—yet another evil, as nothing in repayment is required. These ilk of politician are using empty pipe dreams to manipulate and win the votes of the gullible, and that's a sin.

Let's address how all three systems could be fixed: If you had a moral dictator, who ensured basic needs for all were met, and didn't use police to enforce every potential rule to effect his personal desires for the people, but for just and good laws, the idea of a benevolent dictator who didn't siphon off his nation's assets for his or her family isn't a sinful concept, though that much power in one person's hands is not wise.

I'm describing a transitional state from demagoguery to more democracy. Socialism could be improved, and more fair, if people guaranteed healthcare, paid vacations, minimum incomes, etc., had to tokenly repay government for such guarantees, through civic service. It is unjust to the hard-workers and wealthy to make them fund others not in their family or employ! It's not wrong to ask them to do their part to give back, and pay more in taxes than the rest, who aren't as blessed (Lk. 12:48).

And Capitalism's fixes: Fair wages—period. Equal leverage between worker and ownership, ensured by government. Fair minimum wage, where no one's work effort is less than what minimum wage pays them, or minimum wage so low they deserve better pay.

The rich paying their fair share, which means their tax bracket amount (NO loopholes), and encouraged by societal pressure to give back a decent/'generous' percent to charity—NOT one percent of their income, as is their average, compared to three percent for average Joes.

Poor people NOT contributing ZERO to our society, financially! That's NOT fair to the rest! Required civic service as a token tax contribution equivalent, especially as partial repayment if they receive freebies, like Welfare, which must be temporary, and only to educate and empower them to be self-sufficient, through better skills, education, motivation, buying practices and job search capabilities. With churches and charities doing their part, this would right-justify U.S. Capitalism!

And as to our democracy, the voice of the people is usually, but not always morally right! Mob rule mentality and group think can make such desires as mood rings being popularized proof that majority rule isn't always good. That's why we have a representative democracy. Politicians sometimes buck their constituents/people, to do the right thing, just not so often they get booted out of office.

So when you hear the song, Imagine, know its lofty ideals of no wars, only peace, love and flower children will NEVER happen, and there are reasons for that, and we all need to work to improve our present systems in REALITY, vs. musical fantasy! Do your part!

P.S.: It's QUITE amazing how LITTLE actual involvement God does engage in the affairs of men, in how we organize our countries. We dream of better states of existence, down here, and there's little stopping us achieving them, yet we don't! God is NOT stopping us—we are! Our innate sinfulness is! Fix it!

Update #13: John Lennon's 'Imagined' World

(5/4/19)

Let's further work through that great song's sometimes crazy lyrics: (link: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=YkgkThdzX-8>) youtube.com/watch?v=YkgkThdzX-8 Live for today, you never plan for tomorrow (bad); No Heaven or Hell? That guarantees everyone they go to the latter, if the Bible's correct, as they never prepare for any afterlife. Even live it up, full-time (1 Cor. 15:32) then you die anyway! We can't stop that.

No countries/borders? EVERYONE would flock to a first world nation, and North Korea would only have a fat, lonely dictator. Nothing to kill or die for means we had enough assets for everyone. You can't find enough natural resources for that to work, even mining Mars! Endless supply of food metal, plastic, oil, water, wood, diamonds, gold—fantasy land, John (RIP)!

No possessions means anyone can come into your mansion and take anything in there, including it, because you don't own it. They wouldn't, because everyone would have enough, but, again, there are not enough resources for that to occur, like Mitt's "I wish everyone was rich" fantasy.

People living in peace? It's NOT lack of possessions, presently, which makes some race's members hate other race's members, and that wouldn't stop people wanting to steal another man's wife, or wife's hubby, or saying mean, insulting things, that engender hate.

In short, there's NO reason to join John in his magical mystery ride fantasy of Lucy in the Sky with Diamonds yellow submarine cruise! What you NEED to do is use your voice, vote, money and energy to make your nation more as I just described.

Socialism needs to require civic service repayment of the rich subsidizing many things, and more incentives for workers to be productive, and healthcare to be more competitive. Communism needs the people's voices heard for freedoms, and people in charge limited in capped salaries, checks and balance to their power, no authoritarian rule, and egos checked at the palace doors. I've detailed Capitalism's needs!

Brotherhood of man WON'T ever happen, because people naturally get along with some people, and not others! NOTHING John's song calls for can fix that! I enjoy the company of people who can think, and are moral, fun and interesting, and who get things done. What we like varies! We tolerate differences peacefully!

And to those who envision robots doing ALL the jobs, so humans don't have to work... 1. Rich people would own them—NOT you, so you'd have no source of income, 2. If you could vote rich people to be forced to use them for everyone, there's still limited resources. You imagine vacations, full-time, but our resources are finite!

And even if government owned all the robots, who performed every job, what would you do all day? You'd be rationed on what assets you can use, to ensure all people got enough! Your vision is not all it's cracked up to be; it's crack-pottedly full of holes and people falling through the cracks. Better is learn to have a job you love, and get paid decently for it.

The results of The Fall aren't overcome by man. We continually struggle with its effects, having to work, wear clothes, die, suffer disease, and sin. It's O.K. to try to fix problems, but you're never 'gonna overcome the effects of the Fall, fully! And the struggle continues! It's called life. Do fix problems, though!

P.S.: In many ways man is on the constant search for Heaven on earth... the best scenery, assets, quality, bank account, city to live in, etc. God hath put eternity in our hearts, but most of us fail to achieve it, for we are looking in the wrong places to find it.

Update #14: Christian Foreign Policy

Here's what's needed by our world: Every government ensures every citizen of theirs has enough to survive—shelter, clothes, food, water, and fatal disease prevention or treatment. Third world governments need their economies modernized, and dictators need to share the wealth, to be real leaders of their people!

The third world needs LESS babies birthed, unless families can afford them! They're NOT income earners for the family, enough to make up for their costs. Education and skills training are needed, and can be done for free, if they have electricity for the internet, or via generators; clean water wells dug, and water separated from sanitation.

Exploit any natural resources in your nation, and see your as assets to hire out to richer nations, if they specialize in skills they're trained in, for low wages to first and second world nations, but higher than they get now. Train citizens to live off the land, safe to health and environment, for minimum subsistence.

If government personnel can't or won't do these minimum things, the people MUST secretly organize, then protest, and eventually take over, if needed, trying to get the military on your side, but if not, sacrifices will be required (i.e., martyrs). You have the numbers! Make your government work for you! Get good politicians and laws!

Dictators have these SAME needs for their people, and the people have this same need to rid themselves of selfish, greedy bums in charge—any way possible—including martyrdom, by some. If tyrants will do good by their people, as just described, they can stay in power. If not, you've got to be deposed by the people!

G-20, NATO, The West, the U.N., and other wealthier nations can help, if economic ties can be reasonably expected, as a result, but charity only goes so far! Their investments must be worthwhile for them—NOT just you. You're desperate for their aid! Find win-win for all sides, or you remain broke and hurting!

Nations NEED to change cultural traditions of valuing strong men that are EVIL to their people! It's sinful for those closest to such thugs to support them, because you get payout/payoff. If you're in government, you MUST think about the people, as you are God's representatives! Putting yourself first is a sin! Rule righteously.

(I Tim. 6:8) At a minimum, all citizens need food, water and clothes! A place to sleep is important (cave, grass hut, whatever is minimally protective), and medical care enough to prevent them prematurely dying from disease, especially the preventable types. This is ALL government's minimum success standard! Nothing less.

Advanced aspirations would be electricity, roads, cops, laws, courts, electricity, clean water, schools, sewer systems and hospitals. You take progress one step at a time. Businesses begin as a primitive area matures, if the people want that.

Nations like North Korea, Iran, Russia and others NEED to get control of their politicians, so government works for the people. The people have the numbers, and large numbers can overtake any military, if needed, by sheer physical presence, vs. arsenals. D Day proved that.

You can't let evil, greedy and selfish people be in charge of your future, as you aren't their number one concern, though you are to God! If your life is going O.K. under such bums, you're not 'gonna join into an overthrow! It's those whose lives are so negative they'll risk life and limb for a better future for their future family members, if not themselves.

Governments MUST care that everyone does O.K.—not just some! Others WILL rebel, being ignored! The poor have no power, maybe no weapons, maybe no votes, but they have numbers. South Africa shows numbers can achieve things, though taking others' things (i.e., stealing) isn't the right way to rebel!

Many people will never give up any good thing they enjoy, so you have to have government behave rightly for all the citizens! Poor people NEED to realize that most of them will NEVER be rich. That's O.K.! They don't all have to even enter the middle class. If no one severely suffers, or dies, or goes bankrupt from inability to receive medical care, that's a MINIMUM success standard for any and all governments. Demand that, poor people!

This MAY sound like I put oneness on government to care for the poor. I do NOT. But in nations where resources and opportunities are tightly restricted by evil politicians, I AM blaming those type governments! When ALL people are free to pursue life the way they see fit, to earn a living, government has succeeded! Where elites control opportunities, they MUST change, or be ousted! #RegimeChange

The least among you is the determinant of how successful your entire nation is! How poor and struggling is the least, absent physical or mental disabilities! North Korea is Exhibit A in how NOT to run a government! I am for ALL labor camps being freed and broken up, and any remaining Gulags anywhere. NO slavery, anywhere!

No forced prostitution. No theft. No initiating wars. No land grabs from other nations. No murdering, extortion, abductions, rapes, genocide, jailing people who speak negative of government, hoarding by politicians of their nations' resources, bribery, lying politicians, tax evasion, wife beating, incest, child abuse, inhumane sweat shops, robberies, bank hold-ups, terrorism, inciting to violence, indoctrinating kids to hate others (like Jews), treating women or gays as second class, refusing to let females be educated, own assets, work, drive, or be treated as equals with males, no cutting off wrists for stealing, or stoning gays for homosexual sex, no torture, harems/polygamy, bestiality, and other sins that destroy the fabric of nations' civilized cultures.

Rogue nations' politicians need to repent! WHY should ANY nation's "leader" have all the power, or control most resources, or be exorbitantly rich, when his/her rulership is allowing severe poverty to continue? You OWE your nation, before God, to dispose of MUCH of your assets, to help others you are ignoring, and letting suffer, Putin and Un!

And Iran's religious leaders MUST repent of trying to impose any deeds on the people that are immoral or evil, even if they interpret any holy book as requiring that! The standard I've detailed for ALL nations applies to you, too, no matter if your politicians let you avoid doing so. You must repent, too!

Female mutilation is EVIL, and MUST stop, as with dishonorable, so-called honor killings! At least minimal human rights MUST exist in ALL nations. This is NOT pushing Americanism on anyone, but God's morality. If your claimed "religion" opposes that, it's not worthy of that name! God is for good, though you may not be! Do good, seek justice and peace!

To say my wealth is personal property, so the poor aren't poor because of me, depends on HOW you got your money! Even if morally, you have a moral obligation to be generous with your excess! (I Tim. 6:17-19) Selfish, greedy hoarding is RIGHTLY opposed by others, as there's only so much money to go around, selfish sinners/ones.

A judgment/punishment is coming to our world, even if some politicians have zero belief in such, or in any religious claims. Evil politicians will be God's first target, and evil rich people! You have the power to enrich everyone's lives. When you don't, you fatten yourself for a day of harvest! (Jas. 5:5) Many of you are going to Hell.

And whether anyone is going to Heaven or Hell, in this life, THIS is what God requires of your lifestyle—Mic. 6:8. God is for justice. People who aren't are evil! It's unrighteous to allow severe poverty to continue, when it's in your power to change, especially if you have way more than you'd ever need! Do right!

Update #15: Foreign Policy: Then & Now

North Korean solutions? NOT many! You have to deal with China and Russia, if you 'wanna fix Un! And they're OPPOSITE us (Communists). Their leaderships don't 'wanna be democratic, or lose an ally in Un! Un wants economic openness without relinquishing power, like China has, I'm told.

We attack Un, and missiles may hit South Korea, if we don't hit them all, or all their leaders (as in if they all gathered in one place). A reunified Korea would blend Communism and Capitalism. The people want unity—Kim doesn't. He wants his lucrative family business to continue.

You could use the E.U. and U.N., but China and Russia are America's enemies, and will oppose any move we make without them. What's in their interest in fixing North Korea? Better conditions for Un's people, without renouncing Communism. All three nations NEED democracy, but evil dictators don't give up power peacefully.

You've got to unite the world against them, but the U.S. isn't the moral leader she once was! Many people hate us, too, because we're arrogant, take more than our share of the world's resources, pollute everyone's skies, and use force to bullyingly get our way. Maybe we ought to take the log out of our eyes before trying to fix other nations' many evils! That would be a start!

Update #16: A Viable Third Party

Let me make this perfectly clear... political party means NOTHING to me—it's foolish idolatry! ONLY principles mean anything to me, so I choose the party I associate with ONLY by which one can win, to implement smart and moral (common sense) policies—PERIOD. I was called a GDI (God ___ independent) at Baylor!

The ONLY reason a politician has to pick any party is to win, as independents rarely win! There are sins in BOTH parties. I will always fight them in both parties, and praise their virtues. I am only committed to moral and smart politicians from any party! I bow to no one for any reason. You shouldn't either!

Pledged Politicians DON'T CARE which party gets more politicians voted in, if they're not smart and moral politicians. If you run for a party, you do owe them some degree of loyalty, to get wins for their members, but ONLY for their smart and moral policies—not because of party label alone!

I'm more and more convinced a centrist third party is needed, and here's why... political liberalism wants to take money from taxpayers, to offer freebies for the poor, while conservatives want mainly the rich blessed. Let me PROVE that claim...

Cons want five fed agencies ended, which means MORE unemployed people, and the environment harmed, etc. They want less regulations, which means more consumers and workers harmed. They want the minimum wage ended, so they can pay $2 a day, and open sweat shops, to compete with China. Their disdain for regs (regulations) means overtime and required work breaks irritate them, as workers aren't working, or profits are less paying time and a half!

They want the estate tax ended, so society ONLY benefits from them through taxes they always clamor to be lowered! They claim goods and services are how they do good to others, but they do that good ONLY for good enough profit—very little for free, and some of them even demean Giving Pledgers who RIGHTLY understand society's problems being fixed costs money!

Conservatism is greedy and selfish, and liberalism is wasteful and thieving. ALL THOSE TRAITS ARE SINS. Christian conservatives DECEIVE dumbed-down sheeple that anyone who doesn't take every fertilization to term is evil, and all gays are as in your face horny as in Lot's days, and TRY to convince dupes that the ONLY moral issues politics addresses are those two!

God cares that societies defend and help the poor (as His chosen people did, and first century Christians—II Cor. 8, Gal. 2:10), and JUSTICE is His overarching concern—NOT always that of conservatives! Therefore, a viable centrist, third party is the MOST biblical and reasonable, and eliminates the extremes, who alone can be blamed for division, gridlock, undoing opponent achievements, and the near Civil War strife levels we are currently experiencing in America. BOTH parties cater to extreme bases! That's SIN, and unreasonable!

This is a REAL proposal: It is unstable, irrational and bad for business that every four years businesses, tax payers and the rich have to risk losing money to crazy Dem giveaways, to get elected! NO nation can relate to us with such crazy changes, based on voter whims!

Therefore, every state should officially declare that they're red, purple or blue, and federal dollars NEVER subsidize any state. Let people whose majority wants to give handouts tax to the max; the opposite can be red, and the in-between can be purple. Make it state law, and NO state ever subsidizes any other, and only federal money for the military, and required corporate functions! I'm ALL for this, ASAP! Texas stays red.

Blue states can have Welfare, free healthcare, daycare, college, reparations, $15 minimum wage, and repeal Trump's tax cuts (businesses and the rich will FLEE!). Red states can do the opposite; Purple states do in-between, as they choose. #StatesRights No more nationalized extremes every four years, which is unstable policy!

It REALLY is time for red and purple states to make our own nation, where Confederate monuments aren't torn down, but plaques erected saying slavery was wrong and evil. Let the blue states give handouts, and bankrupt their taxpayers and businesses! It WON'T be our problem to bail them out! (6/20/19)

I guarantee you if America split into two nations, red vs. blue, with purples choosing a side, the red sides' economy would flourish, and the blue nation would have all the lazy workers, few businesses, and would come begging for us to rejoin the union! #JustDoIt! #Secede, red and purple states! (6/20/19)

(AKA, Angry Polar Bear Polar Extremists)

(2/7/19)

No comment on (unread) Green New Deal proposal, but regulations on most-polluting businesses, and incentives for developing cost-effective technology to lessen pollution is as FAR as I ever go.

Government takeover of energy emissions is NEVER a good idea! Ten years until CO2 neutral seems quite ambitious!

Income inequality is solved NOT by an unrelated green energy proposal, but fairer wage negotiations, by increased minimum wage, rise of unions, laws preventing silence on wages or requiring listing salary history. Extreme liberal ideas ONLY gen up conservatives, so Dems lose.

Businesses, on their own, will NEVER change climate pollution, without government force, for the most part, as it costs money! A voluntary honor system is a JOKE! But you also have to give them something for them to be forced to take on that negative budget impact! Extremists rile up bases, but don't help all of America!

Extremes: Ignore climate change/do nothing/status quo, or fix it immediately, no matter the impact on business, or our economy. Extremes are the enemy of America! I will NEVER be accused of supporting any biased, unbalanced or extreme policy! UNthinking feelers like them! That's NOT intelligent!

Climate change clamorers care ZERO about the costs, harm business or our economy, as they usually know little about business or economics. There are answers, but the green energy proposal is (likely-I haven't read it) NOT it! Hate business, hate your bank account and nation! Business keeps you alive, unless you're a government worker!

Our entire economy depends on U.S. businesses succeeding, which usually means rich people who own or run them! They can NEVER be allowed to do evil, and they sometimes have, but that is ZERO reason to force them to make our water and air perfectly clean, and risk bankruptcy in the process! DUMB "thinking!"

I've said this before, so it will bore me, but you identify the worst polluters, assist them in cleaning up their act by regulations enforced, and tax incentives, or fine them large enough that they can't just write it off and return to business as usual.

New technology that makes all products less polluting MUST be developed--NOT laws without the right tech to make our economy greener (forcing people and businesses to change behaviors to cave man lifestyles, since technology isn't there yet), is asinine public policy!

NO consumer decides if what they buy pollutes a lot or a little--they buy what's offered, for the price! Businesses make products! Greener manufacturers, cars, etc., are up to carbon emission capturing! ONLY in Texas is that technology existent, that I know of.

ALL pollution and emissions must be captured, and converted into energy, or able to be cleaned, as we do runoff water. That technology doesn't exist yet. Researchers need to be fully funded!

Any entity (business or individual) and structure (house, car, building, plant, et al) that has smoke, water, steam, chemicals, CO2 or other items with pollutants MUST be cleaned, captured or converted into something positive, like energy. That technology must be developed. Government can't develop it; only punish businesses that aren't doing what their technology can't allow them to.

Any regulations violations MUST be enforced, even considering stiffer penalties! Any smart business keeps status quo, if it's cost effective. Pollution fines can be written off. Regulations must be stronger for the severest cases, so it's cheaper to clean up than pay up for violation's fines!

I 100 percent oppose this Green New Deal! I just proposed a much smarter solution! Government can be a part of encouraging green tech development. Gather up all businesses in that industry, and find what they're lacking from getting it to market sooner. DON'T take over their function!

JUST like drug manufacturers eradicating diseases, group meetings to see if duplication is slowing down results, funding is inadequate, or lobbyists are thwarting progress. Goals for when to be carbon neutral are fine, but they must also be reasonable. Technology for all of America will be online in 10 years? No?

It's irresponsible to state a date by which the U.S. could be carbon neutral, if you haven't interviewed experts in green energy technology development! It's also irresponsible to set NO date! Ten years is only reasonable if the experts say it is—NOT some dreamy-eyed politicians! For ALL America sounds too short a timeframe!

And the BIGgest problem with the Green New Deal is OTHER NATIONS' pollution! WHY would you screw America's economy, if all other nations aren't doing the same to their economies? Competitive DISadvantage! Paris Climate Accords were a step in that direction, but ALL nations, or it's unfair to the good ones.

If you offer REASONABLE, measured/iterative, doable, patient, non-business profits killing proposals, you'd get more countries onboard. Offer extreme ideas, you only get rejection, and stir up the far right to all vote you out of existence, as they should! I'd even join them!

Climate change is NOT like nuclear bomb missiles in the air, aimed at America! It's a problem; man has some culpability; it's NOT good; it needs to be addressed, and the sooner the better, but this New Deal is extreme (from all the articles I've read headlines on, positive and negative).

Saying the private sector can't fix it means government takeover; that's BAD! It almost needs to be a law that you can't be a politician if you've never worked in business; charities, activism, academics, government—NOT qualified to understand T bar accounting sheets of assets and liabilities!

I'm 100 percent against all evils in business, but you live the U.S. lifestyle because of them. They're NOT the enemy of America! They're also not the Kings! Fix all their evils, as with those in government, charities and activist extremists! #CommonSense

If politicians can't understand win-win, or balance, NEVER vote for them! All of life depends on avoiding extremes! God is for justice and balance. Extremes cause divisions and problems!

I will reiterate until I'm blue in the face: If the extreme left can't find money for Chump's stupid (vs. smart) border wall, U.S. doesn't have money for "FREE" healthcare, daycare, college or this Green New Deal! Is EVERY politician trying to play Santa Claus with taxpayer's money, to get elected? We're $22 TRILLION in debt!

The market for green energy tech and economy has to be there, by swaying public opinion through activism, PSA's, etc., over time. FASTER is making green tech that's same or cheaper as brown energy (fossil fuel- and coal-based)! If you can profit off green energy, businesses will buy in. THOSE ought to be America's goals!

A government takeover of any industry usually means less efficient and worse service, as bureaucracy and moderated pace usually set in, from lower-paid employees with stable jobs (excepting the irresponsible Chump federal shutdowns)!

MOST businesses are in business for profits, so industries controlled by business usually cost more, but are more efficient and often have better service, vs. "gone postal" or "government worker" pace.

Government means taxpayer funded! Business means consumer funded. Government is ONLY to do functions businesses can't sufficiently profit from, that are necessary. The way you get business prices down is competition—NOT government competing with or taking over businesses!

Government can be run more efficiently, and with better service to the public, but people usually don't work harder or smarter without incentives, and government workers usually make less than they could be paid in the private sector. There are no free lunches in life! #Tradeoffs and priorities!

Politicians who are in it for themselves promise freebies, or government paid for improvements to society, because they get cushy jobs and perks, and, at worst, have to pay more in taxes (though greater profit from the job), while taxpayers get little to nothing off such programs, marketed to those who DON'T pay into the system. That's #UNjust!

If our environment CAN'T get cleaner by businesses profiting from it, government intervention can never harm business without also helping it in other ways!

We will NEVER have the Garden of Eden climate. Oil got us where we are... the number one nation in history. You can't slander oil because it has some negatives! Fix the negatives!

It's JUST like the Civil War solution I said would have averted it... Forcing red states to end virtually free labor would have bankrupted businesses using slaves. Extreme measures harm America! Blue states also funding their transition to paying slaves, immediately freed, would have averted American division!

Making BIG oil be punished, when it's the reason you're alive, and can use your free speech to slander it, is inane! FIX all the negatives of coal and oil, and move to green energy, but you can't force the pace to outpace tech advances (and public opinion).

I'm all for green energy. It HAS to be competitively priced with brown! It takes years if not decades for economies of scale to lessen costs of goods manufactured, as more people buy product. SAME with green energy!

My library has had electricity charging stations for more than 5 years, and I've NEVER seen anyone use them! They even get the best parking spaces. That's STUPID!; A solution in search of a problem, and getting way ahead of yourself!

Green vehicles usually cost more than gaslined ones. Only the rich can afford them. The Green New Deal trying to force me to bike to work in Texas heat, use public transportation or carpool, or forcing me to pay any more money, I'll always oppose, even if it makes money, water and air cleaner.

Innovation is how you make green energy competitive! NOT by aspiring politicians seeking to be president, who will NEVER win with such proposals, as that gens up even centrists (like me) to oppose future candidacies! NO business sense makes NO sense. #CommonSense rules the day! Regarding AOC, it seems the limelight has gone to her head!

I have one word for far leftists: Fund your own extreme government-owned solutions for your own states, but NEVER use one dime of federal dollars from other states! You're welcome to create the most fantastic dream state possible, but we the majority will never bail you out when you can't afford to pay 4 it all!

The way to get things done in America is NOT to pander to the right or left extremists, but to find what's good that they're seeking, and meet those intentions in a balanced, win-win way! If both extremes got all they wanted, America would be in Civil War, or secede into two separate nations! Polar opposites!

I FULLY understand how the game is played: Both sides cater to their bases' interests, to win primaries; then they back off if they want to get anything legislatively passed, and move to the center. I don't play games. I start with good solutions that will work from the start, and educate bases!

Update #1: Jeffress Junk (Part I)

(2/7/19)

Lies! You have a warped view of Christianity! @RobertJeffress: President @realDonaldTrump is the greatest defender of Christianity of any President in history.

Robert Jeffress and his Christian Cabal wants the legal right to NOT do God's priorities, and to force all women to term, bias America's Middle East brokering leadership possibilities, and harass gays and trans citizens, and use churches as lobbyists—tax free. This makes Chump his best boyfriend? Amazing sin!

Robert Jeffress has RESISTED calls to do the top four priorities of Christianity for FIVE YEARS, but sucks up to people who know NOTHING about our religion, and aren't even members of it. The power idolatry sin is open and laid bare for all to see!

.@FHUnscripted If you will go with me on a Sunday you're not preaching, let's take my sign (below), and protest the numb-skull, @RobertJeffress, please! AAorg2020@gmail.com if you're ever free to do so.

Government favoring Christianity over all other religions and citizens is unAmerican, unConstitutional, and unChristian, yet the local yokel, @RobertJeffress is having euphoria over that prospect. You LITERALLY are bona fide stupid if you follow him, as a Christian! NO IQ tests needed.

Trump has never evangelized one soul in his life; he can't recite three Bible verses from memory. He's NEVER behaved at all like any Bible verses you've ever read, yet the Christian Cabal praises his sin and stupidity! Robert Jeffress is an apostate hypocritical heretic, even as he can preach biblical sermons!

Bob Geoffrey the Giraffe sucked up to Gov. Rick Perry, Chump, and criticized then apologized to Romney. That high-pitched, frail-looking fraud worships human power, as he ignores true servants of God! He ignores @FHUnscripted, because he can't handle the TRUTH! Weak and effeminate boy-man!

Christian Zionism. 'CHRINO' (i.e., Christian in name only—a term borrowed from another; NOT original). That IS the Christian Cabal. A fake, self-appointed lobbyist group, favoring favoritism, when the God they barely know does NOT. I pray judgment on Mr. Jeffress, ASAP!

First Baptist Dallas' Bobbie Jeffrey was told by his predecessor, 'one day all this will be yours.' (Mt. 4:9) Church is NOT the pastor's asset! He spent MILLIONS on a building upgrade, because he cares NOTHING that people are going to Hell, where that money could have been used, in the 10/40 window. He is a FRAUD!

Robert Jeffress has said, years ago, he wanted to get FBC Dallas back to its former glory. He thinks chumming up to Chump is how... free media and "status/image" elevation. FBC HAD glory when an honorable, ethical man ran it—NOT now. W. A. Criswell would be rolling over in his grave! Anathema.

[Private account:] Like that effeminate, dollar chasing boot-licking pipsqueak Jeffress has a CLUE about what God wants/thinks! @robertjeffress @firstdallas

If Mr. Bean and Peewee Herman had a kid, it would be Robert Jeffress. Add some helium, and you'd get the same voice, like Minnie Mouse in a teenage boy's frail body!

First Baptist Dallas needs $25-28 million more for the kid's department expansion. They needed about that much for their sanctuary renovation. What they REALLY need is to REPENT! They are NOT doing God's priorities, but building earthly edifices of ego stroking their false prophet!

FBC Dallas got their pipsqueak pastor on the U.S. armed services radio. Don't tell me it doesn't pay to sell your soul to satan! Now he's fleecing fools to get that production cost paid for. I'm 'gonna try to find where the fraud lives (in awhile), so everyone knows how satan rewards his own.

It's ALL about the money, you STUPID tithe believers! You can't even see the lies or tricks, to get into your wallets for self-gain, biblically disqualifying Bobby Jeffress. He will keep you dumbed-down so you never think for yourself. It pays WELL—UNTIL Judgment Day! <https://bit.ly/2SAXZxH>

#OrdainedHimself God NEVER uses people who self-appoint, but the devil does, all the time! How First Baptist's Robert Jeffress Ordained Himself to Lead America. <https://bit.ly/2GD9kaf>
Robert Jeffress IS II Pet. and Jude Balaam false prophet material, dressed in sheep's skin biblical sermons.

I DON'T hear anything about straights' sex sins, but his love of money is obvious to all. He CONSISTENTLY rejects God's priorities for preach-and-be-paid, and cares little about men's eternal souls; mainly money and power!

We've said it before, but ministers in ministry for money are disqualified! Before 1985, that would have been almost unheard of, to have a millionaire minister! ONLY if they got an inheritance. Since that era, you saw PTL, TBN, Jim Bakker and Paul Crouch. EVERYONE wants in on the money game of preach-and-be-paid!

The Church Growth Movement was well-intentioned, but ultimately was of satan! EDBS priorities waned, the world got more sinful, and elite pastors got richer. MOST (95 percent+) ministers DON'T worship money! And not all mega pastors do! The Gospel of health and wealth added to this moral demise!

There's a professional courtesy a pastor NEVER "down-mouths" a fellow minister, so there's NO truth or accountability, because laymen and deacons DON'T do their God-ordained jobs! UNLIKE Jeffress and Falwell (who is NOT even a minister!), there are MANY good pastors!

Unlike that duo's ilk, there WERE Billy Graham, John Bisagno and Charles Ryrice. There are still professors at Dallas Seminary, and Rick Warren, Chuck Swindoll, John MacArthur, and so many more you DON'T know, because they do their God-ordained functions, and don't chase after media cameras! They can't say what I'm saying, so I'll say it for them! It would look petty, or like jealousy of them; But it's TRUE!

I was once interviewed for a top 10-sized American church Evangelism Minister job, and I jokingly asked if they wanted to build a Six Flags on their campus? The second in command said 'that's not a bad idea.' That is biblical ANATHEMA! Worldly ambitions, all in Jesus' name (falsely used), because of the heretical book, Lifestyle Evangelism, by Aldrich (from the mid 1980's, again), which sanctioned doing anything, and calling it evangelism, if it's not sinful.

POOR eternally Hell-bound souls who never hear John 3:16, because these false prophets have arisen, as the Bible said they would, who value money over God's EDBS priorities. They'll claim they do EDBS, but that's B.S., as God never commanded dabbling in His interests, but fully absorbing yourself in them, by thorough practice. U.S. heretics exist!

NO pastor is perfect. Detecting idolatry isn't easy, when they preach biblical sermons. Even detecting unbiblical sermons is nearly impossible if you're the product of them, as most laymen hardly know their Bibles. The U.S. church has become sole practitioner business entities, with NO accountability.

In the seminal/role model generation, elders and apostles kept pastors on the right path! There were NO church building programs, guaranteed salaries, tithing ploys, preach-and-be-paid church-as-a-business practices. Pastors were holy and sincere, as the majority are today.

But God said false wolves will creep in, unaware (i.e., undetected). They have crept in! They know the right words to say, the right P.R. moves to make themselves look like leaders, and how to draw a crowd. Jesus drew crowds in a holy way. They imitate business to draw customers!

Church is BIG business, to which Jesus will again turn the tables, in judgment! Their ilk don't fear that, as they have made Heaven on earth for themselves! 'Heavenly-minded' means the OPPOSITE to them as it does to you—they think they are to be living in Heaven on earth, with gold streets, Mercedes/Rolls Royce's, NOW!

They are false prophets, but laymen don't care, if they'll overlook their lifestyles by check box religion of go to church, sing and tithing! It's a scratch my back mutuality of sin! You overlook my Luke warmth and I'll overlook your false prophetism! It pays the bills for us BOTH, in Laodicea. ASK pastor John Piper! HE will tell you the way it is.

First generation churches ensured all churches survived. Today we legally sheep steal, by secularizing church with amenities and "draws/attractions," and advertising. The small- and medium- sized pastor/church gets rolled over by BIG box, and NO ONE says anything about it, as U.S. Capitalism trumps Christianity!

Sample test the average U.S. Christian! They haven't evangelized THREE people in 2018, had a personal Bible study more than 30 times in 2018, and have NO ministry—just attend church and Sunday School. PROVE ME WRONG! NO ONE cares, because our church has amenities, and salaries are paid for! #Laodicea! Anathema.

Robert Jeffress is a suck-up brown-noser, yes man, soul-selling power worshipper. IF I wanted to serve satan, for wealth, I'd use my Bible knowledge to head a mega church. But with my values, many wouldn't hire me, as I insist on doing church God's way: EDBS priorities! They'd say, 'you're fired!'

LITERALLY, at Second Baptist Houston, when I insisted every staffer had to do evangelism, on a job interview as Evangelism Minister, they called and said they had a "hiring freeze!," when my jeweler customer right behind their campus said they were raking in $1 million a week. LIARS! #Sin

I've said this before, too (and I RARELY repeat anything): MOST pastors do what other pastors do, church practice wise! They do NOT read what the Bible says they are to do, but look at peers, and historic tradition. There's a comfort there, but it's the calm before the hurricane. God said what church is!

Does anyone see extremists opposing centrism, like Jeffress on the right, and AOC on the left? The extremists are seeking to get their causes to the forefront. Extremists are O.K. to get attention to under-addressed issues, but are NO way to run a nation! They're polar opposite. That leads to conflict! Duh

Update #2: Extremists (Part I)

(2/7/19)

Hurt/punish business, or praise and worship business. THESE are extremist options. Green energy without brown, or brown without green. HOW FOOLISH extremists usually are! They do NOT think through their ideas, or care about the nation as a whole; just ban or allow all abortions. Extremism sin!

It's SAD this argument has to be made, but there are many dumb and emotional people in America. Trump destructively took the GOP far right!; he RUINED good things they stood for! Many libs/leftists HATE that so much they want to do the exact same thing in an opposite direction! Get revenge! Ruin Dems!

Is it REALLY rocket science to understand that extremes ONLY lead to gridlock or undoing opponent achievements? CHUMP uses the over-ask method of "negotiating," where when you don't get what you ask for, you get what you really wanted, because you ask for extremes, knowing you won't get them.

Pledgers give EVERYONE something they want, if it's GOOD for America! On any issue, extremes are evil! Green energy at the harm of oil, or oil at the harm of green energy, as Chump does. Lower taxes too low (as Chump did) or raise them too high. The answer to BAD things Chump has done is to FIX the bad elements—NOT do the opposite of him!

Things that are plain WRONG get NO consideration, like riling up white supremacists/racists. In that attitude, they have NOTHING good to be considered! Same with white haters, or gay haters, or Christian haters, or women haters, or men haters! You have BAD ideas, you get disregarded!

Pledgers are NOT compromising to GOP's or Dems. They are NOT opposing Dems or GOP's. They don't seek peace for getting along reasons, but because the right answers allow all of America to get anything good they're for! That CAN'T happen if polar opposite things are desired, save on a state level!
#CommonSense

STABLE government policy is VALUABLE! Laws that don't change, because they're good from the start. YOU might love the drama of politics, but governing and legislation need stability. Extremes do NOT provide that, and never can. Extremists CAN'T see holistic needs or answers; they are blind and narrow-minded.

Update #3: Jeffress Junk (Part II)

He is NOT an evangelist! He has resisted doing complete nearby evangelism for FIVE years and counting. He's a pastor. He NEEDS to do the work of an evangelist, but he chooses not to. [Private account:] @roberjeffress is a perfect example of a feckless evangelist.

.@FHunscripted Sir: I don't care one iota about politics, compared to Christianity! Bring Maxine Waters with you—we need to protest Bob Jeffress' church, for the harm he's doing to our great religion. I won't mention one thing about politics, and I'm not trying to get on your good side!

.@FHunscripted Jeffress has ignored your call to meet with him, and ignored my many calls well before then, to do full evangelism (and to debate me on theology or politics). Come protest his church, please! If I say one thing about politics, I'll leave you hanging, and take myself out of the protest.

Update #4: Extremists (Part II)

(2/7/19)

RIDICULOUS proposals! Airplanes are progress, and lazy, dependent people unwilling to work get NOTHING (II Th. 3:10)! Green New Deal: Ocasio-Cortez aims to make air travel obsolete, aid those 'unwilling' to work <https://fxn.ws/2MSFU8U>

Punish success. #EMBARRASSING! Empower the poor; don't steal for them! #Extremists! Elizabeth Warren's 'wealth tax' faces constitutional questions <https://fxn.ws/2SexSxb>

We undoubtedly need to reverse the damage of climate change. The Today Show reported the past 5 years were the hottest, and that exacerbates hurricane intensity, and that days of torrential rains rose by a whopping amount. We can fix it, but using a sledgehammer to kill a fly is the wrong way!

Let's be honest: NOTHING is getting done to reverse climate change, because not enough people care, or think it a big problem! Al Gore has been banging the gong for decades, but falling on deaf ears. A convincing case of the dangers hasn't been made, though success on proving it exists! It's 'gotta hit home!

You make people's A/C bill increase, end their ski resorts, you might get more climate change concern! Polar bears and penguins are a BAD sell! People are selfish. They don't care about things thousands of miles away. You've 'gotta hit their pocketbooks and personal lives. And you 'gotta have workable solutions!

Saying airplanes are evil, and ought to be extinct, or you'll fund people unwilling to work is a ludicrous proposal! I have ZERO association with any bad ideas, or people who hold to them.

Update #5: Jeffress Junk (Part III)

(2/8/19)

(I Cor. 4:8-16) NO ONE could EVER claim pastors adhering to the preach-and-be-paid ministry model are ANYTHING like they are supposed to be! Here, Paul tells even carnal lay people, "be imitators of me" (v. 16), and he worked with his own hands (v. 12), and out-worked EVERY American pastor!

Power as a close walk with Christ's evidence (through humility)—NOT words. (I Cor. 4:19-20)
Here is EXACTLY how Christians should be treating power and media idolater Robert Jeffress (I Cor. 5:9-11), but you KNOW no one will obey God's will in this matter! WE don't devalue idolatry like God does, even among money worshippers, and others we exalt as heroes!

Here's EXACTLY how Christians should be treating so-called Christian and immoral Trump (I Cor. 5:9-11), but you KNOW no one will obey God's will in this matter! WE don't devalue fake Christian posers for self and votes, or immorality like God does, even among money worshippers and others we exalt as heroes!

But "we're all sinners," says heretic Robert Jeffress, AS IF we all sin like this, routinely...
#ChristianValues!?! [Private account:]

Here's how evil pastors, like Jeffress, would respond... Let him who is without sin cast the first stone (Jn. 8:7), which MOST of YOU would accept, but NO ONE is stoning anyone, and I just gave you the verse that specifically applies to Christians associating with Chump! I'll also add I Cor. 15:33. People often ABUSE the Bible!

Can you NOW see how important it is to accurately interpret the Bible (II Tim. 2:15), and for Christians to know it for themselves (II Tim. 3:16-17), which MOST do not, which is why Jeffress gets away with his fraudulent schemes, keeping anyone who listens to his idiotic political opinions dumbed-down? (II Cor. 2:11)

Unity to lies, false doctrine and political bias and errant extremes is NOT biblical unity, @RobertJeffress I challenge you to a public debate on ANY Bible priority matter or any political issue from God's perspective! AAorg2020@gmail, or I can bring my signs again to you, if you'd like?
(11/12/18)

I challenge you to a public debate on Christian theology or politics, anytime, anywhere! @RobertJeffress
#ChristianCabal (2/4/19)

(I Cor. 2:14-16) Non-carnal Christians are to discern all things! Robert Jeffress can't even discern that the fake baby Christian he praises is NOT what he's supposed to be doing. READ MORE BIBLE, and stay away from FoxNews more! One benefits you; one deludes your FLESH, "sir!" (Mt. 4:40 You aren't "living!"

24-year olds know the Bible better than many in the Christian Cabal!!! Pastor James MacDonald UNDERSTOOD what the Bible taught about Chump (I Cor. 5:11) #GoodPastor! [Private account:] One last thought, it's sad when a 24 year old who studies the Bible in his free time understands it better than the people/pastors who made/endorsed this film. #TheTrumpProphecy

I know how this ilk (ab-) uses the Bible to "argue" their case—I've dealt with them for three decades!
Next, Jeffress would say, 'you're unforgiving,' and use the Bill Clinton line, 'move on.' Has Chump repented of all this?: <https://bit.ly/2j1YEOf> NO ONE would say he has! Also, he said it was NOT an act, and he would NOT change being who he was; now he is, because being himself is killing him. Flip-flop, lies and hypocrisy!

Geoffrey the Giraffe Jeffress would then say, 'you're acting holier-than-thou, or being a legalist.' I'm pointing out the TRUTH—a commodity often missing in Bob's worldview concerning Chump! And to be a legalist, by applying what God says applies?

He preached a sermon last week... choose repentance over guilt. #MereWords! He lets Chump off the hook, by letting two years pass! That's NOT biblical folks, but stars in your eyes blind you to the Good Book! Power idolatry for one who sold his soul!

John the REAL Baptist rebuked a grossly sinning politician, but the Christian Cabal coddles, praises, finds needles in a haystack of good to tout, and sucks up vs. rebukes. OPPOSITE of Jesus! (Mk. 6:1-18)
Again, they GET AWAY WITH IT because laymen DON'T know their Bibles, but rely on pastors as gurus!

The woman at the well was NOWHERE depicted as a Christian—even a baby one, years after already claiming to be one! The Cabal has FLIPPED from him as self-professed Christian, to baby Christian, to Cyrus, to whatever the latest fad is, seeing if anything will stick. That's NOT conviction, but opportunism! Hypocrisy is a sin!

And now Chump is JEREMIAH, of all people, because he wants to build a wall, said Jeffress, this week.
JEREMIAH! We are QUICKLY approaching blasphemy sin! THAT IS the Christian Cabal, folks. Sin-to-win! They NEED de-programming from their Devil-deluded cult. I predict it will NOT happen! #Sin!

See how there's SO MUCH more in the "boring" Bible than you ever saw before? You have to have your senses trained by the good word of God, to be able to handle meat, unlike the Corinthian church! (Heb. 5-
6) Senses trained, as a spiritual man discerns all things, but is appraised by none! (I Cor. 2:14-15)

Update #6: Extremists on Poverty & Immigration

(2/12/19)

HERE's how the poor pull themselves out of their pit: Better skills and motivation, better buying skills, DIY, band together/unionize/organize, be for controlled immigration (as you're hurt the WORST by more competition!), learn to budget, only have kids you can afford, live with family members under one roof, etc.! #Solutions

The poor can work overtime, second jobs, utilize the many social services America's safety net provides. I don't even own a smart phone. DON'T try to pry a dime of taxes out of me when you own one, and claim to be too poor to pay your bills! #Choices #tradeoffs #Priorities I haven't spent over $50 for shoes in 20 years!

The poor can organize buyers co-ops, to leverage buying power. Dig a garden (Ex.: DIY). Dual income families are essential/required! Once the poor in America have addressed everything they can to make it on what they make, and used all social services, you can talk about voting for freebies! NOT before. That's immoral, and theft!

The OAC type extreme left liberal Democrats would NEVER win independents, NO GOP's, and could lose moderate and conservative Democrats! The ONLY people onboard with such radical ideas would be NON- taxpayers. Anyone would take something for free! That's almost human nature, but it's IRresponsible politicking! Sin-to-win! I OPPOSE that, 100 percent!

The rich DONT need any government policy—they are doing just FINE, financially! The Middle class need some, on tax relief (as Chump favored the rich), and the poor need a minimum wage increase, and have remaining Obamacare/Trumpcare (needing fixing), but also have Welfare. As to government programs, they don't need (vs. want) more, except better skills training in public schools.

Politicians will tout "free" daycare, healthcare, college, but REALITY is they will NOT be able to deliver! NO taxpayer wants BIGger government, or more handouts, off their tax contribution, or they'd send it in gratuitously. Those politicians want government jobs for themselves. I want solutions for the poor in those three areas! Even family members can care take, in some cases; taxpayers don't owe you.

Ask NOT what any politicians can do for you (because they can't do it on their own, anyway, and selfishness will be the death knell of America). Ask what you can do to make America better (by your vote and volunteerism)! JFK's spirit is ALWAYS the right one to hold, as even as the years go by!

Beto's 'let them in' open borders/end ICE, and Chump's keep them out policies are BOTH polar, stupid extremes! We allow in who our economy needs in; even among refugees, we take our fair share—no more and no less, and none who use social services beyond immediate needs, so they become employed! DUH.

The VERY people who are for open borders, 1. Want it for more votes, as they're UNable to convince a majority in America to their radical Socialist ideas otherwise, so bring in poor people who will vote for 'freebies! 2. Care NOTHING about the U.S.'s poor people, as MORE low wage competition HARMS them, and they're actually AMERICANS!

Legitimate refugees America has almost always been for helping, but with the mass influx of illegals, you assess need according to reality/circumstances, NOT overriding values of caring for refugees! You can help them in their country of origin, but our economy determines who we need, and therefore who we allow in!

America cannot accommodate everyone who wants in! We've built a GREAT place—the best in the world—NO wonder so many people flock here. It's NOT our duty to our country to ruin that by overpopulating and using up our space and natural resources by DUMP policies, like 'let them all in'/open borders FOOLishness!

The U.N. and world-at-large needs to help struggling nations end their problems which cause people to flee to America in the first place! If you cross the U.S.-Mexico border illegally, you are a law-breaker, no matter your motive—pure or otherwise! That's NOT a good way to start a lifestyle as a law-abiding U.S. citizen! EVERY nation has a right to decide who they let in!

Walls are NOT innately immoral, but turning away the needy for no reason IS, like the two men in the Good Samaritan parable, who turned a blind eye and walked away. The U.S. border needs technology to identify every border breach, and immediately secure and send them back to be processed legally! Allow NO illegal break-ins!

Lasers, GPS, AWACS, sensors, cameras, sonar, sirens ALL can detect illegals as they law-break. Then quick response teams confiscate them by boat, truck, ATV or helicopter, and force them into the back of the line for LEGAL processing. And make it faster and cheaper for poor people whose skills our economy needs!

Anyone can claim to be a refugee, by learning U.S. laws, and claiming to fit within them, to seek asylum! Every nation must take their fair share—no more, no less! Even Mexico has NO duty to house them all—simply due to geographical proximity! Why does their national budget have to be taxed? FINE the nation of origin!

Temporary asylum in America is another solution no one is speaking of. Prop up governments, cops and the military in nations who can't control cartels and criminals, so refugees don't happen, apart from natural disasters! Illegal immigration IS an invasion, without assimilation. Gov. Jindal's rhyme was 100 percent true (UNlike Johnny Cochran's rhyme, as gloves shrink when blood dries and fingers are stretched to the max).

All humans are equals, but NOT all people have a right to be in the U.S.A.! Every nation has people born there, and to move somewhere else you need PERMISSION! That is NOT racist, that's how you run a country! America is a melting pot, but sometimes our cup (or pot) runneth over, at which point you DON'T add more ingredients!

Many moons ago I started plans to be a Minuteman at the Mexico border, for a week, during our vacation. Something came up and it wasn't possible, or a good idea (guns involved, if I recall). When you live in a border state, you know illegal immigration is a problem. When you don't, you care MUCH less! That's rude!

There is NO problem with anyone from any nation coming to America, if they're not terrorists or criminals, or destitutely seeking to live off our safety net! Nationality is no object. However, you must be able to secure a job, and NOT take one from any American who wants it! GWB had it RIGHT! End of line processing status for illegals.

My twins' part-time 'nanny' spent FIVE YEARS rarely seeing her HUSBAND, and they spent THOUSANDS of dollars to get him here, legally! NO ONE of any descent who is decent can tell me one who swims across the Rio Grande is as deserving of U.S. citizenship! Make your own nation great! Get in the back of our legal line!

I'm 100 percent for DACA allowing citizenship, as kids are innocents when their parents illegally enter the U.S.A.! WHAT are dependents to do, when their parents leave their country of origin? Why would you punish kids for doing what's natural—following the bread winners and caretakers? I'm NOT for anchor baby policies, to thwart/manipulate U.S. law's intentions!

Caravans 'coming to America' try to force their way in, by sheer numbers. You have NO more legitimate claim to enter as an individual as through gang tackling our border capabilities! Follow the rules, accept the decision we impose, and have a back-up plan B, as not everyone is 'gonna be allowed in! Deal with it!

I 100 percent oppose amnesty, as that is rewarding wrongdoing! Businesses LIKE illegal immigration, for cheap labor! Dems like potential voters. WE THE PEOPLE, citizens of America must rise up to say ONLY let in who our economy needs! More than that, YOUR wages and job opportunities LESSEN! Economics 101!

Beto argues America's the richest nation, so we can take in more illegals. It's an ACHIEVEMENT to be that/rich, and that doesn't mean we 'wanna pay for other governments' FAILures to create a sustainable, decent economy! Just because you're rich doesn't mean you owe people NOT your family or employees anything. Mercy and charity are NOT justice!

Liberals want the rich's money via government/laws! They believe being rich is evil. They think everyone should be paid the same, or the poor over-paid for their skills. That's immoral, unjust and stupid! The rich DO owe a MORAL burden to society, but ONLY owe the tax bracket percent their income falls within!

DJT evilly blessed the rich with his over tax cut! His policies often favor the rich. That's evil. But wanting to tax millionaires for being millionaires is punishing business and financial success, and is a ludicrous proposal! Make tax brackets fair, then enforce them 100 percent! Ten percent of a little isn't the same pain/sacrifice as 10 percent of a lot!

The rich and businesses are where the money is, but you have to have a legitimate reason to confiscate any excess/overage—not just because you want to, can, or it could be used better. Unless they're bank robbers, they earned it, and it is private property! The poor need solutions, but mainly not from government programs!

A recent report found that governments giving guaranteed free money DIDN'T decrease unemployment. Everyone who can work must work. If absolutely no jobs exist, government would have to provide jobs, off the rich's taxes, because people have to live/survive. But we're NOWHERE near needing Zuckerberg's guaranteed job proposal! We have plenty of jobs!

The public needs to clamor for more millionaires to implement the Giving Pledge, as with existing signors. You do NOT need all that excess! I have NO problem taxing the rich more than other classes, as we already do, but with tax loopholes, it doesn't always happen. END every loophole; pay your percent!

Update #7: Poor's Solutions—Moral vs. Immoral (Part I) (AKA, Pandering Politicians!)

(2/13/19)

Everyone should be for justice, and I'm 100 percent for a living wage to all whose work quality deserves/earns it! Business shouldn't over- or under-pay anyone. I'm also 100 percent for government being used to rid business of all evil tricks it does, including THIS report of how you get paid what you deserve (<https://bit.ly/2S0XEjf>) if YOU take the initiative—NOT employers willing and waiting to pay their best workers more, but how you communicate your value to the company, and learning how to negotiate!

And no one should get any monetary help from government if they're unwilling to work, or any if they haven't, first, maximized what they already earn—NOT spent on luxuries but necessities! You do NOT deserve a certain level of lifestyle just because you were born, and live in the U.S.A.

A minimum standard for all is needed (i.e., food, clothes and shelter), but that's about it. Those unable to work are the only ones who need not, but there's a lot of abuse in that Social Security disability system! It's NOT noble, but human nature that many folk are lazy, or will take things for free, if offered.

LIFE—not just Capitalism—requires mankind to work for a living. Unless you win the lotto, or receive a huge inheritance, there are no exceptions. Government can't bail you out of that obligation, nor should you EVER seek it, via politicians, to lessen that burden, but government MUST ensure JUSTICE between employer-worker relations!

It's NOT government's job to make your life comfy/comfortable; only to ensure no severe suffering in poverty. Government is here to produce justice and punish evil! (Rom. 13:4) There needs to be a SERIOUS moral revival, where rich people DO their God-given OBLIGATION to society (i.e., give back, I Tim. 6:17-19), and churches, individuals, families, businesses and charities do what so many today clamor for government to do! Compulsory civic service, streamlined/prioritized government, taxpayers paying their full bracket percent and the Giving Pledge are four good ways to achieve this.

It is EVIL to reward evil, like rewarding law-breakers with amnesty, and evil to seek poor immigrants for Dem votes, by offering freebies taxpayers fund, to lure them here to vote corrupt politicians into power! It's also EVIL to try to retain white privilege by keeping all aliens out, 'except from Norway' 9Cgump's recommendation).

NEVER be deceived, this border wall debate is about the makeup of future voters! WHAT type nationality is more likely to vote D or R? Skilled and educated vs. unskilled and less educated. Politicians in D.C. don't have the gonads to say it this way, but it's ABSOLUTELY true!

Beto saying 'let them in' is a RIDICULOUS open borders policy! Let Beto pay the difference between how low U.S. wages fall with a glut of employees, and fund the social services of people he invites in! THAT's the problem! Irresponsible, sin-full evil and immoral politicians USE people for self-gain, in the name of being merciful and generous with Other People's Money!

I could care less who migrates or is a refugee. I care if our economy needs you. And I care if refugee housing is fairly distributed among nations! It is NOT evil that America is the richest nation, but it also obliges us to a greater responsibility than others! (Lk. 12:48) We must lead, but NOT be dumped on, like NATO paying their fair share.

The least-skilled and educated poor MUST be empowered by government programs (namely public schools), or retraining for older folk. They NEED job skills, negotiating training and communicating their value to employers, dress for success, resume and job search skills, interviewing, motivation, hygiene (if needed), and courts MUST be used to enforce EEOC rules against racial discrimination in employment, including lie detectors as some degree of evidence, because employers' H.R. personnel ROUTINELY memorize sanitized answers that NEVER state REAL reasons people are not hired, if being honest could cause a lawsuit! Employees can NEVER know, absent threat of lawsuit that reveals the true motives/reasons!

Any politician who offers bribes for votes, in the form of OPM paid for "freebies" is desperate and immoral, even if that's a political party belief and value! HERE is the TRICK: Politicians pander to their base, with ridiculous dream-state proposals, KNOWING they'll NOT occur, but also knowing their base isn't smart enough to figure it out! I believe both bases actually are smart enough, they just want low taxes or freebies, as everyone wants more money in life!

Government is NOT a cash cow ATM machine for tax cuts or handouts! YOU are responsible for your own life, financially! Government and others can help, in severe poverty cases, but for anyone to look to government is an admission of FAILURE to do your duty to yourself and family, before God (excepting 100 percent mental or physical disability).

Business does MANY things to force wages downward! Employees and workers FAR out-number them. USE the force/leverage of our size to bring justice in wages for everyone deserving... red and yellow, black and white, red, female, LGBTQ-everyone.

Conservatism's individualism emphasis DIScourages our organizing for power to balance elites, the rich and business owners' power of the pocketbook to hire and fire! White collars would NEVER unionize, but in many cases that's a disservice to your own wages! If you're NOT uniquely talented, skilled, or able to negotiate or communicate your value to a company, your going solo works in the employer's financial favor!

Businesses with excess NEED to give back to society. Businesses differ! Some are generous and some are greedy (the two G's). Society needs to pressure social engagement by ALL businesses not struggling, and organized boycotts and buycotts could reward the good ones and punish the others.

People power! There's power in numbers of dollars, consumers or voters! Organize! Sophisticated, smart, fair unions NEED to rise, for the working person! And don't force everyone to join them! And don't get so political you force members to only vote for one party. And don't seek undeserved wages, or you lose again (as unions did with globalization)!

NO severe suffering from poverty ought to exist in America. Beyond that, government/taxpayers owe NO ONE anything! And NEVER produce a kid you can't afford! They are NOT employees, but an expense (as are pets)! The poor need to be the best-educated consumers. Government needs to help with that! It will in @Pledgers2020.

The rich are not sugar daddies to the poor, via Dems. There are selfish and philanthropic rich. Society MUST distinguish the two, and make the former do their fair share. Tax rates MUST be fair, and fully enforced. Beyond that, generosity is a personal choice—NO government action needed!

Publicly OUT selfish millionaires and billionaires. Identify and shame them! Use social media and the media. Anyone who is a billionaire OUGHT to have already signed and started to implement the Giving Pledge! You know the names in the news, but you don't know their charity contribution percents, and 1040's are kept secret. Shame them.

And NO rich person would be wise to hand out money to individuals—even street corner beggars! Fund things that make the poor self-sustaining. Education and motivation for better skills in the areas I mentioned earlier. Empowerment! Rid 'bad' areas of town of depressing influences, like dilapidation, violent gangs, poor-performing and/or unsafe schools, single moms NOT getting help or child support from the seed donor, unjust prison sentences keeping many males (i.e., dads and sons) out of those communities, rehab and job training in jail, drug dealers pushed out of the hoods and barrios, as with pimps, ideally—and crime!

MORE police presence, MORE after-school programs (like the YMCA, Boy's Club and community centers), but for more than just sports... life training and job skills development, and academic/education motivation and tutoring. NO child left behind, or falling through any cracks. #NoCracksOrCrack Role model mentors buddying up to inspire youth with no father (and others). NO poor kids getting lesser quality education than the rich! Paying teachers enough bonus to make teaching there worth it! Identifying ALL academic strugglers, and giving them all the tools they need to succeed! Fairness requires they get MORE attention to make results POSITIVE for all graduates.

Blue collar training for those NOT geared for college! Junior colleges available in every community—online—so college is within reach, for all academically-qualified, despite economic shortfalls! Anyone who EVER says I'm NOT for the poor, because I oppose handouts, is a lying fool!

For poor people, you can buy at dollar stores, Aldi, grow a garden, use triple coupons, make a co-op for buying power, chase sales, buy on EBay and Amazon, use the library for your computer, and public transportation (vs. owning a car), or a scooter (I saw a homeless guy on a scooter at a homeless shelter!), live with many family members under one roof.

There are MANY things you can do to have a better life off the wages you earn, as dual income parents (or single mothers). Our three political books give as many details as I know, absent constant new ones on the NBC Today Show. LEARN, and don't seek for freebies/handouts!

Government ALREADY offers section 8, food stamps, and many other Welfare programs. You are NOT incapable (unless on S.S. disability). You need to choose smart, and never be lazy! It's VERY doable! If you lived as I have the past 11 years, you'd see seeking handouts is weak, and often evil, when you're not maxed out!

You likely have expenditures that were NOT the best deal/value, like the smart phone and service you use. I don't! You have ZERO right to beg taxpayers through pandering politicians to subsidize you when you aren't maxed out in your own abilities, even if it's legal and possible.

The rich's excess doesn't belong to you! You MAY have untapped talents! A DUMB TV ad says we're all equally talented. Balderdash! But what you have, God has enabled you with to be able to earn your way through life! It's always been that way, since the days of Adam! (Gen. 3:19) What you earn is what you live on!

Society can aid in severe temporary down times, but NOT medium- to long-term. You're living above your means. That irresponsible decision is NOT the fault of taxpayers forcing you to so choose! Any politician who abandons these truths to bait your vote, for self-gain, by promising freebies, is immorally corrupt and selfishly ambitious! (Jas. 3:14)

The REAL issue is do politicians REALLY want to solve your poverty challenge, or get your vote? Do they support sustainability of humans, or just of ecology? Are they for empowerment or entitlement? THAT's the DIFFERENCE between good vs. evil politicians, poor people who vote! Vote accordingly (Ecc. 5:7).

And for any who would allege I'm against the rich, I've ONLY ever said pay your fair share in taxes, and don't do evil to society or employees! I've also advised on how to have a better business, new products/innovation, and our coming political campaign will consult you for FREE! Accusations that can't be proved are futile and fool's gold!

America is competition, but life is NOT a game. There are no winners and losers, but people who do better, needing to ensure no one severely suffers! As Styx said, America spells competition (The Grand Illusion). You can take competition too far, as an idol of greed!

The HILARIOUS thing in life is employees demanding cost of living increases, when business profits and government revenues must also keep up with rising costs! Money doesn't grow on trees! I wish all profits were fully publicly exposed, so we'd see which owners are Scrooging their employees!

How you revitalize poor neighborhoods: Schools focus on the strugglers; mentors fill in for missing dads; gang lures get allayed by other extra-curriculars and increased police presence; trips to nice neighborhoods inspire dreams; school counselors advise on best careers for individuals' skills. (6/1/19)

Churches and charities help clean up landscapes and paint structures, if not repair broken appliances. Government programs educate on budgeting, smart buying, job search, skills training (as in school), and employers get matched with qualified job candidates. Businesses won't invest where there can be little profit! (6/1/19)

Update #8: Hernan (Her Nanny State) Cortez vs. Capitalism

SNL depicted Ocasio-Cortez as rational and researched last evening. That was a dis-service to America! She is FAR from proffering rational solutions to our challenges! Her answer for everything is handouts! If she were ever in charge, the rich would leave, and everyone's government checks would end.

Businesses would leave, jobs would leave, automation would take every job, a revolt among all taxpayers would occur (myself included within it). She advocates for NO personal responsibility! Why even work, under her Socialism? Government can pay for my life! Government is taxpayers who WORK!

If Socialism is EVER on the national agenda as something being foisted on America, they will lose all GOP votes, most independents (like me), and even moderate, thinking Democrats. Cortez wants businesses and anyone with any bank balance to pay everyone else what they don't earn at work! Freebies. NEVER!

The poor deserve a reasonable minimum wage. They already have Welfare. That's all you can expect from others who aren't your family or employer, via taxes! You've got to earn more by being worth more in your job skills! You need unions to negotiate better wages, as doing it on your own hasn't netted you much!

"Free" healthcare, daycare, paid family leave, college, green new deal—EVERY one of these costs billions. WHO pays for it? NOT people with no excess! Sin-filled politicians promise other people's money as freebies, to get elected! Pay your own damn bills. I have enough of them myself. Quit believing lying politician fools!

And add in reparations for American Indians, then let's all get high, so we can REALLY be unproductive, as we lazily sit on our government-supplied couches eating government issued bon bons. THIS is the extreme left liberal Democrat candidates, so far! NO clue about economics! FAILED Eco 101!

The rich DO owe more in taxes. They DO often cheat the system. Chump DID over benefit them with tax relief. They DO use tricks to pay less than their fair share. ALL billionaires SHOULD implement the Giving Pledge, and every rich person SHOULD pay a higher tax percent than others.

But Socialism is NOT America, has NOT made America what she is—the envy of the world; businesses are NOT innately evil, and not every rich person got that way by screwing others. This is the foolish nonsense "thinking" of the far left, who believe America is immoral from stealing the country from Indians and Mexico, then building it into the greatest nation ONLY off slaves' backs.

We DID do wrong to Indians, but they've been offered millions, and turned it down because they wanted the land we took. Wars are evil, but that was CENTURIES ago! Slavery was, too! Equal opportunity for all is the answer—NOT money from taxpayers, especially since we did NOT enslave anyone, steal anyone's land, or slaughter Indians.

Cortez is against white people, it seems, and thinks every white person is a white supremacist. She couldn't be further from the truth! She wrongly thinks everyone for Capitalism is against minorities, or wants whites favored (i.e., 'privileged'). If anyone has ever read one word I've written, she is so far from the truth!

Settlers built America, as did slaves. It was NOT people in other nations that made America what it is, excepting the ones who came here as immigrants! Now other nations want all the perks we built, by entering here as if they have a God-given right, because their own nations can't get their economic ducks in a row.

Follow our example! It's NOT America's duty to feed and fund the world! We enjoy a high lifestyle because we're innovative, we think smart, are competitive and work hard. We deserve the fruits of our labors, and no one has a right to what we produce. If we are merciful, they'll benefit from our excess.

Go create your own excess! Nothing is stopping you but you! America has been around less time than most nations. LEARN what we did right, and imitate our success. You can't steal it from us! I warned 5+ years ago that Dems wanted illegal immigration for votes.

Cortez is Capitalizing on the infiltration attitude of populating and trespassing enough people to force people who work to pay for others' lifestyles! This is EVIL, and I'll not only fight it, I will always support its defeat!

Proof:

'Undocumented' is NOT a synonym for 'illegal.' You have NO documents because it's ILLEGAL for you to be here, because you broke our laws to get here; you're NOT just missing papers. (10/24/14)

Gingrich wanted to eliminate the minimum wage. Do you think business is kind, and would pay you MORE? You'd be a fool to believe that. They WANT illegal labor! (11/11/14)

Dems are PRO law-breaking illegals so can UN-justly gain voters, and rip off tax payers with more social services' DRAIN. Both parties have corruption! (11/13/14)

NO illegal should be gifted with citizenship, but go to the END OF THE LINE on a path, and CLOSE THE BORDERS NOW! YOU DON'T REWARD bad behavior. #CommonSense (11/27/14)

@GOP: Don't deport illegals (except criminals or terrorists), and ONLY let in people our economy NEEDS thereafter (AFTER closing our borders)! (12/9/14)

For votes, Dems want amnesty for illegals (hurting our working class), and the GOP outsources jobs (hurting our working class). PRAY for the U.S. working class! (12/9/14)

MANY people are needed by business at minimum wage jobs, forever. You can move up, but those jobs need filling. Hence, business likes illegals' cheap wages. (12/13/14)

Business doesn't oppose illegals even if they cost jobs and social services because they get cheap labor. That's an UN-patriotic business is ONLY for profits philosophy. (12/13/14)

Big business is for profits at ALL costs, even outsourcing the last U.S. job. UNLESS 'We the people' fight that. NO WONDER they're pro illegals' amnesty-CHEAP labor! (12/14/14)

Big business supported OVER-outsourcing to hurt Dems (i.e., unions), but Dems got more voters from those workers hurt in the Rust belt, too. (12/15/14)

REWARD bad behavior so big business can get cheap ILLEGAL labor by ~amnesty, so U.S. workers lose their job, or are lower paid? NO! @GOP is wrong here, too! (12/19/14)

Fine illegals already here, and make a payment plan for all past-due taxes, then back of line on a path to citizenship. DON'T REWARD breaking into our nation! (2/9/15)

It would be UN-fair to have turned a blind eye to 12M illegals, then start deporting them after they've adjusted their life here! #Immigration (1/22/15)

Pope Francis: QUIT volunteering U.S. money to help people illegally break into our country, and lower wages and use services without our consent; use your money! (2/7/15)

Cortez is trying to gen up votes from the (likely small) percent of minorities who don't want to work hard. Many of all races want to work hard, but all want (and deserve) to be paid fair! Freebies and handouts are never the right way. Any subsidies tokenly repaid by compulsory civic service! NO free lunches.

If Ocasio-Cortez's or Berine's Socialism took effect, the GOP would un-do it soon thereafter, gridlock would block its implementation, businesses would fully robotize/automate, layoffs and unemployment would skyrocket, many rich would leave and shut down their business' U.S. presence, and America would go bankrupt!

No one owes you anything, just for being born; cold, hard reality. You earn what you get in this life! If you earn too little, you're living too high or your skills are too low. These are simply FACTS we often accuse Trumpsters of hating, but extremists on BOTH sides of the aisle aren't known for the highest IQ's!

You NEVER incentivize the poor to work harder and develop better skills if you hand out GIMMIES! You're promoting LAZINESS (a sin), Democrats. Ocasio-Cortez's extremism would cause a Chump landslide, if it became mainstream.

ANYONE who sucks up to or supports evil politicians who promise the moon, paid for by others, hasn't the b-lls to go up to a working person who pays taxes and rob them, or ask for a handout, but hides behind liberal politicians to do their dirty work for them. Cowardice sin! (II Th. 3:10)

The OPPOSITE of Ocasio-Cortez is equally evil! The rich hoard, keep all excess just for their family, never help anyone, end Welfare and the minimum wage, and relish in the poor remaining poor, as they profit off paying them peanuts. Extremes are evil. The ONLY exception may be Rev. 3:15, but even Ecc. 7:16 curbs that allegation.

Update #9: Slum Success

Just as U.S. churches often started to get greedy between 1985-1995, so did U.S. big business, where literally everything was analyzed for how to save money, or make more—to the Nth degree. Savings and loan scandal, mergers and acquisitions trend impacted mega church mania, automation, streamlining, outsourcing and globalization, shifting the burden of insurance onto employees, contract labor (to avoid benefits), BOTH parties allowed illegals, for votes and cheap labor, and business broke up the unions.

THE WORKER GOT SCREWED, especially in the Rust Belt. ‘Average Joe’s’ CAN’T rely on business to self-police to be fair to them! It’s NOT in their interest to be fair, or care about employees’ needs, if they can claim the wage is what the market will bear! That’s why GOVERNMENT is essential in helping the little man—NOT favoring business! Every action since the 1950’s has been to help business profits, from dual income families, ending pensions, etc.!

WHAT does that mean, in specifics? Handouts? NO! Any and every freebie ought to require token civic service repayment! But government DOES have a legitimate role in ensuring fairness, as they represent us all—NOT just elites. Increased minimum wage makes sense, as the economy’s doing better, so the rich are doing better, but government is for all—not just the elites. (Levit. 19:15) Memorize that mantra!

NOT ending the estate tax is also their job, as society has SO many needs, and so few dollars ($22T debt, and rising), and the ONLY people with any money to spare are the rich, and, like Warren Buffett says, they benefitted from America—it’s only right that they give back! Jesus agrees! (1 Tim. 6:17-19) Lk. 12:48).

LOOK at the attitude Jesus COMMENDED: (Lk. 19:8) A rich guy who got there by graft and theft was repentantly willing to pay restitution up to 50 percent of his wealth. Most rich people haven’t gotten so by theft or evil, but when you have way more than you’ll ever need, and with a virtually finite money supply, MOST DID get rich off the backs of paying peanuts, by the same measures I just detailed (layoffs, automation, robotics included).

HOW do you live the lifestyle of the rich and famous as you see people struggling to make ends meet, and only average one percent charity giving, when the non-rich average three percent? GREED and SELFISHNESS SINS is how! Repent! God sees your sinfulness! You hide in limos, behind gated communities, and hang with your own kind, NEVER going to the poor parts, like the movie, Trading Places, or my recent trip through poor parts of Taos, Amarillo, Abilene and Lubbock.

EVERY trip, we invariably make some minor wrong turn, and when we find ourselves in the "bad" part of town (a BAD term, as those people aren’t bad!), I tell my kids, this is how the other half lives, and the majority of America...be grateful, and no wonder they vote Democrat!

God as my witness I’ve said this a proverbial 'million' times to my kids, as my mom always said: ‘nice place to visit, but I wouldn’t ‘wanna live there,’ and too many times I’ve also added, ‘I don’t know how they can live like that—I’d be suicidally depressed’ (which I absolutely would).

It’s poverty! Run-down, old structures and vehicles, disheveled yards and pot-holed streets. Bungalos, and homeless and often junk not in the trunk of trucks but yards! Businesses right next door, sometimes used car part junk yards.

Liquor stores, dilapidated gas stations, FEW grocery stores, as you can’t profit there, much! MLK is often the main street, no matter the town, or Cesar Chavez (even in East Plano, where I visited). Why? Often "minorities" (another BAD term live there, and we Americans often expect them to be poor. My brethren, these things ought not be this way! (James 3:10)

That's why they often argue 'white privilege!' Why are whites expected to be rich, or you've failed your family legacy? College education, or you're a loser? Why are minorities often in low-rent districts? HISTORY, if not prejudice! Slaves were mainly black. That race in America got the opposite of a head start in the race for the American dream (i.e., money)! And America was founded mainly by whites, so Latino types came later, through immigration—legal or otherwise. BOTH black and brown started late, and now demand equality, as they are human equals. Often they'll vote for politicians who will give them freebies, reparations, and screw the richer majority, white, business owner class. They think that's justice.

Let me tell you what ALL poorer people need (yes, whites can be poor... visit local trailer park!): Excellent education, college (where the IQ allows), EQUAL hiring opportunities (vs. covert racist prejudice in hiring), smart buying skills, buying co-ops, budgeting skills, increased minimum wage, motivation, connections, etc.)

I've listed the needs before. Conservatives ALWAYS tout the Ben Carson's, who made it out. WHAT ABOUT THOSE WHO HAVEN'T? God cares about them! Government needs to, too! And it is us all and tax payers!

Businesses hire the best skills for the least price. You would too! That means the ones with lesser skills get less, obviously! And with MORE good skills imported, and cheap labor breaking past our national no trespassing signs (border), you, the average American, are being squeezed on both ends by business decisions!

NO WONDER you're upset with rich people, and government allowing this horrible situation! But the answer is NOT to vote in things that CAN'T work, like thinking freebies from Santa Claus exist, in a fantasy land where money grows on trees, just because some politician schmuck says they'll give it to you!

Gridlock will stop it! You get all the aspects of Welfare, already! You need unions to fight for you, politicians who are for not ending the estate tax, not favoring the rich, making them pay their fair share with NO tax loopholes, increased minimum wage, opposing ending regulations that keep you safe when you buy/consume, or work! I'm for all those things.

And our education system CAN'T let anyone fail, unless their DNA simply disallows quality learning, in which case they'll soak up the most menial jobs, by necessity. NO MORE illegal labor our economy needs, if any American wants the job! NO free flow outsourcing of good jobs, without any consideration of U.S. labor force needs (though some will continue). No more BAD trade deals, like that which BOTH sides allowed, that destroyed the middle class, via over-outsourcing and over-immigration (not outsourcing and immigration themselves, but overage).

I've said these things for well over four years, here, even before Chump, who had full access to our info, before he ran, via sources I detail in a free website book. My ONLY point is that the majority will NEVER get "GOOD" jobs! A friend once told me the economy is a pyramid, with the best jobs on the top.

WHO wants to give up that lifestyle? FEW-to-none! So liberals try to ruin it as "unfair" (vs. unrighteous), by huge taxes and voting in freebies! Conservatives always say the U.S. poor are better off than anywhere else, to excuse zero concern for bettering their lives, but God's commands to care for the poor don't change.

We all must help them ALL have a better life, mainly by education, training, motivation and enforcing nondiscrimination laws! Someone1 with any jail time record has a HARD time being employed!

Employers 'wanna hire who they want, and NEVER consider that if all of them only share that mindset, many get left behind!

Government HAS to pick up that slack, by jobs and programs! Some business people are O.K. with that, if it's cheaper than hiring them. That means the ones most hurt by business and government policies will be paid near peanuts, absent charities and churches and benevolent souls, like Giving Pledge implementers.

You very poor Americans: I start a national campaign June 19th. I'll meet with as many of you as humanly possible between then and March 2020, to TEACH you specifics on how to live higher for lower. I've had to learn these skills the past 11 years, writing 11 books for no pay. You can do it—I have! BUT, you have to know how!

Schools don't teach you that, often. Businesses don't teach you that, or they'd make less money off you. Businesses have little incentive investing in your communities, as there's no "disposable income." You WILL be screwed by life if you don't fight back, but NOT by voting for freebies, but standing up for yourself, and choosing wisely!

I learned over our Taos trip that Habitat for Humanity doesn't give free houses. I had planned to meet poor people there, but now I'll have to find new gathering places. Please get the word out that I'll be coming to your communities, and if time doesn't allow that, I'll make my chapter teaching you How to Live Large and Pay Puny available FREE on our website 'Books Update' button!

You can read it FREE at your local library. You need help with rent decisions, transportation, smart phones, clothes, car buying and maintaining, and many other purchasing decisions. For the time being, consider these: Car auctions or used cars, scooters, public transportation (which is often expensive, homeless people in Dallas told me), carpools, bike, get cars repaired in the poorest areas (if quality is good), live in houses with many family members, demand a cop presence in the poorer areas you live in, avoid gangs and drugs (focus on education), utilize charities and all government programs, improve your skills, vote for people limiting who comes here (so your competition is less), and who are for increased minimum wage, not ending the estate tax, are for the Giving Pledge, not favoring the rich, and for limited job outsourcing.

These, and many other things I'd like to teach you can make your life better. America needs to quit celebrating the kid who escapes poverty for the NBA or a rap career, and start focusing on the others who do not! Quit touting Ben Carson types, to the neglect of all others, just saying 'you can do it, too.' HELP them all get NOT to Ben's status (FEW can be doctors, and we don't need that many docs), but escape poverty!

Rush Limbaugh analogizes it to worms escaping the can. He celebrates not living in a sardine can, but MOST people do. DO the high and mighty care? Why not? Because they're NOT LIKE JESUS, if they don't.

POOR people: Use Redfin to buy a home (one percent commission vs. three percent). Know that slumlords have laws they must obey, concerning safe and healthy living quarters. If you have leaks, rats, dangerous conditions, REPORT THEM to the authorities, maybe anonymously! Buy a tiny house ($30K and up, or "manufactured" home).

If you live in public housing, DEMAND it be up to code, and meets all laws and regulations for your safety and healthy living! Organize a group of mothers (maybe some pa's) to report all criminal activity, and arrange things for kids to do to avoid gang influences. Work with churches and charities and Boys Clubs and government sports facilities (rec centers).

Get your kids in extra-curricular activities. Have a mentoring program, and take bus tours of better areas of town so your kids can dream, so they can set goals and be motivated! TV is NOT enough! Real life inspires. MAKE rich people know you exist, peacefully! NOT by protests at city hall, but somewhere near rich areas, so they notice; you usually live so far away from them! NOT to scare, or make them worry they'll be stolen from, but you can't just be a statistic, or a TV interviewee—you have to go to them, as they LOVE staying away from where you live, and living like you don't.

Moms (often single): Volunteer PTA at school, though you work long hours. Have your older kids do so if you can't. Invest in your public school's success! GOOD teachers may need extra pay, for the dangers, but equal graduating and grade results are the ONLY acceptable outcome, unless one has a learning disability.

No one falls through the cracks, or falls into crack! Drug dealers pushed to one area, where transactions happen in the light of day, under cop observation without ticketing, so no one rips off another drug dealer by poor quality stuff or stealing, so murderers in retaliation don't occur. And I'm NOT for legalizing that, but it's 'gonna happen, and I watch First 48 enough to know that many murders occur due to drug transactions gone bad!

NO MORE black-on-black violence (HIGH statistics)! That's your own kind! A fellow human being. I understand your environment may be very depressing, but don't give up on life, or the value of life in others! Kill a human, they NEVER come back!

Gang members need better job opportunities, but until they do, if ever, they've got to do so safely, and not have turf wars! Share the wealth opportunities, vs. violence to protect your business. You ALL have to survive in the hoods, ghettos and barrios! NOT just a few doing great, as other do horribly. Band together to care for one another.

You're O.K. doing O.K., but don't try to hog the business on your block, wearing gold chains to flaunt a useless lifestyle of selfishness that ends in Hell! There R solutions; MANY more!

At worst, I'm 'gonna open a Facebook Live or Periscope or email campaign to poor areas, to solve your many challenges in bulk/en masse. I can NEVER individually teach people, but collectively, I want to do so to all America's poor. I'm open to suggestions on how. The solutions exist. I can dream them up, if not research them.

You ALL need access to what I find, likely added to my FREE website, as I find them ('Books update' button), likely a chapter entitled 'Poverty Solutions.' Keep the faith, keep hope alive, help is coming, the cavalry is on its way. God cares about you, and so do I, and so should ALL who name His name!

Police presence MUST never abuse citizens, but their being there KEEPS crime at bay—deterrence! When the cat's away the mice will play. We can't let citizens be the law/take the law into their own hands, or violence will escalate! Street justice is NOT the answer, but maybe more people of color in law enforcement? #Solutions

Cops on the beat. Community policing. MORE confidential informants, and NOT seeing them as rats and narcs, but HELPING keep you safe! At one time, age 21 was some statistic many black males were happy to and expecting to live to, and not much more. #Tears SERIOUSLY? YOU ACCEPT dying at 21? #Tears Amazing! 21? You're JUST getting started in life! 21? #Tears

"You have what you tolerate"/accept—you accept homeless, prostitutes, violent gangs, few grocery stores, low wages, bad schools, physically falling apart, hopelessness, dads abandoning kids as glorified players who never pay child support?

You tolerate the rich getting richer as your wages stay stagnant and low? You tolerate the rich paying the same percent as their secretaries? WHY? You have what you tolerate. You tolerate celebrities representing you, when you benefit NOTHING from such things as the first black president, when you weren't elevated by his great reign unless and until your life improves?

QUIT living vicariously by the people who escape poverty! Start demanding you all get out, by policies that actually change your circumstances for the better! NOT freebies, but REAL opportunities... not mere words of such! NO kid left behind. No job discrimination. No being treated as second class. No disrespect because you're poor, or one color or another! Human equals. Demand it! You have what you tolerate.

Jesus said we will always have poverty. I'm NOT saying it will end, but it must get better for its victims. MOST people born in America aren't 'gonna move to another nation, where they know no one, and don't speak the language! Living in a third world country is NOT an option for America's poor; we've got to fix U.S.A.!

Here's NATURE: The rich dominate the best areas of America. Location, location, Location. Everyone else gets less. Old homes in central locations get bought out and razed for McMansions. Cheaper land is always spreading further rural. That's the poor's lot! Cheap property is always 'gonna be where the rich aren't.

So a geographical separation is common sense. RARE are poor hoods right next door to rich ones for long. Property taxes ensure that! Can't afford to pay them, so you move on. NOTHING sinful about that, but the poor need a habitable environment that doesn't uproot them every decade or so, as rich people expand! Permanence. Roots.

It's NOT helpful to subsidize them living where they can't afford the standard of living, via section 8. That money should make their permanent area of town BETTER! Individually, people LOVE 'moving on up' off subsidies, but it's a mirage. You've got to live within your means, and your means need to increase, as you lessen expenses, by better buying and chasing Madison Avenue images less! Reality! Deal with the real! Repair some homes; let Fixer Upper do a work in the wards, to showcase what could be! Clean up home landscapes. Looks have an effect on your emotions!

I literally was shocked seeing this ancient building (on the left) on a day trip. SEEING the architecture on the right is clearly more inspiring!

Poor people need to SEE better future opportunities. Visit them, start to see seedling evidence around them, that their communities are not getting run down, but are resurrecting/reviving. Businesses CAN'T profit from that, unless customers make 'mo money!

I interviewed several homeless people last year. They can't get ahead without ~$1,000 for food, shelter, clothes and transportation to a JOB that's often NOT right around the corner. NO WONDER they turn to alcohol and drugs, as an escape. Make their areas of town a place you don't have to escape! Fix the problems!

Sean Hannity said healthcare costs get solved by health savings accounts. That means FUND YOUR OWN huge medical bills! That is of NO help, as when they (i.e., conservatives) say save and invest. POOR PEOPLE ARE POOR, Sean. By definition they have no excess to save or invest. Embarrassing selfish response-lip service!

Update #10: Living Large, Paying Puny

(Adapted from our book, Dumb as a Donkey, Fat as an Elephant)

No one likes to see anyone living in severe poverty or hunger, especially innocent children! So for all of them, I offer these helpful tips to lessen their expenses to stretch their dollars even further, as increasing job skills through further training takes time, but bills do not delay needing paying.

First, ensure you take full advantage of all charity, church and government programs to help you. They're there for the taking, so take advantage of them, but don't abuse them.

Second, make it your goal to become self-sustaining in X amount of time, either through overtime, an additional part-time job, lessening expenses or enhancing your earning potential through retraining.

Let's deal with the biggies: On homes, you don't have to own, but if you do, Redfin charges only 1 percent to use their realty services; if you can put enough down for a down payment, you can avoid PMI charges (private mortgage insurance); if you can pay your mortgage every 4 weeks, or one extra payment a year, you can reduce a 30-year mortgage to around 23 years. Consider what many families (especially from other countries) do—have mom and dad, grandma and granddad, and any others you can tolerate live with you, to share expenses and maybe even daycare chores. If you have the space, you could rent out a room, or if you're young, have roommates. Ultimately, if you're single, you can live in a cracker box (otherwise known as an efficiency apartment), especially in the less expensive parts of town, and stay out on the town a lot of the time (like when we book cheap hotels and mainly sleep there).

On transportation, I once met a Dallas homeless man who used electronic scooters to get to work, and said even public transportation can be expensive. If you can befriend a friend in the business, car auctions are a cheap way to get a car. People from Mexico often haul two of them behind their best vehicle, driving south through Texas. Used cars can show Car Fax reports of their wreck and owner history, and always have a mechanic inspect it before you buy, as you can't trust sellers to be honest—they are incentivized to put their best foot forward. Carpooling and ride sharing are also ways to reduce this expense.

Clothes-wise, women seem better at mixing and matching, but you do not have to be a fashionista—just cover your birthday suit in public, so dress for success, but no need for those duds to be the latest and greatest! Goodwill and even garage sales or especially fancy neighborhood estate sales are a great source of wardrobe accessorising!

Food-wise, being a coupon expert, searching free websites on Google, are an excellent way to reduce costs, as is buying in bulk at Sam's Club, Wal-Mart, Aldi and Dollar Tree (I did not say Dollar General or Family General). Growing your own garden is also a great DIY (do-it-yourself) solution to reducing your grocery bill!

Health insurance is an excellent quality racket, as far as you are concerned, because very few medical personnel are incentivized to reduce costs to patients, when insurance companies set rates below which they won't be repaid. Try to stay in the best shape you can, and buy catastrophic insurance for worst-case scenarios. There are charitable clinics, and less expensive medical care venues (my wife worked for one in Katy, TX), who care about your plight.

Generally, always shop around! The people who say you burn up any savings driving around are usually over-charging you and know when certain items are out of season, for cheaper costs. And get your car repaired at reputable places in less respectable areas of town. It can save you thousands, over the years—if they know what they're doing. Why should you pay for fancy overhead? Just get 'er dun, and fix what's wrong!

Finally, concerning college expenses, students can rent books at rates cheaper than buying, or share a copy with peers, scan pages in their phones, or even borrow professor's extra copies (as my son has done). But the BIG elephant in the room is the tuition costs and room and board. I highly recommend you doing what I did—junior college the first 2 years, a study abroad summer in a poorer nation, and utilizing every rule the school lists in their policy manual, to pay full price for the least number of credit hours humanly possible. I did that at Baylor, and a staff lady told my son she wanted to meet me, because that first of its kind approximate ½ to 2/3rds cost of regular parent payments impressed her. It was pulling teeth to eventually get 3 college deans to agree with this lawyer that I was rightly applying their own rules, but we now have the sheep skin to prove it can be done. Have your kid do well in community college, or their transfer may not be as successful in its end result institution.

For more, practical tips on almost all expenses you will ever incur, please read our chapter, Living large, paying Puny, in our book, Dumb as a Donkey, Fat as an Elephant, hopefully freely available at your local public library (as are their computers), soon.

Update #11: Parties, Race & Poverty

There are rich minorities, and poor whites, but I asked my sons the other day, to get them to think, why are "black and brown" minorities usually more poor than whites in America? A heretical book, The Bell Curve, tried to blame it on I.Q. History plays a part, as with discrimination, education deficiencies in schools, family and environments, discouragement living in poor areas, white privilege, good 'ol boy networking connections for better jobs, laziness, in some cases (i.e., academically, or work effort), and tradition, meaning that's how it's been for DECADES.

It's a problem, and selfish vs. selfless whites just tout "equal opportunity"—NEVER addressing unequal RESULTS, which are ALL that matter. Whites, historically, have most of the best jobs, and that's power. They don't want to lose, or give that up, but pass it down to their heirs! A South African uprising could occur, one day! Helter Skelter in reverse, if the problem's NOT fixed.

I'm ONLY speaking equally qualified—NOT preferential treatment based on skin color! But with colleges costing so much, again, the financial advantage is hard to overcome, to make it equal. Whites LIKE the status quo! Others don't. Justice is replaced by selfishness! Sin gets embraced.

I'm 'gonna pretend I'm a politician: For Dems, you promise reparations, affirmative action freebies and handouts—anything others will pay for—not those whose votes you suck up for!

FREE college, clean air and water, daycare, healthcare, family leave. Why not a house, car, bills paid?
#EMBARRASSING sinful politicians!

For GOP's, promise lower taxes, less government, strong law and order and military (as they protect your stuff and life), and less regulations. Tout ending five federal agencies, the estate tax, minimum wage—EVERYTHING to bless business and the rich. Sick, sinful politicians! A corrupt system and corrupt extremes! Judge us, Lord, with the Tribulation!

These aspirations are polar opposites! They both hurt our debt, by giving back taxes with money we OWE, and handing out handouts with money we DON'T HAVE! Dems treat the rich like they need to be punished. GOP's treat them like heroes. Two extremes of FOOLS! Damn FOOLS. We are FOOLS!

Policy-wise, the GOP doesn't give one damn about the poor. They just want charities to help them. Dems don't care one damn about the fact the rich earned their excess... just punish them. The "thinking" in U.S. politics DOESN'T EXIST! Knee jerk emotionalism of jerks reigns! #TRUTH

Dems want the poor to be gifted into the middle class, by GOP tax dollars. YES, I said GOP tax dollars. Many Dems pay taxes, if they're middle class or above, but ~50 percent pay nothing, and they're mainly Dems! Generalizations aren't untrue because they're generalizations! Minor exceptions exist.

GOP's want the poor further punished! End the estate tax, so society has LESS money to help people with. End minimum wage, so business can pay them less. NO tax money used for college subsidizing, so whites can buy college degrees, and others can't afford the ever-escalating costs!

Import labor, to compete with the U.S. poor, and turn a blind eye to illegals for 30 years, for cheap labor, to screw the U.S. poor.

Give tax rebates to the rich, so government has LESS money to use to help anyone. Dream up everyone on Welfare is a welfare queen. Call all poor people lazy. It sears your EVIL conscience! Stereotypes as fake facts!

And automate all entry level jobs so they have less jobs available. Never invest business in their area of town, like grocers, because you can't profit where you can squeeze blood from a turnip. Have EVIL people like Mark Levin claim Giving pledgers are 'self-loathing,' because the love of money sin is worshipped!

Claim it's morally better to help poor people via charity, vs. by force (i.e., taxes), then have one percent income giving, when average Joe's average is three percent.

Update #12: Race & Immigration

Liberal strategy for decades⁺ has been to allow in immigrants from nations NOT used to successful Capitalism, to vote for stealing natural-born Americans' money, by voting for handouts. The GOP MUST ensure more people benefit from Capitalism, or they will lose to Socialistic handouts, or a violent conflict by perhaps 2032.

Liberals CAN'T plan these things, but the more people move to low tax states, the more demographics shift purple! That's why Texas is less red than historically so! Blame that directly on governors Perry and Abbott inviting the world here. It can KILL our red culture, legally! You've got to sell its benefits to newcomers.

Trump saying the U.S. needs to immigrate from Sweden and Norway was saying more white people! It's NOT about skin color, but attitude toward Capitalism, and U.S. Capitalism cleaning up its warts and blemishes. If not, only the rich want it, and they NEVER have the numbers! You've got to benefit more Americans, or go Socialist!

I have literally heard Americans say the older generation will die off, and youthful ideals will reign, like the Green New Deal and Socialism. Older Americans MUST instill the virtues of Capitalism, and the evils of Socialism, and it has to personally benefit voters, or they will go Socialist! The U.S. education system is NOT good enough to teach students to care that OPM (other people's money) runs out!

It's human nature to accept freebies, and unscrupulous politicians promise them to get cushy jobs for themselves, even if their promises never pan out. The GOP must articulate an improved Capitalism where elites don't enjoy all the fun! Duh 101.

Update #13: Birds of a Feather

La Raza was a strategy to reclaim former Mexican territory, through legal and illegal immigration, then voting. For ANY American to oppose such tactics, when the war is over and was won, is NOT racist, but defending our land from a subtle invasion against our national interests!

Now that people are waking up to politicians using immigration (legal or illegal) to change American Capitalism, often to Socialism, American patriots are racist to say so? Simply pointing out FACTS taboo to say. Evil prevails if good people remain silent!

I have NEVER in my life considered that I'm a member of a political group based on race. I just happen to be white. It makes me no less or no more skilled or valuable than any other person. At the same time, MOST U.S. advances HAPPEN TO have come by whites, significantly because they were here in large numbers!

I am SURE some whites in America feel intimidated facing becoming a minority by 2045. With four college degrees, I do not, but I can see how it could intimidate some, if they're honest about how minorities in America have been wrongly treated in many cases, over the years.

The violent KKK is as evil as violent black activist hate groups. Even nonviolent members in either racial extreme who hate the other color are evil! There's NO reason to hate based on color. Actions are another matter, from any pigment color against any other!

White privilege supporters cry 'reverse discrimination' when historic wrongs against blacks get somewhat rectified. If anyone of any color wants to be hired, or accepted into colleges, be the best you can be, and accept what happens, good or bad, as a result! Never give up!

The more liberals imply minorities want more handouts, the more THEY reinforce stereotypes that those citizens are incompetent to make a living for themselves. There are so many examples which prove that untrue! NEVER buy into stereotypes! PROVE them to be wrong.

JUST because I have an 'R' by my name, I've now been accused of being a racist, bigot, white supremacist, rich, minority hating old religious nut. Stereotypes exist because they're easier than thinking, and testing individual's character, following MLK's guidance!

It was a Chinese-American who first educated me that some people think birds of a feather flock together, 8 years ago. We played basketball, and he thought it unusual for my boys and I to play with them, regularly. I then analyzed how they associate. Even my Indian next door neighbor said they live in the same neighborhoods, on purpose. It's true, in RichWoods, Frisco, TX.

I don't begrudge them! A college friend said church is the MOST segregated hour in America. I told him if that's true, it's free-willed vs. forced. That doesn't mean anyone hates anyone else! Comfort zones? Habit? Area of town? #Racism MYTHS

Let's address assimilation... Understanding our history, loving our country, knowing and obeying our driving rules and learning English are essential. Some come here for economic reasons, NOT citizenship, which is O.K. if we need your labor. Trying to fundamentally change America is traitorous, like Socialism. (6/5/19)

Just because America has all immigrants (excepting native Indians) does NOT mean our nation's resources can handle letting any and all immigrants in! People come here because AMERICANS made it so great. The nation belongs to Americans! Others have no claims; foreigners, by definition! (7/6/19)

The other day, talk jock Mark Davis said America is made up of all immigrants but NOT illegal ones. He needed to add people who settled and built America, and their descendants, have MUCH more claim than foreigners! #Settlers tamed the wild west and virgin territory—NOT people born abroad this century! (7/6/19)

Update #14: Freebies For Freeloaders

SOME people have to have one plus one explained to them, several times over: When you pay ZERO in taxes, morally, you have NO SAY in how government spends tax money! Legally, you do, but it's sinful for you to get off scot free, and vote to use OPM (other people's money) to fund your freebies and dreams/luxuries. #Sinners

IF all non-tax payers were forced to do between 10-40 hours a year, in civic service, their voting for government to do things that cost money wouldn't rile up conservatives and centrists as much! You MUST have skin in the game, or you are a freeloader. Mitt Romney implied laziness. I call it unpatriotic and sin-full! Sponging.

We NEED to demystify the concept of "government" doing this or that. The feds are humans/public servants, who do jobs they get paid for from tax payer funds. If you are not a tax payer, you are NOT contributing to the effective functioning of our mutual government.

If you can't afford to, do civic service. Sweat equity—time and energy (vs. treasure) is a LEGITIMATE substitute for tax paying, when you're so poor you need government assistance. And NO person—especially the rich—should EVER pay less than their tax bracket (including businesses), using any loopholes or tricks. No one likes paying taxes, but you have to! It's your duty.

I KNOW three tax cheats, and I've attempted to turn all three of them in, because they are forcing ME to pay more, and I don't let any schmuck force bills on me because they're cheats. They happen to all be white, and are probably all political conservatives. They WILL be busted, even if we're acquaintances.

ALL black market workers rip off tax payers. One tried to hire my son, for his work ethic, and was scared when he learned I was a lawyer, who asked how he'd file his tax returns. He paid cash under the table, and his sorry A - - WILL be reported to the IRS. I only let one son work for him for two hours, to scope him out.

Welfare is the BIG problem in American politics, for conservatives. Code word, 'wealth redistribution.' WHY should any tax payer be forced to help someone else pay their bills, when tax payers have to pay their own bills without anyone's help? That IS a problem, you must admit, if you're honest, vs. biasedly sinning!

Because Welfare is stereotypically and inaccurately attached to mainly blacks

https://www.huffpost.com/entry/americans-welfare-perceptions-survey_n_5a7880cde4b0d3df1d13f60b?guce_referrer=aHR0cHM6Ly93d3cuZ29vZ2x1LmNvbS8&guce_referrer_sig=AQAAAMRxx5XYxiv_6dV1kdf5XEeqvxMrdfq98DhBd5IW-tApuB0AYKgFevNbt6-W9d9ayP6OJwGXtc76iVXnqxhAqJPfKHkx4HOYxJxKLXIf2Je09Z930723fdsoal9NpF9sShvpcjyma5

JofPFt957PdD4r3IOGYoaGGrPbEPU2pOq%20huffpost.com/entry/american,&guccounter=2, let's discuss the problems and solutions with this program.

If you can't live within your means, because you spend too much, or don't earn enough, WHY is that tax payers' problem? You need discipline, and education! We ALL prefer to have nicer stuff, and housing. SO WHAT? Work for it!

If you're mentally or physically unable, Social Security disability is there (which I know for certain gets misused). ALL fraud, waste and abuse of Welfare MUST end immediately, as with any incentives to have more kids, to get more money!

And forced civic service, for TEMPORARY Welfare, is needed, post haste. Welfare MUST be a MINIMAL help, only to prevent severe suffering, but also an empowerment program to get all its recipients off of it, ASAP, and into a self-sustaining lifestyle, with a better job and better job skills! NO long-term recipients, and NEVER anyone able to survive off it very long, and certainly NOT comfortably.

Welfare should ONLY supplement work wages, until better ones can be acquired, through training, and ONLY be to ensure no severe suffering ($3K a year, maximum, if one is working). Nearly no one begrudges our government helping strugglers get by; most everyone begrudges our government doing MORE than that. And conservatives will ask, why taxes? The money required to avoid severe suffering is unstable and not the same amount by charity as by Welfare. That's why!

I lost a BFF over this issue, as I'm for this type of extremely limited "wealth redistribution." Charitable donations are random and sporadic, but strugglers' needs aren't—they're consistent.

And finally, a word on Welfarers of all colors. You now live in a globalized world. You compete with $2 a day Chinese sweat shop workers. You're FORTUNATE to be in America, where minimum wage laws exist! They're ALL you'll EVER get if your skills, hustle or education don't improve! Get a second job, or get better skills, and learn to buy smarter, and to live within a budget.

You have ZERO excuse to hide behind unmarked debit cards that used to SHAME you for stealing OPM to live by! You should be temporarily helped, but medium-term, you are sponging! We don't even force you to pay taxes! In some cases, the government even PAYS YOU for taxes you never paid, by "earned income credit," and child deduction tax schemes. That's unethical stealing, though you DO need help! Churches, charities, individuals and businesses are NOT permanent fixes, nor Welfare, but YOU are!

America runs on Dunkin'? America runs on minimum wage retail! If EVERY American got free college and healthcare, we'd have educated ditch diggers (a waste of an UN-needed education), and everyone would milk the system to get every test known to man done concerning their health!

NO middle or upper income American should EVER be forced into Medicare, by liberals! They can afford today's quality, and they shouldn't receive lesser, because some can't afford any healthcare. Healthcare and college ARE over-priced, and I am for forcing them to charge reasonable rates for the poorest, but moochers who don't improve themselves to not need public aid are enemies of the people!

Jesus was for helping the poor, but NOT for poor who are lazy, or unwilling to work, and it's morally irresponsible to need help for very long—at maximum, the length of time it takes you to get better skills or a better or second job!

And if you have any luxuries, you're ROBBING tax payers to have them subsidize/fund your unneeded expenses.

That's true if you ever spend anything you didn't need to. They're doing you a merciful service. You should be THANKFUL—not entitled, and be embarrassed if you don't get off public aid, ASAP! They're NOT your family or employer, and we have our own bills to pay!

Update #15: Hand-Ups Or Hand-Outs?

Years ago, talk radio host Rick Roberts said you shouldn't be allowed to vote if you're not a taxpayer. That will NEVER happen, but it's 100 percent logical. With no skin in the game, people often get a rent car mentality toward Other People's Money! U.S. taxpayers will revolt, if Socialism continues, and I'll be one of them!

IF you want government to solve problems, using tax dollars, send in your free-willed gift to the IRS! Voting for other people to pay for things you want is sinful and immoral. I know few people care, like that's a problem, but God will judge all sin; He cares, so you should. #Sin

VOTING for freebies is an open admission that you are a failure at work, budgeting, or both—getting Uncle Sam to go to bat for you because you don't deserve a raise or promotion. #WEAKness! Admit your failures, and repent.

The EVIL white men stole land and enslaved blacks narrative is ruling D.C. Dems, today. NOT that religious ex-Brits fought for freedom, built the greatest, most generous nation, and offered Indians settlements and freed slaves who were sinfully bound by a minority of Americans, CENTURIES ago.

With all this talk of reparations, it's time to implement a common sense plan. Government has NO money! Our debt must be reduced, and taxes made fair. That means compulsory civic service for all who aren't in public service already! And any who pay no taxes will pay in extra civic service! Equal pain, according to what one has.

Here's EXACTLY what is prescribed... Name every American who Trump would call a 'loser,' economically, discover why they're failing or struggling, and fix it. If they're students, schools allow no one to fall through the cracks. It may be a mentor, tutoring, after-school programs, gang dispute resolution, more cops.

Test them for what natural talents they have, and make/force them to take actions that make pursuit of those skills marketable! Government, business, charities and individuals doing civic service (compelled) ensure their lives get on the right track, and their neighborhoods are safe, and their parent(s) buy smart, so they have food to eat, and don't do drugs or get in gangs, or engage crime.

If they're not students, make them get a GED, or if they NEED college, get them the cheap loans to afford junior college (an Associate's degree, to start). If they're adults on minimum wage, force them into training to get better skills or education!

If they're unmotivated, let them taste homelessness for a week, or get them a counselor or motivational speaker (all through compelled civic service). Force bums, ne'er do wells, slackers, Welfare recipients and people otherwise wanting to vote for freebies to be as successful as they're capable of!

I don't 'wanna hear one more word about the evil oppressor white man, or whoever else is so accused. Force all people in America who have poor circumstances to be their best, and give them not one dime in relief! THEY are the answer, so make them be their own solution!

ONLY people disabled enough to NOT be able to work get Social Security disability, and allow no fraud or abuse of that program. Make/force everyone in America to be as financially well off as their talents can make them, training them in job search, literally hooking them up with a hiring employer, knowing how to interview, write resumes, dress right, bathe, do their hair and use deodorant—every common sense thing successful people know as second nature.

Let there be no more hoods, barrios, wards or public housing projects! Force the lowest rung to move up the ladder, by compulsory civic service for all, to put in sweat equity—NOT more taxes, and NOT more government spending!

Our debt has to be reduced. End all handouts by this system! That cuts our budget, and hence, our debt, significantly. NO Welfare. An improved replacement, and allow any too busy to do 10 hours a year civic service to pay for their part if they choose to!

Organize every existing government program and worker, all charities, willing businesses and compelled citizens 10 hours a year (if receiving nothing from government), and even churches, to do their part to rid America of all poor areas of town, the standard being no severe suffering poverty!

Jesus said you'll always have the poor, so this isn't ending poverty, but ending severe suffering poverty. MAKE all white people mentor a poor black kid to the success she's capable of! Clean up rundown neighborhoods, paint and mow yards... instill a sense of pride. Section 8 will be ended, so the area of town they alone can afford must be livable.

Anyone receiving anything from government has between 30-50 hours a year as token repayment civic service. Everyone else, 10 hours, but zero for emergency responders and government workers. Make America a world model for fixing severe poverty—even helping native Americans! #JustDoIt

And QUIT all the FOOLish talk about reparations, handouts, freebies and entitlement. Get your a_s busy, be your best; we will force you to! Make it illegal to spend any taxpayer money to be used as a handout—only hand-ups!

Force success, and subsidize only the severely disabled. Once serious poverty is eliminated, that forced civic service can actually cure cancer, lower pollution, and do so many LIES politicians promise, because you have MANPOWER, without taxing people, or increasing our burgeoning burdensome debt. All for FREE, financially, and EVERYONE has a dog in the hunt of our nation's success!

Whiners, wimps, wusses, complainers, accusers of racism, handout seekers and voters will NOT be tolerated! You simply get the aid/help you need to have the life you want, because you alone will achieve it, with the help of fellow citizens who know how, and make you do the right things to achieve it!

And the ONLY ones possibly able to pay their way out of civic service would be the very rich, whose absence from business is provably detrimental, but they'll pay at least $100K for that privilege. And the homeless, if deemed sane, can stay that way, but won't be helped by this plan, if so. END it, if they're willing!

Over the years, America is getting 10 hours per year, per citizen, worth of free labor, to do the many things government could do, but does so inefficiently, wastefully and has no money to do. Citizens can choose what work they do, but severe poverty and homelessness WILL end, first! Ask not what government can do for you—ask what you can do for your country!

NO MORE voters voting mainly for self-interest, usually money—keeping it or stealing it from others, by sin-full, liar politicians promising B.S. ambitions that will never happen, so they get overpaid cushy jobs. MAKE THEM WORK, or be fired, ASAP, in 2024 and 2028!

This plan includes limiting outsourcing, ONLY letting in immigrants our economy needs, economically, and NEVER taking any jobs Americans want, and $12 per hour minimum wage, IF your effort deserves it—Otherwise, you're fired. #Justice, vs. catering to either extremes! #Balance Win-win; equal pain. (Mic. 6:8)

And EVERYONE gets trained on how to buy the smartest, so no one ever overpays when they're poor! NO taxpayer owes you one dime, so you will not get one dime you don't absolutely need, only temporarily, and only as you're pursuing financial independence, ASAP! NO moochers, loafers, sponges or leaches. Zero!

Update #16: Poor's Solutions (Part I)

IF Dem politicians want to SERVE their constituents more than themselves (Phil. 2), here's how they could... First, taxpayers don't owe poorer people money (Ex.: free college, healthcare, daycare)! Employers (a subset of taxpayers) don't either. You EARN what you get, and negotiate your wage... you've got to be the best employee you can be!

That starts with the private and public sectors FORCING every American to succeed in school, overcoming ALL obstacles—learning disabilities, poverty, gangs, drugs, violence, run-down schools, missing dad, etc. NO child can be left behind. Also, in a global economy, EVERY American competes with every low wage worker in the world, so poorer people SHOULD NOT identify with the world's poor, but see illegal ones breaking in/trespassing here as THREATS to their wages and jobs!

Third, schools MUST prepare the 2/3rds of students who will NOT go to college for trades that pay, and have a future!

Fourth, public schools MUST train ALL students to have some entrepreneur skills, as far too many poor people ever consider starting a business!

Finally, if race is ever really a problem in hiring, SUE via the EEOC, and band together with your race to buy from your race! Friendship West Missionary Baptist Church tries to get South Dallas African-Americans to band together to buy from and sell to their own race, and hire the same (B.O.B.—black-owned businesses). That's intelligent, and taking matters into your own hands, pro-actively, vs. just griping against racism or white privilege or white supremacy! These acts help poorer folk fare better!

Update #17: Poor's Solutions (Part II)

I'm NOT through railing on OAC! Her view WILL lead either to Civil War, or America's collapse. People NOT paying any taxes (44 percent of Americans) ALREADY get Welfare, and can vote for Democrat politicians to spend OPM... tax payer's money (link: <https://www.marketwatch.com/story/81-million-americans-wont-pay-any-federal-income-taxes-this-year-heres-why-2018-04-16>) marketwatch.com/story/81-million-americans-wont-pay-any-federal-income-taxes-this-year-heres-why-2018-04-16 Now she wants MORE, to take America to a "better place." A third world place.

It's GOOD to want ALL Americans to have healthcare, and access to affordable college, if they're smart enough. TAX PAYERS DON'T OWE THAT LOWER 44 PERCENT ANYTHING, much less more than we're already forced to pay people who can't live within their means! I will join a literal Civil War, with a gun, if it ever comes to that!

It DOESN'T have to! Almost FREE college can be had by self-taught/home schooled accredited books and tests, with YouTube lectures. Politicians should pass laws that allow that! Healthcare MUST be forced to take poor people, who pay off debts by free service to their providers (doctors, hospitals, etc.), or compulsory civic service to America, in needed vs. fake/make-work projects labor, if ever subsidized, and be forced to buy catastrophic insurance.

I once made plans to join the Minute Men on the South Texas border, but they required having your own gun. I've also volunteered three times for the Texas Air National Guard. I'm 100 percent serious that America will have a second Civil War if AOC ideas prevail!

And more people in the U.S. military are conservative than liberal, if war ever breaks out, no matter who the President is! This is no threat. It is a cautionary warning that patriots don't just take unjust abuse on the chin, or laugh it off. Tax payers owe poor people NOTHING. MERCY is why we help them!

Secession into two separate nations would be more peaceful and civil, but purple states would have to draw lines in the sand, one way or the other. These SOUND like far-fetched scenarios, but AOC is the Dem's leader, said Michael Moore, and Pelosi is GONE in ~three years. A BARTENDER leads real politicians! #WOW

ALL this ties back to the first Civil War, over slavery, and how America treats poor people! Poor people MUST know, you will ALWAYS be poor if you don't deserve a better-paying job. ALL Americans NEED to help you obtain that, but Welfare is NOT a substitute for YOU doing that!

Update #18: Wallowing In the Weeds

Let's wallow in the weeds—SUCH a pleasant experience—NOT. If you have a lower IQ, you surely can do a needed physical job that pays O.K.—better than minimum wage. If you're disabled, Social Security exists. If you're slow, or least skilled, you're 'gonna stay at minimum wage/entry level.

HOW do you pay for healthcare or college, as head of household, off minimum wage? LOANS! And vultures and sharks charge exorbitant interest. You could crowd fund for medical bills, or pay it off in installments. In either case, no one is expected to head a family off minimum wage! Time alone should net you better skills!

Work a second or third job. Get your kids a part-time job. Here's the lowest standard available for any American: Homelessness. Above that, public housing. MANY abandoned buildings could be made available for low rent! You can live in a tent, or under a bridge, but you need better living quarters.

Survivalists live off the land. Tiny house and trailer park owners get by on low mortgage, and some people live in their cars or RV's. The poorest part of town has the lowest rent, but usually higher crime, as everyone's in survival mode—fend for yourself. You need food, clothes and a place to lay your head. Jesus didn't even have that, and He said poor people will ALWAYS exist.

I'm presenting worst case scenarios. FREE clothes are thrown out in NYC in ways a new charity exists to gather them before they hit the trash cans. Restaurants waste food, as do homeowners. If you're desperate, grow a garden and become a vegan.

This is NOT being insensitive, but thinking through your options. Goodwill and garage sales/estate sales have clothes for cheap, as with retail resale shops. You can barter things you already have. You can live with roommates or family, to lessen domicile costs. Transportation can be by bike, unmotorized or batter powered scooter, or hitching a ride (even on trains, illegally, if leaving a state).

Shelters help with food, showers and maybe clothes or transportation, as with some churches. Mexicans come to Texas, OFTEN, and trail 2 to 3 cars through our state, to Mexico, from car auctions. You could get one there, too! Public transportation MAY have discounts for proven low income people—I don't know (they need to).

I haven't even addressed your need for electricity (i.e., heat and A/C), and water! Rivers exist, and streams/creeks, if you're desperate. ALL these issues are EXPENSES... outflow. You need in-come! You can do something that people will pay you for/to do! If the pay's too low, you can get training, or more education, after hours, or get more OTJ (on-the-job) skills your employer will promote you for having.

MOST Americans DON'T need a college education, but in-demand vocational skills. High school SHOULD have given you those, and a GED, at a minimum. CHURCHES even offer free GED classes (Presbyterian/Methodist?).

Offer to work for free, a few hours a week, to intern to learn job skills for an employer unwilling to hire unskilled labor. ILLEGALS doing ANY job ANY American wants are STEALING Americans' opportunities to survive and exist! That is EVIL. End it!

Spending-wise: You don't NEED any more than I just detailed! EVERYTHING else is a luxury! Smart phone, decent hooptie, couch, etc. You DO need a frig and oven/microwave. You have to belt-tighten, until you get fatter with wealth! Our books and website teach you how, the latter for FREE!

You don't need internet—they are FREE at libraries. Milk EVERY government program! Churches help, especially during summers, with daycare (Vacation Bible School, and Mother's Day Out, for example). All those are TEMPORARY measures. You can and must make 'mo money, unless you're disabled, and can't do anything (Social Security disability).

Tax payers didn't cause your blithe/plight! There is no big boogie man colluding with employers to blackball you because of your race, be it a white person on Welfare, or any other color of God's rainbow. Employers can be sued if they do, and you should do so. FREE legal help is often available if you need that.

CALL the EEOC or Department of Commerce, and use the FREE phone at the library! YOU are ultimately your own savior or destroyer! Unless physically or mentally 100 percent disabled, life (NOT politicians) forces you to work, to survive. Lottery random chance and casino gambling are NOT how you are 'gonna work your way out of the pit you find yourself in! WORK; get a j-o-b!

I have just detailed the bottom/gutter level minimums every American can and must do to survive in this world. Healthcare and college I've addressed elsewhere.

There are low-cost medical clinics, maybe even free ones, if you search. Crowd funding if you didn't buy insurance. You RARELY need medical care! I've been to one required doctor in 30 years (4-5 times not required, because my nurse wife made me get a checkup).

Unless you get a deadly disease, you can endure most any illness without medical bills. Google search symptoms, and over-the-counter meds for most ailments! Self-doctoring! It's ONLY when you need surgery, or have a deadly illness, that your bills rack up. BUY catastrophic insurance! I'm for it being available nation-wide, and even globally, if our government approves it as being a credible foreign entity.

NEVER expect to stay poor, unless you're 100 percent disabled. You can do better! You have challenges. They're ALL resolvable. You live in gang-infested neighborhoods? Nark/rat to the cops to advise you how to avoid being sucked in, safely! Forget the rule of the streets saying that's evil! It's smart and moral!

You have no dad? FIND a substitute, or be that substitute, by getting close to GOD as your long lost Father. VOTE for forcing dads to pay child support, or be made bankrupt and homeless! I'm all for that law!

Do good in school. Get tutoring. Hang around kind vs. selfish or mean smart people. READ your assigned texts/lessons OFTEN! Rote memory. If your hood, barrio, ghetto or trailer park is depressing (why wouldn't it be?), take over-the-counter St. John's Wort pills. Choose an attitude that I can do better, so I will do better, with faith and persistence. Self-talk that every morning!

Find caring teachers. Find neighborhood mentors, or pastors who care. Stay busy after school, so gangs don't target you. Never take drugs, or gamble (a waste of money with RARE payoff—just a losing money proposition).

Associate/hang with GOOD people! (I Cor. 15:33) 'A man is known by the company he keeps.' Help your mom! She has it rough. Get a part-time job to keep you busy after school, and to help your mom's finances.

Go to church. Make a dream for your life, career-wise. Make one reasonable and one idealistic. Then plan steps you can take that could get you there in a few years. Find what skills those jobs require in Indeed.com job descriptions. Get those skills, with related experience.

MEET employers by Facebook or LinkedIn. Volunteer to do free projects that help their business! You'll be hired within a year if you do that, and do a great job. I have gotten all my kids jobs using this one method... Act dumb, by going in person to meet a manager, acting like you didn't know they require an online application.

Just say (with a smile, and energy, after shaking hands, and asking to see the manager), "my name is ___, and I came in to meet you, and to let you know I really would love to work hard for you, here, and I'm wondering what I should do for that to become a possibility?" Then stay QUIET. It NEVER fails to work! Five jobs have been gained by doing so.

I have internal tears thinking how poor people struggle, from lack of knowing these basic things public schools likely never teach them! It's ALL common sense! Wear decent clothes; shave and bathe, and wear deodorant, if not cologne/perfume, with your hair done nice. Be professional. You'll get hired!

IF you APPLY/DO everything I just said, and every trick in our website's 'Campaign Updates' button's section on 'Living Large, Paying Puny,' you WILL succeed in life, and NOT need tax payer funds, but become a tax payer yourself, because you'll make more than you need, over time, with effort! Pray for God to bless you!

One more thing... Employers live their lives in places where you can legally go! You don't knock on their home door, or show up at private golf clubs, but many go to grocery stores or church. GET TO KNOW THEM APART FROM A BUSINESS SETTING. Stalk them, legally. "Accidentally" run into them, figuratively.

ASK pastors which church members own businesses. They know, because some target them for deaconships, tithes, or both. Befriend your local pastor. Use the nearest employment office of the government. I don't do networking, but some say attend those meetings. I'm not a hypocrite, so do as you like.

You can even go to a business and volunteer to work for them for two weeks, to observe and learn, telling them you have zero expectations of being hired, but you'd like the opportunity to learn their business, and if they ever do need your services, they can test drive your skills and work ethic for those two weeks. DON'T stay poor!

Update #19: Immigration Intelligence

(6/5/19)

Common sense policies CAN'T be passed in our current system, because every party wants a win for their team, and a loss for their opponent! ALL D.C. Democrats want DACA passed, but that's a loss for the GOP, so it won't happen, as GOP's can vote it down. THIS IS ASININE!

@Pledgers2020 is the ONLY way forward! BOTH sides get wins; win-win. Comprehensive immigration passes COMMON SENSE LAWS, with fairness and balance. It's NOT piecemeal! It's the whole beautiful enchilada, defined as following: NO immigrant from anywhere for any reason gets any access to our U.S. safety net, until they have paid in enough to not be a drain on/loss to the system.

Anyone from any race, color, nation (even Martians) is welcome here, IF they have a job secured that no American wants. Our economy must need your skills. Dreamers are innocent—they were forced, underage, to trespass/break into this country, to keep up/stay with ma and pa. They deserve citizenship.

But a win for the GOP would be they must never access handouts until they paid in enough to not be a drain. Their parents owe back taxes, and penalties for law-breaking, and anchor baby ideas are an ASININE abuse of our law's intention! We don't have citizenship law requirements for people to sneak across when the water breaks!

Refugees must prove that status, not just claim it. Anyone can lie. NO terrorists must ever be let in, and whoever comes here needs a civics course (including state driving laws), and needs to learn English, though they can use their mother tongue.

IF enough politicians are elected in 2024, to ONLY vote for common sense laws, and ignore extremists' negatives, or only single issue, one-trick pony idols, win-win common sense can rule America. IF not, status quo division, fighting and uncompromising extremism will continue to ruin our great nation, because FOOLS support it! Do you? Are you a fool? Vote @Pledgers2020 in 2024!

'Dems are all evil; GOP's are all evil; Dems 'wanna destroy America; GOP's the same.' THIS type belief and rhetoric is held by buffoons, and enemies of our country! Stupid, dumb, ignorant, foolish, immoral, evil DOLTS "think" like that. They MUST be rooted out, and edu-ma-cated! Compromise is NOT a four letter word!

People who activists and politicians can "rile/gen up" are, by definition, STUPID! One-trick ponies. NON-thinkers. Knee jerk JERKS. Any politician can promise anything, but they have to be able to get it passed, and that takes votes, and that takes cooperation; NOT my-way-or-the-highway, even if I'm in power attitudes!

EVERYTHING has become politicized, even immigration. If you're poor, you're expected to become a Dem voter, or rich, a GOP. People are even considering punishment for crimes being you can vote! AMAZING. Both parties want more voters, and want NO cooperation. FOOLS! Tear down the system!

FOOLS are happy when politicians fight for those fools' causes, and never PASS laws! That's NOT success/achievement, but only good intentions. Neither side will give an inch, so gridlock is what taxpayers pay MILLIONS to have D.C. 'achieve.' This is an ASININE system needing destroying! FOOLS support status quo.

Let's also address assimilation... understanding our history, loving our country, knowing and obeying our driving rules, and learning English are essential. Some people come here for economic reasons, NOT citizenship, which is O.K., if we need your labor/skills. Trying to fundamentally change America is traitorous, like bringing in immigrants to vote for Socialism.

Update #20: America's Number One Need

[Reparations article:] <https://www.msnbc.com/hallie-jackson/watch/house-committee-meets-to-discuss-slavery-reparations-62242885533> ~Six generations ago, most of whom did NOT own slaves, and today's taxpayers owe for non-affected, FAR-REMOVED heirs? It's time for secession into two countries!

No matter what happens to tRump, the @GOP must have a landslide victory in 2020! I'll do anything and everything in my power to ensure that happens. The Dems are on a wild spending spree of taxpayer dollars, despite our $22 trillion debt! That's WELL beyond irresponsible. It MUST be crushed!

The 'EVIL white men stole land and enslaved blacks' narrative is ruling D.C. Dems, today. NOT that religious ex-Brits fought for freedom, built the greatest, most generous nation, and offered Indians settlements, and freed slaves who were sinfully bound by a minority of Americans CENTURIES ago.

If they're not students, make them get a GED, or if they NEED college, get them the cheap loans to afford junior college (associate's degree, to start). If they're adults on minimum wage, force them into training to get better skills or education! If they're unmotivated, let them taste homelessness for a week, or get them a counselor or a motivational speaker (all through compelled civic service).

Make/force everyone in America be as financially well off as their talents can make them, training them in job search, literally hooking them up with a hiring employer, knowing how to interview, write resumes, dress right, bathe, do their hair and use deodorant—every common sense thing successful people know, second nature.

Let there be no more hoods, barrios, wards or public housing projects! Force the lowest rung to move up the ladder, by compulsory civic service for 'all,' to put in sweat equity—NOT more taxes, and NOT more government spending!

Our debt has to be reduced. End all handouts by my system! That cuts our budget, and hence, our debt, significantly. NO Welfare. An improved replacement. And allow any too busy to do 10 hours a year civic service to pay for their part, if they choose to!

Organize every existing government program and worker, all charities, willing businesses and compelled citizens 10 hours a year, if receiving nothing from government, and even churches to do their part to rid America of all poor areas of town, the standard being no severe suffering poverty! Jesus said you'll always have the poor, so this isn't ending poverty, but ending severe suffering poverty.

MAKE all white people mentor a poor black kid to the success she's capable of! Clean up rundown neighborhoods, paint and mow yards... instill a sense of pride. Section 8 will be ended, so the area of town they alone can afford must be livable.

Anyone receiving anything from government has between 30-50 hours a year as token repayment civic service. Everyone else 10 hours, but zero for emergency responders and government workers. Make U.S. a world model for fixing severe poverty—even helping native Americans! #JustDoIt

And QUIT all the FOOLish talk about reparations, handouts, freebies and entitlement. Get your a_s busy, be your best; we will force you to! Make it illegal to spend any taxpayer money to be used as a handout—only hand-ups! Force success, and subsidize only the severely disabled.

Once serious poverty is eliminated, that forced civic service can actually cure cancer, lower pollution, and do so many LIES politicians promise, because you have MANPOWER, without taxing people, or increasing our burgeoning burdensome debt. All for FREE, financially, and EVERYONE has skin in the game of the nation's success!

Whiners, wimps, wusses, complainers, accusers of racism, handout seekers and voters will NOT be tolerated! You simply get the aid/help you need to have the life you want, because you alone will achieve it, with the help of fellow citizens who know how, and make you do right things to achieve it!

And the ONLY ones able to pay their way out of civic service are the very rich, whose absence from business is provably detrimental, but they'll pay at least $100K for that privilege. And the homeless, if deemed sane, can stay that way, but won't be helped by this plan, if so. END it, if they're willing!

Over the years, America is getting 10 hours/year per citizen worth of free labor to do the many things government could do, but does so inefficiently, wastefully, and has no money to do with. Citizens can choose what work they do, but severe poverty and homelessness WILL end, first!

Ask not what government or politicians can do for you—ask what you can do for your country! NO MORE voters voting mainly for self-interest, usually money... keeping it or stealing it from others, by sin-full, liar politicians promising B.S. ambitions that will never happen so they get overpaid cushy jobs. MAKE THEM WORK, or be fired, ASAP, in 2024/2028!

This plan includes limiting outsourcing, ONLY letting in immigrants our economy needs, economically, and NEVER taking any jobs Americans want, and $12/hour minimum wage, IF your effort deserves it—otherwise you get fired. #Justice, vs. catering to either extremes! #Balance Win-win; equal pain. Mic. 6:8

And EVERYONE gets trained on how to buy the smartest, so NO ONE ever overpays, when they're poor! NO taxpayer owes you one dime, so you will not get one dime you don't absolutely need, only temporarily, and only as you're actively pursuing financial independence, ASAP! NO moochers, loafers, sponges, or leaches. Zero!

Update #21: Go Back to Your Corrupt Countries

HE JUST CAN'T KEEP HIS FOOT OUT OF HIS MOUTH!!! Democrats defend Congresswomen Trump says should "go back" to their "corrupt" countries (link: https://www.vox.com/2019/7/14/20693758/donald-trump-tweets-racist-xenophobic-aoc-omar-tlaib-pressley-back-countries) vox.com/2019/7/14/2069...

The Dems were starting to unite against AOC (i.e., divide), and her immoral behavior, but Chump's tweets have united them to support her coming under attack for her nationality. That riles up Dems even more against 45, makes GOP's look racist, all as 45's poll numbers were rising. NOT a smart man! #DummyInChief

LET'S MAKE THIS PERFECTLY CLEAR, for the umpteenth time I've tweeted it: AMERICA DOESN'T WANT ANYONE TO COME HERE WHO WILL BE A DRAIN ON OUR SYSTEM, A BURDEN, A MOOCH, A JOB-STEALER, OR WHO WON'T PULL THEIR WEIGHT, refugees included. We're merciful, but not naive!

STUDY how many immigrants have come to America since 1980. America is under no credible accusation of not being generous, but there are limits! And the racial makeup of our melting pot has likely shifted to favor people from poorer nations, which only lowers American workers' opportunities and wages (i.e., labor glut)!

U.S. Immigrant Population and Share over Time, 1850-Present (link: https://www.migrationpolicy.org/programs/data-hub/charts/immigrant-population-over-time) migrationpolicy.org/programs/data-...

IF YOU WANT TO USE OUR SAFETY NET, TAKE AMERICAN JOBS, GLUT THE LABOR MARKET TO LOWER WAGES AND OPPORTUNITIES, OR PUSH SOCIALISM, OR ONLY VOTE DEMOCRAT, DO NOT COME TO AMERICA, and may Trump deport you, and send you back to where you came from, ASAP! Dems want poor votes! That's #Unfair! #Balance is always needed!

The ONLY immigrants America wants are skills for jobs Americans don't want to do, or U.S. businesses need. Refugees must fit into these two categories, despite their horrific circumstances, to stay here longer-term! America needs the best brains, and hardest workers, and any lazy U.S. workers have to keep up, or lose out!

English is our language, Capitalism is our economic system, turn right on red is the law (unless posted otherwise, and ONLY into the right-most lane), faster vehicles in the left-most lane is the (sometimes unposted) law, stop signs are to stop—NOT park, you usually get 4 mph over the posted limit (before you risk any ticket), and exiting a neighborhood, there are TWO unmarked lanes, despite there being no white hash tags on the road!

Prior Tweets

Anchor babies/birth right citizenship is an evil FARSE! NO rational Founder/Framer would have agreed to reward law-breaking! That IDIOTIC policy encourages even more law-breaking. It goes against any idea of a society governed by laws, and it should be banned, post-haste! The U.S. belongs to the U.S.! (6/28/19)

Anyone calling @VP #FakeChristian because conditions may not be perfect in all areas of the border camps needs to realize that America has obeyed Bible commands regarding refugees, even allowing in nearly 30K illegals in past 20+ years. God doesn't say let your nation be taken over by trespassers! (7/13/19)

WHY are foreigners able to FORCE American taxpayers to increase our budget to temporarily house them on our borders? What if 30 million came here? The "crisis" is asinine! Answer: Because of STUPID American laws needing changing! (7/13/19)

My take on the border crisis' condition? UN-like Trump, and my family's pastor, now that Pence says it's a pretty tough situation, I'm more inclined to believe AOC over the former two, though I'm sure she singles out examples, and exaggerates. No one will film it all, and show the public! WEAK "leaders"! (7/14/19)

If KFC was overrun by 200 people (of any color), and they were required to stay there, by some BAD U.S. law, you would NOT expect conditions to be great, as capacity was way maxed out. THIS is our border camp situation! Want it more humane? DONT barge through the door. No vacancy! (7/14/19)

Updates

THIS is interesting information (below)! White folk have every legitimate reason to want to stay the majority, and defend against any other nations sending people here to vote to seize their nest eggs through over-taxation! Majority doesn't mean you treat others badly, but there are privileges! (link: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Historical_racial_and_ethnic_demographics_of_the_United_States) en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Historica...

Posted April 17, 2019: La Raza was a REAL movement to try to take back TX and CO for Mexico. People are NOT stupid. Subtle infiltration, vs. assimilation, says you get enough people to America who can vote, legally or otherwise, to change a great nation into a banana republic. Real Americans fight these tricks, and won't let her die!

How does ICE prove one's a real refugee? Easy to claim, hard to prove. Either way, there's no room in the inn. America has immigrated so many people in the past 30 years, it's time they assimilate, and our economy absorbs them, before trying to upset the apple cart of the American fabric! Open borders is no nation at all!

Key findings about U.S. immigrants: <https://www.pewresearch.org/fact-tank/2019/06/17/key-findings-about-u-s-immigrants/>

Here's a LEGITIMATE concern: People who are poor and/or ever consider government aid vote Dem. People who have self-pride, and would never consider taking any government aid vote GOP. When immigrants come from poor nations, they're a risk to our safety net, and unfairly favoring Dems as future voters! That's a valid concern!

The ONLY just immigration policy is allowing in only those people our economy needs, and ONLY 50 percent as low wage workers and 50 percent high income/skilled employees, and disallow any to access the U.S. safety net until they've paid in, and never as a net drain—EVER! #Justice, and non-biased politics.

Immigration problems are NEVER a matter of skin color, but values and beliefs that get imported to America. I live among Asians and Indians. My experience is they TOTALLY buy into the American system, and are NEVER any problem to our system. Rules of the road are another matter, frankly, sometimes! Take a TX driving course!

America became great by immigrants looking for and working for a better life! NOT by people wanting their hand in the public till. That's how she will again retain greatness! And native-born Americans MUST be government's concern, that their livelihoods aren't killed by over-immigration! That is UN-patriotic!

So long as Dem presidential candidates propose FREEBIES right and left, paid for by printing money, or taxing non-freeloaders more, irresponsibly increasing our debt, GOP's and all true Americans will ALWAYS fight letting in potential Dem voters, FOR GOOD REASON! No one has a right to anyone else's money, via votes!

Lindsey Graham was clearly WRONG to call 'the squad' "Communists," but he may have been signaling concerns like the red scare, where we weed out people subversive to American values, like voting for Socialism, where people steal others' money by voting numbers for Dem freebies! That's a legitimate concern!

If American white people said they want to immigrate people to retain historic white percentages of the population, or if they listed all the white people who have made America great throughout U.S. history, that is labeled "racist." So let your race be overrun in your home country, or you are evil? Nice political trick! Try it in any other nation—they wouldn't tolerate it!

I've said before, I believe all the immigration America has experienced has brought blacks and whites closer together, in many instances, because we've shared this land for so many years, and are used to the other being here—a common history the past 200 years, though evil concerning slavery (an odd unifying mechanism)!

I have ZERO problem with immigrants! I have a MAJOR problem if any immigrant wants to vote for freebies, make America Socialist, favor Dems' numbers, tap into America's safety net, or take a job away from any American of any color! These are LEGITIMATE concerns for who we let in! Law-breakers aren't good stock!

Amount of pigment in a person's skin does NOT give them superpowers greater than people with less or more color! At the same time, American white culture HAS blessed the WORLD through the actions of all these people: Vanderbilt, Edison, Ford, Rockefeller, Lincoln, Washington, et al. Fact, not racism.

Is THIS the face of a rational person, or an angry and irate ranter with a cause, dead-set on implementing a radical agenda that harms America? (the latter) She needs anger management classes, and if she continues to traitorously hate America, she SHOULD consider moving somewhere else!

I OPPOSED Chump's Muslim ban, because it was stereotype- vs. evidence-based, meaning the nations of origin may have bred terrorism more than other nations, but unless ALL in those nations were terrorists, immigration authorities had to have proof one was or wasn't a potential terrorist! #Justice

Here's the ONE question every American should ask anytime any politician proposes anything: HOW ARE YOU GOING TO PAY FOR THAT? It is NOT fair to force taxpayers to fund everything! It WILL lead to a revolt, fairly soon, if Dems keep spending tax payer money to secure cushy D.C. jobs!

Update #22: A "You Problem?"

(8/16/19)

I FINALLY have a topic worth writing about! Ben Shapiro calls clamoring about slave wages a "you problem," and Mark Levin calls the GOP "Dems lite," for NOT being for maximum profit off the poor's backs! He uses U.S.'s historic industrialist heroes as proof, and NEVER mentions their HUGE charity gifts. Two greedy, selfish SOB conservative pundits!

HERE's the problem: If I wanted to hire someone for my business, or to mow my lawn, I'd want to pay as little as possible, as I have little excess. Businesses and individuals with HUGE excess/largess should NOT be able to treat employee expenses the same as ma and pop stores, with little excess! The solutions are taxes, minimum wage, and socially-pressure give back!

Ma and pops hiring minimum wage is MUCH harder than G.E.! We can't treat businesses equally, across the board, when their war chests aren't equal! And people and voters RIGHTLY despise that some people can earn millions doing little-to-nothing, because they have money, like striking oil, or investing right!

The solution is NOT stealing from the rich, but socially making them do what Levin's Rockefeller and Carnegie exemplors DID—DONATE generously, as even the Bible commands! And progressive taxation heavier on the rich is also BIBLICAL (Lk. 12:48), and JUST, as 10 percent of barely getting by vs. got life made/by the tail is NOT the same sacrifice.

We MUST distinguish businesses' taxes by their results—surviving, striving and thriving! Three different tax bracket categories. Pure conservatism is what's driving the Socialism movement in the Democrat party—a natural reaction! Blame your own greed sins!

And CHRISTIAN talk host Mark Davis once said there may be many greedy SOB's in conservatism, but "what can you do about it?" A CONVENIENT lack of thinking, he otherwise prides himself in; A CHRISTIAN saying sins can't be addressed by government, except if it's abortion. #WOW! And Jesus weeps.

Update #25: In Go(l)d We Trust

EVERY millionaire and billionaire the world over who could NOT be said to be generous with their excess to people NOT in their family or employ is SINNING! (I Tim. 6:17-19) Philanthropists, as opposed to selfish rich people, are how you know one is obeying God—not how nice, smiley and 'humble' they act toward 'the little guy!'

Everyone who reads me KNOWS I teach balanced positions, and side with who's right, in a dispute. G.M. owes the little guy a fair wage and competitive benefits, especially as they've succeeded so well off the backs of said characters the past five years. I'm all for business, but NOT for greed, selfishness and financially screwing people for profits, even though you're able!

America celebrates the love of money. God says it is EVIL. Those who want to be rich fall into temptation, and are ensnared by many foolish and harmful desires that plunge them into ruin and destruction. It's the cause of all types of sin, and people harm themselves engaging it. (I Tim. 6:9-10) We say, bring it on!

You fall to sin's temptation (NOT our concern, often), get trapped in many foolish desires. So be it—let me play the fool. Get ensnared with many harmful desires. I can handle it. Those lead to ruin and destruction—let me be annihilated. It leads to all types of evil—so be it, and it causes apostasy—yeah man!

THIS is what so many U.S. Christians say by their DEEDS—NEVER with their words. I've HEARD pastors excuse it with these lines... money isn't evil—its neutral; it's not how much money you have, but how much money has you (never noticing we've been had), and you can't give generously if you don't have generous amounts from which to give. TELL THAT TO THE WIDOW'S MITE LADY, Balaam fraud tare false prophets for profit! (Lk. 21:1-4)

Our CULTURE is our god, NOT God! Laodicean church POSING as the real deal! Treasures piled high on earth, in storehouses, CONTRARY to God's teachings, all in the blasphemously used name of "Jesus." Bah humbug.

PASTORS are NOT to suffer any love of money! Have you ever seen how they treat their calling? As a business man, ever wanting more bucks and buildings by attracting more customers NOT the way God had real Christians do in the book of Acts, and elsewhere. (I Tim. 3:8) BALAAM!

Christian LAYMEN are NOT to be greedy, EITHER! (Heb. 13:5) What's the CURE? Learning contentment (Phil. 4), and giving it (NOT all) away, as @CanonJohn said. We do NOT like that answer, so we do not do that answer! We view contentment as "lack of ambition," but NEVER view ambition as greed, for we loath God's word in certain areas! May we repent, brothers!

Update #26: Negatives & Positives of Liberals & Conservatives

Liberals and conservatives are BOTH WRONG in many if not most of their extremes! God is NEITHER! On given issues, they have good and bad. The voters need to ONLY vote for good, independent of party label. It's easier to blindly follow a label off the cliff, to America's demise! We the people are the power!

Liberals' policies punish the rich—that's EVIL. Conservatives' policies punish the poor—that's EVIL. Liberals want good things, but want GOP's to pay for it. That's EVIL. Conservatives want to just enjoy their luxury lifestyles and care little about society or others. That's EVIL. Stop the EVIL, voters!

A pure conservative says 'NO' to anything government does that has a price tag. A pure liberal says 'YES' to the same! Bankrupt the nation or bankrupt your fellow citizens. This is the choice between these two ERRING extremes!

God is NOT a political conservative! He holds many of their positions, but He's also NOT a political liberal! God is ONLY for morally good positions, within budget, and fairly paid for with the tax burden fairly borne by ALL, in some form or fashion. That's NEITHER extreme! Vote accordingly.

What's wrong with liberalism? STEALING from tax payers and the rich, to offer freebie handouts, unworked for. Celebrating abortion. Open borders. Often hating cops. Blaming whites for most ills. Supporting laziness. Hating business, though hired by such, ETC.!

What's wrong with conservatism? Greed, selfishness, and claiming Christians NOT obeying I Tim. 6:17-19 or Levit. 19:15. The love of money is championed, and selfishness is re-labeled 'personal responsibility,' and enshrined as a virtue. All in the name of a biblically unknown "Jesus!"

BOTH political parties have a sharp division! There's the moderate and extreme wing in both of them! If the moderates in BOTH parties united, third party or not, the loud mouths would not get the grease of media and public attention! LOOK at this logic, IF you can handle it...

If the far right gets in power, they don't stay in power forever. And party revenge will un-do what they achieved! Far righters ALWAYS say gridlock is better than bad policy (which is true), but they define bad policy as anything NOT conservative!

The far left wants to STEAL (a SIN) from tax payers and the rich, in the 'compassionate' name of Robinhood (robbing for the hood). They want to give away other people's money! They don't demand people budget, live within their means, get educated and work hard. They simply run for office promising freebies paid for mainly by the GOP. That's sinning vs. winning!

Conservatives label MY type beliefs 'Dem lite,' 'moderate,' 'RINO' or 'compromisers.' My views are morally and intellectually superior to any pure conservatives, if you apply the BIBLE and logic/common sense. That's NOT their REAL value system, so they won't!

God tells rich people what to do with their excess—generously give to others (NOT your family, I Tim. 6:17-19). Conservatives say hoard it, OPPOSITE of God, and justified as the ‘fruit of our labors,’ ‘freedom’ and ‘property rights.’ (Ecc. 5:13) DON’T name Jesus in your politics, if your views aren’t His! (II Tim. 2:19)

Liberals want to get God’s desired end by force and theft (I Tim. 6:17-19) Conservatives don’t want to get God’s ends in the matter. BOTH are wrong! Conservatives believe business can do no wrong, and its only purpose is money-making; God DIS-agrees. You are NOT on His team, fake claimers!

Conservatives ONLY praise (and elect) the rich, as heroes, and NEVER address their God-given duties! They ONLY address the privileges—NOT the responsibilities! (Lk. 12:48) That is carnality, if they’re claiming Christians! Sin-to-win philosophy doesn’t bother their seared consciences!

Conservatives could care less if the earth stayed a consistent 110 degrees forever, if money can be made! I read a book by one that said the day we run out of oil, innovation will take over! At the same time, if money is spent to avoid any damage to the environment, tax payers alone have to pay.

Almost 50 percent of Americans pay NOTHING in taxes. They should NOT be able to vote if they have NO skin in the game! They have zero reason not to vote for others to pay for everything, as that’s what the sin nature does—acts immorally and irresponsibly! Compulsory civic service for them ALL!

WHO foots the bills for Pocahontas' reparations? ~50 percent of Americans—tax payers (mainly GOP’s, except for richer Dems and their leaders!). WHO pays for Bernie’s Medicare for all? The richer half ONLY—everyone else gets and suffers NO pain! Same with free college, and debt forgiveness, and family leave, and daycare! EVIL policies!

Get your (as tRump said), lazy "a_s" off the couch and learn to earn, everyone voting for Socialism! I’ve proposed ways to lower healthcare and college costs, but NO living American was a slave, deserving reparations, and I paid for my daycare and kids’ colleges, and I’m NOT paying for yours, too! Revolt!

I AGREE with tRUMP that Civil War will happen if Socialism reigns in America! Literal warfare! The upper 50 percent isn’t your answer to squalor, but smarts, innovation and hard work! Freebies from LYING politicians are NOT how God says you fix your financial strains! Go live in a third world nation if you can’t make it here—it’s cheaper there!

IF every American was forced to pay in a fair share for universal healthcare that anyone could opt out of, I’d be for it! I WANT everyone to get needed healthcare, but you’ve got to pay for your own! No one owes you getting your bills paid! Get a second job; lower your spending. DON’T vote for EVIL people who promise freebies from others!

And for the ilk like Mark Levin to slander Bill Gates and Warren Buffet as "self-loathing," that’s the devil who you serve's attitude, Jewish Markie! Buffett KNOWS how his excess can help others, he doesn’t need it all, it gets better use helping others, and YHWH agrees with Him. Obey your religion!

EVERYTHING costs money! Anything government does costs money! Fixing problems costs money! Conservatives ONLY do what makes good profit, then ask government to handle the rest, yet vote for it not to be funded to do so! This is the EVIL in political conservatism! Re-read that until you understand! Re-read it many times!

What’s Gods view on abortion? It’s a life He formed in the womb, and you are killing a human—PERIOD. Does that mean U.S. laws should ban them all, as if we lived in a theocracy? We don’t enact Bible verses into law, in America, but convince the people, and politicians pass laws. That’s democracy—NOT theocracy!

HERE's the MAIN evil of liberalism—who's 'gonna pay for it? They want no child abuse, spouse abuse, animal abuse, worker unfairly paid, poor people, uninsured, pollution, etc. These are EXCELLENT ends to strive for! But they want ~50 percent of Americans to NOT pay one dime for their aims. That's sin and evil!

WHO wants to pay for another's problems, who are NOT in their family? FEW-to-none! Few of us have enough retire in leisure, certain all our bills are paid until we die. We all could use 'mo money! WHY would we 'wanna give more of it away to solve others' problems? Instead we vote for the rich to do so, who have the excess.

Did every rich person rob banks to acquire their wealth? Maybe none! WHY punish them for working hard and being smarter than you are at money-making, liberals? Because we can, by vote, is an illegitimate reason! When they outsource jobs and import laborers, then they are more culpable to help American workers!

Update #27: Rich Are Robbers?

HOW can we the public get rich people to voluntarily help others generously with their excess? It's evil to force them to, and evil for them to hoard. Shame them, publicly—any who haven't IMPLEMENTED the Giving pledge, though 50 percent shouldn't be required! Make them sign and do some generous percent! Public pressure, and reward obeyers.

Honor philanthropists. Expose the FACT that rich people average 2 percent to charity when all other average 3 percent! QUIT glamorizing rich lifestyles on TV! Quit showing them favoritistic treatment in media coverage, restaurant seating, etc. QUIT wanting to be like them. Feel sorry they're in a LOW position! (Jas. 1:10)

Identify the rich as generous philanthropists, or other. QUIT reading the Forbes list of billionaires! QUIT buying records from rap artists who brag about their wealth! ASK rich people what causes they donate to—NOT just one NFL player focused on, like J.J. Watt—ALL of them! Public pressure.

ASK rich people THIS question: What's your give back percent? Privacy laws allow them to HIDE the facts of their 1040 forms, but Warren Buffett said you'd be SHOCKED if the rich's tax returns were made public. I'm SURE Trump's would be shocking to see! People are selfish, by human nature! Why help others—what's in it for me?

America idolizes money, and makes heroes of the wealthy! STOP DOING THAT! God mocks such a cultural system! (Lk. 16:14-15) In short, unless America experiences revival, we are doomed! I don't see it happening, or the Church praying for it, or fully evangelizing. God helps us all! John 3:16, the Bible.

I'm for business and profits, but not greed, hoarding or unjustly screwing employees. I'm for employees, but not for them being over-paid, or under-working. In short, being for justice/balance never puts you in one camp, full-time! Better to make change than to make friends, if they can't be simultaneously achieved! Oxes get gored.

Applied: With G.M. workers on strike, management has to decide do they please the rich/stockholders, or do the right thing and pay a fair wage? The rich fund their ambitions, and HATE their capital gains going to struggling everyday humans. Do the right thing. Don't reward greed, General Motors!

Update #28: Race—Amber Guyger & Botham Jean Case

If the cop sincerely thought she was in her own apartment, if the law says that mental state is sufficient to invoke the Castle Doctrine, it should be used. It all depends on the wording of the law she's being charged with—nothing else. ALL crimes depend on laws on the books! (9/30/19)

AKA, negligent homicide–NOT murder!!! (9/30/19): Can you be so tired you can't recognize your OWN apartment? I smell an involuntary manslaughter result, soon. It seems totally indefensible! Police: Off-duty Texas officer entered wrong apartment, shot and killed resident <http://via.fox8.com/xBekT> via @fox8news (9/7/18)

NON-lawyers need MERCY, not understanding important legal technicalities. Amber Guyger makes a MISTAKE, and one gets killed, her intent is NOT criminal, so a murder charge doesn't apply, IF you read the law's language vs. just opine like a fool. If a lesser charge isn't presented, she wins. (10/1/19)

The public thinks prosecutors can just charge someone with an array of charges, then see which one the jury will agree with. That's NOT how court rooms are run! It's important what crime a persons charged with, and D.A.'s often charge lesser offenses if their evidence isn't a lay-down hand. LEARN!!! (10/1/19)

[After conviction for murder] TRAVESTY OF JUSTICE, much like the O.J. case! Get back at rare police brutality by over-sentencing a woman who made a manslaughter-deserving mistake. GOOD LUCK if you ever mistakenly do something that injures or kills another, especially as a much-maligned cop! #ThinBlueLine! #Heroes (10/1/19): Amber Guyger, a former Dallas police officer, shot and killed Botham Jean when she entered his apartment allegedly thinking it was her own. On Tuesday, Guyger was found guilty of murder and will now await sentencing. <https://twitter.com/i/events/1179060867586908160...>

[After 10 year sentencing] AMAZING Texas justice! The extremists got undue murder, and the rational people got a fair sentencing. More than anything, Botham Jean's 18 year old brother is a moral HERO, as was his brother, and that judge was AMAZING! Gave Amber Guyger a Bible, especially John 3:16! Texas Proud! #WOW! (10/2/19)

The radicals are chanting, "no justice, no peace," after the Amber Guyger trial. AS IF juries and judges/court system MUST obey special interest groups, not the law, or violence could ensue. That's NOT how American justice works. You ACCEPT the results, O.J.-jury-like clamorers! #Justice!

[Responding to a private account:] I'd call your "thinking" nonsense, as she got MURDER, for a mistake. That will never be off her record, and she lost her career. Ten years may have been lighter, but that conviction will harm her life for a long time. If the same jury decided both crime and sentence, NOT white biased!

Justice is NOT meted out by over-punishing a scapegoat that had NOTHING to do with any other unjust-perceived or otherwise–killing of any other black men by any other cop! That's NOT justice, but injustice and revenge. #AmberGuyger EXACTLY what some activists were saying they wanted!

Radical exhibit A, of making scapegoats out of people 100 percent unconnected to listed cop shooting victims! FOOLishness, for which that moron should be disbarred. NO verdict is for any other defendant than the one the specific case has been called for. Law school 101. Did he get his bar card and JD off EBay?: "This verdict is for Trayvon Martin, Michael Brown, it's for Sandra Bland, it's for Tamir Rice, it's 4 Eric Garner, it's for Antwon Rose, it's for Jemel Roberson, for EJ Bradford, for Stephon Clark, for Jeffrey Dennis, Genevieve Dawes, for Pamela Turner." <https://dallasnews.com/news/courts/2019/10/01/amber-guyger-convicted-of-murder-for-killing-botham-jean/...>

O.J. Simpson got off, to make up for perceived injustice among mainly white L.A. cops (and elsewhere). People wanting Amber Guyger to pay for a litany of listed black victims by cops is the EXACT SAME SENTIMENT–SENTIMENT, not law or logic or evidence. DUMB emotionalism! Undebatable!

HERE's a GREAT suggestion so NO black (or otherwise) male (or otherwise) ever dies by cop's shooting in the future: If they stop or pull you over, comply, don't run or reach for anything, and sue them later if they abuse their authority! It's that simple.

[Responding to a private account:] Curious... What are you alleging, and with what evidence? You have to be saying she intentionally entered a black man's apartment, on purpose, knowingly. What information do you have for such an audacious feeling? There ARE injustices—this was a mistake: [Private account:] It's so funny that people often assume it was simply a "mistake" but how could you ever know? Besides, there were TOO MANY indicators/facts that say otherwise. You believe what you want to and I will see this for what it is. All races are not equal in this country. PERIOD.

[Responding to a private account:] When apartments look near exactly alike, and you're tired. NOT in one's 'HOME,' as any but row-hos are NOT near exact cookie cutters. Disorienting once inside. Ice cream and spoon have NOTHING to do with a small female scared when a BIG bodied man rises up! Keep tryin', it's fun to see how you "think!" (10/3/19): [Private account:] Again, how do you mistakenly SHOOT another person in THEIR home? If the victim was actually eating ice cream, how could he possibly be a threat to her life.....? I guess with a spoon and Mint Chocolate Chip?

The way you get back at any injustice is to take actions that ensure injustice doesn't continue! Cops should be trained to shoot suspects in the leg, if unarmed. If armed, all bets are off. Your race means NOTHING when a cop's life is feared in danger! Cop split-second decisions AREN'T like other jobs!

High schools MAY need to teach kids common sense on how you handle cop encounters! You act respectful, you comply, you don't argue, run or put your hands in your pockets, you don't approach. THESE ARE BABY KNOWLEDGE facts. Doesn't every human know this? You shouldn't have to be taught it! You can sue for abuses later.

Cops get paid average, but even if GREAT, their lives are constantly risked ending, just to do their job! They don't know of hidden guns in car pullovers, or entering homes. They've even been shot from behind, sitting in their patrol cars, on stakeout or break. You can't expect perfection!

Cops can be trained and can do better, but the public HAS to err on the side of cops, in gray area disputes, as the more we make their job not worth the risk, the less safe we ALL are! In split-second choices, they have to be perfect, or arm chair activists want their being fired! YOU be one!

The FACT that BLACKS, generally, have had it rougher than whites, in U.S. history, is NOT solved by over-punishing a white cop! That helps NO poor African-America one iota/penny! My books detail how ALL blacks can enjoy a better lifestyle, and it's NOT by excessive sentencing of white cops! That helps you NONE!

MAYBE that guy [private account, above] was saying BIG males should be less feared by small females (or males) in police encounters. You can't mandate what makes any cop of any race fearful in a tense situation! The LAW allows self-defense if one's in fear of imminent bodily harm or death! The reasonability test is used.

What's reasonable when a cop breaks into your home? Stay seated on the couch, eating ice cream, or rightly wondering why they broke the law, having no warrant (breaking and entering, though there was NO breaking, as the door opened). What's reasonable for her, when he started to rise/get up? Run, and hope he has no gun?

Police training should teach target practice to aim at people's legs, if it's ever CLEAR they have no gun. Even if they may have one, that may offer time to seize their hands. Still, in split-second decisions, err in favor of self-protection number one! How's a cop know what you're packing under their clothes?

But you don't implicate single individuals for the sins of people 100 percent unrelated to their offense! This is not only biblical, but common sense, as Dr. Freddy Haynes SHOULD know, when he reads his Bible, and/or learned at Southwestern Seminary. "Scapegoating" is the Old Testament term used!

Reading this report, it seems standardized sentencing guidelines would be in order! Give juries a range, that sets minimum and max boundaries, so all races face same range per crime.

<https://www.ussc.gov/research/research-reports/demographic-differences-sentencing>

It's HARD to bridge the gap between white and black, on criminal justice reform, when 'honkeys' are concerned with GPA's/class rank, which college they are accepted by, how to graduate with high marks and land a good job with a big company, then moving up the corporate ladder ASAP! Crime isn't on our radar of experience.

If one lives in a poor neighborhood, absent gang pressure, why can't they use that challenge to be their best to get out, with no rap sheet (just a rap song), to make a life for themselves that's not as destitute as they were raised? Why is a criminal record what so often happens? You aren't your circumstances, and no one is forcing your choice.

If dealing drugs is the only economically viable job opportunity in your hood, you DO have a problem! I seriously doubt that's often the case, in many cases. Maybe the lifestyle you aspire to is champagne taste on beer budget, so THAT's why you see drugs as a viable business? Lower your expectations until you earn more, and get out/escape.

I think it's a cop-out to say black areas need all black cops, but if that helped clean them up, crime-wise, whatever makes law-abiders safe! It shouldn't affect anything what race the cop is, if they're doing their job and obeying the law. No one ought to fear the cops!

And any culture teaching cooperating with the police is bad (nark/rat), is self-defeated! Take the law into your own hands, self-dealing vs. relying on them, and you have ensured your area of town will be an unsafe war zone! The crazies are in charge of the asylum, like violent gangs. America runs by law and order, vs./not mob rule!

Just because you're poor gives ZERO justification for crime! You are needy? Go to a church, charity or government program! You don't have to steal! Angry about your circumstances? You don't have to get violent, rape or murder. Be angry enough to not allow yourself to stay poor, even if your parents stay such. #BeBest

If any gang member is pressuring you to join, as a young teen, TELL THE POLICE, your ma/parents, neighbor, teacher, principal and a pastor! It WILL come to a stop! You can find GOOD socializing at church, community centers, school extra-curriculars, neighbor friends, etc. DO NOT JOIN A GANG!

And if gang members, drug dealers, pimps and prostitutes are doing their dirty dealings out in the open, trashing up YOUR neck of the woods/block, TELL THOSE SAME AUTHORITIES I just listed (including parents). Start a group who resists and fights back. You have the numbers! MOST people don't do such things!

I know ZERO Indians, Asians or white people who think about criminal justice reform as an urgent issue politics should solve, as our concern is economic advancement, and we don't experience criminals very often. Why is it such a BIG issue for blacks, like cop interactions? We RARELY even see them. (10/4/19)

For the African-American community, the Amber Guyger trial was a BIG event, almost like O.J.'s! I was behind a gal listening to it live on a smart phone! I said, "you haven't watched a trial this closely in 30 years, have you?" She said "no." She wanted 30 years. Many wanted over-punishing of one cop!

SEX MARATHON

(AKA, Evangelical Political Non-Conservatives?: What About Abortion & Homosexuality?)

(1/21/19-2/2/19)

A gal on #TheBachelor had a sister put her unborn baby above herself, and died as a result. She had terminal cancer, but how difficult that decision would be if she had been fully healthy! She would weigh staying with her family, and having another child, or dying. TOUGH calls!

[Private account:] Okay, issue: Dying so that your gestating baby can live is not the “obvious” choice. I understand making it, but it’s not the only decision. #TheBachelor

WHO would think government should make that decision? It’s the woman’s, under the circumstances, with her family, before God.

Regarding the Christian Cabal 2020... Society is not listening to Christian views in the public square?

1. YOU haven’t evangelized or disciplined in a serious way in 30 years; society changed.
2. The GOP and Dems allowed globalization to change our culture significantly—not just white Christians birthing the same.
3. Society has heard your views, and the majority rejects the second-hand treatment, or hatred of gays! It still hears us say homosexuality’s a sin, but so are many other deeds, and they’re smart enough to see you over-obsess on two sex sins, politically!
4. We lost national gay marriage, but you can’t let it go!
5. YOU supported all of this, so any moral high ground attempts are RIGHTLY rebuffed as NOT credible and hypocritical: <http://facebook.com/jim.meroney.3/posts/1683401871972299> FACE REALITY, despite your baby Christian Savior deluding you that lies are a good thing: You can’t be moral leaders without stain/tarnishing, post-Chump, for quite awhile, in the public’s mind, RIGHTfully!

It would help to admit you royally screwed up, but that humility is not expected, because you’re privately proud you UN-justly stacked SCOTUS for Roe’s overturn! LIVE with the consequences! You are NOT society’s moral leaders, like MLK, and never were in the public’s mind!

You self-appointed, used multiple methods to APPEAR as such, to dumbed-down Christian laymen, but the vast majority doesn’t buy it (remember: MOST people are unsaved, because YOU ceased major evangelism efforts from 1978-2014; you and your industry, with very few exceptions). LIVE with the consequences of that, your, sin.

You allowed/let society wane, morally, since the Reagan hey-days! All for fame and fortune. #TRUTH You long for the 'good ol days' of the 1950’s, when every pregnancy was forced to fruition, by force of law. TIME HAS PASSED, and things have changed, and the vast majority does not find that right for rape or incest victims, or if it’s a choice between the mom or baby living.

Government’s job is not to dictate those victims must decide one way or the other, thinks the majority. I can’t believe I have to reiterate this, but doctors will NOT be called upon to be prosecutors or private investigators, to identify evidence of rape or incest! They’ll either be able to do their job, or not do certain procedures, so it’s yea or nay!

Overturing Roe would require a change of society’s attitude on abortion... NOT stacking SCOTUS, as you did. You were LAZY and unjust!

Women are NOT ‘gonna accept 9 months of pregnancy for foolish decisions, and it’s cruel punishment for rape and incest victims to have to, when Plan B technology exists before inception occurs. It’s absolutely RIDICULOUS for anyone to believe birth control is evil! It’s smart; it’s preventative; it’s responsible! Being responsible is a good thing—in case anyone needs to be reminded.

Banning all abortions would have the positive effects of forcing couples to have safer sex (i.e., planning and preparing)! But even then, condoms do break, and the pill isn’t always effective. And IF Roe ever overturned, red state women would NOT be being treated equal with blue state women (Equal Protection clause—heard of it?).

They'd incur medical bills and travel costs blue state women didn't, so many of them would simply opt for self-help or black market quack doctors. THIS IS WHAT YOU ARE ADVOCATING FOR! You LOVE to claim to be the saviors of innocents, but YOU are seeking some of them to be killed with NO pain meds/sedatives (by stomach punch; not to mention you have ZERO moral problem with women intent on not birthing risking life and limb, or dismemberment with a coat hanger). YOU accept that as godly, for the sake of saving babies!

There are BETTER ways than your 'antiquated' (Tony Perkins' term—NOT mine) solutions! And as an aside, show us all how you show your love of gays, wanting them to have less job opportunities, and riling up sheeple to vote GOP, with them as scapegoats!

I fully understand the guttural disgust with even the thought of sodomy! I even writhe seeing someone flamingly behaving! But are they humans? Aren't ALL people human, equally made in God's image, or are gays and trans NOT?

Back to the point... [besides reminding you Obergefell WON'T be overturned, and families split up, and relationships ended, legally, in part because SCOTUS would lose ALL credibility and respect, even as you seek to do by politically stacking them!]

The BETTER way (I Cor. 12:31) is the 4 solutions I advocated for yesterday! You have RUINED Christianity's reputation in America, and elsewhere, for quite awhile, all for Roe's overturn, the consequences you have even YET to consider (explained earlier).

You have YET to address my for BETTER solutions, because actual, factual solutions are NOT your number one interest, but sinning to be winning, as you lose all credibility.

Churches do GREAT work showing pregnant women heartbeats, and counseling them there's a better decision than abortion! Take it nation-wide. Become lead advocate for education and motivation to NOT choose aborting, mainly by pushing for perfect contraception, safe sex, planning parenthood, and Plan B within 2-3 days of oops mistakes.

But if they ever accuse me of being pro-abortion, they can't understand clear statements by myself, as the procedure is atrocious, a life taking, evil, and needs to be kept to minimums.

The banning solution can NEVER achieve (black market and self-help), by the methods I advocate for, which are superior to the draconianly simplistic ONE (banning all, everywhere, women's safety be damned).

By the way, vast majority of Christians and non-Christians in America... the Bible DOES have WELL more than two sins it addresses, that affect politics—NOT just abortion and homosexuality! Pastors usually preach to the converted, so YOU will never know that from them, as they DONT interact with the public much, like JESUS did, nearly, full-time for 3 years.

Holy huddles or propaganda against everyone as corrupt and evil if they don't adhere to a NARROW political bent of hating LGBTQ people (made in God's image), and wanting to force every pregnancy to term, by force of law, stacking SCOTUS, via the stupidest and least moral president in our generation/lifetimes.

You, the general public, need to REMEMBER who the people ARE, and were, because they foisted 45 onto us all, riling up dupes to vote for this: <https://bit.ly/2j1YEOf>

P.S.: CHOOSE lesser, worse, less effective methods to lessen abortion numbers, from sincere yet misguided thinking, to support power idolatry, because you're in an antiquated political paradigm!

Update #1: Considering Abortion?

To any woman considering abortion, consider your child whom you brought into this world, and consider just taking 9 months to let him or her have a chance to live with someone else who will love and care for them! There are products for morning sickness, and there are cheap medical clinics for sonograms—some churches offer them for FREE.

You may have to delay sex for 9 months, but is that too great a sacrifice, for the sake of another human being? I am NOT 'gonna GUILT you into any decision; just prayerfully ask you to consider the value to God (and many people) of that life within you, please. And next time, think smarter with safer sex, please.

I'll say for the second time, if abortion was exactly equal to a mass murderer killing school children (Ex.: Mt. 2:16-18), any citizen would have the legal right to shoot and kill that murderer, in self-defense, and to save lives, IF cops hadn't arrived, yet.

WHY do Christian Cabal members NOT tackle women at the doors of Planned Parenthood (PP)? WHY won't they shoot abortion doctors? That would save baby lives (I'm NOT advocating, but mocking with sarcasm)! Do you see ONE Christian Cabal member at PP today? GO LOOK! They're in their cloistered offices, doing sermon prep, possibly against abortion!

HITLER murdered humans! Gassed them at crematoriums I have stood in. Auschwitz and Dachau, Germany. IF an active shooter was picking off two year old daycare infants, we'd all be in an uproar, and we'd likely all flood the place and risk our lives to kill "him" (they're usually males!). IS Planned Parenthood a killing mill, doing the same exact thing, in your opinion?

Conservatives want to defund it, put restrictions that limit access, but that's NOT how you prevent unwanted pregnancies. Under any and all circumstances, they want every pregnant women, no matter how she got that way—rape, incest, broken condom, bad contraception, or pure DUMB, bad and immoral decision making of unsafe sex, from emotional enthralling shutting down their brains—to take to term, then adopt. 60 million have been aborted. It's a HORRIFIC tragedy, and an evil God WILL judge us for!

But legally banning all doesn't stop them! Laws won't end abortions! Overturning Roe won't end abortions, even in red states. You have to address why and how unwanted/crisis pregnancies occur, and make them incapable of happening! PASTORS should be at the forefront of knocking on drug manufacturer's doors to offer any and all support for perfect contraception, using DNA and molecular science, to completely/100 percent PREVENT birth's possibility!

Even having tubes tied isn't a perfect solution for those not wanting any more kids!: An estimated 1 of every 200 women will become pregnant after tubal ligation. <http://HealthLine.com>

Taken to their logical conclusion, conservatives MUST welcome women being punched in the gut, after 6 months of pregnancy, as that's yet another way women would stillbirth miscarry, if sterile/safe abortion was unavailable. Violence against women condoned by Christians? #WOW

Population explosion would be an even greater problem if we took a Catholic view that sex is ONLY for childbearing—NOT also for fun/enjoyment/pleasure—and contraception is "evil." (1 Cor. 7:3) That is NOT to say 60 million abortions HELPED society not have more population strains! That is to say that human children would be like stray dogs, before the SPCA pushed their Bob Barker spay and neuter campaign!

Update #2: Smart Sex

THE answer is smart sex. By nature, actions that lead thereto are EMOTIONAL! No one enters the base-running process like Dr. Spock! The RIGHT choice occurs WAY before you put yourself in that 'position' (i.e., condition/circumstance)! Perfect MALE contraception ought to be developed, too! MANY horn dogs exist in America, who BRAG of notches on their bed posts (Wilt Chamberlain and Weinstein, as poster boys). It is NOT proof of manhood, or male superiority, but lay down hand evidence you're a moral culprit, and perverted immoral person! Repent!

Let's be 100 percent graphic, as America is so desensitized to the details: If the gal is NOT on birth control, or the guy using a condom, you WILL have a baby, very likely—it's a risk you are freely choosing! What society labels 'prudes' would say don't have sex, and you have no problem. That's NOT realistic for many folks, though very good moral advice, pre-marriage!

Others say spill the seed (Gen. 38:9). FEW will do such, as it's not fulfilling, and awkward, requiring perfect knowledge and timing. The PROBLEM seems to be with casual sex engagers, who do no planning—just feel their way into a sex act, usually with liquor encouraging lessening inhibitions.

Plan, plan, plan. If there's any chance you may engage, prepare for the worst! And if condoms break, or the pill lapses, take Plan B immediately! Why risk all the negative consequences of waiting, like having to choose between killing a baby or losing some freedoms? Take plan B. It's only $75, in some cases, last time I checked in my research. As low as $7! <https://bit.ly/2t1vdYC> Let's address the 'it's my body crowd:' Yes it is, but it's also your CHILD! That's NOT an extra body part, or amorphous mass growing inside you! LOOK at your sonogram! Eyes, face, heartbeat, fingers. It's NOT just a tissue mass!

KILL it is killing. You may not want anyone or any government telling you what to do with it, but whatever you choose, you're choosing to take a life! He/she can't talk, cry, walk, crawl, or fight back, but "it" IS alive! It can feel! Perhaps think? Why do abortion doctors SEDATE it before killing it? Because it FEELS.

Dr. Pimple Popper yanking a mass of tissue KNOWS that gold-colored glob feels NOTHING if she stabbed it in the silver metal operating table bowl. Babies are DIFFERENT! Quit fooling and deceiving yourself that they're the same! That's the SAME self-delusion Chump is famous for, that you despise! Deal with the real!

What has 45 done on abortion, since he was not aborted, but birthed? Unjustly stacked SCOTUS is about all! Even late to the party, to get dupes' vote, for Self. The Christian Cabal considers judicial activism EVIL for liberals, but holy for conservatives. No hypocritical contradiction there, right? Hypocrisy is a sin, gents.

An aside: IF the Christian Cabal is 'pro-life,' why does their main denomination have a program to only have every member evangelize ONE person in one year! Are the other lost lives not valued, as they die eternally, unwarned and unsaved! Fetuses go to Heaven—NOT unsaved born folk!

I have ZERO understanding of transgender folk's experience, sexual identity 'thinking,' or life challenges, but so long as they keep it private on the battlefield, I'm THANKFUL for ANYONE willing to defend our GREAT country! #SupremeCourt

Update #3: Ganging Up on Gays

Christian Cabal and alt-righters: WHY don't you just go beat up all gay and trans people? You hate them anyway, and want them to go away! Let's resurrect my high school years, where some footballers used buckshot in rifles in Montrose, Houston, against gays. Would THAT satisfy you? #Sin

PEACEFULLY go to mega churches, next Sunday, dressed nicely, and see how you are treated. Their holy huddles will NEVER get to know you; just slander from afar. @GLAAD If you don't act flaming, they'll never know you are gay.

I do NOT agree with same sex sex decisions or serial choices, but I DO agree that the alt-right HATES LGBTQ people different from them! The HILARIOUS, hypocritical irony is that some Christians get abortions and some are gay! I knew one, and statistics prove the latter claim.

IGNORE or DONT read any facts herein, as it's a 'liberal left rag!' (sarcasm) For hundreds of years, Christians were unconcerned with abortion. What changed? <https://bit.ly/2UzvY72>
<https://bit.ly/2CWxap8> Crow 'til the cows come home... CHRISTIANS abort and engage homosexuality, too, though MUCH less (on the latter), than the American average. Political riling up of GOP votes; railing only against two sins! #CherryPicking Sin-to-win political strategy from power idolatry.

You would think Christian Cabal types would want gays and trans on the frontlines of our military incursions! People USED to think criminals should be placed there, as punishment. The poor and minorities OFTEN get sent there, as many rich whites find ways to avoid gunfire battles! #AnklePains

The Christian Cabal is already at their campaigning for Chump, tying "conservative evangelicals" with "pro-life," without ever defining what that specifically means, regarding needed law changes. The 2020 fight has already begun, in WASP circles.

We all bleed the same, so why are we so divided, white vs. black church, gays vs. Christian straights? @FHunscripted @RobertJeffress <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=HVKuA1s5I3o>

Has anyone seen the TV ad, bubble: 'Did I forget to take my pill?' Relying on your memory ensures abortions! That STUPID choice to rely on your memory is what KILLS BABIES! We have reminders on our smart phones! Make better decisions not to kill, from neglecting your pill!

I'm SURE Christian Cabal types are privately cheering trans citizens being banned from our military, temporarily. WHY DON'T YOU JUST POST A BILLBOARD OUTSIDE YOUR CHURCH that tells the LBGTO that you disagree with their decisions, consider them evil people, and you don't like them, and desire to hassle them? Be HONEST!

"Jesus hates you because you're gay, but if you'll change that, He will love you." That OUGHT to be a required billboard outside every church whose pastor privately feels that way! @GLAAD @NBC @ABC @CBS @CNN @FoxNews The #ChristianCabal is being coddled by Chump's SCOTUS military request! Moral #LOSER(s), on that matter.

Bitter older Christian men are angry Obergefell passed, when I warned them ~8 months before it happened, to raise up their voices, having been in political sleep mode since Reagan's day! I accept the decision, though I preferred the civil contract solution by state's rights. Now they seek revenge on LGBTQ's!

Has anyone seen the TV ad from Geico about a BAD tattoo artist... "stay in your lane, bro." That's what someone should tell the Christian Cabal, regarding politics!

Update #4: Religious Rights

In 2020, I want to see every religion, atheists and agnostics have a lobbying group like the Christian Cabal, since EVERYONE has freedom of religion. I'll bet the Christian Cabal would have a hissy fit, as they only want things—such as America—to be built in their image! #TRUTH Politicians serve ALL Americans!

The Christian Cabal CAN'T SEE they're being played by Chump, to remain loyal, by pandering P.R. moves. They have advanced not one morally good Christian value, except MILD sentencing reform (and getting one pastor freed from Turkey). SUCH foolish dupes, blinded by the light of FoxNews media attention! #HILARIOUS and morally sad.

I don't know any legitimate/good reasons why a woman would decide to abort, after the child can feel it (or has a heartbeat), but I'll retain an open mind, in case any exist (unlikely). Saying it's 'my body, my right' is NOT that! By the way, what does CHUMP say or know about this issue? "Punish the mom." (IDIOCY!)

WHY aren't Christian Cabal members at Planned Parenthood, verbalizing directly to women who enter that they are killing babies, and it ought to be illegal/a crime, in their 'holy' opinion? Jesus spoke His accurate truth to all people—NOT just the saints (or saints getting abortions).

[Private account:] Despite the protections established by #RoevWade more than four decades ago, today 29 million women aged 13-44 live in the 21 states that are either hostile or very hostile toward #abortion rights—that's 43 percent of all U.S. women of reproductive age. http://gu.tt/HostileSupportiveStates ...

Spiritually WEAK pastors use the power of chumming up to the proverbial (i.e., spirit of the actual) Antichrist to get done what they were too damn lazy to do the right way!: Convince women not to abort, or get pregnant without wanting to. [YES, I mean this in the most literal way in all respects, prophetically!]

A cave man, draconian solution to the problem of abortions: Ban them, by stacking SCOTUS. That's a sledgehammer to put in a nail. Immature, and brutal bully childishness. NO thinking-pure power exertion. I have NO problem lessening abortions, but these men are political amateurs! Dumb as ducks; I educate them!

Overturing Roe is CLEARLY the Christian Cabal's intention (email, above). It NEEDS to be a last vs. first resort, but many other things can lessen abortions, than forcing them to a black market, self-help, or the cheapest way of a punch to the gut from a boyfriend!

Update #5: Ban as Band-Aid?

This is NOT un-Christian dogma, but common sense and moral, consistent with the Bible and practicalities within a democracy vs. theocracy: The Christian Cabal wants to ban all abortions, even in blue states; I want as few abortions as possible.

WHO has the BETTER plan, and why? NOT them! Ban them everywhere, and you'd have riots on your hands; probably violence, likely aimed at churches; civil unrest. Only in red states, you're forcing back alley coat hangers that injure women. How accurate can a gal be with a mirror and a sharp-edged object?

Or illegal black market doctors? How trustworthy would one be if they're willing to risk their livelihood, daily, for a quick buck? And punches to the gut make the baby and the mom feel the brunt—which would have to be hard/intense.

Or you force them to endure 9 months of pain and expense other citizens DON'T have to, which is a Constitutional issue pastors with tunnel vision DON'T care about. And though some may mock inconvenience as a sad moral excuse, it is 9 months out of usually younger lives, where everything's on hold, all to give the baby away, so forcing that decision has to consider that imposition.

People NEED a safe medical out/safety net, if and only if contraception or condoms break, rapes or incest occur, or the mother's life is at stake. NO doctors available, as they can't earn a living at it, causes unsafe 3 options I just mentioned.

For poor planning, you should NOT be able to take that out on the innocent. People argue that it's murder... thou shalt not kill. our laws have not deemed the unborn to be full-fledged citizens with the same rights, for a REASON! They aren't certain to be birthed! Miscarriages happen. I am as opposed to abortion as back-up contraception as any person in Chump's 'Christian Cabal!'

I will say even MORE clearly than they (as they ONLY say it in safe, stain glassed and sanctioned places, preaching to the converted): It is a heinous sin to kill your baby, even if it's legal! You 'done screwed up,' in more ways than one, and God will judge your killing the innocent.

HAS ANY CHRISTIAN CABAL MEMBER EVER HELD A PRESS CONFERENCE TO SAY THAT TO THE PUBLIC? NO, because they have no gonads! They'd rather SECRETLY bend Chump's ear to force Roe's overturn down America's throat, when 7/10 don't want that.

This goes to a MUCH larger problem... since WHEN has our governing system been hijacked by any one religion, including/even my own? WHY are all the other religions taking that abuse of power/over-reach on the chin? I'm embarrassed at your timid weakness! We didn't elect the Christian Cabal!

Now as to their aims, MY ideas are far better, because God leads me—not pure fleshly power grabs, secretly, behind closed doors, wanting the public not to notice!

That is WEAK, and timidity is a sin. Condoms DO break. The pill is NOT 100 percent perfect. Rapes and incest happen, and mothers' lives can become at risk. WOMEN are involved—NOT just embryos and fetuses! Like wise Solomon of old, TWO parties are involved—not one without the other! WHY should government decide which is more important?

MALES usually say it's only 9 months. I've been a male ('for as long time') with a pregnant wife. I still have NO IDEA what it's like! To pretend to, or especially to poo poo it as no big deal is then height of arrogance! It is EVIL, evil, evil to have an attitude that I can have free sex, and abort if all fails. You do have a safety net, but that is NOT a planning method!

It should be against the law NOT to take contraception! And Catholics, God NOWHERE said doing responsible things to prevent problems is a sin. READ the right Bible—the one without the added books. Even those books likely never say that (i.e., Apocrypha, Pseudepigrapha, et al).

You're NOT killing anyone to prevent the seed meeting up with the egg! Even Christians and our Bibles say inception is when life starts, NOT insemination. Get over that STUPID belief someone came up with AFTER the Bible was canonized! You're doing a GOOD thing to not birth an unwanted baby, by taking contraception! It's common sense!

You'd have a million children if you're very sexually active in marriage. That's NOT what Ps. 127:4 means! That sized arrow arsenal/quiver shoots yourself in the foot and wallet, and is patently irresponsible! The Pope may not tell you, but it's the TRUTH, nonetheless.

As I've shown, religion can be a very bad thing to adhere to, if wrongly interpreted, or applied in a democracy, apart from the voice of the people, or who they elected making the decisions, like avoiding blood transfusions to save a life (News flash: NOT everything in every religion is good, or from God), or stacking SCOTUS conservative, in the name of 'Jesus,' for a well-intended but STUPIDLY executed and NOT thought out solution!

Now, one more thing. If I EVER hear anyone accuse me of being for abortion, I may for the first time in my life consider punching someone out. I'm being practical, balanced, democratic vs. shoving my religious beliefs onto America without any thought of the consequences.

The Christian Cabal CAN'T be said to care about women, if they have NO concern about coat hangers, black market abortions, unfair costs to red state women (financial and physical), or want/allow them to be punched in the gut. And women get raped.

For 9 months they have to be reminded, by force of law, and especially see that creep's face in the face of a child they adopt out? Plan B solves the dilemma, if taken within 2-3 days. The longer a woman waits to decide, the more harm to her child! WHY would you not end the pregnancy before the kid can feel your decision?

MUST a woman (NEVER males) endure 9 months because a manufacturer screwed up (condom or contraception fail)? That's making a victim a victim twice over. However, I go to church, where I'm CONSTANTLY confronted with well-meaning people who AREN'T that well thought out in their knowledge or beliefs!

They are brain-washed that 'Christians are pro-life.' Of course we are not for death. That's NOT an issue. HOW you prevent unneeded death by abortion is the only issue, and I've listed several problems with the Christian Cabal's draconian solution. It's 100 percent emotional! We want no more babies to die, so we'll make you not do so under fear of severe penalties, like jail (i.e., deterrence and fines).

It MAY make some couples think twice to ensure safe sex, but if any woman gets pregnant, and didn't intend to, you will NOT have stopped her aborting—just changed how she goes about it. I despise their lack of thinking!

Unfortunately, EVERYTHING I said is 100 percent true, but Americans have short attention spans, horrible memories, and love sound bites. It's easier to just say 'pro-life,' 'pro-choice,' and move on with your life, because you REALLY don't want to think through this matter, because you don't care about it as much as your rhetoric claims, or you'd hear me out!

'Practical pro-life' is all I can sum it for the naive as. 'Pro-good choices,' also. 'Anti-death,' or 'anti-forcing women into back alleys.' I'm trying to cater to idiocy!

Are we 'gonna hire abortion police? Women will get black market abortions early on, lest neighbors report them having a baby bump! Women will be fearful of telling anyone of their fertility/pregnancy test results, lest they get reported, and court cases might be held, where perjurers lie that they miscarried.

The Christian Cabal HASN'T thought through these issues, because they're living in their childhood, when women hadn't had 46 years of legal access. Way back in their dark old ages, maybe MOST women complied with the ban on abortions. America has half a century where most women expect it's available, if needed.

And I'm NOT for the decision, except maybe in the 3 exception cases. I'm all for good planning, and Plan B if anything fails. UN-like embarrassing Christians, I think out my positions, which is why they're so good! God says love Him with all your mind, and I'm pretty sure I can demonstrate who doesn't take that instruction very seriously, Christian Cabal.

Pastors rebelliously, consciously and willfully refuse to do the things that lessen abortions, as that takes time, money and effort. EVERYTHING has to occur behind that uncommanded pulpit. I've already written what needs to be done, and you're predominantly NOT 'gonna do it anyway, so why should I write any more to you?

'Pro-life' is code phrase for vote GOP, and everyone knows it. I'm so sick of these stupid tricks, I wouldn't attend a March for life or Woman's march if you paid me. They solve NOTHING! Just rile up fools to fight, argue and yell.

Update #6: Safe Sex

Let's deal with the elephant in the room, or rather human being. You get pregnant, and it's past 3 days of insemination; you skipped Plan B. IF you had planned to be a mom, you chose to be a mom. If it's determined that the child will be severely disabled, or a 'vegetable' (NOT my term, hence the quotes), one can see why you might want an out. At the same time, it's a child.

If you hadn't planned to be a mom, you really have no excuse for foregoing Plan B. But you did, so let's explore your BAD options: The sooner the better for you to abort, especially before a heartbeat, or he/she feels pain! <https://bit.ly/2G2u5fJ>

Are you responsible before God for killing, or murdering a human? Probably! Can you be forgiven? Yes. It's MORE culpable (i.e., guilty and wrong) the longer you wait.

You may want to leverage it to keep a guy, or gold dig, but those are evil motives. Quite honestly you should have NO decision but keep or abort very early—3 days max is best. ONLY if the baby is shown to be a 'vegetable,' or your life becomes at stake to keep you both alive, should killing someone be considered. Any other reason is morally inexcusable, even if legal. Does that mean I'm judging you? I'm telling you moral/ethical FACTS.

Let's explore in detail what you are knowingly, consciously, freely choosing to do... choice, woman's body, my right, legal—whatever you label it, that weighty thing inside you is NOT a mass of flesh! It is a human being you created, through your actions of sex!

LOOK at the pictures on a sonogram. It forms a head, face, hands, lungs, heartbeat. HOW in any sense of logic can you NOT say you are killing a human? I WON'T call it murder, because that's a criminal intention to evilly destroy another. You have no criminal intent—you just want out of what you started.

But you should have done so early on! WHEN you wait, for whatever reasons, know WHAT you are killing, and why! Here are the most common reasons: <https://bit.ly/2MMbFQR>

You KNEW all along if you wanted to be a mom, the moment after sex, or if you could afford it, or had a troubled relationship with your partner, or wanted to go to school! My point is you truly have NO excuse to get out of the evil of a choice after 3 days, except maybe if the child will be unable to have a real life, from severest disabilities, which can't be known 'til later.

I'm NOT saying you have no legal right to do otherwise, but I AM saying you are killing a human being. You are free to disagree whether God exists, but you are NOT free to call what's inside you only a tissue mass, at some point... the point where the features clearly become human-looking. And those human features were always there in an undeveloped form... the 'blob' doesn't suddenly, magically become a human, having been a nothing/object before!

ALL this is to say one thing: PLAN to be or not to be a mom, or Plan B to not be one 'til later, if ever! Is that that hard to do? I think it to be almost legally culpable for any woman to get unwantedly pregnant because she didn't use contraception! That's the height of irresponsibility, because you know pregnancy can come of sex.

Plan B planning, perfect contraception yet to be invented and adoption are ALL good choices. Any other ones are not, excepting, perhaps, the vegetative circumstance. A hardened-hearted, seared conscience attitude that 'it's my body and right', well after inception, is evil! It's true that it's your legal right, but a right to kill.

Very simply, take contraception, abstain if you can (before marriage), take plan B if you forget or it fails, and beyond 3 days, consider the adoption option, as YOU alone chose to go forth with the pregnancy (excepting the vegetative situation).

If you were raped or are the victim of incest, shock may keep you from acting in the first 3 days. That's forgivable/understandable. Do it ASAP! TELL people, so they can help guide you to make right decisions in a troubled time. If you're a mother later in term, where your life is not fatally challenged, but it's you or the baby—pray! FAR be it from me to tell you what to do!

Since you can always have another, and if you already have kids, or a good relation with your spouse, or even might be a bread-winner, I think I'd know how many people would choose. You should be the decision-maker in such circumstances.

Remember to plan, and remember Plan B! It kills no one before the third day, though inception can occur sooner. The sooner the evilly/relatively better if you wait longer. Plan! You're a woman of child-bearing age. You know what sex can cause. You know sex is an option if you're willing to engage it on dates; there's NO reason or excuse to have to kill anyone, as a result.

This is NOT guiltting you! You are not pregnant, yet, so it's educating you for future application. You know better, now; you're fully informed; you choose how to use this knowledge... for good or for evil.

That's 100 percent on you, before your child and Creator, going into such situation now with eyes wide open. Do good.

I once posted that had I been of age when Roe was passed, I would have done something and raised a stink. There have to be some restrictions on the practice making it be a last resort—not a first option for contraception. In all practicality, that may only be able to be done by convincing, in our national conversation.

Prior to ROE V. WADE, abortions were common even though they were illegal. I don't think making them illegal again is going to solve the problem. —Tony Campolo

In short, I'm not sure that the abortion problem can be solved by legislation. I think it can only be solved through moral persuasion. —Tony Campolo

No one is pro-abortion. —Barack Obama

The ONLY sex-related issues I omitted were prostitution and homosexuality (and the M word), but we have other chapters on those related issues on the "four-letter word" known as sex. Are any churchgoers uncomfy with this, like I've been for 30 minutes? It's easier to just rant 'pro-life' in church, isn't it! Do the hard work! (3/27/14)

I just saw a Pampers commercial, where parents care tons about comforting the little baby. Is ANY reasonable person 'gonna tell me one day before the kid is birthed into this world, any real mom could care less, and want to kill it, but the day after, comfort them with blankets and kisses?

Yet, some in our nation would want abortions allowed all the way up to the birthing table! I don't know what corrupt heart they own, but absent saving their own life in an emergency choice of the baby or themself, or last minute diagnosis of a 'vegetable,' you need to look hard at yourself (and your sonogram)!

Update #7: Roe is Unconstitutional?

Let's address conservatives' argument that Roe was unConstitutional, based on the life and liberty phrase/clause. Fetuses have life, but no standing in court, as citizens, 'til they're born. IF you believe the decision was wrong, you orchestrate circumstances to have SCOTUS rehash it! You can even send a friend of the Court brief.

You can pass state laws to test it. But these things would have been done 44-46 years ago! Pastors wanting it overturned are water under the bridge, though their intent is holy... to lessen abortions at (almost) all costs. Constitutional amendments WON'T occur in a divided nation situation!

I have always said, if Roe got "reversed," it would be unfair for red states females to undergo pains and pays blue states women didn't have to, under the Equal Protection clause of that same document. Pastors DON'T know these things! Literally, and without demeaning them, they rant from IGNOrance.

To actually deter black market abortions, abortions would have to impose murder length penalties in red states (and I'm NOT for that, one iota). HOW would the cops enforce the law? Without a baby bump, they'd not even know who might be a law-breaker, or have probable cause! Plan B is available, even home delivered!

It's an EMOTIONAL aspiration to get Roe overturned! An EGO trip of "success" for the Christian Cabal! Rape victims in Texas would be forced to carry to term? Incest? Mom's have to choose their own demise for the sake of their kid? For at-will aborters, they'd simply keep pregnancy test results a secret; never tell one soul.

Red states could ban Plan B, but the internet exists. Any way you slice it, the very good and moral intention of the Christian Cabal is EXACTLY what conservatives accuse liberals of... "the road to Hell is paved by good intentions." We need RESULTS! Less child killings in the womb.

WOMEN alone make that choice, unless forced by boyfriends. You have to give women reasons to endure 9 months birthing a baby someone else will 'own.' Paying for that, and going to the doctor with them, and providing morning sickness drugs would help you win the battle you seek to win using an ineffective sledgehammer... ending Roe.

IS there any law that could fine women for not using plan B, and aborting at will, for no good reason, but sheer crass selfishness, or irresponsibility? Likely NOT, because people can lie. You can't prove intentions! That's why pastor Campolo had it right... laws can't fix what convincing alone may be able to.

When you preach to Christians that "evangelical conservatives are pro-life," you aren't lessening abortions, even among those who hear you! I am an evangelical conservative, and I'm pro-life and anti-coat hanger. I'm anti-death, and practical pro-life (and so are the Christian members of my household).

DON'T try to dictate, or especially LIE to church members that anyone not 100 percent agreeing with you is NOT a Christian, or is sinful, or approves of abortion. You're acting EXACTLY like Trump... presenting lies as the truth, and saying things are the way you wish they were. That is NOT "Christian" integrity! No one will ever force any church member to their political spins!

ANYONE who believes in stacking SCOTUS right or left does NOT believe in justice, like God does! You can argue that it's already politicized, but FIX IT! Don't add to problems! Liberal-leaning SCOTUS Justices are NOT anti-Constitution, necessarily. Reserved 'to the states and to the people' does NOT mean the smallest government humanly possible is required, apart from the public's desire, and we Christians are to make a more (morally) perfect union—NOT accept injustice, calling it 'Constitutional.'

SCOTUS was likely trying to strike a balance between no abortions and 100 percent abortions, with Roe, the rationale being can the baby survive on its own (viability). They weren't 'gonna choose sides, politically, between extremes, and found a legitimate basis for finding ground in the middle: the interests of the baby as a separate human entity. (2/6/19)

Update #8: Give In to Gays?

WHY does the Christian Cabal obsess over only two sins in society? They just can't let Obergefell go! We lost! Male lying with male will never be righteous, but society KNOWS Christians believe that. Quit selectively targeting them as inferiors who occupy all your waking political thoughts!

Why is the Christian Cabal preoccupied with gays? WHAT are they doing to harm your life? Live and let live. Our Bible says clearly that sodomy is an abominable sin. That fact will never change. But not everyone believes our good book, and its only one of thousands of sins listed therein!

Why does the Christian Cabal not fight premarital sex, adulterers, liars (answer: they'd have to grow a pair, and reprove Chump, like John the Baptist, vs. appeasing, is why, from power idol sin), prostitute Johns, poverty not from laziness, pollution, etc.? Political bias (partiality also being a sin).

I've said before, the religious alt-right is obsessed with sex, politically, but NOT with horn dog macho dudes who treat women as objects. That sin gets past them. It's ONLY what pulpiteers can use to garner GOP votes that they care about, and money! WE TELL TRUTH, HERE—we're NOT serial liars, like the 'baby Christian!'

Of all the sins and problems in America, the Christian Cabal only wants no gays or abortion. They're 100 percent fine with every other thing that needs to be done to make America greater! And removing gays from America makes us NOT better. That's discrimination and hatred—NOT Christian values.

Gays are NOT 'gonna turn straight in large percentages! They're NOT 'gonna cease having sex, by butt, mouth or hand. Constantly harassing them, politically and legislatively is NOT 'gonna warm them up to the Christian Cabal's agenda! Also, secret little emails to insider Christians about how wicked gays are, and how we have to fight them is NOT evangelism, folks!

Trans people are, 1. People; 2. Equals, 3. Feeling sexual identity confusion, or unnatural/odd emotions opposite their plumbing. Is that a reason to condemn vs. love and help them? I first raised the bathroom issue, here (proved by time-dated tweets). I only argued I don't want perverted old men dressing as a woman and entering gals' bathrooms, and I'd NOT feel comfortable standing at a urinal with a former female. But they use stalls, I would hope!

Christian cabal: ATTEND a gay pride parade, and get a megaphone to yell your frustration with those folk! You do NOT have the courage of your convictions, in the public arena, but only secretly, in churches and in Chump's White House! STOP the serial hypocrisy sins!

Top four "leaders" of the Christian Cabal: GO ON ELLEN and tell her you disapprove of her partner relationship (I have no idea if they engaged gay marriage). I hope she tells you she disapproves of your egos, money and power idolatry, and snooping in her private business, as you fail to evangelize her, IF she's unsaved(?)

Christian layman: If you are so literally stupid (i.e., mentally challenged) that you believe God ONLY hates two sins (i.e., abortion and Sodomy), you are a fool! You can't even see how you get played for GOP votes, by men (and one woman) so naive they're played by Chump, to RUIN Christianity's reputation! #APOSTASY

The Christian Cabal would say to themselves, only in private, or select church events, they played Chump, to stack SCOTUS, but that agenda is morally EVIL! They got what they wanted, but they wanted evil things, and stupid things. A Roe overturn doesn't end abortions or undo Obergefell, dummies!

I 100 percent DISagreed with Obergefell, on state's rights and definition of marriage bases, and historic (dating back to the hypothetical cave man) precedent argument. But what I was FOR gave gay couples the exact same benefits as national gay marriage has. It was never from hating them! I believe many Christians hate gays. Insecure people!

A weirdo at my son's work stuck his index finger on my son's pants rear area, as a joke. He almost got beat up, and he suffered a rightful tongue-lashing. Any unwanted gay behavior toward any straight person should NEVER happen! How they figure out who's not straight is their business!

In my day, wearing a pink shirt wasn't what straights did! I often usher at church. My main man who tells me if it's needed wore one two months ago. I joked with him (as he's over age 65) that he's smart to be sitting near his wife, with such a bold shirt choice. He laughed. Straights can use humor, but NOT be mean to or insult gays! Disdain for sodomic acts will NOT go away, no matter what laws get passed! People have a right to think that act repulsive! I surely do.

But LOVE of all is required of Christians—NOT harassing gays! Many moons ago, people from Westboro Baptist came to my family's church with protest signs saying, "God hates gays!" That is a LIE, and I have NO idea why they were at our church. Odd and off the path bunch!

And for anyone to say all gays go to Hell is yet another STUPID statement some Christians make. No one goes to Hell for any sin but rejecting going to Heaven!; blasphemy of the Spirit. I assume all gays believe sodomy is morally good, or at least O.K. I'm not 'gonna convince them otherwise, though we can try (with a book non-religious people may care less about)!

They're humans with sex drives/urges (like every human, and even animal). They're NOT 'gonna buy blow-up dolls. Again, I'm writing uncomfortable stuff. Love the sinner, hate the sin applies to all sins, and the people who commit them. LEARN to DO this—not just mouth the words.

Does ANYONE find it strange that the Christian cabal ONLY singles out 2 sins—sodomy and at-will-abortion—when this entire list exists? It's for POLITICS, folks!

<http://www.wogim.org/sinlist.htm> @ABC @CNN @CBS @NBC (@FoxNews) Who cares? Let cherry picking hypocrisy sin rule, vs. Acts 20:27!

And we'll support ALL these sins, too! <https://bit.ly/2jIYEOf> UN-like theological liberals, who cherry pick miracles, we cherry pick right and wrong.

We're FOR the love of money sin, power idolatry sin, worldliness as American Dream blessings from God, the rich hoarding, the poor being told to suck it up and get a job, but gays having relationships—now that's one sin we'll go to the political mats over. —The Christian Cabal (...as well as abortion).

We will allow the 5/10/13 problem to exist in rampant expression in our churches, for 40 years, but gays; now that's one sin problem we'll engage our Congress persons over! —The Christian Cabal (...as well as abortion).

We'll be nearly 100 percent SILENT on abortion and homosexuality, publicly and politically, since Reagan was president, but when this nagging book writer wakes our old, money-hungry tails up, we'll target ONLY two sins, to rile up sheeple we have kept dumbed-down by watered-down sermons that pay bills.

Instead of obeying American law, we'll slander immigrant law-breakers as the only law-breakers, winkingly pushing a GOP agenda from our pulpits, as we made a pact with the devil (tRump) to not enforce the Johnson Amendment. —The Christian Cabal (I should have quotes on the word, "Christian")!

We will NEVER call out the GOP on ANY of their sinful policies, but we have NO PROBLEM calling out POLITICAL opponents' siding with gays and people for abortion being legal, all day long, because the public's too stupid to notice, we HOPE. —The "Christian" Cabal Laymen, are you that dumb?

Even Texas' own new GOP head of the State Capital proceedings said "we're NOT going to handle bathrooms, but real issues!" <https://bit.ly/2ToVVG1> The great state of TEXAS, no less.

Even if emergency contraception could cause cancer, isn't that better than killing your child (if taken before he/she starts)? <https://bit.ly/2UwIxzW> Is there ANY legitimate basis for NOT taking it then, and waiting 'til the baby starts, if you may not want it?

Is there EVER any moral basis for aborting for unwanted or unplanned pregnancies? NONE that I can think of! Mother's life, rape, incest and possibly the 'vegetative' state are in a slightly different category from what I call "at-will abortions." There are REASONS women do those, but NO morally good ones. It's a very personal decision, unlike any other, and two lives are involved in that decision, but if a person freely chooses to avoid Plan B 'til after day 4, they have personally chosen to kill; NOT murder, but kill. There's NO way around that conclusion, 4 exceptions excepted.

You can't know if your baby's 'gonna become a 'vegetative' birth, or it will be your life or the baby's, 'til way after the third day. You DO know the trauma of rape and incest the moment you are victimized, and perhaps trauma and shock and embarrassment or fear of retaliation for reporting would keep a woman from taking plan B within 3 days, so I call these 4 situations exceptions.

But the fact that most abortions are NOT in those exception categories means most abortions are killing innocents, and sinful. That is NOT to judge the participants, as it's a tough decision, and it's certainly better to kill before the child can feel it (~2 months), but, RATIONALLY... HOW could you be in limbo/undecided, and questioning whether to be a mom, when you're the one who spread your legs, knowing what might ensue?

Why take your own poor decision-making skills out in the ultimate and heinous way of taking another's life? That's the height of arrogant selfishness and cruel lack of concern for anyone but you! Again, a very emotional and intimate decision, but you need to think about these things, NOW, so you don't face them in experience, later!

If contraception fails, NO PROBLEM from your culpability standpoint, that you can't figure that out 'til after the 3 days, but for women simply aborting cause they can, legally, you truly are in a rightfully shameful moral condition, that you would so defend your right to your own body that you would sacrifice your own flesh and blood to retain a "right" to KILL them!

You're NOT great motherly material at this point in your life! You need to grow up and mature, and take on adult characteristics. You could have planned! You could have engaged safe sex! You could have taken the pill! You even could have taken Plan B. There's NOTHING I can say to spare you being guilty for that decision! DON'T make it!

I'm sufficiently glad society doesn't pressure you that there's NO hope if you find yourself with child, but at the same time, make a good decision, ASAP! Either take to term and adopt out, or do no harm to your baby that he/she can feel! We're all trying to be 'good people.' Do your part in this matter, to be one!

If there were a way (there likely isn't) to identify women in the purely selfish aborting condition, fines are certainly earned/deserved (whether ever legal), or some sort of public shaming! I'm NOT advocating for laws to that effect, because you can't distinguish those from the other cases, as people lie, and no one is 'gonna investigate the matter like a criminal case.

Just know, MOST Americans feel and empathize with the difficulty you find yourself in, but you chose to allow sex, unprepared, and you also chose NOT to use Plan B before 3 days expired, so though few ever say so publicly, you 'dun screwed up BIGly, in more ways than one! NOT good.

That's NOT to call you a bad person, but to get you to THINK about the goodness or badness of what you're freely choosing to do to your child, because minority forces with BIG voices keep society silent, in seemingly accepting aborting as a good choice in these situations. That's 100 percent untrue!

It's your right, but the right to kill innocents. That's NOT a moral decision! You may not care about making a morally good choice. You may still be stuck in selfish immaturity. But it may come back to haunt you one day (in this life), especially if there's a day of accounting after you die!

You may, one day, grow up, and later realize you killed a human being in process, and not be as glad you used your 'freedom' for wrong.

Everyone ages—not everyone matures. But if you do, there is forgiveness! No one sin leads anyone to Hell, except rejecting Heaven as a free gift, but DON'T make a childish decision when your body is obviously mature enough to conceive a child.

If you forego being a mother, at this time, within 3 days, or as soon as you learn contraception failed, you can always be one later, when you're ready for it! Having kids is a great thing, but only when you're ready! And no child should ever be held hostage as bait to keep a man!

9 months of pain and costs is a LARGE consequence for a momentary lapse in judgment, under the influence and under the spell of romance. NO other mistake has such dire consequences, excepting those who use a gun, in the heat of the moment, to kill. However, another LIFE/person is involved!

Did I approve of government/feds forcing Fuller Seminary's professor's dating website (E-harmony) to accept gays? NO, because it was Christian-based. Then why would I accept gays who didn't act like such working at Christian schools? Because the site promotes the sex life--NOT teaching, with restrictions I listed.

That doesn't that mean "Christian" is inconsistent with homosexuality? ALL sins are. Gays can go to church, and shouldn't be ostracized (unless they dress or act "flaming"), but it also means, like every other sin, they're 'gonna have to clean up their act in all sin areas, eventually, to please God--as with us all.

If a prostitute/hooker came to church, how would she be identified as such, or be treated? A gay person? How about a slave-trafficked gal? Better, because she was forced into it as a victim, right? Did Jesus treat the woman at the well as we would at church?

Straight Christians believe gays choose homosexuality like a consumer picks Coke over Pepsi. I'm NOT sure they're apples-to-apples. And prostitutes' financial circumstances may have made them feel they had to get into tricking.

We Christians want them all to clean up their behavior, but let a serial adulterer or divorcer or horn dog player in the door, like DJT.

NO PROBLEM! We distinguish between sins! There's even distinctions between gays! I saw a picture one day of three males at a gay parade engaging sex acts in public (FORTUNATELY, blurred out). That is immoral "flaming" behavior. There are many gays who keep their sex lives private! They're NOT the same types!

For political power, they're united, but there are many dignified people who just so happen to be gay. They'd never be caught dead doing PDA's, though they united to fight for gay "marriage." There are distinctions to be made between sins! The gays in Lot's day were flaming--lusting at his front door! (Gen. 19)

WHAT do Christian Cabal types want gay people to do? Go straight? They feel zero fondness for the opposite sex, emotionally/sexually/romantically. For whatever reason, they want a close friendship with their own sex. I'd LOVE to know if it's a DNA thing, an over-chemical thing, or why that is!

It's certainly NOT "natural," but becoming normalized, through publicity campaigns. If it were natural, our species would go extinct. I'm ALL for treating them with respect, as equals, but the behavior is NOT normal, and their desires are NOT natural.

That doesn't mean they're bad people, though God calls their sexual behavior sin--even an abomination; one of ~20 He lists. They say they're most comfy being that way, especially trans people, who change orientations. We straights can't relate to such a feeling, because it's NOT natural, and we'll never experience what they say they are.

Treat ALL w/respect, even if you can't relate, or consider their desires weird or odd. Society does NOT come down nearly as hard on the opposite of gay... hyper sexualized male sluts. Some sports types/jocks even think that's masculinity. NO, it's sin! To prove one's not gay, some parents might be somewhat relieved to see their kids dabble in porn. I KNOW this is old-fashioned, but it's always right: God doesn't want anyone having sex before marriage. If you find that too prudish to consider, take that up with Him in prayer!

People consider the bachelor under-developed or immature, or weird, for being a virgin. DONT mock one holier than you in that area! On Judgment Day, on that one issue, he'll be proud (unless the producers and any loose contestants ruin it for him)! The "reasoning" most often used is 'how can you know what type car you want to buy 'til you test-drive a few?' That logic comes from the devil you may not believe in.

'Why buy the cow when the milk's free?' is male horn dog's slander of loose women, behind their backs, running the bases. Have self-respect, ladies! I'm NOT 'gonna tell you what to do, but I already told you what God wants you to do, if that—or Judgment day—means anything to you, in a sex-crazed society. Some parents—fearing their kid may be gay—enter them in aggressive sports, and if they have any interest in art or music, those fears increase. It is wrong that artistic skills make one seem effeminate, to a vast majority of Americans!

That's probably why some gays became muscle builders in the later 80's—to allay prejudices, like stereotypes of looking frail, thin, or weak! Speaking of, I laugh when I see a fat Asian-American male, and may in my mind say, "Americanized!" They're SO good at eating their fruits and veggies, that my wife and rabbit would be jealous! It must start at an early age!?! I should have!

I live where many immigrant executives do, and I LOVE seeing Indian males adopt our way of dress, but keeping SANDALS, even in the winter! It makes me chuckle, how people choose to keep some of the old world ways, while adapting to new ones, to fit in. I wouldn't wear sandals except in summer.
#Differences

I just had a thought on how to lessen abortions... an app connecting women considering it with families wanting to adopt, where they pay her to take to fruition, and could even cut out the adoption agency (high fees), with lawyer contracts to ensure the parents get what they spend money for—the baby. Thinking out loud.

Update #9: Gays & Government

Where do public laws come in on the process of changing our character for the better? Government has rules for all to follow, and God has placed government in society for that purpose.

Democratic governments don't pass laws citizens can't comply with! Not all will, for which there are established penalties, if caught. So why are politically active Christians trying to hassle gays, by constantly bringing up matters related to them, post-Obergefell? IF they're living their lives, not hurting anyone, why are Christians constantly bringing up their lifestyles in public, and concerning laws needing to be passed, like no trans in the military, discrimination in hiring, bathroom laws, and riling up church members against them? What law do they want passed that will satisfy them to leave LGBTQ's alone (i.e., live and let live)?

I believe with the right to/freedom of religion argument, they MAY want NO gays or trans in church, church schools, public bathrooms (where are they 'gonna answer natures call?), and they won't be satisfied 'til all gays turn straight! How would you disciple a gay person, upon salvation (if they weren't already Christians)? The EXACT same way anyone else gets disciple... lead them to Jesus, prayer and the word!

How would gays cease to be such? Certainly "conversion therapy" is an unbiblically commanded "ministry!" God NOWHERE tells Christians to seek out people who are gay, and tell them the Gospel, because they're gay vs. because you do that to EVERYONE, because we're all Hell-bound, absent Jesus. True salvation does NOT guarantee any one sin gets eradicated in this life. We still have sin natures (i.e., the flesh) and free will, and sin strongholds. There are gay Christians! Our goal should be their well-being in Christ, more so that seeking immediate results at changed behavior in one area of their life (though that one is glaring).

It's NOT that we wouldn't address that issue as a sin, even an abominable 1 of ~20 God lists, but even a REAL "baby Christian" is just starting to drink MILK—not eat meat. Sanctification is, first and foremost about getting them closely walking with Christ. The specifics we mainly leave to God.

If a human was born with a tendency to be repulsed when he saw his first Playboy centerfold (online, I guess, or is that business out of business, post-Heffner?) would that change, even in Christ? It certainly can, because God can do all things! But of lost people, absent a miracle, it's about as likely as a straight person turning gay (or a tiger changing its spots).

HOWEVER, there are some gay activists—especially in public school—who do promote the lifestyle, so even they know it's partly a choice! So, in reverse, we ought to be promoting the rightful choice, morally-speaking!

MUST gays remain alone, lonely and celibate, if they aren't 'gonna, don't 'wanna, can't, or are unwilling to cease being such? In order not to sin, the answer would be yes, but we know people are 'gonna fulfill their biological cravings. HOW could you get someone interested in the opposite sex, or no romantic fulfillment, if they can't, or won't change to be straight? I don't know, and I'd leave that up to God!

In short, the difference between righteous vs. unrighteous behavior towards gays is three-fold: Do you show them love or hate? Do you care more about their eternal destiny, or that they turn straight? And are you hassling them from hatred, or bitterness over Obergefell, or actually helping them live better lives?

And, I'd add, are you singling out selective sins, to make political hay/capital from, instead of seeking to follow the "whole counsel of God?" (Ac. 20:27) Doesn't God ALSO address being good stewards of our planet, justice, non-favoritism of the rich, money idolatry and greed, helping the poor, being for animal abuse ending, and a host of other interests, beyond merely abortion and homosexuality? YES HE DOES! Cherry picking is a sin, in this context of political opportunism! NO party is politically perfect. QUIT blindly worshipping yours, with a win-at-all-costs, sin-to-win PRACTICE, Christians!

Christians have accepted divorce as normal, post law changes on no-fault divorces! Christian divorces are about equal with society's stats! The Christian Cabal does NOT rail on that sinful result, because it doesn't gain them GOP votes, and may even lose them some, for divorced GOP's! Same with adultery and fornication!

Speaking of, will polygamy and bestiality now be clamored for as legal, with NO standards of what behaviors our laws can prohibit? Will extremists use the Equal Protection clause to advocate for legalizing man-child relations? You have to have REASONS, precedent and moral boundaries in society! DUH.

P.S.: America is NOT a theocracy, where what Christians want automatically must be accepted by the public, and enacted into law! Some may secretly want Obergefell overturned, so they stacked SCOTUS rightward. You have to convince Americans of your ideas, NOT chum up to Chump to cram individual/private beliefs down the public's throats!

If you read any official American government document, America is NOT a "Christian nation!" It has been predominantly Christian in its population percents, historically. It was even founded on Judeo-Christian values. MANY if not most Founding Fathers were Christians, and it was borne out of escaping religious persecution.

Just because the Bible says something is NO reason an American should consider it, publicly/law-wise, vs. privately/individually, though a GREAT reason! America supports freedom of ALL religions, and even the freedom NOT to have any religion! The Christian Cabal is OFTEN guilty of "Christian Zionism" or Utopianism over NOT American democracy!

One other thing concerning gays: I've spoken about descriptors of 'flaming' vs. normal gays. Last evening on Wheel of Fortune I told my wife, "is he gay?," because he was NOT flaming. When Pat had them introduce guests, he had a 'husband.' My wife said, 'how'd you know?' My gaydar notices that, for whatever reason.

People who identify as gay are OFTEN very (bubbly) positive, quite verbally articulate in their enunciation, have perfect hair/haircuts, are often into fashion, and often are thin/skinny. I have NO idea of any correlation between these observations and their sexual orientation, but she was surprised I got it right. And again, he was NOT flaming!

Why does it matter? It doesn't, I just find it interesting, and gay people ought to know that straights sometimes wonder if one is gay, when it's not obvious. You're NEVER 'gonna get everyone to have no curiosity about that. The best you can hope for is all people treat you with dignity as a human, and not treat you as inferior, or discriminate (i.e., in employment, housing, etc.)!

And I hope they do so respect! In the South, it's 'gonna be more of a challenge (Bible belt). It's not always easy to separate the behavior from the person. The older generation is also more easily oppositional than the youth, as Political Correctness and multi-culturalism emphases have truly helped your cause in U.S. acceptance, after decades!

Multi-culturalism ONLY as it opened white folks' eyes up to NOT just seeing themselves in the mirror, everywhere, including gay folk, who have always been around; just got more attention since the last 90's (Ex.: AIDS epidemic, and demanding rights, vs. staying in the proverbial closet). #History

And the Democrat party, historically, has always been more accepting of gays and abortion, which is why religious people usually won't consider them! White, rich, male, religious—those have always belonged in the GOP, whereas minorities, poorer, and NOT conservative Christians went more Democrat. #HistoryObservation.

If the GOP was more accepting of Lincoln Republicans, and Dems more accepting of pro-lifers, politics could get real interesting, as you'd be stealing bases, and cutting into cores! If the GOP had real plans for the poor, and Dems didn't hate or begrudge the rich, politics could get quite close—and interesting!

How are Christians to treat gays? A balance of love and caution concerning sin's sinfulness. MOST of us get that balance wrong; in fact, I'd posit that most in the Christian Cabal, as with myself, know NO gay people. It's easy to throw stones when you don't relate to or interact with people, in real life! Just posit what they're like, in your head!

JUST like conservatives concerning poverty in the worst/poorest neighborhoods... GO THERE! Meet with a gay person! And, at the same time, there are gay activists who want to eradicate any voices opposing their behavior, in the public square, but free speech and freedom of religion are always accepted in America! #Dialogue!

And it's NOT as easy to do so with one who's bombastically displaying their sexual orientation! Apart from macho horn dogs, MOST straights DON'T flaunt it—they just live their life/do their business. I suggest we'll all get along better if we all keep our sexuality where it belongs—behind closed doors.

And to such extremists, would you respect someone who abandoned their sincerely-held religious beliefs, from social (or peer) pressure? You're NOT 'gonna get religious people to believe sodomy is morally good, because the Good Book calls it bad. You CAN expect they won't rant on that 'til eternity, and to treat you as equals!

For DECADES, gays were beaten, hated, shunned. It makes sense that they said enough is enough, somewhere in the late 80's or early 90's! People put up with crappy treatment and oppression only for so long (you hope; Communist victims, you 'gotta wonder!).

When I was in high school, some football players said they were driving to Montrose (in Houston) to shoot them with buckshot. Even when I was in college, I gave a speech that you'd end homosexuality by putting them all on an island, and if God wanted homosexuals He'd have made Adam and Steve (1978). The gay rights movement has awakened my eyes to NOT be so judgmental and harsh.

And, quite honestly, my two boys being bullied (and me working as a writer, for no pay) has grown me more empathy for ALL people not treated right! I've "evolved," morally. Why my sons were bullied, I'll never know, but I felt their pain, which allowed me to feel others' pain, as well! (II Cor. 1:3-8)

EXPERIENCING the pain, feeling the lives of others; moccasin-wearing. That's about the only way you get folk to open up to your cause! When we live in glass houses, and throw social media bombs, and whisper behind people's backs, nothing changes.

Though I disagree with MANY of the lyrics of the song, Same Love, that song was a milestone in getting the public to see life from a gay perspective. I have a brief chapter on its lyrics in one of my books. Equality as humans—NOT acceptance of behavior, in our hearts, individually and privately. That's what we all need, as gays WON'T get the latter from everyone!

And that need not matter, if we accept each other, in our interactions, without trying to make life miserable for each other!... Gays trying to change Christian's beliefs and practices, or Christians trying to make gays miserable, by rules and laws. Differences exist. Agree to disagree agreeably! Don't force your views onto society.

I believe Chump's ban on trans in our military is to appease the Christian Cabal, to get WASP votes! There ARE legitimate concerns with tight quarters and bathing venues, but to ban them entirely, when they'll risk life and limb for America is wrong! Shower all the trans of one gender apart from all others. Stalls for peeing.

It WOULD be problematic if males showered with trans with female parts, or female military personnel showering amidst folk with male genitalia. You can claim "equal" all you want, but your plumbing is NOT equal/the same, and that causes problems in showers, and at urinals, where privacy matters matter! #Fixable

It's NORMAL for a straight male to be uncomfy standing at a urinal when one looking like a female anywhere near inside that bathroom, no matter what sex they were born as! We guys HATE even talking in bathrooms! That's a legitimate concern, even outside military circles!

Yet, trans have nature calls, too. And it's TOTALLY wrong for public school kids to have to face these matters in shower areas, and always wrong for laws to even allow the possibility of dirty old PERV men dressing up as women, in order to "legally" enter female rest rooms to be peeping Toms. There are legitimate concerns for government to address.

Update #10: Right to Have State's Rights?

SHOULD we make it harder for women to get abortions, like limiting clinics (requiring doctors with hospital access) or defunding Planned Parenthood? IF it's a Constitutional right, NO. States are free to impose limitations, if they pass Constitutional muster. One is considering limiting how long you get to decide, while another says take it to the day of birthing.

Would making it more difficult lessen the numbers? IF a woman was just casually getting an abortion, maybe higher hoops to jump through would dissuade her. ALL these legal shenanigans are NOT addressing the core/root problem... women pregnant who don't want to be a mom at this time.

Is government to force them to take to term? Unless you physically constrain them, you can't get that end, in every case. Is it good if state limitations dissuade one? YES, if those restrictions pass Constitutional muster.

People who argue Roe was wrongly decided also argue state's rights. SCOTUS has standards and precedent case law for when an issue is important enough where disparate state laws is problematic! 'And to the people' is in that document—NOT just reserved to the states (i.e., state governments).

Allowing one state to abort, and another not, raises Equal Protection issues of fairness to red states women to access acts SCOTUS deemed their right.

And for SCOTUS to overturn Roe is to say we got it wrong for 46 years, and EVERYONE would thereby learn that "Constitutional" is often NOT a matter of interpreting that great document, but OPINION, based on reasons lawyers argue for their cause. Lawyers can use almost any reason or case theory to argue most anything. We're taught how to do that!

The Constitution doesn't mention abortion, apparently because that act wasn't in the minds of the Framers. Life and liberty applies to we the people. They decided that's NOT referencing the unborn (though they're alive, and people—just not yet birthed). 'Standing' may have been an issue, as fetuses can't be litigants, though they can have representatives do so as Friends of the Court.

MOST people who clamor for or against Roe know NOTHING about the law. Therefore, their intense opinions are NOT on equal par with people responsible to decide court cases legally! That statement may hurt your feelings, but it's TRUE!

Why wouldn't states restrict abortion? They can, if Constitutional, but here's EXACTLY why it's rude, at best: The women are already in a crisis. You're TRYING to make them feel worse! You want to force them NOT to abort, but you haven't the courage to tackle them, or constrain them in handcuffs, so you guilt and shame them.

No one is fooled by defunding attempts, or limiting clinics for hospital rights reasons! You are trying to thwart federal law deemed a Constitutional right, and that is WRONG! WELL-intended, but if you want that right overturned, or ended, bring a case that has SCOTUS standing!

I don't know Roe's details well enough, but wonder how restricting abortions before the third trimester is legal, in states. If women have ZERO good reasons to wait that long to decide, evil ones will still say it's their right, but it's evil! I understand many women don't decide before Plan B is used immorally, to kill, but 6 months?

SCOTUS ultimately decides what's legal, though Congress can pass laws to amend their bad decisions, without requiring a Constitutional amendment! In our polarized nation, NEITHER is possible, so people look to stack SCOTUS, thus evilly politicizing it. A GREAT act would be to get America's majority to see aborting as evil to the baby, and offering women money to take to term (without warping that into their womb for sale, if too much money).

Let's precisely analyze when aborting becomes horrendously evil, vs. less harmful to a knowing, feeling child... <https://mrkmnls.co/2WwYmIB> 6-8 weeks.

A mission/initiative needs to start, to educate and motivate pregnant women to understand what their child looks like at that age! THOSE pictures clearly show a head, feet and hands. You can argue that sedatives are given, so the killing isn't (as?) painful, but it's a killing! WHY would you, even if you can? End its life before then, or be a mom!

And I'm NOT advocating ending its life, but instructing that if you missed the 2-3 day window, and you're dead-set on NOT carrying to term, decide that between day 4 weeks 6 or 8, PLEASE! LOOK at your baby on a sonogram. Realize that it's NOT a glob of flubber! It can FEEL within weeks!

IF you are pregnant, and not certain that you want to be a mother, or to adopt, you can always get pregnant again, so end that scenario before the seed infiltrates the egg!

If you are using a child to keep a keeper dude, or a rich dude, or to fulfill you, you are not making good decisions! If your finances aren't good, before getting pregnant, know that kids are an EXPENSE! If you still like dating around, THINK OF KAYLEE Anthony. Her mom didn't want her, so she committed murder. DON'T have that stress... adopt, or abort pregnancy before conception!

Even if your baby can't feel pain, being too young, or sedated, you're killing a human, for selfishness. That is NOT good!

I can't relate to any woman waiting to decide to abort, or carry to term, but that hesitant indecision shows you're not ready. So end it within 3 days, or find someone who'll adopt it, and endure the 9 months, if you can! The problem is, we have no flood of adoptive parents! So NEVER get pregnant if you don't want to be a mom!

WHO wants to go through 9 months of changed/alterd lifestyle, cost and some morning sickness only to give the baby to someone else, forever—a stranger (usually)?

What incentives are there to endure that? THAT answer is what abortion banners must answer! They are NOT all of any religion, so the moral angle isn't always convincing! If abortion banners offered free morning sickness pills, doctor visits (low cost), and connected pregnant women considering aborting to families who'd love their child, and they "clicked" with, you would have done a great service to mankind! Women LIKELY fear they'll MISS Mr. Right, being out of the dating game/scene for 9 months! You get a stigma of NOT being the normal date—you've birthed a baby, or been pregnant. Abortion banners MUST overcome these legitimate concerns!

It's NOT a cop-out, but I always resort to preventing pregnancy! Once conception has occurred, things get VERY rough to fix! Public school curricula need to emphasize this fact more—not just teach options. NOT just say abortion exists. DETAIL what it entails, the costs, the emotional toll, and what it does to your body and your child! They probably won't, but it's FULL/thorough/broad education; not bias, but facts!

Do they mention adoption? It's the nine month period abortion banners MUST solve; not mainly guiltig vulnerable women! It's one decision you can't press an undo button on! Once they're pregnant, it's ONLY abort, or adopt or be a mom. If that 9 months were made easier, and less different an experience from normal, maybe we'd have less abortions!

One more matter... Why would anyone FEEL confused about their gender? Is it a DNA quirk, a hormone or testosterone deficiency? Psychologists should be able to explain, from research, what emotional issues make Tom turn into Tammy! Too dominant a dad? Born with opposite feelings? We probably all feel times where we're more weak and vulnerable, then days of extreme confidence, but those feelings do NOT define our gender. STUDY! Research!

There is NO such thing as someone who is anything but a male or female, before God! You can trick/deceive yourself that you're fluid, but you are not. There's got to be some reason why you aren't content being the gender associated with your plumbing! Seek counseling to see what those reasons are! It's unnatural and NOT normative!

One more scenario... Let's say a female has surgery to be able to use a urinal. IF her face, maybe hair, maybe clothes say female, but her engineered organs say (to her) male, they OWE it to males in the public rest room to NOT stand at urinals, but go to stalls! Equality is NOT the right to embarrass innocents merely seeking to relieve themselves. You caused that conflict!

Third bathrooms are too expensive to impose on all businesses! If a male was born that way, and gets a surgical Lorena Bobbitt, and presents himself as a herself, urinals aren't avail in the female rest rooms. If the he-she still has original plumbing, by no means show it in the gal's bathroom! #Duh101

And IF you're "transitioning" (AKA sex identity confused), never make your hair and face to be the opposite gender as the restroom you are NOT resting in, no matter which gender you're claiming, for the time being!

Women want to see women in their bathroom, and NOT see male faces or clothes or mannerisms, and vice versa, as a generalization! More loosey goosey que sera sera types might not care, but the majority just 'wanna pee (or poo)—not feel uncomfortable, scared, or 'wanna learn the latest gender reattachment procedures!

We're just there because nature called! Keep your personal business to yourself! This is NOT "hatred!" When I was a teen, at the Summit, at a rock concert, some gal was in a stall in the men's room. This is quite disruptive! It's NOT appropriate, and the problem was NOT with the men in that room, because women aren't supposed to be there, for great reasons. That's the basis for all I just said regarding trans in public bathrooms.

Finally, I DON'T believe flaming gay people are faking it, love the drama, or are seeking attention, or self-esteem, by odd public displays. I truly believe they're experiencing emotions that make them 'wanna be queens, though male. There may be pills to calm those feelings, and just fit in like normal folk.

[Private account:] Then you're pro-vasectomy then? If you want to force a woman to give birth, can't we force a man to not impregnate the woman unless intentional? You folks are taking us on a very slippery slope of controlling another human's body.

You may have only caught one tweet at a time? I'm not trying to control anyone's body, or force anyone to give birth! I suggest you read everything we write. I can't put it all in one simple tweet. You're arguing with a ghost! #StrawMan

I have very good and deep boot spikes to keep me on the slopes. What's good for the goose is good for the gander! #Fairness #Justice I never addressed tube-tying, except to say women have more power in preventing pregnancy, as many guys just want to get their fix/jollies (i.e., sex)! They don't care, because they can't get pregnant themselves! Is that the next wave of technology?

That gal CLEARLY didn't READ our posts! I NEVER spoke of forcing anyone to term, or controlling bodies—only to consider what you're doing, and once you have a baby inside, it's NOT just your body. Your hand is yours; your baby is a separate life, inside. People need to read more, and opine less, from stupidity! #Factless

I have had a conversation with a psychology expert, who told me gender confusion is often from trauma, or immaturity, with not enough experience of life to make permanent decisions (like transitioning, or especially sex changes). It was NOT a Christian business that he worked for! I never asked his religion, if any.

I think some gender confusion is group think—the cool, rebel thing to do, in a society that exalts Barbie and Ken, and people can't keep up with those unrealistic ideals, nor should they be trying!
<https://bit.ly/2fo3nxc> Are their parents parenting well? Hanging with folk who support such curiosity?

Some activists push trans and gender fluidity, to get more voters for laws they favor, even in some public school venues. Target the young, vulnerable, less educated about life, folks! Puberty is already odd and new to them; perfect time to explain that new feelings could also be wrong ones you choose to follow.

That is THE LAST post I plan to ever write about sexual issues (except I'll happily engage the gal who wrongly accused me of something I never wrote). I like NORMAL political banter! I don't care to speak about your sex life—whatever you may be! Keep it to yourself. I sure do; no hypocrisy here!

What ever happened to the days we only thought it controversial when someone asked, "boxers or briefs?" I may be getting old, but I miss those simpler days!

I lied—one more: Even tubiligations can cause births! IF they do, there's NO fault on the part of that mom in making that child! I can't recall where I heard it, but ladies have become pregnant with their tubes tied, and even males have gotten women pregnant after being fixed! <https://bit.ly/2BdqyaG>

#PlanYourSex!

And if I haven't ticked off every interest group, while contemporaneously making them all THINK, you probably just haven't read all we wrote since a week ago!

Pregnancy is a BIG responsibility—caring for two lives! When you have sex, you have to ensure it never causes conception, unless you are doing so because you want a baby 9 months from now! Is this that hard to comprehend? No one should be pregnant, unwantedly, unless contraception failed! Get it?

I DESPISE the lie by deception ploy of states forcing doctors to have hospital; privileges, in order to perform abortions, as those politicians are trying to pretend the motive is safety and quality care, when it's really to make it hard for women to get their SCOTUS-deemed Constitutional rights! LIARS!

States defunding planned Butcherhood are also trying to deny women their Constitutional right. You wonder why there's backlash against abortion banners? Instead of working to keep women UN-pregnant, by safe sex initiatives and PSA's, they/abortion banners address the problem after its begin. #Stupid!

Should states force women to view sonograms, or out of sight, out of mind (and womb)? That's a state's rights issue! What's the harm in being fully knowledgeable in the decision's details that you are choosing? Is it a national law issue? Not in my opinion. There's no serious harm with one state requiring it, and another not. It IS a disparate cost for red states women, however.

SCOTUS does NOT concern itself with small potatoes differences between states' laws. There's a standard, the exact words I can't recall, but an issue must rise to the level of importance/seriousness, for differences to be a problem. That allows states to have their own style, vs. being cookie cutter replicas of each other.

I've used pro-life labeling, reasoning, and advocacy for years, while always opposing forcing women into back alleys with coat hangers/self-help. #Consistent #BalanceExists!

Ben Carson ignorantly says Planned Butcherhood clinics established in black 'hoods to control their population. How about to help the poor get hard to pay for abortions? (8/13/15)

...Defunding Planned Butcherhood would force back alley/coat hanger (unsafe) abortions. Reform it, and encourage women NOT to engage in them. (7/27/15)

I figured, the other day, if you can manage to get leftists to wrongly accuse you of forcing women to take to term, and pro-life banning the procedure entirely types to accuse you of being for the procedure, you're probably correctly in the center of extremes. I guess that's success?

[Private account:] Aborted Baby Born Alive Struggled for Life for 15 Minutes <http://bit.ly/2RVBCTV>

WHEN you hear a conservative parrot talk radio hosts' thoughts (as 'mind-numb robots'), that they don't like government telling them what to do, tell them you don't either, like banning abortions in the case of rape, incest or a mother's life, and maybe having a 'vegetative' child!

It's all about what acts people want laws for! Tell them it's government's role to set the rules and boundaries on bad behaviors society can't accept (Rom. 13). And when they say 'I hate liberal activist judges,' say you also hate it done on the Supreme Court, stacking it conservative vs. justly balanced! Use their arguments against them!

The ONLY sex-related issues I omitted were prostitution and homosexuality (and the 'M' word), but we have other chapters on those first two related issues on the "four letter word" known as sex. Any churchgoers uncomfortable with this talk, like I've been for 30 minutes? Easier to just rant 'pro-life' in church, isn't it! Do the hard work!

P.S.: Today, my Muslim car guy, unsolicited by me, said if a dude slips a Mickey in your drink (I added, or was named Bill Cosby), as soon as you figure out you're pregnant (~8 days after a missed flow?), take Plan B and/or see a doctor, but don't kill when he/she has a heartbeat. And he said God will provide for you in ways you never imagined, to be able to carry to term. HE brought up the topic as I wrote about it! (1/31/19)

Update #11: Christian Cabal Olive Branch

(Over New York Late Term, Partial Birth & Infanticide Abortions)

"Choosing repentance over guilt." [sermon title, found by email] I may have to listen in live, this Sunday! @RobertJeffress

.@FRC I TOTALLY agree with you that "so help you God" must remain in swearings in! [found by email] That is NOT establishing any one religion. "God" is almost a generic term for that "higher power" you referenced, and all religions claim Him. Keep up the good work, Tony Perkins. I complement and criticize (i.e., objectivity/balance).

SAME goes with OPPOSING New York's abort when you please law, even seconds before delivery! [found by email] @FRC Tony Perkins Keep fighting the GOOD fight! (II Tim. 4:7-8)

I GUARANTEE you the people cheering at the New York law passed for abortion up 'til the time of delivery/birth do NOT have the hoof-spa to WATCH that be done on camera, or sonogram! Immorally chicken wuss cakes! #BabyKillers IF you think it great, WATCH what you're cheering, foolish ones under judgment! God sees all!

Any woman who'd kill her baby in the last trimester should NOT be a mom any time in the near future! I think red and blue states are seeking to gen up cases to bring before SCOTUS, to test Roe's overturn, or boundaries/limitations, just as my old boss wanted an ADA case before SCOTUS, because you need standing!

WHO, other than a sick, evil, and inhumane activist extremist would think killing this is simply removing a body mass, for poor planning and indecisive selfishness? (except in the case of the mother's life vs. the baby's). ONLY corrupted souls with seared consciences and/or hard hearts! #Sin!

If you don't value life, your life isn't to be valued. That's simple justice and fairness, or as lawyers used to call it, fundamental fairness! Rejoicing that you can legally kill a child in the third trimester is prima facie evidence of a human you should NEVER marry, no matter which sex they are, New York!

If CHRISTIANS get on the ball, and start showing the public what the new New York law does inside the womb, perhaps we could sway public opinion, as backlash from an outlandishly evil law. Shock therapy from reality is sometimes how you break through people's rhetoric, detached from reality! <https://bit.ly/2DRicHs>

If I were in NYC, and had a spare $500K, I'd rent a sign on Times Square SHOWING an abortion at 9 months from inside the womb. Christian activists OUGHT to pool their Go Fund Me dollars, and do just that. THIS is how you do activism=NOT by unfairly stacking SCOTUS! @RobertJeffress @askLUCancellor

Tom Brady winning the Super Bowl is something Patriots people/fans cheer and celebrate. NOT having the legal right to destroy the child YOU ALONE chose to make, when they're 9 months in your own sacred womb! HERE is what you are freely, sinfully choosing: <https://t.co/KGhHr6BCae>

I'm NOT 'gonna fall for the foolish trick of being a one-trick pony, litmus test voter. I'm just finishing up entering a chapter on abortion! DON'T expect many other posts on point! If God calls you to that ministry, do it with all your heart. That's NOT my calling, but I do what I can, as led, as a writer.

Freedom is NOT the right to have zero government boundaries, be it gun laws or abortions! Freedom is the ability to do right, and freedom from oppression is NOT freedom from government passing any laws that might curb some of your sins society won't let U do, without consequences! (1 Pet. 2:16)

History of abortion in America: <https://bit.ly/2UBDw98> Is it O.K. for red states to limit when you can abort to two months, and blue states allow it 'til the day of birth? Is that an acceptable conflict of laws, under Roe's decision? Is one national standard needed?

I'm NOT 'gonna group tweet the famous pastors I did in 2014, to warn them gay marriage (vs. full rights civil unions) was going national, because they acted too late then as they likely would now, but if they care about babies more than riling up GOP votes, they'll organize to decry New York's abort just before birth law!

Apparently, some New Yorkers believe babies become human only when they take their first breath, after the doctor spansks them, before cutting their umbilical cord! IDIOTS! #NewYorkAbortionLaw

N.Y. abortion bill: 'alarming in every sense' <https://bit.ly/2UDOKvU> #baptistpress

Women who abort their child hours before giving birth are hours from being murderers, the ONLY difference being a BAD law! If you celebrate that "right" in New York, you hate children, are a selfish pig, and are evil. Even vegetative and mom's life exceptions are known before then!

My sons asked how abortionists kill kids the day before they're to come out. I joked, 'with a gun,' and they were aghast at the thought, but just because we use a more sterile and humane method doesn't lessen the impact of what you're FREELY choosing to do to a human being! Think about it.

If the only difference between you being a murderer or a law-abiding citizen is a few minutes or hours off the clock, you might want to look long and hard at yourself in the mirror, for celebrating that the baby didn't come out quicker, once your water broke. Such celebrators are EVIL!

I watch First 48 all the time. Murders have killed for $7. New York baby killer parents doing so up to the time of birth are taking a life for even less! SCOTUS MAY deem this a state's right prerogative, but people in other states have EVERY right to protest and oppose a New York law! That cancerous law can spread.

And because we are NOT inconsistent in the views we hold, I am NOT arguing for abortion bans, but for upholding the viability standard enunciated in Roe, as the very last date upon which a woman can decide to kill her kid, NOT as emergency contraception, though you can never enforce that motive!

I see NO way the New York abort like a sport law won't make it to SCOTUS! Roe cut women off at the third trimester! New York is challenging that ruling, with, now, a more conservative Court. I DON'T know what they hope to gain, but it appears on the face to go against Roe, and be, federal law-wise, unconstitutional!

JUST like gay marriage went national, once enough states (i.e., critical mass) were onboard, aborting before the baby beats you to the punch laws could also spread, and gain acceptance. That's why I call on ALL people of faith to OPPOSE loudly the New York abort like a sport law! Even Roe is more humane than that!

IF Christians (among others) didn't learn from the Obergefell loss, by ignoring state law momentum changes, the past four years have been a waste, for religious folk observing the news and politics! I OPPOSE SCOTUS banning all abortions, but the New York law is cruel and unusual punishment of the innocents!

Four years ago to this month, the Lord raised myself to warn Christian leaders that national gay marriage was very likely coming (time-dated tweets as proof). If their response this time is the same as last time, we Christians are led by people who CAN'T learn, which makes them NO leaders at all! #Church

It's NO LONGER acceptable to just mind your business, or keep your nose to your own state's affairs, when we are all Americans, and what happens in another state can negatively spread to others! We are from our own states, but we are equally from our own nation! #DoTheRightThing NO aborting on the birthing table!

PASTORS are the number one frontlines warriors for changing hearts and minds in states considering abort like a sport laws. Evangelism, prayer, discipleship and civil activism (i.e., Social Ministry) are our weapons of choice—the SAME EDDBS priorities I've preached and harped on the year before God raised me to speak out (2014).

YET, MOST pastors have done LITTLE to change for FULL evangelism and church-wide discipling. AMAZING blindness! You impact culture and people's lives by starting with Christians, and NOT living as hypocrites, judging the lost world for sinning! Remember my call concerning II Chron. 7:14, pastors? WAKE UP!

And ALL this mess (and division) can be specifically blamed/pinned on the Christian Cabal, for they STUPIDLY sought to force an imbalanced Supreme Court! #YouOwnThat! What are blue states to do to protect themselves from what you—NOT I—consider those "victories?"

New York took it too far, but that Cabal NEVER thought through their hair-brained ideas, legally, practically or backlash wise! They're NOT good at politics! 'Stay in your own lane, bro,' as the bad tattoo artist says in a recent TV ad. Now Roe looks tame, because you sought to shove your views onto America, chumming up to a desperate candidate, and the WORST of all 17 vying for the job!

Shall I congratulate you for winning by sinning antics? In that I will NOT! (I Cor. 11:17) You bit off more than you could chew, intellectually, and when you back DUMB and partial/biased ideas, people DON'T sit back and take it on the chin! They become activist!

I have NO problem with blue states protecting themselves against SCOTUS banning all abortions! I do have a problem with them exceeding Roe, especially in the third trimester! They RIGHTFULLY fear our politicized SCOTUS may not allow state's rights on aborting, due to who the Christian Cabal shoved down America's throat! DUMB move!

EVEN IF SCOTUS took the drastic measure of banning all abortions in all states, Congress can take away the authority or wrongful overreach by legislation, but as divided as America is, due to the Christian Cabal's Cyrus "savior," that can't happen, in all practicality! Blue states are doing all they can!

This is why a balanced SCOTUS is essential! Bias/partiality and IN-justice are NEVER God's aims, so God's people supporting injustice is anathema! But that apostasy began in 2016, and now we reap the whirlwind! Be careful what you wish for... you just might not have thought through all negative consequences or scenarios.

Even the Dem's win in 2018 was the pendulum returning to more balance! CHUMP was the alt-right's attempt to make up for Obama's 'liberalism.' It's all a chess match game of ping pong politics! SO dysfunctional! We offer the best and easiest solution: AmericanAnswers.org @Pledgers2020 #JustDoIt

VA Gov. Northam was RIGHT on ONE issue: If you don't consider a baby a human child the day before they're born, what's the difference a day or two afterwards, as to killing them? NOT much changes, physically/biologically, during a 3-day lapse of time! I OPPOSE infanticide and later term abortions.

Even partial birth abortions are so little different from what New York is allowing! A foot or a head starts to pop out, and it's still O.K. to kill, 'til the placenta and umbilical cord and afterbirth fall out/hit the operating table? A baby is a human ONLY based on where they're located? (i.e., womb vs. operating table)?

When liberals get accused on womb-to-tomb care, cradle-to-grave care for people, I NEVER thought they'd support BOTH ends of the life cycle being within a day of each other, by New York law! We're getting right next to Herodic behaviors! (Mt. 2:13-18) You're human ONLY if you breathe outside the womb? #WOW!

Update #12: Women's Rights & #MeToo Era Rules

#AWomanHasTheRight to say or indicate no. Words are not always used, but intentions can be made clear by face, tone and body language.

May I suggest, in an era of #MeToo, NO woman every play coy, and say 'no' when she means 'yes,' or hesitate/fudge as you say 'no!' Dan Fogelberg addressed this dilemma! You may feel dirty saying 'yes,' so you say 'no' to sound purer, but you only confuse one-track minded males! <https://bit.ly/2tdJoK7>

A kiss is not always an invitation to more, nor more to even more. Women ultimately control what happens on dates, excepting drunken non-consent. It should be a crime for any woman to consent to anything, in private, then claim they didn't, thereby slandering males. #MeToo era rules!

If a woman is drunk, she cannot give consent—period. Same with being high. The law requires conscious thought processes, like even minors are legally unable to consent to engage legal contracts. Any male seeking to get a woman drunk for sexual purposes is a bad human, at best! He didn't have enough stuff on his own!

The ONLY reason we addressed this subject is because #MeToo has caused some males to question what the rules are. The rules have NEVER changed. It's just that prior to that movement, some males didn't care to follow those rules! This is a teaching moment to educate horn dogs what the rules will always be (among whom I was one, as a teen)!

Rape is never right, nor drugging a woman for sex (Ex.: Cosby), or using your employer authority to get sexual favors, or speaking in public at work about sexual matters, or embarrassing women at work about their appearance, or sexuality/body parts. Common Sense NEVER goes out of favor, or out of date!

IF any woman nonverbally allows any man to make any moves/passes at them, physically, they have NO right to later claim it wasn't consensual! Unless couples SPEAK about details (they usually don't, in romantic situations), consent is ALL a matter of the woman making "no" clear. She knows her limits—males often set no limits, as many are horn dogs!

I heard one of my favorite songs on a day trip, yesterday, that addresses horn dog males, vs. sincere females! Love 'em and leave 'em, vs. what good women really want: Good men:

<https://bit.ly/2TA1nWU> If unsure ('will you still love me tomorrow?'), DON'T give in, gals!

Update #13: On Abortion

(4/6/19)

Concerning abortion... It's AWESOME to seek to disallow abortions when a heartbeat is detected! But what if the mother's life is at risk, later on? If you say no abortions after a heartbeat, you're forcing a mother to die if it becomes the baby or the mom! That's a PROBLEM with the Georgia bill being considered!

Defunding Planned Parenthood means making pregnant women pay for all their own abortions. Some people can't afford such. And not all that organization does is evil. It's an overkill solution! Religious conscientious objector laws should allow our types taxes to never fund abortions! There are ways.

Let's get really real, here: Once a woman has unprotected sex, she has three days to decide if she wants to be a mom, as a result, or the child's life begins! Education and maybe financial incentives would help them decide that quickly!

If a woman is raped, she may not be in a state of mind to figure out she needs Plan B immediately! Rape kits should provide that, at police stations! Incest is trickier. She likely lives with the culprit, or sees that relative often. Plan B has to be made available to her within three days!

The mother's life situation/scenario is never known until an unexpected crisis arrives! And if a child is determined to be born a "vegetable," or its equivalent, can government tell a parent they have to endure that the rest of their living years, though it's very noble if they do? I think they have a say in that decision!

Here's the REAL answer(s) to abortion NO ONE emphasizes: EVERY female in America NEEDS to learn that sex causes babies, unless done right, or medically prevented. WHY would any woman agree to kill this baby being formed? Because you backed out of being a mom, and got cold feet? Your boyfriend left, or you lost your job?

DON'T EVER have unsafe sex if you risk losing a male partner, or a job! It's NOT that hard! Condoms break, tied tubes can leak, contraception is imperfect. Use Plan B if you ever worry things went awry! Have a version of it on the ready, and use it before three days, if any doubts!

It takes two weeks after a missed cycle to know if you're pregnant. Extremists say you're killing a human if you fail a pee test and take Plan B. They're extremists! Technically correct, but 100 percent impractical! Use Plan B as soon as you can.

Much better is you never have unsafe or unprotected sex! I've lived 60 years, and never had a problem. Why do you? Promiscuity? You can enjoy sex without being stupid! It's your own stupidity that causes you problems in life!

And for any woman to argue they don't like men or government telling them what to do with their bodies, we already tell you you can't kill yourself, or enslave a human's body for sex, or use your body as one of multiple wives, or harm someone else's body by murder. You just want to be able to kill a baby whenever you want! That's evil!

Why can't you make up your mind if you want a child, early? Are you trying to lure/hook a man? That's evil! He obviously doesn't want you that badly! Do you feel ugly, or insecure? Why do you take your stupidity out on an innocent YOU brought into the world?

You KNOW if you have a stable relationship with the boyfriend, or have the money for a kid, or need further education, the minute you strip down to have sex! Use the brain God gave you! Condoms are probably cheap—I wouldn't know, but I've seen the cheesy dispensers in low-life public bathrooms.

The Pill is probably something you can afford) or a generic, off brand thereof). If not, insist on pulling out, or his wearing a condom.

QUIT killing babies because you're stupid and sinfully selfish! The minute you fail a pregnancy test, you need to decide, do I want to be a mom, or not? You should have decided that well beforehand! You are completely off the hook concerning culpability if the condom or The Pill failed! The minute you discover that, take Plan B!

Forget what any religion says about prevention being evil! It's NOT! It's smart and moral! Their source for saying so isn't God, but man's traditions! I can decree brown is yellow, and claim to be a religious leader, but that doesn't make brown yellow! Those are MERE HUMAN THOUGHTS, and are NOT true. Only extremists would judge you if you use Plan B from a rape, or incest, or contraception fails, but do it as soon as you learn of the problem.

And I will NEVER agree with people who insist a mother has to commit sacrificial suicide because the pregnancy went awry! ALL fetuses go to Heaven. Most people can get pregnant more than once in their life! It's HORRIBLE, and a last resort, but your life's in crisis, and government and extremists aren't the ones going through that experience... you are! Even more so than your partner and family.

But you are still killing a child, so decide how you're 'gonna handle that well before you ever face such a choice. Pray about it, and discuss it with your partner and family! Write a legal document to instruct medical professionals whose life to take.

And anyone miscarrying has ZERO to be ashamed of! It's EMBARRASSING that anyone would ever shame anyone for that! I do know what I'm talking about, here!

Finally, killing a BIRTHED child is legal murder, even if New York law says otherwise! The baby was not only viable, it survived the birthing process. You are exactly like Hitler's troops, to kill it after it can live without you, and the umbilical cord has been cut. You HAVE to be an evil person to make that decision in New York; Just sayin.' It's TRUE!

WHAT person buys a piece of land not knowing the price, or boundaries, or contract terms, or condition of the property? WHAT person gets in a car to drive it, not knowing how? Then what person would ask for an abortion, not knowing what it entails, or considering how they'll feel later on about killing a human

THEY caused to begin life? Informed consent! If you can kill your offspring with a clear conscience, some would question your being ready to be a mom, but I'd say you didn't think about the consequences before you had sex, or you had sex wrong, in ways you usually could have prevented! Botched contraception you can't help!

PLEASE tell me ONE person engages in politics, who goes to this level of logical detail, to explain their political positions on abortion! Name one! NO ONE! Because people want votes for their STUPID idolized party! They DON'T care as much with dealing with reality, but pregnant women have no choice—they MUST deal with reality, because it's life or death for that child.

Have safe and fun sex. If prevention breaks, use Plan B. If you have any doubts that you want to be a mom, use Plan B as early as possible, and then determine never to get in that position again, until you're sure you want to be a mom, and can handle it, including emotionally and financially.

Maybe your parents never told you these things. Maybe private or public school sex ed never told you these things. I'm telling you because I care, and because I also care about your baby's life. STOP choosing stupidly. You are not a fool. Use the brain God gave you; heed my advice!

And men, you are NOT a hero to have sex with a number of girls! God calls you immoral, if not a pervert facing judgment! Other evil males may congratulate you, but they face that very same future judgment. Respect women, and yourself. You are a loser if you are too loose with your morals. You are NOT macho, but WEAK! #TRUTH 'Players' LOVE loose women who put out. You BOTH plan to be married one day, right? THINK how your future spouse would feel if he/she learns of your sexcapades. You degrade yourself putting it all out there with people you won't have long-term relations/a long-term relationship with!

And can you imagine if you meet an old lover in the future, especially if with your spouse, or his/hers? You also plan to have kids one day, right? What if they go through puberty, and ask you about the rules, then ask if you obeyed them? This ISN'T religion, but common experience and (not so) common sense! You will suffer a tinge of guilt in both those situations!

I GET IT! Seeing bare naked ladies (NOT the rock group) is EXCITING, especially if there is no cost or commitment from you to do so. But it is not right. I read WASP "leaders" blaming Democrats for all abortions, porn, divorce and gays, but religious and Christian people do those deeds to about the SAME percent!

It's EVIL politics that uses these human vulnerabilities to secure votes of STUPID, manipulable people, all in the supposed name of "Jesus." Jesus opposes stupidity and immorality, even among political activists, pastors, politicians and pregnant women and their male partners!

Be wise, have smart sex, and do as I say, because it's wise! You have a RIGHT to abort, but you have a responsibility not to, if at all possible!

Update

When I was in seminary, I was ignorant about sex, as a virgin. Even NOT having it, I once did something I feared could get my wife-to-be pregnant, and knowing an unmarried minister with a pregnant girlfriend would lose me my ministry, I said if you could be pregnant, we need to abort. I am NOT a hypocrite! I, experientially, understand why some people would abort! I'm NOT holier than thou saying you're all evil to even think about doing so!

A black lady at my church once said if a poor, dreads-wearing, pants sagging black male got an uppity white Christian gal pregnant, her parents might reconsider it!

LOOK at the statistics! Christian girls have abortions at about the same frequency as all others! It's HYPOCRITICAL (a sin) to sanctimoniously act like Democrats are evil, and Republicans never have evil abortions, or divorce, or watch porn! It's all EVIL politics, folks, by EVIL manipulator activists!

Like Nixon used to say, let's make one thing perfectly clear... if you can be manipulated, you are a fool, a sucker and a sheeple! Pastors in politics, politicians, and activists disrespect you and your intelligence when they lie or manipulate you by fear mongering tactics and false narratives. They are EVIL liars you should IGNORE! Learn to THINK better!

Just because someone is rich, famous, handsome, a minister or degreed means NOTHING! The CONTENT of what they're selling is ALL that matters! Is what they're trying to get you to do good or bad? Re-electing THIS is evil and stupid, folks!: Are you a dupe? That's stupe-id!

<https://bit.ly/2j1YEOf>

If a Democrat proposed overturning Roe, would the Christian Cabal vote for them? Probably not, because it's also about money! Taxes. Protected selfish greed. NO government helping of anyone. I tell the damn truth, and some people don't like it. I don't give one dang about such fools!

#IllTakeAdvantageOf you if you are foolish enough to let me. -Typical politician!

Update #14: If Roe Were Overturned

(4/10/19)

IF Roe were overturned, and red states banned abortions, some women wouldn't get one, which is GREAT, because they couldn't afford a trip out of state to have one. That raises Constitutional issues of Equal Protection, which TrumpPastors don't seem to have ANY grasp of; it's NOT their forte!

Some of those would opt for a sterilized coat hanger, and the Constitutional makes government address/care about public safety, so they couldn't allow that! Yet another consideration many activist pastors are NOT experts at.

And IF red states made no exceptions for rape, incest or a mom's life, even more red state women would seek out of state services, which exacerbates these two problems of Equal Protection and coat hanger self-help.

And if red states DID allow 2 to 3 exceptions, the mom's life is clearly not something a woman can lie about, but should the state force her to die, vs. choose who does? And concerning rape and incest, women would lie, and say they were raped, or the victims of incest, to get the procedure done in their red state. Doctors aren't going to administer lie detector tests, or conduct DNA tests to prove incest or rape did or did not happen, nor will government investigators get involved, before or after the procedure!

So the ONLY positive benefit is wavering poor women may choose to take to term, if they don't grab a coat hanger. The number of abortions lessens little, and discriminates against poor women, while endangering their lives from possibly bleeding out. When you're using the issue to gen up NON-thinking voters, these REAL, practical issues are 'academic' to you.

Name me anyone who cherishes/relishes knowing a fetus got destroyed. If you can, those people are EVIL! Abortion is an evil, some would say a necessary one, and a procedure best done by doctors, vs. amateurs in alleys, and much better is never being found in a position to need one. That's usually possible, unless contraception breaks, or you're sexually assaulted.

Let's address the elephant in the room... by far, MOST abortions are from poor planning, not from being a victim, or a mom facing a life-or-death decision between mom or baby. That poor planning is deadly for your baby, and a MAJOR sin/evil! You are guilty, killing your own.

I'm assuming evil people who order contract hits NEVER watch them be done... just pay money, and wash their hands. That same head-in-the-sand sinful denial of details is how women don't want to know what their choice causes to their own child.

Some fight Planned Parenthood (PP) educating women as to details, or forcing sonograms, for full knowledge. I heard my first PP ad on the radio, yesterday, touting STD testing, as they know they're under attack for the evil things they do, in Texas! Turn to positive 'image projecting' advertising if your business is ever under attack; a trick to distract from FULL reality, which works only on dupes and stupes (i.e., stupids).

Update #15: Political Party Praise

That brings up one more issue... if you can be riled up to have interest in voting, by 1 to 3 topics activists tout, like abortion is evil, or the sky is falling green energy phobias, you are not a great citizen! What have you done the past four years to reduce abortions, and have you thought through your position? As a mature human/adult over age 18, you simply decide you'll always vote, unless both candidates are equally bad. You choose by which party or politician can do a better job to better our country!

In general, people vote 'D' if they think government can give them things, and 'R' if they want to keep their cash. Those who have life made owe society a higher tax percent than others, because they can afford to, and they've benefitted the most from America!

At the same time, no one owes you anything for free. Government can help you become self-sustaining, but Uncle Sam is NOT Santa Claus, and money doesn't grow on government trees—which is tax payers! EVERYONE needs skin in the game, or they don't care if their vote forces richer people to pay more or for others' 'freebies!' That is EVIL! You may like it, but you have an evil desire to steal from others via the vote, vs. the end of a pistol! Evil and lazy (sin).

At the exact same time, rich people who don't want any taxes ever helping anyone through tough times is uncaring selfishly greedy, which is also EVIL! Get rid of the evils, and politics can work smoothly. It's all a decision. We may not FEEL incentivized to choose goodness, but if we simply would, we'd be good citizens in a better land for us all.

There seems to be a deficiency in American political activists in seeing iterations between extremes! Ban all abortions; destroy businesses with a green energy deal. Ban all Muslims. All or nothing extremism. Are we REALLY that stupid, America? That's childish over-doing of solutions!

Too many Americans find their identity in politics, and worship party! Here is, essentially, what they're for: GOP—as low taxes and regulations as possible, few-to-no entitlements, self-reliance, big business, law and order, strong national defense, control of borders, freedom of religion, guns, Constitution; nothing wrong with that.

Dems—Clean up pollution/go greener, help the poor (including some government help), pro-worker, animals, fixing problems in society, justice for (vs. abuse of) criminals, equal rights, not hating gays or abusing women, and the private sector can't do everything, or all things will cost more; nothing wrong with that!

The summary is how many taxes! Conservatives want too few; liberals want too many, Goldilocks! Conservatives need to care more about others/society, and liberals need to care more about how people work hard to enjoy the fruits of their labors, and want to help others by choice, vs. by force. BOTH extremes need more of a move to the middle! We can't have both!

Update

NOT that pro-life or pro-choice activists want to know the FACTS, but let's elicit them, anyway: You have sex, unprotected, drinking or just caught up in the emotions of the moment. You won't know if you're pregnant for about one month. IF you are, a baby has been growing since the egg was penetrated. Technically, you'd be killing a life to even take Plan B when you get the results of your FAILED pea test!

The ONLY way to not kill a kid is Plan B before the egg gets fertilized! IS THIS REALISTIC? Buy Plan B for anytime you have sex that could lead to pregnancy? Is constant use of Plan B safe? I don't know, but I doubt it.

Why should you NOT be on contraception, so this isn't much of a chance to occur? Is it that expensive? Isn't it even more expensive to abort? I get that condoms aren't natural. Why can't women simply take The Pill, and if it fails (as it does ~4 percent of the time), you terminate if you didn't want to be a mom. You did NOTHING wrong.

Pro-lifers will say you're still killing; you did nothing wrong. You are taking a life, but you didn't cause the problem, and you can keep it, but not everyone is going to, especially when they did nothing wrong. Pro-life extremists even say plan B is bad, as it can harm you. So any sex must lead to childbirth, or a "murder" will take place. Legally, that's UN-true! Other extremists say contraception is evil/sin. It's like these ilk want you never to have sex, or only for family growing!

On the other extreme, some people clamor for the right to kill, with NO conscience that they're KILLING a human being. They say 'my body, my rights,' but it's NOT just your body—it's someone else's body inside yours. LOOK at the pictures, and learn science. It's not a mystery appendage that suddenly started growing, like a cyst, with no know origins. YOU caused the origins! You are responsible for it starting, because you had sex.

Update #16: Pastors & Your Legal Sex Rights

(4/17/19)

The Christian Cabal KNOWS even them paying for pregnant women to see a sonogram doesn't guarantee they'll take to term, so they want to force them to! They HATE the "sexual revolution" of the 60's, and want to return America to the 1940's, when they were kids. Backwards-focused! Ancient aspirations vs. biblical!

To be consistent, even if they're not, and have different views, the Christian Cabal would HAVE to say there can be NO abortions allowed after the seed has penetrated the egg, as life begins then, and babies are innocent, and Thou shalt not skill. Any deviance from this position is inconsistent with their ban position!

And some don't approve of contraception, as a supposed sin. They'll NEVER have the gonads to say so, publicly, but they want all sex to be to be a mom—not for fun, even in marriage. They advocate for everything that would lead to even more foster kids in the system, and unadopted kids, and over-population.

The Cabal has NO plan for women to afford the $10,000 minimum baby carrying costs. They DON'T CARE about anything but babies starting after egg fertilization, even though all babies are born sinners (NOT perfect, or moral innocents), and go to Heaven.

I've heard a Christian extremist say Plan B is bad and harmful! It didn't matter how many times it was used, even once! We all know Catholic doctrine says no contraception, and if you believe life begins at conception, as I do, any abortion is killing a child! I've never denied that; it's just WHEN?

If fertilization/conception CAN'T be known by any woman until it occurs, absent Plan B after sex, within three days, abortions WILL occur, or all sex will lead to childbirth. Science can't tell women if fertilization will occur—only that it has. The Christian Cabal wants all sex to birth babies! ONLY for family growing!

They want to end the sexual revolution, not curb it by motivating safe sex, by fear that you won't be able to undo mistakes if you have any! Would Jesus let a woman bleed out? He healed a woman with an issue of blood, so I say the clear answer is NO WAY. #WWJD The Christian Cabal says it's O.K.

No religious Pharisees are 'gonna keep fornication from happening. They cherry pick their public morals! Serial adultery is O.K. in the leader of our nation, as with divorce and public cussing, violence threats, vulgarity (Megyn's wherever/grab a woman's crotch), mocking the disabled, and making fun of POW's.

And if you're too poor to travel to a blue state, for an abortion, bleed out, or try a black market quack doctor! Richer red state women can travel, but you can't. And don't ask us for one tax dollar to help either of them. We just lobby evil politicians in the White House for our wants—not those of the clamoring America majority voters!

If you get raped in a red state, or are an incest victim, old white males of the Christian Cabal want you to be forced to take to term! If a mom's life is at stake, die. If you won't comply, bleed out with a coat hanger! If your baby will be a "vegetable," live with it! THIS is the "Christian" ends they are seeking!

There are pastors who have hearsay familiarity with things their lawyer friends say, like Roe was wrongly decided. Any state law conflicts that rise to the level of their hearing, due to its importance, is within their jurisdiction. Life and health/safety meet that standard. (4/18/19)

And 'life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness' was not deemed to apply to people who aren't born yet; they also considered viability, and the horrificness of third trimester abortions, balancing interests between extremes of no abortions and any-and-all abortions. They had every right to rule as they did, and it was a 7 to 2 decision; not even close. (4/18/19)

Update #17: Overturning Gay Marriage is Next?

(4/20/19)

As the political season heats up, TrumPastors will NOT have the moral consistency of their claimed Christian convictions to advocate for overturning Obergefell/national gay marriage! Instead, they do so by stacking SCOTUS right-ward. You'll NEVER hear them seek anti-sodomy laws, or laws to kill people engaged in gay sex (Levit. 20:13), because this is using religion for politics!

I am not for any of those things, but since they claim they're defending religious values, I'm showing you that that's a front/farce—it's for WASP votes to the GOP, to defend the biggest sinner politician in America!

The Bible teaches life begins at inception, and thou shall not kill. So the Christian Cabal's efforts to overturn Roe literally mean they want to end all sex, except if you want to have a child! How can I make such a bold allegation? I use logical deduction, and proof/evidence—not emotion:

The egg gets fertilized within 2 to 3 days of sex (i.e., inception), if a woman is ovulating: <https://www.avawomen.com/avaworld/when-does-implantation-occur/> ... By Christian standards, a life/baby begins then (Job 3:16, et al), and we aren't to kill (Ex. 20:13). It can take several days if not weeks to learn you're pregnant: <https://www.parents.com/advice/pregnancy-birth/getting-pregnant/how-soon-can-i-detect-if-im-pregnant/> ... This means you can be pregnant before you learn of it, so stopping its natural progression would be killing a baby God has given life to.

Unless technology allows one to know they're 'gonna get fertilized, or they stop it occurring if they don't want to have a baby, unless they go to term, a life will be ended by all abortions! That means the Christian Cabal WANTS raped women to carry to term, and incur the $10,000+ costs, and the 9 months of labor, pains and doctor bills/visits! Same with incest, mom's life and the vegetative child syndrome.

It also means their desire would force all sex to be for baby-making only (because you can't know if you're pregnant until it's too late to stop it), and many of them even teach Plan B is evil, even if taken before fertilization.

These males NEVER have the courage (i.e., the cowardice sin) to say things this plainly about their political desires! They LOVE to say let states decide for themselves, but when they bring faith into the mix, I just explained to you what states that do so MUST make laws to forbid, if faith tenets are obeyed, in a theocratic red state!

Sex is ONLY for baby-making among married opposite sex people is what they WANT to tell you, but are too scared to say publicly! Instead, they use the Constitutional rationale of 'state's rights,' when Christians are to2 obey God more than Caesar!

You used a condom, or The Pill, or had your tubes tied, and it failed? "Take to term." Their slogan for the most evil president our generation has ever witnessed OUGHT to be, "take to term 2020!" Or "ONLY baby making sex for all."

Update #18: Healthcare Rights End at Another's Rights

(5/8-21/19)

It's awesome to not kill a baby with a heartbeat, but if women can't even know they're pregnant before that point, it's insane to require a woman to make a decision before she even knows she has a choice to make! Can technology allow them to know they're pregnant before the child's heartbeat? (5/8/19)

Between the time of sustainable viability and a reasonable period for a woman to decide after learning of her pregnancy (one month maximum) is the range SCOTUS should allow, if Roe were ever overturned. Nothing more, nothing less. Red states would choose the latter, and blue the former. (5/17/19)

A woman's "healthcare" rights END when they involve another, just like your freedom ends when it infringes on another's. Abortion is NOT like a woman being treated for a sore throat! #EndTheBans TWO people are involved in one person's decision! BOTH have rights—one legal rights! (5/21/19)

I am NOT for abortion bans that don't recognize the three exceptions, and I have no problem with individual states limiting the right within a reasonable time after learning of pregnancy, or hearing the heartbeat. I would not attend a protest for or against abortion, as it's more complex than that! (5/21/19)

Update #19: Ban All, or You Support Abortion?

(6/22/19)

It's EMBARRASSING, lying B.S. logic to say that saying that the abortion procedure must be available for women determined to have one, lest they use coat hangers, means you are "for" abortion! Making it a crime causes back alley, a black market, or punches to the gut! Are Christians for those medical risks? I oppose banning all!

Total abortion bans do NOT achieve the intended end—ending abortions! It just makes them be unsafer. An entire generation has been used to the right, and they're not just 'gonna adopt out, as religious activists would desire! I'll debate FM 660's Mark Davis any day on being "for" abortion!

Pastors are using abortion to unite WASPs for GOP votes. I would benefit from active GOP's voting, but I ALWAYS tell the truth, more than care how doing so impacts me personally! God rewards fidelity to telling the truth, and adhering to His morals, no matter what it does for you, yourself!

To accuse one of being for abortion, to be against coat hanger self-help is to say that NO abortion doctors should be allowed in any state, or it's a crime. That means coat hangers, black markets, and punches to the gut miscarriages. Christians support/are for that? Not real ones! THINK through your emotional views!

If WASP Christians think shoving our views down the public's throat is O.K., be ready for liberals to shove their views down your throat, later on. It's guaranteed to happen, as you caused that reaction! Own it. Bestiality, man-child sex, polygamy, swingers, anything goes, with partisanism.

Update #20: Jesus Said Cram Your Values Down Society's Throat?

You do not force religious beliefs on people, under force of law, to change a culture to being more Christ-like. You convince hearts and minds, first! National gay marriage folk didn't try to stack SCOTUS, to get their way, but swayed public opinion beforehand for 20+ years!

You can personally oppose killing babies in the womb (under most circumstances), and also oppose forcing women to use coat hangers if they're dead set on terminating their pregnancy! In fact, the Constitution requires government to protect the health and safety of ALL citizens.

Solomon was wise enough to know there are TWO people in the decision of dividing up a baby for death. He let the women decide, and the real mother chose to give up the baby, rather than see it be killed. Two humans are involved in an abortion decision!

Talk jock Mark Davis said adoption is the only option. That means for any sex, force women to give birth, and endure 9 months costs and pain that The Bachelorette TV show demonstrated was excruciating, even if raped, incest or mom's life, if adoption is the only option! That's extreme!

The BEST red states can hope for is the power to pass their own abortion laws, but SCOTUS should never allow complete bans for the three exceptions, and it's much more reasonable for women to know they're pregnant, before they're forced to take to term. Some folk even oppose contraception and Plan B. That's extreme!

You do not change culture's attitudes by force. 'A man convinced against his will is of the same opinion still.' The people must be led to beliefs—not have them crammed down their throats by politicians! IF Christians had evangelized and disciplined more, the past 30 years, more people would oppose abortion!

No matter how many conservative Justices get on SCOTUS, it's EVIL to stack courts for political biases, and blue states will NEVER accept national bans on all abortions. They won't even accept bans on abortion for contraception. They'd protest, or go black market! LEARN how to change minds to your views!

If Dems won the White House, and stacked SCOTUS left, conservatives wouldn't like the results of politicization! It's ONLY wise to consider if what you try to do to cram down their throats is what you're willing to have done to you when the tables are turned. Blind emotionalism only sees self-centered policy desires!

U.S. culture has changed to accepting African-Americans as full equals, and never to be treated as second class. That did not come from forcing the public to accept that. You can't force the public to accept that abortion is evil by force of law. It's a heart matter regarding a 'culture of life or death.'

To bore myself to tears, I'm 'gonna drive this topic into the ground... Plan B before the third day after sex, perfect contraception inventions, incentives to take to term, public education and motivation PSA's, prayer, evangelism and discipling, and relationships with conversations—THIS is how you change culture to oppose abortion (in general).

Stacked SCOTUS will NEVER stop the black market or coat hangers, and women will be able to sue the state for endangering their lives. You lessen abortions by proper sex ed and motivation and technology, and Plan B kills no human within three days! Maybe this is rocket science? Not to me!

Rape, incest and the mom's life will always be valid reasons for a WOMAN—not the state—to decide to kill or not kill a child—a heinous sin. Even aborting before the heartbeat is less cruel than after, and it gets even more wicked the longer that decision is delayed!

Just because any abortion for any reason, after the point of inception (2-3 days after sex) is killing a human, doesn't mean the law must ban it, because the law doesn't impose citizen rights until they're birthed, and there are TWO people involved—NOT just the baby! For a moment's indiscretion, the state should force adoption on all women?

If a female gets pregnant, it's HER decision, more than her husband, partner, family and state whether she wants to be a mom. She should NOT abort! It's evil. It's killing. It is NOT legal murder, where she can go to prison for life! She has reasons to abort or not. Good reasoning adopts, and doesn't get pregnant unless one wants to be a mom!

Make a state law that if a female gets pregnant, not intending to be a mom and take to birth, she gets fined a huge amount. Deter bad decision-making! MOST abortions are for bad planning contraception. Legally cause women to be more cautious with sex prep! Fines!

How hard is it to be on the pill? You have little to no excuse getting pregnant not intending to do so! Your sinful promiscuous lifestyle is what some religious people want to stop, with abortion bans. You should stop it, but I'm just saying plan better, because I know many of you won't stop your promiscuity.

Black markets, coat hangers and out of state travel to kill babies is ALL abortion bans cause. If that's what states want to do, I oppose their results vs. intentions. I've just detailed many better ways. Lazy people want quicker fixes.

Red states wanting to ban abortions with three exceptions are still saying, have sex, have the baby, if you screw up! People screw up all the time, folks. Not even knowing you're pregnant, and a state law says you must take to term if you end up being pregnant? Is that red states' majority's view?

Two day Plan B, or else, for people who oppose plan B or contraception, they're truly saying any and all sex must be for procreation—never fun—or your condom better never leak, because we're the sex police who'll force you to never take a punch in the gut by your boyfriend, to avoid our abortion bans and claim miscarriage! That's draconian!

Update #21: Judicial Activism is Wrong—Only for Democrats?

(6/23/19)

EVERY kid I have knows that if you ban abortions, women will undergo unsafe efforts. My wife herself said you ban abortions, and women will still abort, and Planned Parenthood is NOT 'gonna investigate fake claims of rape, which women would do to get one if the three exceptions are allowed.

Conservatives will NEVER get blue states to accept total abortion bans, even if they manipulate the independent body known as SCOTUS to become just another political entity! Conservatives say evil government wants to control you, but that's O.K. concerning sex, apparently.

Ideally, NO abortions would occur, but we live in a fallen world that's NOT ideal! You have to deal with the real, and reality is I've suggested five ways to lessen their numbers, that don't involve bans or government forcing women to adoption. Ruth Bader Ginsburg will be KEY in who replaces her being for or against overturning Roe.

It's EVIL to stack SCOTUS, politically! Judges are to interpret the law, not make it, and are to be apolitical! You shouldn't have to court shop to get justice, looking for judges favorable to your side or views! Just enforce good laws. The GOP is whipping WASPs into a frenzy over Roe, for votes!

Update #22: How To Lessen Abortions

(6/24/19)

It's a heinous sin, killing a kid. It's sometimes a necessary evil, in three exception cases, especially if done as early as possible (preferably before insemination, using Plan B before the third day after sex). Knowing some will use coat hangers, it's government's JOB to protect citizen's safety (i.e., the U.S. Constitution).

I NEVER support ANYTHING evil in any party I ever associate with, and I am very "fluid" in party affiliations, as I want my ideas implemented, however that can happen, because they're common sense. I myself am for five alternatives to banning abortions—MUCH better solutions:

To lessen abortions, Plan B before day three, smart sex (i.e., planned), perfect contraception invented, PSA's that educate and motivate, and incentives for women on the fence, to take to term/adoption. Those five are SUPERIOR to forcing coat hangers that could cause bleeding out! Superior ideas win the day!

Update #23: Only The 'Innocent' Get a Say?

(6/28/19)

When the tadpole breaches the egg, a human is started, biologically and biblically. You can't say it's a dog, a Lego piece, or an extra kidney, and 'my body my healthcare' is wrong—it's another's body in yours. Thou shalt not kill applies to humans, so people argue that even with rape, incest, and a mom's life, you're killing. That position doesn't take into account the other party in the transaction—only the baby.

They say it's innocent, and the mom's not, because she has sinned, and it hasn't, but it's still born a sinner—inherited from Adam. You'll NEVER get people to agree that killing is O.K., even for three exceptions, with these beliefs.

I agree with the ideas, but I take into account both parties' needs, and SCOTUS observed that the kid can't survive on its own, for awhile, so it's killing is not equivalent to shooting someone on the street (i.e., 'viability'). The real issue is when is a moral issue to be a legal one? Is a life killed illegal, when it's not born yet, or able to live outside the womb?

One extreme says that's murder—punish the mother. The other extreme says it's not even human, and receives life later on, magically. So I guess an inanimate object grows, but has no life? That's very ODD "thinking!" You're never 'gonna get some people to be O.K. with three exceptions.

And for the women NOT having one of those exceptions, but determined NOT to give birth, the extreme right approves them risking life or health with a coat hanger, illegal black market doctor, or a punch to the gut, or leaving the state to kill elsewhere! That's considered "moral." Is it infant worship?

Update #24: Abortion Argument(s)

(4/22/19)

Many pastors have taught their sheeple the Bible only addresses abortion as a sin affecting public life! The FULL counsel of God is NOT valued by dupes (Ac. 20:27)! Their Bibles seem only to have three verses, so I guess the rest can be ripped out... Heb. 10:25, Mal. 3:10 and Job 3:16, VIOLATING Rev. 22:19!

In arguing SCOTUS overturned slavery laws, so Roe should be, also, slavery laws were evil, and needed changing. Abortion IS evil, but two people are involved. It's NOT apples-to-apples.

Abortions would reduce ONLY for poor women who couldn't travel out of state, or wouldn't have the courage to use a coat hanger. Black market doctors would arise. Data, pre-Roe, is IRRELEVANT, as we've had 40+ years of women having that right. There's different public sentiment a generation later!

Overturn Roe, and red state women travel to blue states, or use coat hangers. ONLY those on the fence would take to term. Any like that can be convinced, now! Internet-bought Plan B and black market doctors would also defeat that legal banning intention. Simpletons just label smarter people (Ex.: baby hater)!

When people resort to name-calling, they've already lost. Banning abortions in red states would cause women on edge whether to abort to consider not. That is positive! Saves some babies. But that also causes coat hangers and a black market, and possible undue burden Equal Protection issues.

The dolt has zero knowledge of any legal basis for overturning Roe! A 7 to 2 decision ~40 years ago would need a legal basis, unless SCOTUS admitted it was now just a political arm of the government. Changed circumstances would be about the only argument, but what changes? Science?

...and Kavanaugh lying about his "feelings" about abortion is "Christian" behavior, because the ends justify the means?

Contining

I'm positive the Christian Cabal is already scheming to get the next SCOTUS pick a far right conservative! They want to force Roe's overturn, everything else be damned!... law, public opinion, morals. They lived when Roe didn't exist, and want a return 2 bans! I want less abortions-the RIGHT way.

Ethics are NOT their concern! Power and love of money and party worship are their "family values." More like the Mafia "family." I have NO PROBLEM with heartbeat laws, IF they don't violate national law, and express the will of the people in that state. But you've still got to let moms decide, if their life is at stake!

I don't know how heartbeat laws don't cause a conflict SCOTUS will need to remedy! I was the guy, WELL before Christian Cabal, who riled them up to feel guilty letting Roe pass unchallenged, with no detailed/further issues addressed. I have the tweets to prove it, in our FREE website book! It wasn't 45!

You HAVE to ask, WHY did the Christian Cabal get worked up about Roe in 2016, and NOT much since Reagan's time? They saw two SCOTUS vacancies. But IF you trust God, you trust if you vote for the more moral and intelligent of two flawed candidates, God will honor that decision. They VIOLATED Pv. 3:5, leaning on their OWN understanding!

HITLER would have gained the Christian Cabal's support! Proof? He HID his evils. Trump openly displayed his, and they gladly embraced that for Roe's biased overturn (an overkill solution, and judicial activism). ALL Hitler would have had to say was he'd appoint two conservative Justices! This is UNdeniable, but also, unbelievable!

Maybe that last post flew over your head. Any sin or stupidity was O.K. for the Christian Cabal, so long as a promise to stack SCOTUS to the right was guaranteed; they'd sway WASP congregants, and be in charge of marketing evil as good, OPPOSITE of Isa. 5:20. They'd sacrifice reputations for immorality, because, to them, ends justified the means; win at all costs, including the cost of morals.

Religion, at its core, beyond the afterlife, is ETHICS/morality! Without that, it offers NOTHING to man but empty, emotional hope (i.e., delusion). Facts and morality are everything, for REAL Christians. NOT for Chump voters! That's called apostasy! Sin-to-win!

LOOK at this list of sins in word and deed which Chump FREELY engaged, as his offer to America as his credentials for the highest job: <http://facebook.com/jim.meroney.3/posts/1683401871972299> Eighty-one percent of WASPs bought the 'baby Christian' lie, because most are carnal! I've said this for four decades, and the statistics back me up!

Pastors don't often change that condition, through discipling—just preach sermons! WHO was it who called for revival well before any others? Yours truly. You can call this bragging—I'm stating facts you'll never know. NO Republican was as stupid or sinful as Chump, yet the Christian Cabal embraced his non repentance, even as they preach repenting as required for Heaven—to be a Christian!

The main ring leader of their bunch is @jackngraham, who called Chump's campaign 'nonsense,' 1.5 weeks before he told ABC News he could 'champion' Chump. He likely "negotiated" WASP votes for Roe's overturn, during that 1.5 weeks! MY ex-pastor. I moved on from there.

Let's address the Roe overturn lessens abortions Book Argument: The issue is is it the right thing to do? SCOTUS would have to have standards for states to consistently follow, like three to four exceptions, and maybe a prohibition against banning all abortions, even/especially those before a woman learned she was pregnant!

Religiously zealous red states would say EVERY fertilization has to go full term, no matter what! Broken contraception/condom, no use of Plan B within three days of sex, or anytime, no contraception allowed to be sold in their state, even online, rape and incest victims must carry the effects for nine months!

Tublizations that go haywire don't matter... we want a GLUT of unwanted and uncared for babies we activists won't pay for—just clamor for their being birthed!

If self-help occurred in their state's back alleys, any physical harm this ilk would be O.K. with, including bleeding out deaths!; just the cost of doing business.

And any undue financial or physical burden on red state women seeking abortions in blue states, especially against their poorest women, would NOT be a concern to them, because they're cult-like focused ONLY on one issue, and not the ones that organically surround baby killing!; blind un-objectivity and un-informedness!

NOT in my back yard. That's ALL they care about. They FALSELY believe God will be happier with them if they clamor for red state bans, even though there are BETTER ways to reduce abortion numbers, and God is ALWAYS concerned with doing things the RIGHT way! In fact, that's 'gonna be a political slogan of mine!

Red states would HAVE to have three to four exceptions to any abortion ban, and not ban them until, perhaps, the heartbeat of the baby. You can't make women take to term when they don't even know they're pregnant. Proving rape or incest occurred would be all but impossible! This isn't what activists are clamoring for! Many of them want all abortions banned.

I have NEVER said I opposed state's rights on abortion, though I've defended Roe as the law of the land/precedent. The majority will of the people would have to be considered, as with a legitimate legal reason for such an overturn, and SCOTUS would have to set up standards beneath which no state could go, to be Constitutional!

I LOVE how a dolt I briefly argued with made it a 'who loves the babies more' debate, from FOOLishness! He has naive emotionalism. I know law and facts, the Bible and ethics. He had no such restrictions on his blind loyalty to impractical idealism!

If a human knows an act is illegal, they'll be more cautious doing it—like speed limit signs. Abortion is NOT just one person involved, deciding to break a rule that killing is wrong! There are innocents who get pregnant, and babies always are. Also, it's a harsh punishment for poor planning, if you didn't plan to be a mom as a result, and it's ridiculously tone deaf to say every act of sex must birth a kid, by law.

Update #25: Gay Balance

(5/20/19)

'Love the sinner hate the sin' is ALWAYS the proper Christian view toward homosexuality, or any sin. Older WASPs easily side with the evils of gay sex, but show love for them in much less ways than hatred of their lifestyle choices. I also believe it's not 100 percent a choice, but an impulse many are born with.

If a man is attracted to a man, as a life partner, and a beautiful bare naked lady doesn't do anything for him, is he to be celibate for life? Self-help sex release? Fake women that he's into them? It's not as easy as 'just say no!' They're human equals, no matter what! Don't treat them as inferior! It's a sin to do so.

LGBTQ persons need to be concerned that the right's push to overturn Roe ONLY means Obergefell is next, decades later, when you think it's the established law of the land! I was NOT for nationalizing gay marriage, and opposed it vehemently! I led the fight (in 2015). I oppose its overturn!

Like George Bush, I was for civil unions, with all contractual rights married couples enjoy, but before God marriage is NEVER between the same sex! To use the term is sacrilegious! Culture uses it, but God doesn't recognize their definitions! They're human equals but NOT spouses, or God-approved!

Update #26: Abortion Ban Laws

(GA & AL; 5/19-22/19)

Here's EXACTLY what these doofus abortion restriction laws are saying: IF you have sex, you'll birth a baby, unless contraception some of us oppose (Catholics) never fails. If you're raped, deal with it, and pay all the costs and consequences; same for incest! And if you have sex off emotion/poor planning, we'll make you be a mom under threat of prison.

I am opposed to killing innocents as much as these fools. But I can observe that two people are involved. They're blind to that fact! SCOTUS wasn't blind to that fact, either! The Christian Cabal didn't do as gay marriage activists did—get the public on their side, first, over decades. They simply used brute force of court stacking, voting in the AntiChrist, by sin. Totally opposite moral methodology.

And every Georgia female who dies by coat hanger (DBC) needs to be placed at the Christian Cabal's doorsteps! Black market doctors would open practice, underground. It's all a foolish and futile act in not being serious politicians, doing their job! They only want their STUPID law going to SCOTUS!

Alabama Senators PROVE their lack of productivity is by choice—they CAN act when they want to, swiftly. Opportunists and overpaid for their productivity!

When my family travels through GA and AL, this summer, I'm 'gonna PURPOSELY ensure we spend not one dime there, especial AL. I'll gas and eat and bathroom up in MS and FL! WE both want less abortions, but I NEVER support STUPIDITY, like 81 percent of WASPs DID! That empowers it (and evil).

It's irrational to require a woman to abort or not abort if she doesn't yet know if she's pregnant! That's NOT informed consent! I'm 'gonna see what the time difference is between knowing you're pregnant, and detecting a heartbeat: https://www.babycenter.com/404_when-can-i-hear-my-babys-heartbeat_10349811.bc

#LifeIsABabysRight #AbortionIsAWomansRight It's TWO people, people!!!

NO woman who has unprotected sex should wonder/be in doubt if she wants to be a mother as a result. You're risking it, so you should face the consequences of that bad decision. Plan B within three days is the ONLY way not to kill a human!

What the Christian Cabal has done to my religion MUST be like what terrorists have done to peaceful Islamists! It angers me, BUT I SPEAK OUT. They're NOT 'gonna kill me, but terrorists might them. That's the difference! Hijacked religion by nonviolent vs. violent people! It's harder to speak out, for them!

According to these articles, a woman would get one week to decide to abort, after learning she's pregnant, before the child's heart beat can be detected: (link: https://www.babycenter.com/404_early-signs-of-pregnancy-when-will-i-feel-symptoms_10372077.bc) babycenter.com/404_early-sign...

Let's work through that: She'd have to take a pregnancy test IMMEDIATELY and regularly until she failed it. Then hope the heartbeat isn't heard within a week (if she goes to a doctor). There's NO WAY to enforce such a law!

Are GA politicians 'gonna require pregnant women to get a sonogram, or see a doctor their fifth week after every sex act, or within a week of failing a pregnancy test? DUMB politicians!

I have ZERO problem with any state having a heartbeat law, if that's the majority opinion, and they take care of poor women's costs to travel to blue states, but a one week window is quite short for deciding if you want to be a mom, if that idea had never been real, before you take a pee test!

How long is reasonable? One month maximum! If she even thinks she needs a pregnancy test, she has known she could be pregnant, which means she has known she may already be becoming a mom. The idea is NOT 100 percent foreign to her! Reality sets in when the test is failed, then 3 to 4 weeks maximum to decide!

She has to do everything perfectly, to adhere to a one week window! Test take as soon as it can show up, medically/scientifically, and worry the heartbeat could occur whenever, at which time she could be jailed. Women shouldn't be forced to be moms under threat of jail time! Free-willed, but a limited window!

I don't like, but I respect a blue state having laws that any abortion is O.K., if it complies with Roe/federal law. You accept differences! You don't try to shove your views on others, and sin by scheming to make others bend to your will and whims. That's what the Christian Cabal tried to do!

FEW people are saying this, but state government politicians are TRYING to make SCOTUS think there's a sea wave of clamoring to overturn Roe. LGBTQ activists got states to be for gay marriage, until critical mass was established. That was voters based—not activist conservative politicians based! They're DIFFERENT!

No one's asking why these bumpkin politicians didn't pass these abortion restricting laws the past 45 years since Roe? It's due to two conservative justices on SCOTUS! The Supreme Court will deservedly lose ALL credibility if it gets politicized. I'll personally not respect anything it decrees! That's NOT being objective!

The Alabama joke of a law will NOT pass the district court level, much less the federal appellate or SCOTUS. Those politicians are as dumb as frivolous lawsuits! They don't even know how to write laws to challenge Roe for overturn. They're making their state look STUPIDER. That's hard to do!

The IDIOCY of stacking SCOTUS right is belief in my-way-or-the-highway selfishness, contrary to Jesus. Any party who engages win-lose will later lose, then whine that they're not winning. Gridlock and undoing opponent achievements is all we spend tax dollars on? Asinine, vs. using common sense!

The buffooning idiot Alabama politicians NEED to learn, for once, that if you insist on state's rights extremes, with no national standards, they may ban even mom's life abortions, but others will go for even aborting birthed fetuses! There IS a balance, and SCOTUS sought to find it via viability.

Viability was a credible standard, in that if a baby can make it on his/her own, who is his/her mother to say he/she can't live? The child is its own person, able to live without dependence on mom's body! SCOTUS sought to avoid its own politicization, and biased extremes, with Roe!

For any newbies, here are four solutions to lessen abortion FOOLS/idiots/stupid people never seek, politically: Perfect contraception you can turn on and off, public education initiatives for smart sex, Plan be before three days of sex, and incentives to take babies to term, without wombs for hire! Vote for THAT!!!

For states with three abortion exceptions, HOW would authorities prove rape or incest? Just take a woman's word? Any gal who just wanted out of her responsibility would claim those two exemptions. DNA would lead to 'he said she said' testimony of consent! IDIOTS blindly fail to think through proposals!

We'd have court hearings testing DNA, Maury shows 'you are the father,' then lie detectors testing if rape or rupees were involved? If DNA was a relatives, the case would be a lay down hand, in more ways than one. Could rapists be proven not to be flings a gal just met? Character witnesses needed?

'I was raped' claims may not include bruises. DNA could track down the accused. Friends and family could testify she never knew the dude. He'd say it was a spontaneous fling; she'd deny that. Lie detectors would likely be needed. Maybe that's why AL rejected the rape exception, but incest is provable! DNA!

What's BAD about Roe? Some people say it usurped state's rights, but that's an IGNORANT opinion, because the issue is too serious/important to retain variety. Standards could have been established for a range of state laws, but SCOTUS didn't! It's also bad letting babies die.

If you're literal to the Bible, anything you do to terminate pregnancy one second after inception is a human killing. People who believe government's job is to implement the Bible will never be for any abortions under any circumstances. American isn't a theocracy! You can't vote it into being one! Establishment clause! Deal with reality vs. idealism.

Life idolaters have ZERO skills convincing women 'outa abortions, so they bully with bans! I guarantee you most people clamoring against all abortions have NEVER evangelized everyone in their circle of influence. That's the SIN of hypocrisy! Let birthed people go to Hell, not unbirthed to Heaven! Idiots.

There are a limited few instances where religious people should not be forced to interact with gay 'couples.' Performing a wedding, catering such, doctors caring for adopted kids, and handling adoptions. I can't think of any others. No normal businesses have any such right to claim religion to discriminate!

And if a competitor business for those four services doesn't exist within 10 miles, they must do so begrudgingly! I also oppose making straights shower with trans in public places, or the military. No one wants to see that! It's bad enough to see straight males nude in shower areas! Hide your damn stuff!

If anyone learned anything from the 2016 election, it's that paybacks are Hell, for every action there's an equal and opposite reaction, and pushback/blowback exists! The Christian Cabal sought to ban abortions, and hate on gays. People don't take injustices lying down! You always have to plan on it! Chess can teach you.

Anyone who engages my-way-or-the-highway is a FOOL! You can't dominate a free people for long! The Christian Cabal thought they'd make America into their theocratic image, but Roy Moore was but the first sign the American people won't let any elite few control the masses/majority! Bad strategists!

Does anyone see that the Christian Cabal started all the ill-will over gays and abortions? If you want to know the exact details on how they started and operated, READ Christians For Trump: Is God a Democrat or a Republican?, at AmericanAnswers.org. Sorry, it's not a movie or video. Thinking vs. feeling caps are required.

PASTORS, since Reagan's day, IGNORED culture wars (especially during the Bush and Obama years) to chase fame and fortune with mega churches and TV syndication. REAL/regular people were lobbied to see gays were human. Obergefell passed, even as I warned these sleepy old men they were negligently idolizing!

Even CHUMP'S few good ideas came from HERE! I wrote about babies' heartbeats, and asked why it takes women so long to decide to be moms, maybe almost five years ago! The MOST important topics are written of HERE, before anyone else picks up on them, like pundits and the media; all glory to God. You can't do that!

Update #27: Win At All Costs?

Because American politics is an IMMORAL business, I KNOW few-to-NO GOP's will do this for another two years, though it's been due for two+ years, but any claiming Christians SHOULD have rebuked Chump for this, and threatened NO support if he didn't change: facebook.com/jim.meroney.3/

LONG ago I posted win or you have NO power. As a Christian, watched at that time by MANY pastors, I thought it was understood, assumed and obviously stipulated that you don't seek power at all costs, especially moral costs! But some lawyers or strategists got involved and convinced the Christian Cabal who was behind me that Roe overturn by two Justices was worth EVERYTHING!

I had shamed famous pastors in their 70's that Roe passed on their watch, and had I been old enough I would have done something. Again, I thought it understood that total bans were not considered, but the restrictions I've detailed that must be national if Roe is repealed.

I put that urgent guilt in the chief Christian Cabal organizer, with those two posts, and have said, if it's ever overturned, I'd have no problem with states making their decisions, if reasonable laws were passed that cared about women's safety and poor women's costs in red states. We TOTALLY disagree on that still!

Liberal Dem women clamoring to defeat abortion-hating Dems haven't the b_ills to say their true beliefs, but those are: I WANT TO HAVE THE RIGHT TO KILL A HUMAN BABY ANYTIME I DAMN WELL PLEASE, and make it a gender issue vs. a kill a life issue, stating that men predominantly are passing these laws.

Such people, male or female, have evil desires to kill! They call it women's health and reproductive rights. Your health isn't the issue—it's fine! Your baby's very life is at stake—not just its health! And you can reproduce all you want—you just can't kill at will! Verbal semantics to trick stooges!

I've asked before, HOW LONG DOES IT TAKE FOR ANY WOMAN TO DECIDE, AFTER SEX, THAT SHE WANTS TO BECOME A MOM, EVEN IF SHE HADN'T INTENDED THAT WHEN SHE SPREAD HER LEGS? This bluntness of questioning is NEVER asked this way, because Americans are CHICKENS at asking the hard questions! I am NOT! I just did, again!

You agreed to lie down and sleep with a man, knowing a child could be the result! If you were raped, the victim of incest, or your life ever becomes at stake, that's a TOTALLY different matter! Even if your finances change, you can adopt, or should know they're on the brink when you engage intercourse. Even if you have a totally unexpected financial loss, you decide to be or not to be a mom, somewhere after sex and before birth!

I am NOT for any woman using a coat hanger, having to travel to another state, or black market quack doctors doing the procedure, so I'm for it being safely available! I do NOT agree with poor planners or arrogant murder intentions being rewarded by force of law! Heart beat laws, within one month of detection of pregnancy and/or heart beat are REASONABLE! They also need not be the law of the land, if Roe caves, but red states surely should consider them, as I implied for years ago (documented in this book).

Blue states can be more open in allowing baby killing, but CERTAINLY New York goes too far to exceed the potential medical viability standard of Roe, to actual viability outside the womb still being a target for murdering (it IS murder, outside the womb!).

I have never referenced abortion as murder, and I even scold extremists who do, but once born, U.S. law deems them citizens with rights, and it is murder! Murder is NOT age dependent. If inside the womb, the law can't say for sure it/the child will be birthed. Once birthed, our laws convey rights, like life vs. death as a right of moms!

There is NO morally good reason for any woman to not be able to know she wants her pregnancy terminated by the second trimester! You only have three months more to endure to adopt out! That's where Roe got it right!

So a range is in order, as a national standard, which can't be violated: One month after either a heartbeat or a pregnancy is detected, whichever comes first, to the third trimester's beginning (i.e., the viability test of Roe).

Red states would opt for the former and blue states the latter. I'd have NO problem with that diversity, but SCOTUS has to set standards, and not just let states run willy nilly!

Beyond the first trimester, EVERY reason a woman would abort has no basis in morality, except a mother's life! You knew you were raped or a victim of incest, and educational ambitions or snaring a boyfriend or sugar daddy are NOT moral reasons. Even economic woes are usually predictable—rarely do you lose it all at once.

Update #28: Heartbeat Headaches?

It's been since 2014 that I first raised this issue of heartbeat as a milestone concerning aborting (documented elsewhere in this book): (link: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=0o-bDAUupks>) youtube.com/watch?v=0o-bDAUupks... (link: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Css10ytakYQ>) youtube.com/watch?v=Css10ytakYQ...

I'm going on a tangent I haven't been on in those four years: When you say you're FOR abortion, you're supporting this: (link: <https://www.priestsforlife.org/images/abortion-images-galleries.aspx>) priestsforlife.org/images/abortion-images-galleries.aspx... They say troubled teens who kill animals have propensities for violence. What does being for that "healthcare" procedure say about adults? Near murderers!

Killing babies in the womb is not wrong because Christians say so, or even because the Bible says so, but even natural law and common sense agree. Sometimes, it's a necessary evil, but to treat it as a mere healthcare matter is to deny facts and reality—that it's a separate human being YOU are choosing to kill.

Update #29: Biden on Abortion

(6/5/19)

Biden will codify Roe, IF he has the votes, which is HIGHLY questionable. That puts MORE pressure on SCOTUS to reconsider a Roe overturn, as with recent state laws, though the Justices passed at their first chance, recently. Even if Roe could be codified, it would have to be ruled Constitutional by SCOTUS, after that code law was challenged.

SCOTUS must decide to overturn Roe, or not. IF it overturns, these nation-wide standards MUST prevail: No forced ban until heartbeat are detected and a woman knows she's pregnant, and gets a reasonable period to decide, thereafter. NO abortions after viability, especially not after birth. Rape, incest and mom's life must always be valid exceptions. This national standard, like Roe, takes into account both extremes, in a balanced way, that doesn't force all fertilizations to birth, respects informed consent, makes no babies feel the pain of the evil I personally oppose and murders no born kids.

It also respects state's rights differences, without allowing willy nilly hodge podges of opposite extremes. Red states get heartbeat laws, with informed consent, and blue states get their desires, without their extremes.

Women have a right to know they're pregnant, and babies have a right to life when their heartbeats begin. They deserve life before, but laws sometimes differ from personal and even religious convictions. The viability test of Roe is maintained as the limit to when you can abort, and NO woman is forced to birth a baby if she's raped, an incest victim, or her life is at stake.

Red state extremists want NO abortions, and blue state ones want to kill live babies outside the womb. Religiously, personally, factually and actually life is at conception, but laws in a non-theocracy MUST consider BOTH parties involved—NOT just the baby/innocent, and if extreme red states got their desires, coat hanger self-help and black market doctors would arise, endangering women, and government has a duty to protect life, health and safety.

You can't do through law what you need to, but often don't do apart from it... convince women to plan sex and not get pregnant if they don't plan to be a mom. Perfect contraception you can turn off and on, Plan B within the first three days of sex, education on inception prevention through smart sex, and incentives to take to term are NOT what activists are clamoring for, because they're evil and lazy, and want a quick fix through government!

My standard is fair, legal, and only needed if SCOTUS reverses Roe. There's no way to predict that. In short, codifying Roe fixes NOTHING forever, but lets Joe appease his base, as yet another politician who doesn't rule by convictions, but by expediency of the loudest voices in his party, namely AOC and liberal extremists! #WEAKNESS!

IF federal laws were what they SHOULD be, rather than what any group WANTS them to be, they would NEVER need to be changed. You DON'T get what you want with laws, but what you need! Rich states BEGRUDGE subsidizing poor ones, by "money laundering" (confusing ownership) taxes in D.C., like from Texas to New Mexico!

Here's what IDIOTS need to know (and I mean that term LITERALLY, as MOST Americans aren't lawyers, and DON'T know U.S. law, so their opinions are idiotic)... state's rights have LIMITS! Federal law is NOT evil. Issues become federal when variant state laws are fundamentally problematic, and need consistency.

It's AWESOME Alabama's majority seems to hate all abortions, but the feds (who AREN'T demons) have a RIGHT to force Alabamans to also consider women's safety in harm or death/bleed out from back alley abortions. If Alabamans want ZERO abortions in Alabama, TEACH all your women how to have safe sex, and to use Plan B if she ever fears contraception failed!

If you're Catholic in Alabama, and oppose contraception, use Plan B every time you have sex. NO human is killed, if you use it in the first three days. STUPIDITY hurts ALL Americans, like least-educated states that vote emotion only! And for any New Yorker to CELEBRATE a state law to murder birthed humans, you are morally corrupt.

THIS is EXACTLY where I said the feds must get involved, when idiots and extremists pass state laws the feds CAN'T allow to stay on the books. You aren't 'gonna LIKE every law that gets passed. You aren't God! Deal with it.

You have NO right to say every woman must birth every baby if she gets raped, is the incest victim, or her life's in danger, or to force ALL sex to lead to motherhood! You also have NO right to say women can have any sex they want, and government has NO say if bad consequences arise!

Religious people have values that DON'T become law just because they're in the Bible! Cussing is a sin, but U.S. law allows it. Adultery and divorce (with two exceptions) is a sin, but U.S. law allows it.

Babies, before a heartbeat, are still babies, but moms are also part of the equation, and babies' innocence isn't all there is to say on the matter. IDIOTS say let women injure themselves with coat hangers, because babies are sacred. Babies are sacred, but your lack of concern for BOTH parties, vs. just one, is why we don't need your type passing laws!

If red state extremists want state's rights, overturn Roe and force red state women to use Plan B within three days. And to say contraception is evil is the stupidest idea I've ever heard, all respect to the good things of Catholicism, notwithstanding. YOU AREN'T KILLING ANYTHING!
You're using modern technology that didn't exist in Bible days, to prevent life starting. If you say that's unnatural, so is surgery, makeup, and every man-made thing.

NO Bible verse commands NO contraception, and any other authority, for a Christian, is second rate, at best. Red states will NEVER be allowed to ban all abortions, for the Constitution's health and safety clause, and your religious beliefs I share, can't change that, in a non-theocracy!

COWARDS (a sin) REFUSE to convince women out of aborting, and run crying to big brother they otherwise hate, and say liberals worship, trying to force their religious beliefs down Americans' throats, NOT by law-making, but supporting the dumbest and most evil president in 30 years! BOTH extremes are hypocritical sinners, like stacking SCOTUS (judicial activism conservatives slander liberals for doing).

EVERYthing will hinge on one vote at SCOTUS, and that Justice better adopt common sense, moral and rational values, that are unbiased, and favor no party! Legally make U.S.A. a theocracy, if you're a Christian extremist wanting Bible verses treated as U.S. law!

Red states want NO guilt before God for abortions happening on their watch in their state. Blue states care less about that. There are religious voters who have ZERO concern for obeying God on thousands of moral issues, just abortion, because of POLITICS! That's a sinful over-focus (selective morality vs. full counsel of God), and power idolatry sin!

Update #30: Leadership vs. Followership

(6/6/19)

A genuine leader is not a seeker of consensus but a molder of consensus. -MLK

Leaders don't follow, they influence the voice of the people, and do the will of the people when it's good, convince them when it's bad, or oppose the majority-wanted bad few enough times to keep their jobs!
#Leadership

Professional politicians will call this "responding to constituents," but it's catering to loudmouths and extremists, because they can't lead—just follow the squeaky wheels, like AOC! Politicians spin everything positive, even the Titanic. OBSERVE their sinful behavior! It's NOT positive, folks!

DO YOU PEOPLE see WHAT'S RIGHT BEFORE YOUR EYES? The media WON'T do an article about it! Biden is shifting his abortion funding views to cater to extremists, and Pelosi is shifting from no impeachment to lock him up! THIS IS NOT CONVICTION, but flip-flopping HYPOCRISY, folks!
WHO'S POINTING THIS OUT?

If you think you're leading, but no one is following, then you are only taking a walk.

-John Maxwell

Update #31: Morals & Sex

(6/6/19)

In a morally lost culture, sometimes you have to teach people facts... THESE are sins: Effeminate males, macho womanizers, manly and doormat women, homosexuality, adultery, premarital sex, swingers, bisexuality, trans, sexual fluidity, polygamy, bestiality, rape, incest, and adult sex with minors.

To counter effeminate, or even homosexual males, U.S. culture sometimes makes womanizing macho men the standard, and treats sensitive males as second class. That's extremism! The Apostle Paul knew real men are like Jesus (I Th. 1-2; ma and pa models of discipling).

Bruce Jenner is still a male, in his psyche. He has serious psychological confusing feelings, but he can never be a she, before God, even if he gets gender reassignment surgery. We respect such types as equals, but they are confused by strong UN-natural emotions, impulses, tendencies! (Rom. 1)

IF you were born with faucet plumbing, you are a male. If you are a receiver vs. a giver, you are a female. It's WELL beyond organs, but even if Lorena Bobbitt cut off one's manhood, he's still a male. Fluidity confusion is of the Devil, as in following feelings you aren't the gender you were born as! (I Cor. 14:33)

Update #32: Normalizing Sodomy

(6/23/19)

Arguing purely from functionality, a nose is given so we can smell; ears to hear; mouth to speak; plumbing for reproduction. Gays warp that functional purpose, which, by nature itself, proves they aren't using appendages for the purpose they was given to us. I'm NOT denying fun is a secondary use.

The NBC Today show just said, 'love is love.' NO human or business or government will ever be able to tell Bible-believers that homosexuality isn't a sin. At the same time, no one is to hate or mistreat gays! Saying a sin is a sin isn't hatred! Greed is sin; selfishness is sin; idolatry is sin. It's NOT hate to say the TRUTH.

WHAT'S THE POINT of saying sodomy is sin, if you aren't 'gonna demand gays quit engaging in it? Warning! I know a likely gay man who's the most amazing person I personally know. I've NEVER asked, and never would, and would never tell him to do or don't do anything if he came out to me! Still, sodomy is a sin.

I'm quite sure gay tendencies are NOT objective choices, but strong instinct/impulses/emotional pulls! I DON'T believe all gays choose to be so. Many are born feeling at odds with their plumbing. NONE of that changes the fact that sodomy is sin! So are a million of other actions. Do we hate them all, with equal (political) fervor?

Update #33: Abortion is Murder, & Not In the Constitution?

HERE's the Trumpster political trick: A fertilized egg means a human has started, so any killing is murder, before God. With that premise, white privilege, if not supremacy, money idolatry, greed, hoarding and selfishness are CONDONED by CLAIMING Christians. Even if sincere, abortion serves as a Trojan horse to cover sinful values!

A talk radio boy said "abortion is not in the Constitution." SCOTUS addresses issues that relate to its contents, especially when they affect national issues of fundamental/significantly important issues that don't well allow for variant state laws. MORONS know this—not him, though! Roe fanatic.

Update: A Texas politician was recorded by the media as not only calling all abortions murder, but approving women who undertake them being charged as such, with related punishments!

Update #34: Roe Was Illegal?

(7/11/19)

Talk show host Mark Davis AGAIN said he wants Roe overturned, because the abortion right is not in the Constitution. He has wised up enough to distinguish conservative vs. Constitutional judges, saying he doesn't want SCOTUS doing peoples' political biddings. HERE's his BIG problem with his ideas:

He may have that great document memorized, but SCOTUS is NOT beholden to any citizens' opinions, but the rule of law! And over the past 200 or so years, case law has arisen to establish precedent on what they deem Constitutional. MOST matters they address are not explicitly in that document, but its principles get applied to resolve them, as the highest court in the land!

Mark would say "state's rights" for everything not actually named in the document, using the 10th amendment as justification. Two problems arise... Political activists KNOW in our current climate, ZERO Constitutional amendments can ever pass, and so his distinction with no difference is that he wants conservative judges, because being conservative means literally taking that document on its face, so ZERO cases could be heard by SCOTUS if that document didn't answer them plainly, with NO judicial review or analysis needed!

That is NOT how SCOTUS works, or has for ~200 years, but cases it decides on matters needing their attention establish the related Constitutional case law! Citizenship question in the Census is NOT stated in that document, yet SCOTUS ruled Trump's first tries to stick it in there was unConstitutional.

Why even hear his case, since the literal language doesn't answer the question, under Davis' reasoning? The document is NOT perfect; case in point: slavery and women's voting rights got changed. But that's beside the point.

NO talk show host or pastor who isn't a lawyer is 'gonna be put on SCOTUS, as it's NOT their expertise or specialty, through training he'd likely call biased liberal education (i.e., law school). No—we need people smart and educated enough on the law and case histories to accurately interpret matters according to the original intent of that document, as far as that can be determined, and in accordance with its principles.

Bank bailouts and subprime loans are NOT mentioned in that great document! Does that mean only states can decide if they're legal? According to Mr. Davis' logic, yes! LIST every topic SCOTUS has heard arguments on the past decade. If the "issue" at hand isn't answerable by a kindergartner who reads the text, SCOTUS has NO business taking jurisdiction, according to this conservative thinking!

Higher education CAN bias people politically left, but not all lawyers are leftists, and certainly biased right talk show hosts need never tell SCOTUS how to do their jobs, God forbid!

Without consulting conservative lawyer friends who advise him that Roe was unconstitutional, does Mark know, first-hand, what standing, subject matter jurisdiction, precedent, injury in fact, cause of action, due process, equal protection, and a host of other legal concepts (not to mention the history of decided, active cases) MEAN, how to apply them to specific circumstances?

IF so, he's practicing law without a license! (a crime). Stare decisis, sliding scale, fundamental fairness, conflict of laws, fundamental rights and the rationality/reasonably prudent person test—he can now go look these up in a dictionary, to SOUND more intelligent, but he'll default to "SCOTUS is not Ragu sauce—abortion's not N there." Simpleton arguments!

I'm NOT opposed to SCOTUS LEGALLY deciding it got Roe wrong, but Davis has likely ZERO bases to decide that except claiming the word isn't in a word search of an electronic version of that great document! That's NOT how the highest court in our country gets or takes cases, Mark!

And so long as his type uses the POLITICAL trick of knowing NO Amendments can be added, because they'll oppose them, politically, their interpretation of that great document is always taken as Gospel, even though ALL they have is literal text, no knowledge of case law or SCOTUS precedents—just opinions!

If you 'wanna be a lawyer, qualify to get into law school! If you 'wanna get legal advice from friends and family, biased to your political causes, know that SCOTUS doesn't have to bow to them!

READ this! (link: <https://www.nytimes.com/interactive/2015/us/major-supreme-court-cases-in-2015.html>) nytimes.com/interactive/2015/us/major-supreme-court-cases-in-2015.html) The U.S. Constitution does NOT spell out how much pollution is legal, housing being discriminatory, and the list could go on for miles. SCOTUS doesn't make up authority to rule on those, though activist liberal judges have before, and that's WRONG! You're NOT a lawyer!

MANY if not most of these cases should be thrown out, if SCOTUS' only job was to decide cases citing chapter and verse of the Constitution, with ZERO argument or evidence needed! (link: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Lists_of_United_States_Supreme_Court_cases) en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Lists_of_United_States_Supreme_Court_cases) (link: <https://www.usatoday.com/story/news/politics/2015/06/26/supreme-court-cases-history/29185891/>) usatoday.com/story/news/politics/2015/06/26/supreme-court-cases-history/29185891/) That's NOT politicizing, but judging and interpreting (i.e., doing their job)!

This political conservative THEORY on how SCOTUS is to act actually leaves the Justices with ZERO need for credentials or thinking powers! ONLY cases where one claims they can openly defy clear Constitutional language laws would ever be heard by SCOTUS! Most federal courts would need closing!

Mark RIGHTLY opposes nationalizing issues that should stay local! The problem is, all politics are local, as seem to be his list of topics SCOTUS can hear! There are serious problem faced by judges in COURTS—not radio studios, with serious conflicts of laws between states, IF you ever read case law facts. Does he?

I'm GLAD Congress (if not the current White House) isn't run by Hannity and his boys, but by people who know the law, or have staff lawyers advise them on it enough to vote for laws that have bases—not just opinions, especially regarding who should sit on SCOTUS! Pastors and talk jocks are usually NOT qualified, for GOOD reason!

So saying a Constitutional, law and order original intent justice is different from a conservative justice is really no different, because if you take the document the way conservatives do, NO issues SCOTUS deliberates should ever be anything but clear cut in the document, or not, so just do what it says!

P.S.: Trump's executive orders, his right to bomb Iran for our drone shoot down, how we are to care for illegals at the border, his Muslim ban—NONE of these are specifically listed in the U.S. Constitution, so Davis would argue that only state courts can address them.

Professionally vs. morally good lawyers can argue anything, and both sides to any issue! Remember that next time you accept free advice from politically like-minded lawyers, Mark! Evil people can do the same with what God's Bible teaches! Anything goes, though God opposes that, and abusing the law, for politics!

SOCIALISM, ANTI-SOCIALISM & CAPITALISM...

Socialism vs. Centrism
(AKA Cortez vs. Schultz)
(1/30-31/19)

It's RIDICULOUS to try to make millionaires and billionaires fund free college, daycare and healthcare, AS IF they robbed the U.S. Treasury to get rich! I stand unabashedly against Socialism. I have NO problem taxing people at a fair rate, the rich more than others, but wanting things for free is laziness I oppose!

STUPID people think politicians have clout when they shout and raise hissy fits! Politicians who do that are in it for themselves (or to support evil), riling up sheep! ONLY intelligent people should lead our great nation. I have ALWAYS said if Dems go high taxes or extreme, I will be 'outa there in a New York minute. I NEVER waver!

It is NOT how a politician gets funded, but what they're for! If funding sways their views, they're CORRUPT! If they convince donors to their ideas, why NOT spend as little time fund-raising, so you can meet the people and get great ideas out in the public square! Socialism is a DUMB idea, defining it as I do.

We have already addressed the negatives of Socialism on our website. I've offered free market and smart consumer ideas for the three areas extremists want to make costly to taxpayers, and free to voters they're courting. Those three are over-priced, but blaming the rich isn't just/fair, so I'd NEVER support it!

And to the one national politician who has been here all day, your ego needs to be checked, and you need to pipe down! You are supporting irrational policies to advance yourself. Power OFTEN goes to green amateurs' heads! Schultz seems like a decent man, and America decides how much experience anyone must have to be a politician!

At the exact same time, I am 100 percent for fair pay for workers. It was a stroke of brilliance/genius to say employers have rules to NOT disclose salaries, ONLY because they want to pay them as cheap as possible, and never get caught! I'd be for a law making businesses UNable to force silence on salaries/wages.

And as to the rich earning it legally and as self-made people, that's NOT the issue! The issue is fairly taxing the wealthy, and with all the loopholes lawyers and accountants find, Warren Buffett could testify that if 1040 forms were made public, you'd see that's often a smoke screen straw man argument!

You cannot ask taxpayers to fork out more than what's needed! Liberals want to punish the rich. Conservatives want to cow tow and cater to them. I want JUSTICE! The HILARIOUS thing about fair wages bills is politicians NEVER balance worker needs with employer needs! It's embarrassing how one-sided everyone is. I'm ONLY for balance, fairness/justice, and win-win for all but criminals and terrorists. FOOLISH biases only attract extremists!

Centrist billionaires have already proven they aren't like stingy, selfish conservative ones, as to willingness to be taxed, but you over-reach, and push an extreme issue, you get deserved backlash! It's one thing to be a decent vs. selfish human being; quite another to be a doormat abused by moochers, via politicians!

Compulsory civic service is preferable to over-taxing the rich! SHARING the pain, vs. abusing people as scapegoats, unjustly, to fund all extremist excesses! #Justice is the only standard worth fighting for!

NEED I remind you, JUST AS imperfect Obamacare caused the rich and employers to lay off many (i.e., extra costs passed on to employee wage expense reductions), Socialism would do the EXACT same thing! Push the rich too hard, they WILL fight back. People always do! #Backlash. It's pure #CommonSense

Update #1: Evils of Extremism

I've said before, extremism inspires extremism in people who CAN'T think well. It's mere emotional knee jerk reactionism. Cooler heads will prevail! If anyone thinks the rich owe society healthcare, daycare or college ('DHC'), I have ZERO to do with that inane concept! Make them cheaper—YES. Free? Hell NO, lazies!

Just for grins, let's speculate a scenario where America ever adopts Socialism. The rich would leave or invest elsewhere, fire as many employees as possible, and automate every job they could. They could shut down their businesses, and open them up elsewhere. This is NOT a scare tactic, but REALITY! I'd do the same!

So you're stuck with a banana republic of moochers sucking on the teet of an emaciated, bankrupt Uncle Sam cash cow, and the nation would implode, economically! I would be the first to cheer her fall, for falling for such economic foolishness. I'd consider another country home, as well! Brit/Swiss

There are services NEEDED from the feds. There are higher taxes owed by the rich (Chump lowered them too much)! There's the Giving Pledge and compulsory civic service, but ultimately, EVERY American has to have skin in the game, and NOT be allowed to just vote that others be their sugar daddy! That's IMMATURE!

The rich did NOT birth you! They have NOT stolen from the U.S. Treasury (people's money). MOST of them didn't rob a bank, or break the law to get rich. They are NOT your daddy! At the same time, right radio, yesterday, said Dems treat government as God, when God is to supply your needs. You are NOT God, working a job, conservatives! That can be a DUMB confusion of yourself as God!

Conservatives think it's God's way to ignore the plight of the poor. They have ZERO knowledge of His Bible, or how His people handled the poor in a Jewish theocratic society in the Old Testament. They don't even care—they just want the 'freedom' to idolize money, and selfish hoarding! That's an EVIL system, before God!

The solution to healthcare, daycare and college costs escalating is MORE competition, and maybe some regulations! It is NOT making them free for the poor! And subsidies MUST be tokenly repaid by civic service! You are owed nothing by the rich, and you encourage abuse offering things for free! Everyone would have every test known to man performed on their body!

An entitlement mentality would corrupt America into lazy bums. Doctors would be overworked, and move, or quit. I 100 percent OPPOSE Medicare for all, free college and free daycare! NOTHING in life is free. You're forcing others to pay your bills, because you won't live within your means, or improve your means/lot in life by hard work and better skills!

Any politician who says the word "free" is a LIAR! It's NOT free for the RESPONSIBLE adults who pay the bill. I will return to the GOP if Dems go Socialist (once Chump is ousted). I'll even campaign to get Socialism efforts destroyed, and I can NEVER be accused of being a tolerator of selfish (vs. philanthropic) rich!

I've railed on them often, if they're NOT significantly philanthropic, and they will hear my message soon! God says even NON-Christian rich are to be generous! (I Tim. 6:17-19) I 100 percent OPPOSE any rich person ever paying a lower percent than the tax code details!

NO loopholes, no offshore tax havens, no lawyers or accountants finding deductions we average Joes can't find. ILLEGAL to purposely ruin a business to balance tax debt for successful ones. I know a rich owner who did that!

But taxpayers paying for those 3 services (DHC) I'll ALWAYS fight, as I'm a taxpayer, and I don't have a spare dime to give to anyone less fortunate than me! Go work harder, buy smarter, and stop using your cherished vote to HARM America.

Vote in Socialism, and I'll personally become your greatest nightmare. It's the sin of LAZINESS to curry up to politicians when you live above your means, when you haven't lived as I have for 11 years, using tricks I can teach you in our books.

If you are too lazy to apply them, and would rather STEAL from taxpayers, I not only DON'T crave your vote, I will ensure the defeat of any selfish (a sin) politician who lies to you that it's "free," so THEY can get a cushy job off your IGNORANCE (yet another sin).

I'm NOT against the safety net! I'm NOT against increased minimum wage! I'm all for every way to reduce the cost of 'DHC' services, and I even believe MOST rich people don't pay their fair share in taxes, and that MUST be fixed. But vote for Socialism, and I'll call you on your laziness sin, publicly. It's WRONG! It means well, but it is unfair and encourages the laziness sin.

Uncle Sam is NOT a magician! We have $22 TRILLION in debt! If China ever does what she SHOULD do, she'd cut us off (i.e., extending credit), and we'd be broke and bankrupt, if the dollar ever ceases to be the world reserve currency. STOP being FOOLS not understanding the terms I'm using! LEARN something!

Uncle Sam is NOT Santa Claus. If you want more money, UNIONIZE! You were FOOLS to allow businesses to negotiate individually (unless you're skilled at negotiating for yourself; most people are NOT). IF we get control of outsourcing and immigration, business CAN'T just replace you with outsiders, or ship jobs away.

Then unions MUST resurrect, for the average Joe masses. I have NEVER liked unions, personally/for myself, but for the masses who don't have unique skills or credentials, they are ESSENTIAL, to leverage better wages.

I'm for increased worker wages, as the economy has improved (using methods I was for, with only one exception—too low taxes), so EVERYone should benefit. Trickle-down is a MYTH I OPPOSE! Today's rich are much more selfish than in Carnegie's days! They are often rats fleeing the Titanic, gathering all the goods before she sinks, instead of caring for employees as family. That's where government steps in!

If you don't think automation, streamlining, robotics, A.I., layoffs, mergers and acquisitions, online stores, immigration, outsourcing and lobbyists were ONLY instituted to make the rich business owners richer, you're a certifiable FOOL! These initiatives HURT average Joes! They WEREN'T used to help your life and wages!

I was one of the first Americans to point out this crisis! Read chapters in this book to see the dates when I addressed it! Employers ONLY hire if they have to. If they don't need your skills, you'll always be unemployed! NO conservative considers the holistic system—just individuals and individual businesses! Fix it!

And Socialism is NOT the right fix. DON'T YOU KNOW that every politician touting it just wants your vote, for imaginary 'free' stuff promised (i.e., lied about)? Stupidity in either party hurts America! Trumpsters voted for tax cuts we CAN'T afford! Selfishness will ultimately DOOM our nation, and it's usually about money from government, vs. working!

That's EXACTLY why I will NEVER be for either extremes! Conservatives want government too small; liberals want it too big. It's EMOTIONALISM!; can't see the middle ground from blind stupidity and NON-thinking! STUPIDITY is NOT a virtue. You have to teach the obvious, now days, sadly! Be dumb, be broke/poor. Government can't help you if that's your free choice!

I've said enough. A friend said, 'you can't fix stupid.' I sure try! If stupidity gets to vote, and the extremists ever united, left and right, U.S.A. would end. You don't need a Ph.D. to understand these matters! Just know extremes are usually wrong! I can't think of one good one.

Intentions are good, but NOT enough! You can DREAM of no poverty, everyone with a good-paying job, no diseases you have to get care for, cheap healthcare, free college and daycare. Pipe dreams only make you look stupid, because those ideas are just that! Reality is reality, and facts are facts. Votes can't overcome laws of economics! #Fantasyland Find me ONE daycare worker, doctor or college professor who will work for FREE! They ALL get paid, just as everyone else who works a j-o-b! WHO'S 'gonna pay them so any person gets their services for "free?" TAXPAYERS! If you don't pay any or many taxes, you almost shouldn't be able to vote!

You have a rent car mentality of use and abuse. Entitlement. You don't care if politicians waste money, as it's OPM (other people's money)! Skin in the game, for poor people, would be compulsory civic service! You have no excess to contribute, but you can serve/work 10-30 hours a year!

ASK NOT WHAT YOUR COUNTRY CAN DO FOR YOU! That USED to be Democrat dogma. Today it seems more to be ask what your country can do for you, by supporting politicians who promise the moon, paid for by the GOP (i.e., money owners). That's OPPOSITE of JFK, and I rebuke and renounce any association with such economic and immoral CRAP! I despise extremes!

IF the Democrat party wants to pull a Trump event, in being for an extremist, please tell me NOW, for I will renounce my two-year stint with the party, and never return (if it never moderates)! If Romney/McCain GOP's never resurrect from dictatorial oppression by The Chump, I'll NOT return there either, though I was GOP since birth.

I have REASONS for my views! I THINK! I DON'T just spew emotions, or vote for desires. That's disproving evolution! You're just an instinctive animal, if that's how you vote! (II Pet. 2:12) GOD gave you a brain. You may have gotten the dollar store version, but USE WHAT YOU HAVE when you vote. To repeat, if our centrist ideas get rejected by Dems, the MOMENT I detect that, I change my form 2 to GOP or independent. It's NOT from fear of losing, but unwillingness to be associated with extremist positions! They HARM America. Emotion ALWAYS is to be subservient to THINKING! FOOLS disagree! #Fools

Do I care I could have ticked off some Dem voters? I TELL THE TRUTH, so my honest answer is absolutely NO! I educate people to change their dumb ideas, on both extremes. If they choose to remain in sin, I'm NOT 'gonna change my positions to appease sinful people! I warn and move on! No compromise.

Are there policies the far left and right are right on, or can get benefit from out of centrism? YES! Government NOT wasting money, cleaner environment, animals abused less by big business, strong borders and military, gays treated with respect. But one-sided extremism NEVER helps the other sides' good ideas!

That's imbalanced, dumb, and NOT the way God wants government to be run, so I oppose that! EVEN the Israeli-Arab conflict has win-win temporary solutions. The ONLY permanent one is when Jesus returns. It's NOT by biased favoring of Israel, as The Chump DUMBly did BIGly!

I'll ALWAYS hold my views! Principle over party! My views NEVER change, whether I run as GOP, Dem or Independent! Ask my family's pastor! He KNOWS my Christian beliefs rule my political ones, and they have NEVER been abandoned, though I changed parties, for now! They NEVER will. I believe these ideas are superior to alternatives, so I'm running.

I'll debate anyone from any party, ONLY publicly; Anytime, anywhere. God gave me my views, so I'm so sure they won't falter, as He is the power behind any throne! (Rom. 8:31; Ac. 5:39) If anyone is courageous enough to debate us before any media, contact us at AAorg2020@gmail.com. I EXPECT crickets! #Chickens!

Update #2: Pre-Books Dems 2019

(2/2/19)

Liberal Socialistic extremism is the ONLY thing Democrats have offered, so far! With NO voices to the contrary, how would you expect the base to react? Emotionally, for whacky ideas! It's all that's being offered, and all they're being fed. Come Friday, that all changes! (i.e., media press release).

No one analyzes those DUMB, extreme ideas! Effect on the debt and economy, unjustness of freebies, sinfulness of politicians handing out cash that's not theirs. Self-centered politicians just seeking a government career. Bashing people who can make money, UN-like those who support extremists who can't! #EMBARRASSING

There's NO WAY Democrat extremism will be allowed to win, and we don't need or want Chump! A viable third party has ALWAYS been needed, anyway! LOOK how long I've been saying that (following retweets)...

Update #3: Giveaways?: Hand-up vs. Hand-out!

(2/3/1)

Here is why I oppose FREE college, healthcare and daycare: 1. That's forcing taxpayers to pay for others, getting NOTHING in return, when they're NOT their employees or children. 2. $22 TRILLION debt, already! Dems can't fund Trump's wall, but can those three things? HYPOCRISY sin.

3. People abuse what they devalue; people respect what they pay for, or have to work for. 4. Even if only the rich paid for them, they have NO moral obligation to be forced to, unless they stole from the system to get rich.

I want EVERYONE having healthcare! If you have kids, and work, you NEED daycare! And if you're 'gonna do well in this era and economy, you NEED a college education! On the latter, certify online college, self-taught, and increase access to junior colleges, in every state!

My son paid for 2 years of a BAYLOR degree, for $6,000, transferring in from a community college! Society NEEDS to end the STIGMA and elitism of poo pooing that education, as the dean of his school agreed with me—the knowledge is the same!

As to daycare, 1. DON'T have kids you can't afford. 2. If you have, pool your resources to pay a neighbor stay-at-home dad/mom to do daycare, with resources off the internet and government programs for educating (no child left behind/head start—even church mom's day out programs, etc.).

BOYCOTT expensive daycares, so prices FALL! FLOOD any low-cost, medium quality schools, so they have to expand facilities. You should also interview newly-arrived immigrants for the job. My family had an at-home, part-time 'nanny,' the first two years of my twins' lives (and it wasn't unbearably expensive).

And as to healthcare, the rich deserve to have whatever they want to pay for quality care! The middle class get what they can afford, and the poor subsidized for minimum coverage and care, paid back by token civic service repayment to society, so they have skin in the game.

Again, FLOOD low-cost clinics, and BOYCOTT highway robbers! Society should NEVER let anyone die, or severely suffer, because they're too poor! But NOT as freebies/handouts. It's easier to vote for politicians who promise OPM (other people's money), but it's WRONG!

And if you're poor, and NOT maximizing your income to buy the smartest, best deals, etc., with no waste, you will ALWAYS be voted down seeking a handout from taxpayers, rightfully so! There are other ways to reduce healthcare costs!

It HAS to be treated like any other business, as to competition. We the people are consumers. KNOW what the menu prices are, and BOYCOTT big shots! The AMA needs to have NO limit on the numbers who can become doctors! Increased use of physicians assistants. Get your drugs from overseas, with FDA scrutiny/oversight, for safety! Insurance policies from anywhere, credibly analyzed for the stability of the company, by analysts.

NO MORE bankruptcy for poor people who develop cancer! Regulations in place to prevent abuse and fraud! NO waste. Preventative care, so you don't have unneeded, costly problems! The civic service can be in any government function, or charity of your choosing. Minimum care, defined by the medical establishment—NOT luxuries, but necessities (Ex.: teeth cleaning once a year—minimum, as with eye care and checkups). Mandatory catastrophic insurance coverage, per Hannity's suggestion.

NEVER use an ambulance, life flight or an E.R. room, if you're poor, unless you're on your death bed, medically/health-wise! It kills your budget. Eat healthy; exercise. Colonoscopy at age 50. Other details left to the professionals, but no one using a Band-Aid for stitches, or left to die because they're too poor! This is America!

Import more doctors from overseas! The Philippines are GREAT for nurses! Doctors ONLY doing doctor duties—subbing out everything else, and required to pass on the savings, as with no paperwork duplication—EVER. Transferrable files/records, mandatory. Healthcare CAN be cheaper. It is everywhere else, so FIX IT!

Update #4: What The Bible Teaches on Socialism

(By Dr. Jack Graham, 5/25/19; <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=FpmtcBFcC-g>)

Today's message, taken first from Genesis 1, I'm simply calling it Christianity versus Socialism... We must always stand for the principles which have made America a great nation. This means that we must always be willing to fight the good fight of faith for our Christian values, biblical values; these values are the very foundation of America, this nation. And in our time, as in every generation, we are compelled, called to face the moral and social issues of our time, and to bring a prophetic voice to all who will hear. All of who love freedom should hear this call, this command, because we are called in every generation to build and rebuild America on the unshakable foundations upon which our freedoms stand. The Bible says if the foundations be destroyed, what will the righteous do? So we as believers and followers of the Lord Jesus Christ are on a divine assignment. As Jesus said, we are to be salt and light in the world. To be salt in society is to use our influence to influence and impact those around us, including the culture. We must preserve and protect what is valuable, and we must expose what is evil. Salt and light. And like John the Baptist, who heralded the coming of Christ, we are to be voices crying out in the wilderness; a wilderness of lies, of unbelief, deception, idolatry and hatred.

America, in many ways, is spiritually sick. There is a war going on in our country; it is a battle for the very soul of our nation. Battles are raging on every front, particularly regarding the family and the future of the nation. Satan's weapons are powerful, and they are lies, deception and hate. And to overcome Satan's lies, deception and hate—the schemes, the strategies of the evil one—we must first and foremost be in the battle. We must engage the enemy; we must always be willing to fight for what is right. This means confronting the culture when it is wrong; confronting it with prayer and the word of God; spiritual weapons—the word of God, prayer and the testimony of Jesus. Now for all of us this requires conviction, and courage and yes, compassion... We must always be brave and bold; and concerning compassion, we must speak the truth in love. It is truth in tears, as we stand for what is right.

When Jesus saw the multitudes, the masses of people, He had compassion on them; His heart broke wide open for them because they were harassed sheep—they were sheep without a shepherd, He said. So Jesus had compassion on them. So with conviction and courage and compassion, we are to confront the evils around us, and bring a message of hope and life to our generation. And that includes engaging the culture; fighting these spiritual battles—they are spiritual battles. These battles include the sanctity of life, the sacredness of biblical marriage; these battles have to do with sexual identity, religious freedom, including the freedom of speech and the freedom of religion; they also include civil rights and economic freedoms, and the right to work, and yes, to prosper. Just a few decades ago, Francis Schaeffer said this: ‘We as Bible-believing Christians are locked in a battle. This is not a friendly gentleman’s discussion. It is a life and death conflict between the spiritual hosts of wickedness and those who claim the name of Christ. Where is the clear voice speaking to the crucial issues of the day with distinctively biblical answers?’ I repeat, where is the clear voice speaking to the crucial issues of the day with distinctively biblical answers? We must be that voice of reason and that voice of righteousness in our generation. May we never sin with our silence. It is said that silence is golden; it’s golden, but I have observed silence is often just plain yellow. May God give us courage and compassion to speak to our generation.

Now there is a growing concern in America—a conversation going on in America regarding the rise of Socialism. President Trump, at the State of the Union address this past January stated clearly and forcefully that America will never be a Socialist nation. But at the same time there are political candidates who say that America should be a Socialist nation. We need to stop right now and define our terms. What is Socialism, because many do not really know what they’re advocating when they say we’re for Socialism. “Socialism is a political and philosophical economic system in which there is government ownership of the means of production [the work that is done] and the primary focus is on providing equality of outcomes.” In Socialism, the government, the state is all important and all inclusive, involved in all the aspects of the citizens’ lives... big government. Now you can contrast this to Capitalism, and if you could define Capitalism, it would be something like this: It’s “An economic system in which there is private ownership of property and goods, and the means of production are privately owned. In Capitalism there is a limited role of government.”

So we’re in the midst of this cultural conversation—this cultural confrontation over Capitalism versus Socialism. Now it should be said that we advocate the kingdom of God; that Christian faith can exist and live within any type of political system; just check the Roman world, the imperial Roman government, and all the rest. So Socialism and Capitalism are both political systems that should be understood always through the lens of our biblical worldview; in other words, the lens of Scripture—what the Bible teaches. Now, just this past week, a recent USA Today article reports that four in ten Americans now embrace some form of Socialism. Four in ten. And 43 percent of Americans now say that Socialism would be a good thing for the country. 51 percent believe Socialism would be a bad thing for the country. So as you can see, just statistically, the nation is divided almost half and half. More and more Americans are leaning toward leftist, Marxist philosophies, often borne is elitist educational institutions. A recent poll of Millennials found—more about the Millennials—that a majority, 58 percent, would rather live in a Socialist than a Capitalist nation. Many see Capitalism, especially young people, as greedy, and even wicked. Of course young people under 30 have not seem what many of us in this room have seen over the years; they have not seen the devastating results of Socialist style repression and oppression in the world—unless you’re paying attention to what’s happening in Venezuela. They are listening to Bernie Sanders, and others, and it seems so compassionate—it seems so constructive and helpful. Some of this, of course, is the very nature of youth. It's as the saying goes, 'if you aren't a Socialist at 20, then you have no heart, and if you are a Socialist at 40, you have no head. Socialism, and its big evil brother, Communism, is fundamentally at odds with Christianity.

So my message today is not so much to contrast Capitalism versus Socialism... but to show you how Socialism, at its very core, is incompatible with Christianity. And ultimately, Socialism is secularism, which seeks to repress and even destroy religion of all kinds. And the thesis of what I'm going to say to you today is that no one serious about their Christianity can be serious about supporting Socialism. First, know this... Socialism is totally secular, and is predicated upon atheism. So let's look at our text, in Genesis 1, at verses 27 and 28... So the worldview that we possess is that God is the Creator, that God exists, that God created all things, including men and women. Our faith is built upon the reality and the authority of God. As Christians, we believe in the resurrection of Jesus Christ, and that salvation is in His name. Contrast that to the ideas of Socialism. Karl Marx is the author, the father, so-called, of the Marxist movement, the Socialist movement, and Scientific Socialism. He considered religion, and I quote, 'the opiate of the masses.' He also believed Charles Darwin's theories of evolution, in order to explain the very existence of life. So at the very core, at the very foundation of Socialism is this idea that God is not real, and that man is simply the product of evolution; we are advanced animals. God is not needed to explain anything—anything at all; in fact, the idea of God was considered, and has still been considered harmful, and must be, at times, if necessary, forcibly removed from society. That's Marx.

You say that was then and this is now. Well it would be a catastrophic miscalculation to think that Socialism's hostility toward religion and Christianity has changed since the time of Marx, because it has not. Socialist countries, are, at the very heart, secular and godless—name me one that isn't—and determined to root out Christianity. What's the proof? Well, this is why churches are dead today, and persecuted in China. This is why your bags are inspected—your suitcases—if you dare go into North Korea. Pastors are arrested in Cuba for preaching the Gospel, and also in Russia, suppression of evangelism and missions. And, I might add, liberals in America, leftists in America, who vote against Christian appointees to the justice system in America. Why? Quote, 'because they dare to be outspoken Christians.' Yes that happened, in America. Democrat legislators, voting against certain jurors and justices to the federal bench, simply because they dared to express their personal faith and religious views. Dr. Martin Luther King concluded this, in a well-known speech: 'No Christian can be a Communist [and again, Communism is the big, evil brother of Socialism, and Socialism eventually moves from economic Socialism, democratic Socialism, to dictatorial Communism], because Communism leaves out God. It regards religion as wishful thinking and the product of fear and ignorance.' So point number one is that no one serious about their Christian faith and their belief in God can seriously support such a system.

Secondly, let's talk about the dignity of man. We read our Bibles, and the worldview that we have from Scripture regarding creation and the created is that God created human beings with dignity. With that dignity comes the responsibility. We are created in God's own image, and are provided with that autonomy and freedom to live our lives in the world. Freedom does not come from government, freedom comes from God. Freedom is a gift from God, but in Socialism mankind is a means to the end of government power and control. People are just a part of the process as a product. Power and control of the government over the lives of the people, and when that happens death and carnage are not far behind. As theologian Norman Geisler has remarked, 'When God dies, man dies.' When men and women are simply viewed as advanced animals, everyone who does not serve the state is expendable. Anyone who dares to speak up against the state is persecuted or destroyed. The twentieth century, which saw the massive growth of Socialism, again in the world, and the spread of Communism, became one of the bloodiest centuries in the history of mankind. And many American soldiers, and others around the world, who fought with us, and by our side, lost their lives fighting Communism, and for the freedom to express our faith, and our speech, and our religion, and to live our lives made in the image of God.

So many soldiers died in these battles; then you add in 3 million were slaughtered under Lenin, in Soviet Russia, and upwards to sixty million—we really don't know how many died in Soviet Russia under Stalin. 45 million people were butchered in just four years in China under Mao Zedong. The millions starved and slaughtered in the prison state of North Korea remind us just how evil Socialism can become. The millions that were slaughtered in the Killing Fields of Vietnam and Cambodia. The starvation, today, of people in Venezuela, and other parts of the world under the tyranny of Socialism. Or you could add the 54 million babies aborted and murdered in America, by abortionist doctors and organizations like Planned Parenthood. And Planned Parenthood and these abortionists were inspired by who? Initially racist and Socialist Margaret Sanger. Nothing leads to death like life without God. And Socialism is life without God. As Christians, we believe, according to God's word, that life is sacred, because we have been born and made in God's image, whether born or unborn, male or female, we believe God has created us, and we are to live in the dignity of human freedom and moral accountability.

Thirdly, Socialism leads to misery, poverty, disease and death; whereas the Bible teaches and brings us freedom, and value, and dignity, and creativity, and innovation, service, advancement and abundant life. Look what is happening, as we mentioned, in Venezuela; just think about it for a moment. A once beautiful country, with the largest proven oil reserves on earth is now in chaos and collapse due to Socialism. The British Prime Minister of yester year, Margaret Thatcher, said, 'The problem with Socialism is that you eventually run out of other people's money.' Socialism, as an economic system, is an epic failure. It undermines the value and dignity of work, and the freedom to prosper. Even in America, Socialistic ideas in the past have produced a Welfare state which doesn't lift people up, but puts people down. In 1958, a man by the name of Gerald Smith, wrote a piece... that's been quoted many times, including by my wonderful friend, Adrian Rodgers, regarding the impact and effect of Socialism upon America and our work system: 'You cannot legislate the poor into freedom by legislating the wealthy out of freedom. What one person receives by not working for another person must work for without receiving. The government cannot give to anybody anything that the government does not take first from somebody else. When half of the people get the idea that they don't have to work because the other half is going to take care of them, and when the other half gets the idea that it does no good to work because somebody else is going to get what they work for, that, my friend, is the end of any nation. You cannot multiply wealth by dividing it. Socialism is stealing. The Bible teaches the value of hard work, from the very beginning... Gen. 2:15 We are commanded to work. Work is a privilege, not a curse. Work is an opportunity for all to advance their lives, and their families. ...Work, like worship, is sacred duty; whether you are worshipping or whether you are working, all is to be done, according to Scripture, to the glory of God, because work honors God by using our talents, our gifts, abilities, our opportunities, our life, our breath, and it serves people, by providing services and opportunities and goods, and all the rest. So work, for the advancement of a society and a culture is vital. Healthy people should work... and that includes healthy older people. The goal of your life is not to retire, and sit on a beach in Florida, or in an RV somewhere, or playing golf and lower your golf score. That's not the goal of your life. A do-nothing life, by any means, is an insult to God. We are called and commanded to work. And the freedom to choose your calling, your career, your work, your pathway to make a living is taught in the Bible.

So is the right of private ownership. It's taught in the Scripture. Now some read the Bible, and they point to Acts chapter 4, and if you've studied the book of Acts... it regards the believers in the first century, in Jerusalem, how they gave their possessions—they had all things in common, 'and those who possessed houses and property sold them, and brought the proceeds to the church.' It goes on to say that they distributed, they passed out these gifts to anyone in need. So in the early church, in Jerusalem, under severe threat of persecution, the church rallied together—there were many poor people, so they pooled together their resources in order to help the poor. Now to the predisposed who believe in Socialism, this looks like the Bible is teaching communal living or communal possessions, and so on. However, when you really read the Scripture, what is happening here is that this practice was local (in Jerusalem), it was never practiced outside this one instance, in the New Testament, and it was temporary. It was never commanded as a way of life for all believers. We read in the New Testament believers all over the world—when you study the adventures of Paul, the journeys of Paul across the Middle Eastern world he often encountered people everywhere who owned properties and possessed goods, and what Paul did was call people to give these things generously and sacrificially, as we are called to do this very day. And let me say, parenthetically, the answer to greed is not Socialism, it's generosity. The answer to the greed of Capitalism is not Socialism, it is generosity and sacrificial giving. Also, this practice in Acts was voluntary. Not everyone, apparently, was required to participate, but they chose to participate voluntarily. No government forced them to participate, to support one another in poverty and persecution—it was the choice that the church in Jerusalem made. In fact, when you turn the page and read Acts chapter 5, it's the story of Ananias and Sapphira—two people in the church who wanted to put on a show, basically, of their generosity, and so they concocted this scheme in which they sold a piece of property—ah, they did own a piece of property—but they sold their piece of property, and then came before the church and said they were giving all that they had acquired—the selling of the property/all their profit from the property—they were giving it to the church. Now that was a lie—because they were holding some of it back, and Peter confronted Ananias and Sapphira and said, 'while it was yours, did you not have the right to possess it?' In other words, personal and private ownership. Peter knew this. Peter participated in a fishing business, before he became a preacher of the Gospel. He said while it was yours, it was yours to do with any way you choose. But you lied to the Holy Spirit, and therefore they're going to carry you out here in just a minute, and that's exactly what happened. He said while it remained, was it not your own/was it not under your control?

And, oh yes, again remember we are talking about a biblical worldview, think about the ten commandments. At least three of the ten commandments speak directly to the issue of Socialism, starting with the top one, which is that we are to worship God—there is one God, and we are to worship God and God only. We are never to worship government. In Socialistic systems and Communism, etc., government is god. So it breaks the first commandment at the outright [-set]. And then, what about the commandment that you shall not steal? The idea of stealing presupposes the idea of ownership. I have something, you want it, you take it. That's stealing. And in my view, Socialism is legalized stealing. Taking from someone else to give to someone else who did not earn it or work for it. And then the tenth commandment, thou shall not covet. Socialism breeds envy, strife, and division. Now I want to say very clearly while the Bible does not endorse a political system, it does endorse private ownership, and freedom, and the value and worth of the individual. And a free enterprise system decentralizes economic power (...such as we favor here in America).

Inevitably, Socialism suppresses the poor, and keeps them down. It legislates theft and elevates envy. Socialism focuses on the government of the state, because government is god. Thus it is idolatry. It is a secular system and way of life without God, where government is your provider. Why would you need God if your government is going to provide what you need? By contrast, the Bible teaches the dignity of the individual, the right of ownership, the blessing of work and the privilege of generosity. The answer, again, I say, to greed, is not Socialism but rather the Christian faith in action. I'm a part of something very good that's happening with our government—our administration today—Scott Turner, active member here, along with his wife Robin, in our church have just been named by our President as the Director of The Revitalization of Cities and Community Zones within the nation. We are going to work together with government, and communities, and people of faith, and churches, to help elevate people from the blight that we see in so many of our cities across America, including portions of our beloved Dallas, and it is a beautiful picture of how, within a framework of freedom, we can work together—churches and government/government programs' possibilities, but primarily it's the people who advance the ministries and the programs that provide the opportunities. It's not a handout, it's a hand up. And all of us who are in Christ are called to serve our community. That means we should do everything possible to earn enough money, not only to take care of our own families, but to give money away to glorify God, to bless God's church and to help people. Socialism breeds complacency, and apathy, but Christianity—the Bible tells us that we are to promote initiative, and creativity, and innovation. We are called as Christians and equipped to rely on the Holy Spirit, and to produce the fruit of the Spirit in our homes, our families, and in our communities, and strive, by God's grace, to better ourselves and our families and our communities. That happens best in a free society. Contrast that to Socialist systems, which suck the life out of people, suppressing the poor and the rich, putting people down and keeping them down.

So as Christians, what are we to do? We are to accept our responsibility to pray, to worship, to work hard, to give back, and to serve Christ by serving people. Rodney Stark, who is a historian (and I'm wrapping up—I know this is like a brain dump tonight...), quotes one of China's leading scholars, who said, 'one of the things we were asked to look into was what accounted for the success, in fact, the preeminence of The West all around the world' (and, parenthetically, you know that China desires world domination, and it is often through economic powers and systems within China, that we are battling right now). But this scholar from China said, 'we studied everything we could about the success of the West after the Second World War, from the historical, political, economic and cultural perspective. At first we thought it was because you had more powerful guns than we had. Then we thought it was because you had the best political system. Next, we focused on your economic system, but in the past 20 years, we have realized that the heart of your culture is your religion. Christianity. And that is why The West is so powerful. The Christian moral foundation of social and cultural life was made possible, through the emergence of Capitalism, and then the successful transition to democratic politics. We do not have any doubt about that.' A system like our American way of life, of free enterprise, to allow us to enjoy our lives, to practice our faith, to live according to God's word, and the dictates of our own conscience, and to be generous, as believers and followers of Jesus, with our love. May God bless America, and Americans, as we bless the world, and the best way to bless the world is by proclaiming the Gospel of Jesus Christ. The U.S. became a free society, and then became the most missionary-sending nation, and Gospel-preaching nation, here and around the world, in history. There is no question about that. That happened because of the freedom, and the freedoms that we enjoy.

Now I remain hopeful about the future of America; I'm, at heart, an optimist; I'm hopeful for our children and our grandchildren. But on the other hand, we must always be vigilant. Some of us need to wake up, and read the handwriting on the wall—what's coming if we do not stand firm. God is waking up His people. May God revive His people; may God give us in this generation a movement, may I say a Jesus movement?

Update #5: The Problem(s) With Capitalism

(See also: What the Bible Teaches About Socialism; 5/31/19)

Background

AWESOME ACHIEVEMENT I've been trying to get her ex-husband to commit to for years!
#MackenzieBezos (5/30/19): MacKenzie Bezos, former wife of Amazon's Jeff Bezos, will follow in the footsteps of billionaires such as Warren Buffett and Bill Gates and give away half her fortune to charitable causes. (link: https://www.cbc.ca/news/business/mackenzie-bezos-charity-1.5152419?cmp=TW_Feed_CBCMain) cbc.ca/news/business/... (5/28/19)

AMAZING attitude toward the value of charity! (SARCASM): [Private account:] Feel sorry for Jeff Bezos, man, having to watch his ex-wife take half his millions and pretty much piss it all away. Like, imagine working your life for something just for your ex-wife to take it and give what you made to some charity.

[Private account:] Has nothing to do with donating to charity, just taking someone else's hard earned money to do so. Although it is Jeff Bezos' fault for being an idiot and not having his ex sign a prenup. Such foolishness.

With a prenup, charity would have received nothing, and as a marriage, the earnings are BOTH people's (joint property). Finally, how hard is it for Jeff to make millions off his millions? I rejoice charity got it, vs. solely selfish heirs! Better than taxing us more! Agreed?

Money to solve society's problems HAS to come from somewhere, or ignore them! It's either charity or taxes. For anyone to demean rich people giving to charity, as God commands, as a waste of money means such critics should be taxed more. NEVER throw money down rat holes. ALWAYS give it for self-sustaining outcomes!

Foreground

Capitalism's problem, among several, is giving back is often NOT respected or encouraged by political conservatives! Mark Levin calls it 'self-loathing.' Some dude I wouldn't peg as conservative just called it peeing away what you worked hard to gain. Free-willed generosity doesn't always get results, like relying on the honor system,

'Unbridled Capitalism' is NOT the answer to world poverty, but Capitalism with compassion/a heart! The U.S. safety net, reworked, is the ONLY way Capitalism shows any concern for the poor, absent more jobs from profiting businesses, who also do everything to keep jobs and wages as low as humanly possible!

So we DON'T get misunderstood, Capitalism is NOT perfect! It may be the best economic system man has devised, so far, but Communism and Socialism COULD be Christianized into moral-behaving systems, but likely never will. Government seizing any property isn't sin; all property is. Even the U.S.A. has eminent domain!

HERE are the sins and problems with Capitalism: Money idolatry is encouraged. Get as much as you can, with ZERO calls to give back, by political conservatives. HURT poor people by automating or robotizing all jobs you can, opposing minimum wage and regulations that protect workers, and outsource jobs and import labor with NO restraints!

A local talk show guy said there may be many greedy SOB's in my (conservative) party, but I'm not. THAT SOLVES NOTHING, to acknowledge the problem but NOT fix it! If rich people aren't generous, they're sinning, and Christians can't support them for politics, but must reprove them like John the Baptist would!

Brad Pitt (or was it Leonardo DiCaprio?) coined the phrase, 'unbridled Capitalism.' You have to distinguish it from Capitalism! Since the mid 1980's, the unbridled version has dominated! Layoff as many as humanly possible, increase worker insurance copays, hire contract labor to save benefits expense, mergers and acquisitions (consolidating two work forces), oppose minimum wage, seek to end the estate tax and 5 federal agencies, oppose Welfare as wealth redistribution, turn a blind eye to illegal immigration to get cheap labor, lobby and vote for conservatism to reign, always seek lower taxes, so government can't pay its bills and debts, oppose regulations, even though some protect consumers and workers, pay executives bonuses for ginning up/manufacturing stock price increases, by firing people, ending all pensions and single income families (in the 1960s+), overpaying executives and CEO's, by complicit you scratch my back boards of directors, and wanting unemployment, so there's competition for jobs, so employers call the shots on labor's market rate, busting unions, paying women less, and hiring by good 'ol boy system networking.

ALL these measures HURT average Joe everyday Americans, and help rich shareholders and executives, OPPOSITE Levit. 19:15.

Capitalism is NOT going to fix world poverty, but charity! There's NO disposable income in poor 'hoods, so businesses are reticent to open even groceries in slum areas of America! Much less in third world nations. If profit is your ONLY motive, you'll NEVER do business in poor areas! There's NO money incentive, as there's no money to be had.

The ONLY way Capitalism can help third worlders is AFTER charity and foreign aid got them to a second world status, where the masses had the skills to compete in a global economy (or if their nation had strategic land or natural resources that first world nations needed). Pure Capitalism ONLY seeks profits.

The Jews had a safety net for the poor! II Cor. 8 speaks of ALL richer churches caring for all other churches who struggled, as Paul's concern was for ALL churches (II Cor.11:28). Every man for himself is NOT taught in Scripture! Putting others above yourself IS. That's NOT pure Capitalism, Christians! Pure Capitalism would have ZERO problem with Amazon being the only business (i.e., a monopoly), if done legally, or with its management owning zillions, with zero give back. Christianity vs. Capitalism requires believers to oppose "unbridled Capitalism," like Brad Pitt said.

Politics/voting, and activist consumerism is how Capitalism's sins get reversed—NOT Robinhood stealing from the rich to give to the poor, but forcing businesses to have a heart—not just a heart of greed. Without government laws, a pure Capitalist would do anything for profit, if it didn't hurt future profits!

Should businesses give back? I believe if they're thriving, they have a duty, even if it doesn't increase profits, or brand image/goodwill equal to the amount given back. NOT a legal requirement—that's taxes. Sustainable jobs are the best form of business give back, and not bare bones payroll budgets.

I believe anyone who ever gives to any charity that has low payout percentages to the needy, overpaid executives or their money DOESN'T cause sustainable recipients is sinning! Please re-read that shocking statement. Sustainability is ALL charity should aim for, vs. engendering dependence, or empowering waste or greed!

WHICH is better money spent—taxes or charity gifts, for solving society's problems? Taxes are NOT every citizen fixing problems, but richer half only! Charity isn't all citizens fixing problems, but only donors. Compulsory civic service would be all involved/skin in the game! ASK NOW WHAT YOUR COUNTRY CAN DO FOR YOU...!

Possibly more charity money comes from NON-rich people, as their numbers far exceed the rich, and average Joes give 3 percent to rich people's 1 percent, statistics show. And some laymen give 10 percent to church, then tack on taxes, and people get bombarded with calls to give away the money they NEED for their families to survive!

Self-sufficiency/sustainability is the ultimate goal for every citizen the world over! Rich people can do so easily. Third worlders can't. Rich people can make millions simply doing NOTHING—just earning interest—their money making them 'mo money. That's NOT fair effort for money received, compared to the sweat of laborers!

Liberal strategy for decades+ has been to allow in immigrants from nations NOT used to successful Capitalism, to vote for stealing natural-born Americans' money by voting for handouts. The GOP MUST ensure more people benefit from Capitalism, or they will lose to Socialistic handouts, or a violent conflict, perhaps in 2032.

Liberals CAN'T plan these things, but the more people move to lower taxing states, the more demographics shift purple! That's why Texas is less red than it has been, historically! Blame that directly on Gvs. Perry and Abbott inviting the world here. It can KILL our more conservative culture, legally! You've got to sell its benefits to newcomers.

Trump saying the U.S. needs to immigrate more people from Sweden and Norway was saying more white people! It's NOT about skin color, but their attitude toward Capitalism, and U.S. Capitalism cleaning up its warts and blemishes. If not, only the rich want it, and they NEVER have the numbers! You've got to benefit more Americans, or U.S.A. will go Socialist!

I have literally heard Americans say the older generation will die off, then youthful ideals will reign, like the Green New Deal, and modified Socialism (freebies—not so much government controlled businesses). Older Americans MUST instill the virtues of Capitalism, and the evils of Socialism, and it has to personally benefit voters, or they'll go Socialist!

The U.S. education system is NOT good enough to teach students to care that OPM (other people's money) runs out! It's human nature to accept freebies/handouts, and unscrupulous politicians promise them, to get cushy jobs for themselves, even if their promises never pan out. The GOP must articulate an improved Capitalism, where elites don't enjoy all the fun! Duh 101.

I OPPOSE Socialism (i.e., government-owned businesses), but I AM for needed industries to be regulated, like colleges and healthcare being virtual monopolies! Poor people MUST have access to accredited self-taught college, by YouTube, and minimal healthcare tokenly repaid by civic service! They have no choice if they get sick, or their bodies break down! It's NOT do I eat out or get treated?

Healthcare MUST have a third quality option, for minimal care, and poor people MUST be forced to own catastrophic insurance! They shouldn't be forced to die because they're poor, or rely on crowd funding! Obamacare was passed by enough GOP's for it to pass. It needed reforming, and compulsory civic service repayment, as nothing is free in life. But poor people can't take Aspirin and a Band-Aid for every problem their bodies will encounter until they die! Subsidies are NEEDED–NOT handouts! Community colleges should be available for ALL poor people who academically qualify, and trade skills taught in public schools, as with entrepreneurship, with SBA loans available for them.

Daycare is easily fixed by neighborhoods organizing all who have preschool kids, and paying neighbors to do more than babysit, using Montessori-like toys and YouTube videos.

If you're poor, get a second or third job, and work overtime, and learn skills to live within your means, and get more marketable skills. Know how to buy smart and budget.

College and healthcare are too expensive! Boycott expensive daycares, and do as I've just prescribed. Taxpayers owe you nothing, but SHOULD help you through this plight by revitalized government programs, and church, charity and business initiatives that FORCE self-sustainability!

I can educate any poor person to live within their means, excepting out of control college and healthcare costs! Government is needed to curb those abuses! I'm for that!

Online college courses SHOULDN'T cost much (low overhead)! They're $150 per course, in my town! Two years of junior college in Texas is ~$3,500-5,000, vs. at least $23,000 a year for public universities here! Community colleges MUST offer 4-year degrees, and the stigmas will lessen when graduates excel in the real world!

I am literal in wanting home schooled college degrees certified! I own 4 degrees. They ALL were earned by reading books, hearing lectures, taking quizzes and tests. ALL those functions can be done on your own, with expert professors' lectures on YouTube, or just by accurate/clear books!

And even exorbitantly expensive textbooks are sometimes rentable, or scanned in, online. You can rent them from the school library, or borrow a professor's extra copy, or take images of chapter pages. It's highway robbery overcharging—because authors can (i.e., a monopoly). The poor CAN live victoriously! Third world countries' governments MUST ensure ALL their citizens are surviving and healthy! Living off the land and in huts or caves is a minimal standard. Enough food and drink to not die, and enough healthcare not to die unnecessarily, as with sanitation and clean water!

HOW could 'banana republic' politicians make their nations greater, great, or great again? Tourism, military or spy land rental. ALL you HAVE is land and people! If you have natural resources, exploit them to the maximum! You do a DIS-service to your people God has put you in charge of to NOT give your people the skills and education to work their way out of their slummy conditions!

If America can improve ghettos, slums, barrios, hoods and rundown trailer parks, third world nations can do the same for their countries. Rich people WON'T invest where profits can't be had! Charity and foreign aid are how poor areas get revitalized. People living in wards should commit to support locally-owned businesses! Grow community gardens. Enlist Habitat-like charities to fix up homes, as with churches. Knock on the door of a mega church 30 miles away, and ask them to pray over your neighborhood becoming their adopted mission project! God commanded them to help! You're just shining a light on the need!

Home schooling may be superior to public schooling, if parents rally to get one competent teacher in one place (home or outdoors) with money enough to pay them to teach a smaller class. DON'T just think of home schooling as one parent with their own kids!

I've called for 'hoods' to organize daycares... do so for home schooling through high school, if yours is a rundown, poorly performing public school, and you don't get, or your kid doesn't get into a charter school. There's FREE education online! Texas has K-12 free education online, and quasi-free tutoring online (my kid used it last week—Khan Academy)! (link: <https://www.k12.com/texas-online-schools.html>) k12.com/texas-online-s... (link: https://tea.texas.gov/Academics/Learning_Support_and_Programs/Texas_Virtual_School_Network/Texas_Virtual_School_Network_-_Online_Schools_Program/) tea.texas.gov/Academics/Lear...

Millennials are known for loving free services (i.e., a sharing economy) and questioning all the rules, because they have to—they're the low man on the totem pole. Poorer adults need to think like Millennials! (link: <https://www.investopedia.com/terms/s/sharing-economy.asp>) investopedia.com/terms/s/sharin... Band together. Safety in numbers. And vote in your moral economic interests—NOT for freebies!

Millennials need to share rent costs, or rent efficiencies, or buy a home among four peers, or rent. Commute costs can be lessened various ways, until you move up the ladder. Live with your family! Live with an aging grandparent. Be creative. Until your wage increases, buy smart! DIY and free stuff anytime you can!

List every cost you incur, and research cheaper or free alternatives! Gas, electricity, clothes, cars, rent, food, electricity, TV, smart phone, water. A tiny house, or aesthetic "manufactured home" may save you money, until you earn more. Support policies that cause a growing economy!

Oppose like an activist business measures that HURT workers, because an employee is only a worker with a college degree, or a more indoor job! We ALL lose when only the rich and executives win! Don't keep up with the Jones', or chase Madison Avenue dreams for your life, or always be buying stuff! Be content with what you have.

Learn how to successfully invest, early, and put away some for your retirement, as soon as you graduate high school or college! Social Security likely won't be there for you! DON'T support policies that DUMP on you, or hurt your future, like the U.S.' $22 trillion debt politicians pass on to you and your future kids!

You can hire a midwife to birth those kids at home! You can bury a family member by cremation, and have NO casket or headstone or cemetery plot expense. You do NOT have to do what everyone else does, as you, Millennial, think for yourself! You're famous for doing so! Be independent!

New cars LOSE $3,000 in value the moment you drive it off the lot. The smartest car buyer buys a used car between 30-90K miles, has it checked by mechanics and Car Fax (for past wreck records), then drives it until the wheels fall off, unless many major parts start needing replacing.

Car auctions can net you a vehicle for very cheap, if you buddy up to one allowed in, and the Car is in decent mechanical shape. Some dealerships have cars for sale which people refused to pay repairs on. Some low mileage rent car company vehicles can be bought, if the mileage is low, and a mechanic tests to see if former drivers ran it hard, or not.

Cheaper prices can be had by shopping estate sales or garage sales in nice neighborhoods. The 4 D's give you great bargains... sales of assets when there's divorce, distress (economic), death or disease. I once bought a $900 NEW Foosball table for $150. It still sits there looking pretty, barely used!

I own a pool table, because my son's friend's parents got sick of it. I have 3 refrigerators, one for free and one for $50, when neighbors left, and offered it. I have a large outdoor grill and a backup one in the garage, one for free, and one for $25, when renters had to move.

I own a backdoor table and chair set we painted black, and a professional TV watching leather 'bean bag' like pillow, and a like-new fire pit gotten from a garage sale and rental neighbor, respectively. My treadmill was from a church garage sale. My jet ski I bought used, and researched for six months to find a great low mileage value! You do NOT have to make others rich, or go broke having creature comforts, Millennials and America's poor!

One man's trash is another man's treasure. Every item I just detailed was in decent shape and quality, or I wouldn't have acquired it! We got one of our cars when a relative died... $50 title transfer fee to the government! I've had it 8 years, and it still runs!

There are high-class resale shops for clothes, in richer areas of town! You don't have to spend "ninety-nine cents" at a Goodwill thrift shop (Macklemore reference). Frisco Texas has at least two high-class resale shops, and a new Goodwill will open soon. Drive to shop where rich people throw out last year's fashion!

Grandmas are famous for driving under the speed limit, hopefully in the right-hand lane. When they die (i.e., obituaries), their often low mileage vehicles may be for sale! Shop small towns for good used cars. They don't have the overhead of big cities, and rural folk are often nicer, and may not haggle as much as big city shops.

Taxes can be done for free, if you're anywhere near 50 years of age, via the AARP—even if you're not a member. There are so many ways to spend less, that it's a crime to vote for other people's money to help you do life as an adult! It's a sin! Buy smarter, and exercise the unpopular self-restraint virtue!

You can have an arid Arizona like cactus and rock yard, if the kids play in local parks, and end mowing and watering expenses! I've heard a device picks up TV for free, and I know some movies can be watched for free, online (legally?). Live near your work, and you may be able to bike to work.

Some people live at their business, or hunting shack (illegally not declaring it, to save taxes). One Dallas dude attended college while homeless (ask Deion Sanders). One homeless gal got $2 million in scholarship offers. Your wealth is NOT a deterrent to advancement, in America. ONLY poor knowledge or effort! Go get better for you and your family!

P.S.: I knew 1 dude who wanted to bulk up and get in shape, so he joined a cheap gym, and showered there, living at his business! He HID his bed, microwave and mini frig, in case government officials ever dropped by. I DON'T endorse his law-breaking, but you do what you've got to do when you're poor! Be creative!

Update #6: Capitalism, Unbridled Capitalism & Christianity

(6/2/19)

Capitalism vs. Unbridled Capitalism... HERE's the differences: Capitalism does anything for profit, unless illegal or they get caught, and the unbridled version is for government and others helping the poor become self-sustaining, and for business also having a societal conscience—NOT just profiteering. I'm for the latter.

VERY FEW people are saying where our U.S. jobs are heading... robots and A.I. will automate ALL possible jobs, as their rich owners profit off them, replacing employees. The poor and lower middle class will be screwed, and government will have to offer them jobs. It's NOT a pretty future! Fix it NOW, vs. wait for that to occur! Be proactive.

Globally, the race is on to automate as many jobs as technologically possible, by robots and A.I. The non-rich and under-educated have NO HOPE but government jobs, if they don't or can't become smarter than menial tasks machines can do for cheaper! Even Chinese $2 a day sweat shops can be automated!

The YUGE problem with any religious people trying to force their beliefs on the American public, through politics, is that America is NOT a theocracy, and the people decide—NOT the religious people, or the nonreligious people, but the people, through moral representatives. I OPPOSE any religion trying to schemingly force laws the majority oppose (like unregistered lobbyist groups with the President, or stacking SCOTUS conservative)! Majority rule is American tradition!

IF religious people want their views on gay marriage and abortion (only two of hundreds of issues the Bible addresses) to impact presidential decisions, convince your fellow Americans! DON'T lobby a corrupt president, or court stack with judicial activism! It's NOT Christ-like to cram even good things down others' throats.

A God-honoring Christian CAN'T be for Unbridled Capitalism! That is worldliness, selfish greed and money idolatry, with zero give back moral obligation, and hurting workers who Jesus cared for by robotizing or outsourcing as many of their jobs as possible! It's NOT a Christ-like system without self-restraint!

Socialism may idolize government as god, but unbridled Capitalism idolizes money as god! NOT all Capitalists rely on God for their needs, but ALL Capitalists rely on their own work to provide their needs. Unbridled Capitalism is NOT godly. There are two types of Capitalism! Make distinctions.

Pastors and laymen are correct to vote their conscience and convictions, but politicians have to be concerned about ALL citizens, not just the religious, and can't let their own personal religious beliefs control public policy, but sensible solutions that are also moral! America isn't a theocracy!

That means, as a Christian politician, you would OPPOSE judicial activism and court stacking, even if you value it possibly overturning Roe, if reasonable standards are nationally implemented thereafter. Politicians are professionally negligent to cater to any one group, as they serve ALL Americans!

And religious people HAVE to be educated that it's NOT politicians' job to advance religious values in public policy, if the majority oppose them, but that job of convincing majority opinion is every religious person's job—NOT shoving our values on people against their will. That engenders backlash and religion hatred! STUPID!

It's easy to blame less religious states for supporting the sins of sodomy and abortion, as bringing down America, morally, but approving these many sins is equally evil!: \(link: http://facebook.com/jim.meroney.3/\) facebook.com/jim.meroney.3/ You can't distract (vs. confess) guilt by pointing to others' guilt! BOTH parties are guilty as charged!

HOW does Capitalism avoid being unbridled? Fair share taxes, and society encouraging the rich to give back generously—even shaming the ones who don't, as that keeps the hoarding greed problem continuing, and consumers demanding all businesses become, and only buying from socially conscious businesses.

Individual lovers of the hoarding sin, and corporate lovers of socially irresponsible business practices will fight this, and buy and vote accordingly. Regulations/laws rightly serve a role in ensuring safe, unharmed business practices.

I've been for minimum wage rising (NOT to $15/hour), because our economy is good, and elites shouldn't get all the benefits. Wal-Mart's CEO saying D.C. (vs. he) should raise it, when his top two competitors pay more shows that doing right sometimes has to be forced (to be shared pain for all businesses), instead of greed only being curbed by give back! (6/5/19)

Conservatives HATE minimum wage, and want it ended. That's the greed I'm speaking of, that their philosophy is rightly accused of! Sean Hannity cited North Dakota gas drilling paying high wages, but that was only one industry when it was in high demand. Usually, with no minimum wage, businesses pay the LEAST they can get away with, no matter if there's high or low demand for their products or services, because of greed (as proven by the fact that executive pay NEVER lessens with lower demand). It is a selfish belief system, favoring rich elites (contrary to Levit. 19:15)! (6/5/19)

Update #7: Millennialiberals

(6/3/19)

Capitalism is an evil, and you cannot regulate evil. You have to eliminate it and replace it with something that is good for all people and that something is democracy.

Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez is the leader of the Democrat party. –Michael Moore

VS.

When the people find that they can vote themselves money that will herald the end of the republic.

–Benjamin Franklin

A democracy is always temporary in nature; it simply cannot exist as a permanent form of government. A democracy will continue to exist up until the time that voters discover that they can vote themselves generous gifts from the public treasury. –Alexander Fraser Tytler

The greater the number of owners, the less the respect for common property. People are much more careful of their personal possessions than of those owned communally; they exercise care over common property only in so far as they are personally affected. –Aristotle

I had an enlightening barrage of Twitter replies to my demeaning the Socialistic ideals of AOC, today [in following Update]. Here are but a few of the allegations and accusations (my arguments in parentheses, and following):

- ◆ I hope you die, old man (sinful desires/intentions, and playing the disrespectful generation card).
- ◆ You are a racist (by alleging Socialism ideas come from foreign nations–NOT America, with the American Dream).

Immigration without assimilation is an invasion. –Gov. Bobby Jindal

- ◆ You are a white supremacist (when I oppose them as much as the fool who so alleged).
- ◆ All Americans immigrated from somewhere (so America is owned by no one, and we have no rights to make rules, or keep anyone from entering?)
- ◆ America is evil, founded on stealing land from native Americans and blacks from Africa (That was CENTURIES ago, and BOTH those acts WERE evil. Dig up our great, great, great, great great grandparents and lynch them. That's water WAY under the history bridge, and America is the most generous nation on earth!)

- ◆ You are a bigot (stop using adult terms when you think like a child, and go get a job, meathead).
- ◆ You must be rich (assumptions make an a_ out of you and me).
- ◆ You are a religious lunatic (to which I evangelized, as obviously needed).
- ◆ You are a backwoods hick (though my two home towns are the little places called Houston and Dallas).
- ◆ You are prevented from practicing law in Texas (because I chose to make my licence inactive/non-practicing, until I ever again practice for a living, as it would be a dumb, annual waste of money to do otherwise)

My Arguments To Them

- ◆ I oppose unbridled Capitalism (i.e., Capitalism gone amok; not bridled Capitalism).
- ◆ Socialism is not a historic American value, so, in that sense, it is UN-American.
- ◆ The rich worked for it; very few gained it illegally, as bank robbers.
- ◆ People don't flock to America for what the native American ("Indians") built, but our Founders and the settlers!
- ◆ Freebies bankrupt nations, and cause the rich to move away.
- ◆ You're free to vote for Socialism (I never said it's illegal to do so).
- ◆ Get an education, and a job, vs. using politicians as hit men to steal for you or keep you from begging on the street corner.
- ◆ Facts of fairness: Low skill, low wage; and, minimum wage, minimum work.
- ◆ You must have incompetent parents (as you're seeking replacement ones to pay for your healthcare and college).
- ◆ Colloquial vs. Official Socialism: Soft Socialism and official Socialism BOTH use government to seize/confiscate private property for wealth redistribution. Soft does so for handout programs; official has state-owned businesses.
- ◆ It would be interesting to pass a Rick Roberts law, that if you have never paid taxes, you can't vote.
- ◆ South Africa is the role model for where America is heading if more rich elites don't have more people enjoy life too.

Based on my CONTINUED replies by liberal leftist extremists, your empty heads need to know there's a CLEAR difference between the founders and settlers of America, and their progeny/heirs, and ANY immigrants getting in on all the goodies since 1950! You either work hard for the American Dream, or you're a less-welcomed sponge/leach/mooch—PERIOD! (6/4/19)

In summary, I found much emotion and very few facts. (Rom. 10:2)
This from the party of peace, love and tolerance?

Update #8: Wealthcare
(6/3/19)

Every American who earned their wealth legally has every right in the world, and under the law, to defend their right not to let government take it to hand out to others who haven't been as successful, financially! That's NOT evil. It's NOT fear of politicians, but legitimate self-defense!

I told my youngest son, if someone (like Oprah) offered you a free car, you'd take it. That's natural. I also said someone paid the car dealer the price for that "free" car. He has NO desire to ever get any handout from government, as he was raised right! Smart boy!

He aspires to be a millionaire (and WILL be). I told him that Socialism is people's attempt to thwart that dream of achieving his full God-given financial potential. He's smart enough to understand and agree with that, at age 17.

In life, there are people who want others to help them, financially, and those who don't. That is the essential difference between Dems and GOP's, with few other exceptions!

SOME people have to have one plus one explained to them several times over: When you pay ZERO in taxes, morally you have NO SAY in how government spends tax dollars! Legally you do, but it's sinful for you to get off scot free, and vote to use OPM (other people's money) to fund your freebies and dreams. #Sinners

IF all non-tax payers were forced to do between 10-40 hours/year in civic service, their voting for government to do things that cost money wouldn't rile up conservatives and centrists as much! You MUST have skin in the game, or you are a freeloader. Romney called it 'lazy.' I call it unpatriotic and sin-full! Sponging.

We NEED to demystify the concept of "government" doing this or that. The feds are humans/public servants, who do jobs they get paid for from tax payer funds. If you are not a tax payer, you are NOT contributing to the effective functioning of our mutual government. If you can't afford to pay in, do civic service.

Sweat equity (i.e., time and energy, vs. treasure) is a LEGITIMATE substitute for paying taxes, when you're so poor that you need government assistance. And NO person—especially the rich—should EVER pay less than their tax bracket—including businesses—using any loopholes or tricks. No one likes paying taxes, but you have to! #Duty

I KNOW three tax cheats, and I've attempted to turn all three of them in, because they are forcing ME to pay more, and I don't let ANY schmuck force bills on me because they're cheaters. They happen to all be white, and are probably all political conservatives. They WILL be busted, even if we're acquaintances.

ALL black market workers rip off tax payers. One tried to hire my youngest son for his work ethic, and was scared when he learned I was a lawyer, and I asked how my son would file his tax returns. He paid cash under the table, and his sorry A WILL be reported to the IRS. I only let one son work for him for two hours, to scope him out.

Welfare is the BIG problem in American politics, for conservatives; code word, 'wealth redistribution.' WHY should ANY tax payer be forced to help someone else pay their bills, when tax payers have to pay their own bills, without anyone's help? That IS a problem, you must admit, if you're honest vs. sinfully biased!

Because Welfare is stereotypically and inaccurately attached mainly to blacks (link: https://www.huffpost.com/entry/americans-welfare-perceptions-survey_n_5a7880cde4b0d3df1d13f60b), let's discuss the problems and solutions with this program.

If you can't live within your means, because you spend too much, or don't earn enough, WHY is that tax payer's problem? You need discipline and education!

We ALL prefer to have nicer stuff and housing. SO WHAT? Work for it! If you're mentally or physically unable, Social Security disability is there (which I know for certain gets misused). ALL fraud, waste and abuse of Welfare MUST end, immediately, and any incentives to have more kids to get 'mo money!

And forced civic service, for TEMPORARY Welfare, is needed, post haste. Welfare MUST be a MINIMAL help, only to prevent severe suffering, but also an empowerment program to get all its recipients off of it ASAP, and into a self-sustaining lifestyle, with a better job and better skills!

NO long-term recipients, and NEVER anyone able to survive off it very long, and certainly NOT comfortably (or incentivized not to work or look for a job). It should ONLY supplement work wages, until better ones can be had, through training, and should ONLY be to ensure no severe suffering ($3,000 a year maximum, if one is working).

No one begrudges our government helping strugglers get by; most everyone begrudges our government doing MORE than that. And conservatives will ask, why through taxes? The money required to avoid severe suffering is unstable and not the same amount by charity as with Welfare. That's why! I lost a BFF over this issue, as I'm for this type of extremely limited "wealth redistribution." Charitable donations are random and sporadic, but strugglers' needs are not—they're consistent.

And finally, a word on Welfarers of all colors... you now live in a globalized world. You compete with $2 a day Chinese sweatshop workers. You're FORTUNATE to live in the U.S.A., where minimum wage laws exist! They're ALL you'll EVER earn, if your skills or hustle or education don't improve!

Get a second job, or get better skills, and learn to buy smarter, and live within a budget. You have ZERO excuse to hide behind unmarked debit cards that used to SHAME you for stealing OPM to live by (i.e., literal food stamps)! You should be temporarily helped, but medium-term, you are sponging!

We don't even force you to pay taxes! In some cases, the government even PAYS you for taxes you never paid, by "earned income credit" and child deduction tax schemes. That's unethical stealing, though you DO need help! Donations from churches and charities and individuals and businesses are NOT permanent fixes, nor Welfare, but YOU are!

America runs on Dunkin'? America runs on minimum wage retail jobs! If EVERY American got free college and free healthcare, we'd have educated ditch diggers (a waste of an UN-needed education), and everyone would milk the system to get every test known to man done concerning their health!

NO middle or upper income American should EVER be forced into Medicare by liberals! They can afford today's quality, and they shouldn't receive lesser because some people can't afford any healthcare.

Healthcare and college ARE over-priced, and I am for forcing them to charge reasonable rates to the poorest, but moochers who don't improve themselves to not need aid are enemies of the people! Jesus was for helping the poor, but NOT for poor people who are lazy, or unwilling to work, and it's morally irresponsible to need help for very long; at a maximum, the length of time it takes you to get better skills or a better or second job!

And if you have any luxuries, you are ROBBING tax payers to own them, making them subsidize/fund your unneeded expenses. That's true if you ever spend anything you didn't need to. They're doing you a merciful service. You should be THANKFUL—not feel entitled—and you should be embarrassed if you don't get off aid ASAP! Tax payers are NOT your family or employer—we have our own bills to pay!

Update #9: Racial Realities

While we're on the subject of race, or the subcategory of what conservatives call 'identity politics,' not even all whites are the same! I never think of them as a group, but since liberals lump whites vs. all others, there are classless and one with class; poor ones (some call 'white trash,' or 'trailer park'), suburban and rural (some call 'backwoods hicks'), blue and white collared ones, selfish and philanthropic rich ones, college and non-college educated ones (most call 'blue collar'), religious and atheist, Dem and GOP, KKK supremacists and those who despise that ilk—we come in many types, and DON'T always associate with all types!

There's even high vs. low church, executives vs. workers, employees, business owners, whites from other countries, and the partially white/mixed (not often considered white). To say we all vote conservative, or GOP, is merely a convenient stereotype! Probably the ONLY time we see each other as one group is when our race is attacked as evil!

I've told this story before, but my family looked for KKK people south of Branson, in Arkansas, and only got sent to a museum, and one guy pointed out three white hoods in a chimney's bricks. I had never met a pure racist before, and wanted to see if they still existed. It was hush-hush, though, to outsiders, assuming they were there.

EVERY gay American or recent immigrant American (defined as in the past 30 years) who knows me knows I treat NONE of them different from anyone born here, but if one's behavior merits it, I have chewed out one Indian kid, online (unbeknownst to him) who insulted my work ethic, as I'll do to any person who's sins need rebuking!

EVERY race in the U.S. melting pot has rich, poor, educated and lesser so, classy and classless, thuggish and civilized, criminals and law abiders. Stereotypes are imperfect, and MUST be judged compared to the character of individuals—not making broad group generalizations! Not all of any race are one way.

You can have more in common with one of another race than your own, just like you can be closer to non-family members than blood relatives. How much pigment you have is and should be irrelevant! At the same time, cultural morays differ, and can cause division by annoyance. You can think of examples!

The people who own or manage businesses decide who gets hired, and at what wage rate. Statistics show whites make up the vast majority of those elites. Science has shown that many people like people they share commonalities with, so unless laws are enacted, whites will likely hire whites, more often than minorities, all things being equal! (4/20/19)

And since whites had a monopoly on commerce, from America's inception until slavery was ended, the momentum of life, and business' continuation is businesses got handed down or bought out mainly by whites from whites. Hence, white privilege (NOT supremacy) is arguably a historic fact, and NOT a liberal myth! (4/20/19)

Update #10: The Day I Became 'For' Trump

(Evolving tweets in RED; Single responses to MANY Millennialiberals in brackets)

(6/2/19)

I'd NEVER change ONE belief of mine, for votes, funding, fame, or any other reason. I'm NOT bribable, or anyone' pawn, or one who negotiates concerning my positions. My political views on abortion and gay marriage DON'T change (public vs. personal can slightly differ), no matter my party label, nor do any other positions! Emphases change a bit.

IF Biden was hurting, and Chump looked like he could win, would I help Joe, using my ideas, or run as a Dem, late? I do what I'm led to. It won't happen, for me to be contacted for such, so mere speculation, but if Chump remains evil and ignorant, I'd consider it! Political party is NOTHING to me!

WHO GIVES one DAMN what this lady thinks? Repubs need to root her out of office, post haste! She's BAD for America, and a fake American, importing Socialistic ideas from wherever her heritage traces back to!: (link: <https://www.foxnews.com/politics/ocasio-cortez-tells-democratic-hopeful-delaney-to-sashay-away-after-medicare-for-all-comment>) foxnews.com/politics/ocasi... There, I SAID IT! Where's her family from, originally?

OAC is feeding and fueled off the over-immigration trends of the past 30 years, which causes 2045 to become the estimated year whites become a minority in America! With that comes ideas from foreign places, namely force the rich to help the poor/Socialism! There, I SAID IT, AGAIN. I fear NO ONE!

Puerto Rico is the answer to my own question. Perhaps Chump's handling of their hurricane flooding, and his RIGHTful treating them as NOT equal voting citizens caused her disdain for our nation's historic tradition of free markets? Puerto Pobre! You're NOT a 51st state, so you aren't equals, though citizens.

45's paper towel throw was an insult to Puerto Rican people, and I've been told it was mainly caught by a room full of reporters. That island is NOT equal, and they either need to be a 51st state, or be cut off, so all are treated equal! Economically, they're a drain. They must fix that to be a state!

Rich people don't have problems needing solving that they can't afford to fix. Therefore, it's NATURAL for them to begrudge being forced to pay for society's problems being fixed off their dime! There are selfishly greedy ones, and philanthropic ones. God ONLY supports the LATTER bunch, and you should, too! #Distinctions

Interjection: Response to Kenneth Copeland Calling for Prayer for Trump

I WANT AN INQUIRY OF THE GIVING AMOUNTS, AND ESPECIALLY PERCENTS OF THE NEST EGGS OF THE TOP 200 RICHEST PASTORS IN AMERICA! I GUARANTEE you most of them are NOT obeying I Tim. 5:17-19! <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=DIIaFbRvU4I>

A pastor MUST be free from the love of money, to be qualified to be in his job! There's no heart monitor that can measure desire intensity, but NOWHERE in New Testament were there millionaire ministers! READ INTO THIS FACT ALL THAT YOU WISH! Some are OFTEN disqualified Laodiceans! (Jude; II Peter)

Pastor salaries are from tax deductible DONATIONS! Americans would wield torches if charity executives earned millions a year! WHY do Americans ALLOW churches run like businesses and executives paid like business people to get off Scot free regarding taxes? That's inconsistent and STUPID!

Truth be told, Chump's rich pastor advisers are political conservatives at least as much because they hate taxes taking from their idolized riches as they hate abortions and gay sex! RE-READ THAT UNTIL YOU UNDERSTAND IT FULLY!

Continuing

[Response to Critic:] Socialism... Wanting tax payers to fund new programs to give out as freebies to the poor.

Trump NEEDS to use the Department of Education to fix indoctrination on Socialism in public schools! I'm getting bombarded by KIDS supporting AOC's Socialism. Entitlement mentality vs. hard work ethic; handouts, with NO concern who pays! @POTUS @RealDonaldTrump Lazy, ignorant thieves!

EVERY generation in America has endured the tough times of being a high school or college graduate. In America, you WORK/earn your way to the top, or wherever you end up. It's NOT evil to make you do that, vs. offer OPM. You're NOT taxpayers' kids or employees! Grow up and grow a pair, Socialists!

.@GOP You have a SEVERE dark cloud looming, of a generation of voters who support Socialism! WHILE you have the power, you had better root out the indoctrination in public schools and universities, that Robinhood was a hero! Education Department job number one! Handouts and entitlement mindsets!

I was born; therefore, life owes me a job, an education, healthcare and cleaner air than any living Americans have breathed before I came on the scene. Why? Because I can vote, and I also want that voting age reduced to age 16. SUCH is what public schools are graduating! Success? NO! FAILURE!

[Response to Critic:] It's NOT about race, but NON-American belief systems, generated from places which are not America, and differ from us on how America should be run! Color of skin has zero to do with it. Americans of ALL colors love (and hate) America. It's the beliefs that make that right or wrong—NOT pigment amounts!

[Response to Critic:] America was founded and settled and developed by humans, and they built America (including immorally enslaved blacks). Foreigners who come here to take advantage of what the Founders and their heirs built do NOT have the same claims, any more than I can move to France and try to change it to my liking!

If viewers only saw how many people under age 23 replies I've gotten... Millennials embrace Socialism, vehemently! The public school system is FAILING to teach American values! @POTUS @GOP @RealDonaldTrump

If ANY viewer read my notifications from today, AOC IS the new face of the Democrat party! Nancy Pelosi is GONE in three years. This is a generation gap, history ignorance and a Capitalism assault from people incapable of making their own way independently! FAILures at life, voting Democrat!

[Response to Critic:] There's not one racist bone in my body, Mr. sinful cusser. It's merely a FACT that the open borders immigration policy of the past 30 years has been used to get cheap labor and Dem votes for Socialism! The majority—legal or illegal—have NOT been from democratic and Capitalistic countries! Race is irrelevant.

For you newbies who support Socialism, America, historically, has NEVER been a Socialist country. Those ideas do NOT originate here! That means, by default, they are being imported from outside America. ASK YOUR HISTORY TEACHER WHEN YOU'RE BACK IN SCHOOL!

For any liberal Millennials... WHY do tax payers (i.e., the upper ~50 percent) OWE you free college, healthcare, and daycare for your parents? You're NOT their kids or employees! GET YOUR MOMMY AND DADDY to do their job! Incompetent parenting isn't our problem! You were raised wrong.

[Response to Critic:] No fear whatsoever. And I was a Democrat the past 2.5 years! What's a problem is people with hands out, using politicians instead of being honest enough to beg on the street corner for free stuff from tax payers! I don't fear her [AOC], but her UN-American ideas HURT America, and I address problems!

Gimmie, gimmie, gimmie! I don't 'wanna work, so I'll vote Democrat, so hard workers (UN-like my incompetent parents) will pay for my college and healthcare. THIS IS SOCIALISM, Millennial liberals!

[Response to Critic:] It's refreshing to have a sane voice to discuss with: Her heritage goes to the origins of ideas that have NEVER been American, namely Socialism. It has ZERO to do with race, but foreign ideas, even if from white Socialist nations, if they exist! Race is irrelevant! Socialism isn't American.

[Response to Critic:] I want zero attention. That's why I rejected calls to run as a GOP in 2016, and Dem in 2020. I oppose white supremacists as much as you. Facts seem to be a foreign commodity among liberal Millennials these days! SAD!

[Response to Critic:] I have written the EXACT same thing if you read my website. There's official Socialism, and colloquial Socialism. The term applies to BOTH, when government seizes private property for wealth redistribution. Nice try, though!

[Response to Critic:] No racism at all. Socialistic ideas don't originate in America. Enough said. I don't care if they come from an all-white, black, green or red nation, they're NOT American. Keep that race card up your hind end!

[Response to Critic:] I am NOT in the conservative movement, if you EVER read anything I write. I'm a centrist. I said her Socialist ideas are un-American. People who hold such views are Americans holding un-American views. Get your facts straight!

[Response to Critic:] Hey Mr. UN-factual. I have ZERO grandkids, and if America accepts Socialism, when you are a grandpa, your life will be a banana republic lifestyle. You CAN'T stop the FACT you will be my age, if you don't die first. You better start caring about your future, and that of any heirs you may spawn!

[Response to Critic:] I have ZERO hurt feelings. I oppose her Socialism. It's VERY hard for your group of Twitter critics to get that through your skulls. I could say it 1,000 times, but it doesn't seem to sink in. IQ challenged?

[Response to Critic:] This "hybrid" [Socialism and Capitalism] says MORE taxes, when our debt is $22 trillion. You want taxpayers to give handouts! Work hard and succeed! That's the American Dream!

HAPPILY, both my sons said they have NEVER been taught Socialistic ideas in any Texas public school. They attend one of the best school districts! Besides liberal politicians, I still wonder where these young skulls full of mush learn to defend that idea so emotionally?

I live in a predominantly Asian and Indian neighborhood. I have YET to meet ONE who is for Socialism. They are smart and work hard, and come here for the American Dream, which has never meant Socialism! I'm HAPPY to have such believers as my neighbors! That's moral assimilation!

Let's deal with this RIDICULOUS worldview that America is evil, because we stole Indians' land and enslaved blacks. That was CENTURIES ago, folks, and BOTH those acts WERE evil. Dig up our great, great, great, great great grandparents and lynch them. That's water WAY under the history bridge!

And the fact that America was settled by immigrants does NOT mean Americans can't have borders, or owe every immigrant a place at our table! These MYTHS are being taught to our youth somewhere. I'd LOVE to know the ignorant source(s)!

So, apparently, people who have worked their careers for several decades are EVIL, because they saved money, and liberal young people somehow believe that money belongs to them, through wealth redistributing Dem politicians. I'm not sure the logic, but that's their MYTH!

I'm grasping at straws... If it's not the public schools, it's either the parents or politicians on TV that teach liberal youth these MYTHS. My kids have NO such concepts in their heads, and they're Millennials. Is it a blue state phenomena? I'd LOVE to know the sources of this idiocy.

It's WONDERFUL to envision everyone has healthcare and free college. Make the sky perfectly blue, water clean as bottled water, and free daycare for all parents. WHO PAYS FOR IT ALL? "Government" is ONLY tax payers—NOT non-tax payers. Government workers are paid by tax payers—NOT any others! Duh.

Let's have free cars, homes, 401K's/IRA's, food, clothes, daycare, healthcare, environmental remediation, college, water, electricity, TV, internet, smart phones. Hey, I just invented the liberal Democrat platform for 2024! No need for money or work—just let government hand freebies! AOC—Asinine On Crack.

[Response to Critic:] Socialism doesn't hurt my emotions. It hurts our nation, and its economic future. You would know this if you learned history. I don't get hurt feelings. I debate, and silence foolish ideas. Thanks for the attempt, anyway! AOC would lose the Presidency in a landslide!

After today, if I don't get attacked by conservatives the way dumb young libs did today, I'm leaning toward working to get Chump re-elected! I oppose the most evil people most vehemently, if one's worse than the other! Time will tell, but if Socialism is on the ballot, I'll defend tRump to the grave!

U.S. Capitalists have one overarching need... to ensure more Americans join in the prosperity of the rich elites. If they don't, a South Africa-like uprising is expected, politically if not uncivilly! Greedy rich people are causing this backlash of hatred against Republicans. Repent! Philanthropic ones are innocent.

Healthcare and college costs MUST be reduced, or AOC-type "soft Socialists" WILL take over our country. @RNC @GOP @SenateGOP @HouseGOP

College and healthcare are monopolies! They MUST have caps, or regulation, at least for poor people. You can't simply choose a great college! They are few (supply and demand), and you have to get accepted. You don't choose to need healthcare, either, like you choose Coke over Pepsi. Illness is forced upon you by life! @GOP @RNC

Capitalism IS glorified greed, in its purest/unbridled form. Greed is NOT made good just by giving back, but by not being engaged as a sin! NO Christian can politically support a greed system and claim to love God! Limits/boundaries are needed! Backlash is coming, if not! South Africa-like, IMO. [Giving back only helps curb hoarding; greed is curbed by self-restraint as one earns—priorities]

IF every American paid their fair share in taxes, with no loopholes, Capitalism would not be in such demise in the minds of Gens X-Z! And if a living wage were EARNED, it needs to be the standard. And If your work effort doesn't deserve minimum wage, you're ripping off your boss!

Our near Civil War anxiety level in America, today, is directly placed at the feet of BOTH parties, who allowed globalism with no restrictions, in the mid-1980's. Only now are the negative impacts being felt, as Americans compete with everyone, causing LOW wage (and opportunities) pressures!

IF every middle income and above American would VISIT a poor part of town, America's major divisions would be lessened. When you insulate and isolate, and ONLY associate with your own kind and socio-eco status, sinful egocentrism blinds you to others' experiences!

Pledge: If Biden is NOT the Democrat nominee, I will work my tookus off to ensure Donald J. Trump gets reelected. @POTUS @RealDonaldTrump If Biden IS, I'll vote for whoever is more moral and smart in their behavior and policies.

People are VERY adamant that they have a God-given right to steal other's moneys, civilly, through politicians! They haven't the b_lls to break into your home, or beg on the street, so they elect panders who promise OPM for cushy jobs for themselves, like Robinhood Santa Claus.

[Response to Critic:] It is NOT fear! It is valid concern for America's future and economy. TELL ME why you have a right to force the rich upper half to pay for your college and healthcare? They're NOT your parents or employer! Answer?... [NONE was ever forthcoming, as it typical, in my experience]

[Response to Critic:] AOC is not a strong woman, but an angry opportunist for self-gain, with a very big mouth, pandering for votes to ruin America so she can cease being a bartender, and get a cushy D.C. job!

Section 8 housing, food stamps, Medicaid, school lunch, and THESE aren't enough; the poor liberals want healthcare, daycare and college, and a Green New Deal! Get a &*$ing job, and live as an adult!

It seems public schools AREN'T teaching American history these days, AS IF Socialism has ANY place in our multi-century long existence. Fuzzy math? Fuzzy history!

Two more liberal replies, and I'm working to get Trump re-elected, even if Biden's the Dem nominee. I'll tell viewers if two more reply!

Reply number one. One more needed...

Reply #2. Possibly the first #NeverTrump has now become the first #NeverNeverSocialism

As one of 45's biggest critics (Ex.: his sought-for Sullivan vs. USA SCOTUS overturn, and Melania's "book writers" comment), my Gal. 1:23 testifying Socialism is worse for America than anything Trump can ever do, I'll speak at ANY of his rallies, if you hook us up! @JackNGraham @POTUS @RealDonaldTrump [Response to Critic:] Because college and healthcare are too expensive, and need to be capped and lessened. Her solution is stealing from tax payers. My solutions are better. Anyone accepts freebies, even if it's stealing to do so! Sinful human nature.

Note this date, the day the #NeverSocialism and #NeverUnbridledCapitalism movements began in the United States of America.

Approximately 45 percent of Americans pay NOTHING in taxes, yet they vote FOR politicians who will promise them even more handouts, off the working tax payers. THIS IS EVIL! YOU have TO have skin in the game, to care about America. Compulsory civic service as token repayment! That's ONLY fair!

If your skills and education can't earn you enough money to pay your bills, you need less bills, or more worked hours! ONLY healthcare and college need prices capped and regulated, as virtual monopolies, especially for poor vs. rich people.

Greedy executives from the 1980s CAUSED this Socialism backlash! Pundits have been writing that the rats are fleeing the Titanic, gathering all the goodies/assets they can. That's NOT moral or patriotic, but sin needing government punishment.

The economy is good, and people are considering whether to vs. assuming they should abort. That should be enough for ANY Christian to vote against Socialism, as LESS jobs for the poor exist in worse economies and a poor area revitalization project has been implemented.

ASK Biden if he's for the Green New Deal tax payers fund, or free college, free healthcare for all and free daycare. Force him to appease his liberal wing, and lose centrists!

@POTUS @RealDonaldTrump A 'NO' ostracizes his base!

A 'yes' puts him in the extreme camp! #WinningStrategy

ARE YOU FOR the Green New Deal, free college, free daycare, free healthcare for all, increasing our $22 trillion debt, and reparations for native Americans? @JoeBiden

Are you a centrist/moderate, or a liberal/progressive, @JoeBiden? If both/and, on which issues are you one or the other? THE PUBLIC NEEDS TO KNOW! @DNC

I am NOT opposed to right-sizing taxes, as Trump lowered them too much, in some cases, but ONLY if non-payers chip in civic service, and fair taxes are levied—not over- or under-, but just right. UN-fair is paying NO taxes, yet receiving government services!

#Welfare should empower the poor to be self-sufficient, and be temporary. Token repayment by civic service should be required for that assistance. Ultimately, NO ONE is responsible for your finances but YOU!

La Raza was a strategy to reclaim former Mexican territory, through legal and illegal immigration and voting. For ANY American to oppose such tactics, when the war is over and was won, is NOT racist, but defending our land from a subtle invasion against our national interests!

Now that people are waking up to politicians using immigration (legal or illegal) to change American Capitalism, often to Socialism, American patriots are 'racist' to say so? We're simply pointing out FACTS taboo to say. Evil prevails if good people remain silent!

I've NEVER in my life considered that I'm a member of a political group based on race. I just happen to be white. It makes me no less or no more skilled or valuable than any other person. At the same time, MOST U.S. advances HAPPEN TO have come by whites, mainly because they were here in large #numbers!

I am SURE that some whites in America feel intimidated facing becoming a minority in 2045. With four college degrees, I do not, but I can see how it could intimidate some, if they're honest about how minorities in America have been wrongly treated, in many cases, over the years.

The violent KKK is as evil as violent black activist hate groups. Even nonviolent members in either racial extreme who hate the other color are evil! There's NO reason to hate based on color. Actions are another matter, from any pigment color against any other!

White privilege supporters cry 'reverse discrimination' when historic wrongs against blacks get somewhat rectified. If anyone of any color wants to be hired, or accepted into colleges, be the best you can be, and accept what happens, good or bad, as a result! Never give up!

Being in the U.S. majority, I can't understand why many minorities, LGBTQ and pro-abortion women band together as Dems, but I guess they think there's power in numbers, and feel commonality as non-majority members? I can't relate, experientially! Sorry. I'm NOT united with every white person, even for politics!

NO white person in the past 50 years has had anything to do with slavery, so no living tax payers should pay reparations for our racial ancestors' sins. What you do do is ensure the best qualified candidate gets the job, no matter their color, and ensure that color is no consideration in those decisions.

I could care less what nation any immigrant is from, or their color—just do they approve of Bridled Capitalism, or Soft or hard Socialism? Their honest answer is all that matters, as America needs no one draining our wealth!

EVERY immigrant I know comes here for the American Dream—NOT to vote for Socialism. They just want a chance at a better life, through hard work. The ones who come here to implement Socialism NEED to be deported—PERIOD! It's called 'assimilation,' as a guest in a foreign nation! Fix your own country.

The more liberals imply minorities want more handouts, the more THEY reinforce stereotypes that those citizens are incompetent to make a living for themselves. There are so many examples which prove that untrue (in number, if not percent)! NEVER buy into stereotypes, fully! PROVE them to be right or wrong.

JUST because I have an 'R' [Republican] by my name, I've now been accused of being a racist, bigot, white supremacist, rich, minority hating old religious nut. Stereotypes exist because they're easier than thinking, and testing individuals' character, following MLK's guidance!

It was a Chinese-American who first educated me that some people think birds of a feather flock together, 8 years ago. We played basketball, and he thought it somewhat unusual for my boys and I to play with them regularly. I then analyzed how they associate. Even my Indian next door neighbor said they live in the same neighborhoods, on purpose. It's true, in RichWoods neighborhood, Frisco, TX. I don't begrudge them!

A college friend said church is the MOST segregated hour in America. I told him if that's true, it's free-willed vs. forced. That doesn't mean anyone hates anyone else! Comfort zones? Habit? Area of town? #Racism MYTHS

Strategy: Trump has to win ALL WASP votes (easy), KKK types, and all Capitalism likers or Socialism dislikers, or people who don't want more taxes, and no more taxes given out as freebies, and people who like Americans opportunities for the hard workers! #Doable! (6/3/19)

By the way, most technically, I am absolutely NOT a moderate, and really NOT even a centrist. I'm often a centrist, but I'm a common sencer who agrees with the GOOD in any party, and disagrees with the bad in every party, and fights that good fight, allying with any party that can WIN. I'm a common sencer! (6/4/19)

"Moderate:" Not extreme. Moderate is a HORRIBLE way of labeling anyone, politically! I am NOT a moderate! I'm OFTEN centrist, but I'm really for all good from any source. 'Goodist' is a horrible term, too, but that best describes our political philosophy. Take the good, reject the bad! #CommonSense (3/5/18)

Update #11: Trump Reproof & Evangelism

I recently rebuked a good man (David Platt) for backing 45 in his prayer for him. Though I will now vote for, and even help him win, the distinction is I will NEVER overlook or ignore or fail to mention his need to apologize to America, and repent or change his ignorant and immoral words and behaviors. That pastor DIDN'T!

You do NOT just move on and never ask forgiveness, even if you change the bad behavior. Reconciliation is NOT ignoring or brushing under the rug, or merely letting time pass and heal all wounds. Trump has paid a price for his sins, politically, but he still needs to sincerely apologize to America, as follows:

"I, with heart-felt sincerity, seriously apologize to all Americans for my unethical and sometimes ignorant campaign antics, and any and all actions and tweets I should not have posted, which were beneath the dignity of the office of President." THAT would go FAR, @POTUS @RealDonaldTrump

For @RealDonaldTrump ("Chump") to apologize for his horrendous 14-month campaign would be to deny and renounce what won him the GOP nomination! (10/7/16)

Too little, too late to, and too late for INSINCERE apologies! If he was truly repentant, he would have done so WELL before! (10/7/16): Surrogates are excusing Trump's rough edges as not a smooth politician. My DOG knows you don't insult women, the military, minorities and Christians, and she IS a dog. (10/5/16)

Sin is NOT determined by if people are offended, and HOW can one be a Christian if they've sinned so often, publicly, for 14 months, and only apologized ONCE? (10/7/16)

I wrote about how to save a Trump presidency in early 2018. READ it, on page 1376+: (link: <https://americananswers.org/wp-content/uploads/2018/12/Christians-For-Trump-Reimagined-with-IMPACT.pdf>) americananswers.org/wp-content/upl... (link: <http://americananswers.org/wp-content/upl...>) Sincere sorrow/apology for YOU starting ALL the ill-will since then, by HOW you campaigned. NEED a reminder?: (link: <https://www.facebook.com/jim.meroney.3/posts/1683401871972299>) facebook.com/jim.meroney.3/...

Your evangelical council gives you a signed Bible as a gift. They're too cowardly to tell you it wasn't to make you feel honored, or happy to get a gift from voter representatives, but because you NEED to read your claimed favorite book! This website's Will You Live Forever? button has the BEST plan for that.

You can't undo your sins, you can't ignore your sins, you can stop doing them, but your sins have a past! You NEED to publicly apologize to the American people for your childish and unprofessional behavior, and look in the mirror to realize it is NOT for P.R., but to do the right thing, @POTUS @RealDonaldTrump

DO YOU KNOW FOR CERTAIN THAT WHEN YOU DIE, YOU WILL GO TO HEAVEN?
@POTUS @realdonaldtrump If so, how do you know that? PLEASE tell one of your sheepish Christian handlers the answer. They're scared of you. You are 100 percent unscary—just a blowhard. Tell Jack Graham your answer to those two questions!

It's impossible to be a Christian, then be a baby Christian, like it's impossible to be a teenager, then an infant. Have you ever asked God's forgiveness for all your sins, sincerely from the heart, based on Christ's payment? @POTUS @realdonaldtrump Do it today! (John 3:16; II Cor. 6:2)

If you have ever sinned ONE time, you will go to a fiery Hell, forever, if that's unresolved between you and God, @POTUS @realdonaldtrump Celebrities can grab a women by the crotch is exhibit A. You've said you ask no forgiveness, you just change behavior. James 2:10 says you're guilty of ALL sins... you can't fix that!

If Jesus does not reside in your heart, you are Hell-bound! (Rom. 8:16) DOES JESUS LIVE IN YOUR HEART? He can, if you ask Him to. Have you ever done so, @POTUS @realdonaldtrump ONLY YOU know for sure, and words don't make it true; anyone can lie, to look good to surrounding pastors, for votes! Have you done so?

REAL vs. FAKE evangelical counsel (and Baptists) would do what John the Baptist did... He NEVER sought political favors as an unregistered lobbyists for Jews, or later, Christians! He rebuked the evils of politicians! @POTUS @realdonaldtrump (Mark 6) Have they EVER done that toward YOU?

You care about WASP votes, so you chum up to pastors. They're too idolatrous and startstruck to do their ONLY job, which is to evangelize and rebuke you, @POTUS @realdonaldtrump God NOWHERE commands Christians to lobby Presidents in exchange for votes. READ your favorite book, and see that I don't lie, like you do!

Anyone who says their favorite verse is an eye for an eye, and calls II Cor. "Two Corinthians" is unfamiliar with the Bible's contents! (Heb. 5:13) @POTUS @realdonaldtrump READ the books of John and Proverbs this month! It will do you a world of good, and do the world good! Are your pastor advisers having you do that? (no)

ANYONE who puts political power for ANY issue over biblical morality is a sinful idolater who does NOT trust that God can do all things! THIS is what you NEED to know about your evangelical council! @POTUS @realdonaldtrump They'll NEVER tell you that TRUTH. Pride and idolatry sins won't let them.

Update #12: Fair Share Taxes

(6/5/19)

People RIGHTLY get mad when injustice occurs, and they especially get angry when it happens to them, personally. God says government ISN'T to favor business or workers (Levit. 19:15). Trump's tax return to business was retaliation for Obama's tax punishment of business via Obamacare! Now we're about even.

It's ONLY RIGHT for government to allow NO favoritism between the two, but a fair fight, level playing field! The GOP favors the rich and business; Dems favor workers and the poor. God wants zero favoritism, so BOTH parties SIN by so doing!

What's fair in taxes and in our laws concerning business? Let's start with what's UN-fair, and work our way backwards...

IF our tax brackets start by being fair, its UN-fair for anyone to escape them, by ever paying less (via loopholes, tax schemes, off shore bank accounts, opening a business to fail, to offset a successful one, lobbying, etc.).

This SPECIFICALLY means Warren Buffett is ABSOLUTELY right that NO secretary should EVER pay the same tax percent as his boss! It also means GE paying zero taxes is a SIN, and they're stealing from the public. It also means tax incentives to lure businesses to your state MUST more than make up for that lost revenue in taxes its employees pay!

It's also UN-fair for U.S. tax money to be stuck overseas, because we have DUMB laws allowing billions to NOT be repatriated, as businesses use our laws to avoid our taxes! EVERYONE HAS TO PAY THEIR FAIR SHARE IN TAXES, and there can be NO exceptions, or tax cheats—PERIOD.

U.S. businesses compete globally, with businesses in nations that have NO required overtime, minimum wage, work safety regulations, etc. (i.e., sweatshops, and maybe even slave labor) . IS IT FAIR to make our businesses have a DISadvantage in global competition? No, but U.S. has ethical standards, and we do NOT stoop to the bottom of the barrel, except sometimes for President.

HOW do we make up that unfairness to U.S. business? We allow them to outsource jobs and import labor, and give them the benefit of the doubt in labor relations, knowing if America has less successful businesses located here, America and U.S. workers lose! Money and business goes to other nations, as with their jobs.

But such tactics as contract labor, increased employee insurance copays, part time no benefits, layoffs, streamlining, mergers and acquisitions, automation, robotized jobs, and more, HURT U.S. workers, as in the "Rust Belt, and other blue collar and manufacturing jobs. SOON 18-wheeler and Uber drivers will lose their jobs to self-driving vehicles.

Business wins, labor loses (as it did, BIGly, when unions were busted by globalization, in the mid-1980's, when BIG business said take it or leave it—we're no longer paying $70K for line workers we can hire in China, so accept less than half your pay or we ship your jobs elsewhere, which is exactly what they did).

IS IT FAIR for executives and CEO's to get bonuses for increasing stock prices by firing a bunch of humans on payroll? NO! IS IT FAIR that CEO wages escalated from ~5:1 to 320:1 of worker wages in the past 30 years (approximate figures only)? Absolutely NOT, and it was achieved by BUDDIES sympathetic to executives, lining boards of directors.

IS IT FAIR women of equal skills and output get paid less? My dog can answer that question. IS IT FAIR that business folk can hire only who they want, then vote for government not to help the people NO businesses wanted? My rabbit can answer that question.

Now, on the flip side, IS IT FAIR that anyone gets paid minimum wage if they're loafers? My guinea pig will answer that one for me. IS IT FAIR to work workers hard, if they're getting minimum wage, or is minimum wage minimum work a more just statement (though the Bible disagrees with that effort attitude, for Christians, Col. 3:23-24)?

Fair is determined by comparison! If business can buy labor to do a job for $2 a day, vs. $36K a year, for the same or better quality and effort, they'll buy cheaper, because business is in business to profit. That's NOT unfair.

So in a global economy, fair is a global comparison! Is it fair for U.S. workers NOT to all earn a living wage? YES. Not all earn/deserve one! And living standards VARY! Business doesn't owe every worker enough money to live at the standard they're accustomed to, but what the market rate is, and the workers' skills have to propel her to a higher wage, in a global marketplace!

Business owners AREN'T your parents! They're giving you a job—a way to financially survive, and they pay what they have to, so you'll agree, or not go to another business, or so the position can be filled at the quality level they demand.

IS IT FAIR to workers to have illegal and over legal immigration? NO, because that ONLY benefits business!... more people to fill a position, when EVERY American needs a job, and U.S. businesses should put Americans first, or they're UNpatriotic.

Another question is is it right? IS IT RIGHT to pollute our skies with cancer-causing chemicals, because you can profit? NO. IS IT RIGHT that a business could sell a dangerous product, and profit from it? NO!

What's fair and what's right are always considerations, as with is it profitable. That's why government passes laws and regulations, and why we have overtime and worker safety regulations, as with truth in advertising, and bait-and-switch laws, etc. Again, government is NOT to favor worker or business management, even if lobbyists pay politicians greatly to do so!

Let's briefly define fair taxes, NOT in specific numbers or percents. Our $22 trillion debt has to be paid by someone, some day. ONLY tax payers pay U.S.'s bills! IS IT FAIR that ~45 percent of Americans pay little-to-NO taxes? Absolutely... NOT!

They can't afford another bill, but they CAN afford hours spent helping America with free labor, as a sweat equity equivalent to taxes. IS IT FAIR any American cannot work, and get paid enough to survive? ONLY for people 100 percent unable to work—NO OTHERS!

IS IT FAIR for the rich to pay a higher tax percent than others? On the surface, fair seems to require the exact same percent, but if you THINK about it, 10 percent of nothing is NOT the same sacrifice as 10 percent of all you'd ever want! A progressive tax system is NOT unfair, but we MUST keep all taxes to the minimum required, because businesses need money to grow, and families need money to survive and retire, so any money the government takes lessens that potentiality!

Government should ONLY do functions that are needed. Churches, charities, businesses and individuals can pick up the slack! That's the way America was designed, and it's logical and fair, if we adhere to our model!

Life will never be perfect, and as Mahatma Gandhi said, "There's enough on this planet for everyone's needs, but not everyone's greed." Every problem the U.S. faces costs money. Unless and until Welfare is fixed, where EVERY American pays something into our system, ANY extra thing government or voters clamor government to do ONLY costs tax payers—NOT all Americans, and that is NOT FAIR, so tax payers will ALWAYS vote for government doing NOTHING that costs money!

You might call that a conservative viewpoint... conserving money, and maintaining status quo—no change. It's rational! WHY should or would any tax payer AGREE to lose more money, when almost half the country doesn't share that sacrifice?

Until every American gets equally PAINed with every dollar Congress spends, our system is UN-fair! Voting to spend other people's money is a sin, when you have zero skin in the game! And forcing working people to pay all Uncle Sam's bills is sin, as well. That is NOT a righteous nation, and God won't honor unrighteous systems.

IS IT JUST OR RIGHT that D.C. politicians are legally bribable, and get cushy jobs and perks for doing Little-to-nothing? The ants in my yard can answer that one! IS it right, rational or beneficial that BOTH parties ONLY fight, full-time, never find common ground, and want to destroy the other? The fleas in my yard know the answer.

The system is broken, and the fix is easy, but if extremists say ‘my way or the highway,’ a literal Civil War WILL happen. It can be no other way, save for secession into two nations. You can’t have up vs. down, black vs. white, tall vs. short, fat vs. skinny opposites, in public policy! You can only have NOTHING done, or something done, then undone later!

Liberals want LOTS of change that tax payers alone pay for (Ex.: free college, daycare, healthcare, environmental cleanup, reparations, etc.). Conservatives want NOTHING done that costs money, and even want tax rebates, so our debt skyrockets, and the debt can get further kicked down the road!

NEITHER extreme is rational, or right! The two extremes either need to separate into two separate countries, or fight it out on the battlefield, like we did pre-Lincoln! There’s NO way to harmonize two polar opposite extremes, and make them both happy! So STFU, both extremes!

America is NOT my-way-or-the highway, demonizing and domination of opponents, wanting them destroyed! We have a two-party system, we need a three+ party one, and we will NEVER have a one-party system, no matter how hard BOTH extremes try.

The BEST any extremist can do is get policies passed that get revoked later, like Obamacare, then business taxes reduced in retaliation. Are extremists THAT STUPID to think this is good or rational? I’ve dealt with far left and far right extremists, and my experience tells me ‘YES,’ their IQ’s are often that LOW.

They’re emotion driven! They just want what they want, and they don’t care and can’t think through consequences, or democratic processes! Shove my ideas down others’ throats, if I can get up enough votes to do so. It DOESN’T matter that backlash comes later!

Threaten politicians’ jobs if my pet peeve issue isn’t addressed. With that voter attitude, no one would EVER leave a salaried job, or their business, to run even for dog catcher! Our people NEED educating, and any politician who riles up stupid sheeple is SINNING, and should be fired, or better, never hired. THIS message will be attacked as over people’s heads! GET YOUR HEAD OUT OF YOUR — , and maybe less things will fly by which are merely common sense!

P.S.: WHO wants to pay anyone else’s bills? People get on TV for paying forward a $25 meal at a fast food joint, AS IF they’re heroes! NO American parts with money easily, which is why taxes, (unbiblical) tithes, and charity donations are so hard to get out of people. WE ALL HAVE LIVES TO PAY FOR! You do yours, I’ll do mine, and let’s do as little together (communally, through government) as humanly possible, and let people who CARE to part with their funds fund problems they want fixed, especially if tax payers didn’t cause, and don’t have such problems. This is rational. The problem is, no one has the funds (but the rich), or wants them given away... they just enjoy griping about what government should do!

“Yes the truth is that men's ambition and their desire to make money are among the most frequent causes of deliberate acts of injustice.” –Aristotle

Update #13: Democrat Rashida Tlaib Proposes Disastrous Cash Giveaway– Guess Who’s Going To Pay For It?

Many Democrats have absolutely no clue how basic economics works... For starters, giving cash even to those who are unwilling to work would discourage them from finding a job, working more hours, or applying for a promotion. Why work harder—or even at all—if government is going to send you a check every month for doing nothing?... Second, as any undergraduate student in a freshman-level economics class could tell you, flooding the market with cash would quickly cause prices of all sorts of consumer goods and services to increase, negating the alleged benefits offered by the plan for those who qualify for the tax credit. In the end, these consumers' purchasing power would likely remain the same... Third, under Tlaib's plan, millions of people, including college students, would receive these cash payments, even though they aren't in poverty and don't need the money... Fourth, Tlaib's cash bonanza would take huge amounts of money away from other parts of the economy. Someone is going to have to pay the trillions of dollars needed to fund the program, and that means there will be less cash available in other markets and for entrepreneurs and business owners... Even if the government were to print the money, it would inevitably harm millions of Americans, because whenever the government prints money, it means the dollars already in existence are worth less... As hard as it might be for socialists like Tlaib to believe, you can't grow the economy or alleviate poverty by stealing money from some and throwing it haphazardly at a problem. Innovation, technological development, reduced regulations, and free enterprise are what create real economic growth—not more social welfare programs... Instead of killing millions of people's incentive to work and enacting policies that would artificially drive up prices, Congress should implement reforms to existing welfare programs that would help people escape cycles of poverty. In many cases, people enrolled in welfare programs have an extremely hard time finding work because earning more money means losing the welfare benefits they have come to rely upon... By allowing states to reform their welfare programs so that people can work their way out of poverty slowly and without suddenly losing access to benefits, millions of people would be incentivized to work instead of coerced into remaining stuck in poverty programs... States should enact work requirements for all able-bodied adults enrolled in any of their welfare programs. Work requirements allow people to continue receiving government benefits while gaining important work experience and skills development... Socialists and the far left in the Democratic Party don't have any solutions to offer Americans. Their proposals always amount to the same-old failed strategy of putting government in charge of as much of our lives as possible, all while punishing middle-class and wealthy individuals for their success. [I would add it's unconstitutional, immoral theft, empowers the sins of laziness and dependence, and only adds to our already $22 trillion national debt] By Justin Haskins, FoxNews (6/9/19)

Update #14: Socialism is Socialism—Democratic or Autocratic!

(6-9-19/19)

The main issue I disagree with conservatives over is taxes (vs. just charity) funding a re-envisioned Welfare that ONLY stops severe poverty, temporarily, while making them self-sustaining. IF charity alone could do that, that would be ideal. And college and healthcare need to be made affordable for the poor

I don't disagree with many liberals' aspirations—just how to pay for them! I'm for the good in any position, and against the bad. Funding is the hang-up! Taxes should be the least needed, and the private sector pick up the rest. Our debt is too high, and our government is too BIG! Fair share taxes, and the poor pay sweat equity, vs. allowing any U.S. freeloaders!

The solution to poverty NOT giving the poor money, but better skills, a job, budgeting/spending advice, and dress, motivation, resume and interview skills!

Charities and existing government programs can help the homeless shave, bathe, dress for success, interview well, job hunt, resume write and find people hiring. THAT is what the homeless need, then they can treat their own mental health issues, if they exist, or you can stay independent on the streets, scrounging.

The ONLY three issues I most care about are ending homelessness, and U.S. and global poverty. HERE are how they could be: A job or survivalist/homesteader skills, which people live off by budgeting and buying well-or, starting a successful business. That's ALL that's needed!

Has there EVER been a Democrat NOT eager to spend taxpayers' money? DO RESEARCH—most tax payers are Republicans (and few-to-NONE take government handouts). It's a political strategy to deplete the enemy, as is illegal immigration, to deplete their voting impact.

People need to EARN a living wage and budget their lives by what they deserve to be paid, fool! Ocasio-Cortez's feud with Amazon over 'starvation wages' continues: 'People need to be paid a living wage' (link: <https://fxn.ws/2KommG>) fxn.ws/2KommG #FoxBusiness

I'm ALL for ending all tax loopholes, but never for handouts/freebies of any kind, except individually and temporarily. Our debt is $22 trillion, and if anything, you offer low-cost loans to the poor, to help pay for a 4-year community college. NOTHING is free—it's ONLY a question of who pays for it? Taxpayers!

Here's the number one thing poor people must do: Get a job and better education and/or work skills, as well as better buying and budgeting habits. NO ONE would be poor if they did that, except any 100 percent unable to work, due to mental or physical limitations! #JustDoIt

Since I ended my 2.5 year protest of 45, as a Democrat, I have NEVER ceased to warn the @GOP and church that Dems are after your wallet, by legalized theft through voting. This MUST be a central 2020 campaign issue. It's the freebies and handouts brigade! Gimmie, gimmie, gimmie entitlement!

Dems are the new freedom party! Freedom from cost/paying. Free healthcare, college, daycare, family leave, reparations, green energy deal. ALL things cost money, and even Dems' freedom was PAID for by buried heroes in Arlington Cemetery, and elsewhere! #FreedomIsntFree

If you trust people who bow to pressure, and abandon convictions, you are a FOOL! Already @JoeBiden has flip-flopped on the Hyde Amendment, gone liberal on a green energy deal and free community college. NO convictions or conscience—just another career panderer for a cushy job for himself!

The Boston Tea Party and U.S. Revolution were over too high taxes. The Civil War was, essentially, over government RIGHTLY ending slavery, but WRONGLY taking some business' laborers, with zero plans to help replace them. It's ALWAYS about the money! Leftists engage immoral #TheftByVote!

A recent poll says Dems (which I USED to be) want a stable leader. IS IT STABLE for @JoeBiden to flip-flop on the Hyde Amendment, green energy deal and free community college? He was MINO—moderate in name only! AOC extremists have him by the gonads. That's NOT leadership, but caving!

The day there are more poor people willing to vote for a pay raise, rather than ask for and earn it from their employer, is the day the U.S. adopts Socialism, and every business should fully automate, and fire all least-paid workers, to be replaced by robots (or outsource those jobs). Politicians are NOT how you earn more.

Welfare, section 8, Medicaid, $15/hour minimum wage, free college, free daycare, free family leave, free to the poor green energy bill, free reparations... CAN ANYONE SEE THE Dems are OPPOSED to poor people working hard and spending smart (i.e., self-restraint)? Just make richer people pay for NON-family members! #EVIL!

Our $22 TRILLION debt is ONLY going to increase under any Dem! Apparently, it's NOT a problem to have many credit cards maxed out, via China! Dems are trying to FORCE richer taxpayers to pay if off, or unsuspecting Millennials who DUMBly vote for Dems offering freebies! #Embarrassing educational results!

In 2019, Dems have shown their TRUE core... giveaways, homosexuality and abortion are 100 percent morally fine, and to be celebrated, our debt needs to increase, the poor never need to work or work harder, or buy smarter. Politicians will care for them, using GOP taxes, and any richer Dems'. #TrueColors AOC Socialist extremism.

This is a REAL proposal: It is unstable, irrational and bad for business that every four years businesses, tax payers and the rich have to risk losing money to crazy Dem giveaways seeking to get elected! NO nation can relate to/transact us with such crazy changes, based on voter whims!

Therefore, every state officially declare they're red, purple or blue, and federal dollars NEVER subsidize any state. Let people whose majority wants to give handouts tax to the max; the opposite will be red, and in-between, purple. Make it state law, and NO state ever subsidizes any other—only federal money for our collective military! I'm ALL for this, ASAP! Texas will stay red.

Blue states can have Welfare, free healthcare, daycare, college, reparations, $15 minimum wage, and repeal the Trump tax cuts (businesses and the rich will FLEE!). Red states can do the opposite; Purple states do in-between, as they choose. #StatesRights No more extremes every four years. That's unstable policy!

America is self-sufficiency. Human adulthood is independence. Immaturity is dependence. If a business fails, no one helps the owner survive. Sales sustain the business, or it goes bankrupt, and closes down! EVERY government program must have repayment when people are on their feet. Forced taxpayer 'gifts' aren't gifts!

There's a MYTH in Washington D.C. that when my tax dollar is sent there, since ownership title changes hands, it is no longer my money, but it miraculously was earned or created by politicians, so they decide how it's used, and they can handout OPM to constituents, for self-gain. That's NOT how U.S. government is to work.

True self-sufficiency is NOT opposed to helping others/barn raisings, but shames people who seek handouts for very long—just enough time for the average person to get back on their feet. The goal in life is you pay your own way (carry your weight or pay the freight), or you are NOT mature (excepting the severely disabled, unable to do so).

Even homeless people should receive the needed aid, but be required to pay it back when on their own two feet! Google is donating millions to them, and for affordable housing. Great! But recipients ought to pay them back later on! Government does what business can't profit enough off of, like build affordable housing. But freebies are always WRONG, medium-term! Hand-ups are far superior to handouts.

If you're not disabled, and can't pay your bills, cut your expenses, get another job, or go move to a third world nation, where you fit in better! No one owes you a thing, and life promises you no help. That's the human condition! Be an adult, vs. a moocher!

Years ago, talk radio host Rick Roberts said you shouldn't be allowed to vote if you're not a taxpayer. That will NEVER happen, but it's 100 percent logical. No skin in the game, rent car mentality toward Other People's Money! U.S. taxpayers will revolt if Socialism continues, and I'll be one of them!

IF you want government to solve problems, using tax dollars, send in your free-willed gift to the IRS! Voting for other people to pay for things you want is sinful and immoral. I know few people care, like that's a problem, but God will judge all sin; He cares, so you should. #Sin

VOTING for freebies is civilized armed robbery, and glorified street corner begging, using immoral politicians who, in turn, use you for their own advancement. RE-READ THIS UNTIL YOU UNDERSTAND IT, if ever!

VOTING for freebies is an open admission you are a failure at work, or budgeting, or both! Getting Uncle Sam to go to bat for you because you don't deserve a raise or promotion. #WEAKness! Admit your failures, and repent. RE-READ THIS UNTIL YOU UNDERSTAND, if ever.

It REALLY is time for red and purple states to make our own nation, where Confederate monuments aren't torn down, but plaques erected saying slavery was wrong and evil. Let the blue states give handouts, and bankrupt their taxpayers and businesses! It WON'T be our problem to bail 'em out! (6/20/19)

I guarantee you if America split into two nations, red vs. blue, with purples choosing a side, the red sides' economy would flourish, and the blue nation would have all the lazy workers, few businesses, and would come begging for us to rejoin the former union! #JustDoIt! #Secede, red and purple states! Update #15: Stereotypes vs. Statistics

Let's stir the (melting) pot, poke the bear, kick the bees nest, and discuss race in America. First and foremost, races are not all any given trait, except, perhaps, in skin color, so let's first differentiate statistics from stereotypes. The former are factual; the latter, biased opinion.

Generalizations are only true to the extent they're accurately applied, individually, or by percents they exist. Painting with a broad brush usually doesn't create a very pretty picture! I live by MLK's creed, 'I have a dream that my four little children will one day live in a nation where they will not be judged by the color of their skin, but by the content of their character.'

I'm like lady justice... color blind, but I also see the obvious—I am not blind. It's like Abraham... he saw physical circumstances, but by faith was looking past them (Rom. 4:19). Individually, I assess everyone by the words and behaviors they exhibit to me, and collectively, I don't see any race as always displaying any unifying traits they all have in common!

Yet, you can see tendencies in different percents or numbers, in one group over another. For instance, in GENERAL, African-American males are often very gifted, athletically. That doesn't mean there are not more talented sports stars from any other race, that all blacks are athletic, there are no nerdy blacks, or that sports is the only outstanding trait many AA's possess. It's just an accurate observation.

And in our divided political culture, it's fair to say activists and party worshippers prefer minorities to be Dem, and whites to be GOP, in GENERAL. That is a false narrative! Any color can be a Dem or GOP, poor or rich, educated or less so! You see proof of this all the time! For power, groups make alliances, so supposedly minorities are oppressed by the evil white man, but we all know this is usually untrue.

There are millionaires in all races in the United States, and broke folk of all stripes and sizes! My point is your skin tone should have zero to do with your politics! Now that that fact is on the table, let's discuss certain traits that differ in manifestation frequency among various groups (and never as a whole, 100 percent).

I've already mentioned sports, but rap music is more predominant with AA's, though it's going more mainstream in the past decade. Hispanic culture tends to like spicy food, and loud TV talk shows with sexy women, and accordions in their radio songs. This is NOT a derogatory or judgmental statement, but an unidentified percent observation.

Indians love curry powder, and are often quite competitively smart. Asians are smart, too, and tend to have less kids and possessions (from the friends I know). Many groups live with their parents—NOT a traditional American trait. Every group seems to like to speak to their own friends and family in their native tongue, even if they also know English. These are mere observations, with exceptions.

What brought me to this topic is my son studied abroad in Argentina for three months, and needed a haircut when he returned. I was asked by a friend why he didn't get one there, and I said I'm not sure they'd have American hairstyles. That's 100 percent true of any nation he might have visited! Had he stayed longer, we would have insisted he get one abroad.

And finally, I was recently telling the story of my one time we got burned with Priceline, when I bid 2.5 stars, in L.A. The hotel was nearly trailer homes connected by a fake frontal facade, so we never even entered the front desk area. That same friend asked if it was a black area of town, and I said Hispanic, because that was TRUE and factual. It was no statement on either group!

But people can get emotional when another race speaks of theirs, even factually, but since I only care if one tells the truth, I never consider such malarkey, as it could just as well have been a very poor/rundown white area! I was simply observing the predominant racial makeup of the folk out of their homes when we drove around, and it's NOT a judgment statement, but matter of fact, as is one's ability to LOOK and see if a neighborhood is poor or not poor.

We need to start seeing everyone beyond skin color, to factual descriptions of their character and situations in life, and NOT be defensive about our own race! I can make fun of KKK/white supremacists as well as others do other groups, or white trash (as some call them), as I don't think in terms of group identity. Maybe if I were ever in jail, I'd succumb to such nonsense.

You can be closer to people of another race than some in your own! A pigment percent doesn't unite you—nor a political party! It's values and common ground that do, or respect for differences you choose not to buy into (like leaving all shoes at one's front door).

Now, I'm 'gonna go enjoy me some Mexican food for Father's day! P.S.: We all came from Adam and Eve. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=UEzCQBwQkdA>

And the Tower of Babel is where we got our main differences, but we are all made in the image of God, and part of this great human race and family of man. We all bleed red, and put our pants on one leg at a time. #Equality

One final P.S.: People stereotype Brits having bad teeth, and some Indians not wearing deodorant—stinking. To the extent your teeth are bad, or you stink, from any color type, fix it! Stereotypes and statistics sometimes overlap, and can have some basis in fact/truth. Fix the bad, keep the good! Adios.

Update #16: AOC's MMT Economics

(6/21/19)

Crazy economics! <https://fxn.ws/2Ruu72T> fxn.ws/2Ruu72T <https://www.businessinsider.com/modern-monetary-theory-mmt-explained-aoc-2019-3>

AOC economic theory is to spend like Hell, because we can print or borrow money. 1. Nations demand repayment, one day. 2. Interest is wasted tax dollars. 3. Printing causes inflation, and is funny money that devalues the dollar. 4. ALL fails when the dollar ceases to be the world's reserve currency. 5. Freebies are irresponsible, evil, unfair to tax payers, and breed laziness and dependence. 6. Democrats LOVE spending money to buy votes (legalized bribery vs. being vote qualified).

If these reasons aren't enough to convince you, along with other statements, that her ideas are (very often) whacko, you have no knowledge, common sense, or economic intelligence; therefore, you are the problem!

Because ONE pundit deemed AOC's economics something to consider, let's address REALITY: Free stuff costs money that comes from China borrowing, QE3 money printing, or higher taxes on taxpayers. Those acts DON'T grow an economy, but are a DRAIN on an economy. For the uninformed, here's the explanation why:

Money bags full of payment for freebies are cash that could have been invested in businesses or the market, to make businesses grow and expand. Printing money is like diluting/watering down Kool-Aid. The taste/value is much less/weaker when you have 'mo money, as it's just paper accepted as something more.

And no one gets rich maxing out credit cards, which is what increased debt to China causes, as with risk of default, war, or China cutting off the spigot. If the U.S. as reserve currency ends (which could easily happen), U.S. dollars AREN'T accepted as valuable, everywhere, which collapses our economy!

And if you HURT an economy and tax taxpayers more, to fund those handouts, they have less to spend, save or invest, which HURTS the economy, if they don't leave America in protest. Any economics dropout knows these things! It's NOT conservative theory, but common sense and logic.

And when you give freebies, you DIS-incentivize people working to pay for them ever again! Why would anyone ever give them up, to pay for them, through taxes, if they can have them for free, making less money, and letting others subsidize them, working for handout recipients like slaves? Forced labor (i.e., the rich working for the poor)! Less productive workers HURT an economy!

And if you hurt rich people, investors or tax payers, you shoot yourself in the foot trying to help an economy, as they don't take it sitting down. They adjust! For every reaction there's an equal and opposite one... in their case, layoffs, automation, or leaving America, along with their investment dollars. This is common sense.

If anyone can pay less for the same output, or less taxes for the same amenities, if the difference is significant, and pays for the move, they leave high-tax areas, even countries. Freebies are a tax on tax payers, so they evaluate their other options. Nations get competitive to house successful businesses!

Update #17: The Value of Money

When money is backed by nothing but public trust, and you print currency, it's accepted as valuable if not homemade by citizens, but has government markings matching currency they're used to seeing. The problem is the value of assets is not ambiguously nonexistent, and money is how we represent assets' innate value... not a range of whatever number either side thinks or feels.

There can be a range in what an asset sells for, but its value has limits, up and down, and even if you print an ocean full of dollars, people accept their value for said assets only if the money retains its value to the majority, vs. devalues in the public's mind.

The way America is going, since we abandoned gold-backed monetary policy, you'd be wisest to hold hard currency in the form of assets that can't lose value, like gold and real estate, and have your guard up that your dollars are being watered down behind your back, lessening investments' value.

If, like John Lennon's Imagine song, there was no money, or government printed it as endless, there are still not endless resources/assets! We do not have limitless products, materials or resources that fake money can buy! Owners of those hard assets have finite inventories, and that makes their value rise, requiring 'mo money to change ownership.

IF resources were endless, printing money would be fine! The more money you inject into the economy, with limited assets, the less value they hold, over time, as the public wakes up to the lower buying power of their money.

Just think how much people got paid in the 1940's, or how cheap their homes were. BOTH have risen (as with standards of living). When the money supply rises by QE3, and assets don't equally expand, by productivity, new discoveries or new technology to increase their use, you dilute the dollar's value to buy such assets. You must pay the fiddler down the road!

Other nations cease accepting dollars as as valuable as before, when they wise up. That makes foreign exchange rates vary. It makes borrowing costlier, and pushes moves to end the U.S. dollar as the world's reserve currency. When the Yuan takes its place, you can own a boatload of bucks, but no one will accept or want them, for Euros or Yuans! The dollar's value is thus lessened.

Nations aren't stupid. Their investments in T (Treasury) bills is seen as riskier, and they seek better uses for their funds. This takes time, but a BIG problem eventually hits America! The rich won't care, because they've prepared, and they understand these things. The other classes get Scrooged, never knowing why their paycheck doesn't stretch as far as it used to, or how to change it. You can only belt tighten so much.

Government spending its tail off by QE3 is BAD policy, medium- to long-term! The dollar is cheapened. One of the ways academics and rich elitists get away with this pyramid scheme is they don't explain these things in real life analogies, but use high falutin terms, that go over average Joe's head, so he gets screwed, even as he thinks all is well, if not great. Ignorance KILLS, hating knowledge.

And that is ultimate Darwinism... the strong, intellectually, manipulate and rob the others, in the ways I just described. And like a toll road pass, they never know they're getting robbed until they get the bill, and it's too late, and their perpetrators have absconded with all the real money! Economics For Dummies.

Update #18: Democrat Debate #1-Socialism

(6/28/19)

People deny and demean identity politics, but these debates PROVE where stereotypes come from, like Dems catering to blacks and Hispanics, and with all their handout proposals, why would anyone NOT conclude those groups are deemed POOR by Dems, and that taxpayers somehow owe them, for some reason?

Any and every Democrat politician who wants health insurance for NON-Americans will NEVER get my vote consideration! It's as I WARNED five+ years ago, that type Dem wants votes from less-educated, poor people, by offering American tax payer paid for bribes, and it should be ILLEGAL to do so! SPEND YOUR OWN DAMN MONEY, candidates!

People on Wall Street are often greedy SOB's, and ruthless, but their job functions also fund U.S. business' growth/expansion. To argue that they're evil, and hurt workers, so punish them by paying for Dem freebies, is to admit workers can't negotiate their own salary, and to deny big bankers' good function in our economy!

If I hear one more politician trying to speak much Spanish, in America, I'm 'gonna ask them to move to a Latin nation! ENGLISH is THE language of America, and ROBERT Francis is not Hispanic! ANY Latino who buys into O'Rourke's MYTH, and play acting, freely CHOOSES to be played and deceived! He's MOCKING your culture and accent!

A TRUE racist is the politician who kisses up to minorities with handout offers. They're saying you're poor, you need aid, you're all one trait and alike and lazy, or otherwise incapable of making a living, stereotyping blacks and Hispanics as all needing government (say tax payer) assistance! That's untrue, and racist generalizing.

If any Hispanic or African-American wants their race NOT stereotyped as poor or less-educated, STOP ACCEPTING DEMOCRAT HANDOUT PROPOSALS! You are buying into and reinforcing the negative stereotype you are ashamed of your race as possessing! Just say (and vote) NO!

America does NOT belong to whites, but it DOES belong to Americans, and it does NOT belong to the world, or just anyone clever enough to sneak in! Every nation has borders, FOR GOOD REASON! It is UNJUST for people NOT paying any taxes to be able to vote to spend tax payer money! You have no skin in the game. Compulsory civic service should be required of everyone receiving any government assistance, because they can't afford taxes, but they must endure some sacrifice like taxpayers suffer, for America's good.

Poor people DON'T need hand-outs, but hand-ups. Welfare MUST be revamped to be an empowering program to bring about the maximum potential in its recipients! Charities are for handouts. Hand-ups become self-sustaining when people can stand on their own two feet, financially—not perennial beggars!

Dem giveaways are based on the assumption/premise that the white man (Indians and Asians often now included) did minorities wrong! I have NEVER harmed any race's financial opportunities, so I have NO oweness in paying you my tax dollars, to subsidize your lifestyle, and that's true of MOST (if not all) Americans! Grow up and work hard!

Politicians offering freebies are the BASEST of human beings, catering to the basest instincts in man—taking free stuff from others, by politicians just bribing you for votes, selfishly for their careers, STEALING the money often from their political opponent party's' wallets and purses! CAN YOU UNDERSTAND THIS POST?

You want LESS racial division and tension in America? QUIT using tax payer money to "help" other citizens, and everyone earn your keep, and pull your own weight! Most conservatives despise Welfare as wealth redistribution! I'm O.K. with it ONLY if it empowers independence, ASAP—NOT dependence and/or laziness. #RaceWars

There's an adage in law, that the punishment should match the crime. Making all tax payers pay for the few who Scrooge workers is UN-just, as is anyone able to spend other people's money to benefit themselves, be it freebies recipients, or politicians who promise them.

Globalization was LEGAL. Immigrating smart people here is LEGAL. Outsourcing U.S. jobs is LEGAL. BIG business and overpaid executives have HURT U.S. workers, as has automation, but it's LEGAL. Be mad at politicians who allowed that all to be LEGAL! You can't blame business for making money LEGALLY! Change all bad laws! Duh 101.

Trump's tax cut WAS UN-just. That's WRONG! He favored the rich, who need 'mo money the LEAST. At the same time, our economy is doing better, as a result, though NOT for all. That MUST be fixed. I oppose ALL injustice, and bad laws, and you've got to require politicians to make better decisions! Why accept FAR from perfection?

The ONLY American that OWES any minority any money is any American who stole from them, or illegally rejected giving them a job (i.e., job discrimination)! That is NOT the majority, so QUIT trying to get money from us, by corrupt, self-serving D.C. Dem politicians. Go after the wrongdoers ONLY! Sue them, using their EEOC. They're crooks!

Anchor babies/birth right citizenship is an evil FARSE! NO rational Founder/Framer would have agreed to reward law-breaking! It's an IDIOTIC policy that encourages even more law-breaking. It goes against any idea of a society governed by laws.

SRI LANKA TERRORISM

(4/22/19)

The #SriLankaAttacks prove what we all know: Terrorists never quit, or get fully defeated. Like cockroaches, they always get replaced with a new batch, when they get crushed!

Seeing armed men surrounding a church in Shrilanka, it's ALWAYS the terrorist's advantage, unless laws allow government to monitor and easesdrop on people who MAY attack, even if there's no evidence they will, so long as recordings are expunged, if nothing happens. Their targets are endless! We have to target them.

Again, if terrorists were smart, they'd have 15 planned attacks, so after one was successful, when people felt governments had things under control, other eruptions elsewhere would erupt. One every two to three days would cause panic, like serial killers do. That's why we have to know who they are, first!

If governments don't use information they gather against people who don't act or start to act, and their privacy invasion is never used against them, unless those two things happen, it's a surer way of preventing terrorist acts, because waiting until they act, or start to, can be too late.

Perfect knowledge is required by the good guys—they can't fail. When media reports 'they [terrorists] weren't on a watch list,' government has already failed, and the public is not satisfied that that's a fact. They should have been, because something they did or someone knew they were planning! That someone has to be the government, too! #CommonSense

Doesn't that mean we suspect all Muslims? No! We suspect anyone who buys certain items, associates with certain known criminals, and terrorists, we monitor events where terrorists have been known to recruit, we monitor phone calls and online posts of anger, we observe people on watch lists, etc.

Let's think like a terrorist: Small churches wouldn't be targets, as much as BIG ones, unless serial bombings or shootings occurred, in succession. EVERY church needs armed, weapons-hidden and trained personnel, and metal detectors would be wise, especially if they are not visible, and are at every entrance.

Even sanctuaries with eye-level windows to the outdoors could be used by automatic rifles to mow down many people. The government CAN'T protect everyone like they insinuate they do! You'd be a fool not to have a lock on your front door at home... any place where many people gather need to self-protect! Don't just rely on government.

If terrorists were smart, they'd have 15 planned attacks, so after one was successful, when people felt governments had things under control, other eruptions elsewhere would erupt. One every 2 to 3 days would cause panic, like serial killers do. That's why we have to know who they are, first!

Can the U.S. government ease drop on mosques? Not legally, without cause. Do they, covertly? You and I will never know. What about white boy terrorists? OKC and the Unabomber? You'd have to ease drop on all white individuals, absent any indicators of terrorist tendencies—no matter their color. If one mosque has a speaker inciting, the government has cause! The feds LIKELY send spies to listen in!

If government assumes terror watch lists are about half of the targets, they're successful! It's what they do to find the other half that's key! We haven't the personnel to even trail the list makers—tell me how that will work out! We need technology to monitor their words and deeds—satellites or drones, and bug their communications.

Your ONLY protection from mass shooters is gun- and bomb-detecting technology at all public places. You have to have perfect knowledge of mentally ill or distressed people with guns, absent that, and that's nearly impossible! (6/2/19)

Update: Terrorism Tactics

A talk radio DJ, today, said Islam radicals teach they can lie to infidels, to advance their causes. 'Ends justify the means' is ALWAYS immoral, be it Kavanaugh or Islam extremists! Let's address Chicken Little [critic]:

I have NO doubt Islamists sympathetic to ISIS and terror WANT and are committed to making America a Muslim nation! I don't disagree they have three methods to do so, and the most subtle is infiltrating her, subtly. Do we not think Homeland Security is well aware, and screens and monitors threats, Christians?

We've heard of sleeper cells since 9-11. Christian pastors on talk radio, and their DJ compatriots are scaring dumbed-down sheep that any Muslim in Congress is a threat! The DJ even admitted most Islamists in America are peaceful, but focus on the minority, to scare up GOP voters! Sinful antics!

La Raza was a REAL movement to try to take back Texas and Colorado for Mexico. People are NOT stupid. Subtle infiltration vs. assimilation says you get enough people to America who can vote, legally or otherwise, to change a great nation into a banana republic. Real Americans fight these tricks, and won't let her die!

Political activists believe our government is full of fools, who have no idea enemy nations would love to take us down. Forgive and excuse me, but MOST public servants NOT in politics LOVE our nation, and slave night and day to keep her safe. They know most all threats, and are sworn to defeat them all; paid to do so!

You can't imagine how China and Russia are likely fully penetrating our nation, especially D.C.! If they're STUPID (which they aren't), they'll get caught. If they do it smartly, they'll recruit people who fit in, and can't be traced to them. Enemies have decades to pull off their attempts, patient for the right time.

Pros in D.C. KNOW spies, sleeper cells, and activists wanting votes that will ruin our nation are always seeking to gain footholds here. Divide the nation, scare people with mass shootings, assassinations cause panic, attack the grid or banks, so a run on our money system. ALL threats the feds know of!

FBI, CIA, DOD, Homeland Security—ALL these agencies fight tirelessly against all such attempts! They probably thwart more attempts than we'll ever learn of! Places like Mounts Rushmore or Vernon or the Golden Gate Bridge would inflict great psychological despair, or the St. Louis arch. The feds KNOW!

The shooter of GOP baseball players knew a soft target! The NYSE would be another target; Statue of Liberty; symbols of our greatness and pride. They don't have to release a chemical bomb, if they can cause fear, where 'we the people' don't trust authorities can do their jobs. The problem is, they CAN! Salute the pros!

Criminals in jail probably secretly collude with gang members on the outside to start race or other riots, to wreak havoc. Drug lords are incentivized to ruin our nation, as well, mainly by hooking/addicting Americans. These are ALL threats to our nation. D.C. experts don't need to be educated on the threats!

I wouldn't care if they ease-dropped on even suspected targets, with zero evidence of any crime or terror planning, so long as records were destroyed if nothing is found! Patriot Act abuse was ONLY evil if innocents were ever hassled. Our enemies use disposable, no account/service cell phones—we can't be stupid.

They know how not to be caught! They use our laws against us! You never write laws that benefit your enemies! #CommonSense Your privacy and freedom ends when your mental intent is to harm America! Any means to discover that intent is more moral than your hiding behind our fallible laws. Get them all!

Porous borders allow that possibility, as with VISA overstays, and untracked illegals who aren't properly vetted before entry! I guarantee you there are people who want America burned to the ground, by any means possible. Nukes are too obvious. Public gatherings are a target they surely consider! Foil them all!

IF I wanted to destroy China, I'd pay an Asian-American millions of dollars to train to imbed there, and find ways to cause the most destruction one person could do. You've got to get in, then fit in, then gain credentialed access to important facilities. Don't think our enemies aren't doing that in America, presently!

Train them with all the skills sensitive government departments or key military complex businesses want; go for decades, with no brushes with the law. What tool could cause such havoc? WMD's like anthrax, et al, in places where people congregate closely. Mega churches, stadiums, wherever lines pile up, enclosed.

I'm intrigued with how enemies could take down America. EVERY D.C. politician is a target, in my opinion, no matter where they go. The media exposure would cause fear! Having watched Reagan's shooting TV show yesterday, the President is too easy a mark for them to consider (and hard to get at).

Congress persons would all be scared if one of their colleagues were attacked, God forbid. We're not speaking crazies, like John Hinckley. Enemy nations have much more money and operatives! Hacking trade secrets allows them economic advantages our laws are impotent to stop! Stolen identities, as well. Submarines could be stealth technologied.

Satellites and moon-planted lasers, could ruin America's satellites our society depends on. China's man-made islands HAVE to have some nefarious purpose, as with controlling the sea lanes with pirates, etc., and the silk trail. U.S. enemies are likely already coalescing against Israel, with our biased favoring of them!

I'll bet you Russia and China are seeking subtly to arm Arabs near Israel! The internet could teach people how to make their own weaponry (Ex.: the dark web). I'd bet there are gaps they exploit to sneak in ingredients needed for WMD's, if not uranium for nukes. Our government HAS to prepare against all contingencies. #Vigilance

THE CASE AGAINST DONALD TRUMP

(Originally posted at Facebook/JimMeroney on 11/22/16)

1. Win at all costs is a lesson NO good parent teaches their kids.
2. Neither is being a bad sport (which summarizes ALL of Trump's whiney campaign).
3. The end justifies the means is not a lesson any moral person adheres to.
4. You NEVER reward bad behavior is a lesson even Kindergartners know.
5. You have what you tolerate, and you must be willing to tolerate Chump antics in future politicians.
6. The GOP is NO LONGER the party of thinking more than feelings, with UN-thinking Trump!
7. The GOP is NO LONGER the party of values voters! Hillary Clinton ran a MUCH more moral campaign, despite her several faults.
8. The GOP is no longer the religious right party, as even non-religious voters see the hypocrisy and power idolatry of Christians voting for Trump! It also gives Jesus a bad name.
9. If you put all the sins and gaffes of the past five GOP nominees together (including their time in office), it DOESN'T compare to Trumps campaign—much less four years in office!
10. Trump ONLY divided the GOP and the nation further. He is NO uniter, at all!
11. The GOP's chances at expanding their tent to minorities is harmed for a LONG time with Trump!
12. What Trump did and said for 7/8ths of his campaign was the real deal! Faking presidential and knowledgeable is OTHER people controlling him, to be acceptable.
13. Trump's behavior in the primary IS his credentials for why he became the GOP nominee against sixteen BETTER-qualified people. He CAN'T live down all he FREELY chose to do and say. No one put a gun to his head and said act like a fool and a buffoon. HE ALONE caused his OWN presidential backlash!
14. If policy alone matters (i.e., not personal temperament), Kasich, Cruz, Rubio and Bush had policy down pat when Trump had FEW ideas (i.e., up until his last three months of the campaign)!

15. If policy is all that matters, you could have voted for a trained chimp, robot or even Hitler, because he was wise enough to HIDE his evils until he got in power.

16. Voting for ALL down-ballot Republicans was the ONLY wise Republican choice, as Donald's campaign HURTS the GOP's reputation with minorities (and others) for quite a while.

17. I expect president Trump to change into what more people always wanted, but if you believe a political charlatan and chameleon with the core he's demonstrated, you will believe anything, and you did drink the Kool-Aid!

The Evidence Against Donald Trump

By his OWN admission (i.e., actions and words), the following paraphrased evidence of Trump's unfitness for office is offered as Exhibit A (NOT in priority order). It is ONLY an executive summary—MUCH more could be presented:

Update #1: Trump Presidential Hoof-In-Mouths

(Unpublished; 6/13/19)

AMAZING blindness! <https://www.foxnews.com/politics/martha-maccallum-poll-wake-up-trump> The "journalist" asks what's going on, and says Trump ought to be worried, AS IF she's surprised everyone doesn't love DJT! THIS is what happens when you insulate your associations to peers, ONLY FoxNews and talk radio, and people who believe as you do!

Talk jocks are paid handsomely to ONLY spin everything positive for 45! It's called political bias and propaganda, and not facing facts! Apparently, even news reporters get sucked into the lies and distortions.

YES, it's early (AKA, there's time to right the ship), but the Trump campaign MUST overcome all of the following, which naturally engendered hatred, and an 'anyone but Trump' mentality!... The campaign was ALL hate-engendering, lest we forget: facebook.com/jim.meroney.3/..., then you have allegations of Russian meddling, and full-time investigations since then.

Add to that all his unpresidential behaviors and tweets, and arrogant failure to ever repent or apologize, and act like a grown-up/adult. It DOESN'T matter much to the majority that the economy's well, when it came by favoring the rich, or that abortion is being discussed (as many people want that right).

Then, if you simply remember, rocket man talks have done little, shi*hole nations slur on Africa, Mexico didn't pay for any (primarily unbuilt) wall, tariffs are a tax on Americans, arrogantly pushing Montenegro prime minister out of the way, to be front and center at a G-20 event, dictatorially pushing out all GOP opposition (many good people), caging and separating children at the border, befriending and/or believing Kim Jong Un and Putin, over U.S. intelligence, arbitrarily and unilaterally favoring Israel (to cater to his WASP base), unfairly stacking SCOTUS right, ticking off our E.U. allies, many associates fired or in legal trouble, manufacturing jobs not returning (because we can't compete with China's near slave labor wages), SNL's (and late night comics) repeated character assassination skits, early on blame of Obama for everything bad, name-calling opponents, Stormy Daniels allegations, 'lock her up' chants at his rallies, earlier tiffs with Great Britain (somewhat cured last week), "rogue killers" ruse, to protect Clown Prince of Saudi Arabia regarding Khashoggi's murder, thousands of lies his press secretary reinforces and spins... NEED I NAME MORE?

Add up all these negative things, and the average non-Morning Joe can't reel them off for you, from memory, but they embed in their subconscious, yielding an 'anyone but Trump' mentality. Remember, ONLY FoxNews and talk radio audiences patronize those establishments--NOT the others! They aren't daily fed all positives, but mainly all negatives. So for this reporter to be surprised, surprises me, in how NOT objective she is, which is a reporter's JOB! #WOW

CAN it be turned around? ABSOLUTELY! Hoof-in-mouth Biden can maintain that track-record, or foreign governments may dish dirt Trump's receptive to (and all but invited, yesterday). Biden is CLEARLY being influenced against his claimed personal convictions to the further left, so linking him to AOC and Rashida Tlaib is NOT inaccurate or unfair, as he's just getting started, and has already been weak-kneed cowered into proposing a Green New Deal equivalent and flip flopping on the Hyde Amendment, and we're just getting started.

Trump's presidential D-Day speech served him well, as with mirroring Dems going on Fox by meeting with Stephanopolous. MORE love-engendering actions would serve him well, beyond merely appeasing his base. And finally, he must keep in the fold all white supremacists (NOT a good look), as well as all tax payers who don't want to be raked over the coals, WASPs, and even yours truly, the #NeverTrump crowd (solely from AOC influences being worse than all I have recited herein).

Nearly 1.5 years out is an eternity, in politics, but Trump will never win over people offended by what I recounted, so it would serve him very well to start doing things that could at least soften the anger, because God knows we do not need AOC pulling the strings, behind the scenes, like Papa Geppetto with a Pinnochio Biden puppet!

Finally, it's also NOT unfair to paint the Dem field, this year, as extremists with give-aways and handouts! Bernie on ruining healthcare for all but the poor, Warren on native American reparations, and others on free daycare, family leave, college, and that Green New Deal, criminals and 16-year olds voting, and the host of preposterous other initiatives, all being managed, like corralling cats, by Pelosi, who seems to be barely able to keep the family united, with all its disparate calls to the far left. REMEMBER, no less than Michael Moore called AOC the face of the Democrat party, and she's of age to run in 2024, when Pelosi will be LONG gone from her post. ALL these things are at stake--NOT just a Biden loss or victory!

Update #2: Trump Presidential Achievements

Trying to get along with Kim Jong Un; lower taxes (& regulations) on business/better economy; trying to handle the immigration crisis; trying to balance out liberalism on SCOTUS (though over-doing it); emphasizing the evils of aborting; re-establishing good relations with Israel (though evilly showing favoritism); taking on China's dumping & hacking, though with the wrong solution of tariffs, & pointing out the fact that the mainstream media is often liberal-leaning (while ignoring that FoxNews, Breitbart & NewsMax do the opposite, evilly leaning right-ward).

Update #3: Democrats' Socialist Evils

Reversing all Trump's tax cuts; 'free' (i.e., tax payer funded) college (with $22 trillion already in debt); reparations (for people harmed thereby, centuries ago); green new deal (killing business, debt & America's energy independence); 'free' healthcare, daycare, family leave, & whatever other crazy ideas desperate Presidential candidates will come up with to buy votes, promising unrealistic & economically insane policies.

Update #4: What Impeach-Meant

Because I don't know specific law on whether a President can seek the services of another head of state for political reasons, I have no comment on 45's Ukrainian shenanigans, but I do have an opinion, and that is that politicians lacking superior ideas will do such if it's not made illegal. (9/23/19)

From what little I've had time to read, Hillary was going to or did use the information from the Ukraine to keep Joe out in 2016, so the info itself is NOT legally troublesome, if it was good for the gander. It's all a matter of what's legal, as politicians violate morals all the time, as Ross Perot said! (9/23/19)

Did 45 commit a high crime or misdemeanor? You must define terms, specifically, and only courts can, as it's too late in this case for lawmakers to define specific enumerations/a list! Class A misdemeanors only, or B? And what exactly did he do, and do we have evidence for what he did? ALL needed inquiries. (9/23/19)

I personally believe no slap on the wrist about Russian interference empowered/emboldened 45 to seek Ukraine info. I also believe anyone with serious dirt on a #1 rival will get it any way they can, if not illegal or monitored for law violations! Nature of the beast which in modern politics. (9/23/19)

I've had some pretty high profile accounts here the past six days, and I apologize for not opining earlier. We were going through our greatest trial in five years at the exact same time! I'm not opposed to impeachment if 45 has committed any high crime or misdemeanor. Prove your case! Otherwise, move on! (9/23/19)

I have a gut feeling, which has sometimes been wrong, that 45 will NOT be impeached over Ukraine, for what it's worth (which is not much—just a feeling). If he got no slap on the wrist concerning Russian interference, the law must not be on the Dem's side. I'm NOT an expert on that area of law. (9/23/19)

The public has a RIGHT to know any illegal or seriously immoral dealings Biden and/or his son were engaging in in the Ukraine! Investigate BOTH issues! Trump's talk with a head of state, and the Bidens' dealings in that same nation. WE THE PEOPLE deserve to know the TRUTH, impartially! Duh 101. (9/23/19)

The fact that Rudy G flip-flopped is a dead ringer clue that they knew they were treading on thin if not illegal ice! That's why I retweeted it! You don't deny you did something, then say you did something and it was an excellent thing you did, within 30 seconds, if you're honest, and not mentally ill/schizophrenic! (9/23/19)

Politics will ALWAYS side that 45 did horribly evil in the Ukraine (Dems), or no big deal (GOP). Party opinions mean NOTHING! What's the truth, what's the law, and what proof is there of a law violation? That's ALL I care about, and all the American people should care about, from BOTH sides! (9/23/19)

IF Hillary had dirt on Biden she thought would keep him out of the race in 2016, and he did not enter in 2016, that dirt must be quite racy. I 'wanna know what it is, and how you get it isn't as much a concern to me as what it is. People hide things that are evil, excused as private or irrelevant! (9/23/19)

Political activists have their conclusions about Ukraine, already. People who objectively care about the truth don't rush to judgment, but await fact gathering, and search of the state of U.S. law on the matter/issue! Which camp are you in? Politically biased, or a lover of the truth? God is the latter. (9/23/19)

IF Trump were impeached, Bill Clinton is proof he might not be out of office; if so, Pence would be president. And attempting proceedings gets up GOP votes, out of anger. Politics shouldn't be the consideration, but has 45 met the standard of an impeachable offense? (9/23/19)

Quid pro quo? That's illegal abuse of power, if so! Implied deal to trade secrets for security. May be an impeachable offense! RPT: Trump ordered hold on military aid days before calling Ukrainian president

<https://msnbc.com/the-last-word/watch/rpt-trump-ordered-hold-on-military-aid-days-before-calling-ukrainian-president-69712453682...> via @msnbc (9/24/19)

Whether a president can ask another head of state for dirt on a political opponent is ALL a matter of U.S. law. If the issue has never been raised, it's a matter of SCOTUS interpretation of existing, related case law, or up to Congress to address with new legislation, vs. addressed after the fact. (9/25/19)

Unfortunately, U.S. law is often responsive vs. prospectively prescriptive. Laws are OFTEN written AFTER bad events, because officials have no authority to do things laws explicitly prohibit, but unsettled law is where they can break new ground. (9/25/19)

My take on 45's impeachability? You legally have to have a specified law he broke, and it must rise to the level of a high crime or misdemeanor. You have to prove the case with evidence and facts. If you do, I'm ALL for it; if you don't, I'm ALL against it. The case hasn't been made, yet! #RushToJudgment (9/26/19)

"I just want to say to the people of Ukraine, we support you in your fight with Russia, we support you in your struggle for democracy, we support in your efforts to root out corruption, and what you are witnessing ... in the actions of this president is not democracy." —Adam Schiff (9/26/19)

Telling the Ukrainian head of state I hope you and Putin can iron out your differences is like a buddy of a bully telling a rape victim I hope you can forgive my friend! There is DEFINITELY something going on between 45 and Putin, and it's NOT something good! I smell a rat! (9/28/19)

Saying someone should take care of the whistleblower leaker like they did of rats in the old days is EXACTLY the language Mafia dons used in days gone by! NOT a baby Christian, NOT a Christian, NOT Pharaoh, or Nehemiah or Cyrus! I don't want him more religious, but more moral and intelligent! (9/28/19)

And I 100 percent agree with Bill Maher, that both Biden and his son's Ukrainian ties need to be fully exposed, good or bad! #TotalTransparency The public deserves no less! (9/28/19)

Sad to say, out of touch with GOP sentiment (though NOT morality)! Trump's election shows win-at-all-costs is the motto, so letting the Democrats win is anathema to them, even as tRump is to many of us. Its party unity and wins, at this point! Nothing less, including logic and morality! (10/1/19): Whether or not you believe the President's actions and behavior warrant impeachment, you cannot believe that his actions and behavior merit reelection. —@JeffFlake

Despite Jeff Flake, who I love, it makes 100 percent sense that the GOP supports Trump, as I do, politically, to thwart Socialism! I don't support one sin or stupid statement of his, and would vote for anyone else who could beat him, on the GOP side, but none such are running, so we have no other choice! (10/1/19)

My position DIFFERS from Christians supporting Trump in 2016, as they had MANY others who could have beat Hillary, and months to choose others, and pastors didn't use their voter leverage to make 45 behave! In 2020, no other GOP can win the nomination, and the issue is opposing Socialism, for 2020. (10/1/19)

Interjection

My posts may land in one camp or the other, but no one can accuse my views of being schizophrenic, as I use moral principles, logic, Bible, common sense, evidence and U.S. laws, human nature and experience to stand where I do, and it's not always 'gonna make D's or R's 100 percent happy! Objectivity #1! (10/4/19)

The standard for my positions, as always, is is it right, affordable, fair, and doable/practical, within the bounds of U.S. law? It also helps if it's often supported by 'We the people,' but that's NOT the determining factor! That's being a follower of sheep, though sheep have to be cared for, too. (10/4/19)

Many politicians think you're STUPID! They exaggerate and use fear, hoping you can't make distinctions. If you fall for their tricks, you empowered their continuing to sin in this way. The world is coming to an end if you don't vote for our party this election cycle, say many LIARS. #Politics (10/4/19)

Continuing

Is it a "high crime or misdemeanor," or a lower crime? THAT is the ONLY issue at stake!: The law is clear: It's illegal to solicit info in connection with any election in the U.S. <https://msnbc.com/andrea-mitchell-reports/watch/the-law-is-clear-it-s-illegal-to-solicit-info-in-connection-with-any-election-in-the-u-s-70641221832...> via @msnbc (10/4/19)

#QuidProQuo is illegal, as I said over ~1.5 weeks ago!: U.S. diplomats offered Ukraine a meeting with Trump in exchange for political investigation. <https://abcn.ws/2VciD62> via @ABC (10/4/19)

Do you want to know how this impeachment malarkey OUGHT to turn out? ONLY one way: if soliciting a foreign government to investigate a political rival is listed on American law books as a high crime or misdemeanor, he gets impeached. Is it a felony or misdemeanor A, B or C? Who knows? (10/5/19)

We 'ALL' know Trump is an immoral and ignorant man, who only cares about himself! The ONLY reason I'd even consider him in 2020 is because Dem's Socialism is WORSE for the country! As a human, I have NEVER heard of someone with so little character, except hardened criminals! PERIOD. (10/5/19)

Arrogance, ego, Self as god and bluster, attacking rivals with a vengeance, and caring more about re-election than doing things for the country... THIS IS Donald Trump. It has been since 2015, probably well before, and has NEVER changed! "Baby Christian" my hind quarters/tail end! Balderdash. (10/5/19)

Between the far right conservatives and the far left liberals exists a wide expanse of rational Americans who KNOW the extremists are wrong, but loud. That super majority WILL lead us to victory, so common sense solutions prevail over party worship and FOOLish, selfish polar extremes! (10/5/19)

You CANNOT harmonize polar opposites! I heard a far right GOP attacking a #NeverTrump GOP, yesterday, and if I find the female's name he was so detailedly attacking, I'm 'gonna assist her campaign! He blamed her not supporting Trump. He empowered SIN to reign in the 'party of religion!' (10/5/19)

YOU EMBRACED SIN in 2016, in the name of "Jesus." An EMBARRASSMENT to Fellowship Grapevine! @MarkDavis (10/5/19): Now that #MittRomney has shown that he remains the #Trump-hating snake I expected, look for his smarmy admirers to launch the familiar myth that many Republicans in and out of office agree with him. This is a lie.

Keep fighting the good fight, @MittRomney The party of thinking over feelings, and party of religion has embraced sin and ignorance, for power idolatry sin, and you are the John the Baptist who tells the TRUTH, whether "fake Christian" sinners listen, or keep idolizing! God over party! (10/5/19)

WHY I BECAME A REAGAN DEMOCRAT (& ~early on thought Trump the GOP nominee)

My Future as a Democrat

(1/31/19)

ALL Dems have seen, so far, are left-wing candidates! NOT one centrist has announced! Socialism is the going fad to stir up people who want things for free, as anyone would accept if it were true, and could be voted in, which WOULD cause a GOP or independent landslide. I won't be aboard any Titanic!

Star with bucks certainly abandoned ship early! There's ZERO evidence Dem leadership will allow the inmates to run the asylum! IF they do, I'll be fleeing the Titanic, as well. Far too soon to know how that will go. The second I detect a leak from an iceberg, God said to flee, before you look scared.

NO way I'd abandon the Dems for an independent cause, as second fiddle, though I WOULD leave if extremism reigned! Star with bucks can't possibly keep up with our ideas, though he'd try, just as anyone could summarize our materials like he has. A kindergartner can do that! Cuban knows, it's the details that are harder!

IF star with bucks is lying, and really is trying to reelect Chump, from bitterness against Cortez, from money idolatry, and could hurt Dem chances to win, I have ZERO concern God would take care of that before it happened! I've seen Him do it 3 times, and it was quite an ugly sight for those trying to thwart.

Star with bucks was one of my 18 [billionaire] donor recipients, so he got to know 4 pages worth of stuff I shared with insiders concerning our campaign. I have ZERO concerns he couldn't possibly keep up with our ideas, working only off those 4 pages, and I'll be representing our books, soon. I DOUBT he'll get a second/followup letter!

Blooming bird was a second of the 18. I'm guessing my letter inspired them that centrism works, the DETAILS forthcoming when our books release. Whether he gets a follow-up letter is yet to be determined.

I am currently FEC-registered as a GOP for a 2024 political run, but I'm VERY willing to change it to Dem, if they lose to Chump, and GOP's remain far right, and Dems open up to centrism that can WIN! If Chump loses, I'll probably remain a GOP (centrist) for 2024, or start a viable third party. (7/13/19)

Update #1: My Future As A Republican

Background

You would likely never know this, but the WASP Christian leaders who organized for Trump's election sought me to run in his stead, well before he announced a candidacy, and even after he won election—six times total. Aware of my notoriety for common sense solutions, in 2015, Mitt Romney said of me,

One of our next generation of Republican leaders, one who may not be as well-known as I am today, one who has not yet taken their message across the country, one who is just getting started, may well emerge as being better able to defeat the Democrat nominee.

and after I changed parties, the day Trump won, in 2018, Barack Obama said,

Your passion for effecting change is deeply inspiring, and as you continue looking for ways to spur progress across the country we both love, know MicHelle and I will be standing alongside you every step of the way.

Then, having began this website in December 2018, and making my political ambitions crystal clear, in early January, 2019, Elizabeth Warren knew I was a front-runner, and made her hokey homemade video, where she has seconds of dead air, to go grab a beer, then later calls on all Democrats to reject billionaire's donations. This was in response to my having posted that I don't drink beer (don't like the taste), and her knowing I had contacted nearly 30 big Dem donors (billionaires), resulting in 3 quite interested ones, and Charles Schultz showing support by launching a get on the ballot drive, especially after other Dems knew I had the middle owned, so they started espousing far left giveaway programs. Then Bernie tried to steal my posted idea of appearing on conservative media outlets, and Mayor Pete actually did (to which NBC's Morning Joe credited him as the new face of the Democrats for so doing, and I slammed that faux Republican for lying and knowing the idea was mine—not either of these imposters).

The Lord had on multiple occasions told me to wait until June 19th to officially announce my candidacy, and then decide which party to run for. About 1.5 months before that set date, when the gentleman I had always posted I wanted to run with and I believed the Lord wanted in that capacity, Joe Biden, became the frontrunner, suddenly the Dem-oriented media and money/backers were silent in their prior-exposed support of my candidacy. The moment I realized the jig was up, and the big money and media were backing Joe, thinking I'd just go away, I switched parties, back to my lifelong GOP, having protested its immorality and ignorance in supporting those same traits in Trump. Following are excerpts of that change of plans, and prayerful (and not so cheerful/quite angry) discussion with the Lord about the same. Finally, when I made this change known, Savannah Guthrie gave an encouraging speech to George Washington University, and the following day Jimmy Fallon had Kevin Hart do a gameshow skit with rabbits as reward/punishment, immediately following an ad for Denver, Colorado, knowing I had just purchased a replacement bunny, and named him Denver. You will read my disdain for their suits rejecting my 3 attempts to make my announcement on The Today Show in these excerpts (they had made hundreds of such innuendos and entrees to myself the past four years, after first learning of my Twitter account):

P.S.: For those in the know (far too few), highly likely 2024 contender rivals are already adjusting/positioning from this change (note the dates, given the dates of our actions)!

Day 1

(5/18/19)

IF it gets close, PLEASE use me and my writings to defeat the Democrat nominee, @GOP, but I'll only do so if Donnie chooses to live morally and think intelligently. For the sake of the party I used to know, I'll help it. He will never have any support from me; he's a LOSER who hurts the GOP's reputation!

I will watch with GLEE if polls start saying Biden can't beat Chump! I'll have a celebration party, and say, 'I told you so'—you 'dun screwed up, fools! I'd say by March, such evidence should start showing up.

I hope we see the greatest get-out-the-vote effort in the history of America. I'll vote Biden, but every other GOP, unless they're known Trump cultists. People HAVE to cave to the dictator to keep their cushy jobs, and feign liking or respecting him! Pastors do so all the time! Slaves, from selling their souls out!

There are new people coming by here all the time, so for them, please know we are loyal to NO political party! We are ONLY loyal to moral principles, and making BOTH parties behave well, and think smart.

My associations change, accordingly! In that sense, I am politically neutral! #MoralsMatter, NOT parties!

Be looking for our anticipated 2024 or 2028 Presidential campaign as a Republican or Independent. Everything depends on who wins in 2020, and whether the GOP accepts our common sense ideas; if not, a viable third party will be organized by 2028 (expected). #GoneFishing

Would I ever be a Democrat again? Only if another conservative Chump type led the GOP, a viable third party didn't exist, and the Dems' media and backers actually came through, vs. teased. Highly unlikely. It's likelier we'd start a viable third party! I can't trust them! 'Fool me once, shame on you...'

And for any to say I'm a political opportunist, flip-flopper or chameleon, my ideas are too good to let them pass away, so I always look for an opportunity to implement them, as party is irrelevant to me!

Christians should ever be working to make their political party more morally perfect! @FHunscripted should care about abortion more, and @RobertJeffress should care about ending severe poverty in America more. The fact that they don't says party is worshipped over God, in their politics! (Job 6:25)

Something you HAVE to know, when you FEEL Chump has NO shot... MANY people think whites are under assault, via over-immigration, want to keep ALL their money, and never let government help others with it, and want all abortions banned. He can gen up loyalty from those types!

And I GUARANTEE you the "pastors" who supported sin to overturn Roe NEVER thought through what a replacement law should be! They would have let states do as they choose. I have established reasonable limits on the right and left! Theirs was emotion-driven, NOT thought- or law-based! #ChristianCabal

ALL Democrats but Biden stand NO chance, as the leadership and media are backing him as your only hope against Chump. You ought to combine forces, or select a VP partner that makes an amazing duo. Oprah could give Joe a run for his money, but she won't hurt the party's chances, so the also-rans are wasting time and money; I take that back... also-rans are seeking a position in a new (hoped for) administration under Biden. They never thought they'd beat him anyway.

(5/17/19)

Prayer: Lord, You know the Hitler Pharaoh in the White House flaunts Your rules, worships Self, lies like a dog, and worships money and sex (Ex.: Serial wife upgrader). Please destroy him, in any sense of the word You choose. Thank you. -The reasonable American people. FAKE baby Christian mocking The Name! #Judgment

I have ZERO concern our ideas can destroy Goliath. I just don't know how the Lord will raise up media opportunities, which, in turn, will bring in the funds to take our 6 month nation-wide travel schedule. His job to do. He chose a non-marketing spokesman BAD at "pitches." Ex 4:10

God often has other ideas, but as far as I'm concerned, this campaign is over, as the media, apparently, has no interest in my [announcement] airing. If that remains true until June 19th, that day I re-identify as a Republican, and I'll work to defeat Dem nominee! No threat-fact. I always do what I say.

That means I return to church after June 19th, and if God doesn't change His plans, I'll be running in 2024 as a GOP. NYC on book publishers and TV networks has NOT been kind to me, and I say F them all (media and publishers) for abusing me for ideas, then throwing me away! Judge them, Lord, literally!

I have ZERO complaints about Dem leadership! It's all about the media I've contacted three times. They don't appreciate one of the best brains, and I can and will name names I've contacted [I posted name, email and address of all of them, on Twitter, including all billionaire or celebrity donors I contacted]. I hope God destroys their businesses! My emails have all their Hell-bound names. Burn where you're going!

I'm NOT happy with the Lord, either. Dead end, abandoning me in last stretch, it seems. He still has 32 days to act, but He, apparently, is unable to get the media to break past their bias, favorites or blackballing. I'll be contacting all conservative outlets next week! I've quit! Has God?

You will NEVER again gain from my brain! For all intents and purposes, until June 19th, this account is closed.

I'm re-writing my FEC form 2 to indicate 'Republican.' A two year interruption to a lifelong track-record, for NOTHING! It will be mailed June 19th, if God doesn't change my plans, and I'll probably withdraw for 2020. I'll NEVER be a Democrat again [unless another Trump type arises], at that point. GOP or independent ONLY, for the rest of life.

The @TodayShow had the audacity to make ~140 articles from my ideas the past four years, then Andrew Lack's lucky gatekeeper rejects my emails three times? I have informed them, I will never offer again. You will not use me anymore for ideas! I'm volunteering to reelect Trump after 6/19!

.@POTUS @realDonaldTrump I think you're evil, stupid, and the WORST president we've nearly ever had, but because of the mainstream media, I am volunteering my services to get you re-elected. I can advise you on intelligent policies, IF you repent, and start behaving morally! AAorg2020@gmail.com

[God's message to me:] Don't vote if you don't 'wanna. Have nothing to do with their evil business, if you don't 'wanna. Completely tune out of all news, if you 'wanna. You did all you were to do. When prophecy comes, you're ready to fly. You did your job. Nothing is lacking for Me to return, human props-wise. You told everyone you could to warn them.

You need not ever do so again. The VIP's tell the underlings, by word-of-mouth. The pastors do the same. The media and politicians, etc. You know how broad a global reach your tweets had in 2014-2018. Heads of state were here. The world has been warned I'm coming in judgment, and you gave the solution—John 3:16

Your job is finished. TETELESTI! [Me:] So what's June 19th? [Answer:] Formal party declaration date only. It WON'T be Dem! [Me:] Can I start a different job, or must I prepare sales for a political run? [Answer:] Your decision—whatever makes you the most money, and brings you joy. [Me:] Sales brings me NO joy! Please restore a vision for better.

I already know without Schultz, independent is not possible. And Pence will 'wanna run—he's an easy GOP loss, and boring as drying paint. [Answer:] You don't worry about that. Your politics involvements were for prophecy! When it hits, NOTHING else will matter! Politics will remain status quo, as FOOLS see no better!

Prophecy trumps politics. You did all you could to get My people to evangelize. Their judgment will be swift, then that of the whole world. You will be Raptured, then enter the reward I just detailed to you. You always taught, why not have the biggest mansion humanly possible! That's your future, now.

You have ALWAYS begrudged that everyone else can chase money, but you can't. Go chase it wildly! Your eternity can't get any better, no matter what you do from here on out! Now go make this life better.

No one has a more fantastic future, in your era, excepting Billy, your idol. [Me:] RIP Mr. Graham! Enjoying yourself?

(Yes). [Me:] Again, why didn't You tell me any of this in January? [Answer:] You have to be compelled. Your willingness to run away and chase money is the same as every other American! I needed a vessel/tool. You get eternal rewards—why are you bemoaning temporary ones are lacking? [Me:] Because I have bills. [Answer:] Go work!

[Me:] Can You give me any enjoyment in sales? [Answer:] Would you enjoy making big bucks, quite easily? [Me:] Yes. [Answer:] Than go make those calls. I'm the Door Opener, even if not for politics, in 2020. Remember your mansion. Chump is a bankrupt man by comparison, and he's not even heading here (my words or God's?; Unsure. [Me:] Is he saved?

NO evidence! Will he be impeached? NOT writing the answer, as I don't make predictions/prophecies anymore, but I got an answer. Is he the AntiChrist? [Answer:] Only you and I know for sure. Time will tell. [Me:] Do I need to withdraw my form 2? [Answer:] Do whatever you like. That's your life mandate, until the Rapture.

[Me:] I like writing books, but not marketing them. I'll do sales, for now. I'd consult Fortune 2000 businesses, for a fee. I guess I'll sell like h_ll, then see what happens in Your leading for 2024, NOT as a Dem. If I'm free to do what I want, I never wanted any politics jobs. I'd have done well in the White House, but not worth the kissing up to the media, rich people, and pandering to voters like Santa Claus.

NOT my style, and never could be. I'm an educator. I'm through with that [political strategy posts], unless a news article strikes my fancy. I'm gone fishing, needing to be really good, to be a rich fisherman. Goodbye politics. Prophecy is coming!

I'm not waiting until 6/19. I'll declare today that I'm an independent, GOP-leaning (when they're not conservative), and I may never vote again. I may never listen to the news again. I don't care anymore. I'm waiting for prophecy to destroy this earth! You were warned! John 3:16 I'm making money! Good luck. Bye.

(5/21/19)

GLAD for God's perfect timing of my bailing on that party! Trying to impeach and shun people who hate abortions, the past four days. His timing is PERFECT, and not always mine! (link: https://www.foxnews.com/politics/angry-dem-says-trump-raping-the-country-as-impeachment-push-nears-critical-mass#) foxnews.com/politics/angry... I've NEVER been for DJT impeachment, or thought abortions moral! Thanks Lord, for Your leading!

If Dems had wanted DJT to lose, their backers and media would have made an opening for our Pledgers ideas. They didn't, though I gave them three opportunities. I don't get used or played, so I switched parties to my lifelong home. I'm a patient man; I'll make money and prepare, since they weren't interested.

A local talk radio moron said Corker, Sasse and Flake are personas non grata. The IDIOT believes in pure conservatism. When Chump is gone, the reasonable side of the party will, again gain their voice, and conscience. Winning causes egos that can't see reality!

That same moron has ZERO right to ever claim he stands for morality! Sin to win! He disdains people who vote conscience, are independent, can think, and don't worship party. He has no fear of God, just idolatry of power. I'll debate him anytime! #Loser!

Day 4

(5/22/19)

If this doesn't motivate Republicans to vote in 2020, nothing will: Presidents often hire staff members from the people they ran against in the campaign. That means if Biden won, these freebies promisers would likely be cabinet members.

Day 5

(5/23/19)

You need to be as transparent as possible, do the right thing(s), and pass good laws for the good of our nation, @POTUS @realDonaldTrump People who make THESE hashtags have NEVER gotten over the WASP church ushering you into office. There's NO WAY Trump is going to resign!
#TrumpMustResign

I don't agree with much, concerning Trump, but Democrats have wanted him out of the White House since the day he first stepped foot inside it. I NEVER wanted him to be President, but they're losing their minds with him still being there. It's almost laughable—as if one would quit!

I'll never defend one thing Trump says or does that I don't agree with, but Presidents don't "resign" unless facing impeachment for high crimes or misdemeanors (Cf.: the U.S. Constitution)! There are a lot of Democrats with time on their hands to organize protests and #TrumpMustResign hashtag games.

I should have studied Bill Clinton's methodology more in detail (and Obama's book), as one of them tried to practice a form of centrism, and one wrote about it. It's the EASY way to side with one extreme against the other, and harder not to get sucked into that sick and stupid game! #EffortlessEmotionalism

The @GOP BETTER quickly realize that the extremism and anger on the left will translate into one of the greatest get-out-the-vote campaigns ever. Talk radio ONLY reassures listeners that everything's positive for the GOP. Complacency or ignoring/denying opponents' rage will lose GOP seats!

And if Dems impeach DJT, Pence would be a much more reasonable, peaceful and policy-informed opponent to run against, and such impeachment would rile up GOP votes like nothing else can. I offer objective advice. People aren't used to that, but biased party worship and power idolatry sins!

I PLAN to vote for Biden, and to help GOP's—even Trump. That's NOT schizophrenia. I fight back vehemently when people do me wrong, but also fight against immorality and ignorance. This is exactly how I can achieve both ends. Do I care who wins the White House? Not much, at this point! Whoever's most moral and smart!

Policy-wise, if Biden supports views I can't tolerate, or Trump behaves in intolerable ways, my vote for the top of ticket could change, or I may just do as last time—all GOP's but no President vote. I'll make my comparison, and vote accordingly. Biden on abortion could tip the scale against him!

Truth be known, the way I got shafted by the Dems will likely affect my decisions on how to advocate the next 1.5 years, more than anything else! Any who view here know I don't take any crap off anyone, and crap is what I got from their media and backers. I don't forget being used! They messed with the wrong guy!

If Trump behaves civilized and proposes good policies, I'll 100 percent work to defeat Biden, based on NBC, Bloomberg and 3 other Dem billionaires' behaviors! Handlers simply need to keep him in check, and advise him on good policy, as I'd relish a Dem defeat for those peoples' behaviors against me! I'm all in, if so!

I'll admit, if I ever help Chump toward a win, it's more to get revenge on Dems for my treatment. The Lord said destroy them if they do you wrong, but only a handful did. Hence, my indecision. As I've left them, there are few reasons not to go for helping the GOP, including its head! #Prayer need (and Dems are turning liberal).

I'll NEVER be 100 percent conservative, and I disagree with their selfishness and greed values, but I am conservative on many issues, and take the good of all views, including sharing liberals' ambitions to fix problems that cost money. Arrogant, caustic conservatism I'll always fight, as with libs' spending sprees!

I'm 'gonna focus on right policies, and NOT concern myself with any party's advancement—only positions. Our tweets will help any from any side who want the right thing done. This is the service I can provide. May any and all who apply these things win, no matter their party! I HOPE all GOP's will.

Update #2: Two and a Half Years a Democrat

IF the GOP will repent for having elected CHUMP, I'm starting to get my old love for the party I had in Reagan's time, through the Bushes! I'll do everything in my power to get them all re-elected, if they will renounce DJT's immorality and ignorance! @GOP @SenateGOP @HouseGOP

I voted for ALL GOP's but Chump; when it looked like he may win, I suggested Hillary, because she was more wise/intelligent and peacefully dignified than he (i.e., moral). Though two imperfect candidates, he FLAUNTED his sins. I will NEVER like or care about him, but I do care about the GOP's reputation!

I've been a Republican since birth, and was a Democrat for 2.5 years (11/8/16-5/18/19) to protest CHUMP's hijacking my lifelong party. I'm b-a-a-a-ck to reclaim the heart and soul of what used to be a dignified group for thinking over feeling, and for religion vs. sinful heresies, like Trumpianism.

Here's EXACTLY why GOP's have cowered to their dictator: He makes your career and life miserable if you act like Christians should, and as John the Baptist DID! He threatens, and rids the party of GOOD men like Paul Ryan, McCain, Flake and Sasse. &@#$ him! #NeverTrumps have free speech, A hole! You'll NEVER shut me up!

You do not own the GOP, evilly-sinful reprobate, @POTUS @RealDonaldTrump I am now, again, a Republican, as I've been since birth, protesting YOU for 2.5 years as a Democrat, and I've come to reclaim the party of Reagan, Bush, Bush, McCain and Dole. You are a lame duck SOON! And conscience shall return.

I am NOT interested in evangelizing Chump. I don't care, either way. I just want truth/honesty, morality and intelligence from him and his policies, or I will remain the most outspoken GOP to him and his reelection! That lack is what I've ALWAYS opposed, as possibly the first #NeverTrump [Update: Of course, the way the Democrat media and backers tossed me aside, after successfully advising them for 2.5 years, I am willing to help the GOP defeat their candidate, and may even help Chump, if he repents].

Update #3: Dems & GOP's 2024

(5/21-22/19)

426

‘Ask not what your country can do for you; ask what you can do for your country.’ –JFK

Republicans need to realize, Pelosi is being booted out in a matter of years, for the more extreme left, and AOC has been touted as the Dem’s future. Centrism and conservatism compatibility will be the GOP's way to stand against extremism on the left! The center always determines outcomes.

It’s ‘gonna be a war in 2024, if not sooner, figuratively speaking. Dems use GOP money to gain votes, by promising taxpayer money to poor people! Yes, some Dems pay up, but the majority of the 50 percent who pay NOTHING are Democrats! We have to have fair taxes, 100 percent enforced, and pay down our debt!

And poor people must do mandatory civic service as their contribution! And rich people NEED to give back generously, and pay their fair share, as we all do, including poor people's civic service; and fair share requires a streamlined government, and estimate of how much is needed, vs. wanted, so our national debt can come down some day!

My point is that the GOP needs to understand what’s needed, and right for them to pay, then dig in their heels beyond that point! CHUMP gave you too much in tax rebates, when Uncle Sam has nothing to give away. I KNOW from experience laymen unable to retire will ALWAYS take ‘mo money back from government, and NOT complain!

But that’s NOT the same as paying what is owed/due (Rom. 13). No one volunteers and sends in more than the tax bill amount. A righting of the ship has to occur, where everyone knows their tax bracket is fair, and no loopholes exist, government is efficient (vs. wasteful), so people don’t begrudge (as much) paying in, and politicians quit giving away the BANKRUPT store!

CHUMP has spent trillions we don’t have. Present Dem presidential candidates are promising trillions we don’t have. Screw them ALL! They’re horrible people! You don’t advance self (ego sin) by bankrupting future generations! Cons used to care about fiscal responsibility. HYPOCRITES! Sin city IS Washington D.C.!

The poor must be made to make it on their own. IF they can’t do so in the modern economy, you choose homelessness or move to a third world nation, as NO taxpayer owes you money to keep up in a global economy! You’re competing with $2 a day Chinese laborers. Why does any business owe you more than minimum wage?

If your work effort and quality exceed the norm, for low rung employees, you deserve more. If not, you don’t. And MOST people the world over would nearly die to make our minimum wage, which is why thousands are flooding our borders. Globalism caused all this disparity, and all these problems!

We have an artificially propped up base minimum wage, and safety net to help the poor, so all the world’s poor want in on it, because it’s FAR better than anything they can get back home! WE AMERICANS have set up the perfect storm for inviting the masses, through those two programs created for AMERICANS only!

Poor Americans have to pull their weight! Homelessness is NOT evil as society’s end for any who won’t. Charities and churches exist, but the need is employable skills. Business tricks to ruin economic opportunities have to be curbed/regulated, and the rich have to quit being favored by government, but the poor, also, have to learn to live within their means! YOU chose the number of kids you own/have. YOU chose not to make excellent grades (even though government schools failed you if they didn’t make you succeed, despite hardships). YOU chose to have skills only the lowest wage matches with (unless you're mentally or emotionally disabled). That's NOT TAXPAYERS PROBLEM! Grow up!

America has MERCY—NOT justice—offering you a safety net. It HAS to be TEMPORARY, and empowering self-sustainability! Mooches, leaches and sponges are not welcome here! We taxpayers work hard. We don't do so for people not in our employ or family! We earned it... we 'wanna enjoy it! That's why conservatives say we're law-abiding, so government—leave me alone!; Guns? Come and get it; and don't tread on me slogans!

Taxpayers aren't all rich people! We middle class have ZERO interest in funding others! We live pay check to pay check, and have kids' colleges to pay for... why would we agree to any more taxes? EARN YOUR OWN DAMN LIFESTYLE!

There's either 'gonna be a war, secession, violence, or a reconciling in 2024 or 2028, in U.S. politics! The extremes' models of keep all I have (hoarding greed) or take what others have (envious theft) has GOT to come to an end! I'm hoping a common sense centrist party can be organized by then, or God help us all! Civil War number two!

Dems always target the rich, AS IF they're all evil! Dems ALWAYS 'wanna give poor people freebies, vs. skills to be self-sufficient! Dems ALWAYS 'wanna fix problems that cost money, and 'wanna force those desires onto taxpayers! No one wants to address $22T debt, and China as America's master! (Pv. 22:7)

The GOP NEVER has any problem with business ruining lives for profits! NOTHING is off the table for cost-cutting or profiteering! Slaves by free internships, rising insurance copays, layoffs, outsourcing, imported VISA labor (never poor laborer!), streamlining, automating, robotizing, forcing two income families, ending pensions and matching stock options, busting unions, fighting regulations.

It's a polite fight, so far, but the rich and business owners truly have intentions that HARM the masses, and a revolt WILL occur, as it did in South Africa!

Greed is good is the GOP; Gordon Gecko was a (conservative) GOP poster boy Hollywood figure! Then vote and lobby for lower taxes, always complain they're too high, and vote AGAINST the "unconstitutional" safety net, to end five federal agencies (so more people are unemployed), and end minimum wage (so peanuts slave wages can be paid by business), and end the estate tax (so they keep even more). Screw both extremes! Forgive my French!

It's NOT a level playing field (inequality and white privilege), and those who parrot 'life's not fair' ENJOY the benefits of injustice! It is the rich vs. the poor, and government's job is justice (Levit. 19:15). Poor people can't hire lobbyists, so they vote Democrat as a replacement!

WHO is MOST benefitted by life in America? The rich! WHO is least benefitted? The POOR. That, in essence, is what U.S. politics is ALWAYS about... rich people who give a damn about struggling poor who are hardworking (vs. who are lazy), and greedy, selfish, sinful ones, who only want more money! (Ecc. 1:8)

Conservatism and liberalism are BOTH sinfully WRONG! Libs have good intentions with bad budgeting skills, and cons have bad intentions disguised by moral mantras, like 'personal responsibility.' CENTRISM MUST rule the roost, or you ONLY get gridlock or undoing opponent achievements! Re-read that statement!

Politicians either get nothing done, and fight full-time, or they get things done that get un later. THAT IS AN ASININE SYSTEM, folks! Amazingly, I'm through, here! Nothing more to say. @Pledgers2020 becomes @Pledgers2024; 2028 at the latest! Centrists will rule!

EVERY WASP who attends church MUST get out in vote in 2020! It's NOT about abortion, it's about people wanting to steal and confiscate what you own! If push comes to shove, the GOP will NOT take from you, but the Dems will! Until centrism rules, #WatchYourWallet, brethren, and give generously.

If Dems had any vision other than taking Other People's Money, they'd have a valid party to be part of. If GOP's had any vision other than keep it all for me and mine, they'd have a valid party, too. The system is broken, and rigged for continual drama, where NOTHING gets permanently fixed. Anathema!

Update #4: GOP Family Reconciliation/Reunion

(Mt. 12:25; 5/23/19)

I believe there are enough rational Americans that centrism, properly presented, can WIN in 2024 and 2028, but candidates have to run under a party label, so please let me explain to conservatives exactly what I mean by it, and where it differs from them. First, as a lifelong Republican, LOOK at the tweets I've posted, WELL BEFORE Trump, assessing our former presidential candidates:

Can't help everyone, but everyone can help someone. Democracy is worth dying for because it's most deeply honorable form of government devised by man. #RonaldReagan (9/8/14)

I was a supporter of getting God back into the political and cultural discussion in the Reagan era, though evangelism is MUCH more needed by our neighbors. (1/5/15)

MANY in the U.S. WASP church will pin their hopes on #BenCarson as the Great WASP hope, as they have sought a positive conservative secular savior since the Reagan era. (1/9/15)

The Reagan era was AWESOME for U.S. Christians. One in the White Hose believed, as we sort of do, and we rallied and united for many (but NOT all) good principles; the ground shifted! (1/9/15)

70 percent of U.S. states adopted gay marriage, an ad said yesterday, and no one thinks the next President will successfully overturn Roe, but give us another Reagan, anyway. (1/9/15)

@BillClinton and #RonaldReagan had charm, charisma, and PEOPLE skills. You can't force yourself on others, Barack. Socialize and LISTEN! (link: <http://fxn.ws/1A5qYoI> fxn.ws/1A5qYoI) (1/11/15)

Mr. #Putin: Tear down this wall of aggression, violence and invasion (in the spirit of the great Ronald Reagan). @Putin @PutinRF_Eng #Ukraine! (1/22/15)

NEVER trust @PutinRF_Eng 100 percent! "Trust but verify." –Reagan. Talk is cheap/actions speak LOUDer than words! #Gog #Magog (link: <http://bit.ly/1t2mhih> bit.ly/1t2mhih) (1/22/15)

I'm ALL for personality—even brash claims; NOT for stupidity/one-liners and show. We need REAL leaders with authority and good ideas; Reagan had most of that. (1/24/15)

You can't believe Russia is up to old tricks? Wake up. They're the evil empire, as Reagan and Romney told you; trust but verify. Not their Gorbys administration (link: <http://fxn.ws/1y09RV5> fxn.ws/1y09RV5) (1/26/15)

Context—American heroes!: MLK, JFK, FDR, Edison, Ford, Washington, Lincoln, Reagan, Rosa Parks, Patton, Pele, Peter, James, John, the Apostle Paul, JESUS, Doug MacArthur (2/3/15)

Bill Clinton type Dems I am 100 percent for (absent the improprieties). Reagan type GOP's (absent the lack of government concern for the poor); why can't we have BOTH/and? (2/6/15)

Politicians don't even always understand foreign policy needs! Reagan knew prophecy a little. You can DENY it, but I KNOW it's coming. You've got to be prepared. (2/7/15)

THIS is why you keep losing. Plus very boring candidates. Was Romney inspiring when he misspoke, and seemed to have no strong desire to win? McCain? (1/31/15)

I was a HUGE fan of Mitt (and voted for him), but his 50 percent are lazy comment, and near 50 point academic economic plan did him in, as I said at the time. You've got to win to have power, and his hustle was questioned in the waning months and wishing everyone could be rich impractical pipe dream.

The GOP HAS to convince the majority who are NOT super rich that their policies are better for them than the handout bunch. McCain/Romney DIDNT do that well enough. (9/23/14)

Folks with jobs DON'T have time to verify claims, which is why politicians MUST tell the TRUTH! I hear Romney said give up fighting amnesty. IF so, he's WRONG! (12/4/14)

Dole/McCain/Romney--NOT a string of barn burner personalities, though ALL extremely NICE gentlemen. 'Nice guys [often] finish last.' You've got to WIN! (12/22/14)

I voted for McCain, but that duo crashed with extremes of boredom and hyper, less-informed NON-boredom. I was for Perot (until he added his VP), then went for Dole. (12/22/14)

I DON'T think it will be Clinton vs. Bush. Jeb HASN'T been vocal for YEARS, or done amazing things in Florida the media hyped. His brother got all the attention. (12/27/14)

If military punishment can't be exercised perfectly (it rarely can), err on side of over-punishment of "evil-doers!" (a George Bush-ism). Logic. (1/14/15)

World's policeman? NOT by desire, but often by necessity, as the sole superpower. Lead ethically, but "L-E-A-D," as @JohnMcCain said. #JustDoIt (1/26/15)

I voted for BOTH Bushes!: Your vote doesn't matter? Ever heard of 'hanging chads?' George Bush had to appeal to the Supreme Court to get a win, it was so close. Your vote MATTERS. (1/27/15)

GREAT comment on Romney's 47 percent comment NOT going away. #Mitt flip-flopped RIGHT, and bought conservative lies that all poor people are lazy dependents, and it hurt him! (1/27/15)

Leading from behind is following, not being a sheep dog shepherd!: You may get followers, and you may get detractors, but nonetheless, LEAD. ONLY ones "leading from behind" are followers! L-E-A-D (John McCain-ism) (1/28/15)

Get RIGHT positions, and mean them sincerely. Though Romney was in FIRST PLACE, I'm not sure people believed he REALLY meant help poor with his 47 percent comments. (1/31/15)

'GOP out of commission' (Robert Dole). NOT for long! FIX the system, and it NEED not only be a two-party system. Whatever works BEST! #FixTheSystem. (1/28/15)

I can't believe GOP leaders let number one in the polls drop out! You LOST with Dole, McCain and Romney. You've been LOSERING too often, save Bush and Reagan. Are you Democrats? (1/30/15)

George Bush 1 didn't let Saddam Hussein INVADE Kuwait. Obama LETS Russia INVADE #Ukraine. Who's the BETTER leader? Aggression is EVIL! (2/8/15)

U.S.A., L-E-A-D! @JohnMcCain said it JUST like that. You NEED it spelled out for you, as we've nearly forgotten what it means. Like Nike, JUST DO IT. (2/9/15)

Having now proved my historic home has been the GOP all my voting life, the enemy is the far left extreme! They want to suck you bone dry, financially, even as 47 percent pay in nothing, said Romney. They have grand illusions of problem-fixing, but off GOP dimes and dollars!

AOC is their new poster child, and she's not a baby come 2024 (i.e., old enough not just to vote, but to run). We NEED brotherly harmony, in the GOP, and with reasonable Democrats; NOT Kumbaya unity with them, but the ability to work together enough to get things done, instead of gridlock, or having achievements undone!

I am NOT a moderate! No one has ever called me un-intense, or a flip-flopper, or a person who silently goes along to get along, or compromises in order to say something was achieved. Let me paint a picture you may never have seen, but if your mind and conscience opens just a bit, you may not see as that terribly RINO in substance:

The ONLY program to help the poor with tax dollars I support is a revised Welfare safety net, which empowers, educates and motivates them to be self-sufficient, ASAP. I mean government and others LITERALLY make that happen. They get NOTHING for free, but give back token community service for any TEMPORARY assistance (like $3,000 a year, if that keeps them from severe suffering).

NO handouts or freebies, as there is no free lunch in life, and the Constitution's 'general welfare' clause doesn't disallow such help, but it certainly doesn't mandate wealth redistribution. This plan HELPS poor people more than any other, as they're NOT thrown to the streets, to be beggars or homeless, but it also accounts for the fact that the best welfare program is a j-o-b. It ensures they have the skills and education to get a decent job in a 21st century global economy, and become productive, contributing law-abiding citizens in society.

Everyone who can work needs a job! ONLY those mentally or physically incapable of any work need to be on Social Security disability, and ALL waste, fraud and abuse of government programs MUST be rooted out, as government gets streamlined, to operate more like a business!

These are NOT new ideas for me, as the following tweets prove:

At the same time, Welfare MUST actually empower the poor to be successful! Needed job and budgeting skills, motivation, interview, attire and resume skills. (1/28/15)

And Medicaid and Welfare reform to end ALL abuse, waste and fraud, and REQUIRE some civic service as token repayment for freebies. TRULY empower the poor! (1/25/15)

The point is Goldilocks had the right answer—not too much, not too little—just right-sized government. I've said it a thousand times, and I'll repeat it here: Any American paying zero in taxes has zero skin in the game, and will always vote to spend OPM (Other People's hard-earned Money)! That is EVIL!

Compulsory civic service as token repayment for any assistance gains buy-in for what government spends! The GOP is stereotyped as selfish and greedy, and always opposing everything government does earns you that reputation. But I've balanced that concern with the poor not getting off scot free!

EVERY American has a part to play for the system to be fair. That's what everyone wants, and doesn't begrudge. They get angry when things aren't perceived to be fair. Now this isn't pure conservatism concerning government spending, as a minimal safety net is NOT evil, and even God's people, the Jews, had one. But it also comports with II Th. 3:10, for Christians who vote politically conservative.

ALL a society can do, at a minimum, is have opportunity for all, and a caring, dare I say Judeo-Christian-based society HAS to ensure no one gets left behind (except at the Rapture), by empowering self-sufficiency! Smart buying habits taught, and budgeting, even in public schools, and NO racial discrimination in hiring.

Equal opportunity must mean something, and businesses hiring the best qualified is how that nondiscrimination happens! There is no more finely thread needle between over- and under-helping the poor than this plan, and I've been touting it more than five years! I'm consistent, and my views stay consistent no matter what party I associate with (as my tweets prove).

I ask my far right friends to consider whether this limited amount of help for the temporarily poor isn't reasonable, and not rightly accused of bleeding heart "liberalism," as there but by the grace of God and Jesus go both you and I, were circumstances to drastically change, outside our control, and as fellow human beings, humanely treating our fellow brothers, especially if your political party often cited that very same Jesus as their hero! Thank you.

Having babies to get more Welfare money should be an act that involves jail time, as with sitting on your butt waiting for the Welfare check. @DemConvention (9/23/14)

I am ALL for the #GivingPledge for ALL owning more than $15 million, and ALL for TEMPORARY Welfare, with civic service attached IF they're also helped to land a better job! (11/27/14)

It's self-serving to say most blacks abuse Welfare, won't educate themselves, and just gangbang and do drugs and crime. That salves conscience for past white abuses! (11/30/14)

LOWER the debt, FIX the economy (NOT just for the rich), empower the poor to get OFF Welfare, destroy ISIS, only let in who the economy NEEDS, etc. (12/13/14)

Anyone on Welfare who is abusing the system, wasting tax dollars or defrauding ought to immediately be stopped, fined, and cut off! Hand up vs. long-term handouts. (12/15/14)

Therefore, top ten issues for 2016 SHOULD be a growing economy, strong national defense, immigration and Welfare reform, education, and ethics reform, politicians! (12/15/14)

The middle class DOESN'T want MORE taxes, and may empathize with the poor, but aspires and relates to rich more, and wants responsible Welfare with their taxes. (12/16/14)

Make sure no one severely suffers poverty (with token repayment in civic service for Welfare), then let charities do most of the rest of the work. (12/16/14)

Common sense says there are no free lunches, and hand-ups are better than handouts. Teach a man to fish, and he can eat for a lifetime. #CommonSense! (12/19/14)

The lazy poor should NOT be given handouts. The productive poor need only a temporary hand-up. Both need empowerment to self-sufficiency. #CommonSense (11/29/14)

Small government hurts all receiving any assistance, and big government punishes achievers, and nearly bankrupts us with excessive debt. #CommonSense (1/14/15)

It's HIGH time ALL waste, fraud and abuse of our federal budget STOPPED. NEVER over-help anyone, and only help TEMPORARILY. Hand-up vs. a handout! (1/28/15)

NEVER give a fish for long. TEACH them to fish. Hand-up vs. hand-outs. Even Pope Francis said that, recently. NEVER over-help, liberals, as that HURTS the poor. (2/19/15)

So, JUST LIKE Republicans have done from Reagan on, the two sides of the party must work together, get along and be united, for a house divided cannot stand, and certainly can't withstand a coming liberal wave of AOC-like voters, as we've seen in 2019! They're coming for your wallets, people! Unite against extremist liberals.

Liberals have great aspirations, but bad budgeting skills, and ways to pay for things, like attacking the achievers. My views always take any good from any position, and rejects their bad. It's 100 percent based on common sense—not bias, or selfish party idolatry, but what's best for America, as a Christian with Christian values!

Update #5: Liberalism vs. Conservatism in 2020

Both liberalism and conservatism absolutely believe their positions are God's, even though they're polar opposites! AOC's ilk believes a nation being holy means STEALING (a sin) from taxpayers, to ensure the poor get to the Middle class, and Limbaugh, yesterday, said conservatism gives opportunity for everyone to be their best.

He NEVER addressed I Tim. 6:17-19 (i.e., the rich giving back to society), though his relatives are Christians, so MAYBE he is? He supports 100 percent greed and selfishness, as he doesn't address being one's MORAL best! And he claimed moderate GOP's support slandering the GOP as 'white supremacists.' I DO NOT, but I'm certain he does not believe in white privilege at all!

Rushie, WHY IS IT U.S. minorities—especially black and brown—seem to have much more poor than whites, percentage-wise? That has ZERO to do with whites having a historic head start in America?

Why won't Rushie GO to a hood or barrio, and PROVE to himself they're all lazy, as his beliefs convince him, and tell me how it's EVIL for government to do anything to help the poor, because the God of the Bible DISagrees! He will NOT address these aspects of conservatism!

So greed, selfishness, injustice, worldliness, materialism, love of money, zero actionable concern for poor, and DISobeying God (I Tim 6:17-19) is a system BEST for America, which is to be always seeking a 'more perfect union?' Rest assured, Rush won't talk about these matters until I'm able to confront him publicly!

Let's get to the MAIN issue: Liberals see poverty as a heinous problem government must solve. Conservatives don't believe government should solve it at all—only the private sector.

These two EXTREMES will ALWAYS war against each other, because no one defines how much "help" is enough, and liberals want to invite the WORLD'S POOR here, to solve poverty! They DO punish rich people, and that's a sin, if they didn't rob a bank or act like Bernie Madoff to get their wealth!

Here's where conservatism morally fails: They are GOOD at wanting everyone self-sufficient, and financially responsible, but that's an AIM/GOAL. Reality is, MILLIONS in America are poor, and conservatives can not lift one finger or give one dime to help, and they FEEL moral!

Mark Levin called Warren Buffett 'self-loathing' for signing the Giving Pledge, which means if you love yourself, you will hoard all your wealth! As Jew, that's NOT what YHWH's good book teaches!

The JEWS (i.e., God's chosen in the Old Testament) had a welfare system for the poor—even they, as God's moral role models, in theory (vs. practice) DIDNT just rely on good-hearted charitably-minded people!

And YHWH says greed and hoarding are sins. Loving yourself is NOT as high a moral priority as loving God and others, Markie, and THAT is what your political belief system doesn't address!

The dream of a conservative is to gain as much money as humanly possible (NOT God's commandment regarding wealth), then keep it all for your heirs, ad infinitum. God does teach that a good man leaves an inheritance, but He does NOT teach hoarding or greed, and desiring to keep your accumulation from ever helping others or society!

So long as poor people exist (Jesus said they always will), liberals will want them all in the middle class, by tax payer-funded freebies, and conservatives will always say let the private sector handle it, NEVER asking if it alone can or will, because that's NOT their real/number one interest, but keeping it all for themselves, absent token gifts that do NOT match God's will for them (I Tim. 6:17-19).

ONLY idiots believe liberalism or conservatism are 100 percent perfect systems! In today's world, I have to tell you I'm NOT complimenting people to say they're dumb! Stupidity is not something you should aspire to! That means, if you fully embrace either extreme, you are PROVING that you're either dumb, immoral, or both, as I just laid out. THINK, people—especially Christians!

45. Franklin Graham and the High Cost of the Lost Evangelical Witness

Graham's willingness to abandon Christian principles when it's politically expedient has cost the church dearly.

It's hard to think of a single prominent American Christian who better illustrates the collapsing Evangelical public witness than Franklin Graham, Billy Graham's son. His commitment to the Christian character of American public officials seems to depend largely on their partisan political identity. Let's look at the record. In 1998, at the height of Bill Clinton's sex scandals, the younger Graham wrote a powerful op-ed in the Wall Street Journal combating Clinton's assertion that his affair was a "private" matter. Clinton argued that his misdeeds were "between me, the two people I love the most—my wife and our daughter—and our God." Graham noted that even the most private of sins can have very public, devastating consequences, and he asked a simple question: "If [Clinton] will lie to or mislead his wife and daughter, those with whom he is most intimate, what will prevent him from doing the same to the American public?" Graham was right: Clinton, it turned out, wouldn't just lie to mislead his family. He'd lie to influence courts, Congress, and the American people. Fast-forward 20 years. By 2018, Donald Trump was president—and helping to win important policy victories for religious conservatives—and Graham's tune had changed dramatically. He actively repudiated his condemnations of Clinton, calling the Republican pursuit of the then-president "a great mistake that should never have happened," and argued that "this thing with Stormy Daniels and so forth is nobody's business." Graham was wrong: Trump, it turns out, doesn't just lie to mislead his family. He lies all the time to influence courts, Congress, and the American people. So is this the "new normal" for Evangelicals? Is politics entirely transactional now? Do we evaluate politicians only on their policies and leave the sex discussions to the privacy of their own bedrooms? Apparently not, according to . . . Franklin Graham. Now that the Democratic primary is gaining steam and a gay candidate is surging forward, Graham has rediscovered his moral voice. Yesterday he tweeted this: Yes, marriage is the union between a man and a woman, but Trump married a woman, then married his mistress, then married a third woman, then had an affair with a porn star while that third wife was pregnant with his child. Yet Graham says, "God put him" in the presidency and we need to "get behind him and support him." The proper Evangelical position toward any president is not hard to articulate, though it is exceedingly difficult to hold to, especially in polarized times when one party seems set on limiting religious liberty and zealously defending abortion: We should pray for presidents, critique them when they're wrong, praise them when they're right, and never, ever impose partisan double standards. We can't ever forget the importance of character, the necessity of our own integrity, and the power of the prophetic witness. In other words, Evangelicals can never take a purely transactional approach to politics. We are never divorced from our transcendent purpose, which always trumps political expediency. In scripture, prophets confronted leaders about their sin. They understood a core truth, one clearly articulated in the Southern Baptist Convention's 1998 Resolution on Moral Character of Public Officials: "Tolerance of serious wrong by leaders sears the conscience of the culture, spawns unrestrained immorality and lawlessness in the society, and surely results in God's judgment." All too many of our nation's Evangelical leaders haven't just "tolerated" serious wrongdoing by Trump, they've rationalized and minimized it. Some have even given the "thumbs up" in front of a Playboy cover. (What would Nathan, who dramatically confronted David over his infidelity and murder, say?) In so doing, they've seared the consciences of the culture and the church, and granted their secular opponents all the ammunition necessary to question our sincerity as believers. Scripture repeatedly warns that Christians should expect to be despised by the world, and in many quarters of our culture (the academy, Silicon Valley, Hollywood), Evangelicals are among the most-hated members of all. But whenever someone hates us, we should ask why. If it's because of our faith, we should rejoice; if it's because of our sin, we should be humble enough to repent. Even the best of men are far from perfect, and our troubles can be our own fault. Franklin Graham is under fire today. He should be. His double standards have cost the church. This mistake should not define him—he has done much good and preached the Gospel faithfully for many years—but it should grieve him. Through his blatant hypocrisy, he has earned his critics' wrath. —National Review, David French (4/25/19)

2014-2015 MESSAGES

Common Sense

(12/19/14, et al)

Common sense says a flat tax primarily benefits the rich—those least needy of another monetary benefit from government, and who can afford taxes the best.

Common sense says ending the estate tax ONLY benefits the rich, and HURTS society, from LOST revenues, when our budget can hardly be met!

Common sense says ending the minimum wage would HURT workers more than help a few workers in North Dakota oil fields, Hannity and Gingrich! Duh 101

Common sense says give freebies, and people flock to receive them, but SOMEONE has to pay for them! And if our education system isn't world class, U.S.A. will LOSE!

Common sense says government CAN'T do a lot to fix an economy, as it is collective private business decisions! Obama proves that!

Common sense says if business's only purpose is profits, they'll do anything to get profits, absent boundaries the people and government imposes, conservatives.

Common sense says if the market is MUCH lower than union-demanded salaries, the Rust Belt will LOSE to outsourcing!

Common sense says if the rich have NO payback obligations, and some Americans are jobless, or severely poor, money they need must come from somewhere, vs. out of thin air.

Common sense says if you loan money for homes one could never repay, you DON'T lend them sub-prime mortgage money, nor do politicians support such lunacy! Yet, they DID!

Common sense says most folk CAN'T make tweets this fast on so varied subjects, with clarity, unless God is with them. Such is my claim. Can most politicians?

Common sense says there are no free lunches, and hand-ups are superior to handouts. Teach a man to fish, and he can eat for a lifetime. #CommonSense! #JustDoIt, politicians!

Common sense says you DON'T drill baby drill, with NO concern for the environment, or push 100 percent green energy before it has matured! DUMB policies!

Common sense says you DON'T reward BAD behavior, or you encourage more of it. You DON'T empower laziness or ignore strugglers! #CommonSense See our Dumb as a Donkey book.

Common sense says you DON'T reward bankers who, in part, CAUSED the sub-prime mortgage crisis, to get BONUSES, or to be bailed out of their own BAD decisions! Duh 101

Common sense says you DON'T so withdraw from Iraq and Afghanistan that you allow ISIS to fill the void, no matter how much war fatigue the U.S. feels!

Common sense says you never pay ransoms, appease dictators, ignore problems (like Social Security, and our debt), or become the debtor to China as our master!

Common sense yields common ground. For example, you can't spend/credit card your way out of debt and a low-paying job! Common sense WORKS! #JustDoIt, D.C. politicians!

Update #1: We The People

(1/8/15)

We (the people) HAVE spoken. We may NOT all be lawyers, to understand all your tricks, but our intuition and common sense GUIDE us, and we're NOT fooled.

We (the people) are TIRED of your games. We are NOT stupid, and We do NOT approve of what you are doing (or not doing) to OUR country! #FixTheSystem

We (the people) are watching. We are your bosses. You are public servants, and we are NOT slaves. We may be too busy to notice, sometimes, but we're WATCHING!

We KNOW a flood of immigrants from anywhere is unsustainable to our workers, economy, and social services, so WE the people WILL change this—NOT politicians.

We KNOW the U.S. educational system is broken, and falling in global polls, but WE WILL change this! Our kids DESERVE no less! #ImMadTooEddie!

We live in the GREATEST country in the history of man! DON'T let our politics NOT reflect that tradition and track record of leadership and great ideas!

“We must learn to live together as brothers, or perish together as fools.” “A genuine leader is not a searcher for consensus, but a molder of it.” #MKL Jr.

WE THE PEOPLE ARE the answer! Read our political book (Dumb as a Donkey, Fat as an Elephant) to get a vision of HOW politicians SHOULD vote, then DEMAND IT in 2020 [2024/2028]!

WE THE PEOPLE are the power, and I am TIRED of tricks and inaction and lies. I will NOT tolerate it anymore, and am willing to put my b_tt on the line!

We the people ARE the power. Speak truth to power? They need to be speaking the TRUTH to us. We are the power. We the people in free America.

We the people see gridlock for what it is... a tacit admission that you think things are as good as they can get. They are NOT! U.S. #Congress

We the people see through your heat vs. light; your drama vs. productivity; your good cop/bad cop, so incumbent advantage keeps in power your appeasing bases!

We the people CAN vote in enough politicians committed to the GOOD, common sense policies of BOTH sides, to throw all others out in 2020 [2024/2028]. Do it, and WIN!

We the people DEMAND GOOD policies NOW, and common sense in Washington. NO MORE Fighting, or uniting against US, for money! #DemandChange vs. hope and change!

We the people do NOT have to be stuck with a two-party system, nor is a third party required. READ our book for practical solutions to Washington-as-usual (Dumb as a Donkey, Fat as an Elephant).

We the people have abdicated our role as rulers of our nation, and outsourced it to many greedy pigs and bums. #ThrowAllBums out (not all are bums).

We the people have gotten fat and lazy in investigating who's telling the truth, and who votes in our best interest in Washington... WE will change this!

WE the people have KNOWN there were many bums in Washington, but denied they're our bums, but WE the people WILL change this (soon)! #Voters

WE the people have let the foxes guard OUR hen house in D.C., and WE WILL change this! We've been too busy, and self-absorbed, but WE WILL change this!

We the people HAVE the power to MAKE/force executives not be the only ones who benefit most from Capitalism! The rich getting richer is EVIL, if only for them!

WE the people have watched our nation LOWER in international respect, and be taken advantage of by emboldened regimes, but WE WILL change this!

WE the people have watched with curiosity the DRAMA in D.C., holding FEW-to-no politicians accountable, but WE WILL change this! #WeThePeople! #USVoters

We the people have, are and will again BE the power! WE WILL do this! IF you believe this go to AmericanAnswers.org, soon, and make your voice HEARD.

We the people KNOW Social Security WILL fail, and WE will NOT let it. We KNOW politicians deal with trivial matters, OFTEN, but WE WILL change this (soon)!

We the people MUST rise up and demand moral leadership in our governments. NOTHING LESS! God sees all. Do the right thing.

We the people MUST unite to assert our power AGAINST every partisan politician, and every BAD policy, issue-by-issue! Voters must get our heads out of the sand!

We the people MUST unite to common sense principles I fully detail in our new book, Dumb as a Donkey, Fat as an Elephant. Principles trump parties or personalities!

WE the people need, want, deserve and demand NO LESS. HEAR OUR LOUD voices in 2020 [now 2024/2028], to shake up the establishment for good, reasonable SOLUTIONS!

We the people of the world oppose terrorism, slavery, genocide, stealing, hate, severe pollution, and ALL the things in our above tweets!

We the people out-number politicians one thousand-fold+! Vote out any who will support hurting American jobs or wages! Immigrate legally, and if you can pull your own weight.

We the people are da_n tired of your shenanigans! I will PERSONALLY expose each and every one of them as soon as you do them, as I've shown here!

We the people are God's instruments for bringing about the change that alone can turn our nation around, and make it what she's ALWAYS been, and must be!

We the people are NOT 100 percent divided! We are united against BAD politicians, BAD policies, gridlock, BAD unity and manipulating D.C. drama, with little to NO productivity!

We the people are NOT inferior to politicians, in knowledge or solutions! We do NOT believe their words about public service, vs. the power being OURS!

We the people are NOT stupid, just too busy to babysit Washington, full-time, but we KNOW your tricks, and are SICK of them, and we WON'T tolerate them anymore!

We the people are NOT stupid—just TIRED of your games. Let the voice of the people rule LOUDER, and have a back-up career Plan B if you DON'T!

We the people are responsible for those who CLAIM to lead us, but We the people WILL change our blind voting for party labels, for right principles!

We the people are stuck with the lesser of two evils, because neither party budges, reforms or reinvents themselves very often. Stubborn, though IMPERFECT!

We the people are TIRED of obfuscation, dodging, avoiding, deflecting, ambiguity, doublespeak, talking in circles and straw man arguments of politicians.

We the people are TIRED of the war and games of politics! Moral-sounding smoke screens to scr_w your opponent, like the EPA delay until Canada ends the deal!

We the people say NO! You can list all those things, and put them up to a public vote. I'm but a Citizen, but I know what the PEOPLE want; Do YOU?

We the people should NEVER have special interest voices heard louder than our own! Money should NEVER buy access, votes or elections! Duh 101

We the people will NOT allow politics-as-usual in 2020, just as that date symbolizes clear vision. D.C. must, and will, CHANGE for the BETTER!

We the people will NOT BLINDLY FALL for general platitudes like Rubio's American Dream. I'm ALL for it, but we MUST also address those who DON'T achieve it.

We the people will NOT let politicians LIE to us anymore, waste OUR money, stay in power forever, and have NO accountability. The wolves are in charge of the hen house!

We the people WILL take control of D.C. in 20/20 [now 2024/2028]. OUR voice and wisdom will RULE! Our power will be felt, and U.S. WILL be number one again! #PeoplePower!

We the people WON'T put up with anymore FALSE dichotomies, trying to anger voters into STUPID clinging to one party vs. the other! See our book for SOLUTIONS!

We the people. You and me. The MASS, voting population who are NOT career politicians. We the people, NOT PACs, or Washington lobbyists. We—you and me!

We the people: DON'T accept business-as-usual in D.C.! DON'T be manipulated. DON'T accept either/or extreme politics. DON'T reward BAD behavior of politicians.

#WeThePeople have and are the power. NEVER let politicians forget that, U.S. voters. You're SO busy, but DON'T ignore the evils they do' and praise their good!

Introduction

If I had never experienced full evangelism and body life (at Highland Baptist, Waco), relational discipling (The Navigators, Campus Crusade, Alpha and Omega), and seen Rick Warren and Freddie Haynes engage serious social ministry, I could handle modern church, which doesn't do these. I can't! (4/21/19)

At age 50, I promised myself I would not allow 5 percent who ever win one soul to Christ in a lifetime to continue. Now that our books are done, it's time to make waves! (6/17/18)

What you are doing WILL be exposed to the ends of the earth in REJECTING this message of FULL evangelism, because the lost go to Hell forever, as a result! (7/22/16)

AMAZINGLY, when you write messages like this, you get accused of bibliolatry, legalism, citing chapter and verse, and having a critical spirit. That's as opposed to doing things UN-biblically, having little or no Bible justification, thus rejecting a biblical service of correcting Christians' thinking. (12/6/18)

All thanks to John Bisagno (RIP), Don Anderson (RIP), Charles Ryrie (RIP) and Dallas Seminary for any demonstrated knowledge of God's word, beyond the 40 solid years of personal study God has had me engage.

Stories

Much more explanation can be found in 'Church Conflicts,' at this website's Will You Live Forever? button

FBC Deer Park

I lost a youth pastor job opposing Lordship salvation. ASK Bob Sebesta of First Baptist, Deer Park, TX if he's still with us. The pastor was Ernest Weedon, who CHANGED SERMONS from what bulletin said he'd speak on, to rail against my view. I stood up and challenged him to a debate (age 29). That was the end of my professional ministry. (6/11/18)

SBC Houston

That church sought me out as Evangelism Minister, based on my reputation as the most evangelistic person Doug Page knew. I was doing sales at the time. (6/15/18)

In the interview process, I asked of the job description for Evangelism Minister. Reply: 'JUST get people to our campus—Dr. Young's charisma will take over from there.' (5/18/13)

During that process, a teacher-coach asked if I'd make staffers do evangelism. My reply? 'If the mother duck is not leading, the chicks won't follow.' Suddenly there was a 'hiring freeze,' when they were raking in $1 million a week. Their second in command even thought my JOKE of opening Astroworld on their campus (Six Flags over Second Baptist Houston) "wasn't a bad idea." WHY did people in the book of Acts never think of these things? (SARCASM) (4/21/19)

I told SBC's second in command, with their philosophy of church, why not Six Flags over Second Baptist. His response? 'Ya know, that's not a bad idea!' (5/18/13)

A staffer at Second Baptist told me 'we minister in the richest zip code in America... people don't respond to door-to-door evangelism.' I proved that wrong, OFTEN! (6/25/17)

Ed Young was reported to me by a deacon to have schmoozed a late famous Houston lawyer, to his condo in Hawaii, to secure his membership (AKA tithe). Why do you think MOST mega churches are in rich neighborhoods? The love of money sin! 96 percent of U.S. Christians in ministry stay in North America... the money lust sin. (6/15/18)

My friend, Doug Page, asked me why I left SBC? I said it got too commercialized, and I didn't care for their Summit gathering where rich people would call out how much they pledged, and challenge others to match their (often) $50,000 contributions. (12/9/17)

...Summit challenging others to pledge $50K (contrary to alms in secret, Mt. 7), and their public Joash Box parade of envelopes. He said, 'well it works, and black churches do it.' (8/24/17)

My dad's friend, John Baugh (RIP), allegedly donated ~$20M to SBC Houston, then Dr. Young shut off the business meeting microphone, when Mr. Baugh wanted to speak on how his money was to be used! (5/18/13)

Osteen

[Way before he got famous...] Osteen reportedly has 1-2 extremely expensive sports cars housed on the other side of town, according to a friend and SBC deacon, two doors down from his house on Doliver. (5/18/13)

Cypress Bible

Did Joe Wall go evangelize with me, and see every lost person we were able to speak with get saved, then tell me, "I don't want that taught at my church?" YES! (11/11/14)

I went person-to-person evangelizing with Joe Wall (Cypress Bible, Cypress, TX), and after perfect results, he said, "you have a gift, God has obviously blessed and called you, but I don't want that taught here." I said, "well I don't want to go here [any longer]." Now he does EXACTLY that @ewmi He wouldn't go evangelize right next door! (4/7/19)

Jesus Video

I once lost a Jesus Video Director opportunity because in the meeting, I scolded their charging churches between $18 and $24 per CD, when costs were between $1.50 and $3. A deacon from Cypress Bible defended it as self-interest vs. selfishness, and I evangelized with his pastor, too; see our website. (10/23/17)

The Met, Spring

Call Dave Strawn in Spring, TX (RIP) to see how The Met mega church shut down his Sunday School class for watered-down teaching. There are more than 17 witnesses! (5/18/13)

FBC Katy

Have I told you about Mr. Fiegelson, in Katy, TX, who owns four businesses—one an 18-wheeler transportation business? READ about him on page 76 of part 5 (or part 7), at The Will You Live Forever? button, at this website. I call him 'feel-good-son,' but he's Fiegelson. An arrogant boaster of his riches, 'for Jesus,' of course. (6/15/18)

A Houston businessman offered $4M to build a church gym "for evangelism." When I gave him a pamphlet showing the 10/40 Window's evangelism needs, the money went elsewhere. (5/20/13)

I got grilled by staff pastors, and the rich dude who I criticized for offering $4M for a GYM, "for evangelism." I went to his business, and showed him how many could be evangelized for $4M in the 10/40 Window. Later, he came by my home, by mistake, on the arm of another pastor he was courting! (6/15/18)

God led me to teach our 'On Hell' speech (at our website), at First Baptist, Katy TX's Sunday School, and every person there evangelized at a nearby shopping center. (6/25/17)

KKHT

They taught, get people saying 'yes' to small commitments (trial closes). I worked for Salem Communication's KKHT radio, and they taught us to lie about audience size, and mock any client preconceptions that we were some puny little station (which we were), by bending your index finger like a puny antenna, and denying that we knew the ratings. (11/5/18)

Head Hunter

In sales, I was once a head hunter in West Houston [less than a week]. No one can accuse me of NOT being for the Jews, because the little pipsqueak of a 'boss' let me go when our conversation revealed I was a Christian who was for the Jews, after I landed a Dallas forensic accountant and got paid ZERO! I'm just NOT for the Jews' sins—or anyone's. (5/15/18)

Global Vision

I was on an evangelism association staff, briefly, in Houston. It went defunct, because the fool of an otherwise great guy heading it up believed you had to have festivals, and hire a fund raiser for $500K! He USED to do crusades in South America. Now he does the food business. Global Vision. (4/21/19)

Racine Bible

I was phone interviewed by the largest Bible/community church in Racine, WI, 10 years ago, but when they asked do you have connections to @TonyDungy, to get him to speak for evangelism meetings, their interest quickly died. The church in America is apostate. That's what I'm saying! (4/21/19)

DFW Medium Church

I went to a college friend's semi-mega church, and he said, 'Jim, you don't know what it's like being a pastor.' 1. I've been one. 2. If you did it God's way you would be joyously at peace! He was worried new mega church was taking his members. #SheepStealing happens all the time, and mega's don't care—Capitalism! (4/7/19)

'Church of North Dallas'

The SAME guy I told churches aren't evangelizing much, to which he said, "crusades don't pay for themselves." They later had crusades at the American Airlines Center, and ATT Stadium. Their idea of evangelism is professionals reach masses, vs. Eph. 4—laymen do their jobs. Now they exhort reach ONE person! (Who's Your One?). (4/7/19)

[All of a] sudden you see [pastor] Graham tapping the great @GregLaurie to do Harvest Crusade at ATT stadium. I had hand written Billy Graham to endorse a plan (on our website) to encourage every pastor to evangelize every lost person within walking distance of their church. His female secretary politely declined, claiming he was too frail/old, even though MyHope came forth ~three years later. (6/15/18)

Once, I pushed a church to actually do evangelism to their neighbors. THEY GAVE US CHURCH MARKETING MATERIALS IN A GIFT BAG! Some U.S. pastors hate you, lost people, if you won't join their church and pay a tithe! NO concern for your eternity, unless you'll come to their business. Heinous sinfulness! satan's priorities. I took my son, threw that garbage in the nearest trash can, got a visiting foreigner maid saved, and shoved her name and address into the palm of the staffer who turned me in for correcting his false doctrine that Christians need a new root, when Jesus is our root! (Rom. 11:16) (6/25/19)

Eight staffers in a row, at my family's church, REFUSED to go evangelize outside their building. Three of them said they couldn't, and when I saw them 30 minutes later, they were STANDING AROUND waiting for the church service to start. I once evangelized with my son, and when a gal was saved, handed her name to 'Lumpy.' (4/7/19)

What about "Lumpy," on our website (possibly deleted now, but when I renew it)? When the GOOD second in command celebrated his 15th church anniversary, 'Lumpy,' after warring against me for awhile after he left, said 'maybe they did listen to you, then walked off, still angry I called his hand on theology. (12/8/17)

The Christian Cabal's headquarters' third in command preacher once told me, to my face, 'image is everything.' I rebuked him, and he banned me from all Sunday School classes. (8/24/17)

[Relatedly] @ChrisKouba is "Stumpy" in "Church Conflicts" at this website's Will You Live Forever? button (I make learning the truth easy for you). (5/30/19)

I've been banned from Sunday School because I knew too much [and/or added too many insights], and asked too many questions, when teachers had their doctrine wrong. Ask a guy named Phil Thames. (11/3/16)

The Sunday School teacher at the time, @PhilThames, phoned me from the Texas Rangers practice in Arizona, where the staff had flown him to schmooze him, and had him tell me he wanted to discuss using my [website] materials in the class. I had pushed for evangelism and discipleship getting taught since I first joined PBC. (8/31/18)

And when I told the story on our 'religious' website, and noted it on TripAdvisor, I was called in to sign a contract never to mention that church online, or I could never return. THIS is character, or being a character? (the LATTER). Church done satan's way! NO WONDER he advises Trump. (6/25/19)

One further update to my prior testimony... I QUIT Prestonwood Baptist membership when they announced ~$23M to buy a Dallas church for multi-site, "for evangelism." I warned them that was a WRONG decision, and God shut it down ~two years later! They made members promise to attend, for a time, to build it up. (6/15/18)

ASK Jack Graham about his sensing an 'unusually powerful presence' late March 2015. ASK HIM, media. If he lies, don't trust any words out his mouth in any sermon, ever again! Ask Phil Thames if God didn't VERY sadly judge his turning on me. God prepared its outcome for years—He has foreknowledge. (12/9/17)

Southern Baptists & Other Denominations

On 7/5/14 I emailed over 40 major denomination heads or headquarters asking them to adopt a thorough evangelism plan for their churches. I got NO positive replies. (5/23/17)

Fellowship Grapevine

I DID learn from ABC that the media won't cover an event unless there are 3 to 5 people, minimum, when I took my Go Evangelize! signs to protest Fellowship Church's $4M Lear jet. (6/8/15)

Four Corners, Frisco

Four corners church, Frisco (under new management, now, and changed name) had a staffer accuse me of possibly having an 'emotional problem,' because I cared so much about evangelism. He has a sin problem, because he is peacefully ignoring evangelizing all nearby lost people. I'll take my allegation over his, any day! (12/9/17)

Exhortations

Paul and the apostles traveled the world to tell people the Gospel. MOST U.S. pastors won't lift a finger to leave their cushy offices to do the same! READ these verses, and REPENT!: Ac. 5:42, 8:5, 9:22, 35, 42, 13:44, 49, 14:21, 25, 19:10. Biblical evangelism is THOROUGH evangelism, pastors! (11/28/17)

And any church that has NO PLAN to evangelize every lost soul within walking distance of their uncommanded building DOESN'T CARE that those people are facing eternal Hell! There's NO other way you can spin that! We have the answer. We're hoarding it, inside stained-glass wall holy huddles! #TRUTH (2/19/19)

NO professional evangelist I know gets paid to ensure all YOUR neighbors get reached! GO EVANGELIZE ALL NEARBY LOST PEOPLE ASAP, PASTORS!!! (7/16/16)

Twitter search "evangelize asap." We STARTED this emphasis four years ago, after 35 years of living it. Our message is consistent, never wavered, never quit, and will continue until I die. Yet, 99 percent+ of U.S. pastors have not YET committed to evangelize every lost soul nearest to their buildings! (10/17/17)

FIRE YOUR PASTOR IF HE WILL NOT PUBLICLY COMMIT TO LEAD HIS CHURCH TO EVANGELIZE ALL LOST WITHIN THREE MILES OF YOUR CHURCH ASAP! (3/14/15)

I've said before: SHUT DOWN CHURCH, tomorrow, and LEAD your members to go evangelize those nearest your uncommanded buildings, pastors! I DOUBT one church will. (8/27/16)

Do not give one dime to any church whose pastor is not PUBLICLY vowed to lead all members to evangelize all nearby lost people, ASAP! Give elsewhere! (1/7/15)

Man's sin causes them to deserve/earn/qualify for Hell, but the Church's sin of NOT evangelizing ENSURES that will happen. JUDGE US, LORD! WE spurn evangelism. (11/3/14)

ALL the sheep are falling off the eternal cliff, and the shepherd Christians are predominantly IGNORING it in their actions. JUDGE US LORD! (Lk. 18:12) (10/16/14)

THIS is the conversation that will take place at the Bema Judgment between God and U.S. pastors: WHY didn't you evangelize all nearby lost people? Response: We intended and wanted to, we tried a little, we invited them, they knew our church was there. Response to response: Access denied (to exoneration and rewards) (4/21/19)

PASTORS in ministry more than three years are PRIMARILY responsible for the deplorable spiritual condition of U.S. church. I lost a teaching job saying this TRUTH. (10/23/13)

IF Christian laymen REFUSED to donate one dime to any church whose pastor wouldn't publicly commit to LEAD their members to evangelize all nearby lost people, ASAP, the Great Commission MIGHT get done some century in the future! (4/20/19)

Hit pastors in the wallet, and you will get BIBLICAL church. Earmark your giving ONLY to evangelism and relational discipling, and EDBS could happen! (6/8/14)

God will RIGHTLY bring persecution on the U.S. church for her lack of complete/thorough evangelism! May it happen SOON, as it's NEEDED. (1/16/14)

I'm sure Evangelism Explosion's founder had no idea the 1970's thorough evangelism thrust might be the last. Campus Crusade understands how influential college years are. (2/7/14)

Evangelism

PROOF 100 percent thorough evangelism CAN and DOES get done and documented (zip code 76115)! (link: <http://swbts.edu/campus-life/student-life/going-second-mile>) swbts.edu/campus-life/st... (link: http://www.zipmap.net/Texas/Tarrant_County/Fort_Worth.htm) zipmap.net/Texas/Tarrant_... @SWBTS @DrMattQueen (4/28/16)

One certain zip code (76115) HAS BEEN FULLY EVANGELIZED, documented, meaning the U.S. church's LONG OVERDUE Great Commission work is doable. It was done by my alma mater, @SWBTS, due to HEROIC, RARE leadership. Leaders vs. compromisers! I've contacted them BOTH, here! #Heroes! Doctors McQueen and Kiker. (6/17/18)

Evangelizing at church is like looking for a bride at a couple's retreat! Jesus preached to crowds, but He disciplined 12 men. LEARN His ways! (2/15/14)

The New Testament evangelism model is publicly and house-to-house (Ac. 5:42). Paul went where crowds were—synagogues and market places. 153,000 die daily; most go to Hell. (10/11/14)

The case for 100 percent thorough evangelism: Christ died for ALL people, all people go to Hell without Him, the Great Commission says 'to all creation' (NOT meaning plants or animals), and it's SO doable, if every church and pastor did their part! In Texas we have 'adopt a highway...' Churches... adopt your neighborhoods! (12/8/18)

(Jn. 12:32) If you go to Hell, it's NOT because God didn't do all He could to get you into Heaven, but it's your own free-willed choice! (Jn. 12:36) Jesus' evangelism had urgency, and an imminent deadline. The window of opportunity for you to go to Heaven is not open-ended, because He may not call you anymore, or you die. (7/11/18)

EASY plan to do, but you WON'T: 1. Pray. 2. Publicly commit to evangelize all nearby lost people. 3. Start, ASAP. 4. Recruit workers. 5. Complete the task, ASAP! It's IMPOSSIBLE for me to understand U.S. pastors REJECTING a call to evangelize every nearby lost people. Some HAVE to be lost, false prophets in it for the money! They have to be. (6/17/18)

Saying we do evangelism, when it's NOT 100 percent is like being half pregnant. IF you don't reach those nearest you, they may go to Hell, unnecessarily! (2/27/15)

In dangerous chemical spills, authorities will always FULLY use door-to-door, with other methods, as ONLY it can ensure all are warned. Evangelism tip. (2/23/14)

...One-on-one human contact is the ONLY way you can be certain everyone has heard! In California fires, authorities go door-to-door, to a person, to warn of impending fire. Hell is MUCH worse, and you stay in your air conditioned office, ignoring their plight, so you can preach to the choir! (12/13/18)

If you invented the cure for Polio, you wouldn't keep it to yourself. Attraction evangelism CANT fulfill the Great Commission! It's logistically IMpossible. I'm wasting my time addressing the church much anymore. They're NOT 'gonna do EDDBS, or change. May judgment befall our temple idols! (1 Pet. 4:17) (7/7/18)

"Christians continue day by day as though being lost was nothing more than having a common cold." – Freddie Gage (evangelist par excellence) (12/25/13)

People who experience good things talk about them. New mothers, great promotion, windfall inheritance. Apparently, the Gospel is bad news, because so few U.S. Christians ever speak it to lost people, like the inventor of the Polio vaccine would have among his colleagues, then the public. Mute children! (1/1/18)

Evangelism in America is a Swiss cheese block, with HUGE holes, and no one seems to care. If Coke wanted to offer one free bottle to everyone on earth, someone would plan out and organize how to do so! (11/14/16)

Pockets and Swiss cheese, vs. full enchilada. No child left behind, in evangelism. Christ died for all does NOT mean some, though not all will be saved. (11/5/15)

They've heard once? Tell them again. It takes 7 times, on average, for a response. You quit before 7, and you really don't care if they go to Hell. And laziness is a sin. (9/27/16)

Discipleship

Jesus preached to the crowds, but was spiritually intimate with, and poured His life into only the 11, and those 11 upended our globe, 2,000 years ago. DO IT. (10/26/16)

In EDDBS, 'D' is for discipleship. That's NOT the same as sermonizing! It's more intimate and intense. Jesus took 12, poured His life into them, and apart from one prophesied to apostatize, the 11 turned the world upside down. He also preached to the crowds, but explained it all only to the 11 (Mk 4:34, et al) (10/30/17)

In America, pastors WANT Henry Ford's mass manufactured, assembly line discipling, with everything but the kitchen sink thrown into one speech a week. (12/27/14)

MASS MANUFACTURED discipling, by sermonizing, will NEVER get the results of intimacy of fellowship, personal concern and the multiplication method! (6/14/16)

Rev. Bill Hybels reportedly said that over the years, he hadn't changed a lot of lives. That's an HONEST, sincere reflection—NOT an embarrassment—and step one to change. (11/2/13)

Church Growth

Before 1980, being rich in ministry was unheard of, except for a handful of people... Bisagno, MacArthur and Swindoll (and a few others). The church growth movement started to change that. When big business instituted mergers and acquisitions, for numerical growth, churches followed suit, and mega mania begun. (11/28/17)

Funny, pastor salaries rose when direct evangelism, relational discipling, quiet time, Scripture memory and Body Life waned. Correlation? YES. (11/26/13)

Expository preaching went by the wayside, as the Church Growth Movement of the 1980's sought larger pastor salaries by larger memberships! #TRUTH (11/20/15)

...chasing FADS: Male bonding, promise Keepers, Purpose-filled life, Experiencing God, CWT competing with EE, generational sins, spiritual mapping, health and wealth, seeker sensitive, relational evangelism, servant evangelism (vs. go and tell), and MANY more fads you can profit off. (1/24/19)

Some pastors study management books more than the Bible! Rock concerts, gyms/sports, marriage counseling, recovery seminars, famous speakers, entertainment/comedians, ventriloquists—anything but go and tell evangelism (i.e., the biblical model). To Hell with people going to Hell, if they're not attracted to our secular events! (6/25/19)

Church growth is NOT the purpose of having church. It's a place for believers to gather to worship God. Evangelism increases the number of believers, and NOWHERE IN SCRIPTURE is come-and-hear at our (uncommanded) building commanded, or even taught! Mic drop. Biblical church growth came from evangelism—period! It was the result—not the goal. There was NO come-and-hear layman efforts to get lost people to come to church buildings to hear the Gospel. READ THE BOOK OF ACTS! (6/22/19)

Do mega church pastors EVER consider the "sheep stealing" feeling of smaller pastors, or READ II Cor. 8:14? The Bible is greater than Capitalism, for Christians! (11/9/13)

NOT that God/the Bible opposes mega churches (Ac. 2, 4), but THEY did things RIGHT—EDBS priorities, and ensuring through gifts, that no CO-LABORER (vs. competitor) suffered! (6/17/18)

EVERY U.S. NON-mega church pastor who STRUGGLES facing sheep stealing, and bivocational work, and NEVER experiences II Cor. 8:14-15... God WILL reward you! (8/25/14)

My interest and concern is, number one, for struggling pastors who suffer from legal sheep stealing, and the small and medium-sized churches, who can't compete with the amenities of the megas. And NOT all mega church pastors suffer all these evil intentions and deeds! If the shoe fits, it fits! (4/9/19)

But since we are in a Capitalist, commerce-driven society, smaller pastors believe what made mega churches rich is what they need to imitate. IT IS NOT! EDBS is how you create a REAL church, and is the ONLY hope America has for REAL revival EVER coming here, for it is God's way—not fake man schemes! (10/20/17)

Churchianity

BIBLICAL church is four main elements: Thorough evangelism, relational discipling, Body Life and social ministry. Sermons are to be preaching and teaching, and salaries AREN'T guaranteed, nor buildings commanded. (6/25/19)

(Col. 2:9) Paul exerted great effort on evangelism and discipleship (Cf.: I Cor. 9:19-27, for evangelism, and Phil. 2:25-30, of a close associate of Paul, for discipleship). In America, we accept and are content just preaching and hearing a sermon, then going home. Churchianity is NOT Christianity, folks! (7/12/18)

Let's discuss the EFFECTS of churchianity's preach-and-be-paid, and church-as-a-business. Laodicea! Materially rich, spiritually bankrupt. Estimates vary, but Christian carnality is a very high percent of churchgoers. You cannot see it, and suits, smiles and dresses cover its appearance, as with nice drivers in the church parking lots. (4/11/19)

Churchianity is sermon, song and silver, for bodies, bucks and buildings, one hour a week. Christianity is a 24/7 joyous 1:1 walk with Jesus, engaging EDDBS priorities, with church as only the cherry on top of a week of miraculous following of Jesus. One hour vs. 168 hours! (I Jn. 2:27) Meet with God! (7/4/13)

Churchianity shames and guilt Christians over an INapplicable Jewish theocratic tax (the 10 percent 'tithes'), and you 'GOTTA ask yourself why. Fund the uncommanded full-time salaries and uncommanded buildings with the uncommanded tithes, for unprioritized church one hour a week, vs. an empowered 24/7 walk with Jesus. (7/4/18)

When I slam churchianity for song, silver and a sermon, ONLY an idiot would say I oppose singing, giving and preaching! I'm saying that's NOT all there is to Christianity, even church practice! Our songs are usually not Eph. 5:19/Col. 3:16 balanced! Our giving is NOT usually as the Spirit leads... (4/22/19)

And when I slam churchianity for bodies, bucks and buildings, I'm NOT opposed to churches growing (it did in Acts!), and churches need money to run (but they are 501c3 entities--NOT to be in business for profit, or taxes are owed), and pastor salaries are NOT guaranteed, though most everyone demands that, today (Ac. 18:13). (4/22/19)

Churchianity breeds carnality by focusing Christianity on two hours a week at a building with others, vs. a 24/7 walk with Jesus (Lk. 9:23). SO many U.S. Christians LIVE as though the Bible just says be nice and loving to people. IF that's true. THROW your Good Book away (Rev. 22:19), as there's NO NEED to read. (6/18/18)

Churchianity puts everything but the kitchen sink into one sermon a week... discipleship, evangelism, counseling, social action, Body Life. Christianity has THESE as a pastor's job description!: II Tim. 2:2, 4:2, 5; Ac. 6:4; Mt. 21:13, 25:35-40, and spiritual gifts DOING the Bible's one another's at church. (7/4/18)

Churchianity pushes attend and tithes. Christ pushes biblical church, FULL evangelism by ALL believers, discipleship, quiet time and Body Life. (4/28/13)

Laymen who follow pastors "religiously" are FOOLS! The Bible says test everything by God's word, NOT to worship pastors (I Cor. 1-4), that you don't need them, and that YOU are to love God with all your mind. Carnality knows LITTLE-TO-NOTHING about what God said! (I Jn. 2:27, 4:1; I Cor. 1-4; Lk. 10:27) GROW UP, Christians! (9/25/18)

As PROOF I speak FACTS about the U.S. church, poll laymen. Discover the exact percents in your church, on EDDBS. Maybe yours is exceptional, and the 5/10/13 problem isn't in those percents. CONGRATULATIONS! You are the exception to the norm/rule. Perhaps you lead laymen to evangelize, disciple, use spiritual gifts in ministry to believers, and engage social action. (10/20/17)

Body Life

[Body Life is] ...using spiritual gifts in the main worship service, to edify the family of God/body, implementing the one another's of Scripture. You'll NEVER see that done then, as it requires laymen actually participating, vs. being bench warmers, and mainly spectators who give and may sing. When else is the family all gathered? (12/12/18)

HOW are laymen not bench warmers, with their spiritual gift(s) in worship services, where they only sing and shake hands? That's not a body or family. (11/3/13)

5/10/13 Problem

[Perhaps no one has ever explained the problem] to you, so here it is: 5 percent of U.S. Christians ever win one soul to Jesus; 10 percent are fully committed to Jesus (i.e., disciples), and 13 percent regularly read their Bibles. (8/27/17)

The 5/10/13 PROB may vary in numbers, but NOT in it being an ongoing problem. IF U.S. pastors believed Mt. 6, they'd do EDBS, and accept any finances it brought! (8/28/17)

Parachurch Organizations

Evangelism Explosion, The Navigators, Campus Crusade. THESE ministries KNOW there is a qualitative DIFFERENCE between church practice and biblical ministry. They have made a lifelong career off that difference. This is NOT dividing the church in an evil way, but identifying problems to solve! [LIKELY because they are paid by supporters, so those they minister to can have their spiritual needs met, NOT being thought of as potential tithers to any ministry] (10/20/17)

Find a Christian who has been through Campus Crusade, The Navigators, or Evangelism Explosion. They're usually superior in spiritual quality to mere church-goers! (10/26/16)

(Mk. 4:34; II Tim. 2:2; I Th. 2:8; Ac. 4:13; Lk. 10:42) ACTUAL Christian ministries DO this type of maturing up of Christians, but very few churches! Campus Crusade and The Navigators, as exhibit A. And with those previously-mentioned spiritual gifts/talents, the entire church gets edified/lifted up. (9/25/18)

Preach-And-Be-Paid

(I Cor. 4:8-16) NO ONE could EVER claim pastors adhering to the preach-and-be-paid ministry model are ANYTHING like they are supposed to be! Here, Paul tells even carnal lay people, "be imitators of me" (v. 16), and he worked with his own hands (v. 12), and out-worked EVERY American pastor! (2/8/19)

Church-As-A-Business

The late 1990's is when the church-as-a-business philosophy arose. Members are residual customers and sermons are the product. Expository changed to all but the kitchen sink sermons. (8/29/17)

Church-as-a-business theory started after the church growth movement, as an attempt to grow numbers and salary numbers! Attendees as customers, sermon as product... (10/26/16)

With the church-as-a-business theory (mid 1980's), parishioners are customers, and the sermon is the product, once a week. You get residual, paying customers by Lordship Salvation (guilt them into doing their own discipling), and with the tithe lie, 10 percent income siphoned under the authority of 'God'. Churchianity HERESY! (12/28/17)

...where the building is the retail storefront, the sermon is the product, the pastor is the CEO, the church members are the customers, and the unbiblically required 10 percent tithe is the price of admission. Here's EXACTLY what Jesus TWICE thought about treating ministry as a business... Mt. 21:12-13; Jn. 2:13-15. (12/7/18)

And churches run like a business should be taxed like a business, as that's ONLY fair to the U.S. tax payer. You see these as threats to pastors' money. NOT if they trust Christ! (9/28/14)

Salaries

The UN-required 10 percent tithe is used to support an UNcommanded salary, and for UNcommanded church buildings. ALL three of these allegations are biblically TRUE. (5/15/17)

Mega church pastors should FULLY reveal TOTAL compensation if we members are giving to God, vs. man, and churches acting like a business should be taxed! (4/22/19)

Preachers are to make a living by the gospel, but not a killing (I Tim. 3:3), as it is DONATIONS-BASED! And if they're NOT very evangelistic outside their UNcommanded buildings, they're NOT making their living off the gospel—just off preaching the word to mainly Christians. (4/22/19)

DID YOU KNOW church buildings, full-time salaries, and 10 percent tithes are NOT required in the Bible, for the church? In Acts, homes and synagogues were borrowed. There is I Cor. 9:14, but a full-time salary is NOT guaranteed. NO U.S. pastor out-does Paul, and he was bi-vocational. THAT speaks VOLUMES! (3/28/18)

Multi-Site

How can you SAY you're building multiple campuses to reach more for Christ when your motive is a larger salary. Evangelism and discipleship are FREE. Cap your salary! (5/27/14)

Multi-site for evangelism is VERY costly, per salvation! FULLY reveal and CAP your salary, if it's not mainly for increased profits! Evangelism costs NOTHING. (10/31/14)

HOW DO YOU LESSEN ABORTIONS?

(11/1/19)

In response to Franklin Graham's post, addressed in the next post, HOW do you convince a society that all abortions are murder, if that's what you believe?

1. Murder before God ISN'T the same as murder in the eyes of human laws! You have to define which of these two you are trying to convince! Non-religious people don't care what any holy book says on the matter!

And if our laws make aborting moms murderers (they WON'T, except maybe in a handful of red states, if Roe overturned; and would they punish rape and incest victims the same as at-will murderers?) that opens a whole new can of worms as to punishment.

2. You have to start by showing or proving a human life exists when an egg is fertilized. SHOW video, pictures and scientific evidence that it's alive, growing, and has human DNA at that point, independent of its mom's DNA.

Viability is also a legal hurdle to overcome, as our laws giving standing to one who can't stand, as they can't even be in court is something the Supreme Court (SCOTUS) has never done.

And JUST like national gay marriage, activists spent over 20 years convincing the majority that gays were human equals, and not human scum. They used PSA's, got heroes like Ellen, Navratilova and Elton John accepted as mainstream, for their skills, had gay pride parades, many gays bulked up with weights, to not appear effeminate, activists used U.S. legal concepts to frame their argument (equal protection, all men created equal, etc.), and youth got indoctrinated in public schools to accept LGBTQ lifestyles.

Musicians sang about Same Love, saying it's not a choice. Activists rightly railed against their opponent's abuses, like hatred, and using conversion therapy. They used logic and reason to say gays were already in long-term relationships, and it was the government, NOT churches, they sought to legitimize those as "marriages."

Gays outed themselves for decades, especially famous ones. AIDS got under control, through drugs. Hatred, equality and unjust discrimination were their main arguments, and they won the day by winning the hearts of the American people's majority, so SCOTUS went along from "changed circumstances," abandoning millennia of precedent.

These efforts succeeded. But they took effort and patience, and good arguments. LGBTQs did NOT chum up to Obama to stack SCOTUS far left, for national gay marriage, or support an evil politician to win their voting support. They took their time and did things right, in their means, not their ends.

HOW CAN abortion haters learn from this? They have THESE challenges to overcome: There are two people involved in the decision—not just one—and the innocent is still born a "sinner"; rape and incest aren't deemed the same as willful pregnancy, by most people; gut punches, coat hangers and black market quack doctors violate a woman's safety... an issue government has a legal interest in; none months of pain and pay for a moment's lapse in judgment isn't a "punishment"/consequence many people deem fair.

Viability is a legal obstacle, in treating the unborn like birthed citizens, and Roe being precedent for 42 years.

In the public's mind, you have to overcome 'all pregnancies take to term by force' being widely rejected, some thinking a child in the womb isn't human, or becomes human later on (use science for that), and no harm no foul thinking that if the child doesn't feel it, it's not that bad.

The unborn have NO VOICE in this matter! We who have voices have to raise ours, like Franklin Graham said, but we have to do so intelligently, knowing the science, laws, and human psychology—not just our Bibles. Doing it the right way yields better results than forcing our religion down people's throats, because we can!

There are four major solutions we ALL should be able to agree to clamor for: Plan ahead/early (decide if you want to be a mom before you let anyone have sex with you, perfect contraception (technology to the rescue), Plan B pill before the egg is fertilized, and use contraception/safe sex.

Christians should also be for changing culture the right way. And getting non-Christians to believe all abortions are murder is a STRETCH, as they only define that legally, vs. spiritually!

Rape and incest are NEVER 'going to be accepted as a woman's culpability, compared to pregnancy from consensual sex! Banning at-will abortions in red states causes the three negative, unsafe self-help solutions I described, or travel costs to blue states, but doesn't lessen those abortions!

IF MEN helped women carry to term, with costs, doctor visits and morning sickness, they'd have a better chance of lessening abortions of women they want to ban from doing so!

It is MUCH easier to convince U.S. voters that killing the preborn is evil, when a heartbeat can be detected, lungs show breathing, brain waves are detected, or they have the shame of a human! That's NOT in the first trimester, if my horrible biology memory serves me well.

16 weeks looks human:

The argument can be made, WHAT WAS IT BEFORE THEN, if all these pictures show development and growth into a human shape? Tissue matter? An animal? Video of the cries of a fetus being aborted, or showing the procedures details would help! Blur out the obscene/incendiary graphic, so it passes legality!

Pre-four weeks, it's hard to have as much empathy for cells dividing as the embryo is shaping. You have to argue more than just the Bible, that that is a human being being killed, pre-six weeks, so people deem it murder, or evil! Christian strategists have their work cut out for them, as gays did in the late 1980s! And if people don't believe in God, they won't care if He calls it murder! They and our government have to care about that, in this life.

Finally, overturn Roe, and blue state abortions will triple, from abort-like-a-sport, and red state visitors for the procedure. Bans don't fix the problem entirely! End unwanted pregnancies.

And finally, when abortion opposers freely embrace any and all evils of political conservatism, NEVER calling them out, it HURTS the cause, swallowing their agenda'd Kool-Aid hook, line and sinker! Christians can ONLY be for causes one issue at a time, not full party agendas, or bought in bulk! Be disciplined to do so.

It HURTS the cause to publicly say abortion is murder, as protester signs often read! Wiser is to say "in God's eyes," as Mr. Graham did. If it was legal murder, rape and incest victims would be using their trauma to consider becoming a criminal. That's 100 percent irrational! Argue intelligently!

For ZERO abortions to ever occur, NO gal can ever be raped or an incest victim, through technology, or a law forces everyone pregnant to take to term (harsh and draconian). The four solutions I espoused must be adopted, culturally if not even legally.

If you're not sure you want to be a mom, use Plan B ASAP! You can always get pregnant again! ALWAYS use effective contraception, though it can fail, so clamor for manufacturers to make perfect and controllable/reversible contraception. And always plan your sex. If there's any chance you're loose enough to spread your legs when you drink or get high or go on dates, take the pill!

Public schools should be teaching these four solutions! Churches should get realistic that ~50 percent of abortions are undergone by claiming Christians, and address these four solutions. PSA's and celebrities should embrace these four solutions! Even any negative side effects of Plan B are better than killing a baby, no matter what stage he/she (there are no fluid genders in the womb!) is in growth!

Males should agree to NEVER have sex with any gal without a condom, as women can lie that they're on the pill. Be smart, plan ahead, end or lessen abortions! DON'T be a dumb or immoral nation!

P.S.: Pastors are STILL free in America to preach that homosexuality is a sin, even though we lost Obergefell. You can even advocate that belief in public, but before God, who you care about with abortion being murder, you can't hate, or hate the sin and hate the "sinner!" DO you strike this right balance? Learn to do so.

WANTING gays to have less job opportunities, because they're gay, isn't advocating for justice (God's value, Mic. 6:8), and IS showing hate, unless their flaming gayness affects business negatively, or violated a religious employer's rules. All else is pure meanness, unbecoming a Christian.

South Carolina governor responds to court decision overturning his executive order on abortion
<https://cbsnews.com/news/abortion-laws-in-south-carolina-governor-henry-mcmaster-responds-to-court-overturning-executive-order-on-abortion/...> via @CBSPolitics

P.S.S: If abortion is a matter of every state's majority's view becoming law, the range of 100 percent bans to killing outside the womb will be wide! SCOTUS deemed this issue important enough ('rising to the level') to make a consistent national law. State's rights will have ~chaotic disparities!

Why can't women simply decide if they want to be moms, the day after they have unprotected sex? Don't wait for months! If you made a mistake, beyond being unprotected, take plan B, and be a mom later! #CommonSense Be proactive. Babies change your life!

JESUS & JOHN WAYNE

(12/3/21-2)

The book, Jesus and John Wayne, seems to indicate/imply gender is behind GOP policies, in a machismo way. That's the far right! It alleges the Church missed it on BLM, and LGBTQ. ONLY half true! They NEVER saw any need of any black person to see any change in how cops treat them, or society views their often poor situation, or any relation of that to slavery.

It's INTolerable any Christian missed the value of REAL stories of using power for sex, which is ALWAYS wrong and evil, and though we are to respect all who are due respect, the promotion of homosexuality and gay marriage is a matter the Church did NOT go wrong on opposing!

It is true evangelicals have been seeking secular power Jesus never sought, to end abortions, and I oppose TX's back-up plan if Roe is overturned! It's primitive and draconian to ban all abortions!

YES the baby is an innocent! YES, abortion is killing. YES, the baby had no choice in being born. YES, it's best to take to term, then adopt out. YES, the woman chose to have sex (except for rape and incest).

But for the law to give ZERO concern to one party, when TWO are involved, is not justice, but turning a complete blind eye to the adult/mother. It's politicians pandering to religious extremists! Abortion evil; kill it! Robotic lack of any consideration of any innate complexities in the matter!

During the formative weeks of zero to heartbeat, you have consider what the child is, in present form, and that your religion is guiding your political views! America isn't forced to pass policies based on any one religion! Until the baby feels the pain, it doesn't suffer pain, but does suffer death.

I won't debate it's a human (some do), but the law doesn't give rights to people who aren't citizens (illegals), and an unborn baby couldn't sue in court, so standing isn't possible. To completely ignore the woman's interests is to treat her as chattel of the state, or a slave.

It is literally saying if anyone is ever to have sex, they must birth a baby as a result! Because these same extremists want zero legal contraception! Rape and incest victims are further victimized by TX's trigger law! It's UNbelievable!

Before the baby can know or feel, if one is going to un-do mistaken or unplanned sex leading to pregnancy, that would be the time to do so! Before the baby takes human form, and starts developing more human characteristics. Everyone appreciates second chances.

The Texas fill-in law gives no such options for unwanted or unplanned pregnancies! and it literally forces women into back alleys with coat hangers, taking a trip out of state, or buying Plan B through the black market.

SAFETY and the life of that mother are endangered by such a barbaric and extreme, UN-nuanced and immature policy, even though I 100 percent support defending the baby's rights! YOU CAN'T HAVE BOTH!

Therefore, for the sake of allowing rape victims a bit of time to decide how to respond to that trauma, the chance for irresponsible consenting adults to re-think their poor decision, and make amends, the lack of awareness or pain of the procedure, by the baby, and the deeds NOT being the unpardonable sin (or murder, leading to life imprisonment, as sometimes happens with murder), I 100 percent support anywhere from heartbeat to viability (which Gorsuch RIGHTLY stated varies, with technological advances).

Informed consent, knowing you're pregnant, and having time to react and decide what you will do are important matters, as is the safety and health of a mother willing to harm her own self to end an unwanted pregnancy!

Public policy cannot support physical endangerment, as our Constitutions has inherent police power for citizens' health and safety!

I am and have been for a range, that prohibits total bans, and abortions after three trimesters, allowing states' rights to rule the issue. JUST BECAUSE the word 'abortion' is NOT in the Constitution does NOT mean 'life' and 'person' aren't in there! SCOTUS often interprets it by implied things that are consistent with its express language!

The great document does NOT address every issue SCOTUS hears cases on! They have to use the clear principles to apply to the specific issue, and personal religious or political bents have NO PLACE in their decisions—period!

I 100 percent agree with Sotomayor that the credibility of the Court is at stake, as it is religious belief that is driving any push to allow total bans! God Himself (through Solomon) dealt with an intolerable decision of giving a baby to one mom or a fraudulent mom! You are making a choice between ones interests or the others' interests! BOTH cannot have their way!

States' rights, disallowing BOTH extremes, is THE answer, but NOT what the Court seems to be leaning toward. In that case, if any change is made to unstable viability (another word NOT found in the Constitution), I hope they go for heartbeat!

The baby experiences NO significant trauma, like he/she would at viability! and it's not even that anesthesia is available. The baby's functioning major parts aren't yet developed enough for a loss of their purpose and functionality occurs, though as potential, it's a total loss!

I would want NO babies killed! Make a fricking national law that Plan B has to be taken before three days after sex, if you aren't willing to take to term—period! Since the Court is also NOT considering that rational solution, protecting the baby MORE.

You cannot be held responsible for things you can't know, if you are doing the right thing, based on all you are capable of knowing. Even irresponsible sex leads to humans starting whom God, apparently, already knew. Did He know people who never get conceived, as sex never occurs?

And all these questions are "religious" questions about God's foreknowledge. That's NOT the purview of a secular law Court! your religious views are only as influential as you can get other voters to agree they are important, as we live in a democracy—not a theocracy!

And that brings me back to my original statement that I will be reading that book, as the leaders of this Christian nationalism movement, apparently, have said and done some pretty horrible things, not everyone knows, that I want to know for myself, soon!

One P.S.: Of all these sins, consistency of political UNnuanced extremism would say laws need to ban them, subject to fines: Drunkenness, even tipsiness, cussing, unmarried sex, homosexuality, adultery, divorce (only two exceptions), severe anger, lusting at porn, XXX men's clubs, ETC!

America is NOT a "Christian nation," and we have a Constitution; NOT the Bible as our ruling document. EVERY ONE of these proffered sins would need to be made illegal, if we were that, and NOT a secular democracy: https://truediscipleship.com/official-list-sins-new-testament/... Be consistent, and practice what you preach!

One P.S.S.: People who want to ban all abortions NEVER care one iota about our problem of overpopulation draining limited resources! I am NOT saying ever abort to save the planet, and not even saying anyone should abort. I'm saying there not that many people waiting to adopt! Texas lacks 13,000!

Abortion is NOT the only issue American politics faces, and if you squeezed your entire Bible into one sentence or word, ban all abortions would NOT be the summary! Voluntary measures to lessen abortions exist, but extremists ARENT interested in pursuing them! A heavy hand is preferred.

YOU DON'T HAVE TO ABORT

(5/18/21-2)

Deception, distraction, and lying, from "Christians?" Chris Hayes: Republicans have been lying about Roe v. Wade for years <https://msnbc.com/all-in/watch/chris-hayes-republicans-have-been-lying-about-roe-v-wade-for-years-112216133566...> via @msnbc

Don't be too content Trump Justices will overturn Roe! They may or may not, but Biden can also stack the Court, or make an executive order or have a law passed solidifying a woman's right to choose! It will be interesting to see how this plays out!

I PRAY Supreme Court does NOT behave in a politicized manner regarding the coming abortion case! Veiled attempts to seem legal will also be called out! A minimum and consistent national standard IS needed, but states may be allowed some freedom under state's rights. Time will tell!

Here we go! Religious people don't want anyone aborting babies. You're killing a human. It doesn't become human in the birth canal, or only if it survives exit! At the same time, they are not you, and you chose to have sex, and there are consequences.

You do NOT have to KILL someone, to un-do BAD/poor planning! Take Plan B up to three days after unplanned sex! The egg isn't fertilized, so no life has begun; only the process toward possible life (the egg may never fertilize). IF you never planned to become a mom, through that event, decide if you want to be one EARLY!

DON'T punish your child for your sinful procrastination! You can always get pregnant again, or adopt! don't let your very own flesh and blood suffer the pain, horror and TORTURE of being ripped limb by limb, and sucked dead, because YOU are sin-fully selfish! What you are freely choosing to do or delay would be MURDER, if that same child was 15 seconds older, outside your womb!

Are you murderously inclined? Do you secretly wish you could kill people, and get away with it legally? Are you a closet killer? I doubt it! So focus your mind on that baby inside you, and BE the loving mom we all expect females to be capable of! DONT abuse your child, fatally!

END the process before it begins! BETTER is to plan, a little! Prevent unwanted pregnancies. It's NOT that hard! Birth control, rhythm method, pulling out Plan B!

There's NO reason for any American woman to EVER have to destroy her offspring! You wouldn't take a gun and shoot a toddler, right? WHY would you let a doctor have the same effect, just inside you vs outside you? QUIT your horny promiscuous ways of sex without thinking, and take The Pill! IF it fails, use Plan B! DUH101

And using the threat of a child, to try to hook a man, for love or money, is EVILLY selfish! STOP being evil! It IS your choice, and you must choose good over evil, thinking over feeling, and your baby over your selfish pleasures. That's what a real and loving mom DOES! Not a sex whore!

State variations that could come: Total bans on all abortions (GA/AL/MS?), heartbeat bills, required sonograms, only exceptions for rape, incest and mothers life, and allow anything goes (NY/CA?). Making females cross state lines is asinine, to me—and unduly costly. NOT equal protection!

Legal precedent overrides have to have LEGAL based! Changed circumstances is one of those. Science showing embryos have heartbeats, and can feel pain after X number of weeks MAY be such an example. Viability may be much earlier than third trimester, scientifically proved, as a reason

P.S.: Religion does NOT tell/teach us that thing in your womb is a baby, child, human, or living! SCIENCE proves it! Test an aborted fetus's DNA! It's NOT a dog, or extra skin growth! LOOK at its features—arms, eyes, etc. It develops a heart, and breathes and eats. YOU choose ignorance!

WHEN does life enter a body in the womb? Life moves and grows. Once fertilized, the result expands and grows. I'm NOT 'gonna guilt anyone over waiting to see if they're pregnant, but if you didn't want to be a mom, from your irresponsible sex, use Plan B before three days after transpire!

Forcing women, by law, to take to term, will cause:

1. Unequal burden of out-of-state abortions
2. Gut punches
3. Quack black market doctors
4. Chemical ingestion abortions
5. Back alley coat hangers IS THAT GOOD PUBLIC POLICY for government to sanction? (NO)

Some time in their life, people who think abortion is ONLY the mom's choice, and moral, need to be made to watch a real procedure, from inside the womb, to see what happens to the child. NOT watch their own, as too traumatic, but be informed, vs. distantly sterile and separated from it. (6/2/21-2)

Update: Murder Sentence for Aborters?

We have laws against murder, but murders happen. Are we going to jail women for getting pregnant, equal with murderers, if they abort? You can't just punish doctors, when the women make that killing choice. Extremists have to deal with reality: Abortions will occur, legal or not!

(6/19/21-2)

CAUSES OF UNWANTED PREGNANCIES

(6/19/21-2)

Broken or failed contraception is NOT why most abortions occur. It's because some people have zero problem killing innocents, because Self is god in their lives—NOT morality, thinking or planning their sex. Those are EVIL people. Face the facts and admit it! EVIL and selfish. Sinning.

Some people don't want to wear condoms. Some religious people don't use contraception. Some people believe everything that comes from sex is God's will, even if they have sex all the time.

The CAUSES of unwanted babies have to be addressed, as with STUPID "thinking!" Idiocy harms!

People who HATE abortion, and want total bans, NEVER speak with all women considering aborting. That disconnect is sought to be bridged by government laws. MUCH better is conversations, but if you're not related, or a friend, they may rightly deem you nosing into a strangers business!

You could make most everyone happy (which is NOT a moral goal) if every state had their own abortion laws, ranging from total bans to after-birth aborting. That's NOT moral or reasonable! People will ALWAYS be unhappy! WHO CARES? Ignore the grippers, and do the right thing! On abortion, conservatives only see the baby as innocent.

Liberals only see the mother as having free will. Adults have free will, and babies are born sinners, but volitionally innocent. The extremists CAN'T see the whole picture! Bias blinds their eyes! There are ALWAYS two humans involved in the abortion decision! Liberals only see the mother.

Conservatives only see the baby. Hence, the extremists can NEVER find ANY common ground, so it's a perennial war to win my way against your way!

Even if a woman's forced to watch her sonogram, and even if at no cost, women also consider the nine month change to their lifestyle, eating, pains, costs, and expense of being a mom. Especially if for a fleeting sex romp, many don't think that a fair response, so they abort—ignoring their child.

IF you can't afford pregnancy, don't want the pain(s), didn't want to be a mother, are trying to hook a man, or just ignore the grotesque facts and images, you will abort, one way or the other! It only takes not facing what you're actually doing to another, to proceed! Force sonograms?

PLAN B WITHIN 3 DAYS

(6/19/21-2)

The main, if not only moral matter, is WHY would anyone delay Plan B till beyond three days of an accidental insemination? People who make that choice ARE being vile/evil toward the impending child! If you didn't have sex, wanting to become a mom, use Plan B within three days! Make it law!

Why do abortion fanatics never have the courage of their convictions, to daily go to Planned parenthood, and convince entrants out of their decision? Rules prevent close contact, but signs, megaphones and sky writing are possible. It's NOT 'gonna change many decisions—that's why! Too late

WILL the Catholic Church, CONSISTENTLY, deny communion to ALL Catholics who oppose total and national bans on all abortions? @Pontifex What about denying it for sex abusing priests, as well? List acts that merit that punishment! Santa's naught list! BE CONSISTENT!

SCOTUS CONSIDERATIONS

(6/19/21-2)

I will NEVER comprehend people CLAIMING to be Christians, who would boo Pence as a traitor, to not go along with the BIG lie and insurrection, nor priests who would deny Biden communion, BOTH groups to try to force total abortion bans! Killing innocents IS evil, but IF you ban them, ALL, this will occur:

1. Gut punches by boyfriends
2. Home remedy chemicals to induce miscarriage
3. Back alley coat hanger self-help
4. Quack, black market doctors
5. Plan B OTC (over-the-counter) off the internet
6. Travel to states that allow abortions National bans reduce them FEW to none, maybe more

I will NOT engage the moral arrogance of some who are so pure they could never envision getting someone pregnant by accident, because contraception can fail! nine months is a long, agonizing period and expense, for a mistaken fling of passion. Plan B within three days kills NO ONE!

Red state bans on some abortions (or with time restrictions) I have NO problem with, like heartbeat bills allowing enough time for the woman to know she's pregnant. Rape and incest I cannot fathom someone not involved in the decision saying they have a say to force that outcome!

Same with mother's life. And if one only could learn their baby will be a total vegetable all their life, late in the gestation period, I can understand why they WOULDN'T want to take to term. At the same time, you do not get to avoid all hard things/trials in life. It is a life they're freely choosing to kill.

But SCOTUS cared about viability! If the baby could have survived on its own, the mother is no longer in charge of that baby living, so SCOTUS said it should be able to live! Science can likely tell us if they made that date too late in the term.

Before viability, the baby is 100 percent dependent on its mom to live. Once that is not the case, it's the baby's ability that makes them continue to live—not the mom—so the mom SHOULDN'T be able to tell their child they can't keep living! When a fetus FEELS the pain of abortion is also KEY!

It's cruel and unusual punishment of an INNOCENT, to kill one who feels your evil deed, and liberals don't even allow torture of grown adults, so they'd feel such pain. We're talking the pain of sucking the life out of one, or ripping their limbs off their torso.

Excruciating pain, even if they can't mouth their suffering. Science can show us that pain! It's inhumane for anyone to allow that degree of suffering, even as liberals always pity any suffering of poverty! Be consistent!

Plan B within three days, plan sex, make perfect contraception, use protection, have laws that consider heartbeat and viability, and let red states have strictest state law policies and blue states lesser ones, if Roes ever overturned, but a national standard of ranges has to be had for consistency and lack of cruelty! Total national bans don't totally end abortions nationally!

Even with a total national ban, Mexico and Canada aren't that far away, for determined women. These people who SUPPORT insurrection, law-breaking, destroying democracy, and abusing Catholicism to force their will are NOT acting in Christ-like ways, even with some good intentions!

IF ROE WERE OVERTURNED (I)

(8/12/21-2)

Dems aren't 'gonna let total abortion bans occur in any but red states, and I JUST TOLD YOU women devoted to NOT becoming pregnant to delivery, or moms, can and will seek quack black market doctors, seek boyfriend gut punches, or attempt back alley abortions, IF Plan B is disallowed in red states, by all means (OTC and internet).

You REALLY have to get smarter, in order to in sincerity serve Jesus, folks! That's your "Christian" duty and obligation! THINK! Analyze and critically think about the implications and motives of politicians' proposals! OR, are we really just a dumb sheep people, as believers? Answer for yourself!

I am old, but still too young to know if other self-help remedies and homemade procedures exist, as I WASN'T thinking about abortion in 1973. I would bet even safer methods can be concocted!?

.@TheDemocrats @DNC @SenateDems @HouseDemocrats DO YOU HEAR these proposals to end Roe v Wade? WILL you allow politicians to gen up votes based on that myth and pipe dream? Red states women would use self-help, or travel costly miles, with unequal burdens! ARE YOU ASLEEP (at 4am)?

I have said I would NOT oppose Roe overturn, but SCOTUS would still need consistent and national guidelines! We do NOT need a nation with:

1. Legal after birth abortions
2. MORE aborting
3. Unsafe self-help
4. Poor women discriminated against, unconstitutionally @USSupremeCourt

I WISH I could find an article on how to abort without pills or doctors. I can ONLY imagine horrific ways, like gut punches and coat hangers. I once heard someone speak of pre-1973 women drinking caustic substances to try to self-help. PUBLIC POLICY is going to engender that, when State's rights is what Roe overturn returns to. There are about seven criteria for when SCOTUS determines an issue is important enough to require national standards. They decided life was that important! they struck a balance between banners and free-for-all with a viability standard.

IF Roe were ended, red states would do any of these:

1. Ban every abortion

2. Have exceptions for rape, incest and mom's life
3. Have heartbeat laws
4. Ban Plan B OTC

And by internet Blue states:

1. Approve after birth and third trimester abortions
2. Advertise for red state PG women.

WHO'd ACTUALLY risk coat hanger abortions, if Roe ended? Poor, emotionally desperate red state women who feared buying Plan B pills off the internet (if red state stores were banned from selling it). Gut punches would be less dangerous than poison, and black market doctors would arise.

Red states women who were not poor would travel to blue states to get abortions. MS and AL have about the furthest distance. SCOTUS would get lawsuits claiming undue burden and violation of equal protection for poor red state women. DOES MIKE PENCE DISCUSS THIS before dumber voters?

Incentivizing women NOT to abort is a solution lynch me we're on good speaking terms Pence did NOT discuss, as with my four preventative solutions! DOES PENCE GO TO PLANNED PAREN'THOODS to try to convince pregnant women not to abort? Isn't that called hypocrisy, if he's so concerned?

Is lynch me we're on good speaking terms Pence willing to pay for any unwanted pregnancy's costs to delivery, for any woman not in his family? Will he be there to help her with the cramps and cravings, and doctor visits? Isn't the answer proof of hypocrisy sin, claiming "Christian?"

Lynch me we're on good speaking terms, because I sat SILENT like a mannequin for four years ought to be disqualifying behavior, let alone his DUMB position on abortion! If you want to lessen abortions, read what I've written many, many times! Facebook and <http://AmericanAnswers.org>

Even hypothetical hyper conservative TX will NEVER 100 percent END abortions–period! The concept is ludicrous in its impracticality! So ANY voter who cheers such rhetoric is certifiably lacking sense! The Bible speaks AGAINST people lacking accurate knowledge, especially God's people! Wake up.

ABORTION BAN QUESTIONS

(8/13/21-2)

1. What if birth control fails? Must women pay that price, and take to term?
2. What if a poor person learns their child will be a vegetable (expensive) only in the third trimester? Will the law force them to undergo that? Far right WANTS government intervention, for THEIR causes (only)!

IF a woman got pregnant, and WASN'T showing, HOW would any abortion banning state EVER discover she used self-help to end her pregnancy? The Peter Pan fantasy of ending abortion is from stupidity! The BEST we can achieve is LESS abortions! Planning sex is the BEST remedy! Duh 101

POST-ROE NATIONAL STANDARDS (PART I)

(8/13/21-2)

Let's continue our abortion discussion with some Q and A!:

1. Why would we need a national standard if Roe were overturned? Because of the atrocities and injustices some states would allow, like third trimester and after birth killings, and having zero exceptions for rape, incest and mom's life.

2. What should a post-Roe national standard be? IMO, the answer to question number one! You can't kill a baby that can feel and now be conscious of it! You certainly can't kill one that's already birthed! He/she is not only viable, they have zero dependence on mom, but are their own person under the Constitution!

Also, to blame and force a victim to alone bear the consequences of a crime committed against them is not fair, even though it's great for the baby.

3. Should we have laws requiring Plan B before three days of unplanned or forced sex, so ZERO humans are born as a result? I like that, but that would better be decided per state, post-Roe. A talk radio host said laws don't stop all bad behaviors, but set standards, and boundaries for what makes society better. Those same types HATE when leftists try to define what makes society better!

4. If states make abortion laws, what penalties should ensue? If conservative states outlaw them, or deem abortion murder, the woman would have to be jailed as a murder, right? The far right usually says NO, but punish the doctor, but the law was broken by the choice of the woman!

5. Is abortion murder, by U.S. legal standards? The victim would have to be a human, under the law, and the unborn haven't proven to have "standing," because they can't even stand, outside the womb—yet. Law makers can change that, but viability affects if a victim's rights exist, when they might not, all the way to term.

6. If laws don't prevent all behaviors they seek to, enforcement becomes the issue! HOW would state laws enforce abortion bans? Will cops be allowed in people's right to privacy a home is a man's castle personal space, to look for afterbirth?

Would they need a warrant. to conduct search and seizure? Laws against murder don't stop all murders, so the far right needs to END the lie that ending Roe might end all abortions. YES, prohibition laws in red states would deter some, from fear of getting caught and punished, which is GOOD for the baby, but black markets and unsafe self-help would also result!

If the goal is no abortions, you're dreaming! If less abortions is the goal, Draconian measures are NOT the answer! This issue FAILS to recognize that wanting abortion bans is what brought America Trump, division the left's revenge of almost getting an end to the filibuster, and making D.C. and Puerto Rico (Dem) states, were it not for Charles Koch of @KochIndustries, via Mr. Manchin!

The far right has YET to comprehend that forcing your extreme views ONLY engenders the other extreme, and breaks out in war (figuratively, before literally).

Dems even considered Court packing up to 12 Justices! YOU are NOT the only Americans, those who crave abortion bans! We ALL live here, and majority may rule, but the minority also have rights. SCOTUS has WISELY seen that life/abortion is TOO important to be an issue that is YES for one term, then NO for a next term, when ping pong politics causes a different party to rise, from time to time!

I would be FINE with every state having its own rules on baby killing, but national guidelines of whats not allowed would still be needed! The heartbeat rule is AWESOME, and still gives a woman time to make an informed decision! Why abortion is NOT exactly apples-to-apples like murder is NOT because there's no killing with death, or victim, or initiator who decides to take a life, but because of sex and viability.

TWO people are involved! The law and courts can't forget that fact! Therefore, they have to consider the rights and whats just for BOTH parties! Outlawing Plan B by stores and internet sales WOULD be what some red states would do, as with contraception!

IT can prevent even one unwanted child being started, if used within three days of sex! So for ANY politician of ANY stripe to run on a platform of giving his constituents hope for a fix they desperately want, without informing them of reality, is morally reprehensible and NOT adult behavior!

Roe needs adjustments! It ONLY needs overturning if national standards are part of that process of overturning! It is the ultimate far right ploy to only care about one's self, or ones state, to take a position that their state will ban abortions, and NOT care that blue states will allow partial birth, third trimester and after birth abortions, or that MORE abortions, overall, may ensue, if Roe is overturned!

Saying you desire zero abortions and certainly less abortions, you can't be mono-focused, and only see Roes overturns affect in YOUR state alone! That's IGNORANT!

IF SCOTUS overturned Roe, can they set national guidelines extremists can't cross, in their opinion? That's law-making, so likely not. And D.C. won't agree on anything, as between extremes, such as such guidelines, so extreme state laws WOULD ensue, in some cases! NOT desirable! (8/15/21-2)

STATE LAWS REPRESENT STATE MAJORITIES?

(8/15/21-2)

Some liberals might have buyer's remorse, once made parents, and want the right to abort before taking their newborn home! These extremes have to be nationally boundaried, with flexibility in-between, as to who can't abort, and by what date! No matter the law(s), people can break them.

WOULD Texas vote for a total ban on all abortions? Maybe 30 years ago. Maybe not 10 years from now. Women's rights should NOT be subject to such a fickle basis of what types of people move to Texas! And the equal protection clause impacts forcing women to travel 'outa state to abort.

Besides gerrymandering and voter suppression, those are the ways minority party out of power seeks to become majority party! SCOTUS decided life is too important for hodge podge laws for such a fundamental right! Extremists will always fight what they don't like, like reasonable laws.

You can say the state majority wants these extremes, but unless there's a voter referendum, that's only rhetoric! Will every state put abortion laws to the people's vote, then what happens when demographics change, by population aging, illegals, immigration and northerners moving south?

Blue state extremists would allow ANY abortions, even after birth, or partial birth abortions, or third trimester. Some red states would force bans of all abortions, where PG gals would have to travel out of state, or do self-help, as with raped and incested victims! They want such laws.

Presumably, every state would revert to the laws on the books before Roe. There are BAD and extreme positions some states might have taken, or choose to pass, that can't be had at any state level, like after birth abortions. SCOTUS doesn't make laws. D.C. is dysfunctional, to fix this!

I also have no idea how Roe overturn could be had, with guidelines for national laws boundaries. I do know a court case from lower courts has to rise to SCOTUS that challenges its validity. Can Congress pass a law to overturn it? I oppose it ended with no plan for thereafter!

TEXAS LAW GOING NATIONAL?

(8/15/21-2)

Those who'd shy away from aborting, if illegal in red states, would be a percent, just as law breakers would be a percent. FEW in blue states would avoid aborting, as there's NO restraints! My four solutions and eight laws are state of the art best for red states, as with my national guidelines range.

IF Roe ever got reversed, blue states (absent national guidelines) would do HORRIBLE things with their laws! Their increases could balance red states' decreases! If states' rights rule, you do NOT necessarily get ANY less abortions! Illegal ones in red states; more in blue states!

Finally, to argue someone is FOR/pro/in favor of abortion, because they want determined women to do what they're determined to do, safely, is a HUGE leap in logic, as it's called pragmatics! My eight state law proposals show as far as state laws can bend, and still keep women safe, IMO!

IF anyone argues Plan B on day 1-2 after sex is sin, as it's killing a person God made before then, you're stipulated as right, but that's NOT a determining factor for many people in the heat/throes of passion. We HAVE to deal with unwanted or unplanned pregnancies, as a society!

If you're a Catholic, female adult, NOT taking birth control, you BETTER demand a condom, or walk away, no matter how hot the dude is, or how h-rny you are! Knowing where you are in a cycle is NOT preventative enough! And does anyone believe fornication is sin, anymore? God does!

WHY don't people plan sex? They didn't know they'd engage it that day. IF you're willing to so engage-PLAN! Planning isn't spontaneous, but birth control allows for spontaneity without risk of starting children! Anyone could rape you, too.

Abortion pre-Roe (history): <https://gutmacher.org/perspectives50/abortion-and-after-legalization...>

Lessons from Before Roe: Will Past be Prologue? With an administration deeply opposed to abortion, a Congress poised to pass legislation aimed at weakening the principles underlying Roe v. Wade and a Supreme Court whose composition is considered. gutmacher.org

Are inhumane abortions performed humanely, as to pain to the baby? Do doctors inject deadening fluid, as they can't put them on anesthesia? Why ANY woman WOULDN'T take Plan B in 2-3 days, if not wanting to birth a child, is beyond my comprehension! Err on the side of Plan B quick!

I WOULD BET Texas' new abortion law has many ladies thinking more about sex and what to do after unplanned sex, as there's a deadline! That's a GREAT thing! They aren't forbidden their (for now, at least) federal right, but can't be as casual in planning. Whats the fine if they violate?

Though it's IMPOSSIBLE to enforce, in conservative/red states, there would have to be a legal difference between aborting because you were careless, vs, raped, or had unexpected consensual sex. What fines would they charge? Killing a baby is a misdemeanor? WHY just punish the doctor?

BANS FIX THE PROBLEM?

(8/15/21-2)

Should state or federal governments prohibit any and all abortions (make them criminally illegal, with fines or jail time) because abortion is killing a life God created? MANY who believe in God would answer yes. Be for life, not for death.

IS IT THAT SIMPLE? The same may say yes. Raped? Take to term; incest victim? Take to term; mother facing do or die decision? Choose to sacrifice for your unborn child. EVERYONE else: If you get pregnant, and don't want to take to term, risk your health and safety, by self-help means, if you'll break the law. THIS is Christian?

The people who MOST claim they want government OUT of people's lives want government all into their personal sex lives, when it comes to abortion! But politics engages hypocrisy sin ALL THE TIME! WHO should decide what a pregnant woman should do? If government can tell you you can't control decisions about your body, health, procreation, WHAT ELSE can they tell you you can and can't do, and by what specific authority?

Total/100 percent bans are FOR coat hangers, gut punches, black market doctors and poison remedies! I find those repulsive, inhumane, unsafe and intolerable, JUST AS is killing a baby! MOST people, Americans included, do NOT leave their home at 7:20am intent on murdering another human!

I've watched first 48 enough to know it usually takes anger, jealous, hatred or the lust to violently steal from another, to generate a murder result. Even among the SMALL percent who kill others, FEW are so cold they do so for pleasure! ANY grown female who has never thought one minute about her sex willingness and potentiality for rape, is a FOOL!

YOU know your limits! And if you will NOT choose abstinence, until marriage (Gods standard), you are FREELY choosing to risk pregnancy! Drinking alcohol, fraternizing with males on weekends CAN lead to sex! YOU KNOW THIS! What are you going to do with this knowledge?

You would NOT leave your home for work and end up a wanted murderer, instead! WHY would you leave home for time around males and NOT have limits or plans or principles about how far you will go, romantically, and what can scientifically occur if you allow sex? That lack of planning IS a choice to become a life taker, just like murderers! That's 100 percent on YOU, for NOT planning ahead!

It's NOT the unpardonable sin, but YOU alone ARE taking someone else's life! I would have NO problem with states passing laws that EVERY rape and incest victim MUST take Plan B within 2-3 days, if they don't want to take to term! I'd NEVER want government telling any mom they must sacrifice themselves for a life that may or may not be birthed, as that's the family's decision!

As to the VAST majority of abortion cases, YOU, the female, chose to get yourself into this pickle! IF you had taken birth control, it usually doesn't fail! And NEVER lie to a male that you're on it, when you're not! NOT all males use condoms, as far as I know. The woman can circumvent that! The law has LITTLE to do with this issue and these decisions!

Making all abortion legal encourages people aborting! Making them all illegal encourages self-help! Government is NOT 'gonna force women to use birth control, or males! There are FOUR ways to never abort:

1. Never have sex/abstinence (like NO fornication)
2. Pull out, or rhythm method
3. Birth control that doesn't fail, or
4. Plan B within three days of sex and to the people who believe even contraception and Plan B within three days is killing a life God created before inception, that person who so chooses ALONE bears responsibility before God for that forgivable decision and sin!

Governments do NOT pass laws for every rule in every holy book, like anti cussing or drunk at home laws. YES, life is FAR more important than those examples, but voters/citizens who do NOT so believe also have a say in the government that represents them! Equal say, with majority rule.

WOULD JESUS condone a pregnant woman being forced to have an unsafe back alley coat hanger abortion? Does He teach one should risk endangering their own life, to ensure secular laws reflect His will? The ONLY reason I like heartbeat bills is the living baby doesn't feel the impact of that TERRIBLE, sin-full decision! I would NOT oppose any of the following state laws on the subject:

1. Exception for rape, incest and mom's life
2. Require Plan B for rape and incest victims, within three days
3. Mandatory public education on how to plan sex
4. Require Plan B within three days, if a woman is sure she doesn't want to birth the child otherwise physically created as a result
5. Prohibit, nationally, after birth, partial birth and third trimester abortions
6. Disallow any state from total bans (NO three exceptions)
7. Allow states to decide heartbeat, viability, or any other deadline prohibitions that allow women enough time to be informed they're pregnant.

Total bans (no three exceptions, and forcing Unsafe self-help) and total freedom to do anything are BOTH bad ideas—period! GUIDELINES are needed!

States can differ, but they can't cross those extreme lines, on either ends of the spectrum! Finally, it is NOT being pro/for death, to make legal room for the woman to have a say, and not be forced to take to term, or risk criminal penalty. To be TRULY pro-life and anti-death, you do everything in your power to get everyone to plan sex and not kill unborn babies, by the four ways I mentioned, government or no government—period!

and opposing all contraception is simply irresponsibly ASKING for troubles! people are NOT 100 percent self-restrained, when passions flair! God is NOT against planning! He is NOT against making wise choices! He is NOT against preventing bad things, when within your power! Do the right thing!

Forcing women to take to term does NOT make every pregnant woman take to term! Some might fear the penalties, and do so, but not all. And what criminal penalties would be just? Murder charges? Fines? HOW would you even find out a woman aborted? It's NOT as simple as the naive believe!

P.S.: I WOULDN'T even oppose state laws requiring students in public and private schools being forced to watch blurred out videos of what abortion actually is/involves! INFORMED decision-making/education. I OPPOSE total bans (no three exceptions), and forcing unsafe self-help! Better solutions.

Some Americans want to kill their children any time, any place, no matter how far along in the process the growth is. They believe government has no business constricting that "freedom." Such people are promiscuous, and evil, having No motherly love for a person THEY started! Repent.

And using abortion for birth control, meaning in lieu thereof, is EVIL! If one accidentally, unexpectedly or forcibly becomes pregnant, that's different from choosing to have unsafe sex, knowing you can kill a baby later, to make up for that sinful decision!

IF any Americans want to force women to term, financially incentivize them to do so, and MORE women will choose NOT to abort! Volunteer to go with them and pay their medical bills, lost wages, and to console and encourage them when the cravings, pains and hard times come!

And EVERY state law I listed as not opposing, states can pass TODAY, which would be a WISE way of legally challenging the parameters of Roe, or confronting SCOTUS considering overturning it! They establish a framework of what states can and can't do, if Roe is ever reversed. They can be passed NOW!

One final intricacy: You do not have to personally be "for"/pro people killing the unborn, to believe government has a duty to protect the life and health of the woman, too. Both/and! The decision to kill even what God knew before inception is a sin. Bans won't stop all, and all must stay safe.

The MOST any state would penalize an illegally aborting woman with would be fines–NOT jail time! And that fact shows you we do NOT deem it equal with murder. How would governing authorities discover a woman engaged an illegal abortion? Laws have to have pragmatic enforcement!

If Roe ended, with no national guidelines, those who advocated for that would be personally responsible for the INcrease in blue and purple states abortions, especially third trimester, partial birth and after birth killings! That blood will be on THEIR hands, seeking DUMB/un-thought out aims!

Conservatives have PROVEN they want less abortions, by hospital access requirements, threatening PP workers jobs, cutting funding, etc. Total abortion bans WOULD scare some women into taking to term, so I guess they deem that a victory; NOT doing so morally, while NOT ending all.

If Roe ended, with no national guidelines, only poor red state women COULDN'T access safe and legal procedures in another state. Coat hangers would only be used if no access to Plan B, quack doctors, or poison or gut punches failed to miscarry!

If Roe ended, with no national guidelines, red state black market/underground clinics (or traveling doctors) would pop up all over! Red states would ban Plan B sales off internet and in person. Maybe even ban all birth control.

If Roe ended, with no national guidelines, all but red state women would be encouraged to never use birth control; just have sex out the wazoo, especially if abortion costs were subsidized, or came down. Plan B sales would skyrocket!

The aborting mother is guilty (except for rape and incest) and the unborn innocent, but that doesn't mean the mother has no say! That's the same logic as saying minorities have no say, as NOT the majority, or there's zero role for the party out of power!

You MUST know!: The religious GOP's already stacked SCOTUS, to overturn Roe. Whoever their nominee is will be backed if he/she seeks that same end, including MORE conservative Justices, hoping to outlaw abortions! @TheDemocrats @SenateDems @HouseDemocrats But @JoeBiden can't expand its number.

ROE WAS UNCONSTITUTIONAL? (PART I)

(8/17/21-2)

Let's address this further, as it affects MY party choice. I do NOT believe Roe is unflawed. It NEEDS fixing! STATES can and should do so! States SHOULD have MORE liberty to express their majorities, as TX did with the heartbeat law! The problem is, blue states want third trimester, partial birth and post-birth (some of them).

Especially if a horrific deformity were only discoverable in third trimester, they'd want third as an option! problem also is red states seeking total bans. If there's ANY legislation I could dictate (executive orders) or convince both sides to pass, it would be a national standard for boundaries to both extremes on abortion!

1. Women have to have enough time pass to be informed that she's pregnant, in red states
2. Red states would NOT be allowed to ban every abortion (three exceptions are valid)

3. Red states CAN require rape and incest victims to take Plan B before three days expire
4. Any state CAN require private and public schools to show blurred out actual abortion procedure, and MUST teach how to prevent unwanted pregnancies
5. Red states CAN'T ban Plan B, in person or over the internet
6. Fines must be reasonable for red states punishing law breakers! NOT jail time. Maybe $500, NOT as the price of a life, but deterrence and pain, but not excessive (punishment matches the crime). Fines can vary, up to a range. Blue states can change zero penalty, if so desired
7. Mothers life is up to her and her family
8. Zero government officials can ever break and enter, even with a warrant, seeking evidence of self-help, in a woman's home
9. Lie detectors will NEVER be allowed by doctors seeking to discover if the pregnancy was unwanted or just poor planning
10. Licensed docs can't be sued for doing a legal procedure. Black market doctors in red states would be breaking the law, and state law penalties must be reasonable
11. NO state can ban contraception
12. Every state is encouraged to run PSAs, and pass public policies that encourage PLANNED sex, and discourage at will abortions, or using abortion in lieu of contraception!
13. Required sonograms to see image of baby and hear a heartbeat may be up to the states themselves(?)
14. NO state can be required to subsidize abortions
15. No woman can be forced to pay for an aborted persons funeral. These are REASONABLE

IF there's ANY way D.C. could bring about these 15 parameters for a national standard, post-Roe, I'd even petition SCOTUS to reconsider that law, but I would NEVER UNjustly stack SCOTUS, as if I were so stupid to think that doesn't affect many other policies than just Roe! What party am I?

Whether blue states can allow third trimester, partial birth or after birth abortions, post-Roe, would also be up to SCOTUS to decide, and if the third trimester ban excepted for late discovered serious and/or specified bodily challenges! Ending Roe is NOT as simple as panderers imply!!!

For the dopes of the world, who worship slogans, I am pro-life, health and safety, JUST AS the U.S. Constitution and Declaration of Independence are!

WWJD TO THE WOMAN AT THE WELL?

(8/17/21-2)

The GOP is still using abortion to gen up 2022 votes, so I guess it's time (and fair) for you to use freebies to do the same, for Democrats! @FHunscripted I don't deny their sincerity, but they haven't worked through all the implications! How convenient!

Conservatives don't want to use tax dollars to incentivize women on the fence taking to term, rather than aborting, as it's much easier to demand they comply with our wishes, than to out our money where our mouths are!

Conservatives CLAIM they hate mandates! They always want choices and free market solutions.

Total abortion bans are mandates—period. Isn't this lesson in sinful hypocrisy clear enough to all, that I need say no more?

My wife's had three kids. She's endured childbirth TWICE (twins). She's had the eating binges, pain and cramps, and maybe some missed work. Nine months is NOT forever, but the stain of killing your own flesh and blood probably will be felt forever! Unexpectedly pregnant? Consider the adoption option!

WOULD JESUS tell the woman at the well, suffer a gut punch, travel out of Samaria, use a coat hanger, or visit a black market doctor, if it instituted total abortion bans? He would NOT encourage her to abort/take a life! He would seek to convince her to save the child! #WWJD Let's play out a hypothetical: TX bans all abortions. Forget rape, incest and the mom's life, for now.

If contraception failed, women would want to travel elsewhere, and would be free to do so! It would also force women to think twice about having unprotected sex! What penalty would attach?

Mandatory metal chastity belts are about the only way of guaranteeing zero abortions! JUST BECAUSE sheeple clap when pastors teach that opposing abortion is "conservative" and "Christian" DOESNT mean ANY of them have considered the whole picture, the legalities and all consequences!

That article I retweeted states many states have been seeking outright abortion bans, for years. LET ME INTERPRET, for lower IQs... that means those people WANT women to cram coat hangers where the sun don't shine, IF they won't choose to take to term! THAT IS E-V-I-L, even from Christians!

Plan B costs and risks:

<https://www.plannedparenthood.org/learn/morning-after-pill-emergency-contraception/whats-plan-b-morning-after-pill>

YET, sins increase is prophetically INEVITABLE! Mt. 24:12; II Tim. 3:1-2 I sometimes wonder if we Christians in America are too dotarded as to notice these claims of climate change are mere precursors of biblically expected signs in the natural order that Christs return is imminent?

The sexual revolution and Roe case are and were a mere outgrowth of the Church abandoning God's priorities for numerical growth, IMO! Life in the 50s and before was far simpler, and holier. The CHURCH is to be the watchman and bastion of hope and holiness! We FAILED that task! II Chron. 7:14

IF you haven't instilled moral values in your child enough to prevent unwanted pregnancies, and they aren't rebels (which some become, absent your involvement), and if the church had done God's amount of evangelism and discipling, abortions would be FAR lower! LOOK IN THE MIRROR of society!

Before Roe, abortions occurred. They were riskier than today! They were less than today. If EVERY friend or family member who opposes abortion took the effort to seek to counsel any unwantedly pregnant, the numbers would go down! It's ultimately a failure of the family, or church!

IMO, the @USSupremeCourt, overall, does an EXCELLENT job at being professionals, even though they individually differ. They have derived a reasoned structure for considering cases and overturns, and they RARELY get things wrong! THEY know they're apolitical. Some pastors do not!

IT IS EVIL, and an UNbiblical and God disobedient support of INjustice to seek to stack any court your way—period! (politicizing) YES, strict interpretation IS the Constitutionally RIGHT way, but conservatism is NOT 100 percent the only ideology one can derive from that great document!

IT IS EVIL to politicize the courts! IT IS short-sighted to say you agree with that, but NOT on abortion, so you'll seek Justices to overturn Roe, and hope and pray they'll NOT be biased on every other ruling of theirs. Naive, Kindergartner "thinking!"

Lawyers would have to find a glaring legal error in that ruling, like arbitrary and capricious, overreach, unconstitutional conclusion that the unborn don't have standing, or that 'life' includes those alive in the womb! They've had nearly 50 years to consider those options, and haven't!

Even considering Roe Roe Roe your boat being capsized, the will of the people is A factor, and majority rule is another one, in American democracy! One group may life-or-death want a certain end, but no man (or loud voice) rules the roost in a democracy. That's NOT how SCOTUS works!

I seriously doubt an executive order could force SCOTUS to reconsider Roe! I'm by far not alone in the Americans who oppose ANY American riling up votes through deception, like promising UNjust freebies, or in any way implying voters or a President can force SCOTUS to overturn Roe—EVIL.

There are friends of the court (amicus) briefs SCOTUS RARELY acts on; there are conflicts of laws between fed appeals courts they hear; there are state laws that fly in the face of established fed precedent which they take up, or laws Congress passes that get challenged to them.

IT'S A COP OUT to say MY state obeys God, and we ban all abortions, and feel holy about yourself when your political actions caused the death of so many babies elsewhere! That's being an ostrich! God NEVER commands Christians to think stupidly! I think he's seeking ways to gen up 2022 votes.

The HILARIOUS thing is my arch adversary in this conflict does NOT disagree with me on much, yet his panties were in a wad! I've said I don't oppose Roe overturned, BUT I HAVE THOUGHT through THE IMPLICATIONS and he has NOT! National boundaries would be a must! WHO'd set and enforce them?

In the developed world, there seems to be a near unanimous trend!:

<https://worldpopulationreview.com/country-rankings/countries-where-abortion-is-illegal...>

PLEASE tell your wife to tell CHUMP to publicly announce he will overturn Roe, any way possible, so the sin-full hypocrisy of the religious right can be on FULL display, forsaking ALL values to again support him!

GOP OR DEM ON ABORTION?

(8/18/21-2)

I can imagine more simplistic or even simple minded people asking if I'm pro-life or pro death; pro-choice or pro bans and prohibitive mandates (they WOULDN'T use such phraseology). They want quick, simple answers! I'll say pro-life and pro health and safety for any who aren't! Dumbfound 'em.

IF the GOP had an articulate, compelling platform, we WOULDN'T have to be fighting among brethren over technicalities of but one issue offered to the public! Is 2022 just 'gonna be an appeal to emotion, over intelligence? WHERE'S NEWT's WINNING AGENDA? Dumbed-down appeal? I can help!

If a mass murder was known to be snatching school kids off the street and fatally shooting them, the authorities would NOT allow another death. Unfortunately, that's NOT the exact same thing as Planned Parenthood, either because of the age, method, or existence inside another's womb.

However, for the baby, the results are exactly the same! They're INNOCENT! The did NOT ask to be brought into this world! Our laws favor the innocent victim over criminals, Some Americans deem these two examples the exact same, yet they NEVER tackle women entering PP, or shoot.

abortion doctors, EVEN THOUGH you'd be legally justified (in some states) to shoot a mass murderer in the act, like happened in a TX church. There are differences, but we can all agree abortions should be kept to a minimum. NO excuse for NOT using protection, save rape! Be responsible.

Man on the street questions I asked of, and most answer the same:

1 and 2. If rape or incest, should the law require to take to term?

3. If pregnant under any circumstances, should the law require taking to term, no matter when she discovers it? Both said NO, and it should be her decision.

IF public sentiment shifted some, to see abortion as literally gruesome as it literally is (factually), peer pressure is a powerful force to sway some females to decide earlier on if they're 'gonna keep or kill their baby!

Far right WANTS 100 percent abortion bans, nationally, if Roe's overturned! The far left wants third trimester, partial birth and after birth abortions, nationally, if Roe's overturned! The race to keep or reverse Roe is NOT what's important, but what would follow! That's why I hate panders!

Polar opposites CAN'T peacefully coexist! You cannot have anything goes or nothing goes on national abortion policy! IMPOSSIBLE! States' rights would cause some very horrific results in blue states, without national guidelines! It would also cause total bans in some red states!

The three abortions libs/blue states could enact are reprehensible for the baby, who feels and probably knows all that's occurring to him/her. NO anti-abortion person can wash their hands and live at peace allowing that to occur if Roe ended! Your push for its end CAUSES those evils!

And total abortion bans MEAN:

1. Coat hangers in crotches, or gut punches, or poison or black market doctors, IF Plan B is banned and the ban enforced
2. Rape and incest victims get punished, IF they don't 'wanna take to term
3. Mother has NO say—just suicide, if pregnant. UNDENIABLE results.

CAN ANYONE IN THEIR RIGHT MIND say those evils at both extremes are acceptable? Pushing for Roe overturn, without addressing what comes next, is like pulling out of Afghanistan, without a plan for what would ensure, which CHUMP, Pence, Biden and Harris ALL did to those poor people!

I know religious people care ZERO about the pregnant guilty woman's concerns about abortion! They ONLY care about the innocent baby's rights! Wise King Solomon faced a similar dilemma, balancing two sides' interests! My solutions consider all involved! Let's recap:

1. ZERO abortions required mandatory metal chastity belts, worn full time, by every American woman—period! PIPE DREAM!
2. LESS abortions is ALL you can hope and pray for! A determined woman will have 1, no matter the law. Cops aren't 'gonna break and enter and pull Plan B from her mouth

3. LESS abortions can come from PSAs on planning sex, public and PRIVATE school required education on safe sex and planning, including showing what abortion is for the baby!
4. Public sentiment against unneeded abortions from poor planning could sway some women to plan better and use contraception.
5. LESS abortions WON'T come from Roes end, in blue and purple states!
6. LESS abortions can be had by red states legally requiring rape and incest VICTIMS to take Plan B within 72 hours of being crime victims! Put it in rape kits, IF she doesn't want to take to term-her choice!
7. LESS abortions come from perfect contraception that can't break, and you turn it on and off.
8. LESS abortions come from having conversations with females at and after puberty! Friends and family have the greatest influence, as with church/pastors! Teach about safe sex!
9. LESS abortions would come from abstinence, but FEW in our evil generation will consider God's way!
10. LESS abortions come from crisis pregnancy centers, private and religious, intervening all across America! Sonograms and counseling, etc.
11. LESS abortions come from females using birth control, as some men will reject condoms, and they could break. Women should NEVER lie about contraception, to hook any man!
12. LESS abortions can come from forcing women to decide if they want to be moms, earlier than the baby can feel her fatal choice! Heartbeat laws, etc.
13. LESS abortions can come from revival, where the Church does what God said they were to do- evangelize and disciple. Pipe dreams about NO abortions if Roes overturned are lies and sinful! Riling up votes with emotion vs. facts! God HATES lying! I hate liars!

If we can just overturn Roe, everything will be fine! Abortions will be thrown on the ash heap of history! NOT! ALL state laws revert to pre-Roe, where states allowed and disallowed them, which conflict prompted SCOTUS intervention! And unsafe and "illegal" means start! And Plan B exists.

IF ANYONE feels my writings on abortion prove I am for the procedure, they're IQ challenged! And if anyone hates that I roast people who tout pipe dreams to voters, 1. God is against liars 2. God is against ignorant Christian practice! You just FEEL offended, as the truth may hurt!

Overturing Roe will cause a flurry of state law changes! Many will an them all; many will allow any aborting any time. If that makes anyone feel better about themselves or their state, and they're incapable of seeing what it does to the total abortions, I can't help you think better!

If anyone thinks total bans totally end abortions, I can't help you increase your IQ! If anyone thinks Roe made abortions legal, so no Roe makes them all illegal, READ this: <https://bbc.com/news/world-us-canada-44713614...> Binary thinking is NOT always the smartest! (win-lose; either/or; yea or nay). NO panacea.

That article says 23 states would be able to ban abortion outright. That means (you have to be able to interpret English words!)

1. Rape and incest victims can't abort, or even use Plan B within three days
2. Mothers life would require suicide
3. Unsafe and illegal abortions would happen!

4. Red state PG women would travel to purple or blue states
5. Women in red states WOULD plan their sex better, which is a GOOD thing!
6. Coat hangers, gut punches, poison, quack black market doctors, or Plan B in person or by internet would increase. This is common sense, folks!

And let's talk about SCOTUS' reputation, once politicized! DOWN THE DRAIN! They are Constitutionally designed to be apolitical! If they ended Roe, depending on their reason (changed circumstances?), and left no national boundaries, WHO would trust them again to be objective? NOT ME!!!

Their interpretations of laws HAVE to be originalist and literal, as laws were meant to be defined and applied. However, politically, it is EVIL to stack SCOTUS to your extreme base, Dem or GOP! That's injustice/bias, and NOT their role as the apolitical judiciary! It's SINning vs. winning.

ANYONE who believes might makes right, or sin is OK if it's for a moral end, DISbelieves THIS verse!: Rom. 6:1 The ends justify the means is a satanic belief! Stacking SCOTUS to your position, vs. seeking justice, is anti-God! Isa. 33:15

JUST LIKE gun sales INcrease, anytime gun grabber fears erupt over gun law legislation, Plan B sales will SKYROCKET, and secret stashes will be hoarded in red states, if Roe's end could lead to red states total bans of all abortions! Groups will provide them, covertly, in red states

IS Jesus pro violence? (no) Gut punches are violent! Is Jesus FOR endangering ones health and life? (no) Coat hangers can cause women to bleed out! Total bans are totally un-well-thought-out, folks! I'm against abortion, but I also have a brain I seek to use on the issue, thx to God!

The life of a human is especially sacred. Babies are the innocents. Christians are to support biblical values. Put these three premises together, and most Christians only know how to vote; NOT administer government or bring justice to all! It's sincere, but it's simplistic, too! Pastors teach flocks!

They're almost brainwashed like robots to believe bans will end abortion. They're NOT famously intelligent, if they COULDN'T see satan's man for what he always displayed... 100 percent OPPOSITE Christian values. Lindell is the worst! A complete drug damaged fool! This is how MY rep gets slandered!

POST-ROE NATIONAL STANDARDS (PART II)

(10/5/21-2)

Let's talk about some specific scenarios people could face if Roe were overturned, and what a national standard should entail, if so If a baby were scientifically determined to have anencephaly (little or no brain), would red states be allowed to force birth? I don't think so!

It is NOBLE to accept all negatives that come into your life, with grace and dignity, but also God gave us a brain, and science tools to be responsible with, and especially for a poorer family, who would tell them they must endure those costs and hardships when we know it would only be a burden, with NO hope for any quality of life; just a vegetable our scientific advanced can allow to preserve.

What other medical conditions would qualify ONLY for humane and painless ending of that fate? Some families would want to put down Downs Syndrome, deaf, dumb and blind! Certainly NO state should be allowed to for such trivial things as wrong gender, eye color, ugliness, too short, etc.!

Each state would have to decide what severe melody qualifies, and the financial condition of the parents likely must be considered, if a terminal or lifelong condition. Literally, those who ONLY care about the child, and have zero concern for the mother wouldn't agree with any of these considerations, but laws have to be good, just and reasonable, and even God's wisdom isn't unreasonable! Jas. 3:17

States would either have to detail conditions allowable, or leave it to families to decide. SCOTUS would have to have standards below which NO state can fall, like in the 'brain dead' situation! Extremes shouldn't be allowed to become law, no matter how moral they can be argued.

There also has to be consideration for the trauma of rape and incest, in that not every young girl might know a state law requires her to end the potential start of life with Plan B after such traumatic crises.

She may be so traumatized, SCOTUS allows an exception if she fails to know or to go to use that method till sometime after three days, but ONLY if from ignorance of the law, or being too traumatized to deal with the consequences in that way.

What about the mother's life? I believe SCOTUS has to have a standard that it is always the family's and especially the mother's decision, even up to the time of birth!

The state forcing a woman to commit medical suicide, and leave her family (especially if she were the only parent) truly strikes me as unreasonable, even though I morally oppose abortion/killing innocents. Finally, SCOTUS should ALWAYS ban partial-birth and after-birth abortions in ALL states, blue ones being the issue, post-Roe.

Third trimester, as well, UNLESS one exception arises: The mother's life or a serious and specified condition the child won't recover from, and that condition couldn't have been detected by scientific means, until after the second trimester. These answers are REASONABLE!

It is likely impossible to ever call allowing people to take a life "reasonable," but state governments would be making "God-like" decisions, in these cases, and that Solomonic choice must be good, fair and reasonable, and I believe these choices are. I Ki. 3:15-28

Without any national standard, MORE abortions would occur, and MORE women would have their life or health endangered. That's why I say Roe overturn with no national standards is WORSE both for the child and for the mothers!

In sum, national standard post-Roe MUST include:

1. NO state can allow third trimester, partial or after birth abortions (one exception: Specified serious conditions of the baby, or mother's life in peril, undiscoverable before that third trimester).
2. NO state can pass total bans.
3. Heartbeat laws must allow the woman to scientifically prove they're pregnant (informed consent).
4. Plan B required of rape and incest victims, the ONLY exception being trauma or ignorance of that deadline extending it ONLY long enough to reasonably have known or been able to decide

IMO, this is a VERY sound, reasonable/rational, logical, good, just and as moral a law standard as can be had, under the circumstances, and strikes an even more specific and better balance that Roe did, with more emphases on state's rights. With that standard, I'd be HAPPY to end Roe!

DO I personally like that blue states could abort after a heartbeat is discovered? 100 percent NO! Would I fight for them to stop after the heartbeat, if I lived there? Yes! Would I like all states to adopt the heartbeat law? Yes, but I know they will not all do so. Can one argue total bans cause the most amount of babies to be saved?

YES, that case can be argued. BUT, that assumes women won't leave their state to do it elsewhere, and allows the government to sanction endangering lives and health. That decision is untenable under our Constitution, sadly for the kid.

ROE WAS UNCONSTITUTIONAL? (PART II)

(10/11/21-2)

I wrote that Roe was built on a cracked foundation. What did I mean? It was a 100 percent sound legal decision, rational, balanced and authorized, but it invented out of thin air a right to abort, with NO historic precedent. Only the word "life" in the Constitution even remotely applies.

SCOTUS wisely devised viability and standing, applying to the unborn, but they DID create law (which is not their job), vs. interpret law (which is their job). I understand why they wanted a national standard, and felt the need to take on the issue, with opposite state laws!

I do NOT fault their conclusion, or legal reasonings. I simply say they never addressed the polarized politics behind their decision, nor did they sufficiently address state's rights, IMO. The national standard I've proposed is BETTER, and why wouldn't you improve something that is faulty?

ACCORDING TO THE BIBLE (II Chron. 7:14), here a major spiritual source of America's many problems: Christians unwilling to call out sins in public, due to politics (and MAINLY PASTORS, AS THEIR RELIED ON "LEADERS")! LET ME EXPLAIN.

1. They DO call out immorality, but when it's pro-GOP
2. Because GOP is anti-abortion they worship party, thinking that's the one moral issue God cares for Christians to speak out on
3. Billy Graham was just and balanced, and not biased (a sin). When his son RIGHTLY spoke out vs. trans and critical race theory, that's ONLY pro-GOP moral clamoring!
4. When tRUMP's group hypocritically tells blacks like George Floyd's to comply with cops, but Ashley Babbitt didn't, you hear crickets about white pastors calling out that hypocrisy and white supremacy double standard, due to POLITICS! Where else do morals get showcased more to people?

When CHUMP's devotees endangered ALL D.C. politicians, and sought an insurrection or riot, CRICKETS from white pulpits! Friendships and secular power idolatry prevent claimed leaders from justly calling out all public sins like OT prophets would have, UNbiasedly. So America goes to Hell in handbasket

The argument goes, that's Dems job. SHOW ME THAT IN SCRIPTURE! The prophet's job is to be unbiased, to have moral authority, and to value God and His values more than secular power Jesus never sought! When people aren't held accountable for their public sins, it empowers 'em to do MORE!

It's NOT U.S. Christians' job to wait for the world to adopt moral standards (even though libs have many moral standards they enforce—#MeToo, etc.), but to stand objectively for morality before ALL, with party power as a secondary value. Our idolatry is killing America! Repent! II Chron. 7:14

HEARTBEAT LAWS

(12/1/21-2)

SCOTUS SHOULD rule for the heartbeat deadline, but if a mother's life is ever in danger, let her make that decision after the heartbeat date. WHO's to say she has to abandon her fam, as a Kamikaze suicide act? NOT government, or outsiders! HER and her nuclear/immediate family alone!

The ONLY other exception to the heartbeat law SCOTUS may consider is severe deformity only discoverable after the heartbeat deadline. IF SCOTUS allows aborting for that, the decision should be the mom's and her nuclear/immediate family's alone! NOT government or strangers/outsideers!

Rape and incest victims would have several weeks to discover they're pregnant, and decide (informedly) if they wanted to take to term. IF NOT, don't extend your procrastination to the point it hurts a baby with a beating heart! WHEN does a fetus feel pain? That's a landmark timeframe!

There's NO argument abortion banned after heartbeat unfairly harms poor women, as they've several weeks to make their decision, so it wouldn't cost them traveling across states! The heartbeat law shuts down almost all arguments except those ghouls who want to kill functioning babies.

I heard a DUMB argument, today, that newborns on a birthing table aren't viable, any more than a fetus before second trimester. Viability doesn't mean they feed themselves, but can be kept alive without help from the mother! DUMB and biased and weak argument, debunked!

I heard another DUMB argument, that three trimesters are arbitrary, as is heartbeat. Heartbeat is a basis in physical and scientific fact, and expresses pain and living, breathing life. Trimesters have significant development changes! Biased people can be so stupid in their non-objectivity!

A DUMB talk radio host statement about SCOTUS's conservative lean is "elections have consequences." GOP denying Garland on SCOTUS, then rushing a conservative onto the court has NOTHING to do with elections! WITH that thinking, enjoy all Biden's spending! "Elections have consequences!"

George P Bush said based on "the makeup of the [Supreme] Court,' then opined on where Roe will end up. That makeup was politicized! You do NOT politicize the high court for ANY reason, even as important as life! Justice is God's standard, as with courts' purpose-period!!!

IF SCOTUS goes 100 percent overthrow Roe, for "neutrality" of state's rights, Congress can legislate abortion right, when Dems are in power, or add SCOTUS Justices, or states can make laws to challenge the new ruling, and put more libs on the high court. Politicized judiciary (BAD thing!)

I HOPE this opined headline is right! Supreme Court Seems Poised to Uphold Mississippi's Abortion Law nytimes.com Supreme Court Seems Poised to Uphold Mississippi's Abortion Law. It was less clear whether the court's conservative majority would overrule Roe v. Wade, the decision establishing a constitutional right to abortion.

Mississippi abortion law v. Texas law: What's the difference?

<https://khou.com/article/news/local/texas/mississippi-abortion-law-v-texas-sb8-difference/285-c5e17d1e-0596-4ef0-8a53-1bd3fdd8b568...> via @KHOU

Between MS and TX abortion law, I believe SCOTUS should leave the exact number of weeks, or date, up to science: Whenever medical equipment can detect the heartbeat. I don't know if that varies per baby! 15 weeks is GENEROUS to women. I want earlier! Heartbeat and able to know pregnant!

Informed consent is a longstanding legal theory. It's irrational to force a woman to decide to abort or not to abort when she doesn't even yet know whether or not she is pregnant! When do pregnancy tests become authoritatively accurate? That covers informed consent!

Update

(12/1/21-2)

Liberals are blaming NRA for a deranged student who shouldn't have been allowed access to his dad's purchased gun! God bless the NRA, and all these other targets of their irrational wrath: Smith and Wesson Remington Sturm Ruger Springfield Armory Mossberg Colt Guns allow self-defense!

Liberals: IF SCOTUS decides a heartbeat deadline for abortions, YOU CAN ALWAYS GET PREGNANT AGAIN, if you regret killing your baby too soon, wishing you could have done so later! WAIT till you want it from the start, and plan ahead next time! #CommonSense

A heartbeat law would ABSOLUTELY be moral toward rape and incest victims, not forcing them to experience the trauma for nine months, if they didn't want to, and giving them the choice to birth their baby, in enough time to know they're pregnant and it has a beating heart!

I think Justice Roberts said, 'if it's an issue of choice, how long does it take for one to decide.' LOOK how often, or long I have been asking that question (next retweets):

Oklahoma, Arkansas and New Mexico, and now Mexico, are convenient abortion providing states, for some Texans after six weeks, but the citizens who are unequally protected are those in central TX. "medication abortions" work up to 10 weeks. How long does it take to decide to kill your baby? (9/7/21-2)

HOW LONG does it take for you to make an evil, though legal decision? <http://msnbc.com/msnbc/scott-walker-gets-the-abortion-ban-he-asked...> (7/10/15)

HOW LONG does it take for a woman to decide to essentially murder their child? Does it REALLY take a lot of weighing the pros and cons? (7/23/15)

Just as there are degrees of Hell punishment, there are degrees of culpability for how long one waits to kill their unborn child, IMO! If the baby can feel it, has a heartbeat, or has taken the human form (arms, legs, thumb sucking), you're a horrific person to wait that long, IMO. (8/21/21-2)

HOW LONG does it take you to decide you made a mistake in heat of passion engaging in unprotected sex? Morning after pill before the baby is negatively impacted is better, sooner rather than later! (9/30/17)

Men and women should speak for what the "fetus" wants: To live! (12/2/21-2)

MORE TAXES, LESS ABORTIONS?

(12/3/21-2)

WAS IT WORTH IT to support all of this, embarrass America, and lose all respect for the GOP, just to have Roe curtailed? Abandon ALL morality, for one issue! Do EVIL, so good might come. I say a resounding NO, it was NOT worth it! Religious people politicized SCOTUS! SIN and injustice! EVIL.

I DO NOT CARE if my convictions offend anyone! I stay deep and consistent with them! EITHER party is open for me to run for and vote for! Wherever my views are most accepted. UNLIKE hypocrites, liars and idolaters, I do NOT change deeply-held beliefs. Willfully sinful people DO!

And if my views on abortion turn off any religious people I associate with, I'm all too happy to never return to my present church! God always provides for Himself a lamb. I have yet to be led as to which party to affiliate more with! Still time to decide! Just keep working!!!

Now, I want to address IDIOTS, who will never be lawyers, but play them in real life: The Supreme Court OFTEN hears issues NOT spelled out in the Constitution! IF IT WERE detailed enough to address every subject, we would NOT need the Court, and if they still existed, they would need no debate!

LOOK at EVERY issue they considered, the past 10 years. IF that document was cut and dry, and expressly mentioned every topic of life that they rule on, it would be 500 pages long!

The face that "abortion" and "viability" aren't anywhere in its limited text is IRRELEVANT, as "life" and rights of citizens ARE spelled out there. When any matter reaches an importance level, where state variants are unjustly unequal to some citizens, SCOTUS steps in!

It's called undue burden, equal protection and due process. YOU would know NOTHING about these matters, because YOU are just a person with an opinion! YOU don't even have the b-ls to tackle pregnant women at Planned Parenthood, to stop their aborting! WIMPINESS/weakness. II Tim. 1:7

And I must be the only one who sees this, or hates this, but I despise any politicians who mulls in his mind, 'what should I say to lure this voting group?', instead of saying what are my true beliefs on this subject, and how should it be decided, given logic, morality and justice?

People like George P. Bush and Gov. Abbott, who cherish overpaid, too cushy jobs more than consistent convictions, so they will mouth 'ban abortions.' Or Governor 'wanna be Huffines saying 'end property taxes' and 'deport illegals.' PANDERING! Extreme and media attention-getting B.S.!

SCOTUS HAS to know 26 states have trigger laws to ban all abortions, if they overturn Roe. MUCH pressure on them to get it right! WHEN does the baby's rights trump the moms, and vice versa? NOT an easy decision, except to fools and extremists! Courts are to be NEUTRAL vs. biased!

There are no precedents. NOTHING is sacred, or set in stone. Anything goes, if you court shop. Laws mean NOTHING, so WHY obey them? THIS is what Trump "Christianity" brought to the U.S. societal landscape! Jesus has NOTHING to do with such attitudes! ZERO! Judg. 21:25 America is a MESS!

I JUST asked wife if she knew Texas has a total abortion ban law set to start 30 days after roe were overturned. I said, isn't that a ridiculous law, and she agreed. She said women would travel, and poor ones get black market doctors. EVERYONE KNOWS it's a dumb idea, even as we hate abortion!

IF SCOTUS opts for heartbeat over viability (as I HOPE they do), wretched women who enjoy torturing babies will still get illegal ones done, but that should be done as safely for them as possible! NO ONE can want their harm, even if you detest their decision! That's anti-Christ!

I have said if Democrats agreed to ban all abortions on the condition all rich people paid their fair share in taxes, the abortion issue would fall by the wayside. Many sincerely want it banned. Many more want to win elections to save their nest eggs from taxes!

SUPER PRECEDENT

(12/4/21-2)

For Supreme Court to change precedent, there has to be a compelling reason, such as significantly changed circumstances. In the case of Roe, what are they? I'll NEVER care one iota what the Court rules if they make a political decision, and won't obey any ruling if I don't feel it right.

Roe LITERALLY had to be decided legally wrong, to change it, or circumstances significantly changed. I do NOT agree that Roe was the best they could achieve, needed improvements, but was also them trying to avoid extremes and unify national law. For 50 years, it's been settled law.

The ONLY changed circumstances I see that are valid are NOT politicized bench members, but science and technology's ability to detect a heartbeat. Also, advanced machinery allowing babies to live outside of mom, at earlier stages and variant viability dates where the line was drawn.

Viability was a logical and reasonable compromise between two extremes, at the time, because outside the womb, a human can said to be a citizen with rights. Inside the womb, the mother controls everything the baby does! This does NOT mean a preborn baby is self-sustaining!

It means cut off from the umbilical cord, it doesn't die, because manmade products can sustain it till it's of age to take milk like newborns would. A fetus isn't certain to make it to term, so our law doesn't instill rights. It's a person, so some argue we should. It's mother vs. child!

A rape results still a baby. An incest results still a baby. Babies are innocent; they didn't choose to be born. BUT, there are two persons involved in this decision! The far right only sees the baby. The far left only sees the mother. Courts must see BOTH parties! Solomonian divide!

The Court also has to consider Constitutional rights of living mothers to health and safety. Women are certain to seek abortions, even if totally banned. That incurs physical danger, if not a threat to life. I am absolutely NOT going to vote for Gov. Abbott, being for a total ban!

MAYBE the 26 or so states have trigger laws to force the hand of SCOTUS to make a new or better decision, and not overturn Roe, or extreme measures are certain (forcing women to endanger themselves). If so, maybe it was wise. If it is implemented, it's immature, draconian and barbaric.

People are capable of compartmentalizing, or shutting off the brains or emotions, to ignore reality. Reality is women will shove coat hangers up their crack, accept gut punches, take poison, take Plan B, travel 'outa state, or hire black market doctors. This IS like prohibition!

DIDN'T WE LEARN that banning alcohol only made speakeasies and bootleggers more popular? The killing of a human baby is atrocious! Therefore, it's BETTER to do so early on, when they're NOT developed and can't feel or experience it. It's a sin, but not the unpardonable sin!

To make it a felony is to equate it with murder. It's saying if you ever have sex, you will have a baby, or you will face jail time. For that reason alone I may even hold my nose and consider voting for Beto! How primitive these panderers are to crazed extremists! It's EMBARRASSING to my state!

A law forcing women to take Plan B within three days of sex, if they aren't sure they want to be mothers is REASONABLE, and prevents anyone being killed! WHY are politicians and judges so damn stupid not to see that solution? SCOTUS had to choose between two people. It tried to be just!

I am thoroughly behind the heartbeat law with either MS or TX's due date, but, again, I can't see why politicians and judges are so stupid not to overturn Roe with one national guideline: NO third trimester or pre-heartbeat abortions, decided by the states! Let states have some freedom.

IF neither of my smarter solutions are even considered, SCOTUS will have to decide the timeframe for a cutoff date, and have good, sound reasoning for that date, as between TX and MS. And they must address what changed circumstances necessitated the law change. It CAN'T be politics; it IS!

CHANGED CIRCUMSTANCES?

(12/4/21-2)

Shouldn't our government have a say in whether a citizen can kill another human! YES! We do so in cases of murder! The difference is abortion is killing a not-yet-birther human. Life begins at conception, so any abortion kills a human! NO ONE is denying that horrific outcome!

About 76 percent of Americans believe women should decide, with their doctor, whether to abort. The majority is NOT always right! Courts don't decide cases based on public opinion polls. However, they have gauged significant change in public sentiment, in overturning precedent.

WHAT IS THE CHANGED PUBLIC SENTIMENT? SCOTUS has to go with changed technology on viability's date, and either choose heartbeat or earlier viability detectability date. IF they overturn Roe, and leave it to states, I will NEVER respect any word out of their mouths!

The humans who decided Roe had intelligent thoughts on when a human in America gets standing! Fetuses can't appear in court! The ability of a child not to die, outside their mom's womb is a literally scientific reality the Court took into consideration, rightly so! That date changes with technology!

I am 100 percent FOR SCOTUS reducing the horrific torture and ghoulishly corrupt practices of sucking or dismembering human-shaped fetuses! That is atrocious, even if not legal murder. If one will do so, do it before then! It's still killing, but less offensive to the common conscience!

Why is abortion NOT felonious murder? The child is still in the mom's physical custody inside the womb. They're still attached "at the hip" (umbilical cord). She is still in charge of its life and sustenance. She is still killing her kid, but it's not legal murder.

Conservatives USED to mock CHUMP for asking to punish the mother. Now TX says punish the mother with felony charges! Gov. Abbott will NOT get any of my family's five votes, as a result! Criminalizing a vulnerable woman who has enough challenges to deal with is not human. Will I choose Beto? UNlikely!

WHAT DO BANS TRIGGER?

(12/4/21-2)

Total abortion bans (even as you abhor abortion) MEAN:

1. Crotch coat hangers
2. Plan B by web or in person
3. Black market
4. Poison
5. Gut punches
6. Throwing oneself down stairs NO Christian can support these dangers to even evil, child killing women! Inhumane; we treat murderers better.

BECAUSE of Texas' trigger law of total abortion bans, if Roe is changed at all (which it needs to be) is why I and my four other votes will NOT vote for him. I was willing to, two weeks ago, if no GOP (excepting tax radical Huffines) overtook him. Can't vote for Beto. Greg lost five votes.

Put these total abortion ban trigger laws to a public referendum, per state! The whole reason SCOTUS took on Roe in the first place is the unfairness of some women having something this important avail to them, while others in other states didn't! Equal protection clause! Learn law!

The ~21 red states threatening SCOTUS with total abortion bans triggered on any change to Roe should poll their states' constituents to see what we the people think and want in our state's laws on the subject! It should NOT be a top-down decision of politicians thinking they speak for us!

IF it were God's will that all sex leads to births, unless fertilization fails, people who abstain (virgins, not celibates) could be preventing people from being birthed that God knew before conception, and evil sex perverts could be said to be doing God's will, if He knew their progeny.

Any claiming "Christian" who says contraception is evil, better never watch TV, drive a car, or use the internet, as it is ONLY from 2,000 years passing that modern inventions have been available to us to prevent unwanted pregnancies. Time is amoral. Preventing unwanted PG is moral!

Does I Cor. 7 teach the pull-out method, for fun sex within marriage? God teaches not all sex is for procreation. In the first century, they had no technology to prevent unwanted pregnancy. It's NOT sin to use advances mankind invents using the brains God gave them! it's responsible!

God knows everything. Therefore, He knows: 1. All who will be born 2. All who will be aborted Contraception prevents anyone starting Abortion ends anyone started All sex can start a life, moral or immoral NO ONE can say immoral sex is God's will Abortion is NOT God's will!

On God personally knowing persons before conception: bibleprout.com Does God Know Us Before We Are Born or Conceived? Does God know Us Before Birth? God knows each individual human being all the way from the preembryonic stage through death and beyond (Psalm 139:16).

An abstract is unavailable.

IF you LOOK at these pictures, MS abortion law seems clearly to be after the baby would own consciousness. Texas' law seems much more suitable toward the baby not conscious or aware of the atrocious torture their mom chooses to inflict upon them. Heartbeat is a key milestone!

Update: Ban/Outlaw Contraception?

Outlawing contraception is ASININE! Some politicians will do anything to win over religious extremists! Being responsible IS a Christian value, and birth control kills no one. So many damn fools in America, Bible ignorant and just emotions with bodies! Repent! It's being morally RESPONSIBLE to use contraception, and it kills no one! (10/13//21-2)

ARE ALL ABORTIONS THE SAME?

(12/5/21-2)

Let's take the right's view on aborting: Babies start at conception, so unless you stop it from happening, you are murdering a human being. Some go further and say the baby existed before sex occurred, so birth control prevents someone experiencing the life they were intended to live.

On abortion, the right fails to distinguish between a culpable female and an innocent victim, in rape and incest cases. Because the baby is innocent, somehow both women deserve the same fate, or "punishment," of taking to term if they didn't want to. Rape or consent are NOT distinguished.

I AM SURPRISED blue states haven't banded together to pass trigger laws that if Roe is changed at all, within 30 days third trimester, partial birth and after birth abortions will be legal, there! Equally pressure SCOTUS to fairly decide this matter, or face extremism left and right! @HouseDemocrats @GovernorTomWolf @OregonGovBrown @RoyCooperNC @GovMLG @KathyHochul @GovernmentimWalz @JohnCarneyDE @GovHawaii @GovPritzker @GovLarryHogan @GovLauraKelly @GovJanetMills @MassGovernor @BillWalkerAk @GavinNewsom @PhilMurphyNJ @GovInslee @GovChrisSununu @GovSisolak @Hickenlooper @GovNedLamont @GovernorVA @GovDanMcKee @GovPhilScott @JoeBiden @POTUS @TheDemocrats @SenateDems SUPPORT SCOTUS being just and objective, vs. biased!

I AM SURPRISED blue states haven't banded together to pass trigger laws that if Roe is changed at all, within 30 days third trimester, partial birth & after birth abortions will be legal, there! Equally pressure SCOTUS to fairly decide this matter, or face extremism, left & right!

What's fair as between an innocent and a grown adult? BOTH parties' interests being considered! one wants to live; the other wants it to die. The unborn did nothing to deserve to die. The born did something to cause the unborn to be conceived, except in cases of rape and incest.

Before the child can comprehend or feel the horrors of their mother's choice to kill him or her, that is the ONLY point at which the consenting adult should be able to legally kill, if ever! It's unjust to punish the baby, as it is evil to kill it! U.S. laws allow some legal evils.

Total abortion bans mean zero sex in America, except to start or grow a family! No actual consummation, the natural way, for enjoyment. Pull out, or rhythm method for all unmarried sexually active adults. That's just not going to fly! People won't take that on the chin, and not respond!

EVEN married couples (male and female, we have to point out in our odd modern times) cannot have natural sex at home, unless they want more children, where total abortion bans would be in tact! IF it led to pregnancy, the government tells you you have to expand the family! Balderdash

Plan B kills no one, taken within three days of sex. Contraception kills no one, used before sex. If it fails or breaks, that's a manufacturer defect, and not a free willed choice of the user. How can our government force a consumer to pay the price for a failed product others created?

EVERY person and Christian person I have spoken to thinks total abortion bans are extreme. NONE of them are for abortions, but they comprehend the moral and emotional dilemma the issue raises!

NO family should be forced to kill off mom, ever, to save a fetus, and no family should have to incur huge medical bills, with zero prognosis of anything coming of their child, if that defect is only detectable in the final stages of pregnancy (like a brain dead 'vegetable' sustainable only by life support, but for years). These two exceptions should ALWAYS be the law of America!

Rapists and family sex pervers/incest initiators TOTALLY win their evil acts, if law says the result of their crime must haunt their victims all nine months! Give women time enough to learn they're pregnant, then quickly decide if they want that, so the decision isn't felt by the human baby!

In life, sometimes there are the lesser of two evils (like with Presidents, often). It is evil to force women to endanger their lives or health, just as it is very evil to kill innocents. Keep the evils to a MINIMUM!

IF SCOTUS ends Roe, thus allowing total abortion bans, I'll LITERALLY never value, heed or respect anything that comes forth from 'em thereafter! This is NOT a threat. I discredit anyone who is politically motivated in a judicial function of justice and neutral objectivity! It's your JOB!

Red states have threatened total bans if Roe is changed. STUPID decision! Heartbeat cutoff by SCOTUS would change Roe, so your trigger laws would then be immediately unconstitutional! Then we go back and re-litigate if SCOTUS can rule as it did about heartbeats! Did I miss something?

WHO are red states going to appeal to to debate that their total abortion bans are Constitutional, if SCOTUS passes the heartbeat milestone as law? WHY would SCOTUS take up their own fresh law for reconsideration? I HAVE to be missing something here!?! Are red states wanting cops, or the military, to stop their total abortion bans, by manning Planned Parenthoods?

I am SO convinced I have missed something in their "thinking," I am going to go do some more research. Something totally illogical seems to be going on; I must have missed some detail!?!...

Haven't found my answer, but I heard that any change to Roe would cause at least one state to ban all abortions. Heartbeat IS a change! SCOTUS discussed states' rights, how long does it take women to decide, and viability changing with technology. Heartbeat IS the answer!

If Roe were over-turned, with NO federal/national guidelines, it would be a disaster for women in red states (only sex for babies; rape and incest victims re-victimized) and blue states (third trimester and beyond abort like a sport). I KNOW I'm missing something about Roe changes vs. reversal!

Does a heartbeat law require Roe's overturn, or can Roe be altered, as Justice Thomas seems to have leaned toward? the articles on google are NOT very precise, so far!

Changed circumstances would be legal justification for the heartbeat deadline! The change would be advanced technology to detect that, and advanced technology that allows viability much earlier. My ONLY question is can SCOTUS rule for heartbeat, and that NOT require Roe's overturn?

I'll ASSume Roberts+ know Roe doesn't have to be overturned, and heartbeat can be a new standard, by changed circumstances!

ARE WE AT THE POINT IN OUR POLITICS that states are now passing laws to try to force the U.S. Supreme Court to rule a certain way? If so, God help us all! That alone is why I've urged blue states to have their own trigger laws! Equal each other out. NOT because I'm for aborting! Justice!

MS Gov. says abortion is overreach, as that right is left to the states to decide. That opinion takes 10th Amendment in a conservative interpretation, and ASSumes "to the states and the people" means ONLY what's written in that document can SCOTUS rule on. Voters decide abortion per state.

HOW MANY TIMES have I urged SCOTUS to specifically define the 10th Amendment? FOOLS believe the highest court has no purpose but to do whatever it says, and never interpret it as to issues never foreseen when it was written! They apply principles consistent with it.

It doesn't spell out every issue of life, but we rely on SCOTUS to settle important disputed matters that would be unfair to be left divergent! The 70's Court deemed life an important enough topic to nationalize some standard for when it could legally be taken! Poor women can't leave their state, and some states have blue states far from them, while others have them next door.

Unsafe self-help was a legit concern by legit Justices, and they could not condone public policy allowing life, health and safety to be endangered, by women taking stupid risks. Health and safety IS in the document!

WHY is NO ONE mandating:

1. Plan B taken before three days of unplanned sex
2. Contraception (or safe sex practices) for all recreational sex
3. Moms' life always her choice
4. Vegetative states learned late can't be forced upon anyone
5. No total bans, or abortions after third trimester

People want to have natural sex, without risking birthing babies! They also want to know if they're pregnant, before taking action that can prevent that, if they hadn't intended that from their sex. They also want to be able to have kids when they want to. These are normal desires!

CHRISTIAN INVOLVEMENT IN ABORTIONS

(1/23/22-2)

What should Christians do about abortion? Answer: Whatever God leads them to do! Collectively, they should oppose; individually, what actions they take on the topic is a matter of walking by faith! My sister has worked in a pregnancy center, and now doesn't. Is that a problem, that she doesn't now feel so led, for now?

ABSOLUTELY not! She's doing what God led her to do, and there are temporal missions for individuals (Ex.: Ac. 12:25), even as it's part of a long-term mission of the church! There are THOUSANDS of ministries (under the S or EDDBS-social ministry) Christians can get engaged in!

Helping orphans and widows, the poor, sex traffic victims, homeless, prostitutes, the disabled, vets, the elderly, the imprisoned, et al infinitum. God doesn't have us all do all those things!

You're led! The body parts work together to function holistically, as a whole—not as individuals. Someone was asked by God, "what are you 'gonna do about it?" About abortion. Not every Christian receives that same conviction statement on the same matters as other Christians do. Walk by faith!

I've served in prisons. I don't feel led to now. I'm so busy doing God's plan for me in biz, writing and politics, I don't bite off more than He leads me to, as it's enough! Some protest outside Planned Parenthood. Some work pregnancy centers. Some write quality "positions," because how people THINK affects what and how they do things! If your calling is to write, write to Gods glory!

It may, someday, actually influence important people in society, like how SCOTUS legally evaluates the issue! The ball is in their hands, now. Congress can pass laws AFTER their judgment, to codify a national standard, but getting consensus for that is improbable!

What can politicians do on the matter? As moral influencers, especially with the bully pulpit, they can speak out against the choice of killing, for planning sex, for the value of life.

IF they had the votes, common sense common ground laws could be passed, such as limiting the extremes on both ends, Plan B within three days of unsafe sex, if a woman doesn't want to become a mother, teaching and exhorting safe sex in school, educating the public on the value and availability of adoption.

Finally, as a lawyer (like SCOTUS members all are), and aspiring politician, it is of utmost importance what ones positions are! It proves they've though things through and come to conclusions, and have convictions. Acting without thinking is emotionalism. NOT acting, when convicted, is sin.

P.S.: WHEN SCOTUS decides, the law will be settled, IF they don't pawn it back to Congress, or the states. What exact actions politicians should and could take, is IRRELEVANT, at this point, and premature, as NO ONE knows what decision they will make! And I have said, many times-abortioning is sin:

contraception breaks or you're assaulted. Let's address the elephant in the room-by far, MOST abortions are from poor planning, not from being a victim or mom facing life or death decision of mom or baby. That poor planning is deadly for your baby, and a MAJOR sin/evil! You are guilty, killing your own. (4/10/19)

[Preachers behind] pulpits have every right and responsibility to tell listeners abortion is a sin. But that's NOT what we're seeing! We're seeing pastors chum up to a wicked man to force their view on voters who had no say, by engaging judicial activism they USED to decry, and unjustly stack SCOTUS to the far right. (11/1/19)

NO MATTER your religion or lack thereof, values in public policy should reflect God's more so than in the other party! Dems say compassion requires more freebies-God disagrees. GOP's mainly say homosexuality's a sin, as is abortion. TRUE, but neither is Gods FULL counsel! Ac. 20:27 (8/22/20)

Christians are to stand for morality and against sin. NEWS FLASH: Homosexuality and abortion are NOT the only sins politics covers! Vindictive dictators who want good people impeached, like Romney and many other GOP's are NOT American, but Communistic, MAGA notwithstanding! (10/16/19)

P.S.: Pastors are STILL free in America to preach that homosexuality is a sin, even though we lost Obergefell. You can even advocate that belief In public, but before God, who you care about with abortion being murder, you can't hate, or hate the sin and the "sinner!" DO you strike this right balance? Learn to do so. (11/1/19)

I DARE an abortion-loving woman to use a pistol to shoot her baby, to save the abortion cost! You WONT, because you are SELFISH! You don't mind letting a doctor do that, so long as YOU don't receive the end of your own free-willed decision! Ostriches keep their heads in the sand! Sin.

...and on is abortion murder, it IS killing an innocent child. Murder is legally defined In ways that don't apply, before man vs. before God. It's not the unpardonable sin, but it is heinous and evil. Christians should want as few of them as humanly possible, but people sometimes get pregnant, not thinking,... (5/11/20-2)

To single out abortion and sodomy as the ONLY two sins politics is to address is sin! God teaches the whole counsel of God as Christians' standard, and JUSTICE is always Gods interest in every public policy! (6/2/19)

PSS: Some Christians attend rallies, protest in prayer walks for life, hold signs outside PP, vote single issue, man pregnancy centers, talk with pregnant women about other options. I choose to use my teaching gift through writing sound thinking that politicians and others can learn from. My calling.

PS: IF SCOTUS doesn't do so, Congress SHOULD be able to find common ground to allow states' rights standards that avoid extremes, nationally, like from heartbeat to third trimester. That's a reasonable national standard. Dems 'wanna codify Roe. Some want 100 percent bans and post-birth aborting!

PSS: If you want to force your views on America, DON'T be surprised, or complain, when Dems force their Socialist views on her, too. Whats good for the goose is good for the gander!

#JusticeFor_TNHinduGirl! Be careful what you ask for. For every action there's an equal and opposite one!

Whats wrong with only states' rights on abortion? SCOTUS determined the issue rose to the level of importance that disparate laws were intolerable, nationally. Red states would ban all, and blue would allow anything goes. Abortions may not lessen at all! BETTER solutions exist! DUH.

One could invite pregnant women considering aborting to the WH or Capitol hill, to try to convince them to take to term! Use the personal touch. ANYTHING moral is possible, to try to prevent their making that choice. Politicians always showcase invited heroes in audience at their speeches!

You could pass a day for life, like there are days for everything under the sun! Possibilities are endless, including PSA's encouraging safe sex and not killing babies, by safe sex, or Plan B within three days of unsafe sex. I'm 100 percent for all these things/measures!

Wrong deciders 'gotta be safe, too, and foster families could be touted, publicly, as well! World's most innovative man can think of more!

Government could and should partner with private entities to fund women who choose to take to term! Put your money where your mouth is, and if finances incentivize defending life, so be it!

CAN YOU IMAGINE the impact of the bully pulpit tactfully and politely demonstrating exactly what happens to an unborn baby when aborted? Nothing gross or graphic, but educational. Adoption.

Promoting contraception is essential! It's common sense! You take adult/responsible measures to ensure you never start a life you didn't intend to! Maybe a cemetery for the departed, like Arlington National Cemetery? Showcase pregnancy centers! Time can come up with more!

Public school sex ed curricula MUST include details on the abortion procedures, risks and "benefits."
#Objectivity Testimonies of women who didn't abort, or people their mom didn't discard, could be used for some public education initiatives. Always keeping wrong deciders safe!

IMO, ONLY rape, incest and mom's life mothers should decide for themselves what to do, but decide early enough not to harm the baby as much as suffering occurs later on! Killing is harm, but felt pain is worse, later. Heartbeats what I expect/hope SCOTUS will conclude.

Tax credits could even ensue to women who choose not to abort. However, many women never considering aborting could lie, to take advantage of a tax advantage, so it's likely not a great option. Thinking aloud, to avoid editing!

Dachau-like public sculpture could be erected as a memorial to the lost 60M aborted Americans. Innovative people can just keep coming up with ideas, if given the time (and if hating the editing work they'd otherwise be doing)!

Politicians could encourage impregnators to be there for the woman Chump's hall of heroes monument could include a bust of a symbolic aborted baby. We have wall of the fallen military. Why couldn't there be a wall with names of aborted children? Abstinence, and not shaming virgins could be public school policy in sex ed! If legal, politicians visit PP!?

One other thing RE positions. They're taking a stand, UNlike career politicians, who wait to see how the political trade winds blow. I take mine YEARS before, because they are good and right, and don't need to change. Public opinion may need to change to them, sometimes! Conviction vs. chameleon.

Also, you don't influence/convince open-minded people to your position just stating pro or conservative something. You give REASONS and rationale, including morally-based! THAT is what positions filling my timeline do, whether others have the ability to do that, or not! Logic vs. my-way-or-highway.

Update

(1/23/22-2)

You think it was monumental or controversial to release government files on UFO's? I 'wanna see releases of public videos of what abortion actually entails! That's MUCH more important than obsessing over little green men!

These are NOT the same, but there ARE similarities: Feds did NOT ban smoking, but TV ad campaigns, etc., taught the harm of lung cancer and premature death, and many people quit or cut back. Same methods needed to lessen abortions! Cancer sticks. Smoking kills. Tobacco companies lied to you.

When I was a kid, cars spewed black smoke, and you'd throw trash out the window. Public attitudes changed, via public relations campaigns, and gradual regulations. I believe public valuing of abortion need changing, by education, but also by safe sex planning.

Women may not be for killing their kids, but as opposed to nine months of pain, lifestyle interruption, financial strain, and dating interruption, once they're pregnant it's often more difficult to convince them to go to term! Only ~114 out of 2,000 visits to a PG clinic took to term, anecdotally. Plan ahead!

IF the science and technology would allow a baby to be reinserted into a willing carrier, maybe more women wouldn't abort, as their child could be taken to term by surrogates. That tech, as with turn offable perfect contraception everyone should support. Politicians can speak FOR these inventions!

THE need is less unplanned pregnancies! We don't even closely come close to having enough families to take in orphans and foster children or adoption. Much less more unwanted babies, taken to term. The focus has to be prevention of unwanted pregnancies! #CommonSense USE contraception!

WHY would a law saying if you hadn't planned to become a mom, and aren't sure you want to become one, as a result of unplanned sex or failed contraception, you must take Plan B within three days be a problem? They can get pregnant later, if they were able to now! Rape and incest, especially.

Does anyone remember when gays tried to make themselves more mainstream and acceptable? Some bulked up; some made great achievements; some changed the term to gay. Lessons for changing the populous' attitudes toward abortion. There's moral, legal and public opinion laws! three spheres of rules.

Attitudes toward green energy and "climate change" are also analogous. America has slowly moved toward accepting electric cars, and taking actions to reduce waste and pollution. Mimic what worked for these campaigns, to get people to value abortions less, and as evil. Takes time and prayer!

Does anyone recall just say no, and this (egg frying) is your brain on drugs TV campaigns? Effective to get several (at least among the older) to not want to take illegal drugs (I never have). Mirror what works and is effective to lessen abortions, by influencing values held within the public!

Update: Is Justice Possible? (I Ki. 3:16-18)

(1/25/22-2)

The two extremist groups in America have zero desire to change their hatred and continual fighting. FOOLishly, they think living in their own echo chamber, yelling LOUDly, will increase their membership, when, in fact, it only turns off more Americans!

If one person wants all abortions to be illegal, and another person wants every abortion legal, there is no national common ground-period! IT IS IMPOSSIBLE! Common ground is NOT as important as doing the right thing, which is protecting kids while also women's health and safety. Both/and.

CAN PRO-LIFE BE AN IDOL?

(1/27/22-2)

In social media land, any and all skeletons get exposed and exploited! EVERY politician must know this fact! Trump put all his fully out on the table, and CLAIMING "Christians" said "yahoo! That's my guy." The ONLY rational explanation is they're UNSaved, apostate, or Bible deprived! Abortion idol.

Let's now address pro-life as an idol (sin). Fetal worship.

1. The unborn are 100 percent innocent. They ARE sinners, through their parents-father, more specifically, but have yet to make any conscious evil decisions. The mothers are NOT that pure/innocent!
2. The unborn never asked to be started, and had NO say in the matter! They are, in a sense, victims of others actions, if they end up being unwanted!
3. God forms humans in the womb. He doesn't do so just before the third trimester, or in a test tube!
4. What God creates is valuable! Mankind was made in his image, and he said all His creation was good (not morally perfect creatures, but he was satisfied with what He had built)!
5. SO, how can anyone support legal abortion? ONLY if one supports women being healthy and safe, if they choose to sin and kill their child!

If one is for them being harmed or killed, because they chose to NOT carry to term, yet claim Christ, that's a pretty precarious position to claim. BUT, stranger things have happened, like supporting all these sins [See: The Case Against Donald Trump, at AmericanAnswers.org, Campaign Update] in the name of Jesus! NO ONE can be FOR/in favor of/approving of killing an innocent!

It would take a sickly demented reprobate to shoot a one year old toddler! We would lock them up, and jail birds would beat them to a pulp, as they do child molesters. So why do we treat the unborn different from a one year old? ONLY because they got birthed?

My convoluted point is abortions would not happen in any ideal world! We live in a fallen world. 100 percent bans of all abortions never ban all abortions! That is a "FACT, Jack!" And when women evilly choose to abort (legal or illegal), SHOULD THEY BE SAFE FROM INJURY OR DEATH?

You can't behave as an ostrich on this question! Therefore, the ONLY logical and moral issue is HOW TO LESSEN ABORTIONS, and CONVINCING WOMEN EITHER NOT TO HAVE ONE, OR ESPECIALLY HOW NEVER TO FACE SUCH A HORRIFIC CHOICE!

I have NO intention to ever participate in a march for life or death! The former is MUCH more holy than the latter, but it's much heat, not much light! It's total bans, or anything goes extremism/polar opposites! If they're not good in other areas, they're not good even in this extremely important area!

The clear answer is addressing motivating adoptions and foster care for pregnant women who don't want to carry to term or become moms! WHAT motivates humans? MANY things, and often money! Doing this the WRONG way could incentivize pregnancy for profit! That is going the wrong and opposite way we're trying to head!

Paying for pain and suffering of nine months of life interruption, physical discomfort, morning sickness, no sex to speak of, lost dating partner opportunities, medical costs, time off work, and ice cream and pickle cravings may be one thing to consider, but NOT where they get anything but expenses covered. NO profit! WHO would pay for that?

Just as Socialist freebies-seekers want taxpayers to fund their handouts, I believe taxpayers shouldn't pay for this incentive, but only those who feel strongest about preventing abortions, just like liberals should fund all freebies; NOT taxpayers! Put their money where their mouth is! If they didn't have to (or did, but still didn't want to, and gained nothing (personally) from it, many people would not 'wanna endure nine months to motherhood!

I've said states should consider such laws! Plan B for three days after all rapes and incest instances, IF the victim doesn't want reminders of the attack! Mother's life should always be mother's choice, and doctors know when their life's at stake, or they're trying to game the system, to abort late term!

Doctors could (rightly) face lawsuits, if they colluded, in cases where the life wasn't at stake (and medical notes and onlooking personnel would rightly report them). NO sane and humane human can say stick a coat hanger where the sun don't shine if you want to slaughter an innocent! Even a baby killer can't be legally shot by private citizens!

We don't allow emotions to determine rightful deeds, but laws, so wanting women to suffer whatever consequences for their sinful abortion choice cannot be our laws! The revered U.S. Constitution HAS/possesses a health and safety clause, as governments duty to uphold!

HOW to convince a pregnant woman to carry to term is the ultimate question for exploring, and it differs per person! Sonogram seeing only worked in ~211 cases of ~19,800 persons at one abortion-prevention clinic. VERY low success rate, using that method combined with wise counsel!

Pregnant women of most ages KNOW what their next nine months will be like! Many decide it's too high a bar to endure for an end result they don't want, and regret having started! Is baby transplant surgery even possible, to willing surrogates?

FETUS RETURNED TO WOMB FOLLOWING SURGERY (Published 1986)

Artificial wombs are coming. They could completely change the debate over abortion.

If a fetus can be transferred to a fabricated womb, can the right to abortion survive?
medicalnewstoday.com Embryo transfers: What you need to know. An embryo transfer is part of the process of in-vitro fertilization (IVF). It may be needed if there is damage to the reproductive system due to a medical condition or a genetic disorder.

Find out 100 percent abortion ban advocates SO care for the legitimate rights of the babies, and God's HIGH valuating of the same, that they 100 percent discount any value in creatures God also created; namely, the sinning mothers! Ironically, these same types used to say don't penalize the mom, but doctors!

WHY? You're willing to punish the mother with disfigurement, self-inflicted sterilization, or death, so WHY the hypocrisy? Open your minds, extremists!

P.S.: It is NOT "extreme" to value life. it IS extreme to only value one life of the two integrally entwined.

Here's the flow chart of the abortion decision, thinking and feelings:

1. Couples have sex
2. The female doesn't discover she's pregnant for 12+ days: <https://healthline.com/health/pregnancy/five-signs-to-take-pregnancy-test#when-to-test...>
3. A heartbeat can start in 18 days (1 billboard said)
4. Informed consent can be less than a week
5. ALL along she could and should have considered that possibility
6. By such time, anything she does, including Plan B, is killing a human-in-process of full-born birth
7. She has ~nine months of out-of-the-norm life to live, if her test tests positive
8. No matter the law, she can always find ways to end CRITICAL steps in that process are PRE-number one, and number two (pre-sex and discovering you're pregnant).

Texas law allows women some time to decide, not by mere speculation, but knowing they ARE pregnant. It's a short window, but they're not making a decision based on conjecture, but scientific fact!

IMO, it would be BETTER to take Plan B within three days of sex, unless you're positive the contraception worked, or you know you had sex safe! YOU KNOW if you had sex to become a mom, or for pleasure! Using a baby to hook some man is EVIL, anyway. It's just learning if you are or aren't pregnant!

MAYBE, in exceptionally extreme cases, the Pill doesn't protect, or condoms break. Take Plan B, after three days (excepting fertilization in day one or two), but it's better, if one is determined to destroy their own, to do so when he/she can't feel or be aware/conscious of it!

The earlier or punish a person for something outside their control! Broken contraception, rape and incest are beyond a woman's control! BUT, enforcement of this fact is near impossible! It's a he said she said as to why she got pregnant, that NO outsider could ever prove! I am positive libs and MAYBE couples use the rhythm method, and get their dates (not their date-joke) wrong.

Blue states will fight heartbeat laws going national, if SCOTUS so decides! There will be more challenges ending up with SCOTUS. But, in actual reality, "how long does it take you to decide you want to keep or kill your baby?," as Justice Roberts asked.

You can use antivaxer's argument that government is taking away freedoms, and hitherto Constitutional rights, but if SCOTUS concludes ~1973/Roe wasn't required by that document, the argument fails, as with the fact government isn't forcing you to do anything to your body; just not do something to it (negative rights).

I believe the national range from heartbeat to third trimester is the BEST SCOTUS decision. Personally, I'm OK with national heartbeat. IF they keep third trimester only, red states will concoct other legal challenges or restrictions for their pregnant women!

The ideal would be the three-day rule, nationally, only because total bans never account for rape and incest pregnancies as VICTIMS vs. villains, debunk the MYTH that contraception is evil, and allow women to have contraceptive failures they can recover from, legally!

They wouldn't get informed consent, but they would need to plan sex better, and always be cognizant that a legal decision must be made, if they chose promiscuity, UNLESS they planned to become a mom, as a result. Finally, mom's life should ALWAYS be her choice, up to third trimester!

After that, if SCOTUS has that as a set point, women would still be able to avoid suicide, by self-help, but it would be VERY difficult, involving established/experienced/skilled doctors-not just gut punches, but that legal barrier would be determined by SCOTUS.

IF Congress were ever dominated by either party, any gains would only be TEMPORARY! SCOTUS deals in the long-term, and STABLE laws! That's why they should NEVER be biased, or politicized! If ANY Justice ever uses their personal political feelings to decide a case, there should be negative consequences, and after a few, end their term! It's that serious!

I MAY have misstated something: SCOTUS only has to admit they made a prior mistake, on the issue of nationalizing abortion, IF they return the decision to states. For heartbeat cut-off, changed circumstances apply, with no such need for such an admission!

FORGET whether state laws can ban internet sales of plan B. Can they 100 percent enforce such laws? I seriously doubt it! You would literally need fam members turning in couples they knew just got pregnant! Private citizen like the S.S. police of Hitler!?

And my convictions are VERY firm, and Bible based, that God is FOR life! He is for the life of both parties involved—the mom and the baby. The baby is more innocent, but God's being FOR life isn't determined by one's deeds, but unmerited love. You don't earn/merit His respect for life!

I WANT A LIBERAL to tell me exactly when a fetus suddenly becomes human, and based upon what scientific evidence! (I'm practicing making shorter tweets)

MOST CONSERVATIVE IS MOST HOLY?

(1/29/22-2)

I've been over this before; think it bears repeating: Some Texas political candidate females TV ad has her hold a shot gun, then brag she helped pass "the most conservative" abortion bill," and she's endorsed by tRUMP and #CancunCruz. Direct attempt to lure Christian votes, via abortion!

NOT ONLY is the ad seeking to make the word "conservative" synonymous with holy/righteous/God's positions, DO YOU KNOW that Texas bill outlaws every abortion if Roe is overturned? WHAT are supporters of that bill FOR? Rape and incest victims forced to NOT take Plan B within three days of their attack.

Mom's forced to commit suicide, if it comes to push vs. shove. Contradictorily and hypocritically, even Texas' own heartbeat bill is retracted, via this trigger law, which means when Texas GOP's were in charge, they couldn't even make one good law, before they had to change it!

The other day a large church praised that trigger law, and maybe half clapped (peer pressure brought about some cooperative claps, in public; mainly sincere). These people have NEVER thought through what they are clapping for, regarding the women-period! It's awesome they are for the baby! It's stupid they can't see two parties are involved, even though with not equal culpability for their present situation!

I Cor. 7 speaks of sex obligations in marriage. If you listen to some extreme positions, apparently for power in numbers "unity" with Catholics, Protestants have said they oppose intelligent, responsible contraception! In the days the New Testament was written, the Apostle Paul speaks of sex as pleasure in marriage, and NOT just for family-building! So does the Song of Solomon!

The pull-out method was likely the ONLY way for God-designed sex to not cause babies, in those days. Catholics, for decades, have been stereotyped as having BIG families, and opposing birth control, on religious grounds.

On any and all stupid and unwise aspects of applying religious ideas, often wrongly interpreted or applied, I AGREE with Ron Reagan that its involvement in political discussions is NOT helpful, like opposing all blood transfusions, or not going to doctors, because one believes God always miraculously heals, and many other examples of religion abuse.

If ANYONE thinks CHUMP and Cruz are Christian role models because of their stance on abortion, they are fools, don't know what "Christian" means, and are naive single-issue voters, who haven't even considered any implications or ramifications of the vote they're choosing!

I've detailed MANY alternatives to a total ban. I've even addressed NOT having to face that awful decision. I've also dealt with REALITY that most women won't be convinced to take to term, once pregnant, and how the heartbeat law is good, as is Plan B before the baby is started and even before he/she feels the impact of that sin-full decision.

IT IS SAD that ILK of insult my wife and dad and I'll lick your boots and run to Cancun when my state is frozen over, and THIS guy's offer to America (below) is accepted by ANY Christian (excepting carnals), all because they're incapable of thinking through the alternatives I guess they'd never come up with!

There's a common/popular stereotype that Christians are naive or dumb, or exercise blind faith. DO NOT reinforce it, making it further valid! Love God with all your mind, and do everything in your power to find ways to lessen abortions and convince women not to have them, or to face them!

P.S.: READ I Cor. 7 and Song of Solomon! You're CERTAINLY not 'gonna hear any sermons based thereon with these conclusions! Far right conservatism believes ALL sex must be for procreation; never recreational, as even condoms, supposedly, deny a baby God has known forever from being started.

YES, God is 100 percent FOR life, and against murder! Case closed! But when TWO people are involved, not living in a theocracy, man-made laws are made, and courts, judges and law makers MUST consider the women's health and safety, or they are behaving unconstitutionally and immorally/inhumanely!

Best-qualified candidate is a belief we selectively adhere to! Being black is NOT a qualifier or disqualifier, and gentle Ben was certainly not the most-qualified for HUD, even though I love him greatly. Must tell the TRUTH! Gal. 4:16

Some even use Gen. 38:9 to oppose the pull-out method as "sinful." YES, there are "Christians" who believe every human can only have sex for babies. Morally, only within marriage (you hear FEW sermons on that), but Mexicans sometimes have fiscally irresponsibly large families due to Catholic anti-contraception ideas, and now even Protestants, for political power, are losing their minds/thinking ability, over the BIG topic of sex and abortion!

It's also unrealistic to think lost unmarried will forego sex, even if 'forced' by laws! Deal with the real!

Here we go again, and this message will be SO lengthy, it BETTER finalize ALL I'll ever think on the subject: ABORTION

1. Some Americans will NEVER be happy/content, or at peace, till zero abortions occur, or, conversely, till any abortions are allowed or can be had, even illegally!
2. Making a pregnant woman take to term for nine months is seen/felt as punishment for sex, by some, and sought to be forced/imposed upon them by religious edicts. That's JUST how some take it!
3. IF abortion is ever illegal, anywhere, what sentence would be just? Murder? WHY less?
4. America USED to have at-fault divorce and blue laws for no alcohol sales during church hours. If the Bible is what Christians are seeking to make law, people would be forced to attend church, and divorce would only have two exceptions. That's NOT how our democracy works, and even those laws have developed/evolved/changed! The trend is anything goes alcohol sales on Sunday mornings.
5. IF the Democrats would abandon all Socialist give-away program expansion ideas, and trade higher taxes, especially on the wealthy, for agreeing to ban abortions, far righters would STILL fight taxes.
6. Single-issue voters are NOT honest with themselves! If a politician said they'd push to ban all abortions nationally, but the economy was in the tank, America appeased terrorists and dictators, open borders occurred and taxes were raised sky high, these claiming single issue voters would NOT support such politicians, because life and society are NOT all about one single issue, no matter how important it is!
7. Pipe dreams are evil, if impossibly unattainable! You will NEVER end all abortions, till the Millennium, when Jesus rules with an iron rod! Women who don't want a kid will end their pregnancy, legal or illegal! The ONLY way to stop them all would be to break I to homes and force pregnant women not to order or use Plan B, use coat hangers, black market docs, gut punches, stair falls or poison! It's EVIL to lie to Christians that all can end! Sin!
8. Any belief that if we 'save the babies' God will love or bless us more is biblically unfounded. It's unmerited favor, though He is likely to bless people more if they do fight for His causes, using reason vs. fantasy. I saw a billboard, today, that read 'Cherish life-heart beats beats in 18 days.' Not so sure the science knows the range, as it's up to six weeks. May depend on the baby!?
9. IF aborting is NOT the unforgivable sin, WHY do some treat it as it's the one sin they must prevent people ever committing, at all costs? Answer: Because it's a human life. But you CANT stop a determined woman! They'll kill their child, even if all procedures are legally banned! HOW are you 'going to then tell them God will forgive you, but I won't, because I tried to guilt you into not doing it, or blame the doctor, but now I'm supposed to forgive you?

10. EVEN IF every Christian voted, and supported pro total abortion ban politicians, that doesn't guarantee such a national or state law! Every law eventually has to be deemed Constitutional! SCOTUS has the final say, unless Congress codifies Roe or bans, and SCOTUS doesn't rule it unconstitutional.

11. ANY wins for total bans or total abortions can be un-done when a party loses power, if SCOTUS doesn't make a final ruling So let's speculate on what scenarios are possible, depending on what SCOTUS might rule!

- a) They keep Roe, as is
- b) They adopt the heartbeat test
- c) They let all states decide for themselves THESE are the three options.

I, personally, believe they will opt for b, and maybe a. They'd have a HARD time explaining why the issue was so important that it needed to be nationalized, then reverse themselves and say they were 100 percent wrong, and it's OK that every state do whatever they like! Again, some people will NEVER be satisfied till their extreme is made national law!

That decision is up to SCOTUS, or a divided Congress that, at best, passes some decision/law, then overturns it when the party in power is no longer!

Even the heartbeat law won't satisfy some people, as they want NO abortions (most moral people have that same desire), or want to kill their baby when it hurts them more, and they're more conscious of the killing, even after born! Those people CANT ever be satisfied, and can never agree.

MAYBE some of them feel their state will be more blessed by God if it rules only for the baby—in every scenario—even if that ruling doesn't lessen one abortion, because red state women merely have them done in blue states (or using Plan B)?

As I said, the ONLY way to end all abortions is for government, or its S.S. secret police, to know every gal who is pregnant, then listen in on their private lives in their domiciles, to break in just before they start to end the pregnancy, if it is illegal! That will NEVER happen, and riling up votes through lies is sin/evil/vile/wicked!

I have NEVER faced needing an abortion, but if I was young and dumb and knocked up some gal, by mistake/accident, in certain circumstances I can see why they would want to undo their mistake! Plan B within three days does that, harming no one. IF there is to be a national standard, it should be a range between heartbeat and end of second trimester.

IF you had a three day rule, where every woman must take Plan B before three days of unsafe sex, if they don't want to birth a child, mothers life would still be an issue (forced suicide), and HOW, again, would government discover any self-help abortions in private?

IF the national standard became the heartbeat law, women blue states, and blue women in red states would still resort to self-help, or Plan B off the internet! ZERO abortions is selling a bridge in swamp land! Forced metal chastity belts are the ONLY way to ensure abortions can't occur! Lessening abortions is the morally correct phrase that should be used—NOT ending abortion!

Pipe dreams are myths! I find it funny that some Americans say other Americans cannot use contraception, cannot spill their seed, cannot use Plan B, and cannot abort for any reason (like rape or incest). Besides the HUGE population explosion that would irresponsibly ensue from implementing these religious tenets as secular laws, it's LITERALLY telling EVERY American, you can't have sex unless you are growing a fam, or adopting out.

This rightward push is not only seeking to force, by law, NO fornication or adultery (just marital sex), it even REWARDS marital rape, because NO ONE would ever inquire if the baby that ensued, by law, was from consensual or forced marital sex.

Finally, what penalty would a caught aborted face? A fine? Jail time? How would you catch every illegal aborted? The true solution to ending or lessening abortions is motivation and education to always choose safe sex! Contraception that cannot break, and Plan B before three days pass after sex.

EVEN THAT won't satisfy those who believe Plan B within three days is evil, or kills a person who hasn't yet started, as they believe God started them well before? If that's true, in every case, he knows not only those who get birthed, but those who never do. He can forgive it, and the innocent babies do go to Heaven.

One final thought: Those who say this issue is far beyond politics SURE like to rely on mainly politics to solve it! NOT convincing women, and seeking initiatives to change public perceptions and opinions, over time, like gays and green energy advocates patiently did! Ironic contradiction!

P.S.: HOW would you convince women to never risk unwanted pregnancy? Perfect contraception, always operational, until they choose sex to birth a child! THAT is the ultimate answer/solution, and maybe artificial wombs (still needing adopters) and baby transplant surgeries! Solutions exist.

IMO, it is 100 percent upon females to prevent all abortions! You can always be raped, no matter how strong you are. Be pro-active in preventing anything you don't want to face, be it rape or mere emotions-based unsafe sex, you felt overtook your critical thinking. PLAN AHEAD!

Could America FORCE women to plan ahead? Likely not, as we already see how many refuse Covid mandates! Could we fine women for having abortions, because they obviously chose not the safe sex route (unless contraception failed, and how would you prove that)? I have NOT addressed every intricacy of this complex issue, but it's sufficient for my tastes/liking!

Total bans don't end abortion, may not even lessen them, risk females health/lives, and don't address ways to lessen or prevent abortions, AS I HAVE SUGGESTED. STOP lying to dumber Christians that abortions will end with voting!

P.S.S.: I have polled many, many laymen Christians, and to a person they said NO to these three questions:

1. Are you FOR women endangering themselves to self-help abort?
2. Do you believe total bans end all abortions?
3. Should rape and incest victims be forced to take to term, or moms be forced to commit suicide?

These are godly, committed, moral and thinking Christian believers, and I have NEVER gotten any different answers! EVEN IF all Christians voted for total bans, other Americans can and will fight that, including stacking SCOTUS and breaking those laws! I'm DONE, here!

I "lied": One more PSS: MOST decisions, you can undo, if made in haste, drunkenness, emotional euphoria, or dumb luck, like returned products overpaid for, lemon laws for defective cars bought, etc. Babies are more important, of course, but WHO wants to take to term if they realize they screwed up, in more ways than one? That's quite a consequence!

Decisions DO have consequences, but who is to determine what laws say what's a just consequence for heat of passion sex? Now, go come up with your own thots on abortion. My interest is expended, now! I've said more than enough!

P.S.S.S.: THE difference between a terrorist beheading an infant, and abortion?

1. Unborn aren't yet birthed. Certainty of that happening is NOT guaranteed!
2. That's the moms child, and it came forth from her and is in her. The child is NOT standing on its own, independent of her.

P.S.S.S.S.: God loves every female, including those who sinfully abort. He can forgive all sins but one (and that one is NOT abortion). Your health and safety are also a concern of His, as is the life of your unborn child. You may NEVER be told these FACTS! I just told you. Don't believe lies!

And finally, to repeat, SCOTUS will ultimately decide what laws stay on the books concerning abortion. And technology may one day make the issue irrelevant! I pray for those days to be hastened, so people will quit manipulating lower IQs for politics, like NO money to help anyone! That's it.

Ways cons have sought to reduce abortions: defunding Planned Parenthood, shaming its workers and doctors to quit, and requiring remaining doctors to have hospital privileges. How they haven't sought to: Most of the many ways I have suggested, as they take time and effort, and aren't by force!

Joy Reid: 'Absolute worst' Manchin and Sinema 'don't care' about poor people <http://dlvr.it/SHxjxf> via @foxnews Birthed humans over the age of accountability go to Hell; aborted babies go to Heaven. Maybe if the Christian laymen who clamor so about abortion, spent half that energy doing evangelism, the world would be saved. MOST of them do little to no evangelism.

I HATE the quantity of posts on this topic, but education is essential! WHY do people risk pregnancy for sex?

1. Emotional euphoria (BAD planning skills well before)
2. Contraception fails (RARE)
3. Not liking the feeling of condoms (use the Pill)
4. Not THINKING about outcomes.

I can always abort later MUST be some women's attitude, for why they don't avoid unwanted impregnation! Too LAZY to take the Pill, or forgetting to!? You would KILL another human being because you're lazy, stupid or forgetful? (YES!) The height of sinful arrogance and evil!

There is ZERO excuse for ANY woman to have to ever abort, except for the mother's life, late in the pregnancy, as Plan B within three days kills no one, is relatively cheap, and can undo all errors of judgment of people too emotional or poor planners to have taken the Pill.

Making abortions VERY expensive would cause SOME lessening of abortions, but liberals and Planned Parenthood will work in the opposite direction-to make them cheap or free, or taxpayer funded! The public DESERVES to view a real procedure, from inside the womb/tomb, on late night TV!

The third trimester is OBVIOUSLY arbitrary, but some cut-off point was needed. It is NOT like after six months and one day, major changes occurred from five months and 30 days! But this argument always applies to every cut-off point, like tax brackets! Also, WHEN does a fetus become human, to libs?

NO liberal woman ever says, "my body, my right to kill myself!" They say, "my body, my choice" (to kill ANOTHER's self!). THINK about your actions, and also your stupid words sought to be chosen to describe your BAD actions!

MAN ON THE STREET QUESTIONS

(2/4/22-2)

EVERY Christian I have ever asked has answered the same on this:

1. Banning all abortions doesn't end abortions.
2. It's immoral to force women to risk health or life, via self-help.
3. Lessening abortions comes from pre-planning, contraception and/or Plan B up to three days after sex.

ASK ANY Christian layman, are you for women risking their health and safety to administer a self-styled abortion? Abortion will NEVER be ended in America, until Jesus returns! There are ~eight ways women will get one, even if state total bans are executed!

ASK any Christian:

1. Do you think a rape victim should be forced to relive her attack for nine months, then see her rapists face when she gives birth?
2. Same question for incest victims. Then ask,
3. Should the government force pregnant mothers to commit suicide?

It is from poor thinking, that we end up with erring and extreme political positions! LESS abortions occur by:

1. Perfect contraception you can turn off and on
2. Planning for sex's possibility (the Pill)
3. Plan B before three days expire
4. MAYBE paying willing women to take to term(?)

2. AMERICA

WHAT'S GOOD ABOUT AMERICA?

(11/30/21-2)

I speak OFTEN, here, about problems and solutions our society faces. Some may even call me "negative," because I untimidly call a spade a spade, and our condition is bleak (negative).

But just yesterday I was praying, saying 'what positives do You see in America, besides all our many faults?' The answers, in no certain order, are a combination of what I see, and the answer I believe the Lord gave to that prayer:

1. Millennials demanding better morals from our society (though often too harsh, with cancel culture; Ex: "justice")
2. Business excellence. America has some of the finest establishments in the world!
3. Laws protecting the public and worker's safety and well-being
4. A world-class higher education system
5. Some politicians wanting D.C. to be run rightly, and get things done
6. As economy that meets many people's needs
7. A safety net (when NOT over-done or abused)
8. Giving Pledgers (IF they do more than sign a piece of paper!)
9. Thousands of evangelists and missionaries (doing job one)
10. People who pay their fair share in taxes
11. Civil, human and Constitutional rights
12. Any churches doing significant social ministry
13. Any churches using valid spiritual gifts in ministry and edification of believers
14. Any significantly evangelistic churches (subjectively, I only know one)
15. Any Christian organizations that still do relational discipling, in practice
16. Charity and give back emphases in society (including GoFundMe)
17. Law and order (NOT including any police abuse or brutality)
18. Our imperfect but best in the world criminal justice system (NOT including any wrongly convicted)
19. The innovative spirit of Americans!
20. The movement to more responsible caring and preserving of our planet
21. The global good America always does around the world
22. Our preservation of scenic natural places
23. Our aforementioned freedoms of speech, religion, assembly, press, et al
24. Our belief in freedom (when nor wrongly warmed into immoral license)
25. Bible-teaching churches, accurately interpreting!
26. The mega church phenomena at least ensuring many people attend church
27. Our belief that anyone can do anything they set their mind to

28. Our ability to disagree with others, politically, state our case, and not have to be shut down by dictatorial government personnel, or engage any violence by so doing (NOT including any times violence erupts).

THESE THINGS make America great, and I believe God sees them, and approves of them! We need to see and expand them all, as the good our society produces, and not just focus on the negative, or what brings ratings, or riles people up to vote in ways we may want! Love your country, and never be ashamed to call her great! For she is! America number one!

PRO-BUSINESS

(2/24/21-2)

PRO-BUSINESS: It's fashionable to kick business owners around, politically, pretending they're all doing better than all others, and bad bosses to employees, for profit. Let's deal with the real. MANY new businesses FAIL! 20 percent in first year and 50 percent after five years.

It's a risk of one's capital (money) to open a new venture! Customers aren't guaranteed. Advertising to tell people of your new baby doesn't guarantee instant results. There's usually some competition. You pay hourly employees, whether the company makes any sales in any given hours, or not! The brick and mortar costs money thousands.

Overhead has to be recouped (sunk costs), and if you price your goods or services too high or too low, you LOSE, by losing customers or profit. Most people aren't good at being entrepreneurs! However, good ones bring life its great gadgets! Be THANKFUL they took that risk; reward them.

Update

A CEO cut his pay, so he could overpay his employees. That's his choice, but most wouldn't, as it's not market rate, and people love money. It might engender harder work and loyalty, but you can hire people for less and not overpay. Good hearted; business wise, as payoff for the overage? (3/27/21-2)

American businesses are STUPID to interject themselves into any political issue, because for every issue, near half your customers take one side or the other! If any executive can't understand what I just wrote, you don't deserve that title, or job! (4/3/21-2)

Have you noticed business's fight minimum wage increases, but executives ALWAYS get bonuses, huge salaries, and all the perks of life? Government is NOT to favor poor or rich! Levit. 19:15 Trickle down is the latter sin! So is government-based freebies, a sin. STOP the sinning! I Cor. 15:34 (4/6/21-2)

YOU DO NOT WANT TO KNOW what I think of businesses ONLY in business for profits, with ZERO concern for their employees' lives, or society! Outsource, import cheap labor, increase healthcare copays... EVERYTHING so only the rich enjoy this life. EVIL selfishness that MUST change! Satanic. (7/2/21-2)

HOW TO HAVE THE BEST ECONOMY

(3/3/21-2)

Apart from caustic conservatives' extreme, of slavery, no minimum wage, no workplace safeguards, no regulations, no taxes, no laws on truth in advertising or product safety, and ONLY investors benefitting, ALL these bring the best economy for America:

1. Lowest NEEDED taxes and regulations

2. Innovation and STEM expertise
3. Smartest and richest immigrants let in (controlled borders), prioritizing U.S. workers over foreign labor
4. Incentivized increase productivity
5. Best-trained work force
6. Rewarded risk-taking.

HISTORY OF MANAGEMENT-LABOR STRATEGIES

(3/20/21-2)

It HAS come down to this... Unjustly enriched rich people MUST be held to account by society and voters! Those who DON'T obey God (I Tim. 6:17-19) NEED to be the focus of society's ire! Those who DON'T significantly give to charity, or offer profit-sharing to their employees NEED to be targets of peaceful revolt!

Boycotts, work slowdowns, wealth tax (ONLY for the greedy SOBs talk radio host Mark Davis admitted exist, but asked what could be done about them). These measures could allay a South Africa-like uprising, and globally, the masses need to present them NO safe havens!

Even secession cannot protect them from the numbers negatively impacted by their selfish greed, as people numbers ultimately overpower security systems and personnel, though violence is NOT encouraged. I'm NOT speaking of over-paying employees, but NOT overpaying executives!

That problem is solved by taxing the selfish rich more, NO loopholes to their paying FAIR vs. unjust taxes (all Americans paying their fair share, in various ways), requiring profit sharing if profits are had (as ALL employees contributed to those gains), fairly negotiated wages; NOT business with ALL the leverage, due to globalization (outsourcing and importing labor, plus automation).

NO ONE CAN SEE, it seems, how business owners are holding ALL the cards, and government is to be the referee of justice! Overpaid executives are justified by the former likes of Limbaugh, saying someone paid them that amount.

YES, complicit boards of directors, often over-paid themselves, and selected for their fidelity or fame or fortune! Shareholders get top billing as to profits—NOT employees! DON'T YOU KNOW non-executives and non-shareholders outnumber those two groups? Voting for fair taxes is one thing. Uniting for better wages is another.

BUT, that unionizing is exactly what led to globalization! Many of you weren't here, in the 80s, but unions got the BIG head, demanding exorbitant wages for rust belt and blue collar labor, so businesses sought labor abroad!

Unions were given an ultimatum, and they didn't blink, so union workers got shafted by their union bosses' arrogance! It is always a balance, to find fairness! Equal leverage has to be governments aim-not favoring rich or poor! Levit. 19:15 Very literally, even if red states seceded, D-day has shown us if enough people are unitedly committed to a cause, no armament can stop a committed horde!

IF the rich in America want to avert violence, a destructive boycott of products and labor force, or even being targeted wherever they may move, fairness in wages has to be addressed; NOT just what the market will bear! I'm NOT contradicting myself (I probably never do); I didn't say over-pay anyone, but share the profits, and give back generously from your excess and overpaid salaries! I didn't say a business should do so if breaking even, or failing!

Selfish (vs philanthropic rich) can wall themselves in, hide in tinted windowed limos, have security detail, use private jets, live opposite no man is an island, but the masses have the power in numbers, and your day is coming, if you don't change your ways, IMO! Just LOOK at where society is trending: MORE automated jobs! MORE unemployed Americans is what that means!

A revolt will happen, and be justified! When global competition has businesses racing to replace humans with technology, WHERE DO THOSE HUMANS GET SUSTENANCE? Government! Higher taxes on those with jobs!

Yang's UBI, and Zuckerberg's money30K/year have been proposed, as SOME people SEE this impending crisis. WHY should only the elites have it good in our world? I have said MANY times, that God doesn't usually intervene directly in the affairs of society, in our generation/times, preparing the world for His JUST Tribulational punishments.

He gave U.S. brains, and the image of God/conscience, to be His feet and hands! If we abuse those gifts, we allow injustices to continue, because we selfishly benefit from behaving unjustly! Justice is His standard! Mic. 6:8

ANY contract that allows ONE human to make MILLIONS extra, off making his/her business more profitable, is unjust to the employees, and over-rewarding! The people WILL, rightly, rebel against such a system! Capitalism needs reforms. Those benefitting from its ills won't be the ones to make the needed changes!

EVIL (vs good) rich people will just try to flee, or protect their assets in secretive ways. There is NO guarantee that a South African uprising can occur, and D-day proves there is no place left to hide, when wronged people unite to exact PEACEFUL vs. violent justice.

Within the boundaries of God's revelation, a just world could be had! NO severe suffering poverty, no under- or overpaid employees, no overpaid executives, no selfish rich (I Tim. 6:17-19), etc. Will it happen? I'd bet against it! That's one reason coming judgment is coming, IMO!

Update #1: Economic Growth

(3/20/21-2)

Economic growth and a successful economy are being defined differently by these two viewpoints! Are investors doing good, vs. is everyone doing well!

DON'T get me started on centrist economic theory! Conservatism says lowest taxes, and defines markets rising as success (investors blessed more). Liberalism says government gives freebies to non-investors, as success. Centrism denies BOTH of these assertions! I guess a little explanation is in order:

Lowest taxes NEEDED, vs. desired by extremists. Most efficient/streamlined government possible. NO freebies. Welfare re-envisioned to empower self-sufficiency. Rich freely giving back to society (ALL of them), and taxes paid by and fair to all! business with profit sharing if profitable.

LEAST regulations NEEDED, vs. wanted by extremists (they both want too many or too few).

Immigration ONLY allowing entry to skills our economy NEEDS, that don't take jobs away from U.S. citizens. Outsourcing limited, if not ended. Robotics regulated so unemployment doesn't skyrocket.

FAIR taxes, where every citizen pays in, or works off their tax bill by compulsory civic service (excepting mentally or physically disabled to work folk, who live off government). THIS is rational and moral economics, fair to all, and the ONLY type I'll ever approve of! NOT partisan!

ABSOLUTELY NO U.S. business pays ZERO in taxes! STATES can bribe corporations to come to them, by tax washes, but the feds MUST get their share from businesses. This formula is the ONLY right way of running an economy. Innovation will fuel its growth, in 2024. A RACE to first to market!

Update #2: Business in America—A Reckoning

(3/22/21-2)

Explorers. Founders. Settlers (expansion and gold rush). Agriculture and slavery. The Industrial Revolution. The Depression and workplace laws. War Time and Rosie the Riveter. Entrepreneurship. Globalization (and outsourcing). Automation and work amenities.

Immigration (and layoffs). Moral revolution at work (#MeToo, equal pay, no sexual harassment, no race discrimination in hiring, LGBTQ rights, executive excessive pay). Society is in the moral reckoning phase of business relations (and that's a GOOD thing).

If THAT message hasn't given you perspective on where America has come from, and how we've evolved, both as a society, and specifically in business relations, it's because I didn't put enough words into the eras of history I delineated. I trust public school did that work for us all.

(3/25/21-2)

People trying to force business into equal pay and raised minimum wage must have amnesia, that using government to get a pay raise is what caused globalization in the first place, when unions demanded excessive salaries, so business looked elsewhere for its labor pool!

NO business is perfect, so you do with what you have to work with, and if you're in management, you strive to perfect it, daily!

Business' JOB is to keep expenses to a minimum, including labor costs. Employees/workers job is to get as much as they can for themselves and their family. Government's job is to ensure these transactions are legal, and not oppressive or fraudulent. NOT setting the price!

Update #4

(3/25/21-2)

HOW do you cure executive over-pay, and multi-million dollar bonuses for making a company profitable, when that's their job, anyway? They won't self-police! Big fish could set the pace (Wal-Mart, et al), but laws may be one of the few ways to exact justice.

Let's admit Amazon has it GOOD: Richest American, pays no taxes (UNfair to taxpayers), and can't unionize. Should any of that change? Bezos legally negotiated that comfy position, but answer is YES, as justice is always the end-game! He wouldn't like that, but greedy folk like injustice.

Public schools NEED to teach our youth how to negotiate the best wage and sell yourself, if not how workers can leverage power in numbers, to counter business's advantages of immigration, outsourcing and robotics/automation! Government is the umpire vs. workers attorney on wages—minimum wage etc.

Update #5: Does Wealth Trickle Down?

(4/6/21-2)

Does trickle down work? Yes and no, and depends on who it works for. For the rich and businesses, it obviously works. For everyone else, only generally, like living in a rich nation with amenities publicly owned, or more charity assets, but not so much about wages! ONLY if executives are generous.

WHY does the market allow over-paid executives, but not over-paid workers? Because management holds most all the power, and decides, especially to bless their own! Power between workers and management NEEDS to be near equal, if you are to have a just economy! NOT everyone with equal wages.

Is the economy a finite pie? Not individually, but pretty much, collectively. Market shares can change, but growth is not nearly as large as people who hear this adage may think: The sky's the limit. It's certainly NOT unlimited for everyone, or most people, if they lack skills to do so.

I've said extreme conservatives would have NO PROBLEM with one man or woman owning it all, if he did so legally. THAT is the problem with their economic theory. Individualism to an extreme! Everyone else can die of starvation, unemployed, and that's moral, because economics is amoral, say they.

Business has ZERO incentive or reason to pay labor more, unless your skills are exceptional! Unions, and less people would force them to, from lack of labor supply, or threat of strikes! break that cloud ceiling! The more the rich get richer, the more assets are held in less hands!

That's ALWAYS caustic conservatism's answer to everything!: Bless the most blessed, and MAYBE all others will receive a blessing. (3/16/21-2)

Trickle down doesn't work in any direct way, but ONLY in a general way, if more charity comes from richer folk, or businesses hire or pay more. Those are DECISIONS executives make, when it's often to bless shareholders and receive bonuses for themselves—NOT worker wage increases! (4/3/21-2)

Update #6: Cut Us Off!

(4/7/21-2)

Banks put LIMITS on how much credit citizens can borrow through credit cards. THEIR money becomes at risk with low credit rating clients. WHO cares about QE3 printed currency? Chinas too DUMB and keeps letting America borrow. CUT U.S. OFF! @GovernChina YOUR investment is shaky/risky! DUH!

For COMPLETE butt heads: FAKE dollars flood the market! Your money is worth less, backed by nothing, and you have to work more hours to earn it, when you ALLOW U.S. government to print QE3 currency! Cut off Uncle Sam! It's time to consider NOT paying your taxes! Biden's on a Binder Binge! #CutAmericaOff @GovernChina

DEFINING A GOOD ECONOMY

(5/22/21-2)

WHATS a "great economy," and how do we achieve it, to BEAT China?... What we're up against: For America to BEAT China, we must first understand what China is doing to gain and overtake us! ALL these are contributors to their ascendancy:

1. Sweat shop child labor
2. Masses of bodies, many under-skilled but lots with great education they often received HERE

3. U.S. dollars from manufacturing outsourcing
4. STOLEN/hacked trade secrets
5. Government-private sector unison, even by force. "Dumping" (subsidizing) etc.
6. Growing, committed military, willing to exert power beyond their borders
7. Efforts to make the Yuan, or at least NOT the dollar the global currency
8. New economic alliances, to counter America's, including allying with our foes, not just economically
9. Communist leaders who take the LONG approach to strategic competitive advantage
10. A historic pride in demanding a return to the days when their empire ruled

WE, in America, have:

1. Companies willing to move away, outsource, and import the cheapest wage for the output
2. Youth and others demanding freebies galore, and a party willing to gain power by supplying that, mainly funded by their rivals
3. Porous borders, so our sovereignty to decide who our economy wants here gets violated
4. A somewhat prevalent entitlement attitude among green workers that they deserve more pay (higher minimum wage, etc.)
5. Pandemic over-payment of subsidized unemployment
6. LESS risk taking innovation, from start-up costs and a litigious culture
7. Greedy executives, whose over-pay could easily reward the hardest workers, and executives still live in luxury
8. People who believe stock markets are the only determinant of a good economy, along with GDP (even though China has different criteria of leverageable manufacturing, near slave labor waged workforce an nauseum, dollars cumulated, etc.)
9. HUGE national debt and money spent being the world's policeman (which takes money away from a growing economy), and,
10. "Inequality" and poverty that can ruin economic policy through voting, and wants government vs. self to fix their condition

These two opposing forces are in competitive tug-of-war, and I KNOW who I'd bet on, IF I didn't know the American spirit!

An economy grows when productivity is high, as with efficiency, and innovation, litigation averse, risk-taking rewarded, taxes competitively low, manageable debt (NOT large, as a boat anchor), entrepreneurs are incentivized, immigration brings in the best, and STEM/technology and out-thinking makes up for advantages China has in cheap labor for manufacturing.

It is NOT just the rich getting richer, but their giving back in ways that advance society and make America's economy number one, simultaneously. They MUST learn you can have enough! You got your luxuries, and your heirs for generations, and received enough accolades for that achievement!

NOW, it's time you did something for more than just your own! Help make America number one again, with the BEST infrastructure, all citizens empowered to be their best, skill-wise, so they solve their own economic trials.

Patriotically KEEP your companies HERE! THINK how America can out-manufacture China, through technology/robotics. Learn to pay workers for productivity—not just by the hour. Schools teach students how to buy the wisest for the best value, and make co-ops and apps to identify the best deals.

If China is going to use tax money to subsidize business, America must consider 10 hours a year compulsory civic service, to drive down government costs, and our debt! "FREE" labor as one's patriotic give back duty, like the military does MUCH more than 10 hours (though for pay).

ANY charity or activity you enjoy you can find 10 hours to do, in one year, to lower our federal budget! Streamline government like I live—cheaply! Twenty percent across the board cuts are NOT out of the question! Necessity is the mother of invention!

Bureaucrats will learn creativity when their belts get tightened (and MAYBE customer service skills, vs. only anal rules enforcement skills).

THESE measures, as well as a center for global innovation, can launch America into number one position, again, and we have to develop software to own a true firewall against extortion and hacking of trade secrets!

We also must rule the skies, even to where UFOs may originate, as Russia and China are surely, secretly developing technologies to gain the UPPER hands, as well as free flow of goods and trade, globally, in international shipping waters! NEW alliances must be formed to counter BRIC and Communist alliances!

Our military, of necessity, must be far superior in capability and technology to any secret black ops programs of our rivals. And with a commitment to justice and morality, America can, again, return to number one position, economically, militarily and morally!

LEADERSHIP! Peace through strength. Finally, my writings on innovation, and skills I'll display in a campaign, should be utilized to start that Mecca of Innovation center, and our culture MUST stop treating the rich who don't give back as heroes!

Shareholders are NOT the only people this great economy should benefit, but blue collar, hard-working average Joes, IF their productivity merits it (no gifts, but also no chinchy or over-paid executives).

THIS is how we grow our greatest economy, and return America to her historic number one position! Maximize our God-given blessings!

Quite literally, obesity and diseases ROB our economy of labor hours, and innovation must be brought to bear to eradicate these drains on the system, as well! It's a holistic approach to growing the greatest economy capable by a united United States, under divine providence!

DEATHLY DEBT

(5/27/21-2)

I am 100 percent FOR the lowest taxes needed! I'm 100 percent against ALL freebies. However, I also believe God, Who states I Tim. 6:17-19! THAT message many Christians AVOID, for Constitutional life, liberty and the pursuit over obeying God's command to teach to rich folks! Heresy! Give generously!

America's problem with federal spending is:

1. TOO MUCH quantity

2. Too much waste
3. Horrible buying skills
4. Luxuries
5. NOT streamlined
6. Do without, more!
7. Ignoring our debt, to our demise! FIX it, morons! Get more for less! I know how to! Do you? Stretch dollars! Be wise stewards.

I GUARANTEE I can do a thorough audit of all federal spending, and easily get MORE out of our budget for 20 percent less in almost every department! Incentivized workers, held accountable, and ended waste. Government SHOULD be run like a business, and my household is a prime role model of money efficiency!

Handouts are UN-sustainable, unjust and irrational! Biden has proposed MANY expenditures, but the emperor has no clothes! He has zero plans for getting more from the budget for less in the budget, because that's how politicians are! Business people watch their bottom lines—effectively.

Best bang for the buck/belt-tightening/living on a shoe string... these adages NEED to apply to our federal budget! NO MORE MR. NICE GUY! EVERY citizen has to pay taxes, in one form or the other, so they get PAINED when politicians over-spend! No justice, no peace, and paying zero is UN-just!

ACTUAL infrastructure SHOULD only be necessary repairs or replacing! We have no budget surplus, as in Clinton's day! True investment has a payoff. LIES, labeled "investments" are money down a rat hole, or unneeded, or a luxury. Fiscally drastic times of DEBT call for drastic measures!

Our national debt MUST be reduced. I know how. Most politicians care, but do nothing about it. Some want it larger! WHAT college course did they fail, that thinks that's a good idea? It can crush economies, stifle growth, China can cut us off, raise rates, or end dollar as reserve currency.

The day the U.S. dollar ISN'T reserve currency America can no longer print QE3 backless bucks! Eventually, inflation comes after over-flooding the market with worthless paper bills! and debt is a barrier to growth, and an interest payment obligation where money could be better spent for America.

DID YOU KNOW America can HARDLY pay her minimum credit card payment? It's called the debt ceiling, and our credit rating will suffer if politicians don't keep upping the ceiling. That's a delusional fix! Banks cut people off, at a certain point. We have no fiscal discipline, as federal politicians!

The poor are NEVER going to pay down our debt! They don't pay anything, already! It's the middle class and rich who need to be up in arms about our escalating national debt! Your investments will TANK, one day, when the blank hits the fan! Chinas not stupid, to keep funding a bad investment.

WATCH what happens if America ever defaults on our loans to China, or our credit rating topples, from creditors rating us lesser, for only raising our debt ceiling continually! Money will be tighter, interest rates rise, economy stall, less loans available, recession possible! Eco 101

HERE is the TRICK of many career politicians: I will retire, before the sh-# hits the fan on our national debt. That will become someone else's problem, and I'll have my pension and Social Security. THAT selfish attitude is why America keeps kicking the can down to future generations—EVIL!

China would be wise to diversify who she funds! America as an investment is becoming more a house of cards, as NO politician seems to have any fiscal discipline, because it's Other People's Money, and they can bribe votes, to keep their lucrative jobs with many perks! Corrupt system! FIX IT!!!

Average Joes don't comprehend when government prints dollars that aren't replacing old dollars, or have no backing, it's FAITH that makes that paper worth anything! NOT substance or actual innate value, like gold or other assets, which always have intrinsic value. Your money's worth less.

When the feds print funny money, YOU HAVE TO WORK HARDER or longer hours, just to maintain status quo! Your dollar has less buying power! Inflation alone requires you to get a cost of living wage increase, but many dent! Politicians take advantage of your ignorance of basic economics!

A gallon of gasoline used to cost 25 cents. Now it's near $3. That escalation, over time, is called inflation. Colleges used to be reasonably priced. NOT now! The only people who can afford to live here, when everyone wants to raise prices, will be the millionaires! Gone amok!

HOW do the poor endure price increases, in groceries, cars, gasoline, rent (Ex.: DFW housing market)? Not every job allows you continual overtime! Maybe they add a part-time job? It's not easy to remain in America when inflation occurs! Consider moving elsewhere, or get better skills!

I'm going back to sleep, but does ANYONE recall when Clinton had a budget surplus? Conservatives would say return that to taxpayers! I say we need to return to an economy that has a surplus; then decide what to do with it. Step one is such a return! THOSE were the glory days!

IF you define a "good economy" as just how the stock markets are faring, YOU don't GIVE A DAMN ABOUT half of the American population! trickle down is a MYTH, as bosses can re-invest in robotics, vs. pay workers more, and replace them with those! #CommonSense

P.S.: Lenders don't want you to pay off your loans/debt, except enough to show you will and can, as needed, for they make money on their money when you owe (interest). They want their money to grow, so they loan it out. They don't accept bad risks. They want their money to work for them!

HOW YOU MAKE MONEY MATTERS!

(5/30/21-2)

THIS is no technicality, but a KEY distinction for the Christian life. See Jas. 4:13-15; it's NOT evil to make plans to make money, but if those plans aren't submitted to God, it IS! Doing what you want, unsubmitted to God, in prayer, is evil and carnal! We ALL have to make money to survive.

The more you make the higher your quality of lifestyle. SO, you might conclude the goal is make as much as you can! IS THAT DECISION SUBMITTED TO GOD'S WILL, IN PRAYER, because if it's not, it's sin-full!

I watched a Mob TV show, last eve, that said "were not priests or counselors we don't care what you do, were here to make money." That attitude CAN permeate legitimate businesses!

EVERYTHING is decided by if it makes or saves the company money, and HOW they gain it is no consideration. Apart from ethical management, or government, the most money could be gained by lying, cheating, deceiving and over-working employees!

Society has decided 'anything for money' is NOT good public policy, so we have overtime laws, mandatory breaks, workplace safety laws, etc. We don't let ads be completely BIG lie/fakes (truth in advertising), though we allow puffery. We don't allow consumer safety to be endangered, and we have laws against bait and switch and fraud.

HOW you make money MATTERS! You could make money pimping out women, but it is WRONG! That TV show showed South American males with families having to make a living, as justification for packaging then muleing Heroine, swallowing packets. That's WRONG, but we use the excuse we have to make money.

Bernie Madoff made money, but HOW was wrong. Bank robbers make money, but HOW is wrong. I bought some nine volt batteries for a skitzo fire alarm, and they were $7.50 each, when were it not three am they'd have been $1 each, during normal business hours, NOT at a convenience store. Highway robbery, but not wrong, because I could have waited till 8am to go to Dollar Tree.

HOW you make money MATTERS, not only to God and society, but your own health. Being a workaholic is WRONG, yet we males often justify it as bringing home the bacons well! Ripping off customers, and taking advantage of a sucker born every day is WRONG, yet it happens all the time.

Fortunately, America has laws against employers refusing to pay earned wages, as society knows that way of making 'mo money is WRONG. Jas. 5:6 shows employers who got away with this WRONG!

Being sue-happy as a way to force money making is WRONG (not suing when you have a righteous claim). Jas. 2:6; I Cor. 6:1-8 THE important distinction I am making, and that business schools will NEVER teach you ("economics is amoral, and the purpose of business is profits) is it matters HOW you make money!

I know an industry that repeatedly breaks the law to make money, because there's little enforcement. The mafia, obviously, cares NOTHING about HOW they make money, where anything goes. Extorting hackers don't care HOW they make money, or child abductors demanding ransom. "HOW" MATTERS!

My dad quit a job where his owner boss required him to sell inferior quality product, and state that it was a certain quality that it was not. That's a childhood memory I CAN remember, and that has stuck with me to this day! He had been the lead salesman, and I hope that business went out of business.

That TV show showed one guy make $2,000 in 20 minutes, and another make $90K in three days. IS THERE NO JUSTICE IN THIS WORLD, when people can get away with gaining such amounts illegally, and corrupting our society and killing our people to make such exorbitant figures? IT MATTERS how you make money!

Hit men make money, if they're successful! Child sex traffickers and drug lords and mules make money. Paid whores make money. Illegal Moonshiners make money, as do abortion clinics. IF there's NO justice after death, these ought fear nothing, making money the WRONG way! Rom. 14:12 Fear God!

There's a point where I had one date with a gal my junior high school year, who became Miss Hollywood, years later. She lost a lucrative career, there, because she wouldn't go topless to gain acting parts. THAT IS STANDING FOR MAKING MONEY THE RIGHT WAY! Few people care HOW they make their money! Do you?

It's HARD not having money, and we all need it to survive. Ecc. 10:19 From those FACTS you can EASILY be tempted to believe however you can make a buck is all that matters, and that you can never have enough. God disagrees with those two evil conclusions! Lk. 12:16-21

God deems one rich, at which point they are required to generously give back; they have enough for themselves and their heirs! I say it makes sense that points when you can live well off conservative interest on your nest egg. You have any better definition of when that is?

FREE OR FAIR MARKETS?

(2/22/22-2)

Let me explain free markets to poor people. Whenever anyone tells you the man is sticking it to you, you agreed to your wage! That's free willed choice on your part. BUT, you took the offer, because that's the best or only offer you got, or the only one within a finite timeframe!

IF you had FULL knowledge, employers do NOT all pay the same. That info is hard to come by, on purpose! And unless you want a bad reputation, you don't quit jobs any time greener pastures are found. Politicians have told you vote for them and they'll fix this for you.

But WHAT happens when laws seek to "help" the poor? Taxpayers and businesses get charged more. And they DON'T take that on the chin! They gum up such laws, till their group is in power, or businesses pass on increases, or fire people. Taxpayers vote in larger numbers, to undo it, soon after.

Businesses also move from America, or import more labor, so wages drop. They are NOT 'gonna take increased government costs (taxes) lightly! YOU can't rely on politicians to bring you a better lifestyle! They will ALWAYS fail, as opposition always confronts them. There ARE some gains that SEEM permanent: Welfare and Medicaid.

But if GOP ever lands a landslide, those will be curtailed! USUALLY both parties can endure 2-four years of the others' rule, till they can undo the damage, or have stalled their agenda so little happens! People don't agree to unfair things!

If you offered a baby sitter $3/hour, you'd never get any takers! The price paid has to enter the range of going rate! We'd all like to be over-paid, but what company would do that, and why? ONLY for exceptional talent, or hard, quality work!

You should seek power in unions, and profit sharing, but freebies are RIGHTLY begrudged by taxpayers! If you care nothing about fairness, don't mouth no justice, no peace! YOU wouldn't like government telling you you have to pay a dog walker $50 an hour! You'd rather pay the best deal you could get for the same quality!

And illegal labor usually offers to work for lower wages, from foreign standards of living and fear of drawing attention, and getting deported. You should OPPOSE illegal immigration! It hurts you!

Even robots hurt you, in lowest-skilled jobs! Your annual pay, times three, can buy a robot that lasts much longer than three years! You are expendable. Going rate changes with less laborers, or more jobs-period! Increased minimum wage only causes less people to be hired, and more people to be fired (laid off), or more robots replacing humans. This ISN'T hard to comprehend! NO economics course required, or even college!

If a poor person REALLY wants a bump in income:

1. Do extraordinary work quality
2. Do excessively intense labor
3. Out-work your peers
4. Shop yourself around, even to different cities. LEARN which companies pay more!

5. Get better skills-meaning more in demand
6. Spend frugally and wisely
7. Learn how to succeed in investing
8. Open a business, or get into management
9. Do sales
10. Invent something, or create a product, song, or something marketable, you can make money off of
11. Have multiple income streams. DON'T grovel for government gifts; that backfires.

A good mall friend claims Indian heritage for benefits. Also angry at government as he can't get insurance, because his illnesses haven't been concretely diagnosed. I told him you haven't looked hard enough! There's likely a doctrine in America that you just haven't found, yet; keep looking! It shocked him.

One more thing: Dems try to get freebies incrementally. The pain is less, when the water in the pan boils the frog, over time. Taxpayers will NOT take more freebies. They're usually smart, as smart people make money, so they pay taxes. They know freebies are paid only by them! They revolt.

HOW could taxpayers rebel against Socialism?

1. Hire zero Dems
2. Fire all Dems
3. Secede
4. Hide assets to pay less taxes
5. Civil War
6. Move away from America
7. Red states ban them, and appealing to SCOTUS. They're NOT the answer! Charities alone give gifts! Uncle Sam isn't Santa Claus.

CHURCH CAMPAIGN MESSAGE

(2/2/22-2)

THE job one is evangelizing every living soul one last time, even if they have or haven't yet ever heard that message! EVERYTHING else is secondary! IF you don't share this conviction, I ask your church members to fire their pastor, right away!

LETS GET ONE THING STRAIGHT: If anyone gets saved, as a result of our evangelism, they NEED a church home/family, and to be disciplined. With livestream and computers, that NEED not be within driving distance!

And if recipients of those broadcasts can identify themselves in nearby areas, home churches (as we see in Acts) could sprout up everywhere, like cell groups, or church viewership meetings. That's all church is, today, anyway, for many folks. No activity required but to observe!

Gateway Church has the model business model for growth! They use technology to unite watchers all over. Heck, if you can't sprout a local church through viewership parties for a church, start a local church that alternates which church they livestream! I have two in mind that should dominate the planet, if done righteously! It's NOT about church growing, but evangelism! Get job one done first.

I NEVER know if people who read what I write comprehend what I intend them to understand! I try to use analogies, but so many people aren't well-versed in the Scripture; sometimes I worry I'm speaking Greek! I work hard to make my concepts pop up in your mind as a clear picture!

I am saying that literally every human over age five or six needs one last gospel presentation, if they aren't sure they're going to Heaven! The ONLY people to do this work are willing Christians, and that is NOT all Christians! The remnant must make up for the slackers! I Cor. 15:10; Col. 1:24

Update: Glorify God

(1/23/22-2)

When anyone says man's ultimate purpose is to glorify God, ask them what exact deeds that term means? MANY people who claim that they do NOT engage EDBS priorities. Christians are to do everything to honor/glorify God. Omit EDBS, and your LIFE is NOT God-honoring!

Christians' sole purpose in life is not evangelism, BUT ONE of their top reasons for being here IS! It's the ONLY activity you can do that implements why Jesus came to earth, and that can show ultimate love to lost people! ANY Christian who doesn't evangelize CAN'T honor God with their life spent before Heaven-period.

And if any Christian isn't growing in Christ (discipleship), their life is at enmity with God, and isn't glorifying Him. And if you aren't serving the body (Body Life) and the world (Social Ministry), like Jesus did, you are only serving yourself, which is sin and NOT being a disciple.

say man's ultimate purpose is to glorify God, ask them what exact deeds that term means?

In American Christianity, we are OFTEN told, go to church, "tithe," be a good person, pay your taxes, work your job and obey the law. Be a law-abiding citizen. These are ALL good things to do, but absent EDBS, can be a 100 percent carnal lifestyle! NO Bible, prayer of Holy Spirit/faith required! Sight-walking!

CAMPAIGN SERMON 1: EDBS PRIORITIES

(2/3/22-2)

IF the universal Church refuses to obey II Chron. 7:14, and do God's top four priorities, have qualified ministers, and biblical church practice, WHAT would you expect will occur? Judgment! I Pet. 4:17 As goes the Church, so goes your nation!

SINCE 1978, evangelism and discipleship have waned, due to the rise of the "church growth movement." People getting rich catering to often poor pastors' desire NOT to be poor, using secular methods: More entertaining sermons, divorce recovery and marriage enrichment seminars, bounce houses, petting zoos, casually-clothed preachers, architecture—ANYTHING to attract lost people to church, if not sinful.

Lifestyle Evangelism became its Bible. IF you don't accuse God of being a liar, and sincerely believe He is truth, and cannot lie. II Chron. 7:14 TELLS us why America is as she currently is, and what His solution is for our many problems! Morals in America have waned, over a generation. WHY?

When you LESSEN evangelism, LESS Americans become Christians/get saved. and when you only rely on sermons for discipleship, Christians do not live much differently from lost people. These statements are clear, and common sense. And that is why morals lessened in society!

And when the emphasis in pulpit circles became numbers/membership, business and money take precedence from God's values, out of necessity, as first place can't be occupied by two things at once. NOW, we see the fruit of what we have sowed, including supporting EVIL, below, more recently.

Racial strife, extremism, ideology worship, hatred, violence, demonizing opponents, Socialism pushes, shoving views down others' throats, with EXPECTED backlash. ALL these things come from the condition of the Church, IF God didn't lie, writing II Chron. 7:14. IF you take that verse in reverse, if Christians WON'T do those four things, God will NOT heal America.

A third judgment is coming. I DON'T KNOW what evil any given U.S. Christian engages, especially privately! But we must turn from them, if America is to be healed! I must ask God's forgiveness for over-eating, impatience and cussing! II Chron. 7:14 says doing this is the solution for our broken nation! Ask Him to convict you.

HERE's what has to occur, in America, which no human can concoct: Revival, II Chron. 7:14 I have zero knowledge how you get Christians to become disciples! I can't dream up a sermon that would work! I can only use experience to say loving nagging worked for me, to get me into the Bible.

IF you notice, Jesus didn't have to often explain why one would want to choose to become a disciple of His. He knew His lifestyle was contagious, and His words were uniquely authoritative. Plus, His miracles and perfect ethics were abnormal. People WANTED to follow Him; not all, of course.

The life Christ led led many to be led by Him. That is what discipleship is. I BEG every believe to pray for a serious crisis! That's what it took for me to be committed to Him. I can't speak from Scripture, but experience: Holy nagging and a crisis. EVERY Christian needs those two things!

I've written a logical argument for why to evangelize, but I like logic. Others may not. IF they did, you could build a case following the lines of:

1. God saved you to become holy, among other reasons.
2. God rewards holy living.
3. The Bible is Gods means for sanctification.
4. Therefore, if you aim to please/glorify God by how you love your years, you will meditate on His word. Many people became disciples, NOT knowing Gods word, much, in the New Testament.

It is the sovereign power of the Holy Spirit that can zap Paul with light, turning him into one of the greatest evangelists-ever-starting that career ~three days after conversion. It is power that we need, by praying for it! God's power is needed to soften a hardened heart. If we want more disciples, we need more prayers for power.

I would BEG any church to have a repentance ceremony, where all got on their faces, to ask forgiveness, and some may even confess some sins, within limits. IMO, that could spark a process of preparation for revival. I'm 'gonna see if any weekly/temporary pastor gigs are available!

CAMPAIGN SERMON 2: REVIVAL

(2/3/22-2)

My name is _____, and I would like to speak to you about how God could fix America.

I am NOT talking political solutions, secession, elections or specific solutions to specific problems, or sticking one's head in the sands of denial. Many are saying, and many articles are stating that America may be on the brink.

However, I do not believe our best days are behind us. But, if things remain the same, that may very well be the case. May I suggest to you, on the authority of God's word, what The Great Physician prescribes as the cure for our many ills? In fact, that solution is sitting here, in this room. And as an old TV ad said, look in the mirror!

YES, I am suggesting that God's answer to America's many problems lies in these pews you are sitting in—namely, you. Please allow me to prove that premise to you. Please open your Bibles to an old Testament book called II Chronicles, chapter 7, verse 14.

We, Christians, are NOT the Jews or Jewish nation that verse was specifically written to, but in the era since the cross, the Church is God's children, and chosen people. So, by analogy, this verse tells Christians how to fix America! I happen to be an attorney, and in legal jargon, we speak of "elements" of offenses and crimes.

That term simply means if the prosecution doesn't have enough evidence to prove all elements of an offense, the defendant cannot be convicted. You will note, if you read carefully, this verse lists four elements, for God to consider bringing revival to America, sovereignly. Traditionally, we Christians have emphasized the element of prayer.

But read more carefully! That's only one-fourth of the solution! There's also humbling ourselves, seeking God's face, and turning from our wicked ways. Do you see those three elements also listed with prayer? And what does God promise us if we do those four things? He will heal our land.

America needs healing; she is sick and broken, and we must be sick of sinning and broken over her ailments. We all, here, are likely familiar with the many calls of Christ for people to follow Him and become His disciple. What does that term mean and what does it mean to become a disciple of Jesus?

Specifically, the word means learner; it is life-long learning about life in Christ. It is a commitment to follow him as the Leader of our lives. Ours is not to lead, but to follow, in His power. EVERY single Christian is called to that lifestyle! It is making Christ number one in your life.

MAY I ASK YOU, humbly, are you His disciple this morning? Not everyone is! In fact, many are not. I was a saved Christian for a decade, and not a disciple. Only by the grace of God did I get all but forced to become one, at age 18.

A gal I planned to marry two-timed me, and I caught her in a car on her date. I was crushed! Plus, the year and a half prior, I had been spending an average of three hours a year reading the Bible, but it was NOT by choice! The most loving Baylor dorm floor manager NAGGED me for over a month to have a Bible study with him.

At that time, I attended church three times a week, was saved at age 8, but I was NOT a disciple. I had NO interest in what he was offering! But I promise you, now with tears, that his LOVE impacted me! He regularly asked how my classes were going, as with my dating life-the things college students care a lot about.

It was NOT just nagging me to read the Bible with him. Quite literally, to get him off my case, I finally relented! When he explained how to study the Book (based on the navigator's quiet time steps), it finally hit home, about a month in! I even asked if it was sac religious to read it on the toilet!

Soon, I was reading 3-8 hours a day, till I graduated. My grades probably reflect that! This is for you, too; not necessarily the life crisis, or anyone nagging you lovingly, but please consider today your day that someone loved you enough to ask you to start that daily habit!

Your commitment to fully live for Jesus will be irresistible, the more you get into the Good Book! I say this from personal experience. The Bible says IT is how a Christian grows in Christ. Josh. 1:8; Ps. 119:9-11. You have but one life to live on this earth. HOW you live that life determines if your life was a loss or a gain, for God, as a Christian.

And if we want that very same God to heal this land, it will start with Christians applying those four elements I earlier described. Nothing more, nothing less. I would like to invite you to join myself in a symbolic demonstration of my sincerity of seeking that healing, by bowing before God, today, and telling Him that you will do those four things.

You can bow with your head or your body/posture, but it starts with a humble bowing of your heart! Are you willing, this day, so say as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord, and become His disciple?

I recently watched a livestream of the most amazing thing I have seen in a generation: A black pastor speaking at my second home church, Gateway, invited everyone in the audience who would make this commitment, to come stand on the stage with him. I didn't know what the stage was made of, exactly, but I had concerns it would cave, as so many went forward!

We are NOT seeking numbers, but commitments, because our nation needs us, and, much more importantly, God commands this of us all. In Heaven, when were all re-united again, we will all look back and remember what our decision was, whenever we make it.

I can certainly, STILL, remember that heartbreak that led to my total surrendering to Jesus, crying in a science building stairwell on Baylor campus, over 40 years ago. Drive a stake into the ground, and remember the day you, personally, chose to make your life count for eternity, and chose to prepare for God to heal our great land.

As the choir begins, I am asking each and every one of us, myself included, who will you serve? Yourself of your Savior? Will we remain merely Christians, or will we live as authentic disciples of Jesus? This altar, and stage, are offered for your decision to encourage others. May we pray?

CAMPAIGN SERMON 3: COMMITMENT

(2/4/22-2)

This earthly life only lasts the average person 70-80 years, by God's general allowing, and 78.79 years, by man's calculations (in America). You get saved (IF you do), at some numerical point on that scale from UNaborted to death. That is your window of opportunity to shine for God, and the next life.

YES, there is an afterlife, or life after death—SOMEWHERE. There are ONLY two alternative venues—Heaven or Hell. Purgatory is a lying MYTH, and tradition of man. You will either burn forever, feeling the pain of punishment, or experience eternal bliss and joy, with God, in His home.

IN that afterlife (which has NO end), there will be activities, and even statuses of existence; NOT all will receive the same honor, or duties. It is primarily all determined by how you live your window of opportunity, from new birth to first death.

This is NOT works. You are already Heaven-bound, IF you have received Jesus. HAVE YOU RECEIVED JESUS? If not, do so today! II Cor. 6:2. If you have, God saved you for a reason! He did NOT just store you on a shelf till Heaven arrived and you died! Salvation is NOT all about you, and your comfort and enjoyment!

Christians were created FOR, not BY, good works. Eph. 2:8-10 God caused you to be born again, and forgave all your sins (past, present and future) to FREE you from sin's slave mastery/domination/power. ARE YOU LIVING IN BIBLICAL FREEDOM?

Salvation is a FREE gift. Sanctification is from grace, but it requires effort. Phil. 2:2; I Tim. 4:7-8; Tit. 3:14 Born again believers are to be TAUGHT (by pastors) to engage in good deeds. Let your light shine; hide it under a bushel? NO.

It takes education to learn about salvation, and how it is to affect your everyday life. God has CALLED Christians to live lives separate (NOT separate from, but separate from the quality of) lost people. Our lives are supposed to matter, and be lived differently from the norm, or world system. II Cor. 6:17

We are to BE holy, because God is holy, and He is our Father, and we are His children. We are to bear the image of our Maker, morally. I Pet. 1:16

Do you ever tell people you're a "Christian?" That word came from NON-Christians labeling our spiritual ancestors that, because they acted like Christ-IN. Christ IS in us! Col. 1:27

Peter and John, in Acts, were recognized as having been with Christ. Ac. 4:13 They were NOT identified by wearing a burka, yamaka, cross around their neck, or even the fish symbol on their car! That was actually a secret way of believers identifying each other, under risk of persecution.

Have you ever sang the song, or read the Bible verse, "They will know we are Christians by our love, by our love?" READ Jn. 13:35. By the SAME human author, read I Jn. 3:11-24, 4:7.

This is NOT even our love shown to the outside world. It's NOT willpower. It's Christ living through us. God is love, so the book of I Jn. often asks how evil-living people know or love God? We are called to good works!

The little book of Titus references that calling at least three times. And IF you tell people you're a "Christian," have you ever read II Tim. 2:19? Namers of Christ are to abstain from evil.

PLEASE hear my heart: I am not talking legalism, goody-two shoes moralism, holier-than-thou judgmentalism, or moral perfectionism. I am talking of progressive/iterative sanctification, or life in Christ, post-salvation. Christ lives inside you. That fact should be increasingly evident!

But it is NOT automatic! Some work of God happens, no matter our choices. Phil. 1:6; Rom. 8:28 But MOST Bible verses indicate there is EFFORT required on our part, for us to become more conformed to Christ's image, daily. ARE YOU MAKING THAT EFFORT?

And let me be clear, as well, it is not strong willpower, trudging it out in the flesh, or denying all of life's pleasures. It is letting Jesus live His life through you. Some call it the exchanged life, or let go let God. It is Gal. 2:20.

You have already exchanged your old life for Christ's life, at salvation. You may not know or have known that, but the Bible teaches you that. That's what water baptism symbolizes. You are dead, and your life is hidden with God in Christ. Christ lives in you. You have the mind of Christ. You are a citizen of Heaven. You will live forever. You have direct access to God, and to the throne of grace. Christ is there to aid you during temptations. He will never leave or abandon you. You are eternally secure.

These truths OUGHT to make you thankful, and that gratitude ought to show up in how you live your life during that limited window of opportunity, from NOT aborted to translated into His Heavenly kingdom, instantly changed, for to live is Christ, and to die is gain. Death no longer is master over you.

Oh death, where is your sting? Christ defeated death, Hell and the grave for you. You now can live that abundant life; not being tied down to the mere affairs of everyday life everyone encounters. You can walk by faith; you are NOT to walk merely by what you see! That's fleshly/carnal/natural.

Lost people live that way, by their senses, circumstances and emotions. You have the solid rock upon which to build your life, which NO storms of life can overcome. That analogy comes from Mt. 7:24-27. It is a life based on God's word. That is what God has called you to do, IF you are indeed a Christian!

Test yourself, to see if you be in the faith. I am confident you will see that we pass the test. II Cor. 13:5 Are you certain you have Christ inside? His Holy Spirit gives you that assurance. Rom. 8:16.

READ I Jn. 5:10-13 The Apostle John penned that book, so that you would KNOW that you have eternal life. And if you have it, it is eternal! And it is life, not death!

Jesus, through His messengers, defined what eternal life is: Both quantitative and qualitative (or abundant, Jn. 10:10). Jn. 17:3 It is knowing God.

I John, again, teaches that there are at least three stages of spiritual maturity. IF you analyze I Jn. 2:12-14, babes in Christ need to be informed that ALL their sins have been forgiven. We have received redemption, the forgiveness of sins (Eph. 1:7). Hell is off the table for you, no matter what you may ever do.

Now some take that to mean do whatever you want. NO! Or as Paul said, may it never be! Rom. 3:4, 7:7 That's the exact satanic opposite of Christian freedom!

Gal. 5:13, 1 You're NOT a slave to the Law, nor are you to use your freedom for sin. WHY WOULD YOU? Remember, I spoke of gratitude? You're a citizen of Heaven—live like it. There are eternal rewards awaiting those who do. Different statuses in Heaven!

There are MANY reasons to obey Christ, by faith. Just look at all the reasons, on a meme we will share with you.

BIBLICAL MOTIVATION
(non-exhaustive, carrot & stick examples)

Accountability (Rom. 14:10-12). Avoiding false theology (Gal. 5:3). Church's goals (Heb. 10:24; Tit. 3:8). Commanded (Lk. 17:10). Compelled (Ac. 4:20). Debt (Phm. 1:19). Duty (I Cor. 7:3, marriage context). Encouraged (Heb. 3:13). Exhortation (Heb. 10:36). Fairness (II Cor. 8:13, 7:2). Fear of punishment (Col. 3:6; Ac. 17:31; II Cor. 13:10). Free willed (Phm. 1:14). Godly jealousy (Rom. 10:19). Hope (I Pet. 1:6; Rom. 15:4). Limited time (I Pet. 4:7). Love (the morally greatest motive-I Cor. 4:14). Must/Have to (Conviction)-(Lk. 4:43). Not to disappoint (Rom. 10:11). Not to lose rewards (Rev. 3:11). Obedience (Ac. 26:19). Participation with God (I Cor. 9:23). Perspective (Jas. 5:3). Pity (Phm. 1:9). Please parents (Eph. 6:1, family context). Pride (vs. lose face)-(I Cor. 6:7; II Cor. 9:2). Proud in eternity (I Th. 2:19). Reason (Jas. 3:17). Relationship leveraging (Phm. 1:17). Reproof (Tit. 2:15). Reputation (I Tim. 3:13). Rewards (perhaps the biblically most referenced-Heb. 11:6; II Jn. 1:8). Right thing to do (Phil. 1:7; I Cor. 7:35). Role modeling (I Th. 2:7, 11; Heb. 11:26; Lk. 9:56). Thankfulness (I Th. 5:9). Unashamed (Rom. 6:21). Witnesses watching (Heb. 12:1). Your (new) nature (I Th. 5:7; Eph. 5:1).

OTHER (Etc.)-Read the Bible for yourself and come up with many more!

Ac. 20:9 Let me sum this up in a word picture. There was a little pamphlet, in days gone by, entitled My Heart Christ's Home. Jesus has taken up residence within the home of your heart. He has NOT necessarily been allowed to occupy all rooms and hidden closets, YET!

He is landlord, owner, boss or Lord of the house; he owns title and key, but you have to allow Him entry into every area of your life! He does not force His way in, and His abundant love is not forced.

He desires communion with you, daily. Man cannot live by bread alone; give us this day our daily bread. You need daily ingestion of the milk of the word of God! Thy word I have laid on my heart, that I might not sin against Thee. Discipleship is daily, Lk. 9:23

Have you made that decision to follow Jesus all the days of your life, with full-hearted intensity? am going to transition, right now, and ask you to look into the mirror of your heart and ask yourself in truthful sincerity:

1. Am I saved? And if so,
2. Am I living as a disciple, or lifelong learner of Christ, by daily following Him?

Be more honest with yourself than you may ever be with anyone else, as your eternity rests on your answers, both as to where you will end up, and how life will be for you if you end up in Heaven. Can we pray?

CAPITALISM'S CHALLENGES

(3/20/21-2)

Capitalism HAS some innate problems! Though it's the economic system MOST akin to God's word, it MUST become MORE godly, or God-like, in its practice, because of its falling short of His standards!

First, what are capitalism's moral faults?

1. The rich get richer EASILY, compared to hard labor. Money makes one more money, invested wisely. God's NOT against wise investing! Mt. 25:14-30 He's NOT against property rights (Ac. 5:4), or wealth. Deut. 8:18. But He IS against selfishness (Phil. 2:3-6), hoarding (Ecc. 5:13), and greed/love of money (I Tim. 6:10). Capitalism has NO filters.

God has the solution to this innate weakness of Capitalism, and it's NOT freebies for those off whose backs the rich got rich (II Th. 3:10), nor is it unjust punishing taxation of the rich (Mk. 12:17), but voluntary giving back by the wealthy! I Tim. 6:17-19. Zacchaeus exhibited a heart hard labor.

Zacchaeus exhibits a trait of one ready to be spiritually saved, when he promised up to half his wealth, for any evils he may have engaged to gain it. Lk. 19:8. The U.S. Capitalist system HIDES the rich's charity donation totals, through privacy laws and IRS 1040 line items being unpublished!

There is NO mechanism to ensure the rich use Capitalism in a godly way, other than fair taxes for all, and incentivizing charity donations! THAT is Capitalism's number one problem before God!

Secondly, economic theory says business is in business to profit; that's its purpose for existence. WITH that premise, anything goes, even though God denounces those who would enrich themselves off the oppressive treatment of those under their employ, especially in their unfair wages. Pv. 14:31.

Again, you are free in America to NOT care about these matters, but God does, and these issues affect Americas standing BEFORE Him.

Finally, heroes are made, in society, of those who gain wealth, no matter how they gain it! If a bank robber was successful, and never got caught, and no one knew how he gained his wealth, even as a high school drop-out his peers, friends and neighbors would elevate him to a status he did NOT deserve, simply by the paper in his pocketbook!

Again, God says THIS about the rich: Lk. 12:15; Lk. 6:24; Pv. 23:4-5, 30:8. We who live in a Capitalist society reap the benefits of the fruits of our labors, but rarely speak of the responsibilities of that blessing! Lk. 12:48

IF I one day—on my own or in partnership—develop a company to simply pump out new products, channeled through a global market platform, even the most remote idea that could be of interest to a niche market could be profitable, globally accessed! THOUSANDS of new products I could envision

I forgot one other EVIL of Capitalism: Over-paid executives is an abhorrent problem of unjust wages, and demonically rewarding people at the expense of employees, customers, society and shareholders. Unbridled Capitalism has NO solution for this evil, and doesn't even see the problem! (3/20/21-2)

CAPITALISM & CONSERVATISM

(4/26/21-2)

Pure Capitalism has ZERO mechanisms in place to deal with the rich getting richer while the rest become stagnant or falling behind! THAT issue is where the GOP will lose MANY elections, if they can't find any private sector solutions! business profits as one and only will LOSE them many!

Used to lesser standards immigrants and inexperienced youth are how business gets cheap labor. They aren't inclined to increase all employee wages! America's poor and middle class haven't attitudinally adjusted to living in a globally-competitive world! Everyone wants to earn more, but has to be justified.

THE number one problem of Capitalism is hoarding rich who disobey God! I Tim. 6:17-19 Liberals say force them to do God's will, by higher taxation. conservatives say 'freedom' is the right to disobey God and do whatever you please. How some of the rich's excess can get to others is this generations challenge.

If EVERYONE's taxes were increased, it wouldn't be fun, or unfair. But, everyone must first be paying in (save for the disabled on government assistance), and government has to be running a tight ship; NOT wasting tax dollars, while seeking even more of them! Priority one is streamlining and fair taxation!

PURE OR BRIDLED CAPITALISM?

(5/4/21-2)

Pure Capitalism cares ZERO if anyone can't make it in America! It doesn't care if rich get filthy rich even as others suffer severe poverty! It doesn't care if all costs rise, pricing the poor out of needed essentials. It is pure dollars and cents! Bottom line. People as business expenses!

Business needs to do a MUCH better job of promoting the good to society their jobs and products supply! Their executives NEED pay cuts, funneled to good vs. bad employees, as your company's employees are what make your company profitable! Profit share, greedy, sinfully selfish SOBs!

America NEEDS to embrace I Tim. 6:17-19! We make heroes of the rich, then wonder why society stinks, when the elite few hoard most of the good things in this life! The pie isn't finite, but nearly so, and those with the biggest piece of pie MUST give back to society they profited off.

Very few people LEAVE America. MANY want in! That dilemma HARMS American workers! Outsourced jobs and manufacturing, imported cheap labor—these phenomena HURT U.S. workers!

Less jobs, more laborers, lower wages, no leverage for them vs. business. BAD public policies! Rich alone benefit.

HERE's the problem with U.S. economy: MOST jobs need FEW managers, so front line has little chance at advancement! and low level employees can often be replaced by robots. Government will have to hire them, meaning more taxes, and advantage Democrats! Greed caused all these problems, vs. shared wealth!

Anyone remember Seattle and Portland riots' slogan, 'eat the rich?' Not only are whites under attack, in America, the rich will be their next target, as in South Africa. People are TIRED of what is broken in America, and those benefitting from it are the prime targets! Justice must prevail.

Socialism seeks to make life decent for every citizen, including non-citizens, by unjust government handouts. Pure Capitalism seeks to make life grand for whoever can achieve that. OBVIOUSLY, bridled Capitalism is the ONLY rational solution! <http://AmericanAnswers.org> has ALL the answers.

To STOP Socialism, U.S. business NEEDS to make few to no new products, hire zero Socialists, sit on their money and not invest, and let these young idealists suffer loss for their evil belief system! However, pure Capitalism needs to repent of its sins, too, and change its ways for morals.

Sins of Socialism:

1. STEALING from taxpayers.
2. Unjustly benefitting only a few (poor).
3. Unsustainably enriching the poor.
4. Creating dependence and laziness.
5. HARMing economic growth.

Sins of Capitalism:

1. Greed and selfishness, vs. giving back. I Tim. 6:17-19
2. Unjust enrichment easier for those with money.
3. Equal opportunity often a MYTH.
4. Little concern for workers as more than line items.
5. Overpaid executives and excessive bonuses, vs. profit-sharing with labor.

GOP is concerned with work and making money. The MSM is all about articles on making life better. If doing so can't be done profitably, business won't engage it, so media articles always seem to be Dem-leaning! Dems care about more than just profits. Do GOP's? That will lead to losses!

Obviously, I could write wise sayings indefinitely, with God in charge, but I have work to do. And miles to go before I sleep. christianity Hire me, and I'll educate and lead implementing good ideas, full-time! Common sense and justice! No justice, no peace!

CAPITALISM & CHRISTIANITY

(12/1/21-2)

God is NOT against Capitalism or investing. He IS against any sinful abuses of it. Bailing out people who have irresponsibly lived or used money is NOT what God condones. Money making interest isn't innately evil! Mt. 25:14-30; Pv. 28:8

Business management can be good or evil. When they work against ownership interests, and put self-interest higher, they are evil. Mt. 21:33-46 Greed and wanting too much are evil (AKA you can have enough and too much). Lk. 12:13-21 ALL business decisions should be subject to God's will. Jas. 4:15

UNBRIDLED CAPITALISM (& LIFE PERSPECTIVE)

(12/10/21-2)

Capitalism would have ZERO problem with Amazon being the only business (monopoly), if done legally, or with its management owning zillions, with zero give back. Christianity vs. Capitalism requires believers to oppose "unbridled Capitalism," like Brad Pitt (or was it Leonardo DiCaprio?); can't recall. (5/31/19)

Mr. Handsome (either Leonardo DiCaprio or Brad Pitt) coined the phrase, 'bridled Capitalism,' AS OPPOSED to both Socialism or unbridled Capitalism. It merely means some government restriction on the "freedom" of people to do anything for a buck, like defrauding or endangering 'em.

That's a GOOD thing! Unsafe foods and working conditions, no breaks at work, sweatshops, child labor, etc. are GOOD things which government does to prevent evils people could engage to make money. Government's job is lessening evil, and people do evil to get rich! Rom. 13:4-5; I Tim. 6:10

It is NOT what do you or I want, or what we'll vote for, but what is right! People enjoy sin, and are innately selfish! Heb. 11:25 Government's job is establishing justice! Justice is NOT everyone paid the same, but everyone paid fairly.

When ONLY business has all the leverage/cards, the ground is NOT level! People LIKE it that way!; People who benefit from the injustice! EVIL people who are self-centered and only care about me and mine.

Again, government's job, before God, is to restrain evil! Rev. 17-18 shows that even during the aforementioned coming 7-year Hell-on-earth there will STILL be rich and poor. Jesus Himself said the poor will always exist. Mt. 26:11 It's the excesses between them that are often UNjust!

Overpaid is a real reality! Underpaid is, as well! Leverage must be equal, then may the best woman/man win! Again, EVIL people want life ONLY good for them and theirs! God opposes that position!

God, and therefore governments HAVE to care about the well-being of ALL, for it is ultimately responsible for national leadership! Businesses ONLY care about their business's profits, and a good economy for those with disposable income!

America has a safety net. The Jews had one, well before. Even first century Christians had 1. The ONLY people demanding it be dismantled, so they get more tax money sent back to them are EVIL people!

YES, it can get too big, empower laziness and dependence, we EVILLY used to gain votes, and be wasteful, but a society collectively deciding the lest among us will not severely suffer is a HUMANE position, and God is always FOR humanity behaving humanely!

He OPPOSES greed, selfishness and hoarding! I'm CERTAIN He opposes anyone paying nothing into the collective till! Unfair!

Saved or unsaved, the issue of life becomes is a person going to obey God, or follow satan? Saved affects eternity; this decision affects the here and now. It's WELL beyond politics, and we do NOT live in a theocracy, but if one is seeking to be God-fearing, those values WILL affect their politics (as they should).

It is sin/evil, which government is to thwart (NOT heavy-handedly, like Communist dictators!), and ANY who oppose that, as some WARPED view of "freedom" as some right to do anything you want, is EVIL, and we all should oppose evil, and be for the good!

I have a chapter on Facebook called Why Be Good? Jim.Meroney.5, three and James.Meroney.3, 378, 9. Here's why NOT to be bad:

1. It displeases God
2. MORE trials
3. Possibly more severe punishment on Hell

4. It ruins relationships

5. It can land you in jail.

People LOVE to confuse the two.

Life summary: Be saved and be good, not bad and not goody-goody (I Tim. 2:4, Ps. 34:14, Ecc. 7:16, I Cor. 15:54). Most religions teach the latter.

IS GOD'S CHURCH DIVIDED?

(Politics Has Us Racially Divided Over Handouts & Abortions)

(9/6/19)

Eighty-one percent of WASP's voting to empower the following is lay-down hand proof that carnality REIGNS in the U.S. Church, and NOT that any should have voted for Hillary... you vote for what's right, and TRUST GOD will work through what comes of you so doing!

We rationalized SCOTUS votes would go liberal, abortion be enshrined, and the U.S. would go to pot, but we did NOT trust God that He can fix anything, if we choose the high and holy road!

We are carnal! We rationalize that we used "wisdom," strategizing over SCOTUS picks, but had we voted ALL GOP's, and been ALL obeying God by obeying government, through voting, GOP would have had such a landslide, even if HRC won, we'd have had the numbers to block any and all evils stemming from her presidential pen!

But we didn't, but instead ALLOWED Christianity to suffer a severe reputational blow, AS IF God is for ignorance and immorality! James Dobson himself, near 1988, said presidents must somewhat be moral role models, as he rightly attacked Bill Clinton's sexual improprieties. BUT IF THE (potential) OFFICEHOLDER IS REPUBLICAN, different hypocritical standard, supposedly Jesus-approved!?

NO public figure N Christianity has made any media announcement of repentance or sorrow/apology for supporting sin! JUST LIKE the Dems, we have our own MoveOn movement of sweeping THAT sin under the rug, as "time heals all," even though God doesn't teach such bull honkey!

All for abortion, we sold the farm of credibility in the public square, and RIGHTLY gave the devil an opportunity to poo poo our gospel (for the minority FEW who ever told it anyway), to say, 'you voted for Trump—don't talk to me about sins' (because we clearly don't care about them, either)!

I EXPECT ZERO political pastors to EVER address this sin of hypocrisy and power idolatry, but like John the Baptist, I will STILL tell the truth, even if unwelcomed, and I will NEVER kiss up to anyone in what I am led to say, for political or social acceptance! God is more valuable than you, even if maybe NOT to you.

It is EASY, in hindsight, to pick at the needles in the haystack of successes with Chump. That can NEVER, by armchair quarterbacking, justify before God CHOOSING to embrace sin to get the win!

Christian, baby Christian, King Cyrus, Nehemiah, and even Pharaoh/Caesar analogies SHOW his Christian pastor handlers could NOT stay with ANY marketing ploy, as sins and ignorance kept shooting holes in their depictions!

NEVER has a one of the Christian Cabal admitted their own SIN in so doing! That's NOT morality, nor leadership, but idolatry and self-delusion, Mr. Jeffress. Repent! You won't!

For non-Christians, that means tRump's claiming Christian handlers/counselors accepted his own self-description as a Christian; then they SAW how immature his behavior was, morally (i.e., SIN-full), so they added the term "baby"—NOT Trump!

Later, Cyrus, meaning he's NOT even a Christian, but sympathetic to our desired policies. Nehemiah was equating a Mexico wall to God commanding Israel to build a wall (NO comparison), and Caesar only refers to him being a lost king.

tRump's favoritism of Israel was NOT God's will, and stacking SCOTUS right is NOT justice. These are NOT Christian victories! If political (vs. spiritual) conservatism was 100 percent Christ-honoring, all SCOTUS justices should be conservatives!

And now Chump thinks he can buy off/bribe Arabs, abusing MY suggested economic ties method (which used NO U.S. tax dollars for investment) to bring about some Middle East peace, when HE alone inflamed tensions?

I had said get the two sides engaged in business and social dealings, where they're mutually benefitted and tied; NOT waste MORE U.S. tax dollars Uncle Sam doesn't have, with $22 trillion in debt!

But a sinfully rich old codger only thinks of money to solve problems, like sh*thole nations don't have (slander the poor, as a baby Christian?).

[My response"] THIS "pastor" SUPPORTED ALL THESE SINS, & now accuses Democrats of wanting religion and morals quashed? HYPOCRISY SIN, folks: @LouDobbs Aug 29

#AmericaFirst - @RobertJeffress: The Dems are trying to remove religious expression from every area of American life. 2020 is a battle for the soul of America. It's time for people of faith to push back against this tide of evil that is trying to envelop our nation. #MAGA #Dobbs

SINCE @robertjeffress WON'T meet with you, but IGNORES you, ANY TIME I'll go with you to his business, when it's in session, to hold these signs. Just tell me when! @FHunscripted

AAorg2020@gmail.com RECONCILE, brethren, or be a hypocrite! (Rom. 12:18) @NBC @CNN @ABC @CBS @FoxNews

I've already done decently, before, in 2014, and one other time, using a different medium, and MANY times by Twitter, and an email and a voicemail. The man WARPS Christianity for politics, but mainly for church growth, through media exposure, @FHunscripted! @ABC @NBC @CBS @FoxNews @CNN

Bob Jeffress does NOT have to resort to lies and sin to stir up WASP votes for Chump (threatening Jews, and scaring them that liberals want religion abolished). Trump made positive moves pro-Israel and abortion adjustments (though he over-did it), law and order on border control, and everyone wants a good economy!

.@RobertJeffress says Jews will be cursed if they vote Democrat. He has NO scriptural basis, so he's lying, and spreading fear to any stupid enough to believe that, so he's empowering ignorance. ALL that is sin! Fear, ignorance, lying. NEED I recite Bible verse references for him?

@RobertJeffress says Democrats want all religious expression removed. He's interested in SYMBOLS over substance! NO Democrat is preventing evangelism or discipling! LOOK what God thinks of symbolism: Col. 2:17; Heb. 10:1; Mk. 7:8 Even a cross-shaped necklace ISN'T commanded, but holiness and evangelism.

And DON'T think Democrat Christian political pastors aren't as guilty, ALL ignoring the Johnson Amendment routinely, for POLITICAL gain. @FHunscripted REGULARLY slams Trump ('46 minus 1'), as I've been there six times, and listened in four times. Equally guilty as with WASPs! Enforce or repeal it.

POLITICAL CONSERVATIVES & SOUTHERN BAPTISTS

(10/11/19)

We tell the TRUTH, here, whether the TRUTH is valued, or not. There is a GREAT divide in the GOP, caused by CHUMP, and it's all about power, money and lack of morality! Conservatives support EVIL, if it gains them power, even some claiming Christian "pastors." ANATHEMA! Apostate tares.

Conservative vs. RINO/moderate is ALL about whether taxes are too low, or just right, and if government can ever help anyone, or never do so! Abortion lures claiming Christians into taking sides, but it's also EASY to side with conservatives when you suffer the love of money sin.

God teaches that division among Christian brethren is devil-inspired. I know for an absolute fact of many instances of claiming Christians disagreeing and separating over Trump, though all, basically, life-long Republicans. NONE of the other presidential nominees were anything like 45, sinfully!

APOSTASY FOR POWER IDOLATRY

Christians are supposed to oppose sin & ignorance, & stand for integrity & intelligence; NEVER perfectly, but we SHOULD HAVE put our voting feet down to NOT embrace & empower ALL of the following, for ANY reason! We failed, & I apologize for 81% WASPs:

No one can say George Bush 1 and 2, Romney, McCain and even Bob Dole EVER acted or talked like this, and 45 is an aberration in history, and a blithe to the GOP! People are SCARED to criticize CHUMP, for fear he'll try to ruin their careers. He can go grab his own crotch! He is NOT a Christian! He is evil.

WHY I WAS #NEVERTRUMP

1. Win at all costs is a lesson NO good parent teaches their kids.
2. Neither is being a bad sport (which summarizes ALL of Trump's whiney campaign).
3. The end justifies the means is not a lesson any moral person adheres to.
4. You NEVER reward bad behavior is a lesson even Kindergartners know.
5. You have what you tolerate, and you must be willing to tolerate Chump antics in future politicians.
6. The GOP is NO LONGER the party of thinking more than feelings, with UN-thinking Trump!
7. The GOP is NO LONGER the party of values voters! Hillary Clinton ran a MUCH more moral campaign, despite her several faults.
8. The GOP is no longer the religious right party, as even non-religious voters see the hypocrisy and power idolatry of Christians voting for Trump! It also gives Jesus a bad name.
9. If you put all the sins and gaffes of the past five GOP nominees together (including their time in office), it DOESN'T compare to Trumps campaign—much less four years in office!
10. Trump ONLY divided the GOP and the nation further. He is NO uniter, at all!
11. The GOP's chances at expanding their tent to minorities is harmed for a LONG time with Trump!
12. What Trump did and said for 7/8ths of his campaign was the real deal! Faking presidential and knowledgeable is OTHER people controlling him, to be acceptable.
13. Trump's behavior in the primary IS his credentials for why he became the GOP nominee against sixteen BETTER-qualified people. He CAN'T live down all he FREELY chose to do and say. No one put a gun to his head and said act like a fool and a buffoon. HE ALONE caused his OWN presidential backlash!
14. If policy alone matters (i.e., not personal temperament), Kasich, Cruz, Rubio and Bush had policy down pat when Trump had FEW ideas (i.e., up until his last three months of the campaign)!
15. If policy is all that matters, you could have voted for a trained chimp, robot or even Hitler, because he was wise enough to HIDE his evils until he got in power.
16. Voting for ALL down-ballot Republicans was the ONLY wise Republican choice, as Donald's campaign HURTS the GOP's reputation with minorities (and others) for quite a while.
17. I expect president Trump to change into what more people always wanted, but if you believe a political charlatan and chameleon with the core he's demonstrated, you will believe anything, and you did drink the Kool-Aid!

MORALS determine your attitude toward power and money! LACK of morals also does the same. The idolatry of power and desire for taxes to be too low to sustain our expenditures is an evil sin WASP Christians have embraced, via Chump. God judge us!

The sinfulness that has invaded Gods church, by backing an evil man is unheard of apostasy, and I'm through trying to rebuke hardened-heartededs! Let God judge you now.

I'm 'gonna imagine how people self-delude regarding CHUMP. We have to win to get our values into law. Anything is O.K. if our intention is overthrowing Roe. We will overlook and deny Trump's sins, even praise him as a good man, even Christian, to get the votes. God be da-ned in the process! Morals don't matter.

YES the Bible says Christians should, of all people, MOST be concerned with morality, but politics is different, and we need power to stop evil secularist humanists! God supports us, because we are for life—just NOT eternal life for every BORN human (hypocrisy).

HOW does anyone with the HOLY Spirit within allow themselves to be SLAVES of an evil dictator, living in fear if they act like John the Baptist (i.e., obedient to God), and suck up to such an evil man, all in Jesus' name? IT IS HERESY, but disobedient and dumb sheep follow the crowd, NOT Christ!

The "evangelical council" is a FAILure at their MOST important role—godly counsel. Trump is no more holy or intelligent today as when he was lyngly labeled a 'baby Christian!' EVERYONE knows it, but the duped WASPs who support him, reinforcing the dumb Christian stereotype! Apostasy!

I'm literally AMAZED how adult men of the cloth can willfully blind themselves to their biblical obligations! If Trump ever set foot in any church, the pastor would be obligated to shun him (excommunication). He has NEVER repented, never apologizes or admitted any mistakes, and is an egoist, yet "PASTORS" still sing his praises, like the FRAUD Robert Jeffress, and whichever others of his ilk!

They will one day come to their senses, and repent before God, all the while their hearts are getting harder, as they freely choose to focus on the needle in the manure haystack of good in the man and his decisions!

ALL THE WORLD knows what an embarrassment his tenure in the White House has been. The ONLY people who choose to ignore that overwhelming evidence are talk radio DJs, and the cultists who attend his rallies!

HERE's the rub. NO GOP wants a Dem in the White House! None of the GOP's running can beat CHUMP. So what do U do? Hope and pray for Pence as president, by impeachment. Support Chump's good policies, and for the party, vote for him. But you do NOT condone by silence! NONE of the "evangelical council" have EVER taken a microphone and told the TRUTH about the man's lack of character. COWARDICE sin of wusses and pansies.

They KNOW what evil type boy child 45 is! He will ruin Roe overturn chances, change to supporting Islamists against Israel, slander their church, not give them the worthless access their FLESH so enjoys (and God says is detestable). I can FULLY expose this group to any media, happily so.

FEAR is the guiding principle, opposite II Tim. 1:7! And Trump's version of "unity" is zero alternative voices; lock step boot licking S.S. blind faith obedience to the Fuehrer. There is NO difference between how he rules the GOP and how Hitler ruled Germans, save no violence! NONE!

I am ASHAMED of the party I have been a part of since birth, excepting only 2.5 years, when I protested CHUMP by going Democrat with only MY version of said term!

There are no John the Baptists, anymore! Even my own Southern Baptist Convention pats itself on the back and celebrates Christians reaching ONE human for Christ, in 2020! ONE lost soul! AMAZING heresy! 95 percent of the world will go to Hell, guaranteed, at that lack of sincere and trivial pace and effort! That is NOT taking the Great Commission seriously! Pastors only see it as doubling their membership, if successful!

GOD sees it as Church shirking their duty, all while praising themselves for doing something noble. These spiritual and political decisions are the very definition of APOSTASY and self-delusion! You abandon morals for power idolatry sin, then abandon God's number one concern, for a drip in the bucket of evangelism!

I'm ashamed of the GOP and the SBC! HOW can you be proud of people who voted for evil, then celebrate and choose to allow so many people to go to Hell, because they're scared asking laymen to do their job will lose them paying church members? Money idolatry and fear are BOTH sins! Who cares? Life verse for you: Rev. 22:11

ICHABOD is the only word that keeps ringing in my ear. Revival is NOT coming to America, but judgment, and it will start with the claiming people of God! I've observed these back-patting, smiling schmoozers try to enlist pastors to their cause, never questioning if it's moral. IT IS NOT!

The end justifies the means! The road to Hell wasn't paved by good intentions. Win at all costs. Trump was anointed, Cyrus, baby Christian, Nehemiah, David-like. ALL heresies of the one man who brought America all this crap. He knows who I reference (and it's NOT tRump)!

THE BIBLE & GOVERNING

(12/1/21-2)

If we're applying Bible principles to government policies, Mt. 25 DOESN'T speak of government agencies giving to the poor, but individuals/persons, which make up the nations! However, the Jews' and first century church's safety net DOES role model some collective concerns for the poor!

If we're applying Bible principles to government policies, progressive taxation that's fair is biblical, based on Lk. 12:48 and 10 percent of everything you'd ever want to have not being the same pain/sacrifice as 10 percent of not even enough to get by. More required of the rich than the poor, percent-wise.

THE BIBLE & LIBERALISM

(12/1/21-2)

Mt. 25 is not a political treatise, but does lay out how nations will be judged, so how they treat the least is how they would treat Jesus! Taxes MUST be fair, but AREN'T 100 percent get what you give! The rich can give more than others, and paying nothing in is EVIL! Safety net is biblical.

Lk. 12:48 principle is RIGHTLY used by libs in politics! Mt. 25 is a theoretical underpinning of nations' safety net policy, though not a political treatise. Turn the other cheek is for individuals; not nations allowing continued aggression vs. them! Self-defense, justice and stop evil.

CHRISTIAN POLITICAL ISSUES

(12/4/21-2)

Christian pundits and activists have posited what public policies Christians should be concerned with. Let them show you how very minute is their vision! They usually say anti-abortion and pro-Israel. Until gay marriage, they said anti-homosexuality.

Let's broaden our biblical horizons a little!:

1. Protecting inheritances from over-estate taxation. Pv. 13:22
2. FAIR taxes (God is for justice).
3. Progressive taxation. Lk. 12:48
4. A level playing field in management-labor negotiations (like over-helping business with immigration and outsourcing laws)
5. NOT disfavoring non-terrorist Arabs and Islamists (Ex.: Muslim ban)
6. NOT overlooking cops and military's misdeeds or abuses
7. Ensuring equal opportunity, as not mere rhetoric, for qualified minorities
8. Curbing pollution, for wise stewardship of our earth
9. Opposing hate crimes vs LGBTQ victims
10. Pro equal pay for equal work (justice)
11. Policies NOT favoring the rich or poor. Levit. 19:15
12. Disallowing anyone or any business paying nothing into the tax system (the poor by required civic service, as they have none to give). Mk. 12:17
13. Encouraging the Giving Pledge by tax breaks. I Tim. 6:17-19

14. For immigrants, if our economy needs their skills. Deut. 10:19
15. ONLY responsible national debt. ~Rom. 13:8
16. NO government waste. Mt. 14:20
17. World-class public education system. Lk. 10:27
18. Law and order. Rom. 13
19. Pro-military. Lk. 11:21; Ecc. 3:8
20. Pro diplomacy. Rom. 12:18; Mt. 5:9
21. A safety net (Jews and first Christians as examples)
22. Helping the poor become self-sustaining. In short, NEITHER party has a monopoly on morality, in aspirations. Certainly not in politics practice!
23. Pro-responsible gun rights. Lk. 11:21
24. Pro free speech. Jn. 8:32
25. Pro freedom of religion

SERMONS ON EMOTIONS

(6/5/21-2)

Charles Stanley was FAMOUS for sermons addressing emotion, but he ALWAYS added analysis/examples/evidence/documentation, and most importantly, Scripture galore! I also addressed his need for more doctrinal and full counsel of God teaching to his sermons! NOT singling out; BIGger problem.

HERE's the ONLY 'sermon' you'll EVER get from me on handling negative emotions (it's called "exegetical"):

Lonely? Heb. 13:5

Anxious? Phil. 4:6-8

Fearful? II Tim. 1:7

Depressed? Ps. 43:5

Envious? Ps. 37:1

Rejected? Isa. 53:3

Disappointed? Rom. 10:11

MEDITATE and PRAY!

I CAN'T TAKE IT! Are you sad, disappointed, envious, feel abandoned, lonely, rejected, worried, fearful, anxious? One sermon on I Pet. 5:7 would handle ALL emotional challenges, vs. a series that educates little on God's word! Ear tickling caters to men's desired topics, vs. Bible. Back to sports!

Update: On Sermonizing

(12/1/21-2)

God prefers pastors teach and preach, as education is as important as inspiration! I Tim. 5:17 IF a human can easily read through the entire Bible in one year, when it takes a LIFETIME to get close to that achievement, only hearing sermons, you KNOW sermons don't replace daily quiet times.

IF a person went to church EVERY week of the year, from age 8-80, they'd hear 3744 sermons, and perhaps an average of 5-7 verses per sermon. That's 26,208 maximum verses, when there are 31,102 total. In a lifetime, they wouldn't hear the Bible ONCE!

They're BIBLICAL, but don't take the place of discipleship! II Tim. 4:2 Discipleship is daily; sermons are weekly. Relying on hearing from God once a week is like seeing your wife only every Sunday! and having a chaperone tell you about her when you did!

WHY was the first century church so different from us, and voluntarily (i.e., not commanded behaviors)?:

1. Miracles
2. Newness, and Christ just departed
3. Need for safety and friendship
4. Power and joy
5. Persecution, etc.
6. Actual salvations

We NEED to revive these factors! II Chron. 7:14

DENOMINATIONS

(5/10/21-2)

The TRUTH is, if Christians were better at Bible interpretation, DEMON-inations would NOT exist! It is our errors and over-emphases that separate and divide us! Eph. 4:5, 13. False doctrine, traditions of man, and fleshly preferences make us have hundreds of different Christian sects!

For example, babies are sinners, but innocent until conscious of sinfulness. So they don't need baptism, and baptism doesn't save, anyway! IF you're to baptize, full immersion vs. sprinkling is biblical, as we fully identify with Christ-not just dabble in Him!

These facts divide Christians Methodist, Lutheran, Presbyterian, Pentecostalism, Baptist, Bible church, Episcopalian—all these sects have doctrinal differences, as with liturgy and practice. IMO, the three MOST biblical groups are So Baptist, Bible Church and Charismatic churches!

I've attended all three, before, regularly.

Protestant vs. Catholic is—above all else which came in history—a difference of Heaven/salvation by faith or by works! Roman Catholicism teaches about seven sacraments that must be performed if one expects to go to Heaven. They don't, officially, teach being born again as the sole act!

WHY talk about our differences, as Christians?

1. We should ALL be open to the truth.
2. If we don't, we remain in separated huddles.
3. The TRUTH sets you free, even if learning it might initially feel like a Covid vaccine stick! 100 percent health and wealth for all believers in this...

Update #1: Works

And works don't work to get anyone to Heaven! If they did,

1. Christ died for no reason.
2. Heaven could be earned, so God would owe you.
3. You'd be sinfully proud of your achievement. Perfect Christ is your only way to get in! Were all less than perfect!

And the MAIN reason I speak of works is, there are many people within Christendom who identify with Christ, but teach works, and I don't want ANY Catholic, Mormon or Jehovah's Witness to go to Hell, or anyone else, for that matter, but especially from confusion over works!

After you die, it's too late to get your thinking correct! Good works before salvation are NOT the same before God as those after salvation, because they were not wrought of God living within you, but you, who are a filthy rag, without Jesus.

It's not that good works play no role, ever, but the role isn't to get one to Heaven, but to show one's going there, after they're sure they're going there!

When Christians separate, over high vs. low church, hymns vs. radio songs, cathedrals vs. less lofty architecture, sprinkling vs. immersion, they don't interact as much, but hang with their own kind, and often demean the others not in their group! That's NOT biblical Christianity!

And uniting over politics, only for abortion is also NOT biblical unity! You have to be open to the full counsel of God, and logic. For instance, sprinkling may clean part of a baby, but baptism is an outward symbol of salvation, and salvation cleans the whole person before God, so full immersion would be the more biblical means of baptism!

And water baptism saves no one! Jesus' death on the cross, accepted as your personal sin payment DOES. We have high church denominations and Church of Christ groups who splinter off from other Christians over these FEW issues, and you have to forsake your historic tradition to get RIGHT theology!

That doesn't mean everyone becomes a Bible church or Baptist, but think correctly about God's word! These two verses, alone, DESTROY Pentecostalism on perfect health!: II Tim. 4:20; I Tim. 5:23.

And Jesus is the perfect object lesson that financial wealth is NOT in the atonement! Mt. 8:20 The devil or your flesh will call these small potatoes "intellectual" debates, but they're the ROOT of denominational DIS-unity!

It's ALL about how Berean pastors are or aren't, and how seriously they take II Tim. 2:15 and Ac. 20:27. Right thinking begets right attitudes and actions. Wrong thinking misrepresents God, morality and church practice! It's how "Christians" embraces so many sins, "for Jesus." HERESY!!!

THE main reason Christians' theology is so often warped, is were carnal, and don't care. There is one or more idols keeping us from full commitment to God, and many pastors don't learn the Bible in seminary, but tools; then have to stay a week ahead of their crowd in sermon prep!

The reason false doctrine and denominationalism doesn't bother us is we don't care or don't know what God thinks about it, from lack of Bible knowledge! IF we knew of biblical unity, and its power and benefits, or how churches in Acts were co-laborers, NOT competitors, OUR thoughts would change.

(5/16/21-2)

MUCH of denominational division is over how much emotion people express, even if totally out of character the rest of their week! Preston Trail church just said worship is to be full of emotion.

Personalities DIFFER! Be yourself, and go where you fit in best for your personality! MANY U.S. Christians think how emotional a person is in church shows how committed they are to Jesus! God says it's how they do His will, 24/7, and their involvement in His top four priorities!:

Evangelism, discipling, body life and social ministry. HEART matters, vs. emotions acted on! I've found more Pentecostal churches LOVE repeating the same phrases over and over, in song, stand for MANY songs, and dance more and hand raise more than more traditional churches. This is no proof, either way, that they have more or less of the Spirit in their services! 100 percent Unrelated.

Temperaments often determine denominations, IMO (better, style preferred). I've NEVER seen an Episcopal church in a poor area, but I'm sure they exist. High church is often associated with high income. Poorer areas are often more emotional in church. WHY? Don't have to be dumb to be emotional!

Formality vs. informality often determines denominations! Casuality in dress, bodily expression, recited liturgy, pre-set actions, recited words, etc., cause variances we call denominations. Low church to high church is often income, education, emotional expression and informality!

The Bible does NOT require men to wear suits at church! It's NOT disrespect of God to want to worship Him unconfined or uncomfortably! I wear shorts and T-shirts, because I can sweat if I'm told the sun rose. I don't like neck constraints, tight pants, or sweating! It stinks, too!

U.S. Christians are SO enmeshed in how one hour of their week transpires, when God cares about all 168 hours of our week! People OUTSIDE church know how Christians act, speak and think! That can be dressed up, with Sunday smiles and dress. God is NOT mocked, while men can be!

I'm 'gonna offend some: It is NOT how you worship that matters, but how you serve God, in obedience and ministry! Get that right, first, and however you act in church won't matter, by comparison! One hour a week is ONLY the cherry on top! The WEEK is what matters! Duh 101

It's BETTER that we have denominations, than to argue over trivial differences that make us uncomfortable, like how much emotion we express mainly on Sunday. BUT, you LOSE public debate over false vs. good doctrine, when we segregate, to avoid conflict, and sin continues, as comfy!

(5/18/21-2)

The gap between charismatic and Baptists now having been explained and mainly bridged, let's try them vs. Bible church, as I deem those three the closest to biblical, though other smaller denominations fit right in line with those three! Dispensationalism, prophecy and teaching.

Bible churches are loosely connected, and NOT a denomination. However, they teach more than the other two, generally, and teach prophecy more, and usually believe in different ways God deals with different groups in different eras (dispensationalism).

IF we can agree with God's word, that teaching is NOT merely cerebral, or how many statistics one can memorize, but for spiritual growth, and it's NOT second hand stepchild to preaching (which educates less), we have a start! and if we all realize Bible prophecy is real, coming, important, and sometimes related to news events, we won't have to separate, socially, over people who poo poo prophecy, as that would be heretical!

Maybe Bible churches will emphasize it more, and some do take it too far, and preach on it too detailed or often, in ways that aren't as clear as some may confidently assert, but unity can be had in that prophecy is about 1/3rd of the entire Bible, so it is valuable to educate laymen on!

Finally, NO ONE can deny God doesn't treat all eras exactly the same! WE aren't in a Garden, wearing loin cloths, having only one command to obey (Gen. 1-3). We all know Jewish ceremonial laws DON'T apply to Christians, and commands to wipe nations out of existence have been "updated" by the New Testament revelation, just like the Sermon on the Mount updates law teachings, for a higher standard of morality, under grace.

To demand people accept seven dispensations, four or three, or you won't fellowship with them is LUDICROUS, as any number of past dispensations have zero relevance to our present commands, including to have unity and to love one another!

High church denominations separate over infant baptism, sprinkling, liturgy/formality, creeds and emotional expression in church, and intimate walking with Christ, vs. dogma, rules, and church attendance as ones main religious service. Babies are born sinners, and innocent of sins they commit, because they know no better.

Water saves no one, so their baptism doesn't save or protect them. And when one baptizes it represents salvation (Christ's death, burial and resurrection). Jesus didn't just touch the tomb, or lay in it for a minute. He FULLY died and went into the grave for three days.

Sprinkling isn't a full bath/cleaning, if the imagery holds up. That's NOT to insult centuries of tradition, but always be open to truth, and never be too arrogant for biblical correction!

The Protestant Reformation birthed many high church denominations. It was a necessary event! Sola fide sola Scriptura is ESSENTIAL truth doctrine! NO ONE goes to Heaven by works, and ANYTHING taught contrary to the Bible is to be rejected, no matter who says it, or how long they have said it—period!

The devil gives people thoughts, that can turn into religious beliefs, that vary from Scripture, like sanctioning polygamy, refusing blood transfusions, or never celebrating any holiday, for fun or historic respect. IF anyone has been born again, they are members of Christ's body.

If they never have been, though they may believe same doctrines, they're still Hellhounds. And how formal or informal your local church chooses to behave, on Sunday, isn't majoring on majors! High church denominations are often colder, more stoic, formal, ritualistic, tradition, liturgy, etc. Charismatics are at the opposite end, being quite emotional, and sometimes casual.

That is more personality differences than biblical division. If Jesus means something personal to you, as you truly know Him and walk with Him, you will act at church like you'd act if you brought your BFF with you, seated next to you. Who can say if jumping up and down and yelling is wrong for 1, and sitting quiet and somber is wrong for another?

BUT, so long as we claiming Christians separate into our chosen group, NO understanding, correction, unity or cooperation ever happens! We just seek those tithes, tout our business, and the world sees a severed/amputated Christ, in competition and in it for financial success!

ANATHEMA.

Update #4

(5/23/21-2)

NOW you see why there are so many denominations! You huddle around those you share more in common with (and MOST people don't know the Bible well enough to justify their beliefs)! Laziness depends on man's tradition from the 1600s and beyond, vs. II Tim. 2:15! ANATHEMA!

It further divides man, like Babel's judgment did by language barriers, then it dispersing mankind across the globe, which caused different exposures to the sun, causing racial and skin color and cultural differences.

EVERY religion but Christianity relies on works for any hope of a positive afterlife, they just vary on what rituals they perform and what books they rely on for understanding what they believe God requires of them. You have more unity over politics than religion, because politics is mainly do you believe total strangers owe you free stuff, or not?

Unity is had most over commonalities. There would literally be few to no denominations if pastors knew their Bibles better! The Bible church and Baptist groups have it BEST, followed by charismatics (as I've shown, recently), and those three vary between themselves on their emotional vs. academic emphases (Bible church more cerebral, often; Baptists in the middle, or more balanced, and Pentecostals definitely more emotional, and less doctrinal accuracy oriented, in comparison).

I've already said, among broad Christendom—NOT just the born again saints—differences separate over baptism (infants and sprinkling; water saving people, according to Church of Christ), formality and rituals, from historic tradition dating back to the Protestant Reformation (high church), works (7 or more sacraments of Roman Catholics), beliefs about tongues, women preachers, how a believer becomes holier (Methodist), whether a group followed Luther or Calvin (Lutherans or Presbyterians), Greek Orthodox and Episcopal and the role of state in church-state relations (Anglican).

ALL these differences separate claimers of Christ, change what the Bible clearly teaches about what the Church is supposed to be, and give the outside world a false and confused understanding of what the Bible actually says!

It is as varied, wrong, and confusing as the results of the Tower of Babel, but this time WE, in our stupidity, caused our own disunity and judgment! English, MUCH more than some mystery language, has united the world for cultural exchanges and business/economic and military alliances.

With technology, and experts, just as God warned the Trinity, mankind can do about anything he sets his mind to, when they unify to village mentality, united in one accord against (or for?) God by understanding one's thoughts through proper interpretation of both God's word and human languages.

WHY don't we "evolved" creatures decide in unison that doing life God's way is most logical and practical, workable, just and responsible moral? Answer: Because our pride, just like Adam's, derived from Satan's, says I have a better idea, because I'm smarter—I can be God!

That attitude is precisely what gets us in trouble, what caused mankind's fall, and what causes most all the problems in our world! Refusing to do life God's way. And to pastors who cannot justify their beliefs and practices, Bema (judgment day for Christians, vs. the Great White Throne) will be justifiably harder on them, and I warn you that God doesn't look lightly relying on fables and man's traditions! Jas. 3:1.

YOU are for the error in belief and practice of those under your care! What happened 400 years ago has NO bearing on your responsibility to rightly divide God's word, and were so scared of conflict, instead of public debates, we run to our Linus security blanket emotional support group we call denominations, which are really manifestations of DEMON-in-nation divisions, from inability to submit to and rightly divide the WHOLE COUNSEL of God's word!

Bible churches usually do so best, and lose some emotional relativeness in the process, sadly, often. Charismatics lean more on emotion and experience, and Baptists usually have good doctrine and practice, but the laymen don't always know why they do and believe as they do—they just go along with the others, or what the preachers tell them is right.

On Judgment Day, NO OTHER HUMAN will be coaching you, or going to bat for you, before God.

DENOMINATIONS & CHARISMATICS

(10/27//21-2)

Since Halloween is approaching, let's address "spiritual warfare." There are commonly two different definitions. The traditional one involves satanic schemes against believers. The Pentecostal/"charismatic" one involves "deliverance"/casting out demons. I am in the latter camp.

Where's the Bible? Have people cast out demons, historically? Yes. Are Christians commanded or commissioned to do so? NOT clearly, for people other than those so instructed in the New Testament (apostles and a few others, like the 70). Do ALL Christians have authority over Satan and his hoards? Yes.

My question for "charismatics" (I OPPOSE that term, as they aren't necessarily full of charm or charisma; just claim miraculous spiritual gifts that traditionalists teach are not as prevalent as in Jesus' time) is HOW do you know one has a demon? You can't see them!

The person may have mental illness, like schizophrenia, bipolar or passive-aggressive disorder. ARE THESE THE SAME? I would say no, but that demons would be a different level of intensity, with little to no willful control by the sufferer, like The Exorcist.

Do we even see such manifestations in America? SO rarely, they make a movie about it! A pastor recently quoted another "charismatic" legend asking Christians if they didn't cast out evil spirits, do they leave them in? That question ASSUMES they have a demon! It's neither/nor, if they don't!

You're neither keeping one in, nor casting one out! These types usually display on TV (or did in the 1980s) saying sternly, "In the Name of Jesus I cast thee out, 'o Satan and your hoards'; or just yelled, 'come out'. Under this theology, YELLING seems to be as powerful as Jesus' Name!

And they always need to stiff arm the forehead of the innocent human, and HOPE he falls backward into some loving "catcher's" arms, like a faith fall exercise at executive bonding camps. SUPPOSEDLY, that force is the "Holy Ghost" knocking innocents over, risking concussion if staffers aren't behind them.

This whole described episode HAS to seem as funny to non-Christians as it almost is to we traditional Christians! But, the REAL subject of demonic oppression (Christians are incapable of being demon possessed, as God's Spirit resides within!) is NOT a laughing matter!

When believers engage in willful sinning, they invite demonic oppression! Unconfessed, secret and blatant sins! Eph. 6 lists the armor we are to wear to resist the enemy, and God's word is CLEAR on how you fight Satan, the defeated foe. Submit to God; resist the devil and he WILL flee from you. Jas. 4:7

I'm NOT going to waste my valuable day off time looking up all the New Testament references to casting out spirits, but if YOU grab a Concordance, I am certain you will NEVER find ANY command for all believers to engage that practice! Just certain select ones, at a given historic point.

"Charismatics" are accused of seeing a demon behind every bush (in fact, they even name emotions and sins demons—the demon of anger or lust, etc.), while traditionalists could be accused of minimizing the demonic activity in REAL spiritual warfare, but that's because we know God is.

Who we follow, Jesus defeated satan, and our focus is to be fixed on Him; NOT imagining where demons are, what their ranks or names are, or procedures for ridding people of them, like holy water, a cross emblem, recited words, putting a Bible on their forehead, or the like!

In those ways, Roman Catholic and Protestant "charismatics" share commonality! They have set procedures for attempting to "deliver" people from demons. Traditional protestants just pray in faith. And again, Christians NEVER need deliverance from indwelling evil spirits! Just their influence!

(5/17/21-2)

RE: Charismatic Theology—What is the TRUTH about God and healing?

1. God can heal.
2. God does heal.
3. God heals sovereignly.
4. You are to trust Him with such cares. John MacArthur has a GREAT list of Bible insights on biblical healing, available at our website's Will You Live Forever? button's Appendix (Ex.: We all die of something, etc.).
5. Anyone claiming healings in the atonement should never get sick, or always receive instant, complete healing.
6. Anyone claiming healing should be able to scientifically prove that case with before and after evidence! Bible miracles weren't subjective, but obvious to all, including lost people.
7. Like MacArthur said, if one claims the gift of healing, why don't they clear out hospitals, and
8. Why do they so often do their displays in cloistered televised church stages or sets?
9. To claim every Christian can claim healing is to DENY the clear Bible evidence, when even Paul had a thorn in his flesh (maybe eye trouble), he left one man sick in Miletus, and told Timothy to drink wine for his frequent stomach ailments.
10. YES there are verses speaking of health, but it is fully in the afterlife, fully spiritual health, and sovereign in this life, if it's physical. We live in a Fallen world. God doesn't keep Christians from all impacts of that Fall, just like there are natural consequences for our actions he doesn't shield us from
11. Sickness CAN be from sinfulness
12. Lack of physical health CAN be in order to glorify God. I Cor. 11:29-30; Jn. 9:3. What about riches for believers?

Is wealth in the atonement, if health isn't? NO! Again, God isn't saving Christians from struggles/trials in this life. He saves from the penalty for sin!

1. Some Christians are called to be wealthy, in God's will. David and Abraham come to mind. However, their assets, in today's accounting, are not nearly as we envision multi-millionaires and billionaires! And, the rich are commanded to give back generously. Many people omit the duty; just cling to the privileges! I Tim. 6:17-19.
2. Some people are called to be poor. Despite U.S. culture, that doesn't make them "losers," unless they are that way from laziness.
3. The Bible does teach moderation. Pv. 30:7-9

4. The flesh/sin nature WANTS perfect health and wealth. There's NOTHING innately noble about possessing a desire for the finer things in life!

5. A disciple (what ALL Christians are supposed to live as) is to deny himself. NO ONE can accuse those living luxuriously of obeying that command, but instead, living for self as god, and mainly for this life, when God calls that worldliness.

6. The devil can make one rich! The Bible, generally, has a negative slant toward the rich, speaks of the evil rich, says Heaven is hard for them to attain to, and Jesus issues woes against them!

Timothy even says to want to be rich pierces yourself, yet many American Christians freely seek being pierced! EVERY item I have detailed has Bible behind it; I just chose not to list references, because YOU need to learn to become Berean, and test my claims by God's word, which will solve your theology problems, reading it cover-to-cover several times!

(5/18/21-2)

Jesus healed organically and completely. Rarely in steps/stages, and rarely by a means (pool of Bethesda), usually upon command. IF one had the gift of healings, WHY wouldn't they go to all who are paralyzed and fix them instantly?

First, because THEY don't control it, as God's sovereign. Second, because their 'gift' is NOT His perfect healing power, but a small reflection/aspect of it. Jesus healed things everyone could observe; not just claimed internal problems (deformed hands, etc.).

And WHY limit it to healing? Can "charismatic" Christians walk on water or raise the dead, or calm the seas? NO, because though Jesus said we would do greater works than He, and the Christian life IUS miraculous, those science-defying miracles MAINLY occurred during the three periods of Bible revelation, to corroborate the witnesses.

And we SEE miracles ALL THE TIME, if Christians are obedient, in that evangelism that results in salvations is the greatest miracle we are to rejoice in! Lk. 10:20 We WANT the showy miracles, like amputated arms recovered. We rarely do the act that can allow people to avoid Hell and live forever in Heaven!

You HAVE to credit Pentecostals with believing in God's power and in miracles. They sometimes claim people raised from the dead, or instantly healed. But RARELY! Not like Jesus, Who did them REGULARLY, or they'd be at nursing homes, ensuring no one ever left in a hearse!

NO. 100 percent/perfect health and wealth are NOT promised/guaranteed to all believers, and the gospel of health and wealth is biblically satanic, only because it does not conform to God's word, 100 percent accurately, as I have shown.

BETTER, perhaps, than believing God does no miracles, is powerless, and wants us all broke, but NOT 100 percent reflecting of what God has said. And therefore, were full gospel types to acknowledge these facts, MAYBE or divisions over denomination worship and separation/segregation could/might decrease, and the one Body behave more as a united Body, vs. clinging to heresies! Eph. 4:4-6 Pray so!

CHURCH UNITY

(8/15/21-2)

It's Sunday. HOW can Christian unity occur between denominations? I was in a high church, and asked the receptionist how the main guy got referenced? Pastor? reverend? Bishop? Rector? She asked my denomination, then laughed when I told her, AS IF were low brow.

NO ONE wants to go to a church where they often disagree with their peers, like over formality, sprinkling, works, or Calvinism, so unity doesn't usually mean attending church together, so it MUST mean joint activities, like evangelism. We AGREE on the content of the church creeds, but were NOT unified.

Then again, many denominations aren't very evangelistic, and many churches evangelize mainly for increasing membership; NOT reaching lost people who would never be near their building, so maybe unity is just a feeling we have that were both saved? Some even teach a different gospel!

Some churches are so ritualistic, you wonder if they have a personal faith relationship. Others are so informal/casual, you wonder if it's mainly emotion, or little fear of God, or reverence for doctrine. Unity is NOT something easy, or that we even try much to have, cross-denominations!

CHURCHIANITY VS. CHRISTIANITY (I)

(AKA, Modern Church vs. The Book of Acts; See also: Crazy Acts?)

(12/2/21-2)

In Acts, evangelism was daily, in synagogues, public places and house to house. Laymen participated, and the scope was world-wide (partly by persecution forcing them to be on the move).

Discipleship came from leaders appointing qualified ministers, and checking up on new converts through letters (read aloud in their entirety, and passed around to existing/started churches), visits by leaders and their associates, prayer, teaching and relational discipling, preaching and teaching.

Is this the practice of our modern church life? When you read the epistles, and the gospels, you also see that spiritual gifts were used to edify believers, and do internal ministry, and external ministry (social ministry to society) also resulted. Jesus is exhibit A! His life benefitted lost people, and the world He inhabited, even before His death on the cross! EDDBS priorities!

Their evangelism was clear/straightforward, bold, unapologetic/unashamed and Spirit-empowered-and it was thorough! They moved on after cities were reached, and quickly moved on if rejected. They didn't have time to waste (urgency) as so many were lost and Hellbound!

They did NOT start churches, just to feed/shepherd the flock, forgetting their very own field (nearby lost people) or continued involvement in world evangelism completion! That myopia came years later in church history, and has continued ever since, sadly! I have Bible verses for all claims uncited!

NOW to that prior-promised pastoral epistle expansive description of biblical Christianity and church practice!: PASTOR JOB DESCRIPTION (I Tim.):

1. Goal (1:5)
2. Forbidding false teachers and doctrine (1:6-11) DO WE take its existence seriously, or can we even notice/identify it?
3. Humble, committed leaders (1:12-17)
4. Pastor character (vs apostates/fall-aways; 1:18-20)
5. Church prayer (2:1-2, 8), led by males

6. God's concern for evangelism (2:3-6)
 7. Teaching (2:7, 12)
 8. Godly women members (2:9-11, 13-15)
 9. Authority led by males (2:12)
 10. Qualified pastors (3:1-7)
 11. Qualified deacons (3:8-13)
 12. Corporate confession (3:16)
 - THIS IS BIBLICAL CHURCH PRACTICE (3:14-15)
 13. Food taken by prayer and Bible's blessing (4:4-5), opposing false teaching (4:1-3)
 14. Pastors "constantly" nourished on the Bible (4:6-10)
 15. Pastors avoiding false doctrine and myths (4:7), disciplined more at Bible meditation than physical exercise (4:7-8). This model for ministry was to be taught to the laity! (4:6, 11)
 16. Pastor character, gifting and Bible ingestion (4:12, 14-16, 5:1-2)
 17. Public Bible reading (4:13)
 18. Feeding widows (5:2-16)
 19. Paying the preaches (even more if preach and teach; 5:17-18)
 20. Biblical accountability for pastors (5:19-21)
 21. Cautiously laying on hands for health (5:22-25; sin can make 1 sick)
 22. Biblical business relations for laymen (6:1-2)
 23. Forbidding false doctrine regarding money (6:3-10): Godliness valued more than gold
 24. Pastor ethics (fleeing from sinful things, and pursuing ethics; 6:11-16)
 25. Publicly teaching all rich people Gods will for them (6:17-19)
 26. Again, emphasis on avoiding false doctrine (6:20-21)
- I Tim. taught biblical church practice (as with Ac. 2, 4, II Cor. 8-9, et al). II Tim. teaches biblical pastor practice:
1. Serving with a clear conscience (1:3)
 2. Relating to other believers (1:4)
 3. Sincerely saved (1:5)
 4. Using their spiritual gift (1:6)
 5. Bold and courageous; NOT fearful
 6. Unashamedly evangelistic (18-11)
 7. Suffering, because they are convinced of the Bible's truthfulness (1:12)
 8. Sound words/teaching (1:13)
 9. Protective of their spiritual life's purity (1:14)
 10. Relations-Suffering apostates and enjoying spiritual encouragers (1:15-18)
 11. Strong in grace (2:1)
 12. Entrusting deeper truths to faithful Christians (discipleship; 2:2)
 13. Suffering and working hard (2:3, 6-7)

14. NOT caught up in everyday activities (2:4)
15. Playing by the rules/obeying God (2:5)
16. Focused on Jesus (2:8)
17. Evangelistic (2:9-10)
18. Faithfully enduring (2:11-13) Pastors and laymen are to be taught these things! (2:14)
19. Knowing the Bible well (2:15)
20. Avoiding false doctrine, which can lead to apostasy (2:16-18), and knowing Bible prophecy
21. Abstaining from evil (2:19)
22. Pursuing holiness (2:20-22). Pastors DIFFER on how useful they can be, to God!
23. Avoiding foolish arguments (2:23-26), but biblically correcting
24. Knowing prophecy signs of the times (3:1-9)
25. Ethical living (3:10-11, 14-17), based on Bible knowledge
26. Suffering persecution (3:12-13)
27. Preaching biblical sermons, even if the audience doesn't care for that (4:1-4)
28. Fulfilling their calling (including doing evangelist's work), faithful to the end (4:5-8), and rewarded for the same
29. Maintaining good personal relationships (4:9-22) THIS IS biblical pastoring/shepherding!

Titus. Biblical church is:

1. Qualified pastors (1:5-9)
2. Guarding against false doctrine and false teachers, and their evil deeds (1:10-16)
3. Teaching sound doctrine for sound behavior among all layman age and gender groups (2:1-10) WHY? Because the gospel has come, teaching us to live holy in this life. THIS is what pastors are to teach laity! (2:11-15)
4. Laymen are to be taught:
 - a) Submissiveness to authorities (obedience)
 - b) To be ready for every good deed
 - c) To demean no one
 - d) To be non-argumentative e) to be gentle f) to respect all men (3:1-2) WHY?

We once were lost in sin, but the gospel has come to us, and we are now saved (3:3-7) Pastors are to confidently teach these things to believers, especially to engage in good deeds (3:8)

5. Again, avoid false doctrine and foolish controversies (3:9-11)
6. Maintain good relationships and lead laymen to engage good deeds (the theme of this book; 3:12-15).

We just detailed a model church vision. The question remaining is is this how our modern churches are operating?

IF you model your church on what you see/observe, it is this... one-third hours a week of:

1. One minute public prayer
2. Announcements
3. Four songs

4. 20-30 minute sermon
5. Invitation to respond and give
6. Sunday School for some COMPARE THAT to what I just detailed! NOT THE SAME, but worse!

Let's meet the REAL Jesus, and NOT that which people may think he is like, from watching U.S. Christians:

MATTHEW: Historical connection to Abraham (1:1-17); Virgin birth (1:18-2:23); Baptism (3:1-17); Temptation (4:1-11); Withdrawal (4:12-16); Preaching and calling disciples (4:17-25); Teaching (Sermon on the Mount; 5:1-7:29).

We have an entire outline of every one of the four gospels, FREE, at <http://AmericanAnswers.org>. I'm NOT going to reinvent the wheel. This poster of ours is visually self-explanatory on the four Gospels!:

IF you could read this (poster available at this website), these are historical images of events in Jesus' life, surrounding an outline of major passages in each of the four Gospels.

IF you want to know exactly which Gospel events are the same (vs similar) in the other three Gospels, or understand what's unique in each, or where their event orders differ, see this work of ours, at <http://AmericanAnswers.org>

This poster of ours shows you historical artwork about Jesus, surrounding the most important event of His life, shown by the absence thereof.

ON BORING CHURCH (I)

(Originally posted 10/31/19)

WHEN you read the Bible, you're transported to a "magical" world of spiritual reality we RARELY see experienced in our generation! Those characters may have lived 2,000 years ago, but they were light years ahead of U.S. Christendom! JUST LOOK at what you see, and realize it's no history book or academic exercise in futility, but it describes how church WAS, and therefore can be:

Rom. 1:8 This church's members conversion was being proclaimed across the then known world! 1:9-10 Paul unceasingly prayed for them, longing to be with them. 1:11-12 Paul says their knowing then using spiritual gifts established them in the faith, and mutual encouragement came through that process.

1:13-15 Paul wanted to come to them to do evangelism, because he was under obligation and eager to do so. Are we eager to, and do we feel the obligation of conviction? Why was Paul so inclined?: 1:16-17 He wasn't ashamed of the good news, because that gospel message IS God's power for one to be saved by!

Let's recap: Global testimony, endless prayer, longing relationship, spiritual gifts establish, mutual encouragement of fellowship and eager evangelism. DO THESE THING DESCRIBE YOUR CHURCH? That's why church ISN'T exciting.

Let's try I Cor. 1:2. The audience is addressed and described as those who have been set apart, called as saints, with all who call on the Lord in trusting prayer. Doesn't that appellation alone make you feel he's addressing people who have value and importance? Paul thanked God for them, because they were rich in spiritual gifts, as the testimony of their conversion was thereby confirmed (1:4-6).

The group lacked NO spiritual gift, and eagerly awaited Jesus' return. That means they not just knew of Charis/spiritual gifts, but used them, as Paul noted, and they knew of Bible prophecy! These are BASICS.

Their eternal security is covered ('confirmed to the end'), and their identity in Christ (1:2, 8)... blameless until the day of the Lord (1:8). God's promises and provisions are covered in 1:9, and our inheritance: God is faithful, and you were called into fellowship with Jesus. That means God will do what He said/promised, and the Christian life is you are in fellowship/koinonia relationship with Christ.

Try II Cor. 1:3-11. Suffering is a basic discipleship topic, and expected experience, as is God's greater comfort. Note in 1:1 that it was one church per city, but Paul thought of the church universal, mentioning regions of Christians (Cf.: Gal. 1:2, churches of the Galatian region).

Christ gave Himself for our sins, that He had (purpose for so doing) deliver us from this present evil age by God's will. Gal. 1:4 Speaks to eternal security, the gospel, prophecy and sanctification as discipleship BASICS.

Eph. 1:3-14 is the GREATest listing of blessings in Christ ever found (inheritance and identity: IN CHRIST we were granted every spiritual blessing, v. 3; chosen from the world's foundation, so we would be holy and blameless before Him, v. 4; In love He predestined us as adopted sons, by His kind will, v. 5; to the praise of the His glorious grace bestowed, v. 6; redeemed by His blood/forgiven of our sins, by His rich grace, v. 7; lavished in wisdom and insight, v. 8; made His will's mystery known, by His kind intention, v. 9; in view/light of prophecy, v. 10; we have obtained an inheritance, predestined by His purpose, Who works all things by His will, v. 11; to the end that we who hope in Christ are to the praise of His glory, v. 12; after hearing and believing the gospel, sealed by the Holy Spirit of promise, given as a seal of our inheritance, in view of the redemption of God's own possession, to the praise of His glory, v.).

1:15-19 has elements of the discipler's prayer WE need to pray for people we disciple (thanks and prayers to get wisdom and revelation in knowing Christ, heart enlightened to know the hope of His calling, the riches of His inheritance in the saints, and know the surpassing greatness of His power toward us, according to the strength of His might).

Look also at these other passages, for lessons on what biblical church encompasses:

Phil. 1:1-8 (Christians as saints, and leadership addressed—elders and deacons; thanks and prayer; active sanctification from the start, including suffering, God's part in sanctification, and love expressed for the brethren), prayer (1:9-11, abounding love, real knowledge and discernment, approve excellent things to be blameless until prophecy, filled with righteousness to God's glory and praise); Col. 1:3-8 (thanks and prayer for their faith, hope and love testified to, eternal security addressed, and sanctification since day one, through the fruit-bearing Bible, and testimony from messengers as to their spiritual love), prayer (1:9-14, filled with knowing God's will in wisdom and understanding, so you worthily walk, fully please Him, bearing good fruit and increasingly know God, empowered by Him so you're steadfast, patient and joyously give God thanks); I Th. 1-2 (); II Th. 1:3-10 (thanks for their growing faith and love, so they're testified about to other churches for their faith in persecution and trials, which are just indicators of judgment to their opponents but glorification/third-tense salvation for them), prayer (1:11-12, that God would count them worthy of His call, and fill all their desires for goodness and their work of faith with power, that Jesus' name would be glorified in them, by His grace); I Tim. 1:2-11 (pastor instructed to reprove strange/false doctrine, and instruct from love, a pure heart and a sincere faith; warning against opponents who abuse the Law and become more sinful, contrary to the glorious gospel with which we have been entrusted); II Tim. 1:3-12 (thanks and prayer for him, longing to see him in person, recalling his tears, and so Paul would be filled with joy, because he has a true/sincere faith, per family heritage; and because he's saved, stir up the spiritual gift, namely unashamed evangelism, because God gave us a spirit of power, love and discipline—not of fear); Tit. 1:1-5 (discipling to minister to their chosen faith, by knowing the truth, in accord with godliness, in the hope of eternal life, certain by God's promise, because He cannot lie; this from the gospel God promised and manifested in the proclaiming Paul was entrusted with by God's command; expressed confidence in Timothy's true salvation, wished a blessing); Phm. 1 (See: Motivation Methods); Jas. 1:1 (bondslaves, freed but freely surrendered, suffering by physical and geographical dispersion of persecution); I Pet. 1:1-9 (chosen people scattered by persecution, foreknown by God, through the Spirit's sanctifying work that we would obey Christ and be forgiven/sprinkled by His blood; Bless God, Who caused us to be born again to a living hope through Christ's resurrection, to secure an eternal inheritance that can't tarnish or disappear, and is reserved and awaiting us in Heaven, for which we rejoice, even though temporary trials befall us, that our faith might be proved/tested, resulting in praise, glory and honor at Christ's return; and by faith, though we haven't seen Him we love Him, and though we still don't see Him, we believe in Him and rejoice with inexpressible joy full of glory, receiving at the end of our faith/glorification/third-tense salvation); II Pet. 1:1-11 (bondslave with mutually shared faith, by God and Christ's righteousness, blessing offered; since God has granted us all we'd ever need for life and godliness through knowing God Who called us, via His great, precious promises, by which we partake of His divine nature, having escaped the world's lustful corruption; because we have that, we are to progressively and diligently add moral excellence, knowledge, self-control, perseverance, godliness, brotherly kindness and love, because if we do, our entrance into eternity will be wide and celebratory); those who don't do so have forgotten their prior forgiveness and cleansing, and we make our calling mire certain to ourselves and or others when we do add these things); I Jn. 1:1-4 (Christ's eternal and divine life is proclaimed to them, and was manifested to the world, and we proclaim it, and have mutual fellowship with each other, Christ and God, writing so the readers' joy may be complete/full); II Jn. 1:1-4 (loved and known in the truth, living in the truth which abides with us forever, blessing in truth, and great gladness that believers are walking in truth, as they were commanded to do); III Jn. 1:1-4 (loved in truth, prayer for physical and financial prospering, gladness believers are walking in truth, which brings the greatest joy); Jude 1:1-4 (bondslaves, beloved and eternally secure, exhorted to active sanctification, because false believers have infiltrated the church for evil ends).

Also read the final chapters of most New Testament epistles, and see how sociable Paul was, and the various good and bad experiences he had with Christians, and others. Read Heb. 11, and you'll see how anemic U.S. churches are. We accomplish NOTHING compared to those heroes, because they walked by faith.

And as you read the prayers of the New Testament, you find specific things the authors believed were actually possible for Christians to experience... they did not pray general prayers that God would just bless and be with us!

You would NEVER know any of these things, as you rely on a preacher's sermon to teach you all you know about the Bible, and that nothing different than these truths have remained hidden from you in your dusty Bible for the past 2K years (as a body), or how ever old you are! WASTED jewels and valuables, because you are not curious.

And one wonders how the U.S. church can so easily be ignored! Why wouldn't we be? We're NOTHING like these things I referred you to.

In short, the U.S. church is SO un-miraculous, un-powerful and un-eventful, they make the contents of the Bible seem unbelievable, because our experience of church is unbelievable to God, in a bad way! Revive!

Update

And for those who fear direct evangelism might turn someone off, what if your effort to show love in that way actually led people to be glad someone cared about them enough to reach out to them, and even warn them how to miss Hell? God NOWHERE asked you to contemplate what lost people think of your evangelism, and what you need to be concerned with is what God thinks about your lack thereof!

The way pastors craft sermons should NOT be what makes worship services exciting! The way God moves in specifics, and in lives should be! And that's NOT just decide to be saved, baptized, or join the church! Life is SO much more than just those three decisions, if you're saved! Ho hum altar call pabulum.

Body Life is NOT having visitors raise their hands or stand up, nor is it Christians shaking hands with people five feet away from them. HAND SHAKES AND WELL-WISHED GREETINGS OF POLITE NICETIES IS NOT RELATIONSHIP, SPIRITUAL GIFTS OR THE ONE ANOTHER'S OF SCRIPTURE! Church is (too often) weak and boring, as is.

And shouldn't people go to church because they want to, and are excited to do so, NOT because they have to, lest people talk about them as bad Christians if they don't? And if a pastor says direct evangelism isn't their business model, doesn't that mean they're a business deserving taxation?

If preachers have complicit deacons or elder boards they schmooze up to in private, isn't it a conflict of interest that they set pastor salaries? HOW is any legal entity differentiated as non-profit, not-for-profit or for profit, as they ALL profit, or go out of business/bankrupt! Profits are just reinvested in the business! Inquiring minds want to know!

Again, READ Heb. 11. NO U.S. Christian aspires to those heroes' achievements. We admire them, but just want to read about them, like a Paul Bunyan story! Let me work my 40+ hours, have fun, and attend church for one hour. That's ALL Christianity is to so many. That's NOT the real deal, folks! Bible ignorance reigns in America!

On boring church in America, "The reason more people do not attend church is that they find it boring. The reason so many of our young people drop out is because they consider church boring." –G. N.

Barkman <https://sharperiron.org/article/why-church-so-boring...>

People LOVE to be part of something BIG and important. What's BIGger than the effort to spread the message of eternal life to everyone on earth, ASAP, where you track results, tell stories of events that happened along the way, like Paul did? Miracles make exciting stories, but we don't believe in them anymore!

If you read the Bible's promises, you can't help but get excited, IF you understand and believe them. Everything I've said gets church exciting centers on the Bible! Rent Herbert Lockyear's book, All The Promises of the Bible, and learn to meditate. Your mind is unrenowly boring! Snoozer for Jesus? (Eph. 5:14)

One article on boring church said have bright, happy signs and smiling, excited greeters to welcome guests. THAT IS HUMAN MANUFACTURING FROM CHURCH GROWTH! God alone makes church exciting, when He's there! When He's not, you can't imitate it with fake deeds of excitement. People see right through that malarkey! Be biblical!

I own a book entitled Quitting Church. The research and interviews in it tell of people who truly love God, but hate having to attend modern church, because it's so watered down and such a warped version of what they see in Scripture. (Jas. 3:10b) NOT as things should be, but it works for making budget payments!

It was NEVER boring to be in Christ's presence, or Paul's! Whatever they had, humanly-speaking, is what the church needs. They had vibrant, dynamic life. It's NOT about entertainment, or trying to feel excitement, but genuinely experiencing God, or not, at church! Unbiblical church is boring.

BIBLICAL CHURCH (I)

(10/30/19)

Lost critics of the Bible label the book of Acts myths, but if you compare that book to modern Christianity, you can see where they get that conclusion, because we believers do not practice our faith anything like the first century people! The myth, however, is with us; NOT the Good Book. Please let me explain, with this brief overview (which verse references you must look up, or you can't appreciate their full effect!):

CHURCH (its practice was WAY different from that in modern America)

The church grew: 2:41, 47 (daily), 4:4, 5:14, 6:7, 11:20-21, 24, 12:24, 13:48-49, 16:5, 19:20

Body Life happened (not just spiritual gifts, but fellowship/relationships, etc.): 2:41-47, 4:23-37, 9:31, 11:23, 26, 12:12-17, 13:2-3, 43, 14:22-23, 26-28, 15:1-30, 34, 36, 41, 16:5-15, 25, 40, 18:22-23, 27, 19:1-7, 9, 20:1-3, 6-12, 20:17-28, 21:4-5, 7-14, 16-26, 28:14-15

There was a continual sense of awe and amazement: 2:7, 12, 43, 3:10-11 8:13, 9:21, 10:45, 12:16, 13:12
Christians had favor with men: 2:47, 3:11, 8:8 (joy), 28:2, 7, 10, 17:6 (& disruptively upset the world for the good/made a difference in and to the world, with few participants and in very short order)

Pastors did their jobs: 6:2-4, 18:5 (NOT what they do today, with all their business management obligations)

The central church kept local church practice doctrinal, until elders appointed: 11:1-18, 22, etc.

Giving: 4:34-35 (the rich voluntarily and spontaneously cared for the poor), 10:2, 11:29-30 (people gave in proportion to their means)

EVANGELISM (was the life blood heart of the early church)

Holy Spirit's evangelistic effect: 2:1-40, 4:31, 8:14-24, 10:44-48

Evangelism happened: 4:37, 6:7, 8:5, 12, 25, 26-40, 9:28, 10:1-48, 12:25, 13:4-12, 13-42 (in synagogues), 14:1, 3, 7, 21, 15:35, 17:1-4, 6 (influence), 10-12, 18:4-6, 7-8, 11, 19, 23-26, 28, 19:8, 10, 20:16, 22:1-21, 23:1, 11, 24:10-21, 24-26, 25:(8, 10-11, legal self-defense to facilitate it), 26:1-29, 28:17-28, 30-31

Evangelism commitment: 4:19-20, 5:29, 42

Miracles led to evangelism: 3:12-26, 4:5-22, 8:13, 9:32-43, 13:12, 14:3, 8-18, 16:27-34, 17:16-34, 19:11-20

Devotion to the Bible and discipleship led to evangelism: 18:5, 19:10

Persecution led to evangelism (& evangelism led to persecution; See: Persecution): 7:1-53, 8:1, 4, 11:1

Summary:

- ◆ Evangelism upset evil businesses, arrogant, jealous governments and errant religions
- ◆ Evangelism drove the church, because the Spirit drove the church; where He was, evangelism occurred

MIRACLES (will rarely occur among half-hearted, money-loving Laodiceans)

Miracles were taking place: 2:19, 22, 43, 3:12-26, 4:5-22, 30, 5:12-13, 6:8, 7:36, 8:13, 9:32-43, 13:12, 14:3, 8-18, 15:12, 16:27-34, 17:16-34, 19:11-20

Miracles drew crowds: 3:1-11, 5:14-15, 8:6-7, (9-11, false magicians also drew crowds), 15:12

God's judgments and men's rebukes: 5:1-11, 1:9-11, 12:20-23, 13:46-47, 18:6, 23:3-9

PERSECUTION (comes when living right; II Tim. 3:12)

Persecution was happening: 4:2, 5:17-42, 6:8-15, 7:54-60, 8:1, 9:1-19, 22, 29, 12:1-6 (jealous of the crowds), 13:45, 50-51, 14:2, 5, 19-20, 16:16-24, 35-40, 17:5-9, 13, 18:6, 9-10, 12-18, 19:9, 23-41 (evil businesses disrupted), 20:3, 21:27-40, 22:22-30, 23:10, 12-15, 24-24:9, 22-23, 27-25:7, 9, 12-27, 26:30-27:20, 27-28:1, 11-13, 16, 28:(29)

Christians and numbers/crowds sometimes thwarted persecution: 14:20 (not) 18:9-10, 23:16-23, 27-44

Summary:

- ◆ Persecution often came because of evangelism, and immediately upon it (from government, but more often from jealous religious leaders, due to the crowds of the people being influenced)

PAUL (exemplified leadership by example)

Spiritual growth at salvation: 9:22

Evangelism at salvation: 9:20-21

Evangelized and disciplined (See: Evangelism, Body Life)

Social ministry: 27:21-26, 31-36

Miracles: 28:3-6, 8-9,

Summary:

- ◆ Paul was evangelizing, doing miracles, discipling churches or teaching social ethics

ASSESSMENT (of the early church)

- ◆ It was driven by the Spirit, and had power
- ◆ It was driven into evangelism
- ◆ It was led by leaders who led by example
- ◆ It grew, because of God (not church growth methods or business emulation)
- ◆ Its evangelism was thorough, daily and go and tell (vs. by church growth attraction methods)
- ◆ It had a sense of awe, and saw the miraculous
- ◆ Its pastors were devoted to prayer and Bible study
- ◆ Its Christians were grown up/discipled, as were churches, collectively
- ◆ It was influential and gained favor with men
- ◆ It was persecuted because they lived their faith
- ◆ It was paid for by proportionate grace gifts, and voluntarily

WHAT IF THE CHURCH...

(11/9/19)

What if the church took up her biblical mandate to live as Christ called her to live? What could happen, and what might that look like?

Well, for one, church members would be holy (relatively speaking to perfection), and every lost soul would be evangelized, as many times as it took to get a positive decision, or affirmative rejection with the instruction to never return again.

Some 'pastors' say that's too aggressive, or that can 'turn people off.' They're assuming it gets done in an abrasive manner, which is a false assumption. And turned off from what? Being already Hell-bound, or from potentially becoming a church customer? The Bible speaks of urgency, and rightly done, any rejection of the gospel isn't from bad method but a bad heart!

So let's work out exactly what her social ministry using spiritual giftedness and talents might look like, if churches refused to buy into American Capitalism's consumerism mentality of attracting customers to the business, but taking the life of Christ to where the lost and hurting are and live. How would Jesus minister to your neighbors, if He were here, today, living through you as He is supposed to?

AFTER every neighbor had heard the gospel lovingly, accurately and empoweredly, by some member(s) of the church (no church name named, unless asked or required), Christian laymen volunteer where the needs become known, by relationships, initiated contact with strangers, or otherwise (like observing the obvious).

I envision all of the following, NEVER as permanent ministries to any one family, not as competing services to businesses, and never being taken advantage of by clever 'sinners' who just want a free ride:

- Babysitting in emergency situations
- College scholarship writing
- Dating pool
- Daycare
- Financial planning
- Helping struggling students with tutoring or mentoring
- Hospital visits with prayer

Legal advice
Marriage counseling
Medical clinic
Mowing unkempt lawns
Neighborhood watch
Obesity reduction
Thwarting bullying in school
Etc.

If a church actively engaged these activities, NOT merely having a 'program' of such services available, unknown of and requiring their visiting the church property to access them, but they took these skills to the people, asking nothing in return, wouldn't people naturally ask why they were doing them, and on behalf of what organization?

All along, re-evangelism and prayer is engaged, for as many times as people will listen, perhaps varying the approaches after the initial visit, especially adding them into these social services. And isn't that what Jesus did, and how the early church gained favor with man/society, though with less modernized activities?

I do not have tons of confidence many if any churches will engage such a ministry, or church practice and church growth 'strategy,' but it is consistent with the Bible, and they should, even if we opt into more secularized, biblically unfounded and business-minded and emulating means.

CHURCH MESS-OF-THIS-AGE (MESS-AGE)

(2/4/22-2)

If you think about it, this isn't hard to understand, but few ever teach this: A Christian can have a conviction standard that when another mentions a Bible verse, does not at that moment convict them to do that Bible verse.

That being true, it is also true that there is zero reason why any pastor should oppose pushes to have their parishioners commit to doing II Chron. 7:14. HERE is the rub: Churches actually depend on donations, and angering or turning off sensitive or emotionally- or spiritually shallow people can harm the budget!

IF we trust God, when we do His will (or what the Bible teaches), He will supply our needs, even if we don't fully understand how/the mechanics. But merely humanly/logically, the less members, the less money and pay.

If an attender were to decide they'd leave a church, because the church is committing to live committed to God, is their donation really worth it? If the budget is tight, the answer may be yes!

So if one is dependent upon man, it's scary to consider teaching things that could offend anyone, which is one reason many pastors end up being people-pleasers. You cannot blame them, when all they've done and trained for is the ministry, as what other industry is similar, if they ever needed another job, even temporarily?

My point is unless one is convicted they shouldn't preach the truths of II Chron. 7:14, IMO, they should!

The greatest Christian of all did not rely entirely on church donations to survive! Reread that. Paul was diversified, in how God could meet his needs. He was a tent-maker. I can't imagine he ever had time for that, but the Bible states it.

IF Christians actually believe the Bible, that one verse solves America's problems! HOW? Because if Christians are doing God's prioritized values, America will get fully and effectively evangelized, then converts disciplined!

Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord. The more people who know Him, then are committed to live for Him, HOW COULDN'T AMERICA BE SAVED, as a nation?

I do NOT mean she becomes a "Christian nation," but a more moral one, as critical mass ensues to more moral living, as a trend.

The sinful ones become the minority, and feel out of place. MAY that happen, one day! Pray for it! II Chron. 7:14

Trust me!: I know some pastors fear church members would leave if they were exhorted to evangelize, and read the Bible often, for themselves. But the Bible and Church are God's idea, and how to do church is how God wrote it should be done; NOT what attracts or makes man happy. Tough words!?

IF any church doesn't teach the full counsel of God, they are cherry-picking! At the same time, a lifetime of sermons will never reach every verse! People like Osteen cherry pick the positive, happy, financial and health success tending verses. THAT is NOT biblical ministry!

FOR EXAMPLE Osteen is the poster child of never saying anything that could ever risk his losing any paying members! He's LITERALLY a motivation speaker. He uses the Bible for his messages, but mainly where they reinforce a very small few (positive) topics even lost people want to hear.

The Bible says in the end times churches will be monetarily rich, but spiritually poor, ear tickling entertainers will rise, forsaking God's word, and false prophets will arise in ministry for money, and/or as sex perverts. Our eyes seem blind to seeing these already exist! WHY? Hos. 4:1

I use Joel as a punching bag ONLY because I don't have time to gather evidence on the several just like him! I've protested his church before, and turned him into the Bible Answer Man in the 1990s, and knew of his lifestyle when he was a mere staffer living on Dover, in Houston. He's NOT alone.

'He makes me feel good' is a phrase I've heard 3-5 church members tell myself. Marijuana probably makes you feel good, for awhile. ANY Christian basing decisions on Bible accuracy by how they feel about sermons is a bona fide fool, if not an apostate! Look that definition up yourself.

CHURCH MESSAGE 1: CHRISTIAN NATIONALISM?

(11/18/21-2)

I've NO confidence Christians will all come to this conclusion, or pastors will teach them, but the 'own the libs' caustic mentality of the far right is antiChrist spirit. They may not care, even if taught, as stats say a majority are carnal. Morals aren't their top Mt. 6:33 concern.

IF there are saved Christians among claiming Christians, who embrace win-lose, dominate the Dems, demonize, divide, berate and belittle, for power, those saved ones are CARNAL. We know fake tares exist. The far right must be evangelized! They're FULL of lost people glorying in shame.

Lost people, by nature, aren't interested in becoming more holy. That's their one spiritual nature—to be like Satan. ANY GOP who supports the caustic Trumpism behaviors and attitudes has zero right ever mentioning 'God!', as they do so to curry Christian votes, anyway. May they be judged!

IF I could only have the power to have this be ordered, I could die a happy man: EVERY far right and far left extremist meet on a battlefield, and may the best man and woman win. America has NO NEED for either extremes—period!: Socialism and Trumpist far right warping of conservatism. BOTH evil.

Lost people don't CARE what God says, wrote or wants! LOOK at Communist "leaders." They FLAUNT evil deeds. They believe this life has no consequences or accountability. America's two polar extremes are of the exact same spiritual source! Three manifestations of Satan! Will Christians arise?

Stupidity and immorality are what initiate a person into the cult of extremists, right and left! If you are moral or intelligent, you will be blackballed. It's like a fraternity of idiots and immoral perverts! ANY Christian who joins either extreme is apostate or carnal or both—period!

DO YOU KNOW how truly saved Christians fall into the far right satanic political cult? IGNORANCE OF THE BIBLE! Maybe even well-intentioned! IF YOU ASK ANY U.S. layman what any New Testament book is about, or subjects it covers, they will usually be deer in headlights! ASK them to recite 10 verses!

I do not know if we are up against prophetic precursors, in seeking to stem carnality, see revival and Great Commission completed, and get politics back on right footing! Sin will be increased is to occur. It already is. Fish swimming against the stream. Cut vs. the grain!

Barna statistics PROVE Millennial Christians WANT people saved, but only ~12 percent will DO the only deed that causes that to happen. WE DEEM THIS well-intentioned attitude ACCEPTABLE, because like conservatives accuse libs of, the path to Hell is paved with good intentions! people burn forever due to you!

NO pastor wants to turn off donors. That would be biting the hand that feeds you (stupid). BUT, what U.S. Christian laymen MUST learn is their inaction is sending billions to Hell, and God will hold them accountable for those people being lost forever! THEIR BLOOD IS ON OUR HADS!

"When I say to the wicked, 'You will surely die,' and you do not warn him or speak out to warn the wicked from his wicked way that he may live, that wicked man shall die in his iniquity, but his blood I will require at your hand." Eze. 3:18 LET'S BREAK THIS VERSE DOWN...

1. God speaks to His people.
2. The lost will die in sin
3. The lost do not find life in this life
4. When God's people don't warn the lost, their blood is on God's people's hands (culpability/responsibility for)
5. Punishment is CERTAIN! Mirrored in the New Testament!

Therefore, I testify to you this day that I am innocent of the blood of all people. Ac. 20:26 I. Paul KNEW no lost person could blame him for not telling them how to miss Hell!

2. God would lay no man's blood on Paul's hands! U.S. Christians are like Carrie—lost people's blood-soaked! Isa. 64:6

EVERY Christian (there is no such thing as anything but the born again type!) owes God between 41 and 111 people told the gospel through their mouth! That does NOT allow overlap. Witness to someone someone else has reached, and your quota has NOT been met, before God! HAVE YOU DONE SO?

Barna research said Millennials fear what they could lose if they evangelized. God calls for sacrifice, but also wisdom. You don't have to ruin your career to obey God! pray for who God wants you to witness to! You're offering them a GIFT! Present it right; it's NOT bad news for them.

Christians are blood bought and washed. They are NOT to have lost people's blood on their hands, but be covered by Christ's blood. Non- and under-evangelizing Christians are literally GUILTY before God for the wasted life of people they refused to evangelize! That's spiritual murder!

The number of people God has had me evangelize has not cost me any status or income. We are commanded to be wise as serpents and innocent as doves! God wouldn't lead you to lose your livelihood if doing so was avoidable! If a boss says recant Jesus, YES you will suffer job loss!

I am a layman. Within one year of getting committed to Jesus ALL my relatives I associated with (many are far removed, and we never see or talk to them) had been evangelized, who needed such.

Many teach you start with your own fam. I say just start! If one layman can reach hundreds of thousands, using various methods, and many more, having influenced others to evangelize and evangelize even more, YOU, Christian layman, can do more than the STUPID star fish illustration, rejoicing in only reaching one! YOU OWE GOD 41-111, likely 11one! 41 is best-case scenario accounting!

My first year in seminary, God had me walk up and down McCart Avenue in Ft Worth. 12 out of 12 got saved! It is NOT a daunting task! I LOVE speaking with strangers. YOU may love speaking to people you know. Use your God-given personality to evangelize your 111, SOON!

41 is ONLY if everyone else who is saved reached 41 who no other Christian ever reached. PLAN on you needing to reach 11one! MOST have never won one soul; not just reached, but effectively seen them receive Jesus. I'm ONLY speaking about reaching; NOT winning. 111 is your need, goal and obligation to God!

Christians NEVER consider God punishing them, because Hell is off the table. But God is going to punish us for not evangelizing our share (111 each, no overlap). To avoid overlap, that requires much evangelism outside America! If you won't go and do so, you MUST fund those who will!

NO OVERLAP means of 205M U.S. Christians in a land of 333+M population, every Christian can ONLY evangelize about 1.5 lost Americans, leaving about 109 people you are personally responsible for who don't live in America, EVERY U.S. Christian! You owe God 109 lost people evangelized outside America!

It is INSANE for Americans to hear the gospel multiple times (though they should), when others hear none or rarely, when the average is seven presentations for one to respond in faith. Your ONLY obligation is to speak; NOT to convert. YOU owe God 109 foreigners, U.S. Christian!

HOW could YOU evangelize 109 people who don't live in America? Technology. Funding missionaries and evangelists who work outside America! 109 is your debt! Your obligation. Your duty. Anything less is sin and failure! U.S. Christians NEED to see WAY beyond America, for evangelism! America has workers!

96 percent of U.S.-trained ministry workers STAY in America, because they love creature comforts more than they love God! A pastor asked me, yesterday, why I wasn't in ministry. I told him I volunteered with the SBC Foreign Mission Board to be a full-time missionary, and the first question was have you ever been divorced?

The phone female literally responded to my 'yes:' then you are not qualified. So I told God I was going to chase money the way everyone else in America does, and earned my JD/MBA. HAVE YOU EVER HEARD OF THE 10/40 WINDOW? If not, you are hardly connected to biblical Christianity!

That longitudinal and latitudinal GPS spot is mainly the Islamic nations. They have the least evangelized people. I am telling EVERY Muslim, if you never receive Jesus, you will never go to Heaven—period! Missionaries work over there! FUND THEM! Your required 109 can be reached through your giving to evangelists and missionaries!

YOU can even take a mission trip! prayer doesn't qualify as doing your part to reach 109. It backs that pursuit, but the pursuit is required! I'm guessing I only reached less than 50 in Cambodia, but I also reached and discipled 25 pastors, so HOPEFULLY they will make up my 59 I couldn't get to in one week in Cambodia.

Overlap is an issue in evangelism, in deeming ourselves obedient to DOING the Great Commission! You want people to hear many times, but when they do, two Christians can't be said to have reached their required quota, as they are accounting for the exact same person! Jesus died for every soul!

Mt. 28:18-20 says "to all nations." Mk. 16:15-18 says take the gospel to every creature. It's NOT speaking of chewing the cud with cows! It's human creations spoken of! THERE IS A JUDGMENT OF CHRISTIANS!

You may NEVER learn this sitting in church. It's called "Bema." YES, believers' lives will face the judgment of almighty God. Hell is off the table, but loss will be felt in Heaven, at least initially! I Jn. 2:2 You have been lied to to believe. Change your ways! II Chron. 7:14

Being saved is the end all! If you live like the devil, thereafter, you are living for the devil! And God is not mocked! Forgiven of all your sins does not mean free to live as you please, but to live as pleases God, Christians! GO EVANGELIZE (and LIVE MORALLY)! Judgments coming! I Pet. 4:17

U.S. Christian: I KNOW you RARELY pick up the Bible for yourself, and read prayerfully! I know the stats. So I'm telling you, LOOK at these three verses: "The Lord knows those who are his," and, "Everyone who confesses the name of the Lord must turn away from wickedness." I Tim. 2:19d+

...for it is written: "Be holy, because I am holy. I Pet. 1:16 [God] who wants all people to be saved and to come to a knowledge of the truth. I Tim. 2:4 God wants all people saved and knowing the Bible. Undebatably. Christians have their marching orders, couch potato'ing! GO EVANGELIZE!

WHAT might Millennials lose if they evangelize? Eternal rewards. God's blessing in this life. A life with less trials. God's favor and filling. An enjoyable eternity in Heaven. A shameless entry into Heaven (NOT entry itself). Honor. Pleasing God. Devil's deserved attacks, etc.

NO ONE seems to be able to apply the Bible's teaching to OUR generation! Laodicea is how our era in history is described. Rev. 3! prophets in ministry for money (false profits) are detailed in Jude and 2 Pet. The traits of II Tim. 3:1-7 are to be widespread, as they already are! Wake UP.

Wake up. Strengthen the things that remain. The time already past is enough; sleeper, arise from the dead. THESE verses apply to present-day CHRISTIANS! Read what God says! Rev. 3:2; I Pet. 4:3; Eph. 5:14 Holiness comes from knowing God through His Bible (and prayer). NO shortcuts exist! (11/18/21-2)

Because so few people die, every day, compared to how many don't, Christians RARELY think of the large number who enter Hell every day! It's like when one to three ice hockey players enter the game in the middle of the action. You hardly notice. But ALL will go there without Christ. Jn. 3:16 (11/18/21-2)

CHURCH MESSAGE 2: THE 5/10/13 PROBLEM

(10/11/21-2)

This NEEDS to be said, as it explains almost everything in modern America: Statistics prove people who say they're Christians are a huge minority NOT disciples of Jesus. The range is between 67 percent and 87 percent. YES, they're NICE, pretty moral, church-going, say they love God, and may even tithe.

Statistics teach American Christianity has a 5/10/13 problem! Five percent win one soul to Christ in their lifetime; ten percent are fully committed to Christ, and thirteen percent read their Bibles daily!

If ANY Christian doesn't know and do this, they are deficient!:

1. Having a consistent quiet time. HOW ELSE can you know God, and grow?
2. Knowing the Bible, more and more every day. It IS the tool for spiritual growth (Jn. 17:17). TEST claimers to prove they know little, or some, NOT much.

THESE four activities are vital biblical priorities, and any claiming "Christian" who isn't involved with them is FAILING in their sanctification/Christian life!:

1. Thorough Evangelism
2. Relational Discipling
3. Body Life
4. Social Ministry (NOT just voting!) HERE is EXACTLY why:
 1. EVERYone burns forever in Hell, if Christians don't reach them with the gospel
 2. God saved believers to become more like Jesus, behaviorally
 3. EVERY Christian has a supernatural enabling God gave them to use in ministry
 4. Being like Christ does good in society, and changes things for the positive.

WHAT I AM SAYING is your Christianity is far sub-par, if ALL you do is:

1. Go to church
2. Sing (or not)
3. Listen to the sermon
4. Give (including tithing) "EDBS" is biblical Christianity; Churchianity is NOT! They're NOT the same! Evangelism, Discipleship, Body life, Social ministry.

Biblical church would have been IMPOSSIBLE in the book of Acts, if they had online streaming technology, because they DID EDBS! Christianity is NOT an event/program put on by professionals! It's a daily personal relationship with God, and requires action vs. viewing a virtual screen!

Update

(11/24/21-2)

THIS is the biblical money-making attitude. DO YOU SHARE IT, Christian? Phil. 4:13-19; Mt. 6:19-34; I Tim. 6:6-11; Pv. 23:4-5; Jas. 1:9-12, 4:13-17 If not, Laodicean culture is your God: An idol quenching God's Spirit! Bible calls it worldliness! You're God's ENEMY! Jas. 4:1-6; I Jn. 2:15-17

Paul valued discipleship over his premature enjoyment of Heaven. Phil. 1:21-25 Paul suffered in his commitment to evangelism, as he was certain he was saved. II Tim. 1:8-12 Name me ONE action you take to evangelize or disciple anyone, Christian. One.

IF you are a Christian, and can refuse to evangelize and be fully committed to Christ, after reading these verses, you are spiritually backslidden!: The book of Acts Rom. 1:13-18; I Cor. 9:6-27, 15:10; II Cor. 5:14-21, 11:1-28; Phil. 1:12-24; 3:4-16; I Th. 1:2-2:12; I Tim. 1:12-17; II Tim. 2:1-8

Christ came to seek and to save the lost. Lk. 19:10 Christ left the 99 safe and saved, to seek out the one which was lost. Mt. 18:12 HOW does your life emulate His evangelistic commitment, Christian? Do you serve Satan's or God's purposes?

Christ died on the cross to save men from their sins. That message must get to men for them to be saved from their sins. I Cor. 15:1-8a To hold in that knowledge, knowingly, is withholding and depriving lost people of any chance to ever go to Heaven, as it is how that happens! Rom. 1:16

In Heaven, NO CHRISTIAN will EVER say any other Christian was "too evangelistic"! Any who say it now are only saying such from GUILT over their own lack of evangelism, jealous or angry they look bad by comparison! People can come on too strong, but that's being "too forceful."

WHAT ABOUT those who've never heard the gospel? Do they stand any chance of going to Heaven? Rom. 2:14 MAY imply had they been offered, and they would have accepted, they MIGHT have a shot, but NO Christian can rely on that questionable interpretation! ASSUME they are Hellhound!

Duplicity/overlap in evangelism is AWESOME, as it takes seven presentations for 'success,' on average. It's EVIL if those efforts prevent ANYONE from hearing the gospel, had you reached one who's never heard! ALL MUST HEAR!

NEVER worry if you should evangelize someone. If led by the Spirit, the answer is ALWAYS yes! The ONLY people you walk away from are people adamant they will not listen, and may get violent! Warn 'em they're choosing Hell; tell 'em you're praying for 'em, and they're making an eternal mistake!

Even carnal Christians testify they're going to Heaven. HOW SELFISH (a sin) to go there without bringing anyone with you! You will spend ETERNITY blessed, but are WILLING to allow others to burn in Hell forever, just being happy you're not going there? ANATHEMA! Heresy! Apostasy!

The percent and amount of people who die daily, will ALWAYS be small/low. But as you ignore those numbers, every day, as time passes ALL people you see will be dead, and could go to Heaven, untold and unwarned, IF you ignore how many pass from us every day!

You could even use this meme, attached to a twitter message to lost people. The ways to complete the Great Commission are endless! The interest in doing so is very finite! One day it would be my desire to create an international war room on global evangelism.

It would coordinate, inspire, recruit and track all world evangelism, and document the need, and the non-need. The ONLY large donation I'll ever make, if ever wealthy, will be this! NO MORE IGNORANCE.

You can find pastors in other nations to contact by twitter, mail, or other means, to get them to organize evangelism of their country. Motivation is number one need! No money in it for them (excepting online church membership); only eternal rewards. Disciple them!

CHURCH MESSAGE 3: EVANGELISM THEN & NOW

(11/27/21-2)

IF evangelism was illegal in Cambodia in 1996—and we did it—WHAT does that say to Christians in countries where that's illegal? DO IT, but do it wisely! It LITERALLY doesn't require human interaction! It's a message you can leave at their doorstep! Pray and engage information dissemination!

Ac. 9:41-42 Miracles cause news and fame, that can spread salvations. Helps to have eyewitnesses, vs. private miracles. I will take ANY professional lie detector to verify this experience happened to me in Fall 1981: Ac. 8:40 Hillsboro to Austin, in a second. ONLY miracle ever for me.

ADD up the MOST Christians who could have engaged evangelism at the start of the church, then divide that number into 150-300M. They COMPLETED the Great Commission! Ac. 17:6 IF they didn't reach every soul, they reached enough those they reached would reach the rest!

Let's do math:

First Church Christians: 120 in upper room (Ac. 1:15-26), first two mega churches in Jerusalem (4000, Ac. 2:41; 5000 males, plus women and children). Then the converts throughout Acts. NOT all in these churches evangelized, likely. Could be 15K warriors; likely less. Responsible for 300M!

2.382B Christians in the world of 7.753B equals 3.254 distinct lost people per claiming believer and the Great Commission is minimally completed! 205M in U.S., out of 329M population equals 1.6 unique people evangelized; NO overlap. Doable! DON'T overlap, or folk get missed!

Let's go through EXCUSES:

I don't know enough. MEMORIZE what's below, or just Jn. 3:16 I'm afraid. Memorize II Tim. 1:7 I don't like rejection. No one does. Do what you don't like. I've had it RARELY happen, and they aren't rejecting you! It's not my gift. It's your calling, even so! I could lose a lot. That's idolatry.

Witness to people you can lose nothing evangelizing (strangers). That's the preacher's job. UNtrue. READ Eph. 4 I don't want to. Sinful desire. Memorize Rom. 1:16; meditate. READ "Why Evangelize" at the Will You Live Forever? button, at this website. Repent! We cannot rely on every Christian reaching two! Many won't!

You need conviction that Hell is real and the gospel is God's only way for man's for salvation. Faith (conviction) comes from the Bible, Rom. 10:17 IF you are following Jesus, He said He will make you evangelistic. If you aren't evangelizing, you aren't following Jesus! Mt. 4:19 41 people MINIMUM with two outside America!

IF every Christian did that, the Great Commission would be finished in our generation! ONLY monitor births, thereafter! 41 is a MUCH better goal, to make up for slackers' lack. I Th. 3:10 111 is ideal, and the MAXIMUM any layman must do, to cover for others' sin!

BUT, they have to be distinct! EVERY TIME any person hears more than once, and two people are counting that one person in their total, the math breaks down! Even if every American Christian did 111, but never overseas, millions never hear the gospel. Order is God's way! I Cor. 14:33

People call it legalism, to PROVE the world has been reached. There's NO OTHER WAY to know if we did our job except to document who hasn't heard, and who has! It doesn't have to be a master list, but overlap is where Swiss cheese holes occur and people fall through eternal cracks to Hell! NO ONE left behind!

Christians in U.S. believe all Americans have heard or have access to the Gospel. NOWHERE does God say make it available! Having a church on every street corner is NOT evangelism! Access is NOT message transmission! God NOWHERE tells ANY lost person to do anything to find the gospel!

WE WILL NOT EVANGELIZE all lost people closest to our church building because we'd rather WAIT, and try to "attract" them, so they don't get turned off to our church, as potential attenders and donors, by presenting the gospel straightforwardly! They miss out, and could die, before then. Gal. 2:14

You DON'T take Hell as literal or serious as it is, if you don't evangelize 41 minimum and 111 maximum lost people, and most in other countries! You DISbelieve THESE verses, Christian! RIP them from your hypocritically carried Bible!: Mt. 8:12, 10:28; Mk. 9:42-48; Lk. 16:23-24; II Pet. 2:4; Jude 1:13

The worst form of hatred is non-evangelism. It is eternal, spiritual murder. The most selfish act any human can commit is NOT evangelizing, as a Christian. The mouth and feet are symbols, because you have to go, and you have to go speak! Yet we hold it in!

Eternally Good News!
(I Corinthians 15:1-4, the Bible)
All [people] have sinned [done wrongly], and fallen short of God's glory [His perfect standard for heaven]. (Romans 3:23)
The wages [paycheck] for sin is death, but God's gift is eternal life through Jesus Christ. (Romans 6:23)
God proved His love for us, in that while we were yet sinners, Jesus died [on the cross] for us [to pay the price/penalty for our sins]. (Romans 5:8)
God so loved the whole world that He gave His only Son [as a sin sacrifice], that whoever believes in Jesus will not perish, but have eternal life [now, and after they die]. (John 3:16)
As many people as receive Jesus, to them God gives the power to become children of God [assured of heaven vs. hell], even to those who believe in His name [pray to receive Him]. (John 1:12)

We humans deem murder the worst sin. The most harmful and destructive thing any human can do is NOT just kill the body, but kill the soul, by NOT letting people know THIS message! it is the action of inaction that is the severest sin!

God led me to teach "On Hell" in a Sunday School class and all left the building and evangelized in a Wal-Mart parking lot in Katy, TX. DO THE SAME! (2/18/15)

"On Hell" is a lesson available for free at this website's Will You Live Forever? button. IF any pastor or Sunday School teacher will teach it, hearers can't help but go evangelize! I got 100 percent compliance, teaching it! TRY IT!!!

The meaning of life is to find your gift. The purpose of life is to give it away. –Pablo Picasso

CHURCH MESSAGE 4: CARNALITY CONDEMNED

(12/27/21-2)

Non-violent and moderate Muslims were roundly and rightly criticized for NOT denouncing terrorists using their religion. Imperfect as we are, EVERY real Christian denounces blatantly or consistently sinning claimers of Christ. They aren't trying to obey God! Rebel enemies

If a believer can't recite 10 Bible verses from memory, NO ONE can say of them, "Thy word I have laid on my heart, that I might not sin against Thee," or 'How can a young man keep his way pure, by guarding it according to Thy word." It requires Bible; no know, no grow! No other way

God will NOT ask Christians, at the Bema Judgment, who was your pastor, or how many times did you hear sermons? He will ask, what did you do with My Son? The Bible is for personal meditation. NO guru required! I Jn. 2:27 Your pastor WON'T be able to help you through that judgment!

Sanctification requires effort. You don't grow by osmosis, or time passing! Discipleship requires a commitment. It is daily. Christians are not disciples, in experience, unless they are committed, daily. If not, the Bible calls them carnal (sinful/fleshly). NOT right with God!

God is NOT a one hour a week experience. He is accessible to real Christians 24/7, seven days a week. IF that's not how you're experiencing Him, and you claim to be a Christian, you are a carnal 1, and need to repent! You are living in open rebellion and sin, displeasing God. Shameful choice!

I have NEVER believed people who claim to be Christians could be deceived, as it takes some belief or courage to claim that. BUT, in politics, I've come to believe people can have false security in their salvation! Deeds don't prove salvation, but their absence raises questions!

I am connected to two of the best churches in the world. I can't speak of others as detailedly. BUT I can say that when you see so many far righters saying and behaving OPPOSITE Jesus, a tank factory produces tanks. What are their churches producing? NOT the intended end product! FAIL!

ANY U.S. pastor who can't observe a noticeable moral difference between a Trump cultist and other GOP's does NOT have discernment, and the Bible has the Bible as the solution to your problem! Heb. 5:14 READ IT for more than sermon prep! You lack judgment. NOT a good trait for any pastor!

U.S. PASTOR: If only for grins, this Sunday, ask the crowd to bow their heads, close their eyes, and ask:

1. Who reads their Bible daily?
2. Who prays daily?
3. Who evangelizes regularly?
4. Who is fully committed to Jesus?

YOU will be SHOCKED!!!

The biblical fear of God, and hatred of sin are NOT prevalent attitudes in U.S. Christianity. We treat Him like Gilligan, our little buddy, and sin like it's a common cold everyone just learns to live with. The Bible teaches BOTH these values! Pv. 1:7, 8:13

You can be a Christian and disbelieve parts of the Bible. Those who don't believe we will face judgment, God punishes sin, God rewards righteousness, sin is evil, goodness is the goal, and all idols are wicked, as is lying, DON'T believe God's word. They disbelieve verses in it! Anathema.

MODERN CHURCH DEFICIENCIES

(2/13/22-2)

You'd have NO idea what church IS, if I didn't give you the thorough picture! You'd ONLY know what you SEE, or what LITTLE you hear in sermons. Christ builds it, and Hell's gates cannot conquer it. Mt. 16:17-19 Where 2-3 Christians are, God is in their midst. Mt. 18:20

Pastors are held accountable (Mt. 18:15-20), as are laymen (church discipline, I Cor. 5). It is NOT corpses or appendages set next to each other on an autopsy table, but body parts working in harmony. Sitting on your duff is NOT that, nor is it using your spiritual gift to edify anyone! Rom. 12:3-8

HOW is ANY Christian using their spiritual gift(s) being a bench warmer on Sunday for 1.2 hours? Instead, we are total strangers sitting next to others! Rom. 14 speaks of stronger and weaker brothers. That would require socializing, to discover the one's offended by the strongers' acts!

Rom. 15:18 Paul's ambition was THOROUGH evangelism and discipleship of all men, as is the church's mission. Col. 1:28; I Cor. 9:22; II Tim. 2:10 99 percent of lost people are OUTSIDE the uncommanded building! Seek out the one lost, and leave the 99 (though the numbers are reversed, today).

Deacons have qualifications, and served in matters LESS than Bible and prayer. Ac. 6 They even engaged DAILY serving widows food, and the church had a widow's list, as a voluntary private safety net! I Tim. 5:1-16 We've outsourced that to government! TRUE religion cares for the widows and orphans. Jas. 1:27 I don't even know one orphan, and it's a collective concern—not a unique ministry for elites to serve in.

Church was collective instruction to maturity in good works, of varying quality. I Cor. 3, Titus; Eph. 4 We DO do the Lord's Supper well, but we couldn't even consider I Cor. 6:1-8, as avoiding Christian lawsuits applied with people who interacted with their fellow church members! We hardly even know each other; much less do business together that can go south!

Do churches encourage singleness, or celibacy (if so called)? I Cor. 7 teaches pure devotion to Christ, which marriage CAN distract from.

Do we have biblical unity, experienced, and do we do all for the good of the other brother? I Cor. 10:23-31

Is our evangelism thorough or intense, like Paul? I Cor. 10:32-33 Do we even know or make any distinctions in women's role in church? I Cor. 11; I Tim. 2:9-15

Are spiritual gifts used as prominently in our church services, like is presented in I Cor. 12-14? Do we know prophecy, to encourage us as a group? I Cor. 15:51-58; I Th. 3:13-18; II Th. 2:1-17

Does any believers' sufferings allow them to comfort others in the church? II Cor. 1

Again, there is absolutely zero church discipline in our churches, as that would be "judging," even though God teaches it! II Cor. 2

Do our churches walk by faith? II Cor. 3:4-4:18 OR, do we compare our church practice by other church's practice, deluding ourselves, sight-walking? II Cor. 10:12

Do our church's members have THIS commitment to evangelism?: II Cor. 5:14-21

Do church staff have THIS attitude toward all members being disciplined?: II Cor. 6:1-7:1 Again, NO church discipline! II Cor. 7:2-16

Does ANY local church share II Cor. 8 as their giving model? We give for OUR church, mainly (SBC Cooperative Program as one good exception). Our churches are private business units, concerned with increasing donations so they can bless our individual church's programs—NOT any struggling churches! You KNOW I'm telling the TRUTH!

I could go on through Gal.-Rev., and show you racial unity in Gal.; collective maturity in Eph. 4; evangelism commitment in Phil. 1; grace giving in Phil. 4; collective discipleship in Col. 3-4; evangelism and discipleship in I Th. 1-2; how church is to be practiced in I Tim.; how pastors are to behave in II Tim. and Tit.

LOVE in Phm.; encouragement to not fall away in Heb. (with warnings). HOW WOULD YOU KNOW ANYONE IS FALLING AWAY, in modern church, when you don't even know them? Maybe if you don't see them in church for awhile? That's just a GUESS! They could be sick, or have changed churches!

Jas. 2 teaches faith with works, especially regarding poor Christians in your church assembly! Jas. 5 speaks of body life, prayer for the sick, public rejoicing and sharing prayer needs, and engaging others' suffering. HOW DOES THIS HAPPEN IN CHURCH, as there is zero Sunday School in the New Testament!

READ I Pet.! It's FULL of ethical injunctions we take personally, but it's written collectively! Do we suffer at all for our faith? Would ANY Christian ever know another one needed to be rebuked that they've lived in sin long enough? I Pet. 4:1-6

Pastors DO shepherd their sheep. I Pet. 5:1-5 Do they preach the Bible/word, or other subject matter? II Tim. 4:2 Do they work hard to preach AND teach, or mainly just preach? Teaching requires understanding, then explaining. Preaching is taking passages and encouraging people based on them. Teaching is harder, and less are to do it. I Tim. 5:17; Jas. 3

READ I Jn. Do you know churches whose laymen interactions are like what's described therein (Ex.: Love vs. hate)? You can't even hate or love, if you hardly know each other!

Is your church living/walking in truth? II-III Jn. Do you have members who are good and bad witnesses to the truth? Do the bad ones ever get reproved? III Jn.

Does your church monetarily support strangers in ministry? II Jn.

Are there ministers in ministry for money, or who are sexual perverts? Jude; II Pet.

Does God see YOUR local church like any of the seven in Rev. 1-3? Jesus sees churches as a collective bunch! What does He see in yours? HOW does yours stack up to this overview list of New Testament church traits? OR, is yours mainly song, sermon and silver, for 1.2 hours a week?

NO WONDER attendance is down, and the U.S. majority doesn't attend! Hard words, but TRUE!!!

Pastors WANT church growth! Do they want it God's way? I JUST detailed a cornucopia of verses that teach laymen what they should be demanding from their church, and participating in achieving. DO YOU, instead, ACCEPT COMPROMISED and CARNAL CHURCHIANITY? Be the solution; NOT the problem!-

One P.S.: HAVE YOU EVER heard ANY sermon in any church that ever detailed what church is supposed to be, biblically? I just taught you what that is. DON'T just be preached to! Be taught! It's more detailed, more lengthy, less emotionally satisfying, but more needed! Preach and teach!

P.S.S.: I Tim. 5:17 indicates pastors are due more money if they also teach. The verse makes it clear that preaching will be their preferred/default mode, but they are to take effort to work hard to also teach! You can't just wing a teaching sermon! Hard studying is required! NOT ad-libbing.

Do you want to know how important pastors teaching (laymen understanding) God's word is to God? Foundational is preaching. II Tim. 4:2 Those who add teaching are due double honor, maybe pay. I Tim. 5:17 There will be fewer of them. Jas. 3:1 Educate; NOT just motivate! God wants Christians smart-er! (2/14/22-2)

IF REVIVAL BROKE OUT

(11/16/21-2)

IF revival broke out in America (it probably won't), what would that look like? Liberals would get the kingdom of God on earth utopia they've sought, and conservatives would have it paid for the way they've always sought, by private donations only. That means, Americas many problems would be fixed.

Diseases researched for eradication, natural disaster amelioration technologies, so they didn't harm mankind. Poverty fixed, so every citizen had food and shelter. I Tim. 6:8 The poor you have with you always, but NOT the severe poor. Mk. 14:7 The rich would obey God (all of them) by generously giving back to the society that allowed them such privilege. I Tim. 6:17-19.

The poor would be taught and motivated to become self-sufficient, responsible adults; not dependent, needy, whiny or leaches to our tax system. II Th. 3:10; Col. 3:23 Charities would coordinate to have zero overlapping functions (waste). Wages would be fair, and management would not get over-paid. Race relations would mimic MLK (judged by the character of one's heart—NOT the color of their skin).

Our economy would BOOM, from innovation, as God is a Creator. PROOF? See our web site and you will nowhere find as many innovative ideas, including over 4500 new product ideas in our four main books! TAKE THAT, Shark Tank! New efficiencies would be reached in business, using technology. World-class education would be available to ALL U.S. kids.

Our borders would only let in people whose job skills we need, and equally GOP- and Dem-leaning types (by examination), so neither major party gained any advantage by disadvantaging the United States with over- or under-immigration, but Goldilocks (just right) immigration. New refugees and migrants would assimilate, grateful to be in the greatest nation on earth. Green energy would prevail, by market forces.

That means less pollution, because we found ways to make such developments profitable; not mandated by Uncle Sam! Many less babies would be murdered out of sight in the mother's womb.

Gay 'couples' would keep their sexuality private and behind closed doors, just as straight people never publicly announce that they're straight! NATO would be expanded, and democracy spread, without any negative trappings of unbridled Capitalism, where people get exploited to cater, UNjustly, mainly to the rich. Levit. 19:15.

People would be free to exercise any or no religion they chose. And that point brings me to why this will never happen, but instead, by prophecy WILL. It would take every claiming Christian doing all four elements of II Chron. 7:14. They will NOT!

Revival starts at every church you see on every street corner in the South, and all the other ones spread across our great land! Politics would be as I exactly describe in all my writings: JUST to all, favoring neither, where all sides win some and lose some through common ground.

Pipe dream, the American Dream as GOD would envision it. Completely doable, but unattainable because of sin within the walls of the Church. GOD is the One saying the blame lies there; NOT this messenger! I Pet. 4:17

HAD real Christians obeyed God's priorities, the past generation/40 years, this described reality would already exist, because all Americans would have been evangelized, all saved ones disciplined, ministry from ones supernatural gifts exercised would be done by all believers, and their efforts would have led the charge to change society to Thy kingdom on earth, as it is in Heaven.

I have been a part of all four of those priority ministries, so no satanic LIAR will EVER tell me it can't be done! Rick Warren daily proves social ministry is possible! He works tirelessly to ensure food supplies to the world's poor, through garden growing plots of land.

NO American need go round hungry, with this solution, or beg for bread (which NO Christian should ever have to do, as God supplies for His children. Phil. 4:19; Ps. 37:25). Entire neighborhoods heard the gospel in Waco, TX, in 1978 or 1979.

Baylor students got disciplined through Campus Crusade and the Navigators. I couldn't get EITHER of those ministries even to CONTACT my eldest when he attended there, two years ago! He wasn't one of the cherished and targeted frat rats, I was told, in more religious terminology!

It's the same SATANIC belief system that believes you NEED a Tim Tebow, a Tony Dungy to speak at your church, and a Christian in Hollywood, as sheep follow icons. NOWHERE in Scripture is this idea taught—period! Evangelism is 1:1. The entire zip code of 76116 has been entirely evangelized by members of my alma mater, @swbts!

As D.L. Moody said, "It can be done, it must be done, it will be done." That attitude must be felt by every American Christian.

Sadly, it's hardly even spoken of in Christian circles! So we find ourselves in a broken, divided, hated-filled country; everyone at each other's throats, stressed out, politically polarized, led by some of the most corrupt liars in man's history.

ALL because since 1980, churches have not avidly pursued:

1. Thorough evangelism of the lost
2. Thorough disciplining of Christians
3. Body life/spiritual gifts in ministry and
4. Social ministry/blessing society

I am NOT teaching non-Christians to loathe Christians. I am placing the blame for society's many ills precisely where God places it, with one BIG caveat. We also know, as prophecy approaches, sin will be increased! Mt. 24:12; II Tim. 3:1-7 Welcome to THAT generation! DO II Chron. 7:14

AS GOES THE CHURCH, SO GOES THE CULTURE

(12/25/21-2)

The moral condition of America is a DIRECT result of the spiritual condition of the Church! I have said this for DECADES! When pastors abandoned EDBS priorities, for church growth and mega churches (1978-1984/5), The Apostasy process began! II Chron. 7:14 is our ONLY hope!

My sermon I would give at a church, on the campaign trail: EDBS is God's priorities! Proof? E-Lk. 19:10 D-Mt. 28:19-20; II Tim. 2:2 B-Eph. 4:11-16; Ro 12:3-8 S-Ac. 10:38. II Chron. 7:14; I Pet. 4:17 Then verbally describe biblical politics to them!

An idol is ANYTHING valued as higher priority than God. Voting to enable all these sins was selling one's soul to satan! NO sermons EVER teach this TRUTH! The F Joe Biden crowd MUST be evangelized, or disciplined, if saved, PASTORS! "Losing!" II Chron. 7:14

I am convinced many pastors don't see the problem of all the division, hatred, fighting, slandering and attempts to dominate or own their political opponents. IF this is true, pastors need to be disciplined, if not evangelized. The Apostasy of prophecy has already started! Fall-aways.

PRAYER, ANSWERED

(2/7/22-2)

I cannot believe You overlook all the evils done in your Name! It is amazing how patient You are. WHERE is the righteous indignation You used to demonstrate in the Old Testament? It is a major change to the New!

The Tribulation will have no one doubting its morality and need!

So sin increases, without repercussions, will show the JUSTICE of that 7-year period?

Exactly.

Can YOU imagine how bad things have to get until most humans will admit sin is a problem? Delusion, ignoring, ignorance, self as an idol—these blind people to sins reality! Judgment is coming.

Good to know there will be some justice someday!

I've said you're impatient! You don't know My eternal plan as to timing. Do you REALLY want every lost person to go to Hell, if I were to start the Day of the Lord today?

They don't automatically go, but can get saved then!

More difficultly.

I wasn't asking for the Tribulation, but judgment!

Yes, but that can mean deaths, which means automatic Hell, for many who'd die. Have your people evangelized them—ever? Y'all don't even know that answer!

So judgment is delayed so evangelism MIGHT occur?

Exactly! II Pet. 3

DO YOU REALLY believe any Christian or church or denomination or country is EVER going to evangelize every lost person in their own sphere of influence, no matter its size?

I have a remnant. They would, if organized, inspired, and equipped, financially and with technology and materials!

ONLY them!

You all NEED to start ignoring the carnal majority and unevangelistic super majority, and learn how I multiply fish and bread, miraculously, and follow the example of Acts, where ~120+ turned the world upside down! You KEEP hoping for church renewal, then social revival. You ONLY need to concern yourself with finding the remnant! They need no more participants, as such aren't expected! They need:

1. Prayer
2. Money
3. Organizing
4. Technology
5. Materials
6. Inspiring
7. RESULTS! Do you want to identify them all?

(yes)

Make a public call for Josh 24:15, if ever given media access. Do so in churches, if ever given access to speak. Use advertising to get people to your writings, including TV and billboards. YOU can't convince anyone, individually, as you are but one. Get them to My messages! The remnant CAN complete the Great Commission! The Southern Baptists, alone, with aid from Bible church and Charismatics, could do the job! You have ties to all three, as your only denominations you've been part of! YOU see and think maybe five lost people per laymen reached. I see FEW laymen reaching thousands! YES, laborers are few, so pray! Prayer is the missing ingredient! Even with NO laborers, if I answer those prayers, the remnant can do the job!

BUT, I don't think there are many who even care, unless they can profit off the effort!

Maybe not in percent, but small percents can mean large numbers! Identify them! ALL it takes is the few doing the work of the not so few! Paul did it! I Cor. 15:10; Col. 1:24 FORGET fair share! Do MORE than your fair share! Let Me lay it out:

- A) Find all evangelistic Christians
- B) Assign territories, so overlap doesn't waste limited resources
- C) Use technologies
- D) Pray for the effort
- E) Track/document results, to know what's left to do
- F) Use accurate materials
- G) Let the carnals fund the effort, as they won't join it! Senders vs. sent, from stubbornness and fear sins! Use least-cost methods! IF you were to have My materials get known, that would help, and cost nothing for people to access by the web! Now that you're down to one website, even more efficient! Get the gospel prominent on that website; NOT just on Twitter or Facebook! Advertise it as if it is running for office! It has the answers! Treat it like product promotion.

Please explain how it could be done, specifically. I do not have the time or calling to head such a thing up!

You provide the blueprint. You do have enough on your plate. HERE is that model:

1. Identify all evangelists, professional and amateur.
2. Gather them, in person or electronically, to discuss the issue. Their careers are based on models that don't address the bigger picture, individually; just as parts/cogs in the wheel!

Teach them Paul's mindset for the church and world, through this message. II Cor. 11:28; Ac. 20:26. When you know all the remnant's numbers, you divide and conquer. Obviously, saved people don't need evangelism. Have all born again people self-identify, perhaps by a red dot on their front door, or have pastors ensure all their members and attendees are evangelized, once, MINIMUM, now/soon.

Then the remnant can pass by those people! Many lost people have heard! They need to hear again, but those who never have are priority.

1. It's dangerous work! It can be against the law. It can cause jail time. Use technology; even robots and drones, as needed. Get this message to every soul! Be creative/crafty.

There are remnant pastors and churches who will engage this mission, if it's organized and professional enough to be credible! FORGET the every farmer till your own soil strategy. You've proved few will ever do it. Get the remnant to do all the work. I will judge the others!

DON'T do evangelism crusades and revival meetings before Christians, as a major facet. Reach the lost! The remnant has to identify all lost people (especially those who have never heard), and get My message to them, verbally or with materials or air wave broadcasts, or social media, or tract drops, or radio waves, or major news events that gain global media attention, or whatever way I lead individuals within the remnant. Find the remnant first.

Do You actually mean myself find them?

NO. You present this blueprint. Those in the remnant will warm to it; all others think it impossible, or unneeded. ALWAYS remember Hell! It is worth the effort, and I didn't lie and I wasn't joking with My Great Commission! My Son didn't die in vain, as a joke, or to do all the work that's needed to get all to Heaven. YOU, Christians, are My feet and hands, and especially My mouth, for now. Do your job, REMNANT! Remember that term! These words are nonsense to those under judgment, among My people! Likely a majority! Overlook and LEAVE the b-st-ard children! [Heb. 12:8 term!] Let there be a separation, not a confrontation. Just abandon hopes for more workers, except through prayer! The 10/40 Window first and foremost! Like C.T. Studd, SEE the need! Your eyes are blind (most of you). You hear sermons that don't stick. There's NO action steps stemming from even great sermons! FIND THE GLOBAL REMNANT who don't need to be convinced! Organize their efforts. Do you people NOT see you have random, sporadic, disorganized, overlapping, hugely gapped, chaotic, symbolic token evangelism efforts, world-wide? IS THAT TAUGHT IN MY GREAT COMMISSION? Do I say it is impossible to do, with Me? Where is your faith! Prove it! Mt. 19:26 You claimed children ACT like I lie, or joke, or Hell is fake, or death can't happen today, or the Tribulation can't start today! That is practicing UNbelief, and denial of Scripture. You REALLY should tear up old, used Bibles in public, to demonstrate how My people treat the Good Book's Great Commission! Burn Bibles, with local permits! Ronnie Reagan would gladly unite with you over that! Make a public spectacle! Ac. 26:26 Cause a stir, when you are made to run. Yes, I know it's not really your nature or interest to be public, but you have been called!

#Tears I never knew You knew!

YES, I know you don't like attention. I NEED you to get it for My causes! It may run against your nature, but My way is not always easy! Stretch your faith. Do what's uncomfortable and unnatural. Decide and force yourself to accept public attention deflected and directed towards Me. You can do it. For the sake of the eternal kingdom, and the billions heading to Hell, wouldn't you, for a time (1.3 years) be willing to even make a fool of yourself, if that's what it took to garner public media attention for such a cause as this?

You know our question's answer! What did I pray in 1978? Anything, anywhere.
I still recall the second floor staircase platform (concrete) on some wing of the Science building at Baylor, late at night, full of tears, when I made that commitment, devastated over the loss of the gal I thought I'd marry!

I remember it too! Mk. 10:29 Do YOU remember Me giving you that verse?

Yes, and I wrote it in my quiet time journal, long since lost.

Is it a lie?

No.

Have I ever failed you?

No, but many delays!

Can I raise anyone up?

Able to; haven't ever been led as to how!

I will show you how! Get a manager and backers, then push the website! IF you place a remnant blueprint as a prominent portion, like you just did the gospel, can you imagine how that could be used globally?

I can, but You have never led to me having any notoriety beyond VIPs on Twitter!

I can, I will. Be patient. Get the blueprint in print! SUMMARY:

1. Identify all needy lost people (avoid all Christians)
2. Identify all workers (i.e., the remnant)
3. Pray
4. Use all means to get message to all in number one, ASAP
5. Let all others FEEL they're part, by funding this! #EndOfStory Go publish the plan!

Books Update first pages?

YES. Prominence! Duh

DID YOU THINK your foot problem was only physical?

Yes.

It's a symbol of evangelism lack crippling My church! Rom. 10 I just gave you the cure, physically and spiritually. People can't follow Me and not be made fishers of men. Walking requires able feet, using mouth and foot; NOT hoof-in-mouth! HOW MANY YEARS have Will You Live Forever? button's materials on the remnant completing the great Commission been avail for Christians to learn?

Since 2005, or so!

Has it been implemented?

HARDLY!

How many people are in Hell, now, because of that? Will you all wait even more 17 year periods? You need that website promoted! That is priority one, when you run. I will make you run, if you get cold, hurting feet!

Thanks! I need that assurance I will do what I say, because You make me do what You make me say!

Get the website promoted. It solves almost everything!

Will do. When?

Three months before, or whenever your manager tells you is best. Get a good one. You can have the cheapest campaign—ever! Just national TV ads promoting it, you as its author and the candidate (secondarily). They read it, game over. Don't, game on! Find a manager and backers soon!

(OK?)

You haven't contacted enough of them. You have a list of backers. You only tried one. Managers you can research on Google. Get the backers, and money-hungry managers will come out of the woodworks. You won't appear viable, to most. They don't trust Me!

I'm not even sure You can pull this off!

Doubter!

Agreed.

Trust My leading! Make an argument, 1-page long, then present it to the right bunch I lead you to.

I don't believe they'll respond. One bugged out, apparently forever. He had been here a bunch!

Doubter, believe!

Ugh. OK. Ugh.

I DON'T believe that plan will ever be done. That's because you are basing that opinion on your experience, walking by sight of past efforts. What can I do, if the information got into the right hands?

Anything.

Trust My skills, not current-state practice!

~OK!? You'd have to change many hearts!

You do NOT need to stress over implementing that plan, anytime soon, if ever. Maybe in retirement. Lay out the plan, and accountability ensues if it's not done, but known about. One church you know has done well more than their share. ALL others need to do their part. Thankful for the stress relief. Do you know pastors in other nations?

Three maximum, likely only one.

Then HOW can you assume all behave in evangelism like they do in Laodicea? They even send missionaries to America! It's getting that global plan to all nations that matters; NOT ego-centrally focused on America!

OK.

Many pastors say, "I'm a pastor/shepherd of the sheep—NOT an evangelist." LOOK at the Good Shepherd, Who LEFT the 99 to find the one lost lamb. HOW MANY lost souls are within walking distance of the sheep pen? Jesus didn't invite them to the pen, but went to them!

8. CHURCH GROWTH

1. How to Maximize Your Church
2. Church Purge
3. Biblical Church Growth (I)
4. Small Church Growth
5. Church Growth Man's Way

HOW TO MAXIMIZE YOUR CHURCH

(5/19/21-2)

How churches can maximize money intake:

1. Prayer in faith
2. Minimize expenses
3. Bivocational
4. Teach Spirit-led grace giving
5. Mature up believers (carnals are less interested in funding God's work)
6. Transparent budgets
7. Attract MORE members! (MANY ways to do this)

How churches can attract MORE attenders:

1. Smart church name
2. Attractive building
3. Ministries that HELP the community
4. Welcoming, loving environment
5. BE the New Testament church, gathered, in practice! IT worked, in Acts! Growth was continual!
6. EVANGELIZE!
7. Disciple!

CHURCH PURGE

(2/1/22-2)

I'm 'gonna be foolish (II Cor. 11:1): IF any pastor preaches excellently, also can teach (at least some) does things with quality and professionalism, accurately explains the Bible, and lives the life, WHY would you go anywhere else? My two churches should have 500K members, each! Seek quality.

IMO, one of the two churches I attend should open smaller satellite versions with streaming telescreens, for people unwilling to attend a large crowd. Maybe home churches, so no costs, up front. From what I've experienced, anyone wanting quality and Bible SHOULD and would leave lesser churches!

I have a universal church mindset in life. I don't promote religious businesses! Gods people, universal, NEED discipling, and exhortation to evangelism. If they don't get that where they attend, sheep stealing is HOLY! God's values matter more than man's income! Technology allows such gains!

I'd be spiritually vs. emotionally DISappointed if Gateway and Prestonwood don't EQUAL Pastor Cho's church in So Korea, in 10 years! I've met enough know little, biblically DISqualified "pastors" that if they DON'T lose all their members, an injustice has occurred. I care about Christians and justice!

IT'S UNACCEPTABLE for ANY church to be a business for people who like to talk! God has a blueprint and job description for pastors, and if they don't obey/heed it, they're wolves, tares or Jude and II Pet. false profits (prophets). I'll tell every believer I know to leave unbiblical churches!

If Prestonwood and Gateway Church don't reach 500K-1.5M members, this next decade, it will be because carnal Christians ACCEPT unbiblical and sub-par church practice and ministers. Let pastors suffer financial loss, if they do work NOT Gods way! I want 10 campuses for my home church!

When I run, in the strangest irony ever, I will speak about what biblical church is, what God's priorities are for churches, and what elder qualifications entail! THAT will make me REALLY popular (sarcasm); No matter. God's values trump other interests or concerns!

I will repeat for a third time (I've NEVER done that): Prestonwood and Gateway MUST have 500K members in one decade, or Christians in America are accepting sub-par church and minister practice. That doesn't mean there aren't equally excellent pastors. ALL of them should get all the real Christians!

My point is I want to see churches led by carnal ministers ENDED, and laymen who accept unbiblical church practice to have to find another church that isn't that way! Sheep steal from the wolves! That's an honorable effort. Save the sheep, and leave the 99 to do so! Three times I've said 500K!

Preach and be paid is NOT a fully biblical value system. Come and hear as the layman's duty is NOT a fully biblical value system! Churchianity is satanic, as it robs Christians and lost people knowing what God has to offer them to observe and experience! It represents Him wrongly! That's sin!

Gateway already has home church cells. Livestream to homes, and identify where their members live, outside driving range. Have community in other cities and states, who worship at our church. Gateway should go global, but NOT with his son at the helm, IMO! Prestonwood, too... global.

I'M NOT speaking of TV, internet and radio access. ACTUAL church gatherings in Cambodia, China, Laos, etc., where Christians who want biblical church see live telecasts of these two churches, GATHERED, vs. family at a time at own home. Have homes that have other families come to share the experience.

The TEMPTATIONS to believe you need to buy real estate and structures. Use the Acts home church model! We possess technology to make this work! I'm NOT speaking numbers, either, but numbers of people experiencing biblical church! I WANT you taking members from lesser churches.

Competition either makes lesser pastors improve, or get a secular job! I'm NOT speaking of undercutting godly ministers, but the ones who just babble, with little knowledge, and don't do EDDBS priorities. I want a cleansing, a purge, a dividing line drawn between who's for God, and whose faking God!

I 100 percent understand y'all's sermons already reach foreign nations. I am speaking of three or more together, gathered in my name, on the other end of your broadcasts! House churches that could morph into satellite branch churches in foreign countries. NOT just TV and radio signals! Get it?

I'm NOT saying make the lead pastors extremely wealthy! I Tim. 6:17-19 I'm saying if a church practices excellent biblical model, it should be imitated, or joined, to do away with the lesser and frauds; NOT the godly men who can adopt better practices, if encouraged. Not firing them all.

The action step is if churches (pastors) reject EDDBS, parishioners should reject going there! I can't visit every church, to see how well they're doing. Laymen NEED to be educated about EDDBS, and in some very odd way, I'll do that in a campaign! Rebel pastors WON'T 'wanna vote for me! FINE!

The Bible is CLEAR: Choose ye THIS day whom you will serve! Half-hearted, or less than God's standard of church practice or minister qualifications HAS to be called out, publicly, in service to Christ! NOT doing so would be dereliction of duty! We've tolerated just OK far too long!

I'm SURE Joel Osteen establishes cell churches, using technology and city-based events. He is a FRAUD, IMO. HOW can so many be so duped? PMA and motivational speaker. NOT doing EDBS well, or deep, or much evangelism or discipling. This MUST be exposed and called out, folks! Happy to do so.

I am saying Joel Osteen needs to repent! I am more than happy to tell it to his smiley, rosy cheeked face! I am also saying BOTH churches, above, will be under God's judgment if they continue far right political antics, like supporting Trumpism and Unjustly stacking SCOTUS!

BIBLICAL CHURCH GROWTH (I)

(2/5/22-2)

EVERY biblical church NEEDS to have an online church (livestreamed), because some people will now just attend remotely, but from anywhere, so you can garner new members from any city or country! Virtual members can be ministered to, and yield donations, even if you never meet them!

Since church members can live anywhere, today, why wouldn't mega churches FULLY evangelize MANY neighborhoods in many cities (home missions trips), and pick up electronic home church members from interested converts, so THEY lead in global evangelism? ANY area for evangelism and members!

IMO, every mega church has to have smaller venues for people scared by large gathering, but liking their music and pastor, by telescreen (or 3-D holograph). Give the majority in any city what set-up they want, if they want your church in their town, electronically, with occasional pastor visits.

Churches can increase membership by enticing/luring Christians from other churches, or the "unchurched," IF evangelism isn't how they gain members. Many lost people will remain lost, so growth comes from these three main sources, or members' family expansion.

Update #1

(2/10/22-2)

I applied for, and didn't get a mega church growth/strategy position—IMAGINE THAT! They must have hired a less-qualified person, because LOOK at this vision for EVERY church:

SO LONG AS the church is practicing God's priorities, and church as He describes, including the pastor giving back significantly (I Tim. 6:17-19), the WORLD is the limits!

Pastor Cho had 500,000 members, last time I checked in on them (late 1990's). Dr. Young (Second Baptist, Houston) had first dibs on Silicon Valley 3-D holograph technology.

Gateway DFW has home cell churches arranged by viewers gathering!

Osteen (who does NOT do biblical sermonizing or ministry priorities, nearly as well) hosts meetings/rallies in other cities, to gen up more members.

Fellowship Church, DFW, has a London, and maybe Florida location. My point is my two churches could EASILY use their TV and radio airwaves to grow BIBLICAL churches in other nations, and U.S. states, especially tracking the fastest-growing areas, like Utah, DFW, and anywhere else there's fast population growth. It would and should NOT be based on a single person's influence, but the church model being biblical!

"Sheep stealing" is harmful to smaller churches and struggling pastors (often bivocational), but it is NOT wrong if those churches AREN'T doing God's EDBS priorities! What's wrong is churches NOT doing church as God designed it! I believe it's holy to give more laymen chances to experience biblical church!

Dr. Youngs video livestream concept from the late 1990s (when I interviewed there) allows this expansion. And I am NOT just speaking of this list of U.S. cities: <https://quickenloans.com/learn/fastest-growing-cities-in-us...> Pastors put out of or hurt in their business might start doing church Gods way, or go on staff at the BIG box churches.

And these home cells can be virtual, or gatherings in homes in cities. Eventually, rented space on Sundays (like school buildings, or abandoned strip centers, or even office buildings, as the pandemic has so many workers now working at home). I also believe these mega churches should offer smaller venues, permanently, just as I attended a smaller gathering for 15+ years, of a mega church.

I am NOT saying we are competitors, but co-laborers. Mega churches have a Bible duty to help other churches achieve equality of opportunity (II Cor. 8-9), but I know for a FACT that MOST churches are all about a sermon and a salary, and that's NOT God's top concerns!

And so long as ANY pastor models his church after the crowd/sheep, THIS verse condemns them!: II Cor. 10:12 I even know one pastor who speaks English sermons to Spanish-speaking laymen, using technology, like at the U.N. WHY NOT my two churches having global satellite branches? Prestonwood and Gateway

Sermons could be translated with subtitles, or I am certain there's technology to translate live, just as I observe that technology on 90 Day Fiancé, where the dweeby-looking chrome dome dude caught a decently hot Latina, and speaks to her through his smart phone (if I recall who it was).

3-D holograph HAS to have significantly advanced from when Ed Young envisioned it nearly 25 years ago! It doesn't even have to be that fancy! Gateway has multiple DFW campuses watching on livestream. It turns some members away, from the size (I know a couple), so offer smaller venues, where staff pastors actually know their congregation, individually, as shepherds are to do.

My point is that growth is FAR beyond what you have imagined or envisioned! If pastor Paul Yongii Cho had nearly 500K, when I was at Baylor, why not bring theologically sound and excellent sermons, and church practice that's founded upon EDBS priorities, to other countries, not even the predominantly English-speaking ones?

NOW are you surprised I was never offered a job at that mega church hiring for a church/growth strategist? I am! They must have doubted I'm the World's Most Innovative Man! And I suffer in sales, struggling in a field I despise. Job's lot in life, I guess? Never so much as even a rejection letter, or one interview!

Finally, it cannot become a cult of personality, but a preaching and pastoring TEAM!

(2/10/22-2)

IF this model became a way for us to have more multi-millionaire pastors, paying nothing in taxes (as a church), and hiding their donation amounts or percents, I 100 percent retract and oppose every warping of this 3am vision, and would publicly fight it tooth and nail! God's way! NOT the devils! I Tim. 6:17-19

P.S.: I have said for decades, smaller churches MUST unite churches, to survive the trend toward BIG box, with amenities they can't compete with! Or, do BIBLICAL bivocational work! I know One pastor who has GIVEN AWAY over $2 million to the poor, because he's GOOD at home flipping/tent making!

I am the MOST fierce opponent of the church growth movements apostasy to biblical Christianity, using secular methods to make pastors less broke! I am NOT opposed to BIBLICAL churches expanding unceasingly! If they embrace II Chron. 7:14 and EDBS priorities, take them world-wide, ASAP!

ANYTHING to cause pastors to complete the Great Commission, funding and cooperating with the ~2700 full-time evangelists of the Lausanne Conference, including scooping up as many converts as virtual church members thereafter—I DON'T CARE! They're getting BIBLICAL church, and all are being reached!

Bivocational has been anathema to so many for so long, yet I have had to do it my entire adult lifetime! YOU are no better than me, and I may even know the New Testament better than you, and I'm a layman, so WHY SHOULD YOU BE OFF THE HOOK FROM EARNING YOUR KEEP SECULARLY, TOO?

As I said the other night, one pastor resigned, because his people "wouldn't obey him," and complained to me, "they don't even meet my needs." WHAT A WARPED UNDERSTANDING OF CHURCH! God meets your need, He teaches bivocational, and you are to SERVE—not be obeyed like a dictator.

In one short post, I am calling for there to be a Red Sea parting of the ways between biblical pastors and churches, from all others! II Cor. 6:17; Josh. 24:15-16 Let the compromised churches crumble, and the Bible-prioritized ones flourish WELL beyond a 500K standard of the early 1980's!

Pastor Cho's South Korean church was that big AN ENTIRE GENERATION AGO (40 years). Could anyone mouth, "resting on your laurels?" It should be TRIPLE that size, by now, but ONLY if it's practicing biblical priorities and pastor practice! I Tim. 6:17-19, etc.; NOT otherwise.

One important update: BIG churches should do significant social ministry, especially to the poor, or government can tell they're in business for profits. Where they plant satellite venues can indicate it's for pastors pleasure, like exotic venues, and tax avoidance for business is immoral! 501C-3!!!

SMALL CHURCH CHURCH GROWTH

(2/10/22-2)

Now let's give a vision of hope for "ma and pa" shop (smaller) churches:

1. We are NOT competitors, but co-laborers. I Cor. 3:9
2. Biblical church practice had concern for ALL churches, and equality between excess and lack. II Cor. 8; Ac. 2, 4, etc.
3. We are NOT operating as the first century did on these matters, especially in a Capitalist democracy.
4. Bivocational was good enough for Paul, who out-did all of us, possibly put together, so don't be above that, through pride.
5. You have growth potential among those who like everyone knowing everyone, and knowing much of their business!
6. IF you own a small building, you have no room for growth, unless it expands. You have to target who might visit, and what they'd be looking for if they came, and stayed.

7. Hopefully, you're doing EDBS priorities, and content with whatever God brings as a result! Not all are called to have LARGE churches. Faithfully serve God and your members, knowing the reward is truly on the other side.
8. You could combine meetings with another small church, and tag team preaching, every other Sunday.
9. Use livestreaming, to reach global potential members!
10. Your building can be a turn off to new visitors! Rundown, old, cracked/unpaved rock parking lot. And the members being a few families and friends can detract growth! WHO wants to be the stranger at a family reunion?
11. Start home cell churches! MINISTER to neighbors! Meet needs; be of benefit to your community.
12. Improve your sermon skills! If you are boring, awkward as a speaker, folksy, uneducated in content, or unprofessional, you will remain small! Practice like you're preaching before millions! IF your skill is honed well enough, people will find out about it!

John Bisagno said get a pastor burning for Jesus, and crowds will come to see the fire.

John Wesley said, 'Light yourself on fire with passion and people will come from miles to watch you burn.'

Have zeal and excitement. Mt. 6:33 promises if you do church God's way, He will bless you! Do EDBS priorities WELL.

You need a lucrative secular skill, so you'd never be 100 percent dependent upon your members' faithful donations. On a side note, I would NEVER step foot in a small church, to consider membership. I've been raised on large churches since 1974! It's NOT their "amenities," but my comfort zone!

I'm from Houston and Dallas. BIG cities, big churches. I also don't want everyone knowing my every move, or all about my life business. That's what I use Twitter for! With 1.5 seminary degrees, and 5+ books on the Bible, I'm pickier than most about who teaches me what. MOST aren't like that!

Remember the reward is afterlife payback, and DO EDBS priorities well, and I am convinced if God doesn't double your size, He will double your ability to do a tent-making craft well, and be rewarded accordingly. You didn't enter the ministry to get rich, or you were sinning, anyway! I pray for you! Be blessed.

NON-mega church pastors have legitimate concerns about their salaries' size.

1. Trust God to meet your needs. That doesn't mean all your wants.
2. The more mature your members get, the more interested in the cause they should be! The more carnal, the more shallow their commitment.

JUST as in politics, self-sufficiency is the answer for Christians, ultimately. We, generally, oppose handouts, and no church wants to send their donations to others, getting nothing from doing so but a good feeling. Find enough people believing in you to pay you enough.

Have a draw; have an appeal, to "lure" more people who might give! People don't 'wanna give up hard-earned money! Taxes are exhibit A. Have a vision worthy "buying" into!

I, myself, could live my entire rest of life off just myself and God, and be content! Have something that makes members want to come!

I have NEVER deemed by near 24 full-time years doing God's work as a "tithe" substitute (sweat equity), but IF I believed 10 percent was required for New Testament Christians (I do NOT, because it's NOT in the New Testament), I could never give a dime, and have a clear conscience. FEW are so situated! They SHOULD give!

And it's NOT hypocrisy for me to tell them so! Tithers probably haven't sacrificed the money I have been led to! The point is, teach your audience to give as the Spirit leads. It's NOT a percent. It's an impression, a conviction, an unction/urging He alone gives. Teach them how to sense it!

PURE MATH says the more the merrier for your budget! Logic says if one sets up shop in an affluent neighborhood, meeting budget should be easier with smaller numbers. If you're in a poor area with poor numbers, worst case scenario, financially, absent God! Consider bivocational!

I have ONLY had 1.5 years of my life getting paid to do ministry! I also got an "anonymous" $1K donation, one time, from a BFF. My entire adult life has been bivocational! I will NEVER let anyone complain about bivocational, or that I don't tithe! Never! They'd lose that argument on day one.

The old adage is "where God guides, He provides." I NEVER found ANY financial backing to be a full-time evangelist! Maybe God has another way, someday, where that could be achieved. If you're to be a pastor, trust Him; not the parishioners. They're tools/instruments of His provision! He does the supplying.

And for the mega churches which AREN'T doing ministry God's way, I pray and even ask their members to bring the endeavor to a halt, until that changes! Mid-sized churches can grow (if desired), but even if numbers stay stagnant, never let your EDBS become so, especially evangelism! Do it even if NO ONE ever joins your church!

You AREN'T to win souls so you can win a bigger salary! You're supposed to care that they're going to Hell. Christ solved that problem, and commanded you to be part of their solution, through speaking! Do what God commands, and He will bless you!

On pastor pay: I Cor. 9:14, 18; I Tim. 5:17; Ac. 18:3 If Paul restrained his full rights, so ought we; were not better than him. Bivocational should NEVER affect qualifications, like being more secular than Paul! Teach and preach, consider a part-time job, and then the members are how (i.e., the instruments through whom) God supplies.

I've said this for DECADES: Help your members have better pay at work, and you deserve better pay in the ministry! You can do that several ways. I'm NOT 'gonna spoon feed you all the answers. Zig Ziglar said, "You can get what you want when you help others get what they want!" #JustDoIt, pastors!

IF pastors were EXPERTS at investing, money saving purchases, and increasing one's income, they would EASILY get a 10 percent boost by grace (vs. law-forcing tithes), by helping people live the same standard (or less), for less, to supply their funding, by blessing parishioners! Make or save people your budget!

I'll say again, mega churches planting new satellites NEED to consider people who don't like large crowds. I know FEW people who like it so small that everyone knows your business, like in small towns, but have some happy medium-sized campuses, livestreamed from the big box! Large is fine by me.

And IF ANY-sized church has any members with large, nice homes, seek to establish a Sunday viewing event/house church there. The environment is paid for, attractive, fellowship and friendships occur, people aren't lone wolves watching live streams, and the church grows through technology.

I could NEVER work for a small church (unless 'forced' by a calling), because the things I know, that aren't taught that often, are valuable enough to me they need to get to the masses. Perhaps that's why God had me write, and NOT remain a pastor!? Maybe even evangelist aspirations through that, if the information gets known?

Update

Let's view church from a lost mindset: Religious people gather to sing AND hear moral lectures, then give money for that "privilege." It probably seems odd! What is it they get from being together, especially if they don't hardly know people they sit next to, as spectators?

IF you do a study of the New Testament, to see what God says church is, you'll see it's NOT 100 percent what we see today! When will that change if ever, and why won't it, if it never does?

I find it funny any person could chide or criticize any Americans who aren't church-goers, if they're lost. WHAT would make them get into that habit/practice? America has no laws to attend, and the tradition was decades ago, and maybe when there were more Christians(?). It's not a natural choice.

I would criticize churches "attracting" visitors by entertainment, food or dating opportunities, because evangelism then discipling is where church comes in, but churches SHOULD be a great place for singles to meet a godly spouse, IMO. It's where I met mine! Second Baptist, Houston.

IF doing church by livestream is as acceptable for some people, who never attend (apart from those who can't), one could rightly/logically ask what is the perk of gathering together? That's NOT two or three gathered together, except in spirit. Is being there no different, spiritually?

There is zero "amenity" any mega church offers that has me go there! For me it is only biblical, excellent sermons, great music, and being used to large gatherings, coming from two large hometowns.

Small churches should strive for excellence! Quality attracts, at least attracts myself. Song, sermon and silver is NOT the same! Biblical church has body life, which CANNOT be emulated by livestream! Christians using spiritual gifts to edify others. Unless you've seen it, you'll never miss it, as you don't even know it exists, if you never read about it in Scripture. It HAS to have in-person relating! NOT spectating!

EDBS priorities: LEARN them; READ the Bible! They're in there! Biblical church is pastors training laymen to:

1. Fully evangelize their share, individually and collectively
2. Disciple and be disciplined, relationally
3. Engage their gift(s) in ministry, and
4. Engage society impacting social ministry of their choice

Contrarily:

1. Little-to-no evangelism Christians are sinning
2. Undisciplined Christians are carnal
3. Unministering believers (using their gifts) are unfruitful, and
4. Christians doing no social ministry are backslidden!

CHURCH GROWTH MAN'S WAY

(2/12/22-2)

HERE's how CHURCHIANITY does church growth: Imitate successful businesses! Advertise, have members wear church promo T-shirts, invite famous people to attract a crowd. One church bemoaned there weren't many celebrity Christians, and we should target evangelizing sports celebrities. APOSTATE!

Church growth is VERY simple!

1. Pray and be Spirit-filled
2. Evangelize
3. Mature Christians up (including daily quiet times)
4. Have body life
5. Impact your community for good things

That's God's way; not always man's!

WHY do you want to grow? What's your number one motivation? Money, or ministry/souls saved/God's will? HONEST answers only, please!

HERE's how fraud Osteen grows a church:

Positive mental attitude motivational speeches with a VERY limited number of Bible verses (cherry-pic, vs. whole counsel of God) and subjects! Smile like a Cheshire cat, with rosy cheeks. Tell people it's always positive/good, and 'gonna get better. Require 10 percent to be a member (in earlier days?).

NEVER address sins, exegetically preach, teach doctrine, call people to serious commitment and sacrifice (except to pay him), make people FEEL good, happy, hopeful, always awaiting the coming payoff. Ear tickle!

I am convinced sight-walking is why America has churchianity! If you NEVER learn what the Bible teaches church is to be, you ASSume it's to be what every church does, especially if they do about the same things! That's NOT faith-walking! WHO CARES, if you live in ignorance and rebellion?

READ the book of Acts! Society KNEW what Christians were doing and were up to! NOT SO, today, except in politics!

HERE is how you know church isn't like the New Testament: ASK LOST PEOPLE what they know or have experienced about their nearest church.

U.S. evangelism is OFTEN Christians HOPING lost people notice their deeds, or church events; NOT having personal communication with them, personally, about Heaven, eternity or the gospel.

Trying to get you to see them, vs. ensuring you hear the message! ICHABOD and ANATHEMA! This is a 9-year old tweet: MUCH U.S. evangelism is like a salesman on your lawn, in uniform, with a badge ASSUMING you see him and know what he wants (Ex.: "I evangelize by my deeds"). (12/1/13)

One of Satan's greatest victories is "Christians" believing if they actually spoke with lost people near their church building, that might "turn them off." You're NOT speaking to them is turning them to Hell, guaranteed, foolish ones! You're NOT commanded to turn on lost people, do-do's.

Update

I am NOT a hypocrite with my recent church growth and "sheep stealing position! I oppose growth for growth's or money's sake, and luring Christians from other churches. But growth from doing church God's way, and people changing churches to more biblically-prioritized churches I TOTALLY support!

And as I have seen some mega churches become MORE biblically prioritized, and many churches doing LITTLE evangelism, I am 100 percent for the former's growth! MOST Americans (~63 percent) DON'T go to church. The market for growth is Christians, unless you evangelize!

If you don't care that people are going to Hell (our actions show we don't), sinfully/carnally evangelize them, knowing they may attend church, thereafter! Paul rejoiced even when sin-tainted evangelism was done (NOT rejoicing in the sin)! Phil. 1:17 63 percent of the U.S. is future church members! 28 percent of Christians don't believe they need to go to church! https://thefederalist.com/2019/08/28/two-thirds-americans-think-christians-dont-need-attend-church-wrong/...

This article says two-thirds of saved people are targets for growing a church! No evangelism (that dreaded deed) required! thefederalist.com Two-Thirds Of U.S. Christians Think They Don't Need Church. Wrong. Believers who think they can follow Christ without his church are on the road to unbelief and isolation. Do-it-yourself Christianity ends in apostasy.

Present to Christians (and even lost people) the book of Acts' examples of how church was at the beginning, and I would bet over half polled would respond that that sounds appealing, and like a church they would at least check out, if not commit to! Do church God's way! Numbers are declining!

OPPOSING COMMUNISM

(6/17/21-2)

In America, politicians' evils are contained by media exposure and the people's votes. HOW do Communist dictators' evils get curbed, when the people can't hold them accountable, and the medias their ally?

Outsider nations, diplomatically, economically, or militarily. People do evil when free to!
WHAT should America change, according to our detractors living outside America? IMO:

1. Severe pollution
2. Severe poverty
3. Flaunting sexuality
4. Money worship
5. Dominating the world's resources
6. Sticking our noses in other nations' business too often
7. Arrogance over America.

Government funding (or controlling to their ends) people's lives is the aim of Communism, and partially so, for Socialism. In America, it's by freebies from Democrats. That's how they stay in power, keep votes coming, with you dependent. Nanny state from cradle to grave/womb to tomb. EVIL! Earn your own keep, adults!

NO MATTER WHAT, and NO HOLES BARRED, America must be the greatest economy and military power in THIS world-period!!! (7/4/21-2)

This Is How Propaganda Works: A Look Inside A Soviet Childhood via @forbes forbes.com

WHY do you think China is building railroads across Africa, and other infrastructure projects? I'm sure that's happening South of the U.S. border, less blatantly, by China (allied with Russia). Russia was WILLING to and ordered a nuclear war with America, but one bloke refused orders! Enemies!

Government-controlled press/propaganda, repressed rights, censorship of internet, secret police, severe punishment for free speech, no political opposition, sweat shops, child labor, labor camps, suppression of religion, torture, murder... all packaged in Western garb. THIS IS Putin and Xi!

TIME FOR REFORM, if not revolution, in Russia and China! I have zero problem with your nations having better economies, and being able to defend themselves from outside attack, but the people/citizens, the humans God created and Christ died for MUST live in FREEDOM, as was intended! RESOLVE!

I don't CARE if Russian or Chinese people get 100 percent say in who leads their country (because it's not realistic), but the people who force their way into power, and rule as your FAILED leaders do, in how they treat YOU, and the lifestyle you get subjected to, as a result, is my ONLY concern!

Xi clamps down on Hong Kong and pressures Taiwan: These are mere birth pangs! Xi STATED his intention to expand influence, globally! America will NOT speak Chinese, or ever bow to the evil whims of a Communist super power, or let our world and allies down, in opposing human rights abusers.

AI, oil, land grabs, island building, space exploration, currency changes, shipping barriers, trade route disruptions, dumping, charity for an exchange of land access in Africa, satellites, ties with Venezuela and Brazil, U.N. influence... ALL threats to America from Xi and Putin's alliance!

North Korea is the least threat; Iran next least; Russia next; China the number one! Russia and China are in cahoots, already! They'll seek footholds in Arab nations, inciting against Israel, for personal national gains. U.S. overly-pro Israel, vs. also pro peaceful Arab, will bite us in the tush! America's FOOLISH move vs. XL pipeline, and similar green measures, externally, are advancing.

Russian interests to substitute for our leadership in the Middle East! We ALLOWED Putin his own pipeline, there, uncontested! Hypocritically, we won't even let our own nation profit from Canada.

America's debt will escalate, then default, sparking war, most likely! I've even told China to QUIT FUNDING America! Their investment is a house of cards, which'll fall of its own weight! SAME if the dollar ceases to be the world's reserve currency, as we won't be able to bust the budget with QE3.

America complicitly aided and abetted China's rise, as I've denounced for YEARS, with unthinking/unrestricted globalization and outsourcing. I've told America to diversify our manufacturing nations for YEARS! Break your dependence on Chinese labor! QUIT sending U.S. dollars to Xi's/China's regime!

Communism opposition to Capitalism and democracy has NEVER ended! The Cold War ended URRS, but NOT Putin/KGB type's resentments, inspiring resolve to win, next time! China has been using dumping, currency manipulation, ending dollar reserve currency, and many methods to HURT NATO/US!

I've written, for YEARS, that future worker supply, economic alliances, and sales markets will come from Africa and Central and South America! It's the third world economies, that if America, vs. BRIC, helps come of age, who will do business with their 'savior.' It's U.S./E.U./NATO, or BRIC! Win!!!

YOU ought to take Xi's words, and Putin's BIGgest hack, as a WAKE-UP call, that a Cold War has been going on, but WE haven't recognized it! @POTUS @JoeBiden The one war you are certain to LOSE is the one waged against you, unnoticed! They poke the bear, vs. direct assaults! WIN, America!

China (and to a lesser extent, Russia) seek GREATER economic and military capabilities. STOP ALL HACKING and theft of America intellectual property!

.@POTUS @JoeBiden America has to have an impenetrably superior military and economy, to those two enemy nations! I've written on HOW! No silver or bronze.

There is NO GREATER THREAT to America than our adversaries winning, and using our very own people to bring us down, through division! China, Russia, Iran and North Korea. I've called on America to INcrease allies, for YEARS! They'll join that group, if we don't LEAD! Power in numbers! @Potus @JoeBiden

.@POTUS @JoeBiden If you don't take China's threat SERIOUSLY, and BEEF UP U.S. military and intel capacities, world-wide, blood could one day be on YOUR hands!

Gateway Church, LAST evening, had a guest ask WHERE do we witness "the self-evident truths that all men are created equal?," then cited that there are FEW nations where the obvious can be seen. This is what Xi WANTS! Men treated like objects and slaves to Communist thought and actions!

Xi is trying to secure allies for Communism, world-wide, among third world nations. THAT MEANS he's purposely trying to diminish democracy, and the voices of the people, in a continued campaign to deny human rights, and to oppress more and more people, with promises of equality through tyranny!

COMMUNICATING TO COMMUNISTS

(10/28/21-2)

IT IS AMAZING that people who claim Creationist beliefs most strongly oppose any intelligent design in how society handles poverty! Dog eat dog is NOT God's design, but the far right's! and eat the rich may one day be the poor's response, given Newton's third law of thermodynamics!

One day world's poor won't tolerate rich people ignoring their plight! They will unite, grab guns, and barrage safe compounds and gated communities in numbers security cannot control, IMO! Proverbial torches and pitch forks will give way to physical violence, IMO, if rich ignore I Tim. 6:17-19

Black people in South Africa came to wits end and end of their rope, putting up with abuse and second class treatment. The world's poor should learn their lesson, though nonviolence is always the moral way. Sacrifice wages, temporarily, and strike, then unionize! Rich don't get all life's perks!

I'm LITERALLY saying that if violence is required, for Communist subjects to seize control of selfish, spoiled, hoarding national treasures dictators to leave power—DO IT! North Korea, China, Russia, Cuba, Venezuela, Iran, et al. LAST RESORT, but whatever works to get what you deserve!

In OUR 'dispensation,' God RARELY directly intervenes in the affairs of mankind, as He used to more in times of biblical revelation. It would be presumptive for Him to do what we humans can do, and He's given us the ability and brains to do. That applies to toppling dictators, people!

North Korean citizens NEED to storm the government headquarter buildings, en masse, KNOWING many will be slaughtered by beholden military personnel. IT IS INTOLERABLE that you are so subjugated by a beastly boy-man, and stooge dupe loyalists, who alone enjoy life! TAKE THEM ON!!!

The sweatshop child laborers of China need to come to grips with the fact that their lives are a breath away from suicide, anyway, and make them serve a greater purpose by uniting to fight slave labor wages, EVEN if that gets you killed by evil military personnel! LIVE FOR SOMETHING!

Give an inch they demand a mile! List is ENDLESS! Free college/student loan forgiveness/home down payment/healthcare/daycare. EVERY election cycle a new freebie gets proposed. Taxpayers would rather secede! That's NOT selfish, but JUST. Handouts are UNjust! Sorry to burst bubbles!

ONLY thing I've EVER proposed rich people using I Tim. 6:17-19 give back money for is an empowerment program for the poor to be taught and motivated to pay their own way through life, as responsible adults! NO freebies. The ability to live within your means. Prices fall with competition.

EVERY country that has dictators (Ex.: In Africa), or politicians who do NOT care for the needs of the least among us NEEDS to fire them. They'll never freely quit! If you're not a democracy, you can't vote them out. That ONLY leaves you with physical expulsion, or live with being abused!

INTERJECTION: There's NO contradiction in my total support of Manchin and Sinema, because I am against taxing the very rich, to fund freebies! In time, I would NOT oppose taxing them to fund an empowerment of the poor program to make them be self-sufficient, IF the rich don't give back significantly

Its reprehensible that free nations of our world sit idly by observing the suffering of the North Korean people, and we never find any resolve to help them, by seeking to take out that evil regime! IF we are scared of nukes, he's still building them, and were NOT stopping that, either!

IT IS INTOLERABLE that NATO, the former E.U. nations, America, and every democracy and free nation haven't yet combined forces to blockade, protest, respond to and cut off the aggressive and evil techniques utilized by China and Russia! put your differences aside, and unite against evil, or it wins!

EVERY freebie Dems propose cost money. If you desire that level of lifestyle, deserve a better-paying job, or move to a nation with lower standard of living! America is NOT evil to demand that you earn what you deserve! That's justice! Freebies are injustice to taxpayers! No justice no peace

EVERY give-away-program is NON-self-sustaining, by nature! That's but one reason I always oppose freebies! people MUST live within their means, and learn skills to increase their means, and NOT look to government to steal from those who fare better! They're NOT your momma or daddy! DUH 101

CALLING ALL COMMUNIST CITIZENS

(11/18/21-2)

There is a STRANGE willingness for Communist nations to do evil! NO belief in God must mean no belief in any accountability, if the U.N. or U.S. don't punish them. Ignorantly HELL-bound, with NO fear of God or Hell in their future!

China, Russia, North Korea, Iran and some other unnamed rogue nations have EVIL governments, folks! TELL IT THE WAY IT IS!

America is NOT a perfect role model for morality! God knows we have our many problems (I write about them every day)! BUT, our form of government, broken as its practice is, IS a role model for all nations: Democracy. The people are the power; NOT elitist politicians!

Communist citizens run the range from tolerating evil leaders (Russia), to having zero say in the matter (North Korea), to in-between, where religion aids people tolerating evil in their governance (Iran). ALL of THESE activities are blatantly, undebatable EVIL/wicked:

en.wikipedia.org

Crimes against humanity under communist regimes. –Wikipedia

People living in Communist countries NEED to discover that they are human beings made in God's image, and NOT pawns of any state or so-called "leader!" YOU are an equal, and can call out their evils, before God, but NOT before them, because the system is EVIL! <https://communistcrimes.org/en>

NO MAN is God, or even a god! NO MAN is morally perfect. NO MAN has ANY right to lead a nation, because of what family they were born into! NO MAN (or woman, for that matter) has ANY right to be in charge of a nation if they are evil, or because they force their way into power!!!

There is not ONE unique trait in Putin, Kim Jon Un, or Xi, that makes the exceptional people! Dupes and people financially benefitted from allying with and being faithful to these jerks does so from the sin of selfishness. Again, NOT moral reasons! The system is NOT moral!

There is ZERO reason why YOUR government owns or controls businesses, food supply, or especially YOU! YOU should own property, businesses, bank accounts, the right to work where you want! Sweat shops, child labor, secret police and labor camps are EVIL, folks in Communist countries. LEARN!

Women treated as second class, unable to receive education, having to walk 15 feet behind men, not able to claim rape unless other males witnessed it (WHEN does that happen?) are EVIL rules, folks! ANY man-made rule that is NOT moral is NOT supposed to be a nation's law–PERIOD!

The history of Communism details MILLIONS of human beings created in God's image massacred by their own government! You can NOT be proud of that system! BUT, what can you do about it? They control the military! You may not even be able to own a weapon! Pray. Organize.

Envision your nation without Communism. Living free, owning things, respected as humans and equals. Seek outside help. Get allies within the military. Protest. Demand voting rights. Sacrifice. Be willing to die for this cause. Take over the leadership of your own country, ANY way you must!

I'm NOT wanting YOUR nation made into America's image! We suffer MANY sins! Racial strife. Crime. Sexual perversion. Hatred. Lying. Greed. Selfishness. Arrogance. Sinful religious practices (carnality). Hoarding. Ignoring the poor. Injustice. But DO imitate Democracy, Communists!

I'm NOT even saying imitate Capitalism! Unbridled Capitalism doesn't care about workers, the poor, the rich obeying God (I Tim. 6:17-19), UN-fair under-taxation, freebies, stealing from taxpayers, etc. I am ONLY saying find your voice and TAKE OVER, Communist citizens! you are the power!

HUMAN RIGHTS are what YOU deserve, Communist citizens! To be treated as the human equals you are. NOT slaves or pawns of any government. And NOT the unjust or pipe dream human rights some lists add in, but those not funded by anyone else. https://opseu.org/wp-content/uploads/2018/12/30_basic_human_rights_list_english.pdf... DEMAND your rights!

Can The U.S. Military Make An Airplane Invisible To The Naked Eye?

The development of visual stealth began in WWII and continues today. So, just how close has the military has come to realizing an invisible plane?

America and NATO should already be pacting and planning how to assist the people of North Korea to unite to fight and take control of their government, with weapons and using their massively superior numbers, able to get some military on their side, but also able to defeat those who remain loyal!

Supersonic speed missile buster technology is needed, anytime any enemy sets off nuke-carrying missiles! Speeds we can't even conceive of, leaving NATO nations and destroying them while over enemies' territory! Sonic boom concerns must be allayed, as well!

America NEEDS sonar from satellite, to SEE North Korea's underground nuclear storage caves! Radar, UV, X-ray, or whatever technology can penetrate the ground and thick concrete walls! Black budget and black ops BETTER be happening, without our public's knowledge!

Nuclear missile disablement technology, remotely, has to be America's priority one! Be it Iran or North Korea. BOMB those facilities, if intel EVER says they're nearing use! Better is drone or electromagnetic pulse or hacking! We need technology that can MELT their nukes-carrying missiles! America number one.

The West NEEDS technology that deters any incoming nuclear weaponry! Transportable, so we can always physically contain rogue nations who might attack. A floating Iron Dome that nullifies any with nukes, used for evil, like North Korea. Castrate their capability, with new technology!

Think about the people of North Korea! Consider their lives! Food in short supply. Living in fear. Dressing and speaking like pawns of the government. Hyper punished for the least offenses. Slave-like squalid conditions! THE WORLD owes them rescue! WE tolerate this continuing! De-nuke 'em.

Evil dictators LOVE the power, ego strokes and wealth. The wealth can be substituted for. The power, not so much. These bullies must be backed down, and told 'NO!' They need psychological help, adoring controlling others! Psyche drugs, counseling, humbling LOSS of position! We the people.

The sound of silence.

America has stealth planes. I want invisible planes, to attack evil regimes. Invisible means sight waves go around them. NOT literally clear. This technology already exists! Sound, radar, and visual sight deflected to NOT see the object! phys.org

IF China has hyper pulse technology to knock out U.S. electric grid, etc., America has to have ways to knock out North Korea's nuclear weapons capabilities! We have satellites and drones! SURELY we can see into where they all are, even underground! Hack their defenses and nuke codes! END regime!

Even if a drone could take out Bozo dictator in North Korea, he has loyalists in government and the military, able to set off nukes. His assassination would NOT end their loyalty to their high lifestyle, serving him! The outside world CAN come up with ways to end this regime! Solutions exist.

Rocket man has nukes as a threat to keep the free world from assassinating him, as his colleagues could then set them off, and he tests long-range missiles, to threaten revenge on America, who would LOVE that outcome. West needs to know how to disable ALL their nukes, technologically!

DID YOU KNOW any politician using police or the military to instill fear in people, of bucking the system, where the system is corrupt or evil, are EVIL human beings subject to God's soon-coming judgment? DON'T wait for that! Fix the problem NOW! Russia, China, North Korea, Iran, et al.

Communist compadres: DO NOT take America as the model for how your country could be if you toppled the turds on the top! Dream and imagine how much better your lives could be if you were the power God intended you to be! Politicians are to SERVE the public; NOT themselves! Be the power.

People adjust. They tolerate status quo. They accept things as never getting better. THAT is why Communist citizens allow themselves to experience less freedoms than God intends for them! Compromise, and/or fear, vs. courage to change life for the better! You deserve better lives!

Dictators believe they are all-powerful, have a right to rule indefinitely, and are accountable to no one. They are responsible to God, and their people! They SHOULD be ousted, politically if not physically! They are just people as uselessly normal as anyone else! NOTHING special!

EVERY politician who bans evangelism has a HUGELY negative future facing them when they die! They fear bad things could come to them if it was allowed. ALL that could occur is they'd get more moral citizens. They also be held accountable for their evil ways. GOD WILL DESTROY YOU!

EVILS OF THE FAR RIGHT (PART I)

(3/5/21-2)

To show you the EVIL of the far right...

1. Hannity engaged deception, saying there should be NO minimum wage, because in the Dakotas, some oil companies pay $18/hour, unforced by government. That's NOT what most companies do, but try to pay less, if allowed! He knows this! Willful sin.
2. Hannity asked "what's rich?" If you're in the top 10 percent of U.S. earners, that would be a great start for educating this fake Catholic bum! He just wants to cover for unphilanthropic rich people, who only tokenly give back or do similar P.R. stunts.
3. Hannity tried to argue the GOP wasn't for the rich, because some of the richest members of Congress are rich Democrats. He's either a fool, or KNOWS his deception! It's who their policies help, that makes a party so labeled, fake Catholic bum!
4. Talk radio hassled LeBron and Kaepernick, complaining about poverty struggles, when they're millionaires. This ilk KNOWS it's famous people using their platforms for those who don't have one, and are poor; NOT griping over their own wages! Deception.

5. Levin said Giving Pledge signers are "self-loathing." THAT MEANS you hate yourself if you care about anyone but your family! It also means to prove you love yourself, you must be disobediently greedy and worldly, contrary to God! Jas. 4:4

6. Newt Gingrich is for ending child labor laws! MANY want to end the estate tax (society that provided opportunity to benefit NOTHING), allow sweat shops, and end minimum wage (Hannity). EVERYTHING for business and the rich, who struggle the LEAST

Every GOOD and moral law U.S. has passed for working majority came from Dems: Overtime/mandatory breaks/workplace and consumer safety/min wage/truth in advertising laws and safety net. Apart from such barriers, business could profit MORE, harming people! GOP's NOT for rich and business, Hannity?

I'm all for business, but run ethically. That one disclaimer will lose you caustic conservatives, because their value system is money over God and morality! God says they have their priorities BACKWARDS! Mt. 6:24 Which of us is the party of religion? Satan's religion, for caustic cons!

(3/9/21-2)

Caustic conservatism (hereafter, 'CC') is biblical worldliness, living as an anti-disciple, pro carnality, selfishness, greed, idolatry, hoarding, never lifting one finger in volunteerism or charity gifts, hating workers and making the rich life's only heroes! It is ANATHEMA to God; not too many WASPs!

I have to be VERY careful what I write about caustic conservatism (CC), as they'll engage token P.R. stunts, to allay criticism. What they WON'T change are core values that are both good and evil, so I'm safe attacking the evils: CC is for white privilege! They fight whites becoming a minority by 2042.

America has always been white-dominated, and people in CC (NOT all) want it to stay that way, because majority has privileges. CC wants zero wealth redistribution. CC will NEVER spend a day or week in a hood or barrio, to see facts/reality with boots on the ground!

CC believes slavery has zero impact on anyone, today, even psychologically, as to group identity, even though whites have much confidence from all the advances in life white people well before this generation achieved! Many in CC despise black history month, and even joke there needs to be white history month.

CC is for the lowest taxes humanly possible. CC never has a holistic plan for solving U.S. severe poverty! It's ONLY minimum wage jobs from a growing economy! CC is perfectly content that the rich get richer, doing no labor—just stock purchases/paper transactions.

CC believes status quos great, because it is, or soon will be, for them. CC has zero care about anyone else, except F and F and peers. Other races and income levels NEVER cross their radar, or even lives, as the poor are usually located miles away (unless there's been poor city planning).

CC doesn't give one rats A- - that some people have no healthcare at all. CC doesn't care that some people have kids, but can't afford daycare needed so they can work full-time. CC doesn't care some Americans will never own a home. CC doesn't care college rates rise, pricing many people out of the market, as that's how elites retain their advantage!

CC doesn't care the most-qualified candidates don't always win the job, but connections, networking, and good 'ol boys club wins the day, often, breaking discrimination laws, because it can't be proved! CC believes poor blacks and browns (B and B) are lazy or dumb.

CC refuses to observe any challenges poor B and B face, in getting job skills or education! CC doesn't care many poor areas of town have bad education opportunities, or rundown buildings! CC thinks BLM is a threat to whites' jobs and assets!

ANY in the CC movement who don't publicly decry any of these evil beliefs are embracing it by silence! CC wants B and B to stay quiet (Lebron), and "know their place" (subservience).

CC wants LGBTQ to be treated differently, and more negatively than others! They DON'T just disagree with their sex.

I said I'm bordering on territory God doesn't want me writing on, and that line has now approached. So, I will now end this message! But to say, CC sees NONE of these problems, will deny them all, continue them all, attack the messenger, and their SILENCE empowers these evils continuing!

One clarification: I am party fluid. Principles rule! Nikki flip flopped, from morality to immorality. I flip flop parties, when one side is more immoral than the other! That's the DIFFERENCE between her changes, and mine! If Dems are equal to GOP's in evil, I'll start a new third party! Avoid evil!

"Christians" come in three varieties: Fakes (tares/professors who aren't possessors), carnals and sincere God-seekers/followers. To ALL three I must remind them what pastors often fail to, in politics: We are required to hate and oppose evil! Listen to THIS sermon you'll NEVER hear elsewhere!

God does NOT allow Christians to box Jesus up for Sunday! He is NOT just to be considered after work or outside politics! For a believer committed to Christ's Lordship, he is to be in control of EVERY aspect of our lives: Economics, politics, marriage, entertainment, etc.!

IF you EVER read the Bible, it's clear as crystal we are to oppose, speak against and resist evil! That means, in your employment, in your business, and in your politics! The majority of your waking hours are spent at work, and for politicians, the same thing! #MoralsMatter

We aren't electing the Pope, but policies come from principles, which come from character, which comes from God's laws and God Himself, in that order! Silence IS complicity! John the Baptist proves that refusing to oppose evil politicians, because you want a moral agenda passed by them, is EVIL!

HOW does the Baptist prove that? He lost his LIFE speaking truth and morality to power! Rom. 3:8 PROVES your (NOT mine) method of sin to win, even for a moral agenda (though it's NOT 100 percent moral) is evil! Paul MOCKS stupid people who think like that, and says emphatically in the Greek, may it never be!

You tolerate sinfulness! Blatant, serial/repeated, unrepented of, in your face celebrated (glorying in shame), and happily hug lost people who relish in ungodliness! YOU are complicitly sinning in so doing, "Christians!" NO pastor will tell you this! At best they'll argue Dem policies are morally worse, mainly on abortion!

Abortion is NOT the ONLY issue America faces, that politics addresses! And there are ways to lessen them that don't involve forcing behavior change that people can avert, so effectiveness is minimal!

Now to my sermon texts: Title—Christians are to oppose evil!

Rom. 12:9 (written to Christians, 1:5-7): Abhor what is evil. Hate and despise it! Love the sinner; hate the sin. DO WE, in politics?

Pv. 8:13 IF you revere God, you will hate evil. There's our problem! A LACK of fearing God! Instead, we look lightly on His commands. We take Him for granted, or think about or care about Him mainly on Sunday.

We are NOT disciples, but Laodicean luke-warms, half-hearted and carnal/unfilled/not fully committed. It SHOWS in our politics! We silently consent to evils! "Leadership" is followers of mob rule and sinful behavior, to apostates!

Ps. 112:1 implies fear of God comes from delighting in God's word. U.S. Christians do not do that, in many ways! No fear of God, from no ingestion of His word! LOOK at all the benefits of so doing: <https://bible.knowing-jesus.com/topics/Fear-Of-God,-Results-Of...>

Ps. 45:7 Can we say we have loved righteousness, and hated evil? The cop out is speaking ONLY about public policy, and mainly abortion! I Jn. 1:6 If we claim to walk with Jesus, but are habitually or blatantly sinful, we are LIARS, folks! Our deeds betray our words. Hypocrisy sin!

Heb. 10:26 There WILL be an accounting for all people's sins, including Christians! We, believers, do NOT consider that fact very often! You will be broke in Heaven, and ashamed, and a disappointment to the one Who saved you, embracing or turning a blind eye to evils, staying silent!

There are at least three ways the DEVIL literally tells carnal Christians to oppose this message:

1. If you're not perfect, you can't speak against sin (LIE).
2. If you hate evil, you are a holier than thou moralist (LIE).
3. Were all sinners, so anything goes (LIE) Do YOU serve Jesus or satan?

VERY simply, caustic conservatism is only about money-making (tax breaks and rebates, for an economy for investors) and Dems are about morals (EXCEPT on abortion, homosexuality and stealing from taxpayers to hand out freebies). Generalized, that's a nutsHell of U.S. politics! Debate me.

Dem morals (excepting abortion, sexuality and freebies): Lessening pollution, spouse abuse, human trafficking, poverty, racial discrimination, favoritism of the rich by government, worker rights, homelessness, etc. They support the Giving Pledge, giving back, making a difference, and paying forward.

Caustic conservatism, dutifully opposing everything Democrat, stays silent on these virtues! Christians are to stand for virtues! Government is to punish evil and praise good! For secular power idolatry, Christians OFTEN abandon God, to be for Him on abortion!

(3/9/21-2)

Common traits of caustic cons: Self number one/selfish, arrogant, often mean/rude, lower IQ, F your feelings types/uncaring of others, cliquish/cult, demand rights, never address their responsibilities; only opponents, believe lies, win-lose mindset, power worshipping idolaters. NOT godly.

Caustic conservatives default to anger, opposing and fighting. Reasonable conservatives pick their battles, understand win-win, retain core values, and are amenable personalities, if not gregarious. These are personality/temperament and character differences, apart from policy differences.

BUSINESS CONSERVATIVES

(3/20/21-2)

Let's take a political ideology to its LOGICAL conclusion: IF business' ONLY purpose is profits, they can:

1. Defraud in advertising
2. Manufacture unsafe products
3. Use slave labor
4. Pollute to the max
5. Have child labor and sweat shops
6. Outsource or robotize ALL jobs Moral?
7. Have NO breaks
8. Pay NO overtime
9. Abuse and overwork employees
10. Have unhealthy work environments
11. Allow sexual harassment on the job
12. Discriminate in hiring. Moral?

CAUSTIC vs. COMPASSIONATE CONSERVATIVES

(4/12/21-2)

What's the precise and exhaustive DIFFERENCES between caustic conservatives and traditional ones? Caustic Conservatives:

1. Want ZERO safety net (END vs. revise Welfare)
2. Want fighting with Dems instead of negotiations (NOT rolling over doormatism type)
3. Like extremes
4. Want less taxes than are needed
5. Support conspiracy theories as free speech
6. Believe the second Amendment requires ZERO laws about guns
